

Source: The Delta
Escanaba, Mi.
August 27, 1886

Friday

On Thursday evening, the 12th inst., at about six o'clock, while attempting to board an ore train at Seney, James Aspin slipped and fell under the wheels of the cars, taking off his right leg and arm, and otherwise mutilating his body. Death was instantaneous.

-Newberry News