

Source: The Daily Mining Journal, Marquette, MI
Friday, March 5, 1891

Negaunee.

A Slight Derailment

The westbound freight train , due here at 5:08 pm in the afternoon was derailed just east of the Carp hill, Tuesday. The accident was caused by a defective truck on one of the box cars turning around on the rails, which caused four cars to leave the track. Luckily the train was going slowly at the time or a bad wreck might have happened. It took over three hours to clear the track and the east bound passenger train was delayed here until 8:30 in the evening.

DSS&A Ry.