

Source: The Daily Mining Journal
Marquette, Mi.
July 11, 1888

Wednesday

Superintendent Jarvis is studying up the snow plow problems and long before snow flies the South Shore will have an adequate number of big plows of some approved pattern and be in better shape for the winter season than ever before. One of the big NP rotaries is among the possibilities it is understood.