

Source: The Mining Journal
Marquette, Mi.
August 18, 1888

Saturday

Ishpeming - Is there no way in which the crowds of people who are always at the South Shore depot at train times can be kept away? The platform, although a large one, is usually so crowded that passengers getting on or off the train are seriously incommoded. Most of those who are standing around have no business at the depot, but go there just for fun. It may be fun for them, but it is far from being funny for those having business there.

~~DSS&A~~
Passenger