MICHIGAN HARBORS.

The Engineer in Charge Could Find Good Use for Large Congressional Appropriations in Improving Them.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.
LAMP MICHIGAN IMPROVEMENTS.
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Capt. D. W. Lockwood, corps of engineers, has submitted his annual report to Gen. Newton on the improvement of harbors on Lake Michigan. During the past fiscal year $31,217 has been expended on the improvement of Michigan City harbor, leaving $13,718 available. The work to be done comprises the completion of the new east breakwater pier, and the construction of the west exterior breakwater. It is estimated that $150,000 will be required to complete the improvement, and $250,000 of this amount can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year.

The sum of $6,228 has been expended on improvement of the Charlevoix harbor, and the entrance to Pine Lake, Mich., leaving $4,820 available. It is estimated that $50,000 can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year, in extending the south pier 300 feet, and in completing the work already in progress. Capt. Lockwood estimates that $115,000 will be required to complete the work.

An appropriation of $30,000 is asked for Frankfort harbor, Mich., during the coming fiscal year.

Only $928 was expended on Manistee harbor, Mich., during the past fiscal year, leaving $11,740 available. The improvement of this harbor consists in extending the piers, and have a dredged channel connect lower Manistee river with Lake Michigan.

An appropriation of $30,000 is asked for an necessary to complete the improvement; $2,993 was expended during the year, leaving $4,654 available.

Improvement of Portage Lake harbor, Mich. $9,074 was expended during the year, and $9,000 remains available. The improvement contemplated a channel entrance to Portage Lake, 370 feet wide, with a depth of 10 feet. It is estimated that $13,500 will be required during the next fiscal year, and $102,700, it is estimated, will complete the work.

On improvement of Ludington harbor, Mich., $13,100 was expended during the year, leaving $1,345 available. It is estimated that $55,000 will complete the work, and that $40,000 can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year.

The expenditures during the year on White River harbor, Mich., was $6,390, and $6,373 remains available. The improvement contemplated a channel entrance to Portage Lake, 370 feet wide, with a depth of 10 feet. The report says $94,225 will complete the improvement, and an appropriation of $50,000 is requested.

On Muskegon harbor, Mich., last year's expenditures were $7,268, and $17,639 remained. The improvement of the channel has for its object an increase of width from 185 to 300 feet, and will cost $113,625, of which $100,000 can be profitably expended during the next year.

The sum of 41,760 remains available, after this year's expenditure of $9,568, on the harbor of Grand Haven, Mich. The permanent completion of this harbor depends on the extension of the present piers, so that vessels can enter during any weather. It is estimated to cost $210,000, of which $150,000 could be profitably expended during the next fiscal year.

Eleven thousand, nine hundred and forty-one dollars was expended on Black Lake harbor, Mich., during the past fiscal year. An appropriation of $20,000 is asked for, which, it is expected, will complete the improvement of that amount.

The amount available for the harbor of South Haven, Mich., after an expenditure during the past fiscal year of $1,624, is $8,714. To complete the improvement of this harbor should be extended, and those already in place made safe. This will require $82,500, of which $40,000 is asked for the next fiscal year.

At Saint Joseph, Mich., only $863 was expended, leaving an available balance of $20,150. The estimates say $3,105 will be required to complete the work, and recommends an appropriation of that amount.

THE NAVAL BOARD.
The naval board, which is examining plans and specifications for the proposed new cruisers, expects to be occupied with work during the entire summer. It is possible, after the American plans are examined, that secretary Whitney will appoint a commission to go abroad and examine foreign models.

OUR FORTIFICATIONS.
The officers of the corps of engineers in charge of improvements on the fortifications of the country, have made their annual reports to the chief of engineers. On account of the small appropriation made last year but little work has been done during the past season. The funds available were used in putting in good order the platforms and parapets of the various forts.

VACANT LIEUTENANCIES.
It is understood that the president will in a few days fill the vacant second lieutenantcies existing in the line of army from civil life. There will be ten vacancies, after the commissioned officers, who are now being examined, shall have been assigned to regiments.

THE TORIERS AND THE IRISH.

Parnell's Vote Brought the New Government Into Power—It Can Displace Them.

The Salisbury government has sustained a severe defeat on an amendment to the medical relief bill, which provides that a man shall not be disqualified for voting by reason of his having during the previous year accepted gratuitous medical treatment from a public dispensary. To this bill the toriers were a few months ago violently opposed, as an admission of pauperism to the franchise, but since they got into power they have accepted and taken charge of it without winking. What is the precise nature of the amendment on which they have sustained their defeat, the cable does not inform us. But this is a matter of small consequence. The important feature in the incident is, that the Parnellites voted against the ministry, who were actually defeated by a majority of fifty in a liberally full house. The immediate result of this was that they

DROPPED THE BILL.
On the spot, leaving the opposition, led by Sir William Harcourt, to take charge of it. It would appear from this that there is about as good foundation for the stories of a permanent alliance between the toriers and the Parnellites as there used to be for stories of permanent alliance between the liberals and the Parnellites. Whenever during the late contest between Parnell and the liberals any concession was made on either side, such as the liberation of Parnell from prison, it was always stoutly affirmed by the conservatives that a secret agreement, such as "the treaty of Berlin" had been reached, and that Gladstone and Parnell, by which the liberal cabinet was to have the

SUPPORT OF THE IRISH VOTE.
In the house of commons, not one of these stories ever proved true. There is nothing to show that Parnell ever promised anything to the liberals beyond certain action in a particular case. He has undoubtedly agreed more than once to support, or not to oppose, a particular bill or vote, in consideration of some concessions made to him on the other side; but there has not been in his policy in the house of commons the slightest trace of a settled alliance between the Irish and either of the parties. This, too, has really been the secret of Parnell's strength and success. All Irish parties in the house have professed his views, and have occasionally, and liberally as a rule, and the leaders were in the habit of disappearing every now and then into the ranks of the government, and trying to outbid Parnell as the first to change all that. He indicated the plan of which should never be anything else than Irish, and which should on all occasions, and not on some only, deal with the business of the house from an Irish point of view, and vote on every question solely with reference to the effect it would be likely to have on Irish business. It is the only policy which has been consistently followed with which he has adhered to this policy, which has given him the remarkable hold he now has on the Irish people, and has made him successful finally in placing the balance of power in the house of commons. He was evidently wiser than many of his allies in believing that if he held on firmly, so far as the Irish vote was concerned, he would finally make them and would hold whichever was in power, to a certain extent, at his mercy. Each in turn now complies and tries to placate him, and every time he concedes something it is reported that he has at last signed a treaty. But there is no reason to believe that he has any less intention of holding on to that policy, or that either liberals or conservatives have anything to expect from him of which the world does not know.

FORMING AN IRISH PARTY

COMPETITORS FOR HIS SUPPORT.

What Mr. John Morley, one of the ablest writers and shrewdest observers on the liberal side, says on this subject in the last number of Macmillan's Magazine, is well worth quoting:

"A second point that cannot escape attention in the crisis is the peremptory disposition of favorite allusions to the Irish vote 'not counting.' The notion that the two English parties should establish an agreement that, if either of them should chance to be beaten by a majority due to the victors should act as if they had lost the division, has been cherished by some who are not exactly distinguished for their wisdom. We now see what such a notion is worth. It has proved to be worth just as much as might have been expected by any onlooker who knows the excitement of the players, the fierceness of the game, and the irresistible glitter of the prizes. When it suits their own purpose, the two English parties will unite to baffle or to crush the Irish, but neither of them will ever scruple to use the Irish in order to battle or to

CRUSH THEIR OWN RIVAL.
This fancy must be banished to the same limbo as the similar dream that Ireland could be disfranchised and reduced to the rank of a crown colony. Three years ago when Ireland was violently disturbed, and the Irish members were extremely troublesome, some of the liberal project of governing Ireland like India was favored, and some of the sharpest are to be found on their own benches—do not shrink from declaring that they come into power as Mr. Parnell's lieutenants. His vote is called them, and the price will be paid. In the whole transaction, they not only count; they vote for everything."—N. Y. Evening Post.

Fire at Duluth.
DULUTH, Minn., July 31.—A fire in the basement of G. C. Greenwood & Co's hardware store damaged the building to the extent of $4,000. The hardware stock of the firm was damaged by heat, smoke and water, from $15,000 to $20,000. The whole stock was valued at about $60,000, and insured for $40,000.

Three Negroes Hanged for Murdering an Old Lady and Robbing Her.
LAURENCE, La., July 31.—George Wilson, Charles Davis and Mathilde Jones, all colored, were executed here to-day for the murder and robbery of Mrs. Henrietta Cole, in this town, on the night of January 27th last. Wilson was captured in Memphis a few weeks later, and before the trial made a voluntary confession, giving the names of his accomplices.

The principal witness against the prisoners at the trial was a little colored girl, servant of Mrs. Cole at the time of the murder. She heard the murderers conspire to rob her mistress, and gave them information about Mrs. Cole's money, and saw them with the jewelry in their possession, after the murder. The conspirators entered Mrs. Cole's dwelling, strangled her to death and robbed the house of many diamonds and other valuables. Mrs. Cole was the widow of the late Judge J. S. Cole, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. Wilson was baptized yesterday, seemed resigned to his fate, was ready to go, and acknowledged the justice of his sentence.

By Persons Unknown.
EAST SAGINAW, Mich., July 31.—Notwithstanding that Wm. Pierson confesses to having struck the blow which resulted in Dolph Bergeron's death, the coroner's jury this morning returned as their verdict that Bergeron's death was attributed to a blow inflicted by a person, or persons, unknown.

Business Failures.

MARITAL LOVE.

The Letter Found in One of Grant's Pockets Addressed to His Wife Contained a Lock of Hair.

A King She Gave Him Years Ago and a Lock of Her Hair Enclosed in the Coffin.

Ex-Gov. Leland Stanford, of California, Sends a Floral Memorial—Western Union Monument Collection.

Mr. McGREGOR, N. Y., July 31.—When Col. Grant, the last night before his father's body was finally enclosed in the coffin, touched it with his hands and lips for the last time, he placed in the coat pocket a letter from Mrs. Grant addressed to her husband. It contained simply the words: "Farewell till we meet again in a better world." With it was enclosed a lock of her hair. The letter is intended as a response to that which was found in the general's pocket after his death, addressed to Mrs. Grant, and which is known to be so precious to her—a lock of hair, which she will always carry.

THE RING.
which Col. Grant placed on his father's hand is one which was given him many years ago by Mrs. Grant. He wore it constantly till his hand was so wasted by disease that the ring would no longer remain on his finger. Then he put it away somewhere. It was found in his pocketbook. He always assured the family that it was safe in his keeping.

"THE GATES AJAR."
Mr. McGREGOR, July 31.—A considerable number of people came to the mountain to-day to view the remains of the dead general. The expression of the face remains very natural. A magnificent floral memorial was received at the Grant cottage this evening from Ex-Gov. Leland, of California, and Mrs. Stanford, representing "The Gates Ajar," composed of two gates, six feet high by five feet wide, composed of white and purple immortelles, crowned by an arch surmounted with the name "U. S. Grant," and with a flight of steps ascending to the half-opened gate.

The program of services for Tuesday is as follows: Scripture reading, 90th psalm, prayer by the Rev. Bishop Harris, of the M. E. church, New York; hymn; "My faith looks up to Thee," discourse by the Rev. J. P. Newman, D. D., LL. D.; hymn; "Nearer my God to Thee"; benediction; contra-tenor solo, "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping."

UNFOUNDED REGRETS.
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Referring to the regrets that have been expressed in some quarters that Gen. Grant is not to be buried in his uniform with one of his swords by his side, and to the supposition that none of his uniforms or swords are available for that purpose, because they were all turned over to the government some months ago with his other military relics, Adjt.-Gen. Drum said to an Associated Press reporter that any, or all of them, were at the disposal of Mrs. Grant while they remain in the war department, awaiting the action of congress.

CHICAGO'S MONUMENT FUND.
CHICAGO, July 31.—At a meeting of the committee in charge of the work of erecting a Grant memorial in this city, to-day it was learned that subscriptions to the amount of $22,000, and other pledges, swelled the total figure to $32,000.

THE WESTERN UNION.
MINNEAPOLIS, July 31.—The following telegram from Gen. Supt. Clowry, arranged to collect and account for subscriptions to the Grant monument fund as directed, has been received:

"Remit through this office twice each month the amount collected on such account with a detailed statement of the collection, commencing August 15th. When all subscriptions have been obtained, forward full statement, with original subscription list and cash, to balance the account. The entries on this account should be made in your regular report. You should give the matter as full public notice as possible, without expense."
(Signed) L. McMICHAEL.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 29.
To L. McMichael: The executive committee of the Western Union Telegraph company resolved at its meeting to-day to subscribe the sum of $5,000 toward the fund for a monument to Gen. Grant. It also resolved that the managers of the office of the company should be instructed to receive subscriptions to the fund from the public. Please, therefore, instruct your respective managers by telegraph, to display in their offices notices to the effect that they are prepared to accept such contributions, and to give informal receipts therefor, which receipts will be subsequently replaced by formal receipts from the committee of the Grant monument association, which has been appointed by the mayor of the city of New York.

The simplest way to account for subscriptions will, I think, be for each manager to provide himself with an ordinary cheap pass book, in which under an appropriate heading he shall record each subscriber to write his own name, his post-office address, and the amount of his subscription, and for which subscription the manager will give an informal receipt in the following form, viz:

"Received of _____ this _____ date, the sum of _____ dollars, as a contribution to the Grant monument fund, which money is to be forwarded to the Grant monument association, through the treasurer of the Western Union company. This receipt is to be replaced later by a receipt of the Grant monument association."
(Signed) _____
Manager W. U. telegraph office at _____

"Each manager shall then remit to the treasurer, or to his superintendent, as the rule of his office may be, the amount subscribed up to the time of his next regular remittance, accompanied by a transcript of his pass book. The pass book shall be forwarded to New York for audit, where the subscription is finally closed. It is important to have notices posted and the public advised as early as possible."
(Signed) R. C. CLOWRY, Gen. Supt.
L. McMICHAEL, Supt.

In revenge he shot and killed two sergeants belonging to a native regiment, barricaded himself within his quarters, and shot his wife dead. Mr. Edwards, president of the association, telegraphed to Wm. H. Vanderbilt last night, that he believed Maud S. could trot in 2:07. To-day Vanderbilt wired the following answer:

THAT TROUBLESOME POUND.

The Owner of a Cow Is Being Harassed in a Contemptible Manner.

Complaints, some of which are evidently well founded, continue to be made at the Mining Journal office regarding the management of the pound. A lady, whose word is not to be doubted, claims that she sends a cow belonging to her to pasture every morning, but in some mysterious manner, a few days since, it got out of that and into the pound. After a search of over three hours, during the heat of the day, the poundmaster was found, the two dollars charges paid and the animal returned to the owner.

Of the wonderful singing of the Vesuvians—more widely celebrated in Europe than in this country—particulars will be given in a subsequent issue. This company will appear here early in September.

Grant, to be held at the fair grounds in this city, on Saturday, August 24, the date of the funeral. Col. C. Y. Osburn, of the G. A. R., was chosen president and J. W. Wyckoff, secretary.

Without discussing the point as to just what constitutes the maximum legal fee the poundmaster can charge under such circumstances, it is beyond question that he had no right to charge four dollars. If he did demand that amount as is claimed, and it is the opinion of the MINING JOURNAL that the outside legal fee is $2.50, though an ambiguous city ordinance seems to leave it an open question whether $3.50 is not allowable. In justice to those who may be subject to the operations of this particular provision of the city laws, the ambiguity should be removed at the earliest possible moment by the proper authorities. So long as it remains as it now is, those who suffer from it have a right to the benefit of the doubt, and are justified in refusing to pay more than $2.50, in such cases as the one which is the subject of this article.

Regarding the owner of the cow herein referred to, there is no doubt, but that she is being contemptibly and illegally harassed by some one or more persons. She pays for pasture, has her cow driven to and from pasture morning and evening, and still, unless she sets a guard to watch the animal after being securely enclosed in pasture, she is regularly mulcted in the sum of two dollars, or more if she declines to pay it. The poundmaster disclaims complicity in this contemptible business, and it is to be hoped, both for his own credit and the credit of the city, that he is clear of it.

The necessity of taking up all animals running at large within the city limits is no one's question, but the city authorities are under just as much of an obligation to see that the laws providing for this necessity are not transgressed or abused as they are to see that they are properly enforced.

At the suggestion of the MINING JOURNAL reporter, and by the advice of the city attorney, the poundmaster has set the following hours during which he will be found at the pound, daily, when there are any animals in the pound, which will at least remove one just cause for complaint: From 6:30 to 7:30 A. M., and from 11:30 A. M. to 12:30 P. M.; from 6:30 P. M. to 7:30 P. M.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Marquette to be visited by Camilla Urso, the Violinist; Helen Potter, the Elocutionist and Impersonator; and The Vesuvians Concert Company.

Our city readers will learn with pleasure that arrangements have been perfected between the United States Lyceum Bureau, of New York, and the officers of the Marquette musical association, for the appearance here of Camilla Urso, eminent violinist; Helen Potter, the elocutionist and impersonator, and the Vesuvians concert company. The first entertainment of the series will be given on the evening of the 14th inst., by Madame Urso, of whose standing among contemporary artists the following criticism, clipped from a leading eastern paper, will give an idea.

The Camilla Urso recital last evening was largely attended, and the success of the artist very great. Madame Urso's performance was the "violin etherealized"—divested wholly of the vulgar elements of carol and rosti. She is now in the prime of life for a musician, and her most prominent characteristics, as a violinist, are complete repose of manner, a staccato as clear as a string of pearls, a most remarkable finish in trills, an unfailingly correct intonation, a wonderful nicety in shading and in variations of rhythm, a total absence of even the appearance of labor in meeting the most formidable difficulties of technique, a broad but bright and vibrant tone, a thorough and graceful command of the bow, and a free use of devices to secure remarkable combinations and effects, including in the latter, stopped harmonics for entire phrases, and changes of the pitch of a string (a device invented by Paganini) to render possible certain otherwise unattainable effects. Indeed, an enumeration of the remarkable points of Madame Urso's performance last night, would be nearly a complete catalogue of the discoveries in technique, and of the inventions in execution made by violinists since Brescia and Gremone began to furnish the suitable instruments.

Of the abilities of Miss Potter, who will appear on the evening of the 24th inst., suffice it for the present to say that none rank higher. She presents a "Monologue" entertainment this season, in which she introduces her marvellous costumed impersonations interspersed with original observations and comments upon various personages and topics—the latter a new feature, originating in the fertile brain of Miss Potter. Also "Platform Celebrities," in which the peculiarities of well-known orators and artists will be illustrated and discussed.

A sub-committee of three was appointed to wait upon mayor Thurber and ask him to issue a proclamation requesting that all business houses, factories and offices be closed, and the participation of all citizens in the memorial services. This committee consisted of Maj. Rasmussen, of the G. A. R., Bernier, of the St. John Baptist society and Mr. E. M. Watson.

The ceremonies will take place between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock P. M.; the exact hour for the address will be decided upon hereafter.

An invitation was extended to every citizen to join in the procession with carriage or on foot. Mr. W. H. Volk was appointed a committee on music.

The general invitation, issued a week ago, to all societies in this city to join in the memorial ceremonies was repeated by resolution adopted at this meeting.

A general committee adjourned to meet at the Odd Fellows Hall on Thursday, Aug. 6, at 8 o'clock P. M., to complete arrangements for the day.

It is suggested to the committee appointed to engage a speaker for the day, that one of the most brilliant and finished orators in the country, the Rev. Dr. Betts, of St. Louis, is to deliver the address on the preceding day at the Irish National picnic, and that if the reverend gentleman feels equal to the task, he would probably be the most desirable of any one who could be secured to deliver the funeral oration on this solemn occasion of paying a tribute of respect to the memory of the great general and foremost citizen of America, Gen. U. S. Grant.

COMPLICATIONS.

Mr. Hossiek's Attorney Throws a Few Stumbling Blocks in the Way of His Extradition to Illinois.

The authorities are not likely to have a smooth sailing in the effort to return George Hossiek to Illinois to be tried on a charge of stealing the horse named John R. The extradition papers for which sheriff Ames of Boone county, Ill., is in waiting had not arrived yesterday, though expected the day before, and in the afternoon Mr. E. J. Mapes got out a writ of habeas corpus before circuit court commissioner J. E. Dalliba for the purpose of releasing Hossiek. The writ was granted on the plea that Hossiek had been wrongfully in custody since the 24 inst., without any sort of process whatever having been filed against him.

At the same time Mr. Mapes obtained a writ of attachment in the sum of $263 against the horse John R. for a debt due from the owner for Hossiek's time, labor, and expenses in bringing him here and the expense of taking care of him since.

Mr. Hossiek has also entered suit against Rufus Ingalls, owner of the horse, for false imprisonment, laying damages at $1,000.

The last attachment was served yesterday afternoon and the first one on the day before.

The above proceedings will be likely to complicate matters a good deal and may prolong, for a few days, sheriff Ames' stay in Marquette. That gentleman, however, is not getting uneasy. He speaks in highest eulogy of the place and people and probably needs a rest after his arduous labors in taking care of rascals down in the sucker state.

Sheriff Ames was seen yesterday evening and asked if the proceedings taken by Mr. Hossiek would prevent his taking him home as soon as expected. He replied that he expected they would. He did not propose to kidnap the man. The required papers for his transfer to Belvidere had arrived from the capital and he should oppose them to the writ of habeas corpus.

Mr. Charles Orton, of Bay City, has been loading a fleet with lumber at the dock. The boats left yesterday with 1,500,000 feet, being a part of a recent purchase by Mr. Orton. Out of twelve men employed Thursday last ten succumbed to the heat and had to go home before 1 o'clock.

Mrs. S. Wheeler gave a lawn party to the Chequamegon's yesterday afternoon. The time was passed pleasantly with lawn games, music and May Ball played and sang several pieces at the piano, which were very much enjoyed. A number of ladies and gentlemen were present. The party ended with refreshments at 6 o'clock.

James Russell, the new postmaster, took formal charge of the office last evening, at which time an inventory of cash, stock and assets was made, and all were transferred to the new office. The transfer was very pleasantly effected, and the in-going official acknowledged many favors at the hands of the retiring postmaster, Mr. Billings. M. J. Malloy goes into the office as assistant postmaster, this being the only change, as yet, made in the old force.

The propeller Nyack arrived at 8 o'clock last evening, having appropriated some time to the fifty passengers. The Nyack is one of the most popular boats running in the Lake Superior Transit line. She is furnished in elegant elegance, and has a large cabin and spacious staterooms. She is a favorite with travel, but is no better in any respect, except in point of furnishing, than any of the ten other boats operated by the same company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Volk gave a children's party at the Clifton last evening. About sixty boys and girls assembled in the dining hall, which had been cleared for the occasion. The young folks and their older friends listened to a concert by the Chequamegon orchestra, after which they danced until 10 o'clock, and most of the little folks then went home. The older ones continued the dance later. It was an exceedingly pleasant affair, and was enjoyed as much by the spectators as by the participants.

Two weeks ago Charles Born charged Cyrille Morin with appropriating some tools belonging to him, consisting of crow-bars, stedges, etc. Morin admitted going to Born's place, and taking the tools, but claimed that they were his own, and that he had a right to take them. Justice Cray took charge of the tools, pending a demand for a jury trial by Morin. Born explained them. The trial came off yesterday, and the verdict was a wash, and Mr. Morin fully exonerated by the jury. Mr. Born says he will appeal the case.

A sail to Presque Isle was given yesterday by Mr. George Wagner, in honor of Mrs. H. G. Delker, Misses Emelia, Lena and Marie Martin, of Vermillion, Ohio; Miss Edna Gray, of North Amherst, Ohio; and Mr. Frank Duff, of Vulcan, Mich. Among the Marquette people who accepted an invitation to join in the party were Mrs. L. S. Rasmussen, Miss Thillie Rasmussen, Miss Kittie Wilson and Miss Thillie Wagner. The ladies who received this pleasant farewell here were stopping for a week at the Mesnard House. They will take passage on the Nyack to-day.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. S. P. Ely, of Cleveland, formerly a resident of this city, is at the Mesnard.

Mr. Mae Thompson, of Port Huron, a college chum of the Ann Arbor boys, is their guest at the Clifton.

Mr. Albert Crain and daughter, of Chicago, are stopping at the Mesnard for a few days. Mr. Crain is the owner of the Russell House, Detroit, and several other large hotels.

A Caesar Barker, for the past year responsible clerk in A. Matthews' real estate office, will sail to-day on the steamer Nyack for Liverpool, Eng., the home of his parents. Falling health is the cause of his return to England. Mr. Barker is a young man of good promise, of excellent habits, and during his stay in this country has earned and received the confidence of his employer, and is the kind of young man who will benefit our country by becoming permanent American citizens. All who know him will unite in the wish that he may soon regain his health, and return to America, where his merit must win him success in life.

At the Mesnard: T. C. Cobb, S. S. Cobb, Frank Henderson, Kalamazoo; E. D. Lyon, S. P. Ely, Cleveland; J. B. Bowen, M. Goldman, Chicago; S. C. Emplin and wife, Council Bluffs; Mrs. J. H. Warner, Mrs. J. D. Marshall, St. Louis; F. H. Sackman, New York.

At the Clifton House—George H. Estabrooke, New York; W. M. Kirkpatrick, Palmer; C. H. Hayes, Detroit; Robt. Stone, Alpena; F. D. Stouffer, Philadelphia; Wm. P. Forsyth, Jefferson, Wis.
