NEWS FROM ALASKA.

Interesting Report From Capt. Healy, Commanding the Revenue Steamer Corwin, Now Cruising in Alaskan Waters.

The Newly Appointed Assistant Treasurer at San Francisco Instructed to Take Possession at Once.

A Military Indian Agent--Appointment Revoked--The Ontonagon Land Cases--Naval Officers' Complaints--Miscellaneous.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.--The acting secretary of the treasury has received a report from Capt. Healy commanding the revenue steamer Corwin, in regard to his cruise in Alaskan waters. The report is dated Pt. Clarence, A. T., July 10th, Lt. Benham and two seamen were left on Otter Island early in the cruise for the protection of seals, relieving Lt. Cantwell from that duty. No evidence of illicit trade was found among any of the whaling vessels. Information was received of the loss,

IN THE ICE. Of the bark Napoleon and Gasette, in lat. 60, 30, N. W., and long. 17, 20, E. All boats were manned by the respective crews, and an endeavor made to reach a place of safety over the ice. Two of the boats were lost, and all on board, numbering eighteen persons, perished. Four of the men in other boats were found.

FROZEN TO DEATH. The steamers Ballava and Thrasher, and barks Atlantic, Arnold, Dawn, Young Phoenix, and Eliza, were also badly damaged by the ice. The agents at St. George and St. Paul report that no marauding vessels have been seen so far this season. The natives of Cape Prince of Wales, and on the Diomede Islands, were found.

PEACETIME AND THRIVING. At Hatham Inlet Lt. Cartwell and three men were dispatched with the steam launch to explore the Kavok river, and if possible reach the mouth. Another expedition was dispatched under second assistant engineer McErgon to explore the Foyatag river. Successful results are expected from both. It is to be noted that had been heard at Hatham Inlet of the schooner Viking, having on board the naval expedition under Lt. G. M. Stoney. The Corwin will extend her cruise to Ketchikan sound.

LOBBING'S ACCOUNTS NOT SATISFACTORY. First comptroller Durham says that he is not satisfied with Mr. Loring's explanation of his accounts as commissioner of agriculture, and unless he can offer better reasons for expenditures for seeds, etc., than have yet been submitted, he (the comptroller) will have to report his case to the solicitor of the treasury for institution of legal proceedings.

SAN FRANCISCO'S SUB-TREASURY. It is understood that the newly appointed assistant treasurer at San Francisco has been instructed by acting secretary Fairchild to take possession of the sub-treasury there, and to continue the count of the moneys and securities in such manner as may be deemed to be the best interest of the service.

A MILITARY INDIAN AGENT. It is in contemplation to appoint an army officer to perform the duties of Indian agent on the San Carlos reservation. Some time ago secretary Lamar expressed the conviction that an army officer should be designated to represent both the secretary of war departments, and the secretary of the interior, and the president directed that Capt. F. E. Pierce be assigned to the position. The president has yet signified his purpose in regard to the matter.

APPOINTMENT REVOKED. Col. Wright, commissioner of the labor bureau, to-day had the appointment of C. P. Judd, as special agent of the bureau, revoked because of his recent arrest in Colorado on charges of horse stealing, and his admitting his guilt, and that he had served two terms in prison for the same offense.

THE ONTONAGON LAND CASES. Counsel in the Ontonagon land cases of Michigan to-day finished their arguments, begun before the secretary of the interior day before yesterday, and were given fifteen days within which to file their briefs.

NAVAL OFFICERS' COMPLAINTS. An order similar to that recently issued by secretary Edlicott will shortly be sent out from the navy department. The navy regulations require that officers shall serve three years at sea and three years on shore, returning at the end of the latter period to sea duty, and complaint has been made by some officers that they did not receive full time on shore. To remedy any such evil, which may exist, two officers, one from the line and one from the staff, will probably be detailed at an early date to keep a record showing the kind of work officers are employed on, and the length of time they have been engaged. When three years of shore duty have elapsed the officers will be sent to sea.

COPYRIGHT CONFERENCE. Secretary Bayard has directed United States minister Winchester to attend the international copyright conference at Bern, Switzerland, September 7th, it being understood that his presence does not bind this government. The stipulation is made because the matter of copyright is now pending before congress.

INTERNAL REVENUE AGENTS' PER DIEM. First comptroller Durham has given a decision that under the act of March 3d, 1885, making appropriations for the collection of internal revenue, agents of that bureau are only entitled to a per diem of $3, in lieu of subsistence while traveling and away from home on duty, and not entitled to that while at home.

REPAIRS NEEDED BADLY. The acting secretary of the treasury has received a report from the superintendent of public buildings in New York, to the effect that the custom house, post office and appraiser's office are each in a very bad condition, and in great need of immediate and extensive repairs.

MISCELLANY. Robert G. Sims, of Greenville, Miss., has been appointed guardian of the estate of Utah, at a salary of $60 per month. U. S. consul Mason, at Marquette, in a telegram to the secretary of state to-day says that the cholera in that place is Asiatic and fatal. The deaths number four daily, and the disease is spreading to the interior.

The marquis De Chambrun has been recognized as consul of Ecuador in Washington. The treasury department to-day purchased 295,000 ounces of silver, for delivery at the Philadelphia mint for coinage into standard dollars.

An officer of the marine hospital service has been ordered to visit the cities of Tampico and Bagda, Mex., to investigate the report that yellow fever prevails in those cities.

The acting secretary of the treasury to-day appointed Wm. E. Grubb to be superintendent of the public buildings at Frankfort, Ky., vice Mr. Murphy, suspended.

CHOLERA IN NEW JERSEY. A Young Irish Girl Dies of That Terrible Scourge at Camden.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.--The people of Camden, N. J., are considerably dead over what appears to have been a death from cholera.

The corner of Camden, who is also a physician, was notified yesterday morning that Margaret Kealey, a young Irish domestic on the farm of Edw. P. Hunt, at White Horse, had died suddenly on Wednesday evening. Arriving there at noon the coroner found the body in an advanced state of decomposition, and so offensive was it that it had become necessary to remove it to an open shed. On investigating the case corner Beale found that the dead girl came from Ireland two weeks ago. Her brother, Michael Kealey, of Philadelphia, obtained a place for her with farmer Hunt ten days before she died.

Wednesday evening, a quarter of six, Kealey was taken suddenly and violently ill, and vomited continually till she died an hour and a half afterward. The coroner gave a certificate of death from cholera, and the body was taken to the undertakers in Philadelphia, and was to have been buried at once. The house and corpse were thoroughly disinfected. The coroner continued his investigation and found that the symptoms in the case were identical with those of Asiatic cholera. Dr. Bowman Silvers, of Haddonfield, who was called in to attend the girl, did not arrive till after her death. A rigid investigation is being made by Dr. Beale to determine the character of the disease.

THE LOUISVILLE SOUTHERN EXPOSITION. It Will Be Opened by the Governor, and its Attractions Are Unusual.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 14.--Arrangements are nearly completed for the opening of the third season of the Louisville Southern Exposition to-morrow, the displays being nearly all in a state of completeness. Owing to the large number of exhibitors from distant foreign lands, this one will be the most novel and interesting of the series.

The collection includes the pictures of the American Art Association's Prize Fund exhibition, held in New York last April, and some 200 others. It is proposed to have the best collection of American pictures ever brought together. The fire department and the military will be represented by the mayor and the governor, and the address will be delivered by Jno. Young Brown, of Henderson, after which Gov. Knott will declare the exposition open, which will not close till October 24th.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.--The list of army officers who will be ordered back to their regiments, having been on detached service more than four years, publishes the following list of officers who will be exempt from operation of the order, having been on detached service by the secretary of war:

Richard Laddock, artillery school, six years; Capt. A. B. Blunt, military prison, eight years; Capt. Wm. C. Y. Greene, military academy, thirteen years, two months; Capt. Richard H. Pratt, Tenth cavalry, Indian school, ten years, four months.

Extra Congressional Session Wanted.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.--The trades organizations here to-day petitioned the United States to issue a petition to-morrow, requesting the president to call an extra session of congress, to be devoted exclusively to the consideration of measures of relief of the industrial classes of the country. The consequences of depression are especially severe on laboring people and small manufacturers who are without any reserve means on which to live, or pay debts, and save homes and properties from the sale, and we believe it is in the power of congress and the executive to greatly relieve the depression by wise legislation. It asks that an extra session be convened on or before the last Monday in September, 1885.

Twenty Pagan Indians Killed.

BILLINGS, W. T., Aug. 14.--Ed. Goulding, with two associate cattlemen on the Musselshell, yesterday met a marauding band of Pagan Indians, between Razor creek and the Musselshell. The Pagan number twenty, and were accompanied by seventy-five stolen horses. Goulding and party fired, killing one Indian, but being greatly outnumbered were compelled to retreat for reinforcement. Obtaining the latter, and overtaking them they killed the entire party and recovered all the stolen horses. Whether the battle may have on the neighboring lands is unknown.

A Ghastly Find.

DETROIT, Aug. 14.--In Springwell, one of Detroit's suburbs, the body of an unknown man, about 40 years old, was found lying in a ditch yesterday, much bloated and decomposed. In the back of the head was found four bullet holes, and near by a loaded revolver. It is thought the murder was committed elsewhere, and the body carried to the ditch.

A CHANGE OF HEART.

The Union Forever, Says Gen. Fitz Hugh Lee, the South Feels it is Part of the Country Once More.

Seven Hundred Virginia Veteran Cavalrymen, Who Followed Grant to His Grave, Grieved at His Bier.

Southern Soldiers Have Learned to Love a Generous Victor, and There is No South, No North, Any More.

THE CHASM BRIDGED.

GRANT'S DEATH A VICTORY. The cordials and vestibule of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York city, were thronged during Sunday by governors, United States senators, congressmen and other public officials. Gen. Joseph E. Johnston and Gen. Buckner, the famous southern leaders, were shown every attention by Gen. Sheridan. The three sat together for over two hours on one of the sofas in the vestibule talking over the war and the life and character of Gen. Grant. General and ex-United States senator John B. Gordon, of Georgia, joined them. Gen. Fitz-Hugh Lee, of Virginia, said that when he was in the general procession with Gen. Gordon, as an aide to Gen. Hancock, he was filled with emotion upon seeing a picture of Gen. Grant with the inscription below:

"LET THEM HAVE THEIR HORSES, they will need them for their crops." "That line brought Appomattox back to me like some sad dream," said Gen. Lee to a reporter. "It was a touching union, Gen. Gordon and I were the two remaining corps commanders of the three who were with Gen. Lee when Grant gave utterance to that magnanimous sentiment. Gen. Gordon saw the inscription at the same moment that I did, and our eyes instinctively met as we read it. I don't know what Gen. Gordon felt, but I was ready to use my handkerchief. You can't imagine what those words implied. In the confederate army every man had to supply his own horse, while in the union army everything was supplied by the government."

"General, what do you think of this demonstration?" asked the reporter, referring to Gen. Grant's funeral.

"It means that the union is now more firmly and inseparably united than it was twenty years before Buchanan's administration. The war was the inevitable culmination of MARQUETTE, MICH., AUG. 15, 1885.

Entered as mail matter of the second-class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Our stock report this morning shows that Calumet and Hecla stock still keeps mounting. It reached 21 1/2 yesterday. Imagine the present feelings of the weak-kneed ones who got scared and sold when it was down to 120 last summer.

For the week ending with and including August 12th, the Minnesota Iron company's shipments over the Duluth and Iron Range railroad and the port of Two Harbors by vessel amounted to 10,311 tons. Added to the 113,056 tons previously reported, this brings the shipments from the Vermilion mines for the season to that date up to 153,367 gross tons.

This paper has information which is not yet at liberty to make public regarding a wonderfully rich gold field in the vicinity of Ishpeming. The restriction placed on us will be removed in a few days, when the MINING JOURNAL will be permitted to give all the facts bearing on what it has reason to believe the most promising gold discovery yet made in the upper peninsula. Meanwhile our readers can rest secure in the belief that we are on the eve of developments which will remove the last shred of doubt as to the existence of the yellow metal in richly paying deposits in this county.

MILWAUKEE'S board of trade is ready to work cordially with the people of the upper peninsula for the more important objects that the business connection held here in June had in view, and which that to be held at Ishpeming on the second Tuesday in September is intended to further. Other powerful business organizations in the trade centers on the great chain of lakes will lend their aid. Such being the case, our people should see to it that the Ishpeming convention is worthy of the cause in whose interest it is to be held, and of the co-laborers who are ready to pull with us in the movement to further encourage and develop vessel transportation on Lake Superior.

AMONG the silliest things that a Washington correspondent has done in a long time was done by the New York World's hired man at the national capital, when he gave out that president Cleveland's letter rebuking a certain politician for having endorsed the candidacy of a man for a western judgeship of whose appointment he afterward wrote to the president disapprovingly was addressed to Hon. Don M. Dickinson, of this state. The World's correspondent clearly is not familiar with the high character of Mr. Dickinson, or he would have known better than to assume that he could possibly fit in to the case in the role given him. The whole thing is so preposterous that we are surprised to see the Detroit papers treating it so seriously as they have been. The World is too good a paper to be represented at Washington by a gleamer of news who prepares it with such flagrant lack of discrimination.

The comparative economy of natural gas in the manufacture of iron is still undecided, although gas has been quite generally in use in Pittsburgh for a year past. The Pittsburgh Times says that "the saving in puddling furnaces has been partly set forth by one firm, which gives the tests as to the output from the charges, without, however, stating the difference in cost between coal and gas. The result shows about 5 1/2 per cent greater weight of iron from gas than from coal. The cost of gas per ton of finished bars has been quoted on reasonable good authority at $1. This does not include steam. Another authority places the cost at $1.27, which is assumed to include puddling, heating and steam. This and the increased product of the puddling furnace, indicate a saving over coal of about 12 per cent. It is held that the iron manufacture with gas is of better quality, owing to the absolute purity of the fuel, and this has been estimated at 6 per cent, though with what truth cannot be stated."

The business men of the Mississippi and Missouri river basins in the northwest are moving to secure a more just distribution of government appropriations for river improvements, and will hold a convention at an early date at Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Dakota and Montana will be represented. They claim that the states and territories named have over seven thousand miles of navigable waterways, producing the greater portion of the food supplies of the country, yet congress, in providing money for the improvement or navigation, gives their streams only about one-third the sum voted for the Mississippi river below Cairo. They make out a good case, and if their representatives in congress stand firmly together they can force the proper recognition of their wants. There has always been too much favoritism shown the south in the matter of such appropriations, and the people of the northwest are not to blame for protesting forcibly and insisting that they shall in future have their full share of public treasure.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph. Without stopping to question the charge of favoritism to the south carried in the above paragraph, we fully endorse what it embodies regarding the wisdom of a coalition among the northern states named for the purpose stated. They can bring an influence to bear on congress which that body will not dare resist. The nation is amply able to provide for the improvement of all its important water-ways, and in no other manner can its surplus be more judiciously expended.

An exceedingly shrewd observer of things in the Canadian Manufacturer. Discussing the proposition of "all-round reciprocity" between Canada and the United States, the paper quoted remarks that reciprocity like that would be a bad thing for Canada, and gives cogent reasons for the belief in a strongly written editorial, from which we take the following short extract:

It is contended by those who advocate reciprocity in manufactures that Canadian manufacturers, in return for allowing the Americans the benefit of our markets, would have the advantage of free access to the markets of fifty millions of people. Those who thus contend forget that in the struggle to sell manufactured goods, other things being equal, propinquity to market is a factor sufficient to decide the contest. In order to reach that fifty million market we would have to pass the doors of the most wide awake and thoroughly efficient manufacturers on earth, and then, with heavier freights, compete successfully with larger establishments having the advantage of cheaper and more abundant capital. Those who have faith in the ability of Canadian manufacturers to overcome these advantages on the part of their rivals, and conquer these rivals in their home market, cannot fairly be charged with pessimism. Even supposing, although the supposition is absurd—that with the advantage of larger and more thoroughly equipped establishments and cheaper capital, the American manufacturers would not, under all round reciprocity, overflow northward to conquer the Canadian market, it is evident to all, but the most visionary of optimists, that Canadian manufacturers could not hope to more than retain their home market. Viewed in this way, then, Canada does not appear likely to achieve much in the way of manufacturing progress by all round reciprocity.

Continuing, the Manufacturer declares that reciprocity with the United States might be fairly and consistently advocated by an annexationist, for annexation would be Canada's only escape from the evils that would follow in its train, but that "a moment's intelligent study of its probable—may certain—working should prevent anyone else from advocating it." That ought to condemn reciprocity on both sides of the line. If reciprocity would lead to annexation, then we on this side certainly want none of it. We've got about all the country we can govern comfortably now.

ONE of the most gigantic schemes for getting control of valuable coal property is now being quietly worked by a syndicate of capitalists of Pittsburgh and in the coke regions. The plan is to take out coal that underlies the three rivers. In nosing about in some old state documents recently a coal man of Pittsburgh discovered a charter eighteen years of age that gave exclusive right to all minerals lying under the bed of the three rivers in Allegheny county to a company. Two of the members of that company were John Scott and Robert Mackey. It was through the efforts of these two that the charter was obtained. The year that it was got was about the time when the first rich profits from the Monongahela coal region were being reaped. The members taking out the charter thought by it to get control of a big lot of coal without paying for it. Their attention though was diverted by other things and the charter has been pigeon-holed until a short time ago.

The possessions of the new coal company, by this charter, are now worth thousands of dollars. Eighteen years ago, when the right to the coal was got, its value was very much less, as then the first vein of coal was only beginning to be worked. Now, however, the case is different. In a number of places along the Monongahela river the first vein of coal has been exhausted and shafts have been sunk to work the thicker vein. The right to take out the stratum under the river then has become of special value. The plan of the newly-organized company is to begin operations this fall within the city limits of Pittsburgh. In the neighborhood of the point, shafts on either side of the river will be sunk to the vein. The two openings will then be dug towards each other until all the coal in the neighborhood has been taken out. Then shafts will be sunk in a similar manner further up the river and the plan repeated in this way until all the coal underlying the river-bed has been extracted. To a mining engineer the scheme to be pursued presents no difficulties. The nearness to the river will allow the coal to be loaded directly upon the barges.—Coal Trade Journal.

REPUBLIC CATERINGS, That Melodious Whistle—A Fire Which Nobody Knew Anything About—Small Ore Shipments—Miscellany.

REPUBLIC, Aug. 14.—Monday morning two gentlemen from Negaunee drove up to Hart Bros' store, tied their team, and went in to do some business. All at once the melodious whistling of engine No. 41 started, and said the horses, who broke their hitching strap and took down Main street. We don't blame them a bit, as nearly all the people here have become either deaf or crazy on the same account. The team was caught, and fortunately nothing was broken, except a pair of thills on a buggy that ran over, which stood in the street in front of the blacksmith shop. (Oh, that whistle!)

The ladies of Republic gave a party in the hall Tuesday evening. About twenty-five couples enjoyed dancing, and refreshments were served. It was an impromptu affair, but when the Republic ladies get up anything it is bound to be a success.

The roller rink is in full blast again, being open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings. Music is furnished by the celebrated orchestra organ, on each occasion.

There was a fire at the Klonan location Wednesday morning, in which Peter Miller lived being burned to the ground, as well as all the contents. Nobody in town knew anything about it until it was over.

Joseph Geach caught the largest brook trout ever captured here. It weighed three pounds and two ounces.

C. H. Kirkwood, of Ishpeming, made his brother J. A. a short visit Tuesday. He thinks Republic is about as busy a town as any he saw after his trip to Michigan.

Another excursion-to-morrow to Marquette. Dr. Holmberg, who left on Wednesday's train for Marquette, on business, arrived home to-day.

Water lilies are no luxuries here now, the boys bringing them in by the arm load.

F. H. Kearney made a business trip down the road Thursday.

For the past two weeks Geo. Wilson, agent of the fabric mill, has had carpenters and painters at work on his residence.

Thursday our fire department was out in a body for the purpose of being photographed. Mrs. Taylor, the champion artist of this county, took the negative, and that is sufficient guaranty that the pictures will be good.

L. Lafors has cut sixty tons of timothy and clover on his farm this summer, and expects to harvest a big crop of oats.

Mrs. J. O. St. Clair has been quite ill for the past two weeks, but her many friends will be glad to learn that she is better at the present writing.

Wm. T. Corbett, who was taken down with diphtheria about two weeks ago, is well, and able to attend to his household duties again. His wife is still doing the usual treatment of Dr. Holmberg, and words seem to be inadequate to express the feeling of gratitude they have for him.

We are glad to note that P. W. Pascoe and Ed. Ball, who have been on the sick list for the last week, are now able to get about.

Some time ago we reported that the new Swedish Episcopal church was to be built next to the hospital. This was a mistake. It is now to be built on the corner lot, east of E. Erickson's residence.

About the first question our merchants are asked nowadays, by customers, is—where is your store?

Neither the "big name" nor the West Republic have been shipping their regular amount of ore this week, they being out of cars nor vessels enough.

The lumbermen are beginning to come up from Wisconsin, and they are doing it with a winter—more than any yet. Good enough; we are glad to learn of a boom in something.

There has been a large party down the river all this week killing bears. J. P. Thompson killed two at one shot, and Jack Adams killed another.

The Apaches are back. [Let. Davis in New York Tribune.] The most popular branch of the service at present is the cavalry. Not, as some suppose, because officers are killed off faster there, but because they are used up and retired, which results in the same thing, generally promotion. Let me give you an idea of the work which has been done out in Arizona lately, where they have been howling about the inefficiency of the troops.

The problem was about like this: Given a detachment of troops at New York, and another at Montreal; required to catch an enemy moving from Albany to Pittsburgh, with the possibility of finding water twice between New York and Albany, mind if you say the possibility, not the certainty or even the probability. And then when you catch up with the Indians, they just scatter and that is the end of it. For as striking any blow is concerned, the only way anything can be accomplished is to take along some friendly Indians, talk the thing up over the camp fire, make up your mind as to what they're going to meet again and lay for them.

Anglo-Mania in Paris. [Paris Letter.] The invasion of English in all departments of "the high life" is causing some heartburnings just now to French patriots. You have only to shut your eyes in Paris to fancy yourself in London. If you will hear nothing but chatter about "clubs," "and garden parties," and "gun-clubs." As for the races, it really makes no difference whether you are at the races or longhairs for the talk in either case is all of "ring and paddocks," and "centers," and "starts," and "performances," and "winning posts."

Packing Fine Fish. [New York Tribune.] Caterers have just had difficulty in packing fine fish like salmon and shad to be sent long distances. The packing has been sawdust and ice. The sawdust not infrequently imparts a woody or fishy flavor to the fish for delicate taste. A heat water tells me of a new way of packing which is coming into vogue. The fish are simply packed in a rubber bag, tied at the neck, and then surrounded with sawdust and ice. It is said to answer the purpose admirably.

ELECTRIC EFFLUENCE.

The Brown Electric Company Organized, With Hon. S. P. Ely as President.

Mr. Kaufman also will buy a large stock for this branch of the trade.

Mr. Evans announces a new plan, which will go into effect next Monday morning, at his gallery in the old MINING JOURNAL building, whereby all residents of Marquette and vicinity can have an opportunity of contesting for the silver.

The plan is to permit each person to shoot five times, for twenty-five cents, at one target, which will record his points scored. This score will be preserved until next Saturday evening, when the one scoring the highest number of points during the week will be awarded the prize, no shooting for the prize to be allowed after eleven o'clock Saturday night.

This plan is a very fair one, and enables any one who would like to fire five shots for mere amusement or curiosity to do so for a quarter of a dollar, and at the same time have a chance to win the prize.
