SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

The Commissioners Have Travelled Thirty-two Thousand Miles and Visited Nine Countries with Good Results.

A Great Deal of Interest Was Shown Everywhere in Their Work and Information Willingly Given.

The Propositions Accepted by the Government Will be Submitted in a Printed Report to Congress.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

THE SOUTH-AMERICAN COMMISSION. WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The south-American commissioners are preparing their final report, which will be transmitted to congress by the president along with the eleven special reports upon the different countries which have been forwarded from time to time to the secretary of state. The reports being addressed to congress cannot be furnished for publication without violating official courtesy but have been briefly foreshadowed by the dispatches sent from time to time, the secretary of state informing himself of the progress of the commission.

THE DETAILED REPORTS are very voluminous and contain much valuable matter. They contain not only the views and the conclusions of the commission, but also the statements taken by the stenographer from nearly all the prominent merchants engaged in the foreign trade in the nine countries visited, giving the results of their observations and their opinions as to the best methods of promoting trade.

PROMOTING TRADE between these countries and the United States. It was the practice of the commissioners, at the cities visited, to invite before them the prominent merchants that were supposed to be friendly disposed toward the United States, and require from them all the information possible, relating to the trade of their own countries with the United States and its commercial rivals, and to obtain from them the reasons why this country had so small a share of South American commerce. The various topics, of which close inquiry was made, were furnished in the instructions by Mr. Frelinghuysen, the late secretary of state, and bore upon

A CLOSE INTIMACY between the United States and the other republics of this hemisphere. They also made a schedule of propositions which were accepted by every one of the governments which will be submitted to congress, will make two or three thousand printed pages, including the information furnished by 250 or more merchants interviewed. The commissioners have been constantly employed since the 13th of last September, when they met for organization in New York, and have traveled 32,000 miles and officially visited

NINE DIFFERENT COUNTRIES. Columbia, Nicaragua, and Honduras were omitted because of revolutions. Bolivia could not be visited because her ports were blockaded, and Paraguay and Brazil were passed over, because of instructions sent by secretary Bayard for the commission to return by July 1st, last. The commission reported that a great deal of interest was shown everywhere in South America in their work, and even in Chili, where the government had been hostile.

SHOW MUCH CORDIALITY toward the United States, the citizens were hospitable, and the merchants did everything in their power to facilitate the commission's work. In Uruguay and the Argentine Republic much disappointment was expressed because the visit was necessarily shortened by the instructions of the commission to return by July 1st, last. In the Argentine Republic much disappointment was expressed because the visit was necessarily shortened by the instructions of the commission to return by July 1st, last.

IN ORDER to complete their work in these two countries the commission decided, Judge Thatcher remaining in Uruguay, and Mr. Curtis visiting the Argentine Republic. By this means they were able to devote ten days to each country. The capitals of these countries being opposite each other on the river Plata, the commissioners could hold consultation on, and on occasions when it was deemed necessary both were present at the official interviews with the representatives of the merchants of the country.

A WIFE BEATER'S REVENGE. He Shoots Two Officers Killing One and Seriously Wounding Another.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 23.—This city is greatly excited over a double and what may have turned out to be a triple murder, which occurred in broad daylight today in one of the principal streets. This morning Leonard Gardner, who spent the night in jail for wife beating, procured ball and was released. He immediately armed himself with two revolvers, of large caliber, and became loud in threats against policeman W. J. Camp and Fred Gail, who arrested him.

ABOUT noon Gardner saw the two officers approaching him on Washington street; entering a hallway, he opened fire, and officer Camp fell dead. Gail returned the fire rapidly and in a moment Gardner fell by his side with three bullets in his side. It is not thought likely that Gail will recover, having received two bullets.

Killed on Account of a Dog. ZENIA, O., Aug. 23.—George Halverstat, an elderly farmer, living five miles from here, shot and killed Joseph Wolf, a young neighbor, late Friday evening. Wolf's little dog had chased Halverstat's turkeys. Halverstat insisted on killing the dog, and Wolf tried to prevent him. Finally Halverstat fired at Wolf, and he died in ten minutes. Wolf had been married but two weeks. Halverstat came here and surrendered himself.

A Persecuted Shepherd. BOSLOW, Aug. 23.—Rev. W. W. Downs, pastor of the Bowdoin Square Baptist church, who, with Mrs. Tabor, is under $800 bonds for alleged adultery, preached two sermons to-day, in each of which he reiterated his statement that the arrest and charges were the result of a vile conspiracy, and re-asserts his innocence.

DREAFFUL FATE OF TOURISTS.

Bearing Torches They Enter a Gas-charged Cave and an Explosion Follows.

The Chicago Daily News, of Saturday, has the following special from Hardinsburg, Ky., dated August 21: "Two miles from this place there exists what is known as the natural gas well from the fact that a strong flow of natural gas has, for many years past, been escaping from it. It is in the same belt as that of the natural gas well at Brandenburg and seems to be a great vein or natural storeroom of this great phenomenon of nature. At times the flow of the gas is tremendous and the pressure so great that

THE CAVE FAIBLY VIBRATES and the loose rocks tumble into these seemingly bottomless pits. But few persons have ever ventured in the cave at such times as the gas is almost overpowering and to enter with a lighted torch would be simply suicidal. A party of tourists from Grayson and Jefferson counties came here yesterday to explore the "Diamond" and "Tallow" caves—two natural gas wells in this vicinity—and while here they heard for the first time of the natural gas cave and determined to visit it. They had scarcely entered it with their lighted torches when there was

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION, which extended through the cave for miles. Explosions were followed by explosions. There were violent upheavals of the earth's crust and new domes or vents to the cave were at once created, while great masses of rock and what were once great trees were thrown in all directions. The shock was felt in Cloverport, ten miles distant. The entire party of six are buried in the debris of the cave, and so great is the mass upon them that many days must elapse before the bodies can be recovered. The names of the unfortunate are as follows: John Alexander, aged 32, of Hardinsburg, Ky.; J. L. Hess, aged 43, of Orleans, Ind.; Thomas Looney, aged 27, of Jefferson county, Ky.; R. O. Willis, aged 36, of Grayson county, Ky.; Mrs. T. Heyser, of Grayson county, Ky.; Miss Ollie Allison, of Muhlenberg county, Ky. Great excitement prevails. A large force of workmen, headed by Col. Horace Scott, a leading business man of the town, are endeavoring to effect an entrance into the cave, but their task seems hopeless. The gas is overpowering, and work is being carried on with great difficulty, as no lights can be used. Citizens from Cloverport and the surrounding country are seeking help in great numbers, and will lend all the aid in their power. It is twenty-six miles to the nearest telegraph office, and this is sent to Cloverport by mail.

MAXWELL, ALIAS BROOKS.

A Philadelphia Stenographer Publishes Some of the Antecedents of Preller's Murderer.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—W. A. Shaw, a stenographer employed in the office of Wayne McVeagh, has through the description and newspaper cuts of Maxwell, the alleged murderer of Preller, at St. Louis, identified him as Hugh Brooks, a former acquaintance at Hyde, Leicester, England. Mr. Shaw last saw Brooks in August, 1884, when on a visit to his parents, who reside near Hyde. Brooks had not much changed in appearance, and was dressed in scientific pursuits. He was much devoted to magic lanterns, and was especially accustomed to make experiments. He had many notices of scientific and literary interest, and his personal appearance was strange looking. His eyes would wander, and he seemed engaged in study.

His father had been summing at the Isle of Wight, and during his absence the son spent money extravagantly, and to cover his expenditures forged his father's name for $200. On account of this he left Hyde, and went to Dublin, afterward drifting to America.

PROBABLY A DOUBLE MURDER.

The Son of Mrs. O'Leary, Whose Cow Caused the Chicago Fire, a Murderer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Late Saturday night, in a sparsely populated portion of the town of Lake, Sarah Snyder, mistress of Cornelius O'Leary, was shot and instantly killed, and Kate O'Leary, sister of the supposed murderer, was so seriously wounded by a pistol shot that she will probably die. It is believed to be almost certain that O'LEARY KILLED HIS MISTRESS, and attempted to take the life of his sister, as shortly previous to the shooting the trio were seen together, drinking beer, by named Willis, said to be a second cousin of Mrs. O'Leary, whose fractious cow kicked over the lamp that started the fire that burned up Chicago.

Fatal Railroad Collision.

He was arrested and locked up.

SPAIN.

HER RIGHTS. MADRID, Aug. 23.—An anti-German demonstration was begun here today at 4 o'clock. Forty thousand persons had assembled on the roads with banners and other emblems, and speeches were made in Spanish and French denouncing Bismarck's action in annexing the Carolines. The chief speaker was a Spanish colonel in full uniform. No insulting references were made to Germany, but the rights of Spain were fully proclaimed. A procession marched through the streets.

ABOUSING GREAT ENTHUSIASM. Opposite the prime minister's palace cheers were raised for the premier, but he did not appear, and the cheering changed to howling and whistling. Several men scaled the balconies and planted a national flag amid a storm of enthusiastic cheers. The clubs, including the military and the civil displayed banners. The procession was headed by democratic leaders. It did not pass through the street on which the German legation is situated. At the meeting of the military club, Gen. Salamanca presiding, it was unanimously agreed to expel the German honorary members.

GERMANY. THE SPANISH EXCITEMENT. BERLIN, Aug. 23.—Bismarck is surprised at the prevailing excitement in Spain. It is thought a compromise is probable, or that Bismarck, as it is said, will prefer to abandon his claim to permanent offending Spain.

BACKING OUT.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD COLLISION. LONDON, Aug. 23.—A terrible collision occurred this evening on the Metropolitan District underground railroad at Earl's Court. The signals had been broken and became unmanageable, when two trains collided, engine against engine. One engine was killed and a stoker and five others were so badly injured that they cannot be removed, while two trains were derailed, and the collision occurred, as the railroad at that point is underground.

THREE PERSONS INCARCERATED.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—There was a fatal fire to-day at Haxton, a poor and crowded quarter of London. Owing to the lack of room it was impossible for the firemen to work effectively. There was a terrible scene when a lodging house full of people took fire, and in spite of the most heroic rescue the inmates a man and two children were burned to death.

FOR HOW LONG. LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Standard this morning confirms the statement that Russia has abandoned her claims on Zaitzev, and says that peace is thus secured.

AMERICAN RAILROAD MATTERS.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Mr. Lewis, chairman of the voting trustees of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad has sent letters to the bondholders resounding the vexatious law suits begun by Mr. McHenry, and giving emphasis to the assertion that it is useless trying to make a compromise with Mr. McHenry, as it would only cause unqualified opposition. Mr. Lewis adds that the condition of the railroad is every way cheering, and concerning the election of Sir Chas. Tennant, as a voting trustee, and who lately came here from New Orleans, was also locked up.

THE OLIVER PAIN CONTROVERSY.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The British embassy here has imparted to M. De Freycinet, the French foreign minister, a telegram from Kitchener denying the story of Selkovich who says that Oliver Pain had been shot under the very eyes of Maj. Kitchener. The telegram goes on to say that various reports confirm the statement that Pain died of fever last autumn. Selkovich was dismissed from British command for misconduct, and the English never wanted to arrest Pain.

M. De Freycinet has been searching for Selkovich, but so far without success.

SELKOVICH HEAD FROM. PARIS, Aug. 23.—Rocheport publishes a letter from Selkovich, repeating his KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

On the Missouri Pacific Road They Refuse to Handle Washab Stock and the Officials Submit.

The Boycotting of Washab Cars on the Union Pacific Commenced Yesterday and None Are Touchd.

Grand Master Workman Powderly and the Executive Committee Have Gone to New York on a Conference.

THE ORDER TO STRIKE.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—Railroad affairs here remain practically unchanged. No direct issue has been made, and matters on the surface at least are quiet. The Knights of Labor on the Missouri Pacific shops will not touch Washab rolling stock, and there is no disposition on the part of the Missouri Pacific officials to require them to do so. Yesterday the bridge company undertook to handle Washab engines and prepare them for work, but as soon as it was discovered that nearly all the employees of that company were Knights of Labor, superintendent Dickenson and the Washab engines now receive what attention they require at the round-houses of that company in North and East St. Louis. In some cases engines have been turned and cleaned by non-union men in the Missouri Pacific shops, but a request that no more should be sent there has been complied with, and thus the opportunity for an issue has been avoided. So far as repairs are concerned, the Washab shops can do the light work here and in East St. Louis, and all important repairs can be still done at Moberly, Springfield and Decatur, and other points where the shops are run by non-union men.

BOYCOTTING AT KANSAS CITY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 23.—A telephone report comes from Amundson that the St. Louis order boycotting Washab cars went into effect to-day at the Union Pacific yards; at this point, and no switching of Washab cars there has been done. The Washab repairing is done in the Union Pacific shops. The full effect of the order cannot be determined before to-morrow. No movement has been made in the Washab freight yards in this city.

STRIKE OLDERS.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23.—A special to the Times-Democrat from Meridian, Miss., says it is currently reported that the Knights of Labor have ordered a strike on the Green & Crescent railway, to take effect this midnight. It is impossible tonight to verify the Washab railroad difficulty, but it is believed that at least a portion of the force is determined to work no longer. It is also said that engineers enough will quit work to render it impossible for their trains to go out to-night.

ANOTHER MEETING.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The executive board of the Knights of Labor held another meeting to-day, from 11 A. M. to 4 P. M., to consider the Washab railroad difficulty. Messrs. Turner and Hayes, of the board, left for New York to-night, and will be followed by grand master workman Powderly, and the other members of the board to-morrow, to hold a conference with prominent members of the order in that city on the subject.

A Literary Newspaper Collapse.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Edgar L. Wakeman, founder and manager of the Current, a weekly periodical, first issued here December 22, 1883, to-night sent a communication to the publisher of the Current, to suspend the publication of the Current immediately. In his statement Mr. Wakeman says that the obligations of the Current amount to a few hundred dollars, but in his efforts to attain success, which appeared almost assured, every dollar of his personal means had been expended. The Current had been devoted wholly to literature of good order, and to an unbiased summary of the events of the day.

MARQUETTE, MICH., AUG. 24, 1885.

Entered as second-class matter of the second-class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

We expect to have important news regarding the Atlantic, Sault Ste. Marie & Southwestern railway scheme to announce in the course of a few days. Those having that enterprise in hand have been quietly making excellent headway, and are on the point of giving tangible evidence of their earnest purpose to construct the new road.

The American Manufacturer of the 21st remarks that the conference of steel rail makers at Long Branch last week has apparently borne fruit already. Manufacturers in Pittsburgh quote rails a dollar a ton higher than they did previously to the conference, and advise from New York state that they are from $1.00 to $1.50 higher there.

We see by newspaper accounts that Mr. J. S. Lane, who had for years previous been associated with the extensive establishment of the Webster, Camp & Lane Machine Co., of Akron, Ohio, withdrew from that concern the early part of this month, to accept the position of superintendent of the M. C. Bullock Mfg Co., of Chicago.

The series of articles on economic topics by "Vishnu," which appear as contributions in the columns of the MINING JOURNAL, are attracting no small share of attention.

"Vishnu" is contributing some very interesting reading matter for the Marquette Mining Journal upon economic questions. The letters are thoughtful, carefully digested and ought to be generally read.

On the other hand, there are some of our readers who imagine they can discover communistic tendencies, which grate on their convictions, in "Vishnu's" writings. From personal knowledge of the writer, and a thorough understanding of his views and the purpose of the articles which he is furnishing this paper, the editor can positively state that he is not desirous of seeing the foundations of social order overturned.

While at Bessemer last week the editor of the Mining News had the pleasure of visiting the Colby mine and seeing Capt. Jos. Sellwood, who is in charge. The Colby is at present being quite actively wrought by a force of about one hundred and fifty men.

The recent controversies as to the price at which pig iron can be produced in America suggest some curious reflections. In Great Britain the relative cost per ton to be: For Pittsburgh, $13.84; Wheeling, $13.00; Youngstown, $13.69; Cleveland, $12.37; Chicago, $14.63.

English competition in our domestic iron trade, but rather when England will have to struggle for the maintenance of her own trade against American wares. And a change of commercial centers, at least so far as the iron industries are concerned, is not improbable. It may be a result, within the observation of men now living, that Alabama and Tennessee will furnish the pig-iron for America, while the manufacture of cutlery, plows and other hardware implements will be carried on in half a dozen central cities of the wealthier states, and there is no reason in the world why these manufacturing establishments should not be in the very states which produce the pig-iron.

In a recent number, the announcement was made that ore had been struck in the Emmett Mining company's Hamilton shaft, the body encountered being undoubtedly the Chapin vein, for which the Emmett management has perseveringly sought; first with the diamond drill to test the correctness of the theory that the vein extended onto that company's holding, and then by boldly putting down a costly shaft to reach the ore body.

The shaft was begun August 18th, 1883, and the ore was encountered on the 14th inst.—less than two years from the date of beginning work on the shaft—at a depth of 730 feet from the surface. During this time, E. P. Foster has personally supervised the work, and the successful result obtained is highly creditable to his skill and energy as a mining man.

The recent controversies as to the price at which pig iron can be produced in America suggest some curious reflections. In Great Britain the relative cost per ton to be: For Pittsburgh, $13.84; Wheeling, $13.00; Youngstown, $13.69; Cleveland, $12.37; Chicago, $14.63.

The series of articles on economic topics by "Vishnu," which appear as contributions in the columns of the MINING JOURNAL, are attracting no small share of attention.

been sunk on each vein, one to a depth of 60 feet and another to a depth of 45 feet; crosscuts at the bottom of each proving a width of 60 feet. A substantial trestle leads from No. 1 shaft to the only pocket and the ore from the level is carried on a tram road which is level with the top of the cars. About 800 tons of ore are being taken out daily and the management is desirous of shipping 50,000 tons the present season.

The present sales of Colby ore aggregate 35,000 tons to Cleveland and the Union Steel Co., of Chicago and Joliet Steel works, of Joliet, Ill. The management guarantees the ore to average 62 per cent. metallic iron in the furnace. The price at which the ore was sold could not be ascertained, but Capt. Sellwood averred there had been no shading.

Tricks of Unappreciated Poultrymen. It is said that there are upward of 12,000 poultry keepers in the United Kingdom, and their annual exhibition are very numerous. So great is the desire of obtaining prizes at these, and so great the advantages in the sale of their fowl after getting them, that many deplore to secure prizes. They stain the legs with desirable colors, paint parts of the body feathers in different spots to make a more perfect show of plumage, pull some down from the head and neck from the tail, gluing in others of a more fashionable kind to take their place; cutting combs and wattles, especially of gamecocks, in order to give the birds a fine masculine appearance.

RAH FOR 'HOME RULE'

The Superb Demonstration in Support of Ireland's Cause, at Marquette, on Saturday.

A Beautiful Day Made More Brilliant by an Imposmg Procession of Stalwart Irish-American Citizens.

Eloquent Addresses by Dr. Betts and Hon. John Power Inspire Enthusiasm and Evoke Applause—A Full Account of the Grand Affair.

Last Saturday was as fine a day for the great Irish demonstration in this city as could be desired, and the Hibernian citizens of the upper peninsula turned out en masse to participate in the proceedings. The first excursion train reached here about nine o'clock in the morning, over the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon road. Among the distinguished arrivals by this train were Rev. Dr. Betts, of Trinity Episcopal church, St. Louis, Mo., and Hon. John Power, of Escanaba, who were to deliver the orations in the afternoon. The societies which arrived consisted of Division No. 1 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Ishpeming, of which James Clancy is president; Division No. 2, A. O. H., of Negaunee, of which Daniel Harrington is president, and the Robert Emmet club, of Escanaba. The former was accompanied by the Lake Angeline and Ishpeming City brass band; the second named by the Negaunee City Cornet band, and the latter by a soul stirring band of martial music. The two former organizations appeared in full regalia, with banners and flags flung to the breeze. The excursionists were met at the depot by Division No. 3, A. O. H., of Marquette, the president of which is Mr. Michael Hennessey, and which was headed by Mr. John Beardon, county delegate, and all forming into line they marched to the new opera house. This demonstration, so early in the morning, accompanied by the inspiring strains of music that filled the ambient air, gave assurance that the event was to be a decided success in point of the numbers in attendance, as well as in other respects.

After reaching the opera house, and being relieved of all superfluous paraphernalia, Mr. Patrick Donahoe, of Ishpeming, announced that all could disperse until twelve o'clock, in the meantime getting dinner at the Mesnard. At noon they formed into line again, and marched to the M. H. & O. depot, where they welcomed the copper country delegation, which consisted of Division No. 1, A. O. H., of which Mr. John F. Ryan is president, and division No. 2, A. O. H., of which Mr. John J. Sullivan is president. These divisions were accompanied by the famous Calumet brass band, the pride of the copper district. As the new arrivals formed into line, those by whom they were met opened ranks, and stood with uncovered heads, as the former marched through to the head of the procession. The entire line then moved on to the Mesnard house, where dinner was served to those who had not had an opportunity to replenish the inner man.

About 1:30 o'clock, the different organizations again all formed into line, in full regalia and with banners and flags unfurled, the sight presented, together with the music of many bands, making a very imposing spectacle. Immediately following the procession on foot came the carriages, headed by an open cab containing Rev. Dr. Betts, of St. Louis, Hon. John Power, of Escanaba, Ex-Mayor T. F. Donahoe, of Ishpeming, and Mr. Timothy Nester, of this city. There were over three hundred of the pedestrians, in full uniform, and a large number of vehicles in the procession, which moved out to the driving park, a distance of a mile and a half, in good order.

Having reached the park, the throng gathered upon and around the grand stand, preparatory to listening to the addresses to be delivered from the "judge's stand."

Ex-mayor Donahoe, of Ishpeming, called the assemblage to order, and announced that Mr. Timothy Nester would make a few remarks by way of introduction.

Mr. Nester was received with applause, but feeling that those present were impatient to hear from the visiting orators, he very neatly introduced the Rev. Dr. Betts, who was to be followed by Hon. John Power, without undertaking to speak at any length himself.

Dr. Betts is an eloquent and forcible speaker, and it was easily to be seen that his heart was in the theme on which he spoke. It also was evident that his address was not wholly "cut and dried," from the fact that he was peculiarly happy in many pointed and humorous allusions which could have been suggested only by his immediate surroundings and the circumstances of the occasion. By the most judicious use of this happy faculty of turning the incidents of the occasion to good use, together with his fervid eloquence, Dr. Betts alternately provoked laughter and inspired enthusiasm and applause. Neither space nor the silence of printed words will permit the MINING JOURNAL to do justice to the address, but a short synopsis is attempted.

Among the first sentences uttered was the one, "next to the love of God is the love of one's native country." They had met there to talk over Irish affairs. The magnificence of the theme constituted the greatest embarrassment in attempting to discuss it. Then the speaker merely glanced back into the history of Ireland, and referred to the oppression which she had suffered since the right of self-government had been taken from her by an alien power. He next dwelt on the recent grand strides toward freedom that the Irish people have made, notwithstanding their contest is with one of the greatest and grandest powers of earth—a power which boasts that the sun never sets on its dominions. On the one hand, Britain, until recently possessed of a navy greater than the combined navies of the rest of the world, on the other, Ireland, not half the size of Michigan, and with scarcely half the population of forty years ago. Considering the foe with whom she is contending, Ireland's warfare is, and has been, a glorious one, but it would also be a hopeless one if it were not for such gatherings as that he was addressing, and the sympathy and aid given those who are struggling for the freedom of her oppressed people.

At this juncture, the doctor said that he did not think it advisable to prolong his remarks to any great extent, as there were amusements to come off which all would enjoy, and besides he felt somewhat embarrassed for the reason that he was proceeded by a "Nester" and was to be followed by a "Power."

"But," continued the doctor, "how shall a people oppressed as we have been, regain our rights?" Using this question as a text, the speaker continued in an eloquent strain. One way is to learn the grandeur of patience. One of the most impatient men on earth is an impatient Irishman. And, as a people, Irishmen are too much inclined to act prematurely, the fault arising more from their great and disinterested patriotism than from any other cause, for the reason that it cannot endure delay. The result has been a lack of concentration often when a unity of purpose and action alone would make success possible. Concentration of all their powers—discipline—is needed. Irishmen must not be satisfied with merely an extension of the franchise, home government or a modification of the law, though all these should be accepted as they come along, and as many other advantages as it is possible to secure. Ireland should not rest content until she has secured an independent government, and a flag that floats over her own army and her own navy. A laudatory allusion to Charles S. Farnell, M. P., aroused great enthusiasm. And, in referring to the change in the past twenty years or so, the speaker touched a responsive chord. Then, he said, if a son of the Emerald Isle met a landlord, he'd take off his hat and make an obeisance, rain or shine, but now it has got so an Irishman takes off his hat only to God and a lady. Dr. Betts also spoke of the adroit manner in which the English landlords succeeded in keeping Irishmen fighting among themselves, thereby strengthening the hands of the oppressors. He also spoke in the most feeling, delicate and beautiful manner, of the religious differences of the Irish people, saying, in substance, that, for a couple of hours in the week their prayers might ascend to heaven from different altars, during all the remainder of the week their supplications went up from the altar on which Ireland's name is inscribed. A humorous point, too, was made, in his comments on the assertion sometimes made that the Irish are incapable of governing themselves, in reference to which he said that, in his travels over the country, the fact had impressed him as a very remarkable one, that a people who were incapable of self-government should be so successful in governing others. All over the land they are in authority, from the lowest to the highest of municipal, county and state offices, and their official records will bear comparison with officials of other nationalities.

In closing, the doctor spoke of the Parnell parliamentary fund, stating its object and the necessity for its existence. Hon. John Power was next introduced, and opened his remarks by paying a glowing tribute to the speaker who had just taken his seat. The want of space forbids the MINING JOURNAL from giving a synopsis of Mr. Power's address, even if upper peninsula people who have frequent opportunities of hearing his sentiments and judging of the high quality of his oratory, would care to read a mere synopsis. Mr. Power's remarks were not lengthy, but they were pithy and eloquent, and elicited hearty and frequent applause. At the conclusion of Mr. Power's address, Mr. Donahoe, on behalf of those under whose auspices the proceedings of the day were conducted, warmly thanked all for their attendance, and announced that the base ball game and other amusements would at once begin, and he hoped everybody would enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

An account of the base ball game will be found elsewhere on this page.

Manager Topolaska, of "The Fair," has introduced the Rapid Service Store Railway into His Establishment.

Mr. M. Topolaska has placed in "The Fair" a system of cash carrying, which is one of the quickest and simplest ever invented. Every detail is arranged with a view to saving time and labor, and the device itself is very neat, in fact, it is an ornament to the store. It is known as the "Rapid Service Cash Railway," and is meeting with the greatest favor in the upper peninsula. Many of them are in successful operation in Hancock, Calumet, Houghton, Lake Linden, Ishpeming, Escanaba and other places.

"The Fair" has but one wire and cash car, but any number required can be put into an establishment. At "The Fair" a slender steel wire runs, over head, from the cashier's desk to a convenient point well towards the front of the store. The little cash car, with its pivoted rubber wheels, passes noiselessly along the wire until it reaches its destination at either end, where it automatically interlocks with a fixed spring motor and comes silently to rest. By a simple turn of the hand to right or left of about half an inch, the cash box is instantly detached from the car and emptied of its contents. When ready to be returned, the same instantaneous movement places the cash box in position for transmission, and an easy downward pull of a few inches—varying from five to nine, according to the speed and distance—upon a cord pendant from the machine, puts the spring into operation, and when sufficiently tense, automatically releases the car, which glides swiftly and silently forward as if impelled by a magical force. The speed of the car as well as the distance to be traversed by it are regulated by simply adjusting a button on the cord. A speed of one hundred feet in from three to four seconds is easily attainable.

Call at "The Fair" and see the neat and novel little elevated railway operate. One of its chief merits is that it is very economical.

Messrs. Jas. R. Dee & Bro. are the agents. They have offices both in this city and at Houghton.

GOLD AND LEATHER.

The Great Three-Mile Roller Skating Race at the Casino Rink Saturday Evening—Names of the Winners and the Time Made.

The Great race for the MINING JOURNAL championships for fast and show time of roller skates, for a distance of three miles, came off at the Casino Rink Saturday evening. A large and greatly amused audience witnessed the contest. The Chequeamgon furnished the music for the occasion, which is but another way of stating that it was as good as could be supplied by any band of its size in the country. The program was specially arranged for the occasion, and evinced no slight degree of originality on the part of the artist who got it up. It is as follows:

- 1. March, Sunday Soirée, Howells.
2. Promenade, Telegraphic Quickstep, Rasnussen.
3. Waltz, The Kiss, Russell.
4. Schottische, "O. K.", Johns.
5. Promenade, The Leather Medal, Who?
6. Job Galley, Handford.
7. "Big Dip", McCarthy.
8. Waltz, Pat Evins, Evins.
9. Promenade, The Press, Holmes.
10. Waltz, Foster Print, Sullivan.
11. Extra Promenade, Please Remit, Horstman.
12. The pen is mightier than the sword, but the roller skate downs them all!

The first were eight entries for the contest, but only six starters, two of the aspirants for "skatorial" renown having become disabled during the "training" process. At twenty minutes past nine the word "go" was given, and the following named skaters began their mad scramble for gold, leather and fame:

- T. Johns, Chas. M. Eveland, L. F. LaCroix, D. Sullivan, H. Holmes and E. McCarthy.

The race for first prize was pretty close, for several laps, there being eighteen to the mile, between the second and the third named contestants. Messrs. Johns and LaCroix, however, soon showed that the contest between them as to which one should "walk away" with the leather medal was to be a close one, notwithstanding each one labored hard to avoid getting the prize.

At the end of a mile and a half, a defective skate, which had caused him to fall three times, compelled Mr. Eveland to draw out of the race. This left McCarthy, Sullivan and Holmes close contestants for the gold medal, with the former leading by a length or so. When within a few laps of the finish, Mr. Sullivan misunderstood something said by one of the judges and slackened up, on the supposition that he had completed the three miles, thereby losing considerable time. The result was that McCarthy won the race in fourteen minutes and fifty seconds, which is remarkably good time. Holmes, the smallest and youngest of the contestants, came in second and Sullivan third. At this juncture, Johns had a dozen laps still to make out of the fifty-four and LaCroix thirteen. This part of the contest was more interesting than swift. By dint of hand work, however, Johns kept the lead, and LaCroix became the proud possessor of the leather medal, besides receiving an ovation from the spectators. Time, twenty minutes and fifteen seconds.

A FINE GAME. The Game Between the Negaunee and Hancock Base Ball Clubs, Saturday, Probably the Finest Ever Played in the Upper Peninsula.

A sporting paper, or one which devotes considerable space to reports on the national game, might publish a column account of the splendid game of base ball played at the driving park, Saturday, by the Hancock and Negaunee clubs. The game was so nearly perfect, however, that the MINING JOURNAL is relieved of the necessity of saying much, except by way of commendation.

Mr. L. F. La Croix, of this place, acted as umpire, and acquitted himself satisfactorily to both the players and the large concourse of spectators.

To say that the game was a surprise, because of its unusual excellence, its closeness, the small total number of tallies made, and the final result, is "to put it mildly." Many who have seen all the league club games, or whom the MINING JOURNAL reporter is one, pronounced the game as fine an exhibition of skillful playing as they ever witnessed.

The score was a victory for the Negaunees, by a score of three to two. It is no more than fair to add that, had it not been for an error which arose from a misunderstanding, and which could hardly be charged to carelessness or poor playing, it is more than probable that the score would have stood one to two in favor of the Hancock—that is, if the game had been played through otherwise the same as it was.

Taking the game all in all, it would have been a credit to the best professional clubs in the country.

Other match games, the MINING JOURNAL is informed, are to be arranged between these clubs before the season closes. Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before. The MINING JOURNAL's "Conkling by the card," when it announces the coming nuptials of a couple of Marquette's well-known young people at an early day. The "high contracting parties" are none other than Mr. C. C. Taylor, son of Mr. H. C. Taylor, of the Lakeside iron works, and Miss Delia Cooney, daughter of the late Patrick Cooney. Miss Cooney is a native of the Lake Superior region, and is a lady of fine musical attainments. Mr. Taylor is a native of Marquette, and holds a responsible position in the cashier's office of the M. H. & O. railroad company. This important event in the lives of these young people is to occur on Thursday, September 24, at the residence of the groom's father.

CONDENSED CITY NEWS ITEMS. Preston has put an elegant new lamp over the stairway leading to his billiard hall and restaurant.

The Chequeamgon will play in orchestra, in the hall of the Clifton House, to-day, instead of playing as a brass band on the balcony.

Rev. Dr. Betts, of Trinity Episcopal church, St. Louis, Mo., occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's church in this place, both in the morning and evening yesterday.

The steambarge, R. W. Rice, which loaded lumber at Burtis' mill, cleared yesterday. She has as tow the schooner Oregon, which loaded at Baraga. The lumber was shipped by Mr. Charles Orton to Buffalo parties.

Ishpeming furnished, in the person of Mr. Michael Shea, the marshal of the day, last Saturday, and also the deputy marshal, Mr. Patrick McGinty, both of whom discharged their duties satisfactorily.

Notwithstanding the large crowd in the city Saturday, there was no fighting and but very few drunks. There were three wiled individuals who had to be taken care of by the police, but even they were not seeking to paint the town a deep and ugly carmine.

The eighth and last of the series of open air concerts will be given this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The program will be selected from the favorites of the former concerts. The last number will be the "Chequeamgon March," a beautiful composition by a lady of Marquette, arranged by Ben Owen.

Among the prominent members of the A. O. H., not elsewhere mentioned, who participated in the great Irish demonstration Saturday, were Dr. E. S. John Mulvey, ex-state delegate, of Negaunee; Mr. Patrick Fogarty, ex-state treasurer, of Escanaba, and Mr. Martin Conway, county delegate, of Houghton.

Editor Chatterton, of the Escanaba Mirror, is considerable of a checker player, and last Saturday evening he and deputy sheriff Ryan, of this city, glared at each other over the squares for two or three hours. The latter, who is distinguished by being the champion of the upper peninsula, but he was unable to win any new laurels of the former, though he lost none of his old ones. It is likely these players will meet in the future, and "have it out" between themselves.

The Evan's prizes for the best rifle shooting last week were won by Messrs. Fordney and Hogan, the former carrying off the first and the latter the second. The contest, however, was an exceedingly close one. They tied for the first prize, and then had to shoot two more scores to break the tie, each the first time getting twenty-four points out of a possible forty-five. The second round it stood twenty-four to twenty-three in favor of Fordney. The winners then exchanged prizes, Fordney taking the fine clear case and Hogan the silver cup.

Among those who came from other parts of the peninsula to participate in Saturday's demonstration were W. H. Himmendorf, Patrick O'Connell and Michael Casey, of Iron Mountain. The first-named gentleman is himself an eloquent speaker, and ranks as one of the most powerful lawyers of the Menominee Range, both physically and professionally. The trio arrived here yesterday, and were left for home by the noon train yesterday full of enthusiasm for the Irish national cause and Marquette hospitality.

Capt. John Moore, a brother of Capt. Smith Moore, and Judge Lewis, both of Cleveland, are in the city, guests at the European. Capt.
