LIMA STORMED.

The Peruvian Revolutionist, General Caceres, is now besieging Lima With a Large Force.

Burma's Cowardly Monarch Unconditionally Surrendered Mandalay at the First Approach of the British.

Austria Has Notified Alexander That in the Event of His Carrying the War Into Servia

She Will Embrace Milan's Cause—An Austrian General Assumes Command of Servian Troops at Nissa.

Heavy Nationalist Gains in Ireland Cause Great Rejoicing—Elections in England. The Canadian Scourge—Miscellaneous.

PERU.

LIMA, Dec. 1.—Lima besieged. Lima, Dec. 1.—Lima is making an attack on the palace, apparently from the direction of Bolivar square. An incessant sharp rifle fire is going on from the palace and its surroundings, and occasionally the thunder of a big gun is heard. The engagement has not yet become general. The streets are deserted except by a few persons who are curious to witness the proceedings. At 2:50 o'clock this afternoon firing was begun from the Lima Morelos tower. All railroad trains and other traffic are suspended.

INDIA.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The British expeditionary force under Gen. Prendergast has arrived at Mandalay without any resistance being offered by the Burmese. Lord Dufferin, the viceroy of India, has telegraphed the home government that he has arranged to administer the Burman government provisionally in queen Victoria's name. The Europeans who remained at Mandalay on the outbreak of hostilities are safe.

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The surrender of king Thebaud was unreserved. He wanted terms but his request was refused and his unconditional surrender demanded. He then acceded to the British demands.

SERBIA.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Lord Salisbury has sent a remonstrance to Austria against latter's preparations for the occupation of Servia. He advises that the powers co-operate in the consideration of the Bulgarian demand for an indemnity, and for the prevention of further hostilities. The (Servo-Bulgarian) armistice will continue ten days. The Austrian minister to Servia has warned prince Alexander, of Bulgaria, that if it was resumed on a disagreement on the question of indemnity, Austrian troops will enter Servia. The Austrian general Aboad has gone to Nissa, and will assume command of the Servians if hostilities reopen. Russian journals, both official and unofficial, are allowed to make hostile comments on the conduct of Austria.

COMPLICATION FEARED.

BERGARD, Dec. 1.—The armistice between Servia and Bulgaria is being strictly observed by all parties. Prince Alexander has telegraphed to king Milan his proposals for peace. Each country will be required to respect the integrity of the other's territory. It is, however, feared by many that the strong Russian friendship for Bulgaria, with a corresponding feeling on the part of Austria for the Servian government, will tend to greatly complicate matters.

SERBIA RECEIVES.

BERGARD, Dec. 1.—Col. Horvathovich has gone to Nissa to take command of Servian troops. He believes that he can drive the Bulgarians into Bulgaria with the aid of the second class of the reserves. Recruiting is actively proceeding. It is believed that prince Alexander is peacefully disposed.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The marquis of Hartington, speaking at Ulverston to-night, said that the greatness and immensity of the peril of Mr. Parnell becoming a dictator in the house of commons ought to nerve the liberals to struggle to the last. The Parnellite candidates, he said, were unrepresentative. Mr. Parnell's nominees were nothing more than persons who had been elected by the land league, which was unequalled for grinding tyranny. He declared that universal tyranny was prevailing in Ireland with the connivance and complicity of the present government.

THE RESULT UNCERTAIN.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Sixty-six county divisions voted to-day and the votes will be counted to-morrow. The balance of the three parties continue so close that the ultimate result will be uncertain till Friday, by which time most of the counties will have voted. Conservative agents report to conservative headquarters that they are confident of twenty-five majority. The Parnellite vote in Dublin was immense, being 23,772, against a conservative vote of 4,476, and a liberal vote of 3,170.

IRELAND.

JOYOUS IRISHMEN.
DUBLIN, Dec. 1.—Great enthusiasm was displayed to-night on the announcement of the result of the elections in this city. Messrs. Sullivan and Harrington made speeches, in which they exhorted the populace to preserve the peace. A procession of nationalists was formed and marched through the principal streets. Some of the paraders carried placards bearing the election returns. A number of American flags were also carried in the line. As they passed along, the processionists sang

"GOD SAVE IRELAND," and gave rousing cheers for the nationalist candidates. The gates of Trinity college were closed, and students were not allowed to leave the college grounds. The police were enforced and constantly patrolled the streets, but the paraders were not interfered with in any manner. This morning a band of youths placed the stars and stripes around the statue of Gratian, fastening the flag with green ribbons. A party of the students sallied forth and captured the flag, which they bore in triumph to the college.

ELECTION RETURNS.
LONDON, Dec. 1.—In Limerick west division, W. Abraham, nationalist, is elected over J. R. Kelly, liberal. In Donegal west division, Col. C. O'Neill, nationalist, is elected without opposition. The Tory gains to-day include the seat for Kilmoreck, J. S. Storey, conservative, being elected over J. D. Peddie, liberal, who represented the district in the last parliament. In Londonderry north division, H. Malon, conservative, is elected by a vote of 5,150 to 3,075 for Salter, liberal. In Mayo north division, Mr. J. Deasy, nationalist, is elected.

A WARM GIFT.
DUBLIN, Dec. 1.—A bailiff named Foley seized a farm last night at Fermenv, county Cork. He went to sleep in an out house for the night, and some one crept into the building while the man was slumbering and poured over him a pail of boiling water, scalding the bailiff terribly.

TO FOMENT REBELLION.
BORDEAUX, Dec. 1.—Senor Zorilla, the Spanish agitator, has started for Spain for the purpose of fomenting a rising in favor of a republic.

FINALLY SETTLED.
MADRID, Dec. 1.—The new cabinet has accepted the people's settlement of the Carlines question.

SPAIN'S COMMERCIAL TREATIES.
MADRID, Dec. 1.—Senor Moret, minister of foreign affairs, replying to a deputation from the Madrid Mercantile society, said he would submit to his colleagues forthwith the question of commercial treaties with England and America. He expressed fear in regard to the anti-free trade tendencies of the new British parliament.

EGYPT.
TROPES TO GO FORWARD.
CAIRO, Dec. 1.—The Essex regiment will proceed to Kashy on Friday.

THE TONGUIN MATTER.
PARIS, Dec. 1.—M. Patenotre, the French minister to China, appeared to-day before the Tonguin committee of the chamber of deputies and spoke in favor of the continued occupation of Tonguin. He says the evacuation of that country would be a cowardly and dangerous proceeding. China, he declared, was well disposed toward France.

CANADA.
BIEL'S SOUL.
MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—A mass for the repose of Biel's soul was celebrated at St. Jerome to-day. The invited gentlemen from here, including many members of parliament, attended. Hundreds of burning candles covered the catafalque, and the church was heavily draped with mourning.

WELLAND CANAL ENLARGEMENT.
OTTAWA, Dec. 1.—Tenders will shortly be called for in connection with the contemplated enlargement of the Welland canal.

SMALL POX.
QUERRO, Dec. 1.—Five cases of small pox are reported at St. Casimo village, thirty miles from here. There is great excitement there, and a local board of health is being organized. The disease was conveyed from Montreal.

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—There were two deaths from small pox in the city yesterday and 9 in the suburbs.

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—Small pox is reported to have broken out in the Longue Point asylum.

BAD CHARLIE RAPP.
He is a Murderer, a Thief, and More Recently a Garroter.

KALAMAZOO, Dec. 1.—Charles Rapp, and Frank Palmer, were to-day bound over for trial, charged with attempting to garrote W. Anthony. Rapp is a desperado of the worst stripe. He served a term in the Michigan state prison for a burglary committed 19 years ago in St. Joseph county, immediately on his release he repeated the crime and left the country, being traced to Yuba City, Cal., where he was living with his wife, and her father. Last spring he returned home and in a dispute killed his father-in-law and aged brother. At New Orleans he organized a gang of thieves and for the last three months they have been operating in Michigan. Numerous burglaries and robberies are charged to them.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.
The Calumet & Hecla Adds One to the List of Mining Casualties.

CALUMET, Dec. 1.—Last evening James Chipman, an employe at the Calumet & Hecla mine, was fatally injured by being struck by an ascending skip. His death was almost immediate.

Their Little Bills.
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—A Washington special to the Post says that both Messrs. Morrison, of Illinois, and Randall, of Pennsylvania, are drafting tariff bills to be presented at the next meeting of congress. The features of neither have been made public. The same paper says that while the president's recommendations on the subject are not known specifically, it is known that he will favor very thorough and earnest revenue reform.

Sojourning in Canada.
CLEVELAND, Dec. 1.—A Mansfield special says: Joseph Hoadworth, teller of the Farmer's National bank, absconded last night, taking with him $4,000 in money and negotiable securities. The officials of the bank received a telegram from Hoadworth to-day, at Windsor, Ont., intimating that he would treat with them for the return of the money. The bank will not be seriously affected by the loss.

Fire at Mason.
MASON, Mich., Dec. 1.—A heavy fire visited Mason at an early hour this morning, destroying three brick stores. The fire originated in Ford's bazaar, and spread rapidly, destroying the adjoining stores of E. G. Hunt and Van Horn brothers. Loss $30,000; insurance $15,000.

A RACE WAR.

Black and White Miners in Missouri Waging a Deadly Warfare.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Macon, Mo., says there was a firing of pistols and guns between black and white miners at the Beaver coal mines all last night, but without serious injury to anybody. So far as can be learned four men have been killed since Saturday last, three negroes and one white man, besides several wounded. There is no abatement of the feeling, and there is constant liability of bloodshed. The county authorities have done nothing toward suppressing the riotous proceedings. No militia has yet arrived. Women and children are being sent away from Beaver. Trouble is feared to-night. A meeting of citizens of Macon was held this afternoon to take measures to restore order. Three hundred stand of arms arrived this afternoon, and the sheriff is organizing a company. Negro miners remain in line of the stockade at the mine and fire at all white miners who come within range of their guns. Every man and boy at the mine who is able to handle a gun is said to be armed.

DETERMINED SLUGGERS.

Two California Lightweights Fight Twenty-Three Round Bout.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—One of the most determined prize fights ever fought on the coast took place to-day at Alviso, Santa Clara county, between Billy Hamilton, of San Jose, and Young Mitchell, of this city, both light weights. The first meeting between the combatants was on Sunday, at San Rafael, where the sheriff appeared on the scene and stopped proceedings before the men got into the ring. Yesterday the men met again, secretly in a barn at West Berkeley, and fought ten round bouts. In the midst of the eleventh the sheriff's appearance caused a stampede of principals, seconds, and a small audience. To-day, however, their fighting ground at Alviso remained sacred, and the fight went on without interruption. After twenty-three hard-fought rounds, in which both sustained severe punishment, the fight was awarded to Mitchell on a foul. The match was with hard gloves, for $250 a side.

THEY TOOK FRENCH LEAVE.

Prisoners Escape From the Moundsville County Jail—Two Recaptured.

WHEELING, Dec. 1.—Last night William Cline, charged with robbery, Robert Swede, colored, burglar, and William Schoolcraft, why shot Grant Lucas last week at Moundsville, escaped from the Marshal county jail at Moundsville when sheriff Schoolcraft went to his cells. Schoolcraft was shot twice by the sheriff and recaptured. He is not expected to live. Cline was recaptured this afternoon eight miles below this city. Swede is still at large. Lucas, Schoolcraft's victim, is reported dying to-night.

Jail Birds Escape.
LOUISVILLE, Dec. 1.—The Courier Journal's special says: George McLaughlin, Richard White, Jacob Boyd and John Martin, circus employes, who brutally assaulted and robbed four young men near Bagdad, Ky., escaped from the penitentiary at Frankfort, early this morning, by setting themselves free with blacked ropes after they had knocked large stones from the prison walls, through which they crept.

The Cause Apparently Unknown.
LOUISVILLE, Dec. 1.—A fearful accident occurred to-day at the Slate Creek iron mines, near Olympia, this state, in which six men were badly hurt. John and Lefe Slaton, John Montjoy and Ches. Reffett, are supposed to be fatally injured. John Slaton was blown fifty twenty-five feet. Both of Reffett's eyes were blown out. The names of the others have not been learned.

Returning to Washington.
GREENSBORO, Ind., Dec. 1.—The Baltimore & Ohio special train, with president Cleveland's cabinet on board, passed through here en route to Washington at 9 o'clock, having left Indianapolis at a quarter past 7 o'clock. Senators Voorhees, Vest and several members of the house of representatives are in a private car on the first section of the special.

In Honor of Logan.
CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—About a hundred and fifty members of the Chevalier Bayard commandery of Knights Templar, together with other prominent Masons of this city, held a banquet to-night at the Southern Hotel, in honor of the initiation of senator John A. Logan into the order of Knights Templar.

The Giddy Elders.
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—In the conference of the Methodist Episcopal presiding elders convened in Washington to-day, the offices of the general and district governments were closed to-day as a mark of respect to the memory of the late vice-president. The public schools and many business houses were also closed, and at noon there was a general tolling of bells. It was like Sunday at the White House. A few callers put in an appearance, but were informed that the house was closed. The official part of the house was entirely deserted, and the president and Col. Lamont spent the day in the private parlor of the mansion. Every public building is most profusely and appropriately draped in mourning, and all the flags are at half mast. The White House was never so well draped as to-day, the mourning elements being peculiarly imposing and suitable.

PERSONAL.
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 1.—Col. John M. Wilson, who had charge of the United States senatorial party, brought with him from Washington not only a gift of flowers from Miss Cleveland, but also an autograph letter from the president to Mrs. Hendricks. This letter, Mrs. Hendricks says, was one purely of personal condolence and sympathy, and not one that she would care to give out for publication.

NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—From the battery to High Bridge to-day flags were floating at half-mast in respect to the memory of the dead vice-president. The federal and many private buildings were appropriately draped. The postoffice, municipal offices, courts and exchanges were closed, and during the afternoon there was a general air of a holiday down town. In Brooklyn business was entirely suspended at the navy yard, and the flags hoisted. The courts all adjourned early.

THE LAST SAD RITES.

All Mortal That Remained of Thomas A. Hendricks Entombed at Crown Hill Cemetery Yesterday.

The Procession That Followed the Body to the Grave the Largest Ever Seen in Indianapolis.

Services Were Held at St. Paul's Cathedral, Rev. Dr. Jencks Delivering the Funeral Orator.

THE FINAL CEREMONIES.

A TREMENDOUS CROWD.
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 1.—The remains of Thomas A. Hendricks, the fifth vice-president of the United States to die during his term of office, were conveyed to the tomb to-day. The event was made memorable in many respects by the presence of a tremendous concourse of people from all parts of the union to witness the simple rites which preceded their interment. The presence of inclement weather, on the day of his funeral, which was given yesterday, was verified only to the extent of a wintry, leaden sky, and a thick atmosphere during the early hours, quite unusual to this latitude. The business life of the city was entirely suspended. The clergy, without respect to sect,

JOINED IN THE OBSEQUES,
the bells of all the churches tolled a requiem, and the presence of the populace in the column which followed his funeral car, or stood as silent spectators of the solemn spectacle, attested their feelings to his memory. The official and other notable delegations were met on their arrival by local sub-committees, and given tickets of admission to St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral to be present at the church services, and assigned positions in the funeral column. The train arrivals swelled the multitude on the streets to such an extent as to impede ordinary progress on all the chief thoroughfares. Washington street presented a

BLACK MASS OF HUMILITY.
hours before the services were entered upon at St. Paul's, and long before the passage of the column, the windows of its business blocks were filled with occupants. The eye rested on a waiting multitude, which occupied apparently every vantage point along the broad thoroughfare. The casket was borne into the church at 11:00 o'clock, the vast congregation having already been seated, with the exception of the immediate relatives, and the church vestry. The body was borne up the central aisle, the clergyman and members of the vestry going in advance. Bishop Knickerbocker voiced the opening sentence of the burial service, "I AM THE RESURRECTION and the life." Following the leader came the widow leaning on the arm of her brother, S. W. Morgan, followed by the other relatives in deep mourning. When the casket had been placed in front of the chancel rail the choir sang the anthem, "Lord, let me know my end." The lesson for the dead was then read by Rev. Dr. Jencks. This was followed by the singing of the hymn, "Lord, Heavenly Light," by the choir, the audience joining. Rev. Dr. Jencks, speaker, from the lectern then delivered the address. When the speaker had concluded, Mrs. Doner, of Chicago, sang "Rock of Ages," the bishop closing with prayer and a benediction.

THE CASKET WAS THEN LIFTED
and borne from the church, the audience remaining seated. The bells of all the city churches began their tolling when the remains were taken from the house, and continued their pealing during the continuation of the church rites, and while the procession was on its long march to Crown Hill cemetery. The head of the funeral column entered the cemetery at 2:46 o'clock, the hearse reaching the grave at 2:54 o'clock. The closing rites at the grave were performed a few minutes after three. The procession was one hour and five minutes in passing a given point, and the rear of the column had only left the business portion of the city a few minutes before the first division had approached the cemetery.

AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—In accordance with the president's order, all of the offices of the general and district governments were closed to-day as a mark of respect to the memory of the late vice-president. The public schools and many business houses were also closed, and at noon there was a general tolling of bells. It was like Sunday at the White House. A few callers put in an appearance, but were informed that the house was closed. The official part of the house was entirely deserted, and the president and Col. Lamont spent the day in the private parlor of the mansion. Every public building is most profusely and appropriately draped in mourning, and all the flags are at half mast. The White House was never so well draped as to-day, the mourning elements being peculiarly imposing and suitable.

PRELIMINARY PERSONAL.
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 1.—Col. John M. Wilson, who had charge of the United States senatorial party, brought with him from Washington not only a gift of flowers from Miss Cleveland, but also an autograph letter from the president to Mrs. Hendricks. This letter, Mrs. Hendricks says, was one purely of personal condolence and sympathy, and not one that she would care to give out for publication.

NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—From the battery to High Bridge to-day flags were floating at half-mast in respect to the memory of the dead vice-president. The federal and many private buildings were appropriately draped. The postoffice, municipal offices, courts and exchanges were closed, and during the afternoon there was a general air of a holiday down town. In Brooklyn business was entirely suspended at the navy yard, and the flags hoisted. The courts all adjourned early.

and the municipal and federal offices were closed at noon. The various courts were adjourned.

AT RICHMOND.
RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 1.—Half-hour guns were fired during the forenoon and minute guns in the afternoon, as a mark of respect to the late vice-president Hendricks. The funeral proceedings were draped, and flags on the state and many private buildings were at half mast.

AT PHILADELPHIA.
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—In respect to the memory of the late vice-president, the postoffice was closed from 12 to 5 o'clock to-day, and the state-house bells were tolled during the hour of the funeral.

THE REVOLUTIONISTS' CHANCES.
Ex-Minister Foster Considers That Don Carlos Has But Little Hope.

In an interview with John W. Foster, ex-United States minister to Spain, printed in the Washington Post, he says: "The death of king Alfonso is a calamity to the Spanish nation. It offers encouragement to both Carlists and republicans to unsettle the government and overthrow the reigning family. But I am of the opinion that the Carlist pretender has a far poorer prospect of success to-day than he had when Alfonso was proclaimed king 11 years ago. The growth of public sentiment in Spain is in favor of liberal government and the possibility of Don Carlos, who represents ultramontane bigotry and intolerance, being called to power, is very remote. A republic might be a possibility if the republicans were organized and united themselves, but they are not. Besides, the church and property interests, to powerful factors in the politics of Spain, fear a republic and are opposed to it. The chances of a revolution in the direction of a republic are not very great at present, although among certain sections of the people there is a growing republican sentiment. The republican party is strong in the cities and manufacturing districts; but it is divided into factions. Castelar, the renowned orator, is the leader of the faction who are in favor of establishing a republic by constitutional means. Zorilla is a following who are in favor of revolutionary means. He is at present a voluntary exile from Spain. He is suspected of conspiring with officers in the army for the overthrow of the monarchy."

A Fatal Scaffold.
WHEELING, Dec. 1.—A scaffold, erected at a distance of sixty feet from the ground, at the works of the Wheeling Steel company now being erected at Benwood, gave way to-day, letting a heavy iron fall, John B. Jackson, of this city, had his neck broken and was instantly killed. George Johnson, of Pittsburgh, James Staughen, of Baltimore, Ohio, Melvin White, Benwood, and H. Johnson, of this city, were painfully but not fatally hurt.

Civil Service Claims.
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The civil service reform league, of this city, to-day passed resolutions instructing its executive committee to prepare a bill for introduction in congress making it a misdemeanor for any member of congress to solicit the appointment of any one to a public office. Copies of the resolution will be sent to every congressman.

COPPER COUNTRY NOTES.
The Saw Mill Record Broken by the Sturgeon River Co's Mill—The Versatile

HANCOCK, Nov. 30.—The climax record has been made by the Sturgeon River Lumber company's mill this season, cutting with a single thin gauge saw 100,000 feet of lumber during the summer. It is an industry our town feels justly proud of.

The Lake Superior Copper company's works have been closed since Wednesday evening on account of a lack of copper to smelt, but were to-day in operation again.

G. Paul Smith, the "versatile genius," is giving a little too versatile for our people. The latest from him is a bill for the purpose of being able to make satisfactory arrangements with some of the other managers on his present peninsula tour, his date here will be deferred until after the holidays.

The following persons will participate in the next exercises of the Young Men's Literary association, Dec. 11th, 1885, at 7:30 o'clock: Debate on the question, "Resolved: That the execution of Rice by the Canadian government was just." Messrs. Winklemeyer & Washburn, painters, are lending their art to improve the interior of the store of Jas. C. Loy & Co., who will commence selling ever presented here.

The damage done to the new depot of the Mineral Range railroad by the recent fire is not as much as was first reported here. The greater part of the damage was done by a gentleman who mistook a pail of paint for water, and dashed it over the ceiling and walls. It is said $100 will cover the loss.

Mrs. Emma D. Lemon, the talented dramatic and humorous reader, will appear at the Houghton roller rink on Friday evening, December 4th, in one of the most varied and pleasing programs ever presented here.

Frank L. Partridge, inspector for the Sturgeon River mill, leaves to-morrow morning for the lower peninsula to spend the winter.

OUT OF THE WOODS.

The Locating Party Sent Out by the C. L. C. & S. W. R. Co. Completes Its Work.

Mr. George Wagner, who Accompanied the Party From Republic to the Sault, Renders an Account of Himself to the Reporter.

Looking just a trifle thin in flesh, but otherwise hale and hearty, George Wagner appeared on the streets of Marquette yesterday afternoon, for the first time since early in October, when he joined the locating party of the Canadian, La Crosse & Southwestern railway company, to pilot it through from Republic to Sault Ste. Marie, and aid the engineer in charge in examining the route to be traversed by the projected line across—or along—the peninsula.

The reporter got him in hand shortly after his arrival here, and obtained from him those particulars relating to his experience in the woods, the character of the country passed through, the probable route of the road, etc., though it must be admitted that Mr. Wagner was disinclined to "tell all he knew," and very likely kept back much that both the reporter and the public would greatly like to get from him.

The start from Republic, where Mr. Wagner joined the party, was made on Oct. 9th, and on Thanksgiving day Sault Ste. Marie was reached and the weary tramp was ended. There were nine men in the party when it camped at Republic, when the morning sun was reached, two of the number drew out, and from that point to the Sault the party consisted of seven men.

The weather was extremely favorable, for the season, and Mr. Wagner declares that he and his comrades had a "good time," though the task of threading their way through the woods and swamps was a laborious one. They carried supplies with them, having "packers" for that service, but the game abounding in the forests that they traversed, with fish from the streams they crossed, contributed much to their subsistence.

A great deal of the country passed through carried a wealth of pine, and immense bodies of the hard wood lands were found on the route of the prospective railroad. Very much of the land in Chippewa, Alger and Schoolcraft counties is excellently adapted for farming purposes, Mr. Wagner states, and he is confident that the region at the Sault end of the line will quickly develop into a prosperous agricultural district after once the skill and the iron horse gives the signal for the work of subduing it to the uses of civilization to begin.

The route examined was found satisfactory in every respect, and will be favorably reported on. No difficult grades were encountered. There are some swamps, but these will present no serious obstacle to the work of constructing an excellent road. The main line will not touch Marquette, but a spur to this city will undoubtedly be built, as the principal track will pass a great distance south of here. The aim of the projectors of this great railway is to make it a trunk line for business between the Atlantic seaboard and the southwest, and local traffic will be only incidentally looked after. It would be desirable to Marquette, but for the difficult grades which it would thereby be compelled to encounter, but a spur can easily run in here, and that will meet our needs very well.

From the point where the D., M. & H. line will be crossed to where that road bends St. Ignaceward, the two lines will be nearly parallel. This suggested to the reporter a query, to which Mr. Wagner replied, "Well, maybe they will, but I think the C. L. C. & S. people can build their own line for less than the other can be bought." Perhaps so, but it does seem to a man perched where the reporter sits writing that parallel lines through that part of the upper peninsula are not a necessity. But of this later.

Mr. Kozlone, the moving spirit in this gigantic undertaking, is now in New York on business connected therewith. This paper is quite reliably informed that all financial arrangements have been perfected, and that the work of building the road will be vigorously begun "all along the line" next season. A final survey of the route through the upper peninsula is yet to be made, of course, but this will not take much time, as the location of the line has been practically decided on.

Close of Navigation. This morning navigation is practically closed on Lake Superior for the season of '88, though at this writing the weather is far from being the regulation winter article for this latitude. The V. Swain and consort, the A. C. Maxwell, were the last vessels to leave this port, and will probably also be the last to leave the lake. Work on the docks was continued nearly all Monday night to get them loaded, and they cleared at an early hour yesterday morning.

They had a splendid day in which to make the run to the Sault and have undoubtedly, by this time, passed from Lake Superior. Having bade farewell to the last boats of the season, Marquette harbor will not be plowed by visiting keels until the latter part of April, 1889, in all probability. The Nebraska, the last freight boat to visit this lake, has gone into winter quarters at Duluth, not thinking it advisable to attempt a return at this season of the year.

The First of the Kind in Marquette.

The reporter recently saw two pictures standing in Mr. S. N. Bronson's parlor, which are not only the first of the kind in Marquette, but also the first to leave New York city. Although spoken of as "pictures," they appear to be bronze plaques. They are "Lincrusta Walton pictures" (lincrusta—invented by Walton of London), and are the latest thing in the art world, they may, indeed, be called the ultra art idea.

"Lincrusta" is composed of wood pulp, paraffine gum, and linseed oil, with some slight additional ingredients, and has long been used for wall paper and decorated articles, its use for pictures being of recent date. Brass dies are prepared into which the lincrusta is passed into solid relief. The pictures on cooling are then coated with lead and placed in vats of liquidized bronze, and electricity is applied which completes the process of plating. The process is precisely the same as is used in plating silverware.

The pictures in Mr. Bronson's parlor were presented to him by his brother, Mr. E. O. Randall, of Columbus, on the occasion of his fiftieth birthday a short time ago. Mr. Randall is well versed in art matters, and while in New York saw these pictures made, and secured them, as they are the first of the kind ever made in this country.

They are copies of two paintings of G. Dornier, a modern Dutch master, and are very handsomely framed in carved oak. Lincrusta pictures will undoubtedly prove the rage in high art circles, as they are not only novelties but also very beautiful, having the appearance of solid bronze.

Nelson's Ice Bank. The reporter recently visited Nelson's ice rink at the upper end of Front street, and found that all arrangements had been completed for the coming season, a little less weather only being required to enable him to open for the winter. For the last three years the rink has been opened on Thanksgiving day, but the cold wave didn't put in an appearance this year as in former years.

The rink is 145x45 feet in size; the dressing rooms have been repaired, newly papered and made more comfortable for the patrons of the rink in every way. During the coldest weather the rink will be flooded with hot water instead of cold as the latter when freezing does not unite with the old ice but scales off under the skates. Good music will be on hand during the season. The admittance this year will be ten cents, instead of fifteen, as formerly. Skates can be rented at the rink for ten cents additional. Season tickets will be $4 for gentlemen and $3 for ladies; tickets for a gentleman and lady, $6.

As soon as the weather will permit the rink will be opened and small bills will be issued to inform the public of the event. A Pretty Home. Yesterday the reporter was shown the improvements recently made and not yet wholly finished in Mr. Richard Blake's house corner of Ridge and Spruce streets.

A new cellar has been dug under the building and a good furnace has been put in which warms the entire building. The kitchen has been entirely rebuilt and made much more convenient and commodious. The entire house has been repaired, replastered, wall-papered and kalsomined. The paper on the walls and ceilings is very beautiful in its contrasts and effect. It most emphatically shows that Mr. Drew, who put it on, is a first-class artist in his line. Mr. Blake is now getting settled in his new home which is one of the best arranged and most beautifully decorated houses in the interior that Marquette possesses.

Richard Blake has started a flourishing cemetery on his lot, corner of Ridge and Spruce streets. He has buried in a common grave forty-eight full-sized rats, which have gone to a land where no stones are ever thrown, and where "rough on rats" is never dealt out to unsuspecting rodents. The rat population of Marquette is being rapidly diminished and it will stand a good deal of extermination yet. A near neighbor of Mr. Blake's has lured about twenty of the pests to a watery grave through a too great love for cats.

There seems to be an opportunity in Marquette for the establishment of a conscience fund, similar to the one maintained by the U. S. government. Two years ago several pairs of skates were stolen from Joseph Nelson's ice rink in this city, and not long ago Mr. Nelson discovered one of the missing pairs on his door-step one morning. When taken the skates were rather rusty, but the party returning them evidently still further eased his conscience by polishing them up well. Maybe he's "joined the church." If the parties having the other three pairs would do likewise Nelson would be still further delighted.

When I come to think of it, size up the town and its location and take a comparative view, I can see a solid column of prominent reasons why the people of Marquette should feel proud of their town. It is a town at times guilty of unintentional ascription, but he nevertheless is making a daily that pride can be a source of pleasure many adverse circumstances too.—Florence Mining News.

On behalf of the MINING JOURNAL, Penciling lifts his hat to Osborn for the compliment to this paper. As for its editor, there doesn't seem to be anything acid about him when he and Osborn meet. Guess both of 'em work off all their gall in the journalistic controversies. If the Nougaine paper (the big one is meant) doesn't cease aspiring the good name of Mr. Mooney, Griffey & Fry will be a good drop. It will come right down on the senior editor's corns, too. This office is in receipt of a communication from the aggrieved drayman that it only refrains from printing because it is unwilling to extinguish Griffey without giving him fair warning, and thus affording him a chance to reform, give Mooney a rest, and hereafter lead a better life himself. Mooney slings a vicious quill, and when he writes gall drips from his pen. We implore Griffey not to provoke him further, for his own sake, for the sake of the public, and for the MINING JOURNAL. An article scoring another editor that was printed in this paper last week basted the engine while the paper was being worked off, and it wasn't a circumstance to Mooney's effusion.

and equally dreaded kind of hash is by four-rate boarding house mistresses.

Conklin's new show cases have arrived and are now being placed in position. They are the finest in this city, and when fully finished off and stocked, will add greatly to his already beautiful store. The interior of the cases will be lined with wine-colored felt to display the silverware to better advantage.

The rear wall of Byrne's block was completed to the height where the superstructure will begin, yesterday. The work on the other walls will now be pushed. Pencillings suspects that S. E. has subsidized the weather bureau largely, else where in the bow-wow does this beautiful weather come from at this time of year?

"Why don't you print the hotel arrivals now-a-days?" an inquisitive person inquired of the reporter yesterday. He isn't a subscriber, so his curiosity wasn't gratified. But Pencillings doesn't mind giving you the reason, dear reader. It's because the pages of the MINING JOURNAL are awfully crowded, while the hotels are not. The stream of travel at present is distressingly attenuated.

H. H. Stafford received a large number of very beautiful steel engravings by express from New York yesterday. While Pencillings was looking at a stranger present asked if there is any demand for such pictures in Marquette, and expressed great surprise when informed that there is. One large engraving, that of the "Thin Red Line" at Balaklava, was especially fine, and is entirely new; it is from Robert Gibb's celebrated painting of the same.

The MINING JOURNAL staff received yesterday a large basket of the finest apples. Pencillings has ever seen in this city. Mr. H. B. Swaine was the donor, and he has our best thanks. He has been dealing largely in apples this season, and is having any more Baldwin, Northern Spys and Twenty-ounce Pippins like the ones sent to this office, the apple-distributing readers of the MINING JOURNAL should lose no time in persuading him to part with them.

The A. C. Adams returned at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, having left the Mentor in winter quarters with the Gillett, at Houghton. After taking the Mentor up, the Adams secured 110 pieces, over half of the timber which was recently lost from a snow or on the way up. The timber was found in Conway and Salmon Trout bays, and could have all been secured had good weather been anticipated. The Adams has been laid up for the winter in the slip south of the merchandise dock.

Well, begorra, if the ovid fashions ain't come round again! There's a gorgeous in knee breeches an' socks swinging as nate a bit of a shillelag as ever I seed in the ovid country, just the same as av' he wor goin' to a fair in Ireland forty years ago—only the craythur's legs is too thin!" The speaker's nationality can be inferred from his brogue, but who would be able to guess that the subject of his remarks was merely a member of the Superior polo club as he appears when armed and dressed for the fray?

There hasn't been much snow in Marquette so far this season, but what we've had enabled the boys whose infatuated parents have furnished them with sleds to establish that they have forgotten all about the ordinance prohibiting the use of the sidewalks for coasting purposes. It doesn't take a great deal to make boys forget what they ought to remember, but there is a way of freshening up their recollection provided for in that same ordinance. Boys will be boys, it is to be presumed, but sidewalks are going to be sidewalks in this town, if Pencillings can help it, and not mere sliding places for a noisy crew of mischievous urchins. It might be well for his honor, the recorder, to have that same ordinance printed over again when the next snow-fall occurs, so that there will be no mistakes about its meaning. It is good reading for Marquette boys at this season of the year.

PERSONAL MENTION. Mrs. H. C. Fowle, of Ishpeming, was in the city yesterday, at the Clifton. Mrs. Sexton left the city yesterday for a two weeks' visit upon relatives. Mr. Timothy Nester returned to Marquette yesterday from a brief absence on business. Mrs. Abbott, the mother of Mrs. I. D. Hanson, has been under the doctor's care for several days, but is about again now. Capt. William Ward and daughter left Marquette yesterday for their home in Pittsburgh, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. J. N. Williams did not reach home yesterday as expected, having stopped over in Chicago. She will probably come through today.
