UNIVERSAL EDUCATION BILL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The friends universal education are very hopeful of passing an educational bill through con gress. Mr. Blair, in the senate, and Mr Willis, in the house, will press the matter and both are sanguine of success. The bills introduced by these gentlemen are different in many matters of detail, but both provide for the same amount to be appropriated by congress for the public free schools in the States, and if the bills pass the two houses their differences can probably be adjusted. Senator Blair says he expects that the committee

A FAMOUS PETITION

How the Salvation Army Stormed the House of Commons.

The monster petition of the Salvation Army in favor of raising the age of protec-tion for girls, conveyed recently from the congress hall at Ciapton to Westminster, was about four or five feet in diameter, and was about four or five feet in diameter, and was placed on a wagon drawn by four horses, accompanied by the band and a special detachment—the Life Guards—of the Salvation Army, wearing white helmets. Several mounted guards were in the van and rear of the procession. On each gable of the covering for the wagon were the words: "In the name of God and the people, and the Queen Mother and the nation, the Salvation Army demands that this injunity and the Queen Mother and the nation, the Salvation Army demands that this iniquity shall cease." On the sides appeared the words, "Salvation Army petition for the protection of young girls," and a notification that the monster petition contained to that the monster petition contained to the officer in charge of the procession stated the officer in charge of the procession stated was under the mark. the officer in charge of the procession stated was under the mark. Most of the signatures were obtained in London. On each corner of the wagon were banners with the word "Beware."

The procession was dispersed by the police at the point where it entered the Embankment, at the foot of Northumberland avenue. Only the wagon with its guard was allowed to pass along the Embankment, and the conveyance itself was stopped when it got within 500 yards of the house of parliament. Thence the petition was carried, with the aid of long handles attached to the winch like arrangement Allen, Jensen & Williams

The Next Council Meeting. The common council will meet again on the evening of January 6th, at which time the committee on streets will report upon the petition referred to it at the last regular meeting of the council. As stated yesterday, it is likely the council will table the report, as it will strongly urge the purchase and liberal use of a good snow plow.

The refusal of the council to purchase a snow plow will probably be based on the necessity of economy in the management of municipal affairs. The aldermen believe that a snow plow would prove more expensive in its cost and operation than the employment of laborers to shovel the crosswalks and the compulsory cleaning of all sidewalks by property owners.

The crosswalks may be properly cleaned but it may be set down as a certainty that the sidewalks will not be kept clear of snow by taxpayers, even with the penalty that the ordinance provides hanging over them. Everyone believes that the ordinance will not be enforced; indeed, it cannot be.

The report of the committee on streets will merit careful consideration, and appropriate legislation. It will perhaps be granted the former, but the latter is doubtful.

An effort was made to find the thief, but Casey did not know whom to suspect, and the search was dropped.

Richard Barney is now captain of the Superior polo club, Capt. John Jones having resigned, and "Dick" is making the boys rustle around. One of the new schemes of his is to put half a dozen picked players on one side and twice as many on the other. This makes it interesting for all concerned, and our boys are getting the practice and experience which they need. The next game in which the boys appear will not be won so easily by the opposing club as the last two have been.

Notwithstanding the dubious predictions made by some about the success of Mennie's rink this winter, it has been all that could be wished for so far. There s plenty of room for both an ice and a roller rink here, and from the best sporting town of the peninsula, having a population, too, of 8,000, the two rinks will receive an entirely satisfactory share of the patronage of the public.

The table-scarf before described, that has been in J. W. Quinn & Co.'s show-window for the past week, was sent yesterday to its owner in Hancock. It was made to order for $35, and could not have been obtained in Chicago for less than $50, and would probably have cost $75. (LATE OF CHICAGO.) Having decided to remain permanently in the upper peninsula, with hesdquarters at Marquette, I hope by fair dealing, and by doing thorough work, to secure a share of the building business in this district, Larg buildings a specialty. I have just completed a large DRY KILN of my own, which my cust traces will have the benefit of, and will find highly advantageous.
