PAPERS containing marked articles descriptive of the North Shore silver properties are showering down on the MINING JOURNAL from all parts of Canada.

The committee of the Ohio house of representatives who are investigating the Cincinnati election forgery telegraphed Mr. John D. Follett, who has been the attorney for the gang of scoundrels...

It appears to us that the opposition organs are lashing themselves into altogether too much of a rage over the question of Dakota's admission.

There is no warrant for the assumption that her request for admission will be denied because it has not already been granted.

From the following statement, clipped from the Port Arthur Sentinel of the 19th, it appears that the New York parties who have been negotiating for a silver property on the North Shore have effected its purchase.

For some time negotiations have been going on for the sale of the property known as the west end of Silver Mountain.

We announced in our issue of the 9th inst., that we should give to our readers the following week an interesting letter from Gov. Swintwood to the Marquette Mining Journal...

It is as unfortunate for England as it is for Ireland that so many of the prominent English statesmen exhibit such a malignant and tyrannical spirit toward the afflicted population of the Emerald Isle.

Discussing the question which now occupies the attention of English statesmen, the Marquette Eagle observes editorially:

It is as unfortunate for England as it is for Ireland that so many of the prominent English statesmen exhibit such a malignant and tyrannical spirit toward the afflicted population of the Emerald Isle.

On the policy to be adopted toward Ireland by the government now in power in England, as foreshadowed by the addresses of the queen and her premier.

A paper which is intensely disgusted with the existing state of things laments its overworked feelings in this strain:

As the days go by it becomes more and more a matter of certainty that the senate and the president of these United States are going to have a row whose magnitude will take the starch out of any previous occurrence of the kind within our political history.

The ignorance displayed by the editorialist who penned the above is only equalled by his partisan rancor.

Copper Country's Court House—The Musical Association's New Oratorio—Special Trains on the M., H. & O.

The Books Closed.

Yesterday the committee having charge of the movement to raise a contribution to the Parnell parliamentary fund here, and the treasurer of the fund, Mr. Thomas Dwyer, met for the purpose of closing the books and arranging to forward to Dr. Reilly, of Detroit, treasurer of the fund for the United States, the money raised for that purpose. The figures, which are given below, eloquently attest to the industry of the gentlemen composing the committee, as also to the generosity of the people of Marquette. The MINING JOURNAL has been furnished with the appended statement:

Table with financial data: MARQUETTE, Mich., Jan. 26, 1888. DEAR SIR:—At a public meeting held in this place last month we were chosen as a committee to raise money in aid of the Parnell parliamentary fund, and Mr. Thomas Dwyer was chosen treasurer. The meeting was addressed by Hon. Isaac Marston, of Detroit, and two-thirds of the gross amount raised was pledged before the audience left the hall.

Since then we have canvassed the city, and the following is a statement of the aggregate amount contributed, with expenses of collection, to-wit:

Table with financial data: Aggregate amount subscribed, as published in the Marquette Mining Journal of Dec. 14, 1888, $ 821 25. Deduct amount unpaid by subscribers on above, 3 75.

Below is a list of amounts contributed since December 14th, 1888, to the Parnell parliamentary fund, together with the names of those contributing:

Table with financial data: J. Connolly, 10 00; C. Y. Osburn, 5 00; J. M. Case, 5 00; John Dooley, 3 00; Patrick Sullivan, 3 00; Thomas Mitchell, 3 00; William O'Brien, 3 00; James Maloney, 3 00; Daniel Murphy, 3 00; John Sullivan, 3 00; Miss May Shea, 3 00; R. J. Mappes, 2 00; M. Bernstein, 1 00; Miss Mary O'Neill, 1 00; Mrs. J. Connors, 1 00; Miss Mary Connolly, 1 00; John Moriarty, 1 00; William Burt, 1 00; John O'Neill, 1 00; John Shea, 1 00; F. H. Hopper, 50 cts.

And here the reporter desires to place on record an act of generosity on the part of two members of the managing committee. When the expenses had been deducted from the gross amount raised, at the meeting yesterday, there remained in the treasurer's hands just $967.50 to be transmitted to Dr. Reilly. "Let's make it an even $1,000, Tim," said Mr. Healy to the speaker of the third house. "I thought it likely some more money would be needed to round it out," replied Mr. Nester, drawing a check out of his pocket, "so I brought this along to be prepared for emergencies. What figure shall I fill in?" "Twenty dollars apiece will carry it handsomely over the thousand, and distance Detroit," was the response. "Twenty it is then," said Tim, as he filled out his check for that sum. Mr. Healy's for a like amount was soon added, and Marquette's contribution to the parliamentary fund was raised above that of any other city in Michigan, not excepting the state metropolis.

That's the way they do things in the capital of the upper peninsula.

Funeral Services Yesterday. The funeral services of the late Siegfried Zerbel yesterday afternoon at the German Lutheran church, were very largely attended, the Germans of Marquette and vicinity being very largely represented. Rev. C. P. Engelder delivered the sermon, which was a very fine one, by many it was regarded as the best ever delivered in the church.

Mr. Zerbel was born in 1824 at Stettin, in the province of Pommern, Germany. He came to Marquette in 1860, with his wife and eight young children, and occupied some land shortly after his arrival, near Cheoclay on the road Harvey put through to Lake Michigan. In 1862, immediately after the homestead bill passed congress and went into operation, he homesteaded his farm in section 26, township 47, range 24; he was the first homesteader in Marquette county, or in the upper peninsula so far as known. In the summer he worked his farm, and in the winter cut shingles and sold cord-wood; as the years went by and his children became old enough to aid him he amassed property, and now leaves his family in comfortable circumstances.

While in Germany he was the superintendent of a large estate belonging to a nobleman there, but impelled by a desire to better his circumstances, he decided to emigrate to America. After settling here he was the cause of many Germans leaving their native country for this region and the place where he lived, known as the German settlement, now comprises nearly one hundred families. At various times he held important local offices there, as constable, road commissioner, justice of the peace, etc. He leaves a widow, nine married children, and twenty-seven grand children.

Worthy the Pride of Copperdom. Yesterday a MINING JOURNAL reporter was shown the completed plans of the new Houghton county court house in J. B. Swett's office. The new building will be the finest of its kind in the upper peninsula. It will have a frontage of 126 feet, and a depth of 98 feet, and will be a court-house, jail, and sheriff's residence combined.

Entering under a handsome stone portico at the front the visitor will find himself in a large hall, 16x33 feet in dimensions. On the left will be the probate office, county treasurer's office and county clerk's office—all having large fire-proof vaults—and a committee room. On the right will be the sheriff's residence, containing the sheriff's office, a parlor, dining room, and kitchen; a side entrance with a beautiful piazza will be provided for this portion of the building. In the rear will be the jail, having ten cells on this floor. A large ventilating shaft starting from the first floor will ventilate the building.

Going up the very handsome winding staircase to the second floor, the visitor will find the court room, 38x50 feet in size, on the left, off from which will be the judge's private room, two large jury rooms, and a consultation room, which can also be used for the hall at the head of the stairs. On this floor there will be no communication with the jail and sheriff's residence, a separate stairway giving access to the second floors of those portions of the building.

The second floor of the sheriff's residence will contain four bedrooms, while the second floor of the jail will be devoted to yards for insane and female prisoners; the turnkey will also have a bedroom on this floor. The attic will not be finished off at present, but will be large and roomy.

Paris and Leipzig. When the coat was sent to Mr. Brown last week a note from the firm accompanied it saying that if it did not prove satisfactory he could return it and draw on them for $200, and the note rather expressed the wish that the exchange would take place.

The skin forming the back of the coat is of remarkable size and beauty; good judges of furs state that they have rarely seen its equal. One advantage of leaving the fur unplucked is that it will then turn water as perfectly as when upon the beaver's back, while the plucked fur would be soaked if worn in the rain.

Y. M. C. A. Business Meeting. The business meeting, of the Young Men's Christian association last night was called to order by B. O. Pearl, the vice-president of the association. After the election of a secretary pro tem, the association proceeded to the business of the meeting, which was the election of delegates to the state convention to be held at Bay City, February 4-7. E. W. Allen, W. L. Childester, F. A. Green, W. S. Hill, B. O. Pearl, and E. A. Wetmore were elected, with instructions to add to their number such other members of the association as could go.

Free Transportation To-day. Parties going to the Conductors' ball, at Escanaba this evening, will be given free transportation over the M., H. & O. on the exhibition of a ball ticket. To secure the return passage the ticket must be endorsed by the secretary of the association. This arrangement will be good only on to-day and to-morrow, January 26th and 27th.

Funeral at Negaunee. The funeral of Sidney Bates, who was killed by the cars Saturday, will take place at the Presbyterian church, Negaunee, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The pupils in the Negaunee high school, of which he was a member, will attend the services in a body, and many will also be present from Ishpeming and this city.

REPORTORIAL PENALTIES. The storm was so severe in the woods near Marquette last Friday afternoon that lumbermen had to retire to their camps to avoid danger from falling trees and branches torn off by the wind.

Penalties understands that a lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars has been organized in this city. The officers of the lodge are: W. S. Hill, president; E. W. Allen, secretary; B. O. Pearl, treasurer; F. A. Green, chaplain; W. L. Childester, pastor.

Yesterday a lawyer in this city was startled by a buccolic stranger who thrust his head in at the office door and asked, "Am I in the place where the land office were?" On being assured that it was not, the disciple of Webster retreated.

Mr. Kennedy, of diamond fame, is again in the country, and consumers of carboys will do well to look over their stock and see what they want. The house of S. Dessau can always supply them with the best assortment at the most reasonable prices.

Vannier states that he hopes that hereafter no one cherishing the desire to punch the head of "The Father of His Country" will tempt the same upon his show-case. Too rigorous pounding of a postage stamp necessitated the renewal of the glass in his candy case Saturday.

A gentleman of the legal persuasion in this city received a letter yesterday from a correspondent who is evidently a worthy disciple of the spelling reformer. He complained that certain things came "to by"; the complaint is quite general in regard to legal matters, but the spelling is not so much so.

It was a front street merchant who hung out a sign, "Rubbers at reduced rates," recently. The placard seemed to excite so much mirth a few hours afterward that he went out to see what was wrong with it. To his disgust he found that some party had placed a very dilapidated pair of articles in question directly under the sign. It greets the passer by no longer.

S. W. Bailey has mounted some very fine specimens in the owl line this season, but it is only quite recently that he has been able to secure one alive. It has already attracted great attention, and all who have seen it say that it resembles no other owl which they have ever seen. Penalties has not seen the bird himself, but that does not prevent him from saying that it is a truly unique ornithological specimen: "so the people say."

There seems to be no longer room for doubting that Erratt & Spiller (who are sinking an artesian well for the Mackinac Lumber company) have at last struck the brine producing rock at a depth of about 675 feet. In fact, it is stated that there are 80 feet of brine in the well, and of sufficient strength in which to pack fish. A walking-beam drill has been used for this purpose, and it is predicted that the well will be built very soon, and that St. Ignace will yet savor salinity and benignity the food of some of the continent's scoffers at her greatness who dwell in less favored bailiwicks.—St. Ignace Republican.

The "Saints" are evidently not satisfied with their present euphonious title; they wish to be counted also among the "salt of the earth." As they appear to desire salt in their porridge, Penalties hopes that it may be granted them in an abundant measure.

Bessemer's new paper, the Pick and Axe, is already discussing the claims of that town county, which it asserts will soon be formed from Ontonagon county. The Ontonagon Miner concedes that a new county should be formed and trusts "that the question will be calmly and fairly discussed; that the demands of our southern neighbors will not be exorbitant but fair, and that the demands will be met with a spirit of justice and generosity by our people in the older portion of the county, so that when the question is taken before the legislature there may be no fighting." That is the proper spirit in which to meet the question. The northern and southern portions of the county have no interests in common and would be benefited by separation.

PERSONAL MENTION. J. M. Case left the city yesterday for Detroit. R. P. Travers, of Chicago, is in the city on business. Miss Davidson, of the Ridge street school, is quite ill.

W. C. Busch reached home yesterday from a trip to L'Anse. Miss Olson, of Pequaning, dined at the Clifton yesterday. John B. Dee returned yesterday from a short trip to Houghton.

W. W. Manning arrived in the city yesterday, after a visit to New York. C. H. Palmer, Jr., of Copperdom, dined at the Clifton yesterday with manager Hornby. F. B. Spear returned to Marquette yesterday afternoon from a short trip to Champlain.

Thomas Wells, Joseph Winter and J. Q. Adams, all of Negaunee, were in Marquette yesterday.

W. Hobbs Manning returned yesterday from a business trip of three or four days' duration at Ontonagon.

Card of Thanks. I desire, with my family, to return my heartfelt thanks to the many kind friends and neighbors who showed so many acts of kindness and attention to Mrs. Damp during her long period of suffering and illness, and to myself and family during our recent great bereavement.
