MANNING'S FUNERAL.

The Body of the Dead Statesman Laid to Rest in Albany, N. Y., Yesterday.

A LONG LIST OF DISTINGUISHED MEN PRESENT.

The Impressive and Beautiful Burial Service—Places of Business Throughout the City Closed.

THE FUNERAL OF DANIEL MANNING.

THE LAST TRIBUTE PAID HIM.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 27.—President Cleveland and five members of his cabinet arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning and were driven to Governor Hill's residence, where they breakfasted. At 12:30 the distinguished guests were received privately at the residence of Mr. Manning's son, where [the ex-secretary died. Subsequently quiet funeral services for the family were held. Just before the public services in St. Paul's church, all business houses were closed and flags were hung at half mast. On Sunday prayers for the family were offered in all the churches of the city. All day long until the hour of the funeral all the trains brought large delegations from every part of the state and it is doubtful whether the city ever had such

A CONCOURSE OF PROMINENT PEOPLE within its gates except on a day of celebration. Senators, assemblymen, congressmen, judges and citizens, all came to pay their tribute to the dead. The body of the dead statesman, in a black cloth-covered casket, was in the parlor of the residence of his son, James H. Manning. At the foot of the casket was a profusion of carnations and white roses. The silver plate bore this inscription:

Daniel Manning, Born August 16, 1831, Died December 24, 1887.

From 9 until 11 o'clock the personal friends of Mr. Manning were permitted to look upon his face, which looked its original self save for the impress left by the ravages of the suffering he had undergone. The callers came from all stations in life, and men whose names are historical and whose names are in the annals of the nation, in paying a last evidence of respect to the departed. At 12:30 President Cleveland, his cabinet and Governor Hill VIEWED THE REMAINS of their former friend and associate. Shortly before half-past 1 o'clock the Rev. Dr. Reese offered prayer at the house, only members of the family being present. The [sad] last look at the dead husband and devoted father had its fearful ending. The lid was closed and the coffin was borne to the hearse by the employes of the Argus establishment, of which the dead statesman was president. The funeral procession then took its way down the street to St. Paul's church, only a block below. The cortege was met at the main doors of the church by the rector of St. Paul's, Rev. J. Livingston Reese, Bishop Doane and the other clergymen of the city. As the procession marched up the aisle, Dr. Reese began the reading of

THE BURIAL SERVICE beginning "I am the resurrection and the life." The coffin was then placed upon the bier, which was covered with evergreens and palms, and the bearers, mourners and those that followed took their places. After Dr. Reese had read the usual lesson from the First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians, "Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept," the choir rendered with fine effect "I heard a Voice from Heaven." After which Bishop Doane offered prayer. The choir then sang "Asleep in Jesus." Bishop Doane then pronounced the Benediction and the casket was again taken to the house and then to the cemetery, being followed by many carriages. Upon reaching the cemetery Rev. Dr. Reese read the committal and the remains were at once conveyed to the vault without further ceremony, where they will rest until spring, when they will be interred in the family lot.

President Cleveland and party left for Washington at 5:30 this evening. Among the many notables from a distance, including the president and party, were: United States Senator A. P. Gorman; Congressman Campbell, Merriman, Bliss and Mahoney; ex-Mayors Cooper and Grace, of New York; Mayor Chapin, of Brooklyn; C. N. Jordan, of New York; Congressman Randall, of Philadelphia; and ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling, of New York.

DRAPED IN MOURNING. WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The treasury building is heavily draped in black out of respect to the memory of the late Daniel Manning.

To Destroy The Records. WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The secretary of war has issued an order for an investigation of the character and quantity of the war records in the several bureaus, with a view to destroy all that "can be spared." It is proposed by the administration to ask congress to pass a bill authorizing the destruction of the records.

Fire at Manacela. MANACELA, Mich., Dec. 27.—The Manacela oval dish factory was totally destroyed by fire last night. The loss is $50,000; partly insured. The fire originated from a hot box in the dry kiln.

LAMAR'S CONFIRMATION.

Sawyer Says He's Plighted to Vote For It But Don't Consider It Binding.

HOW HE COMMITTED HIMSELF.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Gossip among politicians who spent Christmas in New York has pointed to Senator Sawyer as the principal one of three or four republican politicians who may possibly vote for the confirmation of Mr. Lamar as justice of the supreme court. Senator Sawyer acknowledges to his conferees in the senate that to use the popular phrase, "he has got himself into a box," although he by no means considers himself committed to vote for the confirmation. The peculiar

CIRCUMSTANCES OF HIS POSITION are incident to the president's trip through the west and northwest last summer. Senator Sawyer was present at a dinner given to the president while he was in Wisconsin. His elbow companion was Postmaster-General Vilas, to whom the senator incidentally said, in the course of the dinner: "I understand that the president contemplates appointing Mr. Lamar to the supreme bench and giving the interior department to you. That will be a good thing and I hope he will do it." Said General Vilas in return: "If you really think so, why don't you say as much to the president? "Everyone who knows

THE BLUNT, ROUGH, GOOD NATURE of Senator Sawyer will appreciate the force with which he answered, "I will." After a little time he got up from his seat and went over to the president's chair and said to him: "Mr. president, I hear that you think of putting Mr. Lamar on the supreme bench; why don't you do it?" "Could he be confirmed if I should appoint him?" was the president's guarded and Quaker-like reply. "I think so," said the senator. "Indeed I know so myself, and my colleague, I think, would vote for confirmation." This closed the conversation. While Senator Sawyer does not regard it as binding, he feels himself in a peculiarly embarrassing position.

THE POPE'S JUBILEE.

President Cleveland's Gift To Be a Copy of The American Constitution.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The Post tomorrow will print the following with reference to the president's gift to the pope. It is learned from an official source that President Cleveland's gift of a copy of the constitution of the United States to Pope Leo XIII on the occasion of the golden jubilee of his ordination as a priest, was suggested indirectly by the holy father himself. When Cardinal Gibbons returned from Rome last summer, he brought a very cordial and congratulatory message to President Cleveland from the pope on the success of his administration and well wishes for him personally. The pope in his interviews with Cardinal Gibbons, expressed much satisfaction with our constitution and great interest in its operation. This suggested to the president the character of the gift. No letter was sent with it, but on the fly leaf, in the president's hand writing is the inscription presenting the book to the pope on the fiftieth anniversary of his entrance into the priesthood.

RIOUS STRIKERS.

A Sensational Story Which Comes From Hinsdale, Minnesota.

DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 27.—Seventy-five to one hundred employes of the Minnesota Granite works at Hinsdale, now on a strike for back pay, are rioting. James Lester, telegraph operator at Hinsdale, wires: "The rioters have gained possession of the telegraph office. I have now a revolver on each side of my head. They have demanded the money in the safe and are trying to open it." Here the message stopped and nothing has been heard since. There was less than $25 in the safe. Deputy sheriff Free, of Tower, left with a posse of men this afternoon to quell the riot. These strikers have been getting out grants to the new auditorium building at Chicago. The laborers are mainly Hungarians and Bohemians, and form almost the total population of Hinsdale. They are said to be drunk.

Thinks Lamar Will be Confirmed. SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 27.—In reply to a communication from the Buckeye club of this city, protesting against the confirmation of L. Q. C. Lamar as associate justice of the United States supreme court, Senator Sherman in a letter says: "I take the same view of the nomination of Mr. Lamar as is stated by your republican Buckeye club. You may be sure I will do all I can to prevent his confirmation. I regret to say, however, that I fear my efforts will be unsuccessful."

Trouble Among the Coal Miners.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 27.—W. T. Lewis, master workman of the Miners assembly of the Knights of Labor, arrived here to-day to inquire into the trouble among the railroad miners in western Pennsylvania. The operators, who are paying the Columbus scale, state "that they will not pay it after January, as a large number of other operators refuse to pay it. Mr. Lewis came on to-day to try to settle the matter without a strike."

An Ohio Farmer Drowned.

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 27.—This afternoon Jesse Mead, a wealthy farmer and prominent politician of the county, was drowned in Mad river. He was crossing a bridge in a buggy, when his horse reared and backed off the bridge into deep water.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28, 1 A. M.—The signal service notes the following as its predictions for the next thirty-six hours: For Michigan, colder, fair weather, preceded along Lake Michigan by light snow, followed in western portion by rising temperature, brisk to high northwesterly winds, becoming light to fresh variable.

KNIGHTS KNUCKLE.

The Reading Employes Throw Up the Sponge and Will Return to Work.

THE ACTION OF THE READING SHOP MEN TURNS THE SCALES.

The Strike Proves a Dismal Failure—The Men Make An Unconditional Surrender to the Officials.

THE GREAT READING STRIKE IS ENDED.

READING, Pa., Dec. 27.—The strike is settled. These were the words which came over the wires into the general offices of the Reading railroad company in this city at 3 o'clock this morning and there was great rejoicing all along the company's lines in consequence. It is believed that the action of the convention of employes in this city yesterday in declaring positively that they would not go on a strike had much to do with bringing a settlement.

DECIDED TO RAISE THE EMBARGO.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 27.—The executive committee of the Reading Railroad Employes assembly, early this morning, after a secret session, decided to lift the great strike on the Reading system, pending arbitration with the company. The five crews over whom the trouble originated are to be supported in the meantime by the financial aid of the employes. The decision to arbitrate was reached after a conference with superintendent Swigard at his office last night. The committee then returned to their meeting place in Port Richmond, and after several hours' discussion, decided to submit their case to arbitration. In the afternoon a motion had been carried to the officials. Mr. Swigard met the committee graciously and assured them that such a plan would be entirely agreeable to the Reading railroad. One of the committee said this morning: "We decided that it would be far better to pay the five striking crews their wages rather than jeopardize so many interests in this city. Mr. Swigard has always treated us squarely and we feel that we can trust him. All side issues will be sunk and only the main point of dispute will be arbitrated upon." All trains are moving on the Reading railroad to-day, and no further trouble is anticipated.

TO PROPOSE ARBITRATION

DIDN'T AGREE TO ARBITRATE.

General superintendent Swigard said that the statement that he had agreed with the Knights of Labor to submit the question in dispute to arbitration was incorrect. He said that last evening a committee representing employes of the company called at his office and he talked with them briefly regarding the threatened strike. He held out no inducements to the men, however, and would listen to no proposition which had for its object the reinstatement of the men who had been discharged for refusing to deliver cars to Taylor's elevator. These men, he said, have been discharged and will never again be employed by the company. He says no agreement was proposed either by the committee or by him, and that the committee left when he informed them he would hold no conversation regarding the discharged men.

General manager McLeod said that the report that the Reading company had agreed to arbitrate with its striking employes is absolutely false. There is nothing to discuss, much less arbitrate. The men discharged were not and will not be taken back.

THE METAL MARKET.

Heavy Trades In Copper—Two Million Pounds Taken of The Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Heavy trades in copper were made here to-day for January deliveries and about 2,000,000 pounds were taken off the market. The bears looked for a break in prices in consequence but none came and all the metal offered was eagerly taken at 17.75. For February delivery 17.55 was bid; for March 17.80 to 17.85; and April 17.90 to 17.95. Very little copper for April delivery could, however, be had at 18. In London Child bars opened at £84 7s 6d for spot and £85 15s for futures, an increase of nearly 15s on ante holiday prices. The day's transactions amounted to about 700 tons.

Result of a Christmas Drunk

WILKESBARRE, Dec. 27.—At a Christmas debauch last night at Exeter borough near West Pittston Edward and Annie McMullen and Bessie, their daughter, became so intoxicated that they went to sleep leaving Bessie's daughter, four years of age, in the kitchen. The child's dress caught fire, and she tried to arouse the inmates but failed. The house took fire and the child was burned to death. The mother died at noon to-day from her injuries. The others were badly burned.

Chilly in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 27.—During the last twenty-four hours there was a change of 28 degrees in temperature, and at 7 o'clock this morning the mercury stood 15 degrees below zero—the coldest weather St. Paul has experienced this winter. It is general throughout the northwest.

The Usual Luck.

ENGLAND.

GLADSTONE SPEAKS AT DOVER. LONDON, Dec. 27.—Mr. Gladstone, replying to an address presented to him at Dover by the liberal delegates, referred to the uncertain character of Lord Salisbury's declarations in reference to free trade, and said they indicated, as far as the majority in parliament is concerned, that free trade is insecure. He relied upon the masses of the people to oppose a return to protection. The coming session did not promise well for the country. If it were true that the great measure of the session—a local government bill—would not be introduced until April, the government would inflict an undisguised mockery on the country. The liberals were charged with interfering with the administration of the law. What he was really trying to do was to retard the government's destructive policy of perversion of the law. It was that they were on the right side of the channel. If the Christian Knowledge society in seeking to promote justice, mercy and truth were publishing in Ireland, and applying those principles to that unhappy country they would be subject to criminal prosecution. Lord Salisbury talked about the consolidation of the empire while pursuing a policy of national disruption. How the speaker asked, would that be a policy of consolidation which disregarded centuries of national tradition and opposed the will of four out of five millions of Irish people? Ireland only continued within because she knew that she had the sympathy of friends in England. So long as her moderation continued, so long would the sympathy be continued. Not long, the speaker said, would any government face a unanimous people. With the single exception of the Belfast council, all the election authorities sided with home rule. The foreign, imported government stood alone. The liberal's term of minority in parliament would cease at the first election. Their appeal lay with the country. The party had never inscribed on its banner the name of a cause without carrying it through. Having taken up the cause of Ireland the cause would assuredly triumph.

WELL FOR THEM

THE BOUNDS OF MODERATION

THE BARRACKS OUT.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Rev. Canon O'Mahony in a speech recently delivered in Cork charged certain local government officials with systematically corrupting girls of tender age. The Dublin Freeman's Journal to-day indorses and amplifies the charges and demands that the guilty officials be arrested.

RUSSIA.

THE STUDENT TROUBLES. ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27.—Count Scheremeteff, a prominent noble of Moscow, in an audience with the czar to-day protested against the manner in which the university students were being treated. He charged the authorities with making grossly untrue reports regarding the situation of affairs in the universities. The czar has given orders that a stringent inquiry be made into the charges.

PREPARING TO WELCOME THE CZAR.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27.—Advices from Tiflis in Russian Trans-Caucasia state that extensive preparations are being made there for the reception of the czar next spring. The czar will be accompanied on his visit by the Czarina and other members of the imperial family. After the czar's visit General Koroskoff will resign the governorship of that province.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—La Justice and other papers demand that the government interfere to suppress the attempts of the French syndicate to advance the price of copper.

AUSTRIA.

THEY DESIRE PEACE. VIENNA, Dec. 27.—The Fremdenblatt attributes the present comparative calm to the moderation and love of peace of those cabinets, which the Invalide Presse, the war office organ in St. Petersburg, would induce its readers to believe are treacherously preparing for war.

HUBBELL'S CRANCE.

A Former Copper Country Politician Thinks That Jay's Opportunism Has Come.

Charley Holland, formerly of Houghton county, but now of Detroit, who led Hubbell's forces in the convention of 1884, when Moffatt was first nominated, was interviewed by the Detroit Evening Journal Monday regarding his former chief's prospects in the coming campaign. He replied: "Well, now, do you know, I think they are pretty good. The fact is that this tariff business at Washington amounts to a crisis in upper peninsula affairs. And besides the tariff there are the appropriations for the Sault river and the purchase of Portage Lake canal. There is no one who has a better knowledge of these matters than Hubbell has, and he knows the ropes at Washington. He would have one hundred times the influence there that a new man could have, and in legislative matters he is a host. For these reasons I should not be surprised if the leading men should get their heads together and decide to send Jay Hubbell. Judge Grant cannot afford to take the place, and no one else can really stand beside Hubbell in so far as work goes. "There is one thing amusing to me," continued Mr. Holland; "the papers talk of Hubbell as a politician. He isn't. He lacks the first requisite—that's tact. He offends his best friends, not so much by what he does as by what he doesn't do. Hubbell and I went to boys together—slept together and spent our money together. I was at the Ludington convention in '72, when he was first nominated. Moffatt wanted the place then. He came to me and asked my help. I told him that I would go for him as long as he had any hope, but that when he found he couldn't get the nomination I wanted him to swing his men to Hubbell. Well, Moffatt came within half a vote—we had half votes then—but he could get no further. Then he kept his promises and his men came over to Hubbell, who was nominated, and that was as good as an election. "Jay Hubbell made three powerful enemies—Breitung, Col. Osburn and J. H. Chandler. They downed him. But Breitung is dead and Chandler is out of the state. Marquette county has no liking for Hubbell, though; and unless they see that he can do them the most good they will defeat him. I think they will be reasonable, however."

DUBUQUE, Ia., Dec. 27.—There has been a blizzard nearly all day over northern Iowa. The temperature at Dubuque has rapidly fallen and will reach zero by morning. Trains on the Dubuque & Sioux City road, west of Waterloo, are all stopped, being housed at various stations until the storm blows over.

The Banjo's Successor.

Women are worse than the ancient Athenians in their love for a new thing. What they love and swear by one season they will abandon the next, and nothing that is old, from a bonnet to a carpet, finds favor in their eyes. There is the banjo. Three years ago every other girl in the country had one strung by a yellow ribbon about her neck and was strumming the strings and singing dainty melodies with all her might and main. Most of them never learned to play at all; they took lessons of two, learned the scales and fragments of about three tunes, and then it languished until they would read in the London letters of how Notica Yamaga saved a dull evening and delighted the Princes of Wales by throwing herself into the breach with her banjo, and then the young women took to earnest study again for about three weeks. But it has come to hopeless limbo at last, beyond revival. Its successor is a mandolin.

No self-respecting girl is without one. With blue or copper colored ribbons, instead of yellow, it is a dainty thing, all shell and pearl. She studies assiduously under the tutelage of the picturesque, dark-eyed Italian, Signor Ricca, and learns from him how to grasp and manipulate the little oval bit of tortoise shell, with which the strings are swept. To be thoroughly good form, the young woman musical has to arm herself with a violin, which means an instrument manufactured by the mandolin maker in ordinary to her majesty the queen of Italy, and those toys come high, some of the more luxurious ones costing several hundred dollars. The mandolin is melon shaped and has eight strings, or rather four couples, and tuned in fifths. The music is made by sweeping these strings with a bit of self held between the thumb and two first fingers of the right hand. It requires an exquisite lightness and smoothness of touch, and a firm, supple wrist to brush the strings so that the music will be both soft and even, but when it is well played the music is charming, and it is an instrument with far greater capacity than the banjo.

Mrs. Willie Astor is a good performer on the mandolin, having learned it while her husband was minister in Rome. The queen of Italy, too, is an expert and has a superb violin bearing her monogram and a crown in diamonds. With the reign of the mandolin has come a fancy for folk songs and music, and the airs the Neapolitan fishers and Venetian gondoliers are fond of are heard in New York drawing rooms, or the wild, half-barbaric themes of the Spanish gypsies.—New York World.

CONGRESSMAN MOFFATT'S FUNERAL.

The Congressional Delegation and His Constituents Do Him Honor.

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., Dec. 26.—A special train bearing the body of the Hon. S. C. Moffatt, the congressional delegation—consisting of Senator Palmer and Representatives Cutcheon, Brewer, Fisher and Ford of Michigan, Wade of Missouri, Shively of Indiana, and Lyman of Iowa, Sergeant-at-Arms Leedom, Frederic Farnsworth, private secretary of Senator Palmer, and R. T. Merrifield, assistant to the sergeant-at-arms—the Traverse City delegation which met the funeral party at Fort Wayne, Mrs. Moffatt and her family reached Traverse City at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. At least one thousand people were waiting at the depot to receive them and accompany them to the home of the dead Congressman. Funeral arches spanned the streets on either side of the house, and every business house in the place had since Saturday been hung in mourning. In the afternoon a public meeting was held at Library Hall, at which many prominent citizens pronounced eulogies on the deceased. This morning at 10 o'clock funeral services were held at the Congregational church. The order of the procession to the church and cemetery was as follows: The Congressional delegation wearing the customary mourning regalia, pall-bearers, hearse, family, the common council, the bar, the Masonic fraternity on foot, and citizens. The church was heavily draped in mourning, and the Moffatt pew hung with crepe. A catafalque was placed in the arch between the auditorium and the parlors in the rear. This and the casket were decorated in the most beautiful manner with a profusion of flowers, the most prominent piece being a large broken column composed of white carnations and smilax. A life-sized portrait of Mr. Moffatt occupied a prominent position in the decorations. The church was packed in front and rear to its utmost capacity, and hundreds were unable to gain admission. Many came in from the surrounding country, some having driven a distance of thirty miles. At the opening of the service Congressman Cutcheon on behalf of the delegation, surrounded the trust reposed in it of bringing the dead representative to his home. The Hon. Perry Hannah responded in a few eloquent and touching sentences on behalf of the state of Michigan, the Eleventh district, and the citizens of Traverse City. After a short service the many hundred present took a last look at the face of their honored and loved townsman. A procession more than a mile in length followed the hearse to the family to the funeral home, where the last solemn rites were performed. Every business house in the village has been closed for the entire day, and all the days of this holiday time, since the news was received here of Mr. Moffatt's death, and all Christmas festivities were suspended. The Congressional delegation took their special cars for Washington or for their homes this afternoon.

CHRISTMAS IS OVER

Work and Business Have Been Resumed at Negaunee—A Charitable Action—Shot in the Thigh—The Supper and Entertainment.

Shot in the Leg.
William Trewilla, a Cornishman, was shot by "Pinkey" at about half-past one o'clock this morning. Trewilla was one of a party who were enjoying themselves in the street and about "Pinkey's" house on Peck street. She ordered them to clear out or she would shoot. Some one battered in the door, and "Pinkey" fired her revolver, the bullet passing through the thigh of Trewilla's right leg. He immediately ran over to his boarding house, right across the street, where his wound was cared for. When the officers entered the place soon after, they found "Pinkey" with a revolver in her hand and also found a man in the house. She was taken to jail. In the morning she was brought before justice
Jones on a charge of assault with intent, etc. The case was adjourned until this afternoon, when the prosecuting attorney will be present. "Pinkey" claims that the shooting was justifiable.

Just Like 'Em.

Many a poor family will associate with their memories of 1887 the name of Winter & Suess. Joseph E. Suess, the junior member of the firm, drove about town before Christmas, after a manner not unlike that ascribed to the traditional Santa Claus, with a large sleigh load of turkeys, chickens, etc. The contents of the sleigh were distributed among the many poor families in the city, causing a bright and merry Christmas in households that would otherwise have been cheerless.
This was all done without the least ostentation, and it was only by chance that the reporter heard of it and is enabled to give it the public recognition to which the charitable action of the firm is entitled.

An Acceptable Gift.

English Oak lodge No. 230, Sons of St.
George, of this city, was the recipient a few days ago of a handsome gift from George W. Childs, the wealthy English gentleman of Philadelphia. The present is a handsome lodge Bible, got up in the highest style of the binder's art and appropriately inscribed. The gift is certainly a very fine one and the members of the lodge are naturally very proud of it.

Died.

Adolf Wicklander died at his residence near Teal Lake yesterday noon after about a month's illness. He contracted a severe cold which brought on the complications that cost him his life. The deceased was a brother-in-law of L. E.
Pettersen and also of August Olson.
The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Not many nights ago a Negaunee young man hired a rig and went out to see his lady-love, who lives a mile or so from town. He hitched his horse (as he thought) securely and was soon in the company of his adored. The horse didn't enjoy waiting quite as well as the young man did staying, and was not long in working loose from the plank to which he was hitched. With a jerk that spilled out the robe, the nag started for the livery barn, which it safely reached. Later in the night the young man got home in anything but a happy frame of mind, for he had to wade through the snow for a mile carrying the heavy robe. The victim made strenuous efforts to keep his misadventure still, but the girl knew all about it and the reporter got hold of it as a matter of course.

Fully one hundred persons assembled at McDonald's Opera House Christmas eve, the attraction being the supper and entertainment given by Lake Superior council No. 15 Royal Templars of Temperance. The entertainment came first, and was heartily enjoyed by the auditors.
There were songs and recitations by both little ones and their elders. Rev. C. L.
Richards made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. At the conclusion of the program supper was announced, when all retired to the rear portion of the hall and discussed an ample repast. The supper and entertainment netted a substantial amount for the organization.

Marshal Cunningham was notified early yesterday morning that there was a man whose extremities had been frozen lying near the "diamond crossing." A sleigh was procured and the man taken to the city jail. He was visited by Doctor Sheldon, who found that both hands and the left foot were badly frozen. A vigorous application of snow, supplemented by other measures, brought out the most of the frost and later in the morning the fellow was taken to Iron kilns, where he lives. His name is Frank Strom, and parties who saw him during the evening previous say that he was quite intoxicated.

Officer Hansen took two men who had been awarded a twenty-day dose by Justice Jones to the county jail Friday.
They made a strong effort to have the sentence made ninety days, and when they failed they told the officer they would have to commit some depredation on their release to secure another term.

As the west bound evening passenger train on the South Shore road was pulling out Monday evening a man jumped from the moving train. He rolled close to the track and one of the car wheels struck his head, inflicting a slight gash. A couple of inches more and the fellow's head would have been severed.

The city flag has been at half-mast

C. Moffatt was received here, as a tribute

sentative.

"MAY GOD BLESS YOU!"

A Boston Paper-Hanger's Trouble and How He Got Out of It—Plain Words From the Sunny South.

When we are in trouble we cry for help. When we are relieved we often forget to be thankful. But not always. Mr. W. W. Griffin, of Trout Creek, St. Clair Co., Ala., writes: "I had a bad attack of chills and fever. My system was full of malaria. For two years I was scarcely able to work at all. Some time my heart would palpitate for two hours at a time. My legs would get cold to the knees, and I fully expected to die. In September, 1881, I bought a bottle of Shaker Extract of Roots, or Seigel's Curative Syrup, of your agent, Mr. R. M. King, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt better, and in a short time was able to go to work. May God bless you for the good you have done." Mr. Wm. J. McCann, 99 Randall St., Boston, writes: "Six months ago I began to throw up my food after eating. I thought I was going into consumption. I soon began to have pain in my chest, stomach and sides. I got little sleep and woke all night. I once lost five pounds in four days. I began using Shaker Extract of Roots, or Seigel's Syrup, and when I had finished the sixth bottle I could eat three square meals a day, and go to sleep the minute I struck the bed. I am a paper-hanger by trade, and have worked every day since I took the second bottle, and gained eighteen pounds. I ought to be thankful and I am." This remedy opens all the natural passages of the body, expels the poison from the blood and enables nature to rebuild what disease has destroyed. Shaker Extract of Roots, or Seigel's Syrup, is sold by all druggists, or sent to the proprietor, A. J. White, 54 Warren street, New York.

Used all the Year Round.

THE CANDIDATES.

Marquette county is not without its favorites for the place made vacant by Representative Moffatt's death. Though averse to entering the field, Col. C. Y. Osburn, of this city, has, the MINING JOURNAL learns, consented to allow his friends to use his name, and they will make a determined effort to procure the nomination for him. Col. Osburn possesses in a marked degree the qualities requisite to render a representative serviceable to his constituents. He is essentially a "brainy" man, and as much of his attention has been given to public affairs heretofore, he would have no difficulty in familiarizing himself with his duties should he be chosen the member of congress from this district. He has, besides, a large acquaintance with public men, by means of which he would be quickly enabled to acquire influence at Washington. Mr. Osburn is, withal, a gentleman of fine presence and winning manner, is gifted with rare tact and sound judgment, and would represent the district creditably and effectively if elected.

Another prominent republican of the county who would make an excellent representative is John Q. Adams, of Negaunee, but it is not known that he has his lightning rod up this year. Mr. Adams is a fine debater and a skilled parliamentarian. He has a strong following in the county, and his friends and admirers are by no means confined to his own party. Owing to the prominent part taken by him in the memorable contest over the nomination in 1884, he may decide not to allow his name to go before the convention this time, but if he should again enter the lists he will be found a formidable adversary by the other aspirants for the nomination.

Our readers will not need to be told that Hon. Jay A. Hubbell, of Houghton, wants the nomination. He wanted it once or twice before when it obstinately refused to come his way, but never has he more eagerly desired it than now. Mr. Hubbell is in his element in the lower house of congress, where his readiness as a debater and his parliamentary training show to much better advantage than in the more circumscribed arena of the state senate. It is no secret that he is heartily sick of Lansing, and would gladly consent to translation from the state capital to that of his nation in the role of a legislator. A telling argument in his behalf is that the previous experience in congress would enable him to at once take hold of and push the work awaiting the representative to be chosen from this district at Washington, whereas an inexperienced member might be handicapped for a time by his unfamiliarity with the duties pertaining to the position. The copper country favorite will have his county, with that of Keweenaw and Baraga, solidly at his back, and his chance of getting the delegations of Gogebic and Ontonagon counties is better than that of any other candidate yet mentioned. At the send-off the odds appear to be in his favor, but he has many enemies in his party in different parts of the district, and if he captures the nomination it will only be after a hard struggle to secure it.

Judge Steere, of Sault Ste. Marie, is spoken of, and would be able to control the delegations from Chippewa, Mackinaw, Alger, Luce, and Manistique counties if he would allow his name to go before the convention. Hon. S. M. Stephenson has not yet declared himself a candidate, and it is not thought likely that he will seek the nomination, though he will have a good, strong grip on the convention. There are certainly candidates enough in the above list to afford the republicans abundant material from which to make a satisfactory selection, and it is liable to be further increased before the nominating convention assembles.

Even with the strong run made against Mr. Moffatt by Hon. John Power, of Escanaba, in 1886, the republican majority on representative was 2,000, in round numbers. The democratic nominee in the pending election, whoever he may be, must figure on overcoming an adverse majority of at least that magnitude. This being well understood, there is not as much rivalry for the democratic nomination as might exist were the parties evenly balanced in the district, though there is plenty of good congressional timber on the democratic side. Hon. John Power is favorably spoken of in the connection, though his party friends will hardly have the face to urge him to make the fight against such odds as exist for the third consecutive time, unless he desires the nomination. Hon. Peter White, of this city, would make a strong candidate, but it is quite unlikely that he would be willing to subject himself to the distraction of a contest for an office that he could accept only at a great personal sacrifice if he were sure of carrying the district. Hon. Ed. Ryan, the influential Hancock merchant, would make a strong run, but his friends declare that he cannot be induced to go in. R. C. Flannigan, the rising young attorney of Menominee, has many active adherents who are urging his claims, but it is not certainly known that he would take the nomination, if it were tendered him, as he has a growing practice which he looks after closely, and might not like to neglect it to engage in a "stern chase" after congressional honors. The democrats will no doubt put a good man in the field and will give him a hearty support, but with very little hope of electing him, if the republicans make a nomination generally satisfactory to the voters of that party.

The labor element is strongly favorable to the nomination of Hon. Bartley Breen, of Menominee, who made an exceedingly creditable record as member of the state legislature during the last session. Mr. Breen is a man of sound judgment and is not wanting in political shrewdness. He proved an able champion of the workmen on the floor of the house last winter, and was the author of certain reformatory legislation that is accomplishing much good for that class, for which reason he would be sure to receive a heavy labor vote if he should decide to stand as the labor candidate. The strength of the labor organizations of the district is believed to have suffered somewhat during the past year from the lukewarmness of members and other causes, and it is not thought that the labor vote in the special election for representative will more than approximate that cast in the contest of 1886. It might determine the result in combination with either of the old parties, but would accomplish nothing if given to an independent labor candidate.

CONCERNING COPPER.

We extract the following relative to copper from the Engineering and Mining Journal's metal market report, given in its issue for last week:
 The London Standard of this date (28d inst) contains a cablegram from their Paris correspondent, that the French syndicate have signed an agreement to maintain the price of copper for two years, but of course this requires confirmation, and in any case it appears very remarkable that refined copper is now offered so much below the price of Chili bars, and this all tends to confirm the opinion expressed in our last week's report that Chili bars have been cornered. Consumers are almost entirely abstaining from buying, but it is thought that they will be obliged to come into the market early in January.

It is well known that producers are quite willing to supply manufacturers at prices considerably below those quoted on the Metal Exchange. Casting brands are obtainable at from 1 to 1 cent below the quotations.
 As might have been expected, vigorous efforts are being made to increase production, and we learn that the Boston & Montana Copper company has commenced mining high-grade ore (running 30 to 35 per cent copper), which it will ship to other smelters, and is likely to considerably increase its own smelting capacity at an early date. This company is understood to have contracted for a large part of its next year's production to European refiners.

While the statistical position of the market is very strong both in this country and Europe, there is a very decided impression that prices cannot long remain where they are, though it is not expected that Chili bars will, for a considerable period, go below 265, whatever other brands may do.
 The corner in Europe is apparently a strong one and can put prices where they will, but manufacturers here buy direct from the producers, who are almost without exception opposed to the present extent of the boom.

The reports from the Calumet & Hecla are quite favorable and it is thought the fire is nearly extinguished, but it will require some months of work after the fire is out to put the mine in good producing condition.

The following cable from Paris has come to hand to-day: "A syndicate has been formed in Paris, France, to maintain the price of copper. It is composed of the Rothschilds, the Comptoir d'Escompte, the Banque de Paris, Andre Girod & Co., M. Secretan. The syndicate will undertake for two years, under the direction of the Societe des Metaux, the acquisition and sale of copper of mining companies giving their adhesion to the syndicate." All of which is highly interesting and improbable. In the face of such reports and the advance of Chili bars in London, our market is decidedly weaker.

The Boston Transcript, of a late date, announces that the officers of the Tamarack Mining company have been offered $125 per share for a controlling interest, say from sixty to sixty-five per cent of the stock. The would-be purchasers are Englishmen, and their agent later offered 150. The large stockholders of the company are averse to selling, and the required amount of stock would be difficult to obtain. The agent is still here, although he has cabled the declination of his offer to his principals, and it is not at all improbable that negotiations may be resumed. Three-fifths of the 40,000 shares of stock are required to pass the title, and from expressions of opinion from a number of the largest stockholders, including directors, it does not look as if the control of the mine would change right away.

A SOUND LEGAL OPINION.

E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Atty., Bay county, Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50 cents and $1 at H. H. Stafford & Sons.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

THE NATIVES VERY LOW IN THE SCALE OF BARBARISM.

A Native Girl Digging for Food—Huts and Clothing—Disgusting Contents of a Kangaroo Skin—Cruelty to Women—Life in the Bush.

It has been reported at different times that many of the natives on the northeastern coast of Australia are cannibals, but this charge has never been brought against even the worst of the west Australian blacks.

The huts which they build for themselves are the most temporary and roughest kind of constructions.

The utmost limit of their clothing in the bush is a kangaroo skin cloak and a band of hair which they tie around their heads to keep their own swarthy locks out of their eyes.

They eat any kind of food they can lay their hands upon, meat of any kind, of course, and no matter how stale, the fat and entrails quite uncooked and the remainder scarcely more prepared.

They eat any kind of food they can lay their hands upon, meat of any kind, of course, and no matter how stale, the fat and entrails quite uncooked and the remainder scarcely more prepared.

And yet, though so degraded, they are far from useless, these creatures. They make obedient good shepherds, can be taught to use their hands skilfully in any way that is desired, and the good ones among them may be trusted to do things that many a white man would not do well and conscientiously.

Even those of them who have been brought most near to a state of civilization require every now and then a month or so to be state in the bush, and after working, perhaps about the stable yard, in clothes, and appearing quite domesticated for months together, they will suddenly inform their employer, "Me walkaway morning," which is equivalent to saying that they require a holiday.

When natives are out in the bush it is necessary for them always to go fully armed. We almost every native of another tribe is their enemy to the death, and they are broken up into a great number of tribes.

They have no ideas, however rudimentary, of a creator or supreme being, and the only consciousness of the supernatural which they seem to have is a fear of evil spirits; these they appear to associate with dead people who have been left unburied.

They are very cruel to their women ("Gins," as they call them), making them build the huts and carry firewood, and do all the work there is to do, and sparing them through the fog or cruelly beating them on the very slightest provocation.

Girl babies they often kill. On the day of the writer's arrival on one station (sheep and cattle ranches are called "stations" in Australia), he was shown a little black pickaniny, only a week old, as a curiosity, and a most strange looking inhuman little animal it was.

The next thing heard was that "Monkey and his gins walk away," and it appeared that up to the time of their departure, at any rate, the tiny mortal was still living.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Officer Archie has John Truan of Negaunee Arrested for Defamation of Character.

How it Happened—The New Finnish Daily Paper—Doc Mack Still Seeking Pugnistic Honors—Card of Thanks

The Archie-Truan Case. Officer Charles Archie has begun legal proceedings against John Truan, of Negaunee, for defamation of character. As has been stated in the MINING JOURNAL, Truan came to Ishpeming one day last week, collected something like $110 in cash, and then got drunk. Ishpeming whiskey never agrees with a Negaunee man, and Truan, when drunk, became boisterous. At a late hour at night he was arrested by officers Archie and O'Connell, who took him to the lock-up. When released next morning Truan claimed that Archie had robbed him of his money. He gave the story considerable publicity, and Mr. Archie, in order to vindicate his good name, has begun suit against Mr. Truan as mentioned.

Still in the Ring. Doc Mack, the Ishpeming feather-weight pugilist, wishes the MINING JOURNAL to announce that he is still in the ring, and open to offers of a pugilistic nature from any source whatever. The mayor refused to give a license for the contest that was to have taken place at Negaunee ten days ago, which was all that prevented Doc from entering the arena and pulverizing his opponent. Whenever anybody wants to fight Doc, and arrangements can be made to prevent the interference of the authorities, the Ishpeming fighter will be on hand at the appointed time and ready for business.

The New Paper. John Ekman, publisher of Pohjantahdi (the North Star), the Finnish paper at Ashtabula, Ohio, will remove his presses and material to Ishpeming shortly after January 1st. It is his intention to publish a daily paper in the Finnish language, but at first the North Star will probably appear as a semi-weekly. As the bulk of his business came from northern Michigan and Minnesota, Mr. Ekman deemed it advisable to move nearer his patrons. Ishpeming has the largest Finnish population of any town in America, and is consequently the best field for a paper published in that language that the country affords.

How it Happened. No, the Ishpeming representative of the MINING JOURNAL was not drunk and in jail on Monday. The copy for this department for Tuesday morning's issue was written and sent Marquette in due season Monday night, but through some one's blunder did not appear in yesterday's paper. The same fate befell the Negaunee budget, and for the first time in its history the DAILY MINING JOURNAL went to press without a line of news from either this or the sister city.

A note dropped into the MINING JOURNAL office yesterday afternoon states that Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Varner wish to thank their many kind friends for the valuable Christmas presents received. Such gifts not only remind the recipients that Christmas has been here, but will be reminders of the church and friends here to the pastor and his wife long after they have been transferred to other fields of usefulness.

As our transatlantic friend Mulligan remarked yesterday: "It's very little work the miners of Ishpeming will be after doing for the next few days at all, at all." The week between Christmas and New Year's day is given up to feasting and drinking—perhaps a trifle too much of the latter.

The first appearance of the Ishpeming Mastodon Minstrels at Austin's hall last night was a roaring success. Owing to the late hour at which the performance was concluded, a more extensive notice of the show cannot be given until to-morrow.

The Ishpeming National bank proposes building a safe-deposit vault for the use of patrons. Such an institution would prove a great convenience to the business public and would probably prove a profitable thing for the bank.

The banks were about the only business places in the city that were closed on Monday. Nearly all the stores and saloons were open during the entire day, and the latter did a flourishing business.

Some very nice Christmas carol singing was done on Sunday afternoon and evening by a band of nine vocalists, under the leadership of Mr. W. J. Traudgen.

The "Independent Cornish band" is the latest musical organization. It's a cold month when Ishpeming doesn't see one or more band organizations formed.

A dozen or more members of the snow shoe club took an informal tramp about the country Monday afternoon. It was the first of the season.

The employees of the Ropes Gold & Silver company were paid on Saturday for November labor.

The usual holiday vacation of one week is being enjoyed by the pupils of the public schools.

M. H. Crocker left on Saturday for Hurley. He will return shortly after January first, and will then remove his family to the Gogebic range.

George F. Brigham, traveling freight agent of the "Nickel Plate," enjoyed his Christmas vacation in Ishpeming. He left for Chicago yesterday.

Capt. Matt Fitzsimmons, superintendent of the North Aurora mine on the Gogebic range, is visiting his son-in-law, Ed. Maas, at Humboldt, and was in Ishpeming on Christmas.

A. E. Quinn, [editor of the Baraga County News, took his Christmas dinner at the Nelson, and returned to the scene of his labors at the head of Keweenaw Bay, feeling very much refreshed and strengthened.

John M. Northmore, formerly an Ishpeming boy, but for the past eighteen months agent of the C. & N. W. railway at Stambaugh, was here for Christmas. Mr. Northmore has been promoted, and on January 1st will take a position in the general offices of the North-western at Chicago.

Card of Thanks.

To the MINING JOURNAL: We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the noble friends and neighbors who so kindly aided us during the sickness and death of our husband and brother; our thanks are also due to the Select Knights, the Ancient Order of United Workmen, the Red Men, the Gitchee Gumme band, who in so many ways signified their friendship and respect for the dead. We thank them all, and hope they may be long before we are called on to act as comforters to any of those who aided us in a time of deep affliction.

TWO DIVISIONS ONE.

Summit and Gogebic Tracklayers Meet on the West Branch Bridge To-day.

DR. NORTHRUP APPOINTED AGENT OF THE BOARD OF C. AND C.

Copper Hurried Through to the New York Market—This Evening's Wedding, Miscellaneous Matters.

Will Meet To-day.

A gentlemen just in from the "homestead country" says that Monday morning the D. S. S. & A. iron gang working east from Dogwood was three miles from the bridge across the west branch of the Ontonagon river and that the gang laying track west from Nestora was two and a half miles from the bridge. He saw both ends of the track and the conductors of both gangs said they would meet on the bridge to-day, so by to-night the South Shore road will be complete from St. Ignace through to Dogwood on the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western with thirteen miles of track laid west of Dogwood. There is over two feet of snow on the ground but the big plows used keep the way clear.

During his interview the gentleman in question said that at "Bruce" station, as the MINING JOURNAL will term it, where the military road crosses the D. S. S. & A., an important town would surely spring up. He knew of no place which possessed so many advantages for a large general store, and the man who starts one there must make money. There are over two hundred homesteaders near there now who are compelled to go clear through to Rockland or Watersmeet for their supplies. The country is a rich one, and the South Shore will get a heavy traffic from it in a very short time.

A couple of parties have started a saloon about four miles west of the west branch of the Ontonagon, to furnish liquor to the D. S. S. & A. iron gang. On Monday the United States officers went up to gather in all concerned in the matter. It is understood that a homesteader named O'Leary is the principal offender.

A good deal of excitement has been caused among the homesteaders by the discovery of gold near the west branch. Two land lookers doing business under the firm name of Taplin & Hunter claim to have found gold quartz in the vicinity of the falls and have shown splendid specimens to many parties. It is known that their expenses are being paid to guard the find until summer. Its exact location has not been revealed, but prospectors will be numerous as soon as the snow goes off in the spring.

All of the best pieces in the two grants have been taken up by homesteaders, though the fine hardwood lands still remain nearly untouched. The homesteaders will make a hard fight and it won't be their fault if they lose the pine. Every one of 'em is looking for a pretty good "first crop."

For the County of Marquette.

County clerk Gad Smith has issued notices to all the magistrates in the county having jurisdiction for the trial of juvenile offenders, to the effect that Dr. Geo. J. Northrup, of this city, has been appointed by Governor Luze the agent of the board of charities and corrections in and for the county of Marquette, and has duly qualified as prescribed by law. Every justice or judge will, therefore, whenever complaint is made to him against any child under sixteen years of age for the commission of any offense not punishable by law with imprisonment for life, before proceeding to hear and determine the case, give notice in writing to the agent whose appointment is here announced, who will investigate the charges and advise as to the proper disposition of the child in accordance with the act approved April 23rd, 1873.

Carkeek Back for Business.

Jack Carkeek, the champion Cornish wrestler of the world, has just returned from England, and sends the following challenge to Chicago from New York: Evan Lewis not being able to wrestle Thomas Connors December 19th, on account of illness, I desire to challenge Mr. Connors to wrestle me any date during the month of January for $250 or $500 a side, catch-as-catch-can match, two in three points down to constitute a fall, match to be under Police Gazette rules, two in three or three in five falls, as may be agreed upon, winner to receive the stakes and 75 per cent of the gate receipts. If Mr. Connors' backer, who, I learn, is in Chicago, will notify Mr. Charles E. Davis of the acceptance of this challenge, Mr. Davis will telegraph my backer, Mr. Paeol, who will meet Mr. Connors' representative and arrange preliminaries.

JACK CARKEEK.

Newberry's Friend Gone.

W. H. Louks, the prominent lumberman and stock-breeder, died at his home, three miles from Lapeer on Friday morning. He was one of the most extensive breeders of Percheron horses in the state and was largely interested in lumbering operations at Newberry, where he had large interests and passed a great deal of time, and at Otsego lake. Mr. Louks leaves a wife and five children, all living, and three of whom are married. The estate is estimated at $75,000 the deceased also leaving life insurance to the amount of $30,000.

Hurrying to Market.

As an illustration of what the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and the Vanderbilt system can do in the way of hustling freight to the seaboard we note the following: A train load of copper, from the Gaiumet & Hecla mine, which left St.

Ignace the fore part of the present week, made the run through to New York city in forty hours, or just four hours longer than it takes the fastest express train to make the same distance. The train was only ten hours in making the distance between Houghton and St. Ignace and only one hour was consumed in transferring it across the straits, making the time taken from starting point to destination an even fifty hours. This looks as if the railroads mentioned could more than hold their own with the Washburn and Canadian Pacific systems when it comes to making fast time to the Atlantic coast.—St. Ignace Republican.

This Evening.

The marriage of Mr. James Pendill and Miss Florence Grant, daughter of Judge C. B. Grant, takes place at 8 o'clock this evening at St. Paul's church. Rev. Dr. Hall officiating. Owing to the unexpected illness of Mrs. Grant the reception at the bride's residence, which would have been limited to the members of the bridal party, has been abandoned. Mrs. Grant was slightly better last evening.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS.

The cold wave appeared promptly. A new postoffice has just been established at Jacobsville, the new town at the Portage Entry quarries, operated by Furst, Jacobs & Co.

H. H. Stone's shop at No. 112 East Washington street, is now connected with the telephone exchange, a fact which his patrons will please notice.

The Masonic dance and public installation last evening was largely attended, nearly all the prominent Masons of the city being present with their families.

The M. S. S. C. tramp last night was well attended, though a usual many members of the club found themselves obliged to give up the pleasure of "going out with the boys" because of business.

J. T. Hurst, of Wyandotte, and S. E. Elmore, of East Saginaw, have purchased of eastern parties 1,500 acres of pine land on the Ontonagon river, estimated to cut 25,000,000 feet of timber. The consideration was $80,000.

Unintentionally the MINING JOURNAL neglected to acknowledge a very pleasant serenade tendered it Monday evening by a quintette formed from the waiters of the Hotel Marquette. They gave a number of jolly songs and also one or two banjo solos, receiving hearty applause from the force after each effort, and on leaving received a hearty invitation to "call again."

The pedestrians have left, and one or two Marquette hotel keepers are left—that's the distinction. Still the Marquette men did better than the Escanabaites in the same line of business, for though the walkers were here longer than in Escanaba the bills which they left behind them are not nearly so large. There's no fly paper in the crowd—they can jump (bills) as well as they can walk.

The proudest man who ever entered Jackson prison was Larry Finn, the Marquette murderer. When he arrived in Jackson, in sheriff Adams' charge, it was night and the huge prison, lighted with electricity, immediately excited his admiration. "Is that where O'm ather goin'?" he asked the sheriff, who replied that it was. Larry paused a moment and then after taking in the vastness of the prison and the brightness of its lights, he said with an air of pride: "Bedad, and there isn't the loikes o' that in Marquette."

The great internationalistic contest developed a surprising feature, and that is that two such heavy men could face each other for over two hours and still do so little damage. The light punishment inflicted impels the belief that there was a desire on somebody's part not to conduct the fight in such a manner that a decisive result would be reached. This is intimated in the cablegrams, which show that Kilrain, with a whole-some regard for Smith's wicked right, invariably resorted to wrestling as speedily as possible at the beginning of a round. All accounts say that Kilrain had the best of it, but, as almost the entire "fight" consisted of a catch-as-can wrestling match, in which the American secured the most falls, not the first thing had been settled as to the pugilistic merits of the men. There is only one thing that seems firmly fixed in the minds of the sporting fraternity, and that is had Sullivan been one of the principals in that battle it would have been finished before dark and the number of rounds would have been 105—less 100. Meanwhile, during the attempt of John L. to get on a match with either Kilrain or Smith, Charley Mitchell continues to administer severe (verbal) trouncings to the real champion of the world.—Detroit Free Press.

THE OLD DOMINION NEVER TIRES. Quite a deal of excitement was created today by the announcement that some one here had drawn $15,000 in The Louisiana State Lottery, and there was a general scrutiny of tickets by those who had invested. In a short time it was learned that Mr. T. M. Benson, the efficient chief clerk in the office of the Old Dominion S. S. Co. was the lucky possessor of the ticket.—*Norfolk (Va.)
