NOT ENTIRELY ENDED.

The Striking Reading Knights of Labor Still Refuse to Return to Work.

TRANSPORTATION RESUMED OVER ONLY A PORTION OF THE ROAD.

The Trouble Over in Spots Only—Miners Remain at Work But Are Ready to Quit at Any Time.

THE READING STRIKE. STRIKERS STILL OUT.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Dec. 28.—The Reading railroad Knights of Labor here are still out and declare they will not return to work until their discharged associates at this place are reinstated. Three train crews of non-union men are at work, but there are thirty-five locomotives here without crews. The railroad strikers, however, declare that the miners will go on a strike as soon as requested to do so. Good order prevails among the strikers.

A MEETING CALLED.

READING, Pa., Dec. 28.—Coal and freight traffic by this morning was firmly re-established on the main line of the Reading railroad. The call for a Reading railroad employes' convention to meet here tomorrow for aggressive measures against the company has not created much excitement in this city, and indications are that it will be very slimly attended, as the orders of the company are strict to the effect that the men must remain on duty and attend no such convention during working hours. The miners will be most largely represented.

The fact that about thirty members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have obtained engines formerly held by Knights has made the feeling between these parties very bitter. Probably three hundred new hands have been employed at the offices in this city in place of old ones, and sent to points where they are needed.

ENGINEERS QUIT WORK.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 28.—General manager McLeod, of the Philadelphia & Reading road, said this morning that the operation of the road is almost without obstruction. A leading official of the company declared that he had heard nothing in reference to the reported order for a renewal of the strike. He said he doubted the issuance of such an order. A number of the men engaged at work at the Reading company's coal wharves at Port Richmond again quit work this afternoon. The freight along the wharves was handled as usual, and in the round house all was bustle and activity. There were at one or two of the headquarters at which there was much growling at the discharge of their leaders and numerous declarations of willingness to resume the strike; but no formal meetings were held and no action toward again calling the hands out was taken. There is plenty of discontent over the situation and this afternoon seven of the fourteen crews in charge of engines at Port Richmond ran them on sidings and abandoned them. Supt. Keim at once went to the wharf and the crews of the other seven engines for their loyalty and told them that if they thought it unsafe to remain on their engines for a time their place would be held open for them. Mr. Keim also called in the aid of fifty Pinkerton detectives to protect the property and the men at work. About five hundred men are guarding the company's yards and wharves. They are in citizens dress and are thus enabled to keep posted as to the plans of the strikers which they report to the officials from time to time.

AT ELIZABETHPORT.

ELIZABETHPORT, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The Reading coal handlers who were discharged on Friday last kept in the vicinity of the docks to-day in readiness to go to work should they be reinstated. No communication was sent them and there is uncertainty as to their being taken back. Shipper Wallace said he had no instructions to re-employ them. Only the office clerks are at the docks and no coal has been received since Saturday morning.

KNIGHTS DISHANTENED.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 28.—Notwithstanding the fact that Knights of Labor leaders here declare that there is a general strike all along the line of the Reading railroad, there is no perceptible interruption of operations here. The Knights of Labor leaders appear disheartened at the situation and outlook.

NO TRAINS RUN.

ST. CLAIR, Pa., Dec. 28.—Not a single coal train started out of the Frackville branch this morning. The Reading railroad company employs some twenty-five crews and engines on this branch in the transportation of about 1,800 cars of coal daily, which are hoisted over Mahony plane when in operation and sent through here.

EMPLOYEES DISCHARGED.

READING, Dec. 28.—It is stated this evening that the officials of the road do not apprehend any great difficulty with the miners on the ground that with them as with the railroaders the present strike has caused a division of sentiment on the subject of striking. It is estimated that from five to eight hundred employes of the Reading railroad have lost their positions because they had either refused to obey the company's orders or had helped to foment and encourage the strike. Fully 50 per cent of the crews passing through this city are new men. This afternoon nearly two hundred coal and freight engineers, brakemen and firemen were called to Reading, paid off and discharged for the part they took in the strike.

REFERRED TO CONGRESS.

The Decision of the Commerce Commission on the Express Business Question.

BASIS OF THE ACTION.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The formal decision of the interstate commerce commission upon the question whether the express companies are subject to the provisions of the act to regulate commerce, was announced to-day. The names and organization of the various express companies doing business in the United States are given, some of them being corporations under state charters, some joint stock companies, differing little from partnerships, some being bureau organizations or branches of the railroad services, and some a combination of several railroads for the transaction of the gross business of their lines. There is nothing in the nature of which prevents its being carried on by an ordinary partnership or even by an individual provided the necessary contracts can be obtained with transportation lines. The most usual contract is one which pays to the railroad company 40 per cent of the gross receipts of the express company, but various other methods of settlement are employed. The arguments urged by the express companies against their being treated as subject to the act are considered in detail. The fact that they perform many other services besides transportation of property, such as the collection of debts, etc., is not regarded as a reason why the act should not be treated as applying to their business as common carriers, since many railroad companies also have other business besides that of transportation.

THE VARIOUS SECTIONS OF THE ACT

are considered with relation to the express business and are found to be as applicable thereto as to the business of railroad companies. In fact, the express companies claim that they already abide by the rules established in the act. The requiring of annual reports from express companies is said to be a matter concerning which the public have a right to be informed and congress may particularly desire knowledge. At present little is known about the amount of their capital stock, their funded debt, or the money invested in their plant or business, the volume of their business with the expense thereof, and the rates and the methods upon which the rates are constructed.

THE CAPITALIZATION

of some of the companies is known to be quite large, amounting to many millions of dollars in each case. The express business was well known at the time of the passage of the interstate commerce law and has been frequently mentioned by name in congressional statutes. The omission to name it here is significant. The preliminary investigation by the interstate commerce commission of the senate did not include the business of express companies and was confined almost wholly to that of railroad companies. Upon all these considerations, the commission has thought best to refer the subject to congress, as in any case of doubtful jurisdiction, it is far better that the legislative body should solve the doubt.

THE METAL MARKET.

A Quiet Day in the New York Exchange, But Renewed Activity Anticipated.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—A holiday apathy characterized the dealings at the metal exchange to-day. It is, however, generally believed that the new year will witness an active revival, especially in the copper market. Private advices from London credit the French syndicate with buying everything offered in the line of Chill bars at $85 for spot and $86 for futures. These prices are equal to about 19 cents here for fine copper.

A BLOODY FRACAS.

Hungarian and Russian Miners in New York Engage in a Free for All Knock Down.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—At Hibernia, a mining town in Morris county, a fight occurred between Hungarian and Russian miners. The men on both sides were armed with clubs, stones, shovels, picks and axes, and the fight was a bloody one, lasting over an hour. The face of every man in the battle was battered and bloody. One of the Hungarians, John Magyoor, was stabbed in the back. Another Hungarian, Mack Farcey, had his left arm cut open from the shoulder to the elbow. Mack Klagnak, a Russian, was reported as having a fractured skull. John Magyoor received, it is thought, his death wound. He was carried from the road suffering from a stab in the back three inches long and very deep. On the bank of his head, just above the ear, his scalp had been cut open with a heavy bottle.

Will Amount To Nothing.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 28.—The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railway investigation still goes on, but little seems to be coming out of the affair. No great developments have been made and it seems to be the general opinion among railroad men that nothing will come of it.

WANT COMMERCIAL UNION.

Reciprocity in Trade Favored in Speeches at a Boston Merchants Banquet.

THE SPEECHES AND SPEAKERS.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 28.—Among the prominent gentlemen who attended the banquet of the Boston Merchants association at the Vendome Hotel this afternoon, were Senators Hoar and Dawes, Congressman McKenna, Rogers, Hill and Breckenridge, and a large delegation from different provinces of the dominion. There were 250 people at the banquet.

Hon. J. A. Lane, president of the club, was chairman, and extended a welcome to the visitors in appropriate words. Governor Ames welcomed the visitors to the Bay state and a letter from Mayor O'Brien was read in which he said: "If a vote could be taken to-day I have no doubt it would advocate reciprocity relations."

Erasmus Wiman, of New York, spoke in favor of commercial union and said that if the United States would proffer it, Canada would accept it.

Congressman Hill, of Illinois, then spoke. He stated that Boston is ever at van and its merchants have for years been known as leading the thought of this country. Those who rest upon the text of a treaty will not yield their rights. This question will never be settled upon the lines which we have followed, and to settle it we must extend our lines more liberally than has ever been done before.

It is the opinion of a large part of the public now that a reciprocity, full and complete, or a commercial union, if you choose to go further, will be the solution of this problem.

Hon. John Macdonald, a merchant of Toronto, expressed the opinion that it is the duty of both nations to advance reciprocity in accordance with existing rights.

Hon. J. W. Lonsley, attorney general of Nova Scotia, said: "The fishing interests of Nova Scotia are great, but the people rise above the wretched consideration of fish. We want free, unrestricted intercourse with the United States even to the extent of commercial union."

Congressman John A. Rogers, of Arkansas, said that he was not opposed to reciprocity, but wanted to see the boundaries of a friendly nation. His duty in this question was to secure the utmost good to the largest number.

Hon. Peter Mitchell, member of parliament, of Montreal, said that Canada has no desire for annexation for her people are true to the mother country. Mr. Chamberlain said, without right, the other day, that Canada may go. "Now," said the speaker, "when Great Britain says that Canada may go she will go with pleasure and in a hurry."

Among the other speakers was Congressman Dingley, of Maine.

SOLID FOR HUBBELL.

Jay Swings into Line With the Solid Copper Country Behind Him.

BRIGHTON, Dec. 28.—[Special]—Hon. Jay A. Hubbell, when interviewed by the MINING JOURNAL correspondent to-day, stated that if his friends nominated him for congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Seth C. Moffatt he would accept. A careful review of the situation here shows that the republicans of the copper country are solid for Hubbell and quite confident that he will be nominated for his old seat in congress.

Mr. Ryan, who has been prominently mentioned on the democratic side of the fence, stated positively, when interviewed, that he would not consent to run because his business interests were too great to permit him to think of it. He spoke highly of Hon. Peter White, of Marquette, as the democratic candidate, but said that he would endorse any man whom his party nominated.

WILL CELEBRATE.

The Opening of the "Soo" Road To Be Signalized in a Novel Fashion.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 28.—The completion of the Minneapolis, Sault Ste. Marie & Atlantic railway and a connection with the Canadian Pacific at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., opening a new short and direct line from Minneapolis to the seaboard will be signalized next week by the shipment of one hundred cars of flour from five mills. Each mill loads a train of twenty cars, which will be decorated with flags and lettered banners.

RESULT OF THE TARIFF.

A Decrease in the Shipment of Wool From the Argentine Republic.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Consul Baker, in a report to the department of state, in regard to the wool production of the Argentine Republic, says that the amount of fine wools shipped to the United States is annually becoming less. The cause of this is a great part due to the fact that the United States tariff unintentionally discriminates against such wool from the Argentine Republic in favor of those from Australia, New Zealand, etc., our system of competing duties making no allowance for the fact that the dirt and grease in the wool of the Argentine Republic is fully 70 per cent greater than those of the former countries, this excess of dirt and grease being required to pay the full tariff rates for wool. The only wools from the Argentine Republic which it is now possible to ship under our tariff are "Cristola," or the long carpet wools of the province of Cardoba, which are shipped from Rosario, and which amount to about $10,000,000 annually.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29, 1 a. m.—The signal service notes the following as its predictions for the next thirty-six hours: For upper Michigan, fair, colder weather, followed by slowly rising temperature, variable, preceded by brisk westerly winds in western portion.

PINKEY'S SHOOTING SCRAPE

The Preliminary Examination Begun Yesterday at Negaunee—She Appears to Have a Good Defense.

"Pinkey's" Examination. The preliminary examination of "Pinkey" Whitcomb took place in Justice Jones' court yesterday afternoon. Prosecuting attorney Young was in attendance, and J. L. McClear appeared for the defense. J. Sampson was the first witness sworn. He was with Trewilla that night, and from his testimony it was learned that they were all more or less intoxicated. Trewilla and another fellow had been frolicking about town dressed in women's clothes and with blackened faces. Trewilla had removed the clothes, but his face was still blackened when he went across the street to "Pinkey's." While he was testifying in regard to the wound his statements made the length of Trewilla's leg from the thigh to the knee 26 inches. Michael Cunningham told about the arrest and said that the door and inside casing in the house had been knocked off. "Pinkey" was then given an opportunity to tell how the affair occurred. She said that a party of drunken men had made very frequent visits to her yard that night, and each time knocked very hard and demanded admittance, which was refused. About midnight they came from the boarding house across the street and smashed the window. They came again about twenty minutes later and kicked the door till it was broken in. Trewilla stepped in and Pinkey fired. Trewilla ran across the street to his boarding house and his two companions ran after him. When asked why she fired the shot, she said she was afraid the three fellows would break up the furniture and hurt her. Charles E. Mason, the young man who was in the house at the time, corroborated Pinkey's story. He said he called there early in the evening, and when the men outside made a such disturbance the woman asked him to stay until things got quieted down. The examination was then adjourned until next Wednesday, when the statements of the attending surgeon and another witness for the prosecution will be made. As the case now stands, it looks very much as though Pinkey would get off, the testimony so far being much in her favor.

A couple of Italians became involved in a "scrap" on Christmas and one was somewhat scratched. The injured man was paid $1 yesterday morning by the aggressor, and the case was thus kept out of the courts.

Frank Strom, the man who was so badly frozen Tuesday morning, has been taken to the hospital at Ishpeming. He will doubtless lose one or two of his fingers.

PERSONAL.

M. B. McGee, of Marquette, was here yesterday.

Prof. F. D. Davis went south yesterday morning.

John A. Kruse and wife, who spent Christmas with their relatives here, returned south yesterday.

Austin B. Morse left Tuesday night for Mackinaw Island. Thence he will go south, taking a trip of a couple of month's duration.

Shall the Lower Animal Talk?

How can the lower animal be taught? The best animals must first be separated from their kind, those showing the highest mentality mated with each other. Their offspring must be as carefully taught, as in the baby, such mere elements of knowledge as they are best enabled to acquire. The descendants through successive generations and through years, if necessary, must receive the same diligent attention and teaching that has advanced the mentality of man. That the lower animal of himself has been unable to acquire knowledge by experience to such an extent as man is no reason why we should despair of his ultimate emancipation. Shall the lower animal talk? If I have shown conclusively that many lower animals have knowledge above instinct, greater in extent than those men who are unlearned, then it is proof presumptive that some method can be discovered by which they can communicate with us what they know.

I have no method to offer. I shall be content to so present my data that those more familiar with the lower animals can effect the result. I will simply suggest that if some one of wealth will bestow $100,000 to him who shall open communication with the lower animal world, some dog, cat or bird may, ere long, break the silence of ages and teach his companions the method. In this article only simple facts, plainly obvious to all, have been advanced. The subject is so serious and humane in its import that a single psychological theory or remark bordering on a hobby, or anything that reads like a new doctrine or "ism," or any attempt at philosophical deductions from the data advanced in connection with this, would ruin a good cause, and, perhaps, turn it to ridicule. Let those who have animals strive to advance their mental good and eradicate their unconscious, indecent habits. A decent, well bred lower animal is a far better citizen than an indecent, ill mannered person.—William Hosea Ballou in the North American Review.

The Yosemite on Trust.

Have you ever done the Yosemite? If not, postpone your departure until the latest possible moment, and then stay where you are. Go to an art gallery and buy some views of the valley; they will give you more satisfaction than taking the journey and you will save money. Although we want under the most favorable conditions—our party of ten just filling the stage, with no outsiders and no crowding—still, unless one is blessed with a perfect digestion, no nerves, the patience of Job, the amiability of an angel, and the constitution of a gorilla, one had better take the Yosemite on trust.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

It would be no more than fair if the next congressman from this district came from Marquette county.

ASHLAND'S new daily, the News, got out a rattling Christmas number of sixteen pages, and distributed it to neighboring points by special train.

THE Gogebic Mining Record, of Ironwood, comes out solid for Hubbell.

THE Torch Lake Times has made a case against the MINING JOURNAL in the matter of the misleading dispatch regarding the cave-in at the Calumet & Hecla mine.

Nothing the splendid act of charity of "Millionaire ex-Governor Alger" on Christmas, the Marinette Eagle remarks.

IS MINNESOTA FOR BLAINE? The Minneapolis Evening Journal, which is unflatteringly republican, declares that the delegates from Minnesota at the club convention lately held in New York talked rashly when they announced that state as solid for Blaine in the next national convention of their party.

How do they know? Who are these people who have so confidently maintained that proposition? Are they entitled to speak for the rank and file of the party all through the state, or only for themselves and the organizations of political workers they represent?

ponderance of sentiment among the people of this state in favor of a reduction of the tariff. The republicans of Minnesota are not free traders. They are protectionists and believe in the principle, but do not feel that they are having fair treatment in the present adjustment of things.

THE Iron and Steel Trades Journal, of London, unlike many of our English contemporaries, does not believe that president's message is likely to result in any action by which the trade of Great Britain will be benefited.

SONGS OF CONTENT.

I wouldn't be bothered with wealth And the care that its keeping attends; But I want what is richer—good health, And a bevy of bonny good friends.

Here were perhaps two score gypsies. Camp was to be broken at the end of the next week. The wanderers were to be scattered broadcast. It was absolutely certain they would all never meet again, even though all should know the boundless gypsy joy of the spring-time outgoing.

It seemed to me, nor was it all of seeming, that the fires themselves burned with less crackle and flame. Even the sizzling pots, hanging from the grimy kettle sticks, boiled and blubbered in minor heart-tickling tones.

THE ADMINISTRATION BILL. If the reports are not misleading, Mr. Carlyle and Mr. Randall have agreed on a bill for the reduction of taxation that will be supported by both wings of the democratic party in congress.

THE Russian is as filthy as he is ignorant and unsightly. Only three or four of the principal hotels have any preparations for bathing, and these are extremely meager.

Quite Another Matter. A Wisconsin court has decided that a husband may open his wife's letters. That is all very well so far as it goes, but what this country wants is a law to protect a husband who forgets to mail his wife's letters.—Omaha World.

A SOUND LEGAL OPINION. E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Atty., Bay county, Texas, says, "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

DONT EXPERIMENT. You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at Stafford & Son's Drug store.

BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP. It is warranted for all that the label calls for, so if it does not relieve your cough you can call at our store and the money will be refunded to you. It acts simultaneously on all parts of the system, thereby leaving no bad results. BROWN'S PHARMACY.

ISHPEMING MATTERS.

Another Sad Death—The Mastodon Minstrel Performance—Election of Loggo Officers.

Death of Mrs. Patrick Sullivan.

Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, nee Bridget McGlen, died at her home on South Second street on Tuesday morning, December 27th, of peripneumonia.

Mrs. Sullivan, who was known to a large number of people in Ishpeming, was a woman of bright and lovable disposition, and her many good traits of character endeared her to all with whom she came in contact.

The funeral will be held to-day from St. John's Catholic church, and the interment will be made in the Catholic portion of the new cemetery.

The Mastodons.

The first appearance of the Mastodon Minstrels, made at Austin's Hall on Tuesday evening of this week, drew out a crowded house, and none of the audience demanded their money back after the performance was over.

Ed. Butler, who acts as business manager and Swedish impersonator, Mr. J. Mulligan, who assumes the Irish brogue with such marked success, Mr. J. O'Brien, the good-looking soprano, Charles Seraphine, who picks the banjo, and the other song and dance artists, covered themselves with burnt cork at first, and glory later on.

The music by Professor Crim's orchestra was excellent, and everything passed off in a manner which must have been very gratifying to the feelings and purses of the Mastodons.

It can be said without fear of contradiction that the Mastodon Minstrels give a better show than half of the traveling minstrel troupes that have exhibited here within the past three years.

Knights of Pythias.

The annual election of officers of Zenith lodge No. 23, Knights of Pythias, of this city, was held on Tuesday evening, December 27th, when the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

Chancellor commander, Charles J. Byrns; vice chancellor, John S. Olson; prelate, John B. Tibor; keeper of records and seal, Horace J. Stevens; master of finance, R. J. Watters; master of execution, M. A. Kahn; master at arms, George Voelker.

The installation of the newly elected officers will take place on Tuesday evening, January 3d.

Agencies of the Troy steam laundry of Ishpeming are to be established in the principal towns and cities of the county. The laundry is now turning out as good work as any in the country.

Ishpeming has escaped its usual early winter epidemic of diphtheria, and there is no reason why it should now visit us if proper care be taken of the health of the little ones.

The Crescent roller rink has been closed until Saturday evening, December 31st, when it will re-open, with good music in attendance.

All trains were late yesterday, and readers of the MINING JOURNAL did not get their papers until after dinner.

There will be music at Mennie's ice rink on Monday evening of next week. Admission, 15 and 20 cents.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Thorpe, on Saturday, December 24th, a son.

Mrs. Patrick McDonald, of the Winthrop location, is dangerously sick.

PERSONAL.
J. C. Edwards, of Marquette, spent yesterday afternoon in Ishpeming.
C. L. Roach left Tuesday evening for Chicago to attend the wedding of his brother.
E. E. Osborn left yesterday for the east, and will go to Europe before returning. He will be absent about two months.

BUCKLEN'S AENICA SALVE.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by H. H. Stafford & Son.

ISHPEMING BUSINESS NOTICES.
THE ISHPEMING OFFICE of the MINING JOURNAL is located in the former brownstone building at 103 South Main St. All communications or letters on business matters for this department should be addressed to H. J. Stevens, Ishpeming, Mich.

TALK ABOUT TATTOOING.

A "Professor" Tells What Becomes of the Tattooed Ladies—War Recollections.

A proficient "professor" in the art of tattooing was found in his office by a reporter the other day, busily engaged in picking a figure of liberty upon the back of a sailor. In answer to a series of questions the professor said: "I have followed the business for thirty years and have always made a good living by it. My receipts from March to October of this year amounted to $1,375. Fairly good business, isn't it? My patrons come from all classes of society. Merchants, lawyers, doctors, clerks, men engaged in every walk of life come here to be decorated. I tattoo a large number of ladies also. Some of them come here in carriages closely veiled, and I never see their faces. Lovers come here, requesting to be marked with emblems of fidelity. I have many curious cases brought to my notice in this way. I remember one in particular. It was during the late war. I was with the Army of the Potomac and tattooed the soldiers right and left with marks of identification. A young man came into my tent one day leading by the hand a girl. They were betrothed. I picked the girl's name—Mary Burns—over the man's heart, and his name—Thomas Smith—over hers. Later in the war the man was killed. His body was identified by this mark, and his sweetheart gave him a respectable burial. The girl has received many offers of marriage, I am told, but that name over her heart keeps her true to the memory of the soldier."

"After the war," he continued, "my business was slack for a time, until Constantine, the Greek, made his appearance in Barnum's show. He was first discovered as mate of a sailing vessel from Greece, and exhibited with a cargo of fruits and spices from the Mediterranean. His face only was tattooed, then, but Barnum engaged him, had his entire body pricked with fantastic figures by Jack Florence of Boston, invented the story of his exile among savages, and exhibited him with great success. I saw my chance and went into the same business. I turned out tattooed women for the dime museums and traveling shows as fast as I was able. They invented stories of shipwreck, exile and marvellous rescues with all the horrible details they could imagine. It paid well for a time, but the public discovered the fake and tattooed ladies are now a drug in the market."

"I had become of them? Why, they marry, of course, and settle down. Annie Grace of Philadelphia, one of my most successful works of art, after earning $50 a week in the exhibition business, has married a man worth at least $100,000. Little Marie, the protegee of mine, is married to a fine gentleman worth $20,000, and I have heard that two other girls whom I have beautified have done equally well. It takes from six weeks to two months to go over the whole figure artistically, and the cost of the completed work amounts to from $250 to $300. A single design costs anywhere from $1 to $25."—New York Evening Sun.

How Six Indians Died.
 In 1881 I was hunting some lost horses in the broken country west of the Big Horn river. I had ridden all morning over a country that was strange to me. About 11 o'clock I crossed a plateau and was surprised to come suddenly to the edge of a canyon, the existence of which I had not even suspected. In the canyon was a stream with clumps of cottonwood timber along its banks, and in one of the open spaces was an Indian lodge. The Indians that hunted in that country were peaceable, but the war was just over and the Sioux were feeling rather sore. If they were Cross or Arapaho, I might get some information about my horses. I lay down and watched. No smoke came from the tepee; no one moved around it; half a dozen ponies grazed a few hundred yards distant. After waiting five minutes I knew no more than at first. Suddenly three white tailed deer came from the timber and walked leisurely across the opening. Then I knew that the camp was deserted, and the strangeness of it startled me. I mounted and rode down to the creek, and straight to the tepee. I threw back the flap, and I shall remember what I saw until death. In the center of the tepee was spread a buffalo robe, and on the robe were guns and scalp and many arrows; and there was also food done up in skins; and, sitting cross legged in a circle around the robe, were six braves of the Sioux nation. All were in their prime—all decked out in war paint, and each one held a bow and arrow in his hand. On every face was an expression of calm indifference, as of one who neither suffers nor enjoys, neither hopes nor fears. The faces were those of dead men, and the snarl-paw had marked them with its awful mark. They took their misery with their heads up, and even their horrors of this disease could leave upon their hearts no stain of fear, upon their brows no mark of suffering. And this that their God might judge them men, and fit them to pick their camps forever in the groves and green fields of paradise.—Cor. Washington Star.

Souvenir of the Confederacy.
 H. C. Thaxton, the tax collector of Butts county, Ga., has in his possession a copper souvenir of the late Confederacy. It is about the size of a copper cent, and on one side is a Confederate flag in the center, and around it are the letters, "Our flag," and the date, 1863. On the other side are the words, "If any one attempt to tear it down, shoot him on the spot," with the word "Disin" in the center.—Chicago News.

 RED JACKET, Dec. 28.—A genuine, old-fashioned New Year's blizzard is raging in the copper country.

James Peters appeared before Justice McDonald's court yesterday. He had been invited there by the police officer. James had given Christ Volker a knock down a day or two ago. Volker saw a couple of boys fighting and was in the act of making peace when Peters stepped up saying, "See what in hell I had thee to do with this fight," and then waded into Volker. Peters wanted a jury trial, which he got. The jury found him guilty of assault and battery, and his honor fined him $10 and costs, $11 more, or twenty days in jail. The costs were paid.

MAYOR NESTER TALKS

Just Back to Civilization From Canada Moffatt's Death Proves Surprising.

WHAT HE THINKS OF THE SITUATION POLITICALLY.

Sorrowing For Moffatt, He Sympathizes With Seymour, Scores Hubbell, Shouts For Adams or Osburn.

A Talk With Mayor Tim.

Mayor Nester arrived home on the belated passenger train last night, returning from Canada via Sault Ste. Marie. A representative of the Mining Journal caught him as he was braving the blizzard on Front street and at once proceeded to interview him regardless of the raging snow storm, finally getting him housed where he had to talk. When asked what he thought of the congressional situation the mayor replied that he had been on a business trip in the Canadian woods and that the first he knew of Congressman Moffatt's death was Tuesday evening, when he happened to pick up an old paper at Sault Ste. Marie. "I was completely taken by surprise," he continued. "Moffatt's death was a great loss to the district and to the state. I first knew him in the legislature of 1881, when he presided over the house, and I have watched his career ever since. Moffatt was a hard working, painstaking, honest public servant in whatever position he was placed. He made a splendid record during his first term in congress, a fact which was appreciated by all his constituents, and he would have made this, his second term, memorable for the benefits conferred on the district in the way of important waterway and other improvements. No man can be more sorry for his loss than I."

"What do you think about his successor?"

"Right here I want to say that I'm not in the race at all. I've heard to-day that my name has been mentioned by some papers in connection with the place, but I want you to tell 'em squarely that I'm not a candidate for this or any other office. I've got too much business to look after just now to even run for school inspector in Marquette. But I notice in to-day's Mining Journal that there are many about the district who are looking for his shoes. Next to Moffatt my heart bleeds for Seymour, of the Sault. He has wanted to get into congress so badly and for so many years and now here's a chance and poor Seymour is over in Europe. I wouldn't be surprised, though, to see him arrive any day by cablegram.

"Then there's Jay Hubbell and no one who knows Jay needs to be told that he is a candidate for this or any other office which may present itself."

"What do you think of his chances?"

"Well, Jay is a great worker and about as lucky a man politically as you'll find anywhere and the boys that expect to get his scalp in that convention want to be bustling around some and pretty soon too. For myself I stand with the tariff reduction wing of the republican party and Hubbell is too pronounced in his advocacy of the old high tariffs, which are increasing the surplus and thereby creating a stringency in the money market, to suit me. The constitution itself has been amended in important features by the republican party and I don't believe that the tariff is more sacred than the constitution. I hold therefore that the party need not be afraid to tackle the tariff."

"As a matter of party policy I doubt the advisability of Hubbell's nomination. During all his long career in congress he always exerted his influence and recorded his vote to maintain the big land grants to railroads and canals on this peninsula, withholding the lands from settlement or taxation, though year after year the corporations on whom the grants were conferred and who had not earned them made new promises only to break them. But two years ago I remember that he opposed the resolution introduced at the Ishpeming convention of business men by Col. C. Y. Osburn which was intended to throw the influence of the convention in favor of further time for the M., H. & O. to make its extension, that company having solemnly promised the legislature to build at least ten miles of the road that summer and never making a move toward it. He then declared with a great show of eloquence and a burning zeal in behalf of the people that he was not in favor of waiting for 'companies which failed time and time and time and again to keep their agreements. Let them keep their promises or forfeit the grants!'"

"Now, my dear boy, what did he do right after that? He went down to Lansing as the senator from this district and opposed a resolution to forfeit this very grant against which he had made such a glowing speech in the business men's convention and openly declared that he would talk until the session expired by limitation before he would let the resolution pass. He was a friend of the 'people' in Ishpeming, where the resolution meant nothing, but on the floor of the legislature, where the resolution meant forfeiture, he was the friend of the confounded corporations which were hanging on to the lands without earning them. All there is about it is that 'Our Jay' is a friend of the people on dress parade, but a friend of corporations and an enemy of the working classes in action."

"Then you think Hubbell's claims on the party aren't very heavy?"

"That's the way I look at it, but it strikes me just at this minute that I've got a whole pigeon-hole full of Hubbell's claims on the party in his own handwriting over at my office and you can bet that when Jay Hubbell is demonstrating on paper his claims to political preferment his style is d-d loud and his language vigorous. I don't know but that in justice to Jay I ought to furnish that correspondence to the press."

"How about Marquette county, Mr. Nester?"

"I think you've struck it now. I believe that this county ought to have the congressman. It is in a position of neutrality between the Soo end of the peninsula on one side and the copper country end on the other. Both have important waterway improvements to urge upon congress, and neither locality would trust a representative from the other, while a congressman from this part of the peninsula could do justice to the claims of both without arousing the jealousy of either. In 1884 I supported Hon. J. Q. Adams, of Negaunee, for the position and he is still my preference. The time that has elapsed has shown me no reason to change my opinion of him. I believe that Mr. Adams would make a very able and popular congressman for the district."

"It is understood that Colonel Osburn is also in the field."

"Yes, and if the choice of the republicans of the county falls on him it would be perfectly satisfactory to me. In order to hope for success Marquette county must have only one candidate before the convention. I recognize Charley Osburn's ability, and if he instead of Mr. Adams proves the county's candidate I should be satisfied perfectly and believe that he would make a good representative for the district if successful in the race. Guess you've pumped me dry, haven't you? 'How long will I be in town?' Oh, I'll be here all day to-morrow, anyhow."

The reporter started to ask for the reason of this remarkably long sojourn in the city on the part of Marquette's itinerant traveler, but Mayor Tim was already piking for home.

The Vows Spoken.

Owing to the alarming symptoms shown in the illness of Mrs. C. B. Grant yesterday morning it was determined early in the day that all public ceremony in connection with the marriage of her daughter, Miss Florence, and Mr. James Pendill, would have to be dispensed with, and it was decided to have the marriage simply a very quiet, family affair at 6:30 p. m. instead of 8 o'clock in St. Paul's church, as Mrs. Grant at the very commencement of her illness had requested that the marriage take place on the appointed day under any circumstances. Shortly after half past two in the afternoon, however, it was thought that Mrs. Grant could not live but a very few minutes and Dr. Hall, rector of St. Paul's, was immediately summoned, the marriage taking place at the bedside of the sick mother. It was a sad and solemn ceremony, but the hearts of those participating in it were in a few minutes greatly cheered, for Mrs. Grant seemed to recover strength, the change continuing for the better all the afternoon. Last evening she was resting much easier.

Not only in Marquette but in the copper country and in other parts of the state the hosts of warm friends of the family will join with the Mining Journal in hoping that the darkest hour has passed and that Mrs. Grant will recover for longer years of usefulness in the house where she is so beloved. Her brother, Dr. Felch, son of ex-Governor Felch, is with her and with Dr. Thell and her old family physician is doing everything that science and skill can suggest to bring her safely back to health once more. The disease is typhoid fever.

The marriage solemnized yesterday but for this sudden and unforeseen illness of the bride's mother, would have been the social event of the holiday season in Marquette. Large numbers of friends were already in the city. The bridesmaids were to have been Miss Helen Grant and Miss Olive Pendill, of this city; Miss Dwell, of Grass Lake, Mich., and Miss Cooper, of Houghton, and the ushers Messrs. Joslin, Kelsey, Phelps and Thell, of this city. Every arrangement had been completed and the event compelling such an entire change has called forth the sorrow and sympathy of the entire city. If the hopes and prayers of friends are of avail the cloud will pass and the joy of a home circle still unbroken will be added to that which should result from the union solemnized yesterday.

Held on There Quinn.

The Baraga County News says: "A short time ago Mr. Thomas Scales sold his property, near Messner's, to Hill & Towne, of Marquette, receiving a good figure in payment. Hill & Towne at once sold the property again at an advanced figure to capitalists in Chicago. Sandstone is known to exist on the property, and for the purpose of finding out to what extent $20,000 will be expended in exploring this winter with a diamond drill. Now just go slow. Those chaps are after sandstone, not tea or natural gas. Furthermore, Hill & Towne and Mr. Scales still own the property and are testing it on their own account, sinking three drill holes with 2 1/2-inch cores at an expense of less than $500."

Weather Report.

The following meteorological report for the week ending December 28, 1887, has been prepared for the Mining Journal by Sergt. W. W. Dent, of the United States signal station in this city: Mean temperature, 18 degrees; highest temperature, 27 degrees; lowest temperature, 4 degrees; weekly range, 23 degrees. Amount of snow, melted, .59 inch. Percentage of relative humidity, 78. Prevailing wind, northwest; highest velocity of wind, 32 miles.
