The Hidden Pages of a Nantucket Physician's Life Made Public By The Boston Globe.

THE MYSTERIOUS CAUSE OF A BROKEN MARRIAGE ENGAGEMENT EXPOSED.

A Deserted Wife in Alabama—His Only Daughter Brought Up as A Slave By Moonshiners.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

THE BOSTON GLOBE'S STORY. Boston, May 13.—The Globe has the following story: In 1862 one Dr. Augustus Franklin came to Nantucket, and soon became a leading light in society, gaining the confidence and esteem of all. Finally he began to pay marked attention to a young lady who was handsome and well-to-do. He was accepted, the bridal preparations were made, the day was set, but the doctor suddenly appeared ill at ease. He sent word to his betrothed that the wedding could never take place, and before the people of Nantucket could recover from their surprise he sold out his lucrative business and

Sixteen months later he returned and attached to his card informing the public of his return to practice was the announcement that he would resume his "family name of Franklin Augustus Ellis." This change of name created a sensation, but his business increased and he continued to make money. He had, however, become addicted to the use of morphine. So firm a hold had he taken upon him that he died from its effects, in Worcester, May 24, 1884. His remains now lie in the cemetery there. He left a will by which three sisters were bequeathed some $15,000.

The attorney for the sisters, George H. Newton, of Monson, who visited California last October, chanced to meet Mr. E. M. Cleveland, a former acquaintance of Ellis's, who told the attorney, greatly to his surprise, that the doctor had been married in 1860 to one Martha Pitty, daughter of a wealthy widow of Saylesville, Ala., from whom it was ascertained that he had one daughter.

Also that on May 5th 1861, the doctor had suddenly deserted his wife and her mother taking with him the proceeds of the sale of the latter's plantation, some $6,000, and had never afterward been seen by Mr. Newton.

Mr. Newton secured the assistance of O. E. Hall, of Collinsville, Ala., who in January last succeeded in tracing the long lost daughter to one of the "moonshining" districts of Tennessee. She was scantily clothed, and her appearance indicated that she had been subjected to all the drudgery that could be imposed upon her, and that she had been nothing more nor less than a slave. She told Mr. Hall that her mother had been dead about seven years. She was brought to Collinsville, where she was identified by her aunt on account of her striking resemblance to her mother.

The clergyman who married Dr. Ellis and several witnesses of the marriage have been found and steps will be taken at once to secure for the young lady her rightful share of her father's estate.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

The Appropriation Very Likely To Be Increased by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The river and harbor bill which passed the house under suspension of the rules, covers an appropriation of nearly $20,000,000. This is an enormous bill for internal improvements, but not so large when one considers that the last bill failed for want of executive approval. The bill is very popular in the house among democrats north and south, the members from the latter section particularly being very enthusiastic supporters of the measure. This is evidenced by the fact that the bill, passing under a suspension of the rules, required a two-thirds vote to get through, and that vote was forthcoming and something to spare.

The bill has been sent from the house, and is now before the senate committee on rivers and harbors. The northwestern members of that committee are Senators Sawyer of Wisconsin, Palmer of Michigan and Cullom of Illinois. It is hard to tell what the senate will do with the bill. The committee will probably haggle with it for about two weeks. Some recommendations for reductions will be made, but it is thought that the bill will be increased before it is returned to the house to $22,000,000, and perhaps $23,000,000.

Meeting of Methodists.

NEW YORK, May 13.—A meeting was held to-day in the Seventeenth street Methodist church to discuss the work of the church in preserving the Sabbath. Ex-Governor Cullbeck of Indiana, president and made a brief address. He said that christianity had lifted mankind up from barbarism. A great evil the church had to combat was rum. The men who make drudgards were enemies of civilization. The secret of the influence of christianity was the spirit of Christ.

The American Tract Society.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The annual meeting of the American Tract society was held at the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church to-day. The yearly reports were read. They showed that the receipts for the year were $549,858 and the expenses $448,604, leaving a balance on hand of $11,254. Dr. Knox, a missionary from Japan, spoke of the missionary work among the Japanese. A large audience was in attendance.

ON THE HOME STRETCH.

Last Week of the General Debate on the Mills Tariff Bill

HEAVY GUNS LAST.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—If the program outlined by the democratic majority of the ways and means committee holds good, the coming week in the house will be entirely devoted to general debate on the tariff bill, even Tuesday, which had been set apart for the consideration of labor bills, being occupied in that way, in pursuance of an agreement by which the committee on labor is to have another day at a later date. Interest in the discussion promises to increase as the week which will end the debate draws to a close, owing to the fact that several of the leading spirits on both sides of the house are announced to speak.

The pension appropriation bill, the Cincinnati exposition bill, the pleuro-pneumonia bill and the bill for the admission of Washington territory, are the measures, which, more than any others, bid fair to occupy the time of the senate in open session during the week; and they are likely, if reached at all, to come up in the order named. The senate has for to-morrow the task of deciding in what way and to what extent, if at all, it will admit the public to a knowledge of its proceedings upon the fisheries treaty. The treaty itself may come up on Tuesday and will probably consume the greater part of the week; though if it is decided to sit with open doors, it is not likely to be taken up until the latter part of the week.

BOARDED BY BANDITS.

Passenger Train on the Southern Pacific Attacked by Mexican Highwaymen.

NOGALES, N. M., May 12.—Six train robbers supposed to be Mexicans attacked the south bound Sonora train as it was standing at a small station called Aduca Searca, late last night.

The robbers opened fire and killed the fireman and wounded several others, one of whom, conductor Atkinson, has since died. Messenger Hay was badly wounded in the head and back. Wells-Fargo's box, containing about $140 was taken.

The railway officials have offered a reward of $1,000 for the robbers' capture. A large posse of Mexican troops and citizens are in pursuit.

The name of the fireman who was killed by the train robbers was Forbes. Conductor Atkinson died this afternoon. Express messenger Hay has been removed here and his chances of recovery are about even.

A passenger named French and another railroad man were also severely wounded.

A train started from Agua this afternoon with an armed posse aboard.

AFFAIRS IN GERMANY.

Usser Fritz's Doom Sealed—The Bismarck Schurz Interview Denied.

BERLIN, May 12.—The emperor has again passed a good day. The various reports circulated this afternoon that there had been a recurrence of the inflammation caused general excitement till the results of inquiries at the palace were published. The official news concerning his condition is not entirely trustworthy, as the worst phases of his malady are in making the best of any change for the better. The result of to-day's examination of the emperor's throat discourages every hope of more than a momentary recovery.

Prince Bismarck's solicitude to prevent the public mind being lulled into a deceptive calm regarding the chances for war was shown in the promptitude with which were made the denials of a prediction placed in his mouth in connection with the Schurz interview. Mr. Schurz did not communicate to any person on the subject of his conversation with the emperor. He is not, therefore, responsible for what an official note in the North German Gazette termed an absolute invention.

The truth is, official circles, from Prince Bismarck onwards, continue to take the gravest view of the international situation. The chancellor's latest efforts have been directed toward bringing England into close relations with the triple alliance.

Methodist Mass Meeting.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The immense auditorium of the Metropolitan opera house was completely filled this afternoon by the throng which came to attend the Methodist mass meeting. Rev. Dr. McCheeny presided. After a hymn and prayer, he introduced Bishop Warren, of Denver, as the preacher of the day. The bishop spoke from the text "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." The bishop spoke of the idea of a heaven, which contained nothing material. Heaven was composed entirely of righteousness.

THE PENNANT RACES.

St. Louis, Cincinnati and Brooklyn Win Sunday's American Association Games.

THE RESULTS OF SATURDAY'S CONTESTS IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Detroit, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Indianapolis The Winners—The League Standing—Chicago in The Lead.

SUNDAY'S GAMES.

BROOKLYN 8; ATHLETICS 3.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The threatening weather to-day kept the attendance at the game at Ridgewood Park, Brooklyn, down to about 1,600 people. The home team batted Mattimore freely and won with ease. The contest was of the single-order and was not very exciting. Score: Brooklyn 8; Athletics 3.

ST. LOUIS 6; KANSAS CITY 2.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—St. Louis won to-day's game by the splendid fielding and the superb pitching of Hudson. Score: St. Louis 6; Kansas City 2.

HAMSBY REINSTATED.

LOUISVILLE, May 13.—Pitcher Ramsby, recently suspended, has been reinstated in the Louisville base ball club. John Kelly telegraphed last night from Cincinnati for him to join the team at once.

CINCINNATI 6; LOUISVILLE 2.

CINCINNATI, May 13.—The Cincinnati defeated the Louisville again to-day in the presence of over 7,000 people. The visitors played a much superior game to that of the previous day, but were unable to bunt their hits. Score: Cincinnati 6; Louisville 2.

SATURDAY'S GAMES.

DETROIT 3; PHILADELPHIA 1.

DETROIT, May 12.—The visitors should have been shut out to-day but White presented them with a run in the eighth which tied the game and necessitated the playing of twelve innings. Though Gleason was generous with his bases on balls, but one of the recipients reached home. The champions scored their first run on Richardson's double, and Brouther's single, and White's triple earned two runs and the game. The visitors' only run was made by White's fumble and wild throw of Bastian's grounder, which allowed the runner to get to second. Score:

INDIANAPOLIS 11; WASHINGTON 0.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 11.—The home club played an unusually fine game to-day and badly defeated Washington. The latter fielded well, making four double plays, but could do nothing with Moffatt. Nearly every member of the home team batted or ran less fine fielding than they all did more or less bases well. Hoy and Bastie fielded brilliantly. Attendance, 2,200. Score:

Indianapolis, 4 4 0 1 1 0 1 0 0-11

CHICAGO 9; NEW YORK 3.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Three bases on balls, a great hit. For a home run by Williamson and a single by Ryan gave Chicago four earned runs in the second inning of the game to-day. Four singles, a double and a base on balls gave four more in the third. A base on being hit by a pitched ball, a steal of second and some clever running on put outs enabled Froly to score in the sixth. The New Yorks triple, singles by Richardson and Slattery and a wild pitch. In the sixth Cleveland made a home run on a tremendous hit over Sullivan's head. The game was a good one when the raw, cold weather is considered. Chicago won by excellent at the bat. The fielding of Williamson and Ewing constituted the most attractive features. Game was called at the end of the sixth on account of the cold. Attendance, 2,500. Score:

Chicago, 0 4 0 0 1 0 0 1-9

PITTSBURGH, 7; BOSTON, 4.

PITTSBURGH, May 12.—Pittsburgh played an up-hill game to-day to the great surprise of the spectators, and won the contest. Conroy was unable to fool the home men, and they hit the ball hard. Morris' delivery was batted freely in the first and second innings, but he steadied down and thereafter pitched a magnificent game. Cliff Carroll played his first game and did poorly. He became ill in the sixth inning and Farmer relieved him. The latter made four good catches. Clarkson and Sutton fielded badly. The fielding of Dunlap, Johnston and Brown was the feature of the game. Score:

Pittsburgh, 1 0 0 0 4 0 0 2-7

SATURDAY'S ASSOCIATION GAMES.

At Cincinnati—Cincinnati 8; St. Louis, 3.

ALMOST BEYOND COMPUTATION.

The Damage Done by Floods in the Red River Valley of Arkansas.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—Advices from the Red river country report that the damage done to the inhabitants of the Red river valley during the past ten days is almost beyond computation, and the overflow the largest since 1843. Most of the plantations near the river have been covered with water four to six feet deep, and many miles of fencing, cribs and barns have been washed down and carried away. Many of the people have lost their household furniture, provisions and corn. At several places the water extends from the hills of Arkansas to the hills of Texas, a distance of ten to fourteen miles.

A VIGOROUS PROTEST.

Michael Davitt Says Irish Politics Will Not Be Controlled By Rome.

GENERAL BOULANGER CONTINUES HIS TRIUMPHAL TOUR THROUGH FRANCE.

Lord Randolph Churchill Confirms The London Telegraph's Statements Concerning The Military Situation—Other Foreign.

ENGLAND.

DAVITT ON THE RESCRIPT.
LONDON, May 13.—Michael Davitt, in a speech at Liverpool to-day, said that Irishmen would not be a lot behind O'Connell in resenting the papal rescript, Ireland had done more for the church among the people of the English-speaking world than any country, and if this was Rome's gratitude Irishmen would be likely to ask themselves questions in the matter. Without wishing his remarks to be construed as an attack on, or as showing disrespect to, the church, he said that whether the rescript was intended as a political pronouncement or not, it would be regarded and had already been hailed as such by every ecumenical paper from the Times to the meanest unitarian rag. He was confident that the rescript had added three months to Mr. Dillon's sentence. Irishmen were compelled to believe that the rescript was due to English intrigues, and Ireland would not accept political dictation from Rome.

STRENGTHENING THE DEFENCES.

LONDON, May 13.—The government has ordered that two modern 30-ton guns be mounted on the central bastion, facing the sea, at Sherness. Other measures of defence will be adopted on the Thames.

EXPULSION FROM THE COUNTRY.

LONDON, May 13.—A despatch from Tananava says that General Willoughby has been deprived of the concessions granted to him by the government of Madagascar and has been expelled from the country.

Earl Wymias will give notice of his intention to call attention to the speeches of both the duke of Cambridge and Lord Wolseley.

It is expected that Lord Wolseley will reply in the house of lords to-day to Lord Salisbury's recent remarks.

ONLY TWO ALTERNATIVES.

LONDON, May 13.—Lord Salisbury was called upon yesterday by a deputation of members of the house of commons and others, who asked the government to protect trading and to suppress slave dealing in the Sudan. The premier explained that there were only two alternatives—withdrawal from Suakin, which would mean the dominance of Osman Digna and the slave trade, or the continuance of the Egyptian flag at Suakin. An English protectorate, he said, could not be thought of. The government sympathized with the aims of the deputation and would advise the Egyptian government to do the best in its ability.

MOROCCO TENDERS AN APOLOGY.

LONDON, May 13.—A despatch from Gibraltar to the Exchange Telegraph company concerning the settlement of the dispute between the United States and Morocco says: After the withdrawal of the claims for a money indemnity, an apology was tendered to the American consul, and orders were given for the immediate release of the persons whose arrest gave rise to the trouble.

THE MILITARY SITUATION.

LONDON, May 14.—In connection with the recent assertions of the Daily Telegraph with reference to the army and navy, Lord Randolph Churchill has written a letter to that paper, in which he says: "Your statements are supported by the highest military authority to a greater extent than either you or the public appear to be aware of." He then refers to the inquiry made by the committee and quotes the replies of the duke of Cambridge justifying the Telegraph's statements, which he says "form an instructive commentary upon the present system of."

WAR OFFICE ADMINISTRATION.

which continues to spend about twenty millions yearly, mostly derived from taxation, and which may claim lasting glory for having produced these sublime results." "The duke of Cambridge adheres to the statement made by him before the committee," continues Lord Randolph, "and the premier, instead of permitting himself to censure Lord Wolseley, would better have reassured and soothed the public mind if he had been able to disprove and refute the strong and unqualified condemnation of our military condition which has been given to parliament itself by the highest military authority."

FRANCE.

BOULANGER'S TRIUMPHAL TOUR.

PARIS, May 13.—General Boulanger, speaking last night at the dinner given in his honor at Lille, reminded his hearers that it was not he who had advised distant expeditions, causing a deficit. His crime was simply a desire to concentrate the military forces instead of scattering them in the service of shapers who never hesitate between personal gain and public ruin. "The originators of these criminal campaigns are the men who accuse me of dreaming of war and a dictatorship."

Then severely attacking the chamber of deputies as a body, General Boulanger said: "It is not of me, but of you, that they are afraid. The danger they have invented serves to conceal that which, through them, the country is incurring." He concluded his remarks with his usual arguments in favor of Boulangerist ideas. General Boulanger yesterday left Lille for Valenciennes. Crowds of people gathered to watch his departure, and a disturbance arose among them, during which the police made several arrests. During his journey the general was the recipient of several ovations. On his arrival at Valenciennes the streets were thronged. He was received with cheers, mingled with a few hisses.

AUSTRIA.

MARIA THERESA'S STATUE UNVEILED.

VIENNA, May 13.—Emperor Francis Joseph, accompanied by all the members of the imperial family, the Austrian and Hungarian ministers, and the foreign diplomatic representatives, was present to-day at the unveiling of a monument to Empress Maria Theresa. A grand banquet at the palace followed.

An imperial decree has been issued naming five regiments after Maria Theresa, and Emperor's Joseph II, Leopold II, Francis and Ferdinand, and eighteen regiments after famous generals, the object being to preserve the memory of former rulers and celebrated military men.

GERMANY.

THE EMPEROR BETTER.

BERLIN, May 13.—The emperor was much better to-day. He will soon be visited by Professor Virchow.

The emperor arose at 10 o'clock this morning and was dressed for the first time since the last crisis. He then walked to his study unassisted. His strength is increasing. He passed a better night than ordinarily.

IRELAND.

O'BRIEN INJURED.

DUBLIN, May 13.—While Mr. O'Brien was riding in Mr. Harrington's gig to Mr. Dillon's residence in this city to-day, the horse stumbled and Mr. O'Brien was thrown to the ground and had his arm and face severely bruised.

SPAIN.

THE TOWN ILLUMINATED.

MADRID, May 13.—The queen regent, accompanied by Premier Sagasta, has arrived at Saragosa. She was enthusiastically welcomed on her arrival, and the town was illuminated.

RUSSIA.

WILL MAKE NO BAD BREAK.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 13.—A denial is given here to the statement that the Russian government will attempt a coup d'état in central Asia.

PORTUGAL.

RECEIVED WITH ENTHUSIASM.

LISBON, May 13.—The king of Sweden was received with great ceremony on his arrival at Lisbon. The city is en fête.

SHIPWRECKED CREW PICKED UP.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The steamer Finance, from South American ports, arrived here to-day. She brings as passengers Captain Savander and crew of five men of the schooner Alice Montgomery, from Norfolk for Providence, which foundered in the blizzard of March 12th. The shipwrecked men were picked up by the bark Guy C. Goss, from Philadelphia for Japan.

OIL CITY THREATENED.

With Distraction From Burning Oil—Tanks Struck by Lightning.

OIL CREEK ABLEAZE.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. May 13.—A Commercial Gazette Oil City special says yesterday afternoon lightning struck a twenty thousand barrel tank belong to the Keystone Refining company, located on Oil creek about two miles north of this city. The tank contained about 15,000 barrels of oil and at 10:30 this morning the petroleum boiled over and ran into the stream about three fourths of a mile.

Fortunately a strong wind forced the boiling oil to the opposite bank, thus saving the works of the Pennsylvania Refining company, the Continental Refining company and the Union Refining company. The overflow, however, ignited another tank containing 30,000 barrels.

Great fears are entertained for the safety of the city when this tank boils over. Every precaution has been taken to avoid the catastrophe, but the wind is changing and blowing directly toward the city, and should the overflow be a large one, great loss of property must ensue.

All the available hose in the city, public and private, has been pressed into service. Crowds of people viewed the magnificent spectacle all day.

A GREAT SPORTING EVENT.

A testimonial to John L. Sullivan Tuesday Next in Boston.

BOSTON, May 13.—The testimonial to be given to John L. Sullivan in Music Hall on Tuesday evening promises to attract a big crowd, and will bring together a large delegation of noted pugilists from various places. Among the events announced are bouts between Joe Lannon and Steve Taylor, Ike Weir and Tommy Burns, Pete McCoy and Denny Kellher and Jack Williams and Jack McDonald, the whole to conclude with a set-to between Sullivan and Jack Ashton. Sullivan invites any heavy-weight pugilist in the country to be present and spar him four rounds. As a further inducement to ticket buyers, Sullivan and Ashton appear in the costumes worn before the Prince of Wales, and the shoes worn by Sullivan in his fight with Mitchell will be placed on exhibition.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—1 A. M.—The signal service reports the following as its predictions for the next thirty-six hours: For Michigan warmer, fair weather, preceded in lower Michigan by local rains, light to fresh northerly winds becoming variable.

Made an Assignment.

MEMPHIS, May 13.—Dreyfus, Marx & Co., wholesale stationers, have assigned. Liabilities about $15,000; assets $34,000.

Two Men Drowned.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 13.—The Pioneer Press learns from Duluth of the drowning this afternoon in Lake Vermillion of two men by the upsetting of their canoe.

IN RUINS IN AN HOUR.

Disston's Immense Saw Works Near Philadelphia, Extensively Damaged by Fire.

BURNED LIKE POWDER.
PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—The large brick building which contained the steel works and rolling mill of Disston's extensive saw works at Tacony was totally destroyed by a fire which broke out a few minutes after 2 o'clock this morning. Although the fire department responded very promptly, and the fire apparatus of the establishment was immediately brought into service, the structure was in ruins within an hour, causing a loss of $300,000 on which there is an insurance of $190,000. Everything in the nature of work about the structure was

AS DIRTY AS TINDER
owing to the large number of fires kept going. Half an hour after the fire was discovered the slate roof fell in carrying the walls with it, and causing their ruin. The firemen, however, succeeded in confining the fire to the one building. The building was 400 by 100 feet in dimensions and 250 persons were employed in it. All of these will be thrown out of employment, and as all the work done in the establishment passes through the hands of this department 1,600 other employees will be more or less affected. The mill was of its kind in this country and the immense amount of machinery used was of the most approved kind. All of this will have to be rebuilt by the firm from drawings, which were fortunately saved. A representative of the firm to-day said the loss on the building was trifling when compared to the damage by the loss of the machinery, which it will take several months to replace. The works had been running night and day for some time on account of an unusually large number of orders awaiting fulfillment, this having promised to be the busiest year in the history of the firm.

THE MOST COMPLETE

ALBERT STILL CHAMPION.

Littlewood Falls to Break the Six Day's Record.
The Wind-Up.
NEW YORK, May 13.—The six day's walking match ceased to be an event of great sporting interest at 6:30 to-night when Frank Dale said: "It aint in him; the man's used up." Dale is Littlewood's trainer and he meant that the Englishman could not beat Albert's record, and was not going to try.

Ten minutes later Littlewood left the track, being then ten miles behind Albert's record. It was a virtual impossibility for him to break the record. The race was about over and people seemed to know it, for there was less cheering and enthusiasm. Nevertheless there was a big crowd all evening and at 9 o'clock over 10,000 people were in the garden. Shortly before 10 o'clock Littlewood again appeared and ran a lap, then walked two more and retired for good being cheered loudly as he disappeared. No one applauded him more heartily than Mrs. James Albert who sat in a box. Albert the champion, was also present. He presented Littlewood with a bouquet. Following is the score at the finish: Littlewood, 611 miles; Guenero, 590; Herty, 573; Noremac, 530; Golden, 530; Hughes, 495; Campana, 380.

Amendments to the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Representative Biggs Thompson, of California, had a conference yesterday with the chairman and other members of the committee on ways and means and to-night Mr. Thompson expressed the opinion that the following amendments affecting California interests will be made to the pending tariff bill: Bags for grain, hops, wool, and ores, made dutiable by the bill at 15 per cent, to be placed on the free list; olive oil, on the free list, to be made dutiable at 45 per cent; raisins at 2 cents per pound; figs, plums and prunes at one cent per pound, and borax at 2 or 3 cents per pound.

To Circumvent "Fluff."

"It can't get the best of me," said Mrs. Anderson, "though I will say, I don't know as I ever should have got at it just right without Almyr, my cousin down to the Port, who beats all for notions, an' seems as if he schemed from mornin' till night how to get ahead of dirt." She laughed one day when I was down there an' went into her spare room, an' just sort of natural like looked round under things.

"You're looking for fluff," says she. "I know you, Partheny. Look away! you won't find any. I've got even with fluff at last, an' I'll tell you how; though I aint certain you deserve it. Sweep all you likes, but when I was down there an' the dust's all set, an' you've dry dusted tables an' chairs an' such, take half a pail of warm water an' a big cloth, wring the cloth pretty dry—for we's as had as none at all—and then just go over the whole carpet."

"Take the color out," says I.

"No it won't," says she, "an' I know 'for I've tried it; but if you're skeered about that, all you've to do is to put a spoonful of ammonia in the water. It brightens up the colors, an' it's death on moths, an' it sort of sweetens up everything."

"I didn't say much then, but I went home an' tried it; an' it's about the best thing I know for circumventing the unaccountableness that I know about, an' that's—'Fluff.'"

—Helen Campbell in Demorest's Monthly.

After the Bath.

Let me here remark that no bath is perfect in its results without the long and brisk friction of the hands, or a course thereof afterward. Friction not only stimulates circulation, but it makes the flesh firm and polished like Parian marble. It is sometimes astonishing to see the change made in an ugly skin by friction, and any lady who wishes to possess a healthy body, firm to the touch and fair to the eye, with the elasticity of youth well prolonged into age, must give willingly of her strength to the daily task of rubbing the body thoroughly.—Dress.

Not Philosophizing.

When a man offers you a cigar and then lectures in deep thought, don't think that he's philosophizing. He is simply trying to recollect which side of his vest contains the gift cigars.—Boston Beacon.

THE COPPER COUNTRY.

Brakeman Injured—A Petition—Marriage Licenses—A Whistle on a Toot—Played To a Good House.

HANCOCK.
HANCOCK, May 13.—Harry Hooper, a brakeman on the Hancock & Calumet passenger train, was quite severely, although not dangerously injured yesterday afternoon. When the train was passing through the smelting works he was on top of a freight car. Striking his head against a projecting beam of a trestle work, he was knocked off. Fortunately the train was going slowly, and he was at once picked up. He has a cut about two inches long on the back of his head, and his face is badly scratched and bruised. He was so stunned by the fall that he could not remember any of the circumstances for a full half hour after it had occurred. He then remembered getting tangled in the bell rope, which he said pulled him off the car.

May 13th and no boat from Detroit or Chicago. The betting man would have had a bonanza had he had a few pointers. The following petition, signed by many prominent citizens, was handed to Charles Fichtel, captain of Hancock base ball club, Saturday morning: "To the Hancock Base Ball Club: We, the undersigned, having a just pride in our base ball club, because of its well-earned reputation and its high standing among the clubs of the upper peninsula, respectfully request that the schedule of dates for the season be changed so that no game shall be played in Hancock on Sunday. Our reasons for this are as follows: Sunday base ball playing is not right; it is against the laws of God and man. It is in disregard of the convictions and feelings of a large and respectable part of the community. It debars many who are interested in the game from lending it their presence and support. It is subversive of the peace and good order of the community. It is a temptation placed before young men and boys in the direction of lawlessness and immorality."

HOUGHTON.
HOUGHTON, May 13.—County clerk Primeau has issued marriage license No. 173 to Joseph St. Pierre and Geofrey St. Antoine, both of Lake Linden; No. 174 to James Rule and Mrs. Susan Toll, both of Calumet.

One can scarcely imagine a more disagreeable day than yesterday; a strong northwester was blowing and snow flying, with several inches of slush and mud under foot. Yet in spite of this several hundred people, mostly on foot, many in wagons and buggies, and the Hancock and Houghton fire departments were all on the run toward the Atlantic stamp mill, which was supposed to be on fire, as its steam whistle blew one continuous blast lasting over a half hour. The cause of all this was that, when the engineer blew the whistle for 4 o'clock the valve of the whistle got out of order, and could not be closed, so the whistle blew till it got tired and quit.

The board of supervisors was in session when the Atlantic whistle blew. There was a recess until the cause of the alarm was found out.

CALUMET.
CALUMET, May 13.—Mr. W. T. Carpenter left this morning for Detroit. The fourth edition of winter is now upon us. It has snowed for two days, and this morning the ponds are frozen over.

President Alexander Agassiz and general manager J. B. Whitney have been busy since their arrival examining the different departments of the mines. President Agassiz will remain here until Friday morning, while Mr. Whitney will remain longer. Charcoal gas is still being sent down No. 1 Calumet and No. 3 Hecla and Nos. 1 and 2 Hecla are left open. At No. 5 Calumet the miners are at work near the twentieth level blasting out an opening which to place one of the self-condensing pumps. The general opening of the mine may be deferred for a couple of weeks yet, as the management are proceeding with a deliberateness which indicates that they will go ahead step by step until absolutely certain that there is no fire in the mine.

Mr. Ambrose, a temperance lecturer, was to have appeared at the Calumet school hall Friday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., but owing to the trains not connecting, did not get here.

RED JACKET.
RED JACKET, May 13.—Frank Tucker's Dramatic company presented "Two Orphans" at the opera house last evening. Although the weather was extremely disagreeable the hall was well filled.

How One Town Avoids Strikes.

In Olean, N. Y., where an increase of 35 per cent. in population has been provided for within the last three months by additions to its manufacturing industries, through the organized efforts of a board of trade, the capitalists have inaugurated a novel movement which not only aids materially in the growth of the place, but gives such advantages to the laboring man that the chances for strikes and kindred troubles are reduced to a minimum. Any manufacturer locating in Olean is guaranteed homes for his employes built after their own plans, and supplied to them at actual value, the tenants paying thereon the rental price of from $5 to $8 per month. Thus is left with the laborer the option of owning his home, or of paying rent, the terms in either instance being the same, save in the matter of interest upon the unpaid portion in case of purchase. This the capitalist takes as his profit upon the transaction.

In one instance the man who buys his home paid for it in a few years; in the other the tenant pays in the same time nearly as much and does not own a shingle. In other manufacturing classes are not slow to see the advantage of buying; the manufacturer sees the advantage of steady and reliable labor thus afforded, and the resident capitalist a sure prevention of strikes and safe investment of his money. The example of the moneyed men of Olean is worthy the emulation of those in other towns whose growth is retarded by the too conservative policy of capital.—Exchange.

Where a Road is Much Needed—Close Call
For a Couple of Trains—A Sad Death
Personal and Other Mention.

Something Much Needed.

When the common council gets ready for business and turns its attention to the city highways, it should provide for the building of a road to the settlement, composed of a dozen or more families, a mile down the line of the Marquette & Western road. There is no way for teams to get to these houses except by trespassing on private property, which is decidedly unpleasant for the owners. In the winter no teams can get nearer than a quarter of a mile of the houses, and last winter when a man in the settlement died it was necessary to transport the remains nearly the entire distance to town by hand. Besides the families living there, quite an amount of exploratory work is being carried on in that vicinity, and the road, should the city see fit to provide for its construction, would be in almost constant use.

Almost a Smash-Up.

A collision on the D. S. S. & A. road between here and Ishpeming that would have been attended with disastrous consequences was averted Saturday afternoon by the prompt application of the air brakes. Passenger train No. 1, west-bound, was about forty minutes late,
and when it left here the conductor had orders to meet No. 6, east-bound, at Ishpeming. The Ishpeming operator had orders for No. 6 to be held there to meet No. 1, but either they were not delivered to the conductor or he overlooked them, and the train, being on time, came on toward Negaunee. When the sharp curve about a mile out of Ishpeming was reached, the trains sighted each other. By prompt application of the air brakes they were stopped, but not before they had come within ten feet of each other.

Taken Away.

Gracie Broad, infant daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Anthony Broad, died in this city Saturday morning of pneumonia.
During the fore part of the week the little girl enjoyed her usual good health, but the disorder, so easily contracted at this time of the year, fastened itself upon her and carried her away after an illness of but a day or two. The deceased would have been three years old in July, and was a pretty and winsome child. Mr.
and Mrs. Broad lost a little boy but a few months ago. They have the sympathy of the community in their bitter bereavement.

To have to make a retraction is the most galling thing in a newspaper man's line of duty. Notwithstanding which it becomes necessary for the reporter to tack back a recent statement which appeared in this department, and which was to the effect that "spring had come." The touch of snow that fell Saturday shows the inaccuracy of the statement.

Bates & Dionne will soon make some extensive improvements in their harness shop, which will greatly add to its facilities. The new firm deserves liberal patronage and those in want of anything in that line should call there.
They will find the shop always open and a competent workman in attendance.

John Perla, who is to open a saloon in the Kruse building, recently vacated by Finney & Benney, is giving the place a thorough renovation. A new floor is being put in and the building otherwise improved.

August Olson has received a new delivery wagon for the Ph. Best Brewing company's product for which he is agent.
It is of a very neat pattern and calculated to cut quite a figure on the street.

Negaunee business men are always up with the times. With the advent of Saturday's snow a dealer displayed a stock of hand sleds from his store.

Regular rehearsals are being held here for the sacred concert to be given at Marquette under the direction of Prof. C. A.
Fohrman, of this city.

The firm which succeeded A. Barabee is rapidly restocking the store with a new line of goods, and is already receiving liberal patronage.

The members of the Negaunee base ball club went to Ishpeming yesterday and attended the funeral of the late James Shea.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Ross' little daughter took place yesterday afternoon the services being held at the house.

Meeske & Hoch have a number of large hogheads that they wish to dispose of.
Note their offer elsewhere.

Joe Donahoe returned to this city Saturday, having spent the winter in Detroit.

T. B. Barry spent a few hours here Saturday. He will not lecture here, as was originally intended.

Dr. L. D. Cyr arrived yesterday from Chicago, where he spent several days after returning from his winter's sojourn in California.

Miss Mary McDonald arrived home Friday evening after a couple of weeks visit with relatives in Houghton. She will resume her work in the public schools when the new building is opened.

HOSPITAL HORRORS.

STORIES OF SURGICAL RECKLESS-NESS AS TOLD IN A BOOK.

What an Observing Englishman Says Concerning the Terrible Things That Are Done in the Teaching Hospitals of London—Heartless Experimenting.

At second and third hand we may imagine our author to have gathered the account he gives us of the terrible things that are done in the teaching hospitals. Here are two of his illustrations of the treatment of moribund patients. A nurse calls a house surgeon:

"Sister says she thinks he is dying fast, and are you going to operate?" "Going to operate! Rather think I was. Don't you know, nurse, this is my first capital operation? Do you think I am going to lose the chance?" "Then, sir, sister told me to ask you if I had better let the chaplain know." "Chaplain be hanged!" he cried. "Certainly not! It would only depress the poor devil. No, no!
Plenty of brandy! Keep him up! Cheer him all you can; tell him it is only a trifling, every day sort of affair, and he will be well in a jiffy. You may send for his wife." "Oh, sir, she has been waiting about the hospital
all day." "All right, then! Now, gentlemen, to business. You shall see me do something pretty!" The bell rang for the operation to assemble the students, some of whom said "it was a beastly shame to torture a poor wretch who hadn't a chance of getting over it." "Ah, you won't talk like that when you are house surgeon (H. S. they always termed it yourself). You will be glad to operate on your father, if you can't get anybody else. Besides, what are hospitals for, if not to qualify us for our work? If people don't want us to learn all we can from the... why don't they stay at home and die? The parish doctor won't disturb their latter moments with operations!"

And again:

"Here is a middle aged woman, evidently having but a short time to live, yet this afternoon Dr. Wilson says his chief proposes to perform upon her a capital operation.
He has not the least hope it can save her life,
but the chance of performing such an operation is so small, and it is but just and kind to the house surgeon who wants all the practical work he can get, to let him assist.
So the woman and her friends are duly pressed to consent that this—the only means of saving her life—shall forthwith be done.
To this end all the nurses are instructed to urge her. At last she submits. She will be physiologist; but she must take precautions to let the patient imagine you are doing it for his benefit, and be careful the nurses don't see what you are about—nurses are getting 'cute nowadays. With these provisos, you are free to roam at large, my friend,
over the bodies of any of my clinics."

"Almost inconceivable cases of carelessness and recklessness are charged against the operators."
"Visions of similar cases crowded in upon the good Sister's recollections of eviscerated creatures in which no tumor was discovered to remove; of cases where, on the post mortem table, sponges, and even instruments had been discovered, and senselessly sewn up in the patients after operation, and had caused their death. * * * One day an old pavior smashed his hand. The surgeons at St. Bernard wanted to remove three fingers. Not before he had been to see Sister Agnes, he thought. Sister Agnes went in to see his consent. How often had she known a simple method of dressing to save the digits in such a case. In three months the man had the complete use of his hand as before the accident, but that didn't console the house surgeon, whose fingers had itched to make a neat little job of it."—London Spectator Book Review.

The Objection Easily Overlooked.

A gentleman of fastidious habits was lunching at his restaurant the other day, when a stranger came in and sat down at the same table.

"I see you have had celery; will you oblige me with ten cents to pay for some celery, sir?"

"I don't know why I should pay for celery for you, sir," answered the gentleman haughti-ly; "you are a perfect stranger to me."

"Allow me to introduce myself," cheerfully responded the other, presenting a card.
"Now, sir, shall I order the celery, or will you?"

He got it.—Detroit Free Press.

The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease, Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Athlo-phoros will do for others what it did for the following parties:

Williamsport, Ind. Oct. 2, 1887.
Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying every remedy, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlo-phoros. After using the same for three weeks, I feel better than I have for years, and I feel sure that I have a permanent cure. I think it is a most valuable medicine, and would like to see it put in the hands of all suffering with this complaint. Mrs. JULIA CHITSON.

Notice to Contractors.

In pursuance of an ordinance passed by the common council of the city of Marquette on the 24th day of May, A. D. 1888, for grading, manning and curbing Seventh street, between Superior and Fisher streets, viz: Grading to the full width of said street, according to the grade heretofore adopted, and manning to the width of thirty feet in the center thereof, with planned gutters on both sides—said gutters to be constructed and said manning to be done in accordance with the ordinances of said city. Proposals will be received by the recorder up to 5 o'clock P. M. on May 29, 1888, for the performance of said work according to the profile and specifications to be seen at his office.

The work to be done under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the street committee.
A bond, with two sufficient sureties, conditioned for the faithful performance of contract if awarded, and another bond conditioned for the payment of all labor and material claims arising under such contract, must accompany each proposal.
The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
THOMAS MEADS, Recorder.

Special Assessment Notice.

To Whom it May Concern:
Notice is hereby given that the common council of the city of Marquette will meet in the council rooms on Thursday, the 21st day of May, 1888, at half past seven o'clock P. M. to consider the final continuation of the special assessment for a sewer on Superior street, from the water at the lake to Fourth street; the local assessment district, as therein determined to be liable to pay the cost of such sewer being to-wit: All the lands and lots abutting on said Superior street from the east side of Lake at street to Fourth street on both sides thereof; and on the west side of Lake street and the east side of Front street for a distance of 125 feet north from the north line of Superior street, within the limits above specified.
The said assessment roll is now open for inspection, and will remain open at the recorder's office, of the city of Marquette, until the aforesaid date.
THOMAS MEADS, Recorder.

IN DUTCH HOUSES.

THE WAR WHICH A PEASANT WOMAN MAKES AGAINST DUST.

Interesting Study of a "Dutch Interior." How Laundry Work is Done in Holland—Servants—A Strange Custom. Food and Cooking.

Had Lady Macbeth lived in Holland, that "damned spot" would have been out in five minutes. Nothing, not even it, could stand against a Dutch cleaning woman. She is irresistible. Look how she is armed. Glance at her weapons. Cloths and chemis, blouses and brushes, scrubbing brushes for the floors, hair brushes for the wainscots, feather brushes for the walls, tooth brushes for the corners, goose wings for the stoves, hens feathers for cleaning out the key holes, small sticks of wood for poking out any unhappy particle of dust which may have got into the cracks of the floor, while paste for the windows, red paste for the hearth stones, emery for the stoves, and several other pastes and polishes as the occasion may require. These are the implements a Dutch peasant woman uses to clean out her cottage home. Dust is her natural enemy, she is born into the world to fight it, it is her mission, and she does no more than her mother and foremothers have done before her. No wonder that such a home training turns out an exceedingly high class of domestic servant; and yet, the Dutch mistress grumbles. Such is life.

A "Dutch interior," from a housekeeper's as well as an artistic point of view, is a most interesting study. It is one thing to know a country well by traveling through it, stopping at the best hotels, visiting all points of interest, taking careful notes by pen and brush of all worth recording, but it is quite another experience and fully as interesting to live among its people as one of themselves to see how they live and think, manage and act; when they are conscious no longer on its by, and that they need not adapt themselves to any stranger's custom or fancy. This latter has been my good luck to experience, and I can truthfully say that there are no cleaner, more hospitable, kind hearted, domestic people in the world than the Dutch.

I mention "cleaner" first because with them it comes first. What would become of a Dutch woman in a world where there is no dust is a subject for conjecture, and though I look upon my visit to Holland as part of the happiest time in my life, still my sincere prayer is that my Dutch friends may never visit me. I could never live up to their idea of cleanliness; the mental strain would be too great.

Washing is not done weekly as in America, but allowed to accumulate for weeks, sometimes even longer, an unhealthy custom; but in this as in many other respects the Dutch can hardly be called a clean nation, from a hygienic point of view. With them it is dust, dust, and again dust.

Often the underservants such as scullery maid, nurse maid, etc., do not sleep in the house. This gives more space and room for the family. These girls come in by the day, sleeping at their own homes at night.

All servants in Holland dress extremely neatly, generally in the plain dresses, white muslin caps, and large white aprons.

The same dress is worn in the street as in the house. If the weather is cold, a shawl is thrown over the shoulders. They do a good deal of the household shopping. It must be indeed beautiful for the Dutch mistress to have Betsy Jane all ready dressed to run her little errands, instead of having to wait an hour or more while Betsy Jane curls her hair, and beds herself with cheap finery. This a good arrangement for maid as well as mistress, for with the former it breaks the monotony of the daily round, gives her a little blow of fresh air, besides the opportunity of a slight flirtation with the butcher's boy or the green grocer's assistant.

A HOUSEHOLD CUSTOM.

A strange household custom in Holland is the custody of the "guest money" by the mistress. Each guest is, as in England, expected to fee the house servants. In Holland, this money is at once handed by the recipient to the lady of the house, who at certain seasons of the year such as Christmas and Easter, divides it equally among all her staff. Not a bad plan when one thinks it over, but rather startling at first to the guest.

And now for Dutch food. All food is good in Holland, all cooking excellent, beef and mutton even better than in England, vegetables in abundance. Butter is very good and plentiful and is used without stint, but—everything is spoiled by being served cold. Rich dishes which would be most appetizing were they eaten piping hot, become repulsive, indigestible masses of grease when served from a cold dish on a stone cold plate. During the whole of my stay in Holland I never once saw a dish covered or a plate heated.

Cakes are a speciality with the Dutch. Each town has one or more of its own, and it was interesting to trace the ancestry of many of our American ones. Waffles meet me at the houses of The Hague, the koojke, which is to be found all over Holland and is, in fact, the Dutch word for "little cake," is actually and etymologically the ancestor of the New England cookie. Doughnuts I met everywhere, though I cannot imagine from where they got their ugly name of "doughnut." In Holland they are called spritsen, and in French, Canada, where they are a sort of national cake, they are known by the name of croquignoles, and sometimes beignet, which latter name is simply the French for fritter. I imagine that in one way and another we owe a good deal of our cooking to Holland.—J. E. Brooks in Good Housekeeping.

The Zulus' Military Tactics.

The Zulus are a war like race, and their record in the war with England showed them to have an instinctive knowledge of military tactics best suited to their arms and themselves. Forages they have held their own against the other tribes, and rose to their higher point of power under the rule of the tribe Teuka.

In the native fights each man throws his assegai at his enemy, catching him on his shield, if possible, then throwing them back again. Teuka had his soldiers' assegais cut nearly through at the base of the shaft, so that although still strong enough to hit a man, they would break if caught upon the shield or ground, or upon the man falling with one in his body; this expedient placed all the sound assegais in the hands of his own men, who thrust through upon their foe, slaying them without mercy.

A curious fact is that over 2,500 years before Marius, the Roman, in his war with Cimbric, did very nearly the same thing. Their javelin, called pilum, had the rivet farthest from the point removed, and a wooden peg inserted just strong enough to carry it in its flight. Teuka also invented the short or stalling assegai, and introduced the trick of receiving the enemy's second fire, which exhausted their assegais, and then charging home with their deadly short one. He ruthlessly killed every man who was wounded in the back, or who failed to retain his spear and shield after the battle.—W. P. Pond in Drake's Magazine.

The temperature readings at the U. S. signal station Saturday, 75th meridian time, were: 7 A. M., 40 degrees; 9 P. M., 38 degrees; 10 P. M., 34 degrees; maximum temperature, 45 degrees; minimum temperature, 33 degrees.

The temperature readings at the U. S. signal station yesterday, 75th meridian time, were: 7 A. M., 33 degrees; 3 P. M., 31 degrees; 10 P. M., 11 degrees. Maximum temperature, 35 degrees; minimum temperature, 31 degrees.

The Menominee Democrat in a notice of the Houghton Mining school says: "One of the finest specimens of catalogue printing we have received in some time is the first and second annual catalogue of the Houghton Mining school, from the Marquette Mining Journal job rooms."

Patterson struck a lead when he secured the celebrated Beach & Bowers' minstrels for a date, and the crowded house last night testifies to the appreciation of this community to a really good thing. As their advertise- ment reads, they haven't got forty performers—only twenty, but each one is a full team, and they ought to have credit for the whole forty. Their amusement bill of fare is a general melange of comic and pathetic songs, beautiful and striking instrumental music, comedy and opera, sandwiched with the trained antics of the most intelligent lot of dogs ever before presented to an audience. The tricks and performances of the dogs were truly wonderful, and almost convince one that animal instinct is nearly on a level with a higher animal intelligence. The final burlesque of Theodore Thomas' opera is a new thing, original with this company, and about as comical and laughable as any performance could possibly be, and the unique transportation of the immortal director from San Francisco to Fort Scott by telephone was a feat highly enjoyed by the audience. In fact, from beginning to end the company kept the house in a roar. If Beach & Bowers ever come to Fort Scott again the opera house won't hold the people who will turn out to see them.—Fort Scott Monitor, Feb. 12th.

ISHPEMING MATTERS.

W. T. Cole Elected Great Sachem of the State Lodge of Red Men.

Foot Ball Club—Lecture Tuesday Evening. Turf Exchange—Rehearsal—Mud and Water.

The Highest Office. Ishpeming not only possesses the largest lodge of the Improved Order of Red Men in the state, but now has the Great Sachem, the chief executive officer of the state lodge. Mr. Cole was elected to that position by the state lodge at Grand Rapids on Wednesday of last week.

He has given a great deal of his time and attention to the order, and his elevation to the chieftaincy of the order in the state is a deserved compliment.

William H. Trembath, of Ishpeming, was elected a member of the finance committee—one of the most important of the grand lodge.

On their return from Grand Rapids Messrs. Cole and Trembath brought home with them the banner broom, earned by Gilteebe Gumeed lodge of this city by having the largest membership of any lodge in Michigan. The Great Sachem, Mr. Trembath, and the broom were met at the depot on their return from Grand Rapids by the Red Men's band and a delegation from the lodge, and were escorted to the hall in triumph.

Foot Ball Club. A foot ball club was organized here on Saturday with the following officers: President, Russell A. Wilson; vice president, S. B. Hillburn; secretary and treasurer, John Silney; business committee, Ed. Schilling, Anthony Bell, Joseph Gonville. The captain of the club is W. L. Webster. The club has enough material to draw from, and after a few weeks practice shall have separated the wheat from the chaff, a good eleven will be chosen and the spots will be knocked off of the Marquette club so suddenly that the boys will think they were struck by a comet's tail. The home club will be known by the name of "Ishpeming Rangers."

To-Morrow Night. James Clement Ambrose will deliver his lecture on "The Sham Family" at Austin's Hall to-morrow evening. The following recommendations from leading Chicago newspapers will give the public here to understand that the entertainment will be strictly first-class: "Ambrose is vigorous and forcible."—Chicago Times. "A tried journalist, racy, clear and entertaining."—Northern Christian Advocate. "A writer of pure and powerful English."—Omaha Herald. "Where he speaks once he can go again."—Chicago Tribune.

People who have not already bought tickets can secure them at Harwood's drug store. Admission to any part of the house, 25 cents.

To Open To-night. "The Turf Exchange", by Crowley & Byers, in the opera house building, will be formally opened this evening, when the proprietors will be glad to see all their friends. The saloon has been handsomely painted and papered—in fact has been refitted throughout. Everything is new, and all who call will be treated well.

Too Much Mud. On Friday evening the Ishpeming localizer of the MINING JOURNAL had occasion to visit the locality of Lake Bancroft. The night was dark, and the reporter neglected to wear rubber boots and a diver's suit, which will in part account for the thorough wetting he received. The mud is from three inches to three feet deep on both Oak and Lake streets, north of North street. The alley was even worse, and in addition to mud contained a great many stumps and ash heaps. Lake Bancroft, swelled by spring thaws, now covers Oak street for some distance, and the people walk along the tops of the picket fences, and pray that they may not fall into the wet and get drowned.

There are a great many new buildings in the Lake Bancroft district, and the people there are entitled to the ordinary privileges of city life—gravelled and macadamized streets, sidewalks and street lamps. Water they already have, both from the city mains and from Lake Bancroft, to say nothing about what comes from the surrounding hills and comes spontaneously out of the swampy ground. The city should macadamize the streets north of North street at the earliest possible date.

Rehearsal. The first rehearsal of the "Chimes of Normandy" comic opera will take place at the residence of Capt. W. H. Johnson, South Pine street, at 7 o'clock this evening. Prof. Owen desires that all who are to take part in the opera shall be on hand to-night, if they possibly can.

People who thought summer was here, and removed their heating stoves a week or so ago, were just a trifle put out by the snow which fell steadily on Saturday and Sunday.

J. B. Tibor will give away a bedroom set, handsome antique oak finish, to the person buying a can of baking powder containing a certain lucky number.

Beach & Bowers played to a good attendance at the opera house Saturday evening. The music given on the street by their band was very fine.

The Nelson House base ball nine (the real and only original snow shoe base ball club of the country), has begun practicing again.

Tucker's Metropolitans will play at the opera house on Wednesday evening, May 16th.

PERSONAL.

Wm. McGee came down from copperopolis on Friday to attend James Shea's funeral.

John Block is now telegraph operator and agent in charge of the D. S. S. & A. depot at South Ishpeming.

James Clancy, county delegate, with Thos. J. Dandon and T. Hughes as the representatives of division No. 1, A. O. H., of Ishpeming, will leave to-day for East Saginaw to attend the annual meeting of the state lodges of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

THE BOYS IN GRAY.

WHAT CONFEDERATES HAD TO EAT WHILE IN VIRGINIA.

Cooking Beef in a Camp Kettle—An Over-Polite Soldier—Bread Pudding. The Louisiana Tigers at Malvern Hill. A Yankee's Testament.

"There was no heap of difference between the looks of Johnston's army and Lee's," said Plunkett, as he proceeded to fill his pipe with tobacco that Brown had chipped from a plug. "If there was any, it was in Lee's army. I never seed it, and a man that didn't have a blue Yankee overcoat or a Yankee cap, seen, and all these sort o' things, was looked upon as a fresh fellow from home and as more'n apt to be a conscript.

"Johnston's army wasn't that way. They didn't have much clothes, but what they did have was Confederate, out and out, and I've seed or 200 pound fellow with a red coat and jacket on that looked like they mout or been made for or fellow weighing about 80 pounds, and a little old gray cap that didn't look like it was more'n a big enough for a doll baby stuck onto or fellow that had or head as big as a peck measure. It kinder looked like they took pains to give the fellows big clothes and big fellows short clothes.

"You couldn't tell Lee's army from the Yankees, to see them marching along; but they wore or daddarned sight better clothes than ever Johnston's army got or hold of—every old soldier knows this—and I b'Veve Lee's army was cutting flour bread or many or time when the other armies were knowing on old corn dodgers."

"They didn't none o' em have anything to brag on," suggested Brown.

"No," resumed Plunkett, "they didn't none o' em have much to eat, and what they did have wasn't fixed up much. The most commonest way for or soldier to cook, though, was to put his beef in or camp kettle and set it by the fire and let it simmer away there all night, and next morning it would be cooked all to pieces and browned with gravy at the bottom that was good enough for or king to eat. But they'd have changes sometimes, and it's just as I've told you, whenever one fellow started any new way they'd all get at it, and they'd git plum disgusted 'fore they'd stop."

"I knowed or fellow," chimed in Brown, "that was sich or good cook that he liked to have starved himself to death lettin' fellows taste his vittels. But he soon got outen that. He was one o' those here polite kind o' fellows that would invite you to eat with him if you happened up at his meals, and it was right into or fellow's hand to git or meal offen another fellow's rations, till pretty soon it got so that just before he'd ax you to have some he'd turn around, so as you'd be sure to see him, and spit in his eating three or four times, and or fellow had to be mighty hungry to eat any o' it after that. He'd tell 'em that it was sich or habit he'd got into, and there was or lots o' em that took it up."

"That's so," resumed Plunkett, "whatever one got to doin', there were others that would follow. I never will forget the dish what they called 'bread pudding.' It was or kind o' softening of cold bread, and putting molasses into it, and then baking or crust on to it; and then there was or kind o' weed that grew wild in Virginia that they gathered and billed for vegetables—I forget the name o' it now, but it was er about as good as pike salad."

"McClellan's army had better eatin' than most o' folks at home," said Brown.

"You are right," agreed Plunkett, "and our boys got or heap o' it, too. But that was mighty hard times eround there then, and or fellow couldn't enjoy nothin' what he got. That Chickahominy country was or mighty bad place, and the weather was hot and the fields and woods got very much spoiled through or rains when it did rain there was mud to pay for it. If I live or thousand years I'll never forget the last day o' the seven days fight eround Richmond. The last fight was at night, or late in the afternoon and night. It was Malvern Hill, and the fight went on till er about 10 at night, and the rain was falling all the time. That was or bad place, and you never seed the lightning come no ways high lighting up the clouds like the Yankee cannons that were on top o' that hill, and time after time, and regiment after regiment of our boys tried to get to the top o' the hill and stop 'em; but they couldn't and that was many a good soldier that gave up his life that night and died in darkness, with the rain falling down in his face, that there has never been or word said erouten in books, and never will be.

"What was called the Louisiana Tigers went closer to the guns on Malvern Hill than any other, and they came mighty nigh being all killed there. Mebbe the officer what led 'em, went nearer to the guns than any other man, and was shot down, and as he fell he hollered out to 'em, 'Don't let 'em get me, boys!' and then there was a rush made to secure the body, and there was a hand to hand fight till two men caught the dead officer by the legs and run down the hill with him. The next battle finished 'em up and they were disbanded, only er about twelve or thirteen of them being left, and I have never heard of them since."

"But that hasn't no use in my talking erout things erway of yander in Virginia, when I can look right out the window here and see the ground where there was just as hard fighting done as there was anywhere. I was over in the field there today, and as the plow would go erlong and turn up the dirt I could find an old piece of Sherman's shells every now and then. It looks like we never will get the balls outen the ground, for every time you plow it and just wait till or shower of rain comes and sorter settle it down, the dirt will wash offen the balls and leave 'em where you can see 'em. This is the way it's been ever since the war, and it looks to me like there has been more balls and pieces of shell picked up offen that ground than it would take to run or good sized war, and they didn't fight there but one day either."

"I used to save little things that I'd find, but I've give 'em all away to strangers that would tell me they wanted mementoes, but I've got a little book there on the table that somebody claims it what has or right to it."

The old man stopped talking as Brown reached over to a little table in the corner and drew forth a little soiled Testament. There was nothing that could be seen to identify the owner, owing to its soiled condition. There was a note sheet of paper which had been pasted to the inside back of the book, and there were three or four verses and a name on it, but here is all that can be read:

"I used to promise a promise that I'd give you, but I've give 'em all away to strangers that would tell me they wanted mementoes, but I've got a little book there on the table that somebody claims it what has or right to it."

"I give it to you and I know you will keep it, and read it and heed it, for dear mother's sake. I got that little book over on the Yankee line the day after the fight, and I'm pretty certain that it belonged to or young Indiana fellow what was killed and buried over there. It was muddy and wet when I got it, and I brought it home and dried it, and I'm going to keep it. 'Sarge' in Atlanta Constitution.

TACKLING THE TROUT IN A LIVELY SNOW STORM.

Marquette Honored—The Clifford Company's Appearance—Saturday Night's Fire—Couldn't Get to the Logs.

The First Coal.
Yesterday forenoon the steamer James Pickands arrived at Marquette after passing through heavy ice in this lake and being delayed by fogs all the way up from Port Huron. She lay by the Warner in Walskal Bay for nearly two days because of fog. The Pickands has 1,700 tons of soft coal on board, 1,400 for James Pickands & Co. and 300 for the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic. Soon after her arrival the James Flisk, Jr., of Ward's line came in with a lot of freight for Marquette, including 100 barrels of oil for Spear. She took on 100 barrels and 200 cases of Canadian test oil for Winnipeg which was saved by Gillett's tugs from the wreck of the Canadian schooner Morley on Grand Island last fall. Later in the afternoon the steamer Queen of the West arrived, after a hard fight with the ice, with 1,200 tons of coal for F. B. Spear, at out half of which is to go up the road. Both the Pickands and Queen of the West reported the steamers City of Duluth and Hurd, of the Chicago line, only a little way behind them though the Hurd was bound up the lake direct. The steamer Winslow, the first Transit steamer of the season, arrived just before midnight. Her officers said that the ice was so heavy that at times it looked as if they never would get through. The Winslow left the Sault after the City of Duluth but fortune favored her and she got out of the ice and into Marquette ahead of her rival, becoming the first passenger steamer of the season.

Saturday Night's Fire.
At about half-past 12 Saturday night the fire alarm sounded, and between the fire bells and the whistles nearly every one in town was aroused by the rumpus. The alarm was caused by the burning of the little scale house built by the Marquette & Western near its Division street crossing. The scales have not been used since the sale of the road, and the origin of the fire is a mystery. The building burned to the ground. Loss, nominal.

"We Go A-Fishing."
Following the example of Dr. Prime, the members of the Izak Walton Snow Shoe club started from the city Saturday morning in two detachments, entirely "unbeknownst to each other." The first couple were soon soaking bait in the waters of the upper mill pond on Cherry creek, the hotel proprietor from a very shaky raft in the center of the pond and the newspaper man from a shore where the mud was about as deep as the waters of the pond. No. 2 worked up the stream out of sight in the fast-falling snow, but was soon recalled by a terrific yelling on the part of No. 1. Supporting that Dan had tumbled into the drink, and fearing that the Brunswick would soon be without a proprietor, the journalist rushed back only to find that the other couple had struck the same pond and that his companion was denouncing them from his raft in the center, declaring that when a prohibitionist and a democratic postmaster put in appearance together no respectable trout could be expected to bite.

As soon as he could get ashore a council of war was held, and under cover of the snow storm detachment No. 1 quietly stole away, lugging one poor trout to fill two big fish baskets. Turning the enemy's flank, Penellings and his companion struck into the creek ahead of the others and worked down stream, meeting reinforcements in the shape of a youth of the neighborhood, who offset the small boy attached to the other party. It was a "damp cold day," but the fish were found at last. No mention will be made of how Dan tested the temperature of the water or how each of the other party stoutly declares that he wasn't the chap who fell in the creek but that the other one was—someone in that crowd certainly got wet, that's settled. One of 'em couldn't catch trout, so he caught cold.

The second party reached home first and at once began to put fish yarns into circulation at the expense of the only original couple, declaring that they hadn't seen a trout, wouldn't have known one if they had seen it, tried to buy herrings of a small boy supposing them trout, etc., etc., and even went so far as to concoct a string of verses (in lieu of a string of trout) with a moral attached. That this so-called poetry was as poor as the angling abilities of the dem-prohib alliance, the following sample will demonstrate:

The sleet and rain were falling fast
As through the muddy roads they passed
Four foolish men on slaughter bent,
To catch the festive trout ascent
At Fraser's.

'Twas Jim and Ira, Kels and Dan,
Who braved the storm and jeers of man,
With whip and vells urged foaming steed
Through mud and slush with reckless speed,
To Fraser's.

Both Kels and Dan ne'er zota bite, Though they stayed by the creek till nearly night.
While Ira and Jim returned at four
With baskets filled by seven score.
Of Beauties.

The facts in the case are that by returning at 4 o'clock the second installment of the club encountered some small boys at the mouth of the Carp and by turning over all their valuables became the possessors of a few trout. Though it is sad to be compelled to class the boy of the party in with two hardened preparators and though they didn't "lay under the trees at noon" to any great extent, still the following verses, stolen from no one knows where, state the case exactly:

Three fishermen went galli out into the North—
Out into the North ere the sun was high,
And they chuckled with glee as they sailed forth,
It solved to capture the trout—or die.
For men will fish and men will lie,
About the fish they "caught on the fly"—
Their Sunday school lesson scornin'.

Three fishers lay under the trees at noon,
And "blamed" the whole of the finny race;
For never a nibble had touched fly or spoon,
And each sighed as he wet the hole in his face.
For men will fish and men will lie,
And the way they caught trout when no-body's nigh
Is something to tell—in the mornin'.

Three fishermen came into town at night,
And their "speckled beauties" were fair to see,
They talked of their "sport" with keen delight—
The envy of all the fraternity.
But men will fish and men will lie,
And what they can't catch they're sure to buy,
And never repent in the mornin'.

The Clifford Company.
The Edwin Clifford Dramatic company appeared at the Casino Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee to fair houses, but by no means as large as the great merit of the company deserved. It is without exception one of the best and most evenly balanced theatrical organizations that has visited Marquette for a long time. Mr. Clifford himself is actor of long recognized ability and for the present season has happily succeeded in securing for his support a coterie of genuine artists among whom there is not a single incompetent person. Their production of "A Wife's Peril" on Friday night was as near faultless as one could desire and in D'Emery's powerful melodrama, the "Two Orphans," they were none the less satisfactory. Both performances were dramatic treats such as our people do not witness every day, and we regret exceedingly that there were not more to see them. The vigorous inclemency of the weather no doubt prevented many from going. But should Mr. Clifford see fit to bring his excellent troupe here again during the summer when the general circumstances are more favorable and the elements more settled, we can vouchsafe for him a better patronage. He goes from here to St. Ignace and the Soo, and we cheerfully recommend him and his company to the theatre-goers of these places as being A No. 1 in every particular.

Couldn't Get to Them.
The tug A. C. Adams returned yesterday afternoon from her trip to Rock River in search of the logs lost by the breaking of Johnson's boom there. Owing to the heavy ice in the vicinity she was unable to get within reach of the logs or within sight of them, and after spending a night in the ice returned with her boom. It is thought that the northwest wind has driven the logs on the beach in Au Train bay. They certainly cannot have gone very far for the ice would hem them in and keep them near the shore.

Marquette Honored.
Marquette has been highly honored in the last few days in the person of Mr. Peter White, who, at the Grand Rapids convention, was chosen one of the four delegates at large to represent Michigan at the democratic national convention in St. Louis and who has just been named by President Cleveland as a member of the West Point board of visitors for this year.

PERSONAL MENTION.

T. J. Millen, of St. Ignace, is in the city.
John B. Wimmer has returned from Indiana and the boys all feel well pleased over it.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Bronson and Mr. Samuel Peck returned on Saturday afternoon from their winter residence at Winter Park, Florida.

Mrs. John Parker, accompanied by Mrs. William Hoar of this city, sailed Saturday for Cornwall, England, on the steamer Ruritania, from New York. They will remain in England all summer.
