

INVITATION.

We cordially invite the Ladies of Marquette and the surrounding country to call and inspect our Furniture and Curtain Stock, when in Detroit. We have now on exhibition in our mammoth show rooms, the largest and finest assortment of Furniture and Curtains that we have ever offered our customers before. We are the only house in the State making a specialty of House Decorations, Wood Mantels, Fine Furniture from original design, and Curtains. In our Curtain Department you will find 50 different lines of Curtains to make your selection from. When you purchase Curtains from us, you can rest assured that you will get the latest styles. This department is under the direct supervision of Mr. Jahn, whose name has become famous among the ladies of Detroit and Michigan for his fine taste in house decorations and designs. In parlor furniture, we are showing hundreds of different designs upholstered in all the latest fabrics, and superior workmanship. In Bedroom, Library, Dining room and hall furniture, our stock will be found to contain all the latest patterns, including many of our own original designs.

We want the patronage of the best families of Marquette. We will make it pay you to purchase your fine furniture and curtains of us. We will guarantee the best goods and the latest styles.

"MAY GOD BLESS YOU!"
A Boston Paper-Hanger's Trouble and How He Got Out of It—Plain Words From the Sunny South.

When we are in trouble we cry for help. When we are relieved we often forget to be thankful. Mr. W. W. Griffin, of Trout Creek, St. Clair Co., Ala., writes: "I had a bad attack of chills and fever. My system was full of malaria. For two years I was scarcely able to work at all. Some time my heart would palpitate for two hours at a time. My legs would get cold to the knees, and I finally expected to die. In September, 1881, I bought a bottle of Shaker Extract of Roots, or Senele's Curative Syrup, of your agent, Mr. R. M. King, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt better, and in a short time was able to go to work. May God bless you for the good you have done."

Mr. Wm. J. McCann, 92 Randall St., Boston writes: "Six months ago I began to throw up my food after eating. I thought I was going into consumption. I soon began to have pain in my chest, stomach and sides. I got little sleep and woke all night. I once lost five pounds in four days. I began using Shaker Extract of Roots, or Senele's Syrup, and when I had finished the sixth bottle I could eat three square meals a day, and to sleep the minute I struck the bed. I am a paper-hanger by trade, and have worked every day since I took the second bottle, and gained eighteen pounds. I ought to be thankful and I am."

This remedy opens all the natural passages of the body, expels the poison from the blood and enables nature to rebuild what disease has destroyed. Shaker Extract of Roots, or Senele's Syrup, is sold by all druggists, or send to the proprietor, A. J. White, 54 Warren Street, New York.

WILL MARCH IN MONDAY.

Negaunee's Elegant New School Edifice to be Formally Taken Possession of on That Day.

Plenty of Fun Ahead for Amusement Lovers. K. of L. Resolutions—Minor Mention.

Dedication Exercises.

The new school building will be ready for occupancy Monday, the workmen being now engaged in putting on the finishing touches. Monday morning at half-past eight the pupils of the public schools will assemble at their respective departments in the old buildings, and from there will march in a body to the new building, where the work of the last term of the school year will then be commenced. The formal opening of the new school will take place in the afternoon, when dedicatory exercises will be held in the high school room. The exercises will commence at 2 o'clock, and will consist of musical selections by a choir composed of Negaunee's best singers and addresses by prominent citizens. Judge C. B. Grant has been asked to be present and deliver an address, and it is quite likely that he will do so. It is to be hoped that he may, for his presence would add greatly to the success of the affair. The program of exercises will not be very lengthy. Upon their conclusion the building will be thrown open from top to bottom for the inspection of the public until 5 o'clock. The building is a public one and one in which everyone is interested; so if you cannot attend the exercises, take ten or fifteen minutes and look over the finest school house on the upper peninsula.

Ditched By a Cow.

Yesterday afternoon the C. & N. W. freight train No. 26, south-bound, struck a cow near Goose Lake. The engine kept the track but the cow made things lively for the train, twelve freight cars being piled up. A wrecking train was immediately sent up from Escanaba and worked all night on the wreck, expecting to have the track clear again early this morning. A special was sent down from Ishpeming to get the passengers from train No. 3 which was detained the other side of the wreck.

Amusements.

From the number of theatrical combinations which have visited here or are soon to come, it is evident that this place must be regarded as a good show town. The following are some of the home and outside entertainments which will be given at the opera house:

Next Monday evening J. H. Browne's Theatre company will begin playing a three-nights' engagement. Reserved seats are 35 cents; general admission 25.

The musical and elocutionary entertainment by the pupils of St. Paul's parochial school will take place Friday evening, the 25th, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Admission is 50 cents.

On the following evening (Saturday, the 26th) the religious drama, "Daniel in the Lion's Den," will be rendered by talent from the Methodist Church society.

Leslie Davis' combination will open a three-nights' engagement on Monday, the 28th.

The next company booked is the Royal Court Comedy company, which will play three nights, also giving a Saturday matinee, commencing June 14th. A large number of other amusement combinations have secured dates falling in the three months following.

The Johnson Lumber company has a boom containing a large lot of logs at the head of Teal Lake and is patiently waiting for the ice to go, so that the logs can be brought down. Nearly all the logs at the mill have been sawed, and unless the ice goes out soon the mill will have to shut down for a time.

The circuit court convenes next Monday. A. J. Sterling, Adam Carmichael, Con Keating and Henry Schwartz are the jurors from here. A large number of the cases to be tried are ones in which Negaunee parties are interested.

Quite a party of Negaunee folks went to Eagle Mills yesterday on an arboreal excursion. They found any quantity of the pretty flowers and all returned with large baskets full.

The Home Guards will soon receive their muskets. They have secured quarters in the Pierce block and held a business meeting and drill there last night.

The lion that John McDougald shot was very neatly mounted, and was on exhibition at Kirkwood's Wednesday.

The Scandinavian society recently organized here is receiving additions to its membership at each meeting.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Julia McCoullough was held yesterday morning from the Catholic church.

The Chevalliers de Lafayette will celebrate the 24th of June at home this year.

The new time table of the D., S. S. & A. will probably go into effect Sunday.

A. H. Holland will soon be here to gather data for his county gazetteer.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James Long was buried yesterday.

James Lyons, a C. & N. W. conductor, has resigned.

PERSONAL.

Mayor Kirkwood arrived home yesterday.

S. Younghart, of Escanaba, was here yesterday.

A. C. Seass and wife returned from Chicago yesterday. The assessor says that bad as Lake Superior weather is, he prefers it to that which prevails at Chicago.

Norman McLeod arrived in the city last evening from Minneapolis.

C. G. Griffey, of the Negaunee Herald, returned home, Wednesday evening.

Kirk Spoor, superintendent of the Escanaba public schools, was in the city Wednesday evening.

J. L. McClear got back yesterday, having visited his parents in the lower part of the state and attended the democratic state convention.

A Collector of Idols.

S. M. Zahn, of Lancaster, Pa., is an idol collector. Among his collections are an Aztec idol, taken from the mound in Mexico, and supposed to be thousands of years old; a Hindoo idol, a Japanese god, Arizona Indian idols, and a sandstone god taken from the banks of the Susquehanna.—Chicago Herald.

A Mohammedan Slave Market.

There is a well patronized slave market in Cabul for the sale of slaves brought from Kurdistan. Girls bring higher prices than women, and are sold according to height. Only Mohammedans are allowed to buy.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Buddhist Missionaries.

A society has been formed in Ceylon which has for its object the propagation of Buddhism throughout the world.—New York Tribune.

A shoemaker's sign, supposed to have been carried from Mount Vernon, Ill., dropped from the sky, six miles northeast of Covington, Ga., the other day.

Sonckhoff is the name of a Russian who travels about his native country urging the natives to commit suicide.

An elephant in the funeral procession to a recent Hindu cremation wore a silver collar worth $25,000.

The silent man is often worth listening to.—Japanese Proverb.

RESOLUTIONS.

At the last meeting of assembly 4,353 K. of L. the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, the committee on labor in the House of Representatives in Washington, D. C. have by their constant co-operation and untiring zeal advanced the interests and welfare of the government employes by taking the proper steps to enforce the eight-hour law, in order to give said employes their just back pay.

Resolved, by assembly 4,353 of the Knights of Labor of Negaunee, Mich., that a vote of thanks be, and is hereby, tendered to the members of the committee on labor, trusting that said committee will have complete success in gaining the point at stake.

A GIFT FOR ALL.

In order to give all a chance to test, and thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, will be, for a limited time, given away. This offer is not only liberal, but shows unbounded faith in the merits of this great remedy. All who suffer from Consumption, Croup, Bronchitis, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of Throat, Chest, or Lungs, are especially requested to call at H. H. Staffords & Son's Drug Store, and get a Trial Bottle Free, Large Bottles $1.

PHILADELPHIA advices represent the iron trade in that city as extremely dull, with nothing in view to warrant the expectation of any improvement in the near future, notwithstanding that the volume of business is large. The dullness is ascribable to a slack demand and prices a shade too low to be satisfactory to operators, who are obliged to content themselves with an exceedingly narrow margin of profit on their transactions this season.

A FIND of soft ore similar in grade and appearance to the Colby ore, is reported to have been made by John Mullman in the Vermillion region. Hitherto the deposits found there have been "No.
1 hard," and the belief has prevailed that the soft hematites did not exist on that range. The discovery mentioned is regarded as important by those interested in the Minnesota iron field, in that it goes to show that a variety of ores can be produced by its mines after a more thorough development of the district shall have taken place.

THE Duluth News notes that a meeting of directors of the Consolidated Ver-million Land & Iron company was held in that city Tuesday afternoon to consider plans for the season's work and transact some matters of business pertaining to the organization. A crew is now at work with a diamond drill on one of the company's tracts, and three more will be sent out to explore other of its properties shortly. The company owns a large amount of valuable mineral lands on the Vermillion range, and intends to prosecute exploratory work on them with great vigor the present season.

APPARENTLY, Senator Palmer has wooded the prohibitionists to little purpose. One of the speakers at their convention Wednesday referred to his prohibition utterances in a most unkind strain. The genial senator, he said, reminded him of a Mississippi steamboat that had so big a whistle and so small a boiler that whenever the whistle blew the boat came to a standstill, as the boiler wasn't able to furnish steam enough to "toot" the whistle and drive the paddle wheels at the same time.
This was intended to convey the idea that when Senator Palmer is talking for prohibition he is not doing much to help it along, we infer, and it must be conceded that the criticism hits him pretty hard. But he has made himself solid with the homesteaders and can afford to snap his fingers at the superfluous-party crowd.

It is stated that the conviction exists in high military circles in England that a continental war which may involve that country is certain to break out this year, and that the desire of its military men to have the defensive strength of the nation considerably increased springs from this conviction. There is ground for the apprehension said to exist, in the disturbed condition of European affairs, but the prospect of war is not greater than it has been at any time during the past several years. Army men are, as a rule, of the opinion that money enough is not being spent on that branch of the public service, and the alarming utterances of General Wolsey are doubtless to some degree inspired by his desire to have the importance of the army to the nation brought more prominently before the people, with a view to getting more liberal appropriations for its maintenance, quite as much as by his fear that it is liable to be called on at an early day to defend the country from invasion by a hostile force.

Our consul at Peking, in a communication to the state department, gives an interesting account of how natural gas was first discovered in China, the manner in which boring for gas is conducted, and how it is utilized for fuel when found. The gas was first discovered, it seems, in sinking salt pits which had become exhausted, in the hope of finding a fresh supply of brine. In drilling them an iron tool is used, attached to a bamboo stem operated by a spring pole.
As the well increases in depth fresh splices of bamboo are added, and wooden casing is driven down to exclude water and prevent the caving in of the earth. The ground to be perforated consists mainly of sandstone and clay.
At a depth of 700 to 1,000 feet salt water is found ordinarily; and by going down 1,800 to 2,000 feet petroleum is struck, accompanied, as in this section, by an inflammatory gas, which escapes with great violence. A wooden cap, perforated with several rows of round holes, is then attached to the top of the casing, and in each of the holes a bamboo pipe is inserted, and through these the gas is conducted under the pans and used in evaporating the brine, the end of each pipe having a tapering mouthpiece terminating in a small aperture. The Chinese call these gas wells, of which there are only twenty-four, "fire-pits." The government manages to get a good share of revenue from them by liberally taxing their owners. From this it will be seen that the natural gas business in China does not amount to much, and that it is utilized in the crudest and most primitive way.

We get the following from the Ashland News of the 16th, and give it for what the readers may choose to consider it worth:

Capt. N. D. Moore, the pioneer iron king, was in the city yesterday. In regard to the ore business he stated that there was but little difference in the demand from last year. Just as much iron was now being used as in 1887, but prices were being kept down by consumers, who were using their stocks purchased last year. The mill men, he thinks, cannot keep the figure where it is much longer. As an instance of the effort of the consumers to get their ore at bed-rock prices, Captain Moore related to a Daily News representative the facts in a shrewd scheme on the part of Carnegie.
The great capitalist had several thousand tons of Republic, Aurora and Chapin ore which he placed in the hands of a broker, with instructions to offer it for sale at seventy-five cents a ton less than it cost him.
This was done to discourage the mine owners, and make them believe that their ore was not in demand. The scheme was transparent and the Chapin, Aurora and Republic people stepped in and bought it.

Capt. Moore said there would be a big market for ore soon, and that the prices would be better.

THE prohibitions held a state convention at Grand Rapids Wednesday which made up in enthusiasm and confidence what it lacked in numbers. Delegates to the national convention of that party were chosen, a state central committee to have charge of the canvass was selected, a good deal of talking was done, temperance songs were sung, and the delegates seemed to enjoy the affair just as much as if they expected important results to come of it. One of the speakers said that they don't expect to elect their candidate for the presidency this year, but their man is going in sure in 1892. They are quite considerate in giving the country another four years of freedom from third party domination.
Perhaps they can be induced to grant a four years' extension of it in 1892.

RUPTURE
Relieved and Cured by
Prof. Goseke & Van Seyoc,
ISHPEMING, MICH.

We desire to inform all those who are suffering from that terrible affliction known as RUPTURE, or HERNIA, that there is yet a chance for relief, and not only for relief, but for a SOUND AND PERMANENT CURE.

You have probably tried many remedies with the hope of obtaining relief—have tried all kinds of trusses, and expended a large sum of money, and still find yourself unrelieved, and have given up all hopes of recovery, and expect that you must endure the pain for the rest of your days. Be not despondent; you CAN BE CURED. Because you have been unsuccessful heretofore is no reason why you should not try something else; for who shall say in this enlightened and progressive period of the nineteenth century that a certain disease is incurable, or that a certain thing is impossible.
Wonders are our daily diet. NO MAN OR WOMAN who has a rupture, no matter how insignificant they may consider it, for everyone who has had it once shattered himself that it was a trifling affliction, and everyone who suffers from it and the infirmary of trusses to such an extent that life has no enjoyment, once regarded it as unworthy of special attention. It is not a standstill affliction; it is progressive even unto death, and they are wise who take the necessary steps to be effectually relieved of it before the day of suffering and gloom comes upon them.

We treat by the SPEDRIER METHOD, which is not practiced in most every state of the union with unsuccessful success. The trusses are entirely external, without the use of the KNIFE or STRINGS; nor is one's labor or amusements interfered with.
This treatment can be effected in every particular that we give a WRITTEN GUARANTEE to every case taken for treatment, and we especially invite and cheer the worst cases.

Any further information can be had by calling on or addressing us at our office in HERINMAN BLOCK.

Respectfully,
PROF. GOSEKE & VAN SEYOC,
WILL BE AT THE SEMMIE HOUSE
-FROM-
May 17 to 27th, inclusive, where they can be consulted on this subject free of charge. Come and receive the names of men who have taken this treatment in your country, and avail yourself of this opportunity before the too late.

DEMANDS INVESTIGATION.
Agent Gregory Insists That Great Injustice
Has Been Done Him.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Senator Chandler, chairman of the special committee on the investigation of the LaPointe, Wis., Indian agency, to-day received the following letter from Agent Gregory:

ASHLAND, Wis., May 5, 1888.
Hon. William E. Chandler, Washington, D.C.: DEAR SIR—When I sent my resignation of the office of Indian agent to the secretary of the interior, I supposed that the committee of which you are chairman had taken all the testimony obtainable which could in any manner cast odium upon me, either as agent or as an individual, and I was and now am willing to have the senate, the president and the country pass judgment upon me on that record.

I resigned the office at the time I did in pursuance of a determination to do so made nearly a year ago, and I had no idea the construction would be given to it that has been.
If it had occurred to me that the resignation would be construed to mean that I feared ex-posure of wrongs committed by me, I would have sacrificed my own interests and held the office until after your committee and the senate had taken final action. It seemed to me that such action was not likely to occur at an early date, and so as to enable me to carry out arrangements relating to business engagements I had made, I decided to ask to be relieved from the office. It was upon that account, and no other, I resigned.

I would have greatly preferred to be dismissed from office, if any of my acts justified it, than that it should be believed that I was performing the part of a coward and trying to avoid exposure of wrongs.

I am not conscious of having done one thing as an official, which in any manner reflects upon my honor and integrity and if I had the same work to do over again under the same circumstances, I would do no differently than I did; because it was my highest duty to save the Indians the most money possible and that I did, and the failure of the examination is made the more strikingly will this appear, as I sincerely believe.

As the case now stands people generally believe that I resigned to avoid exposure, and the only chance to save me from this unjust opinion, is for your committee to pursue your investigations in the fullest and most right manner; and this you ought to do in justice to myself and the public service and then submit the testimony to the senate and let their judgment be passed upon me.

I am a young man, and a good name is of great value to me. If I fairly forfeited it by any dishonorable conduct in office, I shall submit and endure the grief it causes with me. If I haven't done so, then I am entitled to receive from your committee a removal of the unjust suspicion which my resignation has created. I, therefore, respectfully urge you to make the very fullest inquiry possible at the earliest date practicable.

It can do no one any good or aid any cause to let me rest under the suspicion that now attaches to me by my resignation, unless I am really guilty of acts which justify the destruction of my good name. So long as your committee withholds report upon the testimony I will stand before my fellow citizens under the suspicion of having been guilty of acts impeaching my honor and integrity, because my resignation is construed as a confession of guilt, and which thought never entered my mind at the time. The appearance of cowardice is especially grievous to me, and does me great injustice.

Very respectfully,
J. T. GREGORY.

A Complicated Case.
Several days ago August Erickson, a Swede, and Nels Heikka, a Finn, became engaged in an altercation which ended in blows. Heikka had Erickson arrested. The case was tried before Justice Kennedy Wednesday afternoon, and was an interesting one. There were a dozen witnesses, and nearly as many interpreters. The judge decided the case by assessing each party half of the costs of the double litigation.

While discussing the merits of the case, Mike Heikka, an uncle of Nels Heikka, got into a quarrel with Andrew Miklow, and blows were exchanged. Heikka senior has had Miklow arrested, and Miklow will probably return the compliment. The trial will come off on Tuesday next.

A Big Job.
Residents of North Oak street are happy at last. The common council has officially decided to grade the street and the work will be started as soon as practicable.

The job will be quite an extensive one. To grade the street properly and bring it up to the regulation width, it will be necessary to fill in part of the lake. As the water is 20 feet deep within a few feet of the shore, a large amount of spilling or filling with rock will be necessary. It is probable that rock will be used, making the proposed improvement a permanent and substantial one.

Superior Postmen.
Arrangements for the publication of the new Swedish political and religious weekly are at last nearly completed, and, if possible, the initial number will be issued next week. A good press and complete outfit of body and job type have been secured.

The name of the new paper will be "Superior Posten," and Prof. Nathaniel Mortenson, of this city, will be the editor. The paper will be a five-column sheet. The "Posten" will publish a large amount of news and literary matter each week. The financial backing of the new paper is its success assured.

A Pretty Girl's Eyes.
Although nonsense may be common in ultra fashionable circles, it is nevertheless often unique. At a recent reception one fair maiden remained persistently seated while the other girls walked about a great deal and struck pretty poses while in conversation with the gentlemen. Somebody asked why this attractive creature remained in her chair.

"Because she doesn't feel like standing," was the reply.
"Oh, then she is lame."
"No, no. She has upward eyes."
"And what are they?"
"Why, she has discovered that her eyes are exceedingly handsome when wide open and looked down into, but when the observer is on a level with them they are not half so charming. It seems to be a peculiarity of her orbs. So she sits down all the while when on exhibition, so that the fellows as they stand before her in conversation must gaze down into her face, and in so doing encounter her eyes at their best."—New York Sun.

PORTRAITS OF WASHINGTON.

Rembrandt Peale's Account of How the First President Sat for His Father.

Rembrandt Peale, the artist who painted the famous, but horrible in its subject and suggestiveness, picture, "The Court of Death," was a son of the also famous Charles Wilson Peale, who painted from personal sittings several portraits of Washington. In a recent interview he said: "Washington gave sittings to Stuart and my father at the same time, and I was often with him. This was when he was president—about 1794. He sat for my father in the quiet early morning, before his state toilet had been made, and when he appeared to the eyes of the charmed observer simply as George Washington, the man and citizen. He was then about 62 years old, and the toils and trials which he had passed through as the commander of the army, and the quite as great cares of six years of the presidency, added to the weight of increasing years, had told with no little severity upon his tall, stately and still imposing frame and features. His somewhat thin hair was gray; years and fears and cares had all left traces on his face, and his teeth being gone, the lips and cheeks and lines about the mouth were somewhat depressed and contracted. My father's portrait of him," repeated Mr. Peale, "was exactly of Washington as he really was while he was the man only, and before he had prepared himself, as president, to enter upon his more especially then than now, arduous duties as chief executive of the great but very young republic."

"But why," it was asked, "the two portraits being painted at the same time, should Stuart's be so very unlike your father's?" "Simply because," continued Peale, "as I have already stated, Washington gave his sittings to Stuart on the same day, but after a careful preparation of his state toilet; and he was exceedingly, almost masterly alike in all matters of conventional dress and deportment. Indeed, the removal from the manners and customs of England's monarchy was so recent and so slight that the social atmosphere of the White House partook largely of the etiquette of the court, and the expected and practiced deportment of the executive chamber was as formal in degree as that which had been necessary in order to have audience with the king.

"This state toilet, among other things, included the careful combing and powdering of the hair and the tying of it in a conventional 'make up' of the face, and, most noticeable of all, the fitting into the mouth of a full set of false teeth. Now, the art and skill of the dentist in those days had not attained to a very perfect imitation of nature, and the plates being large and clumsy, gave to the mouth and whole lower portion of the face that flat, full, square and unnatural appearance which all careful observers of Stuart's great portrait cannot fail to observe, and which is very often questioningly remarked upon. This portrait was adopted as harmonizing more fully with the contemporary conception of what the personal appearance and habiliments of one in so great authority should be; but as a portrait, it is of the president rather than of the man, and is to be regarded as the ideal, rather than as the real Washington."—A. S. Pease in The Saratogian.

Who Is Never Crazy?
There are many firm believers in the theory that most people are crazy at times, and facts seem to support their belief. The following, from a source unknown to the writer, will likely remind a number of our readers of some incident in their experience, which at the time of its occurrence seemed to them most unaccountable.

"A wise man will step backward off a porch or into a mud puddle; a great philosopher will hunt for the specks that are in his hand or on his forehead; a hunter will sometimes shoot himself or his dog. A working girl had been feeding a great clothing knife for ten years. One day she watched the knife come down slowly upon her hand. Too late she woke out of her stupor with one hand gone. For a few seconds her mind had failed, and she sat by her machine a temporary lunatic and had watched the knife approach her own hand.

A distinguished professor was teaching near a canal. Walking along one evening in summer he walked as deliberately as the canal as he had been walking along the path a second before. He was brought to his senses by the water and mud and the absurdity of the situation. He had on a new suit of clothes and a new silk hat, but though the damage was thus great, he still laughs over the adventure. Our mail collector finds in the iron boxes along the streets all sorts of papers and articles which have been put in by some hand from whose motions the mind has become detached for a second. A glove, a pair of spectacles, a deed, a mortgage, a theatre ticket, goes in, and on goes the person, heading off to the regular letter which should have been deposited. This is called absent mindedness, but is a brief lunacy."—Scientific American.

Mormonism Not a One Man Power.
The first presidency of the church is not a one man power. It is composed of a president and two counselors—three high priests chosen by the vote of a general conference of the whole church. The next body in authority is the quorum of the apostles, composed of twelve high priests, with a president at their head. This quorum is equal in authority to the first presidency, and in case of the death of the president, which event disgraces the first presidency, the twelve apostles preside over the church. This is the situation at the present time, no one yet having been appointed to succeed the late John Taylor as president of the church. After the twelve apostles come the seventies, of which there are a great many quorums, each composed of seventy elders. The first quorum of seventies is equal in authority to the twelve apostles of the first presidency. There are many other quorums in the priesthood, all of whom have presiding officers, but such officers act only as directed by the members of their respective quorums. There is no one man power, but the whole is bottomed on the people, upon the whole body of the church membership, each member having a voice and a vote. The first presidency must be sanctioned by the voice of the people.—Delegated John T. Cairns.

Rats Among Friction Matches.
Fire Marshal Whitcomb, of Boston, recently made a test for the purpose of learning whether rats could and would start a fire by gnawing matches. Three large rats were placed in a wire cage containing a bunch of matches. The first night four rats were gnawed by the rats, and others were caused during following days. Examination of the matches showed that only the phosphorus ends were gnawed, and that some of them were carried some distance from the original bunch. The rats had plenty of good food, but ate the matches as though they liked them well. The fire marshal is quite certain now that rats carry matches into their holes, and there gnaw them, and that many a conflagration thus originates.—New York Sun.

OUR HELLO SYSTEM.

Where Marquette Puts on Air Over Other Upper Peninsula Towns.

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED TELEPHONES IN USE HERE.

A Musical Evening—Fun at the Casino—Excursion to the Sault—Railroad Notes—Other Items.

The Marquette Telephone Exchange. Great changes have been made in the Marquette telephone exchange in the last year or so, and it is now in as fine condition for efficient and satisfactory service as any exchange in the country. In the Marquette county system there are now about 375 instruments, of which 178 are in the city of Marquette, 82 in Ishpeming, 50 in Negaunee, 15 in Republic, and the rest on private lines, the Champion Iron company having 15, the Cleveland 10, Republic 6, Lake Superior 5, and others two or three apiece. Six more instruments will be added to the Marquette exchange this week, making 184 in the city, about half the number in the entire county. Nearly every business man in Marquette has a telephone in his store or office and another at his residence. The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway uses about twenty-five telephones in this city alone. Next on the list comes J. W. Spear, who has a little exchange of his own, having five instruments so arranged that he can ring up his residence or any of his four grocery stores through the exchange without the assistance of the operators. The same arrangement is made for the fire department, superintendent Kernes' house, the water works and hose house being connected.

About a year and a half ago Mr. James S. Healey, of Detroit, assumed the management of the Marquette county telephone system, giving his personal attention to the exchange in this city. Having the advantage of being thoroughly acquainted with the manufacture of the instruments through his long connection with the works in Detroit where most of the Bell telephones used in Michigan are made, he had also been connected with large exchanges in Grand Rapids and Muskegon. Since coming here he has practically reconstructed the Marquette exchange, new poles having been put in, the arrangement of the wires at the exchange improved, new wires run in many cases and other improvements made. The result is that every little sleet storm does not send half the wires down, crosses are very few and far between—and so are kicking patrons.

In the county there are about a thousand miles of wires, and in this city about 300 miles. The Front and Ridge street poles carry about 80 wires each. A new "board" has just been placed in the exchange, making three in all, with a capacity of 235 instruments. Fourteen new 'phones have been put in already this month, only four of which were "summer" instruments, the latest being Superintendent Jarvis' room at the Marquette, C. Kellan & Sons' grocery, Smith & Wilson's office and the three fish houses. Two operators are now on duty from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M., and the promptness and courtesy of the young ladies in the office is greatly appreciated by hundreds of patrons of the exchange daily. The right operator is on duty from 6 P. M. to 8 A. M. The Marquette exchange now keeps six persons busy besides the manager; the six are, three operators, the inspector and two line-men. Among the further improvements soon to be made will be the placing of two extra large office poles on Front street to carry the wires to the cupola of the exchange, where they are gathered into cables connected with the boards in the operating room.

A Musical Evening.

Marquette had lots of open air music last evening. The Marquette City band turned out at an early hour to play a few selections on the street for the Brown Theatre company before playing for the evening at the Casino. An M. C. B. concert always draws a great crowd and the selection was hardly ended when the rattle and roll of drums was heard and the Wentworth drum corps turned into Front street from Washington and marched up the hill for a little practice on the streets. The splendid drill attained by the boys made a big impression on the crowds in the streets and the organization is gaining fame at a rapid rate. The sound of the drums had hardly died away in the distance when another band was heard, and in a few minutes the new Queen City Cornet band turned into Front street and made its first public appearance. Each of the boys carried a torch and the band marched in good order, while the results attained by only two months' practice surprised everybody. The members of the band are all young, and it has been known by many as "the kid band," but judging from its first appearance the title will soon become one of which both the city and the band will be proud.

Browne's Theatre Company.

A big house greeted the J. H. Browne Theatre company at the Casino last evening. The company presented "Fogg's Ferry" with Little Maudie as Chip, J. Knox Gavin as Zeb Fogg, J. H. Browne as Gerald White and Alice Marble as Martha Blodgett, all favorites here last year. The play took well and all present seemed greatly pleased, applause being frequent and hearty. The hits of the evening were the songs of "Little Maudie," who by the way is now a very good little actress in important roles, and the character songs and ballads by Gavin in the last act. He took the house by storm and received three or four enthusiastic encores, a response being compelled in each instance. Mr. Gavin has a very pleasant voice and has already established himself firmly in the favor of Marquette amusement seekers. The Marquette City band acted as an orchestra for the evening and filled the bill splendidly as usual. Between the acts Messrs. Calhoun, Suggs and Johnston, the Hotel Marquette trio, sang a number of plantation melodies which caught the fancy of the audience. Crowded houses will be the order to-night and to-morrow night.

Excursion to the Soo.

Bills have been circulated announcing that the great real estate excursion from Milwaukee to Sault Ste. Marie will leave Milwaukee by special train at 3 P. M. on Saturday, May 19th, on the Chicago & Northwestern. By a change in the plans the excursion will be made by way of Marquette instead of the Soo route, probably to keep the excursionists from falling into the hands of the Gladstone real estate men, to the detriment of the Sault boom. Extra cars will be attached here, the Marquette City band will be taken on board and those in Marquette desiring to make the trip to the Sault and return can do so for $4, a very low figure. As only a limited number can be accommodated parties desiring to join the excursion here should apply for tickets before Saturday noon to Mr. O'Meara, local ticket agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic.

Railroad Notes.

As a result of the visit of president McMillan it seems pretty well settled that arrangements will soon be made by which the South Shore road will consolidate its repair shops in this city entirely at the M., H. & O. shops in the upper yards, an arrangement that will greatly facilitate work as well as render repairs less expensive. Early next week a meeting is expected to be held at Sault Ste. Marie at which the traffic officials of the D., S. S. & A., Soo road and Canadian Pacific will be present to arrange for the use of the big bridge by all three roads, settle the charges, etc. The Canadian Pacific officials are now in Minneapolis but are expected to visit Marquette on Saturday, coming by way of Champlain.

The "Banner Show."

The patrons of tented display will find ample field for the gratification of their tastes by a visit to the justly celebrated show which is to be here Monday, June 4th. There is much to be seen in the exhibition of Sells Bros. that cannot be witnessed elsewhere, and from beginning to end the program is a succession of attractive and strictly novel features. The hippodromic displays finds precedents only in those of ancient Roman days and are characteristic portraiture of the turf and gladiatorial sports of that period. The recently added attractions of the wizard marksman of the west and champion wing shot of the world, Capt. A. H. Bogardus, and his four equally remarkable sons, will find a host of admirers.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS.

The May term of the circuit court will open on Monday, the 21st. The board of review meets on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The excavating for the foundations of Marquette's public building has been commenced. The test electric lighting plant being put in by Mr. Colgate, of the Van Depoele company, will be ready for service in a few days now. The dance given in Oddfellows' Hall last evening by the boys was largely attended, and was adjudged a very pleasant party by all who participated. To-day Kaufman opens up his ball goods, and if Front street isn't blockaded from 4 to 5 o'clock this afternoon, then the Marquette small boy will, for once, have shown a lack of enterprise.

The temperature readings at the U. S. signal station yesterday, 7th meridian time, were: 7 A. M., 37 degrees; 3 P. M., 40 degrees; 10 P. M., 35 degrees; maximum temperature, 44 degrees; minimum temperature, 33 degrees.

The Browne Theatre company will present "Under the Gaslight" at the Casino this evening. Gavin will introduce some entirely new songs and ballads, and Little Maudie will also give a number of her popular songs and dances. People's prices. The officers of the Y. M. C. A. have devised a special plan for increasing association membership among the railroad men of the city, and nearly fifty have already been secured by it. The privileges of the association are granted in full for only $5 a year, including the use of the fine gymnasium and bowling alleys, free baths, reading rooms, etc., etc. Those of the boys who have not yet joined the associate membership should look over the Y. M. C. A. building and the advantages offered there will soon put them "on the list."

PERSONAL MENTION.

John Munro, Jr., of St. Ignace, is in town. Charles Moore, the well-known Bay City lumberman who operates on the Yellow Dog, is in the city. W. H. Blades and Alex Stevenson, both of Detroit, are in the city. They don't hunt orders together, though. Prof. Kirk Spoor, superintendent of schools at Escanaba, was in the city yesterday to visit the Marquette city schools. While here he paid particular attention to the system of steam heating used in the different school buildings.
