Open vs Secret Sessions Fight On the Fisheries Treaty to be Continued,

WITH FAIR CHANCES THAT THE DEMOCRATS WILL GIVE IN.

Mills' Bill to Come Up for Five-Minute Debates This Week—New York Custom House Removals.

CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAM.

SENATE SPECIAL ORDERS. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Bills for the admission of North Dakota, Montana and Washington territories are "special orders" on the senate calendar for the coming week. The Indian appropriation bill will probably be called up Monday or Tuesday and will consume a day or more, and the river and harbor bill, which will be reported to-morrow, may be called up before the end of the week.

The fisheries treaty remains the matter of dominant interest in the senate, and promises to displace the special orders and all other business except appropriation bills until it is acted upon. The course of events, however, depends largely upon the action of the democrats in a caucus to be held to-morrow morning. They have the power to delay action indefinitely upon the motion to consider the treaty with open doors, which is the pending question; but actual filibustering, though so long threatened, has not yet begun.

There are other matters of executive business of great importance before the senate or its committees, in respect to which the democrats desire early action, among them the nomination of Mr. Fuller to be chief justice, and all of these must probably be delayed as a consequence of any dilatory movements in connection with the motion to take up the fishery treaty. The belief is expressed by senators of both parties that at the next secret session, a vote will be reached and that the democrats will content themselves with voting in the negative. They will thus help make a quorum and will allow the majority to be responsible for admitting the public to hear the discussion.

Should all this take place, however, it will still remain in the power of any two senators, under a rule which is applicable to legislative as well as executive business, to reject the public and close the doors at will. The rule has been involved in recent years only to summarily shut off some senator who wished to have an open vote on a proposition to admit the public to the executive session, and it seems to have been invented for use in just such cases. But it is well adapted to other uses, and inasmuch as a strong minority of senators are bitterly opposed to the present proposed innovation, it is apprehended that its use may become common during the fisheries debate.

Only one executive session with open doors can be recalled by men whose memory covers the proceedings of the senate for a period of more than forty years. This was a session of two or three minutes held on the last day of President Arthur's administration; on which occasion the message nominating General Grant for general on the retired list of the army was received and acted upon. The exceptional course was recommended by the president and adopted in defiance of the rules by the senate, as an extraordinary mark of respect to the nominee.

The house to-morrow will probably continue the consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. The tariff bill will be then taken up for consideration, debate under the five minute rule being in order. The republicans will doubtless pursue the caucus policy of opposing every paragraph of the bill by offering amendments and demanding votes upon them, so that the end of the week is not likely to show any material progress toward a final disposition of the bill.

The state of the appropriation bills does not compare favorably with their condition during the last long session. Although the business has been much below the average, up to the present date but two of the fourteen appropriation bills have passed both houses—the military academy, and pension bills. Five more have passed the house, namely, postoffice, diplomatic, District of Columbia, Indian and river and harbor bills. One, the legislative, is pending. Six bills have not yet been reported from the committee. They are: The sundry civil, army, naval, fortification, agricultural and general deficiency appropriation bills.

At a corresponding period in the Forty-ninth congress nine of the appropriation bills had passed the house, and three had passed the senate, which was just one-third more than have been similarly disposed of this session.

SEC. FAIRCHILD TAKES FREELY. WASHINGTON, May 27.—The secretary of the treasury to-day expressed himself freely in regard to the removals which have been made in the New York city appraisers department in consequence of alleged frauds in the classification of sugars and particularly as to the testimony thus far developed for the Hale senate committee upon that subject. Mr. Fairchild said that this matter had been under investigation for nearly two years; that the investigation was originally begun by the late Secretary Manning, who, some time in the fall of 1886, called it to his attention, and that since Mr. Manning's retirement from the department

THE WHOLE SUBJECT

had been personally known to him (Fairchild) in all its details; that nothing had been done about it by Judge Maynard except by the direction and with the previous knowledge and approval of Secretary Fairchild; that Judge Maynard knew nothing of the matter until some time after he became assistant secretary which was in April, 1887; that all of the removals which had been made because of the alleged sugar frauds were made by Mr. Fairchild's express direction and solely with a view to the purification and improvement of the public service and with no regard whatever to any personal or political consideration; that the same was true of the non-removals and the restoration after removal mentioned in said investigation; that he (Fairchild) was himself

PERSONALLY RESPONSIBLE

for the same; that it was grossly unjust to censure Judge Maynard; but that if there was occasion for censure, it should be directed against Mr. Fairchild himself. "Of one thing," he added, "I am sure, and that is that the government has in its service no better, more conscientious man, none more faithful and devoted to the public interests than Judge Maynard." Mr. Fairchild further said that the question of civil service reform, as such reform had heretofore been understood, was not at all involved; that if what had been done by the department in this matter was in violation of the principles of civil service reform, then this reform would itself be a greater evil than were the evils which it was designed to remedy; that the judgment and action of the responsible head of a department in the way indicated without serious damage to the integrity and efficiency of the public service; and that, if it was to be so hampered, whether by law or otherwise, then no self-respecting man could afford to take charge of any department. Mr. Fairchild further said that the matter of the investigation of the alleged sugar frauds was by no means at an end, and although the efforts of the department to learn the truth and to correct what he feared to be gross irregularities and wrongs of long standing impeded by the loss to which certain men of fair repute in the community suffered themselves to be put; yet he had hope and confidence that in due time such efforts would be successful.

COULD NOT BE HAMPERED

A Terrible Storm.

DAYTON, Ohio, May 27.—A terrible electric storm, accompanied by fierce winds, raged here for half an hour this morning. While Jacob Strobel and family were gone to church, their house was struck by lightning. The roof was burned and the household property flooded. Two other houses were struck in other parts of the city. An oak tree near the Fifth street stables was shattered to pieces by the lightning. The air was filled with electricity in that vicinity. Horses became frantic and all began neighing at once in alarm.

A Prominent Clergyman Dead.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Rev. Samuel H. Giesy, D. D., rector of the Church of the Epiphany in this city, died this afternoon of pneumonia. Dr. Giesy was born in Lancaster, Ohio, on the 24th of August, 1826, and was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, York, Pa., in 1845.

LITTLE PHIL DYING.

General Sheridan Hovering Between Life and Death at Midnight Last Night.

HIS PHYSICIANS HAD ABANDONED ALL HOPE OF HIS RECOVERY.

Slowly Sinking All Day—His Strength Gradually Failing—His Death Likely to Occur at Any Moment.

GEN. SHERIDAN'S CONDITION.

A BULLETIN. WASHINGTON, May 27.—At 5:15 P. M. it was learned at General Sheridan's residence that all of the physicians, except Dr. O'Reilly, had left the house. Dr. O'Reilly could not leave the sick room, but sent out the following message: "The general is sleeping quietly. His condition remains unchanged."

General Sheridan is not so strong nor as well this evening as he was earlier in the day. There has been no recurrence of the heart trouble, but all efforts of the physicians to rally him from the attack of yesterday evening have proved unavailing. At this time (8:15 P. M.) the doctors are less hopeful than before.

ALL HOPE ABANDONED.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—10:30 P. M.—All hope has been abandoned and it is not believed that General Sheridan can live another twenty-four hours.

HIS STRENGTH FAILING.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—General Sheridan's condition is much worse than it was last night. He appears to be gradually sinking, and almost all hope has been abandoned. His strength is gradually failing, and while there has been no recurrence of the heart failure, there is a continual tendency in that direction and his pulse has grown weaker and his breathing more labored. The blood is thick and black. Ever since the attack last night the physicians have been doing everything in their power to stimulate the action of the heart, but without success, and its beating is feeble and uncertain despite the administration of digitalis and other powerful remedies. His strength has gradually failed during the day, and the hope that he would be able to rally has proven illusive. General Sheridan rested well during the early part of the evening. He had

SOME TROUBLE IN BREATHING

during the night but he improved early in the day. He rested easily and was perfectly conscious and rational, recognizing those around him. Peptonized milk and chicken broth were given him and he took the latter with a relish. His appetite was good and he retained all the food he took. The nourishment, however, did not seem to give him any strength and he grew weaker and weaker. His interest in passing events did not seem so keen as on the previous day. A few friends were admitted to his room during the day. His respiration grew worse as the day wore on and the lungs failed to properly purify the blood. Digitalis failed to have much effect on him and about 2 o'clock it was found necessary to give him oxygen in order to prevent the blood from becoming poisoned. This gave him

CONSIDERABLE RELIEF

and he rested easy. Two physicians were constantly at his side and all the doctors attending the sick general were frequently there together. General Sheridan fully recognizes that his end may come at any time, and it is said, has made arrangements he desired to be perfected prior to his demise. One of the physicians in attendance on General Sheridan said this evening that General Sheridan had great vitality; but that he did not think he would live thirty hours. He has no pain and he will sink away easily. A recurrence of the heart trouble may come; the heart will cease to beat and all will be at an end. At the general's house all is quiet and conversation is carried on in subdued whispers, so as not to disturb him in the least should he be able to sleep. There was a steady stream of callers at the residence during the day and were received asking for information as to his condition. The callers included many persons well known in Washington life, and a considerable number of them were ladies. The president sent a basket of flowers and a note of sympathy to Mrs. Sheridan in the morning. He asked to be informed of the general's condition, and expressed a sincere hope that his life would be spared. General Sheridan has always been a great favorite with the president, who admired his frank, open manner of expressing his opinion upon current topics and his peculiarly pleasing way of emphasizing the statements by little anecdotes. The general appeared to gradually grow weaker as night fell and this change was noted in the doctors' bulletin which was prepared at 8 o'clock and issued later. It stated that the general's condition was critical and justified the greatest apprehension. Two hours later another bulletin was issued. It simply said: "No change for the better has taken place in General Sheridan's condition."

MANY TELEGRAMS

BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—To an inquiry made at 11:30 P. M. as to General Sheridan's condition the answer returned was: "He is hovering between life and death."

THE STANFORD COLLEGE.

The Senator Sets Forth The Aims and Objects of The Institution.

INTENDED FOR THE MASSES. WASHINGTON, May 27.—Just before Senator Stanford left the city for Europe he expressed himself as follows with respect to the objects and purposes of the Leland Stanford Junior University of California: "Generally the objects of the institution is set forth in articles of indowment, but there are, of course, minutiae not set forth in them. I may say that I propose that the institution shall have steadily in aim the possibilities of humanity and how to realize them. There are probably in California to-day more adult men engaged in selling distilled liquors than are engaged in

TILLING THE SOIL, and I am satisfied, taking the country at large, that with the waste of time of the numbers of people engaged in the selling, and the waste consequent by the consumers, there is a loss to the country in general fully equal to twenty-five per cent of the power of production, and I want the education of the students to be such as shall give them a realizing sense of the importance of temperance. I desire every student to have the opportunity to practically learn how to cultivate the soil for every branch of agriculture. Particular attention will be given to the subject of co-operation. I want in that school that one sex shall have

EQUAL ADVANTAGES with the other and I want particularly that the females shall have open to them every employment suitable to their sex. I believe by their doing so that they will be stronger physically and mentally and better fitted for wives and mothers, and I believe that if the avenues of life are thrown open to them without their engaging in anything unsuitable to their sex, they can add another 25 per cent to the power of production of the country, and this will go far toward realizing the possibility of giving comfort and elegance to all. As I desire this institution to deal particularly with the masses, it will be open to the poor as well as the rich and the price of tuition will be so moderate as to be within the reach of most people. The few very rich can get their education anywhere. They are welcome to this institution if they will come, but

THE OBJECT is more particularly to reach the multitude, and the people who have to consider the expenditure of every dollar. The hope is to care even for orphans. They may be sent there, provided for comfortably, and will be looked after. Free scholarships will be provided for meritorious young people who are unable to pay for their education, and such students will be given an opportunity to earn money to help them through their college course. There will be a machine shop and a department to encourage inventors. Religious teachings will be provided for but sectarianism will be prohibited.

THE LEAGUE MEETINGS

Held Despite Bishop O'Dwyer's Manifesto. Dillon and O'Brien The Speakers.

DILLON AT KILDARE. DUBLIN, May 27.—Mr. John Dillon, speaking at Kildare to-day denounced the bishops who support the papal rescript regarding Ireland. He said the national party was not afraid of any bishop's threats nor of any mandate from the Vatican, and it was not going to abandon the plan of campaign or boycotting, with which weapons it had fought the battle until now.

Mr. Healy in a speech at Waterford, twitted the pope with working his own plan of campaign when the Sardinians grabbed his territory, and with boycotting Victor Emanuel.

Mr. William O'Brien addressed a large meeting at Limerick. He uttered bitter invectives against Bishop O'Dwyer, saying the threats contained in the bishop's manifesto with reference to the rescript were the rashest and most unjust ever made. The bishop, Mr. O'Brien said, left Limerick yesterday after supplying copies of his manifesto to every Orange newspaper but he did not send a copy to the mayor to whom the manifesto was nominally addressed and who discovered it in the journals. Mr. O'Brien declared that there never was anything falsified than Bishop O'Dwyer's assertion that the nationalists were agitating against the pope. The audience, which was greatly excited, uttered cheers for Bishop O'Dwyer. A dozen other Parnellites spoke at various places. About twenty thousand persons attended the Limerick meeting. The better class of citizens and most of the local clergymen were absent.

APPEARED AT THE WINDOW. BERLIN, May 27.—The emperor passed a good night. He appeared at a window several times this evening.

DOM PEDRO'S CONDITION. MILAN, May 27.—The emperor of Brazil had a good night but does not gain strength. His physicians fear the worst on account of the patient's weakness.

A Tornado in Kansas. BELOIT, Kas., May 27.—Beloit was visited by a heavy rain last night at 8:30, accompanied by a high wind which was the heaviest ever seen here. Three small houses were blown down in the city and a baby named Quill was killed in one of them. Its mother and a little girl were slightly injured. The city water works were badly damaged. Two or three business houses were unroofed and chimneys, windows and trees suffered badly.

To the Summit of Lookout. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 27.—The standard gauge road to the summit of Lookout mountain was completed at midnight last night and the first passenger train ran up the mountain to-day.

FROM THE DIAMOND.

The Results of Saturday's Contests—League Standing—Detroit a Good Third.

BROOKLYN 4; LOUISVILLE 0. NEW YORK, May 27.—The Brooklyn defeated their Louisville opponents at Ridgewood park, Brooklyn, to-day rather easily. Terry pitched a wonderful game, and not only prevented the visitors from making a single run, but also from making a base hit. Four thousand, eight hundred and seventy-two spectators were present. An error by Mack and Smith, and a three-bagger gave Brooklyn a run in the sixth. Two-baggers by McClellan and Orr, O'Brien's single and Smith's three-bagger gave the home club three earned runs in the eighth. Score: Louisville, 0; Brooklyn, 4.

CHICAGO, 8; DETROIT, 9. CHICAGO, May 26.—The Detroit won an intensely interesting game to-day by hard batting and a gross decision of umpire Decker. Pettit ran into the crowd in the seventh inning and caught a fly from Bennett's bat. The ball was returned to second before Twitchell returned. Decker refused to allow the catch or the double play on the ground that he did not see the catch. The decision won the game for the Detroit as they then batted out four more runs. Both teams batted hard and fielded superbly, Burns making one of the most magnificent catches imaginable. The attendance was very large, running over 8,000. Score:

Chicago.....2 1 2 0 0 0 2 1 0-8
Detroit.....1 0 1 0 0 0 5 1 1-9
Earned runs—Chicago, 4; Detroit, 7. Two base hits—Ryan, Van Halteren, Bennett, Gruber. Three-base hit—Brothers. Home runs—Anson, Pfeffer, White, Richardson. Double plays—Bennett, Brothers and Bennett. First base on balls—Pfeffer, Bennett. First base on errors—Chicago, 2; Detroit, 2. Struck out—By Van Halteren, 5; by Gruber, 3. Passed balls—Bennett, 1. Left on base—Chicago, 6; Detroit, 4. Time—2:10. Umpire—Decker.

PITTSBURGH 9; INDIANAPOLIS 2. PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 26.—The errors of the Indianapolis team tell the story of their defeat to an extent, and yet the game was a great exhibition of ball playing. Catches of McGeachy, Smith and Dunlap were of the finest, but the break-ups came at critical points. Boyle did not catch his gait until well along in the game, starting off by striking out Hines and Glasscock. He would not have been hit so hard but he let up. The grounds were slightly damp, making some bad plays inevitable. Fifteen hundred people witnessed the game. Score:

Earned runs—Pittsburgh, 1; Indianapolis, 1. Double plays—Dunlap and Maul. First base on errors—Pittsburgh, 2. Struck out—By Morris, 6; by Boyle, 4. Wild pitches—Boyle, 1. Time—1:35. Umpire—Valentine.

PHILADELPHIA 1; BOSTON, 0. BOSTON, May 26.—To-day's game was a repetition of yesterday's, except that it required ten innings to decide the contest. For the first nine innings the game was dull and uninteresting. It was simply a battle of pitchers, and Buffinton had the best of it all the way through. The tenth inning opened with Clements at the bat. He knocked the ball clear over the fence, and scored the deciding run. Boston made a desperate but fruitless effort to tie the game. Score:

Boston.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0
Earned run—Philadelphia, 1. Two-base hit—Hornung. Home run—Clements. First base on balls—Buffinton. First base on error—Philadelphia, 3. Struck out—By Buffinton, 7; by Madden, 5. Wild pitches—Buffinton, 1. Time—Two hours. Umpire—Lynch.

NO GAME IN NEW YORK. NEW YORK, May 26.—Rain prevented the New York-Washington game to-day.

HOW THEY STAND. Following is the standing of the clubs of the National league this morning:

Table with 5 columns: Clubs, Pl'd, Won, Lost, Pct. Rows include Chicago, Boston, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, Washington.

A WATERSPOUT

In Nebraska Buries Railroad Tracks, Carries Away Cattle and Does Other Damage.

CHADRON, Neb., May 27.—A waterspout fell in the northwestern part of Dawes county last night, burying five miles of the Fremont, Elk Horn & Missouri Valley track and carrying away a large number of cattle. The bridges across the White and Lone Tree rivers were carried away and all telegraph communication is cut off, so that it is impossible to learn the full extent of the damage. It is feared a number of settlers along those rivers have been lost. The spout came in the form of a black cloud, which resembled a large cart-wheel in rapid motion and appeared about ten feet thick.

An Reported Indian Outbreak.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 27.—There have been various rumors circulated here to-day concerning an Indian outbreak in southern Dakota. A special to the Pioneer Press from Mitchell, Dakota, says Adjutant-General Jenkins to-day received a telegram from Governor Church saying an Indian outbreak was imminent at the Pine Ridge agency but giving no particulars. It is also said that Governor Church has ordered troops to the scene.

Fire at Saginaw City.

DETROIT, Mich., May 27.—A Tribune special from Saginaw City says: E. C. Novell's planing mill and certain roller factory, George Moore's ice and horse and several freight cars were burned this morning. Loss, $13,000; insurance, small.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—1 A. M.—The signal service reports the following as its predictions for the next thirty-six hours: For Michigan and Wisconsin: Slight changes in temperature; followed by cooler local rains; followed by fair weather in Michigan, and Wisconsin; fresh to variable winds.

FOLKS WHO GET FULL.

THE QUEER ANTICS OF VARIOUS PERSONS WHEN FULLED.

Comical Items Picked Up by a Chicago Reporter—Peculiar Delusions of the Inebriate—Merry Old Chaps—Seeing the Elephant—A Scare.

There is sometimes a sort of picturesque about the peculiar delusions of an inebriate which reaches beyond the mere disgusting and borders upon the realms of the pathetically grotesque, and while we cannot but regret the weakness of the individuals we are forced to smile at his idiosyncrasies. One of these peculiar cases occurred the other evening at one of the prominent hotels in the city. The hour was late and the majority of the seats and well-regulated guests had retired. Suddenly the front doors were thrown open with a bang, and through the aperture emerged a young gentleman who but a few hours before had departed in all the glory of spruce clothes and fine linen. Now his hat was on the back of his head, his clothing was disordered, and there was a drunken leer upon his handsome face. As he staggered toward the desk it was noticed that he was dragging behind him one of those dressed models which the clothiers of the present day exhibit in the front of their stores. Approaching the clerk with an unsteady gait, the intoxicated individual called out: "I shay, hie, ole boy, canst yer take, hie, care of Harry? He's s'posed drunk to sit and He wants to go to bed."

The clerk obligingly took care of the "mummy" which the inebriate fondly imagined to be his friend, and promised to see him safely to bed, after which the young gentleman consigned himself to the care of two stout porters who conducted him to his room.

LIBERAL OLD FELLOWS. Another of the picturesque drunkards is the liberal old bachelor who, when he is inclined to be merry, insists that all his friends shall join with him in the worship of the rosy god Bacchus. His importunities become wearisome, but he is not in the least nonplussed, and when friends fail to respond to his call he sets the companionship of the general loungers about the bar.

One of these generous individuals was seen the other evening on Clark street. The hour was late, and the jolly old gentleman was seated on the sidewalk with a demijohn under his arm and a well filled glass in his right hand. He was jolly and generous, and wanted the whole world to enjoy his liquid hospitality.

"Come, boys," he cried, "let's all take a drink. Whisky's as free as water, and since the flood water tastes too much of drowned sinners. Who wants water? Let's all take a drink."

He was only brought to a realizing sense of his condition when two guardians of the law took charge of him and escorted him to his hotel, after appropriating the demijohn for their own uses.

The other evening the police discovered a well preserved and well dressed middle aged individual calmly sleeping in a mortar bed which stood in front of a half completed building. The somnolent gentleman had taken off his hat, but without taking the trouble to further disrobe had quietly settled himself for a snooze. Considerable effort was needed to arouse him, and when he finally gained his consciousness he looked helplessly around him and murmured: "Party good bed, but the feathers stick to a fellow's clothes."

SEEING THE ELEPHANT.

There is a young gentleman in the city whose fancies, while under the influence of liquor, are most peculiar. He is an ardent lover of animals and his pets comprise almost the entire animal kingdom. He seldom goes to excess in drinking, but when he does there is no limit to his bibulations. When in the last stages his younger days invariably return to him and he imagines himself the small boy at the circus. The elephant appears to be his chief source of delight, and instead of snakes, and scorpions, and crawling things, his dreams are peopled with the sportive elephant, and he babbles on as happy as a child with its first bag of peanuts beneath the canvas of the peripatetic menagerie.

Then there is the picturesquely rapid young man. Bustling and active while sober, his ruling passion while under the influence of liquor is to keep things moving. A case of this kind occurred a few evenings ago when one of these rapidly inclined inebriates entered a railroad depot to wait for a train and carry him to his suburban home. Becoming tired of the monotony of the situation, he wandered down the track, and finding a puffing engine without its usual occupation of engineer and fireman, he recklessly stepped aboard and pulled the throttle wide open. In an instant the engine began to move, and the rapid young man, in thorough fright, leaped from the cab, sustaining serious injuries. The wild engine sped upon its way, and had it not been for the coolness and foresight of a switchman a terrible disaster might have occurred. As luck turned, the young man was arrested for his frolic, and now in a dingy cell asserts that John Barleycorn and he are sworn enemies.

"Drunkness may be picturesque," said one old stager, "but as for me, I'll take mine in some other shape. When it comes to ringing your own door bell and asking your wife to come down and pick you out of a crowd who don't know their own names, then it's time to quit, and I don't want any more picturesque in mine."

Altogether it may safely be argued that the safest, pleasantest and easiest way of enjoying life is to discreetly avoid the picturesque, the unique or the decidedly unusual drunk.—Chicago Herald.

An Undesirable Tenant.

We hear a good deal about the selfishness and inhumanity of landlords who refuse to let flats to people with families of children, but after all there may be another side to the story. In a house agent's office I listened to an argument between the agent and a woman who wanted to rent a flat from him. It was a flat that I happened to know, in a quiet house, filled with nice people. While the argument was going on, another house agent came in on some business or other, and when he saw the woman beckoned his brother agent away from her, whispered something to him and went off. The woman did not get her lease and went away in high disgust. The agent said to me: "That is a sample of the people who write to the papers about landlords who won't let flats to people with families. Brown, who was just in, rented her a flat. She is living in it yet, but must move by the 1st. It is a six roomed flat, and in it she and her sister live, with their two husbands, eleven children, three cats and two big dogs, and they also board two young clerks that work for their husbands. One of the rooms is a kitchen, so that these seventeen people, not to mention the menagerie, are actually bunking in five rooms, in a respectable house, where their noise and dirt make them common nuisances."—Alfred in New York News.

CALUMET.

CALUMET, May 27.—The work of erecting a rock house at the Kearsarge mine has begun. By the end of the present week the frame-work will be up. Underground drifting is steadily going on. The drift in No. 1 shaft at the sixth level is in 137 feet north. The drift from No. 2 at the same level is 200 feet south. There has been no particular change in the richness of the vein rock.

Persons who enjoy good music will have the privilege of hearing the Calumet band every evening of this week by attending the performances of the Browne company at the opera house this week.

Last night a dozen boys between the ages of 15 and 20 filled themselves with liquor in one of the saloons in Calumet village, and between 11 o'clock and midnight they started "to paint the town red," and hooted and hallooed like savages on the war path, awaking all who were in the vicinity. The reporter has their names and also a statement from several of them as to where they procured the liquor. As there is a clause in the saloon bonds forbidding the selling to minors, their bondsmen may have the opportunity of paying a claim for damages.

Thirteen is the number of pupils in the graduating class of '88 of the Calumet high school—four boys and nine girls. Their names are William Phillips, Con O'Neal, Elmer Lawbaugh, Charles Morrison, Clara Ostrander, Nellie Osborn, Amelia March, Myrta Loring, Rosa Hegardt, Eliza Carter, Lizzie Goldsborough, Hattie Pope and Lizzie Easter. THE STANFORD COLLEGE.

The Senator Sets Forth The Aims and Objects of The Institution.

TELLING THE SOIL, and I am satisfied, taking the country at large, that with the waste of time of the numbers of people engaged in the selling, and the waste consequent by the consumers, there is a loss to the country in general fully equal to twenty-five per cent of the power of production, and I want the education of the students to be such as shall give them a realizing sense of the importance of temperance. I desire every student to have the opportunity to practically learn how to cultivate the soil for every branch of agriculture. Particular attention will be given to the subject of co-operation. I want in that school that one sex shall have

EQUAL ADVANTAGES with the other and I want particularly that the females shall have open to them every employment suitable to their sex. I believe by their doing so that they will be stronger physically and mentally and better fitted for wives and mothers, and I believe that if the avenues of life are thrown open to them without their engaging in anything unsuitable to their sex, they can add another 25 per cent to the power of production of the country, and this will go far toward realizing the possibility of giving comfort and elegance to all. As I desire this institution to deal particularly with the masses, it will be open to the poor as well as the rich and the price of tuition will be so moderate as to be within the reach of most people. The few very rich can get their education anywhere. They are welcome to this institution if they will come, but

THE OBJECT is more particularly to reach the multitude, and the people who have to consider the expenditure of every dollar. The hope is to care even for orphans. They may be sent there, provided for comfortably, and will be looked after. Free scholarships will be provided for meritorious young people who are unable to pay for their education, and such students will be given an opportunity to earn money to help them through their college course. There will be a machine shop and a department to encourage inventors. Religious teachings will be provided for but sectarianism will be prohibited.

Held Beside Bishop O'Dwyer's Manifesto. Dillon and O'Brien The Speakers.

DILLON AT KILDARE. DUBLIN, May 27.—Mr. John Dillon, speaking at Kildare to-day denounced the bishops who support the papal rescript regarding Ireland. He said the nationalist party was not afraid of any bishop's threats nor of any mandate from the Vatican, and it was not going to abandon the plan of campaign or boycotting, with which weapons it had fought the battle until now.

Mr. Healy in a speech at Waterford, twitted the pope with working his own plan of campaign when the Sardinians grabbed his territory, and with boycotting Victor Emmanuel. Mr. William O'Brien addressed a large meeting at Limerick. He uttered bitter invectives against Bishop O'Dwyer, saying the threats contained in the bishop's manifesto with reference to the rescript were the rashest and most unjust ever made. The bishop, Mr. O'Brien said, left Limerick yesterday after supplying copies of his manifesto to every Orange newspaper but he did not send a copy to the mayor to whom the manifesto was nominally addressed and who discovered it in the journals. Mr. O'Brien declared that there never was anything false in Bishop O'Dwyer's assertion that the nationalists were agitating against the pope. The audience, which was greatly excited, uttered groans for Bishop O'Dwyer. A dozen other Parnellites spoke at various places. About twenty thousand persons attended the Limerick meeting. The better class of citizens and most of the local clergymen were absent.

APPEARED AT THE WINDOW. BERLIN, May 27.—The emperor passed a good night. He appeared at a window several times this evening.

DOM PEDRO'S CONDITION. MILAN, May 27.—The emperor of Brazil had a good night but does not gain strength. His physicians fear the worst on account of the patient's weakness.

A Tornado in Kansas. BELLOIT, Kas., May 27.—Belloit was visited by a heavy rain last night at 8:30, accompanied by a high wind which was the hardest ever seen here. Three small houses were blown down in the city and a baby named Quill was killed in one of them. Its mother and a little girl were slightly injured. The city water works were badly damaged. Two or three business houses were unroofed and chimneys, windows and trees suffered badly.

To the Summit of Lookout. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 27.—The standard gauge road to the summit of Lookout mountain was completed at midnight last night and the first passenger train ran up the mountain to-day.

FROM THE DIAMOND.

BROOKLYN 4; LOUISVILLE 0. NEW YORK, May 27.—The Brooklyn defeated their Louisville opponents at Ridgewood park, Brooklyn, to-day rather easily. Terry pitched a wonderful game, and not only prevented the visitors from making a single run, but also from making a base hit. Four thousand, eight hundred and seventy-two spectators were present. An error by Mack and Smith, and a three-bagger gave Brooklyn a run in the sixth. Two-baggers by McClellan and Orr, O'Brien's single and Smith's three-bagger gave the home club three earned runs in the eighth. Score: Louisville, 0; Brooklyn, 4.

CHICAGO, 8; DETROIT, 9. CHICAGO, May 26.—The Detroit won an intensely interesting game to-day by hard batting and a gross decision of umpire Decker. Pettit ran into the crowd in the seventh inning and caught a fly from Bennett's bat. The ball was returned to second before Twitchell returned. Decker refused to allow the catch or the double play on the ground that he did not see the catch. The decision won the game for the Detroit as they then batted out four more runs. Both teams batted hard and fielded superbly, Burns making one of the most magnificent catches imaginable. The attendance was very large, running over 8,000. Score: Chicago, 8; Detroit, 9.

Earned runs—Chicago, 4; Detroit, 7. Two base hits—Ryan, Van Halton, Bennett, Gruber. Three-base hit—Brothers. Home runs—Anson, Pfeiffer, White, Richardson. Double plays—Bennett, Brothers and Bennett. First base on balls—Pfeiffer, Bennett. First base on errors—Chicago, 2; Detroit, 2. Struck out—By Van Halton, 5; by Gruber, 3. Passed balls—Bennett, 1. Left on bases—Chicago, 6; Detroit, 4. Time—2:10. Umpire—Decker.

PITTSBURGH 9; INDIANAPOLIS 2. PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 26.—The errors of the Indianapolis team tell the story of their defeat to an extent, and yet the game was a great exhibition of ball playing. Catches of McGeachy, Smith and Dunlap were of the finest, but the break-ups came at critical points. Boyle did not catch his gait until well along in the game, starting off by striking out Hines and Glascock. He would not have been hit so hard but he let up. The grounds were slightly damp, making some bad plays inevitable. Fifteen hundred people witnessed the game. Score: Pittsburgh, 9; Indianapolis, 2.

Earned runs—Pittsburgh, 1; Indianapolis, 1. Double plays—Dunlap and Maul. First base on errors—Pittsburgh, 2. Struck out—By Morris, 4; by Boyle, 4. Wild pitches—Boyle, 1. Time—1:35. Umpire—Valentine.

PHILADELPHIA 1; BOSTON 0. BOSTON, May 26.—To-day's game was a repetition of yesterday's, except that it required ten innings to decide the contest. For the first nine innings the game was dull and uninteresting. It was simply a battle of pitchers, and Buffinton had the best of it all the way through. The tenth inning opened with Clements at the bat. He knocked the ball clear over the fence, and scored the deciding run. Boston made a desperate but fruitless effort to tie the game. Score: Philadelphia, 1; Boston, 0.

Earned runs—Philadelphia, 1. Two-base hit—Hornin. Home run—Clements. First base on balls—Buffinton. First base on errors—Philadelphia, 3. Struck out—By Buffinton, 7; by Macken, 5. Wild pitches—Buffinton, 1. Time—Two hours. Umpire—Lynch.

A WATERSPOUT

In Nebraska Bursts Railroad Tracks, Carries Away Cattle and Does Other Damage.

CHADRON, Neb., May 27.—A waterspout fell in the northwestern part of Dawes county last night, burying five miles of the Fremont, Elk Horn & Missouri Valley track and carrying away a large number of cattle. The bridges across the White and Lone Tree rivers were carried away and all telegraph communication is cut off, so that it is impossible to learn the full extent of the damage. It is feared a number of settlers along those rivers have been lost. The spout came in the form of a black cloud, which resembled a large cart-wheel in rapid motion and appeared about ten feet thick.

An Reported Indian Outbreak

It is also said that Governor Church has ordered troops to the scene.

FOLKS WHO GET FULL.

THE QUEER ANTICS OF VARIOUS PERSONS WHEN FULLED.

Comical Items Picked Up by a Chicago Reporter—Peculiar Delusions of the Inebriate—Merry Old Chaps—Seeing the Elephant—A Scare.

There is sometimes a sort of picturesque about the peculiar delusions of an inebriate which reaches beyond the mere disgusting and borders upon the realms of the pathetically grotesque, and while we cannot but regret the weakness of the individuals we are forced to smile at his idiosyncrasies. One of these peculiar cases occurred the other evening at one of the prominent hotels in the city. The hour was late and the majority of the sedate and well regulated guests had retired. Suddenly the front doors were thrown open with a bang, and through the aperture emerged a young gentleman who but a few hours before had departed in all the glory of spruce clothes and fine lines. Now his hat was on the back of his head, his clothing was disordered, and there was a drunken leer upon his handsome face. As he staggered toward the desk it was noticed that he was dragging behind him one of those dressed models which the clothiers of the present day exhibit in the front of their stores. Approaching the clerk with an unsteady gait, the intoxicated individual called out: "I shay, hic, ole boy, can't yer take, hic, care of Harry? He's shoo drunk to shand. He wants to go to bed."

The clerk obligingly took care of the "mummy" which the inebriate fondly imagined to be his friend, and promised to see him safely to bed, after which the young gentleman consigned himself to the care of two stalwart porters who conducted him to his room.

LIBERAL OLD FELLOWS.

Another of the picturesque drunkards is the liberal old bachelor who, when he is inclined to be merry, insists that all his friends shall join with him in the worship of the rosy god Bacchus. His importunities become wearisome, but he is not in the least nonplussed, and when friends fail to respond to his call he seeks the companionship of the general loungers about the bar.

One of these generous individuals was seen the other evening on Clark street. The hour was late, and the jolly old gentleman was seated on a demijohn with a demijohn under his arm and a well filled glass in his right hand. He was jolly and generous, and wanted the whole world to enjoy his liquid hospitality.

"Come, boys," he cried, "let's all take a drink. Whisk'y's as free as water, and since the flood water tastes too much of drowned sinners. Who wants water? Let's all take a drink."

He was only brought to a realizing sense of his condition when two guardians of the law took charge of him and escorted him to his hotel, after appropriating the demijohn for their own uses.

When these the police discovered a well preserved and well dressed middle aged individual calmly sleeping in a mortar bed which stood in front of a half completed building. The somnolent gentleman had taken off his hat, but without taking the trouble to further disrobe had quietly settled himself for a snooze. Considerable effort was needed to arouse him, and when he finally gained his consciousness he looked helplessly around him and murmured: "Purty good bed, but the feathers stick to a fellow's clothes."

SEEKING THE ELEPHANT.

There is a young gentleman in the city whose fancies, while under the influence of liquor, are most peculiar. He is an ardent lover of animals and his pets comprise almost the entire animal kingdom. He seldom goes to excess in drinking, but when he does there is no limit to his bibulations. When in the last stages his younger days invariably return to him, and he imagines himself the small boy at the circus. The elephant appears to be his pet, and he is delighted instead of snakes, and scorpions, and crawling things, his dreams are peopled with the sportive elephant, and he babbles on as happy as a child with its first bag of peanuts beneath the canvas of the peripatetic menagerie.

Then there is the picturesquely rapid young man. Bustling and active while sober, his ruling passion while under the influence of liquor is to keep things moving. A case of this kind occurred a few evenings ago when one of these rapidly inclined inebriates entered a railroad depot to wait for a train and carry to his suburban home. Becoming tired of the monotony of the situation, he wandered down the track, and finding a puffing engine without its usual occupation of engineer and fireman, he recklessly stepped aboard and pulled the throttle wide open. In an instant the engine began to move and the rapid young man, in thought he might leap from the cab, sustaining serious injuries. The wild engine sped upon its way, and had it not been for the coolness and foresight of a switchman a terrible disaster might have occurred. As it was, the rapid young man was arrested by his freak, and now in a dungeon cell awaits the arrival of John Barleycorn and he avows enemies.

"Drunkness may be picturesque," said one old stager, "but as for me, I'll take mine in some other shape. When it comes to ringing your own door bell and asking your wife to come down and pick you out of a crowd who don't know their own names, then its time to quit, and I don't want any more picturesque mine."

Altogether it may safely be argued that the safest, pleasantest and easiest way of enjoying life is to discreetly avoid the picturesque, the unique or the decidedly unusual drunk.—Chicago Herald.

An Undesirable Tenant.

We hear a good deal about the selfishness and inhumanity of landlords who refuse to let flats to people with families of children, but after all there may be another side to the story. In a house agent's office I listened to an argument between the agent and a woman who wanted to rent a flat from him. It was a flat that I happened to know, in a quiet house filled with nice people. While the argument was going on, another house agent came in on some business or other, and when he saw the woman beckoned his brother agent away from her, whispered something to him and went off. The woman did not get her lease and went away in high dudgeon. The agent said to me: "That is a sample of the people who write to the papers about landlords who won't let flats to people with families. Brown, who was just in, rented her a flat. She is living in it yet, but must move by the 1st. It is a six roomed flat, and in it she and her sister live, with their two husbands, eleven children, three cats and two big dogs, and they also board two young clerks that work for their husbands. One of the rooms is a kitchen, so that these seventeen people, not to mention the menagerie, are actually bunking in five rooms, in a respectable house, where their noise and dirt make them common nuisances."—Alfred in New York News.

Last night a dozen boys between the ages of 15 and 20 filled themselves with liquor in one of the saloons in Calumet village, and between 11 o'clock and midnight they started "to paint the town red," and hooted and hallooed like savages on the war path, awakening all who were in the vicinity. The reporter has their names and also a statement from several of them as to where they procured the liquor. As there is a clause in the saloon bonds forbidding the selling to minors, their bondsmen may have the opportunity of paying a claim for damages.

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 23, 1888.

Entered as mail matter of the second class, in the post office at Marquette, Mich.

The Duluth News regrets the deposition of Randall from leadership of his party in Pennsylvania for a reason of its own, which it set forth as follows: "He may bring his whole following into the republican camp and demand that the party stand on a Pennsylvania platform, and the republicans don't want him any more than the democrats. He belongs to neither party, but to Pennsylvania."

ARRANGEMENTS have been perfected for the removal from Minneapolis to Ashland of the North Star Iron works, quite an extensive concern. The works were located on leased ground in Minneapolis, and a sale of the land to a railroad company necessitated a change of location. Why the enterprising people of Minneapolis, who are constantly coaxing manufacturing industries from other cities to move there, permitted this one to remove from there, is somewhat mystifying. But Ashland has secured the plant, and as it will give employment to between 100 and 200 men,
it is an acquisition of no little importance.

LOOKS LIKE ALGER.

Assuming that Blaine is positively out of the way, the leading candidates for the republican nomination are Sherman, Gresham, Allison, Harrison and Alger.
But a careful analysis of the situation discloses that Alger's chances are very much better than they would appear from a first glance at this group of names. It is pretty generally conceded that Sherman will not be nominated.
He does not inspire enthusiasm, and has no capable managers at work in his behalf. Allison may be placed in the category with Sherman, and so also may Harrison, neither having developed any outside strength since their own states declared for them. Harrison might have a chance from the circumstance that he comes from a state that the republicans will need to carry but for the influence on his candidacy of the Gresham movement, which has wholly neutralized the advantage that he gained in securing the delegation from his own state. This reduces the list to Gresham and Alger. Now which will be the chosen one? A week ago we would say Gresham, but it begins to look as if the honor would fall to the Michigan aspirant, and for these reasons:
Gresham's state has deliberately chosen to back the claims of Harrison, after weighing the merits of the two candidates. This will weaken Gresham in the Chicago convention. Then during the past few days his connection with the know-nothing party years ago has been brought forward as an argument against his nomination. And that it is a strong one cannot be denied. The Sunday Telegraph, which speaks for the republican soldiers of the northwest, says in relation to it:

This is a bad charge against a man who seeks to be nominated for president. While it may be possible to explain away the charge in relation to his language toward the Germans, the charge of his having been a know nothing cannot be explained. He was a member. He confesses it. That naturally settles his candidacy. No matter how able Judge Gresham may be; how great as a lawyer; how great as a statesman; how good a soldier he was, a man who was a know-nothing would suffer from it as a candidate for president.
All foreigners would suspect, and most of them—nearly all of them—would vote against him.

This is the verdict of a rabid republican paper. His know-nothing record is likely to defeat Gresham. If it does, it takes out of Alger's way his only formidable competitor in the list given above. Unless some more acceptable man should turn up in the meantime,
it follows that the choice of the republican convention is very likely to settle on General Alger for the first place on the ticket that it will put in the field.
Events are certainly shaping that way.
He is the only one among them whose chances are growing better each day, and for whom an aggressive, vigorous and shrewdly directed canvass is being made.

It would not surprise the MINING
JOURNAL in the least to see the honor that he frankly says he desires to secure gracefully settle on the head of General Alger.

AT THE ROPES GOLD MINE.

The new 20-stamp mill at the Ropes gold mine, near Ishpeming, which was started up a few days ago, is running smoothly and doing excellent work. It meets the expectations of the management in every particular. For the present the stamps will not be given the full drop, in order that the mortar plates

may have time to "season" before they are called on to take the maximum strain that will be imposed on them when the mill is worked up to its capacity, so the mill is not yet doing the work that it will accomplish later. The old mill is closed down and undergoing needed repairs, but will be in operation again by the middle of this week. When all the stamps are going, they will be amply able to handle from 60 to 75 tons of quartz daily, or between 2,000 and 2,500 tons per month, the yield from which will be from $10,000 upward, according to the grade of rock treated.

There are eight vanners in the new mill, two to each battery of five stamps, the same as in the old mill. The processes of treatment are, of course, entirely similar, both in stamping the rock and subsequently, so the experience gained in operating the old mill will enable those in charge to get the best possible
results from the new one from the start.

The Gates crusher now in use, and which has just been put in, is doing vastly better work than the Blake machine which it supercedes. The new crusher pulverizes the rock thoroughly, leaving very much less for the stamps to do than when the old one did the work.
This alone would make an appreciable gain in the work of the mill, and we look for a good report from the Ropes
after all its machinery, new and old, shall be in condition to be driven up to its full capacity, which will probably be about the middle of the next month. In the mine the main shaft is now down nearly 500 feet, and the workings are all in the best of condition for rapid and economical production. There is an abundance of good rock in sight and ready to be taken down to supply the mill. At last all the conditions essential to profitable work in both mine and mill are established, and we feel that little is risked in predicting that the Ropes will soon begin earning handsome dividends for those who have put their money into developing it and have waited patiently for their reward.

A DISPIRING OUTLOOK.

The current number of the Cleveland
Iron Trade Review gives this discouraging report on the state of the iron market at receiving ports on the lower lakes:

Four months ago it was stated in these columns that the outlook for the season did not justify the hopeful anticipations of the mining districts, and an estimate of the 1888 output was at that time put at 3,500,000 tons, nearly a million less than the record of 1887.
Events have fully justified this prediction,
and it may be said—regretfully, but none
the less truly—that the present season will prove a failure to all the iron interests, ore, furnace and carrier. The causes leading to this opinion are of a character too well known to require elucidation; but, while there may be differences of opinion as to the factors that led to the suspension of business, there can be no doubt as to the result. The total sales to date—always a matter kept "under the hat"— are by competent judges estimated to be less than 700,000 tons, while at the corresponding period last year, no less than 3,000,000 had been covered. The persistent refusal of the furnace interests to purchase any ore, except in dwindling quantities, and their offer for large lots at prices which the ore producers cannot make and live, has resulted in the determination on the part of the owners of the Germania, Ashland and Aurora mines, on the Go-ge range, to suspend mining; and if the market does not show early signs of a reasonably strong demand, to shut down altogether.
It is said that several large consumers of Go-geable Bessemer are maintaining an attitude of what an Americanism calls "bluff," with a view to still further depressing an already weak market. While the miners may be willing to risk the depletion and consequent depreciation of their properties to make a small margin, they do not see their way clear to work at a dead loss, and so the indications point to the cessation of operations in the quarter referred to.
The three mines above named have stock piles aggregating about 150,000 tons, and the sincerity of the producers in their resolution to suspend operations is attested by the fact that they are letting go of some charters, obtained at extraordinarily low rates. The Colby is said to be a trifle better off, having less labor and no royalty to pay for, but even here there is a dearth of sales, and little prospect of speedy improvement. Hard ores do not appear to find a better market than is the case with hematites, and the condition of affairs is thoroughly unsatisfactory.

That the Colby mine pays no royalty on its product is news to us, as that mine has been operated under a lease heretofore, and we were not aware that it was now being wrought by the owners of the fee until we read the Review's statement carrying that inference. We take the occasion to remind our Cleveland contemporary that the output of the Lake Superior mines in 1887 was 4,738,903 tons; consequently that, if, their product in 1888 should come up to the Review's estimate of four months ago, it would not be "nearly", but very considerably more than, a shrinkage of a million tons from the output of 1887.
It now looks as if the falling off might come closer to two million tons than one million.

The Florence Mining News estimates that the mines of the Menominee range will ship about one million tons of ore
this year. "If the future justifies a fairly hopeful view of the situation"—which can't well be ascertained until the present becomes the past. How much does the Mining News think they'll ship, basing its calculation on the seeable present instead of the unknowable future?

DON'T SCOLD

A man for grooming when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these two diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he went into Athlo-phoros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

THE WANDERER.

Love comes back to an empty heart, Or a being clothed in love's sweet guise; Love bids sorrow and tears depart; The dear old light in the tender eyes Like a swift, bright sunbeam hastens here And warms the life that was cold and drear.

The old, old love of the days of yore! Is it the same? Oh! Love, confess, Is it not deeper than e'er before? To cheer, to guide and forever bless! Answer me, Love; turn not away; Speak to me; say you have come to stay.

Who can be sure of Love's replies, Hiding behind his myriad masks? Yet to my soul this day he brings Savors of Heaven; 'tis all it asks. Swift, sweet tears to the eyelids start; Love comes back to an empty heart. —James Clarence Harvey in Home Journal.

MONKEYS IN THE WILDS.

Characteristics of the American Species. Bearded Monkeys—"Howlers."

Professor Albert S. Bickmore's morning lecture at the American Museum of Natural History the other day was on "Monkeys of the New World." The world monkey, he said, had been derived from manakin or manakin and meant "unfortunate little fellow." In South America monkeys are to be found on and south of a line between the City of Mexico and Vera Cruz, but none above that line.

The American monkeys have a broad nose, and their nostrils turn upward and downward. A peculiar species was the fete, only 5 inches high, which has two more teeth than any monkey in Africa. Another was the bearded monkey, so named because of a beard which surrounded his face in a fashion made notable by a celebrated journalist, some years deceased.

The animal (the monkey) was very careful of his beard and never wot it while drinking. He would hollow his hand into the form of a cup, dip it into and fill it with water, and then drink from his hand slowly, while with one of his other hands he would carefully press his beard out of the way of contact with any drops of water that might fall.

Another odd species was the white-throated monkey, and still another, "Humboldt's" monkey, discovered by that great explorer, and sometimes called the "negro" monkey, because of the curly wool upon its head.

Other monkeys had tails so sensitive that when their owners were passing rapidly through the forests, dragging their tails behind them, they could tell instantly when their caudal appendages came into contact with anything good to eat. The same tails were very powerful, and their owners could hook them over a limb, and hanging by that support, go fast asleep. If a monkey were shot when in this position he would not fall; he would simply continue to cling there until decomposition set in. The natives shoot monkeys with poisoned arrows, which they blow out of long hollow reeds. When the wounded monkey becomes unconscious from the effects of the poison, the hunter runs up and puts some salt into his mouth, after securing him, and the salt being an antidote for the poison, the hunter gets a live monkey as good as new.

The lecturer described in detail the species of the South American monkey known as the "howlers." These monkeys travel in groups and they are very jealous of each other's abilities as howlers. Each group has a champion howler, and when two groups meet one howler from each sits opposite the other, surrounded by the rest, and then scores, hurrying and thither on multifarious errands connected with the housekeeping and mercantile needs of the day. Their costume consists, solely, as to the men, of a pair of very thin muslin pants rolled up as close to the hips as possible, and when a shirt is worn it hangs outside the pants; the front is thrown open and the sleeves are rolled up to the shoulders. Occasionally a hat is worn, which is shaped like a wash basin, and is made of finished bamboo strips or sheets of tortoise shell.

The women wear gayly colored calicos, which reach just below the knees, and a loose jacket of calico or muslin. These articles comprise their entire apparel. In the throning may be seen an occasional Mestizo or native lady, with her long trained and gorgeously colored skirt, with black silk or satin apron, worn behind instead of in front, and the pretty waist with flowing lace trimmings, sleeves, and rich, fluffy lace handkerchiefs, in which her head, with its wreath of glossy jet black hair, rests like the petals of a lily. The hair of the average Mestizo, or native lady, is the most attractive feature of her person. It is always as black as night, usually reaches far below her waist and grows more luxuriantly. She washes it every morning, or, at least, every other morning, and after the ablution anoints it liberally with cocoanut oil, which is almost as cheap as dirt. You can get half a gallon of it for fifteen cents at retail.

Many a native girl trots along the streets in these early morning groups bareheaded and bare-armed, with about twenty-five cents worth of clothes on her and a mass of glossy black tresses hanging almost to her heels, that would be considered worth a fortune by an American belle.

Fire Escape for School Buildings. A novel system of fire escape for school buildings has been suggested by Capt. Egan, assistant chief of the Boston fire department, which upon its face looks as if it might prove of considerable practical value. His idea is to utilize the large yard area to be found about nearly every school house in Boston and erect an ornamental iron tower a short distance from the building.

This tower would contain a broad iron staircase leading from the top to the ground. From each floor of the school house a covered bridge would lead into the tower, and the door leading from the school room to the bridge would be kept unlocked during school hours. The rooms on each floor would connect with each other, and in case of fire the scholars could have unobstructed access to the bridge. By such an arrangement, whenever a fire broke out there would always be an egress open, and even if matters became serious, the iron tower and bridge would remain unburned. The plan appears to be perfectly feasible, and the expense would, it is said, not be much more than what is laid out on the present fire escapes. And we should think the same plan might be adopted for factories and other buildings where numbers of persons are employed on the different floors of the building.—Fire and Water.

COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

A special meeting of the common council of the city of Marquette was held in the council room on Thursday, the 24th day of May, A. D. 1888, Mayor Clark presiding.

At roll call there were present Aldermen Connors, Dolf, Ekstrom, Hennessey, Mack, Palmer and Rule.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and on motion approved.

The petition of residents and property owners, asking that a sewer be constructed "along Arch street from High to Front, thence along Front street to Bluff street, to connect with the sewer already laid in Front street from Bluff to Washington street," was, on motion, referred to the street committee.

The petition of residents and tax payers in the First ward, signed by twenty-five persons, asking the city to furnish them with a night policeman, stating that the property interests there are now quite important and valuable, and owing to the small number of the present police force said ward is without protection—was referred to the committee of police, claims and grievances.

The communication of Cecil Patenaude offering the piece of land in dispute to the city, or property owners, for $1,000, and stating he is willing to donate to the city land on the north side of his property for a boulevard on Prospect street, was, on motion, ordered placed on file.

The petition of Smith & Wilson for the privilege of using a portion of Third and Washington streets for building purposes, was, on motion, granted, and the recorder instructed to notify them how much of said streets they are allowed to occupy in accordance with the city charter.

The petition of property owners, etc., with eighteen signatures, asking that Hampton street be graded, macadamized and curbed and sidewalks laid on each side, was, on motion, referred to the street committee.

The communication of John Flynn asking for the balance due on his Rock street sewer contract, was, on motion, referred to the street committee.

The liquor bond of Gilbert Goulet with Jacob Brown and Joseph E. Reau, as sureties, was, on motion, accepted. The aforesaid bond was accidentally overlooked at the last meeting.

On motion of Alderman Hennessey, seconded by Alderman Dolf, the resolution passed at the last council meeting to allow Berg & Munson $500 on their Superior street sewer contract—less the cost of the sewer pipe—was reconsidered, and it was moved and carried that said Berg & Munson be allowed five hundred dollars ($500) on the aforesaid contract.

Ayes—Aldermen Connors, Dolf, Ekstrom, Hennessey, Mack, Palmer and Rule. Nays—None.

Moved and carried that the profile of Hewitt avenue and the estimates on the Carp river bridge be referred to the street committee.

L. C. Palmer, chairman of the finance committee, reported and stated that the floating indebtedness of the city is now paid up, leaving a balance on hand, to date, of $960.30 as per statement of the city treasurer.

The special committee to which was referred the matter of examining the books of the city treasurer, reported as follows:

We, the auditors appointed to examine city treasurer Erie's books during the past year, have done so, checking all the additions in journal and ledger and comparing all entries with vouchers and other data, and find the same correct in the journal. We append trial balances for the convenience of the incoming treasurer, and we also file a copy of which with this report. The balance of cash account, $1,469.88, has been handed over to treasurer Mahts, and he has passed his receipt for same, which is also attached to the report.

(Signed) G. W. RULE, L. C. PALMER.

Marquette, May 12, 1888.

On motion, sundry bills presented for payment were referred to the next meeting.

On motion of Alderman Rule, seconded by Alderman Dolf, the following resolution was carried:

Resolved, That the board of trustees of the White library, and the board of school inspectors are hereby authorized and requested to make such rules and regulations as they may approve, for the better conducting and management of the White and school libraries.

Moved and carried that the regular meeting of the common council be changed from the first Saturday to the first Monday of each month for the present year.

There having been no bids in at the proper time for the grading, macadamizing, curbing, etc., of Seventh street, the recorder was, on motion, instructed to again advertise for proposals for the same.

The following preamble and resolution was presented:

WHEREAS, Due notice, as required by law, has been given to the owners of those pieces or parcels of land required by the common council in laying out, opening and widening Hewitt avenue from the shore of Lake St. Clair to the west line of Fourth street, as described in the resolution relating thereto adopted by said common council on the 30th day of April, 1888, and said common council would meet at the time and place specified in such resolution for the purpose therein stated, and that the said common council in laying out, opening and widening said street requires said pieces or parcels of land; and said common council having been unable to agree with any of the said several owners, for the taking of the same, or upon the price to be paid therefor; therefore be it

Resolved, That Hewitt avenue be and the same is hereby laid out, opened and widened to the width and between the points specified in the resolution aforesaid and that the recorder of the city be and is hereby directed to issue a venire facias commanding the marshal thereof to summon and return a jury of twelve disinterested free holders to appear before him, said recorder, within and at such reasonable time as said recorder may designate therein, to inquire into and determine the necessity for using such ground and the just compensation to be paid therefor to the owner or owners or parties interested therein.

On motion of Alderman Rule, seconded by Alderman Dolf, the aforesaid resolution was carried.

Ayes—Aldermen Connors, Dolf, Ekstrom, Hennessey, Mack, Palmer and Rule; nays—none.

Moved and seconded that the special assessment roll for the Superior street sewer be confirmed, but there being objection raised to said roll, after considerable discussion it was moved by Alderman Connors, and seconded by Alderman Palmer, and carried, that the matter of considering and adjusting aforesaid assessment roll in connection with side streets, etc., etc., be referred till the next meeting of the common council.

The council then, on motion, adjourned.

A BUILDING BOOM.

That Comes Pretty Near Being What Ishpe- ming is Having This Spring.

FINED $50 FOR REFUSING TO ASSIST AN OFFICER.

Officer Archie Secures Damages From John Truan—New Assay Office—Kennedy's Case—Telegraph Extension.

Building Notes.
Half a dozen new houses are now nearly completed in the Lake Bancroft district, and new buildings are going up all over the city. It is quite likely that more dwellings will be put up in Ishpe- ming this year than last, despite the alleged "hard times" which are supposed to prevail here.

Martha Peterson is putting up a substantial dwelling on Bank street, and is improving his property on North Third street. Fred J. Egan is also building a neat house on the lot adjoining. Other buildings are going up, or projected, on Bank street this season.

H. Asgaard's two new houses on Ridge street are nearly completed, and the plasterers are now finishing their work. The larger of the two will be occupied by Mr. Asgaard.

Peter Adolf is building a house on North Third street, as is also John Olson.

Joe Covieau has nearly finished enlarging and repairing the three houses owned by him at the corner of South Second and Pearl streets. James Blackney's building at the corner of Second and Division streets is nearly enclosed. Mrs. Ekre is enlarging her business building at the corner of Cleveland avenue and Second street.

W. D. Nelson's large new house on Euclid street will be completed soon. H. O. Young's $6,000 house on North Pine street will be ready for occupancy about June 15th. C. R. Ely will build a $6,000 residence this year. Dr. T. A. Felch will also put up a fine house at the corner of Ridge and North Lake streets this season. Geo. A. Newett is building a house on North Oak street, and John S. Olson will start work on another soon. All of the min- utes are at work. The city is growing rapidly this year, despite the dullness of the ore market.

Finced $50 and Costs.
On Saturday morning Samuel Anderson, who refused to assist Marshal Scully when called on the day previous, was arrested and tried before Justice Kennedy. It was found that he had declined to assist the marshal on the ground that the officer had no warrant. Samuelson was found guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and the costs of prosecution, with the alternative of 15 days in jail. Not having the money he was taken to the city jail, but later in the day paid the fine and costs.

Anderson is a hard-working man, and will feel the loss of the money, but there was a principle at stake, and it was necessary that the public should be given to understand that an officer who calls on a citizen for assistance must be obeyed and aided. The justice did not impose the full penalty of the law, which is very severe.

Officer Archie Victorians.
Last summer John Truan, of Negaunee, came to Ishpe- ming, collected $110 in rent, and got full of budge. The effect of Ishpe- ming whisky on Negauneeites is invariably harmful. They are so habituated to the use of the non-intoxicating article retailed by Negaunee dispensaries under that name, that a few drinks of the "genuine stuff" usually upsets their reason and produces a greater or less degree of physical paralysis as a side result. This was the way it worked on Mr. Truan, and while he was in this state he was arrested and locked up.

On the morning following Mr. Truan found that he had no money left. After paying the light fine usually imposed for such indiscretions as getting drunk and describing imperfect circles around convenient lamp posts, he proceeded to do it some more, at the same time informing a score or so of particular friends in various saloons that he had been robbed by policeman Charles Archie. His charge against the officer obtained considerable publicity, and to protect his reputation, Archie began suit against Truan for defamation of character. The case was tried at Marquette on Friday and Saturday last, and the jury brought in a verdict awarding $75 damages to the plaintiff. The costs in the case, which Truan must also pay, amount to about as much more.

New Assay Office.
Messrs. Rattle & Nye, the celebrated Cleveland assayists, have decided to open a branch office in the Lake Superior Iron district, under the charge of Mr. Mintz, an experienced metallurgist. The new office will be opened in this city in the McKoy block next week.

Severine Anderson, the chimney sweeper, who thought that he had the whole field in Ishpe- ming to himself since the sudden departure of his only business competitor some weeks ago, is now in very low spirits on account of the arrival of three tramps who follow the same calling. Severine is considering the advisability of forming a union and boycotting the invaders, but doubts his ability to fill all the offices of a union in which he would be the sole member. However, his inventive genius is at work, and if he doesn't find some way to drive out the scabs and protect an established home industry of seventeen years standing, the MINING JOURNAL will miss its guess.

Additional Ishpeming.

Board of Review. The board of review will hold its final sessions to-day and to-morrow, to hear complaints made by taxpayers about their assessments, and revise the roll prepared by city assessor Alexander.

The previous sessions of the board have been lively ones, and the concluding ones will be fully as interesting. The number of complaints heard increases with the number of taxpayers.

The new law requiring that the holders of mortgages on real estate must pay taxes on the same has increased the value of personal property several thousand dollars and has proved a great stumbling block to the board of review.

The assault of Ed. Kennedy on marshal Scully was the principal topic of conversation on the streets Saturday. The opinion of all good citizens seemed to be that Kennedy was wholly in the wrong, and that his offense was a grave one.

Walsh and Tislov, in addition to doing a big business in the way of making vehicles of all sorts, running a first-class livery stable and furnishing the city an alderman and chief of the fire department in the person of the junior partner of the firm, handles a full line of agricultural implements.

Residents on East Bank street want that thoroughfare macadamized this year. They say that as the street is only 40 feet wide it wouldn't require very much rock to put it in good shape.

Mr. Truan left. After imposed for drunk and around coned to do it informing a ds in various ed by police- charge against ble publicity.

possible guarantee that the club is now a success.

If you haven't cleared up your yard, do so at once. You can't stand the authorities off; not even with an ax.

The Change at the Detroit. TO THE MINING JOURNAL.—Owing to a change of mining captains at the Detroit mine—Captain Officer having resigned, and Captain Joseph C. Thomas, of Ishpeming, having been selected to fill the vacancy—the men employed were temporarily laid off while the change was being made.

Mr. George Stanton, of Houghton, is in Ishpeming on business and is quartered at the Nelson.

Maurice Stein, representing the big Chicago wholesale house of Stein & Ellbogen, is calling on customers here. Mr. Stein had his portrait printed in the "Keystone" recently as one of the live men of the jewelry trade, but it hasn't made him conceited, and people will find him just as affable as ever.

Dr. W. A. Hammond Talks About the Self Accused Criminal. I proposed to show that no uncommon circumstance for persons to confess to having perpetrated crimes of which they were either certainly or probably innocent, and that there are forces in operation in the human mind which may prompt to the making of a false confession, even though by so doing life, liberty or property be put in danger.

J. H. Browne's Theater company closed a three night's engagement at the opera house on Saturday evening. There was a large attendance on the opening night, a better on the second, and a house packed as full as it could hold Saturday night.

Trout are said to be plentiful, and are biting well, in the Escanaba. The fish must, indeed, be numerous and hungry to furnish full baskets to all anglers who visit that well-whipped stream.

Anyone who has found a gray stamped leather purse, containing two bills and some change in silver, will confer a great favor on Mrs. C. H. Hall, the owner, by returning it to her. A suitable reward will be paid to the finder.

ENORMOUS OIL GEYSERS.

Russian Wells That Produce More Than a Whole American Field. Statistics of the oil business in Russia have just reached this country, and American oil men are studying them with a great deal of interest.

The record is given of a well driven by the Nobel Brothers, called the "Droojla well." It cost $7,500 to drill. The record of the well is thus stated:

The spray from one of these geysers was blown through the air for eight miles. Five hundred wells have been sunk in the Baku districts, 200 of which, irrespective of the enormous fountains, are now producing 500,000 gallons of oil every year.

Anecdote of Roscoe Conkling. He deliberately offended people, or he deliberately pleased people, according to the whim of the moment or the necessities of a case. I recall a very marked illustration of this, which occurred during the Indiana gubernatorial campaign, when the fate of Garfield and Arthur and Hancock and English was in the balance.

Fat and Dull Royalty. The obesity of the queen of England has been bequeathed to all her feminine descendants. It is difficult for the average American to understand the English monarch, when she looks like a heavy-witted and dull woman, but she is good natured and loves her people.

Division of Land in California. The big ranches of California are disappearing with great rapidity. They will soon be among the things of the past. Until very recent years the big ranches of California were in the nature of a public calamity. The owners could not or would not cultivate them; nor would they subdivide and sell them to persons who would cultivate them.

Fallen Into Selfishness. Abby Morton Diaz in her remarks contended that the most effective work for humanity is not always among the working women, or the repulsively bad or miserably poor; that there are found among the well to do women and the rich many whose standards of virtue, ambitions low, aims unworthy, their occupations frivolous, and their lives centered upon self; that this class of persons are often more truly fallen than those we have so often branded as such; that she is the fallen woman who falls into selfishness, or who lives chiefly in her own lower nature.—New York Graphic.

Not a few of the citizens of Marquette have recently become greatly excited over the astounding facts, that several of their friends who had been pronounced by their physicians as incurable and beyond all hope—suffering with that dreaded monster Consumption—have been completely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, Cough, Colds, Asthma and Bronchitis. Y. M. C. A. BOOK RECEPTION AT THE ASSOCIATION PARLORS TO-NIGHT.

The Great Cathedral Concert—It Sounded Him—Saturday Night in Town—At Presque Isle—Notes.

Next Sunday.

The officers of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic announce that on Sunday, June 3rd, at 6 a. m., a new time table will go into effect on the road and that commencing with that date the passenger trains of the South Shore road will run to and from Mackinac City, instead of St. Ignace, being transferred by the steamer St. Ignace and making direct connections in the union depot with trains on the Michigan Central and Grand Rapids & Indiana railroads for all points north and east. On the same date the night express trains will be restored and through sleeping cars, of the largest and most elegant pattern, will run daily between Detroit and Houghton via the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic and Michigan Central lines. The first lot of the new passenger coaches now in process of construction for the South Shore line will be delivered, it is expected, by June 1st, in which case the day and night through express trains will be made up of new coaches throughout. In all events the first of the new cars will be used for these trains just as soon as they arrive.

The Book Reception.
At 8 o'clock this evening the Marquette Young Men's Christian association will hold its first "book reception" in the parlors of the association building, at which time every friend and well wisher of the Y. M. C. A. is asked to be present and to bring with him or her one or more bound volumes for the association library which it is the object of this reception to start. A number of books have already reached the association, some from other places. One lady in the city has presented ten volumes from her own library to the Y. M. C. A. and intends to buy five more for the same purpose while a gentleman has signified his intention of sending thirteen volumes from his library. The following will be the program for the evening:
Horn Quartette. . . . . By members of M. C. B. Prayer. . . . . Mr. G. L. Burris
Bass Solo. . . . . Mr. C. A. Towne
Remarks. . . . . Messrs. Cole and Richardson
Piano Duet. . . . . Miss Hyde
Reading. . . . . Mrs. Cramer
Soprano Solo. . . . . Mrs. Cramer
Cornet Duet. . . . . By members of M. C. B.
Male Quartette. . . . . Messrs. Chappel, Westlake, Corlis and Butterfield.
Reading. . . . . Mr. C. A. Towne
Club Singing. . . . . Mr. Geo. Williams Social.

A Grand Concert.
The preparations for the great concert to be given in St. Peter's cathedral in this city on Tuesday evening, June 5th, are rapidly being completed. A fine classical program will be rendered, the singing being by a chorus of one hundred voices selected from the best singers on the upper peninsula, assisted by Mr. Charles A. Kuor, of Chicago, one of the best known tenors in the northwest, and by Miss Geneva Johnson, the charming Chicago soprano. The orchestra will comprise twenty pieces with Mr. Charles A. Fohrman as conductor. Reserved seats will soon be placed on sale at the usual places in this and neighboring cities, the admission being $1.
Special trains will be run at the following rates for the round trip: Houghton, $1.50; Baraga, $1.50; L'Anse, $1.25; Michigamme, $1; Champion, $1; Republic, $1.25; Humboldt, $1; Ishpeming, $1; Negaunee, $1.50. As the concert is for the benefit of St. Peter's cathedral, the main cathedral itself being used for the first time that night, a great number will undoubtedly attend from the up-the-road cities and towns as well as from Marquette.

Vinegar and Wormwood.
An Train possesses two papers where one would find itself a crowd and very naturally each editor, as viewed by the other, is the meanest man in Michigan. This feeling is so strong, it appears, that it even extends to the outsider who has the audacity to mention either favorably. Some days ago Mr. E. C. Cox, editor of the Alpha, sent a large box of trout to the editors of the MINING JOURNAL and one or two other friends in this city. As it happened the city editor was not on duty at the time, but the gentleman who was temporarily filling his position very properly acknowledged the courtesy shown the office. Now comes the Republican, also of Au Train, with nearly half a column of its first and only page devoted to a tirade about the "soft soap and taffy" which it alleges that "Kelsey of the MINING JOURNAL" dealt out to "friend Cox," the whole appearing in the guise of a communication. At first the individual named was inclined to believe that the "communication" was written in the Republican office, but a closer examination did not reveal quite enough grammatical errors to the line to fully warrant such an assumption. The MINING JOURNAL is pained to see that "soft soap and taffy" for Cox should prove such an unpleasant dose for the Republican, but it is forced to laugh at the expense of its diminutive contemporary because it barked so viciously at the wrong tree. That's where the "joke" comes in.

Saturday Evening.
Front street was a miniature Broadway all Saturday evening from the New Clifton to the Hotel Marquette, presenting the liveliest appearance ever made by an upper peninsula street with no circus or excursion to bring out a crowd. The Van Dopele electric lights made the scene a beautiful one, while each sidewalk was crowded with people moving constantly. Early in the evening the Wentworth drum corps turned out and marched about the city, the boys having on their new uniforms and having bell attachments on their drums. They attracted great attention, their perfect drill and splendid execution with the sticks causing many admiring remarks. Later in the evening the Marquette City band turned out on Washington street, where it gave a magnificent open air concert, playing so splendidly and such a high order of music that even its warmest supporters found that they had not ranked the organization high enough in the musical world. Between the roll of the drums on Front street, the music on Washington street, and the constant passing and re-passing of thousands of people under the brilliant rays of the electric light, the city seemed to have a Christmas eve air about it, while it certainly appeared full of life.

At Presque Isle.
Nearly half the city moved out to Presque Isle yesterday notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the sky and the coolness of the day. Every livery rig in town was taken and a good part of the afternoon the road was black with pedestrians while many went out in row boats. Several of the liveries had their busses and carry-alls out. During the afternoon the M. C. B. gave a very fine sacred concert on the side of the park nearest the city and the sweet strains of music could be heard clearly throughout the northern part of the town, the perfect stillness of the air making almost every note audible.

At Service.
Albert Jackson post No. 300, G. A. R., attended service yesterday morning at the Methodist church in a body, about twenty members of the post, with four or five visiting members of the G. A. R., being out. Rev. Isaac Wilcox, the pastor, chose as his text "Fight the good fight of faith," and his sermon and address are spoken of as masterpieces, and among the very finest ever heard in the city. The church was packed, and at the close of the services the entire congregation joined in the singing of "America."

This Morning.
At 10 o'clock this morning the jury of twelve property holders selected for the Hewitt avenue condemnation proceedings will look over the property in dispute in order to form an opinion as to its value. They go prepared to pull up every tree and shrub to see if there are roots on them or whether they have had a mushroom growth just for appearance's sake.

"Mono-hippie" Is Good.
The Alger County Republican having incautiously made some comment on the fact that paving contracts had been let in Gladstone aggregating a good many thousand dollars, and having asked where the money was coming from, Mason, of the Delta, makes this lively rejoinder which the Republican will doubtless find more than satisfactory:
The Delta dates this choice extract in order that the reader may not think it was written year before last. As questions are in the Republican's lines we may ask why it was led to assume a falsehood. The paragraph quoted from the News states the exact facts. This is because, whatever else may be said of the Detroit paper, it has a newspaper man for its state editor. If the Republican really wishes an answer to its questions, here it is: The people of Gladstone pay for this extensive improvement and it is to benefit the people of Gladstone. The Republican errs in supposing that because Gladstone is not a monophippic county seat on the Soo-Mackinac short line with two well-earned six-column quarto newspapers, it is therefore destitute of enterprise and is willing to take a back seat for anything built by human hands. It is evident that the Republican travels but little and can scarcely believe that there are towns upon which no insects pause to pasture.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS.
The work of moving the Marquette Steam Yacht company's new yacht down to the lake was commenced Saturday.

The MINING JOURNAL is indebted to Congressman Seymour for a copy of his speech on the Mills bill and also of the river and harbor bill as it passed the house. The bill appropriates $25,000 for Marquette harbor to be expended when the harbor limits are considered satisfactory by the secretary of war.
On Saturday in the circuit court a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff for $75 and costs in the slander case of Archer vs. Truman.
