THE FISHERY TREATY.

Frye, of Maine, Makes the Opening Public Speech on That Subject.

FURTHER DISCUSSION POSTPONED TILL THE ELEVENTH OF JUNE.

The Grade of General of the Army Revived. Likely to be Cleveland and Thurman—The House.

THE SENATE.

PUBLIC BUILDING BILL VETOED. WASHINGTON, May 29.—A message was read from the president, returning without his approval the bill appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Youngstown, Ohio.

Mr. Sherman said the people of Youngstown and vicinity and the people of Ohio would be surprised at the character of the message just read. The people would like the president to be impartial. Youngstown was one of the most flourishing towns in the United States, with probably 30,000 inhabitants and with a postal revenue of some $40,000. The president had allowed the bill to pass for Portsmouth, Ohio, a town which did not contain half the population of Youngstown. The reason given in the president's message seemed to him to be paltry, not a polite phrase, he admitted. He understood that the president was

IN FAVOR OF THE BILL reported by the senator from Missouri (West) allowing postoffice buildings in towns of 4,000 or 5,000 inhabitants and for which he (Sherman) intended to vote when it was put in proper form. Both houses of congress had passed the Youngstown bill by a unanimous vote and they should now assert their power with the utmost kindness to the president, for he liked him in many respects. He asserted that if the president were thus allowed to veto measures that were passed unanimously and where the principle was clear, congress would be abrogating its power and surrendering its authority. The presidential veto would be as the veto of a Roman emperor or a Russian czar.

Mr. Sherman's remarks were replied to by Mr. Vest and Mr. Call, and after considerable debate the message was referred to the committee on public buildings.

Mr. Manderson, from the committee on military affairs, reported the bill to revive the grade of general of the United States army. He said its purpose was to revive, during the life time of the present lieutenant-general of the army, the grade of general of the army. Both of these grades were to cease with the life of Lieut. Gen. Sheridan. He would not take up the time in referring to the occasion which made the bill a proper one for immediate consideration, and therefore asked unanimous consent to have the bill considered.

Mr. Berry objected and the bill was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Sherman moved that the senate proceed to the consideration of the fisheries treaty in open session. The motion was agreed to and the presiding officer declared that the senate was in open session for the consideration of the fisheries treaty; that the treaty was open to amendment, and that the senator from Maine (Frye) was entitled to the floor.

Mr. Frye said the question before the senate involved the dignity and honor of a great republic and the rights of its citizens. It could not be obscured by the president of the United States intimating that in the event of the failure of the treaty he would resort to a law which congress had passed in such a way as should put in jeopardy, and might destroy, all the business interests of the great north. It could not be belittled by interviews furnished to the Boston Herald; nor by letters written to a banqueting party in New York, in which it was declared that every man who opposed the ratification of the treaty was either controlled by personal prejudice, by partisanship or by profound ignorance; nor by the administration papers flippantly and jeeringly suggesting that it would be better to buy up the Yankee fishermen and their fleet. The question before the senate was, should the citizens of the United States, not the fishermen but the citizens as well, be protected against the injustice and

WRONGS AND OUTRAGE inflicted by a neighboring nation, emboldened to it only because it rested under theegis of a mighty power beyond the seas. Our country had not protected its fishermen, and so Canada commenced by every conceivable outrage, wrong and injustice, to drive our vessels away. She drove them to sea in storms, seized them on the high seas and searched them, put armed men on board and literally confined their captains and crews in their own vessels with the American flag flying over them. They were tried in the colonial courts and their vessels confiscated, one after another, until the perils of the sea were not half as many as the terrors of the law on shore. He declared that the modus vivendi only secured to us on the payment of $1.50 per ton the commercial privileges to which we were already fully entitled. He said the Canadians

CONTINUED THE OUTRAGES in season and out of season and the congress of the United States was just on the point of passing a retaliatory law in response to a petition from the fishermen of

New England when diplomacy was again resorted to, resulting in the treaty of '71. We had just emerged from a terrible conflict during which Great Britain clearly desired that this country should be cut in two in the middle. She wanted the southern market and had not the slightest regard to the right. She recognized the belligerent rights on the part of the south, joined with France in an attempt to build up a monarchy in Mexico and sent troops of war to Canada, and built vessels, armed and equipped them and sent them out on the ocean to destroy our commerce. When the war was over, our people who had been damaged by her cruisers sent in their claims and Great Britain refused to pay them. Then our peace-loving President Grant sent a message to his people saying to them, "send me your bills and

I WILL COLLECT THEM in time," and then negotiations for a treaty were had. The Alabama claims were put into the treaty and other matters were also included and the treaty was made. It stipulated that if there was any balance due Canada for the privilege given us of the right to fish we should pay it, and that commissioners should be appointed to see if anything was due. We also gave them a free market for their fish. A commissioner was appointed and we had for our commissioner a weak old man, no more fit to cope with Sir John Macdonald or Sir Charles Tupper, than Mr. Bayard is (Laughter) with Joseph Chamberlain in diplomacy. The uprise was Mr. Delfosse, of Belgium—practically owned by Great Britain—and Great Britain knew it when he was appointed. Mr. Frye related the story of the investigation by the commission and its findings. "That attempt at diplomacy," said Mr. Frye,

"cost us $11,500,000."

Here Mr. Frye told about the ignorance of Secretary Bayard as to the fishing question at the time of the negotiations. "But," continued Mr. Frye, "England had a man here who was not ignorant of the matter, and that was Minister West. It was Mr. West who persuaded Secretary Bayard to have a commission settle the fisheries rights, and the president recommended it." Mr. Frye then referred sarcastically to the meetings of the commissioners at Washington. "And what was the result?" he asked. "Here it is," he said, holding up a copy of the treaty. "The mountain labored; there is the mouse. All that I have to say about the treaty is that it is the most disgraceful, humiliating and cowardly surrender which the American republic ever made in its whole history, not excepting the treaty of 1818."

At this stage of his remarks Mr. Frye complained that the air was exceedingly oppressive, and suggested that the senate take a recess for half an hour and the gallery doors and windows be ordered opened.

At the close of the recess the bill to revive the grade of general of the United States army was again taken up on motion of Mr. Manderson, who moved its passage.

Mr. Berry said he objected to its consideration because he believed the bill should not pass. He did not believe this the proper time to legislate on the subject. He thought that the judgment and reason of congress, not its sympathies, should be appealed to in legislation. It appeared to him that the only object of the bill was to give $5,000 more pay to the lieutenant-governor than he was receiving. He demanded a vote on its passage.

Mr. Manderson said he could not sit silent after the suggestion from the senator from Arkansas that the sole purpose of the bill was to give an increased salary to the lieutenant-general of the army. If that was its purpose, he would not have pressed the bill, nor would the senate pass it. He did not need to refer to the distinguished career of Lieutenant-General Sheridan. It was too well known to the American people and the world to need any remarks from him. The bill was not urged on the ground of sympathy, but on the ground of General Sheridan's high deserts and of a proper appreciation of his service to the American people. The bill was then passed—yeas 34, nays 7.

Mr. Frye then resumed his argument against the fisheries treaty.

In conclusion, Mr. Frye said: "I say to you, Mr. President, that a most grievous wrong has been wrought by this treaty making. The president of the United States has practically taken the Canadian side of this controversy. The secretary of state also and the great democratic party of the nation are arrayed on the side of Canada and against American fishermen. I say these steps that have been taken can never be retraced. That, in the long future, we shall never be permitted to stand where we stood only one year ago, when we claimed here in the senate that we would defend the rights of American fishermen against Great Britain or any other power on earth. We have surrendered that right. We have yielded it. We have said, through the president of the United States, in solemn language, that the treaty is just, fair and all that could be demanded by us. Hereafter and forever our mouths are closed. Again I declare that this treaty is a dishonorable, humiliating and cowardly surrender."

Mr. Gray obtained the floor to make a speech on the treaty, but its further consideration was, on motion of Mr. Beck, who said that he and other senators desired to attend the St. Louis convention, postponed till Monday, June 11th. A motion to postpone till December next was entered by Mr. Morgan and is now pending.

Motions to publish the proceedings in the executive sessions, past and future, in the Congressional Record, was made and agreed to.

The senate then adjourned till Thursday.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

CLEVELAND AND THURMAN. WASHINGTON, May 29.—Secretary Whitney is quoted as authority for the statement that Allan G. Thurman, of Ohio, has consented to become a candidate for the vice-presidency. The secretary is understood to be the man to whom was assigned the task of securing the approval of the aged Ohio statesman to the plan proposed by the faction opposed to Governor Gray. Last evening a conference was held, among those present being Scott, of Pennsylvania, Senator Gorman and Mr. Whitney, when the result of the secretary's mission was made known. As Judge Thurman's candidacy is authorized by the administration, his nomination is considered certain.

The president has vetoed the bill appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Youngstown, Ohio.

Mrs. Sheridan this afternoon sent to Senator Manderson the thanks of General Sheridan for the good news that the bill reviving the grade of general has passed the senate.

The president has vetoed the bill providing for a public building at Columbus, Ga.

A delegation from Kentucky called at the White house to-day and invited the president, in case he visited Cincinnati on the Fourth of July, to extend his trip to Louisville. The president said, with a smile, that he would accept the invitation in case he was in that neighborhood.

AN APPROPRIATION BILL UP.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Immediately after the reading of the journal this morning the house went into committee of the whole on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. An amendment was adopted appropriating $22,000 to meet the expenses of the twelfth biennial session of the legislature of Washington territory.

Mr. Carry (Wyo) offered and advocated an amendment providing that the governor and the other officers of Wyoming Territory be appointed from among the residents of that territory. The amendment was ruled out on a point of order.

Mr. Perkins (Kas) offered an amendment requiring the ten inspectors of land claims to be appointed from the clerks in the general land office. He said that Andrew J. Sparks, late commissioner of the land office, had issued an order suspending all entries in a large section of the country and had devoted his official life to harassing and embarrassing the poor settlers in their efforts to secure homes. He was all right as long as he confined himself to staking down the poor settlers, but when he attempted to use some of his methods against a railroad company, he was ordered by the administration to step down and out.

The amendment was ruled out on a point of order.

The committee finally rose and reported the bill and amendments to the house. Mr. Holman (Ind) demanded a separate vote on the amendment increasing the clerical force of the civil service commission. The vote resulted—37 to 66, and the point of no quorum was made.

The house then adjourned until Thursday.

Whitelaw Reid Says the Nomination Must Come to Blaine Spontaneously, If at All.

A SYMPATHIC STATEMENT. CINCINNATI, May 29.—The Commercial-Gazette to-day prints a statement by Whitelaw Reid in regard to Mr. Blaine's candidacy, in answer to the question: "Would Mr. Blaine accept the nomination?" Mr. Reid's exact language is: "That is too hard a question. But I can tell you this—he certainly would not accept the nomination if it must be fought for. It must come spontaneously—unsought and unanimous—or I am sure he would not take it. He does not want it, and might not take it under any circumstance. He certainly would not take it unless the overwhelming desire for his candidacy is so manifest that he is nominated without opposition in the convention." The Commercial-Gazette says editorially this morning: "The remark, which is carefully verified, coming from so close a friend to Mr. Blaine, is unusually significant."

The Y. M. C. A. Convention. GRAND RAPIDS, May 29.—The eighteenth annual convention of the general secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. of the United States and British colonies opened to-night and will continue in session until June 3rd. About one hundred delegates have arrived and 300 more are expected.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM BLAINE TO WHITELAW REID.

New York, May 30.—The Tribune today publishes the following letter from Mr. Blaine:

"PARIS, May 17, 1888.

"Whitelaw Reid, Esq., Editor N. Y. Tribune.

My dear Sir:—Since my return to Paris from southern Italy on the 8th inst., I have learned, what I did not before believe, that my name may yet be presented to the national convention as a candidate for the presidential nomination of the republican party.

AN UNCONDITIONAL WITHDRAWAL of my name from the national convention. They have, in consequence, given their support to the eminent gentlemen who are candidates for the Chicago nomination, some of whom, I am sure, would not have consented to assume that position if I had desired to represent the party in the presidential contest of 1888.

BY ANY POSSIBLE CHANCE be offered to me, I could not accept it without leaving in the minds of thousands of men the impression that I had not been free from indiscretion, and therefore I could not accept it at all.

The second round was a repetition of the first, even to the deadly lock, except that Wannop persisted in hanging on to his antagonist's neck and was given a clean fall with both shoulders down for his persistence.

HE IS MUCH BETTER.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—General Sheridan was much better this morning. Colonel Blunt said at 7 A. M. that the general had passed a very comfortable night, and one of the physicians said that everything seemed to be more favorable.

A bulletin issued at 1 P. M. said: "Since the morning bulletin whatever change has taken place in General Sheridan's condition is for the better."

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 30, 1888.

Entered as mail matter of the second class, in the post office at Marquette, Mich.

The Railroad Gazette gives the gross earnings of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic for the first four months of 1888 as $301,956, as compared with $211,497 for the corresponding period in 1887, a gain of $90,459 or 42.6 per cent.

This morning's dispatches reaffirm the report that Allen G. Thurman will accept the nomination for the vice-presidency if tendered him at St. Louis. The "old red bandanna" may be the battle flag of the democracy in the coming campaign.

GRESHAM'S boom seems to have taken a firm hold in the state of Minnesota. The St. Paul and Minneapolis republican papers have all swung out for him, even the Tribune having decided to come in out of the wet and find shelter in the Gresham tent.

The eastern press isn't inquiring "Who is Alger?" so numerous just now as might be. That suspicious wink of old Simon Cameron the other day when he mentioned a "soldier candidate" seems to have placed the man from Michigan in a new light.

The Marquette Mining Journal is beginning to have so much respect for the Gorbic range that it "does not doubt its ability to produce 1,500,000 tons of ore" this year if we could sell it. Last season the MINING JOURNAL wasted a good deal of ink to prove that we didn't have a 1,500,000 ton capacity.—Gorbic Mining Record.

If Perry will question some of his neighboring contemporaries he will discover that the MINING JOURNAL had the courage of its convictions and won every bet made on its figures.

ACCORDING to the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph, there is a strong possibility of a consolidation of interests between the Edison and Westinghouse electrical companies, resulting in one of the strongest and most profitable corporations in the world. It is said that the terms of consolidation are already under consideration. Each has something that the other needs, and an amalgamation of interests is the only road out of their present quarrels. Edison's suits against the Westinghouse company not meeting with the success which would enable him to settle affairs entirely according to his own will.

The great Garfield monument in Lake View cemetery at Cleveland is nearly completed and will be dedicated in October, the work of arranging the program for the occasion having already been commenced. According to the original plans the monument was to be 225 feet in height, but a fear that the foundation would not bear so heavy a strain led to a change, and as now completed it is 165 feet in height from the base and 180 feet from the roadway, or 10 to 15 feet higher than the "Column of July" and "Arc de Triomphe" in France, Pisa's famous "Leaning Tower" and others of the great monuments of the world. It is designed as a memorial tomb and the interior will be one of the most beautiful in the world, second only to the Albert memorial in England which cost ten times as much. Completed, the Garfield monument will cost between $175,000 and $200,000. It was commenced three years ago.

The engineers of the Wisconsin Midland railway completed their survey from Fond du Lac to Madison on May 18th. President Dana L. Lamb, of Fond du Lac, says that the line is exactly seventy miles long; that it will touch Waupun, Beaver Dam and Columbus; that a grade of forty feet to the mile can be maintained for the whole distance; that no tunnels or big bridges will be required, and that the work of construction will begin July 1st and the enterprise pushed as rapidly as possible. He would not state the ultimate object of the Midland in running to Madison, but there is no question, according to railroad men, but that the enterprise is backed either by the Illinois Central or the "Q" road. The former company now has a line to Madison from Freeport, and the latter is expected to be there in the near future from East Dubuque. The Midland survey ends suspiciously near the Illinois Central's northern terminus. The Midland is to have a Lake Superior port, probably L'Anse, for its northern terminus.

FOR COPPER.
For some months parties in Marquette have been conducting explorations south of the city for copper, near the new prison grounds, in section 1 of town 47, range 25, attention being first called to the place by an abundant outcropping of green copper ore. As soon as work was commenced and the surface removed, the ore was found to be chalcocite, or copper glance, one of the most valuable of the ores of copper, and the size of the vein leads to the belief that a valuable find has been made. The first work was done on the north-east quarter of the northwest quarter of the section by Peter F. Frei, W. A. and Thomas Foard and A. Pings, under an option from the Iron Cliffs company. They put down a shaft on the vein eight feet square, and on reaching a depth of thirty-two feet, drifted north sixteen feet. All in vein matter, without reaching the wall. From the angle, it is believed that the vein is over thirty feet wide at that depth, having been shown up for twenty-four feet. The vein matter is feldspar. After showing up the property to this extent, the parties named executed an option to J. M. Case, of this city, who has a force of men at work there now continuing the explorations.

The same parties then commenced operations on the northeast quarter of the section under another option from the Iron Cliffs company. They have found the same vein there and it is now under option to J. A. Ames, of Milwaukee, and P. R. Gottstein, of Houghton, who have great confidence in its value. They were in the city this week to look over the property. Mr. George Wagner is in charge of the work for them. A large number of assays have been made of the ore by chemists and mining experts all over the country, showing from 14 to 65 per cent of copper. As the ore is known to exist there in large quantities the prospects for a paying mine are good. The Ames-Gottstein option holds until July 1st. The two explorations are hardly fifteen minutes walk from the prison site and a road has been cut through to them, leaving the Choccolay road a little south of the point of rocks.

THE GREAT STRIKE.
Hello! Hello, there! Mr. Digestion! What's the matter with you down there?
Hello! Mr. Tongue, is that you? Oh, everything is wrong down here. The hands in the Gastric Works have "struck." The Food Assimilation Company have "shut down," and the Bite Supply Pipe Line can't handle their product, and it has overflowed the whole region. Yes! All stood on hand in my apartments has "heated" and "soured." I have stopped work altogether. Can't move without assistance. Say, Mr. Tongue, can't you send down to me a bottle or two of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery? Yes, that Buffalo man's remedy. If you do, I can start up at once. When the liver, stomach, or bowels are deranged, or the digestive "forces" are "on a strike," it is the best "agent" to set the wheels of nature in motion. Druggists have it.

Don't hawk, hawk, and blow, blow, disgusting everybody, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.
CAPT. BARCLAY WON A PRIZE IN A LOTTERY.
Capt. William H. Barclay, the pension agent at Pittsburgh, has drawn a $75,000 prize from the Louisiana State Lottery. He said: "Some time ago I purchased two half tickets at $5. Yesterday I was notified that ticket No. 15,015 had drawn the capital prize of $150,000, and as that is the number of one of my half tickets, I am entitled to half that amount and $25 besides, inasmuch as all tickets ending with the number 15 are good for $50 each. I understand that the other half of the capital prize was won by five Philadelphia mechanics.—Indianapolis (Ind.) Journal, April 24th.

"She Tried and Knows."
A leading chemist of New York says: "No plasters of such merit as the Athlo-phoros Plasters have ever before been produced." They are a novelty because they are not made simply to sell cheap, they are the best that science, skill and money can produce, and will do what is claimed for them. For sprains, aches, weakness, lameness, etc., they are unequalled.
404 Fulton St., Sandusky, O., Nov. 21, '82.
The Athlo-phoros Plaster is like magic. It is the best I ever tried and I have used many kinds. Our druggist said "I never saw all about the same." I don't think so now. I sprained my arm and shoulder in July, and it has been painful since, but it does not pain me at all now. MRS. WILLIS MORGAN.

MARINE NOTES.
Thunder Bay is still frozen, and several vessels there are at a standstill.
The propeller California, which lies sunk in 50 feet of water twelve miles from Mackinaw, on the north shore of Lake Michigan, has been purchased by E. Pease, of East Saginaw, who will raise and repair her. The California foundered in a gale October 3, 1887, and eight lives were lost by the disaster. Divers report her resting on a clay bottom and in excellent condition. She was valued at $35,000.
S. A. Murphy, of Detroit, is in trouble with the Canadian customs. He sent over two of his steam pumps with their appurtenances, all American, to pump the water from the barge Michigan, formerly the Prince Alfred, now lying sunk in the river in front of the West End Hotel, Windsor. To comply with Canadian law the pumps and belongings should have been entered in the Canadian customs and the duty paid thereupon, and it is in consequence of omitting to do so that the whole apparatus is now under seizure.

PROBABLE SHIPWRECK.

A REGAL ENTERTAINMENT.
Sells Brothers' Model Hippodrome, Circus and Menagerie.
If there is anything in the way of immensity, grandeur and superlative general excellence in organizing their standard tented exhibition, which Sells Brothers have not provided for or have neglected to procure, it has not been made manifest by a visit. They have long been in the van in arenic entertainments, but not satisfied with merely "running with the hounds," they have this year determined to lead the pack, and have devoted the entire winter vacation to vastly augmenting and adding to the attractive features of their already formidable show and to disposing by auction of all worn out, discarded and no longer serviceable material and replacing the same with magnificent new paraphernalia and with never-before-presented specialties. The Roman Hippodrome, which forms but a quota of their attractions, will revive in the memories of the visitors the traditions of the turf and gladiatorial sports of the golden days of Rome, and will present thrilling and realistic duplications of the exciting pastimes of that classic period. The fresh faces of many equestrians—equestrians and gymnasts who have won renown at home and abroad—will be seen in the circus rings, and numberless prominent new acts that are astounding will be presented. Those animals in the zoological department which from being annually exhibited for a number of years ago no longer attractive have been disposed of at public sale, and have been replaced by new and rare accessions. The pair of gigantic living hippopotami, the only pair exhibited in the world, outside of one or two zoological gardens in Europe, have been retained. The show will exhibit at Marquette, Monday, June 4th.

Excursions.
The C. & N. W. company will sell excursion tickets to St. Louis, to accommodate those wishing to attend the democratic national convention, at the rate of one fare for the round trip. Such tickets will be sold from June 2nd to June 5th inclusive, and will be good for a return from June 6th to the 11th, inclusive.

Business Manager Edwin Eroy, of the Night Hawks Burlesque Company, called on us, and says he carries one of the best shows on the road. The great American beauty, Miss Wiseman, formerly of the ZoZo Company, and advertised as the $10,000 American beauty, is now a member of the Night Hawks. She will appear at the opera house, IshpeMING.

There will be no special train run from Menominee or Escanaba on the occasion of the sacred concert at Marquette. The managers made efforts to secure one, but the management of the railroad would not grant the request. They did not think it wise to attempt running an excursion train on that division, now so overcrowded with traffic.

The Night Hawk Burlesque Company appeared at the Grand Opera house Saturday night to an immense house, and we will say that a better performance, on the whole, was never seen in our city.—Oil City (Penn.) Derrick.

James Nolan has finished driving the piles for his building near the corner of Cleveland avenue and Second streets. It will be a two-story brick structure.

The Siddons Burlesque company claim to have the handsomest collection of American and English beauties now before the public. At IshpeMING Opera House, Wednesday, May 30th.

The announcement of the death of John Quinn at Negaunee created sincere sorrow here. A large number from this city will attend the funeral Thursday.

The famous Siddons Night Hawks Burlesque company will be at Gylling's Opera House, IshpeMING, Wednesday night, May 30, '88.

Barnum's circus, which is to be here in July, is now in Chicago and the papers there give the tented show a good send off.

Quite a high wind prevailed yesterday morning, and Main street merchants had hard work to satisfactorily reef their awnings.

Gingress' American House is looming up in good shape, the improvements there adding much to its appearance.

The Hicks-Sawyer minstrels, which were here a short time ago, are now playing in Chicago.

IshpeMINGites who have garden patches are putting in their seed potatoes.

RAILROAD GOSSIP.

Notes About What the Railroads Are Doing In and About IshpeMING.

A SWINDLER SKIPS AND LEAVES SEVERAL UNPAID BILLS.

Decoration Day—A Real Estate Transfer. No Special Excursions to St. Louis—Personal Mention.

Railway Notes.
Despite the advice from the lower lake ports that the iron market is very unsatisfactory, there is apparently little decrease in the shipments from this part of the iron region as compared with the amount shipped at a corresponding period last year. At least the railroad yards are crowded just the same as they were last season. On the Chicago & Northwestern road there are thirteen loaded ore trains to handle the shipments over that route from mines here and in Negaunee. In the yards here and at Negaunee the switch engines and crews are hustling all the time to handle the traffic, and then it is hard to make connections. On the D., S. S. & A. road it is the same. They have four switch engines in the two yards and it makes them "hump" to satisfy the demands of the mines for cars. The Cambria mine at Negaunee is sending out from ten to fifteen large gondolas of ore daily to Chicago over the Northwestern. The C. & N. W. is having a heavy ore traffic from the Gogebic branch over its new line to Watersmeet, and the Menominee range is holding its own.

The C. & N. W. extension to Michigan is nearly to Republic, the crossing over the D., S. S. & A. having already been made.

A Swindler Skipped.
A young fellow named Nick Madden took the D., S. S. & A. west-bound train for Ashland Sunday afternoon and several business men here inform the reporter that he left a number of unpaid bills behind him in his hasty departure. He had worked at one of the gold explorations for about six months running an engine. The parties with whom he boarded secured themselves by having his board bill retained at the office, but he left some saloon-keepers, livery men and others in the lurch.

Decoration Day.
To-day is Decoration day, the day appointed to honor the memory of those died in the defence of their country by covering their graves with flowers and holding fitting commemorative services. So far as is known there are no soldiers of the late war entombed here, so that, further than the closing of the banks and public buildings, the day will not be observed here.

Excursions.
The C. & N. W. company will sell excursion tickets to St. Louis, to accommodate those wishing to attend the democratic national convention, at the rate of one fare for the round trip. Such tickets will be sold from June 2nd to June 5th inclusive, and will be good for a return from June 6th to the 11th, inclusive.

A YACHT ON WHEELS.

The New Steam Yacht Jennie R., on her way to the Watering Place.

A SAVAGE ASSAULT MADE BY A GANG OF ORE TRIMMERS.

Closing the Logging Season—Trot Out That Sprinkler—Anxious to Meet Davis. Another Store—Notes.

The Jennie R. The Marquette Steam Yacht company's new yacht, the Jennie R., named after Miss Jennie Rankin, one of Marquette's popular young ladies, and who, by the way, in appreciation of the high compliment, etc., will present her namesake with a handsome set of colors, is now en route for the lake. Last evening she was on rollers and a cradle foundation, the whole forming a neat and substantial truck, near the corner of High and Michigan streets, it being her second day out from the Weston yards. She will be taken to Ridge street, and thence down that street to the water works, where she will be launched.

The Jennie R. is a trim looking craft, and after receiving her upper works will be a thing of beauty. She has a 50-foot keel, is 56-0 over all, 9 feet 1 inch beam, and has a registered tonnage of 7-85-100. Her engine, which is now in place, is of 35 indicated horse power. She will have a cabin running fore and aft, containing eight windows on each side, and will be otherwise handsomely appointed. She will be commanded by Charley Robinson, of Cleveland, son of captain Robinson, who formerly run the old tug Dudley of this place, and it is expected that she will be ready for service in eight or ten days.

Ore Trimmers on the Warpath.

A special to the MINING JOURNAL yesterday from Escanaba says that on Monday, Thomas Richardson, a boss ore trimmer informed his gang of men that it would be necessary to trim a vessel for 3 cents per ton, as it was all he could get. They refused to do the work for less than 4 cents, and were discharged by Richardson, who soon after succeeded in hiring a new crew. When the new men went to work the gang which had been discharged attacked them with pick handles, shovels and such other weapons as could be found, and many of the men attacked were severely injured. Ten of the assaulters are now in jail, awaiting trial for assault with intent to do great bodily harm. This is not the first offense of a like nature, and for the sake of Escanaba's fair name an example may be made of those now under arrest, as a means of preventing further outbreaks of a murderous character.

Closing the Logging Season.

Bob Houghton, the lumberman, informed a MINING JOURNAL reporter last evening that the Whitefish drives were all out, and that he expected to start his drive on the Ives and Pine lakes in a few days, if indeed they were not already at work, he having a full gang of drivers on the ground.

The season's work on these lakes aggregate about two millions and a quarter, they being the first cut in that locality. The lakes are about 45 miles north of Marquette, and the drive will be a short and successful one, being less than five miles to float the logs from Pine Lake to Lake Superior. The logs will be towed to this city and sawed at the Burtis mill.

The million and a half feet of logs gotten out on the Whitefish, the drive of which has just been completed by Mr. Houghton, will be towed to Bay City for sawing.

Powell & Sullivan's last winter's logging operations on the Yellow Dog amounted to about 1,500,000 feet, and those were banked on the shore near Sauk's Head. They will be rafted and towed to Marquette as soon as the services of a tug can be secured.

Trot Out That Sprinkler.

Yesterday in Marquette reminded everybody that the time had again rolled around when a street sprinkler would be just about the checker. The air was full of dust and dirt and pedestrians who were unfortunate enough to be caught on the leeward side of a delivery wagon cursed and foamed and clawed sand out of their eyes by the handful. The attention of the proper authorities is respectfully called to this nuisance. If there is any possible way of remedying it, let's have the benefit of it at once. If the city, or any individual, has a street sprinkler, let 'em trot it out.

Wants to Meet Davis.

Ed Butler, the well-known athlete, of this city, called at the MINING JOURNAL office last evening and issued the following challenge:

I will meet Con Davis, of Alpena, in private, with small gloves and unlimited number of rounds, in a contest for from $150 to $250 a side, Marquis of Queensberry rules to govern. Match to take place from two to four weeks after signing articles of agreement. Any forfeit money left with the sporting editor of the MINING JOURNAL by Davis or his backer will be promptly covered.

ED. BUTLER, Champion of the Upper Peninsula.

Another Store.

H. H. Stafford & Son have long needed more room for their business and not being able to get hold of the store adjoining their present stand they have determined to start a branch store and for that purpose have leased the east store in the Neeter block on Washington street. This will be made one of the handsomest and best stocked drug stores on the peninsula. A tile floor will be put in and all the fittings will be made especially for the place, probably of black oak. The store will be stocked with a full line of fresh drugs and attractive fancy goods and will be open within a couple of months. The firm will handle its stock of books, stationery, etc., at the present store, carrying drugs there too. By the rental of this new store Marquette is again without a vacant store on either of her principal business streets, despite the fact that ten of the finest stores in town were only finished late last fall.

The Last Day.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the board of review will meet at the council rooms to-morrow to close its work on the assessment rolls. This will be the last day on which complaints will be heard, and all taxpayers who have any kicking to do will have to attend strictly to business before the board closes its labors for the day, or forever after hold their peace.

Missionary Entertainment.

The Boys' Missionary society will give an entertainment in the Presbyterian church parlors this evening, and after the entertainment refreshments will be served, all for the benefit of the missionary fund. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present and help in the good work.

A Good Sized Contract.

Messrs. Byrne & Blackwood, of this city, have received the contract from Smith & Wilson for doing the plumbing and gas fitting for the new government building, the amount being close onto $3,000.

Attention, Company!

All members of the new military company are requested to meet at the armory this evening at 7:30 o'clock sharp, as business of importance will be transacted. By order of MARTIN HOGAN, 1st Lieut. Commanding.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS.

Every day adds to the life and activity of the work now under way at the new custom house lot.

The furniture for Kehoe's new barber shop in Neeter's block has arrived and will be put in place to-day or to-morrow.

Henry Tapken, the Washington street dealer, advertises baby carriages at a great reduction. He has a large stock.

Byrne & Blackwood are advertising a very handsome article in the way of lawn vases, which can be seen at their shop on Front street.

The painters are busy on the Breitung residence and barn, and the grading of the lot, the contract for which has been let to Mr. R. R. French, is also under way.

The MINING JOURNAL's mention of F. E. Pierce's new residence yesterday was erroneous so far as referred to the letting of the contract for its erection. No contract has yet been awarded.

In the face of the great Booth and Barrett show, the Siddons Burlesque company had a packed house last night. Nothing draws the young American like a beautiful woman.—Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph. Ad.

The famous Siddons Night Hawks Burlesque company, composed of twelve of the reigning American beauties and four great comedians, will appear at the Casino Opera House Friday, June 1st; seats now on sale at postoffice news stand. Ad.

An Ohio man has hatched twelve and a half chickens from twelve eggs, one of the chicks having attached to it half of another, Siamese-twin fashion. Is this the effect of the question about a hen and a half laying an egg and a half in a day and a half, etc.?

Ever since the lithographs of the Siddons Night Hawks company have been hung in the windows of the Marquette stores every man in town is looking for an opera glass. It is strange that so many lost their eye sight on such short notice. Ad.

The Marquette City band will give its postponed open air concert at the Ridge street school grounds this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock. The program will consist chiefly of war-song airs, etc. Should the weather prove inclement the concert will be subject to further postponement.

The work of tearing down the old freight depot and other buildings near it is now well in hand and will soon be completed. If the men do not have to stop work to extinguish an incipient conflagration to-day, the hose company's pet will be flat on its back by to-night.

The memorial day exercises under the direction of the Grand Army post of this city, promises to be of universal interest. All Grand Army men and ex-soldiers and sailors are cordially invited to be present at G. A. R. Hall at 9 o'clock this morning to join with Albert Jackson post in the observance of the day.

Some time since Mr. D. W. Kaufman was elected manager of the Marquette City band, an office he holds with becoming grace, and hereafter all business relating to engagements, etc., will be transacted by him. The band should be congratulated on having secured the services of so able an executive as Dan, who is a hustler in whatever role of duty he may be found.

And now we have a dime museum on the old circus grounds where a young lady kindly plays with a lot of ugly-looking snakes and boas and constrictors. There is also a fat woman and a little Circasian child beauty, and a gentleman, who does heavy lifting and slight o' hand business, a box or two of monkeys and a collection of birds, etc. The show drew a large crowd last night.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Oscar Hart, of Champion, registered at the Hotel Marquette yesterday.
