CHICAGO'S BLACK EYE.

The Windy City Loses the First Round in the Contest For the World's Fair of '92.

THE RESOLUTION FOR A SELECT WORLD'S FAIR COMMITTEE PASSES THE HOUSE.

Secretary Blaine Prostrated With Grief at the Death of His Son—Widow's Silver Coinage Bill Read to the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Great interest was taken in the votes upon the world's fair question in the house today. The members representing the competing cities were active in consolidating their forces and keeping their men in line. Dozens of members kept tally and every vote was closely scanned. In the house Mr. McKinley called up his motion to table the motion to reconsider the vote by which the house yesterday refused to substitute the resolution reported by the committee on rules. The motion to table the motion to reconsider was agreed to. The question then recurred on the adoption of the original resolution, worded as follows: "Resolved, That a select committee of nine members be appointed by the speaker to be called the 'world's fair committee,' to which shall be referred all matters relating to the proposed celebration of the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America, or the world's fair of 1892. This resolution was adopted—141 to 136. This is Chicago's first black eye in the contest.

SECRETARY BLAINE'S CONDITION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—The condition of Secretary Blaine is exciting the apprehension of his friends, who fear that he will never recover from the blow caused by the loss of his son Walker. The secretary has paroxysms of grief and with difficulty can restrain himself. For the last few years Walker has been so invaluable to him that his death leaves the secretary almost distracted. Mr. Blaine is not a man who attends to details and these he has been in the habit of leaving entirely to Walker, who had in his hands all the loose ends of his father's business and knew just what was going on and what matters the secretary desired to consider and take action on. There is nobody now to take his place, as Emmons is in business and James G. Jr. is not settled enough to be trusted with important matters of any kind.

The arrangements for the funeral of Walker Blaine were completed today. There will be no services at the house except a prayer by the Rev. Dr. Hamlin and only the intimate friends of the family will be present with the president and the members of the cabinet. The services at the Church of the Covenant will also be brief and very simple.

A long and interesting consideration of the Oklahoma ownership bill was had in the house. Several substitute bills were presented but nothing definite was arrived at and the house adjourned until 1 o'clock to-morrow. This is to enable the members to attend the funeral of Walker Blaine.

Ex-Governor Foraker to-day continued his testimony before the house committee investigating the ballot box forgery. The session was a very long one.

THE CABINET MEETING.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except Secretary Blaine. Secretary Windom submitted a draft of the bill prepared by him in regard to the coinage of silver and it received the approval of the president and most of the members. The bill will probably be introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Conger, of Iowa, Monday. The attorney-general has ordered the department of justice to be closed to-morrow from 10 A. M. until 1 o'clock in afternoon, on account of Walker Blaine's funeral.

Miners to Consolidate.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17.—The question of the future of the coal miners of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois with reference to their proposed re-organization and consolidation is about settled. The rival organizations among the miners have been none too friendly and the question of forming a general association has been agitating a majority of the 40,000 or 50,000 miners in the districts named for a long time. At a recent joint convention of the Knight of Labor and National Progressive Union of Miners at Indianapolis, the matter was considered and as a result there is scarcely a doubt but that the two organizations will go into the American Federation. The operators seen to-day say the proposed consolidation is the best action the miners can take. It will have the effect of putting an end to the internal disagreements and fights against each other. Beyond this is the assertion of the operators that they will meet them in convention and arrange prices; a thing they could not do under the present conditions. It is highly probable that if the consolidation is effected the interstate agreement, which was dissolved two years ago and which was considered an admirable arrangement for both operators and miners, will be revived.

Scolded While Insane.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 17.—Helena Simpkins, a young English woman, domestic in the family of Assistant Postmaster Dyer, committed suicide this morning by hanging. She had been acting strangely for several days and is supposed to have been temporarily insane.

Three Killed by a Locomotive.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 12.—The limited express, west bound, on the Pennsylvania railroad, struck and killed Edward Gallagher, aged 17, Michael Gallagher, aged 15, and Mrs. Nate Stackhouse, a married sister aged 25, at Mooreville near here, last night.

THE AFRO-AMERICAN LEAGUE.

The Reports of the Committees on Constitution and Resolutions.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The committee on constitution and by-laws appointed yesterday by the Afro-American convention brought its report in this morning, recommending the adoption of an article declaring that the proposed Afro-American league should not induct any party in politics and that any member using the league pamphlets or stationery for political or personal purpose shall be expelled. The article was discussed during the afternoon session. The committee on resolutions reported the following, which was adopted by the convention: "The objects of the league are to protect against taxation without representation; to secure a more equitable distribution of the school funds in those states where separate schools exist; to insist upon a fair and impartial trial by jury of our peers in all causes at law wherein we may be a party; to resist by all legal and reasonable means all mob and lynch law whereof we are the victims, and to insist upon the arrest and conviction of all such offenders against our legal rights; to resist in the courts, the tyrannical usages of railroads, steamboats and other corporations where we are concerned."

A BAD WRECK.

Five Cars Smashed and Four Railroaders More or Less Seriously Hurt, One Fatally.

MANFIELD, Mo., Jan. 17.—A terrible wreck occurred on the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis railroad, three miles east of here, yesterday. The engine of the west-bound local freight left the track carrying five loaded cars with it. It then turned over, catching Engineer O. R. Howland, Fireman R. C. Herman and Brakeman G. W. Hughey under it. Brakeman Widdowson was caught in the wreck and sustained severe internal injuries. Fireman Herman was instantly killed. Engineer Howland had one leg broken, and Brakeman Hughey was frightfully scalded about the head and hands. The cars are total wrecks.

They Don't Want Much.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 17.—Letters received by W. L. Eagleston, business manager of the Oklahoma Immigration Society in Kansas, from points in North Carolina say a large number of negroes of that state, are going through it in wagons this winter to the new territory. Mr. Eagleston says there are now about 22,000 negroes in the territory and by spring there will be at least 50,000. He claims that they ought to have that country, and says that President Lincoln and the republican party promised to give it to them. He adds: "We are determined to take it anyhow and will make it one of the grandest states in the union. I favor Colonel Morgan's scheme to purchase the Cherokee strip and the other lands in the Indian Territory exclusively for negro settlement. Give us the Blair bill, the Indian Territory and Senator Butler's $5,000,000 and we shall be content. Oklahoma, in my judgment, is a land of promise for our race, and migration the panacea for every ill affecting the negroes in the south."

A Mysterious Affair.

YORK, Pa., Jan. 17.—John Robb, a mechanic, was discovered by his wife sitting on a chair in an up-stairs room of their house, last night, with his clothing burning. On her attempting to extinguish the fire she found that her husband was dead. An investigation showed that he had been shot through the heart, and the shot had set fire to his clothing. How he was shot is yet a mystery. His wife was down stairs at the time and did not hear the report. A shot gun stood in an adjoining room, and freshly burned powder, at its muzzle showed, that it had been used. Another strange feature is that a rifle cartridge, complete and unexploded, was taken from the man's body.

Passenger Trains Collide.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 17.—A special to the Star from St. Joseph, Mo., says: A Hannibal & St. Joseph and a Rock Island passenger train collided here this morning. The coaches of the Rock Island and the engine of the other train were wrecked. Several passengers on the latter train were injured, two badly. The accident was caused by the engineer of the Hannibal train trying to pull into the depot ahead of the Rock Island. The latter train had the right of way.

Abused the Wrong Man.

GREENWOOD, Miss., Jan. 17.—Edward G. Coleman was shot and killed to-day by W. S. Barry. Coleman walked into the office where Barry and a friend were sitting and commenced to curse and abuse Barry, telling him to get out of his chair and he would kill him. Barry arose and Coleman made a demonstration toward his hip pocket, when Barry fired three times, killing Coleman instantly.

Slavin Challenges Sullivan.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Francis Slavin cables from London to the Police Gazette, challenging Sullivan to fight for $12,500 a side, London prize ring rules, in America or Europe, or he will fight with Small gloves, Police Gazette rules, for $5,000, at the California Athletic club, provided the club will add a $15,000 purse to the stakes. Slavin has posted $2,500 forfeit.

Kicked to Death.

QUEBEC, Que., Jan. 17.—A trader named Roy was kicked to death at St. Francois River de Sud, Montgomery county, Monday night by a man who afterward fled in the direction of the United States. The murderer is supposed to be a former partner of Roy's with whom he had a quarrel about money matters. The police are in pursuit of him.

The Loss Will be Heavy.

DENVER, Jan. 17.—A fire started at about 11 o'clock last night in the Merchants Publishing company's building on Sixteenth street. Many of the occupants of rooms in the building had narrow escapes. It was a thickly populated district, and the loss will be heavy.

A TAIL END COLLISION.

A Chicago Vestibule Train Smashed Into an Accommodation

Near Cincinnati—The Cars Crushed and Set on Fire—The Number of the Dead and Injured Not Known.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 17.—At 7:45 this evening, as the Glendale accommodation, bound for Cincinnati, was leaving the station near College Hill Junction, the Chicago vestibule train ran into its rear. The three passenger cars on the Glendale train contained seventy-five people. The locomotive of the Chicago train ran half way through the rear car of the accommodation, piling the passenger cars in a heap and setting them on fire. The locomotive of the accommodation was not derailed. The fire department and patrol wagons were called from Cincinnati and the fire was extinguished. At the present writing four persons have been taken out dead from the wreck. How many more fatalities there may be is not now known. The wounded are now on the way to this city where they will be taken to the Cincinnati hospital. The number of the killed and injured, considering the completeness of the wreck and the number of passengers reported, is comparatively small. It is now known that several persons were rescued, fatally wounded.

Two of those injured in the wreck have been received at the hospital. Their names are James Staley, 49 years old, of Carthage, Ohio, terribly burned about the face and arms; W. M. Klamitz, also of Carthage, aged 19, scalp wound, burned on the hands and arms; Bob Stevenson, the baggage-master of the vestibule train, badly hurt, died shortly after being placed on the patrol wagon. The body of John Wilson, superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, of Cincinnati, has been identified as one of those burned up. The engineer of the vestibule train is lying seriously hurt at Winton place, with three doctors attending him.

C. Nelson, general superintendent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railway, says the accident happened just north of College Hill crossing. The Chicago vestibule train, No. 31, drawn by a large and strong engine, and the accommodation train, No. 77, collided shortly after 7 o'clock this evening. The block system is used there and it is supposed that No. 77 was not out of her block when No. 31 entered it. When No. 31 struck the accommodation train it smashed the two rear coaches, killing the conductor and a brakeman of the vestibule train. Both the engineer and fireman of No. 31 jumped after applying the air brakes and reversing the engine. Both were hurt but are now resting easy.

THE IOWA DEADLOCK.

The Democrats Offer to Break it if the Officers are Divided.

DES MOINES, Jan. 17.—The democrats this afternoon made a proposition to the republicans looking toward a settlement of the deadlock. They asked that the present officers, who are republicans, be made regular temporary officers; that in the permanent organization, the democrats be given the speaker; the republicans the chief clerk, and the remainder of the offices be divided; that the democrats be given the chairman of the committees on the judiciary, on the suppression of intemperance, appropriations and railroads. The republican caucus will act upon it in the morning but no hopes are entertained of its acceptance.

A Real Pleasant Execution.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 17.—The Times-Democrat's Clinton, La., special says: At 1:30 this afternoon Isaiah and Charles Dent paid the full penalty of the law, being hung for the murder of Mr. Praetorius, near Ethel, La., whom they waylaid and shot to death on the first day of July last. The condemned men ascended the gallows with a bold firm step and took their places on the trap door. The sheriff read the death warrant; after which they were given an opportunity to address their friends. Isaiah was the first to speak. He advised his colored friends not to do as he had done but to be good citizens. He had no fault to find at the execution of the law, as he was guilty and had, no doubt, done wrong. Charles said he acquiesced in all Isaiah had said but was not as guilty as Isaiah was because he did not shoot; he was only present. Everything went off very orderly and everybody was satisfied.

Protested His Innocence To The Last.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 17.—The Times-Democrat's St. John, La., special says: James Holcomb, colored, was executed in the jail yard here to-day for the murder of Madeline Willis, a colored girl, on November 12th, 1880. Holcomb was baptized this morning. Holcomb said on the gallows that he was brought here to be executed for a crime of which he was innocent. "As it is, however, I am willing to appear before the bar of divine justice and there show that I am innocent. I am a soldier of the Lord and will as die a Christian and a man. As Holcomb stepped on the trap, a hymn was begun by the minister in which he fervently joined. His neck was broken by the fall.

Death of Judge S. T. Holmes.

BAY CITY, Mich., Jan. 17.—Judge S. T. Holmes, aged 75 years, died at midnight. Death was caused by a general collapse. He was congressman from the twenty-second New York district in 1845 and afterward was a partner of Roscoe Conkling. He removed to Bay City in 1872.

Photographs and True Art.

The instantaneous photograph bids fair to become a very potent aid to artists who seek to teach their pupils that reproduction is not art; for it is clearly demonstrated by this means that the real is in nowise like the apparent.

The instantaneous photograph shows they are not simultaneous, and in doing this presents a picture that does not look like a man in the act of running. This photograph is going to be—indeed already is—a great aid to science, but the only thing it can do for art will be to prove that reality does not seem as true as the ideal.

Romance and Novel. There is a clear distinction between those works of the imagination known respectively as the romance and the novel.

To Poor To Starve On. CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Judge Horton's court room was to-day filled with samples of wire grass, stones, loam and cigar boxes, filled with the products of the soil.

Forecast of the Weather. WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The signal service notes the following as its forecast for the next twenty-four hours:

A Slanderer's Tongue Silenced. SHILLBYVILLE, Ill., Jan. 17.—Lucy Stopp, a young woman of 22 summers, living six miles north of Camden, made a murderous assault upon Mrs. Thomas Askins, a neighbor, last night, cutting her throat with a table knife.

A Murder For Revenge. BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 17.—Granville Cooper, a desperate character, shot and killed Night Policeman John T. Miller at Clay City, in revenge for his arrest, which was made recently for jumping onto a train.

The Painters' Idiosyncrasies. My father, being a scenic artist himself, was naturally supposed to be critical, and when the painter asked his opinion of the dome he replied:

"Well, since you ask me, don't you think that your angels are a little stiff in their attitudes?"

"No, sir; not for subjects. When I deal with mythological beings I never put my figures in natural attitudes; it would be inharmonious. A natural angel would be out of keeping with the rest of the work."

"To which my father replied that it was quite likely that such was the case. 'But why were you made handsome and beautiful from a man made hideous and ugly? They are not mythological subjects.'"

"Yes," said the painter. "But they are musicians, you know; and great musicians always quarrel, and Ha, ha!"

"Yes," said my father; "but as Handel died before Beethoven was born, I don't see how any music could be created between them."—Joe Jefferson's Reminiscences.

A Criticism as a Criticism. "The 'Farmer's Daughter' was produced at the Grand last Wednesday night. It was one of the most wonderful plays we ever witnessed. It was like the peace of God, in that it passed all understanding.

The farmer's daughter evidently made a mistake when she adopted the stage as a profession. She should have remained among her milk pails and pursued the even tenor of her way upon the farm. Adeline Cherry is a magnificent looking woman, with a voice strong enough to ditch a train.

Will Be Rebuilt. CLEVELAND, Jan. 17.—The Clauss shear works, of Fremont, Ohio, were burned to-night. The loss is $150,000; the insurance $41,600. They will be rebuilt.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

OLD WORLD AFFAIRS.

The Anglo-Portuguese Trouble Continues to Agitate the Peoples of Europe.

PORTUGAL CALLS ON THE OTHER EUROPEAN POWERS TO INTERFERE.

On The Ground That England's Position is in Violation of the Berlin Treaty—An Unsigned Manifesto.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—The Figaro says Portugal has complained to Prince Bismarck that Great Britain has violated the Berlin treaty.

There was held here to-day a meeting of 300 Portuguese residing in this city, Devesa, a former Portuguese deputy, presided. He violently attacked Great Britain and besought his compatriots to remember the Swiss struggle against Austria as an evidence that a brave, united people were not always crushed by heavy battalions.

SPAIN.

MADRID, Jan. 17.—The proposed public meeting which was to be held in this city Sunday by republicans, for the purpose of expressing sympathy for the Portuguese in their dispute with England, has been abandoned.

PORTUGAL.

LISBON, Jan. 17.—The English residents of this city who have been the victims of the public animosity occasioned by the attitude of England toward Portugal, purpose to appoint a deputation to wait on Lord Salisbury and urge that Great Britain adopt a more conciliatory policy.

AN UNSIGNED MANIFESTO.

LISBON, Jan. 17.—The Seculo, published to-day an unsigned manifesto headed "The Directory of the Portuguese Republicans to the Nation." It denounces vociferously the English ultimatum and advocates a republican federation of the Latin nations and the adhesion of Portugal to such federation.

ENGLAND.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 17.—Five hundred grain porters on the north and south docks have struck for an advance in wages.

THE RUSSIAN SCOURGE.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The opening of Euro colleges has been postponed owing to the prevalence of influenza.

There are 180 cases of the disease on board the Chicago alone. Christopher Rice Mansel Talbot, liberal member of the house of commons, is dead.

The funeral of Field Marshal Napier, of Magdala, will take place in St. Paul's Cathedral Tuesday. He will be buried with military honors.

The British steamer Thalia, Captain Stanley, from Savannah, December 17th, before reported ashore near Royal, has fifteen feet of water in the forehold and the remainder of the vessel is full.

The steamer Lubek has arrived at Sydney from Samoa. She reports that a meeting of the British residents of Apia petitioned Governor Fiji to remove the British consul.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The reichstag has referred to a committee the bill granting a subsidy to the East Africa Steamship company.

EGYPT.

CAIRO, Jan. 17.—Mr. Stanley is expected to make a prolonged stay here, partly for reasons related to the recent expedition, and partly to avoid going from central Africa into northern Europe at the bad end of winter.

A Dangerous Woman.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Lena Edwards, alias Griffiths, a handsome young woman, accused of making a fortune in Memphis, Tenn., by selling "painted" diamonds, was before Judge Clifford this morning.

She was held here to-day a meeting of 300 Portuguese residing in this city, Devesa, a former Portuguese deputy, presided. He violently attacked Great Britain and besought his compatriots to remember the Swiss struggle against Austria as an evidence that a brave, united people were not always crushed by heavy battalions.

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

Recognizes the Republic of Brazil and Declares a Public Celebration.

New York, Jan. 17.—The Argentine republic has formally recognized the newly established republic of Brazil in spite of the utterances of Senator Lafayette Rodrigues Pereira.

The circular reads: "Buenos Ayres, December 3, 1889. The president of the republic and the cabinet in session, 1-2.—To celebrate in due form the advent of the republic of the United States of Brazil, and fixing for that celebration the 8th day of December, Act II.—The national flag shall be displayed over the public buildings, and fortresses and on all the vessels of this nation.

Act III.—All men-of-war at home or in foreign ports shall display the national flag and accord the highest honors to the new republic, allowable. Act IV.—The mayor of this city is requested to illuminate the streets, squares and monuments and to promote among the people the display of flags and illuminations on private buildings.

Act V.—The secretary of state will visit the minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary from Brazil and present to him the good wishes of the Argentine republic for the happiness and prosperity of his country in its new political life.

Act VI.—This decision will be especially communicated to his excellency, the minister of Brazil, and transmitted by telegraph to the Argentine minister in Rio Janeiro.

Act VII.—All the governors of provinces and territories of this republic will be requested to associate themselves with these festivities.

Act VIII.—A copy of this decree will be sent to the secretary of the interior and the secretaries of war and marine for the enforcement of the same.

Act IX.—The secretary of state will visit the minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary from Brazil and present to him the good wishes of the Argentine republic for the happiness and prosperity of his country in its new political life.

Act X.—This decision will be especially communicated to his excellency, the minister of Brazil, and transmitted by telegraph to the Argentine minister in Rio Janeiro.

Act XI.—All the governors of provinces and territories of this republic will be requested to associate themselves with these festivities.

Act XII.—A copy of this decree will be sent to the secretary of the interior and the secretaries of war and marine for the enforcement of the same.

Act XIII.—The secretary of state will visit the minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary from Brazil and present to him the good wishes of the Argentine republic for the happiness and prosperity of his country in its new political life.

Act XIV.—This decision will be especially communicated to his excellency, the minister of Brazil, and transmitted by telegraph to the Argentine minister in Rio Janeiro.

Act XV.—All the governors of provinces and territories of this republic will be requested to associate themselves with these festivities.

Act XVI.—A copy of this decree will be sent to the secretary of the interior and the secretaries of war and marine for the enforcement of the same.

Photographs and True Art.

The instantaneous photograph bids fair to become a very potent aid to artists who seek to teach their pupils that reproduction is not art; for it is clearly demonstrated by this means that the real is in no wise like the apparent.

For example, an instantaneous photograph of a man in the act of running never looks as much like a man in the act of running as the pen drawing of a true artist does. The reason is that the photograph reproduces the one exact position of the runner at the instant the picture is made.

The instantaneous photograph shows they are not simultaneous, and in doing this presents a picture that does not look like a man in the act of running.

The modern novel is a development of the novella or nouvelle of the Italian, Spanish and French literatures of the Fifteenth and Sixteenth centuries, and may be traced back to the fables of the old Provençal poets.

The romance deals with great characters and extraordinary events. The novel proper is fiction by fiction, and in part of that of the novel.

There is no reason why a romance should not be, to a certain sense, realistic. We suppose that most readers would class "Robinson Crusoe" as a romance, but we know of no work in which the imagination is at once more free and more sober.

It is not a story of common life, but its whole movement is suggested and founded by probability.

Crusoe is never played beyond our comprehension or our sympathy. He is always natural and always human.

In the "Arabian Nights" we find genuine human men and women, and we recognize the universal principle of humanity in their conduct.

The machinery employed is largely magical and supernatural.—New Orleans "Crescent."

A Public Scribe. A reporter of The New York Times recently ran across an interesting scribble. He was an aged Hebrew.

He made a living writing letters for other people, and his "office" was in front of a corner grocery, near the Hebrew district in New York.

His stock in trade consisted of a cheap inkstand and a few sheets of paper and envelopes, and when the reporter appeared he seemed to be doing a thriving business.

He had just finished writing in Hebrew script the letter he was reading over, while the young man by whom it was dictated stood by awaiting the address of the envelope, and another, in a sealed envelope, waited his turn to be addressed.

He could write a letter to his correspondent in writing which would be understood by her or him, but the envelope, he knew, must be written so as to be understood by many strangers in the postal service of various lands through which it would have to pass.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW.

Reports Favorable—Iron Market Somewhat Unsettled—No Decrease in the Output.

New York, Jan. 17.—R. G. Dun's weekly review of trade says: An important improvement in business is noted wherever the recent change to colder weather is felt.

The weekly output of pig iron on January 1st, was 174,028 tons against 169,151 on December 1st and 154,398 a year ago.

The inquiries indicate that there is in the aggregate some accumulation of stocks. It also appears that the market for bar iron is somewhat unsettled with a tendency toward concessions.

Plate iron is less firm. Structural and sheet iron and nails are steady, but some uneasiness is noticed in steel rails.

Unless the consumption of the finished products is not only sustained but expanded, the output of pig iron can hardly continue at the present rate.

The reports from various quarters are on the whole favorable. Collections are quite generally slow because of retarded distribution, but uneasiness is reported at only a few points.

The failures number 336, compared with 363 last week. For the corresponding week last year the figures were 330.

Supreme Court Decisions. A Large Number of Opinions Handed Down by That August Body.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 17.—[Special.]—The supreme court to-day filed opinions in the following cases.

Admitted.—Fred vs. Ashly; Rense vs. Rense; Johnson vs. Seymour; Call vs. Call; City of Manistee vs. Harley; Phillips vs. School District No. 1, of New Buffalo; Hunston vs. O'Brien; Lead vs. Childen; Porter vs. Hutchinson Manufacturing company; Chamberlain vs. Rodgers; Ireland vs. C. W. & M. Railway company; O'Hara vs. Meriam was affirmed with $25 damage.

Reversed.—Donaldson vs. Wilson; Hyma vs. Three Rivers National bank; Coryson vs. Providence Washington Insurance company; McIntosh vs. McIntosh; Walmbach vs. Teote; Walker vs. Jackson; Ribble vs. Starrett; Shelton vs. Gillette.

In manufacturers Mutual Insurance company vs. Graetot circuit judge, a mandamus was denied.

To Poor To Starve On. CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Judge Horton's court room was to-day filled with samples of wire grass, stones, loam and cigar boxes, filled with the products of the soil.

The court was in the midst of a trade. The articles were exhibits by Josiah Greenwood, who claims to have traded $40,000 worth of houses and lots in South Chicago for 2,131 acres of bad land in Juneau county, Wisconsin.

He is seeking to set the conveyance aside. The trade was made with Charles A. Slayton and Thomas Elder Finn. Greenwood testified that Slayton and Finn took him to see the Wisconsin land which it was covered with snow, and that they made glowing representations as to the fertility of the soil, telling him it grew two and a half tons of fine hay to the acre and would graze 200 cattle.

Greenwood says he spent $10,000 improving the farm only to discover that the hay was a poor kind of wire grass and that he had been "let down" for his $40,000. Slayton and Finn says Greenwood was not deceived.

His Skull Was Fractured. KANSAS CITY, Jan. 17.—Charles M. Davenport, a printer, received injuries last night from the hands of some unknown person or persons from which he died this morning at 3 o'clock.

He was knocked down by a violent blow on the back of the head. His skull was fractured.

Forecast of the Weather. WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The signal service notes the following as its forecast for the next twenty-four hours: For Wisconsin and Michigan: Local snows; southwesterly winds; slightly colder in the southeast; stationary temperature in the northwest portions.

A Slanderer's Tongue Silenced. SHELBYVILLE, Ill., Jan. 17.—Lucy Stopp, a young woman of 22 summers, living six miles north of Camden, made a murderous assault upon Mrs. Thomas Askins, a neighbor, last night, cutting her throat with a table knife.

The assault was made for alleged slanderous reports circulated by Mrs. Askins against her assailant. Mrs. Askins will probably die. Miss Stopp has thus far escaped arrest.

A Murder For Revenge. BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 17.—Granville Cooper, a desperate character, shot and killed Night Policeman John T. Miller at Clay City, in revenge for his arrest, which was made recently for jumping onto a train. The murderer stole a horse, which was hitched near, and escaped. The shooting was done on the street.

Last Night's Council Meeting.

At a special meeting of the council held last evening the time for the collecting of the assessments made for the Jackson street and Division street improvements was extended to the 15th day of February.

Regarding the matter of the establishment of the line for the extension of the new trunk sewer from Prospect to Third streets, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a line run from a point in the center of Prospect street 155 feet east of the center of Spruce street, thence north-westerly 347 feet, passing through the center of Pine street and Park street, thence westerly 271 feet to a point in Third street 325 feet, north of the north line of Moore & Sang's addition, he and is hereby approved as the line fixed for the extension of the trunk sewer to Third street and that the city attorney be authorized and instructed to proceed at once to procure a legal right of way for the laying of said trunk sewer.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of the sexton's salary reported that the recommendation of the park commissioner be sustained, whereupon it was moved and carried that the sexton be allowed $50 per month to be paid from the receipt from sales of cemetery lots.

On motion the city treasurer was authorized and directed to extend the time for the collection of the city taxes until the first day of March. Before the meeting adjourned a large grist of bills which had been under consideration of the council since its last regular meeting were ordered paid.

A Sensible Calendar.

As usual at this time of the year the new crop of calendars is coming in, they are of all sorts, sizes, shapes and kinds, and many of them can be had for the asking, but the best calendar that comes to our office is that published by N. W. Ayer & Son, newspaper advertising agents, Philadelphia, and which they send post-paid to any address on receipt of 25 cents.

This calendar is 14x22 inches the upper portion being beautifully printed in colors, while the monthly sheets are printed with figures so plain that they can be easily seen at a distance. Although the calendar is an advertisement of their ever-growing business it is at the same time so valuable to those having use for a calendar that year by year the sale steadily increases.

Leased a Saw Mill.

Mr. F. W. Sambrook has taken a five-year lease of the old Harvey mill near Chevelay, and will keep it running the same as he has for the past eight years, during which time he has been the foreman. Parties wishing to place orders for lumber can get prices and all necessary information by applying to R. J. Cooke, who will act as agent for Mr. Sambrook.

TALK OF THE TOWN

A grand social event was the party given in the Masonic lodge room last evening.

Freeman Bros. will ship three teams of horses to-day down to Au Train lake to be used by Livingston Bros. in hauling logs.

R. J. Cooke and an Ishpeming boiler maker are doing their level best to get the Casino in shape to skate in early next week.

The painters are putting the finishing touches on the interior of Hathaway's new house on Third street, which will consequently be ready for occupancy very soon.

Dr. Youngquist has been appointed physician at the new branch prison and has entered upon his duties. The right man in the right place.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Catherine Hadrich, the aged mother of the late Herman Hadrich and Louis Hadrich and Mrs. Samson Bice, were held from the residence of the latter at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Navigation has at last closed at this point, at least the fishing tugs have tied up for good. The Ethel J., was the last boat to make a trip for the season, entering the harbor on her return Wednesday, Jan. 15th.

Recorder Meads is the proud possessor of a fine photograph of the 5-pound trout which he captured at Wetmore's Landing near Presque Isle last summer. A two-foot rule at the back of the picture shows the fish to be 22 inches long.

The reporter happened along just in time last evening to see Officer Hogan break the quiet spell which has hung like a huge cloud over the city for some time past, by landing a fellow safely in the quay who undertook to run things to suit himself.

Mr. Bancroft, the father of the young man who died in the Emergency Hospital last week, arrived on Monday, and after an investigation of the affairs of his son left for home yesterday, having decided not to remove the body to Canada this winter.

That patent hencoop which Mr. Joseph L. Smith Esq., has been at work on for the past six months was finally taken in tow by a team of horses and removed to the Smith mansion on Ohio street yesterday. Houston says 'tis warranted to keep a chicken in any climate.

Rev. Mr. Taylor leaves to-day for Menominee where he will preach the dedicatory services of the new Baptist church at that place to-morrow. Rev. Mr. Stafford of Marinette, Wis., will fill the pulpit in Mr. Taylor's church in this city, morning and evening during the latter's absence.

Kassel Oshinsky's store has been provided with a new ceiling of the latest pattern and is now in the hands of the painters. The establishment has been "top side turvey" for several days, but will come out of the scrape much improved in appearance. Mr. Oshinsky is bound to keep up with the procession.

PERSONAL MOVEMENTS.

Mr. Clarence Bice has returned from his trip to Detroit.

Attorney Culver, of L'Anse, was in the city yesterday on land business.

Mr. Snyder, the manager of the R. K. Hawley mill work, is home from a business trip below.

Miss Edna Blanchard will leave for Ishpeming to-day where she will organize a dancing class.

Capt. McIneroc, of the Lake Superior mine, was in the city for a few hours yesterday on business.

Miss Eekie, of Ishpeming, visited her friend Miss Edna Blanchard yesterday and attended the Mosaic ball last evening.

Mr. F. W. Read, the lumberman, has been confined to his room for the past week with influenza, but is now able to be out again.

Mr. Asa Van Kleeck, Howell, Mich., has been in the city since Wednesday assisting his son, Wm. J. Van Kleeck, in taking inventory of furniture stock.

How She Cured Frowning.

A great many earnest thinkers of a nervous temperament fall into the habit of scowling when they read, write or talk seriously. This causes two little perpendicular lines to show in between the eyes, and ages the face ten years.

It is a habit almost impossible to correct, once formed, as it is done unconsciously by a great many young people. Even in sleep their brows will be drawn together in this malicious little frown, that is the alder and abettor of age.

A bright, studious young woman still in her early twenties, found herself the victim of this scowl, which had already made two fine hair lines in her white brow. She set herself to work to cure the habit by setting her mirror before her face when she read, wrote or studied; but as this distracted her attention from her work, she finally placed a ribbon band tightly across her brow, tying it in a knot at the back of her head, and at night she slept in the band.

After several months the little hair lines disappeared from her pretty forehead, and she is quite cured of the disfiguring habit.—New York Journal.

Exploded Notions.

There are a good many notions long exploded. Nobody believes, for example, that all women wear tight shoes.

That the children of fashionable people are not well taken care of.

That all boarding house tables are bad.

That all women wear tight stays.

That all women lay the seeds for rapid consumption by getting their petticoats wet on rainy days.

That all women are jealous of each other.

That all women are underpaid.

That all mince pies are indigestible.

That a little candy is unhealthy.

That a fruit diet will save your body and soul.

That your way is the right way, and mine is the wrong.

Nobody believes any of these things, except the people who live such narrow lives that they think nothing good can come out of Nazareth.—New York Sun.

A DEMENTED WOODSMAN.

The Scare That He Caused in a Camp Near Ishpeming.

Death's Latest Victims—Progress Made at Union Park—Ishpeming to Have a Beer Warehouse—Odds and Ends of City News.

Wanted to Use the Axe.

Lars Johnson Solstad, who has for some time been working at Eric Anderson's lumber camp, a few miles from the city, gave the other men there a terrible fright a few days ago. He had not appeared to be properly balanced mentally, and a few days ago he sent all the inmates of the camp out by brandishing an axe in the air and threatening to use it on anyone that would come near him. In an hour or so Solstad quieted down, but the men did not recover from their fright for some time. Word was sent to this city, and yesterday Officer Peterson went out to the camp and brought the man in. He refused to accompany the officer, and some little force was necessary to remove him from the camp. He will be taken before the judge of probate at Marquette to-day, where the proper steps will be taken to place him where he can receive treatment for his mental trouble.

Mortuary Mention.

Charles Christopherson died of consumption at an early hour yesterday morning. The deceased was a Scandinavian, and was for a long time a resident of this place. Until prostrated by sickness he held a responsible position in F. Braastad's store, where his faithful performance of his duties won for him the approbation of his employers and the respect and esteem of his co-workers. His death is deeply regretted by his former associates in the store, and they will show their respect for his memory by attending the funeral in a body to-morrow.

Carl Eric Johnson died of pneumonia yesterday morning. The deceased was born in Sweden in 1868. The funeral will be held to-morrow and will be attended by the Swedish Home Society, of which the deceased was a member.

August Krane, a native of Sweden, died yesterday of inflammation of the lungs. The deceased was 49 years of age and had been a resident of the city for a long time. The funeral will take place Sunday. The cortege will leave the house at 2 o'clock P. M. and arrive at the Swedish M. E. church at 2:30. Messrs. J. A. and M. Krane, sons of the deceased, arrived yesterday from Muskegon.

The funeral of the late Patrick Gleason was held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. There was a very large attendance of relatives and friends. The local division of the A. O. U. H., of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral, the members being in full regalia. The services were held at St. John's Catholic church.

The remains of William Trathen were given sepulture yesterday afternoon. The local lodge, Temple of Honor, turned out as a mark of respect for the memory of their dead comrade. The large attendance testified to the many friends that the bright little lad had, and his sad death has occasioned sincere sorrow in many a heart.

Union Park.

D. McVie, who is in charge of the work at Union Park, is now looking around for some clay that can be secured cheap. The track will be one of the best in the upper peninsula. About four inches of clay will be put on the surface, and this will make a solid, but springy road bed, on which a trotter can make good time. A contract will be let for the clay as soon as possible and the work of putting it on will be begun just as soon as the weather will permit.

To be the Distributing Point.

H. Eimer, the traveling agent for Miller's Milwaukee brewery, was here Thursday making arrangements for the erection of a large refrigerator here. It is the purpose of that concern to make Ishpeming the distributing point for this territory, and as its trade up here is quite large, the refrigerator will have to be a capacious one. When a suitable site is secured, work on the building will be at once started. The local agent here, Mr. Joseph Voelker, will be in charge of the branch.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Jaedecke Bros. will occupy both stores, not the new one alone, as was stated a couple of days ago.

The whole Peninsula Record force, from his Satanic majesty to the editor, have been wrestling with the "grip" this week.

John Meehan is running this week in place of Conductor Loftus, who is kept at home by the advent of a baby in his household.

A huge lock has been put on the door of the jail on First street. The key weighs several ounces and the policemen are seriously thinking of getting some leather straps and carrying the key suspended there.

A note containing a number of choice epithets and a person's name was picked up on the street yesterday. The writer had evidently dropped it from his pocket before he had sent it to the person to whom it was addressed.

Miss Edna Blanchard, of Marquette, will organize a dancing class in this city, and desires the attendance of all those who would like to become members of the same at a meeting to be held at the opera house at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

At a meeting of the city council last evening quite a number of the heaviest tax payers were present, and while all agreed that the city hall was needed they with one accord thought that sewerage was much more of a necessity and should be provided before a city hall was built. The council reserved action in the matter until Tuesday night.

Mr. Kaufman, a veteran of the late war, who was here some three years ago with a battle panorama, is again in the city and will give scenes from the battle of Gettysburg at Gilling's Hall next Monday evening. Mr. Kaufman is without relatives and is incapacitated for active work, yet he does not wish to go to a poor house nor enter a soldier's home, so he has taken this method of supporting himself. The panorama shows a number of stirring scenes from the great battle, the portraits of well-known commanders, etc., and will undoubtedly prove very interesting. The admission is but 25 cents and there should be a good attendance Monday evening.

GOT OUT—We have gotten out special inducements on seasonable goods that must be sold. L. W. ATKINS & CO.

KICKED OUT—The bottom will be kicked clean out of some lines of goods that we do not want to inventory. L. W. ATKINS & CO.

THREE FAMOUS WOMEN.

WIVES OF DISTINGUISHED ENGLISHMEN WHO ARE ALL POWERFUL.

Mrs. Gladstone's Wonderful Influence Over Her Husband—Assistant as Well as Wife—The Famous Clergyman's Trusted Counselor—An American Woman.

There are three women in London, who are seldom heard of in the newspapers, and yet to them more than to any other persons belongs the credit of much of the success of their husbands. To them is Mrs. Gladstone, stoop-shouldered, always plainly dressed in black silk of old-fashioned cut, her iron gray hair falling gracefully over her ears, from which depended a pair of curious, long, antique earrings.

MRS. GLADSTONE.

How much influence she has had in shaping the policy of the great empire only a few people know, but by unwavering attention to her husband, by watching him at all hours of the day, and by spending sleepless nights in giving him care and attention, she has managed to preserve his health, and, like the trainer of an athlete, keep him always in condition for the great struggle. Gladstone has never been known to depend much upon the advice of others, but it is ever at a loss as to the proper course to pursue. Invariably seeks the counsel of his wife. She has followed him so closely in all of his public life, and has herself been such an ardent student of sociology and statecraft, and being a woman so entirely behind the scenes that she cannot be prejudiced, her opinion is valuable, and she gives it unhesitatingly. In the Gladstone house at Hawarden the wife of the grand old man has her own desk in the library, and with her own hands she takes care of her great husband's papers, books and magazines, and attends to much of his private and public business.

It is hardly necessary to say that she is a strong-minded woman. She is the only person in the empire who absolutely controls the great emperor. To him her word is law, and no matter how much he may object against her kindly wishes she always ends by conquering him.

During the last ten years of his life there have been many times that his health has been such that he could scarcely be expected to speak in public or to remain in the commons until daybreak. At such times Mrs. Gladstone has never hesitated to order her authority. On more than one occasion, indeed, on scores of occasions, when she thought he was speaking too long, or that his voice sounded husky, or that he was apt to take cold, she has gone from her seat on the platform boldly up to him, clapped his hat on his head, or thrown an old shawl around his shoulders, and dragged him to a seat. Gladstone always insists on speaking with a hat on. This is the only point in which he will not permit even his wife to dominate him. How many quarrels there have been over this subject of wearing a hat at a public meeting no one knows, but at the critical moment the great man's wife has usually conquered him.

In her home life Mrs. Gladstone is one of the most genial of women. Her children have grown up around her and are all settled. Her children's children now play gleefully about her knee in the sunset of her life. She is happy in her husband and in her family. For fifty years she has been the wife of one of the most famous men that the world has produced. She has not been a shrinking, timid creature, but a woman of commanding intellect, of firmness and great Christian faith. She is loved and respected wherever she is known. What more could any woman ask?

MRS. SPURGEON.

One of the other women who are quite as famous as Mrs. Gladstone and much resembles her in face and form, is Mrs. Susie Spurgeon, wife of the greatest pulpit orator in the world. She is one of the pillars of the Tabernacle in Newington. She teaches a Sunday school class there, devotes some time to her husband's college for young ministers, and twice a week spends a day with the orphan boys and girls at Stockwell. Like Mrs. Gladstone she is very careful of her distinguished husband's health, and is ever all settled. Her husband's most trusted counselor, she is his wife's most trusted counselor.

In the library of their residence at Westwood Mrs. Spurgeon's desk adjoins her husband's, but in another portion of the house she has a little den of her own, where she collects books and pamphlets for the Colportage association and where the sewing society sometimes meets to prepare clothing for the poor of London. She is distinctively a home body and never misses one of her husband's sermons unless her health is too poor to permit her leaving home. She appears to be in the full prime of life, although she is now a grandmother. Her children have all married and settled down. Her sons are ministers, and her only daughter is the wife of a minister. She is the leading spirit in the great church over which her husband presides.

The other woman who is also a distinguished woman, is younger, and in physical appearance fairer than those mentioned above. She is an American, too, who has managed by her tact, her brains and her beauty to conquer all before her. It is Lady Randolph Churchill, wife of the eccentric Lord Randolph, who, it is said to say, is one of the most talked about women of the empire to-day, and who may yet be prime minister. Ten years ago he was regarded as a brainless fool. Today he is one of the great men, and the future holds much in store for him.

Lady Randolph Churchill is one of the social stars in the great firmament of London. Her rise from the tailor-made daughter of the Earl of Salisbury to the wife of a lord is the result of her own merit, and she is a mystery, but it has been done by her cleverness and tact. While Lord Randolph Churchill has the faculty of making enemies, his wife has the faculty of making friends. She is one of the best liked women in society. She is invited everywhere. She entertains quite liberally, although her income is not sufficiently large to warrant plunging. Her husband is domestic in his affairs, and although a club man and a great diner out, he likes his own home.

Lady Churchill is seen everywhere during the season. Every house is open to her. As you probably know, she is one of Leonard Jerome's daughters. She came over here unheralded, indeed, was rather suspected of having made a mess of it, but she has developed very rapidly politically, and his wife's charm of manner and conversation quickly brought a host of friends around her. —Foster Coates in New York Mail and Express.

Picturesque Women.

There are women who look picturesque in almost any kind of dress. They have invariably well shaped heads and graceful outlines, flat shoulders and a pretty line of arm and shoulder. They seldom have very small waists, but possess very beautiful hair in great quantities. Their eyes need not be very large, but they must be well set, "put in with dainty fingers," as such setting has been described; but the complexion need not be perfect, it must be natural and the nose unaccustomed to the powder puff. Such women look poetic, and inspire the poet, the painter and the sculptor.—New York Telegram.

THE VARIOUS GREETINGS ONE SEES AT THE BIG DEPOT.

How One Woman Welcomes Another. Meetings of Husbands and Wives—Receptions from Which Whole Stories May be Gathered by the Spectator.

Porters and passengers are not alone in rushing about the depots. Spirits rush there, Spirit seeking spirit going about among the crowds, getting in the way of other spirits and trailing umbrellas, handbags and tail or made up in the general litter.

And their spirits rush together. At the meeting of their lips. Different persons have different ways of greeting their friends, and a big passenger depot furnishes a rare school for the study of the demonstrative in affection.

A young lady, proud of a wedding ring, steps nervously about the railing and searches the crowd. She picks out an elderly woman in black, accosts her and offers a mouth that deserves more appreciative kissing.

MICHIGAMME MATTERS.

Case of Diphtheria From a Lumber Camp. The Wetmore to Start up Soon—Broke His Leg a Second Time—General Notes.

On Sunday last a man from J. C. Brown's lumber camp, came down here and stopped at F. Brown's boarding house, where he was taken sick, when Dr. Humphrey was summoned and examined him, and discovered that it was a case of diphtheria, and as there is no post house in town he was taken to the jail, where he is now receiving care and treatment.

There are over a dozen canvassing agents in town, all prepared to sell anything from a needle to a sewing machine. The Wetmore mine will resume operations in a few days with a large crew, which will add to the interests of our town.

Messrs. Dan Crawford, John Slackett, J. P. Edwards and Geo. Shelden, of Hancock, were in town Tuesday and Wednesday of this week inspecting the Hancock iron mine at Fenca Lake.

The many friends of Frank Kerigan will regret to learn that as he was going out Friday, for the first time since his accident, his crutch broke and he fell down and broke his leg a second time. This will probably lay him up for two or three months longer.

Deputy Game Warden Jake Dolf was in town Tuesday looking after violators of the law. Mr. Hugh Johnson, of Champion, was among our callers Wednesday.

Messrs. Christian Plumbach and Andrew Larsen leave to-day (Saturday) on an extended trip to Denmark, where they will remain about two months visiting their old homes.

Last Saturday evening while M. Levin was laid up with an attack of la grippe, some local burglars entered his residence and relieved him of a basket of fresh meat that he had just received by express.

The snow plow cleared our thoroughfares on Thursday after the blizzard of a few days ago. Murray & Desboro are building an addition to their saloon which will be fitted up for as a billiard hall as soon as completed.

NEWS OF REPUBLIC.

A Resume of The Week's Happenings As Noted by Our Local Reporter.

H. B. Blackwell, superintendent of the Republic Reduction works, paid us a flying visit on Thursday last. He was accompanied by Marshal Glode spent yesterday in Marquette.

Rumor has it that Conductor Bennett, of the D. S. S. & A., and his young bride will arrive here to-day, and preparations are being made by the bride's parents to give them a hearty reception.

"Grippe" has taken quite a serious hold upon S. E. Munson, as well as several other of our citizens. Mr. James Gamble is home from his Canada trip, and expresses himself as very well pleased with it.

Willie Weiser and his sister Annie have been returned to their home at Commonwealth, Wis. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, on Tuesday, a boy, and to Mr. and Mrs. Behanna, a girl.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Morgan gave a very pleasant euchre party on Wednesday evening. The Republic Iron Co. squared its payroll for the month of December on Thursday.

Baggage Hustler Tomie, of the M. & N., got badly left on some of the girls on the railroad track recently. Mr. Mat Gleason attended the wedding of Mr. Albert Mack and Miss Deerie at Champion Monday last.

Dr. and Mrs. Duckett gave a euchre party on Thursday evening. Mrs. Richard Vincent, of Ishpeming, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hocking, during the week.

John Polgasse, who was hurt some two weeks ago, is getting around nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson are rejoicing over the birth of a son.

Miss Carroll, of Escanaba, is visiting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Morgan. What circus was that exhibiting in the rear of the Pascoe House Sunday afternoon, in which "Morris" so effectively carried out the part of clown by way of dumping his chariot load of human freight upon Carey's ash pile?

For a week or ten days after the holidays, passenger traffic on the Republic Branch was somewhat dull, but there is now a perceptible improvement. The tickets placed on sale for the Catholic benefit concert went off so fast that the management had to announce a repetition for this (Saturday) evening.

The A. O. U. W. members here will give a fine entertainment on Friday, Jan. 24th, at the town hall. It will consist of music by the best home talent, an address by the grand master workman of the state, C. J. Byrns, and speeches by the local officers, and also an oyster supper and ball. Every member is requested to be present, and can bring any number of ladies or gentlemen. The exercises will commence at 7:30 P. M., standard time.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & CO., doing business in the city of Toledo, county and state aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every copy of Catarrh Cure that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

BARN STORMING.

Joe Jefferson Tells of a Case in Which a Barn Was Made a Theatre.

Joseph Jefferson thus describes, in the Century, a curious incident of his early career: "We now entered upon a course of the most primitive acting, going from town to town and giving entertainments in the dining rooms of the hotels. As there were no papers published in these small villages, the only means of advertising our arrival in a bold handwriting were displayed in the three important points of the town, viz., the hotel, the postoffice and the barber shop. It fell to my duty, being an adept with the brush, to write, or rather paint these advertisements. The plays were acted in costume, but without scenery or curtain. The only receipts were small—just about enough to get us from place to place.

"Our objective point was the town of Liberty, Miss., but there was some difficulty in getting there, as the distance was greater than we could accomplish in a day. A farmer who had been to the theater the night before for the first time in his life was so struck by the performance that he proposed to have his barn brought in and take us to his farmhouse, about twenty-five miles distant. According to his suggestion we were to rest for a day, give an entertainment in his barn, and so go on to Liberty.

"But," said my brother, "you tell me there is no other house there but your own. What shall we do for an audience?" "Well," said I, "to begin with, there is a dozen or more on 'em; then there's eight or ten farmhouses close by, and if one of your men will drive there with my son and blow the horn, they will all come, for there ain't one on 'em ever seen a play before. I'll insure you a full barn."

"So the matter was settled, and we actually played in a barn, the house that we staid in being the only one in sight. It seemed in vain to look for an audience in such a lonely place, but the farmer was right. Soon after the sun had gone down the full harvest moon rose, and by its dim light we could faintly see family groups of people, two, and sometimes three, on a horse, coming from all directions over the hill—now a wagon with a group of about a dozen, but all were quiet and serious, and apparently wondering what they were going to see.

"Those who have traveled through the southern states will perhaps remember the kind of barn we acted in; there were two log houses joined together, with an opening between them, which was floored and covered in. The seats were arranged outside in the open air, benches, chairs and logs. The double barn on each side was used for dressing rooms and for making entrances and exits, while the opening was devoted to the stage. The open air was well filled, containing an audience of about sixty persons. Our enthusiastic admirer, the farmer, collected the admission fee, a dollar being charged for a freshly given, and the plays were 'The Lady of Lyons' and 'The Specter Bridegroom.' The farmer had supplied us liberally with candles, so that the early part of the entertainment was brilliantly illuminated, but the evening breeze had fanned the lights so fiercely that by the time the farce began the footlights were gone. The 'flaming ministers' had all spluttered out, so 'The Specter Bridegroom' was acted in the moonlight.

"It was curious to watch the effect of a strong emotional play like 'The Lady of Lyons' upon an audience that had never seen a drama before; they not only were much interested, but they became excited over the trials of the hero and heroine; they talked freely among themselves and, at times, to the actors. One of our ladies insisted that the lovers should be allowed their own way, and a stalwart young farmer warned the villain not to interfere again if he knew what was best for him."

The Black Bishop of the Niger.

The Right Rev. Samuel Adjai Crowther, D.D., missionary bishop of the Niger territory, is now staying at the church missionary house in Salisbury square, Fleet street. He has come over to England from Africa upon a special mission, namely, to raise funds for the building of new churches on the Niger. The bishop, who is a venerable looking old gentleman, now in his eighty-first year, very quiet in manner, and with all the impressive actions which belong to the negro race, has had a life full of adventure, which has been almost entirely devoted to the propagation of the Christian religion among his fellow natives. While a child he was kidnapped from his tribe—the Yorubas—and sold at Lagos in 1822. He was, however, rescued by a British ship, taken to Sierra Leone, and educated there by the Church Missionary society. He was baptized in 1825, was afterward employed as a teacher, and in 1843, having been ordained, he was sent to his own country, Yoruba, to assist in the conversion of his people.

In 1857 he was appointed leader of the New Niger mission, and on St. Peter's day, 1864, he was consecrated at Canterbury cathedral the first bishop of the Niger. Since that date his whole time has been devoted to the conversion of the heathen in those two regions.

The other day a representative of The Fall Mail Gazette had the good fortune to have a few minutes' chat with the aged bishop. "You want me to tell you something of my work in Africa?" said he, speaking with a sort of lip and an accent somewhat reminding one of the soft sound of the r's, m's and s's of a Russian speaking English. "Well, what can I tell you? We are progressing in a wonderful manner. The white traders, who are Christians, have quite abandoned work on Sunday, and instead come to worship at our church and chapels. More, they bring the natives down from the country to worship with us. Not Christian natives, you must understand, but heathens. The traders do this. They are not missionaries, but they help us in our missionary work. At one chapel 250 of these heathens come regularly and are Christians. I am ever here on a special mission; come to collect money to build a new church, which we want very much."—Fall Mail Gazette.

Louis XVI.

Louis XVI had not the imposing presence of the two kings, his predecessors, though there was nothing ignoble in his person. It was rather in manner than appearance that he lacked distinction, for he was tall and well proportioned. The strictness of his morals commanded respect and his private virtues admiration, but he possessed neither the brilliant qualities which attract, nor the grace of manner which wins people, nor the firmness which inspires confidence. These attributes, so necessary for governing a nation, more especially the French nation, in him were entirely wanting; there was, therefore, the necessity of keeping his subjects at a respectful distance, from which it would be impossible to distinguish the imperfections of the wearer of the crown through the halo that surrounded it. But by a strange fatality the etiquette and ceremony of a court, which appear so trivial to superficial minds, but which are so essential to the preservation of kingly authority, were never so necessary as under the reign of the monarch who abolished them.—Souvenirs et Portraits De Louis.

Captain Charles M. York, government inspector of mills, is visiting his family and friends here. Judge Jas. W. Stone left Friday noon for Ontonagon to attend court there, which convenes next Monday. He was accompanied by Attorney C. D. Hanchette.

RED JACKET.

Druggist M. Fritz is now the father of a bouncing baby boy, which was born Thursday morning—a ten pounder. Herman Onkka got into a marriage license which was to make him a benedict. But another maiden than the one named in the license hearing of his intentions had him arrested on a charge of being responsible for the cause of the interesting circumstances she is in—and down went Onkka. Trial pending.

Jerry Cronin, clerk at Ryan's general store has had a good time laughing at the other clerk's who were sick with the influenza. He told them that "only dudes and children got the disease." Jerry, himself, is now laid up with a severe attack of the same thing, and the boys are anxiously waiting for him to return to duty.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank of Chatham, the number of directors was reduced from nine to seven. Richard Polkinghorne, an old resident of the place, was chosen treasurer, and was elected as a leader in the great Calumet strike of 1873, died Thursday morning at Ely, Minn.

HANCOCK.

Mr. W. L. Harlow, who represents Reid, Murdoch & Fisher, wholesale grocers, has been among his customers here for the past few days. Dr. J. LOGGING EXTRAORDINARY.

A Few Particulars Relative to One of the Largest Lumbering Concerns on the Peninsula.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER OF INSTRUCTION FROM THE LAND COMMISSIONER.

Which Will Prove Very Interesting Reading For Claimants to O. & B. Lands in the Iron River District.

Logging On A Big Scale.

A MINING JOURNAL reporter yesterday ran across Mitchell DeHaas, manager for Hall & Buell's extensive lumbering business, and learned that the woods operations this winter will far surpass any previous season. All the skidding has been finished up and hauling is now well advanced. The bulk of the 50,000,000 to be put in this winter to supply the company's two mills: one at Manistique and the second at Bay Mills, will go down the Manistique river from a point to which the new railroad has lately been extended about seven miles below Seney. Of this amount it is calculated that four large camps, one on Two Heart river, one at Hendric, one on the Tahquamenon river and one at Au Sable point, near Grand Marais, will furnish 30,000,000, the amount necessary to stock the Manistique mill, while the 20,000,000 to be sawed at the Bay Mills mill is being cut at different points along the Manistique river, and along the line of the "Soo" road. A considerable quantity of the latter, however, will be shipped by train direct to Manistique.

The Manistique Railroad Co., a corporation composed of the Manistique, and Chicago Lumber Co's, and Hall & Buell, have extended their line some eight or nine miles the past season, which greatly facilitates the shipping of logs to the most advantageous points on the Manistique river, from which they are easily driven to the mouth of the stream. In this connection it may be well to state that an air line extension of 7 miles has lately been completed from Seney, the former terminus of the road, to a point on the river below that place in such a direction as to cut off a number of bad driving places. Mr. De Haas states that though the snow is now a little too deep for them to do rapid hauling, the winter on the whole has been very favorable for logging. The only drawback worthy of mention is the prevalence among the men of influenza, there having been eighteen in one camp sick with it at one time. But they have about whipped the epidemic, however, and at present but few cases exist among them.

Much of the supplies for the Hall & Buell camps were shipped by the Wells-Stone Mercantile Co. by boat last fall and landed on the shore by means of scows.

Important to Claimants.

The following letter of instructions to the register and receiver of the United States land office explains itself, and will be read with interest by many homesteaders in the lower part of this peninsula:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GENERAL LAND OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30, 1889.
Register and Receiver, Marquette, Michigan.

GENTLEMEN:—There are on file in this office a large number of cash entries covering odd numbered sections of land in the former limits of the Ontonagon & Bruce River R. R. in your district.

By decision of Jan. 6, 1888, in the case of Wakefield vs. Cutter et al. (6 L. D. 451.) the honorable secretary of the interior held that such entries were illegal.

By act approved March 2, 1889, (25 Stat. 1038) congress forfeited said grant opposite the uncompleted portion of the road, and by the 3rd section thereof enacted:

"That in all cases when any of the lands forfeited by the first section of this act, or when any lands relinquished to, or for any cause resumed by the United States from grants for railroad purposes, heretofore made to the state of Michigan, have heretofore been disposed of by the proper officers of the United States or under state selections in Michigan confirmed by the secretary of the interior, under color of the public land laws, where the consideration received therefor is still retained by the government, the right and title of all persons holding or claiming under such disposals shall be, and is hereby confirmed: Provided, however, that where the original cash purchasers are the present owners this act shall be operative to confirm the title only of such said cash purchasers as the secretary of the interior shall be satisfied have purchased without fraud and in the belief that they were thereby obtaining valid title from the United States. That nothing herein contained shall be construed to confirm any sales, or entries of lands, or any tract in such state selection, upon which there were bona fide pre-emption or homestead claims on the first day of May, eighteen hundred and eighty-eight, arising or asserted by actual occupation of the land under color of the laws of the United States, and all such pre-emption and homestead claims are hereby confirmed."

It thus appears that said cash entries are confirmed, provided that where the original purchasers are the present owners the honorable secretary of the interior shall be satisfied that they purchased without fraud and in the belief that they were obtaining valid title from the United States, and further provided that nothing in said act shall be construed to confirm sales upon which there were bona fide pre-emption or homestead claims upon May 1st, 1888, arising or asserted by actual occupation of the land under color of the laws of the United States.

In order that said cash entries may be disposed of, I deem it expedient to formulate instructions as to the requirements necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of said act so far as it relates to such cash entries. You will, therefore, upon application for action on his entry by any person asserting that his cash entry (or that through which he claims) was confirmed by said act, require such applicant, where he is the original purchaser and present owner, to file an affidavit setting forth that fact, also that there was no fraud in any way connected with the allowance of the entry, that at the time of such purchase it was made in good faith, and in the belief that he was obtaining valid title from the United States, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief there were no bona fide homestead or pre-emption claims arising, or asserted by actual occupation of the land under color of the laws of the United States, existing on May 1st, 1888. Where the present owner is not the original purchaser he should file an affidavit setting forth the date of his purchase, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief there were no bona fide homestead or pre-emption claims arising or asserted by actual occupation of the land under color of the laws of the United States, existing on May 1st, 1888.

The affidavits should fully describe the entries, giving numbers, dates of same, and tracts covered thereby.

When such affidavits shall have been filed, you will publish, at the expense of the applicant a notice to the following effect:

Notice is hereby given that—, who made cash entry No. —, covering the — and who claims that his entry was confirmed by the act of March 2, 1889, has filed in this (your) office the evidence of good faith required by the secretary of the interior in accordance with said act. If there were any bona fide homestead or pre-emption claims to said tract on May 1st, 1888, arising or asserted by actual occupation of the land under color of the laws of the United States, then such claimant, or claimants, are hereby notified to appear at this (your) office and offer evidence in support of their claims on or before —, Register, Receiver.

The date set within which settlers should file their evidence should not be less than thirty days from date of first publication of notice.

The notice shall be published once each week, for four successive weeks, the first of which publications shall be at least 30 days before transmission of the papers to this office.

More than one entry by the same person may be embraced in a single notice, but in no case should a single advertisement contain the notice of two different entries, and when the papers are submitted each case (i. e., entry) should have filed with it evidence of publication and posting.

In any case of conflict between cash entries and any other claimant, proceedings shall be had at the local land office under existing rules and regulations as to contests; and the party or person claiming adversely to the cash entryman shall be deemed the contestant.

After the conclusion of the proceedings in the local land office, in the transmission of the papers to this office, you will forward all the papers that have been filed relative to any entry or tract, transmitting the papers relative to each case in a separate letter.

Very respectfully,

LEWIS A. GROFF,
Commissioner.
Approved January 3, 1890.
JOHN W. NOLLE,
Secretary.

A Business Change.

Wm. J. Van Kluck, of Howell, Mich., yesterday took possession of the J. F. Mack Jr. furniture establishment on Washington street, having bought out the entire stock, and will continue the business hereafter. Mr. Van Kluck is a young man of good business qualifications and the MINING JOURNAL wishes him abundant success in his new venture.

It is understood that J. F. Mack Jr., will remove to Hallston and give his whole time to the brick business.

The Dock Extension.

The contractors for the extension of No. 3 ore dock have the pile driver in place all ready for business, and the engine will probably be started up in a day or two and active work commenced. Henry & Bach, the contractors who are to do the framing, have their blacksmith shop ready and have completed other necessary arrangements for the commencement of work.

"The Sleeping Fox Catches No Poultry."

It is often the case that the backward boy will, when the opportunity presents itself, far outstrip those whose earlier advantages have been far superior. The UPPER PENINSULA BUSINESS COLLEGE offers to all such young men this opportunity. It gives them a Thorough Business Education, then aids them in securing a position in the business world, where true worth will secure to them a proper compensation.

Come to our office and talk the matter over with us. We can aid you if you will but give us the opportunity.
