MORGAN CALLS A HALT.

A Smooth Job to Defraud the Menominee Indians Out of Fifty Thousand Dollars.

COMMISSIONER MORGAN INTERFERES IN TIME TO SPOIL THE SCHEME.

Secretary Noble's Remarkable Letter—The Affairs That Will Engage the Attention of Congress During the Coming Week.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—There has just been uncovered at the interior department a job which for smoothness and efficiency seems to be entitled to the premium. The job has been fully explained, but it came so near carrying that some attention may be called to it as a warning for the future. From all appearances it was in a fair way to consummate a great fraud and steal upon a Wisconsin Indian tribe, whereby it might have been mulcted in the amount of over $50,000. The fact is that this city is fairly alive with schemers who seek to extort money from Indians, and it is so seldom that the schemes are detected that it is well to make public those that are. In this case, for some unaccountable reason, the beneficiary under the proposed scheme seems to have enlisted Secretary Noble in his job to the extent that, if the secretary has not wilfully shut his eyes to a fraud, he has persistently refused to be enlightened when the facts were laid before him.

It appears that last fall one Frederick T. Ledergerber, of St. Louis, a lawyer, perfected some sort of an agreement with certain head men and chiefs of the Menominee Indians in Wisconsin by which these chiefs, acting as was alleged on behalf of their tribe as authorized by the general council, employed Ledergerber to act as the attorney for the tribe. An agreement was drawn up, signed by four or five chiefs and by Ledergerber, in which it was agreed that the attorney should represent the tribe on and off the reservation, and should appear for the Indians there and here in Washington in the logging matters, and to secure the allotment of their lands to them, for which under this contract to run a year Ledergerber was to receive the fabulous sum of $50,000, to be paid out of the timber fund of the tribe. The agreement also provided that all of Ledergerber's expenses should be paid, travel and other expenses; that in the prosecution of certain kinds of work he should be paid $100 for seven days' work and also that he be allowed clerk hire, etc. This contract is signed Dec. 14 last.

COMMISSIONER MORGAN INTERFERES.

When this extraordinary contract was presented to Commissioner Morgan for his approval he declined to approve it and stated his objections to it in a strong letter to Ledergerber and to the secretary of the interior. In his letter to Ledergerber the commissioner said that the courts had held that all contracts to secure legislation for a contingent compensation were void. He also stated that the things agreed to in the contract by Ledergerber tended to keep the tribe in their tribal relations and was against the policy of the Indian office. On Jan. 18th, the Menominee Indian chiefs who signed the contract protested against it and asked that it be declared void. Commissioner Morgan then refused to approve the agreement. But it is learned that in the face of these objections Secretary Noble sent to the commissioner on the 1st day of February a remarkable letter, which said substantially:

"I have had discussed before me to-day the objections as to the contract made by Col. F. T. Ledergerber with the Menominee Indians. On a liberal construction of what the contract is intended to effect, and in view of the fact that it is to last but one year I think it no injury to the public interests to approve it. And I will do so in case you do the same, but it is not worth my while to approve it otherwise than I do in this letter, unless it meets with your concurrence. The statutes require your approval as well as my own."

MR. MCCORD PROTESTS.

Commissioner Morgan has again refused to approve the contract. It appears that Representative McCord hearing of the existence of the contract took steps to prevent its being approved, and he has addressed letters to the commissioner and to the secretary of the interior stating that it was his purpose to ask congress to investigate the matter. In his letters Mr. McCord said that in all the acts Ledergerber had contracted to perform, the Indian agent, Indian office and delegation in congress were expected to participate and he believed the contract was obtained by corrupt means; that such an attorney was not needed by the Indians, and that the contract should be held void on the ground of public policy. Mr. McCord was informed to-day that the contract would not be approved and another Indian sale had been advertised. It would seem that Ledergerber, who is from Secretary Noble's home town and well-known to him, must have been able to convince the secretary that these Indians ought to be allowed to pay an attorney $50,000 for doing things, which, if they should be done, the department and Indian officials should do. Mr. Noble does not seem to be much wiser than the late secretary when it comes to Indian schemes.

ACCEPTED THE REPORTS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The senate special committee on Pacific railroads, after many hearings, a thorough investigation and careful consideration, has finally accepted the reports of Senator Frye on the Union Pacific, and Senator Davis on the Central Pacific, and agreed to a bill providing for a refunding of their debts.

CONGRESSIONAL PROGRAM.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—For the first time since the present congress met, the house is to have an old fashioned suspension day to-morrow—a result of the new code of rules. The world's fair committee will probably request the house to adopt its program for the disposition of its bills and report and the simple majority vote necessary to make this order will doubtless be secured. In case this is done, the working days of the week will be devoted to the presentation of the claims of the cities contending for the fair and balloting on the site. The pension appropriation bill will probably be reported to the house Tuesday and may be called up, near the end of the week, for consideration. The Blair educational bill is the unfinished business on the senate calendar and Senator Blair states that he will call it up for debate at every opportunity. He will require two more days in which to complete his speech, provided he is not compelled for the consideration of other business. The debate will be participated in by a number of senators, including Messrs. Stanford, Everts, Higgins, Chandler and Wilson, of Iowa. Several republican senators have indicated a purpose to call up the resolution still pending, asking the attorney-general to submit to congress the report, if any has been made, of the United States marshal for Mississippi on the assault at Aberdeen upon Henry Fanz, the Indiana tinner, who turned the rope sustaining the dignity of the secretary of war. If this is done there will be a renewal of the discussion of the southern political situation. Mr. Sherman has given notice that he will ask the senate this week to consider his pending trust, unlawful, and tomorrow Senator Platt from the committee on territories, will report favorably with a request for early consideration of the bill for the admission of Idaho as a state. The report will embody the recent decision of the supreme court, affirming the validity of the Mormon test oath contained in the constitution adopted for the proposed new state.

TO YIELD ANY OF THE TIME

ON THE SIDE OF THE MORMONS.

Ex-Inspector Bonfield, of Chicago, Reviews the Recent Election in Salt Lake City.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 15.—Ex-Inspector John Bonfield, whose detective agency was retained by the Mormons in Salt Lake to trace out and investigate anticipated registration and election fraud, has returned from Salt Lake City, and to-day explained his connection with recent events there. He says the Utah commission is supreme in Salt Lake, and under its operation there is a practical disfranchisement of the Mormon vote. The members of the registry board, he says, were supposed to be non-partisan, but the reverse was true, as was shown by the fact that four of the five were on the gentile ticket which was successful last Monday. The members of the board carried their offices in their hats and voters whom they did not want on the registry never got there. In their house-to-house canvass they managed to skip all the Mormons and those who attempted to get their names down were put off on one ground or another, and their protests against the injustice to which they were subjected were in vain.

Mormons who had never been married at all were stricken from the registry on the charge of polygamy. In addition to the wholesale disfranchisement of the Mormons, the gentiles registered hundreds of names without giving the residence or occupation as the law requires. They registered men who lived over 200 miles from Salt Lake and the detective says he has more than twenty affidavits from men who had been "fixed" in this way. Mr. Bonfield says the gentile triumph was a triumph of boomers and speculators, who sacrificed everything in the name of justice for their own purpose. The result is that land values have been pushed up enormously during the last six months, and there is a tremendous speculative craze, which has been helped by Monday's election. The Mormons, he says, all own their own houses and are a well-to-do, respectable and orderly people.

Nevada Bank Changes Hands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—A syndicate, among whom are W. Hellman, of Los Angeles, the School Brothers, of San Francisco, and Levi Strauss, of New York, has acquired the controlling interest in the Nevada bank of this city. The ownership of this bank, since the death of the late James C. Flood, has been entirely held by John W. Mackey, James L. Flood and Senator James G. Fair. The syndicate will have control of five-sixths of the capital stock, which is three million dollars, leaving one-sixth or half a million, which will be retained by Mackey and Flood. It is understood that Mackey, Flood and Fair simply wanted to be relieved of the responsibility necessary in the management of the bank, so their time could be devoted to other matters.

'No Parade' Carried the Day.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—The Irish-American council, composed of delegates from the various Irish societies in Chicago, discussed at a meeting this afternoon the annual question of parade on St. Patrick's Day. The advocates of no parade were successful. The vote stood 48 to 18. The annual banquet and ball of the Irish-American club will be held at the auditorium during the evening of March 17th.

Two Freight Trains Collide.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 16.—The Cincinnati Southern freight trains Nos. 11 and 15 collided at Melville, Tenn., 17 miles from here, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday. Engineer H. C. Crow, of train No. 15, and brakeman William Gray, of train No. 11, were killed. The collision was caused by the negligence of the flagman, who failed to flag No. 15.

Carkeek Beats Connors.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 16.—At the wrestling match between Jack Carkeek and Tom Connors at the Grand Opera House last night, Carkeek won the first, third and fourth bouts and Connors the second. The match was for $250 a side, three falls out five, the winner to take 75 per cent of the gate receipts.

MURDERED FOR REVENGE.

Herman Royozinsky, of New York, Slain by Isaac Jacob at Day-break Yesterday.

THE KILLING GREW OUT OF AN OLD TROUBLE BETWEEN THE MEN.

A Woman Figures in the Case—A Colored Murderer Makes a Mistake and Kills the Wrong Man.

COLUMN OF CRIME.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—This has been a day of murderous crime in this city. Isaac Jacob, a resident of Brooklyn, killed Herman Royozinsky at day break in a stable at No. 47 Ridge street. From there he went to the murdered man's residence at No. 54 Ridge street to kill his wife, Johanna. She was coming through the door as he approached and he shot her with a revolver. The ball entered her neck on the left side close to the jugular vein. The woman's 18-year-old son bounded from the room and leaped at the murderer of his father before a second shot could be fired. Jacob turned and fled holding the still smoking revolver in his hand. They ran south towards Broome street and when near the corner, Jacob turned on the young man and aimed the revolver at his head. Otto dodged behind a wagon and Jacob seeing two police officers approaching placed the muzzle of the revolver to his own temple and fired. He with blood pouring from the wound and died in a few minutes. Mrs. Royozinsky ran towards the Delancey street police station with the blood oozing from her wound. She had just strength to reach it when she fell unconscious on the floor. The police followed her bloody trail and were just in time to witness the last act of the tragedy. Various causes led to the shooting. The trouble began three years ago. At that time Jacob is said to have smuggled $7,000 worth of diamonds into this country. Fearing discovery Jacob turned the diamonds over to the murdered man to keep for him. When the danger was over Jacob asked for the return of the diamonds and Royozinsky, it is said, refused to give them up. This led to a quarrel and Jacob threatened the other's life. Another cause is found in the fact that Jacob was enamored of Royozinsky's niece. His suit prospered until it was learned that and children living with him in Brooklyn. Jacob admitted this, when questioned by the girl's relatives. Royozinsky refused him the house and Jacob became enraged. He continued to call and insisted on marrying her anyhow. Frequent and bitter quarrels ensued between the Royozinskys and Jacob and the latter swore he would get even with them. Then they refused to allow him to enter the house at all and Jacob became furious. Jacob went to the house at 4:30 o'clock this morning. He rapped on the door and told the Royozinskys that somebody was trying to steal their horse. The older Royozinsky is an expressman. He dressed himself, and accompanied by Jacob, crossed the street and entered the stable, which was just over the way. In the stable yard Jacob placed a revolver against Royozinsky's breast and fired. The ball went through Royozinsky's breast and he fell dead without a word. Jacob coolly put the revolver in his pocket, shut and locked the stable door and entered the Royozinsky house. Mrs. Royozinsky in the meantime that all was not right and was about to start after her husband when she met Jacob and was shot as already stated. The body of the murdered man and the suicide were taken to the station house and the wounded woman was taken to the hospital in a precarious condition. The bullet entered her neck and was taken out half way down her back. Both of the dead men were about 47 years old and Mrs. Royozinsky is 50. An axe was found near Royozinsky's dead body and it is supposed that Jacob intended to use it if the bullet did not do the work quick enough. On Jacob's dead body was found a letter written in very bad English. It is said that he was born in Russia and was a citizen of the United States. He told in a rambling manner of having been swindled out of money by a number of parties in this city and of law suits in which he was engaged and which profited him nothing.

HE HAD A WIFE

HAD BECOME SUSPICIOUS

MILLER GETS EVEN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—James Miller, 38 years old, Morris Miller, 23 years old, and William H. Lawrence, all colored, lived in a tenement house at No. 1795 Third avenue. Last week a young colored man named Stephenson, who is related to Morris Miller, was arrested for passing counterfeit silver dollars. It was said that Lawrence had given the information leading to his arrest and Morris Miller threatened to get even with him. Shortly after midnight this morning Mrs. James Miller became very ill and Lawrence went after her husband, who was in a neighboring cigar store. As the two returned they stumbled against Morris Miller, who was concealed behind the front door. A quarrel followed and James Miller was stabbed twice in the neck. He screamed with agony, ran upstairs to his rooms and fell dead on the floor. Morris Miller was found by the police concealed in a closet on the third floor of the house. In the closet was found a blood-stained knife. Lawrence says he believes the knife was meant for him. Morris Miller pleads self-defense as an excuse for the killing.

NEGAUNEE'S OLDEST TOO
Report That the Jackson, Oldest of Lake Superior Mines, is to Follow the Iron Cliffs into the Cleveland Camp-To-Night's Concert—R. G. Horr Thursday Night—Reckless Shooting.

Will the Jackson Go Too?
From a man who holds some shares in the capital stock of the Jackson Iron company the reporter learned Saturday that he had a communication asking him whether he would take $125 per share for his stock, the "pool" from which his letter had come saying that they already had control of a large number of shares. It is rumored that the prospective purchasers are the Cleveland men who recently bought the Iron Cliffs property. If such be the case the Cleveland company will then possess three of the largest mining properties in the upper peninsula. On the other hand an English syndicate is said to have had an option on the Jackson and a cablegram is alleged to have been received closing the deal.

The concert which will be given tomorrow night at McDonald's hall by the Mozart Musical Association, of Ishpeming, and the local musicians will be one of the finest ever heard here. The following is the full program of the concert:
The old Clock on the Stairs.....Longfellow-Peace
Overture.....Silver Bells.....Schlegelgrell Orchestra.
Hearst Thou.....Matti
Mrs. Powell.
When Thou Art Gone from Me.....Matti
Trio, Mr. Tucker, Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson.
Evening Bells are Sounding.....Pease
Quartet and Chorus.
Eternal Rest.....Piccolini
Miss May Anthony.
Miserere.....Verdi
Chorus.
The Song that Reached My Heart.....Piccolini
Miss Maggie Keating.
Hark, Apollo Strikes the Lyre.....Bishop
Chorus.
In Native Worth.....Haydn
Mr. Tucker.
Gloria.....Mozart
Chorus.

To accommodate the chorus the stage will have to be built out about ten feet. The program will probably be lengthened by the addition of one or more imprompted instrumental solos, and after the concert there will be music till 12 o'clock for those who wish to dance.

R. G. Horr Thursday Night.
Secretary Edgerton received Saturday a message from the Slayton Lecture Bureau stating that Hon. R. G. Horr would be at Negaunee Thursday evening to fill the engagement that was broken by the inability of Judge A. W. Tourgee to appear here on that date. Mr. Horr has a wide reputation as an orator of marked ability and the people will undoubtedly be pleased with his effort Thursday evening. Thereserved seat plat will be opened at Perkins' drug store at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Reckless Shooting.
As a couple of men were walking along Cyr street Friday evening they were greatly frightened by a couple of pistol shots that were fired at a distance of less than a block from them. The reason for the shooting is not known, but it is not likely that at that early hour of night there would be any occasion for the use of fire arms. There is a stringent law against shooting within the fire limits and it should be rigidly enforced.

Among the prominent men registered at the Breithing House Saturday were A. W. Sanborn, of Stevens Point, who is here attending to a case in the local courts; C. T. Roberts, of Mastodon, who is in charge of operations at the mine at that place; and J. B. Nicholson and Alex. Richardson, of Janesville.

Van Alta & Cook will open up fresh for business about March 1st. Everything has been settled to the entire satisfaction of the creditors, and they will open up again for the spring tailoring trade.

A party of gay Negaunee girls went out for a sleigh ride Saturday afternoon. The reporter did not learn the occasion for the jollification, but suspects that it was the annual meet of the S. O. A. P. club.

The Salvation Army's reunion was concluded Saturday. The state officers have gone to Ishpeming.

EPOCH.
The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory, and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health, to the use of the Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing, you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c. and $1 per bottle at H. H. TALK OF THE TOWN.

Wheence? And Whither? A little crib. A tiny babe. A mother's lullaby. A gracious ray of sunshine from a bright, unobscured sky.

Big Sis Middleton. The other night I went to bed feeling rather unwell. My doctor had given me a whole lot of little papers with a modicum of white powders inclosed in every one, and had kindly instructed me to swallow one of those delectable potions, in vain, every three hours.

PERSONAL MOVEMENTS. F. B. Spear returned from the east on Saturday. Gov. Swineford and James Russell departed for Duluth last evening.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER. This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low-test, light-weight alum or phosphate powders.

What Can Be Had at Manhard's. Steam and hot water heating at MANHARD'S. A large variety of steel and cast-iron boilers at MANHARD'S.

Special Assessment Notice. Notice is hereby given that the common council of the city of Marquette will meet in the council room of said city on Tuesday, the 25th day of February, A. D. 1920, at 8 o'clock P. M., to consider the final confirmation of the establishing and defining of a local assessment district upon which shall be assessed the cost and expense of the trunk sewer from Grace furnace dock to Third street, less three thousand dollars to be paid out of the general fund.

Iron Lands for Lease. The undersigned will give options to explore the following described lands for iron ore on reasonable terms.

WHENCE? AND WHITHER?

QUEEN MARY'S ESCAPE.

Put off, put off, and row with speed. For now is the time and the hour of need.

Those pond reeds keep shall the helms keep. And lodge in their caverns so dark and deep.

Hark! the alarm bell has rung: The water's voice has treason sung.

MADAME AUVERGNE.

Goodwood street, in the village of St. Leger, is a transverse street connecting two parallel avenues.

On the 13th day of December, 1878, painters were at work upon the piazzas of the third house from the corner of the southerly avenue, on the west side of the street.

When she opened the door to sweep the piazza there were no footprints in the snow around the door. This fact she remembered distinctly, as she glanced along the length of the piazza before setting the body.

"It must have been a cat," thought Austin, "or my imagination. It did not disturb my friend opposite, whatever it was."

At the breakfast table the next morning strange news awaited him. Goodwood street, from end to end, was in a state of the greatest excitement. Two constables standing at the gate of No. 5 denied access to all comers except the properly constituted authorities.

There was an inquest after the funeral, at which all the inhabitants of the village who were able to gain access to the building in which it was held attended.

A temporary home with her parents, and Edna Fleming having been dismissed. "Have you any theory in regard to the murder?" asked Austin.

"No," said Mr. Mixer. "May I ask what it is?" "No," said Mr. Mixer. "It would seem," said Austin, a little vexed, "as if the blow must have fallen from the clouds."

"From the lower veranda," said the detective grimly. Austin started. "Surely," he exclaimed, "you do not suspect any of the Davis family?"

"No," replied Mr. Mixer. The detective mounted the steps, and bending over rubbed his hand lightly on the green lattice railing of the piazza.

"When was this point put on?" he inquired. "On the day before the murder," Davis spoke about it as we walked from the station.

"Who are the occupants of the other houses on this side?" he asked. Austin named them. All old and well known residents, who had lived in the same street for years.

"Of course not," said Mr. Mixer. "Besides," said Austin, laughing, "she could prove an alibi. I saw her writing in her chamber at the very hour when it is supposed that this murder took place."

"Ah," observed Mr. Mixer. "Can I be of any further service?" asked Austin, not well pleased at this monosyllabic conversation on the part of his companion.

"Not at present, I think," replied the detective. "I am very much obliged to you for this day's work," Mr. Mixer nodded pleasantly, and thus dismissed Austin, who turned and crossed the street and entered his own dwelling.

No sooner had Austin disappeared from view than Mr. Mixer left the yard of No. 5 and proceeded directly to No. 9. A ring at the door was answered by a French maid, and an inquiry for Madame Auvergne elicited the information that madame was out.

"Again Marie Ledoux!" interrupted Madame Auvergne. "In heaven's name, who was Marie Ledoux?"

"The mistress of John Davis," replied Mr. Mixer. "The woman whom, when a young girl, he betrayed, and with whom he lived for years prior to his marriage, at Bordeaux; the woman whom he at last cruelly abandoned, and left in poverty and alone, when he fled to this country to seek a new fortune to replace the one he had dissipated abroad."

"The deserv'd woman treasured up her wrongs, with all the love that heart had held for him changed to hate, she managed to follow him, resolved upon the only revenge with which a spurned and rejected Frenchwoman can be satisfied—his death. For years she traced him from place to place, and at last found him—here in this village of St. Leger, here in Goodwood street."

"A low, inarticulate sound passed from the parted lips of Madame Auvergne, as she listened with an expression of intense interest to this recital. Her face became a shade paler as Mr. Mixer proceeded."

"When John Davis returned home on the 15th of this month," continued the detective, "he was led to the earth at his own door by a single blow from an unseen hand. The snow which covered the ground revealed no trace of the assassin. Why? Because the blow came from above. The person who killed John Davis was concealed behind the lattice of the second story of the veranda, and delivered the fatal stroke while leaning over and clinging to the lattice. That person was a woman, as I have said—Marie Ledoux."

Madame Auvergne's eyes were fastened upon her visitor with a look of intense eagerness, but she made no comment. Mr. Mixer proceeded: "You are doubtless curious to know how I have become acquainted with these details."

"There was one thing," he continued, "upon which this woman had not counted. Cunningly as the crime had been planned to escape detection, and perfectly as it had been executed, Marie Ledoux had forgotten the green paint. The piazza of No. 5 had recently been painted, and the paint was fresh. The murderer had not thought of that as she climbed along the lattice in making her escape. From her clothing, of course, the painting could be removed, or, better still, the clothing could be destroyed; but when this was done there remained upon her boot a green mark which wholly escaped her notice."

There was a quick, almost imperceptible movement of the white hands, and the toe of Madame Auvergne's kid boot protruded for an instant, ever so slightly, from beneath her dress. As it was drawn back its owner was trembling all over.

Mr. Mixer drew from his pocket a pair of bright, steel handbells, and laid them upon the table. Madame Auvergne sprang to her feet in a paroxysm of terror.

"What are those?" she cried, "and why do you bring them here? Take them away! Take them away!" "These," said Mr. Mixer, "are for Marie Ledoux—when I find her."

She stood before him with her black eyes glistening and her bosom heaving, regarding him earnestly for several moments. At last she pressed her hands to her temples and said more calmly: "Monsieur will pardon me. I have had several sleepless nights and I am very nervous."

"I turned away, and, unlocking a small cabinet near the door, took from it a small vial, which she placed to her lips. 'A remedy which a physician has ordered,' she explained, with a smile. 'I am subject to hysteria.'"

YOUNG ACTORS PERFORM.

Dickens Entertainment by the High School Pupils Pleases a Large Audience Saturday Evening.

ISHPENING SNOW SHOES TO BE GIVEN ROYAL RECEPTION.

Steamer Line Between Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie—South Shore's Hard Luck With Freight Car Wheels.

High School Dickens Entertainment. The pupils of the high school gave a very clever Dickens entertainment Saturday evening. The main assembly room was crowded with spectators and applause was generous and frequent. The program as published in Saturday's MINING JOURNAL and was carried out in full and generally showed careful training and rehearsal. Considering the years of the performers most of the parts in the five scenes represented were very well taken. The program included an essay, "Charles Dickens," by George Ball; recitations, "Death of Paul Dombey," "Speech of Sergeant Buzfuz," "Child's Dream of a Star," by Jessie Williams, Neil Clune and Blanche Young, respectively; song, "The Ivy Green," by Blanche Williams; reading "Sam Weller's Valentine," by Bessie Richardson.

The several scenes represented and those who took part in them were: "Squeers School," Rex Case, Fred Kern, Della McCallum and some dozen boys; "The Boffins' Visit to the Willfers," Susie Hefferman, Hattie Sullivan, Grace Ball, Edna Watson, George Ferris and John Wilson; "Fannie Squeers' Tea Party," Grace Palmer, Emroy Spencer, Rex Case and Arthur Hodgkins; "Mr. Venus and Silas Wigg," Neil Clune and John Wilson; "Sam Weller in Prison," Will Van Iderstine, George Ball and Della McCallum.

The evening concluded with an essay by Miss Sophie Case upon some of the better known characters of Dickens, illustrated by appropriate tableaux. Miss Case introduced herself as Mrs. Jarley and notified the audience that she had brought over some of the most celebrated of her wax figures for exhibition in America. The groups shown were: Dr. and Lucie Manette (prison scene), Sairey Gump and Betty Prig at tea, Little Nell and her Grandfather, Dick Swiveller and the Marchioness at cribbage, David Copperfield introducing Dora to Betsy Trotwood, the Pickwick Club in session.

The tableau parts were generally very well taken though one young fellow was unable to keep his mischievous visage straight and caused the audience to receive with roars of laughter a scene meant to be serious. The success of this effort should spur up the young people to some further entertainment in the same line before the winter is over.

Snow Shoes' Festival. There will be high jinks at the snow shoe club house this evening, for the Ishpening boys are coming down and the Marquette club proposes to give them a royal reception. The visitors will descend from the 6:10 train at the railroad shops and be taken for a tramp over the northern part of the city, ending with a parade down Front street and supper at the Hotel Marquette. After supper sleighs will convey the party to the club house, where a jolly and characteristic session will be held. The visitors will return to Ishpening on a special train, leaving here some time in the small hours of the morning.

All members of the Marquette club are most earnestly requested to meet at Hodgkins' barn at 5:30 o'clock sharp. This does not mean 6 o'clock, nor even 5:45 o'clock, but exactly 30 minutes past 5 o'clock.

"The City of Marquette." The coming season will see started on Lake Superior a local steamer line between this port and Sault Ste. Marie. This is a new departure in lake marine, all steamers which touched at this port before being boats from the lower lakes. Endress Bros. have now on the stocks and nearly completed at Manistowoc, Wis., a steamer which will be fully equipped for trade between Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie. The new boat has been named "The City of Marquette" and will be ready for use on or before April 15th. Her hull is new throughout, very strongly and solidly built and intended to crush ice if need be. She is 124 feet long, twenty-four feet beam, nine feet hold, 250 tons burden, has full cabin and sixteen state rooms. The old engine of the steamer St. Maries has been thoroughly overhauled and rebuilt and will be placed in the new boat. The new steamer is expected to make about twelve miles an hour but is built for safety rather than speed.

Freight Car Wheels Break. The South Shore line has been having hard luck with freight car wheels of late. In the past two days two small wrecks have occurred on the eastern division through breaking of wheels or wheel flanges. On Saturday evening the breaking of a flange a few miles east of Seney derailed two cars of corn. The cars were slewed around crosswise of the track, their outer ends buried in the ditch on either side. Owing to the treeless, marshy character of the ground at that place it was difficult to get a purchase on the derailed cars and it took the wrecking train some hours to clear the way. Another derailment of similar kind occurred yesterday afternoon at Sand River. A wheel under a car of flour broke, causing about an hour's stoppage of traffic.

Unless it be the cold weather no cause can be assigned for these frequent breakages. The wheels were of the best pattern and material. The derailed cars were all inspected carefully before leaving the Marquette yards. The broken wheels show a good fracture, with no signs of crystallization. In neither case was anyone hurt and the damage to property was not very large. The delay thus occasioned is of course provoking to travellers and even more annoying to the road, but as everything possible is being done to obviate it the case seems to be one of those where the exercise of patience all round is necessary.

They Owned the Town. The Knights of Pythias who went up to Ontonagon to help institute the new lodge there are telling great stories of the glorious reception accorded them. After giving some thirty initiates their first and second interviews with his goatship the crowd adjourned to the Centennial Hotel, where Landlord F. E. Adams had a magnificent supper prepared and informed his guests that the house was theirs.

After a royal feast, at which several gentlemen threatened to create a famine, the crowd returned to the hall. The command was then given "Bring forth the Imperial Bengal Bumper and let him bump." The agility displayed on this heart-rending occasion by the candidates, especially by Dr. Jordan, R. A. Parker, "Jim" Mercer, Prof. Osband and above all by Rev. Mr. Kishbaugh was truly astonishing. After the third rank was conferred upon all candidates present, W. F. Sawyer, president of the village, delivered to the knights the keys and the title deeds of the town and told them to take it and they proceeded to enter into full possession with remarkable celerity. Judging by its start Bathbone lodge, No. 115 Knights of Pythias ought to be one of the jolliest and most successful in the land.

Nick Ritz Wins the Watch. There was a large and jolly crowd at the Casino rink on Saturday evening. For the first time this season the holder of the first ticket drawn was in the hall and won the prize for the week. The lucky number was 3630 and was held by Nick Ritz who thus becomes the possessor of a handsome lady's gold watch and chain.

The prize this week will be a plush parlor set, now on exhibition in Hager & Johnson's window. The prize masquerade to-morrow evening promises to be a stunning affair. A costumer from Chicago with a choice variety of dresses can be found at the rink office tomorrow afternoon.
