KEMMLER STILL LIVES.

The New York Murderer, Who Was To Have Been Executed Some Time This Week,

SECURES NEW LEASE OF LIFE THROUGH THE GRACE OF A NEW YORK JUDGE.

Lawyer Roger M. Sherman of New York City Secures a Habeas Corpus Returnable the Seventeenth of June.

KEMMLER'S ELECTROCUTION.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 29.—The execution by Electricity of Kemmler, the murderer, will not take place this week. To-day Judge Wallace, of the United States circuit court, granted a writ of habeas corpus returnable June 17th, in the case of Kemmler. The ground for the writ is that the act under which the execution was to take place is in violation of the constitution.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 29.—Notwithstanding all the elaborate preparations for the electrical execution of William Kemmler, notwithstanding the ignorant murderer had professed his readiness to meet death, notwithstanding Warden Durston had practically decided upon the time of administering the fatal current, and notwithstanding most of the authorized witnesses had arrived in Auburn, the whole proceeding is now stopped and indefinitely adjourned. This postponement has been accomplished by the serving of a writ of habeas corpus and not in many years has there been so dramatic an illustration in New York state of the tremendous power exerted by that venerable Anglo-Saxon process. Here was a low, brutal, uneducated murderer condemned to death and waiting only for the order to leave his cell to walk to the fatal chair. He had giving away all he was worth in the world, a slate, a pictorial Bible, a Testament and a trick puzzle; he had just been baptized in the faith of the Methodist church and was receiving the last words of his ministerial advisers; his coffin had been made and he was soon to be placed in it, mangled by physicians knives, when at the last moment a lawyer, unknown to Warden Durston and not only unknown to the prisoner but even unexpected by him, a lawyer from the distant city of New York, who in his regular practice has nothing to do with murder cases, suddenly appears and gives the condemned man a new lease of life. It was as if at a hanging in the county jail, at the very moment when the rope was being fastened, you heard an imperious rap at the jail door and a messenger should stride in from the governor. Such was the effect produced here at the prison and on the streets when the startling news was announced, that the lawyer who caused the commotion was Roger M. Sherman, of New York city. He had never communicated with Kemmler, and it is very likely never knew anything about him except through the newspapers. Just who the employers of Mr. Sherman are, would be interesting to know. His connection with the case seems to be like that of W. Bourke Cockran, who a year ago opposed the infliction of death by electricity upon Kemmler on the ground that it was cruel and unusual, and therefore against the constitution of the state. There has been little doubt that Mr. Cockran, after having got interested in the fight had some assistance from the electrical company whose apparatus had been chosen to kill the murderer of this state in the matter of obtaining expert testimony and other details. The company, it is said, did not want its dynamo to be used. Nevertheless they were obtained, but not directly from the company. It is that the present step counts for anything, for, had there not been a little delay in getting the apparatus in final order and completing the other arrangements the criminal would have been ensnared into the next world at daybreak this morning. It was the warden's attention, it is said, that drew those who have seen the first notifications, to have the deed done this morning. Had his original plans been carried out the movement of Kemmler's mysterious friends would have been fruitless. Mr. Sherman arrived in the city and took a room at the hotel. Soon after his arrival he informed Warden Durston that he had a writ of habeas corpus which would relieve the warden of the job of putting the electric shock into the murderer for some weeks to come. The warden was surprised. He did not know Mr. Sherman, and was inclined to doubt the genuineness of Mr. Sherman's statement. He said: "I must have some assurance of the regularity of this proceeding." Mr. Sherman explained that he had obtained the writ from Judge Wallace Monday and would be sent by the clerk of the court at Utica. That was not considered sufficient and thereupon Mr. Sherman went before Supreme Court Judge Dwight, who was sitting in chambers here, and made affidavit that he was a lawyer and had obtained the writ from Judge Wallace. Finally the warden was satisfied with the regularity of Mr. Sherman's business, and notified the newspaper men that there was not going to be any execution. As a result the crowd of newspaper men were at the prison in quick order to get the details. The correspondents made a rush for the telegraph office and the crowd yelled to them, "Say, has he been touched off?" The first intimation was conveyed to Kemmler about 3 o'clock. That commonplace individual, who is and who is not the chief point of interest in the matter, had been passing the hours in his accustomed simple way.

MADE HIS WILL

BRINGING A REPRIEVE

KEMMLER ASKS NO QUESTION.

Kemmler signed the papers necessary without as much as a question. When told of the reprieve, he neither smiled nor spoke. He seems like a great big overgrown child. After awhile it was driven into him that he was not to die for awhile and he simply said: "That makes me feel much easier." It may be weeks before the decision of the court will be handed down and the final fate of Kemmler decided.

IN TREE TOPS.

A Party of Texan Hunters Caught by the Flood Takes Refuge in Trees.

BINGHAM, TEXAS, April 29.—A few days ago parties from Whitewater, in Grayson county, and Savoy, in this county, went hunting and fishing in Indian Territory. Before they became aware of their perilous position they were surrounded by water, caused by a sudden rise, and being completely cut off from high ground they were compelled to take to the trees. They can be heard shouting for help, but no one can reach them. They have been in the trees two days. A relief party left here yesterday with ropes and boats, but as Red river is full of driftwood and the current is very rapid it is doubtful if they will succeed in affording help. The chances are ten to one that the entire party will perish.

NULL AND VOID.

The Supreme Court Knocks Out the License Law Passed by Last Legislature.

LANSING, April 29.—The supreme court has decided that the high license liquor law as passed at the last session of the legislature is null and void, as the act which was enrolled and signed by the governor was not the law which that body passed. It further holds that the act of 1887 must now govern the liquor traffic.

Canadian Laborers Sent Home.

PORT HURON, Mich., April 29.—The tug Hand of the Lynn line was seized by customs officers to-day for violating the international laws. She was fined $1,500. The special agent of the treasury department, located at this port, has taken a large number of Canadian sailors from American vessels and sent them back. It is claimed they were violating the contract labor law. Other classes of Canadian laborers, working on this side, have been returned to Canada.

Woodruff Imprisoned; Kunze Halted.

CHICAGO, April 29.—Frank Woodruff, at one time suspected of complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin, was before Judge Hawes this afternoon on a minor charge of horse stealing. He pleaded guilty and was given a sentence of six months in the Bridewell. John P. Kunze, who was tried but not convicted of the murder of Dr. Cronin, took out a license to marry Julia Hoyer to-day.

Offers a Compromise.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 29.—The supreme council of the railway federation to-night, after hearing the grievances of the local men, formulated a proposition to the railway companies asking 30 and 21 cents per hour for day and night brakemen and the same wages for conductors as offered by the employers. The proposition is in the nature of a compromise and it is thought will be accepted.

The "For's" Have It.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Independent this week publishes returns from 193 presbyteries of the vote on revision of the confession of faith. Of these 193 presbyteries, 127 voted for revision; sixty-one against it, and five did not vote at all. There are yet twenty presbyteries to be heard from, nearly half of which are in foreign lands.

Salt Seized.

WINDSOR, Ont., April 29.—W. J. Hayward, inspector of weights and measures, has seized at Windsor thirteen packages of salt for being short in weight and not having the gross weight marked on each package. The salt came from Thompson Bros. St. Clair wells in Michigan.

Destructive Prairie Fires.

PIERRE, S. D., April 29.—Destructive prairie fires have been raging on the Sioux reservation. A man named Shoun lost fifty head of cattle and narrowly escaped with his life. The fires were set by Indians, who have been arrested.

Three Drowned.

NEWPORT, Vt., April 29.—A boat containing four men capsized on the lake last night. Three of the men were drowned. Arthur Moore, the fourth occupant, succeeded in swimming ashore. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

A Break for Liberty.

BLACK JACK, Tex., April 29.—Yesterday at a convict camp on the Cotton Point railroad, four miles north of here, four convicts made a break for liberty. They were fired on by guards. One was killed and another was fatally wounded. Two escaped.

Bank Cashier Missing.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 29.—Some excitement prevails at Nottingham, Ala., over the disappearance of Gary Pittman, cashier of the Bank of Nottingham. Diligent search is being made for him. Pittman was also treasurer of Albany, Ga. The condition of the bank is not known.

Miss Bacon's Body Found.

CHICAGO, April 29.—The body of Miss Mattie Bacon, a daughter of Colonel Bacon, of Niles, who jumped into the lake on the night of March 27th, was found floating near the point where she plunged in this morning. The body has been fully identified.

LAND FORFEITURE BILL.

Senator Call's Amendment to Include Florida Lands Defeated by a Strict Party Vote.

THE SPEAKER AND MR. MILLS EXCHANGE A FEW REMARKS.

Sherman Advocates Counting Senators to Make a Quorum—Clerical Error Discovers in the Oklahoma Bill.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—After the transaction of routine business, the consideration of the land forfeiture bill was resumed. Mr. Plumb discussed Mr. Call's amendment as to lands in Florida. He was bound to assume that the legislature of Florida and the governor of Florida in certifying that the roads had been built and the lands earned acted properly. He was bound to believe nobody's rights had been trampled upon by those acts. As to the Florida amendment, he said it applied to about 600,000 acres outside of the original limit and which had never been granted to the railroad company or to the state of Florida; and that of this 600,000 acre 33,000 were owned by a Washington lobbyist who got them as a favor for his services in the interior department. He charged that the republican side of the senate in opposing the amendment was true to its instincts in favor of monopolies.

On motion of Mr. Sherman the house amendment to the senate concurrent resolution concerning the irrigation of arid lands in the valley of Rio Grande, was concurred in. The consideration of the land forfeiture bill was then resumed. On the motion to lay the amendment on the table there was not a quorum voting. A call of the senate showed the presence of fifty-two members, and the whole vote was about to be taken again when Mr. Sherman rose and gave notice that whenever there was a quorum present and the vote did not disclose that fact, he should insist upon the sensible rule that senators present and not voting should be counted.

Mr. Blackburn—Is it the purpose of the senator from Ohio either to disregard pairs of senators or disregard the rule of the senate and authorize its presiding officer to do that which the speaker of the house has been recently engaged in doing.

Mr. Sherman—I would not break a pair. But there are one or two senators present, whom I will not name, for whom pairs are not announced and who did not vote on the last vote. I think it is the duty of every person who is not paired to vote, and that is the position I have always occupied.

Mr. Blackburn—I agree to that. Some discussion followed on a point of order, when Mr. Call's amendment was laid on the table by a strict party vote. Mr. Moody offered an amendment, which was agreed to, declaring that the act shall not be construed to confer any right on any state, corporation or person to lands that were excepted in the grants. The bill then passed without division.

Mr. McPherson introduced a bill granting a pension of $2,500 a year to the widow of Gen. Geo. B. McClellan. Referred. The senate then considered the house bill to simplify the laws in relation to the collection of the revenues, (commonly known as the administrative bill). The bill was read and the amendments recommended by the committee were agreed to. Other amendments were submitted by Senators Everts, Davis and Vest and went over without action. Mr. Gray and Mr. Coke said they would offer amendments to-morrow. The senate then adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—Mr. Pierce (Tenn.) rising to a question of personal privilege, denied a statement made a few days ago by Mr. Evans (Tenn.) to the effect that there had been ballot-stuffing in his state. The speaker ruled that this did not present a matter of personal privilege. Mr. Pierce responded sharply that he thought it did. The speaker said that the gentleman had no right to make such a response to the chair.

Mr. Mills (Tex.)—Why did not the speaker stop the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. Evans) the other day?

The Speaker—The speaker was not present when that occurred.

Mr. Mills—Then you ought not to stop the gentleman from Tennessee now.

The Speaker—That does not follow. Mr. Mills—it does follow.

The Speaker—The chair does not desire to enter into any personal controversy with the gentleman and he thinks if the gentleman will reflect he will not persist in the impropriety.

Mr. Mills—I do not see any impropriety when one gentleman charges another with fraud.

The Speaker—The gentleman from Texas will please be in order.

Mr. Mills—I am in order; and the speaker is more out of order than I am.

The senate bill passed for the disposal of the Fort Sedgewick military reservation in Colorado and Nebraska. On motion of Mr. Dinghy (Me.) the house went into committee of the whole, Mr. Burrows of Michigan in the chair, on the bill providing for the classification of worsted cloths as woolsens. After a short discussion the committee rose to receive from the senate a concurrent resolution, requesting the president to return the Oklahoma territory bill. Mr. Perkins (Kas.) asked for immediate consideration of the resolution, stating that a clerical error had been made in the bill. The concurrent resolution was agreed to and the committee of the whole again resumed consideration of the woolsen cloth bill. A long discussion followed, when the committee rose and reported the bill to the house. On the passage of the bill no quorum voted, there being no quorum present, and the house adjourned.

KEMMLER will not be electrocuted for the present—a New York lawyer having put in his oar after the condemned man was prepared to accept death calmly and the Auburn prison officials had completed the arrangements for his execution.

THE Martel furnace, of St. Ignace, must be making a good record. At the time that it went into blast again it was announced that four casts would be made each twenty-four hours and the St. Ignace papers state that the other day in one cast twenty tons were run out. This would make a daily output of eighty tons, if the other casts were equally large.

PRESIDENT HARRISON used his veto power for the first time on Monday when he returned without his signature the bill allowing the city of Ogden, Utah, to increase its indebtedness, and his message shows his usual common sense. The city has only 15,000 people and already has a debt of $180,000; it wanted the power to increase the amount to $500,000, but the president considers a debt of $37 per capita amply sufficient for any town of that size.

THE next meeting of the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin Press association will be held at Iron Mountain Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 21, 22 and 23. The business meeting will be held Monday evening. Tuesday morning the members of the Michigan Press association with ladies—about 200—will arrive, and the day will be spent visiting different points in and about Iron Mountain, including a trip to Norway in the afternoon. There will be a grand banquet in Rundle's Opera House in the evening, after which our lower peninsula friends will depart on their extended western trip. The committee's plans for Wednesday are yet incomplete, but a trip to Florence and other range towns is contemplated. Full particulars will be announced later.

In responding to the toast, "The Republican Party," at the banquet given by the American Republican club of Pittsburgh Saturday evening, in honor of the 68th birthday of General Grant, Thomas B. Reed used the following as his prerogative: "Your toast strikes the only possible note of continued victory for the American party. Continued victory we must have. Not as partisans but as patriots. [Not on the past must be our reliance, but on the future. If we are not to-day in the forefront of human progress to have been followers of Abraham Lincoln in the years gone by is not an honor, but a burning disgrace. Progress is of the essence of republicanism. To have met great emergencies as they arose has been our history. To meet the emergencies as they shall arise must be our daily walk and duty or we cease to be. Hanging on to old traditions is the business of the democratic party. And it does that business well: we can never rival it."

EIGHT hours for work, eight hours for study and recreation and eight hours for sleep was Ben Franklin's division of the day. Undoubtedly the time is near at hand when eight hours will constitute a day's work in most of the trades and we are not prepared to say that the result of the present agitation throughout the country, which is expected to culminate on May day, may not prove beneficial to the employer as well as employee; but when it comes to demanding an eight-hour day and increased pay in one and the same breath, as is being done in some places, it is drawing it rather strong. No union man can deny that this suggests gall of a huge order. The increased pay may come after the eight hour day, but the two can hardly be expected to come at the same time and only by a continuance of the policy of protection can workmen hope to receive the benefits of both or can manufacturers and employers generally expect to be able to stand up under the burden which shorter hours coupled with higher wages will impose.

THE name Tod is too well known in Lake Superior iron circles to make any introduction necessary for its possessor. The following is from the Milwaukee Wisconsin:

"The iron market," said John Tod, the Youngstown iron prince, who is stopping at the Plankinton House, "is rather quiet now. The recent speculation is to blame. Speculators, a short time since, bought a great deal of iron in the expectation of making $5 or $10 a ton without moving it. They ran prices up, and naturally bore down the market when they unloaded. The present condition of the market is simply the result of a reaction and will not last long. There will be a great improvement in a few weeks. The consumption is larger than I ever knew before. If the demand keeps up—and that it is bound to do—I can not see where all the ore is coming from. All that I am afraid of is that there will be a wild speculation in iron next fall. I do not like a boom—it does more harm than good."

"Lake Superior ore," said Mr. Tod, when asked if western iron men had any cause to fear southern manufacturers, "has nothing to be afraid of—except imported ore. The southern manufacturers can make a cheap, inferior iron, but they cannot produce the Bessemer article."

MAX O'RELL has this to say of the Americans as a people in the May number of the North American Review, in which both he and Mr. Andrew Lang give their impressions of the "Typical American."

I have said that inquisitiveness was the chief American trait, and that it arose from the childish character of a man who belongs to a great, successful, but young nation. Are there not other traits, more or less typical of American manners, arising from the same cause? I believe there are. Generosity, impulsiveness, forgiveness, and—excuse the word—cheek are among them. The American runs wildly after the dollar, but he is lavish of it; he does not love it; he likes it for what it procures; and avarice, which you so commonly find in England and France, is a vice—unfitly vice—that you seldom find in an American. He will resent an insult, but very quickly forgets it; and there is no man in the world that can stand good-humored chaffing as well as he does. He is audacious, simply because he has done such marvelous things in a short time that he simply believes nothing is impossible to him. His ideas are eccentric, but eccentricity is only an exaggerated form of the activity of mind. He lives on a continent so vast that he can hardly see a limit to it. He has the word "big" carved on the cranium, and is it a wonder that sometimes the word is so deeply carved that it makes a hole or crack in it? I repeat it, I have never discovered the typical American, although I have discovered traits that are characteristic of most Americans; and as for American gentlemen, I have never been able to distinguish them from English or French gentlemen. The aristocracy of nature is universal.

DAY DAWN.
 The first low fluttering breath of waking day
 Stirs the wide air. This clouds of pearly haze Float slowly over the sky to meet the rays
 Of the unborn sun, whose falling beams play
 Among the drooping stars, kissing away
 Their winning eyes to slumber. From the gaze
 Like snow wreaths an approach of vernal days.
 The moon's pale crescent melts into the gray:
 Glad ocean quivers to the gentle gleams
 Of rosy light that touch his glorious brow
 And murmurs joy with all his thousand Stagnant;
 And each fair face is mantling with a glow,
 And youthful beauty in its clasp of love,
 When slumbers, rich with dreams, are bidding her adieu.
 —Samuel Adams Lee in Pioneer Press.

Facial Perception.
 Mr. W. H. Levy, who is blind, says in his book, "Blindness and the Blind," that he can tell when he is opposite an object, and can perceive whether it is tall or short, slender or bulky. He can also determine whether it is a military subject or a continuous fence; whether a close fence or an open one, and sometimes whether a wooden fence, a stone wall or a hedge. None of the five senses has anything to do with this perceptive power, but the impressions are made on the skin of the face, and by it transmitted to the brain. He therefore names this unrecognized sense "facial perception." The presence of a fog interferes with facial perception, and makes the impressions faint and uncertainly, but darkness is no impediment. A noise which distracts the attention interferes with the impressions. In passing along the street he can distinguish shops from private houses, and doors from windows, if the windows consist of a number of panes, and if not of a single sheet of glass.

English Girls Defeat American Men.
 Dr. Peter McSwiny, surgeon of the Inman steamship City of Chicago, tells me that there were among the passengers of that ship, bound for New York several years ago, a large contingent of the Wilson Barrett dramatic troupe. One day, for the purpose of wearing away the time, it was suggested that a certain number of the Englishmen aboard pull a tug of war against an equal number of the Americans aboard. The proposition met with general approval and the contest took place, the Americans making a very poor showing against their sturdier cousins. Thereupon the young women of the Barrett company—there were about a dozen of them—challenged an equal number of the American gentlemen to a tug of war, and the challenge, being accepted, the way those girls yanked those men over that deck was outrageous to a degree.—Eugene Field's London Letter.

Two children playing upon a grassy slope at Anichinitia, Scotland, slipped and rolled down to the edge of a steep precipice, 145 feet high, over which they fell to the beach below. Those who ran to gather up their mangled remains found them on their feet in the sand in a general state of mental bewilderment, and with no worse injuries than a few scratches.

The "Flowers That Bloom
 in the Spring," fragrant and fresh in their vernal beauty, are welcome indeed after Winter's long and cheerless reign. The birds, also, with their merry roundels, the balmy breezes, the running brooks, and the far-reaching meadows robed in velvet green—all these charm every sense and fill the soul with gladness. But there is something that is more welcome in Spring than flowers and birds and breezes, running brooks and meadows green, and that is a medicine that will gently purge and cleanse the blood of the fatty and noxious impurities that have collected in it during the Winter, and leave it pure and wholesome and in proper condition for a long hot spell. Such a medicine is Pe-yu-na, the great Blood Purifier and Tonic. Take it in time and tone your system up. It will fortify you against the most debilitating effects of the heat. Don't forget Man-a-lin, also, for your bowels. $1 a bottle each. For sale by H. H. Stafford & Son, Marquette.

REPUBLICAN NOTES.
 The Odd Fellows on Saturday night succeeded in beating their own and other records here, in the way of a banquet, social and entertainment. The best caterers and confectioners of Milwaukee furnished the delicacies, and the ladies of Republic assisted in their usual happy style. A limited number of cards had been issued, and the invited guests were given the place of honor. Superintendent Peter Pascoe and his able corps of assistants won the sweetest smiles of the ladies by the way they saw to the comfort of everybody. After the banquet some fun loving people administered the degree of Rebekah, in which the sisters promised to be up early in the mornings and sweeten their husbands' coffee themselves, and the brothers promised to furnish a nice new "poke" board every season. The entertainment proper was then introduced by the chairman. It proved to be very interesting and pleasing to all present. Rev. S. Williams gave the oration, which was listened to with rapt attention. A quartet consisting of Mrs. Beall and Mrs. Taylor, and Messrs. Hopfender and Buzza was very kindly received, while the duets by Messrs. Kendall and Tibbets were also highly appreciated. The solos by Miss Bessie Pascoe were very well rendered. She is always a favorite when she appears in public. The instrumental performers, Miss Annie Phillips and Miss Millie Pascoe, delighted everybody; both of these young ladies are perfectly at home with the piano. Mrs. Beall, the accompanist, did her part gracefully and correctly, as usual. Harriet of Oak band assisted, and in their parade in the evening the town seemed filled with music and marching Odd Fellows. This was a fitting close to the day, April 30th, which all true Odd Fellows delight to celebrate.

Jacob Schootzen is erecting a commodious new barn and stables in the rear of his new block.
 H. B. Blackwell, of Marquette, superintendent of the Republic Reduction works, is now making daily trips here. New machinery is being placed in their "wash house," which is being considerably enlarged, and it is expected that the commencement business early next week.
 C. E. Bargarist, one of our popular barbers, has vacated his shop in Fellow's block and has entered into partnership with Theodore Gary, of the Sundquist block, where they are fitting up elegant quarters and will be pleased to receive calls.
 Don't forget that the prime favorites, our own opera company, will give "H. M. S. Pinafore" at the Town Hall Friday evening next, May 2nd, for the benefit of the Republic Silver Cornet band. Popular prices. Reserved seats on sale at Munson & Peterson's.

The following is our latest school report: Number belonging, 439; entire enrollment, 608; number of boys, 392; number of girls, 312; daily recitations, 101; average attendance, 384; per cent of attendance, 90; visitors, 4 total times tardy, 88; notices to parents, 10.
 The D. S. S. & A. is bringing in heavy trains of coal for the Republic mine.
 Joseph Glode spent Sunday in Iron Mountain.

Our "Pinafore" company will play in Champion on Saturday evening. A special train for the company will leave the C. & N. W. Ry. depot here at 6:30 p. m. Returning, it will leave Champion immediately after the performance.

Mr. John A. Sundstrom, of Iron Mountain and Miss Hilma C. Peterson, of this place, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. John Valkar, on Tuesday afternoon. Both of the contracting parties have hosts of friends here who wish them a long and happy married life. Rev. Gust Hultgren, of Republic, tied the knot. The young couple departed in the afternoon for Iron Mountain, their future home.

Mr. C. T. Andrews, formerly principal of our public school, but now a prosperous merchant and homesteader at Payneville, was among our visitors during the week.
 The new highway commissioner, Mr. John Peter, has been busy for some time past in strengthening the Peashegan bridge, which has been in danger of floating down with the logs this spring.

Messrs. Albert Lunna and Fred Freado, Jr. will open a saloon in Isaac Trodas place on May 1st.
 Married on Thursday evening at the residence of the bride, Mr. George Hall and Miss Jennie Murray. The MINING JOURNAL extends congratulations.

The D. S. S. & A. pay-car stopped with us Thursday night on its way to Duluth.
 The Michigan game company squared its monthly pay roll on Tuesday last.
 Mr. R. R. Thomas, of Champion, arrived in town Friday with men and equipments for erecting half a dozen new dwelling houses at the Ishpeming mine, for which he has secured the contract.

It is expected that the F. W. Rend & Co.'s saw-mill will resume operations Wednesday of this week. The company intends to put on a larger force than ever this season. An electric light plant will be put in, when they will run double shift.
 Switch engine No. 20 was put on Tuesday and the smiling face of Conductor Frank Landry is again to be seen among us.

The Odd Fellows of this place attended the celebration at Negaunee in a body Saturday.
 The oyster supper and festival given by the ladies of the M. E. church Friday and Saturday evening, was largely attended both nights and a good sum was added to the church fund. The congregation completely filled the new church.
 Johnny, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Veale, died on Friday evening after a prolonged illness. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Catholic church.

AN OPEN LETTER

From a Well-known Druggist - "Positive" Cure for Stomach Troubles.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

In the summer of 1870 I was first afflicted with that most dreaded disease, dyspepsia, and for over fifteen years I suffered terribly at times. In the meantime I tried every so-called remedy imaginable, without finding relief. Having been in the drug business since 1888, I determined to help myself if it lay in the power of medicine. Two years ago I succeeded in discovering a remedy. It cured me. Until I had given ample time for possibility of doubt, however, I kept my secret almost to myself, putting up the medicine for only a few of my sorely troubled friends, every one of whom was cured. Now, I know the medicine to be a positive cure, and have decided to put it on the market, that my discovery may do humanity all possible good. It will be known as "Dr. Ross's Positive Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Cure," which is guaranteed to cure all ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys. I have a number of testimonials which afflicted parties may be interested in.

KILLED BY THE CARS.
Edward English Run Over at Negaunee on the Lucy Mine Track.

Fatal Accident at the Queen-Miss Neltner's Reading-Other Negaunee Notes.

Killed by the Cars.
Edward English, probably better known about town as Edward Lavelle, was run over and killed in the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway yards yesterday afternoon. He had been employed at various times in the yards here as a switchman, and since his return this spring after an absence of nearly a year had been working both in the Northwestern and South Shore yards. For the past few weeks he had been at work for the D., S. S. & A. Since his return he had been a steady, hard worker, and this led to his promotion, and at noon yesterday he was given charge of an engine in the yards. About 4 o'clock he and the two switchmen working under him took their engine and went up the grade to the Lucy mine. The engine was then sent down alone, as is the custom, and the men proceeded to "drop" down the cars. They let them down over the grade very carefully, more so, in fact, than older hands would have done. There were ten cars in the train and in the sag a couple hundred feet above the M. & W. crossing the train was running very slowly. Here English must have started to let off a brake, but losing his footing fell beneath the cars. The cars were quickly stopped, English was extricated and carried to the M. & W. depot, where Drs. Lombard, Cochran and Morse attended him. It was found that his left leg was cut almost in two near the ankle and again near the knee, while the right leg was crushed near the ankle. His left arm was badly crushed, and he was otherwise injured. One of his shoes, crushed, was found near the rail. He rallied but little and before his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle, arrived he had about lost consciousness. He was taken to his home, where he died shortly after his arrival. The deceased was about 25 years of age, and unmarried.

He was familiar with the work and the location of the yards, and knew just what was to be done on this particular trip. Yardmaster Vincent having asked him this question before he sent the engine up to the Lucy, and the unfortunate man's death is simply the fate that has befallen many a trainman, there being no one to blame.

Killed in the Queen.
Charles Jacobson and another Finn fell from the second level of the Queen mine yesterday afternoon, where they were engaged in handling timber. They fell a distance of 100 feet. Jacobson was killed and his partner so badly injured that he will die.

To-Night's Entertainment.
Miss Cornelia Neltner will render one of her choicest programs at A. O. U. W. Hall to-night, the entertainment being under the auspices of that society. The elocutionary selections by Miss Neltner, who gave such excellent satisfaction on her last visit here, will be interspersed with some musical numbers. Considering the excellence of the entertainment and the low price of admission, no one can afford to miss it.

There are still a large number of the library books outstanding. It might be a good idea for people to look about their houses and see if they have not some books of which they had lost track. Even the best of people are forgetful at times.

The South Shore yard is crowded with coal trains, trains having come in all day yesterday as "double-headers" from Marquette. Three switch engines were at work yesterday morning but it was found necessary to put on another one at noon.

The C. & N. W. is putting a cut-off on its track to pits 7 and 8 of the Jackson, so that No. 9 can be reached without having to use the South Shore track.

All the alleys are in horrible condition, but the one between Gold and Silver streets, just south of Iron, demands the immediate attention of the authorities.

The new cards showing that the revenue license has been paid for the ensuing year will have to be posted to-morrow.

The trout fishing season opens to-morrow and a large number of Negaunee people have already commenced to plan their excursions.

James Diegan, who has been on the sick list for a few days, is again on deck.

Royce & Lansing's and Browne's companies are booked for early dates here.

Navigation is open on Teal Lake, the ice having wholly disappeared.

Dr. J. E. Scallon, of Hancock, was in the city yesterday.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Boston league club made its first appearance in Brooklyn this season at Washington park to-day. There were 1,500 people present. Hughes pitched a steady and effective game and was splendidly supported by Daly. Nicholas was also effective, but wild at times. The Bostonians gave him poor support, Brodie, Donovan and Lowe making rank errors which were productive of runs. Corkhill's fielding was the feature of the game. Score:

Brooklyn.....0 2 2 1 0 0 0 0 *—5
Boston.....1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—2

Batteries. Boston, Nichols and Gansel; Brooklyn, Hughes and Daly. Base hits, Boston 4, Brooklyn 4. Errors, Boston 4, Brooklyn 1. Two-base hits, Lowe, Three-base hits, Lowe. Struck out, O'Brien, Burns, Corkhill, Hughes 3. Time 1:30. Umpires, Powers and McDermott.

BRILLIANT FIELDING GAME.

CLEVELAND, April 29.—The fielding of the Cleveland and Cincinnati was brilliant. The former club won because Daily hit for three bases in the fifth inning. Gilks was very puzzling to the Red Legs. Score:

Two-base hits, Keenan. Three-base hits, Daily; struck out, by Gilks 1, by Goreman 1. Time, 1:50. Umpire, McQuaid. Batteries, Cleveland, Gilks and Zimmer; Cincinnati, Foreman and Keenan. Base hits, Cleveland 8, Cincinnati 6. Errors, Cleveland 1, Cincinnati 1.

OPENED IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 29.—The Chicago National league team opened the season at Black Stocking park this afternoon, winning a very pretty game from the Pittsburgh club. The day was bright, but cold and raw, making field work very uncertain. The Pittsburghs were unable to solve Coughlin's delivery, two of their hits being of the scratch order. Nagles' support of Coughlin was very brilliant and brought out great applause. Daniels was very unsteady up to the fifth inning, after which he settled down and pitched good ball. Cooney's work at short stop was beautiful and has rarely been excelled. O'Brien's work at second was very fine. Taking the general work of both teams, the Colts put up a much better game than the veterans. The audience was in accord with the players and the presentations of floral pieces were very numerous. Attendance, 1,600. Score:

Chicago.....2 2 1 2 0 0 1 1 0—9
Pittsburg.....0 2 1 0 0 0 0 1 0—4

Two-base hits, Chicago, 1; Pittsburg, 1. Three-base hits, Chicago, 2. Struck out, by Coughlin, 5; by Daniels, 7. Errors, Chicago, 5; Pittsburg, 3. Batteries, Chicago, Coughlin and Nagle; Pittsburg, Daniels and Miller. Time, 1:55. Umpire, Zacharias.

A ROYAL WELCOME.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—The Philadelphia league club was given a cordial reception by 6,932 persons this afternoon at the opening game with New York. The game was stubbornly contested until the first half of the ninth inning, when New York rapped out two earned runs on Rusie's single and Tierman's four-bagger to the left field fence. Score:

New York.....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—4
Philadelphia.....0 0 1 0 0 1 0 3 0—5

Base hits, New York 9; Philadelphia 5. Errors, New York 2; Philadelphia 2. Two-base hits, Clements. Home runs, Tierman, Ferguson and Halbert. Batteries, Philadelphia, Husted and Hallman; Brooklyn, Sowers and Daily. Errors, Philadelphia 7; Brooklyn, 5.

PLAYERS' LEAGUE.

BROOKLYN, April 29.—At Eastern park to-day the Philadelphia Players' league team gave Ward's team a parting shot by defeating them handily. Fogarty's men wore their batting clothes and hit Sowers and Murphy with great results. Husted pitched a great game for the visitors up to the seventh inning and then eased up because his team had a long lead. Attendance, 1,350. Score:

Brooklyn.....0 0 0 0 1 2 2 2—14
Philadelphia.....3 0 2 3 1 3 0 2—14

Two-base hits, Griffin, Mulvey, Hallman. Double plays, Bauer and Orr. Struck out, Daily, Wood, 2. Time, 1:50. Umpires, Ferguson and Halbert. Batteries, Philadelphia, Husted and Hallman; Brooklyn, Sowers and Daily. Errors, Philadelphia 7; Brooklyn, 5.

SMALL CROWD AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, April 29.—Twenty-five cent ball was inaugurated by the Players' league at Exposition park, but weather kept the attendance down to 700. The game was frequently stopped by rain, but was finally played out, the Cleveland winning through batting and the errors of their opponents. Score:

Cleveland.....0 2 1 1 1 1 0 0—7
Pittsburg.....0 2 0 0 1 0 0 2—16

Base hits, Pittsburgh 11; Cleveland 13. Errors, Pittsburgh 6; Cleveland 2. Two-base hits, Beckley 2, DeLoach 2, Browning 2, Robinson, Fields. Three-base hits, Beckley. Struck out, by Galvin 2; by Bakely 7. Time 2:30. Umpires, Matthews and Gunning. Batteries, Galvin and Hurley, Bakely and Sutcliffe.

HEAVY HATLING.

BOSTON, Mass., April 29.—Both Brotherhood nines battled heavily to-day and the Boston's poor fielding was counterbalanced by O'Day's wild pitching. Daley gave way to Madden in the seventh inning and the change won the game for Boston. Nash and Hatfield did some timely batting. Attendance, 4,157. Score:

Boston.....0 5 0 4 0 3 2 0—15
New York.....0 0 0 3 3 2 0 1—13

Two-base hits, Brown, Richardson, Stovey, Nash, Brothers (2), Quinn, Madden, Gore, Slattery, Hatfield, Homeruns, Daley, O'Rourke, O'Connor, Hatfield. Struck out, Richardson, Stovey, Murphy, (2); Connor, (2); Whitney, Hatfield, O'Day. Double plays, Slattery and Hatfield. Time, 2:32. Umpires, Gaffney and Barnes. Errors, Boston 7; New York, 2. A RADICAL ATTACK.

Made On The Public Schools of This Country By Father McCanna.

JOILET, Ill., April 29.—The most radical attack ever made upon the public school system of the United States was launched forth at St. Mary's church in this city in a sermon by Father McCanna, a missionary priest. He stated that the public school system was the agent of Satan, devised by Satan's emissaries to undermine freedom of conscience and destroy the foundations of the Catholic church. In closing his remarks he warned all parents against sending their children to the public school, as on the judgment day, when asked what had they done with their little ones, the reply would come: "Dammed, damned, all eternally damned."

The Carpenters' Strike.

CHICAGO, April 29.—To-day was a comparatively uneventful day in the carpenters' strike and to-night the headquarters of the journeymen were more deserted than at any time since the movement was inaugurated. This is due to the fact that the determination to make a settlement with the boss carpenters and builders association has made the unremitting measures of the last three weeks unnecessary.

The initial steps toward declaring the strike off have been taken and many members of the new association are sanguine enough to think work will be resumed Friday. The Master Carpenters and Builders association will be boycotted, but from what can be learned at their headquarters the old bosses are not losing much sleep over the prospect. The final meeting between the various associations will be held to-morrow at 10 A. M.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

ENGLAND.

Mr. Shaw-Lefevre (liberal) declared to recognize Mr. Plunkett as a representative of the Irish landlords. Those representing the Irish landlords, he said, had not spoken a word in favor of the bill. Many landlords believed the measure would mean their ultimate extinction. He preferred Mr. Parnell's measure because it was confined to the class of tenants who alone ought to benefit by such a measure. On motion of Mr. Balfour the debate was adjourned.

She Keeps Her Hands White.

One of the most lovable, cultivated, as well as daintiest women we know, whose pretty white hands are one of her strong points, not only is obliged to do housework and wash dishes occasionally, but constantly. She wears large, loose gloves about the house as well as at night, and immediately after washing dishes bathes her hands in ordinary oil and water, and slips them for a time into gloves well anointed with pure, fresh cold cream. She is obliged to file her nails shorter than she would like to do, and she is obliged to be always spotless and brilliantly polished.—Chicago Herald.

The British and Foreign Bible society, which has spent $50,000,000 in the dissemination of the Scriptures, recently celebrated its eighty-sixth birthday by a great entertainment in London for its juvenile agents, who are chiefly young girls, and for whom it had made a new and much more efficacious remedy. It should be freely applied to any surface where there seems to be a tendency to hemorrhage.

A SUBTERRANEAN STORY.

Last Summer the schooner William Haley, of Galveston, trading among the West Indies, was becalmed near the Gulf stream. The second day the captain's curiosity was aroused by a strange floating mass, and he ordered the mate to take a boat and examine it. The mate returned towing a log, from which the men had cut away the marine growth which had made it seem at a distance like a sea monster. The captain ordered it to be hoisted to the deck, declaring that in forty years spent at sea he had never found anything like it.

When laid on the deck it was seen to be about twenty feet long and two feet in diameter. It was of some very hard, dark colored wood, like palm, charred in places, and worn and broken, cut and torn, as if it had been whirled through torrents and maelstroms for hundreds of years. The ends were pointed, and five bands of dark metal, like bronze, were sunk in the wood, and the whole bore evidence of having passed through intense heat. On closer examination the log was seen to consist of two parts, and these bands were to bind it together. The captain had the bands cut, and in the exact center, fitted into a cavity, was a round stone eighteen inches in diameter. The rest of the wood was solid.

The captain, more disappointed at this result than he cared to confess, picked up the stone and was greatly astonished at its lightness. Examining it more closely, he remembered that when a boy on the old New Hampshire farm he used to find hollow stones with crystals in them—geodes, as he afterwards heard them called. This was probably a some unknown purpose. He carried it to his cabin and put it into his chest.

Two months later the old captain returned to his cottage on Galveston bay and placed among his curiosities the geode he had so strangely found in the Gulf stream. One day he studied it again, and the sunlight chance to fall upon a narrow, irregular line. "The geode," said the old man, "it looks like as if this stone had been patched together!"

He struck it with a hammer and it fell apart and proved to be filled with small pieces of yellowish brown wood. The shell of the stone was about an inch thick, studded over inside with thousands of garnet crystals. It had been broken into three parts and fastened together again with some sort of cement which showed plainly on the inside.

The old captain panned the pieces of wood on the table. They were perfectly dry and hard. They seemed almost like strips of bamboo and were numbered and covered with writing, made by pricking marks with some sharp instrument like an awl. He found the first piece of wood and began to read, for it was in English. The work of deciphering the tiny dents on the bits of wood soon became the captain's chief occupation. He copied each sentence off in his old log book as fast as it was made out. Five or six sentences were about all his eyes would stand without a rest, so that it was a long time before the narrative was at all complete. The narrative runs as follows:

HEARTS OF THE ROCKIES.
About Sept. 17, 1856.

I am an American, Timothy Parsons, of Machias, Me. I have no living relatives. I write this in a vast vaulted chamber, hewn from the solid granite by some prehistoric race. I have been for months a wanderer in these subterranean spaces, and now I have contrived a way to send my message out to the world. I shall probably never see you again. If some miner, tunneling in the Rockies, comes upon a vaulted chamber, with heaps of ancient weapons of bronze, bars of gold and precious stones that no man may number, let him give Christian burial to the poor human bones that lie in this horrible treasure house. He will find all that is left of my mortal frame near the great burning lamp, under the dome of the central hall. That lamp is fed from some reservoir of natural gas. It was lighted when I came, months ago. For all I know otherwise, it has burned there for thousands of years.

The entrance to this sub-mountain river is in the Asinnaboine mountains, north of the United States line. I was a prospector there several years, and I heard stories among the older Indians that a river greater than the Columbia had once flowed where the Rocky mountains now are; that the Great Spirit had piled the mountains over it and buried it deep underground. At last a medicine man, whose life I had once saved, told me that he knew how to get to the river, and he took me into a cavern in a deep gorge. Here we lived for a week, exploring by means of pine torches, and at last found a passage which ran steadily downward. This, the Indian told me, was the path by which his ancestors, who once lived in the middle of the earth, had found their way to the light of day.

I think we were about three thousand feet below the entrance of the cave, when we began to hear the sound of roaring waters. The sound increased until we stood by an underground river, of whose width and depth we could form no idea. The light of our torches did not even reveal the height of the roof overhead. My guide told me that this was the mother of all the rivers of the world. No other person except himself knew of its existence. It flowed from the center of the north to the extreme south. It grew even warmer and warmer. There was a time when the people lived along its channel, and there were houses and cities of the dead there and many strange things. It was full of fish without eyes and they were good to eat. If I could help him build a raft he would float with me down this river. The old stories said that one could go upon it for many miles. It ran down a hollow under the mountains.

We built and equipped our raft and launched it on the most foolhardy adventure, I do believe, that ever occupied the attention of men. We lit torches and set them in sockets on the raft, and we were well armed. For two weeks we moved down the high arroyo at a steady rate of only about three miles an hour. The average width of the stream was about 500 feet, but at times it widened out to almost twice that. It swarmed with many kinds of fish, and they were very easy to secure. The rock walls and roof seemed to be of solid granite. We were below the latter formations.

As nearly as I can calculate we were about a thousand miles from where our voyage began, and nothing had yet happened to disturb its monotony, when we began to find traces of ancient work and workers. An angle in the wall was hewn into a Titanic figure; at another point there seemed to be regular windows, and a dwelling was perched far up in the granite dome of the cave. The Indian told me more of the traditions of his race as we drifted past these things. "They were very great men who lived here. They had many things; they knew more than the white men. They are all dead now." And I gathered from his chance remarks that he thought they had left secrets in their cave dwellings which would make him the biggest Indian on the continent if he could discover them.

Suddenly we found that the river was flowing much faster, and we failed to check our raft. We went over a waterfall, perhaps seventy feet high, and were thrown on a shelf of rock at the side of the river below. I was un hurt, but my companion was so badly injured that he died in a few hours. I repaired the raft after a fashion and continued the voyage, finding it impossible to contrive any way to scale the sides of the waterfall and attempt a return. All our torches were lost, and the last act of despair. A few hours later I saw a light gleam over the river in a very remarkable way, shining clear across, as if from the headlight of a locomotive high up on the wall. This aroused me somewhat from my stupor and misery. I sat up on the raft and steered it close to the edge of the river to see what wonderful thing had happened.

As I came nearer I saw that an irregular hole was in the wall a thousand feet above the water, and the light shone out through it. It was a cheerful thing to look at, and I hung to the granite and shouted, but to no effect. Then I saw a broken piece in the wall a little further down, and the raft drifted along to that point, and at last to the place of the light, a domed hall overlooking the river, hewn out of the rock and having in its center a metal basin with a jet of natural gas, which I have had to cut off a part of this metal basin since, but I have not harmed the inscription. There are many gas jets, but in the other chambers I have had to light them.

I have lived here for months, and I have explored all the chambers of the place. There is no escape, so far as I can see. The river, twenty miles below, plunges down vaster descents, and the water gets so hot that I should be boiled alive if I tried the voyage. I have discovered a log of tropic wood like palm and a geode in which I can send a message to the world of sunlight. Perhaps this will get through the fires and float to the surface somewhere. I am convinced that the river which brought me here flows on into the Gulf of Mexico, and that sooner or later my log will be picked up. Perhaps this river is really the source of the Gulf stream.

I will now write down my discoveries, not in their order, but as a whole. My story must be brief, for this scant means of record will fail me.

This place seems to have been approached only by the river. It consists of six large, domed halls, connected with a seventh, in which the light burns. There are swords of bronze, spearsheads and other weapons stored in one chamber. There have been costly fables also, but they have perished, and only a few fragments are left. In another hall are many treasures accumulated.

One hall is especially the hall of pictures and of writing. I spend many hours there. I see the history of this race—their wars, their heroes, their mythology.

There are wonderful chambers of all is the hall to the north. That is the chamber of death and silence. When first I entered this hall I lighted all the gas jets. Around the walls were high cases of drawers and on the front of each was a portrait. I examined them for hours before I felt any desire to do more. Among them I observed a very beautiful face—that of a young girl just entering womanhood. This wonderful race possessed the highest artistic skill and delicacy of expression. The face of this girl, except that the colors had faded, might have been the admired masterpiece of the Paris Salon. I felt a sudden interest in the face and caught the drawer handles and pulled it out. In the wide, deep space into which I looked I saw, robed in white, her hands folded, the form of the girl whose picture was outside. How beautiful she was! She lay as if only asleep. Then slowly, as I looked, the white figure melted down and faded away to a pile of dust. I closed the shrine and touched no more of them, but I often go and look at the faded painting and think how lovely the girl was.

The paintings on the walls of this mural chamber show that the people had two systems of disposing of their dead. The great mass were consigned to the river, but the bodies of all those who were famous for beauty, wisdom or any good quality were preserved by a process of embalming, which they evidently thought would make them endure for ages. There are probably 12,000 separate bodies here, and they represent more than thirty successive generations. If I rightly understand the system of family grouping, they people lived as long as they do now, there was an average of about fifteen children each year to this great Westminster Abbey of the past. From a sort of a map painted on one of the walls I obtain the idea of many and thickly populated communities which used this place as the sepulcher of their chosen few.

Evidently that was before volcanic outbursts made the channel of the river like a cauldron boiling over endless fires. All along the course are towms marked, groups of rock hewn rooms on the cliffs, populated lands on the river, promontories from whose sides fountains of light seem to spring. Did thousands of people once live and find happiness in these vast vaults of death? Things must have been very different then from now. They must have had many reservoirs of natural gas, the vast warm lakes of the earth, for they were much more varied. Indeed, there are pictures in the Hall of War, as I have named it, that show two things plainly—that there were thousands of caverns, extending over hundreds of miles, and peopled by animals with which the heroes fought, and that the river was swarming with existence.

Moreover, I find everywhere, chief of the symbols of life, in the most sacred places, a rock root like a water nut, from which grew white leaves and seeds. There must have been some electric principle evolved here, by the vast warm lakes of the earth. It with soft light everywhere at certain seasons. For now I come to the strangest fact of all that I gather from the records of the race; these people had two kinds of light; one they found and lit—that they knew as the lesser God of Life; the other, coming from north to south, twice each year, filled for many weeks the whole channel of the river, from depth to depth, making the very water translucent. The water root and its grain ripened and were harvested in the last days of the light. Two days a year they gathered, and held their days of the feasts of the greater God of Life.

I have tried to put together all I can of their picture writings and their paintings, so as to understand what sort of men and women they were. I confess that I have learned to admire them greatly. They were a strong, brave, loving and beautiful people. I am sorry they are all gone. I never cared half so much about the dead Egyptians or Carthaginians. The earliest chapter in their history, so far as I discover, is a picture of a line of men and women descending into a cave and among pursuing them. This seems to point to former residence on the face of the earth, and to some disaster—war, flood, pestilence or some fierce monster—which drove the survivors into the depths of the earth for shelter. But all these thoughts are vain and foolish. I have explored the cliffs of the river and the walls of the mighty halls which shelter me. I have attempted to cut a tunnel upward past the waterfall, using the ancient weapons which lie in such numbers on the floor. The bronze wears out fast, but if I live long enough something may be done. I will close my record and launch it down the river. Then I will try to cut my way out to the sunlight.

Here the story closed. Some day, perhaps, an old man, white haired and pale as one from the lowest dunge of a bastille, will climb slowly out of some canyon of the Rockies to tell the world more about his discovery of a lost race.—Charles Howard Sina in Washington Critic.

MAGNETIC GOES DOWN.

Continental Takes Fire and in Endeavoring to Round-To Collides With Her Consort.

Continental Not Much Damaged but Magnetic Lies in Bad Shape - Vessels Aground at Detour - Marine Notes.

Serious Accident to Republic Boats. SAULT STE. MARIE, April 29, (Special)

The first marine disaster of the year on Lake Superior occurred at 6 o'clock last evening off Big Point, five miles west of the canal. The oil tank of the steamer Continental, in the lamp room under the forward deck, exploded. A head wind was blowing, rendering it impossible to fight the spreading flames. In endeavoring to round to so as to have a better chance of checking the fire, the Continental collided with her consort, the schooner Magnetic.

The latter was struck on the port side amidships and her planking cut through. The Magnetic began to fill rapidly through the large gash in her side. By the assistance of her consort she had barely reached the shore to starboard when she went down. She lies in twenty-five feet of water forward and thirty-six feet aft. She is ten feet of water over her rail aft and her knight heads are out forward. She is laden with ore and lies in bad shape.

The fire on the Continental was soon brought under control. Her cabin on port side is burned out and her forecast considerably damaged. None of the crew on either vessel was injured.

The Continental and Magnetic cleared from this port on Saturday, bound for Cleveland with Republic ore. The Magnetic was built in 1882 at Cleveland. Her gross tonnage is 1,676.22, net tonnage, 1,592.42; length, 293.7 feet; breadth, 35.4 feet; depth, 30 feet. She was built for a steamship but machinery was never put into her. She is schooner rigged, four masted, but without a bowsprit. The Continental was also built at Cleveland in 1882 and is a trifle smaller than the Magnetic. She is commanded by Captain Rattray, and the Magnetic by Captain Parker. Both boats are owned by the Republic Mining company and their port of call is the village of Republic. The Magnetic carried 1,692 tons of ore, on which the insurance is held by the Peter White agency of this city. She is valued at about $50,000. Her hull is insured at Buffalo but for what amount is not known here.

MARINE MATTERS.

PORT LIST.

Arrived: Alcona, Alta, light; Swain, Helvetia, coal. Cleared: Forrest City, McGregor, ore, Cleveland.

Passed up: James Fisk, Jr., sundries.

AGROUND AT DETOUR. SAULT STE. MARIE, April 29, (Special).

It is reported by telephone from Detour that the schooners A. F. Bliss and Cahoon are ashore near the light house in an exposed situation. The barge Pease is still stranded. The tug Howard arrived this morning from Port Huron with a rudder for the Sitka.

PASSED SAULT STE. MARIE. SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 29.

Down - Northern Light, Cumberland, Iron Chief, Iron Star.

Up - Fairbanks, Nimick, Mariska, Peers, Howard, Aurora, Everett, Minch, Delaware, Ranney, Martin, Hiawatha, Minnehaha, North Star, Itaska.

VESSEL NOTES. Inspectors York and Gooding looked over the tug E. P. Fish yesterday. She is owned by Henry F. Balch and will do towing about the new docks.

The steamer Golden Eagle, recently purchased by Alderman Helmer and his associates, will leave Bay City for this port tomorrow morning. She is seventy-five feet long and fitted for passenger service. She will probably do towing for the Hawley mill and may be put on the Portage Entry run.

The Grace Holland finished discharging her cargo of coal last night and will load with ore to-day.

The fire on the Continental and the sink of the Magnetic was the general topic of conversation among marine men yesterday. Much sympathy was expressed for Captain Rattray, who is very popular.

John H. Gillett has bought the large tug Edward Fisk, Jr., at Sandusky, and is now on his way with her to this port. She was bought to replace the Adams, sold to Duluth, and will do general towing and harbor work.

Stannard Rock lighthouse was lit up Monday evening for the first time this season. One of the scows belonging to Williams, Upham & Co.'s dredge broke her moorings and drifted out into the bay early yesterday morning and a merry old time was experienced in catching her.

Women at a Bank.

In describing how women act at a bank, the cashier of a popular banking institution says:

We expect to give the ladies more attention than the men, because they know less about banking. Many of them are very business-like; but the women who come in for the first time, like that one, for instance, amuse us. It's odd, the reluctance women have of giving their name. In answer to the question five out of one hundred will say Miss Brown or Miss Smith, and regard as impertinent further inquiry, as that young lady did, although the order is made payable to Susan Brown or Sarah Smith. Then there is always a demand, polite enough, but a demand nevertheless, for new money.

Men will take in payment any bill or coin that is neither torn nor mutilated, but the ladies want good money. To save delay we always pay them bills fresh from the mint and in small denominations; for, limited as they are in the supply of pockets, the average woman prefers twenty one-dollar bills to one or two of equal value. Men take the large bills, and so things balance themselves. Another slight annoyance comes from the bad arithmetic of women in general. Few of them count their money when they get it. It is jammed into a muff or handbag, the receiver goes off shopping, and when she gets home her cash and expenses won't balance. Sometimes she comes back in the afternoon and "wants a little mistake rectified" - that's the average woman's way of putting it.

But we don't "rectify." We count too much money to mistake. We are polite about it, although often treated to a blowing up. Most women are handsome when angry, and new beauties are seen in every change of the face. - Toronto Empire.

What Colors Will Photograph.

The time was when the photographer required certain colors in dress to produce good effects. Now, with experience and the improvements in chemicals, these restrictions are removed. He can photograph white as well as black. The capable artist prides himself on his ability to show the most delicate and elaborate lace work on the bridal dress. With these restrictions no longer necessary, I would say - wear your most becoming dress. Blue and pink will photograph white. Purple will appear many shades lighter than it is in reality. Red and deep yellow appear black, or nearly so.

Strong contrasts in dress or trimmings will give a good effect. Subdued and quiet colors make the neat picture. For example, see the pictures of nuns, or the lovely pictures of Quaker ladies. - Ladies' Home Journal.

How Some Kings Died.

Kings have died in mean fashion, pallid morsels of the shape of indigestion. Did not a dish of lampreys kill Henry II and was not overeating fatal to George II? "Falloid death pressing upon him," as Thackeray says, "in his traveling chariot on the Hanover road. What position can outside that pale horse?" Both Frederick III, emperor of Germany, and his son, Maximilian I, died through excessive indulgence in melons; Baldwin IV, king of Jerusalem, died of leprosy; Philip III of Spain, of the etiquette which left him to be roasted before a flaming brazier because the official could not be found whose special function it was to remove it, and Stanislas Lecinski, king of Poland, of the terrible burns he received through his dressing gown accidentally taking fire. - All the Year Round.

A Neat Way of Declining.

There is always something attractive in a novel way of doing a hackneyed thing. To those of my readers who are weary of the stereotyped form of accepting or declining invitations I venture to commend the following: A clergyman's widow recently received a card for some private theatricals at a friend's house. The lady's reply was to inclose to these giddy friends her own visiting card embellished with the following words: "The ye not formed to this world." The originality of this concise, significant and reproving "reply card" is only equaled by the liberality of the mind which could produce it. - London Truth.

Conscientious John.

A lady had in her employment a young man from the country. On certain occasions he was instructed to inform any company who might ring at the door that "Mrs. Blank was not at home." One day John made this reply to a lady, who shortly went away, leaving a card and a promise to call again. As the card was handed to his mistress she said: "John, what did you say to the lady?" "Well, I hope you were not at home." "Oh, no, ma'am," said John; "I never laugh when I tell a lie." - New York Ledger.

His Hobby in Jewelry.

A Frenchman who possesses a number of novelties in jewelry changes his decoration daily. He is said to have a watch charm for every day in the year, and some sixty or seventy watch guards. His finger rings are equally numerous and some of them are costly. He wears but one ring at a time, but always has a striking one. His masterpiece is a ring with a tiny watch in place of a stone setting. This timepiece is a delicate piece of mechanism. It was made in Switzerland, and represents the labor of one artisan for a year and four months - Jewish Tidings.

Effect of Poor Ventilation.

But when I saw your leading men they made me sad. Cooped up in towering honeycombs all over town, they work by gaslight in bad air; but there are few wholesome looking fellows among them. Mayor Grant and Chauncey M. Depew and Charles A. Dana are good, vigorous specimens; but what is to be said for Joseph H. Choate, Elihu Root, Postmaster Van Cott, Abraham S. Hewitt and a host of others whom I saw, aged far ahead of time, products of perpetual gaslight, hard work and bad ventilation. - Cor. Chatter.

Josh Billings' Philosophy.

I like a wide awake Christian, one whose virtue hez got some cayenne pepper in it. Most of us, when we repent of our sins, think it is a change of heart, when in fact it is only a few of pain in the stomach. I have sometimes thought that the man with many vices was safer than with one; for the many vices often ward each other out, while the one wears the man out. - New York Weekly.

According to an Australian writer the average young man in that part of the world walks up to a woman at a ball and saying, "Let me see your programme," proceeds to write in his own name wherever he sees a dance that pleases him, without consulting the woman's wishes at all. He never says "Please" or "Thank you," and becomes irritable if the woman hesitates to hand over her programme at the first demand.

The blue ageratum, which is cherished in England as a border flower, was introduced into Cayton by an English lady, where it spread so rapidly, running wild in the island, that it now costs more than $1,250,000 annually to keep it down in the coffee plantations.

IT WILL GO IN BLAST.

The Excelsior Furnace at IshpeMING
Being Refitted to Begin Making Iron About July 1st.

IRONWOOD TO HAVE A MAGNIFICENT
NEW HOTEL THIS SUMMER.

Royce & Lansing's Comedy Company to Play
at IshpeMING Next Saturday Evening.

To Start Up.

The Excelsior furnace, at the Lake Angeline location in this city, which has been idle for the past eight years, is soon to go in blast again, the furnace company having been recently reorganized. Mr. Gorman, who was the founder at the furnace under the Burt management, will have the same position again. He is at present in charge of the work of refitting the furnace. The machinery was none too well cared for during the time the furnace was idle, and the buildings became sadly demoralized through the combined effects of the elements and predatory expeditions on the part of neighbors of the furnace, who used part of the lumber in the shed to build fires in their kitchen stoves. Mr. Gorman is pushing the work of refitting as fast as possible, and hopes to have the old Excelsior in shape for making iron once more by the first of July. The furnace will probably employ about forty men, perhaps more.

Ironwood's New Hotel.

A reporter of the MINING JOURNAL has been shown the plans of the new hotel that is to be built at Ironwood this season. It is to be named the Curry Hotel, in honor of S. S. Curry of Milwaukee, formerly of IshpeMING. The house has been planned by Mr. Robert Nelson, who has had a long experience as a hotel builder and manager, and he considers it the best as well as the latest of his hotel ventures. The plans certainly show that it will be remarkably compact and convenient. The building will be 84x101½ feet on the ground, veneered with brick and having a flat roof. There will be a high basement extending under the whole of the building, and three stories above, making it practically a four-story building. On the basement floor there will be the boiler room, a large laundry, power plant for elevator, etc., in addition to a number of large and well-lighted sample rooms for the use of commercial travelers.

The main feature of the first floor
will be the large and handsome office, which will be entered from the front of the building. Adjoining the office will be reading rooms. On this floor will be the bar and billiard rooms, lavatories, etc. At the rear are the kitchens, refrigerators for meats, fish, etc. The second and third floors are duplicates, each having thirty rooms. A novel feature, and one that will commend itself to hotel keepers and patrons, will be the arrangement of the halls. These will extend, in the form of a parallel-ogram, around the four sides of the building, giving easy access to every room, and easy egress from any room in case of fire. The rooms will be arranged so that they can be given singly or en suite. On each floor there will be two bath rooms for the use of guests
the house, in addition to the bath rooms in a number of the private rooms.

The rooms will be large and airy and Mr. Nelson will fit them with the best of furniture and carpets. The building will be lighted by electric light, heated by steam and will be connected with the city sewers to be built this summer. An elevator will afford every convenience for quick and easy transit from one floor to another. On the basement floor there will be a large court, into which baggage can be brought from the rear.

Mr. Nelson has had the plans for the hotel under consideration for the past year and everything is arranged to suit himself, and it should suit the traveling public as well, for "uncle Robert" has had many years experience in the hotel line. Mr. Nelson will not let the contract for building the hotel, but will take from IshpeMING three or four first-class carpenters, who are capable of acting intelligently as bosses, and will have the work done by the day.
The first dirt will be shoveled out on May 1st, and Mr. Nelson states that the hotel will be opened on October 1st.
The work will not be allowed to lag anywhere. The prayer of all who have visited Ironwood, and are aware of its present wretchedly inadequate hotel accommodations, will be that everything may move along quickly, and that the hotel doors be opened as soon as possible.

Royce and Lansing.

Royce & Lansing's Musical Comedy company, which has appeared annually before IshpeMING audiences for a number of years past, will play at the opera house on Saturday night of this week.
The strength of the company has been enlarged from four to eight people, and among the additions are Mr. Chas.
Norwitz, the well-known comedian, and others. The program to be presented Saturday evening will be entirely new to theatre goers here. The company has been in the south and southwest during the winter, and was well received.

THE S. T. TAYLOR SYSTEM OF DRESS CUT-TING AND FITTING.

As Used By Miss Josephine Bosch is Voted a Success By All Her Lady Customers.

In no sense of the word is the above phrase more applicable than in relation to the art of dress making. There is probably nothing that will cause a lady so much annoyance and disappointment as to have a beautiful dress pattern of some fine fabric butchered and spoiled in the making. Realizing these facts and at the same time determined to sus-tain for the dress making department the reputation we have established for fine work, I have, by offering liberal inducements, secured the services of a leading modiste. The S. T. Taylor system of cutting and fitting garments as used by her, insures to every customer an absolute fit without change or alteration. So thorough is her system, that I will guarantee to every patron of my establishment a correct and satisfactory fit, while the style, finish and workmanship will compare favorably with the garments produced by the leading houses of larger cities. Miss Bosch has made a specialty of wedding outfits and evening dresses and has at present several orders from leading people in Milwaukee, Madison and other points where she is acquainted.
The ladies are cordially invited to call.
Respectfully,
J. H. QUINN.

FOURTH POINT
You should read THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS because you want the best news money will buy. The Daily News is a member of the Associated Press. This means that its news service is unsurpassed. Two of its staff live in Washington the year round, and are exclusively occupied in its service. It has special correspondents throughout the United States, and in the leading capitals of Europe. It has 331 people regularly on its pay roll. It takes between $500 and $600 per week to pay them—nearly $300,000 a year. Its expenditures aggregate very nearly $2,000,000 annually. All this means quality. Remember—its circulation is 200,000 a day—over a million a week—and it costs but 5 cents a month, four months $1.00—one cent a day.

There's a corset that isn't a corset, a waist with straps for the shoulders and rows of buttons to button on skirts and stocking supporters and so forth—the Ball Waist—and that's about the whole of it. No; you can put it in the washtub—no metal in it or on it. It is worth your seeing, if for nothing but how to sew on buttons to button easy and never come off, and how to make buttonholes wear forever. Women differ in their ways of thinking and dressing as well as in other ways. This waist is for women whose minds are made up that they won't wear corsets. There's much to be said on both sides; but did you ever hear of a woman who hadn't made up her mind in some way? and is there any possible use in trying to get her to change it? She will and she will; or she won't and she won't. You can get the Ball Waist and wear it a week or two or three; and, if you don't want it, take it back to the store and get your money.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

M. C. Quinn, of Negaunee, was here yesterday. August Cullron is now operator at the South Shore depot. I. Blumenthal, of Red Jacket, is spending a day or two with friends here. Jabez Stephens has established another stage line between the Winthrop location and the city. Saloon-keepers who have not already filed their bonds will do well to do so, or they may get in trouble. H. J. Payne, of Marquette, chief engineer of the D. S. S. & A., was in Ishpeming on business yesterday. The county clerk will be at the office of the Ishpeming Gas and Electric Light company this afternoon and evening to issue first papers to all who apply for them. Thursday will be fishermen's day. Owing to the vigilance with which the state game and fish laws are enforced and guarded there are now but few infractions of the statutes regarding the taking of fish. It should be remembered that those who do not clean their own alley-ways will have it done at their expense by the city. Those who prefer to do it for themselves will have to get around to the job pretty soon. Deputy Collector Manville Jenks and Stamp Deputy Andrew Sanberg have been working full time for the past few days, issuing the little coupon chromos for which the government charges from $2.40 to $25 each. The copy of Superior Posten bearing date April 17th has just been received at the local office of the MINING JOURNAL. Editor Mortenson should revise his mailing check, or some of the takers of his paper who pay cash instead of being on the exchange list will make a big kick. A "Rip Van Winkle" show is coming here soon. As the company gives a gorgeous street parade the play will be a success, so far as attendance is concerned. It must be confessed that the popular standard of histrionic taste is rather low in Ishpeming. At least one hundred and fifty new dwelling houses could be rented within the next week if they were built. At no previous time has there been so much trouble in getting dwellings, though the complaint has been heard for many years. A capitalist who would invest $100,000 or more in small detached dwellings or flats here could make 30 per cent per annum on the investment, and do it easily. Why won't some one try it now? This office is in receipt of the latest copy of "Ye Humberge," published at Kenosha, with Geo. S. Sedgwick as editor. There is one very good thing in it. By some mistake the reversed lines that were to furnish fitting marks of grief for an obituary paragraph were transferred to the next, and made to call particular attention to the wail of the business manager of the paper, who asks in pathetic language that the delinquent subscribers drop in and settle their little accounts.

THE NEW DISCOVERY.
You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold, or any throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottle free at H. H. Stafford & Son's Drugstore.

Ask Your Friends About It.
Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective, large bottles 50c and $1. at all druggists. Sample bottle free.

THE FIRST STEP.
Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning. You are taking the first step into Nervous Prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alternative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c. at H. H. Stafford & Son's Drug Store.

CATARH.
Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.
Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and catarrhal tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay postage, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

NEWSPAPER COUPONS.

THE SCHEME WAS ORIGINATED IN LONDON BY A LAWYER.
A Hundred Thousand Dollars Cleared in a Few Weeks—Like Many Schemes Today, It Was a Big Swindle—The London Fine Art Association.
One dismal afternoon during the fall of 1876 three friends, all of whom had been in the army and whose pecuniary condition was such that they were in need of money, were lounging in the reading room of a then very fast London club. One of them proceeded to propose the perplexing question as to what his friends considered would be the termination to their present financial embarrassments. The subscriptions will be due shortly, and heaven only knows where the money is to come from, as I feel certain my uncle won't stump up. He has on many previous occasions expressed his emphatic opinion that under the circumstances it would be more becoming for me to obtain some employment, instead of swelling, as he chooses to call it, about the West End, and I am really afraid not to do so. He had got so far with this exciting subject when one of his companions interrupted him in his usual jerky style. "I saw brother Bill last night. He says he has struck a good thing at last. Wants only a little ready to go on a fortune. I suppose, however, it is a wild scheme unless where the competition is anything. He asked me the silly question if I could get any one to go into it with him." On the principle of the drowning man catching at a straw, the gentleman who had expressed the very reasonable doubt as to the forthcoming of the club subscriptions proposed, with his habitual extravagance, that they should take a cab down to the Temple and interview Mr. Bill, who was a barrister without any legal business.

THE SCHEME PROPOSED.
The proposition was carried nem. con. That admirable mode of conveyance, a London omnibus, was substituted for a hansom, and in half an hour Elm Tree Court was invaded by three thirsty and impetuous men. "We hear," said the spokesman of the party, "that you have got the idea of the century. Let us know all about it, as if it is any good I can find a fellow to lend me some money to put into it." Mr. Bill compressed his lips with that abominable judicial affectation so common among young lawyers, and remarked with as much gravity as if he were opening an address to a jury in a murder case: "You see that the British public imagines that it is fond of art and pictures, and all that sort of thing, and nine-tenths don't know a print from an engraving. Now I propose to sell Landseer's and Wilkie's and works by other popular painters. However, a bait is wanted to make them bite. Along the Docks.
As has already been mentioned F. B. Spear has charge of all package freight this year, the South Shore road having turned all that business over to him. The shed that formerly stood on No. 1 merchandise pier has been moved over to Spear's dock and is being erected there, affording ample room.

Hiram Bronson is chief assistant to Mr. Spear and has general charge of the business. F. E. Warner is cashier and book-keeper, Robert Porteous has charge of freight, R. J. Cooke is superintendent of dock and A. A. Cameron chief warehouseman. Mr. Spear is still agent for the Lake Michigan & Lake Superior Transportation Co. boats. These have all four been refitted and thoroughly overhauled and are in better condition than ever.

The old ore pockets on the north side of the Cleveland dock, used in former years to fill buggies for deck loads of general freight steamers, have had platforms erected beneath them and will be used for steamer coal this season. In this way considerable handling will be saved, as the cars from the coal dock can be run around and dumped directly into these pockets and the coal thence carried on board boats requiring it.

The dredge is making substantial progress about the new dock, though the bottom is very hard.

In view of the need of more merchandise dock room it has been suggested that the old Cleveland ore dock be converted in a freight pier. This has been little used of late years except to load an occasional small vessel. It is too low for the big ore carriers now in use. In view of the fact that its length is necessarily limited by Ripley's rock, the idea of using the space it occupies for a merchandise dock would seem to be a good one. A part of it might be left for steamer coal pockets and for unloading grain into warehouses below.

Why should not the Citizens' association take some active steps to lay the needs of Marquette harbor before congress? The appropriation of $25,000, made by the pending bill, is wretchedly inadequate. No argument is necessary to show that the great and increasing commerce of Marquette needs better protection than it now has. Let something be done in this direction and done now.

Marquette City Band.
One of her institutions of which this town is justly proud is the Marquette City band. In ability as musicians its members are second to those of no band in the upper peninsula at least and are superior to many in the pretentious lower district. The latter fact was well illustrated recently by a man of some reputation as a cornet player in lower Michigan came here with the idea of entering the Marquette band. He played pretty well and the boys went on from one piece to another of growing difficulty, but still brought out nothing that the old members could not play with ease. Finally the new man came to a dead stand.

"I can't play this," he said, "it's too hard."

"Well, we play that music all right," rejoined the leader.

"You do more than most bands in the lower peninsula then," said the visitor. "I can tell you there are very few bands below that can play that."

It was evident that the stranger was not in the Marquette City band's class, though he is a pretty fair musician. He is now leader of the band in a certain pretentious upper peninsula town.

The band has recently purchased, at a cost of $65 and $75 respectively, two very fine instruments, a B flat tenor and a B flat, baritone solo horn. William Saunders will drop the cornet and take the new tenor horn and Frank Rule will handle the baritone. These instruments were made to special order by York & Sons of Grand Rapids and are much admired by experts.

The band has lately been strengthened by the accession of John Williams, lately leader of the Lake Linden band. He will play E flat or B flat solo cornet. He is a joiner by trade and is employed at Hager & Johnson's mill.

The band will give the coming season its usual series of summer night concerts. The stand on South Front street ought to be moved to more favorable spot. It is too much exposed to smoke and wind and the noise of locomotives.

Two Morals in Advertising.
Not long since a certain gentleman advertised a house for sale in the MINING JOURNAL. The first day he had ten applications and made a satisfactory sale. Moral: Advertise in the MINING JOURNAL.

Now for the other side. A gentleman removed to this city from a Lake Michigan town, purchased a house here and paid cash down. He did not like the property very well but it was the best he could hear of. No sooner had the fact of his purchase been announced than a score of men came to him and said: "I wish I had known you wanted a house. I have one that would have suited you much better." Second moral: Real estate owners should advertise in the MINING JOURNAL.

"Hoop of Gold."
Browne's Theatre company presented "The Hoop of Gold" at the Casino Opera House last night before a large audience. The play is a strong one, affording good scope for the various talents of the company. Edwin Brink as "Richard Wrench," Miss Alice Marble as "Ruth Bullion" and C. A. Reynolds as "Sammy Witherwick" were particularly effective.

This evening "A Brave Woman" will be given. One of the features of this play is in the fourth act. A sail boat bearing the heroine tacks down the stage in a tempestuous sea and rescues two men from a rock. The scene is a most realistic one, and is shown by flashes of lightning. Mr. Browne says it is the best stage effect he has ever given in his long experience as a manager.

Homesteader Paralyzed.
George Hanks, a homesteader near Kenton, was struck with paralysis Monday and lies in a critical condition. He had been down to Kitchi to the election and the attack came when a mile from Kenton on his way home. He was taken to Webb's camp by his companions and Doctor Gourdeau, of Ishpeming, summoned. Hanks' right arm, neck and head are paralyzed and he is unable to see. He was elected one of the board of review of Duncan township at the recent election.

Cheboygan County Crooks.
Warden Tompkins received four guests from Cheboygan county yesterday. Albert Smith headed the procession. He will tarry three years for assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder. William Whiting will do two years' penance for failing to distinguish between other people's property and his own. Louis Carrow and Oliver Carrow are lesser larcenists who will remain but sixty days.

TALK OF THE TOWN
Run.
The trout fishing season opens to-morrow. Mrs. Edward Butler and son, of Ishpeming are in the city.

The testimony in the Walker-Foster homestead contest was finished yesterday. Otto Sihler, formerly of the MINING JOURNAL force, proved up on his homestead at the local land office yesterday.

The ladies of Marquette cleared some $15 on the Jenness-Miller lecture, which will be turned over to the Young Men's Christian Association.

Do not forget to have your Musical association concert seats checked off on the diagram at Conklin's and thus avoid confusion at the hall.

The addition to Werner & Son's store is up to the second-story windows, and when completed will give the firm much needed increase of room.

Alfred Thurtell, the installment dealer, has rented John F. Mack's Washington street store room, formerly occupied by Jacob Rose.

R. B. Finch has succeeded T. H. Larke as secretary to General Manager Fitch. Mr. Finch has been in the offices of the road for several years and has lately been in the office of Superintendent Philbin.

The new iron ceiling of the Hotel Marquette dining room ran short one panel, and the finishing had to be suspended until it could be got here from Chicago. The ceiling, when completed will be a very handsome one.

Dr. Youngquist took a ride on a wild engine up to Negaunee yesterday morning to attend Edward English, fatally hurt by the cars. A full account of the unfortunate accident appears in the Negaunee department.

The Carpenters' and Joiners' Union has posted notice of a nine-hour day, beginning to-morrow. Most of the contractors say the men can work as long as they like as they will be paid by the hour, but that a nine-hour day will not be recognized.

Edward R. Boyd, died of consumption, aged 24 years, at 243 East Lake street yesterday morning. He was fireman on one of the pile drivers and pluckily stuck to his work up to Saturday noon. His funeral will be held at the Methodist church at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The reception of Lake Superior commandery on the evening of May 5th will be only for Knights Templar and such other Masons as the members of the commandery may choose to ask the committee to invite. Stecher & Voelker's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

Home Seekers' Excursion.
On April 22nd and May 29th the Milwaukee & Northern railroad will sell round trip tickets at half fare (the price of a ticket one way) to points in Kansas, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi. This is an opportunity that occurs but once a year, affording privilege of visiting a portion of the country that is taking so prominent a place as a field for investment, and should not pass unimproved. For particulars enquire of E. P. WILBUR, 44-15 T. P. A., Marquette, Mich.
