A WHIRLWIND OF TALK.

Debate on an Amendment Offered to the McKinley Bill Grows Decidedly Lively.

PHRASES OF A MORE OR LESS PERSONAL NATURE INDULGED IN.

Senator Jones Makes a Great Speech in Behalf of His Silver Bill—Much Interest Manifested in the Subject.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—After reading the journal Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, moved that the general debate on the tariff bill be limited to one minute. The motion was agreed to and the house went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill. No one desiring to occupy the one minute, the clerk proceeded to read the bill by paragraphs for amendments. Mr. Breckinridge offered an amendment providing that any citizen of the United States who manufactures or produces articles and sells them outside of the United States shall be entitled to import, free of duty, any article of commerce which he may desire to use in his business, to the value of the articles exported. His amendment was lost.

MR. ANDERSON'S AMENDMENT.

Mr. Anderson (Kan.) offered an amendment providing that the president may suspend the rate of duty on any imported article when in his judgment the production, manufacture or sale of such article is monopolized or attempted to be monopolized or controlled by any trust or combination. The amendment brought on a lively discussion in regard to trusts, the debate being plentifully sprinkled with such phrases as "shot-gun policy," "plantation sluggers" and "falsehood."

Mr. McMillan (Penn.) while advocating the amendment, expressed his belief that it would not be agreed to and incidentally made an earnest attack upon trusts and combines. Nothing would be done against trusts as long as the republicans were in the majority in the house. Mr. Grosvenor (Ohio) threw a fire brand into the debate by the declaration that two years ago the leader of the greatest and most extensive trust in the country came to the capital, marched into the dark chamber of the ways and means committee and figuratively speaking took the majority of that committee by the head and shook free sugar out of it.

Mr. Mills (Tex.)—I want to state to the gentleman from Ohio that that statement is false. Every word of it is false. (Applause on the democratic side.)

Mr. Grosvenor—We hear the old plantation slogan again. (Applause on the republican side.)

Mr. Mills—You will always hear it when you deserve it.

Mr. Grosvenor—We hear the old Texan slogan again. A man who, at the head of a great committee, puts his name upon a bill and sinks his party into oblivion ought to get indignant. The plantation manners of the gentleman who made the speech in New Haven will not drive me from my position.

Mr. Mills—Nobody will drive you from your position of falsehood.

Mr. McMillan—Will you permit a question?

Mr. Grosvenor—Yes, if it is in parliamentary language. I do not propose to be interrupted by the shot gun policy. (Applause on the republican side.)

Mr. McMillan—How is it that since the McKinley bill was reported the sugar trust certificates have risen more than ten million dollars and more than six million dollars within the last week? (Applause on the democratic side.)

Mr. Grosvenor—If the gentlemen will tell me how, during the pendency of the democratic majority in the house, the sugar trust was formed and the certificates reached fabulous prices, I will answer his question.

Mr. McMillan—The sugar trust and the jute trust were formed after the high tariff laws inaugurated by the republican party, which we were unable to repeal on account of the republican senate.

Mr. Grosvenor—Will the gentleman answer me a question?

Mr. McMillan—If the gentleman will ask it in parliamentary language. (Laughter.)

Mr. Grosvenor—I will do so, as I am asking a gentleman who understands parliamentary language. (Laughter.) Is it not a fact that the ways and means committee of the fifth congress changed its sugar schedule the day following the visit of Mr. Havemeyer, of New York?

Mr. McMillan—It is not true, so far as I know.

Mr. Grosvenor—Was not Mr. Havemeyer in Washington the day before or two days before it?

Mr. McMillan—The sugar schedule was never changed in consequence of any visit of Mr. Havemeyer.

Mr. Grosvenor—Did he not visit your committee?

Mr. McMillan—Never, that I heard of.

Mr. Grosvenor—Did he not visit members of your committee?

Mr. McMillan—Never that I heard of. All that stuff that the sugar schedule was arranged in consequence of his visit is absolutely false.

Mr. Mills regretted that anything of a personal character had been thrown into the debate. He had not intended it. He did not believe that any gentleman of the majority of the ways and means committee had been improperly approached.

Mr. Donnelly—And I do not believe that any member of the majority of the committee on ways and means of the last house was improperly approached. (Applause.)

Mr. Kerr (Ia.) suggested that Mr.

Breckinridge, of Arkansas, had stated on the floor that he had had a conversation with Mr. Havemeyer.

Mr. McMillan—Mr. Breckinridge stated that Mr. Havemeyer never was before the committee.

Mr. Kerr—He stated that he had had a conversation with Mr. Havemeyer.

Mr. McMillan—That is another thing. Mr. Breckinridge (Ky.)—Does the gentleman from Iowa mean to intimate that Mr. Breckinridge of Arkansas made any admission on the floor that touched his character as a gentleman and as a representative of the people?

Mr. Kerr—I am here to say that not only Mr. Breckinridge of Arkansas is an honorable gentleman, but that every gentleman on that side of the house is an honorable gentleman.

Mr. Breckinridge (Ky.)—Why does the gentleman ask a question which was meant to cast an insinuation on the gentleman from Arkansas?

Mr. Kerr replied that he had done so because the members of the ways and means committee of the last congress had admitted that they were influenced just as other gentlemen were influenced.

Mr. Breckinridge (Ky.)—What was that last statement?

Mr. Kerr—I stated that the committee permitted itself to be influenced in the interest of the sugar trust.

Mr. Breckinridge—And the gentleman's statement is simply a demonstration of the mode in which he looks at public institutions, and is as to us absolutely without foundation.

Mr. Kerr—Well, I believe the public understands us.

Mr. Breckinridge—I think so, otherwise I would have a very poor opinion of the public. (Applause.)

Mr. Grosvenor disclaimed the idea of charging that anybody on the ways and means committee of the last congress had been improperly approached. His charge was that the democratic party professed to the country that the protective tariff stimulates trusts, and that when that party had an opportunity to strike a blow against the most dangerous trust in the country, it did not do so. He did not think any gentleman ought to apologize for him for that utterance.

Mr. Allen (Mich.) desired to allay the fears of his friends on the opposite side by bringing the good news that in view of the fact that the McKinley bill would be a law within forty days all the staple farm products of the country were advancing in price and that the people were becoming satisfied that the measure was a death blow to trusts and free trade combined.

Mr. Anderson's amendment was then rejected amid great applause on the republican side. The debate then became desultory in its character, sometimes amusing, sometimes political and sometimes bordering on the personal. After which the committee rose and the house adjourned.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Mr. Hoar, from the judiciary committee, reported back the house amendment to the senate trust bill with an amendment.

Messrs. Vest and Coke stated that as members of the committee they did not concur in the report and Mr. Hoar explained the effect of the action recommended. The matter went over till tomorrow. The senate bill to fix the times and places for holding federal courts in the district of Kansas was reported by Mr. Ingalls from the judiciary committee and was passed.

Mr. Jones (Nev.) who reported the silver bill from the committee on finance, then addressed the senate on that bill. He spoke of the general unrest prevailing throughout the country. The prices of all commodities, he said, had fallen and continued to fall. Such a phenomenon as a constant and progressive fall in the general range of prices had always exercised so baneful an influence on the prosperity of mankind that it never failed to excite attention when a fall in prices was found operating on the products of all industries. When it was found not to be confined to any one climate, country or race, but to be diffused over the civilized world, found not to be characteristic of any one year, but to go on for a series of years, it became manifest that it could not arise from local, temporary or subordinate causes, but that it must have its

GENESIS AND DEVELOPMENT in some principal of universal application. What was it, he asked, that produced a general decline of prices in any country? It was a shrinkage in the volume of money, relatively to the population and business. The world had never had a proper system of money. Prosperity and speculation had been stimulated at times by great yields from mines and when those mines were worked out, then came revolution and adversity. He spoke of the demonetization of silver by Germany, after her war with France, as having

INFLECTED GREATER EVILS On her people than their armies had inflicted on France; and said that when it began to have its effect a veritable hegia of the German population began to take place. If surprise were felt at the selfishness of the privileged classes in Europe in demonetizing silver, what he asked, was to be said in defense of the United States demonetizing silver? No such stupendous act of folly and injustice had ever been perpetrated by the representatives of a free people. He spoke at great length, and finally at the suggestion of Mr. Teller, Mr. Jones postponed finishing his speech until tomorrow. The scene in the senate chamber during the delivery of the speech was a fair indication of

THE GREAT INTEREST FELT in it and in the subject. Senators from the mining states sat quite close to Mr. Jones and gave him their most earnest attention; but an almost equal degree of interest was shown by all the senators present. Every one present, on both sides of the chamber, wheeled his chair around so as to face the speaker. There was no conversation indulged in, no newspaper reading, no letter writing; but during the three hours that the speech occupied, every senator seemed to be paying the closest attention to it, rather than executive session the senate adjourned.

GENERAL CAPITAL NEWS.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Attorney General Miller has received reports from Marshal Weeks, of the Northern District of Florida, that he has arrested three men, two for violating the election laws and one for conspiracy. He says that affairs in that state are improving, and that the president's letter in regard to the enforcement of the laws, is gradually causing a change of sentiment among the people.

Representative Mason to-day introduced in the house a resolution calling on the secretary of war for information respecting the charge that the contractors under the United States now engaged in erecting certain buildings at Fort Sheridan, Ill., are doing so in violation of the 8-hour law of the United States.

Speaking of the trouble in the committee room last Wednesday, when a blow was passed, Chairman Lacey says that it looked at the time as if an indiscriminate row with fatal results was inevitable. It was mainly owing to the efforts of Representative Breckinridge that the affair was quieted down, as he rushed in front of Armstrong and by his adjurations set an example which had a good effect on his adherents. Otherwise McClure's blow would have been followed by fatal results. McClure told Mr. Lacey after the difficulty that he was compelled to strike Armstrong, after having been denounced as a damned scoundrel, or leave Arkansas.

Missing Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade Turns Up.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 12.—Charles Randolph, ex-secretary of the board of trade who has been missing for several weeks, has turned up in Portland, Oregon. A letter has been received from him dated at that place. He announces his intention of remaining in Portland permanently. He knew that his family would oppose such a move on his part and for this reason he said nothing to them about his departure. He departed from home April 23d, and from that time till to-day there has not been the slightest clue to his whereabouts, though detectives have been searching for him everywhere.

A QUIET LYNCHING.

A California Murderer Strung Up by a Few Friends of Justice.

SANTA MARIA, Cal., May 12.—Early this morning twenty masked men entered the Seventy-Six saloon, where E. L. Creswell had been confined since Constable Southard's murder, and at the point of a gun disarmed and blindfolded the guards. They then bound and gagged Creswell, and tying a rope around his neck hung him to the rafters and left the body there. Parties were sleeping in an adjoining room but the affair was done so quietly that none of them was awakened.

LOVE, ART AND LAW.

Nathan Arnow, the New York Artist Who Mixed Them Up, is Missing.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The police reported to-day that they could not find Nathan Arnow, the artist, who is wanted on a charge of bigamy preferred by a Mrs. Norton, of Cincinnati. He was under arrest, but he was paroled and skipped the city.

Struck for an Advance.

PITTSBURG, May 12.—The three thousand employees of the National Tube Works company at McKeesport, Pa., struck to-day for a 10 per cent advance in wages. All the departments are closed down except the puddling and rolling mills. The employees in these departments are members of the Amalgamated association and have no sympathy; but if the matter is not settled they will also be forced to quit work in a few days.

Dollar For Dollar.

NEW YORK, May 12.—A meeting of the creditors of the Iron Car company whose claims aggregated about $600,000, was held to-day and steps were taken to reorganize the company. It is believed that an arrangement can be effected whereby the company's works can be set in motion and the creditors eventually get one hundred cents on the dollar.

Lowest Rate Ever Known.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 12.—Assistant Passenger Agent W. H. Dixon, of the C. M. & St. P. railway, to-day issued a circular cutting rates between Kansas City, St. Paul and Minneapolis to first-class $11, second-class $8. The former rate has been, first class, $14.20 and no second class. This is the lowest rate ever known between those points.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 12.—The "Said Pasha" Opera company, which has been playing all over the country, has collapsed and most of the members of the troupe are left here without money or friends.

Yale Student Missing.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 12.—Austin R. Mendenhall, of Duluth, a member of the Yale freshmen class, has been missing since Thursday. He was in his usual spirits and was well supplied with money and no cause for his departure is known.

Forecast of the Weather.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—8 P. M.—The signal service reports the following as its forecast for the next 24 hours: For Michigan and Wisconsin: Colder; northerly winds; fair, preceded by rain in southeast portion; frost is probable Wednesday morning.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

BUTTE & BOSTON, in which upper peninsula capital is interested to a certain extent, produced in April 25 carloads of matte of 40,000 pounds each, averaging 55 per cent copper and 30 ounces of silver per ton. The new smelter will soon be in use and is expected to nearly double the output.

That little African disagreement between Portugal and England promises to prove a good thing for some of our American ship-building concerns. The success of the new ships of the United States navy has attracted considerable attention abroad, and now that Portugal desires to build some new cruisers she has applied to American builders for proposals, announcing that "no English need apply."

MARQUETTE is waking up this season and no mistake. The changes and improvements already under way would make any other town on the upper peninsula wild with delight, and yet the list is only fairly started. The decision of the directors of the Opera House Building association to start work on that $75,000 opera house at once, marks another step forward, and one that will do much to increase the fame of Marquette abroad as the "Queen City of Lake Superior."

The death of Thomas Nester is a loss to the entire upper peninsula, as it was here that his capital was invested and it was to the development of upper peninsula resources that he was giving his time and attention. To Baraga county especially his death will prove a heavy blow for his largest interests were in that county where he first began operations about ten years ago. He was probably the best known lumberman in the state and a man always noted for business enterprise and integrity. He was a large hearted man and his hundreds of employes always swore by "Old Tom."

THE COPPER MARKET.
The copper market continues to grow stronger. The Engineering and Mining Journal says:
The strong tendency of the market, to which we referred in our last issue, has become more marked during the present week, at any rate as far as regards the general tone. Actual dealings have, however, been rather limited, a not unnatural state of affairs, in view of the fact that the majority of the buyers for consumption secured their supplies before the rise set in, and the orders placed since have come from a few manufacturers who missed the market when the others bought.
In addition to these purchasers for bona fide purposes, the speculators who have an interest in raising prices have, of course, been also buying. The future prospects of the market in general may be described as very promising, always provided that it is left to natural influences and not made the subject of speculative manipulations. While it is true that the banker's stocks have now been nearly all sold, the fact must not be forgotten that the greater part of such stocks still remains as unsold, and at prices should unfortunately be driven up too high, the effect would certainly be a contraction of consumptive demand, which could not fail to undermine the stability of the position. The following are the quotations now ruling: Lake copper, spot, 15; May, 15; June, 15; July, 15; Arizona, 13 1/2; casting brands, 12 1/2 @ 13.

The London market for Chili bars and G. M. B.'s has also been exceedingly firm all the week, and whilst the opening prices on Monday morning were £49 5s. @ £49 7s. 6d. spot and £49 10s. @ £49 12s. 6d. three months, the latest quotations received by cable today are: Spot £50 10s. @ £50 12s. 6d.; futures, £50 15s. @ £50 17s. 6d. The rise in London is partly attributable to improved consumptive demand and partly to speculative buying. The following are the latest quotations for refined and manufactured sorts, viz.: English Tough, £55 @ £55 5s.; best selected, £55 @ £55 5s.; strong sheets, £61 @ £61 10s.; India sheets, £56 10s. @ £57, and yellow metal, 6d. per pound. Mail advices recently received from Chili report that the Vicuna Works are shut down, and that the Schwager and Urmeneta are only making ingots.
A cable dispatch, dated Paris, May 7th 1890, says: In the Societe des Metaux trial to-day the public prosecutor sought to show that M. Secretan had tried to forestall the copper supply in order to control prices, and that he had obtained control of nine-tenths of the production. This, the prosecutor said, decisively proved that speculation caused the disaster.
Toward the close of the week the Boston Transcript reviewed the situation as follows:
Copper stocks generally were strong. There were more predictions of 16 cents for copper before July, and it certainly looks as if such predictions were well based. The lake companies are refusing to sell copper for future deliveries, simply because they cannot. Consumption is ahead of the supply to such an extent that not much over a year after the collapse of the "French syndicate" the price yields the companies more than that ill-fated comer did with every prospect of consumers being willing to pay 16 1/2 cents per pound a year and a half after they were opposing the same most energetically. There are no old pots and pans to be worked over now. There are no accumulated stocks to threaten the price of the metal, but there is an immense demand for lake ingot for purposes of electrical use as well as for general manufacture and current production does not equal this demand, while new sources of supply are few. This is why copper has risen to 15 1/2 cents per pound and why copper stocks are rising. To what the price of copper will rise this year is matter for interesting conjecture. All the way from 18 to 20 cents this year is named by students of the situation. And even casting brands, or lower grade copper is rising in price, showing that it is not electrical development alone that is back of the present buoyancy. Of course lake ingot has the greater rise, as it alone is desirable for copper wire. But other uses of copper are broadening as well, and the situation generally never looked more promising from the point of view of the producers and the holders of stocks in the producing companies.

HAPPY HOOSIERS.
Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidneys and Liver trouble. John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; it restores strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at H. H. Stafford & Son's Drugstore.

CATARH.
Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.
Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is a simple remedy has been formulated which cures catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.
N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining the method, and giving free on receipt of stamp to pay postage, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.
Ask Your Friends About It.
Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. Its remarkable sale has been won entirely by its genuine merit. Ask some friend who has used it what he thinks of Kemp's Balsam. There is no medicine so pure, none so effective. Large bottles 50c and $1 at all druggists. Sample bottle free.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was confined for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued to use it after taking two bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as ever.—Free trial bottle of this Grand Discovery at H. H. Stafford's Drug store, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

CHEATING THE DYNAMO.
Possible Means by Which Condemned Men May Insulate Themselves.
Who will be the first one to cheat the dynamo? Can the dynamo be cheated, and if so, how? These are questions interesting alike to the sheriff and his victim. A deputy can tie a hangman's knot, but can he make an electrical connection? The hangman can readily inspect the strands of his rope, but can he see the volts in the death current?

It would be well for any unfortunate about to be interposed in the circuit of the shrieval dynamo to consult an electrical expert. He will get some information which may save his life. A good electrician would recommend a coat of insulating varnish applied to the body. A person thus protected would be as invulnerable as Achilles. Hair oil, being a good insulator, if freely applied to the head, would go far toward keeping the currents out of the brain.

The general use of hair oil does not receive aesthetic sanction, but as part of an ante-mortem, or rather, anti-mortem, toilet, it would certainly be in good form. An inventor of this city has devised an apparatus to be worn under the clothing by means of which the most powerful currents are rendered innocuous. A close fitting undershirt of tinsel would protect its wearer from any current which might attack the body. The thick, tough skinned palms of the horny fisted son of toll are proof against almost any current short of a stroke of lightning, and a bare footed street Arab could safely walk on electric wires which would paralyze less calloused soles. An accident has recently been reported which is of the deepest significance. A lad who was apparently dead from contact with an electric wire was restored to consciousness by being touched with the wire again in the excitement attending his removal. This would be, if true, a most remarkable instance of like curing like, and also shows a possible way of defeating the ends of justice.

It is clearly apparent that the conditions necessary for electrical killing are affected by obscure and unthought of causes, and while it is not likely that a criminal could completely protect himself against electric currents, he may present himself to the death chair, either accidentally or otherwise, in such an electrical condition that electrical execution will become electrical torture. No one can say what will be the effect of an electrical current on a subject worked up to the highest degree of nervous excitement. Will the electrical current, with safety, to a patient suffering intense pain, a dose of morphine which would be sure death under normal conditions?—Electrical Review.

A Setter Dog That Would Set.
"Speaking of the dog show," said the man in the slate colored trousers, "reminds me of an astonishing proof of canine intelligence which came under my observation in the year 1879. I was at that time residing in Binghamton, Broome county, N. Y., and had a considerable amount of live stock, some poultry and a superb setter dog. I tell you he was a fine animal. I never see a dog with such gentle ways. Gentlemen, you could have pulled enough hair out of that dog to stuff a sofa pillow, and he wouldn't 'a' bit a bald headed baby. One day he was running around the yard, and somehow he playfully snapped the leg off of a hen. Gentlemen, never knowed how he did it, but somehow or other that dog found out she was a settin' hen, and blamed if the critter didn't go and set on them eggs himself till he hatched out nine chickens."
There was a significant silence as the man in the slate colored trousers finished.
"How do you explain such a remarkable occurrence?" at length inquired the man on the end.
"Setter dog, gentlemen," and then the man in the slate colored trousers said he reckoned he'd see if the World's fair was dead, and strolled away.—New York Tribune.

"Heroic Courtesy."
A recent French writer on "The Revolution, the Empire, and the Restoration," cites an amusing instance of what he calls heroic courtesy.
Percy, Lord Beverly, invited to dine with him a marquis, one of the most valiant soldiers of the army of Conde.
Wishing to honor his guest and the cause which he served, that of the French king, he ordered his butler to bring him a bottle of fine wine—some hundred years old—"a ray of sun shut in crystal."
He opened it carefully and offered a glass to the marquis, saying: "If you deem it worthy the honor, will you drink in this wine the health of the king?"
The marquis tasted the wine.
"How do you like it?" asked the host.
"Exquisite," replied the marquis.
"Then," said Lord Beverly, "finish the glass; only in a full glass can one drink the health of so great and so unfortunate a king."
The marquis did as he was bidden without hesitation; only when the Englishman tasted the wine did he learn that what he had forced on his guest was castor oil; and thereupon he held the politeness of the French toward the English in the highest esteem.

"Jumps Like Sam Patch."
To say that a fellow "jumps like Sam Patch" is a very proper expression. Sam Patch sprung into notoriety about sixty years ago—to be exact, in October, 1829—when he made his famous leap at Niagara Falls. This extraordinary (at that time) leap was one of 70 feet, from a rock into the waters below. Patch made his second leap the same year, Oct. 17, also at Niagara, not from the bluff, but from a scaffold built for that purpose at the foot of the Biddle staircase. This staircase was erected in the year 1829, and was named for a rich Philadelphian by the name of Nicholas Biddle, who had contributed a large sum of money to further the novel enterprise.
The shaft is nearly 80 feet high, the stairs spiral, winding from top to bottom. Near the foot of these stairs, at the water's edge, Mr. Samuel Patch set up a ladder 100 feet high, from which he leaped into the water below. Patch's next adventure was at Genesee Falls, N. Y., where he made a leap Nov. 6, 1829. A week later he made a fatal plunge at the Genesee Falls, which are within the city limits of Rochester.—St. Louis Republic.

Why Quacks Prosper.
A prosperous quack was asked by a doctor how it was he had so many customers. The quack took him to his window overlooking a crowded street and said: "What proportion of the people passing do you think are sensible persons, with well balanced minds?" "Perhaps one in ten," was the rejoinder. "Just so," said the quack, "and I get the nine."—Hall's Journal of Health.

Her First Cake.
Young Wife (tenderly)—"What's the matter, my dear? Don't you like pound cake?" Husband (hesitatingly)—"Yes, love; but I don't care for ten pound cake."—New York Weekly.

THE BIRTH OF AN ISLAND

HOW A RECENT ADDITION WAS MADE TO THE TONGA GROUP.

There Was a Volcanic Eruption at the Ocean Bottom, and Falcon Island Was the Result Thereof—A Visitor's Impressions of It as a Four-Year-Old.

During the year 1885 the people on an island in the southern part of the Tonga group in the Pacific observed a terrible commotion far out at sea. It seemed to them that the waters were boiling, and that smoke was rising from the surface of the ocean.

NOT A COMMON SIGHT. A new island was coming into view. One of the volcanic vents at the bottom of the sea had spread its molten rock and ashes over the ocean bed until the growing mass reached the surface.

Those islands, which were reared above the sea only by prodigious and probably long-extended eruptions, are likely, even in these later days, to be the scene of the most stupendous volcanic activity.

A Cave-In. A cave-in of considerable magnitude has interrupted work at the Lillie mine for the past few days, but the damage will soon be repaired and the mine will be sending out its usual amount of ore within a few weeks.

WHAT MR. LISTER OBSERVED. In October, 1889, J. J. Lister visited Falcon Island, then four years old, and he has reported the results of his observations to the Royal Geographical Society of London.

The explorer found that beneath the surface the mass was still very hot. At the surface the temperature was 77 degs.; two feet below the surface the thermometer registered 85 degs., and six feet six inches below it reached 106 degs.

Unless the sea destroys Falcon Island before it has a chance it is not difficult to foresee what will be its future. On this volcanic debris a host of marine animals and plants will find a resting place; coral reefs will spring from the shallow waters around it and form a breakwater against the waves; the seeds of coconuts and of many shore-loving plants will drift there on the tide; decaying vegetation will mix with the volcanic ashes to form alluvium, and another verdant island fit for the abode of man will exist in the southern seas.

Mr. Welch's Experience. James Welch of Middletown, Conn., having been told that the force of a dynamite explosion was downward, made a practical test of this principle by boring a big hole into a monstrous gnarled log, into which he put a lot of dynamite, ignited a short time fuse and carelessly sat down astride one end of the log.

Compassion on a Timid Hen. A little Lewiston girl has some hens equal in her estimation at least, to the Pincheon hens Hawthorne has immortalized. She feeds them from her hands and they all flock about her.

100 Ladies Wanted. And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains.

NOW THERE ARE BUT THREE.

One of Newberry's Missing Jail Birds Brought Back Through Negaunee Yesterday.

Captain Allen Goes to the Great Western. Came-in at the Lillie—Other Negaunee News Notes.

Caught One of the Quartette. W. F. Crocker, under sheriff of Luce county, passed through this city yesterday having in charge a man named Fisher, who with three others made his escape from the jail at Newberry on the night of April 26th.

Went to Iron River. Captain W. J. Allen, of this city, has gone to Iron River, where he will accept a position as superintendent of the Great Western mine, the place having been made vacant by the death of Captain Hooper.

A Cave-In. A cave-in of considerable magnitude has interrupted work at the Lillie mine for the past few days, but the damage will soon be repaired and the mine will be sending out its usual amount of ore within a few weeks.

Negaunee is pleased to state that she is not the possessor of the gang of hoodlums and thugs that it seems Ishpeming harbors. Or, rather, that they do not make much of a showing, for of course the city, like all others, has characters that are not at all desirable.

For the first time in its history the boats at Escanaba are crowding the railway company. Heretofore the company has always been able to keep ahead of the boats, and sometimes its docks were choked because boats did come fast enough.

Zera Semon and his company opened their week's engagement at the opera house last evening to a fair sized audience, and the patronage for the remainder of the week promises to be good.

Gov. St. John's subject at his lecture next week will be "Facts and Figures About Temperance." The admission will be 25 cents, and the tickets will be placed on sale to-day.

The Negaunee Entertainment association is still having trouble to find people to fulfill the engagements made by the lecture bureau.

The public schools will complete the year's work next month and quite a large class will be graduated. The junior exhibition, which has become an established feature, will be given in a couple of weeks.

A company to be known as the "Northeast Negaunee Mining company," is being organized to operate on a track lying, as the name would indicate, northeast of the Negaunee mine.

John Thompson has thoroughly refitted the old Garfield house and it is now a first-class hotel. It is now known as the "Hotel Negaunee."

A 10x15 Gordon jobber and an office car were the additions made to the Iron Herald's equipment yesterday.

The management of the base ball club will be able to definitely announce its plans in a few days.

Dr. L. D. Cyr went below Sunday.

100 Ladies Wanted. And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains.

WANTED—A few first-class Carpenters, who can find steady employment with C. B. DRISCOLL, Contractor, Negaunee, Wis.

Disolution Notice. Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately existing between William Lums and Nels Hanson of Negaunee, Michigan, under the firm name of Lums & Hanson, was dissolved by mutual consent on the 28th day of May 1890.

Mr. Hanson has disposed of the half interest acquired by the above dissolution, and the business will hereafter be carried on at the old stand under the firm name of Hanson & Co.

The Ghastly Record of deaths that result from malaria is frightful. There is no disease that is so insidious in its attack. Its approach is stealthy and its progress is rapid. It is a deadly enemy, which if applied at the outset, by delay loses its power. Dr. Titt's Liver Pills have proven the most valuable medicinal antidote ever discovered. A noted clergyman of New York pronounces them "the greatest blessing of the nineteenth century," and says: "in these days of defective plumbing and sewer gas, no family should be without them." They are pleasant to take, being covered with a vanilla sugar coating.

WHY NOT CORDUROYS?

Would It Not Be Well to Replace Ishpeming Streets With Good Corduroy Roads?

EX-GOV. ST. JOHN WILL VISIT ISHPEMING ON THURSDAY, MAY 22.

Decoration Day—Scandinavian Celebration. Hurt at the East New York—Art Gallery Improvements.

Impassable Streets.

It is time that something was done to better the condition of the supposed thoroughfares in this city. The policy of macadamizing the streets with crushed diorite was inaugurated two years ago, despite the protests of those who thought that it would not prove satisfactory, and it can be truthfully said that the experiment has proved as successful a failure as its most earnest opponents predicted at the time it was begun.

Although the city is spending $20,000 a year on its streets, they remain unsatisfactory. The macadamizing does not seem to make a permanently good street, and it has been very expensive. In fact, for the amount of money that has been spent in monkeying with the rock crusher, a number of streets could have been given a substantial Nicholson pavement.

As they are at present, a number of the down-town business streets are simply disgraceful. They are covered with diorite crushed to the size of cobbles, and with the sharp angles protruding, greatly to the detriment of the feet of man or beast. At present Cleveland avenue, Pearl, Division, First and other business streets are covered with these rocks. They are in the worst possible condition, and have been for a number of weeks. No attempt is being made, or has been to better them. Teams passing over them must go at a slow walk, and heavy loads cannot be pulled. Ishpeming has the worst streets of any city, town or village in the state of Michigan except Sault Ste. Marie, yet with a little labor they could be made fairly passable, and with the expenditure of the same amount of money as has been wasted in the last two years, they could be well paved.

A Prohibition Speech.

Ex Gov. John P. St. John, who spoke here shortly before the local election this spring, will visit the peninsula again this month, and will make six speeches in the district. He is billed to appear at the following places and dates: Iron Mountain, May 21st, Ishpeming, May 22d, Negaunee, May 23d, Hancock, May 24th, Calumet, May 26th, Ironwood, May 27th.

Gov. St. John is a popular speaker, and deservedly so. His political speeches are marked by a more temperate tone than is usually indulged in by those who talk on political subjects, and men of all political persuasions will find much to interest them in his speeches. He is certain of a good audience on the occasion of his appearance in Ishpeming for the second time.

Decoration Day.

C. H. Towne post of the G. A. R., of this city, will celebrate Decoration day in the manner common throughout the country. The post was newly organized a year ago, but turned out Decoration day. This spring it musters more members, and will celebrate the day on a larger and more appropriate scale. The Emmet Guards and Ishpeming Cadets have been invited to assist in the parade to the cemetery, and will escort the veterans to and from the grounds. The various societies have been invited to turn out, and it is more than probable that some of them will do so.

Scandinavians Will Celebrate.

The Scandinavian society will celebrate May 17th, the anniversary of Swedish and Norwegian independence, by a banquet and ball. The banquet will be held at the hall of the society on north Second street, while the dancing will be in the Swedish Home hall, over the co-operative store on Cleveland avenue. The price of admission will be one dollar.

Hurt at the East New York.

Henry Maddox, a miner employed at the East New York mine, met with a serious and painful accident while at work Saturday afternoon. A small mass of rock fell on his leg, fracturing it in two places, and splintering the bone. The man was promptly given surgical attendance, and the wound was dressed by Dr. G. G. Barnett, who thinks that Maddox will recover soon, though the fracture was a very bad one.

Will Enlarge.
Mr. C. D. Cole has decided to enlarge the building on Division street now occupied by Childs & Cole's art gallery. The building as it stands is a very good one, but not enough so to satisfy Mr. Cole, and he will accordingly put in a large addition on the south end of it. A number of changes will be made in the interior arrangement of the gallery, giving a large office and reception room, an operating room 20x35 feet, with a ground glass roof having a southern exposure, dark rooms, rest-rooms, toilet rooms, store room, etc. The work will be begun at once.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory." They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for Ivory Soap and insist upon having it. 'Tis sold everywhere.

SKIN CANCER.

Several years ago I was called to see a cancer of the foot. The cancer grew under the prescribed treatment, and the toes on one side of the foot were at length eaten entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and it cured her sound well. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific a most excellent medicine for blood diseases, as its tendency is to drive out the poison. Matherville, Miss. Wm. E. STANON, M. D.

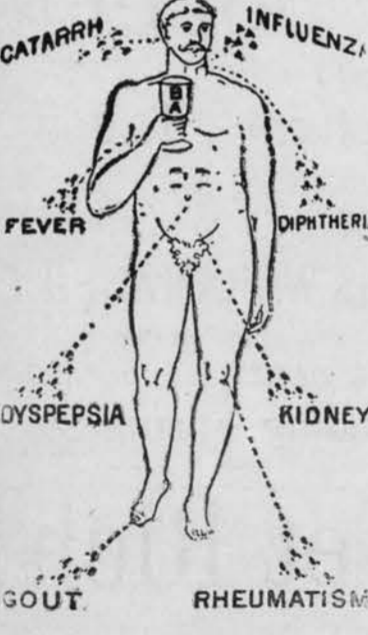

SSS

CANCER OF THE TONGUE. For three or four years I had an eating sore in my tongue that made a considerable hole in it. I became alarmed at its progress, and went to Atlanta for treatment. The result was that I commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and the sore was soon gone, without a trace of it left. Thomas, Ga., Mar. 14, '89. A. LEWIS. Treatise on Cancer mailed free. Some women are "bothered to death" with corsets breaking. There is a "bone" that never breaks; it can't be broken—by wear. The only way it can be broken is by bending it back the other way—which is never done in wear. Don't believe it, perhaps? Very well. Go to your own store and get a Kabo corset; and, if it breaks in a year, go back and get your money. The steels may break—the Kabo never! The store has a primer on Corsets for you.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

It is expected that, a meeting of the common council will be called by Mayor Hall for Wednesday evening of this week.

Ishpeming mines are shipping more ore now than at a corresponding time last year and will achieve a larger output this year than last.

F. C. Haefler will rent the first floor of his new building on Canal street for store purposes, occupying the second floor with his photographic gallery.

T. Grabowsky left the city Saturday for Detroit, Cleveland and other eastern cities, to buy his second lot of spring goods, his first purchase having been nearly exhausted.

M. J. Griffin has sold to J. D. Hodgkins a very handsome span of black carriage horses. Mr. Griffin has disposed of three car loads of horses within the past seven weeks in this city.

The Alonzo Hatch Opera company will play at the City Opera house in this city on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 23rd and 24th. Those who wish to secure good seats should leave their names on the guarantee list at Tillson's.

One of the MINING JOURNAL subscribers writes that a certain man living at the corner of Cleveland avenue and some other street snored so loud at night that the police are brought there under the mistaken idea that there are tramps sleeping in the alleyway at the rear of the snorer's domicile.

Now, Mr. Menominee Herald, Mr. "Soot" News, and Mr. Iron Mountain Range, will let you two to one, in any amount desired, that the census to be taken next month will show that Ishpeming has the largest population of any town in the upper peninsula. Here's a good opening for you.

Warren Wright is home from Albion enjoying a vacation. His health is not as good as it should be, though his condition is much better than a short time ago. The injuries received in that game of football were very serious, and Mr. Wright was fortunate in escaping as well as he has.

Street Commissioner Scully's gang of men is doing good work in cleaning the alleys. They are being given a thorough cleaning and the public health will be the better for it, while a great many eyesores will be removed.

The guests at the Commercial house were treated to a very fine mess of brook trout for dinner Monday. There was plenty to eat for the large and hungry congregation that sat down at mine host Schilling's table, and the trout were voted a success.

J. S. Murphy, who was billed to play here to-morrow and Wednesday, has filed no dates this side of Chicago, and it is not at all likely that he will be here on time. The contracts were regularly made out for his appearance here, but there is a hitch in the proceedings somewhere.

Fitzpatrick's Rip Van Winkle company will play here on Saturday of this week, giving both an evening play and a matinee Saturday afternoon. There will be a street parade Saturday afternoon at one o'clock. Popular prices of admission Saturday afternoon.

The Excelsior Furnace company will petition the council to straighten the track that passes through its grounds. This should be done, as the road will be bettered by straightening and the furnace company will be enabled to get its yard all in one piece. As the road now runs the yard is divided by it.

Six freight cars form a pretty snug fit in the block between Main and Pine streets on the Northwestern track. The fit is so tight that when the cars are left there over night, as sometimes happens, the last car projects uncomfortably over the Pine street crossing. Cannot the railway company lengthen the block about four feet?

A number of changes are to be made in the neighborhood of the Excelsior furnace before it is put in blast, which will be some time this summer. The branch track from the railroad will probably enter the furnace yard from the west, instead of from the east as at present, and the dwelling houses now standing on the company's ground will be removed.

No mistake was made in fitting up Firemen's Hall so as to afford a pleasant room for the recreation of the fireman. The room is well filled every evening, and affords a pleasant gathering place. A good billiard table, donated by Chief Outwater, is kept busy, and other games are played, while the more studious have a good selection of books and newspapers to choose from. The room is appreciated by the firemen, and it should be.

The article in yesterday's MINING JOURNAL about the devils committed between midnight and morning has brought out considerable additional information regarding midnight scraps and robberies. It is simply impossible for four policemen to keep everything as quiet as it should be. Sault Ste. Marie has half as many people as this city, and exactly twice as many nightwatchmen, and from all reports the force at the "Soot" has its hands full most of the time.

A. O. U. W.

All members of Ishpeming lodge No. 113, A. O. U. W. are requested to be present at regular meeting Thursday, evening, May 15th at 7:30 sharp, to consider business of unusual importance.

F. MCNAMARA, Master Workman. A. W. GIBBS, Recorder.

Blood Will Tell. There are "Blue-blooded" people, and "Red-blooded" people, but there are more "Bad-blooded" people than all the rest put together. Sometimes their blood is simply impure. In that case there is no better remedy than Pe-r-u-na. But sometimes their blood is diseased, and horrible indeed some of these Blood Diseases are: There is Chronic Catarrh, for instance, and Scrofula, and Chronic Rheumatism, Chron Ulcers and even more horrible diseases. The terrible diseases, and especially so when they break out at this season of the year, when the body is relaxing under the enervating heat, and yet has not adapted itself to debilitating summer conditions. Happily, suffering manhood is not without a remedy for such dire afflictions. La-cu-pi-a has proved itself in thousands of cases a grand cure for them. Head its record in Dr. Hartman's "I'lls of Life", sent free by Peruna Medicine company, Columbus, Ohio. Regulate the bowels, if necessary, with Manakin. Each retail at only $1 a bottle. For sale by H. H. Stafford & Son.

THE SPHINX AND THE ANDROSOPHIX.

The great sphinx of Gizeh, Egypt, is one of the most remarkable of the many colossal sculptured figures which the highly cultured Egyptians of 4000 B. C. left to mark their memory.

The word "sphinx" is from the Greek and signifies a riddle. The sphinxes are always hewn from solid rock and are of all sizes, some being so small as to be carried by one man with perfect ease, while others are of gigantic proportion, the great sphinx above mentioned being 172 feet long and 36 feet high, having the head of a man and the body of a lion.

In the sandy deserts of northern Africa sphinxes of all kinds are found—some with men's heads, bird's wings and animal's bodies; others with hawk's or eagle's heads, lion or tiger bodies and human arms and hands. A sphinx with a man's head and a woman's body with a lion's head is called a crisphnix; one with a hawk's head is known to the Egyptologist as an hieracosphinx. Sacred tablets found buried near the great sphinx go a long way towards substantiating the belief that the sphinx was formerly worshipped. Beside in Egypt and the northern African states and Arabia, the sphinx has been found in Babylonia, Assyria and in Phoenicia.—St. Louis Republic.

The Course of Love in Arcadia.

One Sunday, after a preacher had finished his sermon in one of the rural districts, a young couple, anxious to be with him, united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The parson asked the usual question: "If any one objects to the marriage of A and B let him now speak or forever after hold his peace." After a short pause he was about to proceed with the ceremony, when a young man, with unkempt hair, a dirty face and red eyes, arose and blubbering said: "Mr. Preacher, I object. Lizzie has promised to marry me, and she has got my ring on her finger, and 'cause Bob gave her a young filly and has a new house she has flung me off."

The lieutenant started by flinging the ring to him. She then, turning to the parson, said: "I did not promise to marry Jake. He gave me the ring and I return it to him. I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man under the sun." Jake ran out of the church without picking up the ring, which the priest promptly put in the most approved style, and the young couple left for the groom's home amid much rejoicing.—Americus (Ga.) Recorder.

The Best Man.

Tourist—Who was the best man at the wedding last night? Rev. Whoop-text (the cowboy evangelist)—I wuz.

Tourist—Impossible! The officiating minister cannot be the best man, and— Rev. Whoop-text—Kaint, hey? 'Fore I give up cattle punchin' I hey' took to the ministry I had considerable experience in the matrimonial line. I was ready to hear 'em, the bride's father objected to sump'n', I quieted him so's he'll wear his head in a sling for a while. And when three, four fellers made objections to the duder collar I wore, I sorto shed them up, too. Broke one's back, I reckon. Then I sung out, if anybody else has any objections I was ready to hear 'em. Nobody say'd no, so, all things considered, if I wa'n't the best man nay'er, I reckon I was 'bout as good as any uv 'em.—Tom P. Morgan in Chatter.

Caught a Smuggler in a Tiger Trap.

In East Java a band of counterfeit opium dealers, passing through a jungle, saw two tigers following them hard. They lost not a moment in hastening their steps, but the least nimble of them found the beasts of prey at his heels, when he spied a tiger trap. He crept into it with the forbidden freight on his back. The trap shut the closer for the heavy weight, and when danger no longer threatened the fellow thought he could lift up the door of the trap, but all his efforts proved unavailing. Next day the settlers came to have a look at the trap, and rejoiced to see it closed, in the hope of finding a tiger caught. They joy knew no bounds when the prize proved to be a smuggler with forty pounds of opium.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Opera House Company Directors Resolve on Active Operations and Will Start Work at Once.

SUDDEN DEATH OF THOMAS NESTER YESTERDAY AT BARAGA.

Lake Superior Iron Company's Magnificent New Steel Steamer Joliet Here for First Time—General City News.

They Take the Bull by the Horns.

Marquette's opera house will be built. That announcement has been made in the columns of the MINING JOURNAL several times before but this time it has an added weight and significance. Following the repeated advice of the MINING JOURNAL, the directors of the opera house company yesterday decided to begin operations immediately. A resolution was unanimously passed to bond the property if it should be necessary to do so to complete the building. The stock subscription list will be kept open and only such amount of bonds as may be absolutely necessary will be issued. It is expected that nearly or quite all the stock will be subscribed before the building is finished. If the full amount of the stock is taken, well and good. If not, then arrangements have been made to place bonds in such amounts as may be necessary. In either event, the opera house will be built and built at once.

It is, of course, desirable that all the stock be subscribed that the company may start in with the completed building free from debt. The subscription now amounts to about $50,000 with several parties to hear from who will bring it up to about $60,000. Only $75,000 is wanted, of which $20,000 goes for the land. Messrs. James and Thomas Dwyer take their pay wholly in stock and become interested in the enterprise to the amount of the value of the land.

The building to be put up will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 and it is for this that the cash stock subscription is asked. This stock is payable in ten monthly installments, the first of which will probably be called for in ten days or two weeks. The installments being thus distributed over nearly a year a reasonable subscription to the opera house stock will be burdensome to no one. Conservative business men estimate the net returns from the investment at 6 per cent., exclusive of the opera house proper. That is to say the stores, offices and secret society rooms are figured to pay all expenses and 6 per cent. clear, even if the opera house part does not make a dollar. This latter supposition is of course unnecessary, as the theater will certainly pay something of a rental, but for the sake of safety it is left out of the question.

Messrs. Peter White, F. O. Clark and James Dwyer were appointed a committee on plans with orders to report at the next meeting of the directors. This will be held next Monday afternoon and if satisfactory plans are reached by that time, the first assessment will probably be called for, and ground broken in a few days afterwards. The opera house will be built and now is the time for the croakers who have held back and predicted failure to get under cover as rapidly as possible and take up the remainder of the stock. The directors feel reasonably assured that with the subscriptions now promised and those likely to come in under the impetus of operations actually begun that it will probably not be necessary to issue bonds. Should such a course become necessary, however, all steps have been taken to that end.

With its new and elegant opera house, costing exclusive of the site upwards of $50,000, Marquette takes a decided step in advance. The house will be easily the best in the upper peninsula and worthy of the chief city of this region. The MINING JOURNAL congratulates the people of Marquette on the progress thus made and also feels inclined to congratulate itself a little at the success of an enterprise which it has so persistently advocated. Now let the work be pushed vigorously that when winter comes the Queen City of Lake Superior may have ready for occupancy its elegant temple of musical and dramatic art.

Death of Thomas Nester.

Thomas Nester died of apoplexy at Baraga about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. While walking on the lumber dock Saturday morning Mr. Nester was stricken. He was at once removed to his house and the best medical aid procurable summoned, but in spite of all efforts he lived less than forty-eight hours. His wife was summoned at the first attack and all his children were present at his death bed. The body was taken to Detroit for burial, passing through this city yesterday afternoon. The funeral party was joined here by Mrs. Timothy Nester and daughter. Mr. Timothy Nester was in Grand Rapids and will meet the party at Detroit. Mr. Patrick Nester was in Baraga at the time of the death and accompanied the widow and children to Detroit.

Thomas Nester was an excellent example of the progress to fortune that may be made in this country by a man possessing only native energy and determination at the start. At the time of his death he was certainly the best-known lumberman in the upper peninsula and conducted one of the largest businesses in that line in the state. He did much for the development of Baraga county and practically built the town of that name. He was always a shrewd and energetic business man and starting from small beginnings in a comparatively few years accumulated an estate that will probably reach a million.

Thomas Nester was born in the west of Ireland about fifty-five years ago and when a well grown boy came to this country with his family. After some stay in Canada the Nesters finally settled in Sanilac county. From a logger Thomas Nester began to take small contracts for lumbering, gradually increased the size of his operations and became a purchaser of pine lands. He became interested with A. W. Wright, Charles Wells and F. C. Stone in large tracts of pine lands in Gladwin and Roscommon counties. In connection with these tracts he built a logging railroad and was one of the first men in the Michigan pineries to operate such a road successfully.

In 1881 he became interested in the upper peninsula. In company with the gentlemen named above and with Thomas Merrill he had bought the Ward tract in Ontonagon county and a tract on Sturgeon river of K. K. Hawley. When in 1881-82 Mr. Nester sold out of the Wells-Stone combination he received $510,000 as his share, most of which he took in the upper peninsula lands owned by the concern. The big mill at Baraga was set going in 1882 and quite a town has grown up about it. Other purchases of pine were from the Lake Superior Ship Canal company about Keweenaw Point and from the Michigan Land and Iron company on Sturgeon river. The business was a flourishing one and the Baraga plant became noted in the annals of pine lumber.

Mr. Nester leaves a widow, three grown sons and a daughter, the latter the wife of M. J. Bourke. Of the four Nester brothers John died about two years ago at Baraga, and Patrick and Timothy survive. It is, of course, not yet known who will succeed to the management of his large interests. The funeral will be held at Detroit some time this week.

The Steamer Joliet.

The Lake Superior Iron company's new steel steamer Joliet made her first appearance at this port yesterday and took away 1,979 tons on a 14 foot draft. The Joliet is undoubtedly the finest boat that has yet appeared here and easily first among the ore-carriers of Lake Superior. This is her third trip, having gone to Escanaba twice before. As she lay at the dock she showed herself a model of marine architecture. Her lines are very fine yet she has great carrying power. She makes, loaded, 10 1/2 miles per hour. It may be said that speed was sacrificed to carrying power but the sacrifice, if it be such, was deliberately made. Mr. J. S. Fay, the president of the Lake Superior company, figured that 10 1/2 to 11 1/2 miles was the normal speed of lake boats, and that every mile over that increased fuel consumption 40 per cent more than the miles within that speed. Distances from Lake Superior to Ohio ports were figured and a time card made up. Arrivals were arranged at either end so that there would be no delay in loading or discharging. Capacity was figured so that cargoes might be discharged in one day, saving the expense of night work. Daylight canal passages were also arranged. Having these data the Cleveland Ship Building company constructed the Joliet and her sister ship, the La Salle, to fit them. Both vessels have in their trial trips done everything desired of them.

The Joliet is 283 feet over all, 260 feet keel, 38 feet beam and 19 feet hold. Her engines are triple compound with 17-inch high pressure, 29-inch intermediate and 47-inch low pressure cylinders and 36-inch stroke. Her Scotch boilers are 11 by 12 feet and furnish steam at 160 pounds pressure. Her screw is 14 feet diameter and 14 feet pitch. She has steam steering gear, signal recording device, steam capstan and windlass and is lighted throughout with incandescent lights. Her fittings are handsome and comfortable, but plain, with no gingerbread work or attempt at display. The La Salle, which will probably be here sometime this season, is identical in every respect with the Joliet. The latter vessel is commanded by Capt. O. W. Green, formerly in the Calumet, and her engineer is C. M. Stoddard. The Joliet and La Salle are certainly the crack ore carriers and the MINING JOURNAL hopes to see many more like them steaming into Marquette harbor.
