THE IMPORTED LIQUOR BILL AMENDED AND PASSED BY THE SENATE.

House Devotes the Day to Public Building Bills—A Bill Introduced Relative to Rafts on the Lakes.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The president officer presented a message from the secretary of the interior recommending an appropriation to continue the negotiations with the Cherokee and other Indians for the cession of lands. Referred to the committee on Indian affairs. On motion of Mr. Spooner it was ordered that to-morrow being Decoration Day, the adjournment to-day shall be till Monday next. Mr. Teller introduced the following joint resolution, which was laid on the table and ordered printed: "That it is the determined policy of the United States to use both gold and silver as full legal tender money, under the ratio now existing in the United States or which may hereafter be established by the United States alone or acting in accord with other nations."

Mr. Spooner offered a resolution, which went over, calling on the attorney-general for information as to the practice in the United States courts at Ft. Smith, Ark., and Paris, Texas, as to the appointment of commissioners in the Indian Territory and whether such commissioners might not be residents of the territory and have jurisdiction over petty larceny and other minor offenses.

The senate bill subjecting imported liquors to the provisions of the laws of the several states was again taken up, the question being on the following substitute offered by Mr. Gray to the substitute reported from the judiciary committee: "That fermented, distilled or other intoxicating liquors transferred as an article of commerce or brought into any state or territory from a point or place outside of such state or territory for use, consumption or sale therein shall be exempt, nor shall the owner or person selling them, from the laws of the regulations, control, policy or taxing power of such state or territory affecting, or applicable to all other like property by reason of such liquors being in the original package, of importation or transportation as subjects of inter-state or foreign commerce."

Mr. Gray's amendment was agreed to—yeas 26; nays 20. Mr. Vest moved to amend the substitute just adopted by making it apply to fresh beef, veal, mutton, lamb and pork, and argued that if the bill was to become a law it should not be confined to intoxicating liquors. He made a long speech in support of his amendment, which was defeated by a vote of 20 to 32. Mr. Wilson (La.) offered a substitute for Mr. Gray's amendment providing that liquors transported into any state or territory for use, consumption or sale, or storage, shall on their arrival be subject to the operation and effect of the laws of such state or territory enacted in the exercise of its police powers, and shall not be exempt therefrom on account of their being introduced in the original packages.

Mr. Eustis moved to amend Mr. Wilson's amendment by inserting in it the words, "excepting beer." Rejected, there being only two votes in its favor. The vote was then taken on Mr. Wilson's substitute for Mr. Gray's amendment and it was adopted. The bill was then passed—yeas 34; nays, 10. It reads that all fermented, distilled or other intoxicating liquors or liquids transported into any state or territory for use, consumption, sale or storage, shall on arrival in such state or territory on remaining therein, be subjected to the operation and effect of the police powers, to the same extent and in the same manner as though such liquors or liquids had been produced in such state or territory, and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced therein in original packages or otherwise."

The river and harbor appropriation bill was received from the house and referred to the committee on commerce and after a brief executive session the senate adjourned till Monday.

THE HOUSE.

The entire attention of the session was taken up in the consideration of public building appropriations. Many appropriation bills were passed, after which the house adjourned till Monday. Representative Burton, of Ohio, today introduced a bill to regulate the management of lumber rafts upon the great lakes and connecting waters. The bill provides that lumber rafts shall be limited in length to 550 feet and that not less than two tugs shall be employed in handling each. Boys that have been dragged from their places are to be restored at once and proper lights are to be carried. For violating the provisions of the bill heavy penalties are prescribed.

Baby Burned to Death.

NEWAYGO, Mich., May 29.—The dwelling of Charles Sumner, of White Cloud, burned last night. Mrs. Sumner had stepped out for a few moments and left the baby asleep in the house. The baby was burned to death before assistance arrived.

Flour Mills Burned.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 29.—The La cede flour mills, occupying a five-story building, corner of Ninth and Souldard streets, were entirely destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The loss is estimated at $125,000; fully insured.

INJUNCTION CASE.

Litchfield Asks That the Directors be Prohibited From Selling the St. L. & T. H. Road.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The motion to continue the injunction obtained by E. H. Litchfield restraining the sale of the St. Louis, Alton & Terre Haute railway, between Terre Haute and East St. Louis, for $10,000,000, came up before Justice Lawrence in the supreme court chambers to-day. The road was leased in 1883 until 1891 for $450,000 a year to the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway company. It is proposed to sell this leased portion. Mr. Litchfield is a director and stockholder and opposes the sale, claiming that the company which negotiated the sale has not secured $200,000 in dividend bonds, of one tenth of which he is the owner. He has also twenty-five shares of common and 3,750 shares of preferred stock. A sale under the conditions proposed, he says, would be a breach of trust and would impair the value of the property.

Mr. Shepard, who appeared for the defendants, asked that the injunction be removed to allow the directors to take the first step at the annual meeting on Monday next. The sale, he said, could even then be consummated by the consent of not less than two-thirds of the stockholders, after sixty days notice. If the injunction were continued it would damage the company at least $1,000,000. The sale would largely increase the value of the stock and the proposal to sell had sent common stock from 40 to 46, and dividend bonds had gone from 51 to 62. Under the management of President Cutting and George W. Peabody, Mr. Litchfield's stock had increased in value in eleven years from $18,500 to $65,300. The decision was reserved.

BRIDE OF DEATH.

A Young Missouri Lady Commits Suicide While Dressing for Her Wedding.

MEXICO, Mo., May 29.—Miss Susie Richardson, a refined young lady of twenty-four, living with her parents near Laddonia, this county, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by taking strychnine. She was about to be married to William Danderman, and was partially arrayed in her bridal dress. Her mother had entered vigorous objections to the marriage, and this so preyed upon her mind that she determined to kill herself. The groom has to be closely watched by friends, who fear that he will take his life, as he is frantic with grief. Elder Hill, who had been engaged to perform the marriage ceremony, will preach the funeral sermon.

STRETCHES HEMP.

Benjamin Hawkins Satisfies the Law for the Unprovoked Murder of His Wife.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Benjamin Hawkins was hanged at the jail in this city at 12:04 p. m. to-day for the murder of his wife on the night of March 14, 1889. They had separated, and on the night of the murder the woman was at a "parlor sociable." Hawkins followed the woman, called her out and stabbed her to death. Hawkins threw the knife over the fence, and went to the house of a friend, where he was arrested later in the night. No one saw the blow given, but Hawkins acknowledged that he had killed his wife "for some of her smart talk," and because she would not return to the social by the front door.

Dennis Comisky Interferes With a Game of Ball and Has His Head Smashed.

JOLIET, Ill., May 29.—Dennis Comisky, brother of the superintendent of the Joliet Chemical works, interfered with a ball game which was in progress among a number of boys last evening, and attempted to take their bat from them. A general row followed, in which Dennis was struck on the head with the bat. He died a few minutes afterward. A boy named Golden is said to be the one who committed the deed.

Frank Ostrander, After a Quarrel With His Wife, Takes His Own Life.

MERCED, Cal., May 29.—The body of Frank Ostrander, ex-district attorney of Merced county, was found by his child's grave in the cemetery yesterday. He quarreled with his wife on Monday, left her and went to a drug store, where he purchased laudanum. He went to the cemetery yesterday, and after watering the flowers on his child's grave lay down and committed suicide.

He Knew Where To Look.

BOSTON, Mass., May 29.—The residence of the venerable millionaire, Isaac Bemis at Watertown, was entered by a burglar last night. Mr. Bemis declined to say where his valuables were, but the burglar reached under one of the pillows and removed a small calico bag, containing a large lot of bonds, stocks and private papers, aggregating in value several thousand dollars, also a gold watch and three envelopes containing about $200.

Basso Admits His Identity.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 29.—Thos. J. Basso, ex-chief of detectives, of New Orleans, who escaped from the state penitentiary at Baton Rouge, where he was serving a fourteen years' sentence for forgery, and was arrested last night, has admitted his identity and is committed to prison to await the action of the governor of Louisiana.

Severe Wind Storm.

THE TOWN BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED IN RED, WHITE AND BLUE.

The Presidential Party Met at the Station and Escorted by Troops to the Residence of Mr. Eells.

CLEVELAND CELEBRATES.

CLEVELAND, May 29.—The roar of the cannon and the cheers of 50,000 people welcomed President Harrison and Vice-President Morton to Cleveland this afternoon. Business men stood upon depot platforms and street corners and waved their hands; workmen gathered at the windows of factories and cheered; housewives stood in the door-ways and saluted the nation's executive; and school children swarmed along the railway tracks and waved the American flag as the presidential train rushed on to its destination. The monster demonstration at the Union depot, however, crowned the triumphal entry into the city. The interior of the depot had been transformed by gay bunting and bright flags. It was gaily decorated with streamers of

RED, WHITE AND BLUE hung from the iron trusses near the roof and held in place by bright colored shields. When the train stopped there was a grand rush for the rear car. Outside the gates the space was packed with people and it was no easy task for a squad of patrolmen to keep open a passage from the main gate to the carriage entrance. The first to greet the president was ex-President Hayes. The rear platform railing of the car was swung back and the steps lowered. Then nine police officers in citizens dress, who had boarded the train at Euclid avenue, alighted. They were followed by Dan P. Eells and President Harrison. The president shook hands with ex-President Hayes and several other gentlemen and was then escorted to his carriages. The police had great difficulty in keeping the passage open and when

passed along the crowd closed in, driving the police before them. All this time, cheer after cheer for the president had ascended, and now the guns on the man-of-war Michigan, which lay under the east arm of the breakwater, began to thunder the president's salute. Outside the depot, the street was packed with thousands of people. As the president stepped into his carriage there was a mighty roar. Cheer after cheer went up; and as the carriage moved from the entrance, which was repeated, until the noise of the guns of the man-of-war even were drowned by the plaudits of the multitude. In advance of the carriage

DOING ESCORT DUTY,

were the dashing cavalry men of the First Cleveland troop in their handsome black and yellow uniforms, mounted upon spirited thoroughbreds. As the bugler sounded the advance the troopers started off at a brisk trot. Behind them in the first carriage were President Harrison, ex-President Hayes, Hon. Amos Townsend and Mr. D. P. Eells. Following were carriages containing the members of the cabinet and other men of prominence. Several carriages containing citizens followed. As the Plumb dragoons escorted the presidential party up the hill, the people on foot followed; but the crowds were so large that the most fleet of foot could not keep pace with the procession. Up through Park street with its handsome decorated business blocks, the party was driven and then down St. Clair street to Water street. All along the line

GAY BUNTING WAS DISPLAYED

and hundreds of flags were flung to the breeze. From the sidewalks, windows and house-tops came cheers and cries of welcome. Water street was large that the most fleet of foot could not keep pace with the procession. ### General W. T. Sherman arrived later in the day and is the guest of his nephew, Henry S. Sherman. To-night the president was tendered an informal reception at the Stillman. The hotel was thrown open to the public and an awful crush was the result. The dedicatory ceremonies at the Garfield memorial will begin at 3 o'clock to-morrow, and if the weather is pleasant there will be at least fifty thousand strangers in the city.

Meets Parnell's Approval.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 29.—Pres. John Fitzgerald, of the Irish National league, received the following cablegram this afternoon dated London, May 29, 1890: "Your action postponing the convention has my entire approval, and if your cablegram had reached me in time, I should have advised the recent meeting of the council. (Signed) Parnell."

Severe Storms.

HAVANA, Cuba, May 29.—All telegraphic communication and nearly all railway traffic has been interrupted by floods resulting from excessive rains. The weather continues threatening. The center of the disturbance is now northwest of the island.

The high water mark of Tamarack under the syndicate was $189, but this week that stock has touched $200 and Calumet & Hecla $315.

THOMAS D. MEADS, of Hancock, according to the dispatches, has been nominated as the successor of M. H. Maynard as receiver of the Marquette land office. The change is one long delayed.

THIRTY pumps are working at the Anaconda and the water is being lowered twenty feet every twenty-four hours. The work of replacing the timbering injured by fire and water goes bravely on, and July 1st the mine will be a producer again. Much surprise is expressed at the excellent condition of the workings as the men get farther down in the mine.

A MODEL for the World's Fair building at Chicago has been forwarded to that city by a resident of Jacksonville, Fla. It contemplates a structure in a pyramid 1,200 feet at the base and 1,200 feet high, to be arranged in sixty stories each 20 feet high, or in forty stories each 30 feet high, the structure to be entirely of glass and iron, and two electric railways to wind upwards around the building on the outside.

TAKING the house of representatives as a fair index of public opinion throughout the country, a distinguished republican leader considers the outlook for the republican party as exceedingly bright. As he expresses it, "The house presents the most compact body of republicans who have set together in the popular branch of the national assembly since the war." Of the other side, the truth of Randall's declaration that Grover Cleveland had Buchananized the Democratic party is becoming more evident every day.

MICHIGAN'S state university, we are glad to note, is keeping up with the procession grandly. We had feared that some of those big institutions in the effete east were rather getting away with our own state pet but the dispatches have told us this week of the lively prize fight at the university's May field day and of the mobbing of the referee and police on that auspicious occasion, and now of the free-for-all set-to between the students and the employes of Franklin's circus. The cause of higher education is not being neglected in the Wolverine state—we're still on top of the heap and our earnest students, though a trifle disfigured, are still in the ring.

It will be remembered that when the price of copper fell below ten cents a pound, some years since, work at the Douglas and other copper mines at Blue Hill, Me., was suspended. Since that time the owners of the largest three mines, and upon which a large amount of money has been expended in buildings, machinery and explorations, have combined their interests, and now the whole property of these companies is under the management of the United Copper Mining & Smelting company. A large amount of copper, of excellent quality, has been taken from these mines and sold, and when work was stopped because the price of copper was too low to pay a profit, there was no lack of good ore in sight. It is understood that preparations are making for an immediate resumption of operations under the new management.—Boston Transcript.

It is reported from Washington that the president is disposed to veto the bill establishing new harbor lines in Portage Lake, notwithstanding the earnest efforts of the Michigan senators. We can easily understand why the president, not understanding the situation, should incline to this action, but could he once visit the lake he would see why such a course would close the great stamp mills through which the product of Michigan's famous mines passes and would affect the copper industry of the whole country. On the surface it looks as if corporations were asking for unwarranted privileges and were encroaching upon the rights of vesselmen, but as the bill provides for a channel wide enough and deep enough to answer the needs of the future commerce of Portage Lake, no matter how large, the president should hearken to the voice of every Michigan man who understands the situation and sign the bill. Senators McMillan and Stockbridge, Congressman Stephenson and Jay Hubbell are now endeavoring to secure the approval of the bill.

The warmth of feeling shown toward England by her colonies on the other side of our boundary line is becoming more noticeable every day. The address recently received by the queen from the Newfoundland legislature has created a sensation in official circles in London and is said to be without a parallel in English history, apart from the dispatch in which the original thirteen states of the union declared that they would no longer pay taxes to Great Britain and so prepared the way for the war of the revolution. The address is couched in angry and threatening terms and closes by declaring that submission to such glaring injustice as the present modus vivendi by which the French lobster factories are to be perpetuated—is impossible, and that nothing short of the final removal of all French factories from the shores of Newfoundland will satisfy the people. It is regarded in London as more than likely that the government will reply to the address by insisting upon the compliance of the colony with the terms of England's agreement with France and that in default of such agreement sterner measures will be taken—then there will be music. The American war for independence grew out of causes of no greater magnitude.

BOSTON COPPER NOTES.

The Boston Herald gives the following notes concerning copper properties:
The Boston & Montana Mining company reports the production of 551,906 pounds of refined copper the second week of May, and 4,706 ounces of silver, against 373,007 pounds copper and 2,511 ounces silver the first week. Below is the combined product for two weeks, compared with previous months and the product since July 1st:

First 14 days.	Pounds copper.	Ounces silver.
May.....	424,913	7,217
April.....	707,144	9,212
March.....	861,415	4,809
Since July 1st.....	22,302,076	90,000

A correspondent says: "The report that the Boston & Montana will pay a dividend of $6 per year, or $1.50 the next quarter, is not correct. No action has been taken by the directors, and Mr. A. W. Spencer, who is one of the directors, is opposed to any increase of the dividends until the new smelting works, which are estimated to cost over $750,000, shall have been paid for. As all such estimates are liable to be exceeded when actual bills are received, a surplus of at least $1,000,000 is indispensable to this property." The Herald's statement was that an increase of the August dividend to $1.50 per share was predicted, and so it is.
The Butte & Boston company is at present making a little over $35,000 per month profit. Delay by the manufacturers in the delivery of the new reduction machinery has prevented the realization of larger profits as early as had been expected. But the product will increase by June and within three months the company expects to produce 1,250,000 pounds of refined copper per month. The company has the money to pay for the new $70,000 concentrator just ordered and has 6,600 shares of treasury stock still on hand. It has no debts.
Messrs. James Lewis & Sons estimate that $8,000,000 more pounds of copper will be required for sulphates this year than last. Copper thus used is returned to the elements and never re-appears as second-hand copper. That would equal 14,000 short tons, or the equivalent of, say, half the product of the Calumet & Hecla company; but, of course, Calumet & Hecla copper would not be used for the purpose in question. Sulphates are used, among other things, for the destruction of the grapevine pest in southern Europe.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. ### Great Men's Doubles.

There is one strange coincidence that always happens here when any public man becomes prominent or does something especially to make him the hero of the hour. That is, his "double" immediately appears and makes himself as conspicuous as possible. When everybody was waiting, expecting some news from Mr. Randall's bedside, a man who bears a remarkable likeness to the dying statesman was seen here, there and everywhere about the Capitol. He made his appearance first in the rotunda of the great building and seemed to be intently gazing at the paintings in that large hall. His face was the face-smile of Randall's when the Pennsylvanian was last at the Capitol. The double dressed like him and even affected his walk. He seemed to enjoy the attention he attracted and remained in the corridors near the house of representatives nearly all day.

About inauguration time the man that looked like President Harrison seemed almost ubiquitous. Ex-President Cleveland even had his double, and at one time a newspaper correspondent saw him in the street and attempted to interview him. When a prominent senator makes a great speech his double is always sure to turn up the next day and parade about the Capitol. It was strange, but, after Kincaid shot Ex-Congressman Taulbee, it seemed as if you met Kincaid's double in every street car or hotel you entered. Kincaid had a peculiar appearance, and the frequency of his doubles became a matter of comment. Postmaster General Wainwright's friends are sometimes bothered by seeing his double, either at the Capitol or on the street, and often they stop to speak before they discover their error.—Cor. New York Mail and Express.

Negaunee's Ball Team.
 Bert Cook, who was sent to the lower part of the state by the Negaunee Base Ball association, arrived home yesterday, having with him two good players, one of whom is Booth, who has for a number of years played with the Michigan university team at Ann Arbor, and who is said to be one of the best catchers in the state. To complete the battery Mr. Cook has secured a pitcher who has played a number of seasons with the Saginaw club. Owing to numerous delays and disappointments the Negaunee club will not be so strong for the first day as could be wished for, but within a week all the players that have been signed will be here and from that time forward the other league clubs will have to look out for us. As was remarked once, but little blowing has been indulged in, but the management kept right on "sawing wood," and the result is that Negaunee will have a team of which she may be proud. To Mr. Cook, who has spent the last two weeks in the lower part of the state, great credit is due for the men he has secured, his wide acquaintance with ball players and his discretion standing him in good stead in his mission.

Taken to Marquette.
 Pursuant to the adjournment taken Monday, Frank Paul was brought before Justice Primeau yesterday morning. Prosecuting Attorney Young is in New York engaged in settling the estate of his mother, who died a few weeks ago, and he could not return until to-morrow; consequently another adjournment was taken until Monday morning next and the prisoner was by Officer Cunningham conveyed to the county jail at Marquette at noon, the new jail not yet being safe. The attorney of the prisoner, J. L. McClear, asked yesterday morning for the arraignment of his client on a less serious charge, saying that the evidence would not substantiate the charge of larceny. The case will not be such a plain one as at first appeared, as it is now claimed that the money was not in Gauthier's pocket when he went into the barn, and that the prisoner simply found the money and failed to return it to its owner.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the entertainment given here Wednesday evening by the Schubert quartette under the auspices of the Negaunee Entertainment association. The hall was crowded and everyone heartily enjoyed the program. It is safe to say that, should a similar entertainment course be provided for next year, the Schubert quartette will inaugurate the series.

Dr. W. E. Todd, late of Chicago, has been secured by Dr. Lombard to assist him in his extensive practice here. Dr. Todd was for some time assistant surgeon for the C. & N. W. Railroad company, and is well qualified to do surgical work. He also spent a number of years in the Chicago eye and ear infirmary and will give special attention to cases of that nature here.

One of the best theatrical attractions of the season will be the appearance here this evening of J. S. Murphy and his excellent company in "Shann Rhué," a fine Irish drama which gives an excellent opportunity to Mr. Murphy to show his ability as an actor. Reserved seats may be secured to-day at Kirkwood's.

STONE'S BREAD KNEADER.

A HOUSEHOLD IMPLEMENT OF A NEW CLASS AND A DEVICE OF ACKNOWLEDGED MERIT.

PATENTED BY D. G. STONE, NEGAUNEE, MICHIGAN OCT. 22, 1889.

A PHYSICIAN writing to an eastern journal in condemnation of the common practice of kneading bread with the hands, supports his objection by the following reasons:

Kneading with the hands is generally practiced by cooks, and it is thought that bread, in order to be good, requires prolonged kneading. If the hands are clean it is thought that all necessary requirements have been met, and that it is a cleanly process. Kneading bread with the hands however clean they may be, is not a very clean process, especially in warm weather when the hands perspire freely. Effete matters from the system are removed by the perspiration, and while the hands are in the bread the perspiration goes into it, to form a part of the staff of life. If the person who makes the bread is diseased, poisonous matters and diseased products may be incorporated into the bread. The process of baking the bread undoubtedly would destroy all disease germs, but still it is not pleasant to think that the bread we eat may contain such substances as are found in the perspiration. Some other method of kneading bread than with the hands seems desirable.

Machines have been devised and put to practical use in mixing and kneading dough, the principle of mechanism in vogue being that of a rotating skeleton frame work of bars or blades of irregular forms, whereby the ingredients composing the dough should be subjected to a stirring and beating action by reason of the violent movements of the frame members throughout the mass of material.

As a motor, steam or equivalent power would ordinarily be employed, through manual power could be profitably utilized to a certain extent. Any attempts at applying this principle of agitation to the mixing and kneading of dough in family bread making, by bringing it advantageously within the scope of hand power or limit of material, as found in the average family kitchen, seems to have proved futile and impracticable.

This for the reasons, not only that the machinery employed would necessarily involve a considerable expense, but that the labor required, first to their preparation and then to the cleaning and care of the implements was, probably, detrimental to their popularity.

In the dough mixing and kneading device herewith illustrated, the purpose has been to establish movements similar to those developed in the process of hand kneading.

The object of this invention is to provide an apparatus whereby the necessity is precluded of putting the hands into the dough in the process of mixing and kneading for family bread making, and a means for efficiently kneading the dough with the least expenditure of strength.

Moreover, it is to produce in an implement such combination and economy of parts as that its merits shall embrace durability of construction, ease of operation and general utility, with the least of trouble in its cleaning and care, and at a price within the limit of a modest expenditure.

Referring to the illustration, to one end of a horizontal frame, which is provided with a central vertical stud, is secured a vertical frame in which is mounted a block supported by trunnions which ride in vertical bearings. This block is centrally apertured to receive another block which is supported by horizontal trunnions riding in bearings formed in the larger block, and which inner block has a pendulous movement. Upon the horizontal frame is placed a circular table having a central aperture to receive the vertical stud, upon which the table is free to turn, and which table being removable is designed to be used as a bread board, and, as such, in the process of shaping loaves for the oven.

To one side of the table is secured a removable hook adapted to engage one edge of a bread pan placed thereon, and the opposing edge of the table has a similar hook, provided with a turn buckle by means of which the pan may be secured in place.

The combined mixing and kneading blades are supported by a lever having a handle at one end, and a projection at the other end adapted to enter an aperture formed in the central block in the vertical frame.

The face of the mixer, which is shown in use in the sketch, is concavo-convex in cross section, and the kneader end of the implement is sometimes formed with a groove.

In the process of preparing the dough for the oven, the sponge, flour and water having been proportionately placed in the pan, the mixing is effected by reciprocating and turning the lever, thus giving the spoon-shaped mixing blade a spoon-like stirring motion, revolving the table as desired as the work proceeds.

When the ingredients have thus been brought to the proper consistency for kneading the lever is simply turned on its projecting pin to bring the kneader into operative position, when the kneading operation, which is like to a pump handle movement, may be carried on with ease to the extent desired.

It is not claimed that the implement will make bread automatically, and it is possible that an operator of good muscular development might prefer to manipulate the dough by hand in the usual way.

It is obvious, however, that with the kneader in use tired Mary might, without violating culinary proprieties, call on willing John or youthful Ned to share with her the fatigue incident to baking-day, while the absolute cleanliness attending its employ is a quality appreciable by all.

The object of kneading the dough being to break up into finer ones the bubbles of carbonic acid gas resultant from the fermentative action of the yeast, which bubbles have become entangled in the glutinous mass, and to distribute them evenly throughout the material, it follows that the more thorough the kneading the more uniformly light and porous should be the bread.

The lightness of the completed loaf depending on the success attained in holding these bubbles of gas at proper expansion till such time as that their cellular enclosing walls of gluten and starch should have become stiffened by the heat of the oven, and further, the object of the porosity sought being that the perfected material may be the more easily acted on by the digestive fluids, it follows, also, that the more uniformly porous the loaf the more of its cellular surface is exposed to the action of the fluids, and, therefore, the more wholesome the bread.

Thus, with the aid of the kneader, the willing strength of amateur John might help to produce a beneficently healthful result, while skillful Mary had thought for the proper temperature of oven and supply, etc., address the inventor, as above.

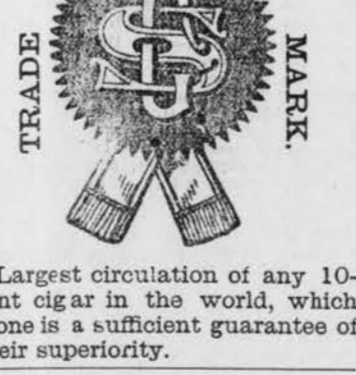

The Kneaders are now being manufactured in an Eastern City and will be in the market in a few weeks. May 17th, 1890.

AUGUSTA, Me., May 29.—The supreme court to-day announced a unanimous decision in the noted Burns liqueur case, reversing the decision of the lower court, which convicted Burns under the statutes. The case has been carried up step by step until it is now decided in Burns' favor.

White Gowns on the Stage.

The influence of a white gown on the audience is marvelous. The very color of it hints of repentance, angels, redemption, purity, forgiveness. Lady Macbeth, Juliet, Camille (Lady Isabel, in "East Lynne," dies in her night gown, and very properly, too), Adrienne, etc., all will serve as proofs of the statement that actresses who have a penchant for death scenes play them in white robes.—Lillian Lewis.

Connoisseurs of Laces.

Mrs. W. B. and Mrs. J. A. Astor, Mrs. Ger and Mrs. A. T. Stewart were, it is said, unquestionably the most thorough connoisseurs of real lace in the United States. They made the subject a matter of constant, careful study, and were as devoted to research and contemplation as are collectors in other branches of the art—as painting, music and sculpture.—New York Star.

To Clean Clothes.

A wash that is almost infallible in its cleaning qualities is made as follows: Take of ammonia two ounces, soap one ounce, soft water one quart, and a teaspoonful of saltpeter; shake well and let the mixture stand a few days. Pour enough on a coat to cover the grease spots; rub well; wash off with clean, cold water.—New York Journal.

FRANCE.

A quantity of explosives was also seized at his residence. The police also have information which they claim proves that the prisoners purchased materials for the manufacture of explosives at various places in Paris. In addition to the arrests made early in the day, a number of other nihilists were taken into custody this afternoon. Among the explosives seized at the lodgings of Mendelsohn were a number of finished bombs. Materials for the manufacture of explosives were seized at the lodgings of a number of other persons arrested.

The popular opposition is largely under the direction of General Mitre.

THE LINEN ROOM GIRL.

A Portion of the Hotel Which the Average Traveler Seldom Sees.

"Yes," said the presiding genius of the linen room, as she glanced up complacently at the precocious white mountains on all sides of her, "nobody ever catches things out of order in this room while I am around, which is from 7 in the morning till 9 in the evening. Of course, I can't answer for it before I come down and after I leave it. It is unlocked at 6 o'clock in the morning, and not locked again till 12 o'clock at night. The watch girl takes charge of it from 6 to 7, and again in the evening. My girls mean well—there are five of them that I boss—but they ain't always so particular as they might be, and sometimes I find towels and napkins, cleaned and soiled, thrown around every which way when I come in.

"Now, I was brought up in the country, where folks do try to keep things sort of clean, and so I can't sit down as long as there is any dirt or confusion in the room. For that matter, though, there is precious little sitting down for the anyway, for just as soon as one waiter gets out with his tablecloths and napkins here will come a chambermaid for sheets and towels. Keep 'em in hundreds! Thousands, you had better say. I have five thousand napkins, old and new, down on my books, and so far as I am never got and never to add 'em all up. There is a continual stream of 'em, or, you may say, two streams running in opposite directions between here and the laundry, and I count, count, count till sometimes my head is all in a whirl. It wouldn't be so confusing if I didn't have to look every way at once, but, for I am not on the watch, some of them sassy waiters will come and help themselves to what they want for the dining room, without saying with your leave, or by your leave, and then, if the housekeeper finds it out, she comes tearing in here, and takes my head off. Looks good natured, you say? Oh, she's good natured, sure, outside of business. I ain't got nothing against her—that is, nothing more than I'd have against any woman that tried to boss me, but having a big hotel on her shoulders will make most any woman more or less cranky in dealing with them that has to take their orders from her.

"Does she hold when articles come up missing from the wash? Not me. I only report 'em to her and then get out of the way to let her have it out with the laundresses. The more blowing up them women get the better, for in spite of everything I can say they will persist in saving themselves work by using washing fluid or other things that rot out the linen in just half the time it ought to last.

"Did you ask was they linen or cotton? We keep both kinds, so if the guests want linen sheets (and most of 'em do in summer time) they can have 'em. There are some that wants them all the year round. There was a man from down south—he was a corporal or a general or something of the kind—and as the weather was cold, naturally there was cotton sheets put on his bed. 'Ugh,' says he to the housekeeper the next morning, 'I felt last night as if I had been packed away in a pile of seed cotton in the loft of a gin house.' He was different from a western man who stopped here one summer. By an accident he got linen sheets on his bed, and he complained the next day that he had come near slipping out on the floor half a dozen times during the night.

"However, I don't hear much talk of sheets. It's towels that there is the most grumbling and growling about among the guests. There are folks who, I know from the looks of 'em, makes one towel (and that one crassly) last 'em a week at home, that will make a fuss if they don't find at least two clean ones on their washstand every time they happen to go in their rooms during the day. It beats everything the airs they put on when they find themselves paying their $4 a day at the hotel, so much afraid they won't get the worth of their money in everything that's going. Them's the sort that accuse the waiters if giving them napkins 'that has already been used, and that come pushing into here to see (as they say) if we are really so bad off for such things as we seem to be. And my, my, my, that's called for in the bath rooms! It's silly, that's what it is, to order so many, just because they can be had for the asking.—New York Tribune.

Authors' Trouble with Heroines. When you have written as many books as I have you will see that you are going to be accused of putting your friends in your stories anyway, whether you do it or not; and if you have any good material you had better make the best of it. Now, as a matter of fact, to show you how it works, my male characters are usually mosaic—made up of tag ends of the men I have met; my women are ideal creations of my brain. As a result, I am frequently told that my men are horrible "reads," and that this or that heroine is perfectly lovely—just like Miss S-and-so, etc. In fact, the ladies are notoriously illogical in detecting identities. You put a girl in a frontier town in Texas, and call her Lucy, and if there's a girl within 500 miles of the place with the same Christian name 'll wager she is sure she is the one intended, and, ten to one, will be indignant at the dress you make her wear. Her friends, too, will be just as positive about the matter as she is.—Interview in New York Star.

Canada's Boundary Line. The boundary line between the United States and Canada is not "imaginary" as you suppose. The fact is the line is distinctly marked from Lake Michigan to the Pacific ocean by cairns, iron pillars, earth mounds and timber clearings. There are 385 of these marks between the Lake of the Woods and the base of the Rocky mountains. The British placed one post every two miles and the United States one between each British post. The posts are of cast iron, and cast on their faces are the words, "Convention of London, October 20, 1818." Where the line crosses lakes, mountains of stones have been built projecting eight feet above high water mark. In forests the line is defined by felling trees for a space a rod wide.—Toronto Globe.

Duncan Roy's Blanket. This anecdote of Sir Ralph Abercromby, the victor of Aboukir, shows that even in the presence of death he did not forget that consideration for others which is the ruling spirit of really great men. After the battle at which he was mortally wounded he was carried on board one of the ships in his own blanket placed under his head to ease it. He felt the relief and asked what it was. "Only a soldier's blanket," "Whose blanket is it?" "Only one of the men's," was the reply. "I wish to know the name of the man to whom the blanket belongs." "It is Duncan Roy's, of the Forty-second," Sir Ralph said. "Then see," said the dying general, "that Duncan Roy gets his blanket this very night."—Chambers' Journal.

He Has His Bulge. A Chinese mandarin has power to order a subject's head lopped off at a moment's notice, but within three months he must forward to the emperor an affidavit from two citizens that such execution was in the interest of religion and good government. He has no trouble in procuring these affidavits, as the man who refused to make one would also lose his head.—Detroit Free Press.

What a Difference between the WOMAN who is wedded to old-fashioned ideas and she who is bright enough to appreciate a new one. Pearlina is striving to get something better made.

life easier—often it's right beside them—those who are bright enough to embrace it get the benefits, those who don't go backwards—their work grows harder. Pearlina makes life easier and cleaner. Washing and cleaning done with Pearlina has about enough work in it to make it good exercise—but not enough to tire the body or ruffle the temper.

Not ours, but the word of the millions who use it as to whether it hurts the hands, clothes or paint—probably your neighbors can tell you all about PEARLINE.

Send it back. Addlers and some unscrupulous persons will tell you "this is not good for you." Pearlina is a good thing to use in the laundry and if your grocer sends you something else, tell him to get Pearlina for you.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Fair weather. The clocks for the various federal offices arrived yesterday.

Several bets are reported on the question whether ore will be loaded from No. 4 dock on June 15th.

Building and Loan association installments are due Tuesday next. Subscribers not paying on that day will be fined.

The old building beside the South Shore offices is on rollers and will be moved out in a few days to make room for a new one.

Architect Charlton has completed the basement plans of the new opera house and is getting out the other plans and the design for the front as rapidly as possible.

The boards of registration will be in session at the usual polling places of the various wards to-morrow. See that your name is on the list or you cannot vote at the special election held Monday.

Jack Carkeek, the well-known wrestler, left Milwaukee Wednesday on his way to England. He will be accompanied by Tom Cannon and both have several big matches in sight across the water.

There are more applications for incandescent electric lights than can be supplied. A new dynamo must be put in to meet the demand. Therefore every good citizen should vote for the electric light bonds next Monday.

The stringers are across for the new Lake street bridge and the outlet to No. 1 dock will probably be completed next week. This will reduce the present traffic across Front and Superior streets about two-thirds.

The celebrated Schubert Quartette, of Chicago, closed the series of popular entertainments at the Methodist church with a fine concert last evening. The audience was large and enthusiastic and those present enjoyed the finest musical treat of the season.

It should be remembered that the $30,000 electric light and power bonds will not be issued all at once but only so fast as absolutely needed. The electric light plant is now paying all expenses and laying up about $1,000 annual surplus for improvements or payment of bonds.

"Kathleen's Dream" was presented at the Casino last evening by the Tavernier company before a good audience. The plush chair was drawn by Joseph Crochiere, he holding ticket No. 2,814. The holders of the first three tickets drawn were not present. This evening the popular play "Lancashire Lass" will be given.

PERSONAL MOVEMENTS

Timothy Nester returned yesterday from the lower peninsula.

J. M. Carr, of Singleton, visited Marquette yesterday.

Hon. Bartley Breen, of Menominee, returns to that lumber metropolis to-day.

W. P. Healy, wife and daughter will leave for Detroit to-morrow to attend the marriage of Mrs. Healy's sister, Miss Julie V. Lewis, to James H. McMillan, second son of Senator McMillan.

Two Thousand Years Behind the Times. To the east of and adjoining the colony farm La Logia lies a Mayo Indian settlement. Mayo, who live on a tract of perhaps 2,000 acres some 300 descendants of the branch of the Aztecs called Mayos, now intermingled with a considerable percentage of Spanish blood. Most of the land is uncultivated, a few acres being all the land required for cultivation by the natives, and being all they can till with the ancient means and methods employed by them.

These people are quiet, docile, honest, unlearned, and, though more industrious than the northern Indians, are by no means enterprising. Their needs are few, their surroundings the most primitive. Their carts, their cooking utensils, their plows, their ox yokes, their contrivances for spinning and weaving, their water jars - everything about them is as in the time of Christ. The native civilization here is like Palestine's 2,000 years ago. - Credit Foncier.

Drugs Are Expensive. Some medicines are very expensive. At a recent exhibition of the American Public Health association in Brooklyn one manufacturing chemist exhibited a case of bottles, about enough to fill an ordinary barrel, the total value of which was over $30,000. The most costly drug in the case was labeled "Homatropine hydrobromate, cryst." It was in one bottle, containing six pounds, and was valued at $12,000, or at the rate of $2,100 a pound. This drug is an alkaloid, artificially prepared from atropine. Its effects are similar to those of atropine, but not so lasting. It is a preparation of belladonna and is chiefly used in the treatment of the eye, and always in minute quantities. It expands the pupils of the eye. - American Analyst.

ARRIVED - HALE, BRADLEY, light. Cleared - PICKARDS, Buffalo, Hale, Ash-tabula; Bradley, Cleveland.

PASSED UP - India, sundries. Passed down - Moran, China, sundries.

VESEL NOTES. The Hale and the Bradley took Volunteer ore; the Pickards carried Republic.

The Joliet, Kershaw, Meonlight and Iron-ton are due to-day to load with ore.

The Moran took down about four hundred tons of Iron Cliffs pig yesterday.

The India brought in a large quantity of house and garden plants for L. H. Stafford.

The yacht Alcione moved over to the breakwater yesterday so as to secure safer moorings.

The Columbian and Johnson will finish discharging their cargoes of coal to-day and load with ore.

MARQUETTE VS. CALUMET

League Season Opens To-Day - Members of the Six Teams.

The first game of the championship series of the upper peninsula league will be played to-day at Third street park between the Marquette and Calumet teams. The batting order and positions of the home team are as follows: Cross, ss; Shoits, lf; Sullivan, cf; Craft, 2b; Allard, 1b; Carney, 3b; Welch, c; Gleason, rf; Laughna, p; Scott and Crout, subs. Repeated efforts have been made to obtain the batting order of the Calumet team, but without success.

In this connection the official list of the men signed on the various teams of interest. It is as follows:

- MARQUETTE: Homer Allard, Paul J. Craft, E. G. Carney, Norman F. Crout, Wm. H. Jones, John Laughna, Louis Cross, Matt Gleason, Milton Spencer. NEGAUNEE: Frank Peller, J. Googan, Allen McDonald, Chas. Pannell, Fred Webb, Walter Booth, Ed. Utz, E. Laughlin, C. Putter. HOUGHTON: Wm. Berryman, James Shields, Theodore Sebeisky, C. W. Ingraham, Wm. Henteback, Sidney Weber, F. Desney, S. F. Stratton, J. F. McDonald, George Hill. HANCOCK: John D. Sheehy, Wm. B. Foley, Jerry Driscoll, Max Hinz, Joseph Slattery, Geo. S. Fife, Jas. W. Sweeney, Richard Bartell.

- CALUMET: Frank Saddy, John Riney, James Renwick, Will Macaulay, N. J. Gillis, F. J. Broderick, Thos. Fay. HANCOCK: John D. Sheehy, Wm. B. Foley, Jerry Driscoll, Max Hinz, Joseph Slattery, Geo. S. Fife, Jas. W. Sweeney, Richard Bartell.

This gives a total of 101 men signed. Three are known to have jumped court and possibly some two or three have been released, of which notifications have not been sent to Secretary Johnson. Some of the members of the various teams are only under agreement to play at home and some will not be put in at all. It is difficult to see how Houghton can find any use for twenty-one men, though several of these are local players who receive little or no pay.

The guessers are already at work on the probable positions of the teams. Several lists have been handed in to the sporting editor of the MINING JOURNAL. Hancock, Ishpeming and Mar-seen to be favorites for the pennant. The sporting editor does not hold himself responsible for any of these guesses and is aware of the folly of prophesying. Nevertheless, after a careful survey of the various teams it would seem that Marquette, Hancock and Ishpeming are likely to take the first three positions while Negaunee, Houghton and Calumet will trot in the second rank. But base ball is very uncertain and each nine has thirty games to play.

To my Customers and the Public

Owing to the large patronage that the public has so generously bestowed upon me for a year and a half, my business has enjoyed a larger growth than I ever dreamed of. I have resolved, therefore, to place the business on such a firm footing that hereafter it will be a permanent establishment.

As a means to this end I have sold my interest in the business to H. H. Taylor, of Bay City, who has a wider range of experience, and also commands more ample capital to conduct an installment business as it should be conducted than I have.

I retain a position with Mr. Taylor as manager and assume the entire management of the business as formerly, as Mr. Taylor is extensively interested in other enterprises in lower Michigan and will not reside here.

As in the past I shall endeavor by a uniform courtesy and by square, honorable dealing to maintain the patronage which the public has been so liberal in bestowing upon me.

THE DAY AT ISHPEMING.

Memorial Day to be Fittingly Observed in the Hematite-Tinted City.

The Work of the Census Enumerators Begins Monday—Minor and Miscellaneous IshpeMING Jottings.

The Day We Celebrate.
To-day is Memorial day, and will be observed in a way suitable to the occasion. On previous years this national holiday, dedicated to the country's dead, has not been observed here as in other parts of the country. This has been due partly to the fact that there are but a few veterans buried in the city cemeteries, and partly to the lack of a post of the G. A. R. here. The latter defect has been remedied, and the first attempt at observing the day was made last year, when the local post marched to the cemetery, and scattered flowers on the graves of the nation's dead.

To-day will be observed in a more elaborate manner. There will be a parade in the afternoon in which C. H. Town post of the G. A. R. will be escorted by the two local military societies and a number of the secret society lodges, with music, etc. The parade will be under command of A. W. Gibbs, marshal of the day. On arriving at the cemetery the graves of the defenders of the union will be handsomely decorated with flowers which have been secured by the post, largely through donations from the ladies of the city, and the column will return to the city. It is expected that the parade will be an imposing one, as a number of the strongest societies of the city will take part in it.

The day will be observed generally as a holiday. There will be a game of ball at the association park in the afternoon between the Neagunee and home teams. This will be the first game of the league series to be played on the home grounds, and unless the weather is very unfavorable there will be a very large attendance. It is expected that the game will be a good one, as both clubs have some good players.

NATURE AGAINST MAN.

Electricity From Skies Collides With Manufactured Article and Crosses Arc and Incandescent Wires.

MERCHANTS ARE EXHORTED TO KEEP RUBBISH FROM THE STREETS.

Weather Propitious for Memorial Day—Cash Entrymen Against Settlers—Decorate for Pythian Festivities.

Lightning Against Electricity.
Natural lightning interfered with the artificial product last evening. The electric light wires at the corner of Hewitt avenue and Front street were struck by the output of the firmamental dynamo. The insulators were broken, allowing the wires of the midnight arc circuit to fall upon those of the incandescent circuit. This made it impossible to operate the incandescent machine for the time as the diminished resistance would very likely have caused the dynamo to explode or the shortened circuit have burnt out the coils. The incandescent lights had to be shut off for about twenty minutes until a line man could reach the spot and clear away the crossed wires.

Keep the Streets Clean.
There is an ordinance of this city forbidding throwing old paper or other rubbish into the streets that is not observed as generally as it should be. Street Commissioner Finlayson yesterday called the attention of a MINING JOURNAL reporter to the unkempt appearance of Front street.

"I had this street cleaned up only a few days ago," remarked Commissioner Finlayson. "Would you believe it to look at it now?"

The MINING JOURNAL commissioner was obliged to confess as he looked at the frowsy street, that if he had not his questioner's word to the contrary he would fully believe that the street had not been touched this spring.

There is nothing that a stranger notes so quickly and which gives so bad an impression of a town as streets littered with old papers, rags, bottles, ashes and other refuse. To avoid this sloven appearance only a very little care upon the part of each storekeeper is needed. A little sharp checking up of careless clerks will assist the authorities greatly in keeping the town clean and orderly. Marquette is naturally one of the prettiest towns in the land. Let not her attractiveness be marred by frowsy, littered and slovenly streets.

Memorial Day and the Weather.
Sergeant Dent promises fair weather for to-day and at a late hour last night his predictions seemed likely to be verified. Yesterday morning was as fair and beautiful as anyone could wish but toward noon the clouds rolled up and the rain came down at intervals all afternoon, reaching its heaviest about 7 o'clock. The effect this warm rain had on the foliage was well-nigh marvelous. Though lawns have been green for weeks the trees seemed to be afraid to put forth their leaves. Yesterday morning the leaves were just peeping from the buds but by night they were half out.

All preparations have been completed for Memorial Day and the celebration will be the most general Marquette has ever seen. Nearly everyone is preparing to take a holiday, save of course the dock and railroad men. All the county and city offices will be closed. This day is a holiday under the laws of Michigan but not under those of the United States. Therefore the federal offices will be kept open to attend to pressing business but the force will be let go as far as possible. Nearly every business house in the city will be closed, except of course drug stores and the like, whose trade requires them to be open at all times. Housekeepers who did not lay in supplies for the day will find some difficulty in getting them as the groceries will be shut.

Prof. Geo. L. Johnson will lead the chorus of 150 voices at the exercises in the rink. The children are asked to bring all the flowers possible that the supply may not run short. Owing to the backward season the local supply is, for the first time, insufficient and a quantity has been ordered from outside. Altogether everything gives promise of the best celebration of Memorial Day that Marquette has ever seen.

Cash Entry Contests.

The first of the contest between the cash entrymen and the homesteaders was taken up in the local land office yesterday. The cases under consideration are those of Degross against Robertson and Morgan against the same. The forfeiture act of 1889 confirmed cash entries in the O. & B. grant where the land had not been occupied by actual settlers prior to May, 1888. Such settlers were required to come in, make proof and get confirmation of their claims. Degross and Morgan are settlers and allege to have been such before May, 1888 and therefore claim title against James Robertson. The latter located considerable tracts in this region years ago, using for the purpose what is known as "supreme court scrip." The history of this scrip is obscure but from the best information obtainable it seems to have been issued in pursuance of a decree of the supreme court of the United States in payment of certain claims arising from the purchase of Louisiana under Jefferson's administration.

Uniform Rank Institution.
The institution of Iron division Uniform Rank, K. P., next Tuesday, promises to be a festive occasion of very large proportions. At least 200 knights from other cities will be present. Sault Ste. Marie promises to send fifty, Ishpeming will come with forty, Champion will furnish thirty, the copper country will turn out at least forty and Ontonagon, Manistique, St. Ignace and Escanaba will send from ten to twenty each. H. F. Hastings, mayor-general commanding the Michigan brigade of the Uniform Rank, Grand Chancellor Miles Curtis and Sergeant W. F. Grantee, U. S. A., of Sault Ste. Marie, the special instituting officer, will be present. The gentlemen visiting Marquette on this occasion will be representative men of their several localities and the city should use every effort to make their stay pleasant.

Quite a number of merchants have already agreed to decorate their buildings for the occasion. Among those who have already signified such intention are: Hager & Johnson, G. Hallstrom, Kaufman & Sons, I. Neuberger, Rothschild & Bending, Louis Vierling, Gooding & Ormsbee and Duquette & Metz. Their example should be followed by every business house on Front and Washington streets, that all may see what Marquette can do to welcome her guests.

A Chapter in Shoe History.
The improvement in fine shoes during the last few years has been more marked than in any branch of trade. The delicate creations which now crowd the windows are far superior to the best work of the former autocrat of the shoe trade, the fashionable custom shoemaker. Crowds of disappointed customers followed fashion's verdict from one shop to another. A custom shoemaker who made shoes to fit and sent them home when wanted was a rarity indeed. Sound good sense and practical experience at last came to the rescue. It was shown that the best way to get a fit and the shoes wanted was to buy them ready-made from a fine stock. No man in Marquette has done more to make this possible than A. R. Morgan.

He opened his fine store and showed his visitors the advantages of a complete and elegant stock. His callers became customers for with every shape and style at hand he could fit the most fastidious at a moment's notice. The public appreciated the new departure and Mr. Morgan's business has rapidly and steadily increased. The central situation of his store, his familiarity with public needs, his popularity with all classes, all helped him to prominence and success. His advertisements have not been of the ordinary kind. By them he has made his readers sensible buyers. He has given them reasons for the making, the selling, the wearing of shoes, that any thinking person can understand, can test and find just and true. His success is all deserved, for its based upon earnest, steady and progressive effort for the very best of its kind.

The experience of twenty years is always dearly bought, but its return is not always so indicative of judicious outlay. Mr. Morgan shows the value of being able to know and to do.

Marquette City Band Ball.
The Marquette City band will give a dancing reception in Armory Hall this evening which will be one of the pleasantest affairs of the season. Marquette is proud of her band and knows it is the best in the upper peninsula. The boys have worked hard and progressed well in their art. All members are accomplished musicians on their several instruments. The band is one of the pleasantest features of life in Marquette and citizens generally should show their appreciation of its efforts by turning out to the ball to-night. Though many invitations have been issued they have been sent with care and must be presented at the door. Dan Sullivan will provide the supper.

Allen Not Arrested Here.
A dispatch in the Milwaukee Sentinel of yesterday, dated Kansas City, stated that Elza Allen, charged with embezzling $23,000 from the Austin Investment company of that city, had been arrested here. This is not the case as Allen was gathered in Wednesday at Chicago. The embezzling clerk had been corresponding with a friend in this city and it was thought he might come here. A Pinkerton operative was accordingly detailed to wait for Allen here, and was in town nearly a week, but the fugitive was overhauled before getting this far.
