THERE'LL BE MUCH MUSIC,

House Expects to Take Up and Discuss Federal Election Law During the Week.

INTENSE PARTISAN FIGHT FOR AND AGAINST THE MEASURE PROBABLE.

Secretary Blaine's Views on the McKinley Tariff Law—Condition of the Appropriation Bills—Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON INTELLIGENCE.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—To-morrow will be District day in the house, but whether or not the day will be given up to matters of local interest depends on the coinage committee. If it should be ready to report upon the senate amendment to the silver bill, there are indications that the committee on rules will be ready in turn to see that the report secures speedy consideration in the house. It is also probable that by Tuesday forenoon the same committee will report a rule making the national election bill a special order for the remainder of the week. If this order is adopted it will probably lead to one of the most exciting and bitter partisan debates witnessed in recent years.

A POLITICAL DEBATE

may also occur in the senate this week upon the bill for the admission of Wyoming into the union, which is the first order of business. When it comes up the democrats will offer a substitute in the shape of an omnibus bill, providing for enabling acts for Wyoming, Idaho, Arizona and New Mexico. The territory bill will have to give way however, for the consideration of appropriation bills, the committee on appropriations being determined to press these measures as rapidly as possible. The diplomatic and consular and postoffice bills are now on the senate calendar, and the committee expects to be able to report the agricultural, Indian and sundry civil bills before the end of the week. Two of the bills and probably three by the senate in the next six days. If opportunity offers, Senator Frye will make an effort to have his shipping bill considered, and if that fails then he will press the river and harbor bill in order to have it out of the way before the tariff bill shall be taken up. Senator Davies will have the conference report on the dependent pension bill considered during the week. Thursday afternoon is to be devoted to the delivery of eulogies on Representative Cox, and unless something now unforeseen turns up, Saturday's course of events will be devoted to the consideration of a bill on calendar to which there is no objection.

BLAINE ON THE TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The report in The New York Herald that Mr. Blaine had greatly changed his oft and ably expressed opinions on the tariff question and had denounced the McKinley bill as "dangerous and infamous" caused a sensation here to-day. It was received with great satisfaction by democrats, who were of course the first to credit it and it elicited in interest the situation in the house where Speaker Reed had again been sustained. Speculation was rife as to what effect Mr. Blaine's change of base would have on the tariff bill in the senate. Senator Allison's refusal to talk about the matter was construed by some to indicate that there was a large amount of truth in the reports, and that the administration was opposed to the McKinley bill. Republicans, however, were not so ready to accept the Herald's report as true. Mr. Blaine has always been and is a consistent champion of protection, and those who credit the report of his remarks, as mentioned, did not believe that his views on the tariff, so ably expressed in the past, had been changed, but rather that he meant to protest against such a revision of the tariff as the McKinley bill seeks to make, if indeed there was any foundation at all for the report—this seems to have been the case. The Herald's dispatch says: Thursday Mr. Blaine was before the senate appropriation committee, explaining the necessity of appropriations for carrying out the recommendations of the Finance American congress. In reply to a remark by Senator Hale, Mr. Blaine proceeded to tell the committee what, in his judgment, would be the effect of the passage of the McKinley tariff bill. The democratic member of the committee, Mr. Blackburn, was delighted with the tone of Mr. Blaine's view, and at an opportune moment said: "I wish you were not Mr. Secretary, and were in the senate to raise your voice against this McKinley bill." Mr. Blaine—I wish so, too. It is the most dangerous if not the most infamous measure that was ever concocted by any party. The men who vote for this bill will wreck the republican party. If I were in the senate, I would rather have my right arm torn out of its socket than vote for this bill. Senator Allison (with some feeling)—You are winking at Senator Blackburn across the table and are just saying this to please him. Mr. Blaine—I was winking at Senator Blackburn because he was winking at me, but I say solemnly that this McKinley bill is an outrage and ought to be killed by the senate. Mr. Blaine then finished the remarks he had outlined on the importance of the appropriation and retired. Referring to the stories concerning the scene that is reported a gentleman who was present said to-night that the whole affair had been greatly misrepresented. The discussion which took place was not in relation to the general schedules of the McKinley bill, but the feature which Mr. Blaine condemned was that of giving a free market in the United States to the products of the sugar planters of the southern continent and not asking in return free markets for the products of our own farmers, where we can get them merely for the asking. Mr. Blaine says that corn would not be selling in Nebraska for 15 cents a bushel, if the markets of Latin America were open to our products.

APPROPRIATION BILLS.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—All except one of the regular appropriation bills have been acted on in one or both branches of congress. But two of the thirteen, however, the army and military academy bills, have passed both houses and have been approved by the president and are now laws. The condition of the remaining eleven is as follows: The naval, District of Columbia, and the pension appropriation bills have passed both houses and are now in conference; the legislative, executive and judicial and the fortifications bill have passed both houses and are ready for conference, although the conference committee has not yet been appointed; the postoffice, the consular and diplomatic and river and harbor bills have passed the house, been reported to the senate with amendments by the senate committee having them in charge and are now awaiting action by that body; the agricultural, sundry civil and Indian bills have passed the house and are now being considered by the senate committee; the general deficiency appropriation bill is the only one that has not yet been considered by either body, it having been reported by the house appropriation committee. Almost 200 bills, the largest portion being house bills, have been sent to the president since the opening of congress for his action.

THE TARIFF BILL.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The statement of the effect upon the customs receipts of the provisions of the tariff bill as reported by the senate finance committee has been completed and together with the reasons of the committee for recommending its proposed changes in the bill as it passed the house, will probably be submitted to the senate to-morrow. Counting the paragraphs stricken out of the house bill as a change, there were just three hundred changes made by the senate finance committee. The reasons given, generally, are brief and consist of the statement that the bill as proposed believed to afford sufficient protection. There are exceptions, of course, in the cases of changes of importance where the motives that actuated the committee are given at some length.

THE TABLES.

accompanying the statement, showing the estimated revenues under the proposed rates together with comparisons with existing rates and those proposed in the house bill were prepared by Mr. Evans, the treasury expert, and Mr. Durfee, the committee's clerk. These show that the amount of duties collected in 1889 upon the importation of all articles made dutiable in the house bill and the amendments as proposed by the senate, assessed under the existing law, was $141,408,846. The duties estimated under the house bill amount to $201,689,907. The equivalent ad valorem rate under the house bill is 52.80 per cent; under the senate bill 51.97 per cent. The

by the transfer of article to the free list in the house bill (including $102,387,878 reduction of internal revenue stricken out by the senate committee) is estimated at $71,064,774; by the transfer of articles to the free list in the senate bill the reduction of the revenue is $69,599,343. A foot note to the recapitulation says: "These tables are prepared upon the plan and theory usually followed, and more or less unreliable and misleading. They are made upon the assumption that if the bill should become a law merchandise of like quantity and value would be imported as was imported during the fiscal year 1889. This basis can only be accepted as reliable where changes in rates are not of such a character as to necessarily cause increased or diminished importation. The reduction above given of $71,064,774 by the house bill and $69,599,343 by the senate bill appears to be certain but if the imports should be the same as last year, under the new rates they would amount under the house bill to $26,128,642, under the senate to $20,318,283.

Keynote Republicans Congregating.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 22.—Senator Delamater and General Hastings came from Philadelphia this afternoon, and joined the advance guard of republican politicians already on the ground. Secretary Stone, who is looming up prominently as a compromise candidate, was the first to get here, but he has quietly remained at his rooms, preferring to wait until Monday before opening his regular headquarters. It will be the most exciting republican state convention ever held in this city, the element of doubt hedging the nominations making it impossible to predict the outcome with any degree of certainty.

One Tragedy Leads To Another.

BIENINGHAM, Ala., June 22.—At 1 o'clock this morning Charles Cate (white) shot and killed his mistress, Lizzie Mitchell, a negro, and then blew out his own brain. Four hours later William Tatum shot and wounded Mary Barnett, his mistress, and blew out his brain in a different bagnio. Jealousy caused both crimes. Tatum saw the first tragedy and followed suit.

Town Swept Away.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 22.—A special to the journal from Grand Island says the town of Sweetwater, a little hamlet of less than 100 inhabitants, was swept away by a tornado about 2 o'clock this afternoon. No one was killed, but a number were injured.

THEIR BIG CENSUS.

St. Paul Adopts a Plan to Show Minneapolis Up to the World.

Numerous Affidavits Published—The Detective's the Most Damaging—Going to Have it Out with Her Neighbor.

St. Paul, Minn., June 21.—The refusal of United States Dist. Atty. Hay, a Minneapolis man, to bring the enumerators accused of adding thousands of names to the Flour City census immediately to trial, coupled with the fact that Alden J. Blethen, editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, last night telegraphed to most of the prominent papers of the country that "the great conspiracy had collapsed," has finally aroused the leading citizens of St. Paul to action. Up to to-day the city had taken no action whatever, but the charge that the Minneapolis capital was at the head of a great conspiracy was the har that broke the camel's back. One hundred of the first citizens of St. Paul, including Mayor Smith and many members of the chamber of commerce, met this morning and again this afternoon and formulated a plan of action, by which it is proposed to let the whole country know at once precisely what advantage Minneapolis has attempted to secure both politically and in a business way, by adding from 40,000 to 80,000 fictitious names to its census. It is not alleged that the citizens of Minneapolis generally knew that these gigantic frauds were being perpetrated or that Supervisor Dav-nport had part in it, but it was committed. The evidence is overwhelming.

Being unable to get the evidence before the people in court yesterday, because District Attorney Hay, a Minneapolis man, saw fit, for reasons best known to himself, to put the case over sixty days, it is given out to-day in the form of affidavits. The most damaging of these is made by Mr. J. H. Mason, the detective who followed the case up from the start and engineered the coup by which the arrests were made at 9 o'clock last Tuesday night, when the "fixed" enumerators were apparently engaged in adding fictitious names to their lists by thousands at the now famous "Manufacturing Annex" in the Vandenberg block at Minneapolis. The Mason affidavit is a very lengthy document, the salient points of which are as follows: Mason went to Minneapolis May 31 and applied to Supervisor S. J. Dav-nport for employment. Being referred to one Dickey, whom he afterwards discovered to be Edward A. Stevens, representing the Minneapolis Citizens' census committee, which had raised $3,000 to assist in getting a complete count. Six other men were employed with him in their rooms in the government building and admittance to these rooms could only be gained by four peculiar raps upon the outer door. Mason's work, he swears, was to aid in enumerating fictitious persons located in vacant rooms in business blocks and houses, which were copied on regular blanks. Affiant believes there were at least 60,000 names added in this way. The affiant details with great minuteness how the "queer" work was done. The whole matter will be placed before Superintendent Porter of the census bureau and Attorney General Miller. A movement is on foot to arrest ten or twelve prominent business men of Minneapolis for their connection with the gigantic fraud.

PEDESTRIANS TERRORIZED.

A Madman Raises Some Excitement on a Crowded Street in New York.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A strange man tried to commit suicide in broad daylight yesterday afternoon on a crowded street in this city. As he walked he glanced around in a nervous way. At Leonard street and Broadway, he ran from the crowd on the sidewalk, jumped upon a covered truck, picked up a rope which lay on the truck, tied it in a knot around his neck, then tied another in the other end and attempted to hang himself from the moving cart. The driver seized the unknown man and after a severe struggle took the rope from the man's neck. The crowd looked on in a dazed way. No sooner had the strange man been released from the knotted rope than he picked up a club, jumped from the truck and with the club raised in the air made a dash at a man who happened to be standing near the cart. The madman was almost upon his intended victim when the latter turned quickly and dodged into a doorway and ran up stairs. The madman waving the club, turned as quickly and darted down street. Every one made way to let him pass. He rushed into Leonard street and brandished the club, uttering at the same time blood curdling cries. Midway of the block he met two young ladies. He shook his club at them as if he were going to kill them; then he let it drop. A moment later a policeman seized him by the arm. From papers found in his possession it was learned that he was from California and was only three weeks in the city.

Fall of Years and Honors.

FAIRFAX COURT HOUSE, Va., June 22.—Judge Henry W. Thomas died here this morning in the 78th year of his age. Before the late war as a whig and since as a democrat he served several terms in the legislature. He was a member of the commission that visited President Lincoln in 1861 with a view to averting hostilities. During the war he was second auditor of the state. After the war he was a member of the court of conciliation, later judge of the courts of the Alexandria circuit and still later lieutenant governor. For half a century he was one of the leading lawyers of northern Virginia.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

MCKINLEY has a Napoleonic profile but the Napoleon of the house of representatives is Thomas B. Reed.

JOHN E. BURTON has been defending N. D. Moore through the press; but who will defend John E. Burton?

Though politically hostile and socially incongruous Tom Platt and Grover Cleveland can meet on the common ground of objection to the freedom with which black balls are used in certain clubs when voting on proposed members.

PLAGIARISM, in itself, is one of the most atrocious of journalistic crimes. But is not the Soc Democrat undertaking a rather arduous task in attempting to convince the public that it ever had anything in its columns worth stealing?

The man who broke a lawyer's jaw was arrested and held to circuit court for assault with intent to do great bodily harm. It is plain enough, however, that he should be prosecuted for assault with intent to deprive the victim of his principal means of support.

VARIOUS newspapers are airing their clumsy wit at the expense of our hitherto unfortunate ball club. But we've signed a new battery and otherwise strengthened our team. We shall yet make a good showing and outside scoffers can just Marquette down.

THE national debt of the United States amounts to a little over fifteen dollars per capita. The Canadian national debt is forty dollars per capita. Suffering Canada, if you behave yourself properly and make your application in a contrite spirit, we'll admit you to the Land of Canaan!

The wonders of modern progress are ever on the increase. The luxuries of the rich in one decade are within reach of paupers in the next for little or nothing. Cremation has hitherto been an extremely expensive item of a funeral. Now the remains of 6,000 inhabitants of the potters field of Philadelphia are to be cremated at the city's expense.

The cities which are making vigorous and vicious kicks against the manner in which the census was taken are: Chicago, Cincinnati, Duluth, St. Louis, Louisville, Memphis, Pittsburg, Albany, the Minnesota Twins, Boston, Jersey City and Philadelphia. Escanaba, New Orleans and San Francisco seem to be satisfied so far, and Ontonagon has not been heard from.

THE twenty-sixth anniversary of the battle in which the Alabama succumbed to the superior equipment and management of the Kearsarge, naturally brings up the question why a man who did so much for his country as Admiral Raphael Semmes was never adequately rewarded. He drove the American flag, commercially speaking, from the ocean, and there ought to have been something substantial for him when the democrats came into power. Republics, however, are proverbially ungrateful.

ACCORDING to the St. Ignace News a valuable addition has been made to the mineral resources of that locality. The Keystone Plaster company, of Philadelphia, has been prospecting for gypsum in the vicinity of Rabbit's Back with a diamond drill. On Wednesday last the drill brought up shavings of pure copper. The company is said to have abandoned its search for gypsum and is sinking a shaft for copper.

HURLEY, Ironwood and Bessemer churches are going to have special services and make extraordinary efforts in other ways for the relief of the suffering Sunday of that locality. The Gogebic range has indulged to a greater or less extent in the follies characteristic of youth, but has sobered down with great rapidity within the last few months. An opinion may be hazarded, though, that the regular, recognized avenue by which the searchers for a cheering bowl enter the dispensaries thereof, even on Sunday, in the Gogebic country, will for some time, continue to be the inviting, open front door.

THERE is going to be more silver. The only question is, how much more. It can hardly be doubted that a compromise will be reached between unlimited silver and the ideas of the so-called "gold bugs." The president is in shape to force a retirement from the extreme position of free coinage, while it is certain that he will not be dead to the popular cry for more white money. There are well-founded hopes that such a silver bill will be passed as will greatly conduce to the welfare of the whole country.

ESCANABA'S INGRATITUDE.
The Iron Port thinks that Escanaba's reform movement was generated from the independent moral elements of that town and rejects the MINING JOURNAL'S theory that Marquette's example had something to do with it. Colonel Van Dusen seems to fling off the natural allegiance of Escanaba to Marquette and to deny the many moral and intellectual advantages which we have conferred upon his town. And thus we see that even the sagacity of the sage of the Iron Port is sometimes at fault. Intellectual and moral influences are so subtle and insinuating that we scarcely know how much we owe to our neighbors and associates. We hardly know what impulses for good or evil we receive and what we give out. A great poet, no doubt one of the Colonel's favorite's, says:

"Our echoes roll from soul to soul and grow forever and forever."
Furthermore, man is sometimes not conscious of many of his habits of thought and action. The sage of Escanaba has, probably, never definitely realized that he, like his fellow-townsmen, takes his cue in elevating moral tendency from us, and, in difficult cases, habitually puts his ear to the ground and carefully listens for sounds from Marquette.

IRON ORE.
The following is taken from the Cleveland Iron Trade Review:

The situation is very quiet, and the demand for Bessemer ore that manifested itself some weeks ago by numerous inquiries, and some few sales, seems to have fallen off again. Non-Bessemer ore does not move at all. There is not the improvement in the general business as to induce consumers to purchase ore at the increased price over that paid last season, while, on the other hand, the ore men, having sold enough last fall to feel somewhat independent, are not offering any concessions. The vast majority of furnaces are supplied with ore only to July 1, and a few until August 1, so that unless some considerable sales are reported within the next ten days or two weeks, no one need be surprised to hear of many a stack going out of blast. Charters are fairly plenty, the Ashland rate being $1.20, with Marquette at $1.10 and Escanaba at 85 cents. The syndicate fend is abroad again, this time with extraordinary persistency. Half a dozen mines have been sold during the week at prices to suit the gossipers, but in each case inquiry has resulted in a general denial by all the parties concerned. The only cause for these rumors is the fact there is unlimited capital seeking investment in dividend-paying mines—and these, as a rule, are not in the market. The local strike in the railroad yards is causing inconvenience to a number of furnaces in the adjacent iron districts who, having little or no storage facilities, depend upon their ore supply from week to week, and who in some instances are without ore.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co., Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

CATARRH.
Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications using ten bottles, the patient once in two weeks.

N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay postage, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. However, she bought Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and within ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as ever was.—Free trial bottle of this Grand Discovery at H. H. Stafford's Drug store, large bottles 50c and $1.00.

100 Ladies Wanted,
And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. For diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys it is a positive cure. For constipation and clearing up of the complexion it does wonders. It is the best spring medicine known. Large-size packages, 50 cents. At all druggists'.

CANNIBALS IN CANADA.

Horrible Feasts of the Aborigines of the Northern British Columbia Coast.

Gen. Lyman Banks and John Hutchinson, two citizens of Seattle, have returned from a two months' cruise of the northern coast of British Columbia, and they tell some thrilling stories of sights they have seen and dangerous adventures they experienced during their cruise.

A reporter happened to meet Gen. Banks on the street, and at his request the general related the story of his most exciting and interesting cruise. He began his narration as follows: "We started out full of great expectations and pleasant anticipations, and we did not realize for a moment what trials we would have to go through, and it tell you at times it required a great deal of western grit and push to get ahead. Those who are acquainted with the difficulties of traversing in summer a coast forest, with its thousands of uprooted trees and still worse upheaved foundations, can perhaps readily imagine how much greater a task it was for us to travel over three feet of snow on a level, and occasionally strike drifts much deeper and a great deal too much tangle of sal-lal bush for snowshoes. But to add to all our difficulties, our half breed guide and the two Indian packers refused to go with us as soon as we had penetrated a short distance inland. We had just sighted some hills which they said we could never pass over, and they alleged that no human being had ever succeeded in the attempt.

"They strongly urged and prayed us not proceed any further, but we had started on a determined and accomplished journey and were not to be baffled so easily in the beginning of our journey. So we packed up a couple of weeks' rations and an ax in our blankets, and shouldering our Winchester we pushed on alone. Oh, what a journey it was! I shall never forget it as long as I live.

"When the snow was too soft and deep we managed to make progress by crawling on our hands and knees, and at times we were obliged to lay down and roll to get out of the snow. It was hard struggling by day, but the snow made a soft bed at night. We canoed over three hundred miles of our journey, and some of it was in very rough water. But the most startling experience we had and the one that would interest you most happened one day just as we were running into a cave to avoid a storm. We got into the cave all right enough, but imagine our horror and disgust when we found ourselves in the midst of the Nahwit Indian tribe at their cannibal orgies. Cannibalism is prohibited by the dominion government, but only a monthly visit from vessels and the nearest port being miles away, they carry on the horrible practice with impunity.

"We watched the heathens during the day at long range, and under the assurance of safety we ventured after a while into their circle at night and watched them. I can only describe the sight this way: There was a high fire of logs in the center of the circle, which was constantly attended by two men, and occasionally by an entire party, and the fire was unquenched day or night. The entire tribe encircled the fire, dressed in blankets of many brilliant hues. There were naked dancers and a dozen or more lusty savages with clubs in their hands beating an accompaniment to their wild songs and dances, and the whole sight made a weird scene that is not likely to be forgotten. Their feast consisted of the bodies of their dead. They seldom kill strangers to furnish food for these horrible orgies, as they were all the time quarreling between themselves and generally had dead bodies of braves to satisfy their appetites.

"I had been told in Vancouver of the possibility of this, and warned that when wild with the dance the braves rush out and bite a piece out of the first person they come to. Now I have no objection to be eaten after I am dead, but to be bitten by one of those wild fellows would be as undesirable as the bite of a mad dog, and lest in their excitement they might forget their promise of immunity, I held my hand under my overcoat and grasped a .44-caliber revolver that would have furnished rations fitting the occasion.

"Our sense of security was not increased by one of them making a speech, noticing our presence and begging the white government for trying to deprive the poor Indian of the pleasure of being a cannibal occasionally, especially if he only fed upon his own dead.

"The boys crawled behind the older people and hid, men were bitten or simulated to be bitten, and I saw several scars where they claimed to have been bitten. But we were not molested. One brave, however, probably to test us, made a dash in our direction, but others caught him and turned him another way. It was an 'all night session'; no one was allowed to leave till through which was 3 o'clock the next morning. We had seen enough, though, and were glad to leave. We proceeded on our journey, and came back again without any more exciting adventures. But I never in all my life put in such a night as I did that time of those frightful orgies, and I candidly confess I don't want to soon again."—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

Voodooism in Trinidad.
In spite of the tenets of the religion to which he is supposed to belong the negro in Trinidad still clings to some absurd beliefs and superstitions, and is under the influence of priests or Obea men, who sometimes lead him into perilous practices or even murder. The stories concerning the existence of fetish worship or Obea practice among the negroes in America have been doubted, so I have been told, but as regards the West Indian negro I can safely say that these practices do certainly exist. I myself have seen undoubted evidence of them, heard the negroes admit their belief in Obea, and have collected information that is beyond dispute. Whether Obeaism was brought from Africa or has arisen de novo among the ignorant negroes of the West Indies it is difficult for me to say, but certain practices seem to me to indicate a relationship between some of the West Indian ceremonies and those of the priests of ancient Egypt and modern India.—Professor Benj. Sharp in Philadelphia Ledger.

The Pearls of Bahrain.
The pearl fishery is the great occupation of the Bahraines. The pearls of their seas are celebrated for their firmness, and do not peel. They are commonly reported to lose 1 per cent. annually for fifty years in color and water, but after that they remain the same. They have seven skins, whereas the Cingalese pearls have only six. The merchants generally buy them wholesale by the old Portuguese weight of the chaou. They divide them into different sizes with sieves and sell them in India, so that, as is usually the case with specialties, it is impossible to buy a good pearl in Bahrain.—Cornhill Magazine.

BLOWN FROM A CANNON.

THE HORRIBLE EXECUTION OF TWO MUTINOUS SEPOYS.

A Reminiscence of the Early Days of England's Rule in the Indian Empire. The Method was Substituted for Hanging Because of the Brahmin.

In the spring of 1857 I was quartered with my troop at Sealkote, in the Punjab, within sight of the snow capped Himalayan mountains, lying beyond the fortress of Jumrood. The garrison at Sealkote consisted of a troop of horse artillery, a battery of field artillery belonging to the East India company's service, the Fifty-second foot and the Sixth dragoon guards of her Britannic Majesty's forces, and two regiments of Sepoys.

In the early part of June the European portion of the Sealkote garrison was ordered to join a force that had been organized under the command of Brig. Gen. Chamberlain, to be called "The Punjab Movable Column," its object being to hold in check the large force of Sepoys quartered in the Punjab and prevent them from marching to Delhi. We joined that column at Annullulle, the old cantonment of the Khalsa army under Runjeet Singh.

There were five regiments of Sepoys and two of native cavalry then quartered there, and shortly after our arrival some Sikhs who had been enlisted in one of the Sepoy regiments gave information that the native officers were inciting the men to mutiny and to march to Delhi. An investigation was ordered, and it was found that two of the officers had deserted. They were captured by some of Hodson's Guide corps and brought back to the cantonment, and Gen. Chamberlain ordered a drum beat court martial to assemble for their trial. They were convicted of inciting to mutiny and desertion and sentenced to be hanged.

It was conclusively proved before the court by men from their own regiment—both Hindus, Mussulmans and Sikhs—that they had assembled the men and urged them to murder their officers and march to Delhi.

FINDING OF THE COURT MARTIAL.

The finding and sentence of the court were approved by Gen. Chamberlain, who issued an order, the reading of which was about as follows: "The findings and sentence of the court martial, of which Lieut. Col. Campbell is president, are approved, but to show to the natives of India that the British government has no intention or desire to interfere with the prejudices of caste, the sentence of the court is changed from that of being hung to being blown from the mouth of a cannon, and the sentence as modified will be carried out at sunrise to-morrow morning under the orders of the officer commanding the garrison. The Punjab movable column and the garrison will be paraded an hour before sunrise to see the sentence carried into effect."

The officer commanding the garrison directed the officer commanding the artillery to detail two guns to execute the sentence, and the two right guns of my troop were detailed for that duty. The troops were paraded as directed, and formed in three sides of a hollow square, the two guns from which the culprits were to be blown being at the base of the square; on the left came the remaining four guns of the troop, the battery of field artillery, the guns being placed in echelon, so that if necessary they could sweep the right hand side of the square. Next came the Sixth Carbineers, her majesty's Fifty-second foot, and a squadron of Hodson's horse; on the right were stationed the native troops, two regiments of cavalry, and five of infantry, and as it was not known but that there might be some attempt at a rescue, the guns of the artillery were loaded, double shot with grape, and the cavalry and infantry had their carbines and muskets loaded. Soon was heard a band playing the "Dead March," and the procession appeared. The prisoners marched up to the front of the two guns at the base of the square, their irons were struck from them, and the proceedings, findings and sentence of the court, together with the approval and change of sentence by the commanding general, were read by the interpreter of one of the native regiments, in English and Persian. The interpreter was an English officer, one being attached to each Sepoy regiment.

The commanding officer then gave the order to the lieutenant commanding the two guns to carry out the sentence. He directed the prisoners to place themselves with their backs to the muzzle of the guns. Standing up against each was a thin plank, about six feet long, against which they placed themselves, the guns having previously been loaded with the usual service blank charge of powder. A rope was then passed around their bodies, the gunners having been cautioned that it was to be done without in any manner touching their bodies, as to be touched by the hands of an infidel was, in their eyes, worse than death. The culprits were attended by a lot of Brahmin priests, who kept on chanting something, in which the prisoners joined, until the fastening was finished, when they were told to withdraw, and the officer gave the command to light port fires, and then the command to fire. Both flashes were simultaneous, and when the smoke cleared away nothing was left but a mass of flesh and bones, unrecognizable as the remains of two human beings. A cry ran along the lines of the native troops, in Persian, "God is great!" The parade was then dismissed, the native troops marching back to their cantonments.

Gen. Chamberlain was severely criticised at the time by the European press for having changed the method of execution from hanging. He was influenced to make the change by soldiers and civilian servants of the company, men who understood the native character well, and also by many prominent natives, on the ground that it was generally believed that the mutiny was brought about by an impression which seemed to prevail among the Sepoys that the government intended in some way to destroy caste prejudice. Had they been hung either some low caste native or a European soldier would have had to do it, and would necessarily have had to lay hands on the culprits. Their caste would have been destroyed, and this would have lost them all hopes of their paradise, and would have left the impression on the minds of their friends that they were irrevocably lost.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

An extraordinary incident took place recently at a wedding at St. Silas' church, Liverpool. While the party were walking from the carriage into the church a woman walked up to the bride and bridegroom and flung an apronful of flour over them. She also threw a quantity over the best man and bridesmaid, and ran away. The unfortunate couple were covered with flour from head to foot, but after having been brushed down they entered the church, where the ceremony was performed without further interruption.

HANCOCK DOWNS NEGAUNEE.

The Trapper Club's Ball To-Night—Minor Record of Amusement and Business Items.

Base Ball. A large crowd assembled at Union park to-day to witness the Hancock-Negaunee game. It was an exciting contest, resulting in a victory for the visitors. Negaunee seemed in a fair way to win the game, but her chances were ruined by costly errors in the last two innings. The score:

Score table showing runs, hits, and errors for Hancock and Negaunee.

Trapper Club's Ball. To-morrow evening the Trapper club of this city will give its annual ball at the opera house. No pains have been spared to make it the most successful affair yet given by that club and those who do not attend to-morrow evening will miss one of the most pleasant events of their life.

Base Ball Brevities. The new suits for the Negaunee base ball club arrived Saturday noon and during the afternoon they formed the center of attraction at Van Atta & Cook's. The uniforms were made in Chicago and were ordered through Van Atta & Cook. The pants of the suit are dark and are heavily padded, so there is little danger of them becoming torn while "sliding into second." The shirt is light and has the word "Negaunee" across the front. Black stockings and belts go with the outfit, while the uniform is completed with a very pretty black and white cap. The boys are very proud of their new suits and it is needless to say that the generous action of the donor, Joseph E. Suess, is duly appreciated by the Negaunee base ball club.

The victory achieved by the home team from Ishpeming's crack nine, at Union park Saturday, was very gratifying, it bringing into the treasury some solid cash as well as showing that Negaunee can play ball. Pelier did very well in the box and Corey's home run added to his reputation.

The latter part of this week Negaunee goes to the copper country and they will do their best to make the tour a triumphal one. Their dates are Houghton, Friday, the 27th; Calumet, Saturday, 28th, and Hancock, Sunday, 29th.

Negaunee Foresters. Court Negaunee Rangers No. 6,808, Ancient Order of Foresters, turned out in full force Saturday morning, and at 9 o'clock, headed by the English Oak band, the lodge marched to the train. A Union park with the other county lodges the local court managed to make the day pass pleasantly for all. The lodge here is well up in numbers now and it presents a very fine appearance while on the street.

The management of Union park now owns the bluff located immediately behind the park and those who have found it such a cheap and convenient grand stand from which to witness ball games will hereafter have to pay their twenty-five cents or not see the game. No one will be allowed on the bluff.

The water pitcher won by the English Oak band at the band contest yesterday is now on exhibition at Perkins'. The trophy is a handsome one, and was a merited tribute to the excellence of the band's work.

A man complained to the police Saturday night about 11 o'clock that he had been held up and relieved of quite a sum of money. So far the police have been unable to get any clue to the robber.

The Noble Dramatic Company concluded its week's engagement here Saturday night. On the whole the company was very good, and deserved much better patronage than it received.

Will Ethier, a son of the late Leai Ethier, and a man well known to Negaunee people, has been in the city for the past few days. He is now located at Oconto, Wis.

Miss Clara Suess, who has spent the past couple of months here, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Suess, returned to her home in Milwaukee Saturday morning.

The power house for the electric railway will be located near Union park, the ground for the purpose having been secured.

Negaunee Knight Templars went to Marquette to attend with their commandery divine services there.

Extra ore trains were out on the South Shore all day yesterday.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Fair weather. The circuit court was occupied Saturday with dry and technical cases. The "Peanuts" defeated the "Clerks" at base ball Saturday by a score of 21 to 4. A number of upper peninsula people have gone east by the lake steamers in the last few days. Rev. F. E. Strong of Negaunee preached to large congregations, morning and evening, at the Methodist church yesterday. Zera Semon closed a week's successful engagement at the Casino Saturday. The audiences were large and well pleased all the week. The Marquette Rifles will celebrate their second anniversary Wednesday evening by a ball for members and honorary members of the company. Fish stories pervade the atmosphere, and the man who swears to the number and weight of the trout he caught yesterday is numerous in the land. Already the irrepressible small boy begins to figure how many fingers he can blow off and how otherwise damage his anatomy on the "glorious Fourth." Quite a number of persons visited No. 4 dock Saturday to see the first boat landed there, the Pontiac. It is probable that the dock will be entirely complete by July 1. If Sergeant Dent would suit along a mild shover the condition of the streets would be improved and the comfort of horses, drivers and pedestrians much increased. The program of Mr. George L. Johnson's organ recital at St. Paul's church Wednesday evening will be a fine one and the event will be worthy the attendance of every music-lover in Marquette. For a few hours yesterday it was positively uncomfortable warm in the sun but such a thing does not happen often. Both as a summer and as a winter resort Marquette's climate is unrivalled. That life saving station is at last to be built. In another column will be seen the advertisement of Superintendent S. I. Kimball, of the life saving service, asking for bids for the construction. As bids must be in by July 10th there is a fair prospect that the station may be ready and equipped for the autumnal gales.

HOW A GIRL OUDID A PAWN BROKER.

She Looked Frightened and Received $150 for a Bogus Ruby Pendant. "I feel awfully ashamed of it now," said a demure little brown eyed woman, "because the pawnman was real good to me. It was this way: My friend Ada showed me a pendant, a circle of beautiful small white diamonds around a ruby that glowed like a flaming red heart. It had five enough to melt a rock. Ada said it was a shame that the ruby was not genuine, because it made the pendant of no value to her. "I don't care," said I; "it looks so much like a real stone that I do not believe any one could tell that it is bogus. Why, see, there is even a little flaw in it, just as you often find in rubies." But Ada said it was not genuine the pendant was of no value to her, unless she had the diamonds set over. "Why not pawn it?" said I. "Yes," said she, "I'd be frightened to death. Besides, how do you do it?" "Oh, just go in and ask him how much he'll give on it," said I, though I had never been near a pawn shop. I was in too deeply to expose my ignorance now. "I would you dare do it?" said she. "Certainly," I replied bravely. "Will you do it for me, dear?" "Now, that took my breath away. To put my friend up to mischief was one thing, but to put up to myself was another. However, I could not admit it was afraid now. "Yes," I said, half heartedly. "She made me start at once. We went down town, and while she waited in a store I climbed the stairs to the office of a fashionable broker with my heart beating until I was nearly suffocated. I sat down in the private office, and with a face as long as the statue of misery, I handed out that pendant. "How much?" said the man. "I don't know," I replied. "He disappeared, then came back and said $150. "Then I knew he thought the ruby real, as I had expected him to do, and the pendant therefore worth about $200; but the sum offered was about double the real value of the pendant, so I looked sorrowfully at the gem for a moment and then said: "Can you do no better for me?" "Yes," said he, "I can do better. "One more long look at that moment of better days, and then I said, in a voice suffused with tears: "I'll take it. "The broker had been watching me closely, and I think he was moved by my apparent distress, which my friend helped me to assume, for when he brought me the ticket and money he said in the gentlest way: "My dear lady, if you wish to redeem this at any time, send us word and we'll send it to you and spare you the pain of waiting here." He was so kind that I'm sorry I cheated him, even if he did want a $600 pendant for $150. The reporter related this story to a reputable Maiden lane jewelry manufacturer. He said that the secret of the girl's success lay partly in the fact that the bogus jewel had a flaw in it, and that it was set with superior, if small, diamonds, but chiefly in the bearing of the girl. She showed to his eye that she was not accustomed to the air of a pawnshop, and so he was more easily deceived.—Jewelers' Weekly.

DIAMONDS IN BRAZIL.

Diamonds were first found in Brazil near the Jemilinhonha river, in Minas Geraes, which then received the name of Diamantina. The story goes that the supposed white pebbles had long previously been noticed by the gold washers, but their value was not dreamed of. It is said that the Indians used them in a game which had some resemblance to dice throwing, and that the children of the miners employed them as "jacks," a game practiced by the youth of all countries. It is certain that diamonds were first discovered in gold washings near Diamantina, and that they are to this day found in cascalho, which also contains gold. The detection of the curious character of the before despised "white pebbles" was due to a Portuguese miner who had been in India and had seen diamonds in the rough. When the news reached Portugal the crown immediately took measures to monopolize the region.—Jewelers' Weekly.

ELEVATOR ILLNESS.

But any leading alienist of this city will affirm, to an intelligent questioner, the truth of the proposition that climbing stairs results in an enormous aggregate of feminine we and that scurrying in elevators to dizzy heights produces in many men a temporary mental unsettlement. "I have observed cases of 'elevator dizziness,'" said Dr. Alan Melane Hamilton, "which assumed distressing features and required prompt treatment. Many men when an elevator shoots suddenly up are afflicted with a mental bewilderment which, while speedily disappearing, might in time have serious effects. The aggravated cases to which I referred were those of elevator boys, who were finally obliged to seek other work."—New York Herald.

FORESTERS' FESTIVITIES.

Great Celebration at Ishpeming—Negaunee Wins the Base Ball Prize—Who Won Other Prizes.

How Ishpeming Gave Hancock a Trouncing Which the Visiting Club Will Long Remember.

The Foresters' Day.
Saturday was Foresters' day in Ishpeming, from early morn till dewy eve the streets begun filling up with sight-seers early in the morning, and at 9 o'clock, the advertised hour for the beginning of the parade, the main business streets were densely crowded. The weather was of the finest for an occasion of the kind, and the crowd that was drawn out was undoubtedly the largest that has ever seen a Foresters' celebration here, though all of them have been very largely attended.

The parade got under headway at a little later hour than advertised, owing to the difficulty of arranging all the men in line. There were the usual number of bands, and the procession presented a very gay appearance as it wound through the streets.

Union park, which was selected as the scene of the games and sports, begun filling at an early hour, and the crowd continued to pour into it from Negaunee, Ishpeming and the surrounding mining locations till late in the afternoon, in 'busses, trains and on foot, any way to get out there being the motto of the majority.

The base ball game between Ishpeming and Negaunee for the prize was begun at 2 o'clock, with Clare as umpire. The game was not as scientific as some exhibitions of ball playing that have been given in this vicinity this season, there being a liberal allowance of errors on both sides. Ishpeming went to bat first, and was ahead till the fifth inning, when Negaunee pulled up even, and then shot ahead. In the seventh inning the score stood seven to nine in favor of Negaunee, but the Ishpeming managed to make two runs, and tied the score in the first half of the eighth inning. Negaunee failed to score in the last half of the eighth, as did Ishpeming in the first half of the ninth, and it looked very much as though a tenth inning would be needed to decide the game, but a stolen base by Corey of Negaunee, a good hit by a Negaunee man at bat, and an error by an Ishpeming player allowed Corey to come home, giving Negaunee the game by a score of nine to ten.

Pellier and Guken filled the points for Negaunee till the eighth inning, when Rutter, who has a sore arm, was put in the pitcher's box, and did effective work in the last two innings. Bohn and Dobyns, the regular battery, did the work for Ishpeming.

The Cornish wrestling was held on the grounds after the ball game, and lasted till late in the evening, there being a number of likely lads who entered the sawdust arena for a turn or two. Frank Stevens the well known Ishpeming wrestler took first prize, Joseph Richards of Champion securing second money.

In the tug of war Garrett and nine partners from Cascade won over a mixed team of Ishpeming and Negaunee heavy-weights captained by Thos. Lowry of this city. Albert Zeien of Negaunee won first, and Gust Foley second prize at throwing the dumb-bell. In the long run of 200 yards Hollingsworth, of Ishpeming, won first prize and Fred Anthony second.

The receipts of the entertainment at the park were very large, the treasurer having over a thousand dollars in his grip when returning to the city in the evening, with a number of ticket-sellers and others to hear from. Taken all in all, the celebration was as well managed and as successful from every point of view as the most enthusiastic Forester could have desired.

Scored a Victory.
Fifteen hundred people witnessed the best game of ball played this season on the home grounds at Association Park, Friday afternoon, between the Hancock and Ishpeming nines. The game began at 3:30 sharp, and Ishpeming went to the bat. Truby struck out, but Kingsley, Tray and Lavin, who followed in the order named, each scored a run. Blair was put out between third and the home plate, and Dobyns had reached second when Blackstock struck out and retired the side.

Hancock then went to bat, and Bartlett, Sweney and Dalton each scored goose eggs. Ishpeming failed to make a run in the second inning, while Foley and Dougherty scored for the visitors. The balance of the game was disastrous for the copper country men, and they failed to score another run. Third base was reached but once by a Hancock player after the second inning, while Truby scored for Ishpeming in the fourth inning and again in the eighth. In the ninth Blackstock and Wilbur reached home amid the applause of admiring multitudes.

While the game was well played by both clubs, the palm for clever fielding, heavy batting and cool-headed and thorough playing must be awarded to the home nine. So much good work was done by the home club that it would be hard to praise any individual player and neglect to mention the others. In fact they played as a unit, and deserve praise as such.

If the Ishpeming club will continue to play such ball as was served up to the visitors from Hancock the pennant is theirs. The home club has now defeated every club in the league but Houghton, and the boys are only too anxious to meet that club for a third time.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.
Scott's Specific has cured my little niece of a white swelling of the wrist. More than twenty pieces of bone came out of her leg. She was unable to walk for eight months, and was sometimes a year. The doctors advised amputation, but I refused, and put her on S. S. S. She is now as well and playful as any child.

Kabo never works up or down or breaks. If it does in a year, you shall have your money back from the store where you bought your corset.

The steels may break—the best of steels have their limits of strength. But Kabo has no breaking-limit; it doesn't break at all. And the Kabo corset is perfect in form. The store has a primer on Corsets for you.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Fair weather.
Mrs. M. J. Griffin is visiting friends in Hancock.
Miss May Gotsstein, of Houghton, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Heyn.
Ira G. Whitney, the boot and shoe man, who now sells the goods of Henderson & Co., is in the city.
Gibbs, who has been playing with Buffalo, is in town, and will do some pitching for the Ishpeming club.
Chas. Archib is now delivering Falk, Jung & Borcher's beer, for which J. E. Reau of Marquette is county agent.
It is important that members of the U. R. K. P. should regularly attend all future drill meetings if they intend going to Milwaukee.
There was to have been a game of ball between the Escanabas and home nine on the grounds here yesterday afternoon, but it did not take place on account of the failure of the Sandy City club to arrive.
A letter from Hancock gives the information that the people of that burg are very round-shouldered since the game played here Friday. The copper country gentlemen were betting two to one on the success of their team, and was treated to a dose of the medicine that Ishpeming has partaken of with altogether too much frequency since the opening of the league season.
J. F. Wiggins, the genial and versatile Wiggins, and the one and only Jas. F. Wiggins, was in town Saturday. He brought with him from Kitchi a little mess of four hundred brook trout, all caught within a mile of the little village. It may be of interest to fishermen to learn that at the village of Kitchi there is a good hotel, having a good landlord who is also something of a sportsman and who will gladly show all visiting fishermen where to cast a fly or drop a worm with the certainty of catching a mess of speckled beauties.
Mr. A. H. Holland will close the canvass for his city directory this week. The work of taking names has been very thoroughly done and the book will be more valuable for reference than any of its predecessors. Business men are not slow to appreciate its value as an advertising medium and the book will therefore present a healthy array of advertisements in addition to the directory proper. In addition to the list of names there will be a large amount of miscellaneous information regarding the city, mines, etc., which will be of value to all subscribers to the work and especially valuable as being put in such shape that it can be referred to at once.

CIRCUS MEN IN WINTER.

WHAT BECOMES OF THE HEROES IN SPANGLES AND TIGHTS.
Practicing Their Acts at Different Points. Schools Where Novices Are Taught. Scene in a Practice Barn—Training Horses for the Ring.
What do circus people do in winter? It seems strange that while the newspapers devote so much space to the sayings and doings, the fortunes and misfortunes of actors and actresses, they seldom or never refer to circus people, though, from the fact that the number of persons connected with every circus is many times greater than that comprised by the largest dramatic company, the sawdust folks are a more numerous class than the children of Theopis, while from the hazardous nature of their profession, their daily lives are fraught with much deeper romantic interest than those of the wearers of the sock and buskin. In Berlin, Vienna, Dresden, Hamburg, Paris, Lyons and St. Petersburg there are large "winter circuses," where the sports of the arena may be enjoyed throughout the cold season, and the press of those cities devotes quite as much attention to the artists of the sawdust circle as to the votaries of the stage.
If we visit Frankford, a suburban part of Philadelphia; Fordham, N. Y.; Newark, N. J., or any other city, we shall learn the answer to our question: What do circus people do in winter? We shall find that they go to the barn to keep themselves warm, if not to put their head under their wing. To put it more plainly, there are maintained at each of the places I have named large "practicing barns" as they are technically called, supplied with regular forty-two foot rings, in which the circus people promote the circulation of the blood by practicing their acts all through the cold season. When a circus performer accumulates money he invariably invests it in a farm on which to pass his winter, but he seldom or never refers to the circus people usually having a practicing barn of their own for individual use. Less fortunate members of the profession spend their winters at some one of the four places I have named, in order to enjoy the advantages for practice afforded by the public practicing barns, which are the property of some circus manager or retired performer.
Not only do they practice their old acts, but they learn new ones as well, besides breaking and training new horses to the ring—a task of no inconsiderable magnitude. Every rider is required by circus managers to furnish a horse of his own, and the artists usually keep from two to four. These they are compelled to maintain during the winter at their own expense. Young people desirous of becoming riders are also instructed in their own chosen profession in these practicing barns during the cold season.
It was a strange sight that met my gaze as I strolled into one of these practicing barns the other day. A motley group of circus performers was gathered about the ring, in which a beautiful young girl of about 16 years was taking her first lesson in bareback riding. There were two or three handsome young men with their arms around the girl, and three husbands, and their two or three mothers, and their eight or nine little children, who do the fairy business when required. The father of one of these interesting families was in the habit of balancing the father of another of the families on the top of a great pole, which he had a third family on top, and made a pyramid of both those fathers, with his youngest son for the apex and himself standing upon two horses for the base.
All the fathers could dance upon rolling casks, stand upon bottles, catch knives and balls, twirl hand basins, ride upon anything, jump over anything and do a host of other acts. All the mothers could and did do flying act upon the barebacked steeds. One of them drove four in hand alone, in a Greek chariot, through every town in which she appeared. They all assumed to be mighty rakish and knowing, yet there was a remarkable gentleness about them. The ladies praise it as a special aptitude for any kind of sharp practice, and an untiring readiness to help and pity one another, deserving as much respect and as much generous consideration as the virtues of any class of people in the world.
TRAINING HORSES.
"How are horses trained for the ring?" I asked.
"You mean the horses upon which riders perform their feats? Well, to answer that question I will begin by saying that the best age at which to train a horse is from 5 to 6 years. In selecting one for the purpose you must look over anything at all that he has done or wish to use him for. As you doubtless know, circus riding is of two kinds, namely, principal acts and manage acts. Principal acts are those in which the artist rides in a standing position and performs various acts, such as pirouetting, jumping and throwing some small object, etc. Principal acts may be ridden either from the horse's head or upon a pad saddle. They may also be ridden as two, four or six horse acts, the performer riding any of those number of horses all at the same time, or they may be hurdle acts, bars or hurdles being placed in the ring and the horse jumping over them.
"Manage acts are those in which a horse is ridden under an ordinary saddle by a lady or gentleman in a park riding dress, the object being, as the name of the act implies, to display the rider's skill in managing the horse. For hurdle riding you want the most spirited, dashing, high mettle horse you can get, but for any other style of principal riding you should possess little or no spirit, and should be of a dull, plodding, phlegmatic disposition that nothing can excite. Having selected your horse, the first thing is to bit him—that is, to make his mouth so sensitive to the bit that he will instantly respond to the slightest pressure upon it. This may be accomplished quickly with some, while others will require months.
"Having been well bit the horse is put into the ring, a roller or surcingle about his body and his head kept up by "bearing up" reins. His trainer, in the center of the ring, holds a long hinge rein attached to the bit. In this way he is taught that he must keep going round and round the ring's inner edge. Then the attaches of the circus practice vaulting upon his back till he is thoroughly accustomed to it and acquires what we call the balance of the ring. Then the paper-covered hoops through which riders jump and the wide pieces of cloth called banners, over which they leap are brought in, and he is made to pass under them till he will do so without the slightest tendency to shy or frighten. Then, if designed for a pad horse, the pad is placed upon him to accustom him to it. Often, after all other stages of his education have been successfully passed, he will not submit to the pad, but will kick to such an extent that it cannot be placed upon him. He must then be taken out of the ring altogether."—Washington Star.

WILD WHITEWASH BRUSH.

Calumet Outplayed by Hinky Houghton Sluggers—Arcadian Mine to Resume Work—Tamarack Strike Still On and all Work Suspended—Commencement Exercises at High School.
RED JACKET.
The addition of professional ball players to the Calumet base ball team does not seem to have infused into it the element of successful playing on its home grounds. The Houghton club in the league game Saturday afternoon succeeded in white-washing Calumet. Score by innings:
Houghton. 0 0 3 5 4 0 0-12
The Tamarack strikers are still out. Nothing will now be done until the return of Superintendent Daniell from Arizona. He will probably be home by the end of the week. All is quiet and no work is being done or machinery moving except the pumps to keep the mine unwaters.
The Calumet & Hecla employs at the mine received notice of their ten per cent. raise in their pay day docket on Saturday and at the stamp mills on Friday. There are still rumors of dissatisfaction among the underground force who claim they wanted a fifteen per cent. raise.
HOUGHTON.
On Friday evening Miller's Hall was filled to a crush, the occasion being the commencement exercises of the class of '90 of the Houghton high school. The following students received diplomas: Henry M. Senter, Nellie Murphy, Lawrence L. Croze, Josephine Polglase, John C. Prior and Belle Baird.
The celebrated fish jubilee singers will appear in Miller's hall July 10th, under the auspices of the Epworth League of Grace Methodist church.
The entertainment of the Catholic church school last Wednesday evening, passed off pleasantly and successfully.
HANCOCK.
The Arcadian mine, a property that was known to be quite rich when worked about twenty years ago, has been leased for a term of years by S. D. North and Son and L. E. Cleaves and Son. They will immediately put in a Northampton plant at the mine. The mine is about three miles in a north-easterly direction from this city and 1,000 feet was spent in opening it. Capt. Enoch Roberts of the Mastodon mine, Marquette county, had charge of the opening. There are two shafts, each 155 feet deep and a winze, 155 feet deep, two levels have been drifted a distance of 550 feet. The Douglass and Concord mines are in the same vicinity.
The Butte City Inter-Mountain of June 21st gave an account of the finding of the bones of Edward Dolan, Jerry Sullivan and Harry Page, three of the miners who were smothered in the great Anacoda copper mine in November last. Their bodies were in a perfect state of preservation and their clothing intact. The copper water which had eaten iron and steel left in the mine had preserved them. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the men came to their death by smoke and gas while nobly endeavoring to rescue their fellow miners.
Mrs. Thomas Jennings of the Franklin mine located died Friday afternoon of cancer of the stomach. Her funeral was held Sunday afternoon.

AN OPEN LETTER
From a Well-known Druggist—"Positive Cure for Stomach Troubles."
To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
In the summer of 1897 I was first afflicted with that most dreaded disease, dyspepsia, and for over fifteen years I suffered terribly at times. In the meantime I tried every so-called remedy imaginable, without finding relief. Having been in the drug business since 1888, I determined to help myself if it lay in the power of medicine! Two years ago I succeeded in discovering a remedy. It cured me. Until I had given ample time for possibility of doubt, however, I kept my secret almost to myself, putting up the medicine for only a few of my sorely troubled friends, every one of whom was cured. I now know the medicine to be a positive cure, and have decided to put it on the market, that my discovery may do humanity all possible good. It will be known as "Kruske's Positive Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Cure," which is guaranteed to cure all ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys. I have a number of testimonials which afflicted parties may be interested in.

SALE OF THE BLUE MINE.

N. M. and S. R. Kaufman Dispose of Controlling Interest in that Property to Cleveland Capitalists.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE IN GALTANT ARRAY.

Thomas Anderson Badly Crushed Between Cars—Marquette Ball Team Out-Classed at Present, but Will be Improved.

The Latest Deal in Iron.

N. M. Kaufman and S. R. Kaufman of this city have sold a controlling interest in the Blue Iron Mining company to Cleveland parties. The deal was consummated on Saturday and the work of developing the mine will be pressed vigorously.

The progress of the Blue exploration has been chronicled from time to time in these columns. The property is on the same deposit as the famous Queen group, for which the Schlesinger syndicate paid close upon three-quarters of a million dollars, and immediately adjoins the Queen and South Buffalo. The tract has been carefully tested and a large body of high-grade ore has been found to exist. Within the last few months the promising prospect of large mineral riches has passed into a certainty and the property has become a valuable one. The stock has steadily risen in value and now there is very little or none of it for sale.

The purchasers, as stated before, are Cleveland capitalists, headed by Mr. W. D. Rees. Capt. Sam Mitchell, of the Jackson Iron company, Negaunee, is also interested in the transfer. The controlling interest in the mine was held by the Kaufmans and though the latter gentlemen have sold a good share of their holdings, they still remain possessed of a good-sized block of the stock. The owners of the Blue felt so much confidence in the property, as a result of their exploratory investigations, that they had placed a large order for machinery, intending to go on and develop the mine themselves. Others had also kept a keen eye upon the Blue, however, a good offer was made for the control and was accepted, and now the allied forces of the new and old owners have confirmed the order previously placed for machinery and the mine will be brought into the shipping list within a short time. The enterprise has plenty of capital and energy to back it and within a short period the Blue will be added to the long roll of ore producers of the famous Marquette range.

Knights in Gallant Array.

Forty white plumes danced in the summer sun yesterday afternoon as Lake Superior commandery, Knights Templar, filed out of its asyllum, formed in column and headed by the Marquette City band marched up to St. Paul's church to divine services. The turnout was in celebration of the day of St. John the Baptist, June 24th, yesterday being the nearest Sunday to that date. Quite a throng of people gathered along Front and Ridge streets to watch the brilliantly costumed knights parade.

St. Paul's was already well filled when the commandery arrived, the space reserved for the knights being defined by black and white ribbons. As the knights entered the choir sang the processional hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldier." The standard of the commandery and its beaumont were placed beside the pulpit and lectern, and the knights uncovered as the Rev. Dr. Hall stepped from the vestry in full robes as prelate. The service appropriate to the occasion then proceeded, the knights presenting arms during the recitation of the Apostle's creed.

Rev. Dr. Hall took as his text the declaration of St. John the Baptist concerning himself and the Christ of whom he was the forerunner and drew a like parallel between the Masonic institution and the church. He sought to combat two common errors—one, that Masonry is not a religious institution; the other, that Masonry is a sufficient religion and that its professors have no need of the church. Masonry, the oldest of existing human institutions, taught morality and virtue and inculcated those principles of religion upon which men of all sects, opinions and races agreed, but it did assume to be a doctrinal system, nor a place of salvation. Masonry, properly regarded, was the handmaid and ally of the church, making better all men who lived up to its principles. The discourse was thoughtful, scholarly and earnest, and contained passages of genuine eloquence. At the conclusion of the services the knights reformed in line, and again preceded by the band, returned to their asyllum.

Crushed by the Cars.

A shocking accident occurred near the South Shore passenger station a few minutes after noon yesterday. Thomas Anderson, a switchman, was engaged in coupling some cars to an engine. Suddenly other cars were dropped down the track against those on which he was working. A shout of warning went up but it was too late. The cars were driven close up to the engine and the horrified spectators saw the unfortunate man pinned between the two heavy bodies. It took but a few minutes to release him and he was borne to his boarding house, that kept by Mrs. Rivers just south of the hotel Marquette.

Drs. Northrup and Dawson were at once summoned to attend the injured man. They found that he had four ribs broken and had sustained a compound fracture of the right forearm. He had also suffered a severe injury of the right leg and had other bad bruises. Every breath moved the broken ribs and caused the most intense pain. A bandage was at once put around his body so tightly as to prevent the chest muscles from moving the broken ribs, affording great relief. The fracture was reduced and the wounded man is doing as well as possible under the circumstances. He will probably recover but it will be a long time before he is able to return to work. Anderson came here from Calumet about two months ago. He is about 24 years of age and unmarried.

It Was Defeat.

The Marquette base ball team lost again in the game of Saturday with Hancock. Marquette has lost five straight, all of the league games played, all upon its own grounds.

The Marquette team, as at present organized, is simply outclassed by its adversaries. This is the cold, hard truth, and it is just as well to look the situation squarely in the face. The team contains some good players, but as a team it is not up to the speed of the class in which it is attempting to travel.

When the new players, Wilder, Thorpe, Birmingham and Corcoran are brought into the field, the situation will, perhaps, be improved. Saturday the visitors outplayed the locals all around. Further details may be gathered from the following score:

Standing of the Teams.

The standing of the respective teams of the Upper Peninsula league to-day is as follows:

Teams	Played	Won	Lost	Percent
Houghton	7	6	1	.857
Hancock	6	4	2	.667
Calumet	7	4	3	.571
Ishpeming	8	4	4	.500
Negaunee	7	2	5	.286
Marquette	5	0	5	.000

Will Celebrate St. John's Day.

The societies of St. Jean de Baptiste of Marquette county will celebrate the day of their patron saint at Ishpeming to-morrow. There are eight of these societies in the county and with the members' families and friends the turnout promises to be a large one. A pleasing program has been arranged for the occasion and all anticipate a very enjoyable time. The Marquette society leaves for Ishpeming at 9 o'clock to-morrow.

An Train Shingle Mill Burned.

The shingle mill at Au Train took fire about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and in spite of the best efforts of the workmen and citizens to save it burned to the ground. The mill was established by A. W. Gibbs & Co., but had latterly been run by Charles Johnson. The loss was total and is estimated at $8,000 but there is some insurance on the property. At the present writing the cause of the fire is not known.

Low Excursion Rates to Milwaukee. Account Knights of Pythias Conclave.

For this occasion the Milwaukee & Northern railroad will sell tickets at rate of one fare for the round trip. From points north of Menominee tickets will be on sale July 4th to 8th inclusive, good to return from July 9th to 19th inclusive. These low rates are within the reach of all, so let everybody turn out and witness one of the grandest gatherings the world has ever known. All information furnished by any railroad ticket agent or W. B. Sheardown, G. P. & T. A., Milwaukee.

E. P. WILBUR, Nor. Pass. Agt., Marquette.

"What More Can We Ask?"

Since the Milwaukee & Northern have furnished us two trains each way to Chicago & Milwaukee and by the last change one of these being a limited leaving Chicago 7:30, Milwaukee 10:30, P. M., arriving at Ishpeming 8:19 A. M., Negaunee 8:28 A. M. and Marquette, 9 A. M., in other words decreasing the time about six hours, it would seem our wishes have been anticipated and that this gigantic stride toward placing the upper peninsula on an equal footing with other sections in regard to rapid transit by the M. & N. R. can but meet the approval of our citizens and secure their patronage for this enterprising line. 17w1
