AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL,

The House Passes The Measure To Aid Agricultural Colleges In The Various States.

SENATE AGREES TO CONFERENCE REPORT ON DEPENDENT PENSION BILL.

House Refuses To Agree To Senate Amendments on The General Pension Appropriation Bill—Other Legislation.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Mr. Allison was excused from service on the select committee to examine into the administration of the senate and Plumb was appointed in his place. Mr. Ingalls offered a resolution, which was agreed to, instructing the committee on privileges and elections to inquire as to the date when under the law and precedents the salaries of the senators from Montana, Washington and North and South Dakota begin. The senate resumed the consideration of the agricultural college aid bill and Mr. Morrill offered a substitute for the various amendments pending on Saturday as to the division of the fund between the colored and white schools of a state.

Mr. Morrill's amendment was adopted. Some formal amendments were made to the bill, and it was then passed. It appropriates annually out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, arising from the sales of public lands, to be paid to each state and territory for the more complete endowment and maintenance of colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanical arts now established or which may be hereafter established in accordance with an act of congress approved July 2, 1862, the sum of $15,000 for the year ending June 30, 1890, and an annual increase of the amount of such appropriation thereafter for ten years by an additional sum of $5,000 over the preceding year, and "the ANNUAL AMOUNT TO BE PAID thereafter to each state and territory shall be $25,000, provided that no money shall be paid out under this act to any state or territory for the support and maintenance of colleges where a distinction of race or color is made in the admission of students; but the establishment and maintenance of such colleges separately for white and colored students shall be held to be in compliance with the provisions of this act, and also provided, that in any state in which there has been one agricultural college established under the act of 1862, and in which also there is or may be an educational institution of like character for colored students, aided by the state from its own revenues, division of the fund to be received under this act."

The conference report on the dependent pension bill was taken up and Mr. Berry made a speech against it. He believed that under the operation of the pending measure the annual pension roll would be $300,000,000 and the cry would be still more, and yet no one of them, senator or representative, dared to stand up in opposition to a pension bill. Northern democrats and northern republicans contended with each other as to which would go farthest to satisfy those demands. If any southern senator or representative dared to oppose a pension bill, he was shamed by both friend and foe. He was told on the one side that he would injure his party and on the other side he was denounced as a traitor who had no right to announce an opinion on the subject of pensions. He did not believe in this manner of legislation. He was opposed to such an indiscriminate payment of pensions and he was opposed to the pending bill, which was a service pension bill in disguise.

Mr. Gorman also opposed the conference report. He estimated that the expenditure under the bill would aggregate $78,673,054. When that was added to the $125,000,000 of pension expenditure under the existing law it would be seen that in fact the treasury was bankrupt.

Mr. Davis, chairman of the committee on pensions, replied to the arguments of Mr. Berry and Mr. Gorman. He said that Mr. Berry had been a constant opponent of pension legislation for the benefit of union soldiers, and that what he had said to-day was in the direct line of what he had said on other occasions. Mr. Davis denied the correctness of Mr. Gorman's figures and said that the expenditure under the bill would be about forty million dollars. He denied that the pending bill was a service pension bill and asserted that it was a disability bill, pure and simple. When the senate reflected with what promises these men had been sent out to save the country; when it reflected that hundreds of thousands of them had had from three to five of the best years of their lives subtracted from them, there should not be set up as an obstacle to the performance of the senate's duty a mere question of the expense to the treasury. Ways and means should be provided to meet all just obligations to these men, checking them when their demands went too far.

Mr. Gorman said that if the bill became a law there would be a deficit of $100,000,000 in 1892, and that even if it did not become a law there would be a deficit of $40,000,000. He said the remarks which he made were for the purpose of calling attention to what the republican leader—Blaine—the greatest leader that the party had had in his day and generation, had said as to the extravagance of appropriations, as to unthoughtful and unwise legislation in the matter of revenue. He complimented Mr. Davis for the courage with which he had stemmed the tide of demagogues and of claim agents and prevented the reporting of a bill that would have cost $150,000,000 a year.

Mr. Ingalls advocated the conference report. This was an obligation just as sacred as that under which the soldier was paid, and yet the senate was asked to postpone, to huddle and to haggle about it, to take out pencil and compute how much could be spared and scraped and saved from the other expenses of the government in order to meet that sacred obligation. He did not care whether it cost $10,000,000 or a billion, he was in favor of the removal of the limitation in the act granting arrears of pensions.

Finally the discussion was closed and the vote was taken. The conference report was agreed to, and after a short executive session the senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The speaker announced the appointment of Messrs. Brewer, Butterworth and Sayers as conferees on the fortification bill. The house then went into committee of the whole on District of Columbia business. Without taking action on any bill the committee rose. The conferees on the general pension appropriation bill failed to agree. The house insisted upon its disagreement to the senate amendments and then adjourned.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.

Men Suspected of the Texas Train Robbery Remanded Without Bail.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 23.—A special from Texarkana, Ark., says: Excitement concerning the Cotton Belt train robbery on the night of the 14th inst. was almost as high to-day as on the day succeeding the arrest of the alleged robbers. On Friday night the wounded man, Ratcliffe, arrested as one of the guilty parties, died, and last night it was reported that his widow had made a written confession fully implicating all the parties accused now in jail and perhaps others, and that she would be the first state's witness placed on the stand at the resumption of the preliminary hearing this morning. When the court convened there was a consultation between the attorneys on both sides and the presiding justice, after which the court took an adjournment till 2 o'clock this afternoon.

SULLIVAN INDICTED.

John L. Must Stand Trial at Purvis, Miss. For Prize Fighting.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 23.—The Times-Democrat's Purvis, Miss., special says: At half past four the grand jury returned an indictment charging John Lawrence Sullivan with prize fighting. The indictment was placed in the "appearance docket" and will be called up to-morrow morning and a day set for trial. A petition is in circulation addressed to Judge Terrill, which is being unanimously signed by leading citizens, praying that the court be lenient and impose a fine without imprisonment. The petition will be presented in open court.

War on the Whisky Trust.

NEW YORK, June 23.—At a mass meeting of the wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, held to-day, resolutions were adopted endorsing the Distillers' and Cattle Feeders' Company to waive the rebate condition of its sales and to allow the purchase of spirits in open market like any other commodity. In case of a refusal a co-operative stock company is to be at once formed, with a capital stock of about $500,000, for the purpose of erecting or purchasing one or more spirits distilleries.

Denver Strike Ended.

DENVER, Col., June 23.—The laboring men's strike, which has been in force here for some time past, is at an end. Nearly 1,500 carpenters, who ten days ago went out in support of the striking mill machine and bench men, returned to work this morning. Quite a number of the original strikers returned to their demands at the out set of the trouble.

Bosses Offer a Compromise.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 23.—The leading builders have made a proposition to their striking employes that they shall return to work within three days and continue at the old price until August 10, when ten hours' pay will be given for nine hours' work. There is a condition that men employed since the strike began shall be retained.

Strike in Lorillard's Factory.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 23.—Two hundred girls employed in Lorillard's tobacco factory went on a strike this morning for an increase of wages. The strikers are employed in the stripping department. There are over 3,000 hands employed in the factory and the strike may extend to all the departments.

LUDINGTON, Mich., June 23.—Ludington will spend $2,000 celebrating the Fourth of July.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

English Government Withdraws Portions of The License Bill From The Commons.

AMENDMENT TO ACCUMULATE MONEY TO RETIRE LICENSES PROPOSED.

Canada Stands Ready to Remove Export Duty on Saw Logs as Soon as The McKinley Bill Becomes a Law.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 23.—In the house of commons to-day Mr. Smith said that the government had arrived at the conclusion that it would be impossible to pass the license clause of the local taxation bill in its entirety. [Prolonged opposition cheers.] The clause contained these proposals: First, that a certain portion of the new taxation on intoxicants be appropriated for the purpose of extinguishing licenses; second, that the power be conferred on the county commissioners to purchase and extinguish licenses; and, third, that the issue of new licenses be suspended. The first proposal had received the assent of the house, both on the second reading and in the committee stage, as far as England was concerned; the government would, therefore, proceed with the proposal as affecting Scotland and Ireland, and with the government would not proceed, but they would ask the house to allow the money for the extinction of licenses to accumulate until parliament should direct otherwise. [Opposition cheers.] The third proposal was approved by all sections of the house and would remain. In consonance with their decision, the government would ask the house to agree to an amendment whereby money allotted to extinguish licenses should be invested and accumulated until an act should be passed directing how to apply it.

Mr. Caine asked whether the government intended to introduce an alteration to the license laws to which the amendment might apply.

Mr. Smith said he thought Mr. Caine ought to be satisfied to postpone such a question until a later stage in the history of parliament.

Mr. Gladstone expressed partial satisfaction at Mr. Smith's announcement, but said that the amendment threatened difficulty. It would be better for the government to consider the propriety of giving up the idea of earmarking money. It was of no practical effect. Its withdrawal would in no wise weaken the position of the government and its entire withdrawal would simplify the debate.

Mr. Smith said he appreciated the spirit in which Mr. Gladstone spoke, but the government could not disregard the fact that the principle of purchase had received the approval of a large majority of the house. [Cries of "Only four."] At all events the money accumulated would be at the disposal of parliament. [Cries of "Hear!" "Hear!"]

Mr. Timothy Healy—it is clear that the government means to purchase the money for the extinction of licenses.

Mr. Story asked whether there was any precedent for such a proposal and Mr. Smith replied: "The thing has been done."

Mr. Darling—If the ear-marking proposal be passed, will it in any way prevent parliament from dealing with the money as it pleases?

Mr. Smith—Nothing will prevent parliament from dealing with the money in any way it may choose.

Sir William Veron Harcourt said he supposed that if a future session of parliament did not approve the application of the money to the purchase of licenses, the accumulated funds could not be used for any other purpose without the assent of the house of lords. [Opposition cheers.] If that was the real meaning of Mr. Smith's proposal, the government had done nothing to shorten the session. [Cries of "Hear!" "Hear!"]

Mr. Smith thought the government would be able to satisfy the house on that point. In the meantime he asked the house to delay the discussion until the amendment was reached.

Sir James Ferguson, under foreign secretary, stated in the house of commons to-day that information of the intention of England to resume the protectorate of Zanzibar had been sent to the French government, but had not reached the French foreign minister when he spoke in the chamber of deputies on Saturday.

CANADA.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 13.—Congress having amended the tariff bill reducing the duty on lumber to $1 per thousand feet board measure, the Dominion government will now remove the export duty on saw logs. As soon as the United States tariff bill becomes a law and the duty on lumber is definitely fixed at $1 per thousand feet Canada will fulfill her side of the bargain and a proclamation will be issued removing the export duty on saw logs.

A convention has been signed between Hon. John Haggart, postmaster general of Canada, and the postmaster general of Japan for the establishment of a direct parcel post service between Canada and Japan, commencing October 1, next. Vancouver will be the Canadian point of distribution.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

SAN SALVADOR, June 23.—President Menendez died suddenly last night soon after the conclusion of a banquet given on the occasion of the fifth anniversary of the entrance of General Menendez into San Salvador and the defeat of the Zaldívar faction. During the panic caused by the president's death General Marco and several other officers were killed at the barracks. General Carlos Ezeta, the leader of the forces, is now in command. All is quiet at present.

Lighted a Fire With Coal Oil.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 23.—Lillie Allnut, 16 years old, was burned to death while lighting a fire with coal oil.

BALLAD OF THE COUNTRY.

Melitable Jane can erect a fence
On a most extravagant plan;
In popping of corn she's very immense,
But she never yet popped o'er a man.
She can puncture a drift or guide a plow
Or build up a good mice pie;
But when she gets down to ethics, I trow,
She isn't so awfully fly.

She can take away straw from the threshing machine,
Or round up a stack with the best;
She's off on the style of society's queen,
But on dumplings she takes all the rest.
Two handed she'll milk a big dairy of cows,
And strain it all through a felt hat;
But she's reticent some on Baconian rows,
And on Browning, alas! she is flat.

She can mend all the socks and the trousers in reach,
And do a big washing aplomb;
She can wring a hen's neck and give never a squeal,
But on Swinburne the poor girl is dumb.
She can scrub a big kitchen and wallop the kids
And start them away to the school;
But tackle her on what the last fashion bids
And the subject will show her a fool.

Lusty limbed, rosy cheeked is Melitable Jane,
Built up from the ground on a plan
Of grandiloquent size, which, alas! giveth pain
To the petty fact of little club man.
But take her at home, where she reigns as a queen,
And her like over often you'll find;
Where the clover is sweet, well, she isn't so mean
Where the eye of old nature is kind.
—H. S. Keller in Judge.

Fun with a Cork Leg.
It would not be supposed that any one could get much fun out of a cork leg.
Yet I knew a man who had the misfortune to lose his leg who got a good deal of amusement out of its cork substitute.

Once he nearly scared an old gentleman out of his wits.
It was in this way: The said cork leg was a very well made one, and when its owner was seated you could not tell the difference between the real and false article. One day my friend was in a railway car and opposite him was an old gentleman. My friend took out his penknife and began paring his nails.

When he had finished, instead of putting his knife back in his pocket, like an ordinary mortal, he gave it a jerk, and it stuck in his cork leg, and it vibrated to and fro in a sufficiently horrible manner.

The old gentleman's feelings can "better be imagined than described," as they say in the novels. He turned a beautiful green color, and at the next stoppage skipped from the car in a most active manner. He evidently thought he had got in with a madman, and probably imagined his leg would be the next to be experimented on.—New York Herald.

Immigrants Soon "Catch On."
Whatever may be said of the evils of immigration, it is a fact that many immigrants who come from foreign shores to this country to live pick up the ideas, language and methods of doing business in the United States with rapidity. An example of this is furnished by the itinerant vendors of flowers, bananas, dates, suspenders and other articles who are especially numerous around the City Hall park and the entrance to the bridge. They are forbidden by law to occupy one place for any length of time, and the approach of a policeman always means a general moving among the vendors, most of whom are Italians and Greeks, who have not been in this country long.

When one of the crowd sees a blue coated officer hurrying toward him with mischief in his eye, instead of warning his comrades in his native tongue to decamp, he calls out "cheese um." This is as near as he can get to the expression "cheese it," which he has picked up from the street Arabs.—New York Tribune.

Formation of Strong Wood.
A knowledge of the strength and durability of timber as influenced by the conditions under which the same was made is of great importance. It would greatly advance forest tree culture if we only knew the most suitable conditions for making the best ash, oak and a score of other woods. The position trees occupy in the wild state is not always a guide in making plantations. Because a tree grows upon a rocky cliff it is no reason why it would not thrive in rich soil. Is it true that the more quickly wood is formed the stronger it is? When we look at the end of a log it is seen to be made up of a number of rings. These rings are caused by unequal growth during each season. A comparatively porous layer is made during the rapid growth of early summer, followed by a more dense portion later in the season. It would seem that the more rapid the growth, other things being equal, the more porous would be the product.—New York Telegram.

Use for Old Papers.
Newspapers are invaluable for packing away the winter clothing, the printing ink acting as a defiance to the stoutest moth as successfully as camphor or tar paper. For this reason newspapers are useful under the carpet, laid over the regular carpet paper. The most valuable quality of newspapers in the kitchen, however, is their ability to keep out the air. It is said that ice completely enveloped in newspapers, so that all air is shut out, will keep a longer time than under other conditions, and that a pitcher of ice water laid in a newspaper, with the ends of the paper twisted together to exclude the air, will remain all night in any summer room with scarcely any perceptible melting of the ice.—American Analyst.

Vibrations in Buildings.
The danger and inconvenience resulting from the vibrations in buildings caused by running machinery can be to a large degree removed by increasing the speed of the engine, the idea being to set up a discordant vibration between the engine and the floor beam. The Pittsburgh Dispatch tells of a ten horse power engine which, on the upper story of a silverware manufactory, created such a commotion as to rattle the silverware on the shelves a hundred feet distant. A change of twenty-five revolutions in the speed, which was in the direction of increasing the speed, entirely stopped the vibrations.

Another Victim.
Jennie—Poor Stella! Worked at her easel and stooped over her painting until she succumbed to consumption.
Julia—And yet unable to make a living!
Charles (heartlessly)—Another victim of art failure.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

Johany's Delight.
Mrs. Brown—Why do you like to have the doctor come to see you, Johany? Is it because you get nice things to eat?
Little Johany—Now, 'cause I can put my tongue out at him.—Harper's Bazar.

Properties of Good Clothing Wool.
Fineness of fiber, strength and elasticity of staple, softness of handle, a disposition to felt and a clear white color are the properties which a good clothing wool ought to possess.—Dry Goods Chronicle.

NEWS FROM NEGAUNEE.

Terse Jottings of a Quiet Day Within the Boundaries of Our Neighbor City.

Sunday's Game.
Owing to the fact that the telephone line was working very poorly indeed between here and Marquette Sunday night, the reporter was scarcely able to get in any report at all of Sunday's ball game between Hancock and Negaunee at Union Park Sunday afternoon, and the detailed account of the game was consequently held over until to-day. The attendance was very large. Neither team played good ball, and the error columns ran 'way up. The Hancock battery was Dalton and Fyfe, while Rutter pitched a winning game for Negaunee, but had no support at all in the field, Negaunee's fielding being rotten. Notwithstanding this fact Negaunee would probably have won had it not been for a couple of costly errors in the last two or three innings. The feature of the game was Dalton's home run, he swinging his game leg around the bases at a 2:40 pace while the crowd cheered itself hoarse. The score by innings was given yesterday.

Last of the Series.
The last of the series provided for by the Negaunee Entertainment Association will be the appearance here Friday evening of John C. Freeman, a lecturer of note, who will take for his subject that evening, "The Wonderland of the Yellowstone." The reserved seat diagram will be opened at Perkins' store Wednesday morning, and all those desiring good seats should present themselves early on that day. The sale of seats will begin at 9 o'clock A. M.

An Important Meeting.
A meeting of the stockholders and also of the directors of the Negaunee Base Ball Association will be held this evening at the office of J. Q. Adams at 7:30 sharp. As business of the greatest importance is to be transacted the presence of every person interested is earnestly requested.

A member of the local Salvation Army so far forgot himself last week as to get gloriously full—just the same as common folk whom the army is attempting to reclaim. The soldier has thus far been able to lay the blame at the door of the saloonkeeper, whom he claims doctored the "temperance" drink he called for, and he is now singing his praises behind the bass drum, pending court martial.

Negaunee has long wanted a good restaurant, and now that want has been supplied by A. M. Lee. He has opened and for the past month or so has conducted a restaurant that is first class in every respect. Parties desiring ice cream or wishing service for parties, balls or receptions will do well to note his advertisement in another column.

The annual commencement of the Negaunee high school will be held at the opera house Thursday evening. The admission will be 10 cents, and no reservations of seats will be made, so that those desiring the best seats should be on hand early. The program for the entertainment will be published Thursday morning.

In the excitement pertaining to base ball, or divers other matters, do not allow the fact to escape your memory that the Trapper club gives its grand ball at the opera house to-night. Stecher & Voelker furnish the music, and Lee will serve supper at the Adelphi, not at his restaurant, as has been stated.

The reporter had a nice mess of fish in store for him the other day when Jim Wiggins came down from Kitchie, but some cuss in Republic stole them and the writer is still living on a steady diet of beef-steak.

The spectacle of a trio of young ladies (pretty, too, mind you) walking a half block to avoid an inoffensive old cow was one witnessed yesterday by the reporter.

Quite a number of Negaunee Scandinavians took the special train here last night for Ashland, where the convention of their order is to be held.

Gene Adams is putting a neat iron fence around his Case street property.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.
Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottle of this Grand Discovery at H. H. Stafford's Drug store, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

Hold it to the Light.
The man who tells you confidentially just what will cure your cold is prescribing Kemp's Balsam this year. In the preparation of this remarkable medicine for coughs and colds no expense is spared to combine only the best and purest ingredients. Hold a bottle of Kemp's Balsam to the light and look through it; notice the bright, clear look; then compare with other remedies. Price 50c. and $1. Sample bottle free.

A SHOWER OF MONKEYS.

THEY POUR OUT OF THE TREES OF AN INDIAN FOREST.

ADVENTURES OF A TRAVELER THAT WOULD MAKE ALMOST ANY MAN QUAKE IN HIS BOOTS—SURROUNDED BY AN ARMY OF THREATENING SIMIANS.

IN India, the paradise of monkeys, they are held in high honor because of the aid which their king, Hanooman "in the days of old," gave to the God Rama, when, to rescue his wife, Sita, he invaded Ceylon, Hanooman helping to bridge the strait.

ROUNDED BY HUNDREDS.

AT some distance beyond, several young monkeyurchins, which preferred play to curiosity, kept suspending themselves from the branches in long living chains, holding one another's tails, and some others swinging themselves pendulum wise to and fro.

THE LAUGHTER WITH WHICH I HAD GREETED THE FIRST OF MY VISITORS DIED.

THEY were many at my feet, looking up at me with a mixture of curiosity and interest, some with their mouths open, some with their hands on their heads.

THE CIRCLE GROWS SMALLER.

I fully realized my danger, but continued calm and collected, and reasoned the position out myself. The only chance of safety lay in remaining as motionless as a statue.

THE GREAT MONKEY.

IN one of the intervals of silence the great monkey that had first arrived and that seemed to be one of the leaders, suddenly hopped nearer to me—two feet or so.

A JUDICIOUS HOST.

JOHN Kenyon always made a point of asking any foreigner who was also a stranger in London to a small dinner of three or four that he might have an opportunity of making intimacies before being launched into general society.

THE SYDNEY SMITHS.

"THE Sydney Smiths," Kenyon went on to say, "are a couple who ought to be asked together, for she leads up to her husband's jokes and laughs at the right moment."

THE WEES OF JOB.

GRANDMA Venable—John, dear, what are these "Job lots" the papers are so full of?

THE WEES OF JOB.

JOHN (much married)—They mean the lots of trouble the old fell w had with Mrs. Job.

First Warm Weather of This Season—Advertising Marquette—Life Saving Station Plans—Soldier Boys Will Dance.

The Demand For Small Houses.

Some enterprising real estate owner can make a good thing for himself and do much to improve the town by erecting a dozen or so neat cottages. There is a strong and steady demand in this town for houses that will rent from $10 to $15 per month and the supply is woefully inadequate to the demand. Houses that can be rented at the figure above given and be sold at from $1,000 to $1,600 are in great request. There are dozens of thrifty mechanics, clerks and other young men working for moderate wages who are absolutely in great difficulties to obtain decent quarters for themselves and their families at a price they can afford to pay. Such of them as have saved sufficient money to buy a lot are building for themselves with the assistance of the Building and Loan association, but there are many who are not yet able to proceed so far.

For some reason property owners of this town seem averse to building houses for rent. For this feeling MINING JOURNAL reporters have been able to find no very definite reason but it nevertheless exists. On this account mechanics who would be induced to come here prefer to remain where they can more easily secure homes, though wages are lower than here. Young men who would marry and settle down and acquire some stake in the community are deterred from doing so by the high cost of living and the impossibility of securing decent quarters at a reasonable rental in which to begin house-keeping. The cost of living is something which is regulated by the nature of the country and which is gradually being reduced. But small houses can be built cheaply and made to give a handsome return upon the investment.

"Did I own the lots on which to build them I would at once put up a dozen cottages to rent for from $10 to $15 per month," said a well known citizen to a MINING JOURNAL reporter yesterday. "Lumber is cheap and there are mills in town which could turn out the materials for a good-sized order at a very low rate. I am convinced that neat and comfortable cottages for which good tenants could be secured could be erected for $600 each. The lots on which the houses could be erected are now selling at $100 to $200 each. Suppose a house and lot cost $800, then at $10 per month the owner would have a return of 15 per cent on his investment, less insurance and taxes, neither of which are high. Such houses would sell readily at $1,000 to $1,200 within a year. There is money in such an enterprise and I am surprised that no one undertakes it."

Program for Organ Recital.

Mr. George L. Johnson, organist of St. Paul's church, will give a farewell recital in the church to-morrow evening, assisted by Miss Margaret McDonald, Mr. A. O. Jopling and the Gooding quartette. The ten numbers of the program are all good ones and the church should be crowded. The program is as follows:

Introduction and Bridal Chorus (Lohengrin)..... Wagner
Quartette—"Stabat Mater"..... Rossini
Cantilene Pastorale (by request)..... Guilman
Interlude..... Dudley Birch
Vocal Solo, "With Verdure Clad," (Creation)..... Haydn
Miss McDonald
Ave Sanctissima (Sicilian Mariner's Hymn, varied)..... Lux
Quartette, "Remember Now Thy Creator"..... I. B. Rhodes
Scotch Air, varied (by request)..... Dudley Birch
Vocal Solo, "Toil and Rest"..... Birch
Mr. A. O. Jopling
Overture, "Ottone" (Adagio, Fugue, Gavotte)..... Haendel
Tickets for the recital are 35 cents and are on sale at Stafford's, Conklin's and Westlake's.

Mr. Johnson has severed his connection with St. Paul's and has under consideration offers from Spokane Falls and elsewhere. He is an excellent musician and Marquette will regret to lose him. Under his direction the Musical Association chorus made fine progress and gave promise of doing even better when work should be resumed in the autumn. It is not yet known who will succeed him either at St. Paul's or with the Musical Association.

First Warm Weather.

In many less favored localities yesterday would not have seemed warm but to the man accustomed to the cool air of Marquette the temperature was decidedly uncomfortable during a part of the day. The thermometer reached 87 degrees, the warmest, so far, this season and the highest since August last. Seeing that midsummer is already here, Saturday last having been the longest day of the year, this low and equable temperature well shows Marquette's advantages in the matter of climate. While for weeks other less favored cities have been sweltering in the heat, Marquette has rested peacefully beside the cool waves of Lake Superior. Having the advantages of a bracing, vigorous but never severe nor raw winter climate and a cool and healthful summer temperature, it is no wonder that Marquette is famed as one of the pleasantest residence towns in the land. If her own citizens but seize the opportunities open and make known to the world at large her industrial advantages Marquette can also become a great manufacturing town. The advantages and the material are here. All depends upon the enterprise of her own citizens in making them known to the country at large.

Advertising Marquette. That enterprising firm, Steele & Ladd, is putting into effect a plan of advertising Marquette which though not new has repeatedly been found effective. On the back of all their business envelopes, under a bold heading, "Facts About Marquette, Mich. Population, 12,000," is given a brief summary of the institutions and advantages of the Queen City. The idea is an excellent one and every business house in the city should adopt it. It might be well for the Board of Trade to arrange for a large supply of these envelopes, the merchants each taking as many as needed. By thus ordering them in large quantities the extra cost of printing would be so small as not to be worth notice.

Life-Saving Station.

The plans for the life-saving station, for which bids are now asked, show that the various buildings will be quite ornamental structures. The dwelling for the keeper and crew will stand on a flat piece of ground in the light-house reservation. It will be quite a pretty little cottage, with sitting-room, mess-room, kitchen, bedroom and sleeping accommodations for a crew of seven on the ground floor, with locker rooms for the men in the attic. Upon the rock near at hand will be erected a lookout house.

The boat house will be upon the water-works dock with a run-way for the boat off inside the break-water. The building of the station will lead to still further improvements of the lighthouse grounds, which Captain McGuire, the keeper, has already made one of the prettiest and most attractive spots about the city.

Soldiers Will Salute.

The Marquette Rifles will to-morrow evening celebrate the second anniversary of the organization of the present company by engaging in salutory exercises and terpsichorean drill in Armory hall. The honorary members are expected to turn out in force the occasion as only themselves and the active members will be present. The active members are notified to appear in full dress uniform for inspection. The boys are a jolly lot and they will undoubtedly have a most pleasant time.

Low Excursion Rates to Milwaukee.

For this occasion the Milwaukee & Northern railroad will sell tickets at rate of one fare for the round trip. From points north of Menominee tickets will be on sale July 4th to 8th inclusive, good to return from July 9th to 19th inclusive. These low rates are within the reach of all, so let everybody turn out and witness one of the grandest gatherings the world has ever known. All information furnished by any railroad ticket agent or W. B. Sheardown, G. P. & T. A., Milwaukee.

What More Can We Ask?

Since the Milwaukee & Northern have furnished us two trains each way to Chicago & Milwaukee and by the last change one of these being a limited leaving Chicago 7:30, Milwaukee 10:30 P. M., arriving at Marquette 8:19 A. M., Negaunee 8:28 A. M. and Marquette, 9 A. M., in other words decreasing the time about six hours, it would seem our wishes have been anticipated and that this gigantic stride toward placing the upper peninsula on an equal footing with other sections in regard to rapid transit by the M. & N. R. can but meet the approval of our citizens and secure their patronage for this enterprising line. 17w1

Fourth of July Excursions.

On July 3rd and 4th the Milwaukee & Northern railroad will sell tickets to and from all stations on their line, also Chicago, at one fare for the round trip, good returning until July 7th inclusive.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

U. S. LIFE-SAVING SERVICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17, 1890. Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 2 o'clock p. m., of Thursday, July 10, 1890, for the construction of a life-saving station at Marquette, Michigan, and one on Bois Blanc Island, Straits of Mackinac. Plans and specifications, containing full information and forms of proposals can be obtained from the directors of customs, Detroit and Marquette, Michigan, and Chicago, Illinois; superintendent Tenth life-saving district, Sand Beach, Michigan, and upon application to this office. S. I. KIMBALL, General Superintendent.

Notice to Contractors.

In pursuance of an ordinance passed by the common council of the city of Marquette, on Friday, the 20th day of June, A. D., 1890, for grading, curbing and macadamizing Genesee street, from Adams street, to Alamogordo street, sealed proposals will be received by the recorder until 5 o'clock p. m., on the 31st day of July, 1890, according to the profile and specifications to be seen at his office. Each bid must be accompanied by two bonds, each in the penal sum of the total amount of the bid, one conditioned for the faithful performance of contract, if awarded, and the other conditioned for the payment of all labor and material claims arising under such contract. The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids. THOMAS MEADS, Recorder. Dated, June 23, 1890. 6-24d 10
