A Remark by Congressman Bland on
the Federal Election Bill Starts the Music.

MR. HENDERSON ASSERTS THAT THE RULE OF THE MINORITY IS ENDED.

Ewart, a North Carolina Republican, Makes a Strong Speech in Opposition to the Measure--Congressional Forecast.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The house at once this morning went into committee of the whole on the federal election bill.
Mr. McAdoo, of New York, took the floor and made a vigorous speech in opposition to the bill. Mr. McAdoo based his opposition on the principle of home rule and the right of the people to control their own affairs without federal interference. He warned the republicans to beware of the experience of Walpole when prime minister of England. He beseeged the republicans to abstain from by their own sense of manliness, to abandon the bill, before the cry went up of "Liberty, liberty, no interference with elections."

Mr. McComas, of Maryland, reviewed the various election contests during the present congress to show the necessity for the passage of such a law.

Mr. Bland, of Missouri, twitted the republicans of having taken from the black men of the District of Columbia the power of local government and never giving it to them again. This resulted in an uproar on the floor.
Messrs. Bland and McComas shouting at the top of their voices amid the applause of their colleagues and the galleries. Mr. McComas declared that when Bland affected interest in 8,000 or 10,000 black voters of the District while during his long service here he never raised his voice in behalf of 8,000,000 or 10,000,000 poor and oppressed black men in the country, he felt like calling him a hypocrite.

Mr. Bland vehemently declared that Mr. McComas and his colleagues were the hypocrites in pretending, for party purposes, unfair interest in the negro.

At the point the uproar became so great that nothing could be heard save the commingled shouts of the debators
and the rapping of the speaker's gavel.
Mr. McComas managed to shout that the black men in this district were treated like whites and he appealed to the people of the south to treat the blacks and whites alike.

When quiet was finally restored Mr.
Cummings of New York spoke against the bill. The bill was a sectional one.
The republican party proposed to make the negro a chattel to be used whenever necessary.

Mr. Henderson served notice that the country would no longer submit to the rule of the minority. Under God he declared Grover Cleveland had had no right to his seat in the White House, and the democratic party had not had an honest majority in the house in twenty-five years. He wanted to say that he would consent that the minority should govern the majority he would favor the protection of every ballot by a killing bullet. [Applause.] The house had been told what was needed was not a new south but a new north. They would get it. The north had peacefully and patiently submitted to this injustice. They had seen control of the government by red hands wrested from its proper channels and a new north was at hand. Let the south try a little justice. The key to the situation was in the observation of law, and where that could not be secured, law must be made to secure it. He spoke briefly of the recent exhibition of the stars and bars and the confederate gray at Richmond. He would not have then forget-ted the tender relations of war, but he entered a protest against being told a new north was needed when the flags of the dangerous south were flaunting in the face of the republic. The gentlemen might cry "Liberty, liberty," but from the states from which many of them came it seemed to him like Satan wearing a cross when he sought to promulgate the dark dominion.

The conference report on the postoffice appropriation bill was then adopted.

Mr. Ewart, of North Carolina, republican, opposed the passage of the election bill. Unfortunately, politics had come to such a pass that under the rule of King Caucus men would vote for measures that deep down in their hearts
they did not believe in. As to the negro's "political rights," speaking of his own state, he hesitatingly asserted, no republican in the state, black or white, was prevented from casting a vote. The elections were absolutely fair. The entire people of the south should not be blamed for the acts of a few lawless men. He was sick and tired of this sentimental talk of the negro problem. It was a delusion to suppose the negro was voting the republican ticket solidly. He was doing nothing of the kind. Many of them were voting the democratic ticket, and it was getting more and more difficult every year for the republican party to control the negro. He had no hesitation in saying that one-fourth of the negroes of the south would not vote for republican party if an election was held to-morrow.

The house then took a recess.

At the evening session, Mr. Candler of Georgia protested there was no necessity for a federal election law in his section of the country. Messrs. Sayers and Stewart of Texas said no complaint was ever made against elections in Texas. Mr. Stockdale of Mississippi declared the energies of the south would be crushed by the passage of the bill. The house finally, at 11:30, adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Mr. Morrill said yesterday that he would call up
the tariff bill in the senate to-morrow,
but the probabilities are that the debate
on that measure will not begin before Monday of next week, as the senate will be occupied with appropriation bills during the greater part of this week. The District of Columbia, and the legislative, executive and judicial bills are before it for action on conference reports, and the committee on appropriations expects to report on the sundry civil and Indian bills before Thursday of general business, the bill for the admission of Idaho has first place on the calendar and will be taken up at the earliest opportunity. As in the case of the Wyoming bill, the republicans will not discuss it at length, submitting it upon the report of the committee on territories. After it is disposed of, the

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL

will be taken up, the present program contemplating its consideration before entering upon the tariff debate. As Friday will be the Fourth of July, an adjournment of the senate from Thursday until Monday is probable, although this has not been definitely decided upon. If the senate should conclude to hold a session Saturday it will be devoted to the consideration of bills on the calendar to which no objection is made.
It is the confident expectation of the members of the house that there will be only four days session this week.
The house has its work well in hand and as the probability that this session of congress will be unusually protracted has now become practically a certainty, there is a strong desire on the part of the members to take advantage of the Fourth of July coming on Friday to secure a vacation of a few days during the heated term. The speaker himself favors adjournment over until Monday.
The house therefore, has

ONE LEGISLATIVE DAY ONLY

during the coming week at its disposal,
the first three days under the rule being set apart for the further consideration of the federal election bill. The rules committee has considered what it shall do with this one day, Thursday, but has not yet definitely decided what measure shall get the benefit of it. The strongest probability is that the committee will report a rule setting apart
the day for the disposal of the Terry bankruptcy bill; but there are other measures being pressed for early action and the friends of some one or more of them may induce the committee to defer consideration of the Terry bill and give the day to them. It may be, however, that there will be no necessity for reporting any rule at all as the day may possibly be consumed with

A CONFERENCE REPORT

Upon the silver bill. It is not likely though that so early an agreement on the silver bill will be reached and this subject may not come before the house again until the following week. There is also always a possibility of a hitch in congressional programs. An unexpected debate on some appropriation bill, conference report, or some other at present unknown obstacle may delay the final vote on the election bill until Thursday
instead of Wednesday.

EIGHT FATAL CASES.

Large Numbers Prostrated by the Heat Yesterday in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 29.—A cool breeze, beginning late this afternoon ended
the heated term in this city, at least temporarily. The breeze did not put in an appearance, however, until the excessive heat had made a record of eight fatal cases of prostration in the city since daylight. A large number of other persons succumbed, but up to evening no other deaths were apprehended. The preceding twenty-four hours marked the culmination of the almost unprecedented period of warmth.
According to one authority there were 18 deaths from sunstroke and 117 other cases of heat prostration, fully one dozen of which are pronounced critical.

CARRIAGE STRUCK BY LOCOMOTIVE.

Two Ladies Killed, and Two Others Badly Hurt, But Two Men Escape.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., June 29.—

A carriage containing a party of four—two young ladies, a young man and the driver while attempting to cross the Midland track at Ute Pass to-day, was struck by an excursion train. The carriage was utterly demolished. Miss Crossett of Chicago was instantly killed,
Miss Wolf, of Newark, N. J., received injuries from which she died in two hours. Miss Gill, of Chicago, had both legs broken and Miss Wilson, of the same city, was severely bruised. The driver and the young man escaped.

Two Murders.

PITTSBURG, June 29.—During a quarrel at McKaysport to-day Pat Brierly, a mill worker, shot a man named Ralston dead. Brierly escaped.

A Double Killing.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 29.—A special from Ardmore, I. T., says: A messenger from the neighborhood of Deer Creek, sixty miles northwest of here, states that at a round-up on the creek late Friday evening James Andrews shot John Rankin in the abdomen with a revolver, causing a fatal wound, and was in turn shot through the lungs with a Winchester rifle in the hands of Rankin's cousin. Both were well-to-do cattlemen.

Thrown From a Carriage and Killed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 29.—Mrs.
Evans, the wife of Emanuel McGee
Evans, a wealthy and prominent citizen, was killed yesterday afternoon by being thrown from her carriage to the pavement in front of her residence at the corner of Twenty-Fifth street and Frost avenue. The horses became frightened and overturned the carriage.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE

The Price of Liberty—Judge Tuley's
Letter to the Personal Rights League.

A Strong Denunciation of the Policy Recently Pursued by the Police of the City of Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Ten thousand people assembled to-day at the annual games of the Turner societies of Chicago, and listened to a letter which aroused decided interest. It was from Judge Murray F. Tuley, one of the oldest and best known jurists in this city. The letter was read by the president of the Personal Rights league, and was addressed to the Chicago District Turners as members of the Personal Rights league, and read as follows:

"I regret that I am unable to accept your kind invitation to be with you today; but permit me to say, however, that I am in hearty sympathy with the objects and purposes of your society. I regard your organization as one of the most important factors in the preservation of the liberties of the people now existing in this country. The preservation of personal rights and the maintenance of liberty are convertible terms. Just so far as an individual is deprived of

HIS PERSONAL RIGHTS,

just to that extent is he in slavery.
Every law which directly or indirectly forbids the exercise of, or abridges a man's personal rights deprives him to that extent of his liberty. When such abridgement of personal rights is become unjust and tyrannical legislation.
But the danger to liberty is not so much from unequal or tyrannical legislation
as it is from the ignoring of written laws and the usurpation by executive officers of powers and authority not granted by law. When, as in this city of Chicago, the police arrest upon bare suspicion and without warrant persons not found in the act of violating the law, when the police undertake to determine who shall and who shall not meet in public open assembly to discuss political or economic questions;
when after

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF LIBERTY

in this country a citizen is arrested without warrant, consigned to a prison cell for eight long days, (a recent case
in connection with a dynamite bomb found at the Haymarket monument) prevented from communicating with his friends, denied the privilege of consultation with his legal adviser, and not even informed of the nature of the accusation against him, and when, in answer to a judicial mandate, the door of his prison cell is opened and the officers of the law required to show cause why this violation of the citizen's personal rights, the citizen is obliged to undertake to determine who shall and who shall not meet in public open assembly to discuss political or economic questions; when after

DISGRACED THE RECORDS

of a civilized court; when trial by newspaper is substituted for trial by jury;
when original packages of slander and vilification are hurled at the highest court of the nation; when the opinion of its decisions favoring personal rights and the freedom of commerce, when upon almost every article of food, of drink and of clothing a fictitious price is made by means of unlawful trusts and combinations—it is time, I say, not only to call a halt, but also to establish personal rights leagues in every police district, in every county, in every state of the union. Let your organization proclaim it to be the first duty of every citizen to obey the law whether he be an official or a private citizen. Demand that there shall be absolute equality of every citizen before the law. In the administration of the law and under the operation of the law. Persevere in your opposition to all sumptuary and other vicious legislation and teach the people that if they wish to preserve their liberties there must be eternal vigilance
in the protection of personal rights."

Attention Orators!!

DETROIT, Mich., June 29.—Fourth of July orators throughout the country are invited by Dr. Wm. Seward Wolf and Mr. Chauncey M. Depew, of New York city, Governor Buckner, of Kentucky, Judge Lucius P. Demming, of New Haven, Rev. Charles Peckney, of Charleston, S. C., Hon. Clifford Stanley of Philadelphia, and the others of the French testimonial committee to follow the example of California, when through the patriotic and energetic efforts of Mr.
M. H. De Young of the San Francisco Chronicle the orations of the day in the towns throughout that state will contain strong endorsement and advocacy of the effort now being made by the society of the Sons of the American Revolution to raise an adequate fund with which to procure and send from America to France a suitable testimonial of gratitude.
The committee, therefore, earnestly request all Fourth of July orators throughout the country to give this subject a generous place in their speech.

All on Account of a Typewriter.

TUCSON, Ariz., June 29.—The military court martial yesterday took up the new charge against Captain Mettimore, relating to the purchase of a typewriter for which vouchers for $150 had been signed by Thomas Hughes. Hughes testified for the government that he had never sold Mettimore a typewriter and said he had signed the vouchers in blank. Willis Haynes testified that he sold Mettimore a typewriter in 1888 for $100. Several other witnesses were examined and the court adjourned until Monday.

MARQUETTE, MICH., JUNE 30.
Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

MINNEAPOLIS is looking after her citizens with maternal solicitude. Her untiring kindness follows them wherever they may roam. Some laborers on Marquette docks once lived in the Flour City. The vigilant enumerators forwarded the schedules to Marquette and they have been duly filled out and returned. It can't be said of the Minneapolis census that it "Doesn't count."

If a full consideration of the census returns should confirm advance estimates and show Menominee to be the most populous city in the upper peninsula, it is to be hoped that the big lumber town will maintain its modest dignity and escape an attack of the "big head." The habitual good judgment of that community, however, is a guarantee that it will wear its recent honors proudly but not insolently.

ESTIMATES of the population of the great cities of the United States derived from the present census run as follows: New York, 1,637,000; Chicago, 1,086,000; Philadelphia, 1,040,000; Brooklyn, 806,000. The percentage of increase in the last ten years is: In New York, 35 per cent.; in Chicago, 112 per cent.; in Philadelphia, 22 per cent.; in Brooklyn, 42 per cent. Chicago has come to the front with a cyclone rush, but her jealous rivals assert that 55 per cent. of her increase was made by the addition of territory to the city.

MR. W. B. MOORE, cashier of the Peninsular Savings bank, Detroit, passed Sunday in Marquette. Mr. Moore will appear before the republican state convention of Michigan as a candidate for the state-treasurership. He is reputed to be a man of fine business ability and unquestionable honesty. Mr. Moore does not, apparently, come to the upper peninsula to canvass for votes, but simply to get acquainted with the people with the hope that our vote might turn his way during the vicissitudes of a convention. The opinion of the MINING JOURNAL is, though, that the upper peninsula delegations will be found standing by James M. Wilkinson with the same imperturbable and enduring firmness with which Wellington's infantry squares received the charges of Napoleon's heavy cavalry at Waterloo, and with the same victorious result.

THE FEDERAL ELECTION LAW.
And now the talk begins in the house of representatives in dead earnest. Speech on the silver bill was a breeze; on the tariff a gale; but on the federal election bill it will be a cyclone. The blow is aimed at a vital part of the democratic party. If it ever falls it will hit that antique and agnostic organization just "where it lives." The fervor with which a democratic member of congress argues against the McKinley bill is mostly worked up for the occasion. His oratorical indignation against anything in the silver line which falls short of unlimited coinage, is a matter of mechanical rhetoric. On these matters and those similar to them the democrats are simply "going through the motions" in their opposition.

But when it comes to the federal election bill, which proposes to introduce the innovation of a free ballot and a fair count in the south, there is no doubt about Bourbon sincerity. Now such a measure as this passes jest. There is nothing perfunctory about the resistance the democrats are making to its passage. They will fight it as the French fought at Waterloo. They are not drawing the sword for glory but for existence. "A free ballot and a fair count" in the south is probably an "iridescent dream," but if it develops into a reality the democratic party will become the memory of a spectral nightmare. But federal legislation may accomplish something in the way of reviving the suppressed republican vote in the south and in the endeavor to prevent such legislation the somewhat hoarse, incoherent eloquence of democracy will be heard in the capital for some days to come.

ORE AND COAL FREIGHTS.
The Cleveland Marine Review publishes the following:
Although the Ashland rate on ore has been on the verge of an advance from $1.20 to $1.25 for several days past, there is still little hope of any noticeable improvement in freights, as new disadvantages present themselves with every expectation of a rise in the market. The principal trouble just now with shippers who are in a position otherwise to take wild carriers, is in getting storage space at lower lake docks. The ore is moving to the furnaces very slowly and all shippers are somewhat pressed for room. Still the demand for Ashland tonnage exceeds supply offered from day to day, and it is certain that if the difficulty referred to was out of the way the movement of ore from Lake Superior would be largely increased. As an instance of the situation at the head of

Lake Superior, the following report from Ashland is quoted:
Rarely a day passes but the big Norrie is compelled to hoist ore and dump it in stock. Two reasons are given for this state of affairs. One is that there is a scarcity of tonnage at Ashland, and the other, which has prevailed throughout the season, is that the lake shore, which carries all the Norrie ore, cannot furnish enough cars: Not a single day has closed since the opening of the season on which the Norrie people could say they had more cars than they could load. Five or six enormous stock piles still remain practically untouched. This condition is especially true of the Norrie and two or three other mining companies, for which few freight contracts were made last fall. Boats offering for Escanaba and Marquette, find loads at $1.10 and 85 cents respectively, with no indications of a change.

Coal shippers are all pressed to get coal and it is predicted that many of them will fall short of supplies on which they had counted early in the season. This is the case of shippers who get their coal from the Pittsburgh district more so than Toledo shippers. A shortage of cars on the Pennsylvania lines and delays of one kind and another on the part of the miners are the causes. Still the supply of tonnage at present rates, based on 60 cents to Chicago and Milwaukee and 45 cents to the head of Lake Superior, is barely equal to the demand. Toledo shippers have been paying 50 cents to the head of Lake Superior. It is evident that all the coal that can possibly be obtained from the mines will be shipped, as there is an increased demand for Pittsburgh coal, and were it not for a shortage of miners and the other difficulties mentioned, it would be going forward much more rapidly than at present. Reports from Milwaukee say that nearly all of the coal being received there is going into consumption. The bituminous business has not been in better shape than at present for some years past. Shipments from Cleveland to Manitowish this season have been quite large. The coal is from the Columbus district and about 100,000 tons of it have been covered by a freight contract.

ESCANABA IN LINE.
The wise and well-considered utterances of that veteran republican journal, the Escanaba Iron Port, are weighty in the scale of upper peninsula politics. Its views upon the state treasurer question are comprehended in the following:
The Cadillac Express urges Dan McCoy as candidate for state treasurer, and demands the support of the U. P. republicans because of the support given by him to candidates for congressional honors, residents of the upper peninsula, when it and the ten counties of the lower constituted the old 9th district. Won't do, Powers. We paid that debt (if we owed anything) when we gave two terms in congress to Seth Moffat, and our man for treasurer was in the field before Dan. When the time comes to make the nomination you will see that you have but a choice between Moore of Detroit and Wilkinson of Marquette, and we trust that the old habit will control your action—that you will support the upper peninsula man. If Mr. McCoy wanted some other place on the ticket we might concede it, but we've filed on that particular subdivision for James M. Wilkinson.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:
TOLEDO, O., Jan., 10, 1887.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.
Yours Truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.

We will give $100 for any case that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

REMARKABLE RESCUE.
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottle of this Grand Discovery at H. H. Stafford's Drug store, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

Advantage of Farming.
Farming has its drawbacks, and the calling is not of the feather bed variety. Profits are small and work lasts a good many hours, and is hard while it lasts, but it is the lot of the great majority of the human race to work for a living; with most the struggle for existence is severe, and with some it is pitiful. That this struggle is made desperate sometimes by unequal conditions, unjust laws and dishonest practices of the rich and the strong, is also true; but all these combined cannot, in this quantity of opportunities, prevent an industrious and frugal man from gaining a livelihood and something more. He may not get the full reward of his industry, but he can make a living for his family and give them an education and a start in the world, in spite of all the drawbacks, unequal conditions and legal or illegal wrongs.—Field and Farm.

Hatching Fish.
According to a statement in The World of Science, upward of one million American white fish have been propagated from ova by Mr. John Burgess, at the Midland Counties' Fish Culture establishment, Malvern Wells, England, the ova having been sent by the United States fish commissioners with the object of assisting Mr. Burgess in his efforts to establish a valuable food fish. The ova were hatched out with a very low mortality, and the young fish are doing well.

DIDN'T LOOK AS IF HE'D LIE.
And Yet He Told a Tale of a Tin Pail That Was Remarkable Indeed.
He was sitting on the lower forward deck of one of the Staten Island rapid transit ferriboats. He was an old man, with a serious expression in his gray eyes, and his mouth above his snowy beard was thin and tightly closed. He did not look at all like a man who would joke upon any subject. He did not look like a man who would lie unless there was money to be made by so doing. Yet the following is a truthful account of what he said to an acquaintance who came and sat near him. There were several horses on the boat, and a few words concerning one of them gave the old man a chance to unburden his mind. This is how he did it:
"Yes, sir; talkin' of horses reminds me of suthin' that happened to me 't'her day when I was out ridin' with my little boy. We was in my buggy an' I was drivin' that old mare of mine. You know that old mare, I've had her now goin' on six year. Never was a kinder animal in harness than that mare. She ain't got no bad tricks an' she never led. My old woman has driv her ever since I got her, an' she never had no trouble 'o kind with her. Well, sir, I was drivin' her as I way a-sayin', with my little boy, last Thursday afternoon. Remember what a showery day it was last Thursday? Well, one of them showers come up when I was a-drivin', an' I put the mare into a trot to get to shelter so's the boy wouldn't get wet. 'Make her go faster, pop,' says my little boy, an' I hit her a lick with the whip to sort o' hurry her up. First thing you know she was goin' at a two-forty gait an' I lean back an' put the whip away. Jest then we ran over a tin bucket that was a-lyin' in the road an' somehow or other the handle of the bucket got caught 'round one of the spokes of the buggy wheel an' went a-circin' round with it."
"It made the darndest clatter I ever did hear, an' it liked to have scared the wits clean out o' that there mare. She jest laid back her ears, kin' o' snorted like, an' I humped herself for all she knowed how. Go! I never seed the like in my life. She jest whizzed along, an' every time that old tin bucket pounded the ground she humped herself along faster. You bet my little boy didn't tell me to drive no faster then. He was as scared as the mare. I took him between my knees an' held onto him tight. Well, sir, I don't know what wouldn't 'a happened if it hadn't been that the tin pail fetched loose from the wheel, an' went a whizzin' by my head toward the mare, an' I'll be gosh darned if it didn't hit her in the flank an' 'ketch onto her tail an' stick there. That's what it did. Then she did go. 'Dyever see any race horses a-comin' down the homestretch in a close heat? Well, they wasn't a circumstance to the way that mare o' mine run last Thursday. She got right down close to the ground an' skinned along the street like a lightning express on a down grade with all the brakes wide open."
"The tin bucket kept swingin' from side to side an' hittin' her on first one flank an' then the other, an' at every lick she went faster. I do reckon she was a-goin' most a mile a minute, when at last the bucket broke loose from her tail. Then I got a fresh hold on the lines an' sorter slackened her up, an' fore long she was a-trottin' just as nice an' easy as you please. It was the queerest thing that ever happened to me in all the years I've been a-drivin', an' I don't want nothin' like it to happen again. The next time I see a tin pail a-lyin' in the road you kin bet I'll give it the room it wants. Hello! here we are in the slip. I didn't think we was much past Govner's Island. I reckon we'd better be movin' to get off the boat."
And the old man shut his lips close to gether again and was lost in the crowd which was hastening to get uptown from the Battery. The man to whom he had been talking was standing stock still gazing after him and shaking his head slowly from side to side.—New York Sun.

Not the Same.
Into the store of a Boston stationer one day there came a man in the dress of a workman, who was evidently at once a foreigner and not overgifted with brilliancy of intellect.
He made up to one of the clerks, and with an air of hesitation, as if doubtful whether he had come to the right place, asked in broken English for some "overalls."
"Those you will find at the clothing store just down the street," the clerk said.
The customer looked puzzled.
"I did gone there," he said, "and did request them for envelopes, and here is it they do send me."
The clerk was quick enough to see where the trouble lay, and good natured enough to explain to the foreigner the difference between envelopes for letters and envelopes for the legs of laborers, and the man went back to the clothing store, where, no doubt, he found what he wanted.—Youth's Companion.

Punishment Accepted.
The Rev. William Dow, a good man and an able minister, having adopted certain doctrinal opinions which were thought to be heretical, was called to stand his trial before the general assembly of the Established church of Scotland. Being sure that he would be deposed from the ministry, he thus addressed his country congregation on the Sunday before he went to his trial: "You all know that to-morrow I leave this place to go to Edinburgh, and to stand my trial before the general assembly. The result I know will be that I shall be turned out of my parish, and that this is the last time I shall address you as your minister. This you all know."
"But there is one thing about myself which you do not know, but which I will tell you. When I first came here to be your minister I found difficulty in obtaining a house to live in. There was but one house in the parish I could have that was suitable, and that was inhabited by a poor widow."
"I went and offered a higher rent for her house than she paid. She was displeased, and I got the house. I put that poor woman out of her house then, and I hold it to be a righteous thing in God to put me out of my parish now."
"That minister may have been a 'heretic,' but he was a Christian with the manliness to confess his sin and take his punishment without whining.—Fourth's Companion.

A Broadway Episode.
Opposite the Western Union building on Broadway stands, day in and day out, a dark complexioned man whose business is to sell a patent garter for men. He wears knee breeches in order to show how the garter is adjusted. As he stands there on the sidewalk day after day the sight of his calves have become a tolerably familiar spectacle to the frequenters of lower Broadway.
Yesterday an old lady who had crossed over the Cortlandt street ferry came along and her attention was attracted to this unusual sight. The man stands on the inside of the walk, and the old lady, taking up her stand on the curb, stood looking at him for a time as if transfixed.
"For the land sakes!" she finally exclaimed, "if that don't beat anything I ever seed. I thought it was some kind of a scandalous sign at first, but may I be blest if it haint a livin' man!"
Going up to the garter man she shook her umbrella over his head and said:
"Young feller, take the advice of a woman old enough to be your mother, an' go home an' put on some decent clothes. If you'd cut up any of them monkey shins over in Hackensack you would get the blamed head knocked off you before you knowed what hit you!" and she passed up the street the awful incarnation of indignant womanhood.—New York World.

Books Read in the Farm House.
A fair idea of what books the people of New England most read and most delight in is afforded by a test made by The Springfield Homestead, an agricultural journal widely circulated in New England country towns. It requested its readers to send in a list of what they considered the ten "best" books, and a large number of replies were received. The different books voted for amounted to over a thousand. There were 146 different books receiving one vote apiece. The ten books which were on the greatest number of lists were as follows: "Ben Hur," by Gen. Wallace; "Ramona," by Helen Hunt Jackson; "David Copperfield," by Charles Dickens; "Ivanhoe," by Walter Scott; "Uncle Tom's Cabin," by Harriet Beecher Stowe; "Little Women," by Louisa M. Alcott; "John Halifax," by Dinah Mulock Craik; "Looking Backward," by Edward Bellamy; "Jane Eyre," by Charlotte Bronte, and "Adam Bede," by George Eliot.

Good Advice.
Joseph Joslin, Esq., of Poultney, Vt., gave his daughter, on her marriage, the following "words of wisdom," which will do for every pair:
Never talk at, but to, each other.
Never both manifest anger at the same time.
Never speak loudly or boisterously to each other.
Never reprove each other in the presence of others.
Never find fault or fret at what cannot be helped.
Never repeat an order or request, when understood.
Neglect everybody else rather than each other.
Never make a remark at the other's expense.—Indianapolis Ram's Horn.

Walking Stick Plantations.
Walking sticks are, to a great extent, imported into England from abroad. The number received from other countries reaches nearly 5,000,000 annually, with a combined value of about $25,000.
Commoner sticks, as those of beech, ash, thorn and hazel, are, to a great extent, grown in this country. In Gloucestershire, for instance, many acres are devoted to no other purpose than the raising of wood for the walking stick market.
A peculiar branch of this business is the importation of overgrown cabbage stalks from the Channel Islands, where cabbages are regularly trained with a view to being transformed into walking sticks by a process of stripping off each leaf as it appears, and finally drying and hardening the stems.—London Tit-Bits.

Some Odd Ideas of Crime.
Did you ever stop to think of the absurdity of this thing we call "crime against society"? Some one breaks into your house, steals your money, the savings of your years, and leaves you helpless. Or some one gets you to endorse his note, leaves you to pay it, and ruins you financially. This is called an offense against society, the man is dangerous and must be punished and restrained. He is sent to prison for twenty years—so as to give him ample time to repent—set to work, and the proceeds of his labor taken by society. Where are you? You are really the one against whom the offense was committed—you are the only sufferer. Why, then, do you care for his labor go to reimburse you?—Kansas City Times.

New Pattern of Boots.
Italian boot factories are manufacturing boots of a singular pattern. The heels and soles are not sewn on, but riveted to the uppers in such a way that if the heels are worn down on one side they can be taken off and turned round; worn soles can be removed in the same way and new ones put on. Nothing is needed now but an Italian invention for turning our trousers around so as to put the bags in the knees behind us.—Chatter.

Speaking Literally.
Goslin—Hello, old man! how are you? I haven't seen much of you lately.
Maddox—You have seen more of me than have of you.
"How do you make that out?"
"Well, I'm much bigger than you."—Harper's Bazar.

NEGAUNEE JOTTINGS.

Record of Business, Pleasure, Sport and Miscellany Within Our Neighbor's Gates.

A Brilliant Social Event.
By far the most enjoyable event of the season was the reception given by the Negaunee high school Alumni association to the class of '90 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winter last Friday evening. Almost every member of the association was present and the spacious rooms of the house were taxed almost to their utmost. The whole house had been placed at the disposal of the association, and the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Winter was unbounded. The fore part of the evening was spent in pleasant conversation, each one finding pleasure in reviewing their school experiences and renewing friendships that had been formed in the various classes that had gone forth from the high school. Later refreshments were served, the collation being a most excellent one, and to which full justice was done by all. Then toasts were in order, Prof. F. D. Davis being toastmaster. The following were the toasts and the names of those who responded: "The School Boy," Miss Mary E. Bradbury; "The School Girl," Miss Carrie E. Blakeslee; "The Class of '90," James C. Bale; "Our Public Schools," Captain Samuel Mitchell; "The Alumni Association," Hon. John Q. Adams. The toasts were responded to by each in a happy strain and in a manner that proved very enjoyable. Interspersed were vocal selections by Misses Delia Winter, May Anthony and Josie Gaffney, these forming a very pleasant part of the evening's entertainment. It was after midnight when the guests dispersed, all feeling that the evening spent had been one of the most pleasurable ones of the year.

An Exciting Foot Race.
The west end of Iron street was the scene Friday night of an exciting foot race, some of the participants being men whose fortunes would permit of their having carriage service so that they need never walk along the street, while some of the others would carry back down a scale that had a carrying capacity of but 250 pounds. Nevertheless the race came off and they got more fun out of it than a gang of crazy school boys could have had. Owing to the Owing to the fact that there is talk of some of these gentlemen being possible dark horses in some of the Fourth of July races the reporter forbears giving the names of the contestants.

Predictions for Us, Too.
Sergeant Dent, of the Marquette signal station, informs the reporter that beginning tomorrow he will make a forecast of the weather for Negaunee, as well as for Marquette and Ishpeming. The prediction will appear in this column every morning, and people will find that it will be of great value to them. Sergeant Dent does not set himself up as being infallible in making his forecasts but those who have followed his Marquette and Ishpeming predictions will find that he generally comes pretty close to the mark.

A special engine and coach, which had been hired by Edward Lobb, left here yesterday, having on board about twenty enthusiastic admirers of the Negaunee victorious base ball club, who wished to see the game at Hancock yesterday afternoon. The crowd got back last night about 9 o'clock last night bringing with them the base ball club.

Quite a number of young people spent Saturday evening at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. McKenzie, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of their son Claude M. Those present spent a very pleasant evening.

The last of the Negaunee Entertainment association series held at the opera house last Friday night and the lecture by Prof. Freeman proved to be highly enjoyable.

The new catalogues of the Negaunee public schools have been issued. The book is a handsome and complete one of nearly 60 pages, and it will be reviewed in this department in a few days.

Robert Penglase is stocking his store with new goods. He is now sole proprietor of the establishment and seems to be making a success of the business.

Yesterday was Children's Day and was observed in the churches by appropriate exercises.
There are no very large insects hovering around Negaunee's base ball club.
John R. David and wife, of Marquette, spent Saturday in Negaunee.
The English Oak band was out on the streets Saturday night.
There will be no formal observance of the "Fourth" here.
Fourth of July Excursions.
On July 3rd and 4th the Milwaukee & Northern railroad will sell tickets to and from all stations on their line, also Chicago, at one fare for the round trip, good returning until July 7th inclusive.

Notice to Contractors.

The undersigned will receive bids at his store in this city up to noon of Thursday, July 10th, for the erection of a two-story brick building to comprise three stores, the same to occupy the site of the Jackson House. The plans and specifications may be seen at my store in Negaunee.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Kamper complained of feeling unwell; her husband gave her a dose of what he said was laudanum and a pain extermiator remarking that "she would be better soon." In a short time the woman was seized with violent convulsion and two hours after taking the medicine she was dead. The funeral took place yesterday and after the service her brother made information against the husband for murder. The district attorney and the coroner went to the scene of the alleged murder today and gathered the testimony of several neighbors to the effect that Kamper treated his wife brutally that he had made threats that he would put her out of the way. Wet with "Mother's Tears."

There once was a woman who had a little son about 7 years old, who was so lovely and beautiful that no one could look upon him without being kind to him, and he was dearer to her than all the world beside. It happened that he suddenly fell ill and died, and his mother would not be comforted, but wept for him day and night. Shortly after he was buried he showed himself at night in the places where he had been used in his lifetime to sit and play, and when his mother wept he wept also, and when the morning came he departed. Since his mother never ceased weeping, the child came one night in the night, and in which he had him in his coffin, and with the chaplet upon his head, and seating himself at her feet upon the bed, he cried:

"Oh, mother, mother, give over crying, or else I cannot stop in my coffin, for I should never dry because of your tears, for they fall upon it."

When the mother heard this she was sore afraid, and wept no more. And the babe came upon another night, holding in his hand a little taper, and he said:

"Look, mother, my sorrow is now quite dry, and I can rest in my grave."

Then she bowed to the will of Providence and bore her sorrow with silence and patience, and the little child returned not again, but slept in his underground bed.—German Folk Lore.

You seem to forget, George, that I am a widow."

THE OLD ROAD. The old road that once led through what was the heart of the strip of forest land between the beach and the creek that runs westerly through Lewis is now just about under the crown of the advancing sand wave. Could the wave by any means be stopped in its course, so that the old road would be forgotten after a hundred or two of years, some savant in digging there would reach the old milestones, and mayhap a piece of old buggy wheel or tire, and would stop to marvel. What untold millions of years, he would say, must have elapsed since these milestones and that old buggy wheel were made!

At its extreme eastern end the great wave has entered upon the domain of and made a deal of trouble for Uncle Sam. Uncle Sam's lighthouse stood right in the path of the sand roller. There was a comely old fashioned two-story house beside the tall white tower that held the lamp, and on the weather side of the tower a house used for storing oil. Back (south) of the house was a garden. At first the spray from the wave served merely to annoy the housekeeper; it was carried on the wind and dashed against doors and windows. No kind of weather strip could keep that spray from seeping in through cracks and crevices, and covering furniture and carpets and even filling bureau drawers. That was bad enough, but the waves all the time advancing, and pretty soon drifts of sand for all the world like drifts of yellow snow began to accumulate at the house corners, and worse still, to spread across the garden and interfere seriously with the cabbages and sweet potatoes.

Then the wave itself arrived. Rising like a comb on the beach, it tumbled for a time above the oil house, and then over it tumbled and buried the little building out of sight. Then it gathered about the old home of the light keeper, and in time that, too, was covered as the oil house had been, while all trace of the garden had disappeared long before the burial of the oil house.—Lewes (Del.) Cor. New York Sun.

HENLOPEN'S SAND WAVE

A MIGHTY ROLLER THAT IS SWEEPING ACROSS THE CAPE.

Neither Marshes Nor Forests Have Been Able to Obstruct Its Course—Uncle Sam's Lighthouse Buildings Mainly Buried—A Frank of Wild Nature.

Without doubt one of the most interesting features of the Atlantic coast of the United States, and, in fact, one of the most interesting phenomena of the whole country, is the traveling hill of Cape Henlopen. A ridge of sand, more than a mile long, 50 feet high and 200 yards wide at the base, is rolling inland, like a mighty wave from the sea, and with a power that is irresistible. Formed at the water's edge, nobody knows certainly just when it began to move inland. Within the memory of men barely past middle age, it has traversed a space worth describing in detail.

In 1845, when Gen. Joe Johnson, as a government engineer, was engaged in surveying this part of the coast, he found on the north side of Cape Henlopen a great ridge of sand. It was in appearance like the ridges that divide the Green River valley of Long Island from the sea, save that it covered seventy-two feet above high water mark. It was a rugged ridge, with coarse grass growing over a few parts of its surface and a few gnarled and stunted pines on its southern or land side. Behind it was a salt marsh or vaucy, where the water was from an inch to two or three feet deep at the lowest ebb tide. Inland from the marsh, and indeed on low ridges in this marsh, was a great growth of pine trees. Half a mile back from the beach trees were found from two to ten feet in diameter, and tall in proportion to their age.

In making the survey, Engineer Johnson noted that whenever the wind came in from northward it picked up the sand on the weather side of that great ridge in such clouds that no one could travel along the ridge except when it was covered with a thick wet and even then only with great effort and much pain. It was like facing a blast from the desert of Sahara, and sometimes almost like facing a charge of bird shot.

DEALING DEATH TO THE FOREST. The sand I have spoken of by the wind was carried up over the brow of the hill, across the narrow plateau on the southern side, where the wind formed an eddy that could not support the weight of the sand. The wind was very thorough in its work, for it gathered the sand from the entire face of the ridge to carry over to the rear. Thus, with every northerly gale, inch after inch was cut away in front and carried back. Inch by inch the face of the ridge receded; inch by inch the rear face of the ridge advanced. The gnarled and stunted pines on the back surface disappeared under the waves of sand. The edge of the marsh was reached and covered. The little tree covered ridges were next buried out of sight. Then the great forest was reached. Where the trees stood thick and formed a solid wall of limbs and leaves the sand wave rolled up into a perpendicular wall before them, higher and higher, until level with the tree tops, and then curled over and broke on them as a wave of water might have done. Where the trees were far apart the sand flowed into and filled the opening. In one way or another it steadily advanced, and the people saw with wonder the forest buried before their eyes. The great trees, that seemed to be able in their strength to defy all that nature might bring against them, strove to put forth new branches above the rising tide, grew tall and straight, turned their green leaves to yellow, their yellow cones to gray and black, and died of suffocation.

As the years passed the receding wave began to uncover the old surface of the ground that had been buried. Old landmarks appeared. Even the little ridges themselves, with the old sand dead but easily recognized, appeared, and finally the wind scooped the sand out of the hollows of the marsh, and today the tide ebbs and flows there, and at low tide the water runs as deep as it was before the sand wave swept across the beach. The chief difference between the marsh as it used to be and as it is now being that there are now no ditches in it.

Then, strange to tell, a new growth of pines sprang up on the little old ridges and a new ridge of sand formed along shore where the old one had stood. The new ridge along shore is only a small one—perhaps twelve or fifteen feet above the water in places, but it is growing as the new trees behind it grow, and it may possibly start inland as the big one that preceded it did.

As the big sand wave continued its way the old forest that had been buried began to be uncovered again, so that now the stranger that traverses the ridge sees on one hand the living giants of the forest gasping in the last throes of death, and on the other the bleached and decaying skeletons of those that had succumbed. It is a picture that is at once desolate and depressing.

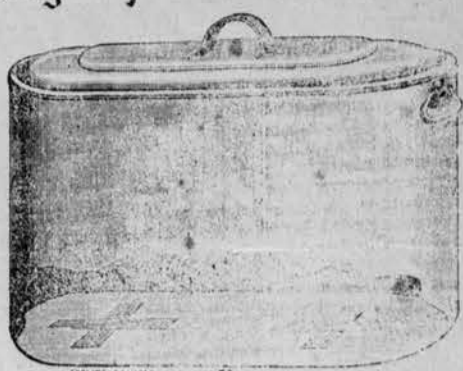

THE OLD ROAD. The old road that once led through what was the heart of the strip of forest land between the beach and the creek that runs westerly through Lewis is now just about under the crown of the advancing sand wave. Could the wave by any means be stopped in its course, so that the old road would be forgotten after a hundred or two of years, some savant in digging there would reach the old milestones, and mayhap a piece of old buggy wheel or tire, and would stop to marvel. What untold millions of years, he would say, must have elapsed since these milestones and that old buggy wheel were made!

At its extreme eastern end the great wave has entered upon the domain of and made a deal of trouble for Uncle Sam. Uncle Sam's lighthouse stood right in the path of the sand roller. HOODOO'S POWER IS BROKEN
Queen City Team at Last Plays Ball and Wins Exciting Contest With Ishpeming.
VICTORIOUS PLAYERS GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME ON THEIR RETURN.
Brass Band Plays and Crowd Shouts Applause.
The Mining Journal's "Devil" Celebrates the Triumph in Verse.
"Has the Mascot Come to Stay?"
The spell is broken!
Marquette has won a game!
After six straight defeats comes victory!
Victory earnestly desired and sweeter for delay!
Marquette has at length begun to play ball!
The power of the hoodoo is broken!
The cranks are all jubilant.
Hope has again revived!
Now for that pennant!
If our luck holds out!
The news of Marquette's victory at Ishpeming had spread all over the city by 6 o'clock. Fittingly to celebrate the occasion the Marquette City band was brought out and stationed in front of the Brunswick to await the victorious players. Over the balcony of the hotel hung a huge cartoon of a triumphant rooster and the street was crowded with people. The team was slow in coming, but at last the players appeared, Manager Sullivan at their head, dressed in a straw hat and a seven-year-old smile, not to mention other necessary articles of apparel. The crowd cheered lustily, the band played again and again, the cranks assembled around every man who had been up the road to talk over the game, and everybody was happy. Riley, the new third baseman, and Marker, the pitcher, seems to have earned special distinction, but every spectator agreed that all the boys had played well, barring a little looseness in the first inning. Carney hit down to short in the seventh. Kingsley fumbled the sphere and in consequence of his possible error in handling a pretty warm ball two runs came in. This put Marquette one in the lead and Ishpeming was never able to catch up. Other details will be found in the proper place, in the Ishpeming department.
The prize poet of the MINING JOURNAL, slug 0, otherwise known as "the devil," took advantage of the midnight lull to grind out upon the back of an old proof slip the following verses in celebration of the victory:
Let the brazen trumpets bray,
Let the ball cranks shout to-day -
Drive the hoodoo far away -
Marquette has won a game!
Dawn at last illumines our night,
Every heart with joy is light.
Kickers now are silenced quite;
Marquette has won a game!
Fast the foe embattled stood,
Players valiant, sluggers good,
Vain was all their hardihood;
Marquette has won the game.
Doubtful first the issue hung -
Carney then his war-club swung -
Two men scored - the walk-in rung -
"Marquette has won the game!"
Raged the fight three innings more;
Vain all efforts - still the score
Stood unchanged at five to four!
Here's to the players, one and all -
Into their names won't fall -
For our team at last "plays ball!"
Marquette has won a game.
Steals a question o'er Iron bay,
Voice of fear on triumph's day,
"Has the mascot come to stay?"
"Will Marquette win again?"
Hence, thou croaker, hence, away!
Words of hope befit this day!
Gather we roses while we may!
Marquette has won a game!
Given a Holiday.
Mr. H. C. Taylor, proprietor of the Lakeside Iron works, gave all his employees, machinists and foundrymen, a holiday on Saturday with full pay. About twenty of the men went to the Skandia societies' picnic at Meeske & Hoch's garden in a body, their employer accompanying them and joining heartily in the fun of the day. All spent a most enjoyable time and will work all the better for the brief vacation, knowing, as they did, that stoppage of work meant no loss of pay.
If more employers of labor thus took pains to establish friendly relations with their men there would be fewer strikes, lockouts and similar disturbances.
Returning Pilgrims.
The steamer India yesterday brought in quite a number of Marquette people and their friends as well as a contingent for interior towns. The Misses Towar returned, bringing with them their friend, Miss Bella Holland of Detroit. Miss Mabel Ball was accompanied by Miss Mina Prime who will visit here. Miss Carrie Chance of Urbana, O., came on a visit to Miss Bessie Hanscom. J. Everett Ball came home from the state university, where he has just been graduated from the law department. Mr. Mort Holland of Detroit came on a visit to the family of Judge Williams and Mr. E. A. Wetmore returned from wanderings in various parts of the country.
Two more of Marquette's collegiate delegation will be in by still to-day. Gordon Hall returns from Trinity, bringing with him his sister, Miss Edna, who has been east on a visit. Will Murray comes back from the state university, and is also accompanied by his sister, Miss Fanny. In a few days all of the Marquette young people will have come home for the summer.

Tiffany-De Haas Marriage.
 The Clinton (Ia.) Daily Age of June 19th has the following concerning the marriage of a well known resident of this city:
 At the Third avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Tiffany, Wednesday morning occurred a happy wedding, joining the lives of Mr. Nathan G. De Haas, of Marquette, Mich., to Miss Carrie A. Tiffany, daughter of the host and hostess. The impressive wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Dunn Barrrell, of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of relatives and invited guests. After a sumptuous wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. De Haas left for Michigan, followed by the kindest regards of many friends of the bride in Clinton where she spent the greater part of her life. The gifts of regard made to the gentleman and lady were many and useful, and only in a measure told of the esteem held for the bride's family in Clinton.

Chap Literature Doomed.
 There is a growing demand among the American people for the higher grades of literature and a corresponding decrease in the demand for the cheap and trashy novel. The sale of Gibbon's "Rome," Macaulay's "England," Bancroft's "U. S. History" belongs to this class and its remarkable sale of over 100,000 sets, only proves our statement. It fills a long needed want in the library of the intelligent American home. If you do not own it investigate its merits. 3 volumes, 1,210 illustrations, 2,500 large, 8x11 pages.
Wanted.

ISHPEMING'S CLASS OF '90.

Eleven Young Ladies Who Have Completed the High School Course of Study.

JOVE'S THUNDERBOLTS PLAY PECULIAR FRANKS NEAR HUMBOLDT.

Ore Shipping Temporarily Stopped at the Section Sixteen Mine of the Lake Superior Iron Company.

Commencement Exercises.

The commencement exercises of the class of '90 were held at the high school building on Friday afternoon of last week. There was a very satisfactory attendance of friends of the school and relatives of the graduates.

The class consisted of nine young ladies and two young gentlemen. It was the largest class yet graduated from the high school, and judging from the bright looks and interesting essays and speeches, the class is one that the school will be proud to number on its roster in years to come.

The exercises opened with a piano duet by Misses Bessie LaLonde and Annie Melby. A prayer was said by Rev. Mr. Jacobs, followed by a chorus by the school. Next came an essay on "Gems" by Miss Emma P. Scott, well written and well delivered. An essay on the "Statue of Liberty" by Miss Lucy Crowley contained some ennobling thoughts, well put in vigorous English. A vocal solo by Miss Edith M. Phillips came next. The balance of the exercises went according to program, and were as follows:

Essay—The Mission of Flowers.
Essay—Our Flag.
Chorus—
(a) From Yonder Vale and Hill. Donizetti
(b) Anvil Chorus.
Essay—The Four-Leaved Clovers of Life.
Oration—By Courage, Not by Craft.
Piano Solo—Midsummer Night's Dream.
Essay—Sunshine Land.
Essay—The Land of the Heather.
Chorus—
(a) Waken Lords and Ladies Gay.
(b) See the Moonlight Dancing.
Essay—Nature's Music.
Oration—By Courage, Not by Craft.
Vocal Duet—Barcarolle.
Valedictory—Birds of Flight.
Presentation of Diplomas.
Doxology

The graduating class consisted of Misses Bessie C. Wadsworth, Edith M. Phillips, Rose M. Taylor, Lucy A. Crowley, Ursula E. Ropes, Caroline Dennis, Emma H. Scott, Anna M. Bamford and Maggie Maher and Messrs. Fred E. Vickers and Charles Grabrowski.

The number assigned to each graduate were so well gone through with that it would be manifestly unfair to mention the effort of one, and keep silence as to that of the others. Suffice it to say that all graduates of the class of '90 "spoke their pieces"—and original and well-written pieces they were, too—in a most satisfactory manner. As Mr. Sedgwick remarked in the distribution of diplomas, they were well earned. May the class of '90 prosper according to the promise it has given, and may the succeeding classes do so well.

A Severe Storm.

The storm of Friday night was remarked in Ishpeming as being an unusually severe one, there being a remarkable precipitation of water in the half hour that it lasted, while there was more than the normal amount of thunder and lightning. In the copper district the storm was hardly noticed, while in the vicinity of Humboldt the storm was much more severe than in this city. In that vicinity the rain soon turned into hail, which came down with great violence for a quarter of an hour. Dr. Maas was returning from a visit to a patient at the American mine, when the hail began coming down. He hastily tied his horse to a telegraph pole and started for a deserted house near by. Before he reached the door a bolt of lightning struck the pole and killed the horse. The doctor made his way home on foot, but was thankful that he left the horse when he did.

A few miles west of Ishpeming the lightning played sad havoc with the telegraph and telephone poles. For a distance of several miles a quarter of the poles were either partially or totally wrecked, and many were splintered into hundreds of pieces. The wires were broken at a score or more of places, and the road was strewn with them. Although the lightning came very close, so far as known no house here was struck by it. The rain that came with the storm was of much benefit to growing crops, and assisted in lowering the uncomfortably high temperature that prevailed here last week.

Trouble at Section 16.

ISAPEMING, June 29.—There was a run of ground at the section 16 mine of the Lake Superior mine Thursday of last week which will have the effect of retarding operations there for a time. The Lake Angeline mine, which is a near neighbor of the section 16 property, has had more or less trouble from caving ground for several years past. It is very difficult to mine the ore and prevent the dirt running to the bottom in places. In the vicinity of the southern workings of the Lake Angeline and the section 16 mine of the Lake Superior company there are a number of cracks in the ground, and while a number of houses have been removed from this district on account of the instability of the earth's surface at that particular point, a number more must follow this summer, as there may be sinkings that would destroy the symmetry of any house standing there.

A new shaft is being sunk in section 16, some 275 feet west of the old one. Until this shaft reaches the ore, and communication is had with the old workings, or until it is certain that there is no danger to the men, the miners will not be put back at work, as there is but one shaft for egress, and in case this was blocked up by a run of ground the men would be in bad shape. Ore shipments from the mine will be retarded for some time, as active shipping will not be resumed till the mine is safe for miners to resume work.

Some women are "bothered to death" with corsets breaking. There is a "bone" that never breaks; it can't be broken—by wear. The only way it can be broken is by bending it back the other way—which is never done in wear. Don't believe it, perhaps? Very well. JUNE OUTPUT OF GOLD.

Some Figures About the Production of Precious Metals at the Ropes Mine This Month.

ONE NEW CHURCH ASSURED AND ANOTHER ALMOST CERTAIN.

Result of Another Sunday Game of Base Ball Played Yesterday on the Hematite City Grounds.

What the Ropes is Doing.
The production of gold and silver for the month of May by the Ropes mine was larger than in any previous month of its history. The product for June will be hardly as large as that of May, as matters now look, though it will not fall very much short.
A clean-up of the amalgam is made twice a month, on the 15th and last days of each month. The first clean-up is not a complete one, and as a consequence less bullion is always had from the first fifteen days' run than from the latter half of the month's work. In May the bullion product of the first fifteen days was a trifle over $1,800, while the bullion retorted from the amalgam taken from the plates on May 31st gave over $5,000 in gold and silver.
For the first fifteen days of June bullion amounting to over $2,600 was secured, showing a gain of $800 over the corresponding half month of May. At the clean-up to be made to-day it is not known how much amalgam has been secured, but it is thought that it will be considerably less than for the last two weeks of May, making the total gold production of June less than that of May by a few hundred dollars. These figures may not be verified, but they are probably about right. The concentrates secured this month will run about the same as in May—$2,500 in value. The June work will show a neat net profit.

The Huntington mill, which was received early in June, was not set in place and started running till Thursday of last week, owing to delays of various kinds. The mill is guaranteed by Fraser & Chalmers, who sold it to the Ropes Company, to perform the work of ten stamps and four vanners, and costs but half the amount the stamps and vanning machines would. The mill has been paid for, and will be run thirty days on trial at the Ropes mill. If it does the work guaranteed it will be retained, otherwise it will be shipped back to Chicago, and additional stamps taken in place of it. As the mill has been running but four days, no idea can yet be given of whether it will prove satisfactory or otherwise. Its makers are evidently very confident that it will do good work, as is shown by the terms on which it was sold to the Ropes company.
From the Michigan mine there is nothing new to report. At present some thirty men are at work there, but no power pills have been secured yet. An air compressor plant and power drills will be required to do economical mining work at the Michigan. They are now in use at the Ropes and at all of the iron mines of any prominence in the county.

Marquette's First Victory.
Marquette came to Ishpeming yesterday like the ox led to the slaughter. But the loser of six straight games surprised friends and foes alike by playing splendid ball and winning one of the best played contests of the season. Ishpeming made four runs in the first inning, and the game looked like the usual picnic which Marquette has hitherto extended to her base ball rivals. Ishpeming's athletic young hired men, however, made not another score in the remaining innings. Marquette pounded out enough runs to win. The feature of the game was the battery work on both sides. Marquette won the game through superior batting and the errors of Truby and Kingsley at second and short.

The Churches.
The Baptist congregation here has already leased a very desirable lot of the Lake Superior Iron Company, and will put up a substantial church next season. It was at first intended to build this year, but it was thought advisable to wait till next season, and accumulate a large fund for building purposes.
The present Presbyterian church is over-crowded. Under the able ministrations of the Rev. C. D. Jacobs the church has thrived wonderfully, and now has a membership double that of a few years ago. There is serious talk of erecting a new church on some other site than the one now occupied. If a church is built it will be of brown stone, and will be put up at a cost of $25,000 to $30,000. There are already three churches on Division street, and the Baptist church will be built there next spring. Why not put the new Presby-

A Sunday base ball game at the driving park brings out a large attendance. The league game yesterday afternoon between the Negaunee and Hancock's was witnessed by an immense crowd all the base ball sports were interested to see how the Hancock would handle the club that had downed the Houghtons and Calumets. The visitors met their only defeat of the series. Score: Hancock, 16; Negaunee, 11.

The monthly meeting of the Building & Loan association will be held at the Peninsula bank to-morrow evening.

Tickets for the entertainment of the Fisk Jubilee singers, to be given at the City Opera House on the evening of July 11th can be secured at Tillson's.
Zenith division of the uniform rank Knights of Pythias will turn out for a public drill this evening. All members who can possibly attend are requested to meet at the armory at 7:30 p. m.

There may be not set celebration of Independence day, but there will be just as many burned clothes and scared horses on the coming Fourth as on any of its predecessors.
The usual crowd of beggars and hand organ grinders has made its appearance here. Don't encourage the rascally, lazy beggars, whether male or female, by the gift of even a penny. They are frauds, almost without exception.
Mr. Samuel F. Miller, who has been appointed traveling freight agent of the Northwestern line for this section, was in town Saturday, and will establish himself and family in Ishpeming as soon as he can secure a house for residence.

CATARH.
Catarrh Deafness—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.
Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tube. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.
N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment, but has been discovered by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp to pay postage, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.
BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by H. H. Staff and Son.

Habitual Costiveness causes derangement of the entire system, and begets diseases that are hazardous to life. Persons of costive habit are subject to Headache, Defective Memory, Gloomy Forebodings, Nervousness, Fevers, Drowsiness, Irritable Temper and other symptoms, which unfit the sufferer for business or agreeable associations. Regular habit of body alone can correct these evils, and nothing succeeds so well in achieving this condition as Tutt's Pills. By their use not only is the system renovated, but as a consequence of the harmonious changes thus created, there pervades a feeling of satisfaction; the mental faculties perform their functions with vivacity, and there is an exhilaration of mind and body, and perfect health is established. Beware of cheap imitations.

Tutt's Liver Pills

Gardner, hardware merchant same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at H. H. Stafford & Son's Drugstore."

FOR THE PEOPLE'S BENEFIT

Marquette County Savings Bank Organized and Will be Ready for Business on August 1st.

INCORPORATORS WELL KNOWN AND FINANCIAL BACKING STRONG.

Small Depositors at Last Given Chance to Invest Earnings Safely—Details of Plan. General Queen City News.

A Savings Bank for Marquette.

That there is not a savings bank in Marquette has long been commented on curiously by observant visitors, who have regarded it as singular that a place whose population is so largely made up of workmen should have no banking institution specially devoted to caring for the surplus earnings of that class of our people. The two banking institutions now doing business here meet the demand growing out of the extensive and rapidly expanding commercial interests of the city fairly well, but there is (and long has been) a field here for a savings bank that no other banking concern could quite fill. The MINING JOURNAL is this morning able to announce that, through the enterprise and public spirit of a few of our citizens, this reproach is at last to be lifted from Marquette, and that, within a month at the farthest, a savings bank with a strong management and backed by ample capital will be in full operation here.

The new bank will be known as the Marquette County Savings Bank, and will occupy the room in the Manhard block in which the store of Gooding & Ormsby is now located. The latter firm will move out about the middle of July, when the work of remodeling the room to fit it for banking purposes will be at once begun. A vault will be built through from the basement to the upper floor, and other changes made that will transform the present store room into a model banking room. The work of furnishing and refitting the place for the uses of the bank will be pushed vigorously, and the management expects to be ready to embark in business by the first of August at the very latest.

The incorporators of the new bank are C. H. Call, W. F. Fitch, N. M. Kaufman, W. P. Healy, Mary Breitung and S. R. Kaufman, of Marquette, and Samuel Mitchell, of Negaunee, and M. W. O'Brien, of Detroit. The incorporators, with the exception of Mr. S. R. Kaufman, constitute the directory. The capital stock is $50,000 and is all paid in. Mr. C. H. Call is president of the bank and Mr. N. M. Kaufman, vice-president. A cashier who is thoroughly familiar with the savings bank business will be secured, but Mr. Call will have immediate control over and supervision of the bank's affairs, a trust for which his previous banking experience and well-known business capacity admirably qualify him. With such a management, and with the financial standing that the incorporators will give it at the outset, the new bank is certain to at once enjoy the entire confidence of the public, and to secure a volume of business that a concern less fortunately circumstanced in that respect would be a long time in winning.

In this connection it is proper to say that the management will have in Mr. O'Brien, of Detroit, a most valuable associate and counselor, that gentleman ranking as one of the ablest financiers in the state. Mr. O'Brien is president of the People's Savings bank, of Detroit, whose deposits amount to $6,000,000, and which does a larger banking business than any other bank in Michigan. He is a man of large means, with a special aptitude for conducting financial undertakings, and has made the savings bank business a profound study for years. His connection with the new bank at this place is the best possible assurance to the public that it will know no such word as failure, for it will have the advantage of the best management from the start, in addition to abundant resources. Mr. Call will start for Detroit and Lansing to-day to purchase furniture, etc., for the new concern, and file the articles of incorporation with the commissioner of banking at the state capital, the organization of the company having been entirely perfected.

The announcement here made will be a surprise to the bulk of the MINING JOURNAL's readers, as the promoters of the venture have kept their own counsel closely, and allowed no one to even suspect what they had in view until all the stock was subscribed and paid in, and the company fully organized under the laws of the state. No time was lost after the project was decided on, and it is probable that no enterprise of equal magnitude was ever before organized so quietly and quickly in Marquette. Those who had it in hand are accustomed to transactions of more than ordinary magnitude, and to acting promptly when there is something to be accomplished, and it is not too much to expect that they will very soon make the Marquette County Savings Bank one of the leading financial institutions in this part of Michigan.

The MINING JOURNAL regards the establishment of this bank here as a benefit to the city of no small magnitude, as it provides a place of safe deposit for small earnings where the depositors will get something for the use of their money, in addition to having it securely placed and subject to call when they may happen to need it. A savings bank is essentially a poor man's bank. It aims to collect the earnings of the wage-earning class and to employ them in the useful work of accommodating small borrowers, rendering valuable service to its patrons and the public in both capacities. Deposits as low as one dollar will be received. Under the laws of the state, minors can deposit their earnings in a savings bank, and check them out, this provision of the law being designed to promote a habit of thrift in the young, as well as to protect them from the rapacity of selfish parents and guardians. A very large proportion of the deposits in these banks in the great cities of the country comes from this class, orphans and neglected children who have to make their own way in life finding the savings bank a reliable and serviceable ally; and protector, and quickly learning to make use of it. There are "children of larger growth," also, who need just such an institution to care for their little earnings, and to all these, as well as to the working people of this county generally, the Marquette County Savings Bank will be a convenience and a blessing. In another way, also, it will be a useful agency in promoting the growth and prosperity of the town. It will collect in small amounts money that will foot up largely in the aggregate, and which would not otherwise become available for borrowers, and this money will be within the reach of persons who desire to build homes and are able to give good security for the loans that they wish to make. The value that the new bank will be to the city in this regard is hardly to be estimated, as it is sure to become a means of applying the earnings of one portion of our working people to the accommodation of others who need just the kind of assistance that it will be in a position to give them.

Closed Its Work.

The upper peninsula conference of the Young Men's Christian Association closed its labors with a very largely attended general meeting in the Presbyterian church last evening. Secretary L. F. Newman of Detroit spoke upon "The Interest of the Young Men's Christian Association to the Business Man." The association tended to keep young men in paths of rectitude and honor and hence leading business men all over the land were among its chief supporters. Among a number of others General Alger and Senator McMillan were instanced. G. F. Grand of Sault Ste. Marie spoke of "The Interest of Woman in the Young Men's Christian Association," citing many examples of helpful work. Brief remarks were made by a number of other speakers. The meeting was conducted by State Secretary H. M. Clark.

The meeting for men only yesterday afternoon was held at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Secretary Newman of Detroit made a straightforward and impressive address to an audience that filled the room. In the morning Rev. J. M. Barkley of Detroit preached at the Baptist church, and Secretary Newman filled Rev. Mr. Pillsbury's pulpit. Both had large congregations.

At the three sessions of Saturday the program published in the MINING JOURNAL was fully carried out.

Following is the list of delegates present at the conference from the various cities:

- Sault Ste. Marie—J. W. Sutton, G. F. Grand, Charles Anderson, R. N. Adams, W. A. Lipset, Simon Parker.
- Calumet—David Paull, C. W. Niles, M. D.
- Escanaba—Rev. C. C. Turner, J. E. Lebr, Rev. Owen Jones.
- Gladstone—Rev. Philip Price.
- Hancock—Rev. Isaac Wilcox, Rev. Geo. Y. Washburn, C. A. Stringer.
- Houghton—O. H. Shafer.
- Iron Mountain—E. Everett.
- Lake Linden—Fred C. Goggin, Jr., Ed S. Stringer, E. F. Sutton.

State Secretary H. M. Clarke, Rev. J. M. Barkley and General Secretary L. F. Newman, of Detroit, with the assistance of General Secretary G. F. Grand and Chairman J. W. Sutton, of Sault Ste. Marie, and the officers of the local association made the conference exceedingly interesting and profitable to the visitors from the other parts of the upper peninsula. All the delegates and visitors expressed themselves as much gratified by the success of the conference and gave utterance to a belief that association work in this region would receive a great impetus from this cordial interchange of ideas.

Prof. B. A. HINSDALE of Michigan university says: "I have examined Ridpath's 'History of the World.' The three solid volumes contain a vast mass of information concerning the whole sweep of history in a very convenient and acceptable form. The author's learning is ample, his arrangement of material good, his style strong and flowing, carrying the reader on with the strength of a tide."
