STRUBLE SLOPS OVER.

The Ohio Congressman Registers a Terrific Kick Against the "Czar" of the House.

REED'S STAND ON PUBLIC BUILDING BILLS CAUSES THE "REVOLT."

Democrats Get a Bushel of Fan Out of the Bolt—The Tariff "Discussion" in the Senate Continued.

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—In speaking to one of the senate amendments to the sundry civil bill, this afternoon, Mr. Struble, of Iowa, made a bitter attack upon Speaker Reed for his action towards gentlemen having interest in public building bills. He contrasted the courteous manner of Speaker Carlisle towards all gentlemen requesting recognition, with the almost sneering manner in which the present speaker treated such requests. The speaker treated such requests. The speaker treated such requests. The speaker treated such requests.

AS THOUGH THEY WERE BOYS.

He did not intend to stand this sort of treatment any longer without a protest. Should the members, he asked, continue to submit longer like cowards to the dictation of the speaker? Should they not rather combine together in an honest attempt to have recognition? He was for rebellion against the ruling of the speaker in regard to public building bills. Mr. Struble's remarks were vigorously applauded by the democrats.

Mr. Cannon thought that the gentleman from Iowa had better withheld his attack upon the speaker. He (Mr. Cannon) did not feel called upon to defend the speaker. The speaker needed no defense at his hands. [Republican applause.] The country had approved the action of the speaker and the action of the republican side of the house.

Mr. Peters (Kas.) defended the speaker's action, contending that it was in line with the action of former speakers.

Mr. Struble said the statement that the members with public building bills had not been fairly treated was a fact that he alleged before the house and before the country. He agreed that the work of this house during this session had been a grand work. He would go from this hall and argue that this house had done a grand work and had passed many bills for which it was entitled to the gratitude of the country; but that did not deter him from protesting against

THE INDIGNITY PUT UPON HIM and other members. During the last administration bills were approved for public buildings in the south in places of 7,000 inhabitants; and yet the Sioux City bill had been vetoed. That was passed and gone now; but, as he had said before, the speaker of the last house had never failed to give courteous treatment to members on the republican side. [Democratic applause.]

If a few members on the republican side of the house had received courteous treatment, he and many others had not and he did not hesitate to say so.

Mr. McClammy (N. C.), in a one minute speech, expressed his pleasure at being in company with his distinguished brethren, Messrs. Struble, Ewart and Coleman. This was a fateful day, and he was glad to enter the lists. This was a time when you could speak with your mouth open. [Laughter.] One month ago he would have been glad to have shaken hands across the aisle with Brother Struble. [Laughter.] But this was no time for regret. He was glad to know that the occasion had arrived when the gentleman had the courage of his convictions. [Renewed laughter, which broke out louder when Mr. McClammy alluded to Mr. Struble's failure to secure renomination by speaking of the beautiful tones of the dying swan.]

An amendment which gave rise to discussion was that appropriating $800,000 for the purchase of a suitable site for a building for the supreme court. In speaking of this amendment Mr. Caruth (Ky.) regretted that the gentleman from Iowa (Mr. Struble) had made an attack upon the speaker, because the attack should have come from the democratic side. The speaker to-day was the Alexander Selkirk of American politics. [Laughter.] The speaker could say:

"I am monarch of all I survey; My right there is none to dispute; From the center right down to the sea I am lord of the fowl and the brute."

He thought that there was some consolation in what the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. McClammy) had to say to the gentleman from Iowa on this funeral occasion about the dying song of the swan. The speaker might exclaim that swans sang before they died; but that certain persons died before they sang. [Laughter.] He was opposed to a building for the supreme court. The house had just refused to furnish a new building for the government printing office to preserve the utterances of the immortal and distinguished men who sat upon this floor.

Why should more be done for the supreme court? First provide for the members; give them a decent place where they could revise their proofs; give them a place where they could go and bury their remarks in the Congressional Records; and then the house could attend to the supreme court if it had not already attended to it, in the passage of the original package bill. [Laughter.]

The amendment was non-concurred in. The committee having concluded the consideration of all other amendments, returned to the consideration of the irrigation amendment, which had been passed over temporarily. It was agreed that the debate on this amendment should be limited to four hours; and the committee then rose and the house adjourned.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The senate met at 11 A. M. After the call of the roll in order to procure the attendance of a quorum, Mr. Morgan presented resolutions adopted at a public meeting of republicans in Birmingham, Ala., against the passage of the election bill. Mr. Sawyer, from the postoffice committee, reported back the senate bill to establish a limited postal and telegraph service and it was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Sherman offered a resolution, which went over till to-morrow, for the daily meeting of the senate at 10 A. M. Mr. Ingalls introduced a bill to establish a department of communication and said that it was prepared by and introduced at the request of the Wage Workers Alliance. The tariff bill was then taken up, the pending question being on Mr. McPherson's amendment offered yesterday to reduce the duty on acetic or pyrologeneous acid not exceeding the specific gravity of 1.47-1.000 from 15 cents to 1 cent per pound; and ceding that gravity from 4 to 3 c. per lb. The amendment was rejected by a party vote.

The clerk proceeded with the reading of the bill, but had only got through twenty lines when he was stopped by Mr. McPherson with the remark that he was moving a little to hastily. He (Mr. McPherson) had something to say about the first line, fixing a duty on boracic acid at 5 cts. per pound. He moved to reduce the rate; but the motion was rejected.

Mr. Jones (Ark.) addressed the senate in opposition to the bill, which he characterized as the most radical and extreme measure of protection ever presented. It was a practical declaration that the war tariff was never to be reduced; but that exorbitant taxes were to be permanent. It was a declaration of war against foreign commerce. Old Sam Johnson had once defined "Protection" as the "last refuge of scoundrels" and in view of the pending bill and of the reasons assigned for it, he (Mr. Jones) was compelled to admit the wisdom and sagacity of that old philosopher. He imagined that some such spectacle as was presented in connection with the pending bill had caused that outburst on the part of the sturdy and plain-spoken old Englishman. Quoting from the Bible he said: "Verily, there is a generation

WHOSE TEETH ARE AS SWORDS and their jaw teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the face of the earth and the needy from among men." Referring to the Farmers' Alliance, he declared that that man read the signs of the times amiss who believed that the old policy was to continue much longer. He firmly believed the present period of protection gone mad would inaugurate a movement that would in its effects and consequences surpass previous upheavals of the kind. The protective system would be crushed and cast out as an utter abomination. Coming to the question of

A BOUNTY ON SUGAR, Mr. Jones asked why not protect the wheat grower by a bounty as well as the sugar grower. If the government had the right to pay a bounty to the sugar grower because the cultivation of sugar was not profitable, why should it not pay a bounty to the wheat grower? He asked if the government did not pay Corn Yards did not pay. No agricultural employment paid. The proposition to take the duty off raw sugar and to pay a bounty on American grown sugar simply meant "Sugar free for the refineries; sugar free for the sugar trust; sugar taxed for all who consume it for food." In conclusion Mr. Jones stated that the issue was upon the American people. If they were

CAPABLE OF SELF-GOVERNMENT they would prevail; if not, it mattered not what happened. But he believed that the spirit which shook off the yoke of the mother country a century ago, which humbled her pride in 1812, and which planted the stars and stripes over the hills of the Montezumas in 1847 could be trusted to set its foot on the neck of the conspirators and preserve to future generations this great country as the land of "the free and the home of the brave."

The next line of the bill having been read by the clerk, "chromic acid, 6 cents per pound," Mr. McPherson moved to amend by substituting the existing duty of 15 per cent ad valorem.

Mr. Gorman said that the democratic side wanted a free discussion of the bill and nothing more. They wanted it considered intelligently; but the republican senators wanted to rush it through the senate at railroad speed. He warned the senator from Rhode Island (Mr. Aldrich) that he would expedite the passage of the bill by frank and honest statements of what was contained in it.

Mr. Aldrich said that in 1888 the tariff had been discussed in every field and workshop and on every hustings and that there was no occasion for any man to plead ignorance of what that question meant, or of the provisions of a bill which had been before the senate and country for three years. The country understood that the talk about explanations and the attempt to drive republican senators to make stump speeches for political effect was simply to delay action on the tariff bill, which delay was destructive to every business interest. But notwithstanding the senator's (Mr. Gorman) taunts, the senators on the republican side of the chamber would not be led, so far as he (Mr. Aldrich) could control them, into that kind of general debate on the bill.

Mr. Gorman reminded the republican side of the chamber of Mr. Plumb's statement that that party was in danger and was warned that it would have to increase taxation within eighteen months. He also referred to Mr. Blaine as the one man who, in two years, had been able to bring the republican party into line, as the only man who, while abroad, had the courage and ability to write an answer to President Cleveland's tariff measure that gave to the drooping republicans hope and aid in final victory; and he said that Mr. Blaine had, through the senators from Maine, told republican senators that if they passed the bill as reported, they would not only destroy the possibility of increasing trade with the countries south of the United States, but would bankrupt the treasury in eighteen months—for that was the meaning of it.

Mr. Hiscock denied the general charge that the republican success at the last election was the result of the influence of manufacturers or monopolists; and he asserted that in the state of New York wherever democratic majorities were rolled up the steps of the whisky interest could be marked. The saloon and the tipping shop had been the recruiting station of the democratic party. It was not in the great manufacturing centers of New York state that the largest republican majorities were rolled up, but in the agricultural portions of the state, while the criminal population of the cities were natural ALLIES and CONSTITUENTS of the democratic party. In reference to a statement as to the refusal of the finance committee to give hearings to the persons interested, Mr. Hiscock said that it had refused to give hearings to the representatives of the manufacturers of Germany, France, England and Belgium. The places to which he heard was where the democratic members of that committee were in conference. He did not know how much money had been contributed to the democratic election fund by those interests, but he knew that every day that the tariff bill was delayed was largely to the profit of the foreign manufacturers. They were interested in its defeat.

Mr. Voorhees congratulated Mr. Gorman on his great victory in breaking the pre-determined silence on the republican side of the chamber. As to the speech of the senator from New York which had been extorted under the lash, it was the same old trade of dummy and abuse against the democratic party. If that was all there was of it, he (Mr. Voorhees) would let it go. But it seemed that there was no one to speak fairly for the great democratic party of New York. He arraigned the senator for his slander of that city—simply because it was opposed to him politically. The senator had spoken of the vice and crime and intemperance of the city of New York; but he (Mr. Voorhees) asserted that

THE VERY GIRLBAR of the republican party in that city, the only district in which it had increased its majority of late, was the Eighth assembly district, where John O'Brien had been leading the worst elements of society, and where immorality, vice and crime of all descriptions were so life that a man's life was not safe there after sundown. The senator (Mr. Hiscock) owed an apology to the great metropolis on Manhattan Island. He had heard much stigma attempted to be cast on New York before, but it ill became one of her sons to retail that old-time slander in the senate.

After further debate the bill was laid aside and the senate after a short executive session adjourned.

SAME OLD GAME, FRESH VICTIMS.

"Baron" Von Katscher Works His Little Bogus Check Backet in the East. MIDDLESBORO, Ky., July 28.—B. Von Katscher, the bogus Australian baron, after playing successfully the bogus check business in Louisville, Cincinnati and Chicago to the extent of nearly four thousand dollars, is now playing for bigger game in the large eastern cities. Two checks amounting to nearly a thousand dollars were returned to this city to-day to be protested, one signed by him in New York and the other in Baltimore. The Manufacturers Record of the latter place being the last victim. A description of the man might save many an innocent person from falling into the clutches of this unscrupulous deceiver.

Von Katscher is an Australian by birth, of dark complexion, black eyes, hair and mustache, the hair of the head being black and thick and coming down low over the forehead. He has a short pug nose and a large protruding underlip. He is repulsive looking, coarse and common in appearance, and speaks the English language with a broad accent, something between that of a German Jew and a Frenchman. In height he is above five feet five and his weight is close to one hundred and fifty pounds. He has heavy, bushy, black eyebrows and a thick black, mustache to match. There are now several warrants for his arrest and it is strange that the police have not yet caught him.

AN INCENDIARY FIRE.

CALE, Ind., July 29.—Incendiaries set fire to the residence of the Rev. David Plumb early this morning and destroyed it. Mr. Plumb was fatally burned and his wife and three children perished in the flames. Mr. Plumb is a prominent Methodist minister.

Held to the Grand Jury.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—United States Commissioner Morey this morning announced his decision in the case of Enumerator Lewis Hegman, charged with not returning his census schedules. He was held to the grand jury. In the case against Stevens and Dicker it was announced that the defense waived examination to the grand jury. All the defendants were held in $2,000 bonds.

They Own the Town.

WEST STURTON, July 29.—The Wisconsin editors own the town to-day. They are here three hundred strong, counting wives and some daughters. A brief business meeting was held this morning at the West Superior Hotel, but the board adjourned to meet and transact business on the steamer Barker during the excursion on Lake Superior to-night. At the opera house Mayor Pattison will deliver an address of welcome.

Entered as mail matter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

THE fish editor of the Ironwood Interstate News-Record relates with all the gravity in the world, that two men of that burg went out and caught 593 trout at one fell catch. When such things can be, alas for the poor, suffering when the News-Record snake editor takes his pen in hand.

CHICAGO seems about to divide the World's Fair, putting one portion on the lake front and another at Jackson Park with a distance of five or six miles between. This is disappointing. It would never have been believed of Chicago. It is unsatisfactory in the extreme and the Windy City never could have procured the great exposition if there had been a suspicion that such would have been her course.

CASTING its weather eye to the north-west and studying for a moment the political skies of Copperdom, the MINING JOURNAL perceives that Senator Thomas B. Dunstan will not be a candidate for any office this fall, unless all signs fail, but will maintain the proud and independent position of a private citizen.

THE Michigan delegation in congress may occupy a high plane of influence. This did not prevent the house, though, from striking out of the sundry civil bill appropriations of $37,000 for the Jackson public building, $60,000 for a light station off Point Peninsula and $75,000 for a steam tender for the Ninth and Eleventh lighthouse districts. This occurred Saturday and the protests of the solid Michigan phalanx was regarded with icy indifference by their colleagues. What is the matter with Michigan?

A DEMOCRATIC DELUSION.
Before the eyes of our esteemed Bourbon contemporary, the Menominee Democrat, there constantly arise the radiant air-castles of hope. Regardless of the sharp lessons of experience that journal continues to pursue o'er treacherous morasses of democratic principles the flitting ignis fatuus of success. For years these people have cried out that they could win in the upper peninsula if it were not for the precocious system of intimidation pursued by great mining and lumbering corporations through the medium of their superintendents and bosses. The adoption of a method of voting approaching the Australian system has fanned into a glow the expiring embers of democratic ambition. Thus speaks the Democrat:

It is barely possible, however, that after the next campaign and after the new system of voting keeps the big mine and mill owners from heading their employees to the hustings like cattle into a kraal that the MINING JOURNAL'S figures and proportions may be like the times that are then likely to obtain—slightly out of joint.

When the votes are counted next November and the ballots show up the loyalty of the upper peninsula in the usual majority, our friends the democrats will have been bereft of their last excuse and will stand dumb and downcast, exposed to the derision of triumphant republicanism.

MICHIGAN MILITIA.
The campaign of the Michigan militia at Battle Creek has been attended with more excitement, incident and casualties than usually attend these holiday wars. One soldier was drowned, several were licked, many were scared and all were drummed out at dead of night for the purpose of preserving the peace from the rude hands of the toughs of Battle Creek.

But our citizen warriors are the basis of the armies which will spring up to the defense of the flag in times of peril. They are not at all of the stripe of the irregular soldiery of two hundred years ago, who are so scathingly described by the greatest satirist of modern times: "The country rings around with loud alarms
And raw in fields the rude militia swarms,
Mouths without hands maintained at vast expense;
In peace a charge, in war a weak defense.
This was the morn, when issuing on the march,
In rank and file they stood prepared,
Of seeming arms to make a short essay,
Then hasten to get drunk—the business of the day."

WAYNE COUNTY AND WILKINSON.
THE MINING JOURNAL has all along taken the view that the claims of the upper peninsula branch of the republican party of Michigan were too strong to be ignored and that the lower Michigan contingent would not be guilty of the political blunder of attempting to put us off with a mess of pottage. The firm countenance of the upper peninsula press has had its effect and the tone of newspapers below shows that they recognize the salient points of the situation in this regard. The Detroit News has been feeling the pulse of the Wayne county republicans and makes a diagnosis of the case as follows:
They think that Wayne county will not be conceded two important places on the ticket. When it comes to the nomination of lieutenant governor, which has come to be looked upon as a sufficient sop for the upper peninsula, Dickerson's name will be urged, and, as there is no rush of applicants for this place, they feel confident of his nomination. When state treasurer is reached on the slate, the upper peninsula delegates, a unit for Wilkinson, of Marquette, will be in a position to talk turkey. As the saviors of Michigan to the republicans in at least two important campaigns, they will demand recognition, and the state will be in no condition to refuse them. The ominous rumblings of dissatisfaction with the present administration and the obnoxious legislation sought by republican leaders in congress have forced a conviction that only the wisest action in convention can give hope of success at this election.

The upper peninsula is a stronghold that must not be antagonized and only the reasonable demand that it makes, say the republicans who figure in this scheme, must be conceded. They profess to have found the way of best serving the party, and at the same time thwarting the ambition of Mr. Moore. Mr. Wilkinson is assured of some staunch support, and Mr. Moore will figure accordingly.

There is more Catarrh in the section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies and by constantly trying to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby Catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

CATARRAH.

Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.
Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby Catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp to post office, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.
THE NEW DISCOVERY.
You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after finds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold, or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed everything or money refunded.

The World's Fair.
The excitement caused by this great event is scarcely equalled by that produced by the great discovery of Dr. Miles—the Restorative Nervine. It speedily cures nervous prostration, change of life, pain, dullness and confusion in head, fits, sleeplessness, the blues, neuralgia, palpitation, monthly pains, etc. C. W. Snow & Co., of Syracuse, N. Y.; Talbot and Moses, of Greenolite, Ind., and A. W. Blackburn, Wooster, O., say that "The Nervine sells better than anything we ever sold, and gives universal satisfaction." It is guaranteed everything or money refunded. Trial bottle free at H. H. Stafford & Son's Drugstore.

Ask Your Friends About It.
Your distressing cough can be cured. We know it because Kemp's Balsam within the past few years has cured so many coughs and colds in this community. WALKING A TRACK FOR A LIVING.

It's a Useful Though Not a Pleasant Occupation, as Many Men Know.

Some of the old railroad track walkers can boast of records equal to that of locomotives in the point of miles which they have covered. Engineers sometimes claim that they have ridden 200,000 miles or so, but the men who have walked that far are not often heard of. Still there are plenty of them in the branch of the railroad service of which the "track walker" belongs. They are the safeguard of travel which the public knows least about. They prevent hundreds of accidents, but their good deeds are rarely, if ever, rewarded, as is the case with the faithful engineer or flagman. And it is a peculiar fact that there is no line of protection, consequently no great incentive to careful work.

A reporter got some ideas about their duties from Thomas Sesnan, now foreman of a section of trackmen in the yard of the Grand Central station. Sesnan has been employed on the track work of the Harlem railroad for forty-two years, and is now looked upon as a patriarch among the trackmen. He has had charge of a gang for the last eighteen years; before that he was a trackman himself. He says that he helped to lay the second track of the Harlem road in 1848, over which the New Haven road first entered the city.

"Every piece of railroad," he said, "is divided into sections of from five to seven miles, if it is single track, and from three to four miles, if double. A foreman with a gang of five or six men keeps each section in order. All but one are trackmen, who are kept busy making repairs. That one is the track walker, who patrols the tracks all day long with an eye out for weak points and obstructions which might cause accidents. Of course there is a second track walker at night who does the same work."

"The track walker's outfit includes a hammer, wrench, lantern, red flag, a few torpedoes, bolts and spikes. No, he doesn't walk at pedestrian speed. His gait shouldn't be more than two to three miles an hour. A man might hurry over the entire ground inside of an hour, but he couldn't look at every bolt and rail connection as his duties require. If it's a double track road he walks on the track facing the direction from which the train is coming and examines only one track at a time. He takes the other track on the way back. A track walker gets over the ground, as far as he is able, just before the trains pass over his section. But he keeps at work all day long, and if he has a double track, divided into three mile sections, he ought to make about three round trips a day over each track. This would make a day's average of twenty-four miles.

"An experienced track walker can tell a loose bolt at a glance. Sometimes it will be caused by a broken rail, and he will see that the joints do not fit. Generally a loose joint will be indicated by a disturbance of the earth, causing a crevice between the sleeper and the rail. In this case the track walker props the rail with a thin piece of wood, which he must carry in his outfit. Fish plates and angle plates are distributed along the line, and the track walker sometimes has to replace broken plates if there isn't time for the section gang to come up before a train is due. In case of a broken rail or obstructions which he can't handle, the track walker puts torpedoes on the tracks and uses his red flag to warn a passing train. Then he leaves his patrol and informs the foreman and trackman as soon as possible. In emergency cases at night the track walker wraps his red flag about the lantern as a signal. Torpedoes are used also.

"I never heard of a track walker's being promoted to a better paying position. Once a track walker always a track walker." "Anybody can get such a job, then," suggested the reporter.

"Not a bit of it," retorted the patriarch. "You couldn't, for instance, I'd like to see you bolt on one of those angle plates; and you'd have to do it in case of emergency. A man must have experience as a trackman first. The foreman picks his track walker out of the trackmen. Their pay is all the same—at about $1.35 a day. But if there is any promoting being done, the track walker is never the lucky one. Some trackmen get the raise. The track walker must go back to the section gang again if he expects to get up in the world.

"As a rule, track walkers keep at it all their lives. A man who worked under me on the section between Philmont and Crayville, on the Harlem road, a trip six miles long, made two round trips a day. He started from Philmont at 5 a. m., and by the end of the first round trip of twelve miles it was noon and he got dinner. Another trip and he gave way to another man at 5 p. m. This man, Michael McGrath, kept up his twenty-four miles walk about every day in the year for eighteen years. Reckoning 300 days to the year, this makes more than 150,000 miles. Many track walkers have kept it up longer. A man on the Erie says he has walked more than 200,000 miles.

"The unpleasant part comes in rainy or wintry weather. If of course if the snow is six inches deep on the tracks, the track walker can't see the rails, let alone the loose bolts, and this is the only time he gets a holiday. But the chances are that he will have to turn in with the rest of the section gang and help clear the road."—New York Sun.

Looking for Spitoons.
There is a tradesman in this village who occasionally gets off a good thing. The fact that he is innocent of any intent to joke adds force to his comical sayings. The other day a lady called at his place of business and asked:
"Have you spitoons?"
"Eh?" said the merchant, pricking up his ears.
"Can you show me a spitoon?" repeated the lady, in a higher key.
"No," said the merchant, "I have nothing of the kind; but," he added hospitably, "you can spit in the coal hole."
The listeners chuckled audibly, and the lady smiled and took a hasty departure.—Richard (Mc.) Be.

Millionaires of Ancient Times.
The sacred writings tell us that Solomon was immensely rich—that silver was abundant in Jerusalem, and that in one year the king received from Hiram 300 talents of gold, equal to $16,250,000. It is known that in Assyria there were large masses of gold, and that Darius received in tribute from Persia as much as $16,250,000. In Greece, the wealth of Croesus was estimated at $15,000,000, and that of Pytheus at as large a sum. At Rome, Tibertius, it is said, left a legacy of $10,000,000, and Augustus obtained by testamentary dispositions as much as $100,000,000.—Dry Goods Chronicle.

Political Pot Boiling Hard.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., July 29.—The second republican state convention in North Dakota began this afternoon and bids fair to be even more exciting than the three-day convention of last year at Fargo. The fight this year is all along the line, but is greatest on congressman, and Mr. Hansbrough is having a hard tussle to hold his own. M. N. Johnson, the Scandinavian leader, who came so near getting the second senatorship last winter, has been hard at work to secure himself safe in Hansbrough's shoes, and his friends are confident that he will be nominated without trouble.

Will Mildly Endorse Harrison.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 29.—The republican state convention meets in this city tomorrow noon and will be largely attended. The leaders are already on the ground and the bulk of the delegates will arrive to-night and on the early trains to-morrow. The greatest questions will be the endorsement of the national administration and the force bill. The probabilities are there will be a mild endorsement by the convention of Mr. Harrison's administration and there will be secured a compromise between the contending factions. As to the force bill it is hard to foretell the results.

A Desperado Killed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 29.—At Palmer's store, near Glasgow, Ky., yesterday, William Martin shot and killed John Burke. Martin surrendered. He claims to have acted in self-defense. Burke was armed. He killed William Johnson some years ago and has since carried a gun or pistol.

Striking Employes and Mill Owners at Ashland Compromise Their Trouble.

ASHLAND, Wis., July 29.—The big mill strike has been amicably settled. At a monster mass meeting this morning the mill men decided to accept the mill owners' proposition to work ten hours for pay for ten hours and a half. Mayor Willmaris conferred with the men and the mills will all start at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning. The strike has lasted eight days. The Cranberry Lumber company will not raft their logs to Duluth as was expected. The mill owners held a meeting this afternoon and talked the matter over and decided to start to-morrow. The mills at Washburn will all start up on the same terms. There has been no disturbance to-day.

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

Conflicting Reports Concerning the Insurrection in Buenos Ayres.

A Dispatch From Senor Garcia Says the Revolt is Ended, But Private Word Conveys Other Intelligence.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, July 29.—The following cable dispatch, dated Buenos Ayres, July 28th, 2:30 P. M., has been received at the legation of the Argentine Republic in the city: "Announce that the insurrection is completely subdued. The president of the republic and the national cabinet are giving orders from the national government house. The finance minister is at liberty. (Signed) Juan Garcia."

Senor Garcia, the signer of the above dispatch, is the Argentine minister of finance. He was taken prisoner by the revolutionists at the beginning of the outbreak on Saturday. It is reasserted that the terms of a settlement between the government and the revolutionary forces have been agreed upon. According to these, the civilians who have taken part in the insurrection will not be punished. All captains of the revolutionary forces and all officers above the grade of captain, will be deprived of their rank. The artillery of the insurrection will be surrendered to-morrow. This is President Celmans version of the situation.

Private dispatches received here from Buenos Ayres, dated July 28th, 9:30 P. M., state that there is no change in the situation and no chance for a compromise between the two factions. The matter, the dispatches say, must be fought out.

In a house of commons to-day Sir Charles Ferguson, the parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, stated that the British minister at Buenos Ayres had sent a cable dispatch to the foreign office stating that President Celman had left Buenos Ayres and that the negotiations between the government and the leaders of the revolution were proceeding.

Cholera is epidemic in Mecca. There have been thirteen cases, seven of which were fatal.

It is officially announced that the English government has received a telegram from Buenos Ayres saying that the government has triumphed and that all trouble is over.

CANADA.

TORONTO, Ont., July 28.—Erastus Wiman, in a letter published in to-day's Globe, argues strongly in favor of the appointment of a Canadian agent to cooperate with the British minister at Washington. Mr. Wiman says the necessity for a high commissioner in London to represent Canada is not one of title as urgent as the demands for a similar official at Washington and that the closer the relations between the countries become, the more important will this appear.

MEXICO.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, July 29.—Geronimo Pui, agent of San Salvador, says that in the battles fought to date, the San Salvadorans have come out victorious. The rest of the Guatemalan army is fleeing in all directions to the interior and not a single Guatemalan soldier is left on the frontiers. A revolution against Barrillas has broken out in the eastern department. Several well-known generals head it, and the downfall of the present Guatemalan government is considered more than probable. Barrillas is pleading for foreign intervention in his favor.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 29.—General Mitre, who was formerly president of the Argentine Republic, and who has been residing here for some time, has suddenly taken his departure from the city.

The Temps to-day publishes a dispatch from Buenos Ayres stating that the government and the leaders of the revolutionary movement have reached a settlement. President Celman, the dispatch says, has resigned and has been succeeded by Vice-President Pilligrini, as president. Quiet has been restored.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, July 29.—Mr. Crosby, secretary of the American legation, is about to leave his Berlin post for a position in the state department at Washington.

Carpenter Shop Burned.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 29.—A special to the Star from Atchison says: The carpenter shop of the Missouri Pacific, together with the tools, machinery and other contents, was destroyed by fire at 10 o'clock this morning. The loss is $5,000. The Missouri Pacific freight depot at Downs, was burned at 6 o'clock yesterday evening. The greater part of the contents of the building was destroyed. The loss is unknown.

Strike of Cigar Makers.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 28.—The hand workmen in the cigar factories in this city in which bunch makers and rollers who are new in strike were formerly employed were called out this morning. The number is about forty. A parade was made by the strikers today at noon. There were nearly 1,000 men in line. The situation remains unchanged.

A HORRIBLE SLAUGHTER.

Five Children Caught on a Railroad Bridge at Paterson, N. J.

Three of Them Crashed and Instantly Killed and One Hurled to the River, Fifty Feet Below.

PATERSON, N. J., July 29.—A horrible slaughter occurred on the Erie railroad bridge over the Passaic river at 6 o'clock this evening. Five children, returning from a blackberry expedition started to cross the bridge. When nearly across the bridge, which is without a road or foot path, the children saw a train approaching on the west bound track. They stepped upon the east bound track to escape, but failed to notice

A FAST PASSENGER TRAIN which just then, with whistle screaming, came rushing toward them. Escape was impossible unless they jumped into the river, fifty feet below. The children were paralyzed with fear and huddled together directly before the approaching train. The engineer saw them, but dared not apply the brakes too suddenly for that course might have sent the train through the bridge. It was an awful moment. People on the banks of the river shouted to the children to get between the tracks, but their cries were useless. In an instant the heavy locomotive struck the group of little ones and hurled three of them upon the other track dead. The engineer was almost overcome at

THE APPALLING SIGHT. He had strength left, however, to stick to his post and stop the train as soon as it had crossed the trestle. The passengers left the cars to ascertain the cause of the stoppage of the train and strong men and women felt sickly feeling creeping over them as the remains of three slaughtered children met their gaze. Nellie Warren, aged 13, Nellie Warren, aged 10, Annie Warren, her sister, aged 8, were dashed to death. Jane Warren, aged 13, was frightfully injured and Willie Warren was hurled into the river, where he was found alive in about a foot of water. The Warren children all belonged to the same family. The two injured children will probably recover.

A TERRIFIC BLAZE.

Disastrous Fire in the Lumber District of East Saginaw—Loss $185,000.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., July 29.—A terrible fire is raging here. It caught in a lumber pile just north of Owen Hutchinson & Co.'s mill about noon, it is supposed, from some one smoking a pipe or possibly a locomotive.

At this hour, 2 P. M., Owen Hutchinson & Co. have lost about $40,000 worth of lumber; H. B. Nease, Son & Co.'s mill office and yards, $6,000. Brown & Ryan's immense plant, valued at $150,000, which includes mill, salt locks, dwelling houses and store is on fire in six places, and there is little possibility of saving it, as the wind is blowing a gale. There is great danger of the fire jumping across to the west of the river at Carleton, where the plants of A. T. Bliss, valued at $200,000; Stevens and Ladue, $75,000; C. M. Hill, $75,000; C. L. Grat, $75,000; Bitman & Bliss, $200,000, would likely be destroyed. The loss so far is pretty well covered by insurance. Over five acres of territory is in flames.

The fire was extinguished this evening. The total loss is $185,000.

REQUESTED TO RESIGN.

A Wyoming Postmaster Who Charged Five Cents For Two-Cent Stamps.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 29.—George L. Thompson, the postmaster at Warren, Wyo., has been requested to resign. It is said that Thompson has been charging 5 cents for two-cent stamps, telling the patrons that the high rates of freights rendered it impossible to sell for less money.

TO THE CRICKET.

Didst thou not tease and fret me to and fro, Sweet spirit of this summer circling field, With that quiet voice of thine, that would not yield?

Its meaning, though I mused and sought it so? But now I am content to let it go.

To lie at length and watch the swallows pass, As blithe and restful as the quiet grass, Content only to listen, and to know That years shall turn and summers yet shall shine,

And I shall lie beneath these swaying trees, Still listening thus; happily at last to seize And render in some hurried verse divine That friendly, homely, haunting speech of thine, That perfect utterance of content and ease.

—A. Lanman in Scribner's.

New York's Potter's Field.

The Potter's field was different from what I expected. It had nothing revolting about it, but was peaceful and even a pretty place, with plenty of grass and trees and birds around it. The process of burial is to dig a grave fifty feet long by fifteen wide, which will contain successive layers of coffins (white pine "shells" twenty-two inches wide at the chest lying end to end and numbered from one to twenty-five and then back from twenty-five to fifty. The numbers are cut deep into the lid of each shell and then carefully marked in a book of record with descriptions, etc., appended. In this way it is easy to identify and disinter a buried body, and the overseer told me that he had last week dug up a body that had been buried eleven years, and not only could identify it readily, but that the printing on the card nailed against the head of the box was almost as plain as when buried. Very nearly 70,000 persons have been buried in the Hart's Island Potter's field, and of this number nearly three-fourths were children under 7 years of age. This tells its own sad story of the neglect and misery that are the inheritance of the children of the poor.—New York Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Newspaper Routes Are Valuable.

The fact that you regularly receive and pay for your paper is worth to the carrier, in the form of good will, $2 if you live in Atlanta, Boston, Cincinnati, Chicago, Cleveland, Louisville, or St. Paul; $3 if in Pittsburgh, San Francisco, or St. Louis, and $4 if in New York, Philadelphia, or Washington. Even your circumstances are taken into account—wealth, age, disposition—as affecting your likelihood to continue a subscriber. A route owner, who regularly receives from a subscriber twelve cents per week for The Philadelphia Ledger, holds the name of that subscriber, when he sells his route, at a stiff $4 to $5—the highest, if its list be taken as a whole, of any journal in America. Carriers deliver 60,000 copies of The Philadelphia Public Ledger. Newspaper routes are worth from $30 to $2,000 in Atlanta, Baltimore, Boston, Milwaukee, and New Orleans. From $400 to $3,000 in Cleveland, Minneapolis and Pittsburgh, and from $1,000 to $5,000 in Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Washington.—Eugene M. Camp in Century.

Habits of the Horse.

The schoolboy who wrote that the horse was a noble animal was right. He might have added that the horse knows his business. A horse knows all about himself, and if he had some of the faculties which man have the horse could cure his own ailments. There are some horses that never get off their feet. I have known horses that would stand for months. Standing seems to be the ground when it begins to enlarge and ripen. The peanut may be cultivated in northern gardens by those who wish to witness the strange habit of pushing the pod under the ground to ripen, but the fruit will not come to perfection, as it requires a long, warm summer in which to develop. The peanut is planted in the early part of May in ground prepared as for wheat or corn, the kernels being placed about two feet apart. The crop matures in the latter part of October, when it is gathered and put through a sweat for about a month. The nuts are then picked from the stems or main vine by hand and are sent to the various cleaning establishments to be cleaned and graded.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

How the Peanut Grows.

The peanut vine is a plant similar to the sweet potato. The most remarkable feature is that when the flower falls the stalk supporting the small undeveloped fruit lengthens, and bending toward the ground, begins to push into the ground, when it begins to enlarge and ripen. The peanut may be cultivated in northern gardens by those who wish to witness the strange habit of pushing the pod under the ground to ripen, but the fruit will not come to perfection, as it requires a long, warm summer in which to develop. Women in Business.

Women are intolerant of one another in business and intensely jealous in society. Mistress and servant are not the only classes between whom dignity of demeanor is set aside. And then the unkindness—it makes a generous spirit shiver. Said a poor washerwoman, who has a family of five to support: "The gentlemen I wash for give me old clothes enough for my three little boys, but I have never had five cents' worth from one of the ladies. They give me old dresses and cloaks and sometimes a hat, but for each I have done two or three weeks' washing in payment. That isn't all. They are all the time accusing me of stealing their handkerchiefs."—New York Tribune.

Royal Merchants.

In the Thirteenth century the Venetians were masters of the sea, and some of their wealthy merchants, as the Sanudos, the Justiniani, the Grimaldi and others, erected principalities in divers places of the archipelago, which their descendants enjoyed for many centuries. These self created princes were called "royal merchants."—Dry Goods Chronicle.

"Coming Events," Etc.

Maunder—Just wait one minute: Clara is coming.

Harry—Indeed? I don't see her.

Maunder—You stupid! There's the front of her new gown! She's coming around the corner. She'll be here presently.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

The agricultural college professors have figured it out that two little sparrows in ten years will produce an ancestry of 275, 716, 883, 028 birds. Well, that isn't more than a bird or two out of the way at most.

Ancient Rome was never so populous as New York. In the zenith of her fame she did not probably contain a million people. Brooklyn is just such a city, as to size, as she was in her glory.

The United States Official Investigation of Baking Powders,

Made under authority of Congress by the Chemical Division of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and recently completed,

Shows the Royal Baking Powder to be a cream of tartar baking powder of the highest quality, superior to all others in strength, leavening power and general usefulness.

The Royal Baking Powder is thus distinguished by the highest expert official authority the Royal Baking Powder of the world.

IN THE ARENA AT NIMES.

Sport That Pleases the Populace Nearly as Much as Boxing.

Wearied out this Sunday morning with wandering through interminable corridors and clambering over the broken ranges of seats, we descended and asked to be let out. The wife of the guardian was for the time being in charge. Waving her fat hand with true southern dignity toward the nearest archway, through which a straggling line of miscellaneous mankind was passing to the interior, "Ladies," said she, "I counsel you not to leave. This afternoon, as doubtless you know, there will be a serious affair in the arena, with tridents and cockades, but just at present the youth is going to exercise and amuse itself with a cow—a small cow—left over from the last course."

We were impressed by her manner and began meekly to retrace our steps. Having found and established ourselves in a shady spot we turned toward the arena and perceived for the first time that the central space was encircled by a low wooden paling closed at one extremity by a pair of red-painted doors which might have been looked from a north New England barn. Inside the paling in convenient proximity to these doors were grouped some forty of the jeunesse de Nimes, of age varying from 15 to 20. There were soldiers and policemen off duty, clerks from town shops and "hands" from the neighboring farms, boys with dogs and boys without, all swayed by the same passion for the classic diversions of the arena.

A cry is raised of "Eile vient!" and a tumultuous movement arises among the youth, followed by a series of loud thuds, as eighty heels smite the wooden paling and eighty legs are adroitly swung over to the side of safety. The alarm proving false, they cautiously return to the post of danger, and not until this escapade has been several times repeated do the barr doors actually turn upon their creaking hinges and admit to the arena a lean and wiry looking heifer. She let her eye droop languidly, first on the jeunesse astride the fence, and then with a shade more of interest upon ourselves. Even thus, beholding her full face, we could but own that she was a small creature. A little triangular black head, with moody mouth, sleepy eyes and widely branching horns, two short, thin legs and a waving tail were all that we could discern. After a few moments of suspense one of the more adventurous youths stole forward on tip-toe, whooped in the animal's ear and then dashed back to the fence amid loud applause.

Moolly turned her head half around and contemptuously switched her tail. The experiment was repeated from the other side of the oval ring, and she started on a calm trot for the red doors, only to find them closed. Her movement had quite sufficed, however, to clear the arena of human combatants, with the exception of one plump sergeant, who missed his leap over the paling and lay lithe the dust. We waited impatiently for the next act of the drama, but nothing ensued, and the conviction slowly forced itself upon us that the fun was all over. "It was very interesting, wasn't it, ladies?" said the guardian's wife, as she accepted her fee and ceremoniously bowed us out.—Harriet W. Preston in Century.

An Equine Marvel.

New Yorkers are not easily taken aback, but a large number of those who happened to be in the neighborhood of the Tribune building the other day were considerably surprised, to say the least. A man seated in the front of the car at first sight appeared to be a horse, drew up at the curb. The man's name is Frank Fraundfelder, of Easton, Pa., and he said the animal was a "buffalo horse." He had just bought it from Oscar Stempier, in Monroe county, Pa., who had bought the animal's mother (a mare) out of a drove of Texas horses about twelve years ago. The "buffalo horse" is a gelding, 15-3 hands in height and weighs 1,160 pounds. It is completely covered with a coat resembling coarse buffalo hair, in close curls eight inches long, growing equally thick and long on all portions of the body and legs.

In the winter, Mr. Fraundfelder said, the hair grows much longer. This long, curly buffalo hair gives the horse a remarkable appearance, the more so as the hair on the legs is as dense as any other part, making them look like four thick fur covered posts. In its gait it resembles a cow more than a horse. Nevertheless it is said to be a good roaster and has the pulling power of a mule. The shape of the animal's head is distinctly that of a buffalo, and in lieu of a mane there is an extra growth of brown hair. In its hindquarters, also, the horse closely resembles the buffalo. The owner said that neither he nor Mr. Stempier ever heard of a similar animal.—New York Tribune.

THE RUIN OF YOUR EYES

By calling in the Great Specialist on Lenses for the Eye, Prof. E. B. Emmons, who will be at the Nelson House, Room 20, for two weeks. He understands his business thoroughly; his knowledge of the eye and his skill in adjusting perfect fitting glasses, and you can get equal satisfaction by calling on him at his optical parlors, at the Nelson House, as by going to a large city, and with less than one quarter of the expense.

His specialty is the correction of "Errors of Refraction," and giving you a regular oculist's examination for such errors as Hyperopia, simple and compound Astigmatism, Strabismus, Aphasia, and positively guarantee relief from headache, nausea, dizziness, and other unpleasant symptoms which are brought about by the overstraining of the tender muscles of the eye, through optical defects, or the wearing of improper glasses.

MORE GOLD FROM MICHIGAN.

Another Rich Lot of Specimens Brought in From the Bonanza Mine.

The Sons of St. George Return Well-Pleased From Their Excursion to the Gogebic Metropolis.

More Gold From the Michigan.

Mention was made in Saturday's paper of the rich lot of gold bearing quartz brought in from the Michigan mine Saturday afternoon. Another lot was brought in Sunday afternoon by Captain Trevithick, and a third lot came in Monday afternoon. All of this rock was taken from a drift between the first and second shafts, at a depth of 85 feet from the surface, and close to the hanging wall. In a number of the specimens of rock brought in the gold extended through the quartz into the slate that was on the hanging. The nuggets of gold are not only numerous and extend clear through the specimens of rock, but they are of larger size than usual.

The MINING JOURNAL cannot but reiterate the often expressed opinion that the Michigan is a bonanza, and will yet make millionaires of its stockholders. It is now of prime importance that a mill be secured as soon as possible. The development of the property warrants it, and it should come soon.

Sons of St. George.

The Sons of St. George are nearly all home from their excursion to Ironwood. They were right royally used while there, and had a most pleasurable time, but all of them were glad to get home once more, and after seeing the young giants of the Gogebic range are more than ever convinced that Ishpeming is the town of the peninsula.

Uncle Billy Chellev, of this city, took the eye of the good people of Ironwood to such an extent that it was with difficulty that the excursionists could bring him home. Uncle Billy, who is the keeper of the Lake Angeline dry, is a well known figure in this city. His hair and beard are snowy white, and his age is nearly seventy, yet there are few young men in the city as nimble on their legs as he. He is a clog-dancer of repute, and few of the young men of the city care to enter the lists in competition with him for a few fancy steps. He not only knows all of the steps, but he can keep them up till the younger men grow too tired to continue the contest.

At Ironwood Uncle Billy took the public eye at once, and was immediately dubbed colonel. From that hour "the colonel" was the center of attraction in Ironwood. After amusing the public for two days Uncle Billy took a notion to wrestle. The young men laughed, and Uncle Billy did not get a man to try a hitch with. On the last day of the match he got George White, one of the sticklers, and ex-champion middle-weight wrestler of the northwest, a man of half his years and twice his weight, to try one bout, and strange to say Uncle Billy put his man, three points down, on the sawdust inside of three minutes. It wasn't a hippodrome either, and Uncle Billy, alias Colonel Chellev, returned to Ishpeming the hero of the hour.

The Carnival.

The merchants carnival at the City Opera House Monday night was in some respects a unique affair. The grand march, showing the banners of the various business firms was good, and the young ladies took their parts admirably. Some of the banners were very elaborate, that of Mr. C. J. Byrns being perhaps the finest. Of the balance of the program, the singing by Messrs. Tucker, Basel, Johnston and Wright was very fine.

Special Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of the Sir Knights of Superior Legion No. 4, of the S. K. of the A. O. U. W. at the armory this evening, to discuss the plan of having an outing next month. It is probable that L'Anse will be chosen for the point at which to meet. A full attendance of members of the legion is requested at this evening's meeting.

QUEEN CITY DAY'S DOINGS.

Judge Sage Directs Jury to Bring in Verdict of Acquittal of Miss Mary McDonald.

JOHN HARRINGTON SPRINTS AWAY FROM THE BRANCH PRISON.

Huge Raft Starts for Bay City—Marquette and Houghton Ball Tossers Meet To-Day.
General City News.

Mary McDonald Acquitted.
The case against Miss Mary McDonald, charged with writing scurrilous letters to various members of the family of Supervisor Vandenberg, came to an abrupt termination yesterday and the defendant was acquitted. E. J. Mapes of this city was appointed by the court as counsel for the defense, Miss McDonald having no attorney. Frank Vandenberg and Mrs. Vandenberg testified as to the receipt of the anonymous letters. Deputy United States Marshal Dolf testified that the defendant had utterly refused to admit or deny the charge. In a letter to him, which was produced, Miss McDonald wrote that hearing Dolf was endeavoring to obtain specimens of her handwriting she voluntarily by furnished him one. She used other phrases that would be readily construed into a denial of the charge against her.

District Attorney Palmer desired to introduce testimony showing the identity of the handwriting in Miss McDonald's letter to Dolf with that of the anonymous letters. This Judge Sage refused to permit and with the remark that if the jury should bring in a verdict of guilty on such evidence he would set it aside, instructed a verdict of acquittal, which the jury rendered without leaving their seats.

In the ejection case of the United States against the Oshawawno heirs the evidence and arguments were finished yesterday morning. Judge Sage instructed the jury that the only point at issue was whether Chief Oshawawno did or did not execute the deed alleged by his heirs to be forged. The jury was out over three hours and finally brought in a verdict for the United States. A new trial will be asked for, when the defense hopes to have Charles McCall, its principal witness, on the ground. The sons of Chief Oshawawno are still in possession of the property, "the island," at Sault Ste. Marie.

W. J. Gregston came over to the American side of the St. Mary's river after a load of cedar posts. He was arrested for attempted smuggling and his horses and sled confiscated. He was convicted on a former trial but a motion for new trial being granted, the district attorney entered a nolle prosequi.

Several timber trespass cases were dismissed. The postoffice burglary case from Calumet will be taken up this morning and the end of that will practically be the end of the term.

Escaped From the Pen.
John Harrington, sentenced at the last term of court to three and one half years imprisonment for grand larceny, escaped from the branch prison Monday afternoon. He was one of a party of six convicts working outside. Harrington had his feet shackled but cut the chain of his anklets with a blow of the pick-axe he was using and ran for the brush. The guard had the other convicts to look after and hence could not give immediate pursuit. Officers were scouring the country Monday night and yesterday but up to 9 o'clock last evening the fugitive had not been recaptured.

Harrington was convicted of stealing $140 from an old man at the Volunteer mine location. He is believed to have fled to the vicinity of Ishpeming where he has friends and will doubtless endeavor to get out of the country into Canada. Whether he will succeed or not is yet to be seen.

A Huge Raft.
The tugs Justice Field and Smith started yesterday for Bay City with what is believed to be the largest raft of logs ever taken from this part of the Lake Superior region. The raft contains five million feet and is towed in a huge boom. The logs are owned by John C. Brown and were cut up the Pechee river, driven to Lake Michigan and brought thence by rail. The raft contains a fine lot of logs, but the air along the St. Mary's river will be blue with expressions theological but not orthodox when it goes through. If there is anything the average vessel man naturally fears, hates and despises it is a raft. A bill is now before congress which regulates raft-towing in the most stringent manner.

Marquette and Houghton.
The Marquette base ball team will try this afternoon to stem the tide of ill fortune which has flowed in upon it of late and will endeavor once more to lay out the Houghton sluggers. The latter team has been considerably strengthened since its last and very disastrous appearance here and will probably present in the box its new pitcher, Cady, who is said to be an extraordinary twirler of the horseshoe sphere. Houghton opened her present series at Negaunee yesterday by defeating the base ball aggregation of that town, but then Negaunee is a pretty easy mark these days, not having a single pitcher in condition to do first-class work. The batting order of the Marquette team has been changed somewhat by Captain Cross with a view of grouping better the heavier batters and will be to-day as follows: Cross, ss; Craft, lf; Thorpe, c; Purvis, cf; Riley, 3b; Cull, 2b; Birmingham, 1b; Allard, rf; Marker, p; Wilder and Carney, substitutes. The game will undoubtedly be a close and interesting one and the attendance large. By many persons here it is believed that in spite of the present lead of Ishpeming and Hancock the pennant will be won by Houghton. The people of that town are enthusiastic on the subject of base ball and show a readiness to spend more money to secure a winning team than those of any other city in the Upper Peninsula league. Marquette may yet win that pennant herself but if her team cannot do so there would be a certain satisfaction in seeing it go to Houghton.

Clever Midgets.
A good audience greeted the appearance at the Casino last evening of Count and Countess Magri and Baron Magri, supported by an excellent vaudeville company. Countess Magri was, before her marriage to the count, Mrs. Tom Thumb. The little people and their grown up assistants presented a pleasing variety bill and themselves did very clever work. The female impersonation of Count Magri was a great hit and the whole performance went off in great style.

Count Magri and his brother the baron called at the MINING JOURNAL office last evening. The count is a member of Grand Rapids lodge of Elks. Both are very pleasant and courteous gentlemen and conversed well upon the topics of the day.

A performance will be given at 2 o'clock this afternoon and also this evening, closing the engagement. Aside from the diminutive size of a part of the performers the entertainment is of a character well worth seeing.

Dumping Grounds For Garbage.
The street committee hereby gives notice to draymen, merchants and others interested that dumping grounds for garbage have been secured on the Morgan road beyond the Catholic cemetery. Signs will be erected showing the limits of the dumping grounds. The city will have a man on the premises to care for the garbage and keep the grounds in proper and healthful condition.

Dumping garbage or any other refuse in any other portion of the city, unless by special permit, is strictly prohibited. Any violation of this rule will be severely punished under the ordinances. All interested should take due notice and obey the order of the street committee, thus avoiding prosecution and a heavy fine.

Standing of the Teams.
The standing of the respective teams of the Upper Peninsula league is to-day as follows:

Teams	Played	Won	Lost	Percent
Ishpeming	19	13	6	.684
Hancock	18	11	7	.611
Houghton	20	11	9	.550
Marquette	18	8	10	.444
