Reported Consummation of the Big Case-Andrews Marble Deal So Important for Marquette.

CHANGE OF TIME ON THE SOUTH SHORE TO-MORROW EVENING.

Progress in the Camps—Take up the Hotel Next—At the Life Saving Station. Other News Notes.

The Marble Deal Closed.

The Grand Rapids Morning Press of Thursday contained the following news of great importance to Marquette. As Mr. Andrews will be here Monday in person more definite information will soon be procurable:

J. H. Andrews, of verid antique fame, is in the city, having returned from London, England, where he disposed of the Verid Antique Marble quarry in which he was interested. The quarry was sold to an English syndicate for $770,000, $100,000 being in cash and the balance in notes payable in six months. Mr. Andrews will retain to manage the syndicate's interests, and it is said he will receive a salary of $15,000 per annum. He will return to London in the spring, and with his family will reside here during the winter. W. R. Shelby, J. A. B. Mead and Homer W. Nash were interested with Mr. Andrews in the marble deal.

New Time Card.

A new time card goes into effect on the South Shore tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. The Bessemer and Houghton passenger will leave Marquette at 8 A. M., the Republic passenger at 10:30 A. M., the Houghton express at 2:55 P. M., and the Duluth limited at 6:10 P. M. East-bound, the Boston express will arrive at 7:10 A. M., the Marquette passenger at 10 A. M., the Detroit express at 1:05 P. M., and the evening passenger at 6:20 P. M. On the Mackinaw division the Boston limited will leave at 7:20 A. M., and the Detroit express at 1:25 P. M. The Houghton express will arrive at 2:35 P. M., and the Duluth limited at 5:50 P. M.

Work in the Camps.

Joe McNaughten, head scaler for Brown & Co., the contractors who are getting out the timber for the Hawley mills, is in town and reports great progress in the camps. There are eleven camps, averaging about sixty-five men each, in north of Ishpeming, the farthest being two miles out by road used. There are fifty-eight sleighs in the camp and they average four or five trips daily with about 1,800 feet to the load. Tonight will see 24,000,000 feet of logs in the river. The snow is nearly two feet deep in the woods and the hauling is excellent.

On the Peschekee, north of Michigamme, Brown has five camps and a sixth will be put in today. There are about fifty-two men in each camp and eight teams. About 14,000,000 feet have been banked. The entire cut at both places will be about 55,000,000 feet.

Next on the List.

Marquette is rounding out the year nobly; the boom is on and it's a first-class article manufactured right here at home. Now with the advent of 1891 why not tackle that hotel project and push it vigorously? Enough has been done this year and enough is now being done, to show that there is no lack of public spirit in the city and that if a start is once made that hotel will speedily become a grand reality. There is not a merchant in the city who would not be benefited by the erection of a great summer hotel here. The city at large would receive great good from it. There is no business man in the city who could not well afford to take stock in the company and all the money needed could be secured right here at home. There's a chance for a land syndicate in connection with the project and the MINING JOURNAL believes that the chance will not long be neglected.

The Life Saving Station.

Work has been commenced on the foundation for the boat house for the life-saving station, the waterworks dock having been torn away and the pile driver placed in position to drive the foundation piles. The quarters are ready for plastering, the exterior having been finished and primed. It makes a very attractive looking building.

Knights of Pythias.

At the meeting of Iron Cross lodge No. 106, Knights of Pythias, last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Thomas Dwyer, chancellor commander; H. W. Yates, vice chancellor; A. M. York, prelate; F. H. W. Bailey, keeper records and seals; John Winter, master of execution; Webster Dock, master of finance; Charles Mingay, master of arms; Joseph C. Cosford, trustee; F. M. Douglass, representative to grand lodge; Joseph C. Cosford, alternate representative.

In the Circuit Court.

The "cow case" before the circuit court yesterday contains a nice point as the lawyers put it, and is being watched with some interest. The cow in question was struck on a crossing near Ishpeming, stepping on the track just as the train came along. One leg was broken and the section foreman, finding the disabled animal, asked instructions from Marquette. He was told to kill the animal, send the hide to the purchasing agent here and bury the carcass. The owner brought suit—charging the railroad company with negligence and also trover, converting the carcass to its own use—and recovered in the justice's court the amount of $60. The case was taken to the circuit court by writ of certiorari, the charge of negligence having been disproved. The company's attorney claims that no evidence was introduced to show that the bovine was worth $60 dead but it is pointed out by the opposing counsel that on the trial one witness testified that "the cow was worth $60 when killed." Miller says she meant "when injured." Dundon says that the testimony must be taken literally—and here you are with a nice little legal quibble and the prospect that the full $60 "goes."

The testimony in the divorce case of Moore vs Moore was submitted and the court now has the case under advisement.

The case of Margaret Cooney vs Philip Hopkins, ejectment. W. S. Hill for plaintiff and F. M. Moore for defendant with E. J. Mapes of counsel, was settled by the defendant.

The case of E. J. Mapes vs Charles Holwell, principal defendant, and J. M. Wilkinson, garnishee defendant, the attorneys being E. J. Mapes in person and W. S. Hill, was compromised, the parties to the garnishee proceedings dividing pro rata.

Four Policies On It.

There were four insurance policies in force on the Edison concentrating plant destroyed by fire at Humboldt Wednesday evening, aggregating $6,500. Three were with the White & Hall agency, Ishpeming, and one with the Peter White agency in this city.

For the Holiday Trade.

The old established firm of Hager & Johnson is again to the front with a full and complete line of holiday attractions. A visit to their large and spacious warerooms will convince the most skeptical of that fact. In their parlor furniture department they are showing twenty different styles of parlor suites at prices to suit purchasers, likewise an elegant assortment of couches, divans, fancy plush rockers, woolen chairs, children's fancy rockers, etc., etc. Chamber suites of every description and price, also an endless variety of sideboards, book cases, secretaries, chiffoniers, blacking cases, hassocks and foot rests are to be found in stock. They also carry a complete line of lace curtains and portieres at rock bottom prices.

Their picture frame department was never more complete. Their assortment is the largest to be found in the city, comprising all the new and fashionable white and ivory finished mouldings. They now have a competent man engaged for this branch of their business, and all pictures left for framing will be attended to with neatness and dispatch. All will be interested in the beautiful steel engravings, satin etchings, artist's proof etchings and artotypes that they are showing, and their complete line of ensembles in brass, antique oak and bamboo. One also finds in their establishment a nice line of bamboo bookshelves, corner brackets, fire screens, etc. They have a thousand and one things too numerous to mention and while looking about for a gift for your father, mother, brother, sister or friend do not fail to call and look their goods over. Their motto is "no trouble to show goods." If you purchase or not give them a call.
