Number of Killed and Wounded.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—General

onel Forsythe says sixty-two dead

Indian men were counted on the plain where the attempt was made to disarm

Big Foot's band and the fight began.

On other parts of the ground there were eighteen more. These do not include those killed in the ravine where ed and six others were with a party of twenty-three men and women which

Captain Jackson had to abandon when attacked by about one hundred and

DETAILS OF MONDAY'S BATTLE WITH THE REBELLIOUS RED DEVILS.

Enraged by Cowardly Attack Soldiers Exterminate Indians—Official Report of Affairs. Skirmish With Two Strikes

THEY WILL SCALP NO MORE.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 30.—The Bee's correspondent at the camp on Wounded Knee Creek telegraphs as follows concerning yesterday's battle:

In the morning, as soon as the ordinary military work of the early day was done, Major Whiteside determined upon disarming the Indians at once and at 6 o'clock the camp of Big Foot was surrounded by the Seventh Cavalry and Taylor's scouts. The Indians were sitting in a half circle. Four Hotchkiss guns were placed upon a hill about 200 yards distant. Every preparation was made to show the Indians the futility of resistance.

They seemed to recognize this fact and when Major Whiteside ordered them come up twenty at a time and give up their arms they came but not with their guns in sight. Of the first twenty but two or three displayed arms. These they gave up sullenly and observing the futility of that method of procedure Major Whiteside ordered a detachment of troops on foot to enter the tepees and search them.

This work had hardly been entered upon when the one hundred and twenty desperate Indians turned upon the soldiers who were gathered closely about the tepees and immediately a storm of fire was poured upon the troops.

It was as though the order to search had been a signal. The soldiers, not anticipating any such action, had been gathered in very closely and the first firing was terribly disastrous to them. The reply was immediate, however, and in an instant it seemed that the draw in which the Indian camp was set was a sunken Vesuvius.

The soldiers, maddened at the sight of their falling comrades, hardly waited for the command and in a moment the whole front was a sheet of fire above which the smoke rolled, obscuring the central scene from view. Through this horrible curtain single Indians could be seen at times flying before the fire. After the first discharge from the cabins of the troopers there were few Indians left. They fell on all sides like grain in the course of a scythe. Indians and soldiers lay together and the wounded fought on the ground. Off through the draw toward the bluffs the few remaining warriors fled, turning occasionally to fire, but now evidently caring more for escape than for battle.

The wounded Indians seemed possessed of the courage of devils. From the ground where they had fallen they continued to fire until their ammunition was gone or until killed by the soldiers. Both sides forgot everything excepting only the loading and discharging of guns. It was only in the early part of the affray that hand-to-hand fighting was seen. Then carbines were clubbed, sabres gleamed and war-clubs circled in the air.

But this was only for a short time. The Indians could not stand that storm of fire from the soldiers. They had not held out. It was only a stroke of life before death. The remnant fled and the battle became a hunt.

It was now that the artillery was called into play. Before this the fighting was so close that the guns could not be trained without danger of death to the soldiers. Now with the Indians flying where they might it was easier to reach them. The Gatling and Hotchkiss guns were trained and then began a heavy firing which lasted half an hour with frequent and heavy volleys of musketry and cannon.

BIG FOOT'S BAND WIPED OUT

Big Foot's band in the future. A party of forty is reported as held by the scouts at the head of Mexican creek. These consist of all ages and the cavalry from Rosebud will bring them in if it is true. (Signed) John E. Brooke.

These Indians under Big Foot were among the most desperate there were. Thirty-eight were of the remainder of Sitting Bull's following that joined Big Foot on the Cheyenne river and thirty were those that broke away from Hump's following when he took his band and Sitting Bull's Indians to Fort Bennett, making in all nearly 100 warriors. Before leaving their camps on the Cheyenne river they cut up their harness and broke their wagons and started for the Bad Lands, evidently intending not to return but to go to war. Troops were placed between them and the Bad Lands and they never succeeded in joining the hostiles there. All their movements were anticipated and their severe loss at the hands of the Seventh Cavalry may be a wholesome lesson to the other Sioux. (Signed) Miles.

General Schofield said this afternoon that the fight was a most unfortunate occurrence, but he did not see how it could have been avoided. He sent a telegram to General Miles saying that he regarded the news received from him as still encouraging and expressing the opinion that he (Miles) would be master of the situation very soon. He also expressed his thanks to the officers and men of the Seventh Cavalry for their gallant conduct.

The following telegram was received by the surgeon general U. S. A., this afternoon, dated Pine Ridge Agency, S. D.: "I report during an engagement with Indians yesterday fifteen miles from here the following casualties: Captain Wallace and twenty-five men of Seventh Cavalry and one Indian scout killed. Lieutenant Garlington, Seventh Cavalry; Lieutenant Hawthorne, Second Artillery, and thirty-eight men wounded; this includes two men of the Second Infantry. Many wounds are severe. Hospital Steward Pollock died. Have also about thirty wounded Indians, men, women and children. (Signed) Bache, Medical Director."

SKIRMISH WITH TWO STRIKES. Another Engagement With Redskins Near the Pine Ridge Agency. OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 30.—The Bee's special from Rushville, Neb., says: Advice from the seat of war give news of another encounter between the troops and Indians at a point within four miles of the agency. The Seventh and Ninth Cavalry were just coming in from yesterday's battlefield, followed at some distance by their provision train. On reaching the point named a large band of Indians, headed by Chief Two Strikes, dashed suddenly upon the train, captured it and were making off toward the Bad Lands when the cavalry suddenly wheeled and gave pursuit. In the battle which followed over thirty Indians were wounded but no soldiers were killed.

According to the latest reports Two Strikes' Indians had yesterday been considered peaceable and subdued but their sudden change of mind causes the gravest fears here that perhaps none of the so-called friendlies can be relied on. However, word from General Brooke to the settlers to-day is somewhat reassuring it being to the effect that a great body of savages have remained loyal all the while and that nearly all the rebels are dead. He further says the settlers here are not now in danger.

Reliable news is also at hand that Colonel Henly is now approaching the agency with 700 Indians captured in the Bad Lands. This is believed to include all the rebels on the reservation and hopes are entertained of a speedy settlement. It has cost the lives of about 250 Indians and twenty-five or thirty soldiers killed and wounded to effect this result.

The bodies of gallant Captain Wallace and the dead soldiers arrived here at noon from the agency and will be shipped to Fort Robinson, the nearest military post. Rushville is crowded with settlers. The churches and all public rooms are thrown open and no effort is being spared to make the refugees comfortable. They are not only ready to defend their homes but many are anxious to enlist with the regulars.

PREPARING FOR WAR. More Troops Starting for the Bad Lands—A Plot Boiled. OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 30.—The Bee's special from Rose Bud Agency, S. D., says: Two troops of the Ninth Cavalry and three companies of the Eighth Infantry have been prepared to move at a moment's notice. Last night orders came for them to start at once for the Bad Lands. The pickets at Rosebud have seen Indians signalling with a looking-glass. A scheme of about twenty young men to steal horses and break for the Bad Lands was arrested by the arrest of the first man who tried it.

IS TIRELLO THE MURDERER? Alleged Criminal Says Carley Himself Did the Bloody Work. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Dec. 30.—John Tirello, the man who is supposed to have yesterday murdered Michael Carley and wife and Andrew Hodek at Broderick's Patch and who then escaped the officers, has been apprehended at Jernyn, Lackawanna county. He arrived here at 3 P. M. to-day under guard of detectives and was taken to the county prison to await the meeting of the coroner's jury. Tirello said that Carley shot his wife, then shot at Hungarian Hodek, and then shot at him, but missed him, and then blew out his own brains. Tirello says he then ran away, fearing that he might be killed by a mob before he could explain who did the killing. When asked the cause of the shooting he replied: "Me don't know." A belief is gaining ground that Tirello is not the murderer.

COLD BLOODED MURDER.

Joe Thomas Shoots Down Michael Downey and Empties His Revolver Into His Victim.

MURDERER PURSUED AND CAPTURED AFTER TWO HOURS SIEGE.

Friends of Downey Prepare to Lynch Thomas But Deputy Sheriff Ford Gets Him Away to Ontonagon.

MAY HANG HIM YET. EWEN, Mich., Dec. 30.—[Special]—Michael Downey of Saginaw was shot and killed to-day by a man who says his name is Joe Thomas.

The murderer fired five shots into Downey and then fled to the woods. He was immediately pursued by over two hundred men and took refuge under a bed in a homesteader's cabin.

Thomas was fully armed and stood off the crowd for two hours but finally surrendered and was brought in to this place.

Excitement is running very high over the affair and threats of lynching are freely made.

As far as can be learned at present the murder was a most brutal one, being wholly without provocation. Downey fell at the first fire and then Thomas stood over him and pumped four more bullets into his bleeding body.

Thomas will doubtless be lynched before morning as there is no police protection here. Downey had many friends among the lumbermen and homesteaders who are swearing vengeance upon his murderer.

EWEN, Dec. 30.—10 P. M.—[Special]—A party of the murdered man's friends from the different lumber camps in the vicinity arrived in town about 9 o'clock, greatly excited and many of them under the influence of liquor. To a man they were determined to take vengeance for Downey's killing by hanging Thomas, the murderer, to the most convenient tree. They were, however, too late to wreak their vengeance. Deputy Sheriff Ford, expecting that an attempt would be made to lynch Thomas, had taken prompt action. The murderer was secretly placed on a hand-car and with a heavily armed guard taken to Bruce's Crossing, whence he will be safely escorted to the county jail at Ontonagon via the military road.

The woodsmen are furious at being cheated of their vengeance and vow vengeance upon Thomas and upon Deputy Sheriff Ford. Many are in favor of following the murderer and the officers and endeavoring to overhaul the party before they reach Ontonagon. Some of them say that they will storm the jail if need be rather than let Thomas escape the penalty of his crime. The most intense excitement prevails here and the woodsmen are wild with rage and whisky. More trouble is anticipated over the affair.

THE MIXING JOURNAL correspondent saw Thomas a few moments before he was taken away. He refused to talk or give any reason for the killing of Downey. The men had exchanged but two or three words when Thomas pulled his revolver and emptied its live chambers into Downey's body.

FIGHTING IN CENTRAL AFRICA. German Troops Defeat Natives and Capture a Slave's Camp. BERLIN, Dec. 30.—The Tagblatt of this city to-day publishes a letter from a correspondent in Zanzibar dated Dec. 25. The letter states that Emin Pasha recently sent Lieutenants Langheld and Buelow at the head of a body of troops to Urambo where they fought a battle with the Watuta tribe, defeating the latter with severe loss. The Watuta tribe subsequently joined forces with the Waniamwezi tribe and again attacked the German troops. Another severe engagement followed and the result was that the natives were again defeated. This second defeat was partly due to the fact that the Watutas were deserted soon after the engagement began by their allies, the Waniamwezi. The German forces lost three killed and had nine men wounded. Lieutenant Sigel of the German force was wounded in the head. The Watutas escaped with difficulty. Commander Stuhlmann recently captured a slave's camp near the Victoria Nyauza after a fight in which many Arabs were killed. The Germans succeeded in releasing a large number of slaves in this camp. A quantity of ivory and gunpowder and other property was seized. The troops then continued their march, eventually reaching Makongo where they met Emin Pasha.

SEVERAL TRAINMEN HURT. Baltimore Express Crashes Into "Royal Blue" Fast Train. WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—An accident occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad this morning at Annapolis Junction, that resulted in smashing up two cars and injuring the engineer, the fireman and several passengers. The Washington express became disabled and had to stop. The trainmen went back and flagged the "Royal Blue" New York express, which was following closely. This train, however, failed to flag the express leaving Baltimore which followed it and the latter crashed into the rear of the New York train. The engineer and fireman of the colliding train jumped and were seriously hurt. The baggage and express cars of the New York train were telescoped and badly wrecked. The conductor and several passengers of the colliding train were slightly injured.

A SAMPLE of the first timplat manufactured in this country is on exhibition in the office of the Southern Steel works at Chattanooga, Tenn. The plates were rolled by the Granite Iron Rolling Mills of the St. Louis Stamping company, at St. Louis, basic steel of the Southern Steel company's manufacture being the material used. The steel was produced from cheap southern ore, and is said to be in quality all that could be desired for the purpose. The St. Louis company will engage largely in the manufacture of steel plates, using this steel. It is worthy of note that the enterprise on which it has entered is one of the fruits of the McKinley tariff law, the timplat mill having been put in since that enactment became operative.

PEISUADED by the threat that if they didn't give the relief demanded the furnaces would close down at the opening of the new year, the coke companies have granted the furnacemen of the Chenango and Mahoning Valleys a reduction of 25 cents a ton on coke, and will supply them at the rate of $1.75 cents a ton through the month of January. This makes a difference of 41 cents a ton in the cost of producing pig iron at the furnaces in these valleys, and the coke operators say that if this does not help the furnacemen out they must look elsewhere for relief, the concession granted being the very best that they can do for them. The railroads have not yet acted on the application of the furnacemen for a reduction of carrying rates, but the belief is that they will not give it favorable consideration.

VILAS has a "sinecure" on the Wisconsin senatorship, according to a test of democratic sentiment in his state made by the Chicago Times. That paper submitted inquiries as to their preferences to forty-eight democratic editors in Wisconsin, and the responses showed that thirty-nine of the number favored the election of Vilas, Bragg being the choice of but six, and three being returned as "scattering." With the press of his party so strongly on his side, Mr. Vilas need have no fears of the action of the democrats in the legislature. The papers will see to it that the party's representatives in that body do the proper thing when the senatorial election comes off. It would be a sad case of ingratitude if the Wisconsin democrats failed to reward Mr. Vilas with the office to which he aspires, and for which he is qualified in an eminent degree, for the services that he rendered the party in the late campaign. He earned it well, and should have it.

THE creditors of the Kean & Co. bank at Chicago have taken legal steps to cause $44,000 of Superior city bonds to be turned over to the assignee to swell the meager assets of the defunct concern. The bonds were purchased by the bank, but had not been paid for, and when the crash came the Superior authorities ordered them sent back from New York, where they had been deposited pending payment to the city of the money. They were returned by express, and the creditors make the claim that they belonged to the bank, and that Superior should turn them over and take her chances with the other creditors of the bank in the division of assets. The point is a nice one, but it is not likely that the courts will force the city to deliver the bonds, as the deal did not contemplate that they should actually come into possession of the bank until the city had the money for them.

A CONVENTION of the farmers' alliance of Minnesota opened at St. Paul yesterday, to continue in session four days. Special interest attaches to the convention because of the candidacy of Ignatius Donnelly for the presidency of the alliance in that state, with a seat in the United States senate in the background as the ultimate object of his ambition. Donnelly didn't set much store by the alliance prior to the election of November last, but the showing of strength that it then made has convinced him that it is a pretty good party for a man of his size to tie to, and he has been fastening his tentacles on the organization ever since. There is a good deal of opposition to him among the delegates, but it is not centered on any one candidate, and he will probably be chosen president. The action of the convention on the sub-treasury proposition will be watched for with some interest, as it will indicate whether the Minnesota farmers favor that piece of lunacy or not.

IN SPITE of the determined efforts of the great copper companies to keep quotations for that metal on the basis of 17 cents for Lake, it is obvious that the coming year is going to see lower prices for copper than it has sold for since the market took form after the collapse of the French syndicate. The producers of copper have done all in their power to hold prices up, but that they will have to yield to the inevitable has been foreshadowed by the movement of the market for some time past. That the disinclination of the copper companies to concede anything to the demands of the consumers for a reduction in prices has affected consumption is no doubt true. The consumers have felt that the reduction would come eventually, and have bought cautiously for that reason, the tendency of their conservatism in that respect being to bring about a steady increase of stock in sight, this in turn operating to weaken the market. With lower prices will come a quickened demand and a healthier condition of the market, and though the profits of the copper companies may be slightly diminished the trade as a whole will be appreciably advantaged by the increased life and activity that will thereby be infused into its various branches. The Engineering and Mining Journal states that Lake copper can now be bought freely at 15 cents, though the companies have not yet come down from the higher figure that they have been asking, and that the advices from Europe show a steady decline in quotations under the pressure of orders to sell coming from American producers. If the American companies are so anxious to realize on their stocks abroad as this denotes they will not be likely to hold out against the demand for lower prices at home much longer, and it is more than probable that a re-adjustment of the conditions now controlling in the copper market will be had early in the new year.

THIS, from the jaundiced Duluth News, fairly illustrates the animus of the Duluth papers toward all the other towns on this shore of Lake Superior: The Marquette MINING JOURNAL is just now engaged in a spirited debate with the Superior Leader as to the respective ages of those antiquated and slow going burrs. As the Leader editor once edited the MINING JOURNAL and is the MINING JOURNAL man once edited the Leader, both ought to know what they are talking about, and to judge from their remarks both places are mighty poor towns. Nothing that the MINING JOURNAL of the Superior Leader has said would bear the construction that the News places on their remarks. Superior has a better outlook for the future than Duluth, the only thing that retards its advancement being that it has allowed itself to be worked by boomers who learned how to manipulate dishonest real estate schemes in Duluth, while Marquette is having a steady, natural growth that is a better basis for permanent prosperity than the forced and unnatural development of the towns at the head of the lake.

THERE seems to be no reason why the next year should not equal and even surpass 1890 in the consumption of iron. Probably a greater number of miles of railway will be built. The measures which the republican party passed at the late session of congress are certainly calculated to give an impetus to business enterprises of all sorts, so that the demand for structural and other forms of manufactured iron should beat the record.

All this is favorable to Duluth. This state of affairs will stimulate production and exploration on the Vermilion and Mesabi ranges. The time cannot be far hence when Duluth's manufacturers will use a large part of the crude product of these ranges, and it must follow, as a natural conclusion, that this will become a shipping port for iron ore. Iron is king and Duluth is one of his favorites. The above, from the Duluth Tribune, is a sample of the taffy that the Duluth papers are accustomed to feed their readers on, and which Duluthians greedily swallow. A paper that is able to see such a rosy prospect for the iron trade in 1891 in the face of its known condition at the present time, and which makes that the basis for the prediction that there will be a great development of the Minnesota ranges, and in consequence of that an unprecedented advancement in the iron manufacturing industry at Duluth, must have its head so high in the clouds that it is incapable of seeing what is actually taking place on the vulgar, prosaic planet beneath. We may have a good year in the iron mining districts of Lake Superior in 1891, but if we have it will be because things will take a decided turn for the better later on. But the chance for that is infinitely better than for Duluth ever to become a shipping port for ore mined a hundred miles away from there, or a great iron manufacturing point, with all the materials to be collected there from distant fields of supply, and wages so high in consequence of the greater cost of living in that city that manufacturers there cannot hope to compete with those at other points for the trade of the region to which they must look for a market. Duluth aspires to become the "Pittsburgh of the northwest," with the disadvantages against it of not having either cheap ore, cheap fuel, or as low wages as other places that are engaged in iron manufacturing on a large scale. It could not entertain an ambition that would have less prospect of ever being realized.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.
Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.

JOHNSON'S EXAMINATION.

Though Held For Trial, Evidence in Negaunee's Latest Homicide Case Favors Survivor of the Row.

Nord Fired Down Stairs Head Foremost by Other Boarders—Would Have Lived Had He Kept Sober.

Examination of Gus Johnson.

The examination of Gus Johnson for the murder of G. N. Nord took place yesterday before Justice Primeau. Long before 9 o'clock, the hour set for the examination, the recorder's office was packed to the doors with those curious or anxious as to the outcome. At the specified time the prisoner, looking pale and haggard from confinement, was brought in from the jail. G. O. Bery, at whose house the deed was committed, was the first witness examined. The gist of his story was as follows: On the 20th of December a liberal supply of stimulants was on hand of which Nord imbibed freely. Shortly after 10 o'clock Johnson and a few others came in from the mine with their working clothes on. Everything progressed well until about 8 o'clock in the morning, when Nord went up stairs and rousing one of the boarders, attempted to make him surrender the use of his bunk. Johnson and this man went up stairs and tried to make him desist, when Nord turned upon them and gave battle. He was getting the best of Johnson, when the latter freed himself and picking up a stove poker, struck him a blow across the face. The rest of the boarders were aroused by this time and, catching hold of Nord, threw him head foremost down stairs, cutting an ugly gash on the top of his head and fracturing his skull. A doctor was called and his wounds were dressed, after which he walked to his house near by, apparently little the worse for his encounter.

Dr. Lombard was last on the stand, and he stated that although Nord's skull was fractured and two pieces of bone driven down into the brain, he had, during his attendance on him, no reason to apprehend fatal results. If Nord had remained sober after the accident and had taken proper care of himself he would have pulled through all right. This was the belief of the four other doctors who made the autopsy.

The examination was concluded shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and Johnson was bound over in the sum of $1,500 to appear at the next term of circuit court. There is little doubt but that he will be entirely absolved from blame at that time, as the evidence taken yesterday goes to show.

Funeral of Thomas Roberts.

By an error the reporter announced that the funeral of the late Thomas Roberts would take place today, instead of yesterday, as should have been stated. Shortly after 2 o'clock the remains were taken from the house to the Methodist church. The procession was headed by the Miners' and Mechanics' society, after which came the St. George's society with the English Oak band playing a funeral dirge. Last came the Masonic delegation escorting the remains. The procession was one of the largest ever seen in the city and extended the whole length of Iron street. At the church Rev. F. Strong conducted religious services, after which the remains were escorted to their last resting place.

A Grand Shooting Match.

Adam Zeien will have a turkey and goose shoot at Teal Lake New Year's day to which the crack marksmen from neighboring towns are cordially invited. Those not having rifles of their own will be supplied at the grounds. It was also expected that the Negaunee Shooting club would have a match on their range near the cemetery, but the committee chosen to make the arrangements failed to have the building repaired, hence no shoot will be held there.

The number of pupils attending the Jackson school has increased so during the last two months that it has been found necessary to open another primary department in the building after the 1st of January. As will be seen by the advertisement in another column, applications for the position of teacher in the new room are desired. Ever since the fall term opened the primary grades in the Case street building and the Rolling Mill school have also been greatly crowded. This plainly shows the need of another school building to further equalize the number of pupils under the charge of the several teachers. The scholars of the higher grades at the Rolling Mill school will be removed to the Case street building.

A copy of the St. Cloud Times received here states that Louis Voelker, formerly with the Stecker orchestra, was the recipient on Christmas day of a gold watch, chain and charm, from the new orchestra of which he is leader. The article enlarges at some length on his merits as a player.

J. O. Richards, of Marquette, has opened a plumbing and gas fitting shop in the old building formerly occupied by Mr. Aitkins as a tailor shop. Mr. Richards has had years of experience and is an expert at the business. All who patronize him will be guaranteed good work.

A solitary drunk stood up before Justice Jones yesterday morning, but on a promise of reform was let off.

The handsome music box in R. Erickson's was drawn by O. Rasker, head clerk in Biementhal & Ruttenberg's clothing store.

Prof. A. E. Haynes, teacher of higher mathematics in the Houghton Mining school, returned home with his wife and child yesterday after a week's visit at the residence of Supt. F. D. Davis.

Another revival meeting was held in the Salvation Army barracks Monday evening. The meeting was led by the Mitchell family, the noted revivalists from New York, and the Ishpeming band came down to furnish the music.

J. H. Primeau and daughter, Louise, leave today for a few days' visit with relatives in Escanaba.

The posters are out for the ball to be given by the "92 Dancing club" on January 16th.

Don't fail to attend the masquerade given by the T. J. S. B. club this evening.

Suits for the masquerade for rental at Kirkwood's drug store.

Are Your Children Sick?

If they are, we know how you are worrying. For we all children. Love their innocent ways, their childish prattle, even their mischievous pranks. Without them the world would be cheerless indeed. The more it pains us to see them suffer, the more thankful we ought to be that in Peruna a medicine has been discovered that will cure the ailments to which they are so generally subject, such as croup, colic, cholera infantum, dysentery, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, or that dreadful catarrhal encephalitis. If you will send to the Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio, you will receive free a copy of Dr. Hartman's "All Life," containing full directions for the use of Peruna in all the emergencies and also the most satisfactory testimonials to its efficacy. It also shows what Man-a-lin, the unrivaled system regulator and remedy for constipation, can do. These family medicines, which no household can afford to be without, are sold everywhere—only $1 a bottle. For sale by H. H. STAFFORD & SON.

They All Failed.

The following letter from Mr. W. A. Thomson, of Columbus, Wis., is peculiarly interesting: "My wife," says he, "has been treated for her head, stomach and nervous prostration by three doctors in New York, two in Chicago, one in Philadelphia, one in Cincinnati, and at the large institute in Buffalo for 16 months. They all failed. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine helped her wonderfully." This should be used in all headaches, backaches, changes of life, nervous disturbances, fits, rheumatism, etc. Ask at H. H. Stafford & Son's drug store for a free trial bottle and Dr. Miles' new book on the Nerves and Heart.

Five Story Building Suddenly Collapses at New York With Half a Hundred Men.

TWO OF THE MEN ARE KILLED AND TEN ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Marvellous Escape of Others—Story of Shipwreck and Suffering Told by Sole Survivor. London's Big Fire.

UNDER THE FALLEN ROOF.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The five story building on the northwest corner of Twenty-ninth street and First avenue fell in with a great crash at 2 o'clock this afternoon. There were half a hundred men at work transforming the building into an annex to the brewery of H. Koehler & Co. for the storage of ice and beer. For the protection of the men from the cold and snow the flat roof was left in place though cut loose from the walls. It hung propped up by immense center posts like a huge open umbrella above the building.

No one may ever know just what caused the collapse. Whatever it was, suddenly, without a note of warning, the roof over the south half of the building fell in. It came in, precisely as one folds an umbrella with a jerk. The roof beams fell everywhere at the ends first and last at the center post. In the general wreck the posts gave way too and all above the second story fell in one general smash.

As the ambulance came tearing up and the firemen raced down the street, there came forth from amid the cloud of dust rising from the wreck one scared, white face after another, some tattered with blood, more smudged and blinded by dirt and dust, until nearly the whole troop was gathered in the street. A few crawled down the ladders raised by the firemen and one slid down a guy-rope. Hand-lover-hand, two did not come. When sought they were found amid the wreck, pinned down, one with his skull crushed, the other half insensible.

A look at the wreck showed how it had happened that they were not all killed—the manner of the miracle as it were. It was as if the umbrella in shutting had not been closed entirely. Around the shivered remnants of the broken center posts the beams hung yet slightly raised from the floor, forming a sort of shelter for those who had not been close to the wall.

James Dunne and Louis Weber died at the Bellevue hospital this evening. John Hayes, S. Brüllinger, John Tully, A. Acker, H. Doran, P. Hanson, Thomas Lanev, Peter Heineuman, Thos. Heath and Casper Ebley were severely injured.

"MESSAGE FROM THE SEA"

Tale of Suffering Told by Sole Survivor of Schooner's Crew.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 30.—A terrible story of suffering is told by the sole survivor of the crew of eight men of the schooner Lucinda G. Potter, bound from Boston to Norfolk, which capsized Sunday off Barnegat. Five men were drowned at once. Three were able to gain lodgment on a portion of the vessel's house but two died from exposure. The sole survivor was picked up by the schooner A. D. Lamson and brought to this port today.

Captain Smith of the Lamson says that about 9 o'clock Sunday night when about fifty miles off Five Fathom Bank lightship, he heard sounds like calls for help, but owing to the fury of the wind he could not be certain. He finally determined to launch a boat which after most wearisome rowing came within sight of a vessel which proved to be the Potter. Pulling closer they found on a fragment of wreck three men, Captain Evans and two of his sailors. One of the men was dead and the other two were scarcely more than alive. Everything possible was done for the men but half an hour after arriving on board Captain Evans died. The other man, whose name is Charles Wallenberger, soon got over the worst of his terrible experience.

The men were on the raft for nearly ten hours with the seas dashing over them and the cold biting wind piercing to their very vitals. The Potter had sprung a leak and become water-logged. She drifted about all Saturday night and about noon Sunday suddenly careened and a moment later floated bottom up. Wallenberger said to a reporter:

"A furious snow storm prevailed all during the ten hours we clung to our frail raft. We all shouted as long and as loud as we could but the captain became exhausted and the death of the other man left only myself to signal for help. I continued calling without much hope of attracting attention and when the answering shouts came out of the darkness and the boat pulled alongside I was so benumbed and helpless that I felt almost ready to drop into the sea."

QUITE A FIRE IN LONDON.

Cold Chills Firemen's Fingers—Loss of Some $200,000.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The building occupied by C. Davidson & Sons, paper and paper felt manufacturers and paper bag makers, at 119 Queen Victoria street, and several others were destroyed by fire this evening. Fourteen fire engines were soon upon the spot and the firemen did their utmost but with little success to check the course of the flames. A high wind was blowing and it materially added to the fury of the flames while hindering the firemen in their efforts to save property. The cold weather also hindered the engines from working smoothly and numbed the firemen's fingers when they tried to climb the ladders. There was no loss of life but few accidents among the firemen. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

HARROWING HOAR'S SOUL.

Wolcott, One of Colorado's Republican Senators, Talks Against the Lodge Elections Bill.

TELLER SAYS DEBATE IS CONTINUED TO DEFEAT FINANCIAL MEASURES.

Letter Senator Also Roasts Aldrich's Proposed Debate Choking Rule—Stewart Against Silver Purchase Scheme.

DAY OF SURPRISES IN SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—In the senate today Mr. Began gave notice of two amendments to Mr. Aldrich's closure resolution. Then the morning hour having expired the senate resumed consideration of the elections bill and Mr. Hoar continued his speech in its advocacy.

At the close of Mr. Hoar's remarks Mr. Wolcott (Col., rep.) took the floor and delivered an animated speech against the bill. At the close of Mr. Wolcott's speech the elections bill was laid aside informally and the bill reported from the finance committee was taken up.

Mr. Stewart (Nev.) spoke in opposition to the bill. The purpose of the bill, he said, was to purchase the twelve million ounces of silver now held by speculators and issue $200,000,000 of bonds to be held as a basis of national bank circulation. Its provisions were for the relief of gamblers, silver speculators and national banks. The transaction was improper and immoral and would be severely criticised.

"I shall not place myself where an explanation will be required," said Mr. Stewart. "Such a purchase of silver would temporarily increase its price and thereby to some extent benefit some of my constituents. But they are not asking for benefit at any such price. They prefer to bide their time and wait until there are votes enough in congress to enact into law the free and unlimited coinage of silver."

Mr. Regan spoke in favor of the free coinage of silver and against the pending measure. He also addressed the senate in opposition to the elections bill and the proposed closure rule.

Mr. Teller (Col., rep.) said there had been no attempt made on the part of the friends of the elections bill to bring it to a vote. Now the senate was to be met with a new rule which was to reverse the traditions of that body and to overthrow the practice which had been in vogue eighty-four years. In the section of the country which he in part represented there had become a fixed notion that this bill was kept before the senate for the purpose of staving off much needed and much demanded financial legislation. He was not prepared to say that this was so and yet he heard it so frequently that it had made an impression on his mind. If the senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Hoar) did not wish the bill to stand in the way of legislation he should put the senate in a position to vote on amendments before he offered or allowed to be offered a rule which would cut off debate and amendments. He was not out of sympathy with the purpose of the bill. At another time, if the rule would allow him, he expected to submit his views upon the bill in extenso. After further debate on the closure rule the senate went into executive session and shortly afterwards adjourned.

After the chaplain had delivered a brief prayer in which he invoked the divine protection over the land during the coming year and after the journal of the last day's session had been read and approved the house adjourned until Friday.

PARNELL AND O'BRIEN EAT.

Discredited Irish Leader Is Said to Seek a "Vindication."

BOULOGNE, Dec. 30.—The conference between Parnell and O'Brien took place here this afternoon. The meeting was held at the Hotel du Louvre. Parnell was accompanied by John Redmond, William Redmond, Kenny and Clancy, all of whom are members of the house of commons, Mr. Scully, the defeated candidate of the Parnellites at North Kilkenny, and Mr. Byrne, editor of the Freeman's Journal. Parnell looked well when he landed though his right eye was still bandaged.

Parnell and O'Brien retired to a private room and the two leaders remained in conference for about half an hour. At the expiration of that time they had luncheon together, seeming to be on very good terms. Naturally there is considerable speculation as to what took place at the conference, but little or nothing is actually known at present.

After luncheon it was unanimously decided that only Irish members of parliament should take part in the conference, consequently Messrs. Scully and O'Brien were excluded from the meeting which took place during the afternoon. It is not expected that any definite information of the result of the negotiations will be made known tonight.

SALVE TO PARNELL'S VANITY.

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—The Pall Mall Gazette says this evening that Parnell proposes that his formal re-election as chairman by the whole Irish parliamentary party shall precede his withdrawal from the leadership until the next general election is held. The Gazette does not give its authority.

HARRINGTON DOESN'T KNOW US.

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—Mr. Timothy Harrington at a meeting of the national league today said that although the American press did its utmost to strike down Parnell an American audience would not listen to a man who raised his voice against him. He was confident Sir John Pope Hennessy would be unseated and that the minority would accept any compromise or arrangement which might be agreed upon between Parnell and O'Brien.

MAY CHOOSE AN AMERICAN.

Cardinal Gibbons Prominently Mentioned for Successor to Leo XIII.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—Dispatches from Rome to the newspapers of this city discuss the possibilities of the papal succession. The general opinion seems to be that the successor of Leo XIII will not be a Frenchman as it is understood that Cardinal Lavigier's colleagues do not feel inclined to support him in his candidacy. It is thought that if a foreigner is elected he will be either an American, Cardinal Gibbons, or Cardinal Merilliod of Switzerland. Should an Italian be selected it is considered probable that Cardinal Guglielmo Saverio di Aquilino, at present archbishop of Naples, may be chosen.

New York's Ink Industry.

New York is entitled to consideration as the leading city of the Union in the manufacture of ink. Fifteen years ago English ink controlled the market. Since then the American article has been gradually pushing the British product out of the market by its superiority and excellence. There is a great difference between the wholesale and retail price of the fluid. A little bottle of ink containing two ounces, for which a person pays five cents, costs at the factory one cent. The bottles are really more valuable than the ink they contain.

The best black ink is made from the gall nut and iron. The gall nut is found in Arabia, and is about the size of a hickory nut and grows on a small, scrubby oak. A large majority of the colored inks are made from the extracts of the coal tar. The most expensive colored ink used for ruling is carmine, made from the cochineal bug. The cochineal bug is raised with much care in Mexico. The dye from this bug is worth $15 a pound. Since cochineal dye is becoming scarce ink makers are compelled to use an inferior red color from coal tar. The ten different colored inks are all made from the extract of coal tar. White ink is made for writing on black paper, but the demand for it is not very great. —New York Telegram.

MATTERS AT THE MICHIGAN.

An Ishpeming Gold Property That is Getting Ready to Produce the Yellow Metal.

Indoor Ball Club Organized—The Cops' Ball To-night—Elected Officers—One More Woodyard.

The Michigan.

A representative of the MINING JOURNAL called upon David M. Ford, superintendent of the Michigan Gold company, and gleaned the following relative to the company's prospects: The drilling is now being done by hand, but it is expected that by January 15th an air compressor will be in operation that will give power enough to run seven 3-inch drills. The foundations are now being made ready so that the machinery can be placed in position immediately upon its arrival. From No. 2 shaft air will be carried to No. 3 shaft, where a hoisting plant will be placed that will be operated by compressed air. A 70-horse power, steel, return-flue boiler will furnish power to run the hoisting plant at No. 2 shaft, as well as the compressor. Should the large boiler not prove of sufficient steam capacity for the work a smaller one can be used to supplement it. An air pipe and water pipe will be carried from the engine house down to the lake, where a pump will be operated by compressed air to force water from the lake up to the mine to supply the boilers, and for other purposes as needed.

The progress being made at the mine in the way of development has been such that, with the additional work with the use of the air drills, the mine can be put in readiness to supply a mill with an abundance of rock by early spring. The gold heretofore taken from the mine with the small amount of exploratory work done warrants high expectation of its future productivity, and when a mill is once in operation there is reason to believe that the yield of bullion will soon place the Michigan in the list of dividend-paying.

Arrangements will probably be made for the erection of a mill to treat the rock next spring.

The last assay was made on the 24th inst. by Kettle, Nye & Mintz, chemists and assayers, of this city. Two samples from the east drift of No. 2 shaft, sixty-five feet east from the shaft were treated. One yielded $44.05 in gold and $1.60 in silver, a total of $45.65 per ton. The second gave $31.00 in gold per ton, this sample showing no silver. With rock of this richness the mine will give very satisfactory results, provided a sufficient amount of it can be mined to keep a moderate-sized mill running steadily.

Play Ball.

An in-door base ball club has been organized in this city with Manager Butler of the opera house as manager of the team. The boys are practicing daily and becoming quite expert. A game has been arranged for with the Marquette team, to be played on New Year's night at the Casino in that city. Our boys have become quite proficient in handling the 16-inch spire and swinging the broom-handle bat, and an exciting game can be looked for. Games will be played in Ishpeming after the opening one with our sister city's team. Let our sport-loving populace turn out in large numbers and give the teams all possible encouragement. Due notice will be given of games to be played here.

The Policeman's Ball.

At the City opera house this evening the police force will give a ball, to which the public is cordially invited. Tickets are but $1 each, and a good time is promised all who attend. The best of music will be present, and the floor is the finest in the city.

After paying expenses the proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to buying uniform overcoats for the force. As matters now are the city furnishes two suits a year, but the Lake Superior climate calls loudly for something in the nature of an overgarment during the winter, and the cops have decided that they would prefer uniform overcoats, if they are to be had, and have taken this means of helping pay for their extra clothing.

Election of Officers.

On Monday evening last the Swedish Home society of this city elected the following officers, to serve for the ensuing six months: President, A. W. Lindholm; vice president, Charles Sundblad; recording secretary, A. W. Jernquist; financial secretary, A. G. Koglund; treasurer, P. F. Keigen; marshal, John E. Anderson; chaplain, Thomas Ekman; conductor, Alfred Henderson; outside watch, John Seijdlund; inside watch, Hans E. Strom; trustee, eighteen months, G. S. Koglund.

A Wood Yard.

Chas. Farm has opened a wood yard on North Third street at the C. & N. track, and has stocked it with a large supply of green and dry hard wood. This he proposes to sell at reasonable prices. He asks the public to call and inspect his yard and stock.

No Paper Tomorrow.

MORE DEFECTS DISCOVERED

A Steady Stream of Water in the Big Trunk Sewer is Wholly Lost in Transit.

FIRST GAME OF INDOOR BASE BALL TO-MORROW NIGHT.

At Lake Shore Works—Last Night's Christmas Trees—Boiling 'Em Down—New Year's Day.

The Trunk Sewer Again.
If Contractor Bergh and Engineer Paul McKey escape a coat of tar and feathers before Marquette's trunk sewer is patched up so that it satisfactorily subserves the ends for which it was built they will have reason to thank their stars for their luck. Yesterday Street Commissioner Finlayson went out to examine the working of the sewer. When the Hewitt avenue sewer was laid up the hill the big spring there was piped and connected with it for the preservation of the street and also for the flushing of the sewer. It furnishes quite a volume of water and gives an easy method of noting the work of the trunk sewer.

At the Hewitt avenue manhole in the trunk sewer it was found that there was a steady flow of the water from the spring and the same was true at the Ohio street manhole, one block south. On Ohio street the sewer turns and runs from Cedar east nearly to Walnut street where it turns south again. On opening the manhole at the turning point it was found that the sewer was entirely dry there. Here was a prettily kettle of fish—what had become of that big stream of water? Going back to the manhole about 200 feet east of the Ohio and Cedar street manhole it was found that there, too, the sewer was perfectly dry. Evidently within that 200 feet there are faults through which the whole flow disappears.

To-day the street commissioner will put a force at work uncovering that section of the sewer in order to ascertain the cause of the trouble. The sewer there runs through clear sand and was not laid especially deep. It was easy construction and there is nothing to excuse such a botch on the part of the contractor and the engineer. A big job was worked on the city there—something to which Marquette is not accustomed—and before Contractor Bergh and Mr. McKey get through with the matter they will be apt to wish that trunk sewers had never been thought of here. The contractor has not yet been paid the balance on the work, and by the time the city finishes patching up after him it is extremely probable that he will not have any very extensive balance remaining.

New Year's Night.

On Thursday evening Manager Sullivan will introduce the new game, indoor base ball, to the people of the Queen City, a match game having been arranged with Ishpeming for that night. Game will be called at 8:15 and there will undoubtedly be a splendid attendance for Mr. Sullivan has left nothing undone which could in any way add to the success of the occasion. The Marquette City band will be present and will give a fine musical program, the rink will be well warmed and free from draughts, all the broken windows having been replaced, while wire screens will keep the ball from being batted into the audience.

The following are the teams which meet to-morrow evening for the first game of public indoor base ball on the upper peninsula:

Marquette.	Positions.	Ishpeming.
Craft.	Catcher.	Cuppernell
McCabe.	Pitcher.	Gibbs
Stack.	Short stop.	Anderson
Spencer.	First base.	St. Clair
Cull.	Second base.	Smith
Heathcote.	Third base.	Meyers
Carney.	Left field.	Nevens
Fitzgerald.	Center field.	Cabill
Shaw.	Right field.	Berran
Reichmann.	Substitute.	M. Butler
C. H. Hamm.	Umpire.	Ed. Butler

At the Lake Shore Works.

The office of the Lake Shore Iron works has been entirely refitted and as soon as his office furniture arrives Mr. Holley will have as pleasant quarters as there are in the city. A fine hardwood floor is one of the improvements just completed.

About fifteen men are now employed in straightening out matters about the plant and the preparation for the starting up of the works goes bravely on. Yesterday more machinery arrived for the pattern shop and that department will soon have its full complement of tools. The bed for the ten horse-power Westinghouse engine, which will operate the machinery in the pattern room, is nearly completed and the engine will soon be in place, if not "this year," then very early next year. The planing machine, rip and cut-off saws, lathes, etc., are now here waiting to be placed in position. The fifteen horse-power Westinghouse engine for the foundry is now on the way here. The works will be in full running order between the fifteenth and twentieth of the coming month and will start up with twenty men, the number to be increased as rapidly as the business will permit until the whole works are running full blast.

Christmas Trees.
The Sunday schools of St. Peter's cathedral, and the Baptist and Presbyterian churches had their Christmas exercises last evening. The cathedral and Baptist schools had exercises which were greatly alike, recitations by pupils and songs making up the program. At the Presbyterian church the program consisted almost entirely of songs. The 375 pupils in the cathedral school were all remembered and books, toys, candies and fruits were dispensed with a liberal hand. The same was done at the Baptist church while the Presbyterian Santa Claus varied the proceedings by calling out Rev. Dr. Bonar and presenting him with an elegant clock and then enlivened matters by caning the superintendent of the school, Mr. Charles Kelsey, in the presence of all the pupils. Both the clock and cane were total surprises to the recipients and will be valued highly in all the coming years.

The New Route.
Upper peninsula travelers to Detroit and other lower peninsula points are beginning to choose the new route via the Grand Rapids & Indiana and Detroit, Lansing & Northern, both going and coming. The popularity of this route over the Michigan Central is easily explained. As a Marquette traveler who arrived home yesterday puts it, one can leave here at 1 P. M., arrive in Grand Rapids next morning, have an hour and a half there and then reach Detroit at the same time by this route that he would if he took the moilexpress on the Michigan Central from the straits, the same being true returning, while this is the direct route to Lansing and other central Michigan cities. The abominably poor service accorded the upper peninsula traveling public by the Michigan Central ever since it built to Mackinaw City has left that road no friends on this side of the straits. The MINING JOURNAL is glad to learn that the new route is becoming the favorite one and hopes that it will continue to knock the tar out of the Central on upper peninsula business.

New Year's.
As no paper will be issued to-morrow morning the MINING JOURNAL to-day bids farewell to the year 1890 and wishes its readers "A Happy New Year." May the incoming year be marked by as great advances in the Queen City of Lake Superior as that which closes to-day.

The custom of New Year's calling will be more generally observed in the city this year than for many years past. More houses will be open and many of the ladies will be assisted by a large number of friends, notably Mrs. D. H. Merritt whose parlors will be the center of attraction to-day. Mrs. Merritt will be assisted by Mrs. J. M. Wilkinson, Mrs. A. B. Eldredge, Mrs. William Orr, Mrs. Richard A. Parker and Mrs. Dya, Mrs. William S. Hill, Mrs. F. W. Bossou, the Misses Orr, Miss Toye, of Buffalo, Mrs. F. W. Merritt, Mrs. W. J. Stevens and the Misses Merritt.

Boiling 'Em Down.
Two of the J. W. Spear grocery stores, those on Front and Superior streets, have been closed and the stock is being transferred to the Third street store by Mr. T. O. Hampton, in whose hands the business now is. The Third street and Rolling mill stores will be maintained on the usual scale. It is understood that H. H. Stafford & Son have the first call on the Front street store, although the Bay City wholesale grocery house which is to remove to Marquette wanted to secure it. The Staffords have been after this store for years as by opening it up with their present store they would have room to properly display their immense stock which is now packed away in all conceivable places.

Annual Meeting.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Rock River Brownstone Co. was held at the New Clifton yesterday morning and the following board of directors was elected for ensuing year: Charles Johnston, Rock River; W. I. Brotherton, Bay City; George Barnes, C. H. Schaffer, Marquette; J. L. Stoddard, Bay City. Nineteen thousand, eight hundred and forty of the 20,000 shares of stock in the company was voted at the meeting. The reports of the officers showed a most flattering outlook for the company and the coming year is expected to send it well up to the front among the stone companies of the upper peninsula.

Has Purchased a Home.
Mr. S. H. Holley, the general manager of the Lake Shore Iron works, has already affected a change of base. On the very day the new company was organized he leased the Carey residence, corner of Michigan and Fourth streets, and made preparations to bring his family to Marquette. Now he has purchased the residence at No. 139 West Ridge street, recently occupied by Capt. C. M. Everett, from Alderman Palmer and has taken possession, securing a permanent home in a pleasant part of the city.

Still at Work.
The street railway company yesterday made the necessary measurements for the crossing over the South Shore tracks on Front street. Preliminary surveys for the Presque Isle line are still being made, the route from Fair avenue not having been settled upon yet. A line is now being run through west of the fair grounds.

Don't Be Hoodwinked.
Chicago or Detroit cannot sell goods cheaper than Grabower sells them. Stop and reason. Grabower buys his goods in New York from first hands, manufacturers and importers, and looks after his own business affairs. Chicago or Detroit have to buy their goods in the same place (New York). They send a buyer who receives a big salary and pay the same freight as Grabower pays on his goods. Do you believe they can sell cheaper? When you stop to reason you will find you are money and a great deal of unpleasantness ahead by buying at Grabower's, the leading dry goods and carpet store of Marquette. 12-23-17
