MINISTERS' BRIEF VACATION. London, Aug. 7.-]Copyrighted].-The close of the session of parliament brings to the ministers only a brief cessation of work and to politicians only a short respite of speech-making. The recess will be the livliest experienced in many years, each side working in view of the fact that it will be the last campaign before the dissolution of parliament. Mr. Balfour will open the campaign on Monday at Plymouth, when it through they were nine stems. United the past, and the past, and the scaped except for a few bruises.

The switch is thought to have been left open by some of the night crews. The accident occurred in a deep cut and how the passengers escaped death is almost a miracle. The front coach was thrown almost to the top of the embankment and the rails are broken as through they were nine stems. United paign on Monday at Plymouth when it through they were pipe stems. THE TENNESSEE IMBROGLIO.

There is some misconception of the nature of the labor trouble in Tennessee that it may be well to remove. Its promoting cause is the antagonism of the miners of that state to the convict lease system, and the inability of the state authorities to find anything for a large proportion of the convicts to do unless they can be employed in mining work under the system that has been in vogue in Tennessee for years. The state penitentiaries are all full and the state is not able to build additional ones, hence the state authorities have been farming out the surplus convicts to contractors, who have made a good thing out of the very cheap labor that they were thus able to secure. But the miners and labor organizations of the state have at last instituted a revolt against the system which will unquestionably result in its overthrow, as it should. It is intolerably humiliating to free labor to have to meet such comstraits that it is in by reason of lack petition outside of prison walls as it has to encounter in Tennessee under the operation of a system that even the BARTH & BUSHNELL, PROPS. they were thus able to secure. But the operation of a system that even the of sufficient penitentiary facilities hardly excuses the state for having adopted, and which it certainly should not continue without some effort to change it. A special meeting of the legislature will convene at once under a call issued by the governor to consider the difficulty that has arisen and take action to meet it. Its proceedings will be watched with interest, owing to the peculiar nature of the problem that it has to solve and the bearing that its has to solve and the bearing that its

When the repairs to the Davis block were commenced a month ago many people predicted that the building would either collapse or gettwisted out of plumb on account of the poor foundation on which it rested. When the block was erected twenty years ago the stone foundation was laid on flat logs. Owing to the swampy nature of the ground these were presumed to have rotted away. The rear end of the old foundation was removed yesterday and the day before, and, strange to say, the old logs which had done service for twenty years were found to be just as sound as the day they were put in. It has been apparent to many of the alliance leaders that they must endorse the sub-treasury plan if the people's party organization in its present form is to be preserved. It has never been endorsed preserved. It has never been endorsed by the national alliance convention and the Kansas state alliance has never considered it. It cannot, therefore, be made a test of alliance faith, but from made a test of alliance faith, but from a political standpoint it is a necessity. It was incorporated in the people's party platform at Cincinnati and the work done by the convention, platform and all, has been approved by nearly every sub-alliances in the state.

Roman Dignitaries Totally Opposed to Meddler Cahensley's Scheme.

Rome, Aug. 7.—Professor O'Gorman of the circumstances succeeding the of Washington University has had an audience with the pope. His holiness made many inquiries about the university and its courses of study and about Archbishop Ireland and Bishop Keane, rector of the university. Pro-fessor O'Gorman has had interviews with many ecclesastics high in rank. He found them all opposed to any such scheme as that proposed by Cahensley, and hopeful that the pope's prompt decision would keep the matter out of politics in America. Cardinal Rampolla thousand the politics of the thought the influence of Cardinal Gib-bons and Archbishop Ireland would likewise have great weight in this direction. Cardinal Parochi, bishop of Rome, expressed himself as heartily in favor of Archbishop Ireland's views in regard to the duty of Americanizing immigrants and also touching Christian fication of the murderer but, as in all other Whitechapel crimes, the assasin two was an independent, international, Catholic town. "That is." he said, "the idea of Pope Leo.

ONE MAN'S SNAKE RECORD.

True History of a Georgian Who Does Not Wish to Pose as a Munchausen There is a citizen of Voldosta who has had some startling experiences with poisonous snakes during his life. He is entirely responsible, does not like no-toriety and seldom talks of his advent-ures with reptiles, because he fears his recital of them would not be believed, and he does not care to figure as a Munchausen among snake story tellers.

Some time ago he was attracted by the laughing of a child who was at play in the front yard. Looking through the window he discovered to his horror that what would have been certain death.

At another time recently, while wad-ing in a branch, he stepped on a large water moccasin, and narrowly escaped being bitten, as he had crushed the body of the reptile and aroused its wrath. It did show fight, however, chasing him

"On still another occasion," says this hero of many battles with snakes, "Thad cause to tramp all day with some companions in a swamp, and it was during snake time of the year. During that day I had the misfortune to step on as many as three live and wriggling moccasins at different times, but had the good luck, as usual, to get off without having their poisonous fangs struck into my flesh. No other one of the party had any such close calls. It all fell to my

"At another time, while I was push-ing my way through a thick and boggy swamp, one of my feet broke through the moss covered mud, and it threw me forward. I caught at a tussock just by me, and threw my hand on a large moccasin. It flinched, but did not move. I was stuck in the mud. Its forked tongue flashed in my face! I could not get up without a struggle, and I was afraid to make the effort, fearing that a move ment on my part would bring a strike in the face. I held my breath, while my hand went to my belt, and I drew there-from a pistol. In an instant I got in the Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilkinson gave a first blow, and the snake's head went off. A friend stood on a tussock five feet

"Recently I was hunting cows in the pine woods. I rode a mule. I was going at a slow lope. Suddenly the beast threw its head down with a snort, and plowed the earth with both fore hoofs in a desperate effort to take up. I went over the horn of the saddle and astride of the mule's neck, and would have pitched over my head on the spot had I not seized the animal's ears, one in each hand, as I struggled wildly to prevent a fall. My head and chest went full over its head, but my grip on the long ears and my feet locked around its neck saved me for the

"Thus poised in a ridiculous attitude, my beast regained its footing, and then began backing and slamming me about against brush and sapling, until I rolled off on the ground. When I gained my feet I discovered a large rattlesnake in coil under a palmetto bush, just in from of the spot where the mule made the des perate effort to stop, and if I had gone over the animal's head I would have fallen head foremost upon the deadly reptile.

"More wonderful to relate, a little toddler who was burdened with my name came across a rattler one day and picked different stories going the rounds on the street in the evening to the effect that child's peril and jerked it away from the snake."-Atlanta Constitution.

Plans of the Gas & Electric Light Company-A Chance to Be Generous. Bids Called For.

ENCOURAGE THE BOYS. There is a class of people who are nev-

way. These individuals are known as kickers and Ishpeming has not a few of them. They kick at any and everything, and they are kicking hard now when the local ball club loses a game, and instead of encouraging the boys to do better they talk unceasingly of how weak the club is and how poorly it plays. It may be granted that the team has lost several games in succession, but is there a club in the league that has not done the same thing? The club today is not as strong as it was before Dixon and O'Brien skipped, but it is playing just as earnestly in the effort to get there as it ever did and it is not the fault of the players if they do not win every game. They do the best they can and for that are deserving of at least a word of credit and encouragement. "A man can but do his best; angels can do no more," but there is little inducement to do one's best when no credit is given for the effort. Give the boys a show; stay by them and quit kicking. Grum-bling will do a dac-binged sight more harm than good if the grannies did but know, and the sooner they tumble to the fact the better it will be all around.

The machinery and station will be used only temporarily for the electric light plant, as it is proposed to build a sub-stantial structure in some suitable location and equip it with everything necessary to make it a first-class plant. The new boilers have, in fact, already been received, but will not be used until the new power house is ready to receive them. The poles are all ready and, if cars can be secured, will be brought here today. It is expected that active work in placing poles, stringing wire, etc., will be commenced early next week, and when once begun it will be rushed to completion as rapidly

Ended in a Row.

A very close and exciting game was played here yesterday between the Marquettes and Ishpemings but it unfortunately ended in a row in the ninth inning. The game had been well played up to that point, the score being 3 to 1 in favor of Ishpeming. The umpires were Stellberger, of the Ishpemings, on balls and strikes, and Shepherd, of the Marquettes, on base decisions. In the ninth Stellberger called everything that the Marquette pitcher, Corbett, threw a ball, the batsmen making no effort to strike at anything and after four or five men had been given bases on balls in this mannage the Marquette team left the field.

I affliction to have "warm" hair? "Hic" doesn't like red hair, white horses —or Saturday. The hands are always pestering him so about their "strings" Notwithstanding the warmth of the weather last evening the switchmen's ball at the City Opera house was well ner the Marquette team left the field. The Ishpeming base ball cranks allege that the umpire at Marquette stole the game Thursday and that Stellberger did right to get revenge as he did; but one thing is certain, and that is that at this rate it will not be long before the respectable people of both cities refuse to patronize the games or have anything to do with the clubs. The score of the game as far as played was as fol-

"The reporter of the MINING JOUR-NAL will learn this evening, when he reads the Press, that there was a coun-cil meeting last night." So observes the belated plate daily. The sore-eyed scavenger of the Press must have been working off the effects of an unusually heavy "jag" when he penned that brilliant paragraph. The reporter of this paper took in the aforesaid council meeting on the night it was held, wired his paper an account of what it did, and a full report of its action was given in this department of yesterday morning's MINING JOURNAL. Sober up, Stephie, and try again.

Workmen cannot be too careful about making their scaffolds secure.

Just as everybody expected, the afternoon subsequently came out last evening with an elegant jag of chewed-Mr. and Mrs. Sol. M. Cantrovitz, of Chicago, are guests at the Nelson commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., which occurred Thursday forenoon, and thrilling narratives of three railway disasters which took place Wednesday, one of them early Wednesday morning. With more of the same while the plates held out. On the local page was given, almost verbatim, this paper's yesterday morning's report of the common council's action on a proposition submitted by the Gas & Electric Lighting company relative to renting the old pumping station boilers and outfit, and a rehash of nuday evening.

Detecting a Murderer. Sheriff Thorn, of Calaveras county, put in an appearance at the city prison on Thursday with James W. Smalling. There were handcuffs on Smalling, and he was booked on Captain Stone's register as en route to San Quentin for life. George Holmes, a rancher living half a mile from Berson station, in Calaveras county, disappeared. His absence from the ranch was not noticed for several days. He was twenty-eight years of age and married to a woman of forty, the sister of Smalling.

When a week had passed and Holmes did not show up in the vicinity of his holding inquiries were made, suspicions aroused, and Sheriff Thorn was asked to make a search for the missing man. Now comes the story told by the sheriff.

"I went to the Holmes ranch." he says "and looked around the place. There was an abandoned claim with a shaft small mirror I had purchased in San Francisco. I held the mirror so that it flashed the light into the well. There was a couple of feet of water at the bot-

Rescuing Stranded Fishes.

In reply to a letter of complaint published in Forest and Stream the United States fish commissioners give an explanation of their apparent neglect of the fish in the upper Mississippi. The complainant says in his letter that while on the river between Dubuque and St. Louis he saw tons of black bass and great northern pike rotting in shallow pools, wherein they had been left by the falling of the river, and asks why the fish commission does not scoop them up and transport them to safer waters.

In 1888, say the commissioners, two cars of the commission were lent to the Illinois commissioners, together with the necessary number of men, for the purpose of rescuing the fish left in the pools along the river. From July 15 to Oct. 5 twenty-six car loads of fish were rescued and transported to Illinois waters. In 1889 two cars were used, and in 1890 three. The fish deposited were from 4 to 14 inches long.

Steering by Electricity. The excellent electrical device for giving an alarm when a ship deviates from her course, which was the subject of a recent invention, is being adopted on a large number of American ships. The compass card carries a light wire electrically connected with a metallic cup at the center containing a few drops of mercury. This wire is bent over the edge of the compass, and as long as the mains out of contact with either of two metallic stops placed at a certain dis-tance on either side of the bent end of the wire. Should, however, the vessel depart from its course the wire fixed to the card is brought into contact with one or other of the stops, closing the circuit, and ringing a bell in the captain's cabin or the navigator's room.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

REMARKABLE FACTS,
Heart disease is usually supposed to be incurable, but when properly treated a large proportion of cases can be cured. Thus Mrs. Elmira Hatch, of Elkhart, Ind., and Mrs. Mary L. Baker, of Ovid, Mich., were curred after suffering 20 years. S. C. Linburger, druggist at San Jose, Ill. says that Dr. Miles New Heart Cure, which cured the former, "worked wonder for his wife." Levi Logan, of Buchanan, Micb., who had heart disease for thirty years, says two bottles made him "feel like a new man." Dr. Miles New Heart Cure is sold and guaranteed by H. H. Starfford & Son.
