DEMOCRATS ARE DIVIDED

Mr. Harter of Ohio Says Free Silver Folly Will Lead to Certain Party Defeat.

HE HAS DROPPED HIS CALL FOR A SILVER CAUCUS.

Says the Growing Tide of Opinion is Against Silver Madness—Bland is as Rabid as Ever.

AFRAID OF THE SILVER ISSUE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Mr. Harter of Ohio, who was the leading spirit of the house in circulating the silver caucus call Friday, had changed his tune today.

"I have decided not to push the silver caucus," he said, "for the reason that democratic opinion is changing very rapidly not only upon the wisdom of passing a silver bill but upon the merits of the question. While last Thursday nine out of ten men would have predicted that a free silver bill would pass the house, today I venture to express the opinion that no bill providing for the free and unlimited coinage of silver will pass this session. The most intense, honest and earnest of the free silver people recognize the fact that a free silver plank in the platform would break the party in twain and that we would have to say good-bye to New England, to the Middle States and to such states as Wisconsin, Illinois, California and Michigan.

"The leading German papers in the United States have served notice upon us that the German vote in a body will leave us on that issue and go the republicans. Altogether the question presents dangers not before considered and from this time on the active opposition of the democratic newspapers will probably increase.

"We expect to sweep the whole country if the fight is made on the tariff but it would be hard now to gather seventy-five men in the house who would go upon record as believing a democrat can be elected president of the United States in 1892 upon a platform which would give the citizens of Colorado one hundred cents worth of property or services of everybody else in the land for what is supposed to cost them less than fourteen and three-quarter cents."

BLAND AS CRANKY AS EVER.

Mr. Bland, when told of the decision to abandon the proposed caucus and Mr. Harter's reason therefor, said:

"Mr. Harter was the chief promoter of this caucus. He has associated to his satisfaction that the democratic party cannot be bulldozed by the national bankers nor the money power of this country and that if a caucus were called he would be in a useful minority.

"Instead of there being a change against the free coinage bill the changes are all the other way. The party sees now that if we do not pass a free silver bill we will be stultifying ourselves and our record in the last congress, that we will be acting the part of cowards. The republican party will charge that we are incompetent to pass legislation that we were sent here to pass; that they, the republicans, had the courage to pass the bill giving free coinage to nearly all the American people. The republicans would step in as the friends of silver and defeat democratic members in enough congressional districts to give the republicans control of the house.

"The democratic party in 1888 ignored the silver question in the interests of Mr. Cleveland, who was known to be hostile to silver and whose administration had been against it. The republican party in their platform at Chicago denounced Mr. Cleveland's administration for its hostility to silver. They courageously announced themselves as the friends of silver and beat Mr. Cleveland in his own state, so that what the democrats got by cowardice on this question was the loss of the presidency and the loss of the house of representatives. They were driven from power. If they again act the part of duplicitous on this question and permit the republicans again to step in front of them they will lose not only the presidency but beyond all question the house of representatives, which is more important.

"This house," said Mr. Bland in conclusion decisively and earnestly, "will pass a free coinage bill, and the country can rest assured of that."

SENATORS AGAINST FREE SILVER.

The senate committee on finance has at last resolved to grapple with the subject of free coinage of silver. At the meeting of the committee this morning there was a discussion of the matter and it was decided that the issue had better be met at once, so that the committee could not be charged with smothering the bill relating to free coinage. Accordingly it was resolved that at the meeting next Tuesday the Stewart free coinage bill should be taken up and reported to the senate.

There is little doubt as to the nature of the report for the discussion of this morning showed that the two democratic senators would probably join with the republican majority in recommending an adverse action on the bill.

ANTHONY COMSTOCK ROASTED.

Judge Jenkins' Opinion of the Apostle of Prudery.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 2.—Some weeks ago C. N. Casper, the well-known anti-quarian book-seller of this city, was arrested on complaint of Anthony Comstock of New York for sending allegedly obscene literature through the mails. Mr. Casper pleaded guilty to a technical violation of the law, though in the opinion of many good lawyers he could have beat the charge, the book in question being such as are daily circulated and publicly sold all over the country without remark. It appeared in evidence that Comstock had written to Casper from an obscure village in Vermont under an assumed name for copies of the book. The case came up in the United States district court today and Judge Jenkins said that as Casper had pleaded guilty it was the duty of the court to impose a fine.

"In passing the sentence, however," said the judge, "I cannot refrain from commenting on the case. There are some things which are worse than sending obscene matter through the mails. Fraud and lying on the part of government officers are not criminal offenses, but they are degrading to the service. There are plenty of ways of detecting criminals without resorting to deception. Anthony Comstock may be able to reconcile his conduct in this case with the laws of God and morality, but the court cannot and I do not uphold the practice of officers of the government leading people on to commit offenses, and I do not consider this legitimate detective work."

THAYER IS BULL-HEADED.

Will Hang to the Office Until the Last Minute.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 2.—Governor Boyd said this evening he had not decided on what course he would pursue. He expects Thayer to ask him to come and take the governor's office but the latter has not yet done so. If he is disposed Thayer can hang on until the supreme court mandate issues on February 29. Politicians are advising Thayer to retire quietly. Governor Thayer's attorney today remonstrated with him and said that the best thing he could do would be to step down and out, surrendering the office to Governor Boyd without further delay. But Thayer was obdurate and said that he should continue to exercise the office of governor until he received a mandate from the United States supreme court.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 2.—About the only indication of the coming change at the state capitol was the announcement by Governor Thayer today that on Monday next he would with other state officers leave for La Porte, Texas, where a new town is being founded by these gentlemen. Governor Thayer is to assume the general management of the enterprise.

IS AFRAID OF THE PEOPLE.

Salisbury's Distrust of English and Contempt for Irish.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Lord Salisbury speaking at Exeter criticised the liberal program as being obscure, indefinite and full of empty promises. The radicals were specially ready to assure the voters that they could obtain measures at the expense of their neighbors and the eighth commandment. The liberals appeared to rely on the creation of parish councils as a means to improve the condition of laborers by adding interest to village life. It was not the duty of the government to take care of the amusements of citizens and if it were there were other and more effectual ways of accomplishing that end. He would not himself select a parish council as a place of amusement. The evil arising from multiple local bodies was overlooked by the advocates of parish councils. He had himself assisted in the work of creating county councils and probably would be responsible for the formation of district councils, but he could not approve of a council in each parish. He said Ireland, however, remained the burning question of the hour—on which would rest the issue not only of the next election but perhaps of others and he appealed to the country to uphold the union.

WISCONSIN'S GERRYMANDER.

Democratic Attorney-General Ordered to Attack Democratic Law.

MADISON, Feb. 2.—The supreme court today authorized the attorney-general to bring suit to test the reapportionment act passed last winter by the legislature. The court does not discuss the question of jurisdiction, promising to do that when the complaint is filed. The court recognizes that the attorney-general is the proper official to represent the state in an action brought by the state. The papers submitted by ex-Attorney-General Estabrook and District Attorney Pierce of Adams county will therefore be withdrawn and Mr. O'Connor, the democratic attorney-general, will have to fight the democratic gerrymander.

THAWING OUT DYNAMITE.

Another Man Who Omitted to Read the Newspapers.

MONTREAL, Feb. 2.—A Dupree, a resident of Cote St. Louis, an out-lying suburb of Montreal, placed several frozen dynamite cartridges on the stove to thaw out last night. A few moments later the cartridges exploded with tremendous force, shattering the house and rendering it a total wreck. Dupree was terribly injured. His two little daughters were fatally burned. A third daughter, aged 9, had her skull fractured. Mrs. Dupree, who was not injured, became insane and is now a raving maniac.

ITALY OVER HER SULK.

Will Probably Send a Successor to Foolish Fava Soon.

ROME, Feb. 2.—It is reported that the government of Italy is about to resume full diplomatic relations with the United States. Baron Fava, it will be remembered, quit his post on an indefinite leave of absence at the time of the controversy between the two governments arising from the shooting of the Italians in the New Orleans jail by a mob. It is now reported that Baron Fava will be appointed minister to Denmark, vice Mr. Catalini, who will be sent as minister to Washington.

San Francisco First Settler.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—Jacob P. Leese, the first English-speaking settler in California, died here yesterday, aged 82 years. He came to California in 1833 and built the first house in San Francisco in 1836.

Memominee's "Reformed Gambler" Did Not Abide in the Paths of Virtue.

DESTITUTE WIFE AND ROBBED EMPLOYERS MOURN.

Patrick Carey's Murderer Captured in Chicago and Confesses Crime. Ironwood Dives Closed.

REFORMATION WAS ALL HUMBUNG.

MEMOINEE, Feb. 2.—[Special].—W. H. Merritt, the trusted bookkeeper of A. Z. Bird's grocery house, has been missing since Sunday and great alarm was felt by his young wife and many friends.

It developed today, however, that Merritt had stolen about $100 from his employer's safe and taken a train for the south. Many creditors mourn his departure as he left a large amount of unpaid debts.

He and his wife were living in handsomely furnished rooms but the furniture is not paid for. Mrs. Merritt has no money and her scoundrelly husband left the poor girl without a dollar.

Merritt had been a gambler but apparently reformed a few years ago. His deserted wife has the sympathy of the entire community.

CAREY'S MURDERER CAUGHT.

Frank Stein Overhauled at Chicago and Confesses His Crime.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Feb. 2.—[Special].—Frank Flackenstein, alias Stein, alias Bohn, who is wanted here for the murder of Patrick Carey near Sagola, this county, on December 30, was arrested in Chicago last night and has made a full confession of his crime.

Carey was foreman in a logging camp, owned by his brother, about twenty miles from here and near the little station of Sagola. Flackenstein had been employed in the camp, but quit two days prior to the murder. Carey left the camp and came to this place where he was followed by Flackenstein. While here Carey cashed checks for $37 and got two watches belonging to men in the camp which had been left in the town for repair. When he took the train to return to the camp Flackenstein followed him, saying he was going back to split rails for another party. There are three camps along the railroad track and Carey told Flackenstein that as he had business in the farthest one he would go on and walk back in the evening.

Flackenstein left the train at the first camp and walked to a point midway between the first and second camps and waited for Carey. When Carey came along Flackenstein sprang from a bush and struck him on the forehead with a stick of cordwood, fracturing his skull. The next blow fell on the back of the prostrate man's head, fracturing the skull at the base of the brain. Flackenstein then rifled the dead man's pockets of the watches and what money he had and fled.

A few days ago officers located two of the watches in a Chicago pawnshop. A brother of Flackenstein was located on the west side of that city and yesterday afternoon the murderer went to the house of his brother and was placed under arrest. Later he made a complete confession. He is 29 years old and his home is in Madison, Wis.

Sheriff O'Connell reached Memominee this morning with Flackenstein and lodged him in jail there as Dickinson county has no jail yet. The trial will occur here at the April term of court.

NEW CHURCH CONSECRATED.

French Catholics of Memominee Occupy Their New Edifice.

MEMOINEE, Feb. 2.—[Special].—St. Joseph's, the new French Catholic church, was consecrated this morning by Vicar-General Kersten, assisted by many priests of the diocese. The edifice is designed in imitation of St. Peter's at Rome, although of course on a greatly reduced scale, and the dome is surmounted by a statue of St. Joseph. The building cost over $20,000 and is the handsomest church on the river.

IRONWOOD DIVES CLOSED.

Gamblers and Cyprians Forced to Emigrate to Hurley.

IRONWOOD, Feb. 2.—[Special].—The gambling houses were closed yesterday by Marshal Eddy under instructions from Mayor Trebilcock. The variety theatre has also closed its doors and the disreputable women which frequented it have joined the gamblers in Hurley. This has caused renewed activity in vice on the Wisconsin side of the Montreal river.

TWO OUTLAWS WERE KILLED.

Desperate Fight Between Officers and Thieves in the Creek Country.

PARIS, Tex., Feb. 2.—News comes here of a terrible battle at Bruner-town, in the Creek nation, in which Esta Gordon and Caesar Bruner were killed by deputy United States marshals and Deputy Marshal McCall was seriously wounded. The officers had surrounded a number of outlaws at Bruner's house when the fight began, with results as stated above.

PROTECTED HIS MOTHER.

Brutal Husband Shot Dead by His Justly Angered Son.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 2.—David Porter, deputy collector of the port, an officer in the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic and a prominent Odd Fellow was shot dead at 1 o'clock this morning by his young son. Porter was beating his wife.

THE Iron Port, of Escanaba, intimates that the new paper about to be started there may prove to be an organ of the "A. P. A." If it does the editor of the Mirror will have a paper to abuse right at home and will be spared the necessity of looking for newspaper wrangles throughout the upper peninsula, as he has been doing for some considerable time past. An organ for the "A. P. A." to support and the Mirror to fight would "fill a want" at Escanaba. It would give the members of that odorous society something to do that would keep them out of graver mischief and would furnish the Mirror with an adversary worthy of its billingsgate.

The alliance senator from South Dakota whose surname is Kyle wants to have the laws of the United States relative to marriage and divorce amended to suit some notions that he carries about with him. The talkal senator was a minister before he backslid into illy-assorted couples, but as untying them is work pertaining to the legal profession he is liable to be weak when it comes fixing up the law governing in divorce cases. He is a sort of a political divorcee himself, as he was at one time wedded to republicanism, and only took up with allianceism after the republican party had found out that it had no further use for him.

THAT Missouri congressman who offered a resolution requesting the president to recall Minister Egan must represent a backwoods district. He must have failed to catch the meaning of the president's message or he would have seen how impossible it would be for Mr. Harrison to gratify his dislike for Egan. It isn't in the least likely that, after having stood by Egan through all the trouble with Chile and having endorsed his official actions as our representative in that country so warmly, the president would pay any attention to a resolution passed by a majority in congress adverse to both himself and his minister. The Missouri man had better withdraw his resolution asking the president to withdraw Egan, and then if he will withdraw himself from public attention for the balance of his term perhaps a discriminating constituency will withdraw him from public life when they have a chance to do that next fall. There are a good many fools who could well be spared from that body in the present congress and the man from Missouri stands at the head of the list.

THE investigation by the ways and means committee of the house into the condition of the treasury showed that, taking out the fractional currency and the extended bonded debt, there wouldn't be left $3,000,000 of surplus. The democratic papers are whooping over this development as if there were something very dreadful about it. It has not been very long since they were calling for the speedy reduction of the surplus to a minimum. We have now reached the minimum and they are not any better satisfied.—Minneapolis Journal.

Jes' so! Those democrats are never so consumedly happy as when they are unutterably wretched over something or another. They have grown so accustomed to misery that it actually hurts them to feel well. It almost seems as if the party only kept alive to enjoy the exquisite sensations of woe that come to it after it has been everlastingly trounced and done up by the republicans in a big selection, such as we are going to have this year. Four years ago it was worrying itself about the surplus, and now it is distressed because there isn't any. It doesn't know enough to enjoy existence and isn't good enough to die, and really what to do with it is worse than a Chinese puzzle.

HILL'S MISTAKES. With all his astuteness, Dave Hill has not been able to avoid making serious "breaks" in his campaign for the presidential nomination. One of these was his prematurely promulgated scheme for settling the silver question to everybody's satisfaction by having the government authorize the free and unlimited coinage of the white metal, on a gold basis of value for the silver dollars coined. This proposition of Mr. Hill was so manifestly a "straddle" intended to enable him to cover both sides of a vexing question that it at once attracted attention to his plotting for the nomination, and disclosed him in the role of a candidate for the presidency who was prepared to adapt his views on public issues of the gravest consequence to what he conceived to be the exigencies of the occasion. The "fierce light that beats upon" presidential aspirants was at once turned on Mr. Hill, and neither the man nor his motives stood the test well, for he stood revealed as the demagogue that he is, and his motives appeared, under the scrutiny to which they were subjected, to be merely those of a vulgar, selfish, place-hunting and power-seeking politician. His next mistake was in forcing an early convention for the selection of the delegation from his state to the national convention of his party. This was so obviously intended to take his opponents in the party in New York by surprise that it has excited a revolt against him in the democratic ranks in his own state and has intensified the distrust of him entertained generally by the democrats of the northern states outside of New York. It is doubtful if Hill could get a delegate in the western states if they were to choose their representatives in the Chicago convention today, so deep is the feeling against him inside the democratic party in this section of the union.

Hill is killing his chances of being the democratic nominee by seeking to put into operation in his canvass for the presidential nomination the underhanded methods that have answered his purposes so well in manipulating the politics of New York. He has not yet learned that the petty trickery which "goes" in the Empire state will not answer in the nation at large, and that when the eyes of the whole people are on a man he needs to be something more than a corrupt general of Tammany's political mercenaries to stand their searching inquiry.

Gold Chain in a Lump of Coal. A curious find has been brought to light by Mrs. S. W. Culp. As she was breaking a lump of coal preparatory to putting it in the scuttle she discovered, as the lump fell apart, imbedded in a circular shape, a small gold chain about ten inches in length of antique and quaint workmanship. At first Mrs. Culp thought the chain had been dropped accidentally in the coal, but as she undertook to lift the chain up the idea of its having been recently dropped was at once made fallacious, for as the lump of coal broke it separated almost in the middle, and the circular position of the chain placed the two ends near to each other. As the lump separated the middle of the chain became loosened, while each end remained fastened to the coal.

This is a study for the students of archaeology who love to puzzle their brains over the geological construction of the earth, from whose depths the curious is always cropping out. The lump of coal from which this chain was taken is supposed to come from the Taylorville or Pana mines, and it almost seems one's breath with mystery when it is thought for how many long ages the earth has been forming strata after strata which hid the golden links from view. The chain was of eight carat gold and weighed eight pennyweights.—Morrisonville (Ill.) Times.

A Landlady's Bill. In the house of a lady in the Kurfürststrasse, Berlin, an Englishman took a furnished room and agreed to pay thirty-three marks a month for it. At the end of that time he asked for the bill, when to his surprise he found the thirty-three marks had risen to eighty for his apartment. Among other peculiar items in the bill were: "For using the carpet, four marks; for use of knife and fork, four marks; for putting the room in order, ten marks; for use of a chair on the occasion of a visit from your brother, four marks." The lodger considered this reckoning preposterous, and refused to pay, so the lady detained his box, which contained a large sum of money. The Englishman has sought the aid of the law in revising the bill of the speculative hostess.—London News.

Two New Spoons. The latest outbreak of the souvenir spoon mania is a "love spoon." The bowl is heart shaped and of bright gold, or, cynical suggestion, of gilt. The handle is a silver arrow, its barbed point piercing the center of the heart and its shaft entwined with forgetmenots. The spoon is intended primarily for an engagement token, but it can be inflicted, on one dozen lots, on a bride, or used as a pledge of affection on any suitable provocation. Another new souvenir freak is the "old oaken bucket" spoon, a "souvenir of childhood." The bowl depicts the bottom of the well, with the bucket floating on the water. The chain runs up through the mouth of the well, at the shoulder of the spoon, and up the handle to an oak tree at the top.—New York Sun.

Shaved While Asleep. The Bath (Me.) Times says a young man visiting that city takes the prize for the queerest somnambulist feat on record. He went to bed with the idea of arising early and shaving. In the night he found himself on the floor. The next morning he went to the looking glass and prepared to shave, when he discovered that his beard had been removed as clean and nice as a barber would have done it.

Thought They Were Friends. A big leopard seal came up in the midst of a lot of bathers at Santa Barbara, Cal., causing a good deal of alarm at first, as some thought the creature a shark or sea serpent. Some of the boys barked like a seal and the visitor seemed for a time to think it was among friends of its own kind and kept coming closer, until finally, taking in the situation, it turned tail and fled out to sea again.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

CONTROVERSY WAKES WARM. A Rattling Reply to "Democrat's" Last Letter Defining and Defending His Tariff Opinions.

His Statements Sharply Challenged and His Position Hotly Attacked by the Sturdy Protectionist Champion.

MEMORIAL, Feb. 2, 1892.

EDITOR MINING JOURNAL:—I am glad to see by "Democrat's" rejoinder that he has at last made the frank avowal that he is a free trader, pure and simple, and, of course, is not out of place in the ranks of the party. I am tired of having the democrats pose as tariff men on Lake Superior and as free traders in Iowa.

His talk about iron importations is all nonsense. He stated that "less than one million tons of iron in ore and pig" had been imported into this country in 1890. I replied showing that the importations were much greater than that, and now he wants to bring that ore in pig, he wants to lay the mistake on the printer and to crawl out of the statement generally. To put it mildly his reply is disingenuous.

Again, he says that we are agreed that the "republican party is the protective tariff party, and the democratic party is the party of tariff reduction." We are agreed on nothing of the kind. I am agreed that the republican party is in favor of protection to American industries, and that the democratic party is opposed to that principle. We will have no more dodging. The republican party is in favor of tariff reduction wherever it will be a benefit to the country, as shown by the McKinley bill. The democratic party has got back to its old doctrine of "free trade and sailor's rights."

In regard to the Mills Bill I refer to the bill as originally introduced, which placed ore on the free list, and was only changed at the demand of a few representatives from the southern states.

He asks for proof of my statement that if the tariff were removed not an iron mine on Lake Superior could run at a profit without a reduction in wages. I have proved it; your correspondent from Chicago proved it; and lastly "Democrat" himself proves it in this very communication by adopting Bent's statement that if he could have free ore he "could sell big-iron in Liverpool and steel rails in London." If Mr. Bent can handle his Cuban ores cheaply enough to enable him to do this, it is the utmost folly to suppose that he could not control the ore markets of the United States, at least as far west as Chicago, and the ores used west of there are but a drop in the bucket.

He says it is well to remember how often they were told that if the "tariff on copper were removed disaster and ruin would follow." They were not told that. It is their own story, told by better men than "Democrat," and it was a true story. The tariff was the salvation of the Lake Superior copper country, and it would be respectful in him to "speak well of the bridge which carried them safely over," even if he does desire to now kick it down, having reached the other side in safety.

And now he soars. He sees vast countries beyond the seas where the iron products of this country could go if it were not for the "robber tariff." What has the tariff got to do with it? The tariff is not a tax. It is an import duty, not an export one. It does not lay one cent of burden on the producer. The only possible way to get cheaper ores is to reduce wages, the wages of the miner, the wages of the railroad man, the wages of the sailor. Foreign ores can now be laid down on the Atlantic coast cheaper than the Lake Superior mines can put them on the coast. He asserts that the managers of the Lake Superior iron mines get $20,000 a year salary. Such talk is false and he knows it. I defy him to give, authentically, the name of the manager of any iron mine on Lake Superior who gets that salary.

Again, "Democrat" says that somebody said that somebody "was going to have his stipend increased by the passage of the McKinley bill." Who said so? Was it the copper miner? He was, as "Democrat" claims, already beyond the influence of the bill. Was it the iron miner? The tariff on ore is exactly the same as in the former law. Was it the lumberman? Well, hardly, as the McKinley bill "reduced" the tariff on his productions, in some cases fully 50 per cent. This and the talk of "some mining company that has paid greater dividends, or some mining captain that has a softer berth," from the passage of a bill that did not affect the industry in the least is so unutterably silly that I must use Doestlich's ancient coinage and pronounce it "dampfoolism."

And now, Mr. Editor, we have at last got "Democrat" where he belongs. We have proved that his statement that there were importations only to make good the shortage of Bessemer ore is false and that there is ore, of that quality, enough in this country to supply its needs for generations; we have proved that his statement that Lake Superior ore can be mined cheaper than foreign ores is false and that it costs eight or nine times as much; we have proved that his assertion that there was less than a million tons of ore and iron imported in 1890, was false and that the importations greatly exceeded that amount; we have proved that his assertion that the removal of the tariff would not affect Lake Superior ores is false, by his own admissions; in fact, sir, we have captured his outposts; driven in his skirmish line; routed his line of battle, and now have him safely besieged in the old democratic fort, free trade, where the length of this article compels us to leave him but where we will proceed to bombard him with sound protection arguments, unless he shall attempt to escape in the next issue. REPUBLICAN.

"AND THERE WAS NO LIGHT" Negaunee Left in Darkness Last Night by an Accident to the New Arc Dynamo.

A "HOT BOX" DID THE BUSINESS FOR THE MACHINE. Something About That New Railroad. Finlay Company Elects Two Directors—May Run Through Today.

IT "STOPPED SHORT" Monday night the streets of Negaunee were bathed in light so brilliant that it was almost dazzling to the eye.

As everybody knows, electrical machines are very delicate and somewhat complicated in their mechanism, and they need to be kept in perfect condition and run with the greatest of care.

To make the case worse on the streets last night, there were no gas lamps burning. It appears that the lamps belong to the city, and the mayor had instructed the superintendent of the water works to take them down and store them away for safe keeping.

Negaunee's Next Railroad. Mr. C. H. Beardsley was here Monday afternoon looking after the interests of the Manistique & Negaunee railroad.

Elected Two Directors. The stockholders of the Finlay Mining & Exploring company held a meeting Monday evening in the office of C. B. Driscoll and elected John Elliott and William Heggraton directors to fill vacancies.

May Ride Today. The Negaunee & Ishpeming Street Railway company will probably carry passengers to and from Ishpeming today.

Ancient Currency. John Hollingsworth, of this city, is the possessor of a six shilling bill issued by the colony of New Jersey in the year of 1776.

LOCAL LAOONICS. Marshal Paul has the grip. Darkness reigned supreme last night. A Finlander had a leg broken at the Jackson mine Monday afternoon.

The electric cars made regular trips yesterday in order to keep the track clear of snow. Barney McNally has quit the Gas Light Co.'s service and has gone to work for the Electric Light Co.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. P. Bernardon Monday evening, a girl. The future belle of Negaunee, so says Phil. The globes were placed on the arc lights yesterday and tonight's light will probably be better than that furnished Monday night, provided we have any.

The city sidewalk plow was called out yesterday to clear walls of the snow that had fallen during the night. The plow did its work well. Of course the snow was not very deep. Street Commissioner Stewart informs the reporter that it is giving entire satisfaction.

"How do you like the electric railway and electric light?" enquired Mayor Anthony of A. C. Seass yesterday as the speaker passed by. "First-rate" responded the latter, "and now if we only had a hand organ and a monkey we would begin to look rather metropolitan."

Mr. Lewis Corbett purchased the Harris farm on the outskirts of the city Monday. This tract of land is close by the city and next summer can be divided into lots and placed in the market. The city is growing that way and Mr. Corbett will undoubtedly come out on top in this investment.

Hose company No. 1 met to hold its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, but owing to the absence of some of the officers an adjournment till next Monday evening was taken. Hose company No. 2 held its regular monthly meeting last evening and transacted routine business.

Wheat's Earliest Discoverer. Among pre-Columbian discoverers of America the claims of the Norsemen, or, properly speaking, the Icelanders—who, by their low stature and features, are somewhat different from the characteristic Swedes and Norwegians—and of the Welshmen under Prince Madoc are fairly well known, but those in favor of an Irishman, St. Brendan, (bishop of Clonfert, in Kerry, are not so familiar to us, although they are to the French.

MR. VOORHEES ON HIS EAR

The Tall Sycamore Says the Philadelphia Press Is an Unmuzzled Liar.

DENIES ALLEGED SCHEME TO DEFEAT JUDGE WOODS.

Says Woods Is Wholly Unfit for the Bench but That Dallas Is Competent and Honest.

SENATORIAL IRE IS AROUSED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Senator Voorhees, rising to a personal question, sent to the clerk's desk and had read a Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Press with the heading:

"The Senate Wastes Much Time in Obsequies to Senatorial Courtesy—Mr. Voorhees Fails to Sustain His Charges—His Scheme to Defeat Judge Woods' Nomination Not Supported by the Republicans He Had Counted On."

The dispatch went on to state that the senate judiciary committee had wasted another session out of senatorial courtesy to Senator Voorhees, that the attempt of Senator Voorhees to form a coalition with the republicans was a flat failure; that some of the republicans like Quay, Cameron and Higgins were opposed to the nomination of George M. Dallas of Pennsylvania and that Mr. Voorhees had proposed that if these disgruntled republicans would induce enough of their party to aid the democrats in defeating Judge Woods' nomination, the democrats would reciprocate and aid in defeating Dallas.

The dispatch ends with the statement that that plan would not work and that it was now reasonably certain that all the nominations would be confirmed next Monday without a dissenting vote among the republicans.

Mr. Voorhees said his principal object in having the article read related to the last paragraph, where the statement was made explicitly and unqualifiedly that he had made a proposition to certain senators that for their assistance in the defeat of Judge Wood's confirmation he would favor a movement on the democratic side of the chamber to defeat Judge Dallas of Philadelphia. A grosser lie than that it would hardly be possible for his satanic majesty to conceive. Such a wish, or thought, or suggestion had never entered his mind nor emanated from his lips. On the contrary, had he thought the appointment of Judge Woods was improper and unfit as he conceived and knew that judge to be for a judicial position, he would feel himself dishonored and disgraced alone made—a suggestion to defeat an honest and competent man like Judge Dallas for the sake of getting clear of the appointment of a man like Woods. If any senator could say that a single suggestion or thought of such a corrupt combination had come from him, he wanted him to say so. If he (Mr. Voorhees) were capable of making such a suggestion he would be a proper subject for expulsion. He branded the story as the miserable concoction of a dishonest heart and brain. Senators Cameron, Quay and Higgins said there was no truth in the dispatch and the matter ended.

Mr. Palmer introduced a joint resolution to amend the constitution so as to have United States senators elected by popular vote and gave notice that he would in some convenient occasion address the senate on the subject.

The calendar was then taken up and some bills of a local character disposed of. The senate then went into executive session, in which some nominations were referred to committee and then adjourned till tomorrow.

MORSE ADVERTISED ENOUGH.

Representative Hoar's Witty Retort on the Stove-Polish Statesman.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The house of representatives is still being treated to daily reminders of the Hoar-Morse rivalry in the state of Massachusetts. Representative Hoar, although a democrat, is the son of the distinguished attorney-general of the Grant administration, the Hon. E. R. Hoar, and nephew of the present United States senator from Massachusetts, the Hon. George F. Hoar. That a member of such a distinguished republican family should be a democrat is an offense which Mr. Hoar insists has never been quite forgiven by the leading republicans and is the cause of the somewhat frequent political assaults made upon him.

Scarcely had the spirited proceedings of yesterday between the two members from Massachusetts been read from the Congressional Record this morning by the members of the house before the controversy was again revived by Mr. Morse, who arose to a question of privilege immediately after the reading of the journal and rebuked Mr. Hoar for presuming yesterday to recall from the public printer the manuscript of the speech previously made by Mr. Morse. "I claim that that gentleman violated proprieties that should obtain among gentlemen," said Mr. Morse. "By what authority does he carry my manuscript away from the public printing office?" To this Mr. Hoar replied:

"I think, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman from Massachusetts has been advertised enough."

With this Mr. Hoar took his seat and the house loudly applauded his brief retort.

The consideration of the rules was then resumed. A prolonged debate ensued and pending action the house adjourned.

STEAMER EIDER ABANDONED.

Her Crew Taken Off and She Has Probably Broken Up.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—A gale from the southwest set in last night causing a heavy sea to run in the channel which added very materially to the dangerous position of the North-German Lloyd steamer Eider which ran on Atherfield Ledge off the Isle of Wight while trying to make Southampton Sunday night. Owing to the treacherous current which sets in toward the ledge and which varies in velocity according to weather conditions, thus making it almost impossible for navigators to take it into their calculations, even the captains of coasting vessels give the place a wide berth and stand well off shore until the ledge is far astern. It is now believed that unless a great part of the Eider's cargo is taken out and transferred to lighters it will not be possible to float her at all.

The life-boats were again launched at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon after several unsuccessful attempts and after a hard struggle with the waves took off safely all members of the Eider's crew who remained on board. Three life-boat crews, those from Atherfield, Brightstone and Lewis, took part in the rescue. The Eider's crew were heartily glad to leave the vessel for with the freshening gale and increasing sea she will probably break up before morning. The last man was taken off at 7 o'clock this evening and the steamer left alone to her fate.

LAST TWO ARE SAVED.

Crew of Missing Scow Rescued After Great Suffering.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 2.—Seven days and nights were spent on board the New York garbage scow by the two men landed here today. With death constantly staring them in the face, with but a few biscuits and a milk can of water to last them all this time during their fight for life both men became almost frantic with hunger and thirst. The skin on their faces had become hard, tanned and cracked with the cold. They presented a most pitiable sight but straightway on being landed made for the Maritime Exchange where they telegraphed their wives and children of their safety.

STRUCK A STREET CAR.

Two Passengers Seriously Hurt at a Railroad Crossing.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—A Cleveland and Pittsburgh shifting train ran into a Manchester electric car at Wood's Run last evening, wrecking the car and seriously injuring two passengers, J. H. Silliman and Frank McGlerry. At the time of the accident there were a dozen passengers in the car, many of whom were women, and they were badly frightened though they fortunately escaped without injury.

TWAS LEAD AND NOT GRIP.

Alleged Death From Influenza Proves to Be Suicide.

IRONTON, Ohio, Feb. 2.—Wibur Folsom, a traveling man for E. Ewing, queensware dealer of Portsmouth, died suddenly at his home at Sixth and Adams street in this city Sunday afternoon. It was given out that the cause was the grip. This morning, however, it developed that it was a case of suicide, Folsom having shot himself below the heart with a revolver early Sunday morning. He had been despondent for several days over business affairs. He was about 32 years of age and leaves a wife and child.

ASKS FOR A RECEIVER.

Hackley Bank of Muskegon After Atkinson Spring Works.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The Hackley National bank of Muskegon, Mich., has filed a bill in the United States circuit court for the appearance of a receiver for the Atkinson Steel Spring works, under an unsatisfied judgment. It is alleged that $15,000 in stock was not paid for and that the title to large tracts of land is clouded by a trust deed to secure the payment of $100,000 in bonds which have not been issued in good faith.

PULLED THE PROUD PORTER.

Marquis di Pullman's Minion Juggled for Selling Whiskey.

WICHITA, Kas., Feb. 2.—V. L. Foster, a Pullman car porter on the Frisco road, was arrested this morning at Burton, Harvey county, charged with violating the prohibitory law. This is the third arrest of porters made in the last few days. A regular system of espionage has been in vogue for some time and the different sheriffs where prohibition is popular have combined and have evidence against nearly all the car porters running in Kansas.

GONE TO A HIGHER COURT.

Lawyer Charged With Stealing Trust Funds Kills Himself.

EASTON, Pa., Feb. 2.—Preston M. Gerneth, a lawyer of the city, committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple this morning in the toilet room of the court-house. He was defendant in a suit wherein he was charged with misappropriating the sum of $5,000 belonging to the estate of Samuel Kaufman, deceased, and the trial was in progress when he fired the fatal shot.

The schedule of articles to be admitted to Germany at modified rates has already been published.

VERMILION RANGE ORE.

Extensive Preparations Making for Largely Increased Output the Coming Season.

NEW DOCK AT TWO HARBORS AND MORE STEAMERS.

Rush to Creede, New Colorado Mining Camp—One Million Offered for the "Holy Moses."

THEIR FAITH IS IN IRON.

TWO HARBORS, MINN., Feb. 2.—This year's mining at the Vermilion range iron mines, owned largely by the Illinois Steel company, will be on a greater scale than ever before. It is intended to mine 600,000 gross tons at the workings of the Minnesota Iron company and at the Chandler mine, now also in the same ownership, 500,000 tons will be mined. This is 300,000 tons more than these properties ever produced in a single year. The Pioneer mine, also owned by the Illinois Steel company and allied interests, will this year produce 50,000 tons. It has never yet produced any quantity of ore. The Zenith, lying beside the Pioneer, but owned in Duluth, will this year ship 50,000 to 75,000 tons, making the ore to be handled by the Duluth & Iron Range road for the year fully 1,300,000 tons.

For this increase in its business the Iron Range is building a new ore dock. It is to cost $125,000 and will be ready in May. The Minnesota Steamship company, also controlled by the same parties as the Illinois Steel company, the Minnesota and Chandler Iron companies and the Duluth & Iron Range railway, forming the most gigantic mining and manufacturing corporation in the age, is building two 5,000 ton steamships, which will be added to its present fleet of six at the opening of navigation. These two boats will be the largest steam vessels on the lakes and will be engaged exclusively in the ore trade between Two Harbors, Chicago and Cleveland. Two wharveships are also being built by Captain McDougall at Superior, Wis., who is shipping agent for the Minnesota Iron company. These will be practically a part of the fleet and will give a tonnage capacity of 30,000 capable of moving 600,000 tons of ore in the season.

IS A SECOND LEADVILLE.

Great Rush to Creede Mines—The Holy Moses a Bonanza.

DENVER, Feb. 2.—The excitement at Creede, the new mining camp on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, is intense. People are flocking in from all parts of the country and a city of rough board houses has sprung up in a short time. The mines are something wonderful and almost equal to those of Leadville in its best days. David H. Moffatt today was offered $1,000,000 by an English company to bond the Holy Moses claim but he refused. Since the first prospect hole was started, nine months ago, there have been $5,000,000 worth of ore taken from the mines. Today L. Z. Dickson, Henry B. Wolcott and E. O. Wolcott of Denver, A. M. Ward of New York and Jake Sanborn of Leadville purchased a two-thirds interest in the Last Chance for $100,000. This mine is shipping 90 tons of ore a day which averages $160 per ton.

A conflict of opinion as to the ownership of 160 acres in the centre of the new town exists and there have been many small fights and much lot jumping, but thus far no one has been killed. This property is claimed by the state as school land and also by V. B. Watson, who has leased and sold some of the lots. A public auction of these lots by the state board is advertised for February 6 and it is feared grave trouble will arise as most of the land is covered by squatters who will not move.

OLD MAN'S AWFUL CRIME.

Fred Needeck Cut's His Wife's Throat and His Own.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 2.—Fred Needeck, aged 63, a tanner, quarreled with his wife over money matters tonight and then cut her throat with a razor. He tried to kill his twelve-year-old daughter but she got away. Needeck closed the tragedy by severing his own jugular.

VAIN SEARCH FOR ARMS.

Mexican Police Ransack House of the United States Consular Agent.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Feb. 2.—Quite a sensation was created yesterday in Matamoros by the searching by the military authorities of the residence of Enrique Vizveza, a prominent merchant doing business at Mier, Mexico. His family lives in Texas. The military had received information that Mr. Vizveza had arms and ammunition for the revolutionists concealed in his house. The square in which his house is situated was surrounded by the troops and the premises searched from cellar to roof. Of course nothing was found. Mr. Vizveza is an American citizen and is United States consular agent at Mier.

Forecast of the Weather.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—S. P. M.—The weather bureau reports the following as its forecast for the next 24 hours: For upper Michigan: Slightly cooler; northwest winds; generally fair Wednesday except cloudiness and light flurries of snow along the lake shore; probably fair Thursday.

Where Napoleon's Friend Was Found.

On the voyage in a frigate from Alexandria to France Napoleon said to those who were in his confidence: "I am taking two very different chances. If this vessel is captured by the English and I am thrown into an English prison I shall be in the eyes of France a common deserter, a general who left his army without authority to do so. But if I reach France in safety, subdue the factions, take command of the army and carry out my plans for the nation's good, I shall win the blessings of our fellow countrymen."

"I will not be taken by an English vessel. If we encounter one we will fight as long as possible, and when the enemy begins to board us we must sink the ship."

This desperate plan was received in silence and with evident disapproval, except by Gaspard Monge, who said, when it appeared that no one else was going to speak: "Yes, general, you have stated the situation exactly. If what you suggest happens we must sink the ship."

"I was waiting for this proof of friendship, and I charge you with executing the plan," replied Napoleon.

Not long afterward an alarm was given, and every one hastened to his post to defend the frigate against an approaching English vessel. It was soon discovered, however, that the vessel was not English nor unfriendly.

"Where is Monge?" inquired Napoleon. "Find him and tell him that the danger is past."

Monge was found at his post by the powder magazine with a lighted lantern in his hand.—Youth's Companion.

The Kind Hearted Apple Woman.

There is an old apple woman who does business on a Wall street corner who deserves a medal for one of the best natured dispositions in this town. The other day a cool wagon, one of the big ones drawn by three horses hitched abreast, drove up to her corner and slowly and clumsily backed up against the curb. Then the driver swung his horses around so as to give another team a chance to get through the street. Round came the heavy animals, not with very much speed, but with a momentum which proved disastrous to the proprietress of the stand and her goods. Down she went, while a good share of her apples went tumbling after her.

Luckily she was not much hurt, but as she reclined on the pavement she saw one of the horses add insult to injury by opening a vast mouth and closing it upon the biggest apple on the stand. Then up rose the old woman in hot haste. But not to seek vengeance. Instead, she picked up two more apples and hospitably handed them to the two animals which hadn't helped themselves. And what is more, she looked as if she hadn't a grievance against anybody in the world.—New York Times.

One Way to Fix up an Old Room.

If you are repairing an old house and wish to have one or two striking and effective features, choose a room for a den and have the whole of a windowless side finished with drawers, cupboards, nooks and pigeon holes. Shut in some of these with stained glass doors, drape others with real silk or blue and white porcelain tinted craypods. Leave a gallery along the top for busts, pottery or unframed paintings. Cover the floor with matting and rugs. If possible place low seats in the windows for plants or books. Select wrought iron frames for hanging lamps, with a copper candle stick placed here and there for pick my use.

An old portable clothes closet may be converted into a corner shrine for such a room by being covered with dark red plush, in which is kept some family heirlooms or a beautiful vase. A few old bamboo pieces of furniture will best harmonize with the rest of the room, or stiff carved chairs in dark mahogany. An old fashioned desk, such as was in constant use in New England years ago, or any antique table or stand will find a suitable abiding place here.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Trouble With the Pepper.

The late P. T. Barnum, being a pronounced joker, turned also his witty faculty to use. When he told the Adirondack landlord, with great solemnity, that he hesitated to find fault with anything about the hotel when so much was agreeable, he was urged by the landlord by all means to be frank and do so. "Well," said Barnum, "it is only one thing; I have discovered with regret that your pepper is half peas." The landlord declared it could not be; but, on being assured that Barnum knew pepper as well as ginger, he wrote a caustic letter to his grocers about sending him such stuff. They, knowing doubtless who the real complainant was, wrote back that if he would spell "pepper" he would find half of it composed of peas, and that that which they sold had only the amount the orthography required.—Printer's Ink.

COLD WATER CURES ALL.

A UNIVERSAL PANACEA FOR SUFFERING HUMANITY.

"The Abbe Sebastian Kneipp" and His Power of Healing—A Patient Describes the Method of the Priest's Treatment—Cold Water Used Externally.

Few Americans have seen the little village of Weershofen, in Bavaria, and yet for the past four or five years this little burg has attracted as many visitors as Bayreuth and Oberammergau. Weershofen is celebrated not for its mineral waters, not for its bracing air, but for its marvelous cures performed by the priest of the village, the Abbe Sebastian Kneipp. Each year at least 30,000 invalids make a pilgrimage to Weershofen and endure all inconveniences in order to be cured by the Abbe Kneipp.

The Abbe Kneipp is a celebrity in Germany. He is called a genius, a savant, a benefactor of the human race. Everything in the village is named for the wise priest. For instance, there is Kneipp coffee, Kneipp bread, Kneipp linen, etc. Always at least a dozen physicians are present at the consultations of the priestly healer, and these, after thoroughly understanding his system, will found Kneipp Amstalten at Stuttgart, Munich, Wurtzburg, etc.

This good abbe believes that water will cure all the ills to which flesh is heir. A friend who went from Paris to consult the Abbe Kneipp has told me of her experience at Weershofen, and of her great admiration for the abbe's wisdom.

THE ABBE.

In the village there are only three or four primitive inns, but most of the invalids lodge in private houses no less primitive. The abbe has been compelled to build a large house for the benefit of the clergy, for priests also ask to be cured by their confere.

The abbe receives at the presbytery, and begins consultations at 8 o'clock in the morning. The great physician sits in a large room on the ground floor, surrounded by pupils. The abbe is a fine looking man. His regular features and fresh complexion denote health, and his broad, high forehead, hardly touched by a wrinkle, is framed in white hair.

His eyes are the bluest and brightest I have ever seen, for his soul seems to be concentrated in these eyes, and they penetrate you through and through—in fact, to make a diagnosis, the abbe only looks at a patient and in diagnosis he never errs. Some who went to the priest with despair in their hearts left him buoyed up by courage and with the assurance that their diseases were not incurable.

Although the abbe says "I cannot destroy death," still he has cured many whose diseases baffled the skill of others. A man whose face was disfigured by a horrible cancer asked his advice. Calmly the priest said, "It is easily cured," and after several weeks of lotions and baths the cancer disappeared. The blind have recovered their sight and the lame have walked.

According to the Abbe Kneipp every disease originates in the blood; there may be a disturbance in its circulation, where may be a derangement of its composition.

WHAT WATER DOES.

Water alone can act thoroughly on the blood, and water produces four noticeable effects. It dissolves the injurious principles of the blood, eliminates that which has been dissolved, restores regular circulation to the purified blood and fortifies the debilitated organism. In a talk with the abbe after consultation hours, he said that fifty years ago people did not take cold as at the present time. Why? Simply because the body was more hardened to changes in temperature.

Water makes the body capable of enduring all climates, and the best way to begin the treatment is to walk barefoot in the wet grass. After a quarter of an hour's promenade without drying the feet, one must put on dry shoes and stockings and exercise until the feet are very warm. "If you can find no dew, no wet grass," said the abbe, "walk on cold, wet stones, or even on the snow. That is my remedy for those who are always taking cold."

The abbe's treatment varies according to the malady. For some he prescribes vapor baths, for others wet compresses, for others baths with oats or hay added to the water, etc. The water must be as cold as possible, and in winter snow is preferred. But a cold bath must never last more than five minutes, including the time required for dressing and undressing, and the bather must never use towels, but always exercise for fifteen minutes after the bath. Friction only causes unequal circulation, but exercise produces a uniform heat.

Warm baths should always be followed by a plunge in cold water. The good abbe says one must never drink too much water, and the least possible during repasts. "Drink a little water before eating, very little while eating, and two or three hours after drink as much as you wish."—Paris Cor. New York World.

One Little Thing.

"It's little things that count," said Hicks.

"Ye-es," returned Mawson. "But very inaccurately. My boy can't count eleven without making about forty mistakes."—Harper's Bazar.

AN ODD NUMBER AND AN ODD CASE.

And the Question Is, Had Thirteen Anything to Do with the Case?

There was a commotion in the hotel when the Denver stage came in, and the men who were playing poker in the bar-room, and the loafers who were waiting for somebody to treat hurried to see what was up.

"There's a sick traveling man. He's awful bad and can't go any further. Fix him up a bed and send for a doctor," some one in authority was saying.

There were plenty of volunteers to help carry the sick man to a room, and soon a temporary nurse was installed and a doctor in charge of the case.

There was nothing unusual about it. He wasn't the first sick man that had stranded there, and would not be the last. The only curious thing about him was this: He heard the landlord say:

"Take him into thirteen."

"No, no," he said feebly, "that is an unlucky number to me—don't put me there."

"All right," said the landlord, "give him eighteen, that's empty." And the men bore him carefully upstairs.

But the landlord had winked to those who had him in charge, and they had responded by an answering wink, which said in dumb show, "All right, we understand."

So they carried him into the room with the unlucky number, and he, having faith in the man he had appealed to, asked no questions. Indeed he could not, for as they carried him into the room he swooned, and they had enough to do, with the doctor's help, to revive him.

Then he dozed, and started up in feverish delirium, and called for people who were far away, and raved and muttered, and the landlord was laughing down at the bar, telling of his good joke in deceiving the sick man.

"He'll never know the difference," he said. "I ain't no patience with such superstitions, and what the eye don't see the heart don't feel. Here's health and long life to the stranger in No. 13."

They linked glasses and drank. The noise of their carousal penetrated the room above, where death wrestled with life in an unequal encounter.

"What time is it?" The sick man had awakened suddenly, and as he asked the question the clock on the mantel began to strike the hour.

"One—two—three—four," he counted the strokes aloud.

The nurse tried to dissuade him from speaking by shaking her head in disapproval and laying a finger on her lips, but he persisted and had his way.

"Five—six—seven—eight"—The doctor held his finger on the sick man's pulse and felt an accelerated thrill in its irregular beat. The sick man's voice continued:

"Nine—ten—eleven—twelve"—"Midnight," said the doctor, giving the nurse a warning look.

"Thirteen!" The clock struck one too many; it is out of order," grumbled the nurse.

"It has stopped," said the doctor, taking his finger from the pulse, which he referred. "Strange! I did not think the end was so near."

Neither did the landlord, who had just wished the traveler long life.

But the clock that struck one too many had been the strange instrument of fate.—Detroit Free Press.

Some People Dislike Clocks.

I loathe clocks! They are like your frank people who are always bawling unpleasant truths at you. As I look up from my work just now and catch the eye of that brazen little monster on the shelf it almost seems as though it was gloating over the fact that time has the best of me. "Ah, ha!" it seems to be saying, "would like to keep your bloom a little longer, would you? Don't like to think how late in the day it's getting for some folks, and how near the bedtime of the grave! But mortals can't hold on to youth, and they can't forget the inn where they are bound to sleep the night of death away, while my brazen tongue is wagging! You're on the lightning express that stops at no station, and I've got hold of the throttle valve, my dear!" Well, you little beast, go on with your exulting beat of passing time! Swing yourself loose and hurry us away to the sea as a spiteful tug tackles an outward bound ocean steamer! Some day we will get it all back on you, when we stand under the new heavens checked off with no meridian of time! We shall forget you and your paltry environments as completely as the summer forgets the winter or the sunshine forgets the storm. Meantime I would like to demoralize you with a meat ax!—Chicago Herald.

Proceeds of a Jackknife.

The champion horse jockey belongs in Belfast in the person of Life Walker. Just to give his boy an idea how to get along in the world Life started away from home one day on foot and nothing in his pockets but a jackknife. He was absent just one week and returned driving a pair of horses harnessed into a top buggy. Hitched to the rear axle was another horse and a cow, while ahead was a dog. "See how your pap does it," said Life to his son, as he gazed at the time of day from a handsome watch. For a fact he had got the whole turnout for his jackknife, and swapping the proceeds into one thing and another.—Belfast (Me.) Mail.

Just enough snow fell Monday night to make fair sleighing once more. The marriage of F. W. Read and Miss Maggie Childs takes place today in Chicago. The Marquette County Savings bank will move into its new quarters next week. The annual meeting of the Michigan Gold company will be held in this city today. Attend the closing sale of seats for "Hazel Kirke" at 10:30 this morning at the Armory. The rest of the scenery for the opera house arrived yesterday from Soltman & Landis, Chicago. Mr. Will H. Cleary and Miss Nellie O'Neil will be married at St. Peter's cathedral this morning at 9 o'clock. The chairs presented to the Marquette Snow Shoe club by Hon. Timothy Nester will be sent out to the club house today. The annual meeting of the Lake Shore Iron works, set for yesterday afternoon, was adjourned to Thursday, Feb. 11th, at 4 P. M. The mosaic floor for the new banking room of the Marquette County Savings bank is expected to arrive from Germany about the 15th inst. The high school scholars are already preparing for an entertainment on Washington's Birthday in accordance with the recommendations of State Superintendent Fitch. W. Coudock, the veteran actor, in his admirable creation of Dunstan; Frank Weston gives a humorous portrayal of Pittacus Green, and the others of the company are excellent in their respective parts. The People's will probably be packed all the week as it was last night."

M. Conway secured the first orchestra chair sold for the opening of Marquette's new opera house, taking No. 1 in the center block. He was bound to sit in that seat on the opening night because years ago in Cleveland he saw Effie Ellsler, then a child playing "Eva" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the first part usually given to a child actress. Next Monday he will see her as "the only Hazel," for so she is regarded wherever she has been seen in "Hazel Kirke." Mr. J. E. Daliba secured the only other orchestra chair offered. McDonald, the greaser, has gotten out a very neat little oyster shell calendar which would be an ornament in any house or office, while it also calls attention on the back with the admonition to the face "Turn Me Over Frequently" to the fact that Mr. McDonald has had long experience in catering to the wants of the public, makes a specialty of fine teas and coffees, creamery butter and fresh eggs, oysters and fruits, and that he would be pleased to have you call or telephone, or should you prefer, his clerk will call upon you every morning. PERSONAL MENTION. E. W. Hebard, of Pequaming, is in the city. J. O. Thayer, of Sheboygan, Wis., was in the city yesterday. PERSONAL MENTION. E. W. Hebard, of Pequaming, is in the city. J. O. Thayer, of Sheboygan, Wis., was in the city yesterday. Mayor Longyear left for lower Michigan yesterday afternoon to be gone until the latter part of the week. George C. Garrow, of St. Paul, the representative of the Diebold Safe & Lock company who secured the order for the vault work in the Marquette County Savings bank, is in the city inspecting the work on the safety deposit vault. The Matching Habit. A woman brought a small sugar coated pill into a South End drug store the other evening and wanted a box of pills just like them, under the impression that matching pills was as simple a matter as matching ribbons.—Springfield Homestead. In appearance the ordinary truffle is about the size of a walnut, with a rough, brown, warty surface, closely akin to the potato, which it likewise resembles in consistency, though not in color. The largest building that ever was erected was the machine gallery at the Paris exhibition, which was exactly a quarter of a mile in length, with a span of 360 feet. Pope never could compose well without first declaiming for some time at the top of his voice, and thus rousing his nervous system to its fullest activity.

M. Conway secured the first orchestra chair sold for the opening of Marquette's new opera house, taking No. 1 in the center block. He was bound to sit in that seat on the opening night because years ago in Cleveland he saw Effie Ellsler, then a child playing "Eva" in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the first part usually given to a child actress. Next Monday he will see her as "the only Hazel," for so she is regarded wherever she has been seen in "Hazel Kirke." Mr. J. E. Daliba secured the only other orchestra chair offered. McDonald, the greaser, has gotten out a very neat little oyster shell calendar which would be an ornament in any house or office, while it also calls attention on the back with the admonition to the face "Turn Me Over Frequently" to the fact that Mr. McDonald has had long experience in catering to the wants of the public, makes a specialty of fine teas and coffees, creamery butter and fresh eggs, oysters and fruits, and that he would be pleased to have you call or telephone, or should you prefer, his clerk will call upon you every morning. ### HEMATITE HAPPENINGS.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury as to the Cause of Michael Kenney's Death.

NO ONE BLAMABLE FOR THE DEPLORABLE FATALITY.

Outlook at the Foxdale—It Drew a Crowd—A Drummer Who "Gets There"—The Tislov Funeral.

FOUND NOBODY BLAMABLE.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the coroner's jury empaneled in the case of Michael Kenney re-assembled at Justice Kennedy's court. The principal witness examined was Captain Jas. Kenney, brother of the deceased, who paid a visit to the mine yesterday morning and examined the place where his brother was killed. He testified that he, together with Captain John McClellan, of the Lake Superior mine, visited the underground portion of the mine where his brother had met his death, and that he had examined the roof of the stope and found that a rock had fallen therefrom. It was a large one, and weighed between 350 and 450 pounds. This rock lay 27 feet from where the body of his brother was found, and if falling it had struck the deceased, it would have crushed his body to jelly. He said that in his judgment no small piece had fallen from the roof and his brother met his death, from what he could discover from the surroundings, by being struck by a rock thrown out by the blast. He stated that he regarded the place as a safe one to work in and that he would feel safe in working there himself.

When the body of the deceased was found it was noticed that it was lying near a rail that stood against the side of the drift, and it was thought that he had fallen against the rail and thus received the injury.

Dr. G. T. Barnett, of the Ishpeming hospital, who attended the injured man when he was taken to the hospital, was then called and testified that the cuts in the top of the head could not have been caused by the body falling against the rail; that in his opinion they were caused from a blow from a rock, as the scalp was badly torn, and looked as though Kenney had been struck by a rough stone.

Dr. Barnett and Captain Kenney were the only two witnesses called. The jury was out but a few minutes, and brought in a verdict as follows: "That Michael Kenney came to his death by a blow from a falling piece of rock and that no blame could be attached to anyone."

The Foxdale.

On Monday afternoon the first annual meeting of the stockholders of the Foxdale Iron Mining company was held in this city at the office of the secretary of the company, Mr. D. F. Wadsworth, when the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: President and manager, Captain Buzzo; treasurer, Robt. Maxwell; secretary, D. F. Wadsworth. The directors elected are: Messrs. M. B. Toutloff, M. Cassin, C. R. Ely, W. Vickary, G. H. Arthur, Captain Buzzo and Robt. Maxwell. A report from the manager, Mr. Buzzo, was read. He gives the information that the property is looking fine, the bottom of the shaft being in a solid bed of hard specular ore of very fine quality. The Foxdale is a valuable property, and promises to some day rank as one of the first class mines on the Marquette range. The gentlemen who have expended so much time and money in its development are to be congratulated on the prospect for a rich reward for their pluck and enterprise that lies before them.

A Day for Kids.

Yesterday morning, when the first street car ever run over First street came gliding along toward the South Shore depot, kids and men gathered from all directions to get a glimpse of it. During the day a car remained near the First street crossing at different times, and men and boys would congregate about to examine and admire it. The cars are beautiful and are very much admired. The road will probably be open for the latter part of this week. The Ishpeming terminus of the line for this winter will be opposite the Ishpeming hospital, the track having been cleared to that point yesterday.

A Wide Awake Drummer.

Mr. Al. F. Draper, the general representative of Mendel, Smith & Co., grocers, of Milwaukee, was the first drummer to ride over the Negaunee & Ishpeming Electric Street railway line between this city and Negaunee. Al. can always be found up with the times, and never fails to be "first" if push and energy can put him there.

W. O. Tislov's Funeral.

The funeral of the late W. O. Tislov will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Norwegian Lutheran church, and the services will be conducted by Rev. S. Romsdahl, pastor of that church. The Scandinavian society, the Ishpeming fire department and the common council will turn out, each in a body. The procession will be headed by the City brass band. The funeral will be one of the largest that Ishpeming has ever seen, for Mr. Tislov was held in high esteem by our people.

Resolutions of Respect to the Memory of Michael Kenney.

At a meeting of Division No. 1, A. O. H., of Marquette county, Mich., held at their hall Feb. 1st, 1892, the following resolutions of respect to the memory of Michael Kenney were adopted: Whereas, It has pleased the Almighty God to remove from our midst our beloved brother, Michael Kenney, who departed this life January 30th, 1892, therefore, in remembrance of the loss to us of our deceased brother, and the still heavier loss to his respected relatives, be it Resolved, That we, the members of Div. No. 1, A. O. H., of Marquette Co., Mich., sincerely sympathize with the relatives of our deceased brother, and we respectfully commend them for consolation to that Supreme Power, who is though sometimes inscrutable in its dispensations, yet doeth all things well. There is consolation in the knowledge that the deceased brother was not only honorable and manly in all re### spects, but was always a devoted christian.

Resolved, That in token of our sorrow for our deceased brother, our charter be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days.

DENNIS MOONEY, JOSEPH KENNEDY, D. J. SLINNEY, Committee.

Mike Cassin Resigns.

Mike Cassin, a noted meat cutter who has been engaged as head man at the meat market of F. Braastad & Co., on Cleveland avenue, for the past two months, has given up his place there, mainly on account of poor health. He will be succeeded by Mr. Jas. A. Ham, who was Mr. Cassin's predecessor in the place. Mr. Ham will take hold there in the morning.

Meeting Tonight.

The Hematite Camp of Modern Woodmen will meet tonight in the camp's new quarters in the Anderson hall, this being the regular meeting night.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

A regular meeting of the common council will be held tonight.

Thomas Woods went to Duluth on Sunday, where he will remain a few days.

Rev. Fr. Keul, of St. John's Catholic church, this city, made a business visit to Marquette yesterday.

Mr. Fred Hammel, the noted horse dealer of Appleton, Wis., is expected here this week with a carload of horses.

The damage to Henry Cole's house occasioned by the fire Monday evening will not exceed $25. The property was insured.

Mr. Hogan Anderson is building a fine two-story residence at the corner of Maple and Arch streets, near the old cemetery.

Dr. Vandeventer, of the Ishpeming hospital, left for way down in Virginia, where he will remain for two weeks, yesterday.

Mr. Joe Seass, the wholesale and retail meat merchant of Negaunee, was here yesterday. He says it's a girl, and as a result cigars were numerous.

Mr. S. Rose, pharmacist at the drug store of Mr. F. P. Tillson, left for his home at Fond du Lac, Wis., yesterday. He will visit there for a few days.

Mr. Fred Briel, who has been here disposing of horse flesh the past three weeks, left for below yesterday. He will purchase more stock and return to this section to dispose of them shortly.

Mr. S. Blumenthal, of the clothing firm of Blumenthal & Rutenberg, yesterday started for the eastern markets to purchase his spring and summer stock of clothing and gents' furnishings.

Mr. M. B. Toutloff is having the interior of his saloon frescoed and painted. When the work under way is finished Mose will have the neatest place in Ishpeming. H. Cullis is the artist in the case and he's a good one.

Frank Zoberlein, who is employed by the hardware firm of Manhard & Co., of Marquette, came down from Houghton, where he has been working for the past three months, yesterday. He will visit his parents here for a few days.

A drunken Finlander was arrested by Officer Nolan Monday evening for driving recklessly through the streets, and was run into the lock-up for safe keeping over night. He paid a small fine in the morning and was discharged.

C. H. Hall, of the Lake Superior Iron company, has returned from his winter residence at Lake Maitland, Fla. He was called here by business and will leave for the land of flowers, after a brief stay here, to spend the remainder of the winter.

Will Eagle, who represents Kahn Bros. & Co., of Chicago, and who handles gents' furnishings, was here yesterday calling on our merchants. Mr. Eagle's territory is the upper peninsula, and he makes the Nelson House his home when in this city.

J. S. Mennie was elected foreman of Hook & Ladder Company No. 1 at the meeting held Monday night, though an error in transmission of the report by phone deprived him of that credit. The name of the secretary of Hose Company No. 1 was also given wrongly as P. Collins, when it should have read F. Collins.

An Untaught Diplomat. "You know, Nick," said his mother, "a gentleman never asks for things, no matter how badly he wants them."

"Why doesn't he?" said Nick, opening very wide his round four-year-old eyes. "Because it is impolite and greedy. That is why it annoys me so to have you ask your Uncle John, whenever he comes, if he has brought you candy. Remember, now, you must never do it any more."

"But it's my candy—he says so—and he wants me to have it."

"Then he will certainly give it to you, and you must wait his time for it. If I ever again here you ask him I will not let you have it. So promise me that you will not. I know my little boy wants to be a gentleman."

Nick made the promise with a very sober face. He was the normal small boy, not a "big" angel, yet he had been trained "upon honor," and felt that a promise once made could not be broken. This is the way he kept it. When Uncle John came again, his nephew, after greeting him, leaned meditatively against his chair and said, "You didn't bring anything but yourself this time, did you, Uncle John?"

"Yes, I did," said Uncle John with a laughing shout; "I brought a whole pound of candy, and after that I wish it was two."—Harper's Young People.

Islands of the Sea.

Some mathematician of leisure has been estimating the number of islands in the world, and has succeeded in counting some hundreds of thousands. He says there are over 1,000 island under the flag of Japan. Strangely enough, he makes no reference to the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence or to the thousands in our own Georgian bay, some of which are of considerable size. It was among these beautiful wooded little islands that the Huron Indians took refuge when they were assailed in 1649 by their implacable foes, the Iroquois. Among the labyrinthian channels the Iroquois could not successfully pursue them, and those who escaped to the islands saved themselves from the extermination which befell their friends.—Toronto Truth.

A Trio of Practical Jokers.

The late W. J. Florence was best known off the stage as a practical joker. He relied for his success upon his cleverness entirely. And it is not recorded that he ever made an enemy by a practical joke. His love of practical joking made him and Dundreary Sothern friends until the end of Sothern's life. They were continually playing jokes each upon the other, and whichever way the joke went it was appreciated. Larry Jerome, Sothern and Florence were a famous trio of jokers in New York ten years ago.—New York Sun.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease," which may be had free at H. H. Stafford, Son & Co.'s, who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, drowsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

HOW TO SUCCEED.

This is the great problem of life which few satisfactorily solve. Some fail because of poor health, others want of luck, but the majority from deficient grit—want of nerve. They are nervous, irresolute, changeable, easily get the blues and "take the spirits down to keep the spirits up," thus wasting money, time, opportunity and nerve force. There is nothing like the Restorative Nervine, discovered by the great specialist, Dr. Miles, to cure all nervous diseases, as headache, the blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria. Trial bottles and fine book of testimonials free at H. H. Stafford, Son & Co.'s.

HOUSEWARMING TONIGHT.

The Marquette Snow Shoe Club Takes Possession of Its New Club House.

SEATS FOR OPERA HOUSE OPENING GOING AT A PREMIUM.

First Lake Superior Iron Ore—The Weston Road—A Successful Supper. Manager Ross Appoints Ushers.

HI! YOU SNOWSHOERS!

The new club house of the Marquette Snow Shoe club will be opened this evening with appropriate ceremonies, great interest being taken in the housewarming by the members of the club and their lady friends. Arrangements have been made with the street railway company by which cars will be run from Ridge street to the club house, a force having been set at work clearing the track on Third street yesterday for that purpose. Until Monday night's fall of snow the track from Fair avenue north was as clear as in summer, hence it was easily cleared by one of the motor cars yesterday, the car coming in and running up Third street as far as Magnetic street.

The street railway company will also light the club house for the occasion and the superintendent of the power house, John Ward, did the necessary wiring yesterday so that the lights could be tested last night. Twenty-five incandescent lights will make the new club house shine in a way that will cast the old one far into the shade and it is hoped that a permanent arrangement can be made with the street railway company for electric lighting. The program for the evening will include two poems written for the occasion, four special selections by the famous Gooding quartette, music by the Hughes orchestra, general songs, speeches and stories and a grand supper, the whole winding up with dancing to the music of the orchestra.

The club house was to have been finished January 23rd, but the very night the contract was signed the mercury took a tumble and fourteen days of zero weather followed, hence the club feels that the contractors have done splendidly in getting the house ready as soon as they have in spite of the intense cold which, down there by the lake shore, delayed the work greatly. The bonus promised if the house was ready on the 23rd has therefore been paid over very willingly although it could not be claimed under the contract. The last of the adamant was placed on the interior Saturday and since then big fires have been kept up in the mammoth fire place, while yesterday a number of stoves were put up in order to aid in getting the building thoroughly dry. The interior wallcoating will also probably be in place by this afternoon, although it will not interfere with the use of the club room if it is not put on until later. The adamant will not be put on the exterior of the building in all probability until there is no danger of cold weather interfering with the work.

The running of the electric cars will prove a great convenience in connection with the opening of the house. The charge for the round trip will be 25 cents for each person and this will save an immense livery bill to the members of the club collectively.

Big Premiums Brought.

Marquette showed yesterday that she was right up to the metropolitan way of doing business. The auction sale of seats for the opening of the new opera house commenced yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Armory with Mr. LeRoy W. Midlam as auctioneer. The first choice of boxes was first offered, a minimum price of $30 having been placed on the larger boxes. Hon. Peter White started the ball rolling with a $5 offer, all bids being premiums. Instantly some one raised him $25 and then the fun began. The bids went on upwards at $5 jumps until Mr. White had bid $105 and was followed by $110 which secured the first choice for the president of the Marquette Opera House association, Mayor Longyear, making the cost of the box for the first night $130. Mr. Longyear chose box "A," the one nearest the stage on the right of the house. "B" was then offered and a number took a hand in making the bidding interesting, the result being that the box went to Mr. White at a premium of $100, making the cost $230.

The other boxes were then held for the sale today and the first choice of the divans in the center block was offered, a minimum price of $7 being placed on them, or $3.50 a seat. The first choice was secured by Hon. F. O. Clark at a premium of $15; he took two and handed to the treasurer of the association, Mr. White, a check for $44. The premium on the remainder of the divans sold ranged from $4 to $8 and the morning's sale amounted to over $600.

Only two orchestra chairs were offered, the minimum being $3 each, and both went at small premiums. This morning, two boxes, the remainder of the divans, seventeen, and the orchestra chairs not reserved for up-the-road people will be offered as well as the balcony seats, when the sale for "Egypt Allen," the attraction for the second night, will begin. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the sale of seats for the matinee, "Miss Manning," will be commenced and bids will be accepted for the first hour from ladies only, it having been decided to give the fair sex the first chance on the matinee seats.

One row of divans and fifty-four seats in the very center of the house have been reserved for Ishpeming and Negaunee as well as twenty seats in the balcony. All these seats are among the choicest in the house. The tickets were sent up the road last evening, those for Negaunee being sent to Perkins & Co., while those for Ishpeming were sent to F. P. Tillson. They will probably be placed on sale today though that is left to the decision of the up "the road" people themselves. The sale today will be even more spirited, it is expected, than that held yesterday as the seats for which the general public is waiting are those which will be offered this morning. Remember that the sale begins at 10:30 A. M.

The New Railroad.

A gentleman who has just returned from Manistique assures the MINING JOURNAL that there is no doubt about the construction of the Weston road from Manistique through to the Marquette iron range, the preliminary surveys for which have been noticed in this paper from time to time. The road will not touch Marquette but will not be far south of the city, passing through Chocomaury township and striking the South Shore road at Eagle Mills and terminating at Negaunee. It will traverse the finest farming country on the upper peninsula and will open up a vast quantity of the finest hardwoods. The principal object of the road will be to give a direct line from the Marquette mines to the furnace at Manistique and also open up a larger charcoal field for the furnace. It will be built this year.

The "S" Supper.

The "S" supper given at the Presbyterian church last evening was a great success, netting the ladies considerably over $100, which means that over two hundred people took supper at the church. There were six tables, all very handsomely decorated with ferns, smilax, flowers, candelabra, banquet lamps, etc.; several of them were very pretty, especially the "yellow table" and another on which was a great "S" in lighted candles set in the same letter formed of smilax on the table cloth. The following ladies had charge of the tables while there were scores of willing assistants: No. 1, Mrs. J. M. Longyear and Mrs. J. C. Hathaway; No. 2, Mrs. C. E. Spencer and Mrs. W. S. Hill; No. 3, Mrs. Goodchild and Mrs. M. A. Jones; No. 4, Mrs. J. G. Reynolds and Mrs. E. W. Allen; No. 5, Mrs. L. W. Toles and Mrs. H. G. Warner; No. 6, Mrs. A. F. Draper and Misses Wilson and McIntosh.

The Ushers Appointed.

Manager Ross has selected his regular corps of ushers for the Marquette Opera House and all are thoroughly experienced in the business and are now familiarizing themselves with the seat diagrams of the new house. Charles Cole, W. T. Fitzgerald and P. F. Mullally, Jr., will have the first floor, and John Hager and J. Fred Kern the balcony.

First Lake Superior Ore.

A Marquette gentleman who was in Jackson recently made a discovery which deserves to be brought to the attention of Hon. Peter White and the Michigan World's Fair commission. He met there Thomas Westron, a son of John Westron who was one of the locaters of the famous Jackson mine, the pioneer of all Lake Superior iron mines, and one of the two men who signed the paper given to the Indian chief, Margi-Geshick, assuring him of an interest in the mine for pointing out the property to them and whose heirs recently recovered this interest through the persistent efforts of Hon. F. O. Clark of this city. The Marquette man's surprise may be imagined when he discovered in Mr. Westron's yard in Jackson the first wagon load of ore ever taken out of the Jackson mine and therefore the first iron ore ever mined on Lake Superior. The propriety of having this ore made a part of the upper peninsula's mineral exhibit at the World's Fair will be apparent to all.
