RAKING DIRECTOR DAVIS

President Palmer and Other Columbian Commission Officials Are Also Roasted.

NATIONAL BODY ACCUSED OF EXTRAVAGANCE.

Congressman Henderson Sets High Value on Services of Himself and Other Members of House.

NO FAULT FOUND WITH CHICAGO.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—"If the gentleman who occupies the position of director-general of the World's Columbian Exposition is worth $15,000 per annum, then every member of this house should receive a salary of $25,000 a year."

This was the closing sentence of the arraignment of Director-General Davis by Representative Henderson of Iowa in the house of representatives today and to the argument of the gentleman from Iowa was due the action of the house in ordering the appropriations committee to investigate the expenditures of the World's Columbian commission.

There is great division of opinion among congressmen tonight as to the effect of today's action of the house. While the World's Fair committee met defeat in its demand that all investigation should be conducted by it there are many who maintain that this defeat does not indicate that a like fate awaits the bill to be introduced making an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the benefit of the World's Fair. Today's action was generally regarded more as settling a matter of precedence than as affecting the vital interests of the World's Fair and there is no doubt many gentlemen who voted for that the appropriations committee investigate who will vote and have announced their intention of voting for a general appropriation for the World's Fair.

The World's Fair question was called up by Mr. Sayers (Tex.), a member of the committee on appropriations. Mr. Sayers said in explaining the resolution for investigation that it was understood that an application would be made to congress either for a loan of $5,000,000 or the investment of such a sum in stock to be held by the government.

Mr. Henderson (Ia.), the author of the original resolution, disclaimed any unfairness to the exposition. From the beginning he had been an earnest and outspoken supporter of the exposition and he had never swerved in his fidelity to its interests. But he had heard many reports and rumors and had seen others in the public press which might have an influence on the public mind. His desire was to invite such full information as would enable congress to act intelligently in making appropriations in behalf of the exposition. The country would not sustain congress in making appropriations for the great enterprise unless it acted with wisdom and patriotism.

"Now," said he, "I want to call the attention of the house to the salaries that are paid. The president of the United States gets $50,000 and the next highest salary paid by this country is that of the director-general of the World's Fair, $15,000. In other words this director-general ranks next in salary to the president of the United States. The chief justice of the supreme court of the United States gets only $10,500; the vice president of the United States, $8,000; and the distinguished gentleman who presides over our deliberations, $8,000. The secretary of this World's Fair commission, too, I see, got $10,000, and the president of the commission $12,000. This was cut in two after the storm of a year or more ago. But when appointed they took hold of that $15,000 as though it had been a private fund intended for their own benefit. This commission is to last if I remember correctly, until 1893. This director-general was glad to fight hard at no light expense to get a two year seat in this house at $5,000 salary. Has he so suddenly expanded in intellect and powers that no less than $15,000 will satisfy him when he does not even have to bear the current and legitimate expenses of an election? (laughter.) Many of us served beside him in congress. He was a good man and an able man but I remember nothing for which he was conspicuous except for his dead silence on most public questions. (renewed laughter.) If you can vindicate a $15,000 salary for him, every gentleman on this floor is entitled to $25,000 salary." (laughter and applause.)

The time allowed for debate having expired the speaker stated the question to be on an amendment offered by Mr. Kelly (Pa.) to the resolution of the committee on appropriations, substituting the committee on the World's Fair for the committee on appropriations as having charge of the investigation. Lost, yeas, 103; nays, 147.

The vote then recurred upon an amendment offered by Mr. Dittler (Ia.) entrusting the investigation to a special committee of seven members. Lost, yeas, 106; nays, 134.

The substitute offered by Mr. Durbin was rejected without division and the resolution of the committee on appropriations was agreed to. It read as follows:

That the committee on appropriations is ordered to enquire and report whether those obligated and undertaking and now engaged to do so have justly and properly complied with the requirements of the act of congress approved April 25, 1890, and whether all expenditures of whatever character for the exposition have been judiciously made; whether the number of employees and appointees to carry out the laws is excessive and their compensation reasonable or otherwise; to ascertain and report the salary paid to each officer and employee; from what states the several appointments have been made, and generally whether in the care and conduct of said exposition proper management has been had; that they obtain a full report of those in charge of the expenditure of money of all such expenditures and that the report of the committee based upon the inquiry may be made at any time to congress.

The speaker made the following committee appointments:

Banking and currency—Mr. Busey (Ill.) and Mr. Russell (Ky.)
Inter-state and foreign commerce—Mr. Caruth (Ky.) and Mr. Coombs (N. Y.)
District of Columbia—Mr. Hallowell (Pa.) and Mr. Busey (Ill.)
War claims—Mr. Cadmus (N. J.)
Eleventh census—Mr. Fithian (Ill.)

DISCUSSING PUB. DOCS.

Wanted, Farmers Who Ever Read the Agricultural Reports.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—A bill was reported and placed on the calendar for the construction of a boat railway at the Dalles and Celilo Falls and Ten Mile rapids of the Columbia river and for the improvement of Three Mile rapids, appropriating in all $2,860,368. Mr. Sawyer, from the committee on commerce, reported a bill to repeal the act requiring life-saving appliances on steamers so far as it relates to the carrying of line projectiles on vessels plying exclusively on any of the lakes, bays or sounds of the United States and it was passed. The senate then went into executive session.

The doors were re-opened at 3:30 o'clock and the senate resumed consideration of the bill providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents. The purposes of the bill are to provide for the distribution of public documents, the purposes of which had been already disposed of, although amendments may still be offered to all of them, it having been understood that only committee amendments should be acted on at the first reading. Section 77 fixes the number of extra copies of documents and reports to be printed, 300,000 copies being fixed for the agricultural reports instead of 400,000, the number now fixed by law. It was stated by Mr. Manderson, who has charge of the bill, that copies of that document in lots of from 100 to 1,000 were frequently offered at from 5 to 10 cents a copy.

That might have been the case, Mr. Cole said, where members represented city constituencies but could not be so where agricultural constituencies were represented. He gave notice that he would offer an amendment fixing the number at 500,000. Without disposing of section 77, which had given rise to a good deal of discussion, the senate adjourned till tomorrow.

The senate made the following confirmations:

Peter Scandella, consul at Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela; F. W. Oakley, marshal western district Wisconsin. Registers of land offices: W. W. Boyle, Folsom, N. M.; A. S. Baldwin, North Platte, Neb.; J. E. Shelley, Devil's Lake, N. Dak.; F. E. Olsberg, Minot, N. D. Receivers of public moneys: Peter Faquet, Oregon City, Ore.; Carl Gustafson, North Platte, Neb.; W. C. Plummer, Minot, N. Dak.; G. E. Monk, Indian agent Lemhi agency, Idaho. Postmasters—Michigan, F. P. Ramsford, Owosso; G. Hartung, Romeo; N. McBain, Owosso.

MANDAMUS IS DENIED.

Treasury Not Compelled to Accept Silver for Coinage.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Justice James of the supreme court of the District of Columbia this morning delivered the opinion in the court of the silver brick case. The petition of Merrick Morse and others for a mandamus to the secretary of the treasury to receive and coin into dollars a silver brick tendered him was denied. Chief Justice Binghams dissented from some of the views of the majority but agreed with them upon the main question.

In response to a call for information the treasury department has transmitted a statement to the ways and means committee showing the receipts and expenditures from July 1, 1881 to December 31, 1891, including receipt and expenditure on account of national bank funds for the time named. The total receipts were $175,743,287; total expenditures $175,984,072. Cash in the treasury to meet requirements of sinking fund amounted to $29,985,256.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker has issued an order giving money order facilities to all post-offices where the compensation of the postmaster reaches $200 per annum.

Representative Enoch introduced a bill today appropriating $10,000 to defray the cost of a survey for a ship canal from Cleveland on Lake Erie to Portsmouth on the Ohio river.

The treasury department today purchased 450,000 ounces of silver at from $9.975 to $10.000.

The secretary of the treasury today issued a warrant for $606,641 in favor of the governor of Kentucky, representing that state's share of the direct tax.

TIMES LIAR STILL AT IT.

Francis Englishman's Vain Efforts to Stir Up Trouble.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The Times' Santiago, Chile, correspondent says: Printed and written accounts arriving here confirm the deep impression caused on all the Spanish and Portuguese speaking republics by the action of the United States government against Chile. They regard it as an outrage and declare the illusions they have hitherto held respecting the great northern republic have vanished. The legitimate influence of the United States has been destroyed and in the future the Central and South American republics must look for protection and materiality of interest, both commercial and political, only among themselves.

MURDERER HARRIS SENTENCED.

Medical Student Who Poisoned His Young Wife Doomed.

New York, Feb. 8.—Carlyle W. Harris, the medical student who was convicted last Tuesday of murdering his young wife by morphine poisoning, was sentenced to death by Recorder Smyth in the court of general sessions this morning after a motion for a new trial had been denied. Recorder Smyth in passing sentence said that no other verdict could have been rendered according to the evidence. Harris is to die within the week beginning March 21. His counsel gave notice of an appeal.

GARZA HAS A NEWSPAPER

Spanish Journal Started to Advocate the Cause of That Revolutionist.

HIS CURIOUS LETTER TO PRESIDENT HARRISON.

Declares He Has Not Violated the Neutrality Laws and Makes Open War Against Tyranny.

FACTS ARE HARD TO GET AT.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 8.—Garza is still in the field and apparently undaunted by the vigilance but thus far vain search being made for him by the troops of both countries.

The latest reliable news of the revolutionists is contained in El Chino, the first number of a local Spanish paper which has just appeared as their avowed organ. El Chino publishes a copy of which purports to be a lengthy letter sent by Garza to President Harrison. It is written under date of January 11 at La Sireta, state of Tamaupula, Mex.

Garza's letter explains the patriotic purposes of the revolutionists to restore a republican form of government in Mexico and condemns the press for having placed him in the light of a bandit and violator of the neutrality laws while a resident of American soil. He claims that when he conceived the idea of a revolution he went straightway into Mexico and the fact of his journey with that intention does not constitute an offense. He regrets the persecution by the liberal American government of some of his fellow citizens whose only offense is a desire to throw off the tyranny of the Diaz government.

DROWNED WHILE SKATING.

Fourteen Year Old Boy Breaks Through Rotten Ice.

St. Ignace, Feb. 8.—[Special.]—Edward Lipping, aged 14 years, was drowned at 4 o'clock this afternoon while skating on unbound ice off the ore dock. His body has not yet been recovered, being in forty feet of water. Men with ropes tried to save him but could not get near him in time.

BEARS HARD ON CURTIS.

Important Evidence Against the Actor Charged with Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—The trial of M. B. Curtis, actor, for the murder of Police Officer Grant was resumed today. A number of witnesses testified to being in the vicinity at the time of the killing and hearing shots fired. James Creighton, bar-keeper; Joseph Denny, extra man in fire department and George Heintz, compositor, testified to seeing a man run away from the spot where Grant was killed. The night was dark, however, and while they obtained a general description of the fugitive they stated on the witness stand today that they could not positively identify Curtis as the man.

One of the most important witnesses today was Mamie Holden, aged 19, who resides just across the street from where Grant was killed. She testified that she had been sitting up with her sister entertaining company.

"I heard two men talking loudly and then scuffling," she said, "I then heard shots and saw flashes. One seemed to be on a level. The second flash was pointed downward and the last flash was upward in the air. I did not notice the relative sizes of the two men. There was no one else over on that side of the street except the two men who were scuffling. One of the men ran away after the shooting. I could not see where he fled to. At the time of the shooting I saw something bright in the hand of the man who ran away. He was standing near the fence. I did not notice how he was dressed. I saw two officers come out of the Folsom street station. They went after the man who was running. The body of the dead man lay in the street until the patrol wagon took it away. I saw a man brought back to the station but could not describe him."

On cross-examination she stated that she witnessed the men scuffling through a closed window but that she raised the sash after the shots were fired. The noise outside was the first thing that attracted her attention.

IDENTIFYING THE DEAD.

Another Victim of the Hotel Royal Horror Discovered.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The work of exhuming the bodies from the Hotel Royal fire and their identification still goes on. The first body to be examined today was that of a man. He had evidently made a desperate effort to escape as he had hurriedly dressed himself in trousers and vest, not stopping to remove his night robe. His identification was made complete. He was A. A. Townsend, a retired coal dealer of New Haven, Conn., who came here from Washington, D. C., last Saturday. By this time the number of persons seeking information or a prompted by curiosity to visit the dead houses had increased to a mob. It was an orderly mob, however, and the officials had but little trouble in detecting the real inquirers from the bogus and ejecting the latter from the premises.

DEADLY SAWMILL BOILER.

Explosion in Arkansas Mill Instantly Kills Four Men.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 8.—At Bethel, Craighead county, last night a boiler in a large sawmill owned by Montgomery Slater and operated by Davis Wright exploded, completely demolishing the building. Four men were in the mill at the time, all of whom were instantly killed. They were J. B. Woods and his two sons, William Woods and T. J. Woods, and an old man named Wall.

MARQUETTE, MICH., FEBRUARY 9. Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

MICHIGAN FOR ALGER. The definite announcement that Blaine will not be a candidate for the presidency this year leaves the way clear for General Alger, of this state.

That Michigan will give her full delegation to the gallant Detroitier who is now free to make a try for the presidency may be taken for granted. As a citizen, as a soldier, and as executive of the state when he held that position, General Alger has rendered Michigan valuable services, and is well entitled to the best backing the state can give him in the "play" that he will make for the highest office in the gift of the American people.

Mr. Harrison has made a good president, and there is no fault found with his administration by the republicans of Michigan. Did they not have an unexceptionable candidate of their own it is quite likely that he would now get the delegation from this state in the Minneapolis convention.

A group of gentlemen were discussing Blaine's "ultimatum" here yesterday, when one of them remarked: "Well, it's going to be Hill and Harrison now!" "Yes, and that's h—, isn't it?" put in a second, interrogatively and profanely. "So 'tis," observed a third. "H— and repeat." It need hardly be explained that there wasn't a Hill or Harrison man in that crowd, though it was a mixed one politically.

The chances are that we will have an Algerine republic of our own after the next president is inducted into office. "Humph! It's very clear that I am not in the proper vein today," growled Mr. Scribber as he threw aside his pen and substituted a stumpy lead pencil in its place.

"What's the matter now?" asked Mrs. Scribber as she left her ironing to come to his assistance. "It's only that Christmas story I started to write for The Echo. I can't for the life of me get beyond the opening sentence."

"Let me see what you have written," said his wife as she looked over his shoulder and read from the paper on the table: "It was bitter cold. The poor little match girl on the corner shivered in the biting blast. Why, that's all right. Go on," she said encouragingly.

"But I can't seem to remember what comes next," remonstrated Mr. Scribber. "Let me see! Um—in the biting blast—and drawing her ragged shawl about her slender, frozen body, timidly offered her scanty stock of wares to the passers by."

"That's it!" exclaimed the author as he drew his wife to him and kissed her tenderly. "What a help you are, dear. I suppose I have written that thing hundreds of times, and yet I had utterly forgotten it."—Life.

Talk's cheap, but when it's backed up by a pledge of the hard cash of a financially responsible firm, or company, of world-wide reputation for fair and honorable dealing, it means business!

Now there are scores of sarsaparillas and other blood-purifiers all cranked up to be the best, purest, most peculiar and wonderful, but bear in mind (for your own sake), there's only one guaranteed blood-purifier and remedy for torpid liver and all diseases that come from bad blood.

That one—standing solitary and alone sold on trial, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If it doesn't do good in skin scalp and scrofulous diseases—and pulmonary consumption is only lung-scrofula—just let its makers know and get your money back.

to possess it will insure us immunity from the provocation to use it that we recently received in a Chilean seaport city. It was the knowledge that our navy is weak and the belief that they could meet us on about equal terms on the ocean that inspired the Chileans with the desire to insult us as they did at Valparaiso in the first place, and to display such reluctance to atone for the insult and wrong in the second.

The Kansan ex-senator knows this, and knows, further, that there was no culpability on the part of the government of the United States in the Chilean matter nor any effort subsequently by the administration, or any party in or out of congress, to unduly magnify the gravity of the emergency with a view to manufacturing public sentiment favorable to a further strengthening of our navy. To make that charge is to pander to an unwise belief that our navy is strong enough which exists in some quarters with the ignoble aim of carrying favor there.

The "people's party" is understood to be opposed to appropriations for more war vessels, and it is not unlikely that Mr. Ingalls was thinking more of the political power that knocked him out of public life with a view to placating when he penned his screed on the uselessness of a navy than of the needs of the country.

This Detroit Free Press pays this handsome tribute to the manliness and worth of the late Colonel C. Y. Osburn, whose death deprived his party of so able a member and the state of a valued and widely esteemed citizen: Col. C. Y. Osburn, collector of customs at Marquette, who died in that city Thursday, was among the well and favorably known men of the state. He was a gallant soldier throughout the war, where he won his title, and no one had a warmer place in the hearts of those with whom he served.

In politics the colonel was a life-long republican, yet too broad in his views to claim a monopoly of right or political wisdom for the party. In social life he was peculiarly attractive. A fine specimen of physical manhood, he was a scholarly gentleman, a constant and discriminating reader, traveled widely, had a wonderfully retentive memory and possessed rare conversational powers. He was an admirable man.

The Escanaba Mirror dubs the editor of this paper "the Marquette Oliver Cromwell." Well, that isn't so very bad a name, after all, though they are terribly prejudiced against the old duffer where Phil came from. Oliver was a masterful kind of a man in his time and had a habit of making it torrid for his enemies. Perhaps it was the latter characteristic that caused the Mirror man to think of him at the time he was trying to write something real mean about the MINING JOURNAL and its editor.

The chances are that we will have an Algerine republic of our own after the next president is inducted into office. "Humph! It's very clear that I am not in the proper vein today," growled Mr. Scribber as he threw aside his pen and substituted a stumpy lead pencil in its place.

RIGHT TO THE POINT. Suggestions Relative to City Building That Marquette People Should Take Thought On.

Things That Would Help the Place Along On the Road Leading to Industrial Greatness, Were They But Done.

MARQUETTE, Feb. 7, 1892. EDITOR MINING JOURNAL.—A recent number of the Christian Union contains the following sound doctrine on the use of opportunities by cities, and as it applies so perfectly to our own city, I quote the paragraph at length: The genius of cities, as of men, lies in the recognition and use of opportunities.

Man sometimes blunder into good fortune, but never into sustained achievement and influence; cities sometimes fall heir to valuable inheritances, but never to prolonged pre-eminence and supremacy. Athens did not become beautiful to the eye and the very home and nursing place of the imagination by accident; Florence did not by chance make herself the mother of great men who in turn enriched her with art and made her name a synonym for culture.

Every instance of municipal greatness there has been present a divining instinct, which not only kept the city true to its type but inspired a splendid illustration of that type; or there has been present an intelligence which forecast the future, recognized opportunities, and made the most of them.

Marquette has many natural opportunities. Have we the genius to recognize and use them? With our many natural elements of greatness, it will be easy to build up a flourishing, perhaps a great, city if we will! A few men cannot build a city. A dozen men of means and enterprise can do much, but they must be backed and encouraged by other public-spirited citizens of all classes, or they will become discouraged.

No orator, actor, or musician can do himself justice while facing an unappreciative, or cold, audience. No man of enterprise is able to long retain his enthusiasm in a community where it is the habit of the people, or of any considerable number, to oppose, or, at least, to be indifferent to, all new projects.

Hundreds of "dead" towns, possessing the natural elements of prosperity, if utilized, owe their commercial demise to such unpatriotic apathy. A man who is indifferent to the agitation of any project for the increase or betterment of the business, social, educational, or artistic standing of the community in which he dwells is a bad citizen. A man who antagonizes such projects is worse.

New York is, probably, the only American city which has become great without exertion to that end by its citizens. No western, or interior, city has had greatness thrust upon it. All our flourishing cities, especially those of the northwest, have achieved whatever of greatness they possess. Every one has been noted for its "hustling" qualities.

The phenomenal growth of Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other thriving cities of the northwest has been the result of enthusiastic, patriotic, united "push" on the part of their citizens. In the cities named an enterprise has only to be suggested as a Chicago, St. Paul or Minneapolis undertaking when it immediately finds enthusiastic supporters because it is a local enterprise, and for that reason it is taken hold of and made a success.

The popular feeling in such communities is, "This is our town, and what we undertake goes!" With a big "G!" The citizens of such communities do not wear the seats out of their chairs and trousers waiting for someone else to take up and carry on enterprises of benefit to the town, but they wear the soles off their shoes in "hustling" to promote anything and everything that promises to help it along.

Marquette has so many good business openings that are apparent to even a casual observer that many visitors are at first surprised to see such chances "lying around loose" and are apt to conclude that there must be some adverse condition, which is not to them visible. The fact is that the greater part of our people are very busy and there are more opportunities here than there are capital and men to improve, but, none of us are too busy to give a few moments, occasionally, to advertising, or improving, or adding something to our town. Every man, and perhaps I should say every woman, in Marquette, can by "taking thought unto himself," add something to Marquette.

By thinking a little, any one may see good business openings here, and there are many people, with capital, looking for just such openings. A little more thought will suggest some way of bringing these business chances to the notice of those likely to be interested. A little thought, an occasional letter, a little talking by each of us, all for Marquette, will do wonders for our town in a year. Every man in Marquette can add at least one more man to our population this year, if he will give it attention and a little work.

By pointing out to those interested the business openings here, most men would be able, at the same time, to do themselves a "good turn" direct, to say nothing of the indirect benefits, in which all would participate. If you do not see any business chances yourself, examine the MINING JOURNAL, and see if you do not think of some one who would like to know of some of the opportunities there suggested. Reader, if you are a citizen of Marquette, this means YOU!

NOW FOR A CITY PARK.

Negaunee to be Provided With a Fine One Through the Liberality of Three of Her Citizens.

DEED FOR THE PROPERTY NOW IN THE COUNCIL'S HANDS.

The Last Street Light Placed—Got the Street Railway Track Clear—Tea Company's Team Takes a Dash.

A CITY PARK NEXT.

Negaunee is to have a public city park at last. There has been considerable discussion of the advisability of having public grounds within the city where the people could gather and pass a pleasant day.

But that we are to have a park is now settled beyond a doubt. At the meeting of the common council held last evening a paper was presented to that body for its inspection and approval, which deals over to the city block 18 entire, in the Maas, Lonstorf and Mitchell addition in the eastern end of the city for the purpose of maintaining a public park.

The people of Negaunee have been placed under a deep obligation by the gentlemen who have made the city this superb gift. That they have the interest of the city and her citizens at heart they have clearly demonstrated.

Very little outlay will be necessary to beautify the grounds. Nature has already done a part of the work. At present there is a knoll on the grounds on which are standing a number of fine trees.

The deed calls for inauguration of the work of improving the grounds as soon as it can be conveniently started, and if the city accepts the gift and lives up to its part of the contract, which it undoubtedly will, our people will have pleasant grounds where they can pass many pleasant days during the coming summer.

"30" On Light. The 30th, or reserved, electric light has been placed on Iron street in front of the Mulvey block. This will end the controversy over where this light should go.

Cleared the Track. A large force of men was engaged yesterday clearing the snow from the track of the street railway and by noon the cars were making their regular trips.

A Runaway. An exciting runaway took place on Iron street yesterday afternoon. The Grand Union Tea company's team became frightened at the street cars and dashed up Iron street along the sidewalk, turned the corner of Silver street and jumped into Hamby & Ingh's delivery sleigh, knocking the teamster out and slightly damaging the dash board, the seat, and tail board of the sleigh.

the heels of the horses' shoes striking the seat, their knees striking him on the back, but doing him no injury.

The Grave of St. Patrick. A tourist, who has been visiting Downpatrick, writes on the subject of the grave of St. Patrick. He says: "What I saw was this—a hole such as animals or poultry might scrape, with a few loose stones, apparently thrown in where the earth had been taken out, and laid across the opening was a stone slab, evidently of great age and with traces of carving upon it, broken into three fragments. There was nothing else."

The neglected condition of this grave has recently been brought before the Royal Society of Antiquaries of Ireland.—Exchange.

CATARH CAN'T BE CURED with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is no quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription.

It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.

THE DEADLY UNDERTOW

AND THE FATAL CLASP OF THE EVER STEALTHY "SEA PUSS."

Dangerous Ocean Currents Along the Shore—How They Are Produced and How They May Be Avoided—Advice That Surf Bathers Should Heed.

The many deaths by drowning on the New Jersey coast have caused a great deal of discussion. Some attribute the loss of young Brokaw to the presence of a "sea puss"; others say it was simply an ordinary undertow, while the conservative claim that it was neither.

The majority of people do not know the difference between a tide and a current, but believing the words to be synonymous, use them indiscriminately. A tide is the alternate rising and falling of the waters caused by the unequal attraction of the sun and moon, while a current is a moving of a mass of water that may or may not rise, but has only one direction. Currents are sometimes produced by strong winds, but generally by a difference of level and the configuration of the bottom.

The first thing to avoid is the undertow, which is always strongest in water about waist deep. If the bather would venture out further or remain nearer the shore he would escape the strength of the undertow. This disturbance of the water is confined to no particular locality, though it is stronger in some places than in others, owing to the trend of the shore. It is caused by the rushing out of the water under the surface after being thrown up on the beach, and is always strongest in an angry surf. One may judge of the strength of the water by the height of the waves as they break and the velocity which they impart to objects along the beach.

The explanation of the undertow is simple. The approaching waves have a velocity depending upon the strength of the wind. So have the receding ones, but this is due to gravity and depends upon the angle of inclination of the beach. The breakers, therefore, with their greater velocity, run over the top of the waves, while the receding water keeps below.

Eddies are simply partial currents that take an opposite direction to the parent stream, and are produced entirely by the trend of the shore. Whenever there is a recession of the beach or "pocket," as it is called, there will be found eddies. They are of no consequence, however, and of little or no danger to the bather.

We now come to a disturbance of the water, the very name of which causes a panic among bathers. The "sea puss" has no place in physical geography; in fact, no scientist has deigned to notice this phenomenon. Webster does not even give a definition of it in his unabridged dictionary. In the Century it is defined as "a swirl of the undertow making a small whirlpool on the surface of the water; a local outward current dangerous to bathers. Also called sea poise and sea puss."

How the "sea puss" is formed no scientist states, but in all probability it is due to the same causes as the whirlpool, to which it is closely allied. When two currents, with different sets and drifts, meet at a point in the water, the result is a motion of rotation, with a diameter and velocity depending upon the resistance with which it meets. The whirlpool or "sea puss" is given a motion of translation, which it takes from the stronger of the two currents. Now there is often a slight southerly current setting parallel to the shore along the Jersey and Long Island coasts. This sometimes meets another setting to the westward and at the union of the two is formed the "sea puss," which moves slowly to the southward and eastward.

OCEAN CURRENTS. This westward current may be due to strong winds, or to a storm many miles out at sea. Far away to the eastward, the water is piled up and driven landward, where it is smooth and undisturbed. In this way it is possible that the "sea puss" may be formed under cloudless skies and in unruined water. Should a bather be caught in the swirl, it is useless to attempt to swim against it. The wisest plan would be to keep his head above water and swim with it, gradually nearing the edge until he is out of its unwelcome radius of action.

Professor Maury, formerly a lieutenant in the United States navy, attributes offshore currents to a difference in the temperature and density of sea water at different places.

Another proof of the presence of submarine currents is the fact that in all deep sea soundings the line has never yet ceased to run out even after the lead has reached the bottom. Should it be held fast in the boat it will invariably part, showing when two or three miles of it are out that the undercurrents are sweeping against the light of it with what seamen call a "swigging force," and that no twine, however strong, has yet been able to withstand this.

Admiral Sir Francis Beaufort, when in command of her majesty's steam frigate Friedeichstein in the Mediterranean, also made some important discoveries in this direction. In the archipelago he found the counter currents so strong that they often prevented the steering of his ship. In one instance when the water was very clear he lowered the lead with colored shreds of bunting attached to every yard. These pointed in different directions all round the compass.—W. Nephew King, Jr., in New York Recorder.

Esquimo Mourning Customs. All Eskimos are superstitious about death, and although they hold festivals in memory of departed friends, they will usually carry a dying person to some abandoned hut, there to drag out his remaining days without food, medicine, water or attendance. After the death of a husband or a wife the survivor cuts the front hair short and fasts for twenty-five days.—St. Louis Republic.

FELL DEAD.

A Sad Warning—Take Heed.

Fell dead! He was a business man among you yesterday, but he neglected the nervous weakness which finally resulted in Heart Failure.

You are warned, as he was, by nervousness, malaria, weak, weary, dizzy and strange, faint feeling, loss of memory, confused mind, trembling sinking sensation, coldness of feet and legs, palpitation feeling of apprehension, anxiety, drowsiness, daytimes, sleeplessness nights.

If you have these symptoms, you must at once use the sure preventative of Heart Failure—the greatest of all nerve strengtheners, Dr. Greene's Nervura. It is the only certain remedy for heart and nerve troubles, but should be used when the very first symptoms of nervousness and weakness appear, and thus prevent the fatal result. Purely vegetable and compound. Sold by druggists, 25c.

"I suffered from vertigo and heart disease, with frequent attacks of faintness and failure of heart action, sometimes so bad that it was with great difficulty that organ could be restored to its natural action. I was totally incapacitated for either mental or physical labor. I have been a sufferer from these complaints more than 25 years, and have used many medicines, but have never found a medicine from which I have found so much substantial benefit as I have from Dr. Greene's Nervura. If this should meet the eye of any one who is a sufferer from these, or any other nervous diseases, I earnestly recommend a trial of Dr. Greene's Nervura."

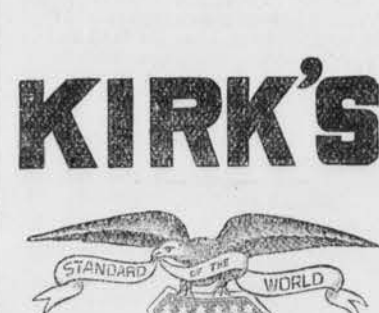

WALTER S. LOVEJOY, 12 Wadsworth St., Danvers, Mass.

Dr. Greene, the successful specialist, in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35 W. 10th Street, New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about the case, or send for symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining the disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

MILLVAINE ELECTROCUTED

Grocer Luca's Brutal Murderer Pays the Extreme Penalty of the Law.

SCENES IN THE DEATH CHAMBER AT SING SING.

Current Turned On Second Time to Make Sure Though Doctors Say Death Was Instant.

SHOCKED INTO ETERNITY.

SING SING, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Charles Melville was shocked to death in the prison here today, the first contact being made at 11:12 A. M. The duration of the contact was forty-nine seconds.

In a few seconds after the current was cut off by order of Dr. Macdonald froth issued from the mouth and almost simultaneously there was a quick gasping exhalation and a quick recovery, like a person strangling. The current was at once reappplied and continued for forty-five seconds.

When the doctors examined the wrist and jugular vein for the pulsations there were none and after examination by all the doctors present the subject was declared dead, which is to say that all consciousness was dead and all the muscular reflexes had ceased.

At 10 o'clock Warden Brown, accompanied by the electricians, left the warden's office to test the death machinery. At 11 o'clock the witnesses were all in the warden's office and were summoned to the death chamber. The medical men were Dr. B. Ward, Albany; Prof. L. H. Landy, Columbia college; Dr. L. A. Saxe, Syracuse; Dr. T. S. Robertson, New York; Dr. Herbert J. Williams, Brooklyn; Dr. J. Marcell, Poughkeepsie; Dr. A. F. Carroll, Brooklyn; Dr. J. Hasbrouck, Port Ewen and Dr. C. E. Macdonald, New York.

The warden read the death warrant to the condemned at midnight. Melville did not say anything and listened in an indifferent manner. When the warden left Melville he gave him to understand that his hours were numbered and advised him to try and get all the sleep he could. The murderer remained quiet and did not seem to be visibly affected by the reading of the death warrant.

The chair used was one never before employed. On each side of the arms was a jar into which the hands were immersed in a solution of salt. The arms were strapped at elbows and wrists and the contact at the head was made on the forehead. An electrode, as in previous cases here, was present for use on the leg in case of failure or mishap at the other points of contact. The first contact was made through the hands and head, the second through the head and ear of right leg. Rubber sacks of warm water hung aloft with rubber tubes to the electrodes for the automatic wetting of the sponges. The doctors with one exception believe life and consciousness were destroyed at the same instant. As compared with the Komaroff killing that of Melville was much less distressing.

Melville entered the chamber with Fathers Creedon and Smith, carrying a crucifix and murmuring prayers. He was intensely pallid and his hands trembled.

"O Jesus, help me," he murmured, and then as the control on his nerves slackened he almost shouted:

"O God, I am sorry that I offended thee; O Christ, have mercy!"

Meantime he had been lowered into the chair. The head was pressed back against the leaden neck rest. An electrode was quickly clamped upon the forehead and the clamp on the rubber tube was loosened so the water flowed down into the electrode sponge. While this was being done an officer on each side had strapped the wrists and elbows while others were strapping the legs at the ankles and an electrode was bound upon the calf of the right leg, from which the trousers leg, already ripped open, had been stripped away.

"Jesus spare me; merciful God help me," muttered the prisoner as the broad leather mask was bound across his face, concealing all the features save the nose and mouth.

"I am heartily sorry, O God, that I have offended thee," came once more in the muffled voice of the condemned and then, almost in a shout,

"Let 'er go!"

The condemned man had given the word for his own taking off. As he spoke the bidding for his own death stroke Professor Landy lowered a small lever at the switchboard on which were fastened the glowing testing lamps which showed the current was floating at 1,600 volts.

There was a quick convulsive jump of the subject and a slight sound of straining straps as the muscles tightened and tugged in the tetanic impulse which followed the application of the terrific current. There was no movement in any part of the entire frame.

"Close," commanded Dr. Macdonald and the small lever at the switch board was pushed back to its place.

The current was cut off at 11:12:49 A. M. The power of 1,600 volts of electro motive force had been busy forty-nine seconds.

Dr. Ward reached down into the cell on the right of the chair and was feeling for pulse beats when from the livid lips of the subject there showed an exhalation of mucous sputum and almost at the same instant there came from the throat a broken exhalation from lungs which had thus expelled the last air taken in at the last moment as the condemned nerved himself for the death stroke. Then came a shorter gasp, which was cut short in a gurgle by the reapplication of the current, which at the moment was flowing at 1,500 volts and ten amperes. Quickly there came to the ears of those nearest the chair the sound of a gentle hiss. Steam simultaneously erupted up from the electrode on the calf of the bare leg.

"That is only steam from the saturated electrode," said Dr. Macdonald and his opinion was supported by the fact that at the moment there was no smell of burnt surfaces, though a few moments later and after all was over there hung in the air a suggestion of smoke from burning flesh, probably the result of blistering under the heated water in the electrode.

"Stop again," ordered Dr. MacDonald and the lever again cut off the current from the subject.

Dr. Ward again advanced to test the wrists for probable pulse beats. There were none. The mask on the face was released so that the blood, if any, might have action on the jugular vein. Dr. Ward retired. Dr. Macdonald tested both at the wrist and neck and then other physicians did likewise. But there came no more tremor or action anywhere. The tense figure gradually relaxed from the terrible strain under which the man labored at the moment the bolt entered his frame. The neck relaxed, the head slipped down and the entire frame sank down, a senseless dead substance.

When Wood who was executed last July, passed Melville's cell on his way to the death chair Melville cried out to him: "Good bye—you'll be in h—l before I am." There came a change in Melville's demeanor after his last hope vanished. He was subdued and gentle and spent much of his time during the last few days in reading his Bible and talking with Father Creedon, his spiritual adviser. It was feared at one time that he would make a desperate resistance when led out to take his seat in the death chair but he submitted quietly.

Melville was not quite 19 years old when committed the terrible crime and he had only just been married to a girl still younger than himself. They occupied two rooms in an east side, New York, tenement. One night in August, 1889, he took two companions to his rooms. All three, typical east side toughs, lay down to sleep with orders to Mrs. Melville that she should awake them shortly after midnight. In the early hours of the morning they crossed the Brooklyn bridge, bent upon plundering some house before their return.

Passing through Jay street an open window in Grocer Christian Luca's house attracted Melville's attention. It was an "easy mark," he thought, and telling his companions to wait he removed his shoes and climbed up into the window. While he was searching for plunder Mr. Luca surprised him.

Melville whipped out a knife and as Luca approached plunged it again and again into the man's body. When Luca dropped dead it was with fourteen wounds showing where the burglar's knife had struck. Melville was captured red-handed. He had two trials, the jury each time finding him guilty of murder in the first degree. Three times the week of his death was fixed. His case was carried to all the state courts and to the supreme court of the United States and more than two years have elapsed since his awful crime appalled the people of Brooklyn and New York.

NO FLOURISH OF TRUMPETS.

Governor Boyd of Nebraska Quietly Takes Possession.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 8.—When Gov. James E. Boyd arose this morning he looked out upon a morning as clear and cloudless as his title to the gubernatorial chair of the state of Nebraska and his right to be called a citizen of the United States. The governor at once began preparations to go to Lincoln. But it was again to take up what is best compared to a marriage without a honeymoon. He was never formally inaugurated. He took the oath of office but a granger legislator which unheeded instead of adjourning had not considered his incoming worthy of any demonstration.

So today at Lincoln there was no flaunting of flags or sounding of trumpets and no one would have supposed from Governor Boyd's appearance that the occasion was anything but the most commonplace. His bearing was unaltered; his expressions the same as that which has always characterized the plain, practical business man that he is. Everything at the state house had been in readiness for the reception of Governor Boyd. In the governor's office the clerks were busy sorting over papers, cleaning out desks and making inventories.

Return and Quit Again.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 8.—The strike of the Pittsburgh, Alleghany & Manchester traction lines is still on, although the company is running cars regularly. The seventeen strikers who went back on Saturday quit this morning without assigning any reasons for their action. It is presumed that the union men who had not returned to work influenced them to come out again.

ANDREW ANDERSON'S CRIME

Fatally Wounds His Wife Because She Applied for Divorce From Him.

HIS DRINKING HABITS CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE.

Then Leaps Off the Roof, Tries to Kill Police Captain Koch and Wounds Himself Slightly.

CHICAGO'S LATEST TRAGEDY.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Andrew Anderson, ex-foreman of a butterine factory, shot his wife this afternoon and then to escape arrest jumped off the roof of his house, a distance of fifty feet to the ground, only to be cornered immediately in a cellar by Police Captain Koch.

Anderson refused to surrender and shooting himself in the breast, fired twice at Captain Koch. Both shots missed and the captain quickly knocked down and disarmed his infuriated antagonist.

Anderson as a prelude to this extraordinary episode had smashed all the furniture in his home and thrown his wife's dishes and flower pots out of the windows. He is a drinking man and his wife had taken steps to get a divorce. Last night she through fear of him remained away from the house and was returning under the unavailing protection of two constables when the shooting took place. Anderson will recover. The wife's wounds are fatal.

IS MULHATTON LOOSE AGAIN?

Wonderful Indiana Oak Tree Filled With Natural Gas.

MUSKIE, Ind., Feb. 8.—On the farm of John Abrell south of here a large oak tree was chopped down. It was perfectly sound. Immediately after the tree had fallen the choppers noticed a peculiar hissing sound issuing from the stump. A match was applied and a blaze shot ten feet up in the air and burned with considerable force. The tree was filled with natural gas which flowed out through the grain of the wood.

Fast Trotter Brings $30,000.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 8.—Dr. W. F. Galbreath sold the great Ralph Wilkes (2 year-old, 2:18) today to George Leavitt, of Boston, Mass., for a fancy price. The doctor stated that the price was larger than that paid for Constantine, Constantine sold for $27,000. It is understood that the price was $30,000.

At Sault Ste. Marie.

The news of Colonel C. Y. Osburn's death was received in the Soo, where Colonel Osburn had many warm friends, with deepest regret. Deputy Collector Carlenton assembled his force, and adopted the following appropriate resolution, which was signed and forwarded:

WHEREAS, The deputy and inspectors of the sub-department of customs at Sault Ste. Marie, have heard with deepest regret of the untimely death of their chief, Colonel C. Y. Osburn, at Marquette, Mich., Feb. 4, 1905, and

WHEREAS, They recognize and fully appreciate the great loss to the public generally and to the customs department, of a head so efficient, so kind and so full of consideration; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, with hearts laden with grief and hands bowed with sorrow, express our sincerest sympathy for the relative and official associates of the deceased and testify to our own realization of the great loss which must be borne by us all.

With great respect, we are, Guy H. Carlenton, deputy; F. W. Flower, James Walker, Wm. Gilray, Wm. J. Newcombe, N. Thompson, Sophia Stafford, inspectors.

For the Prison Library.

STATE HOUSE OF CORRECTION AND BRANCH PRISON. A. W. MALMBORG, Warden.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Feb. 8.

TO THE MINING JOURNAL.—Some of the citizens of the upper peninsula have from time to time contributed magazines, papers, books, illustrated weeklies and other very interesting literature to the prison library and I would thank you very much if you would, through the columns of your paper, convey to all these good people my grateful acknowledgements for past contributions and the assurance that future donations will be appreciated, both by myself and those under my charge.

Very Truly, etc., A. W. MALMBORG, Warden.

Some Famous Echoes.

There is a famous echo on the Rhine between Coblenz and Bingen, which repeats a word seventeen times, while in the sepulcher of Metella, the wife of Sulla, in the Roman campagna there is an echo which repeats five times in different keys, and will also give back with distinctness a hexameter line which requires two and a half seconds to utter.

Grewster mentions an echo on the north side of Shipley church, in Sussex, England, which repeats twenty-one syllables.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Oldest Voter.

Nathaniel Laird cast his eighty-seventh vote at Oswego, N. Y., Tuesday, Nov. 2. He was born 109 years ago in Iceland and came to this country at the age of fifteen. His wife is still living at the age of seventy-nine, but they have no living children.—Exchange.

FROM THE PACIFIC.

Judge A. P. Overton, of the superior court of California, president of Santa Rosa Savings bank and director of the Home for Feeble Minded Children, is one of the most prominent men on the Pacific coast. As a man he has the confidence of every one, and as a judge he is held in universal esteem. A short time ago his Honor wrote that he had been induced to purchase Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for a lady who had been subject to spasms for 24 years. It gave the best of satisfaction and did "more good in three months than other remedies had done in three years!" The patient is greatly improved though it was evidently a desperate case. Dr. Miles' Nervine and also his New Heart Cure are excellent remedies. They may be had of our enterprising druggists.

If you need anything in the furniture line you can save money by purchasing of us. Hughes & Olson, Third street opposite postoffice.

EUROPE'S RULING FAMILIES.

The Descendants of Two Sisters Are at the Head of Many Countries.

It is not generally known that the reigning houses of Europe, with few exceptions, are descended from two sisters, the one being the mother of almost all of the Catholic princes and princesses, and the other of the majority of those of the evangelical confession. The late Frederick Theodore Richter, the historian, first discovered this interesting historical fact in 1876. The genealogical records of the various families in proof of the assertion of Richter, however, have been published for the first time by Dr. Ottokar Lorenz, professor of history in the University of Jena.

The parents of the two sisters whose descendants have become so powerful were two German rulers of comparative insignificance: Duke Louis Rudolph of Brunswick-Wolfenbuetel, who died in 1735, and his wife, Christine Louis, who departed this life in 1747—a daughter of Prince Albrecht Ernst of Oettingen. The elder daughter of the ducal pair, the Princess Elizabeth Christine, after her conversion to the Catholic church, married in 1708 the subsequent Emperor Charles VI of Germany.

The Empress Elizabeth Christine, through her daughter, Maria Theresia, the ancestor of the houses of Habsburg-Lothringia, Tuscany, Sicily and Modena, and through the marriages of female descendants—the reigning families of Portugal, Brazil and Italy (Savoys-Carignan), Saxony, the present reigning families of Spain and Bavaria, the Spanish Bourbons and all of the Orleans family. These descendants number all told about 400, and belong in the majority of instances to the Catholic church.

The second daughter of the ducal pair mentioned above, the Princess Antoinette Amalie, married her cousin, Duke Ferdinand II of Brunswick-Bevern. The fruits of this marriage were three daughters, the Princesses Louise, Amalie and Julienne, and one son, the Duke Carl. From Princess Louise-Amalie, who married Prince August William of Prussia, a brother of Frederick the Great, and thus became the mother of Frederick William II, is descended the present royal house of Prussia. Through the marriages of other female descendants she is also the female progenitor of the reigning families of Russia, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Baden and the Netherlands.

The second daughter of the Princess Antoinette Amalie, the Princess Sophie, became the wife of Duke Ernst Friedrich of Coburg-Saalfield, and the ancestor in the female line of the entire house of Coburg, and through it of the ruling families of England, Belgium, Hesse-Darmstadt and Portugal.

The third daughter of the Princess Antoinette Amalie, the Princess Julienne, married King Frederic V of Denmark. From her are descended the reigning houses of Denmark, Holstein-Gluecksburg, Hesse-Cassel and Greece.

Finally, from Duke Carl of Brunswick, who died in 1780, the only son of Princess Antoinette Amalie, was descended the house of Brunswick, which became extinct in 1855 by the death of the late duke, thus Antoinette Amalie, who was gathered to her ancestors in 1762, has had 265 descendants, who, with few exceptions, profess the Protestant form of belief. Duke Louis Rudolph, who died in 1735, has had up to the present time almost 800 descendants, including almost all of the ruling families in Europe.—New York Tribune.

A Curious Indian Custom.

In the original settlements in British Columbia a peculiar institution occasioned gala times for the red men now and then. This was the "potlatch," a thing to us so foreign, even in the impulse of which it is begotten, that we have no word or phrase to give its meaning. It is a feast and merrymaking at the expense of some man who has earned or saved what he deems considerable wealth, and who desires to distribute very lots of it at once in edibles and drinkables among the people of his tribe or village. He does this because he aspires to a chieftainship or merely for the credit of a "potlatch"—a high distinction. Indians have been known to throw away such a sum of money that their "potlatch" has been given in a huge shed built for the feast, and blankets and ornaments have been distributed in addition to the feast.—Julian Ralph in Harper's.

How Ancients Squared the Circle.

The rule given by Ahmes requires that the diameter of a circle shall be shortened by one-ninth, and a square erected upon this shortened line. The area of such a square approximates the area of the circle, but, of course, is not exact, and is not even as close a result as that at which other geometers have arrived.

The Babylonians, who were also great mathematicians, had a solution, to which a reference in the Talmud has been traced. The Babylonian method, however, was not a quadrature, but a rectification of the circumference.—All the World Round.

Home Made Dolls Cheaper.

A "doll with real hair" is the desire of most small girls. As a rule, only the expensive varieties of dolls are so endowed. "But," suggests a close shopper, "I buy a seventy-five cent doll, for which I get a good kid body with bisque arms and feet, and then at some small hairdresser's I get the jute curls replaced with a wig of real hair at much less expense than 'could buy the doll thus endowed in the first place.'"—New York Times.

Footprints of the Musk Ox.

Vasey says the footprints of the musk ox resemble those of the barren ground caribou so closely as to easily deceive the unaccustomed eye. The external hoof is rounded, the internal pointed.—Horace T. Martin in Popular Science Monthly.

Arguing is a source of annoyance and wears upon the nerves of the listeners, however they have schooled themselves to bear and forbear.

The Right to Privacy.

Two decisions have recently been rendered by important tribunals which rebuke the tendency to interfere with the right of the citizen to be let alone. The supreme court of Mississippi has decided, in the case of a black man whose cabin was entered by a party of men who came to "arrest" him, without warrant of law, for an alleged offense, and who shot and killed two of these invaders of his house, that a man has a right to defend himself under such circumstances.

The court, in setting this man free, declared its belief that the home should have every possible safeguard thrown around it.

The other decision mentioned is in a case of very unusual character. A certain society proposed to erect a statue of a deceased and very philanthropic lady. The members of this lady's immediate family objected, on the ground that notoriety in any form was wholly distasteful to her, and that, inasmuch as she was a private citizen, the erection of a statue of her was an unauthorized invasion of privacy.

The supreme court of New York took this view of the case and declared that the wish of her family, representing her own known desire, should be observed, and that no public representation of her should be permitted.—Youth's Companion.

Killed the Bear with a Penknife.

A big yearling bear was killed on Friday on Little Mountain, near Parkersburg, W. Va., by John Hall, seventeen years old, and Mont Black, twelve years of age. The boys were soon hunting in the mountain when the dogs treed the bear. They had an old single barreled shotgun, loaded with bird shot and an ax. They fired the load of shot into the bear and brought the animal down. Then the dogs attacked it, but they were beaten off. One of the boys ran in and struck at the bear with the ax, but did not hit it. Young Hall then drew his pocketknife and went at the bear. He was pretty badly scratched and severely bitten on the fingers, but stuck to the brute until he cut the bear's jugular vein. The boys dragged home the body in triumph.—Cor. New York Sun.

Curious Marrying Mistake.

At the parish church of Brierly Hill, on the borders of the Black country, a curious mistake occurred a few days ago. A bridal party by some means occupied their wrong places, and the bride was married to the best man, who was engaged to marry her sister. During the ceremony the bride had some idea that the proceedings were hardly as they should be, as the bridegroom stood behind her and the best man, and handed the ring to the latter. On the other hand, the best man made the necessary responses. Happily the error was discovered before the ceremony was gone through a second time, care being taken that the right man was wedded to the bride.—London Tri-Bits.

A Cricket Bowling Machine.

Recently a patent bowling machine for the use of cricketers, for practicing purposes, was exhibited in England, where the unerring aim of the mechanical cricketer knocked out the middle stump of the most expert batsman that stood before it. The length of pitch, direction and movement of the ball can be produced within wide ranges with great facility. The aim, sighted as after the manner of marksmen, is regulated from a dial, and the ball, thrown from a revolving iron hand, is capable of bowling over or under hand with great accuracy.—New York Telegram.

Divorced in Fifty-seven Seconds.

In the district court at Galveston Friday the suit of Mattie Brooks against her husband, William Brooks, was on the docket for trial. The case was called by Judge Stewart, but the defendant did not appear. The plaintiff's attorney arose, read the petition, alleging the statutory requisitions and setting forth the cause of action, put a witness on the stand and examined him, and secured the sanction of the court to the entry of a decree of divorce, all having been done in exactly fifty-seven seconds.—Exchange.

Mining from a Balloon.

Think of a mining enterprise conducted by soaring aloft in a balloon. There are many ore producing ledges on the precipitous sides of hills in the Rocky mountains. These ledges are so lofty as to be inaccessible by ordinary methods; therefore, Mr. S. C. Rees, an experienced miner, proposes to reach them by means of an anchored balloon. This will enable him to secure foothold on the ledges and make entrances through the sides of the precipitous hills.—Yankee Blade.

anc Postage Stamp Nearly 55 Years Old.

The postage stamp will be fifty-two years old in May. Its inventor was a printer, James Chalmers, of Dundee, Scotland, who died in 1833. England, fifty-two years ago, introduced the new system of preparing letter postage, and according to a decree of Dec. 21, 1839, issued the first stamps, which were to be put before the public on May 6 of the following year. A year later they were introduced in the United States and Switzerland, and within three years had become common in Bavaria, Belgium and France.—Charleston News and Courier.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease," which may be had free at H. H. Stafford, Son & Co.'s, who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous and organic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain or tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, dropsy, etc. His Restorative Nervine cures headache, fits, etc.

Miss Ellsler's Reputation. Readers of the MINING JOURNAL who have seen Miss Ellsler only in such emotional plays as "Woman Against Woman," "The Governess" and "Hazel Kirke" will find it difficult to believe that she can truthfully portray character other than tearful.

To all such, and to those who would see how versatile a truly first-class artist can be, we would say, go to see her tomorrow afternoon in her latest success, the beautiful comedy "Miss Manning," a play that has gained for her a reputation as a comedy actress second to none in this country.

"Miss Manning" is not a farce comedy or a piece flitted (as are most of the comedy plays of the day) with horse play, but a genuine first-class comedy, fresh, crisp, bright and laughable.

"Egypt Allyn." This evening, at the Marquette Opera House, Miss Ellsler will be seen in another of her successes, (a play entirely different from either of her other pieces) "Egypt Allyn or the Daughter of the Nile," in which she will be seen in the triple role of "Egypt," "Princess Yeddo" and the statue of Galatea, finding ample scope for the display of her abilities.

In this piece she will be supported by her father, one of the best character actors upon the stage, and Mr. Frank Weston who, as in "Hazel Kirke," plays the comedy part. The balance of the company is far beyond the usual standard of support and is the same as has supported Miss Ellsler in New York, Chicago, Detroit and the principal cities in the United States.

Their Tenth Anniversary. Yesterday was the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Mantel and in the evening their new and elegant residence on North Third street was stormed by an immense surprise party composed of friends and relatives, while "tin" was every where conspicuous. After "Hazel Kirke" Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mack (Mrs. Mantel's parents) and a party of friends went out to join in the festivities and music, dancing and feasting made a merry night of it. The Mining Journal extends congratulations.

For "Egypt Allyn." No one in Marquette can afford to miss the Miss Ellsler company and the opening dates of the new opera house with all the advantages given by the use of the electric light, which at present can be supplied only for the opening. The seats for tonight's bill, "Egypt Allyn," are now on sale at Stafford's, all seats except the divans being placed at $2.

Will Start This Week. Rice & Son are receiving a very fine lot of logs by rail and will start up the sawmill in connection with their factory this week. All orders for piece stuff, etc., will be promptly attended to and all parties desiring sawdust can procure it by driving their sleighs under the sawdust dump.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS. The Marquette Rifles will give another Army party on Tuesday evening, the 16th.

The Skin Fane snow shoe club took its first tramp last night, about ten members turning out.

The city's Brazil plow needs an overhauling so as to make it clear of the snow closer to the sidewalks.

The boxes for the safety deposit vault in the new savings bank block are here and ready to be put in place.

Will H. Nelson goes down to the Soo Thursday morning to race the Canadian champion, Frank Guy. The distance will be three miles.

L. H. Stafford, of the Marquette greenhouse, will dress the stage for the garden scene at the matinee tomorrow afternoon.

Harry Coffin and Will Miller, who were with "The Midnight Alarm" company which appeared here last fall, are in the city with "Roger," the great dog. They will probably present a play at the new opera house with local amateur talent before proceeding on east.

Marquette city has good reason to feel proud of its foremost citizen, Hon. Peter White, in whom a representative to the World's Fair from this peninsula we all claim an interest. Last week this liberal minded man came forward with a proposition to exchange a valuable block in the principal portion of the city for the present city hall, which together with a library he donated to the city several years ago.

There is a vast difference in the money value of the two properties today, and the city gets the benefit of it. -Ontonagon Herald.

The Aeolian!

While in Chicago I had the pleasure of hearing one of your Aeolians, and the melody is still ringing in my ears. You could see me since I heard that wonderful and accurate music, you would see a different man. I am more hopeful. My victrolas and my wife both agree with me, and in my once sad heart the little pee wees are singing. Seriously it is a most wonderful instrument.

Mr. Nye is only one of the many who are surprised by this wonderful instrument. If the Aeolian had no other qualities than its beautiful tone and wonderful orchestral effects, it would be a marvelous instrument, but when to these are added that simplicity of operation that enables anyone to play it with a few days practice, it becomes phenomenal.

Herr Anton Seidl, leader of the German opera, New York city, has an Aeolian for his personal use and endorses it highly.

You are earnestly invited to call and hear this wonderful instrument at

SKI CONTESTS PROMISED

Ishpeming's Ski Riders on the Qui Vive Since the Last Snow Came Down.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Goes to the Crystal Falls District—Shin Fanes Will Turn Themselves Loose Tomorrow Night.

THE NORDEN SKI CLUB.

Much has been heard and said of this club since its organization here a few years ago. The club is composed entirely of Norwegian gentlemen and has furnished no small amount of amusement for the residents of this city and county, as well as its members. The club has a membership of forty-three at present and its officers are: Fred J. Egan, president; Lars Jantwas, 1st captain; Ole Smidli, 2nd captain; Albert Aas, secretary; Arnt Fandrem, treasurer. Last year the club gave one of the greatest ski tournaments ever held in the United States, in which the champion ski riders of America took part. Nothing of interest has been done this season by the club in the way of riding or otherwise, owing to the circumstances that not enough snow had fallen to warrant a turnout. The recent heavy snowfall has put new vigor into the members, however, and they are desirous of getting together and having a general good time. A meeting of the club will be called in a few days when the matter of having a race will be discussed, and it is quite likely that a ski contest for men and boys will be arranged. To take place before the close of the present month. There are several good riders in the club here, who have taken prizes in several spirited contests at different places throughout the northwest. A grand prize contest was announced to take place last month at Eau Claire, Wis. It was open to all associations in America, but owing to lack of snow it was postponed. It is altogether likely that the country does not have been favored with more or less snow by this time, and it is expected that the date for the race will shortly be announced. The Norden club will send some of its best riders to take part in the contest and it is safe to say that they will not return without their share of the laurels.

At the Public Schools.

Washington's birthday, the 22nd inst., will be celebrated in a most appropriate manner at the public schools in this city. A circular has been issued by Mr. Ferris S. Fitz, state superintendent of public instruction, together with a pamphlet containing selections, etc., for use in preparation of a program to be rendered at the different schools on that day. Exercises will be held in each room of the public schools here, the different teachers using their own discretion in arranging the same. Selections commemorative of the achievements of Washington and Columbus and patriotic songs will be prominent features of the exercises. A few days before the 22nd the teachers of each room will announce to the pupils that a collection will be taken up on that day among the scholars and each pupil will be requested to deposit at least one cent in the box. The object of this collection is to raise funds to prepare an exhibit of the work of Michigan's schools for the World's Fair. Every school in Michigan will be asked to send samples of its work to the department of public instruction at Lansing, from which samples for the state exhibit at the great exposition will be selected. Each teacher, school officer and superintendent of schools will be requested to give something, from 10 cents upward, and by so doing a neat sum can be realized for the exhibit. Besides asking the assistance of the scholars and school officers, etc., the citizens in general who are interested in the cause of education are earnestly requested to donate a small amount to the fund. Exercises will be both interesting and instructive, and all who can spare the time should attend and witness them.

Chas. E. Lawrence Resigns.

C. E. Lawrence, who has been employed for some time past by the Cleveland Iron company in its office in this city has resigned his position, his resignation taking effect Saturday last. Mr. Lawrence has engaged as bookkeeper with the Hemlock River Mining company, of Amasa, near Crystal Falls, of which Mr. J. F. Armstrong is superintendent and will leave for there today. He will take with him to his new field of labor the best wishes of his many friends in Ishpeming.

Shin Fanes Jollify.

The Shin Fane Snow Shoe club held its regular meeting last night at the club hall on Division street, when several new members were initiated. After this was done the members indulged in an invigorating tramp. It was decided at this meeting that tomorrow night the initiation of the Marquette branch of the club, in which there are about twenty members, will take place. The hall is being decorated in an appropriate manner for the occasion. A banquet that will surpass all previous attempts in that line will be served by the caterer. Watch the Shin Fanes tomorrow night. They will be "right in it."

A Singing Society.

Several Scandinavian residents of Ishpeming have organized a singing society, the object of which is their own amusement and also their advancement in vocalism. The society has started out with a membership of fifteen and rehearsals are being held twice a week.

Officers of Hose Co. No. 2.

Hose company No. 2 held a meeting for the election of officers last evening with the following result: T. McNamara, foreman; D. Maloney, assistant foreman; Ole Kraft, treasurer; D. Harrington was elected to membership in the company to fill a vacancy. The treasurer reported $150 in the company's treasury. A special committee was appointed to confer with the other hose companies for the purpose of making arrangements for a dance in which all the Ishpeming fire companies are to join, and which will be given some time before Lent begins. The meeting then adjourned.

Want to Skate.

Mr. W. E. Johnson, champion skater, wishes the MINING JOURNAL to state that he would like to skate Mr. Frank Peller, of Negaunee, a one-mile race at the ice rink in this city next Saturday evening for a purse of from $10 to $25. Mr. Johnson states that he has understood that Peller would like to try conclusions with him on skates, and if such is the case he is eager to accommodate the Negaunee gentleman. If Negaunee's champion skater is inclined to put his skill to the test, man and money are waiting for him at this end of the line.

Gone to Galesburg.

Rev. G. F. Borg, pastor of the Swedish Bethany church, started for Galesburg, Ill., yesterday. He goes there to attend the Illinois conference of the Augustana Synod, to which the Bethany church of this place belongs. Mr. A. G. Bergstrom, one of the leading members of the church in Ishpeming, accompanied Rev. Borg, going as a delegate from the congregation here. The gentlemen will not return until the early part of next week. The services at the church next Sunday will be conducted by one of the deacons.

More Books.

The first installment of new books for the Ishpeming public schools was received last week and more are expected this week. Among the number that will be received this week is Appleton's Complete Encyclopedia, in thirty-two volumes. For the present the books will be kept at the high school building, but in the course of a few months a library will be established at the Division street and Salisbury schools.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Born, to Mrs. and Mrs. Lars Hoyseth, on Saturday last, a daughter.

The street cars are running just as though we never had a snow storm.

Mr. Alba Hinchliff, cashier of American mine, spent Sunday in this city.

Mr. E. Braastad left yesterday for Cleveland where he will transact business concerning his mining enterprises.

The Ishpeming Snow Shoe club had a good turnout last night. A supper was served at 7 o'clock, after which a tramp was taken.

Fred Kamen, editor of the Finnish paper here, made a business trip to the copper country the latter part of last week, returning Sunday.

Mr. Jas. Clancey has volunteered his services and will take the character of "Judge Norberry" in the rendition of "Robert Emmet" on March 17th.

The advertising matter for the famous Luttenam Sextette arrived yesterday, but the exact date for the appearance here of the company has not yet been determined upon.

A. M. Tugaw, who handles the White sewing machine for Mr. Ed. Girzi, has moved part of his stock from Mr. Girzi's place to D. Sullivan's drug store on Canal street, as there was not room enough in Mr. Girzi's store.

In yesterday's MINING JOURNAL it was stated that Mrs. Leon Decaire, of Frenchtown, had died at an early hour Sunday morning, when it should have read Mrs. Mike Decaire. The funeral of the deceased will take place this morning from St. John's Catholic church, Rev. Fr. Bousseu officiating.

The Apparition in the Elevator.

Some years ago a young man came to Chicago from Germany. His father had cut him off from his annuity. He lived in the same house where I lived. He finally obtained a place in one of the big grain elevators here. I do not know what the place was except that he had something to do on the top floor, away up under the roof. Several men were employed with him in the same place. One day while he was dusting he suddenly stopped and asked his assistants who that nicely dressed old man was that was standing back there by the shaft. Strangers are never allowed in these big elevators, and to see one there well dressed was enough to excite comment. His companions looked in the direction indicated and said they saw no one. He insisted, and when they laughed at him he went to the place where he saw the figure standing. On his approach it vanished. The young man fainted. He recovered and then asked his companions to make a note of the occurrence, the date and the time of day. He said the figure he saw was that of his father. In twelve days he received a letter from the old country telling him of his father's death. The date and time agreed with the date and time of the occurrence I have described. The letter informed him that his father had forgiven him and remembered him in his will. He returned to the fatherland, got his portion of the estate and is living there now. You may say what you please, but I have never felt like scoffing from the time I heard this story. The spirit of that boy's father appeared to him on the top floor of that elevator.—Engene Field in Chicago News.

One day while he was dusting he suddenly stopped and asked his assistants who that nicely dressed old man was that was standing back there by the shaft. Strangers are never allowed in these big elevators, and to see one there well dressed was enough to excite comment. His companions looked in the direction indicated and said they saw no one. He insisted, and when they laughed at him he went to the place where he saw the figure standing. On his approach it vanished. The young man fainted. He recovered and then asked his companions to make a note of the occurrence, the date and the time of day. He said the figure he saw was that of his father. In twelve days he received a letter from the old country telling him of his father's death. The date and time agreed with the date and time of the occurrence I have described. The letter informed him that his father had forgiven him and remembered him in his will. He returned to the fatherland, got his portion of the estate and is living there now. You may say what you please, but I have never felt like scoffing from the time I heard this story. The spirit of that boy's father appeared to him on the top floor of that elevator.—Engene Field in Chicago News.

MARRIAGES ARE FREQUENT

Copper Country People Have Small Faith in Promises of Single Blessedness. LARGE LIST OF LICENSES DURING THE PAST WEEK. Alleged Abstracter of George Lieblein's Pocket Book Claims It Was a Joke—Minor Notes.

HOUGHTON. Justice N. Miller of this city is being much sought after to tie the matrimonial knot as reports say he is quite an expert. His latest applicants to be made man and wife were Mrs. Elizabeth George, landlady of the Commercial House, and Contractor William Cook of Crystal Lake.

D. J. Norton of Ewen was in the city on Saturday. He says this is the most perfect winter he has ever had for work in the woods. With four teams he is getting out over one hundred thousand feet per day and has banked so far over two million feet.

County Clerk Primeau has issued the following marriages during the past week: Julius Mueller of Duluth and Miss Sarah J. Taylor of Calumet; Cornelius Nowick of Osceola and Miss Mary O'Connell of Osceola; C. G. Sannar and Miss Andrea Anderson, both of Hancock; John E. Strandell and Miss Christina S. Johnson, both of Hancock; Elizabeth George of Houghton; Amedee Chaput and Miss Amanda Rhault, both of Lake Linden.

The Atlantic Mining company has begun the work of putting in bulkheads at the stamp mill to confine the sand within the limits marked out by the government engineers.

The Philharmonic concert Friday evening was well attended and was as usual a grand musical treat.

HANCOCK. The person whom George Lieblein accused of taking his pocket book from his trousers pocket positively denies having taken it away and stated to the reporter that he simply removed it from one pocket to another; that he had been in the habit of taking tobacco (of course with permission) frequently and thought it no great liberty to play this little joke on Lieblein, never dreaming Lieblein would accuse him of trying to steal it.

About seven hundred people attended the concert of the Catholic club in St. Patrick's Hall Sunday evening. The fine program given could not but please those present.

Latest advices from Hon. T. B. Dunsan are from San Francisco. The report here improving in health and enjoying himself.

LAKE LINDEN. Mr. Amedee Chaput, an old resident of this place, and Miss Amanda Rhault were married at St. Joseph's church Thursday morning, Rev. Fr. P. C. Menard officiating.

One of the most effective means of bringing every man, woman and child out into the streets is the blowing of the Calumet and Hecla stamp mill whistle for gre. This was illustrated a day or two ago when Ed. Krouse's chimney burned out.

Work on the new sand wheel is progressing favorably. Several expert machinists from the shops at Philadelphia are working at it.

RED JACKET. The Italian Benefit society gave a grand ball in its new hall Saturday night.

Quite a blizzard raged in this vicinity on Sunday afternoon and evening. CALUMET VILLAGE. The funeral of Mr. Nicholas Forhman was held on Sunday forenoon. The German Aid society, of which he was a member, attended the burial in regalia.

STOOD THE TEST. Alcock's Porous Plasters are unapproachable in curative properties, rapidly and safely of action, and are the only reliable plasters ever produced. They have successfully stood the test of over thirty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of Alcock's by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as Alcock's" and they stand today indorsed by not only the best medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentations. Ask for Alcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

A WARNING—DON'T USE BIG WORDS. In promulgating esoteric cogitations or articulating superiorly philosophical or philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your statements possess a clarified conciseness, compacted comprehensiveness, consequent consistency and a concentrated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of fatulent garrulity, jejune babblement of asinine affectations. In trying to impress upon others the superiority of the Wisconsin Central Lines, the direct line to and from Milwaukee, Chicago and points east and south, and Ashland, Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis and all points north and west, and every you and so many others use this thoroughfare it is not necessary to use jaw-breakers. Let your extemporaneous descantings and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity, without rhodomontade or thronical bombast. Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic profundity, petteous vacuity, ventriloquial verbosity, and grandiloquent vagaries, shun double entendres, persistent jocosity and pestiferous profanity, obtrusive or apparent. In other words, talk plainly, naturally, sensibly and truthfully say the Wisconsin Central Lines is the route and that ends it.

YOUNG MEN

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this chance. DR. SPEER & CO.

Will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases of weakness or private disease of any kind or character they undertake or forfeit $250. They will therefore say to the unfortunate sufferers who may read this notice that you are treading on dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedies for your complaint. Then for the first time you will realize what negligence means. Our success in such cases can be best understood when we will positively declare that over 100,000 have been treated by us in different parts of the world. Call and get the benefit of our experience.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN,

There are many of the age of 30 to 50 who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting sensation and weakening the system in a manner which the patient cannot account for. On examination it will be found that the urine deposits aropy sediment and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color be of a thin or milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of weakness.

DR. SPEER & CO.

Will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the organs. Examination and advice free to all. Remember the place, 146 West Washington street, Marquette. P. S.—See our testimonials in the different papers from well-known people.

To the Public. I have great pleasure in adding my testimony to that of others as to the ability of Dr. Speer, and I do so voluntarily, believing it my christian duty as a member of the "Young Men's Christian association," and also of the "Epworth league," to give due credit to a physician of such marked ability as Dr. Speer, that others may be benefited by his skill. For two years I have been subjected to the most terrible pain; I could not work or sleep; my constitution was so terribly impaired that insanity seemed imminent and life itself a burden. Several physicians whom I consulted could do nothing, and I thought that earth had no cure for me. In my despair I consulted Dr. Speer, whom a friend of mine described as one who had skill, discretion and a wonderful power of healing; as the drowning man will grasp at the straw, so did I at my friend's suggestion. After several weeks' treatment I AM CURED, AND AM IN FULL ENJOYMENT OF MY NATURAL VIGOR. I feel like working full time; eat well, sleep peacefully as a child, and have that grateful sensation that only a man can have who is conscious of being literally snatched from the very jaws of death. The skill displayed by Dr. Speer in the diagnosis of my case was simply—astounding, my ailment seeming to be to him as clear as day. This testimony I am willing to substantiate under oath at any time, and my feelings are of profound thankfulness that the hand of Providence directed me to such a physician. FRED J. HAYEN, 16-31-92 315 Bluff Street, Marquette.

WELL WORTH READING. Dr. Speer & Co., Marquette, Mich. I am glad to write you that I am entirely cured of the distressing disease which has long made life a burden to me. When I began treatment with you I had for years been afflicted with severe pains across the back, my skin was yellow and discolored. I was nervous and constantly depressed in spirits, being unfit for work and know scarcely a moment when I was free from pain. At our first interview you described my case so correctly that I was satisfied that you understood every symptom. Under your treatment I received relief at once and in a few weeks my pains and nervousness disappeared and my skin changed to a healthy color. I am now fully cured and gladly recommend other sufferers as I did to consult Dr. Speer & Co. and give you full privilege to refer any afflicted person to me for reference. 'TAS A GRAND SUCCESS.

The Formal Opening of Marquette's New and Beautiful Opera House Last Night.

FINEST PLAY HOUSE IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN OR WISCONSIN.

Effie Ellsler in "Hazel Kirke" the Attraction—A Short Dedicatory Address by Hon. Peter White.

BRILLIANT AND BEAUTIFUL.

A brilliant success was the verdict of everyone present upon the formal opening of the Marquette Opera House last evening. Notwithstanding the fact that it was the first time the lights had been fully tested, the first time a full force of stage men had been on duty and the innumerable other sources from which some annoying hitch or delay might come, the presentation of "Hazel Kirke" by the Effie Ellsler company was undoubtedly the smoothest theatrical performance ever given in Marquette. Everything moved like clock-work and from the first rise of the curtain to its fall upon the closing scene there was not a single hitch or accident to mar the playing event.

And the opening! Well has it been said that those who have never seen Effie Ellsler and Couldock have never seen "Hazel Kirke." They excelled themselves last night, while every member of the company seemed vying with them to present his or her very best work in honor of the occasion and the result was an artistic success which was worthy of the perfection of the accompanying mechanical details, already mentioned, and of the beautiful little opera house which is now fully dedicated as a place of public amusement. The well known John A. Ellsler sat in the audience and his comment was that the company had never before presented "Hazel Kirke" as finely outside of New York.

The scene in the house was a brilliant one. Overhead gleamed the myriad incandescent lights of the great "sun burner" in the ceiling while the parquette and boxes were filled with ladies and gentlemen in full evening dress, the elegant costumes forming a picture never before seen in a Marquette place of amusement. At fifteen minutes after o'clock Hughes' orchestra struck up the overture. "From Dawn till Twilight" by Benoit, and at its conclusion Hon. J. M. Longyear, Mayor of Marquette and president of the Marquette Opera House association, appeared from the proscenium opening at the right and introduced Hon. Peter White, who would make the dedicatory address for the association. Both were received with enthusiastic applause and then Mr. White, remarking that he must not overrun the time set for him and that if he read his remarks he would know when he reached the end of them, read the following address:

FELLOW CITIZENS OF MARQUETTE:—If we consult the history of the world, we find in all ages, (the world over) that amusements of some kind, whether the bull-fights of Spain, the cruel encounter of the Roman gladiators or the combat of the mounted swordsmen, have been a necessity to the human race. It is well that with the advance of civilization people have turned from these revolting scenes to find a more refined enjoyment in music and the drama. Temples for the practice of these arts are being erected everywhere.

The opening of this beautiful play-house tonight represents, so far, the last stage in the development of this thriving little city, which to many of us is so dear. When I look around me on this sea of beautiful faces, beholding in this audience every evidence of culture and refinement, I think of the music that will soon charm your ears and the eloquence of the actors which will capture your hearts. It seems hard to realize that less than four decades ago the wild man of the forest danced his war-dance on this very spot, and the stillness of the night was unbroken, save by the howl of the wolf or the sullen growl of the bear.

It is but a few years since the first-comers here set themselves by dint of hard work, under the roughest conditions, to erect a reluctant hospitality from this isolated shore. Scarcely was the semblance of a town begun before the needs of the mind and of the soul were recognized no less than those of the body, and schools and churches were reared.

First, very properly, we proceeded to erect our dwellings, next our churches and schoolhouses, and it took us many long and weary years to build the most costly and commodious cathedral in the state of Michigan and almost a half-score of as handsome churches as can be found anywhere, until in those buildings we have a half million dollars. In school buildings we have put another quarter of a million—some of them so durable they will last for centuries to come.

It is not necessary to allude to the business blocks or buildings that belong to the city, county, state or nation. We have constructed costly water works and laid within our city limits over 17 miles of water pipe, capable of delivering to our people 6,000,000 gallons of pure water daily.

We have macadamized over twenty-five miles of streets and laid over fifty miles of wood and stone sidewalks. We have a silent city of the dead hardly exceeded in size or beauty by any other in the state, and that I hold to be a mark of our humanitarian progress worthy of mention in terms of pride and satisfaction.

We have public parks in a good state of improvement, that promise in time to exceed in grandeur, beauty and size those of any other city in our state. All these, and more, we secured to ourselves before we thought of erecting this beautiful temple of histrionic art.

We give you an assurance of our desires for the success of the drama on these boards, in the company we have chosen to open our opera house. As we have built our churches and schools to help onward the cause of civilization, so may this stage serve to polish our manners, strengthen our morals and brighten many an hour with honest, hearty laughter.

It rests with this enlightened public whether the same standard shall be kept up in this theatre that the company playing here tonight maintains.

We begin with everything new and clean and good, see to it that you patronize the best so well, that none but the best will come here.

Players, like ourselves, are but human; they are not all alike, some are better, some are worse, as in the other walks of life. Such names as Charlotte Cushman, Mary Anderson and Effie Ellsler can only be spoken with pride, and honor and admiration rightly belong to Lester Wallack and Joseph Jefferson—white none of this city's illustrious dead has been more sincerely mourned than the favorite actor William Florence. (Applause.)

We are proud of our opera house as I have already said and very grateful for our skillful architect, Mr. D. F. Charlton (applause)—who not only originated the idea of the building—but made the plans in all their complicated details and carefully superintended its construction until the last nail was driven and the last piece of scenery in place. To the untiring efforts of Miss Cecil Grylls (applause) we owe the pleasure of seeing this excellent company and to her praise is due much of the beauty of the stage setting.

To Mr. Wm. A. Ross (great applause) we are greatly indebted for intelligent advice and ceaseless labor to make our opening nights a success. He is now to become the lessee for the coming year of this opera house, and that he may have a splendid success, we hope the undivided public will join us in the wish. And last but not least, when we can find words to express our thanks and satisfaction to the MINING JOURNAL COMPANY (applause) for the beautiful souvenir programs for our three opening plays, furnished to us free of cost. It is to be hoped that each one of you will carry a program away and treasure it up to show to your children and to their children.

We are proud of the company and the plays selected to inaugurate this house and come what will, we here dedicate it to the public and declare it open to the world.

He was interrupted with applause frequently and was heartily applauded at the close, an attempt being made to bring him in front of the footlights again, but just then the beautiful curtain slid bodily upwards into the mysterious regions above the stage and "Hazel Kirke" had commenced. The following was the cast:

Hazel Kirke..... Effie Ellsler
Dolly Dutton..... Miss Loula Porter
Emily Carrington (Lady Travers)..... Miss Rose Anthon
Miss Rose Anthon..... Miss Fanny L. Bart
Clara..... Miss Loula Porter
Dunstan Kirke..... Mr. C. W. Couldock
Arthur Carrington (Lord Travers)..... Mr. Robert Drouet
Pittacus Green..... Mr. Frank Weston
Aaron Rodney..... Mr. George F. Farran
Methuselah Miggins, called Met..... Mr. John A. Holland
Barney O'Flynn, a valet..... Mr. John G. Hall
Joe, a miller..... Mr. John G. Hall

A great many of those present had heard Effie Ellsler and Couldock in other cities and were prepared for the splendid and artistic presentation of the parts of "Hazel" and "Dunstan Kirke," but the strength of the support surprised everyone. Without an exception every member of the company displayed talent of a high order and the result was a finished production, pleasing in its every detail. Couldock was given a welcoming roar of applause the moment the audience caught sight of his figure passing behind the bar-trade and an equally warm greeting was accorded the bright little actress who has done so much to give "Hazel Kirke" its fame. Both justified the reception; their work seems to grow richer with each passing year—the veteran loses none of his fire and dramatic force and Effie Ellsler is more than ever an incomparable "Hazel." Both received hearty curtain calls. Miss Ellsler after the scene with Lady Travers and Couldock after his wonderful struggle with remorse and blindness at the end of the third act, while a more charming, bewitching and tender touch was never added to a scene than Miss Ellsler have by voice, manner and action in her reply "Big man, etc." in the scene where Carrington turns to his wife with "Little woman, what are you hiding from me?" The "Pittacus Green" of Frank Webster was one of the delightful features of the evening and Robert Robert Drouet as "Arthur Carrington" and Miss Loula Porter, as "Dolly Dutton," also became prime favorites by their fine presentation of the parts named.

Marquette's new opera house had been well and duly christened before the sorrows of "Hazel" were swallowed up in joy at the close of the play for there was hardly a feminine eye in the house which had not a dewy look of tenderness about it at the close and several times during the evening representatives of the sterner sex were observed to blink a little strangely and then stare savagely about them as if to determine whether their neighbors were giving undivided attention to the action on the stage or not. Certain it is that those who missed the formal opening of the new opera house also missed one of the finest and most effective theatrical presentations ever seen in the city, if not the finest.

At the fall of the curtain in the fourth act the whole company was given a well earned and long sustained round of applause and when in response the curtain rose again upon the final tableau great bunches of roses were showered at the feet of the ladies of the company. A flash light photograph of the audience was then taken by C. D. Cole, of Ishpeming, and Harry Byrne.

The souvenir programs furnished by the MINING JOURNAL COMPANY for the occasion as a mark of courtesy to the opera house association were beautifully printed in colors on heavy book paper and, with cuts of the opera house block and the interior of the auditorium, gave a short historical sketch of the enterprise as well as the bills for the three events by the Effie Ellsler company and the Nye & Burbank entertainment, besides other matter of interest. They were not only the finest theatrical programs ever issued in the upper peninsula but also fine specimens of color work as were ever issued in the state.

The work of the orchestra, led by Mr. Hughes, is deserving of special commendation. The four selections played were the overture already named, an Ethiopian sketch (by request), the "Darkey's Dream," by Lansing; the "Kangaroo Dance," by Thatcher, and the waltz, "Gipsy Baron," by Strauss, while the "one" music was very correctly rendered. The orchestra not only won applause and praise from the audience but was complimented by more experienced critics behind the footlights.

The electric lights, under full control in all parts of the house from one switch-board behind the stage, worked admirably. Lighted or extinguished at will, turned on in full intensity or shut down with the "dimmers" until the carbon filaments glowed just a dull red, the lights added immeasurably to the beauty of the house and the attractiveness of every scene. The verdict upon the scenery itself was that the MINING JOURNAL had said not a word too much for it and for the work of Sosman & Landis. Members of the Effie Ellsler company praised it in the strongest terms and agreed that a daintier, more beautiful "set" could not be secured than the fancy interior which called out a spontaneous burst of applause from the audience when the curtain rose for the second act.

The opera house and block have cost fully $100,000. The Marquette Opera House association is at present officered as follows: President, J. M. Longyear; secretary, F. O. Clark; treasurer, Peter White; and these, with James Dwyer and E. H. Towar, form the board of directors. To Mr. White and Mr. Longyear, especially, is due the credit for its construction, while to M. E. Asire belongs the honor of the scheme which finally brought success and to the architect, D. Fred Charlton, for the first agitation of the subject. To Mr. Charlton, also, and to Charlton & Gilbert is due the honor for the plans and drawings of the block and the opera house itself. Mr. Charlton also superintending the construction of the whole building. Wilson & Moore were the general contractors while the opera house interior was finished by the association itself with C. C. Van Wert as superintendent.

Wetmore & Co. did the electric wiring, M. R. Manhard put in the boiler and steam fitting in the block and Wm. O'Connor the steam fitting in the opera house portion. H. J. Hopkins the plumbing, Byrne & Blackwood, the gas fitting and fire protection (two stand pipes, one back of the stage, with 50 feet of hose on each upon each floor.) H. L. Cooper the decorating, Grand Rapids School Furniture Co. the seats, Sosman & Landis the scenery and C. A. Hager the draperies, etc., and the furnishings for the dressing rooms.

The new house is thoroughly modern, complete in every detail and an honor to the public spirit of the citizens of Marquette as it would reflect credit upon cities of five times the size. It is a beautiful house and has been splendidly opened.
