THE DAY'S WORK IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The attendance of senators at the opening of today's session was more numerous than usual. Senators Hill, Brice and Callom, however, were not in their seats. Mr. Anderson from the committee on military affairs reported back adversely four bills for the increase of the infantry and artillery branches of the army and reported in lieu of them a bill to reorganize the artillery and infantry and increase their efficiency, which was placed on the calendar.

Recommendations from the treasury department for the urgency deficiency appropriations for the current fiscal year were presented by the vice-president and were referred to the committee on appropriations.

Among the bills reported and placed on the calendar was one by Mr. Gibson of Louisiana from the committee on commerce appropriating $15,000,000 for the improvement of the Mississippi river and it was placed on the calendar. Ten millions of the amount is for the river from the head of the passes near its mouth to the mouth of the Ohio river (not more than $2,000,000 to be expended in any one year) and five millions is for the river from the mouth of the Ohio to the mouth of the Illinois.

Mr. Chandler introduced a concurrent resolution instructing the senate committee on immigration and the house committee on immigration to investigate the working of the various laws of the United States relative to immigration from foreign countries and the importation of contract laborers—especially in connection with the recent admission of immigrants infected with typhus fever at New York. Mr. Chandler said these immigrants had been admitted in contravention or disobedience of law and has been distributed from one end of the eastern states to the other, perhaps to infect those communities with typhus fever. They had, in his judgment, been admitted when they should have been excluded by the immigration commissioner in the performance of a strict and imperative duty under the statutes of the United States.

The resolution was passed and now goes to the house for its action. On motion of Mr. Gibson (La.) the senate bill appropriating $350,000 for a dry-dock on the government reservation near Algiers, La., (limiting the entire cost to $350,000) was taken from the calendar and passed.

The senate resumed consideration of the bill providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, the pending question being Mr. Gorman's amendment to strike on the section creating the office of superintendent of public documents. After a long discussion the section was modified by a provision that public documents are to be supplied to senators and representatives of the several states and the distribution of the two houses and the bill was reported to the senate and passed. Yeas, 41, nays, 6 (Messrs. Bates, Berry, Chilton, Coke, George and Vance.)

The house bill to amend the act authorizing the construction of a railway, wagon and foot bridge at Burlington, Iowa, was reported and placed on the calendar.

TO INVESTIGATE THE TARIFF.

Democrats Will Consider the Alleged Woes of the Farmers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The house of representatives of the Fifty-second congress has decreed that the first investigation into the operations of the McKinley law shall be conducted by the committee on agriculture. This arrangement has the informal sanction of the democrats of the ways and means committee. As the inquiry of Chairman Hatch and his committee is to be directed particularly to the effect that the high tariff has had upon the agricultural interests of the country it is understood that later on the committee on manufactures will be authorized to conduct an inquiry as to the effect of the tariff law on the manufacturers and skilled wage-workers and thus in the end reports will be made upon the various phases of the new law by as many different committees.

After some formal business Mr. Hatch (Mo.) brought the tariff question to the front by moving to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution requesting the committee on agriculture to report the effect upon agriculture of the present tariff law. Mr. Bynum (Ind.) demanded a second and the request of Mr. Hatch that a second be considered as ordered was objected to by Mr. Kilgore (Texas). Mr. Kilgore and Mr. Hatch were appointed tellers and reported the vote as 123 to 2. The republicans did not vote but no one raised the point of "No quorum" and Mr. Kilgore was recognized to oppose the resolution but declined to avail himself of the recognition, stating that he was not opposed to it, although he believed that it was originally offered as a piece of buncombe. After speeches by Messrs. Simpson, Dolliver and Funston the resolution was adopted without division.

Mr. Outhwaite (O.) from the committee on military affairs moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill to establish lineal promotion in the army. After a short discussion, the opposition being led by Mr. Breckenridge (Ky.), the motion was agreed to and the bill was passed. The bill provides that all promotions in the several lines of artillery, cavalry and infantry up to the grade of colonel shall be by seniority in the next lower grade according to the original entry in the regular service as a commissioned officer.

After some further unimportant business the house adjourned.

TARIFF BILLS COMING.

Free Wool, Free Binding Twine and Free Cotton Ties.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The ways means committee will report three tariff bills to the house during the present week. This much was determined upon at the meeting of the democratic majority today. The measures to be reported are the Springer free wool bill, the Bryan free binding twine bill and the Turner bill placing cotton ties, cotton bagging and machinery for making the same upon the free list.

The provisions of the Springer bill as finally amended and approved by the democratic members of the committee have been published. Mr. Springer in explaining his bill says that its passage will largely reduce the prices of woolen goods and thus increase their consumption.

The bill of Representative Turner (Ga.) placing cotton ties, cotton bagging, machinery for manufacturing the same, etc., upon the free list is considered of great importance to cotton growers and its provisions are familiar to the public.

The free binding twine bill is very brief and merely provides that from and after its passage all binding twine manufactured in whole or in part from tampoico fibre, jute, manilla, sisal, grass, gunnys and when imported be exempt from duty.

It is probable that there will be an interesting struggle between the tariff bills and the Bland free silver coinage bill for precedence in the order of consideration in the house. The contest is as yet conducted in a very quiet manner and is merely a matter of argument as to whether or not party policy requires the silver bill to precede or follow one or more of the tariff bills. The silver men have urged through Chairman Bland and others that the way to prevent the silver question from being made unduly prominent is to take it up and pass it promptly. With the silver bill out of the way public attention would be concentrated on the tariff bills and by keeping that question before the public steadily its prominence would be much greater than if the silver bill were sandwiched in between them. In this view they are supported by a very considerable number of men who are in favor of making the tariff question paramount to the silver issue. The progress of the contest will be watched with great interest.

CANADIANS GO HOME.

Reciprocity Negotiations Said to Have Failed in Part.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Canadian reciprocity negotiations came to an end today. At the end of a meeting held today it was announced that the negotiations were concluded and that the visitors would leave for Canada tonight. Although no official announcement of the result can as yet be obtained it is said the mission of the commissioners has not been altogether successful.

DANGEROUS ICE GORGE.

Parker City, Pa., Is Threatened With Disastrous Flood.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—Parker City, the old oil town on the Allegheny river 100 miles north of here, is threatened with inundation by an ice gorge. There are miles of gorged ice above the city and the recent snows and rains have swelled the small streams into rivers. The ground being frozen the water all rushes into the rivers and the stage of water is alarmingly high. Yesterday the river rose over five feet. The gorge also extends from Brady's Bend and Elmerton for a long distance up the Clarion river. The heaviest part of the gorge is below Parker. Business men and residents upon the landing view the rising of the river and the growing of the gorges of ice with much apprehension. Unless the gorge at Brady gives way one of the most destructive floods ever known in the town is inevitable. The mayor of Parker telegraphed Captain Martin, who is in charge of the Davis Island dam, that unless the gorge was broken at once there would be serious damage. Captain Martin is arranging with Captain Harris, the United States engineer in charge of the Allegheny river, to blow up the gorge with dynamite. Nine years ago Parker was inundated and several houses carried down the river. Arrangements were made this afternoon to send a special car over the Allegheny railway to Parker with explosives to blow up the ice but before the train started a dispatch was received saying that the gorge had broken at Redbank from where it had extended over twenty miles to above Parker.

HUSTLERS ARE ARRIVING.

Real Estate Men Gathering at Nashville in Large Numbers.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 15.—The vanguard of the national real estate congress, which meets in this city Wednesday, is beginning to arrive. The indications are that it will be the largest convention of exclusively business men that was ever held in the south. Over 800 delegates are expected. Several cities will send delegates in chartered Pullmans. Every section of the country will be represented.

HALF-MILLION FOR ORPHANS.

San-Senator Fair Alleged to Have Made His Will.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—An evening paper says ex-Senator James G. Fair today made a will bequeathing $500,000 to charity, of which $200,000 goes to the Catholic orphan asylum in memory of his late wife, $200,000 to the Protestant orphan asylum of this city and $100,000 to the Hebrew orphan asylum.

IS SIMPLE REPUDIATION,

So Minority Report of Coinage Committee Justly Characterizes Bland's Silver Bill.

DISHONEST DEBTORS ARE GIVEN A GREAT SNAP.

They Could Pay a Dollar's Indebtedness With Seventy Cents in Silver Under This Bill.

APPEAL TO COMMON HONESTY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Mr. Williams of Massachusetts from the committee on coinage, weights and measures submitted the views of the minority on the Bland free coinage bill. The character and purpose of the bill is outlined and the following objections put forward: "The peril is now great of an avowed depreciation by our government of the value of its own premises. We shall never openly repudiate our debts or corrupt the medium of payments. Of that the danger lies in legislation such as this bill proposes, which shall make the government unable to maintain its promises and tokens on the basis upon which they have been accepted. The basis is the dollar which is exchangeable now; which is exchangeable everywhere; which does not give up 30 cents at our border nor yield anything to fire or water; the dollar of gold.

"Substantially all obligations now existing in this country are expressly payable in gold or have been incurred since this nation resumed specie payments and has continued on a gold basis. The gold dollar is therefore not only the best but the only honest dollar in which obligations can now be discharged. But under plausible theory or confident prophecy the citizens of this country may be misled into repudiation, which they would not consciously approve. To make this bill understood as a measure of repudiation is to secure its defeat."

The report then goes on to criticize the majority report. A history of monetary changes in the past is then recited. The consent of nations is held to make and unmake money and an international agreement is urged as necessary. The statement is made that the bill cannot raise the price of silver to ratio value and that it will bring silver from foreign countries and, apropos, the world's stock of silver is set forth in figures, the total being $1,398,000,000. The report in conclusion says: "The bill itself will drive our gold into the coffers of speculation, invite foreign holders of our securities to sell at any price to escape loss by repudiation and our whole monetary system will be thus disrupted."

Accompanying the minority report is a bill authorizing the president to invite an international monetary conference.

SAILORS WANT STUFF.

Claims Against Chile From Wounded Seamen Pile Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—A fresh batch of claims against the government of Chile has been forwarded to Washington by F. Alleyne Orr, a San Francisco attorney. The aggregate amount is $1,305,000, and the claimants are all sailors of the United States cruiser Baltimore. Sailor John Hamilton wants $150,000. He alleges that in the riot of October 16 at Valparaiso he was stabbed in the right loin and back and was bruised on the head by Chilean soldiers or police. Jeremiah Anderson, a coal-heaver, claims a like amount for two wounds in the back. One, made with a bayonet, is five inches deep and penetrates the lung cavity, leaving him still in a serious condition. John McBride, whose wrist was nearly severed by a Chilean cavalryman's sabre, claims $100,000. Nineteen other blue jackets claim amounts ranging from $30,000 to $100,000.

MUCH GUFF ABOUT GARZA.

Colonel Martin Says the Affair Is of Little Moment.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—"To the military men along the Mexican frontier the war-like dispatches published regarding the Garza matter afford much amusement" said Col. J. P. Martin, adjutant-general of the department of Texas of the United States army, at the Grand Pacific today. "No one down there pays any attention to the Garza business," continued Colonel Martin. "There was no fighting between Garza's band and Captain Hardie's company. Some shots were exchanged but it was through a mistake. The American soldiers ran upon Garza's people in the dark, neither party knowing of the proximity of the other. The Garza pickets challenged our men and not receiving a satisfactory answer and ignorant of the identity of the newcomers fired and flew. Anyway the whole affair is about over."

MACHINE IS GRINDING.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Of the 384 delegates to be selected to attend the democratic state convention 276 delegates are outside of New York and Kings counties. At the headquarters of Senator Hill at the Delavan hotel it was given out tonight that 123 delegates outside New York and Kings counties had already been selected, of whom 120 are for Senator Hill. The remaining delegates will be selected on various days this week. The delegates from Albany county will be elected Saturday.

MARQUETTE, MICH., FEBRUARY 16.

Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

An English paper, the Illustrated News, of London, pays this tribute to the efficacy of the American policy of protection: No nation in the world in any age has reduced a national debt so speedily as the United States. In 1870 the national debt was $2,385,000,000. In 1890 it was $998,000,000, a reduction of $1,387,000,000 in 20 years.

Before the century closes the debt will be entirely discharged. The per capita debt of the United States is less than that of any other nation, $28. It is $218 in France, $109 in the United Kingdom, $79 in Italy, $63 in Germany, $35 in Russia. In England, with free trade, the rate of taxation between 1870 and 1890 was nearly 25 per cent, while in the United States, under protective duties, taxation decreased 10 per cent for the same period.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT. An article published in the MINING JOURNAL recently, calling the attention of the republicans of the lower peninsula to the blunder that the state convention of the party committed two years ago in failing to give this peninsula recognition on the state ticket then placed in nomination, and the consequences thereof to the party in the election that followed, is thus commented on by the Detroit Tribune:

The Tribune this morning reprints from the Marquette MINING JOURNAL of the 10th instant an editorial article which is worthy of earnest attention at the hands of the republicans of this state. The editorial quoted recites a part of the history of the republican state convention of 1890 and of the campaign following it, and it is not probable that any well informed republican will controvert this portion of the article. It will be generally conceded that the MINING JOURNAL has substantial foundation for what it says as to the action of the 1890 convention and of the results that followed. As a sequence to these statements the MINING JOURNAL suggests that the republican conventions of this year, both to nominate a state ticket and select delegates to the republican national convention, ought not and cannot afford to ignore the claims of the upper peninsula to representation in the results of their deliberations. In other words, the upper peninsula will ask for places on the republican state ticket and for one of the delegates-at-large to the republican national convention.

The Tribune heartily supports the suggestions of its Marquette contemporary, and is of the opinion that they will go unchallenged in all sections of the state. So far as it can learn there is a general disposition to recognize both the justice of following them and the obligation to do so. Certainly such a disposition ought to prevail and unquestionably does prevail. There will be entire harmony between upper and lower peninsula republicans this year and a pull all together for victory. The MINING JOURNAL's article is worthy of a careful reading through and through by Michigan republicans, and it is as timely as it is candid and important.

The MINING JOURNAL is certainly gratified to find the suggestion it threw out as a feeler in the article reprinted and discussed in the leading organ of the republican party in the lower peninsula so candidly considered and met in such a friendly spirit, by that influential paper. If the leaders of the party in the lower peninsula show a like disposition to treat the republicans of this part of the state fairly when the convention to select Michigan's delegation to the national convention of the party and that to name candidates for state offices are held they will prepare the way for an old-time republican victory in the state next fall, and it will be a victory, too, toward the achievement of which the republicans of this peninsula will do their full share.

NEW ENGLAND'S IRON INDUSTRY. There has been a great deal written of late years concerning the causes that have brought about the decadence admitted to have taken place in the iron industry of the New England states, and much of it has been the veriest rot. Opponents of the tariff have not been slow to charge that it is a natural result of the protective system, holding that if the duty on foreign ore were removed those states would again become the seat of great iron manufacturing enterprises, but ignoring the important fact that this could only be by having the production of iron there from imported ores and its manufacture into finished forms take the place of production now going on in other sections of this country from native ores, with no gain to American labor in the manipulation after the iron had left the furnace, and with a positive and material loss to the extent of the employment now given the American miners engaged in producing the ore that would be supplanted by the foreign ore that these furnaces would use should the tariff be abolished. If we were not now able to produce all the iron the country needs there would be some sense in the argument that the free traders derive from the decay of iron making and manufacturing in the New England states, but as we are able to more than meet the maximum demand for iron with a large proportion of our furnaces out of blast there is neither point to it nor reason in it. A Boston paper, the Manufacturers' Gazette, taking as its text the recently issued bulletin of the census bureau giving statistics bearing on the decline of the iron industry in that section of the union, intelligently and candidly discusses the causes that have produced it in an article which makes such a fair presentation of the facts that we are constrained to place it before our readers, though the people of this region are only in a general way interested in the iron industry of the New England states. The paper named says:

In the early history of iron working in this country New England held an important and prominent position. Furnaces, forges and rolling mills were established here, and did a prosperous business previous to the development and population of what are at present the great iron-working sections of the country. As these sections were developed it was but natural that that portion of the industry utilizing or working the raw material should be attracted to points nearer the base of supplies, both the ore and the fuel; thus New England could not hope to retain her hold upon this branch of the industry.

However, she has made a very good showing under such adverse circumstances, as the following statistics will testify. In 1870 there were in the New England states 48 iron and steel working establishments in which the raw material was utilized. These 48 establishments represented an invested capital of $5,589,000, giving employment to 3,185 workmen, who received aggregate wages amounting to $2,168,719. The value of the raw material consumed was $7,338,150, and the value of manufactured product $10,824,803. This is not a very bad showing when all conditions and circumstances are considered. Ten years later, in 1880, the number of establishments had increased from 48 to 61; the invested capital from $5,589,000 to $11,560,408; the number of workmen from 3,185 to 8,564; the wages paid them from $2,168,719 to $3,337,911; the cost of material from $7,338,150 to $9,518,570, and the value of products from $10,824,803 to $14,558,637.

This was undoubtedly the most prosperous decade in the history of the New England iron industry, so far as it relates to the utilization of the raw material, and it is altogether probable that it marks the turning point, for during the last decade, from 1880 to 1890, there has been a marked decrease, as a result, as above stated, of the rapid development of the industry in those sections furnishing the raw material, which New England was obliged to depend upon for supplying her mills and forges.

In 1890, the number of establishments had decreased from 61 in 1880 to 35. Nevertheless, the invested capital had increased from $11,560,408 to $13,415,450, so that while there was a less number of establishments and less workmen employed, the profits were larger and the business on a better footing, as will be shown from the fact that while the cost of materials consumed was $9,518,570, as compared with $9,518,570 in 1880, the value of the products was $15,150,441, or $501,871 more than in 1880.

It should be remembered that these figures and facts relate wholly to the operations of blast furnaces, iron and steel rolling mills, Bessemer, open-hearth and crucible steel works, forges and bloomeries, all of which use the raw materials, which have to be brought to New England from the south and west, and should not in any argument of sense be confounded with those establishments utilizing the products of these, which would not only be unfair and unjust, but wholly unwarranted.

While New England lays no claim to a competition with other sections more favorably conditioned in the production of raw material products, there can be no doubt of her ability and supremacy in the production of finished goods. It is an established fact that New England leads the country in the amount and value of manufactured products in this line. Her reputation for the production of machinery, hardware and metal goods, of which iron and steel are the principal materials utilized, is beyond question, and in this respect she is growing rapidly and substantially.

While too far removed from the source of supplies to make the employment of capital either profitable or desirable in working the raw material, she is most favorably situated for the production of finished goods of every description.

COOKING COAL ON LAKE SUPERIOR. Under the heading, "Important Movements in Coke Circles," the Iron Trade Review, of Cleveland, has this relative to the coking industry at West Superior, instituted there by the Lehigh Coal company, and of which the MINING JOURNAL has made frequent mention in support of the proposition that coke iron can be successfully made here with fuel coked at the furnaces:

Another feature of the coke trade of much interest to iron men is the development of a coking industry at the head of Lake Superior, attention to which has already been called in these columns. According to the Connellsville Courier, during the year 1891 no less than 60,000 tons of Connellsville coal were shipped to the Lehigh Coal and Iron company, at West Superior, Wis., a distance of 1,300 miles. The coal is shipped from the Connellsville region to Cleveland by rail. There it is loaded on whaleback boats, having an average carrying capacity of 2,200 tons. The freight to West Superior is $0.60 cents per ton, netting the boats $1,100 to $1,300 for the trip. The cost per ton, compared with the cost by rail, are thus given by a coke man who has made himself familiar with the subject:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. WEST SUPERIOR COKE. Coal at Cleveland, $3.00; Freight to West Superior, .50; Total for ton of coal at W. Superior, $3.50. 1 1/2 tons of coal to 1 ton coke, $3.90; Coking, .50; Handling coal, .25; Total cost 1 ton coke at W. Superior, $4.65. CONNELLSVILLE COKE. At Chicago, $4.65; Freight to St. Paul points, 2.00; Total, $6.65.

The Lehigh company owns a plant of 180 ovens at West Superior, and its entire product finds a ready market at foundry coke prices. It is probable that the large coke furnace at West Duluth, which now gets its coke by rail, will soon buy all of its fuel on the ground; and, indeed, this seems the more likely from the fact that the Lehigh company is understood to have already contracted for 75,000 tons of Connellsville coal from a single firm for delivery this year. The Lake Superior iron industry is evidently looking up.

It will be remembered that a paper on the subject of coke iron making at Marquette was submitted to the Citizens' Association of this city by Mr. R. A. Parker a little over a year ago, in which he placed the cost of coke produced here from Connellsville coal at $5 a ton. In the estimates that he then made Mr. Parker aimed to be conservative, and the cost of the materials and labor entering into the production of the iron was placed at the maximum figure. Nevertheless his figures proved that a coke furnace at this point would be able to realize a profit at the very low selling price for its product then prevailing. His paper attracted a great deal of attention at the time. It was published in the MINING JOURNAL, and in pamphlet form by the association for whose information and use it was prepared, and was reproduced and variously commented on by the leading trade papers throughout the country.

And now we have the reliability of his estimates more than proved by actual results obtained in coking coal on Lake Superior and its use as fuel in smelting our own ores in a Lake Superior furnace, for the West Superior plant is producing coke for the furnace at West Duluth for use in making pig iron from Vermilion and Gogebic ores.

To the MINING JOURNAL belongs the credit for having first advocated the feasibility and desirability of having a proportion of our ores smelted at home with fuel coked on the ground, but to Marquette does not belong the distinction of having inaugurated the new industry. That has been seized by the enterprising towns mentioned at the head of the lake, although these are not by any means as well located for coke iron making as is Marquette. But in lieu of the special advantages for that industry which we possess they have something that we are sadly lacking in—men who have the energy and the push that makes cities by creating in them the industries that will give them sustained growth, and a public spirit that keeps them on the watch for enterprises that promise to prove valuable as sources of employment for labor and profitable investment for capital.

THE ATTACK ON GEN. ALGER. An Upper Peninsula Friend of the General Comes to His Defense Right Valiantly. CHAMPION, Feb. 13, 1892.

EDITOR MINING JOURNAL:—The wide publicity given the slanderous charges against General Alger will be my apology for intruding upon your columns; for silence is but cowardly acquiescence when character is assailed; and truth compromises with conscience that one may live in peace!

General Alger is only paying the penalty of exalted station, the penalty that was paid by the dead Garfield and by the living Blaine!

When malice had exhausted itself on its scrutiny of Harrison's character, it was forced to satisfy its ravenous man with his Grandfather's Hat! A man who aspires to office must be careful that his grandfather was not distinguished! It is a sad commentary upon our political life that when a man emerges from obscurity by the force of his talent, commanding ability, or capacity for public affairs, he becomes a mark for every arrow of slander, and the legitimate prey of those to whom political or professional duty makes sensation a necessity. An unknown and malicious writer will find a ready hearing for the exercise of a talent that would only find fitting punishment in the penitentiary.

It was my privilege to be present at the reunion of the Army of the Potomac in Detroit in 1882, and to attend the banquet with which the festivities closed. There were present Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, and others whose stars blazed with not less brilliancy if not of such magnitude.

General Sheridan paid a high compliment to the service of Michigan in the war, and particularly the personal services of "your own General Alger." The heroic soul of Sheridan would soon to accept as a friend and comrade one whom he knew to be a recreant soldier. Would Logan the magnificent, the highest type of the American citizen in a soldier, accept as his bosom friend one who did not share his own chivalry, patriotism and courage, and his own incarnate hatred of disloyalty to the flag?

The talisman that opens the heart of the soldier is the flower that is plucked from the field of strife; and no man can successfully masquerade in the garb of a knight before the discerning eye of him whose gaze is familiar with the shock of battle.

There is no stain on Alger's sabre but that of the blood of foes who sought to subvert and destroy the Union! Ask the soldiers who followed him over the south. Would they have flocked with such enthusiasm in his support to the convention that nominated Harrison for the presidency if he was a leader unworthy to follow? Would the shout that Alger's name evoked in that convention be wrung by coward's name from the throats of valiant veterans? No! His warmest friends are those who fought at his side, except, perhaps, the poor with whom he has shared his bounty, and whose blessings shall be his shield and protection against the machinations of his enemies.

God bless him! The foremost, truest, most chivalrous, democratic heart, the most high minded American in our midst, whose career will be only ad equately rounded into its manifes destiny when he is elected president of the United States! W. J. DAWSON.

FAR IN THE SOUTH.

Far in the south the redwings hear, and speed To answer Nature's far heard northern cry.

With weary wing, one settles to the land, If sideways glancing from the flight, one sees A fairer light than hope, or faltering.

Another answer to the white command Hurled upward from the sun—yet joyfully The happy flight speeds onward with the spring.

HOUSE TO LET.

"We have got to move!" sighed Selina Spencer. The wind rustled in the leafless poplar trees.

"I've seen it coming this long time," said Selina. "The landlord has been as good and considerate as possible."

"De lan'lord's an old harpy!" said Dorcas. "Lan'lord's allays is!"

"No, he's not," persisted Selina. "We owe him eight months' rent already, and I do not know how he is ever to get his money."

"Dat piano as was Miss Adelaide's when first she come from Baltimore boarding school!" said she. "Dat lubly furniture as was made to order in Annapolis! No, Miss Lina—not wiv dis chile's consent!"

And she rolled a thin old damask table cloth very tight and packed it into the basket with emphasis.

"Mamma must know nothing of this," Dorcas, said Selina sadly.

"Dunno how you'se gwine to keep it from her, Miss Lina."

"It can be done, Dorcas. I've thought it all out," said the girl. "She must be made to suppose that she's going to spend a few days with my employers at Newport."

"Has dey done asked her, Miss Lina?" "No, you goose! I don't suppose that they even know that I've got a mother."

"I am only a typewriter and stenographer in their eyes, and render my services at so much a day. My Phinlimmon is known all through New York as a female philanthropist, but while she's helping poor immigrants out of the slums and rectifying the slopshop question, she don't appreciate that a well dressed southern lady may be in sore straits."

"Miss Lina," said Dorcas, after a brief silence, during which she rolled and sprinkled, patted and folded with unceasing vigilance.

"I knows whar I could git four dollars a week for landress, or five for cook. Think o' dat, Miss Lina."

"Do you want to leave us, Dorcas?" The old woman uttered a subdued groan.

"Lord knows it ain't dat, Miss Lina! Lord knows it's honor enough to work for de ole Spencer! But it's money we uns wants—an ebery cent o' de ole woman's wages, dey'll come back to de ole missus and Miss Lina."

"The long lashes dropped over Selina Spencer's lovely hazel eyes. 'It's of no use, Dorcas,' said she. 'We've got to bend before the storm. Hush! Do you hear that tapping?'"

"Somebody knocking at de do!" cried Dorcas. "Why on arf don't dey ring de bell?"

"No," Selina, detaining her as she was about to answer the supposed summons. "It's the agent putting up the 'To Let.' But whatever happens, Dorcas, don't let mamma know!"

She rose, and getting up her hat and gloves, went up the wide, gloomy old staircase. Dorcas looked after her and shook her turbaned head.

"Meks b'lieve she's pow'ful brave!" muttered she. "Tinks ole Dorcas dunno she's cryin dis berry minute! Why didn't she marry Mars George Berkeley when he axed her an sabb herse'f all this trouble!"

Up in the dimly lighted sitting room Mrs. Spencer sat, a faded belle of the olden days. The piano was open, the window was full of carefully tended plants; a pink shaded lamp burned on the table, and Mrs. Spencer herself was engaged in crevel work with slow, languid fingers.

"You are later than usual tonight, Selina," said she fretfully. "Perhaps your idea of a dutiful daughter is different from mine, but I think any amount of Shakespeare and Browning classes oughtn't to take so much of your time away from your mother."

"I stopped to give Dorcas orders in the kitchen, mamma," Selina cheerfully answered. "But I'm all ready now. What shall I read to you until the tea comes up?"

"Well," said the poor lady feebly like a few chapters of the Chiefs. "It was the first novel papa ever allowed me to read."

"And while Selina read, Helen Mar and Bruce apes wondered how on earth age about showing kind All Seasonable sightseers who were attracted by the low prices.

"Can't go in, at Reasonable Prices. A hard feature of the door of Mrs. DAY, TUESDAY!

"Anything," Selina cheerfully answered. "No, 'm."

"Ceiling," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Then," burst. "No, 'm."

"Can't nobody go in dat room? Tole you so afore!"

"Anything contagious?" "No, 'm."

"Sure?" "Yes, 'm, sartin shuah!"

"Very well," said the house hunter, with a forward jerk of her chin: "I shall take no house that I can't see every inch off" and she flounced out.

All day long Dorcas fought the army of investigators valiantly, and at night, as she herself observed, "she was jes' as tired as if she'd done a double day's wash."

Stout ladies peered into the subcellar and denounced the drainage; lean ladies poked their parasols into the kitchen sink and tore off strips of the hall paper.

Deep voiced men parleyed as to the monthly rental; fat old gentlemen asked questions in husky accents. "I shall go crazy," said Dorcas.

The next morning, however, dove winged Peace once more settled down on the field of action. The agent came up and removed the bill.

"The house is taken," said he. "Who's took it?" demanded Dorcas, who chanced just then to be scouring the brasses.

But the agent either did not know or would not tell. Dorcas heaved a deep sigh. "Den," says she, "we've got to clear out."

The landlord sent Selina a polite note in a day or two. He had concluded, he wrote, to accept her offer of the furniture and belongings as an equivalent for a certain portion of the unpaid rent.

"Now," said Dorcas, "what is we to do?" "Poor Mrs. Spencer was all in a flutter."

The Newport scheme delighted her, and she was very busy looking over her wardrobe with reference to the coming visit.

Selina had written to the aunt of an old schoolmate of hers, who kept a boarding house in the fair seaside city asking her lowest price for a comfortable room.

Dorcas was to go with Mrs. Spencer as attendant and maid, and Selina had resolved to hire a room in New York and board herself as well as she could.

"But this has been a dear old home," she murmured. "I wonder whose hands will strike the yellow keys of mamma's old piano and dust my flowing blue chins and arrange the old flidde backed chairs."

The purple sunlight shone softly in the scent of a stalk of hyacinths in a glass on the mantel brought back reminiscences of the old southern flower gardens, and all of a sudden a voice which she had last heard in those very gardens struck on her ear.

"Selina—have I startled you?" "Mr. Berkeley!"

He extended a cordial hand. "Perhaps you fancied that I could not trace you out?" said he. "But I am better at hide and seek than you thought."

She courted him haughtily. His handsome countenance fell. Evidently he was deeply disappointed.

"Are you not glad to see me, Selina?" he exclaimed. "Ah, Selina! I had counted so much on this interview! I had planned to renew my suit—to ask you once more to be my wife."

She drew her slight figure up. "You are presuming too much on my very evident poverty, Mr. Berkeley," said she. "I refused you when I was Miss Spencer, of Spencer Vale. What sort of a woman should I be if I were now to accept you—simply as a protection against adversity?"

"But, Selina!" "Pray excuse me from any further discussion of the question," said Selina. "May I not hope to see your mother?" he persisted.

"I should prefer not." "Do you know, Selina," he said, after a brief silence, "that this is a very bitter mortification to me?"

"Is it? Then what must it be to me?" she retorted, almost fiercely, looking up at him.

He stood a second or two gazing sadly at her. Stung by the scrutiny, she swept from the room like an angered princess.

Half a minute later she came hurrying back, full of sweet, strange misgivings. But he was gone.

"I have let another opportunity slip by!" she murmured. "Oh, heavens! where is my life drifting to?"

At that moment Aunt Dorcas ushered in the landlord, a fussy, bald headed old gentleman with a fur collar to his coat.

"Good evening, Miss Spencer," said he. "I expected to meet the new party here."

"The—I beg your pardon," said Selina.

"The gentleman who has purchased this house and furniture," explained Mr. Beasley, "and settled it on yourself and your mother. A friend of yours, I suppose—Mr. Berkeley."

Standing sadly in the shadow of the rustling poplar boughs outside George Berkeley felt the magnetic influence of another presence. A soft voice stirred the twilight air, like the far off music of forgotten days.

"Mr. Berkeley," it said—"George!—please will you forgive me?" A deep silence ensued.

"Won't you, George?" with a little sob the voice. "—I didn't mean to speak harshly to you. I didn't know then I know now of your noble generosity—only silence still."

"I accept it for dear mamma's sake. I will not misinterpret me. I only how can you be so cruel? You answer me? What are you for me to say?"

A word broke that haunting acceptance—a low voice, "I've to tell. I will be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

"I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!" "I'll be your wife!"

IS THIS YOUR CHILD?

Read This, Parents and Children. Infants and children are peculiarly liable to nervous disorders, which are greatly aggravated during the change from winter to spring.

They become nervous, restless, fretful, cross, irritable, then lose restlessness from side to side, grit their teeth or mutter in sleep grow thin, pale, slight and puny.

If your infants or children are sick, give them that greatest of all children's remedies, Dr. Greene's Nervura. This marvelous remedy is a grandly simple, and calms and soothes the nerves, strengthens and invigorates the body restoring healthful color to the cheek, refreshing sleep, strong nerves, stout limbs, and that bounding health which all children should have.

Being purely vegetable and harmless, it is perfectly safe to give to infants or children of any age, and its curative effects are wonderful.

Do not neglect the health of your children, parents. Use Dr. Greene's Nervura in all nervous diseases of infants and children, and see them improve in health and strength every day and every hour.

Druggists sell it, $1. My little girl has been taking medicines for a severe nervous trouble nearly two years, receiving no benefit.

I then bought a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura, and her recovery by its use has been remarkable. Others of the family have received benefit from its use.

At 8 o'clock last evening Supt. Willson telephoned in from the city power station that two thermometers there showed that it was 22 degrees below zero. At 10 o'clock he reported it as 27 degrees below there but at 11 the weather had moderated so that it was only 14 below. By Manhard's thermometer it was 16 below in the city at 9 o'clock and 14 below at 9:30.

A choice collection of water colors, eight sketches in all, are now on display at the residence of Mr. Ernest Rankin on East Ridge street. They are the work of Mr. W. F. Dow, a very capable Detroit artist and are illustrative mainly of Detroit river scenery. The sketches are for sale and may be seen for a few days by anyone so desiring, callers being requested to come before noon.

Manager Ross, after looking the matter up very thoroughly, has ordered a Decker Bros. grand piano of George N. Conklin. There can be no question as to the good judgment of this decision, as there is no more musical piano made than the Decker Bros., and the firm name is a guarantee of superlative excellence in the important factors of material and workmanship.

Mr. Ross is in correspondence with an artist of first grade and it may be positively stated that music lovers of this city will have the opportunity very soon of hearing a first class artist play upon a first class piano in a first class opera house, all of which evidences that our amusement manager intends giving us the best of the world affairs.

PERSONAL MENTION. Dr. H. G. Ide is expected to return to the city this week from his trip below.

Ishpeming Hustlers Will Try to Have Encampment of State Militia Held at Union Park.

AND A BETTER LOCATION FOR IT COULD NOT BE FOUND.

Ski Riders from Ishpeming to Take Part in Tournament at Eau Claire—A. O. U. W. Matters—The Hoins Are Here.

THE ENCAMPMENT.

An effort is being made by Mr. D. D. Randall, agent of the D. S. S. & A. road in this city, and Messrs. John Jones and Fred Braastad to have the encampment of state militia held at Union Park, between this city and Negaunee, the coming summer. Union Park is certainly a place that cannot be duplicated in the upper peninsula for such a purpose, as it is centrally located, and has many other advantages. The C. & N. W. and D. S. S. & A. railroads run directly in front of the south gate of the park, while the electric street car line passes within a few feet of the north side. The place is well provided with water. There are seventy acres in the park, while thirty is all that is required to accommodate the state troops.

If the state authorities should send the encampment up here next summer, it would be a notable event in the history of this peninsula. Many of the most prominent citizens of lower Michigan would take advantage of the occasion to visit us, besides the governor and other state officials. There will be about 3,000 state militia in attendance at the encampment whenever it is held, and it invariably attracts many thousands of spectators, and the presence of such a number here would make it lively in and about the place of rendezvous while the meeting lasted.

Off for the Eau Claire Tournament.

The Ishpeming Norden Ski club held a special meeting at its hall Sunday afternoon last to consider the matter of sending some of its members to Eau Claire, Wis., to represent the club and take part in the great ski tournament to be held there tomorrow, the 17th.

An invitation received from the Eau Claire club was accompanied by the information that there is about twelve inches of snow at Eau Claire at present, and that the conditions for the proposed tournament are most favorable. There will be $250 awarded in cash prizes. The contestants will be divided into three classes and there will be five prizes in each class. The main prize in the first class is $50 and the first in the second $35. The third class will be for boys, and the first prize in this will be $8.

Messrs. Peter Jiemsoe and Lars Gantaas, of the Norden Ski club, will take part in the race and they left for Eau Claire last night. Both are expert riders and will no doubt be numbered among the prize-winners. They have made a good record as prize-takers in this city in numerous contests. Seven or eight other members of the club also left last night to attend the tournament and take in the races and festivities. The Ishpeming Ski club will be well represented at the Eau Claire tournament. The invitations sent out specially mentioned this feature of the projected festivities, and it may be expected to prove an enjoyable part of the program.

Special rates were secured from the railroads for the round trip. The Ishpeming ticket will return the latter part of the week, and a special meeting of the Norden club will be held next Sunday afternoon, when all the members will be favored with a full report of the tournament by the visitors from here.

The Dedication.

Thursday evening of this week is the date set for the dedication of the A. O. U. W. hall in the Anderson block. An effort has been made by the committee in charge to secure Mr. A. M. Tinker, of Jackson, Mich., a leading member of the lodge in that city, or Mr. W. Warren Wilson, of Detroit, lodge No. 6, but neither could promise to be present. Addresses will be delivered by prominent upper peninsula lodge members, Mr. John Northmore, of Republic, among the number, and also by some of the local members. The program that the committee is arranging is a good one, and these who have been fortunate enough to receive invitations can congratulate themselves. The lodge is going to considerable expense to make the affair a success and is sure to score a large one.

Fraternal Benefit.

Saturday evening of this week an entertainment will be given in the A. O. U. W. hall, in the Anderson block, that will be a most pleasing affair. It will be under auspices of the Improved Order of Red Men of this city. An address will be delivered by the Hon. J. Q. Adams, of Negaunee, subject "Fraternity." Invitations will be extended to all fraternal organizations here. Following the address of Mr. Adams, an entertainment, consisting of recitations, vocal and instrumental music, etc., will be given, and the affair will conclude with a supper served in the dining room of the hall.

Got Their Horns.

The instruments for the Swedish Home Sextette, which were delayed at New York on their way from Sweden a couple of weeks, reached here Friday. Among them is an "e-flat" and "a-flat" cornet; 1 alto; 1 tenor; and a tuba—five in all. They are brass with silver mounting, and are said to possess a very clear tone. The new horns are admired very much by the boys who sent for them.

Notice.

All those who gave their names as charter members for the Knights of the Golden Eagle will meet at the Sons of St. George hall, on Division street, Ishpeming, Tuesday, Feb. 16th, at 3:30 and 7:30 afternoon and evening. RICHARD LETCHER, J. F. BENNETT, Committee.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

H. D. Fisher and wife, of Florence, Wis., were here Sunday.

The Urban house is being fitted out with incandescent lights.

The funeral of Miss Henrietta Hanson was held Sunday afternoon from the Norwegian Lutheran church.

Miss Anna Hall, of Marquette, spent Sunday in this city, the guest of Miss L. Eddy. She returned home yesterday.

Many of our young people will attend the masquerade at the Negaunee roller rink tonight, going and coming by the electric street car line.

Miss Nora Casey, a teacher in the Salisbury school, was suddenly taken ill yesterday. It was found necessary to convey her to her home in a sleigh.

Louisa, a child of Mr. and Mrs. Geidem Herbert, aged nine months, died on Sunday at their home in this city and will be buried today at 1 o'clock.

Eugene Eddy, manager of A. W. Myers & Co.'s meat market on Division street, was on the sick list a greater part of last week, but is now at his post of duty again.

The large organ in the Grace Episcopal church in this city was broken last week and could not be used at the services Sunday. A small instrument was used in its stead.

A party of Ishpeming gentlemen have rented the Cleveland avenue ice rink and a band for Friday evening of this week, and will issue invitations to their friends to put in that evening there.

A diagram and tickets for the Lutesman Sextette, which will appear in this city on Saturday evening, February 27th, can be found at the bazaar of Mr. A. W. Lindholm as early as Thursday of this week.

Mr. Henry Coffin, who is an actor of considerable note, has secured a position in this city and will remain here permanently. He says he can thank the MINING JOURNAL for the position in one sense, as it was through its advertising columns that he secured it.

The members of the Swedish M. E. church will hold a bazaar at the church next Saturday evening, when many articles that have been prepared for the occasion will be disposed of. Music will add to the pleasure of the affair, and coffee and cake will be served by the ladies of the congregation.

The North Star Temperance society gave a very enjoyable festival Saturday night at the Swedish Home hall. A musical and literary program was rendered, after which a coffee and cake lunch was served. Fourteen new members joined the order the same evening. The society is fast increasing in membership and popularity, considering that it is but nine months old.

We have a fine lot of 16-inch dry pine for kindling.

WANTED—A first class carriage painter at once. None but a first class man need apply. Address: OLE WALSETH, Ishpeming, Mich. (2-6-1892)

Otto Egar, manager Anderson and Co., jeweler, Ishpeming, has concluded to contract with J. H. Ostrander, expert optician, who will be in Ishpeming tomorrow for a stay of a fortnight. All who have come in contact with Mr. Ostrander know him to be a thorough master of his profession. He holds a diploma from the Chicago College of Optics, is thoroughly reliable and reasonable in his charges. As he will examine the eyes free of charge, he will doubtless have the liberal patronage which he deserves.

Large Production of Anthracite.

The year 1891 was remarkable in the anthracite coal trade for its enormous production, which far exceeds that of any other year. Heretofore 1888 has borne the banner for production, or rather shipments, with a total of 38,145,718 tons, but the present outlook is that 1891 will surpass this by about 2,000,000 tons, or something over 40,000,000 in all, an unprecedented figure, and nearly 5,000,000 tons greater than the shipments of 1890.

The statistics of shipments of hard coal up to Dec. 5 show that so far in 1891 37,509,559 tons had been shipped, an increase of 4,039,599 over 1890 for the corresponding period. The shipments for December agreed upon by the companies are 3,250,000 tons, and if that full amount were carried the total is considerably over 40,000,000.—Philadelphia Record.

Caught a Fish Also.

Mr. Samuel Hickman, of Leesburg, Va., while hunting on the banks of the Potomac shot a squirrel, which fell into the water, where it was seized by a black bass. Hickman waded in and lifted both squirrel and fish clear out of the water before the bass let go and made its escape.—New York Post.

HOW TO SUCCEED.

This is the great problem of life which few satisfactorily solve. Some fail because of poor health, others want of luck, but the majority from deficient grit—want of nerve. They are nervous, irresolute, changeable, easily get the blues and "take the spirits down to keep the spirits up," thus wasting money, time, opportunity and nerve force. There is nothing like the Restorative Nerve, discovered by the great specialist, Dr. Miles, to cure all nervous diseases, as headache, the blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria. Trial bottles and a fine book of testimonials free at H. H. Stafford, Son & Co.'s.

For LaGrippe.

Take Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup freely as soon as you feel the first symptoms of the disease. For a cough following this dangerous malady, take from 20 to 30 drops very often, or after each coughing spell.

Free to All Ministers of Churches.

I will send one bottle of Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup, the best cough remedy on earth, free of charge to any minister that will get his druggist or store keeper to order one dozen and also recommend this most valuable throat and lung remedy to his friends over there. Address: DR. C. D. WARNER, Coldwater, Mich.

W. J. Arkell, publisher of Judge and Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, writes: "I am, Sir, a resident of New York, New York, Jan. 14, 1891.

"About three weeks since while suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an Allcock's Plaster, and in a short time obtained relief.

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises, or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the result have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

HAPPY HOOSIERS.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine, made no feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Houghton. The meanest of all men, the dog poisoner, is abroad in the land. Quite a number of dogs have been found dead in the past few days and three valuable cows, the property of very poor people, have succumbed to his criminal carelessness in distributing the poison for the dogs.

Hancock. Rt. Rev. Bishop Vertin arrived in the copper country Monday noon.

A $100,000 brewery plant is to be erected this spring on the shores of Portage Lake. The MINING JOURNAL reporter has the names of the persons interested and the wealth and reliability of the parties are an assurance that the new projected enterprise is not "only talk" but will be sure to materialize.

RED JACKET. Deputy Revenue Collector E. F. Douglass and Mr. J. H. Winsor of Cleveland were in the city on business yesterday.

The vein in the Tamarack Junior has widened out and increased in richness to such an extent that a conservative miner who has seen it claims that the stock is one of the cheapest on the list.

A Chapter on Oysters. "Oysters are fatter this year than I ever saw them before," said a restaurant oyster opener. "I don't know why, but usually the fatter an oyster is the poorer the flavor. This is because the fat oyster has generally been out of the water too long and has been fed. That is not wholly the reason this year. They are fatter anyhow."

An oyster is best on the half shell, about twenty-four to forty-eight hours after he is out of salt water. Eaten before that time they are apt to give cramps. Yes, the male oyster is the best, but we don't come across a male more than an average of once in fifty times."-New York Herald.

Why the Opening Was Delayed.

The opening of the recent church congress at Rhylin, Wales, was delayed for half an hour by the nonappearance of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and everybody wondered what had happened. The archbishop had lost his crozier. This emblem was locked up in a leather case, and was carried off by a servant, who thought it was a gun, and locked it up in a room full of breechloaders and cartridges. Whether the congress would have been adjourned if it had not been discovered is a question which does not call for immediate reply.-Christian World.

Brain Boarded a Hand Car.

A section man was coming into Columbus, Ind., on a hand car on the Pennsylvania road, when he was attacked by a large bear. A terrible storm was in progress at the time. The man and bear had a terrific struggle, but the man finally struck the bear over the head with an iron crowbar, and as the animal rolled from the car the man got it in motion and escaped. He was badly scratched and bruised, but not seriously injured.-Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Blew Open an Unlocked Safe.

Cracksmen played a singular joke on themselves in blowing open the safe in L. G. Blair's store, Rio, Ills. Mr. Blair has been the victim of so many robberies that he has been leaving the safe open and sending the money to Galesburg. The burglars drilled into and blew open the empty unlocked safe.-Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

LONDON THEATER TOUTS.

How Patrons Are Made Miserable by Cloak, Programme and Other Fancies. You have scarcely put your nose inside a theater before you are seized upon and called to stand and deliver. First it is your coat. Men and women rush after you and pester you for your coat. They would rejoice if all were foolish enough to yield to their importunate demands, and risk colds, coughs, influenza and bronchitis for the rest of their natural life. Why, it is madness to venture into the stalls without a draft protector. Modern theaters are so constructed that they are mere draft traps.

If you are seated near the door you risk a stiff neck. You must wrap your cloak around you and be careful to protect your legs from the blasts of wind that pour in from every crack and channy. If you are in the center of the stalls, at many theaters directly the curtain is raised a tornado of wind rushes across the footlights and catches you by the throat. I often think that women are mad who venture into theaters with low dresses in winter time. It is bad enough for men.

And yet these attendants get quite offended if we do not leave behind us the only garments that will protect us from sudden death. Remember that no one is free from the theater highwaymen. Even those who go in with orders cannot get out of the cloakroom or programme tax. At last they must pay. I remember once going into a theater with a friend who had a keen sense of the ludicrous. I think it must have been W. S. Gilbert. It was a morning performance and he was attacked in the usual way:

"Coat, sir!" "What do you want with it?" "To take it off."

"Very well," he murmured innocently. The highwayman prepared to strip off his coat, and behold! my friend, who had prepared for the dodge, walked away in his shirt sleeves! He had only put on his overcoat, with nothing underneath it.

Unconcerned he was preparing to enter the stalls coatless, when the attendant rushed after him.

"Look here, sir, you must not go into the stalls like that!"

"Why not?" he asked with a bland and innocent air. "You asked for my coat. You have got it. What more can you want?"

The coat and cloak fiends having been disposed of, you encounter the second rank of tout. Now it is a programme for which you must pay. They insidiously bar your passage. They dun you and din into your ears. "Programme, sir!" It is not a civil request to know if you would like a programme or not, but a demand with an implied threat. The implication is that you are a stingy person, who has no right to be seen in the stalls.

But this is not all. Having gone through the first easy stages of theatrical purgatory, you are worried all the evening with ice sellers and chocolate vendors and stale cake providers. If you are in the stalls, safely wrapped up from the drafts, these touts edge in between the very narrow and uncomfortable stalls and generally make hay. They tread on your toes, they disturb the little nest you have made, they make havoc with the ladies' back hair, pulling out confiding hairpins and crushing the result of the maid's handiwork. They don't care if they dig you in the eye with an ice tray or powder you with the refuse of sponge cake or bury you under chocolate boxes.

Their duty is to make as much money as possible for the speculating contractor. It is not their fault, poor things. They all get a commission on their wares and it is their duty to tout.-Clement Scott in London Graphic.

Sense in National Proverbs.

There is a deal of sound sense in the proverbs of a nation. Earl Russell defined a proverb as being the wit of one man and the wisdom of many, and the aptness of this is well shown in the following from the Spanish, "Since we cannot get what we like, let us like what we get." The thought is as old as the race of mankind, but ages passed before one man hit upon the happy expression of it. This saying, from the Chinese, is a whole homily on pride in one sentence, "When a tree is blown down, it shows that the branches are longer than the roots."

For a concise expression of the lofty aspirations of youth and the sober achievements of riper years, take this sentence from Henry D. Thoreau, "The youth gets together his materials to build a bridge to the moon, or perchance a palace or temple on the earth, and at length the middle aged man concludes to build a wooden shed with them."-B. A. Heydrick in Brains.

The Planchette.

The planchette was the popular craze in the year 1887 in Japan. The instrument used there consists of three pieces of bamboo of a specified length tied in the middle to form a tripod, over which is inverted a shallow circular tray of lacquered ware about a foot in diameter. The legs are 1 foot 6 inches, Japanese, in length. All present put their hands gently on the tray, and the okuri, as the object is called, or okuri san, said being honorific, is politely asked to answer the proposed questions by raising one leg for "yes" and another for "no." Or for "yes" by turning around, many such devices being used. The operation will be seen to be more closely allied to "table turning" than what we know as the planchette.-Philadelphia Ledger.

It Went Off.

One of my fellow students once bought an old gun, which he intended to use in some private theatricals he was producing. Several of his fellow comrades were in his room one night and the gun came up for criticism. One of them picked it up and pointed it, pulling the trigger. The others followed suit, but after six or seven of them had tried it, the next one pulled the trigger, the gun going off and blinding one of the poor fellows for life, as well as disfiguring him.-London Tit-Bits.

YOUNG MEN Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this chance. DR. SPEER & CO.

Will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases of weakness or private disease of any kind or character they undertake or forfeit $250. They will therefore say to the unfortunate sufferers who may read this notice that you are treading on dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedies for your complaint. Then for the first time you will realize what negligence means. Our success in such cases can be best understood when we will positively declare that over 100,000 have been treated by us in different parts of the world. Call and get the benefit of our experience.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN, There are many of the age of 30 to 50 who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting sensation and weakening the system in a manner which the patient cannot account for. On examination it will be found that the urine deposits a rosy sediment and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color be of a thin or milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of weakness.

DR. SPEER & CO. Will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the organs. Examination and advice free to all. Remember the place, 146 West Washington street, Marquette. P. S.-See our testimonials in the different papers from well-known people.

To the Public. I have great pleasure in adding my testimony to that of others as to the ability of Dr. Speer, and I do so voluntarily, believing it my Christian duty as a member of the "Young Men's Christian Association," and also of the "Epworth League," to give due credit to a physician of such marked ability as Dr. Speer, that others may be benefited by his skill. For two years I have been subjected to the most terrible pain; I could not work or sleep; my constitution was so terribly impaired that insanity seemed imminent and life itself a burden.

Several physicians whom I consulted could do nothing, and I thought that earth had no cure for me. In my despair I consulted Dr. Speer, whom a friend of mine described as one who had skill, discretion and a wonderful power of healing; as the drowning man will grasp at the straw, so did I at my friend's suggestion. After several weeks' treatment I AM CURED, AND AM IN FULL ENJOYMENT OF MY NATURAL VIGOR. I feel like working full time; eat well, sleep as peacefully as a child, and have that grateful sensation that only a man can have who is conscious of being literally snatched from the very jaws of death.

The skill displayed by Dr. Speer in the diagnosis of my case was simply to be astounding, my ailment seeming to be to him as clear as day. This testimony I am willing to substantiate under oath at any time, and my feelings are of profound thankfulness that at the hand of Providence directed me to such a physician. DR. SPEER & CO., 141-31st 315 Bluff Street, Marquette.

WELL WORTH READING. DR. SPEER & CO., Marquette, Mich. I am glad to write you that I am entirely cured of the distressing disease that has long made life a burden to me. When I began treatment with you I had for years been afflicted with severe pains across the back, my skin was yellow and discolored. I was nervous and constantly depressed in spirits, being unfit for work and knew scarcely a moment when I was free from pain. At our first interview you described my case so correctly that I was satisfied that you understood every symptom. Under your treatment I received relief at once and in a few weeks my pains and nervousness disappeared and my skin changed to a healthy color. I am now fully cured and gladly recommend other suffering as I did to consult Dr. Speer & Co. and give you full privilege to refer any afflicted person to me for reference. OVER A MILE OF NEW SEWER

Big Sewer Contract to Advertise at Once and the Work Finished by July 1st.

COUNCIL REFUSES TO GRANT STREET RAILWAYS' PETITION.

Half Mile Sewer Authorized on Genessee Street—Other Proceedings at Last Night's Council Meeting.

WILL MAKE A BIG CONTRACT.

A special meeting of the common council, called by Mayor Longyear before his departure for Chicago, was held last evening with President Hennessey in the chair. The meeting was called to order by the street committee and immediately after the reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting the regular order was dispensed with and the report of the committee called for.

The first matter presented was the petition for a sewer on Third street from Ridge to Specular streets and a conditional remonstrance to the same. The committee submitted a report in favor of the petition and after some discussion this was accepted and adopted and an ordinance passed providing for a 3-inch sewer on Third street from the trunk sewer at the intersection with Specular street to a point one hundred feet south of Arch street, the sewer to be laid between the curb and the sidewalk on the east side of the street and laterals to be laid to the line of every lot on either side. The ordinance also provided for the construction of 6-inch sewers on Arch and Michigan streets connecting with the Third street sewer. The Michigan street sewer to terminate at a point 40 feet west of High street with a branch sewer to terminate 40 feet west of Front street. All these sewers are to have laterals for every lot and will be let in one contract, one assessment district being formed to include all the property benefitted as the Third street sewer will serve as a trunk sewer for a large territory in that part of the city. The contract will be advertised and let at once and will be finished by July 1st.

The petition for a sewer on Genessee street from Altamont street to the lake and to serve as a trunk sewer for a large part of the First ward, was then reported upon favorably by the committee and after some discussion over a remonstrance duly presented and read, the council authorized the construction of the sewer.

This sewer will be over 2,400 feet long while the Third street and connecting sewers will be one of the largest contracts of the kind let in the city in some time. The Third street sewer will be 3,220 feet long and will have 8 man-holes and one lamp-hole, the Michigan street sewer will be 1,000 feet long, with one man-hole and a lamp-hole, and the Arch street 500 and the Front street 300 with one lamp-hole each, making a total of 5,080 feet of sewer in the contract without figuring in the hundreds of laterals to be built to the lot lines.

The final confirmation of the assessment rolls for the new Front street sewers, one south of Superior street and the other north of Ohio street, was set for Monday, March 7th.

The street committee asked further time for the consideration of the petition for the opening of Spring street and then presented its report, upon the petition of the Marquette City & Presque Isle R. Y. company, recommending that the request of the company to suspend operations without putting on busses be denied. The report was accepted without debate by a unanimous vote.

The council then adjourned.

A Monument to Sherman.

The Detroit Tribune says: "Patriotism that will open purse-strings is of the truest and best type. Michigan has always been in the front rank of states when any appeal to this emotion was to be responded to, and repeated calls have not dampened her ardor nor exhausted her ability. As her sons have been the first to spring to the defense of our country in time of danger, so in time of security her people have been the first to honor those who have distinguished themselves in the service of the nation. Dollars earned in Michigan have helped to erect outside her borders many a monument that preserves the memory of some true American who by unusual ability and devotion has become a conspicuous and worthy example to his countrymen and to the world. Once more the people of the state are requested to attest their love, admiration and gratitude for true patriotism. The call comes in the shape of an invitation to subscribe for a fund now being raised for the erection at the national capital of a suitable statue of the late General William Tecumseh Sherman. The collection and custody of Michigan's contributions for this purpose has been intrusted to a committee consisting of Colonel Frank J. Hecker, of this city; ex-Governor David H. Jerome, of Saginaw; Mayor Edwin F. Uhl, of Grand Rapids; Honorable Edwin C. Nichols, of Belle Creek, and Honorable Peter White, of Marquette.

The composition of the committee is a sufficient guarantee that every dollar subscribed will reach its proper destination and the project itself does not need commendation or explanation here. It should appeal at once to the patriotic impulses of our people.

The Michigan committee has just issued the following circular which indicates the selection of Hon. Peter White of this city as its treasurer:

The undersigned have been appointed a committee for the state of Michigan to aid in raising a fund for the erection of a suitable statue of General Sherman, to be located at Washington.

While subscriptions to this fund will be asked from members of the Grand Army of the Republic, of the Societies of the Armies of the Tennessee, Ohio, Potomac, and Cumberland, and of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, it is deemed by the General Sherman statue committee that the citizens of the several states and territories who were not in the army during the menmentous period of 1861-65, or who are not members of any of the above named societies, will cheerfully contribute toward this suitable and permanent expression of the respect, admiration and gratitude felt by loyal American people for the noble character, lofty patriotism and invaluable services of General Sherman. Subscriptions from the citizens of Michigan are respectfully solicited to aid in perpetuating a memory which shall remain an inspiration to all patriotic people now and hereafter. Will you kindly address your reply to Peter White, Marquette, Michigan?

Committee: FRANK J. HECKER, DAVID H. JEROME, PETER WHITE, EDWIN C. NICHOLS, EDWIN F. UHL.

Resolutions Adopted.

At the camp fire held last evening by Albert Jackson post, No. 300, G. A. R., the following resolutions were adopted concerning the death of Col. C. Y. Osburn:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Commander of the Universe to remove from our midst our esteemed comrade Charles Y. Osburn, who departed this life Feb. 4, 1892, of heart failure, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Comrade Osburn we have lost a true and tried friend and comrade, whose hand and heart were ever open for the relief of his destitute comrades, and the nation has lost one of its bravest defenders in the days of its great peril; and be it further

Resolved, That the charter of this post be draped for a period of thirty days in memory of him who has gone to rest in that camp beyond the river.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our record book, and a copy sent to the family of our deceased comrade.

With the Savings Bank.

Tom F. Kilby, who is already well known in Marquette, has resigned his position with the Chicago Lumber Co. to accept on May 1st the position of individual bookkeeper with the Marquette County Savings bank. Of Mr. Kilby the Alger County Republican says:

It is with much regret that Alger county people will learn of Mr. T. F. Kilby's intention of leaving Marquette. Mr. Kilby has accepted a position in the Marquette Co. Savings bank, and has tendered his resignation as manager of the Chicago Lumber Co's interests in this county, to take effect March 15. After that date he will leave for a six week's visit at Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and several other cities. He will return to Marquette the latter part of April and will enter upon his duties in the bank May 1. Mr. Kilby has been connected with C. L. Co. for the last eight years, and it is against their will that the officers of the company lose him. He has been manager of their Alger county business for four years and during his residence at Marquette has taken an active interest in the affairs of both township and county, and has always proven a very able and conscientious officer. It was under his supervision and largely through his efforts that Munising's handsome new school building was erected, and it will be a lasting evidence of his having resided there. The Republican joins hands with Mr. Kilby's many friends in wishing him success and rapid promotion in the banking business.

The State Encampment.

The state military board met at the Light Infantry armory in Detroit Saturday afternoon and decided unanimously to recommend to Governor Winans that Island Lake, on the Detroit, Lansing & Northern road, be selected as the site of the state encampment this year. The dates agreed upon are Aug. 17 to 22. All of the members of the board were present, with Edwin F. Conely in the chair. The recommendation practically means that Island Lake is selected, as the governors in the past have invariably designated the place selected by the military board.

The Island Lake camping grounds are about two miles from Brighton, and are the same grounds where the camp was held several years ago. They are high and dry, with abundance of water convenient. All the older members of the military companies remember them favorably. One member of the board said after the meeting that the grounds are the best ever selected in Michigan for a camp. No other business was transacted by the board.

A Jolly Meeting.

The below zero temperature didn't chill the enthusiasm of the members of the Marquette Snow Shoe club last evening worth a cent, twenty donning their white blanket suits and tramping out to John Stewart's where a splendid supper was served. Snow shoes were donned again as soon as the members of the club could bend over far enough to fasten the strings and then a bee line was made through the woods for the club house where a number who could not take in the supper were already assembled about the great fireplace. A very jolly time followed, story following story in quick succession while the Gooding quartette sang several selections and Mr. E. L. Bailey gave one or two violin solos in his best style. Altogether the evening was thoroughly enjoyed and it was with reluctance that the snow shoes were fastened on for the tramp home.

Swedish Concert Company Coming.

The Marquette Young Men's Christian Association has engaged the famous Luttman Swedish sextette for a concert at the Marquette Opera House on Friday evening, February 26th. The prices have been made very low, $1 per seat in the boxes, 75 cents in the divans, 50 cents parquette and balcony and 25 cents in the gallery. At these prices the house should be filled to overflowing.

Iron Division Officers.

The annual election of officers of Iron division, No. 41, U. R. K. of P., was held last evening and resulted in the choice of Bernard S. Kaufman as captain; Will Treloar, first lieutenant; George Parsons, herald; George J. Taylor, recorder, and H. L. Cooper, treasurer.

The Aeolian!

[WHAT]

BILL NYE

Thinks of it.

"While in Chicago I had the pleasure of hearing one of your Aeolians, and the melody is still ringing in my ears. If you could see me since I heard that wonderful and accurate music, you would see a different man. I am more hopeful. My virtuosos and my wife both agree with me, and in my once sad heart the little pee wees are singing. Seriously it is a most wonderful instrument."

Mr. Nye is only one of the many who are surprised by this wonderful instrument. If the Aeolian had no other qualities than its beautiful tone and wonderful orchestral effects, it would be a marvelous instrument, but when to these are added that simplicity of operation that enables anyone to play it with a few days practice, it becomes phenomenal.

Herr Anton Seidl, leader of the German opera, New York city, has an Aeolian for his personal use and endorses it highly.

You are earnestly invited to call and hear this wonderful instrument at
