HARTER ON THE WAR-PATH.

He Loses No Opportunity to Get In a Body Blow at the Silver Coinage Folly.

BLAND AND THE OTHER SILVER
CRANKS MUCH INCENSED

Harter Insists That Free Coinage
Means Certain Defeat for the Democrats This Fall.

MR. HARTER'S HEAD IS LEVEL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The silver question will not down. Its discussion was resumed in the house again today upon the presentation by Mr. Bland of a letter in response to one of the Harter circulars to Grand Army of the Republic posts. The scene was one of confusion and excitement at times, but occasionally a good home thrust from one side or the other brought forth hearty and continued laughter.

Mr. Harter was more than emphatic in his denunciations of the free silver bill, which he characterized as infamous and predicted that if it passed the democratic party would meet certain defeat in November. Warning to the subject he declared:

"If this free silver bill shall pass the time will come when a man as a democrat will not be given a decent burial in a democratic cemetery."

The first bill upon the calendar (which was laid aside) gave rise to some discussion during which Mr. Reed (Me.) made some of his remarks as to the advisability of counting a quorum from the members present and not voting. The chairman and Mr. Reed thereupon had a short colloquy which the chairman subsequently alluded to as an "altercation."

"I hope the chairman will not designate it as an altercation," said Mr. Reed. "It was an altercation of words" responded the chairman.

The next bill, for the relief of A. J. Duncan of Tennessee, was the axle upon which revolved another silver wheel. It was set in motion by Mr. Bland who sent to the clerk's desk and had read a letter from a Grand Army of the Republic post in Missouri, asking him to inform the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. Harter), in response to his anti-silver circular, that the Grand Army of the Republic posts were able to attend to their own business.

Mr. Bland again criticized Mr. Harter's attitude on the silver question and said that he felt it to be a duty to his constituents to have this letter read.

Mr. Harter said that he ascribed to his friend (what his friend did not ascribe to him) honesty of purpose. The free silver bill was an infamous measure and yet he ascribed to the gentleman an honest purpose in submitting it. This same class of legislation, called protective tariff legislation, legislation which was against the many in the interest of the few, was infamous and outrageous. He would be the last man in the world to say that his friend and relative McKinley was an infamous man. The difficulty was not with the heart of his friend (Mr. Bland) but the trouble was with his head. The house had been told that one class of legislation fell heavily upon ninety-five citizens out of every hundred and took away their property and handed it over to the other five under the operation of the McKinley act. But there were other burdens; and some gentlemen seemed to think it was perfectly right and very democratic indeed to take the earnings and property, not of ninety-five persons out of a hundred but of 999 out of every thousand, and hand them over to monopolies.

McKinley (N. H.) raised the point of order that this discussion was wanted out of order, not being directed to the bill under consideration by the committee.

The chair sustained the point of order and stated that the bill under consideration was one for the relief of Mr. Duncan.

Mr. Harter replied that this remark was directed toward that bill as if Mr. Duncan got the appropriation he wanted to be paid 100 cents on the dollar. (laughter and applause)

After many efforts Mr. Harter again managed to secure the floor and proceeded with his prediction, which was that if the house passed this measure, which invited all the degraded silver of the world to free coinage in this country, the democratic party would lose the votes of men who labored for their living and when the party marched to the polls in November instead of marching to an overwhelming victory it would march to certain defeat.

Mr. Lind (Minn.) asked if he understood the gentleman correctly in denouncing the principles of the democratic party to be free trade and a single gold standard.

Before Mr. Harter could reply he was again interrupted by a number of democrats protesting against the latitude of the debate.

Mr. Lind—Is the position of the democratic party for free trade and a single gold standard?

Mr. Harter—The position of the democratic party is in favor of a double standard and is in favor of keeping every dollar worth 100 cents. (applause on the republican side and demands for the regular order from the democrats.)

Mr. Lind pressed his question as to the attitude of the democratic party in regard to free trade and Mr. Fithian and Mr. Sherman in vain attempted to take Mr. Harter from the floor when he demanded to make his reply.

The chair appealed to Mr. Harter to proceed in order and speak to the bill under consideration. Mr. Harter said he would do so.

This man from Tennessee wanted an appropriation (laughter); that appropriation was raised by taxing the people and the question asked by the gentleman was highly pertinent under the circumstances. The democratic party was in favor of the freest possible trade for the humblest soul and the protection of the American flag.

After a scene of confusion Mr. Harter said that the position of the democratic party on the question of free trade was this—that every American citizen was entitled to the most absolute free trade with every inhabitant of the globe, limited only by the amount of tariff necessary to conduct the government. He had now answered the question of the gentleman from Minnesota and he would ask him a question. Let him state whether he endorsed the McKinley bill.

Mr. Lind—I voted for it. I endorsed the McKinley bill as a whole.

The silver debate was then terminated and the committee, without action on the Duncan bill, rose and the house adjourned till Tuesday.

CHINESE MUST STAY OUT.

Senate Passes Bill Renewing Exclusion Laws for Ten Years.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The senate this morning passed the bill extending for ten years the operation of the Chinese exclusion laws, then after passing a few bills of local importance adjourned until Tuesday to allow a number of senators to catch the World's Fair special for Chicago.

PASSENGERS BADLY SCARED.

Southern Pacific Train Narrowly Escapes Wreck by Explosion.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Feb. 19.—As the south-bound passenger train on the Southern Pacific road was nearing Pasadena last night the engineer saw by aid of the headlight a queer looking object lying near the right hand rail but paid little attention to it.

When the driving wheels of the locomotive passed over the object there was a terrific explosion and the cab was enveloped in a sheet of flame. The insignificant object proved to be a heavy charge of a dangerous explosive. Fortunately the engine was a heavy one and held to the rails while the motion of the train carried it quickly over the spot.

When the train had slowed up sufficiently to permit the engineer to get down on the steps he was astounded to find the brake beams on the engine and express car trucks on fire. The train was stopped and flames extinguished.

A cry of "train robbers" ran like wild-fire through the crowded coaches when the train stopped, for the passengers all seen the flames from the explosion and for a time a scene of intense excitement ensued. The officers were notified and they at once left for the scene of the explosion.

HELPLESS STEAMER ADRIFT.

The Sir Walter Raleigh at Sea With a Broken Shaft.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A tug arrived at Crookhaven today bearing a report of an accident that threatens to have serious consequences. The British steamer Sir Walter Raleigh, Captain Smith, bound from Philadelphia for Plymouth, arrived in Bantry Bay, on the southwest coast of Ireland, on Saturday last with her shaft broken in two places. It was impossible for her to make repairs there so a tug was engaged to convey her to a port where she could find facilities to repair the damage. Before they had proceeded far a heavy gale sprang up. The wind and sea were rapidly increasing and it was finally decided that the tug must seek shelter so she steered away for Crookhaven. The last seen of the steamer she was drifting seaward rapidly. He spread of canvas is limited.

GENERAL STRIKE PROBABLE.

All Machinists in Pennsylvania Railway Shops May Quit.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—The special committee of the International Machinists' Union has decided upon what action to take in regard to the strike of the machinists in the Pennsylvania company's shops and this decision has been telegraphed to the members of the executive board at different places in the country. There is reason to believe from the actions of the strikers here that the committee has recommended a strike on the whole system. This, however, is contingent upon the vote of the executive board. S. M. Dolan of Chicago, organizer of the International Union, leaves tonight with secret instructions for all the Pan Handle shops, going via Fort Wayne and Columbus.

YELLOW FEVER IN ECUADOR.

Assuming Violent Form at Guayaquil—Central American Notes.

PANAMA, Feb. 19.—United States Consul-General Sorsby, who was among the refugees arriving by the last steamer from Guayaquil, reports yellow fever epidemic there which is assuming most alarming proportions. Mr. Maybrick, the French vice-consul, was among the latest victims.

William Burchard, United States consul at Trujillo, Honduras, has been made agent of the Burchard Honduras Fruit, Agricultural and Commercial company, recently formed in Chicago with a capital of $600,000. The company will place six steamers between Honduras and Pensacola, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston.

George F. B. Jenner, now British minister to Bolivia, has been appointed minister to Bogota.

DISCHARGED CONDUCTORS HOT.

They Bring Slander Suits Against St. Paul City Railway.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 19.—A few days ago six conductors were dismissed from the service of the St. Paul City Railway company on the charge that they were in conspiracy with conductors of connecting lines to turn in transfers wrongfully prepared in lieu of cash. The discharged men have now brought slander suits aggregating $50,000 against the company.

E. B. HOWARD IS APPOINTED

He Will Succeed the Late Colonel Osburn as Collector of Customs.

HIS APPOINTMENT A WELL-DESERVED PROMOTION.

For As Deputy Collector Mr. Howard Has Been a Thoroughly Efficient and Faithful Officer.

IT IS "COLLECTOR HOWARD" NOW.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The president today sent to the senate the following nominations: Electus B. Howard of Michigan, collector of customs at Marquette, Mich.; Joseph E. Hayden, District of Columbia, consul at Stockholm; Charles W. Erdman of Kentucky, consul at Breslau; Nicholas B. Kuntz, registrar of the land office at Des Moines, Ia.; John W. Clouse, judge advocate, to be lieutenant-colonel and deputy judge advocate-general.

STRIKE PROMPTLY SUPPRESSED.

Italian Government Locks Up Several Leading Labor Agitators.

ROME, Feb. 19.—The threat made at the joint meeting of representatives of twenty-three labor societies yesterday that a general strike would be inaugurated today and continue until the government started public works to give employment to idle workmen was set at naught by the government which last night caused the arrest of several of the prominent agitators. This decided action of the authorities had good results and today instead of going on a strike as they had threatened the men are all working as usual. The city is tranquil and there is no indication of trouble.

RECIPROCITY WITH MEXICO

That Republic is Considering Minister Egan's Counter Propositions.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 19.—A rumor has been current here that negotiations for a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Mexico had been broken off. It is authoritatively stated, however, that negotiations have only been temporarily suspended in order to allow the government to examine the counter propositions that have been made. The Mexican government rejected the American propositions last fall whereupon Mr. Ryan, the American minister, presented counter propositions which the authorities have still under consideration.

SIMPSON COMES BACK.

Alleged Dallas Defaulter Will Fight the Matter Out.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 19.—J. B. Simpson, who so many people thought had fled the country, returned from Hot Springs yesterday and in an hour after his arrival Sheriff Lewis arrested him on a charge of embezzlement of $28,000 from a Scotch loan company of Edinburgh. Simpson went to the sheriff's office and was released on $5,000 bonds. Simpson is said to have $300,000 in his possession belonging to other people.

WORK FOR MR. BLAINE.

Naturalized American Citizen Forced Into the Italian Army.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—The state department at Washington will probably be appealed to in a few days to take some action in regard to the detention in Italy for military service of Genario Schiavo, a naturalized American citizen whose wife and children, father and two brothers reside at 893 South Ninth street in this city. He was naturalized here in 1888. Recently he went to Italy for his health and was seized and compelled to serve in the Italian army.

CONSOLIDATION BILL KILLED.

New York City Will Not Annex Brooklyn This Year.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 19.—The bill for the consolidation of New York, Brooklyn and other municipalities bordering on New York Harbor seems to have been killed by the assembly. A motion to strike out Kings county was carried and the friends of the bill to prevent its being slaughtered at once moved that it be recommitted. Even this was defeated but the bill, on motion of one of its supporters, was laid on the table.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Latest Grist Ground Out by Michigan's Justice Hill.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 19.—[Special.]—The supreme court filed opinions in the following cases today:

Affirmed—People vs Wright; People vs Crowley; People vs Scott; People vs Rawns; People vs Hughes; Brotherton vs Goldman; Boyce vs Auditor-general; Connor vs Third National bank of Detroit; Cogswell vs Mitts; Wood vs Michigan Air Line railway; Bank of Montreal vs The Potts Salt & Lumber company.

Reversed—Doys vs Provinski; People vs Rebee; People vs State.

The court adjourned until Tuesday, March 1. On that day the call be 102 to 118. The mortgage tax law case has not been decided.

Missouri Solid For Democracy.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 19.—A bill has been introduced in the house redistricting the state. All the districts are made democratic except the Fourteenth which is republican from 6,000 to 8,000.

Quay's Health Not Improved.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—Friends of Senator Quay have recently received letters from St. Lucia, Fla., where the senator is staying, saying that his health has not improved by his sojourn there. It is said that he is threatened with pneumonia.

MUST BE UNITED.

The Iron Port, of Escanaba, states the case concisely in the following paragraph, which the MINING JOURNAL commends to the attention of the republicans of this peninsula: The Detroit Tribune copies and endorses the claim of the MINING JOURNAL for fair representation for this peninsula on the state ticket and the delegation to the National convention. The republicans of this peninsula are entitled to all that the MINING JOURNAL asks for and will have no trouble to get it if they present their demands in state convention with every man in line. If, on the contrary, they go into convention in two factions they may expect to fare as they did two years ago, and they will deserve to.

HARD LINES FOR CHARCOAL IRON.

Recently the Detroit News published the item concerning the charcoal furnace at Newberry here reproduced: The Newberry furnace still continues to do good work. The output will average fully sixty-five tons per day. It is considered the best paying plant of the kind in the state at the present day. The efficient management of C. W. Case has a good deal to do with its success.

Noting and commenting on which, the Newberry News says, evidently speaking "by the card": Concerning the above Manager Case spoke the other day as follows: The article is misleading, as it conveys the impression that our business is making large profits. It is to be losing the least makes a furnace the "best paying," etc., then the distinction belongs, perhaps, to one of the four furnaces in Marquette county, now out of blast. They are notable instances of the fact that during this period of extreme depression some furnaces pay best when shut down.

The Newberry furnace is doing good work, and, moreover, is favorably located, probably more so than the majority of Michigan and Wisconsin plants, and, barring unforeseen difficulties and conditions, can undoubtedly continue in operation; but to make good profits we must have, what we do not now possess, a market that affords a fair price for iron. The last sales made last season were at the lowest figures known to the trade. No improvement whatever is seen up to date, and reasonable prospects are lacking. Production more than keeps pace with consumption, and the so-called Western charcoal furnaces had about 190,000 tons of iron in stock January 1st, which is over 50,000 tons more than on any previous January 1st, and more than ever before in the history of the business. The charcoal iron industry of the north is passing through a crucial period, the outcome of which is problematical, and is viewed with decided apprehension by many of the best posted.

Mr. Case is in a position to speak adversely about the difficulties confronting the charcoal iron interest, and what he asserts is borne out by the experience of every charcoal furnace in this region during the past few years. The trouble does not consist in the inability of furnaces here to make iron at as low a price as competing furnaces in other parts of the country so much as in the difficulty of disposing of it after it is made. Improved methods in the manufacture of coke iron has operated to greatly restrict the demand for charcoal iron, the better grades of coke iron now taking the place of charcoal iron for many purposes, and this, we think is the principal reason for the trouble that the furnaces now in operation have to meet in the effort to dispose of their output.

OUR HARDWOODS.

This item in an exchange suggests a thought to the MINING JOURNAL that the paper desires to share with its readers in this section: It is said that the hardwoods of Grand Traverse county, Mich., pay better than the pine did, by a large percentage. This year the hardwood mills in the neighborhood of Traverse City will cut at least 25,000,000 feet. The hardwood of that locality is mainly maple and elm, and a little black oak. This great demand for hardwoods is due to the establishment of furniture factories in the vicinity, and which were established in a lumbering town after the pine had all been used up.

Now we have in the upper peninsula an abundance of the finest varieties of hardwood that could easily be made a source of great wealth to our people were the same effort put forth to turn them to the best account that has given such excellent results in Grand Traverse county. But thus far little has been done in that direction, and where our hardwood supply is being drawn on at all it is mainly to furnish the raw material for charcoal kilns, or fuel for the mines, or the "cordwood of commerce" which is hauled into the cities of the district during the winter to be turned into a money at a tenth of what it would bring if it were worked up into furniture, as is being done in Grand Traverse county.

We have a practically unlimited supply of the finest of birch, maple in all its varieties, and several other kinds of the most desirable hardwoods for furniture making, throughout this peninsula, and that we are substantially without the factories for working them up into their highest forms is an impediment of our enterprise that ought not to be permitted to longer stand against us. Formerly there was lacking the railroad facilities for getting the timber to suitable points for working it up, and also distributing it after it was turned into marketable forms, but that disadvantage no longer exists. We have no excuse now for further neglecting this great source of employment for labor and capital in a line of manufacturing that will give such splendid returns, and there should be something done to render our hardwoods as valuable to us as they are proving to the lower peninsula county mentioned.

REPUBLIC RIPPLES.

An Interesting Summary of Recent Events in That Stirring Little Mining City and Its Vicinity.

Mr. F. H. Kearney, well known throughout the county as one of our most successful business men, has accepted the management of the co-operative store at Champion. Mr. Kearney will assume charge of the store on the 1st of March. The firm of F. H. Kearney & Co. will suffer little by the change as Mr. Kearney will be able to come over here once or twice every week and he has two able assistants here in James Gibson and Joseph LaBoid, who are fully competent to keep the business moving along smoothly.

Mr. J. B. Montgomery, principal of the Champion schools, was here last Tuesday visiting our schools. Mr. Montgomery has the reputation of being one of the best school principals in the upper peninsula, and a visit to the schools at Champion will convince the most skeptical that he does not hold that reputation without having fairly earned it.

The surgeons of the Presbyterian hospital of Chicago, where Miss Maggie Pascoe is undergoing treatment, found it necessary to amputate her left leg a little above the knee; the operation was successfully performed last Saturday. Miss Pascoe is getting along very nicely and stood the strain on her strength wonderfully well.

The Ancient Order of Foresters of America will hold down the town hall this evening with a supper and concert, and everyone in need of a square meal can be accommodated from 6 to 9 o'clock. The concert will commence at 9, and as the best local talent of Republics will take part in it the hall is sure to experience a jam.

Mr. and Mrs. D.F. Morgan left on Sunday afternoon via the M. & N. line for a three weeks visit with friends in Milwaukee, Chicago and Ohio cities.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tyler entertained their friends with a progressive pedro party last evening at their residence on Republic avenue.

Mr. John Walsh, of Tower, Minn., is here visiting his uncle, Mr. P. Walsh.

Miss Kate Foley visited friends in Champion Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. J. McCarthy is quite ill. She is suffering from a cancer in her side, and as she is quite an old lady her recovery is very doubtful.

The Loyal Legion will celebrate the birthday of Washington by appropriate exercises at the town hall Monday evening.

Peter Palsson had the little finger of his right hand amputated by a drilling machine in the Republic mine last week.

Marshal John Glode, who has been laid up with pneumonia, is slowly recovering. He will be able to resume his duties in about ten days.

Miss Mary Cook, one of the teachers at the West Republic school, has resigned her position on account of ill health. Miss Edith Rowland has been selected to fill the position.

Capt. P. W. and Thos. Pascoe arrived home from Chicago Tuesday morning.

Mr. M. Gleason spent the week at Amasa, Iron county, inspecting the Michigan mine at that place owned by a company of which he is president.

Miss Anna Munson, for many years a resident of our city, died Monday morning of inflammation of the bowels, and was buried Wednesday afternoon. She was 49 years of age.

Mrs. John Northmore, Mrs. W. E. Tyler, Mrs. C. Mertz and Mrs. Thomas Gibson, visited Mrs. Wm. Anderson at Negaunee on Tuesday last.

John Eade, of Teleroid, Colorado, visited his brother, Josiah, here a few days this week. He left on Wednesday for the copper country, where he will wed the lady of his choice.

Henry Muck, freight conductor on the main line of the D. S. S. & A., was here a few hours Wednesday shaking hands with his numerous friends.

Jack Williams has invested in a 5-year old horse which he will put on an air line road between here and the Riverside.

Prof. John Northmore represented Superior lodge, No. 115, A. O. U. W., at the dedication of Ishpening's new A. O. U. W. hall Thursday evening. Mr. Northmore delivered the address of the evening.

David St. Onge, delivery clerk for M. Gleason & Son, has recovered from a severe attack of the grip, or something else.

Ah'll tank dat verra good ting, but den, Ah'll 'member wen Ah'll was in Canada, we'll had fri-trad an' Ah'll tank poor mans didn' got so much dey'll here. Den Ah'll tank, dat we'll Ah'll leave Canada for work in Michigan. Ah'll tank how Ah'll work in Canada for chop de cord-wood an' cut de saw-log, an' Ah'll fan' Ah'll owe de compaigne all de tam, an' Ah'll got tire dat kine business an' wen Ah'll hear dey got good pay in Michigan for work wid hax Ah'll tank Ah'll go dere. Ah'll go, but Ah'll haf for walk, 'cause de compaigne has' no an' can't pay me de monnaie. But wen Ah'll bin here two, mahy tree year, Ah'll go back to Canada for get mah Rosa an' den, Bah gosh! Ah'll ride in de steam-boat an' in de tr-ran. Ah'll be dress too, jus' lak so good de bes' man in dat Canada town. Ah'll tol' you, sars, Ah'll was un prod man wen Ah'll go for marry Rosa an' Ah'll have de monnaie for bring mah wife to Marquette in de steam-boat.

Den, Ah'll tank Ah'll lak for de compaignevat Ah'll work for, to make monnaie. If dey'll make monnaie, Ah'll get mah pay, an' 'f dey don' mak monnaie, mebbe Ah'll don' get mah pay. Wen de compaigne mak monnaie dey'll want for buil' more furnace an' more coal kil'; dig more in de mine an' mak lot work for all de boys an' we'll have de good tam. Wen de compaigne don' mak some monnaie, de boss, he'll say, "No, Antoine, Ah'll ant got no work for you dis tam!" Dat make me feel bad in de stom', an' Ah'll tank, Bah gosh! Ah'll gonade for get de pork, de bean, de flour, de tea, de tabac an' de odder tangs Ah'll got have. But, wen de compaigne mak some monnaie, de boss, he'll come on mah house, an' he'll say, "Antoine, Ah'll want you for tak' big job dis wintaire, for chop de cord-wood an' cut de log." Den, Bah gosh! Ah'll feel big an' strong in stom'. Yes sars, Ah'll tank, ver' much, Ah'll lak for see de compaigne mak some monnaie, for den Ah'll got good pay for mah work, an' 'f Ah'll got small stump or one log in de hwood side, de boss don't say, "Here, Antoine, you d—rascal, wat for you'll put dat stump in dat pile hwood?" But, 'f Ah'll don' got too mannie stump in de hwood, de boss don't see hit. He'll be too busy and he'll feel too good for say anything.

No sars, Ah'll don't wan' for see any fri-trad in Michigan. Ah'll was leave Canada for get away from fri-trad, an' 'f Ah'll see fri-trad come here, Ah'll don' know where Ah'll go for get away from hit.

"About three weeks since I was suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an ALCOCK'S PLEURAL PLASTER, and in a short time obtained relief."

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises, or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the result have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE COUGH. A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the grippe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Do not wait for the first symptoms of the disease, but get a bottle and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to break on pneumonia. All druggists sell the Balsam.

Exercises in Honor of the Memory of Washington in the Negaunee Schools Yesterday.

The Branch Prison for "Vags" Hereafter—Special Administrator for the Gauthier Estate Appointed.

IN HONOR OF WASHINGTON.

The Friday rhetorical exercises were dispensed with at the Case street school yesterday afternoon, an elaborate Washingtonian program taking their place.

An essay on "Washington as a Patriot and Citizen" was then read by Albert Houle. It was a good production and was well delivered.

The exercises in room 7 by the scholars of Miss Reidy's and Miss Winter's department attracted a number of ladies, who came to hear their little ones rehearse.

The afternoon was passed very pleasantly by all who attended, and the exercises were instructive as well as pleasing.

To the Branch Prison.

Vagrants have been too numerous in the justice courts here for the past few months, and yesterday morning Justice Primeau's patience gave out when Joseph Morgan appeared before him charged with being a "vag."

Appointed Special Administrator.

Mr. S. O. Green, who for the past few years was the late Magloir Gauthier's book-keeper, has been appointed special administrator of the estate for the period of thirty days.

LOCAL LAONICS.

S. T. Hamilton, of the "Soo," was in Negaunee yesterday.

Remember the Stecher orchestra benefit dance on the 29th.

Mrs. Chris Gauthier is quite ill. She is suffering from the grip.

Miss Anna Langner left for a short visit to Houghton yesterday.

The bank will be closed Monday, it being Washington's birthday.

E. Thompson, of Menominee, did business in this city yesterday.

The familiar form of Fred Collins was visible on our streets yesterday.

There will be no session of either the public or parochial schools on Washington's birthday.

Mrs. P. B. Kirkwood's many friends will be glad to learn that she is now improving steadily.

Beach & Bower's minstrels are booked to appear at McDonald's opera house on the night of the 26th.

A child of Demaris Sempola, aged 4 years, died Thursday evening.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon.

A young child of John May died yesterday, and will be buried Sunday afternoon from the Salvation Army barracks.

At a meeting of Iron Mountain lodge,

I. O. O. F., of this city, held in the lodge hall Thursday evening, it was decided that the lodge will pay a visit to the sister lodge at Ishpeming next Friday evening.

To Cure Obesity.

In a French journal is announced the discovery of a means as simple as it is strange for curing obesity.

The means consisted simply in never eating more than one dish at each meal, no matter what that dish may be.

It is said that both the officer and the lady found by their experience that the partaking of only one dish, whether it be meat, fish or vegetables, brought on a sense of satiety much sooner than if a variety of dishes had been taken.

Miss Baker's New Play.

Miss Rachel Baker, the Boston amateur playwright, is in the city for a few weeks. She is just back from Switzerland, whither she went with her brother, who was threatened with blindness, to consult a famous oculist.

Indianapolis is near the center of population, but it is the center of the chewing gum habit. Professor Hurty, the chemist, gave some testimony to prove this the other evening when he told about a ladies' dinner party recently given in this city at which, after the dinner had been discussed, pepsin chewing gum was passed around.

Winter in Italy.

In Italy in the winter the Italians spread rugs over their floors, hang tapestries upon their walls, pile cushions everywhere, and carpet their sofas with long haired skins; they call waramita.

The Trouble with Dress Reform.

Mr. Savellitt—Well, my dear, did you go to that dress reform lecture, as I suggested?

Mrs. S.—Yes, and it was very interesting.

"What do you think of the idea?"

"The reform dress is certainly sensible, convenient and decidedly becoming, but—"

"Well, what's the 'but'?"

"I can't see, my love, how such a simple garment can ever be made to cost enough to be respectable."—New York Weekly.

WHERE IS HEAVEN?

"What is Heaven?" "Child, how can I tell of the beauty that rests on the city of God? Mine eyes have not seen it, my feet have not trod its golden paved streets set with jewels whose worth outshines and outvalues the jewels of earth.

"Where is Heaven?" "Dear, how do I know? We gaze into space through the blue throbbing air, Sun crowned and star gemmed, and we say, 'It is there.'"

"Above, and beyond us, more high and more bright, God's palace, whose floor is our beautiful sky. And where is Heaven? I know only this: 'Tis the hope of all ages wherever it is.'—Rose Hartwick Thorpe in New York Observer.

THE STRANGLER VINE.

"You want to know how those marks came there, do you? Well, you would guess a mighty long time before you would come near it, so I'll spare you the trouble and tell you the story."

He held up his brown right hand as he spoke. Across the back of it were two livid lines. One of these lines passed inside his hand and wound around his little finger. This finger was twisted and broken and bent backward. Right up to the finger nail extended the fiery, threadlike line.

The second line was a deeper red, wider than the other, and from it other filamentlike lines branched, covering the wrist with a network of scarlet tendrils. The main line could be seen to wind once around the wrist and then was lost up the speaker's sleeve.

"Well," he resumed, "you remember the excitement that followed the discovery of silver in Yucatan in 1877. The Indians had been bringing down small quantities of horn silver for some time and selling it at Merida. Finally, one of the half breed merchants of that town got an Indian drunk and induced him to tell where they obtained the silver. They say it was one of the mines from which the Aztecs, or whatever race it was that built the cities, the ruins of which cover so many miles in that country, used to get the silver for their temples. At all events, the merchant came back with two burros laden with almost pure silver. He said that there was silver enough in sight at the mine to load a fleet of steamers. He told in a general way where the treasure mountain was, and started out with a pack train for more. One of his mules strayed back nearly a month later, but that was all that was ever heard of him."

"I was one of the swarm of prospectors that started out to find the old mine. It had taken the merchant two weeks to make his first trip, so we could calculate about what distance he had traveled. I had for a companion a Badize Indian hunter, who knew something of the interior country. We traveled ten days through the wildest country that any man ever heard of. Mountains, whose snowy tops were thousands of feet above the clouds, and whose sides were covered with jungles so thick that for days together we simply had to hew our way through it. At last we reached a valley, the other side of which was bounded by a separate chain of mountains. These, from where we stood, seemed perfectly unapproachable, but my companion said he had been on top of them."

"From the summit," he said, "you can see the Chihnuandassi. The name means 'Table of Dead Men,' and the Indians say it is covered with plants that have the power of motion."

"Have you ever been on the Chihnuandassi?" I asked.

"No man has ever gone there and returned to tell it," he answered.

"We crossed the valley, passing through the ruins of a great city built of most transparent quartz, and finally struck the trail he spoke of, and two days later stood on the top. On the other side was a narrow gulch, and beyond it a sheer wall many hundreds of feet high. Still the top of this was lower than we were, and we could look down upon the Table of Dead Men. The mesa on the other side of the gulch seemed perfectly level, and as far as we could judge was surrounded on all sides by just such a precipice as we saw. The country is all sandstone, and the swift little rivers have nearly all worn deep channels for themselves. In many localities you can walk a hundred miles, be able to throw a stone into the river and yet you may die of thirst, so high and erect are those fearful walls. The Chihnuandassi was covered with some low vegetation and there were a few trees in the distance."

"That is the flower that travels," said my companion.

"He noticed my look of amused incredulity, and resumed rather angrily, 'You don't believe it? I have seen it move. Look there!'"

"I looked, the table was agitated, and looked like the waves of the sea. The whole green surface seemed to approach the edge nearest us. My hair rose for a moment, then I burst out laughing. 'It is only the wind tossing the snakeweed,' I said."

"But there is no wind here,"

"He spoke truly. The air where we stood was perfectly still. Yet, I explained, it might be a breeze engendered by the nature of the country, that did not extend to our side."

"No, no," he insisted. "The Indians who have lived here for years know better. These flowers are devils. No one who goes over comes back from there."

"Two Indians who loved one woman went up on the Chihnuandassi to battle. Human eyes never again saw them alive. We are told that they fell victims to the flower that creeps."

"I had a first class pair of glasses with me and I directed them to the plateau. Half covered with the vines and creepers I could see something white. There were two spots that might be skulls, and I thought I could trace the outlines of two human forms. They might have been rocks, and were doubtless what originated the Indian legend."

"An idea suddenly occurred to me that this story of certain death to whoever went up to that mountain top was a story of the Indians to prevent any one going there."

"I'll bet a horse," said I, "that the mine is there, and I'm going to see."

"Well, to cut it short, I left him there, and with one mule started for the Chihnuandassi. I calculated that I could get around in three days, and told him to camp there and wait for me. It was nasty work getting down into the river bed, but I did it before night, and had the satisfaction of camping on an old trail that night. Early the next morning I entered a fissure at the base of the lone mountain. It was a dry water course, not more than a dozen feet wide, and wound around between high sandstone walls. It was, however, comparatively free from brush, and I got along famously for a time. There were many rattlesnakes and centipedes along the old water course, but nothing more."

"I had been going up the old channel for probably four hours, getting higher every step. The walls of the water course were getting lower, and at this point I was not more than forty feet below the surface. As I turned a sharp bend, however, I came right up against a boulder that completely filled the creek bed. The trail ended right there. It appeared as if the rock had recently rolled down to where it lay."

"I thought that if I could climb over it I could continue on up the water course. So I started to climb. The boulder was rough enough for me to gain holds for my hands and feet, and though it was slow, hard work and I often slipped back, at last I managed to surmount it and stood on top. To my intense surprise I found myself within a dozen feet of the floor of the mesa, and just above me one arm of the giant cactus I had seen from the other mountain. Then I determined, instead of continuing in the dry creek bed, to scale this wall and so reach the mesa, where I expected to find the silver mine."

"The sandstone was soft and I had a strong knife. Besides, at the edge I saw some vines hanging over that looked strong enough to bear my weight if I succeeded in reaching them. So I began to climb the wall."

"At last I grasped the hanging vines. The stems were covered with fine points, like a prickly pear, but I could not let go without falling. I reached my other hand higher and grasped another vine."

"In an instant its tendrils were around my wrist, other stems fell over the edge of the cliff. They curled around my arms and waist like snakes. Then they began to draw me up, and almost before I realized it I was dragged over the edge of the chasm almost to the foot of the cactus."

"The vines dragged me on, other stems curled about my legs and drew tighter and tighter."

"Then I realized that the Indian story was no fable. The idea of being in the power of this constricting thing that covered acres of land paralyzed me for an instant. The hand that had just touched the vines was being crushed in the devilish tendons. My little finger was broken backward by the power of the vine. The pain brought me to my senses, and I began to fight for my life. One hand was free, and in it was my knife. I began to hack at the snakelike coils of the devilish vegetable. As fast as I could cut away one running stem another would coil around me. Fight as I would, the vines were stronger, and on and on it dragged me."

"My foot struck something, and I felt it crush and crumble beneath my heel. I looked down. It was a human head, one of those white spots I had seen through my glass. The body, fearfully shrunken and emaciated, lay there among the coiling, twisting vines. Near it was another."

"I realized it all while I hacked and struggled. These two had been caught in the coils of the awful monster like myself and strangled."

"I was getting weak. The pressure about my limbs was unbearable. I had cut myself badly in cutting the strangling bonds. I looked over the mesa with a wild hope of seeing some one or something to help me."

"The mesa was all in motion. The vines were twisting, curling, falling, rising, trembling. It was a moving mass, like the ocean, and the waves were reaching and falling toward me."

"It was not the wind blowing the snakeweed. The fiendish plant had life and motion and every fiber of it was straining to reach me. I knew that if those advancing waves of black ever reached me I was lost. I would be like those shriveled bodies by the giant cactus."

"I made a final effort to escape. I could hear the muscles crack and strain as I pulled. I cut the thickest stem that enveloped me, and for the first time since the struggle began was able to make a step backward. But the fight was not over yet. A dozen smaller tendrils, like so many whiplashes, were tangled about me, cutting into my flesh with a terrible power. I had kept my throat free, though the vegetable serpents seemed to strive to coil about it. So I cut and struggled backward. A final slash, a jump, and I was over the edge and on the boulder in the dry creek. But the demon's arms followed me. I knew that they would seize me again before I could get down, so I dashed to the other side of the water course and clambered up there."

"How I thanked God when I found nothing there but greasewood and cactus. I saw the vines swing and sway over where I had escaped, and then I fainted."

"When I came to the mesa was quiet again. The vines had receded, and if it had not been for my aching, swollen limbs I would have sworn it was all a nightmare. But there lay two dried out bodies. While I lay there I recognized one of them. It was the half breed merchant I had seen from the other mountain. The other was doubtless the Indian who betrayed the secret of the silver mine."—San Francisco Examiner.

ARE RIDING FOR A FALL.

English Conservatives Are Watching Their Chance to Get Out of Power Gracefully.

THEY HOPE FOR DEFEAT ON SOME TRIVIAL POINT.

Then They Can Appeal to the Country With Their Real Program Undertaken by Criticism.

MAKING READY TO MOVE.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—[Copyrighted.]—It is freely stated that the Irish local government bill, as presented in the house of commons last evening, is the result of many stormy meetings of the cabinet and that Mr. Balfour was more than once overruled. Even the Standard admits this by saying that the bill is the result of a compromise and that its reception, as in the case of all compromises, has not been as satisfactory as its promoters could desire.

The bill, in brief, gives rate payers in Irish counties and baronies full power to manage their own affairs. The franchise is the same as it now exists in England. The Irish councils in some respects are given more extensive functions than those possessed by the similar bodies in Great Britain and while England is waiting for district councils Ireland is offered baronial councils immediately. As was expected, the criticism of the Irish and liberal members turned chiefly on the checks and safeguards but few expected such a unanimous and sweeping condemnation. Whatever may be the fate of the bill there is no chance of an appeal to the country on the measure as everything indicates that the government is riding for a fall and that the dissolution of parliament will come when it is least expected.

Defeat on some side issue would enable the government to appeal to the country without appearing to have unduly precipitated dissolution in order to neglect pledges still unfulfilled and at the same time avoid alienating friends who object to some projected measures.

The thin ice over which the government is skating was indicated by a vote in the house of commons tonight when a resolution expressing regret at the appointment of a Welsh judge ignorant of the Welsh language was rejected by a majority of only 23. Attorney-General Webster and Mr. Balfour supported the appointment. The announcement of the figures of the vote was greeted with loud opposition cheers.

A conservative member, R. G. Webster, under the cloak of a motion for the abolition of illiterate voters, then proceeded to make a rabid attack on the Irish clergy. Many members, sick of the debate, immediately quitted the house or repaired to the lobbies and smoking rooms where groups were earnestly discussing the bill. They soon flickered out and when a member noticed that there were only thirty-three members present the house was counted out.

The prospect of a chance defeat does not conduce to the happiness of the government. There are nearly sixty conservative members who are notoriously unreliable while fifty others disapprove the government's Irish policy and will probably absent themselves from the critical division.

FOUL WEATHER IN GREAT BRITAIN. The weather in Great Britain this week has been most severe, with storms on land and sea throughout the week. In Yorkshire the weather is the coldest experienced in thirty years.

The thermometer indicated 9 degrees below zero last evening in Devonshire and Cornwall.

A blizzard is raging today equal to that of last year. The gales in the English Channel further endanger the position of the stranded steamship Eider and has stopped the work of salvage.

Snow storms of unusual violence are raging in Ireland tonight and railway trains are greatly delayed and many are entirely blocked by the snow. Near Limerick there are drifts four feet high.

At Queenstown a heavy gale prevails. It is expected therefore that the steamships Adriatic and Arizona will go direct to Liverpool without touching at Queenstown.

MONTAGU CHILD-BEATING CASE. The excitement in Ulster over the Montagu tragedy is increasing. The husband of Mrs. Montagu is a grandson of the duke of Manchester and a former officer in the navy. Mrs. Montagu is a daughter of a wealthy London tea merchant. She is noted for her daring horsemanship. Cromore, her residence, is one of the finest mansions in the district and is surrounded by an extensive and valuable estate. Mrs. Montagu has hitherto moved in the best society.

When an Associated Press representative called at the residence today he found Mr. Montagu enraged with the parish priest but he took the reporter over the house and consented to an interview. Being asked how it was that such severe punishment was administered to a 3-year-old child Mr. Montagu said:

"My wife has strong opinions on the training and correction of children. Her theory, when I think it to great extent right, is that the spirit of disobedience must be conquered from the earliest years. She insists upon obedience and cleanliness on the part of children. Unless punished early they contract bad habits."

Mr. Montagu said he believed that restraint and confinement were the best punishment. He admitted that it was too long to leave children alone but his wife had so much to do and she was out part of the time the child was confined. The child was buried in great privacy Tuesday morning. Mr. Montagu and one of the sons took the body in the family carriage with the blinds drawn to the Catholic cemetery.

ALBERT EDWARD QUILTS THE TURF. The prince of Wales has decided to close his connection with the turf. All his race entries have been cancelled.

He had several remarkably fine horses in training and a handsome profit was expected for the first time in the history of his stables.

The rumor that Prince George of Wales caught cold at the funeral of his brother and that his condition alarmed the family is officially declared to be untrue.

A great sensation has been caused in the agricultural world by the report of a serious outbreak of pleuro-pneumonia in the Peace river district in Canada.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Prospect of Free Silver Stimulates Stock Exchange Gambling.

New York, Feb. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say: The business situation is not as satisfactory or encouraging as it has been. While the gradual increase in distribution of many lines of merchandise continues there is a shrinking demand and much depression in iron, and further decline in cotton and blighted hopes of revival in southern trade. The speculative mania, stimulated by cheap money and by the great success of the coal combination, now extends to wheat and threatens to restrict exports.

At Pittsburgh trade in iron and steel has grown duller and prices are weakening. At Cleveland improvement is seen in most lines and trade is larger than last year and manufacturing at Detroit also exceeds last year's records. The week has been gloomy in the iron trade from pressure to realize on quantities of iron not well known or produced in excess of requirements. More inquiry appears for structural iron, beams selling at 2 1/2 cents, but bar iron is in light demand and weak and for finished products generally the demand is disappointing.

Since the large sales at 10 1/2 cents the copper market has been steadier and tin and lead are strong. The coal market is very dull, awaiting results of the combination.

The business failures throughout the country during the past seven days number 299 as compared with 375 last week and 290 for the corresponding week last year.

AFFAIRS AT A DEADLOCK.

No French Party Strong Enough to Form a Ministry.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—In accordance with the program decided on the ministers called on President Carnot and tendered him their resignations, which were accepted. President Carnot strongly urged the ministry to reconsider but Mr. de Freycinet insisted upon resigning, saying he and his colleagues had decided that they could not remain in power after the action taken yesterday by the chambers.

The lobbies of the chambers were filled today with excited members discussing the situation and when the final decision of the ministry became known the opinion was general that the state of political uncertainty had arrived.

In view of the apparent inability of any party to form a working ministry, Le Jour says the only course practicable is the dissolution of the chambers.

FLORIDA AT THE WORLD'S FAIR. People Asked to Vote For or Against an Exhibit.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 19.—The conference of county commissioners has by a large majority refused to authorize a special tax to raise $100,000 for the Florida exhibit at Chicago. They decided, however, to request all the counties to submit the question to the people at the primary election in March.

SAPP'S SHARP SHOOTING.

Kills His Foe in a Duel and Is Locked Up.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 19.—A sensational duel took place near here yesterday afternoon. The participants were Dr. S. A. Sapp and a druggist named R. L. Poole, both well-known citizens. As a result of the affair, which grew out of an old quarrel, Poole was instantly killed and Sapp is now in jail charged with murder.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES.

Secretary Foster has decided to take an ocean trip for the benefit of his health and will sail from New York next Tuesday for Bremen on the North German Lloyd steamer Spree. He has no intention of travelling in Europe and expects to be back again in three weeks.

The receipts from internal revenue during the first seven months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892, were $88,700,094, being $1,299,110 more than for the same period last year.

COMING TO SEE ITS GLORIES

Congressmen and Foreign Ministers On Their Way to the World's Fair Town.

THEY COME AS GUESTS OF THE IMPERIAL CITY.

Hence They Will Travel in Magnificent Style by Fast Special Trains of Pullman Palace Cars.

CONGRESS MOVES TO CHICAGO.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The World's Fair special, comprising five of the most magnificently equipped and luxuriously furnished trains ever put on the road by the Pullman Palace Car company, rolled out of the Baltimore & Ohio station at 2:30 this afternoon, bound for Chicago.

The distinguished passengers aboard these trains are to be the guests of the World's Fair city for the next four days and are the senators and representatives of the Fifty-second congress, the foreign ministers accredited to the United States and forty leading journalists of the capital.

Thos. A. Ewing, chairman of the Chicago committee, has general charge of the party but each special train is under direct charge of a congressman, the representatives from the World's Fair state having naturally constituted themselves a committee on entertainment during the journey. The several trains followed each other at intervals of fifteen minutes in order to insure safety.

WHERE IS COLONEL TOWNER?

He Started for Chicago January 29 and Has Disappeared.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 19.—Col. O. M. Towner, manager of the Northwestern Farm Land company of Chicago, who lives at Grand Forks, N. D., is missing. He was last seen in this city January 29 when he called on the company's attorney here and said he was going to Chicago to consult with his officers. The scheme in which they were engaged was the colonization of German farmers on North Dakota lands to raise barley for malt. Towner had about $700 with him and the theory of his friends is foul play. So far as known his accounts with the company are straight.

THE WAGES OF WOMEN.

Smaller Pay is Due to the Temporary Character of Their Employment.

The economic section of the British Association at its recent meeting took under consideration the relative wages of men and women, and discussed the matter thoroughly in the hope that some conclusion could be reached, some basis of fixing the pay that women ought to get where they do the same kind of work as men. As might have been expected, no definite conclusion was reached, although the matter was very thoroughly discussed and a great deal of interesting information obtained.

In the first place it was shown that the popular belief that women do not get the same pay as men for the same quality of work is a mistake. They are paid quite as well in many branches. In art and literature they receive the same compensation, and among the greater singers the women have probably received more. In the trades or professions they get the same pay when they organize and insist upon it. For years the Lancashire cotton mills paid female labor less than the males until the women organized and struck. Since then the mill owners have not considered the sex of their employees, but the work done. A similar strike was that of the women teachers in Wyoming, and it was similarly successful. Indeed, within the last few years the salaries paid female teachers have approximated closer and closer to those paid by men, until now in a majority of the states no difference between them is recognized.

When, however, it comes to factory work the women get less, generally because they do less. Their work is usually different from that done by the men, simpler, lighter and easier. Again, in regard to typewriters, clerks, telegraph operators and the like, the smaller pay is due to inferior work. This is especially the case with typewriters and clerks, due to the fact that when a woman goes into these branches they do so temporarily, expecting to leave them soon for something else, whereas the men adopt them generally as a permanent.

It is this temporariness which makes much of women's work, especially when they enter into competition with men, inferior, and is the cause of their receiving lower pay. Whenever they go into any trade which they intend to keep up permanently they get the same pay, and they do so, moreover, when they are thoroughly organized and insist upon their rights. But when it is a mere makeshift—something to be followed a year or so until they are married—the work is inferior and the pay small. These are the conclusions reached by the British association, after having discussed the matter for several days.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Great Jelly Cake Question.

The famous angel food jelly cake controversy growing out of the recent Sangamon county fair has finally been settled, so far as the Sangamon county board is concerned. The directors have mustered sufficient courage to take up and pass upon the important jelly cake question.

After hearing arguments upon both sides the board decided that the protest filed against the decision of the awarding committee was not in accordance with the printed rules regulating such matters, and consequently could not be sustained. The rules provide that in such cases a written statement must be filed and must be verified by affidavit. No affidavits having been filed in this case, it was held that the protest against the award was not made in accordance with the rules, and the board therefore declined to entertain it.

As might have been expected, the directors have thus sustained the awarding committee, and Mrs. Samuel J. Willett, Jr., will get the piano, but they have dodged a decision of the most interesting question involved in the case, viz., What constitutes a jelly cake? But the ladies of Springfield are making preparations for a congress of cooks to settle such questions, and will soon complete the preliminary arrangements and issue the call for the congress. Mrs. W. E. Shutt, who is at the head of the committee of arrangements, is receiving letters from all parts of the country approving the idea of holding such a congress, and the indications are that it will be one of the most interesting gatherings ever held in the city of Springfield.—Cor. Chicago Tribune.

A New York Women's Bicycle Club.

The women who ride bicycles in New York believe that there is a disposition on the part of the general public to gibe them. They say that a woman has no more right to ride a bicycle in her street costume than she would have to ride a horse in the same dress. If all women were neat, comfortable, appropriate costumes, with subdued colors, they think that there would be no criticism. Furthermore, they think that the average woman ought not to ride in public unattended.

In order to remove these objectionable features, a number of riders, led by Mrs. J. Stuart Smith, have formed a club. To avoid any jealousy, there will be no officers. The only demand made upon the riders accepted as members will be that they wear the club costume. This consists of a tight fitting waist and simple, unadorned straight skirt, cut in walking length and lined with flannel, and a round, flat topped cap, having a visor. The material is serge, and the color dark blue.

"No wonder people gazed some women," said Mrs. Smith, "when they wore street dresses and big hats, surmounted by flower gardens. We intend to have a professional instructor, who will be expected to follow the club on its trips. Racing and speeding will be objected to, as they are not becoming, and would also place the slower riders at a disadvantage. We do not think it prudent for women to ride unescorted in the park."—New York Letter.

Mr. Nicolay's Companion.

Never very far from Mr. John Nicolay's side is a little figure clad in a mouse colored gown, topped by a big mouse colored hat with drooping feathers, which shades dark, wavy hair and a pair of very dark eyes. This is Helen Nicolay, and a glance shows she is the evident inheritor of her father's earnestness and modesty. Between the two—the gray haired and bearded student and the young girl in her gray gown and hat—there exists that strange and subtle sympathy sometimes found in this most perfect relationship of the sexes.

Miss Nicolay has a natural talent for art, and it may possibly develop into something more. Some of her figure paintings are exceedingly good. Last year the New York Academy of Design accepted one of her pictures, and she has received encouragement from those competent to judge. Her studio is a large, low room at the top of her father's house. The walls are covered with sketches and studies. Here and there are ivory tinted casts of the great masterpieces in marble or some curious from a foreign land. Rugs cover the floor and a few really easy seats fill the corners, and everywhere there is a blessed—may, a delicious—absence of the ribbon bows, the frilled cushions, the embroidered scarfs, the eternal dragon candlesticks and the thousand bits of artistic (?) uselessness that give the feminine boudoir the appearance of a church bazaar.—Mrs. Robert P. Porter in New York Telegram.

Marie Bashkirtseff's Grave.

I went out to the pretty cemetery of Passy to see the grave of the eccentric Marie Bashkirtseff. The monument erected in her honor, and a fresh impulse was given to the art in 1891 by the discovery of a process for making plate glass. From that time to this the looking glasses made in France have been the best in the world.—Washington Star.

When a Lion is Docile.

Naturally animals resent any attempt to cure them, and it requires an amount of coaxing to get them to take medicine that would exhaust the patience of most people. A sick lion will lie in its cage most of the time, or sit up on its haunches, with its head drooping a little and all of the fire gone out of its eyes. It will allow its keeper to enter and pat its head, but it will not touch the carefully prepared medicine unless it is concealed in some delicious morsel of fresh meat.—New York Epoch.

The Pressense Family.

The article on Mme. de Gasparin in the current number of The Queen newspaper is written by the eldest daughter of Edmund de Pressense, the eminent French pastor, historian and senator, who died a few months ago of cancer in the throat. His wife is a most successful writer, especially of children's books. The Pressenses are all more or less remarkable. Francis is a brilliant leader writer on The Temps and author of a work on the Parnellite movement, praised by Mr. Gladstone. The eldest daughter married a learned Pasteurite, M. Bemis, and has seven children. She has inherited a great deal of her illustrious father's energy, for besides the care of her large household, she gives lectures on history and literature and contributes to many periodicals.—London Star.

Warning Against Antipyrine.

Let me say something about the indiscriminate use of antipyrine. I think it is villainous. Its use should be restricted like laudanum and morphine, and used only upon a physician's prescription. People use it carelessly, not knowing that it is a heart depressant and cumulative in its action. Many persons come to me and say that they have been using antipyrine every three or four hours, and without any idea of the harm it does. I came across two or three deaths last year directly due to its use. Too much cannot be said about the danger from its indiscriminate use.—Interview in Philadelphia Press.

TRADES IN SKELETONS.

PHILADELPHIA FRENCHMAN'S GREW-SOME BUSINESS.

A Dealer Who Has Handled Over Five Thousand Skeletons During His Lustrous Career-Hideous Decorations of a Bedroom-A Being That Loves Bones.

To deal in the bones of human beings would be an occupation repugnant to most men. Yet in the vicinity of Sixth and South streets lives an old Frenchman who finds more pleasure in this occupation than anything else in his life. His store is a veritable den of skeletons. The weather beaten sign swinging over the door, creaking dismally with every gust of wind, bears this simple legend, "M. de Robaire, Parfumerie," from which it is evident monsieur would have the world believe that he deals almost exclusively in those perfumed waters so dear to the feminine heart. Every family has a skeleton in the closet, however, and monsieur's family, which consists only of himself, is no exception to the general rule. He has his skeleton-in fact he has scores of them-in closets and otherwise, the majority otherwise. The truth of the matter is, the old Frenchman deals in skeletons.

The second floor boasts of only two small rooms, the rear one being used as a workshop, while the other, directly over the store and fronting on the street, serves the double purpose of bedchamber and storeroom. Such another bedchamber as the one occupied by the old Frenchman probably does not exist, and monsieur manages to sleep the sleep of the just among such grewsome surroundings in an insolvable mystery to the few who have been admitted to it.

The walls of the small room are ornamented with skulls and crossbones and real life size skeletons, or rather death size skeletons, in all sorts of grotesque positions. Four hideous skulls grin from their positions on top of the four posts of the bed, and close to the sides of the bed stands a skeleton with arms outstretched doing duty as a clothes rack. The whole is dimly lighted up by a faint glimmer of light emanating from a lamp made of a ghastly skull suspended from the middle of the ceiling with thongs of tanned human hide.

De Robaire himself is an odd looking man, and the resemblance between him and one of his own skeletons is decidedly striking. He has gaunt, wolflike features, his thin upper lip and bony chin being adorned with an iron gray moustache and imperial.

For a score of years he has been carrying on his business in the old place, having emigrated from France in 1855, coming direct to Philadelphia, where he established himself in business. For a time he had a hard struggle to keep body and soul together, owing to the number of competitors in the field, together with the dullness of business. It soon became necessary for him, in addition to his other trade, to set himself up as a druggist, and he still runs his little shop, though principally as a decoy.

Late in the sixties, when the Knights of Pythias were organized in this state, the demand for skeletons increased, as they were used to a great extent in the lodgerooms. De Robaire prospered, as a consequence, since most of his competitors had given up the business.

Off and on during the following twenty years business was dull and brisk by turns, but the old man had amassed a small fortune, and there is no reason why he should longer continue in the business except that he has taken a liking to his work, such as every true artist does. He is an artist in the full sense of the word. There is undoubtedly no one who can articulate a skeleton as neatly as he, and it is no idle boast on his part when he claims that with eyes blindfolded he can take a mass of bones representing the human frame and build up the skeleton as it was originally, without one bone out of place.

WHAT THE "DOCTOR" SAYS. The "doctor," while standing in his workshop a few days ago with his sleeves rolled up over his skinny arms, thus held forth on the subject nearest his heart: "This skeleton you see me operating on I have imported from France. You will notice the high polish on the bones, due to a method of preparation practiced only by the French. They clean the bones by a process of maceration with muriatic acid, the whole operation requiring two or three months' time, while in this country the bones are hastily and carelessly boiled and come out rough and dirty. In all my twenty years' service I have never come across a Chinese skeleton. This is due to the fact that a Chinaman believes he will not reach heaven unless his bones rest in the Flowery Kingdom.

"The different prices of skeletons are based upon their degrees of hardness and whiteness, upon the development of the bones and the amount of absence of fat in their extremities. For this reason the French article is decidedly of more value than the American or German. Up to this year over 2,000 skeletons have been imported into this country, but they have become scarce of late for some reason, and to supply the demand I find it necessary to manufacture them of paper.

"Of course I have a stock of them in my bedroom, but I would not part with any of these. Mon Dieu! I have come to look upon them as dear friends and companions. Here you see my artificial skeletons, made of papier mache, with artificial teeth, and the whole covered with a white polish which gives the appearance of the genuine article. I can make three of these each week, and they bring from ten to fifteen dollars, while the imported genuine article costs from thirty to thirty-five dollars and the domestic twenty dollars. But then the imitations are bought only by secret societies.

"Yes, I have grown old in the business and love it. I have articulated and handled over 5,000 skeletons in my time."

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that the common council of the city of Marquette will meet in the council room on Monday, the 7th day of March, A. D. 1892, at 8 o'clock, p. m., of said day to consider the final confirmation of the following special assessment roll, to-wit: For laying sewer on Front street from the center of Hewitt avenue to south line of Ohio street. The local assessment district established and defined as being liable to pay the cost of said sewer and included in such assessment, includes all the lands and lots abutting on said Front street on both sides thereof, between Hewitt avenue and a point fifty feet south of the south line of Ohio street. Also, for laying sewer on Front street from Superior street south. The local assessment district established and defined as being liable to pay the cost of said sewer and included in such assessment, includes all the land and lots abutting on said Front street, on both sides thereof, from Superior street to Rock street and lot No. 3 in block 2, of the Cleveland Iron Mining Company's subdivision. The said assessment rolls are now open for inspection and will remain open at the recorder's office until the aforesaid date. THOMAS MEADS, Recorder. Dated, February 16, 1892. (2-18-19d)

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. In pursuance of an order passed by the common council of the city of Marquette, on Monday, the 14th day of February, A. D. 1892, for the construction of sewer, "Y" and laterals in Third, Michigan, Arch and Front streets as follows: one eight inch sewer in Third street between the curb and sidewalk on the east side of said street, from the trunk sewer to a point one hundred feet south of Arch street; one six inch sewer in the center of Michigan street from the said sewer in Third street to a point forty feet west of High street; one six inch sewer in the center of Arch street from the said sewer in Michigan street to a point forty feet west of Arch street; that four inch "Y" and laterals sewers be constructed and laid from said sewers in said streets to the lot line on each side of said streets, respectively, one such lateral sewer to and for each fifty-foot of frontage upon said streets, except that no lateral sewers shall be laid to the lots on said Michigan and Arch streets cornering on Third or to the lots on Front street cornering on Michigan street. Said sewer, "Y" and laterals must be constructed of best vitrified sewer pipe and be laid in accordance with the grade heretofore established therefor and with manholes and lamp holes where indicated upon the grades or profiles of said sewers and in all respects said sewers must be constructed in strict accordance with the plans and specifications of the Davis sewer system so called and be fully completed on or before July 1, 1892. Scale proposals will be received by the city recorder till 5 o'clock p. m. on the 29th day of February, 1892, for the performance of said work according to the profile and specifications to be seen at his office. Each bid must be accompanied by two bonds, each in the penal sum of the total amount of the bid, one running to the city conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract if awarded, and the other running to the people of the state of Michigan, conditioned for the payment of all claims for labor and material arising under such contract. The street must be left in proper condition after the completion of the contract. The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids. THOMAS MEADS, Recorder. (2-18-19d) Dated February, 16th, 1892.

ISHPEMING MAN HONORED.

C. J. Byrns Appointed State Lecturer of the A. O. U. W. Order in Michigan.

HE HAS ALREADY ENTERED ON HIS NEW DUTIES.

So Many Dogs are not Necessary—A Canadian Political Agent Here Picking up Voters.

APPOINTED GRAND LECTURER.

Mr. C. J. Byrns has received the appointment of Grand Lecturer for the A. O. U. W. order for this state from the grand lodge of Michigan and on Thursday entered on his duties in that capacity. He left for Ironwood Thursday and he will there deliver his first lecture, before the lodge of that place. Mr. Byrns duty will be to stir up lodges that are not active in their work and get them to put more energy into laboring for the advancement of the order. He will also institute new lodges wherever an opportunity offers, and in this way will accomplish a great deal for the benefit of the order. Mr. Byrns will visit every city and town in the state once or more during the year. He will probably remove his family to a point more centrally located, as it will be difficult for him to pay them frequent visits while residing in the northern peninsula, as the greater number of lodges are in the lower part of the state.

The Dog Nuisance.

Ishpeming is certainly entitled to the credit of possessing more good-for-nothing dogs than any city of its size in Michigan. Thursday afternoon, while the children were making their way home from the Division street school, they were confronted by a large dog. Seeing the boys coming toward him the vicious brute sprang at one of the smaller of the lads and buried his fangs in the boy's shoulder, inflicting a painful wound. Deputy Marshal Nolan happened to be near by and set out in pursuit of the dog. After two or three hours on his trail the officer succeeded in running the doomed dog down near the old Barnum mine, and there put an end to his career by a dose of cold lead. A good dog is all right in its place but when almost every house owner here keeps one or more it is time something were done to thin them out or get more tax from those who keep them.

After Voters.

Mr. A. Bechard, of Quebec, was here a couple of days this week looking for Canadians who had lately come to this country, for the purpose of getting them to return to Canada to vote. He was here in the interest of the government party of that province. It is said he was successful in securing about a dozen, who will return to Canada with him. He will pay them $1 a day from now until after the election. He left on Thursday for Duluth and by mistake slipped into the overcoat of a prominent traveling man, who at the time happened to be at the Nelson House, where Bechard "put up," and whose garment hung in the vicinity of Bechard's in the coat room. An effort was made to recover the coat, as it was a much better one than the one left behind, but as yet the Canadian agent is walking about in it.

Will Get a Union Certificate.

At the next regular meeting of the German Aid Society, which will be held in the A. O. U. W. hall in the Anderson block on the afternoon of the first Sunday in March, steps will be taken to confer with the other societies of the order throughout the upper peninsula with a view to arranging for issuance of a union certificate, so that in case of the death of a member all lodges belonging to the union will more quickly respond to the call for settlement of the claim. There are seven societies in the upper peninsula and these have about eight hundred members in good standing. The local lodge has forty-four members at present, is in good financial condition, and is steadily growing in membership and strength.

A New Band.

For a number of years Ishpeming possessed a brass band composed entirely of natives of Finland, but two years ago the organization disbanded. Since then there has been no band of that nationality here, though several of the members of the old band are still in the city. These are moving to form a new band, made up of Finnish performers, and they will probably succeed in doing it, as there is plenty of material for an organization of the kind among the Finnish population of Ishpeming.

Cost Him Six Dollars.

Wm. Peterson became intoxicated on Thursday evening and set out to capture the town. He made considerable noise over it, and as a result found himself in the lock-up. Yesterday morning he was brought before Judge Kennedy, and he paid a fine of $1 and costs, making a total of $6. It was an expensive experience for William, but he needs the wisdom it should bring him.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Mr. R. R. Thomas, of Champion, was in Ishpeming yesterday.

There will be no services by the Baptist church society here tomorrow.

Warden Malmborg, of the Marquette branch state prison, was here yesterday.

Get reserved seats for Beach & Bowers minstrels, who will be here Thursday evening, at Tillsons.

The K. of P. dance last night was attended by about forty couples. An enjoyable time was had by all.

The Ishpeming National and Peninsula banks will not be open for business on Monday, it being a legal holiday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry at the home of Mr. Perry's parents in this city yesterday forenoon.

Geo. Penglass has taken a position as conductor on the electric street railway line and enters upon his duties this morning. He will still conduct his confectionery business on Cleveland avenue and will hire an experienced man to look after it.

Richard Hopper, who left Ishpeming about seven years ago for Alabama, returned this week, and will remain here about a month visiting relatives and friends.

Over thirty names have been secured as charter members for the Catholic Mutual Benefit association. A meeting will be called as soon as satisfactory arrangements can be made.

The Improved Order of Red Men tonight at A. O. U. W. hall. A good time will be had, and a large crowd will turn out to hear Hon. J. Q. Adams deliver his address on "Fraternity."

Mr. Louis Grabowsky, who has been assisting Mr. L. Grabover in his store the past month at Marquette, returned to Ishpeming Thursday, and has resumed his place in his father's store here.

The bazaar, entertainment and supper tonight for the benefit of the Finnish school will be held at A. Miklow's hall on Pearl street. A good attendance and a handsome net result for the school are looked for.

Miss Lillian F. Gosham, of Chicago, an experienced milliner, has been engaged to take charge of J. H. Quinn's millinery department for the coming spring and summer seasons. It is the intention of Mr. Quinn to outdo all former efforts in this department.

A social was held at the new residence of Rev. C. D. Jacobs, of the Presbyterian church, Thursday evening by some of the members of the congregation. A musical literary and program was rendered, after which a supper was served by Mrs. Jacobs.

The Electric Street Railway company kept the cars running until 12 o'clock Thursday night for the accommodation of those who came over from Negaunee to attend the A. O. U. W. dedication. Such kindness as that by the railway company will be greatly appreciated by the residents of both towns. About thirty people came over from Negaunee.

WHAT DO I NEED?

A Question Which Comes Home to Us

"What do I need? I am feeling nervous, tired and without my old-time snap and vim."

These are the feelings of thousands at this time of year, during the change from Winter to spring. They are run down with Spring Debility, malaria, or have overworked and overstrained brain, nerves and system, and feel dull, without energy; do not eat and sleep well; liver and bowels become torpid. Above all there is that restless nervousness, sense of anxiety, strange sensations which plainly show that the nerves are not right. There is danger in these symptoms—the danger of nervous prostration, heart failure, paralysis or insanity.

The danger lies in neglect, however. Use Dr. Green's Nervura, the great specific for those nervous diseases, when the first symptoms appear, and cure is sure. This wonderful discovery will calm, quiet and strengthen the nerves, immediately invigorates the brain, enriches the blood, and vitalizes the whole system. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists, etc.

From the constant worry over business matters, suffering from the loss of sleep, and because so nervous that I was entirely unfit for business. In fact I feared lunacy. I used Dr. Green's Nervura. The effect was almost magical. I could again sleep; mental composure, appetite and strength returned. Six bottles of this remedy cured me, and I have remained well to this date. I have recommended Dr. Green's Nervura to many of my friends and neighbors and have yet to learn of a failure to obtain good results.

S. W. NOURSE, Hudson, Mass.

Dr. Green, the successful specialist, in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases, 35, W. 44th Street, New York, can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Call or write him about the case, or send the symptom blank to fill out, and a letter fully explaining the disease, giving advice, etc., will be returned free.

Cocoas DUTCH PROCESS.

are "Treated with Carbonate of Soda, Magnesia, Potash or Bicarbonate of Soda."

To partially supply the loss of natural flavor and color caused by this treatment, fragrant gums and dyes are used.

Dr. Sidney Ruxton, Professor of Medicine at University College, London, and Physician to the College Hospital, perhaps the greatest English authority on the action of drugs, states in his "Handbook of Therapeutics" that "the sustained administration of alkalies and their carbonates renders the blood alkaline, power in solids and in red corpuscles, and impairs the nutrition of the body." Of ammonia, carbonate of ammonia, and spirits of ammonia, he says: "These preparations have many properties in common with the alkalies, potash, and soda group. They possess a strong alkaline reaction, are freely soluble in water, have a high diffusion-power, and dissolve the animal texture." Hadamard's interest too long, they excite catarrh of the stomach and intestines.

For more than 100 Years the house of Walter Baker & Co. have made their Cocoa Preparations ABSOLUTELY PURE, using NO Patent Process, Alkalies or Dyes.

I used Ely's Cream Balm for dry catarrh. It proved a cure.—B. F. Weeks, Denver. Ely's Cream Balm is especially adapted as a remedy for catarrh which is aggravated by alkaline dust and dry winds.—W. A. Hozer, Druggist, Denver.

Ely's Cream Balm has cured many cases of catarrh. It is constant demand.—Geo. W. Hoyt, Pharmacist, Cheyenne, Wyo.

HOW TO SUCCEED. This is the great problem of life which few satisfactorily solve. Some fall because of poor health, others want of luck, but the majority fail from defective nerves. They are nervous, irritable, changeable, easily get the blues and "take the spirits down to keep the spirits up," thus wasting money, time, opportunity and nerve force. There is nothing so effective as Restorative Nerve, discovered by the great specialist, Dr. Miles, to cure all nervous diseases, as headache, the blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuritis, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria. Trial bottles and fine book of testimonials free at H. H. Stafford, Son & Co's.

NEENAH and MENASHA, WIS. Are situated on the Wisconsin Central Lines, at the foot of Lake Winnebago, and like other towns on or near this sheet of water, are very important manufacturing centers. The general government recognizing the value of the location for manufacturing purposes built extensive dams, the lake forming a water head of unfailing capacity, hence there is furnished water power practically unlimited in the capacity. The famous Menasha water power is the first of the great hydraulic power, and is made by a ten foot fall of the river between lakes Winnebago and Buttes des Mortes. The water is carried along two canals, one nearly a mile in length and the other one 1,700 feet long, which run parallel with the river. On their banks are located the many prosperous manufacturing establishments, including five large paper mills, four mills, stove works and other too numerous to mention. The Wisconsin Central Lines is the direct route from Chicago and Milwaukee, affording unequalled service.

The poets sing, in dainty rhymes, Of summer days and sunny climates, Of beauteous maidens, passing fair, With winking eyes and waving hair, Till, near the end, you're apt to see— 'Tis but an "ad" for P. F. P. that is, Pierce's Nervous Anoregic, the infallible and guaranteed remedy for all kinds of female weakness, which cures the ailments of feeble, "run-down" and debilitated women and restores them to youthfulness and beauty once more. The price of this royal remedy, Dr. Price's Favorite Prescription, is but $1.00 a bottle, and money refunded in every case if it doesn't give satisfaction. See guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

A FATAL MISTAKE. Physicians make no more fatal mistake than when they inform patients that nervous heart troubles come from the stomach and are of little consequence. Dr. Franklin Miles, the noted Indiana specialist, has proven the contrary in his new book on "Heart Disease," which may be had free at H. H. Stafford, Son & Co's, who guarantee and recommend Dr. Miles' unequalled New Heart Cure, which has the largest sale of any heart remedy in the world. It cures nervous anoregic heart disease, short breath, fluttering, pain of tenderness in the side, arm or shoulder, irregular pulse, fainting, smothering, drowsy, etc. His Restorative Nerve cures headache, fits, etc.

DR. SPEER,

OF THE FIRM OF— Drs. Speer, Emslie, Hubbard & Co.

OF SAGINAW, SAGINAW. Is now in Marquette and has established a branch office in the Mining Journal building at 146 West Washington street.

Dr. Speer is a graduate of the medical department of Harvard University, and is registered both here and in Saginaw.

YOUNG MEN Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this chance.

DR. SPEER & CO. Will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases of weakness or private disease of any kind or character they undertake or forfeit $250. They will therefore say to the unfortunate sufferers who may read this notice that you are treading on dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedies for your complaint.

Then for the first time you will realize what negligence means. Our success in such cases can be best understood when we will positively declare that over 100,000 have been treated by us in different parts of the world. Call and get the benefit of our experience.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN. There are many of the age of 30 to 50 who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting sensation and weakening the system in a manner which the patient cannot account for. On examination it will be found that the urine deposits a rosy sediment and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color be of a thin or milkyish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of weakness.

DR. SPEER & CO. Will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the organs. Examination and advice free in all cases. Remember the place, 146 West Washington street, Marquette.

P. S.—See our testimonials in the different papers from well-known people. To the Public. I have great pleasure in adding my testimony to that of others as to the ability of Dr. Speer, and I do so voluntarily, believing it my christian duty as a member of the "Young Men's Christian association," and also of the "Epworth league," to give due credit to a physician of such marked ability as Dr. Speer, that others may be benefited by his skill. For two years I have been subjected to the most terrible pain; I could not work or sleep; my constitution was so terribly impaired that insanity seemed imminent and life itself a burden.

Several physicians whom I consulted could do nothing, and I thought that earth had no cure for me. In my despair I consulted Dr. Speer, whom a friend of mine described as one who had skill, discretion and a wonderful power of healing; as the drowning man will grasp at the straw, so did I at my friend's suggestion.

After several weeks' treatment I AM CURED, AND AM IN FULL ENJOYMENT OF MY NATURAL VIGOR. I feel like working full time; eat well, sleep peacefully as a child, and have that grateful sensation that only a man can have who is conscious of being literally snatched from the very jaws of death.

The skill displayed by Dr. Speer in the diagnosis of my case was simply—astounding, my ailment seeming to be to him as clear as day. This testimony I am willing to substantiate under oath at any time, and my feelings are of profound thankfulness that the hand of Providence directed me to such a physician.

FRED J. HAYEN, 1431-F 315 Bluff Street, Marquette.

WELL WORTH READING. DR. SPEER & CO. Marquette, Mich. I am glad to write you that I am entirely cured of the distressing disease that has long made life a burden to me. When I began treatment with you I had for years been afflicted with severe pains across the back, my skin was yellow and discolored, I was nervous and constantly depressed in spirits, being unfit for work and knew scarcely a moment when I was free from the pain. At our first interview you described my case so correctly that I was satisfied that you understood every symptom.

Under your treatment I received relief at once and in a few weeks my pains and nervousness disappeared and my skin changed to a healthy color. I am now fully cured and gladly recommend other suffering as I did to consult Dr. Speer & Co. and give you full privilege to refer any afflicted person to me for reference.

IT IS COLLECTOR HOWARD.

Colonel Osburn's Special Deputy Is Named by President Harrison As His Successor.

THE MARQUETTE MASQUERADE CLUB'S FIRST GRAND BALL.

Will Go to Muskegon for Curtain Rolls. Hartwig & Anderson's Opening. Right-of-Way Condemned.

A DESERVED PROMOTION.

For some days the MINING JOURNAL has had the assurance that Senators McMillan and Stockbridge and Congressman Stephenson had united upon a successor for the late C. Y. Osburn, as collector of customs at Marquette for the district of Superior, who would be entirely satisfactory to the people of Marquette county and of Marquette, the gentleman selected being the one for whom a quiet but very strong and effective move had been made at this end of the line. Mr. E. B. Howard, special deputy collector under Colonel Osburn.

Mr. Howard did not desire to have his selection urged in print, leaving that for W. F. Street, the crank attachment to the municipal government of Superior, whose bombastic statistics on Superior real estate and Soo canal traffic have made him the laughing stock of the lakes, the logic of his figures showing conclusively that within ten years there will be ten millions of people at the head of the lakes and all but fifty thousand of them on the Superior side. But the MINING JOURNAL has the pleasure of announcing in its press dispatches this morning that the name of E. B. Howard was sent to the senate yesterday by President Harrison as collector of customs at Marquette, Mich.

The MINING JOURNAL congratulates Mr. Howard upon his appointment which is not only entirely fitting and proper because of his personal qualifications, but is also in the direct line of civil service reform as a deserved promotion. Knowing thoroughly the details connected with the conduct of the office it is much better that Mr. Howard should move up a step than it would be to have a new man, entirely unacquainted with the affairs of this eastern district, appointed to the position.

The Masquerade Ball.

The Casino was packed last evening, the occasion being the first grand masquerade ball of the Marquette Masquerade club, Messrs. McCarthy, McMillan, Kelly, Cook, Williams and Farley. Fifty dollars in cash prizes had been offered, secured from Escanaba for the floor and the Marquette City band was present with full ranks to furnish the music while John Conghlin occupied the prompter's balcony. The grand march at 10:30 was one of the best ever seen in the Casino and was led by Mr. James Gray and Miss Flossie Sparrow with Mr. T. Maney and Miss Greenwood on the opposite. Mr. Gray introduced a number of new and pretty figures, and even the antics of the clowns and Topsy at the rear of the line could not spoil the beauty of the march.

The prizes were awarded as follows: Best fancy dressed couple, $12, Mr. W. A. Jellison and Mrs. Harris, cavalier and lady; second, $6, Frank James and John Rogers, of Negaunee, as knight and lady; best comic group, $5, Martin Ford, Sam Johnson and D. Lambert, as Uncle Sam with his Chileans; second comic couple, Henry Graff and John Herlich, the long and the short of it; best masked gentleman, William Retell, clown; best lady, Mrs. Joseph Archambeau, fancy carnival dress with rope-work; best comic gentleman, Joseph Archambeau, the living skeleton; best comic lady, Miss Dora Beis, the pink domino; best character costume, Ed. O'Brien, the Irish policeman.

The surprise when the two Negaunee youths unmasked after being awarded the second prize for fancy costumes was laughable as none had imagined that there was more of a masquerade there than the costumes implied. Martin Ford and his Chileans, led by a ring in the nose, created a good deal of fun but the long and the short of it took the assemblage by storm. George Reed as an Eiffel tower coachman had been having things his own way when suddenly a couple took the floor and robbed him of his laurels, the "lady" being about nine feet high while her escort carried a step-ladder so that he could climb up and talk to her once in a while. The best character costume of all was that of the French trapper, or Indian trader, with his enormous collar and coonskin cap, but he left the rink before the award of the prizes.

The ball was a great success, the rink presenting a very handsome appearance with its elaborate decorations, already mentioned in the MINING JOURNAL, and the ever changing kaleidoscope of color on the dancing floor. The supper was served at the Hotel Brunswick and well sustained Mr. Sullivan's reputation as a caterer both in the abundance of the good things prepared and in the service.

Will Open Today.

Hartwig & Anderson resume business today, their new and elegant saloon in the Maek block on Washington street being ready for the "opening." The saloon is one of the handsomest in this part of the state, the furniture and bar fittings being of the very latest design and finish. The place is lighted by electricity and is as perfect in all its appointments as any one could possibly desire. No. 153 Washington street is the new location.

For Curtain Rolls.

Mr. A. F. Temple, of the Temple Manufacturing Co., Muskegon, left for home yesterday after contracting with the Cleveland Sawmill & Lumber Co. for all the edging, etc., cut at their mill. These will be sorted out and saved until a cargo is collected when a vessel will call for them. There will still be enough material left in the refuse to furnish the street railway company all the fuel it needs.

Mr. Temple has also contracted for the same refuse at the Ontonagon and Baraga mills. These pickets, as they are called, will be carried to Muskegon, as the MINING JOURNAL stated last fall would probably be the case, and there made into curtain rollers, the Temple company manufacturing all the Hartesborn curtain rollers used in the United States and buying the refuse of nearly every sawmill on Lake Michigan for that purpose.

Opening Crescent Street.

The jury drawn in the Crescent street condemnation proceedings, Sidney Adams, foreman; A. Mathews, George French, Peter Rasmussen, Anton Manthei, E. T. Drew, Jos. Fay, Felix O'Hegan, John B. Taylor, John F. Maek and J. A. Vannier, went up in sleighs yesterday morning with City Attorney Brown and others and looked over the ground, taking a wade through the snow drifts over the line of the proposed street. In the afternoon the jury met and assessed the value of the property condemned for the street, placing it at $700. Having assessed the damages the jury then considered the benefits to the property and placed their value at $700, making it just a stand off.

Thinks of it.

"While in Chicago I had the pleasure of hearing one of your Aeolians, and the melody is still ringing in my ears. If you could see me since I heard that wonderful and accurate music, you would see a different man. I am more hopeful. My virtuosos and my wife both agree with me, and in my once sad heart the little pec wees are singing. Seriously it is a most wonderful instrument."

Mr. Nye is only one of the many who are surprised by this wonderful instrument. If the Aeolian had no other qualities than its beautiful tone and wonderful orchestral effects, it would be a marvelous instrument, but when to these are added that simplicity of operation that enables anyone to play it with a few days practice, it becomes phenomenal.

Herr Anton Seidl, leader of the German opera, New York city, has an Aeolian for his personal use and endorses it highly.
