"WELL-BRED" STATIONERY.
"The good breeding and good taste of a lady—much abused word—are subtly yet conspicuously shown in the stationery she uses."
It may seem strange to speak of stationery as "well-bred" but we take the liberty to employ the phrase as a compact one to designate the kind of writing materials used by well bred people in their correspondence.
We have just received a full line of Hard & Pike's correct styles in paper and envelopes. The prices vary but it is all "well-bred."

M'KINLEY IN CONNECTICUT.
Great Protectionist Addresses Enthusiastic Audience of 2,000 Souls at New Britain.
ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN CO-GENTLY SET FORTH.
Solid Benefits of Protection and Disastrous Results of Revenue Tariff Clearly and Distinctly Shown.

CLEAR AND CLEAN-OUT WORDS.
NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Oct. 6.—Gov. William McKinley of Ohio tonight spoke to the largest audience ever gathered in the New Britain opera house, fully 2,000 people being present, packing the auditorium and stage to the utmost limit of their capacity.
Governor McKinley was accompanied from Hartford by Governor Bulkeley and Col. Frank Cheney, the republican candidate for lieutenant-governor. When Governor McKinley was introduced by Judge Valentine, who presided, the entire audience joined in cheering. It was Governor McKinley's first appearance in public in Connecticut and the only speech he will make in the state during the campaign.

He spoke at length on the tariff and said that the difference between the republican and democratic parties was one of the principles on the tariff question. He illustrated the difference between the democratic revenue tariff and the protective tariff by giving rates on imported crockery and other articles of domestic use. A lesser duty would increase importations and thus increase the revenue to a greater aggregate amount than will the higher duty. But the low tariff would crowd out the home productions and destroy home industries.

Governor McKinley said no matter what any leader might say the great body of democratic party is in favor of a revenue tariff only. He quoted from Daniel Webster, President Buchanan, Horace Greely and President Fillmore, regarding the disastrous effect of low import duties under the tariff law of 1846.

"Thirty-one years under a protective tariff law," he said, "has given the country great prosperity. Protection cheapens the articles by giving the artisan higher wages; free trade cheapens by lowering the wages of the artisan. Protection is the law of nature, the law of reason and intelligence, the law of self-preservation. We can have free trade when all the nations of the world pay their labor as we do and enable their workmen to live as ours do. The people of this country consume and spend more than any other people in the world. The United States has five per cent of the population of the world and consumes from 20 to 30 per cent of the various products of the world. The fight this year is between free trade or a revenue for tariff and a protective tariff. The nations of Europe want Cleveland elected and Harrison defeated and there is not a nation in Europe but would repeal the tariff act of 1890, which is just two years old today.
In conclusion Governor McKinley said that the American policy was to legislate for America only irrespective of the views of Europe which wants the trade of the country.

RHODE ISLAND REPUBLICANS.
State Convention Endorses National Platform and Names Electors.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 6.—The state republican convention was called to order at 11 o'clock this morning. George A. Littlefield of this city was chosen temporary chairman and Eugene F. Warner of Coventry temporary secretary and later the temporary organization was made permanent. A platform was adopted approving the declarations of the national convention, the present tariff laws, the republican silver coinage policy, efforts for a free ballot, and the position regarding restricted immigration and civil service reform of the national republican administration. The public services of President Harrison were commended with a pledge to support him in the pending campaign. Presidential electors were then chosen. A resolution was adopted favoring good roads and the convention adjourned.

WHY SHOULD THEY NOT?
President Has No Objection to Cabinet Making Political Speeches.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Secretary of State Foster in answer to an inquiry as to the truth of the report recently published that the president had intimated to the members of his cabinet that he did not desire them to take part in the campaign by making political speeches denied that any such intimation had been given. The president sees no impropriety of any member of his cabinet appearing before the public in a temperate discussion of political topics in vindication of the policy and acts of the administration. It is expected that some of the secretaries will in the course of the next few weeks speak in their own states or elsewhere but no such prolonged absence from their departments is contemplated as will interfere with the prompt dispatch of public business.

TO BRING IN CANADA.
Leading Boston Business Men Approve of the Project.
BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The new movement looking to the political union of the United States and Canada, represented by Lieut. E. A. McDonald of Toronto, who is at present on a visit to this city, received a substantial endorsement at a meeting of representatives of Boston business men held today. Jonathan A. Lane, president of the Boston Merchants' association, presided and President Jerome Jones of the Board of Trade, President L. G. Burnham of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Collector A. W. Beard, Hon. P. A. Collins and other prominent men were present. Lieut. McDonald made an address and outlined his plan of campaign, stating that political union was not only possible but inevitable and that the people of Canada were ripe for the great change. The subject was generally discussed and all the speakers expressed themselves as in favor of the movement from a business standpoint desiring to assist, individually in furthering it. It was also stated that this would be the general verdict of the entire commercial community. A public meeting will be held in Boston in a few weeks to further discuss the matter.

MADE HIM AN "ANGEL."
Curious Closing Scenes in an Arkansas Outlaw's Life.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Since Mart Mitchell, the original "Swamp-Angel" of the Arkansas bit the dust, Jack Thorn, alias Jack Smith, has been virtually wearing his mantle. He made his habitation in the river bottoms, knowing every path through the underbrush and could point out the resorts of game of all kinds. Crittenden county, Arkansas, opposite Memphis, was the scene of his wanderings. A couple of years ago he was employed by the Baggie Fishing & Hunting club, a Memphis organization that owns lakes and game reserves in Arkansas, and he was so well acquainted with the needs of the sportsmen that they put him in charge of their club house at Baggie lake, where he soon made himself valuable. Mr. P. J. Kelly, one of the most enthusiastic members of the club, dubbed him "The Swamp-Angel of Baggie Lake," a name that was soon adopted by all the other members of the club.
Smith at first seemed a quiet, unostentatious and industrious man but when he became more familiar he grew to be rather offensive. He got overbearing and about six weeks ago he was discharged from his position as clubhouse keeper. Then he became bad. Armed with revolvers, shotguns and knives in his boots he fortified himself in the clubhouse and defied the entire membership of the Baggie club to dispossess him. It was a great bluff but it went. Only a few members of the club have ventured to the clubhouse during the past six weeks.
But some of the members began a siege on the quiet against "The Swamp-Angel." They learned that he was an escaped convict from the Arkansas state penitentiary at Little Rock. The state authorities were notified and Warden Dyer of the penitentiary set on foot measures to capture the "Angel."
Officers in the guise of sportsmen went to the clubhouse and spent several days with Smith. They got on easy terms with him and yesterday induced him to accompany them to Earl where they were met by Deputy Sheriff Frank Williams, who undertook to arrest the ex-convict.
The "Angel" resisted and made show of fight but before he could get his irons in position a couple of bullets from the state police had pierced his brain and he fell while in the act of drawing a pistol.
Thorn has had a checkered career. Of good family he went wrong and soon landed in the penitentiary. His frequent escapes were marvelous and once in the cane brakes he defied arrest and was more dangerous than the bears that made their home with him.

"RENOUNDED BE THY GRAVE"
Alfred Tennyson's Golden Voice of Song Is Hushed in Death Forever.
HE PASSED PEACEFULLY AND PAINLESSLY AWAY.
He Read the Master English Poet's Beautiful Dirge in "Cymbeline" Just Before the End.
FEAR NO MORE THE HEAT O' SUN.
LONDON, Oct. 6.—Alfred Tennyson passed peacefully away at 1:35 this morning without a shade of suffering. The dying poet spoke to his wife about an hour before he died and his words to her were the last he uttered. Lady Tennyson bent over her dying husband and he whispered a few words to her. His features in death bear a look of absolute peace. Hallam Tennyson, the son of the dead poet, is now so ill as to be confined to his bed.
A friend of the bereaved family states that yesterday afternoon, during a wakeful moment, Lord Tennyson asked for a copy of Shakespeare and with his own hands turned the leaves until he found the dirge in "Cymbeline." Then he fixed his eyes on the page but did not speak and whether he read the lines or not is not known. Soon he again passed into slumber and his left hand rested on the open book until he passed away.
The body of Lord Tennyson lies on the bed where he died. He looks 15 years younger than before death, the lines and wrinkles of the face being less apparent.
The bishop of Winchester will preach the funeral sermon in the Haslemere church Sunday. The canon of Westminster Abbey has formally invited Hallam Tennyson to bury his father in the abbey.

Alfred Tennyson, the favorite English poet of the past forty years, was born at Somersby, Lincolnshire, in 1809. He was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge, where he obtained in 1829 the chancellor's prize for the best blank verse English poem on the subject "Timbuctoo." While still in the University he published (1830) in conjunction with his brother Charles a volume entitled "Poems, Chiefly Lyrical," which gave him no great name but caused him to be regarded as a writer of promise. His second volume (1832) contained among other poems, "The Dream of Fair Women" and he greatly extended his reputation by the publication in 1842 of a collection containing, among others, "Morte d'Arthur," "Locksley Hall," "Godiva," "In Memoriam" and "Lady Clara Vere de Vere." In 1847 he produced "The Princess," which many readers like best of all his longer works, and in 1850 a beautiful tribute to the memory of his friend, Arthur Henry Hallam, entitled "In Memoriam." By this most critics is ranked with or above Milton's "Lycidas" and the two are considered the finest elegiac poems in the English language. The collection of poems called "Idylls of the King" was written at various times during a quarter of a century, the first installment appearing in 1859. They are rehandlings of some of the many legends of King Arthur and form a complete cycle from that mythical hero's birth to his death. By most readers those called "Guinevere" and "Merlin and Vivien" are generally preferred above the other poems of the collection. He also produced two or three historical plays in verse which did not succeed on the stage.
He succeeded Wordsworth as poet-laureate in 1850. A few years since a peerage was conferred upon him by Queen Victoria. This is supposed to have been done in recognition of his merits as a man of letters but the affair was not taken seriously outside of England and even there excited many gibes at the queen who thought to compliment one of the three greatest poets of her reign by giving him the right to a seat in a body of men certainly not remarkable for a high average of intellectual brilliance.
With the very large majority of readers Tennyson has been the favorite English poet since the death of Byron. If he has not Browning's range and depth he is also free from Browning's harshness and obscurity, but is always melodious, intelligible and pleasing. In uniform excellence of literary finish he was not surpassed by any writer of English verse but he generally avoided those feats of technical skill which make parts of Swinburn seem only the tricks of a brilliant word-juggler. It is pleasant to be able to say that Tennyson's writings brought him, not great wealth, but a competence sufficient for most reasonable men.

DEMOCRATS WANT CASH.
National Committee Issues Public Address Asking for Funds.
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The democratic national committee issued an address this evening asking for means "Not only to spread the truth among the people," but "To prosecute and punish crimes against the ballot box." Continuing the address says: "All anxiety about the state of New York is factitious and she will give her electoral vote to our candidates. All reports from independent and conservative sources in other parts of the country are exceptionally promising."
CAUGHT IN THE TUNNEL.
John Crowley Will Lose His Arm but Others Unhurt.
LOUISVILLE, Oct. 6.—While a gang of workmen were in Hog Run tunnel, on the Louisville & Nashville road, not far from Worthville, Ky., yesterday afternoon, the timbers of the false work of the tunnel fell upon them without warning, considerable earth fell and the arm of John Crowley, a negro, was so badly smashed that amputation will be necessary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Inquiry made at the state and navy departments today in regard to the situation in Venezuela elicited the response in each case that nothing had been received from there.

DIFFICULTY EASILY SOLVED.
Let the Pope Give Up His Claims to Temporal Power.
ROME, Oct. 6.—Through the medium of confidential agents the Vatican has been prosecuting negotiations with the Italian government with reference to the projected pilgrimages on the occasion of the episcopal jubilee of His Holiness Leo XIII. The pope desired to obtain positive assurances that the Italian government will maintain order and prevent the recurrence of those disturbances which caused the greatest anxiety on a previous occasion to the whole of the Catholic world.
The reply of the government was disappointing. It was to the effect that the police would do their duty.
This conditional response has failed to satisfy the pope for it is thoroughly believed at the Vatican that the disorders of October last were desired and countenanced by the government.
The pope believes it is absolutely necessary to take every precaution. It was even seriously discussed at one time whether it might not be wiser to replace the pilgrimages to Rome by pilgrimages to regional shrines. This idea, however, has since been abandoned.
If disturbances should occur at Rome in spite of the pontifical precautions the pope comforts himself with the fact that he will be able to lay the blame on the Italian authorities and thus again point out to impartial observers the difficulties attending the joint habitation of the two powers at Rome, rendering its permanent continuation an impossibility.

MAY NOMINATE FITCH.
New York Talked of for Mayor of New York City.
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—It is reported that leaders of Tammany Hall are considering Congressman Ashbel P. Fitch as an available candidate for mayor. It is said that he is willing to accept the nomination if it should be tendered to him. A prominent Tammany leader when asked about Congressman Fitch's candidacy said: "Many of us think that Congressman Fitch would make a strong candidate for mayor. He is a man who has the respect and confidence of the community and he would add strength to our ticket."

ISHPEMING MATTERS.

Mr. Gjertson to Discourse on Literature to a Scandinavian Audience.

Clerks' Association Scores a Social Success—Will Continue to Shave Ishpeming Chins.

A LITERARY DISCOURSE.

Mr. G. Gjertsen, of Minneapolis, Minn. will deliver a literary address to the Scandinavian people of Ishpeming at the City Opera house tomorrow evening. He will not, in any sense, mingle politics with his discourse. The many friends of Mr. Gjertsen in Ishpeming have requested him to remain here and deliver this address, which fact testifies to the esteem in which the gentleman is held by his old friends and acquaintances in this vicinity. A full house will doubtless greet Mr. Gjertsen tomorrow evening.

A Great Success.

The ball given by the Clerks' association at the A. O. U. W. hall Wednesday evening was a great success in every respect. There were between eighty and one hundred couples present, this being the largest turnout to a dance in that hall in several months. The music was furnished by Prof. Crim's orchestra, which never played better. At midnight supper was served by the ladies connected with the association. After the supper dancing was resumed and was kept up until 3 o'clock in the morning.

In Business Again.

Chas. Devore, who sold out his barber business to Joe Hooper on Tuesday last with the intention of leaving town shortly the following day purchased the barber business of Chas. Miller at 105 First street, taking immediate possession of the same. Mr. Devore is making improvements in the shop. He has put in electric lights and made other changes that will greatly improve the place.

Novel Street Parade

The street parade of the "Si Plunkard" Comedy company yesterday noon was an amusing novelty. The company came from the City Opera house to the city square where several novel selections were rendered. The band then walked to the top of Strawberry hill where the frisky aggregation met a farmer with a load of hay. The band mounted the hay rack and the farmer drove through town, visiting several mines, the "chance" musicians meantime entertaining the miners, who had come to surface for their dinner, with some exceedingly fine music. In the evening a large crowd assembled at the opera house to witness the performance of Mr. Lewis and his company. All were highly pleased with the performance, and should it ever come this way again he will be greeted with another large house.

"Side-Tracked."

The next attraction to appear at the City Opera house is Walters & Rawson's "Side Tracked." This play is a funny comedy and is said to be one of the biggest hits on the road. The date set for the company's appearance here is Wednesday next, the 12th inst. The cast of characters is strong and the scenic effects are first class.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Marshal Glode and E. Erickson, of Republic, were in Ishpeming yesterday.

The prohibitionists will hold a convention in Ishpeming today at the City Opera House.

The common council will hold an adjourned regular meeting at the council chambers tonight.

A new sidewalk is being built along Johnston street in the vicinity of St. Joseph's Catholic church.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry King died Tuesday and was buried yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Godfrey Bonville died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock of typhoid fever. She leaves a husband and three small children.

Edith E., the five-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Erickson, died yesterday. The funeral will be held today at 2 o'clock.

The Daily Press announces that Messrs. J. M. Finn and Timothy Nester will address the democratic voters of Ishpeming on Monday evening next.

At the regular meeting of the local camp of Modern Woodmen, held on Wednesday evening last, Mr. Fred Rowe was elected secretary to succeed L. H. Haren, who recently left town.

The purchasing committee examined the two sample ballot boxes received by City Recorder A. Sandberg and decided to procure the tin box, furnished by the Kalamazoo Publishing company of Kalamazoo, Mich. A complete set, as required by the city, was at once ordered.

The funeral of the late John Piper was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Thos. Bennett on Second street. Services were conducted at the Division street M. E. church by Rev. Iver, of Bessemer. The interment was in the Ishpeming cemetery.

The Star Cornet band will assist in the musical part of the Temple of Honor concert to be given at the City Opera house on the night of the 21st inst. The boys will have several new selections ready for that evening, one of which will be a descriptive piece, entitled "A Day Out in Summer."

Chas. Anderson, a miner working at the Winthrop mine, fell off a piece of timber on which he was standing yesterday morning and struck on his head, receiving a serious scalp wound. Anderson only fell seven or eight feet, and the injury sustained was out of proportion to the distance of his fall. His wounds were dressed at the Ishpeming hospital and Anderson was taken home after the surgeons had attended to him.

Testing Diamonds in India.

The Hindoos distinguish diamonds according to their color. The white rank first and are called Brahmins, the yellow are known as Kshatris, the dusky as Vaishyas and the flawed stones as Sudras. The diamond dealers are chiefly Marwaris—a race who are the chief bankers and money lenders in India. These men are perfectly acquainted with the phosphorescent and electric qualities of the diamond, and they are also aware of the extreme uniformity of its specific gravity.

A boiling solution of some salt of zinc, called by the natives "Tutenagum haspam," which solution has a specific gravity of 3.5, is used for the weight test. Into this solution the stones submitted for examination are thrown. Those that float are rejected as not being diamonds, the Marwaris knowing that the diamond has a specific gravity of 3.53.

The stones that sink are then examined. The larger pieces are rubbed with a silk handkerchief to excite their electric properties and held near light substances, as small pieces of tissue paper. Diamonds thus rubbed readily attract light substances. The phosphorescent qualities are brought out by exposure of the stones to sunlight, and then taking them into a dark room, where the diamonds give off a gleaming light.

Cut stones which have been tested as above are then examined by boys especially trained, who sort them according to their color and flaws, and it is very seldom that these youngsters make a mistake, so sharp are their eyes in detecting flaws and shades of color. The appraisement according to size is finally made by the seniors.—Mining and Engineering.

It is stated that in the last six months 150 people have been killed by cars in Chicago, and 450 persons were permanently disabled from the same cause.

OF INTEREST TO ATHLETES.

James Robinson the athletic trainer at Princeton College, Princeton, N. J., says: "I have found it imperative to have some and on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon profession, I discovered such a remedy in Alcock's Porous Plasters. I tried other plasters but found them too harsh and irritating. Alcock's Porous Plasters give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprint" and "distance" races and jumping, the muscles of tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

MILWAUKEE EXPOSITION.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE COUGH.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the grippe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted to diseases of the throat and lungs. Do not wait for the first symptoms of the disease, but get a bottle and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. All druggists sell the Balsam.

A Curious Property of Water. Many simple experiments show that the surface of water possesses a property which causes it to resist the passage of bodies either from above or below.

One Must Be Careful. One must be careful about using the English language in this day of literal meaning, when the veriest neophyte of a society writer dare not use the phrases, "The bride entered the church on the arm of her father," or "His eyes followed her around the room," because some humorist has illustrated them realistically.

A Wealthy Squatter. James Tyson, the richest squatter in Australia, was originally a coachman. He saved a little money and invested in stock, which turning out profitably left him the possessor of £300.

Personal Barometers. A good many old housewives still remain their own weather prophets, and as a consequence one of the most popular of familiar weather sayings is, "When rheumatic people complain of more than ordinary pains in their joints, it will rain."

A Frank Statement. "Can I—dare I ask that little hand for my own?" pleaded the smitten young man.

GROUNDLESS RUMORS FLYING

Yesterday Proves to be a First Class Day for Gilt-Edged Fakes.

PRESQUE ISLE LODGE, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, HAS A SPREAD.

Young Duval's Story Fully Borne Out. A Month of Sunshine--The Casino to be Rebuilt.

WHO IS THE LIAR?

Yesterday was a day of fakes. Emanating from sources still mysterious came rumors of the loss of three Marquette men from a small boat up the shore and of the sudden death of a Marquette man in Ishpeming.

The life-saving crew went up the shore yesterday looking for traces of the party and finally Captain Cleary determined to establish a beach patrol with the expectation that it might result in something to give definite information as to the fate of his party.

In the very midst of the hubbub, however, Harry Weston knocked the whole business in the head by walking down Front street, good solid flesh and blood in spite of the rumors to the contrary.

A Love Feast.

Presque Isle lodge, Knights of Pythias, had a genuine old love-feast at Fraternity Hall last evening at which a large number of Pythians of Iron Cross and other lodges were present upon invitation.

The Record Broken. September is generally considered a very disagreeable month on Lake Superior but the records of the United States signal station here this fall show up a month at which no one could take exceptions.

In other respects the record of the month was very unusual. There was only one frost, on the 1st, and only twice before in 22 years has there been so little precipitation, the amount being 1.18 inches as compared with 4.10 inches, the average for September as compiled from the records for 22 years.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano.
