"WELL-BRED" STATIONERY.

"The good breeding and good taste of a lady—much abused word—are subtly yet conspicuously shown in the stationery she uses."

It may seem strange to speak of stationery as "well-bred" but we take the liberty to employ the phrase as a compact one to designate the kind of writing materials used by well bred people in their correspondence.

We have just received a full line of Hard & Pike's correct styles in paper and envelopes. The prices vary but it is all "well-bred."

DASTARDLY SCOUNDRELS:

Homestead Attempts to Cremate John Fox and All His Family.

TORCH THROWN INTO THE CELLAR AT MIDNIGHT.

Only Offense of This Man Fox Was in Not Belonging to the Iron-Workers' Union.

SHOULD HANG ON SIGHT.

HOMESTEAD, Pa. Oct. 12.—The residence of John Fox, a non-union man, was set on fire about 2 o'clock this morning and the family aroused just in time to save their lives.

Fox went to work in the mill three weeks ago and rented from a Mrs. Blakely a residence in Gearington. Last night, Mr. Fox says, he noticed several men around the house and his family felt some disquiet.

Shortly after 2 o'clock Fox was aroused by a sense of oppression as if he could not breathe. He jumped up and on lighting a match saw that the entire room was filled with smoke.

Hastily he aroused his wife and children. Several of the latter, he said, were stupefied from the smoke. They ran out of the house in their night clothes.

Someone broke the glass of the cellar window and threw a burning torch into a barrel of waste. Deputy sheriffs have gone to Gearington to investigate. There is no change in the general situation.

GLASGOW'S MURDER-FIEND.

He Is Overhauled and Tries Suicide but Fails.

GLASGOW, Oct. 12.—This afternoon detectives found McEwen, the man wanted for brutally murdering a woman, lying beside the road half way between Glasgow and Paisley. He had evidently found the chase becoming too hot for him and fearing arrest had attempted to kill himself. He had cut his throat but the wound is not fatal. He was placed in a cart and brought back to the city.

McNeilly, a sailor on the Anchor line steamer Furnessia, says he and McEwen met the woman whose horrible murder has created such great excitement on the street last Monday night. McEwen persuaded the woman to accompany him to West Lodge, the scene of the murder, and of which property McEwen was gardener. They all three went to the house, the occupants of which were absent, and the woman occupied a room with McEwen. McNeilly declared that he slept in another room and saw nothing of the woman and McEwen after they retired. Early in the morning McNeilly arose and left the house for the purpose of looking for work. He denies strenuously having seen the murder committed or having taken any part in it.

After several measures had been adopted without result to establish the identity of the woman all the police of the city were ordered to look at the remains and see if they had ever seen the victim before. This plan proved successful. Several of them recognized her as a person of loose character and this accounts for her accompanying McEwen, as it proved, to her death. The woman was mutilated after the method of "Jack the Ripper," her body being dismembered and the pieces buried in the villa garden. McEwen is doubtless guilty of the crime.

BRECKENRIDGE BACKS OUT.

Congressman Who Opposed World's Fair Bill Declines to Speak.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Congressman W. C. P. Breckenridge will not deliver the dedicatory oration at the World's Fair inauguration next Thursday. In a telegram today to President T. W. Palmer of the international commission he positively declined. "This decision on the part of Mr. Breckenridge was based largely, I surmise, on account of the inimical attitude taken against him by the Chicago press," said Major Handy, "since the fight in congress over the World's Fair appropriation, in which the Kentuckian opposed the Fair's request. There has been some opposition to him as the orator of the day. Hence his refusal to appear."

It is hardly thought that any substitute will be named at this late day for Congressman Breckenridge, the World's Fair officials contenting themselves with the eloquence of Chauncey Depew, who is on the program for an oration. Congressman John R. Fellows of New York was freely mentioned for the honor some time ago.

WHAT BRECKENRIDGE SAYS.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 12.—Hon. W. C. P. Breckenridge, who was invited by the committee of ceremonies to deliver the dedicatory address at the opening of the Columbian Exposition in Chicago this month, was seen tonight regarding his declination to accept the proffered honor. Mr. Breckenridge said:

"Of course I cannot make public the correspondence between the authorities of the Columbian Exposition and myself. I will leave it to the gentlemen of the committee to make public if they see fit. I do not wish them to conceal unless they desire to do so anything that has passed between us. There has been a great deal of newspaper controversy regarding myself as to whether or not I should make an address on the opening day. I have seen clippings from all the Chicago papers bearing on the case and I must confess that any deductions that editors have drawn are intensely amusing. There are but few facts for me to state and they are these:

"On the 24th of last month I sent a letter to Mr. Lawrence, chairman of the committee of ceremonies, in which I unconditionally withdrew my acceptance of the invitation to deliver the address. This letter caused certain gentlemen connected with the exposition to request me to withhold my withdrawal for a time at least. Other assurances were given me and I finally decided to do so and informed the gentlemen that I would withhold my withdrawal for a time. Upon mature deliberation and consideration of the subject in all its bearings and details I have at last concluded to make my declination final. You can therefore say that I will not deliver an address at the opening of the Columbian Exposition."

CRETANS AGAINST TURKS.

Pitched Battle in Which Insolent Turkish Soldiers Were Beaten.

CANDIA, Crete, Oct. 12.—For a long time past considerable ill-feeling has existed between the inhabitants of the province of Sahakia and the Turkish troops stationed in various parts of the province. The troops were overbearing in their demeanor and perpetrated many outrages on the inoffensive inhabitants. Matters went from bad to worse and finally patience under the cruelties and impositions practiced upon them ceased to be a virtue and the people rebelled. Details of the trouble which occurred on Tuesday, October 4, have just been made public.

It appears that the troops stationed at Askifo in the Sahakia province had been particularly offensive to the inhabitants, who were treated as though it was their bounden duty to answer the beck and call of the soldiery and to quietly submit to any indignity the troops might feel inclined to inflict on them.

On the day mentioned the male inhabitants of Askifo armed themselves and when the soldiers attempted to perpetrate one of their accustomed outrages they set upon them. The troops gathered in force and a conflict followed. The soldiers fought with desperation, for they knew they need expect no quarter if they fell into the hands of the villagers. The latter fought to avenge the many wrongs to which they had been subjected and the battle waged fast and furious.

After considerable time the troops were driven into their barracks and comparative quiet was restored. Nine soldiers and villagers were killed and many on both sides were wounded. Much bitterness still prevails among the soldiers and civilians and further trouble is looked for. It may be found necessary to remove these particular troops from the village to prevent another outbreak.

MUST READ AND WRITE.

New York Judge Refuses Naturalization to Illiterate Englishman.

BALLSTON, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Justice Stover, holding the circuit court here, refuses naturalization to aliens who cannot read and write the English language and has rejected six applicants. One of the applicants, a native of county Kent, England, is more than 60 years of age and has been a resident of this country for 25 years. In denying the application of John Griggs for naturalization, the sixth denial at this term, Justice Stover said:

"It is no use to make such applications in courts at which I preside applicants who cannot read and write the English language. Every citizen should be able to read and write. An alien asking naturalization must have these qualifications before I will grant to him a certification of citizenship. He should be able to read the constitution of the United States before he is asked or allowed to take the oath of citizenship and I intend to adhere to this rule whether, as in this case, the applicant speaks the English language as his mother tongue or whether he is a subject of one of the continental nations ignorant of our language, our customs, our constitution and our laws."

DARING ROPE WALKER.

Young Calverly Crosses Niagara in Less Than Seven Minutes.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Clifford Calverly performed a remarkable feat at the Niagara Gorge this afternoon. On a three-quarter inch cable stretched between the Cantilever and Suspension bridges at a height of 245 feet young Calverly—he is only 22 years old—passed over the gorge of Niagara in the astonishing time of a trifle less than seven minutes. The intrepid walker had undertaken to beat all previous records and this he most effectively did. His time is nearly seven minutes less than that of Dixon, who performed a similar feat in 12½ minutes. The cable on which the athlete walked was 910 feet long. The banks are 245 feet high at the place where the cable was stretched and the cable sagged about 25 feet in the middle. Calverly used a 20-foot pine balancing pole. After crossing the gorge this afternoon Calverly performed several difficult feats on the cable. Ten thousand persons witnessed the performance.

DANGER NOT OVER YET.

State Board of Health Will Continue Investigation of Immigrants.

LANSING, Oct. 12.—At the special meeting of the state board of health this morning it was decided to continue the quarantine regulations now in force and apply them to all immigrants entering Michigan. Letters and telegrams were read from executive officers and state boards of health throughout the entire northwest and all were of the same tenor—that the continuance of the inspection and disinfection at the border was absolutely necessary.

IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

Alfred Tennyson Is Buried in the Poet's Corner Beside Robert Browning.

SURROUNDING STREETS PACKED WITH PEOPLE.

Crowds Perfectly Quiet, Orderly and Respectful and Seemed Inspired by No Vulgar Curiosity.

LIES IN BRITAIN'S PANTHEON.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—With all the honors the church to which he belonged could pay the remains of the greatest poet England has produced in later days were laid in their final resting place beneath the pavement of the historic Westminster Abbey today.

The funeral services will long be remembered. There was no affectation of sorrow. The vast crowds that attended the ceremonies were not moved by that vulgar curiosity that leads so many to attend the funeral of those who have achieved honor and reputation. On the contrary every one present felt that he had lost a personal friend.

Long before the hour set for the services to begin an immense crowd gathered to gather in the vicinity of the abbey. A dense mass of people assembled in the south palace yard between the Abbey and the houses of parliament besides an equally large crowd packed in the streets to the north and east of the Abbey. A number of police were present and had little difficulty in handling the crowd. At 10 o'clock the doors of the Abbey were thrown open and ticket-holders admitted.

The congregation comprised men eminent in all walks of life—statesmen, clergymen, authors, artists, members of the dramatic profession, men whose names are household words wherever the English tongue is spoken. Many of those who entered the building carried wreaths which were placed in the Jerusalem chamber with those already deposited there.

Promptly at 12 o'clock the procession was formed in the Jerusalem Chamber and took up its way to the chancel and the coffin was placed on a rest just below the altar. Canon Duckworth opened the service for the dead, after which the choir chanted the Nineteenth psalm "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth his handiwork."

After this singing was finished the coffin was re-lifted and followed by the choir the procession moved to the Poet's Corner, where the pavement had been raised next to the grave of Browning.

CONTRACTORS ARE SLOW.

Must Get Armor and Guns Around Much Faster.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The navy department is very much dissatisfied with the inadequate delivery of structural armor and guns by the two corporations holding the contracts for the supply for the construction of new vessels. It is felt that they may be embarrassed when it applies to congress for money to continue the formation of the American navy by the fact that sufficient steel cannot be procured to prosecute the work in hand with due celerity. The deliveries of steel are now and have been for some time much below the contract requirements. The department has now determined to bring the contractors to time and notice has been sent in at least one case that the promises made when the contract was signed must be filled and the deliveries of steel must be brought up to the contract requirements and contractors will be dealt with strictly.

NO FIGURE THIS YEAR.

Indiana Apportionment Contest Goes to November 17.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—In a written opinion by Judge McBride, which is concurred in by all the judges, the supreme court of Indiana this afternoon disposed of the various motions and petitions in the apportionment case. The motion of Attorney-General Smith to dismiss the appeal is overruled. The court holds that the statements of the papers and affidavits filed on the case show that there is a real controversy and that it is one which the parties have a right to wage. It says in substance that the relator had a right to bring the suit in order to secure a decision of the court upon the validity of the law and that county officers had a right to resist the complaint to the end and that statements reflecting upon the attorney-general are improper, although the attorney-general is in the case by invitation. Oral argument will be heard November 17. This decision removes the case as a factor in the election.

CONGREGATIONAL COUNCIL.

Dr. Quint of Boston Chosen Moderator at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—The National Council of the Congregational Church of the United States of America will come to order," said the cleared-moderator, President Northrop, promptly at 11 o'clock. Then he called on the Rev. Julian Sturtevant of Illinois to offer prayer. Hearty hand-clapping greeted the Rev. George H. Wells, pastor of Plymouth church, as he was called upon to welcome the council. His welcome was happy in the extreme. President Northrop made a witty response to the address of welcome. Nominations for moderator were then called for. But one was made, that of Rev. Dr. A. H. Quint of Boston. It was made by John A. Bell of New Hampshire and seconded by Rev. Smith Baker. The election was practically unanimous. There was 295 votes of which he received 193.

MARQUETTE, MICH., OCTOBER 13.

Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

Now that the officials of the Carnegie company, Pinkerton detectives and the leaders of the strike at Homestead have all been indicted for murder, riot and treason, everybody ought to be satisfied to let the law take its course and permit the courts to settle who was most to blame for the trouble there last summer. It is evident that the question is one that can never be settled by political stump speakers from the rostrum.

The Grand Rapids Democrat remarks that "the political news from Minnesota is not of a very reassuring character for the republicans," alluding to the fusion on the electoral ticket by the democrats and populists. Nor is it very creditable to the democrats, who have gone into a combination with a party that they have nothing in common with in the hope of thereby stealing a few presidential electors in that state. The democrats are playing for two chances in this election, their fusion with the populists in republican states being designed to prevent Harrison from getting a majority in the electoral college, and to thus throw the election into the house where they have a majority by states. They are very cute, but the people understand the scheme and will block it at the polls.

COLONEL HECKER'S nomination in opposition to Chipman has inspired the republicans in his district to take hold with a will for the election of their candidate, whose popularity with the masses is so great and fitness for the position of representative in congress so unquestioned that they have strong hopes of overcoming the adverse majority in the district. They are further encouraged by the weakness of the county ticket set up by the democrats of Wayne county, which is so obnoxious that many democrats openly announce that they will not support it. It was nominated by the gambler and thug element of the democratic party in Detroit, which is headed and controlled by Jerry Falvey and Ed. Reilly, and it is enough to damn it with decent democrats. The outlook for the republicans in Wayne county is ever so much better than it was some weeks ago, and the prospect now is that the big majority that the democrats have been counting on in Wayne will be whittled down pretty fine in the election.

PRESIDENT YERKES, of the Chicago street railway company, has authorized the authorities of the Chicago university to have built for use of that institution of learning the largest and finest telescope that can be produced, and the officers of the university are now obtaining data from which to formulate plans for the great instrument and the appliances to operate it when in position. It is estimated that the telescope, mounted, will cost $500,000, a nice little bill for Mr. Yerkes to foot. It is proposed to build an instrument with a forty-five inch object glass, nine inches larger than that of the famous Lick telescope at the Mount Hamilton observatory in California. The construction of the telescope will take at least three years if it is thought, and may take longer, as infinite care must be taken in casting and polishing the object glass, as well as in adjusting other parts of the great instrument. Mr. Yerkes has certainly made a princely gift to the university and his liberality ought to induce the people of Chicago to forgive him for being able to donate such a large sum for a public purpose.

A GREAT PROJECT.

Mr. George H. Ely of Cleveland was in Detroit this week and gave the Free Press this information regarding the deep waterways project and the influence that the convention held in Detroit in December last had in disposing congress to take favorable action on the bill appropriating money to start the desired improvements:

Before the convention was held congress had been rather slow in recognizing the needs of the lake navigators for deeper water. It had provided the amounts necessary to insure the completion of the new Sault canal lock and the Hay Lake channel, both with twenty feet of water, by 1895. There are six other important points on the lakes, the deepening of which was necessary to secure a uniform depth of twenty feet between Buffalo, Chicago and Duluth. To secure from congress action looking to the deepening of these points was the principal object of the convention, and I may say that object has attained a notable stage toward fulfillment. The total amount necessary is, in round numbers, $8,400,000, and $375,000 has been secured for the coming year's work.

Work will be commenced next spring on this important project. We figure the work will be entirely completed in 1896, along with the completion of the Hay Lake and Sault lock improvements. Boats which now carry 2,000 tons will be enabled to put aboard an additional thousand, and 4,000-ton boats will easily carry 5,000 tons and over. It is going to cheapen the cost of transportation south America with the able us to reach wonderfully. It will enable us to reach South America with our inexhaustible supplies of Lake Superior iron. We could not do it otherwise, for on the present draught we can carry only enough for our own consumption, while if we attempted to transport it by rail from the mines to the seaboard for transportation to South America the cost of transportation would be more than the value of the iron. One of these six points is the deepening of Lake St. Clair. A channel, or canal, really, 800 feet wide, will have to be dredged several miles on the course from the Windmill Point light to the flats canal. The dredged earth will be thrown up on either side and buoyed and lighted. That done, one of the principal obstacles to a twenty-channel will have been removed.

I think that inside of fifteen years we will see a canal from Lake Ontario or from Lake Erie to the Hudson river. I favor the scheme of a canal around Niagara Falls from the Niagara River to Lake Ontario at a cost of $25,000,000.

It will bring Lake Ontario into use, and will save us a good many miles in the connection to the Hudson. It is the cheapest and, I think, the most feasible. Then we will have a deep water connection. The possibilities of this scheme are enormous to contemplate. The lake shippers would then constitute the greatest shipbuilding region in the world—greater, even, than the Clyde. It will astonish some people to know that last year Cleveland alone, building 71,000 tons, was second only to the Clyde in point of production. How much greater will all combined be when building for both lake and ocean service. Then, too, there are many staunch boats on the lakes which, after putting in their full season of seven months on the lakes could spend the remaining five on the ocean in the coasting trade or transatlantic service. Navigation resumed on the lakes in the spring, they could return here and go to carrying ore, coal and wheat again. There would be much greater returns from lake vessel property than now.

Lighting the Barthold Statue.

It was always intended that the statue of Liberty in New York harbor should serve more than a sentimental purpose, and while being a beacon of liberty also be a lighthouse of value to mariners. For such a useful purpose, however, the statue has been a failure. Some time ago Major Heap, of the engineer corps of the army, was asked to design a method by which the statue could be properly lighted, and therefore serve the utilitarian purpose as well as the sentimental. Major Heap has just reported to the lighthouse board, and proposed that the present lights of about 2,000-candle power be so treated that a belt of flame shall be seen instead of the small portion, as at present.

"The effect I desire to produce," says Major Heap, "is a powerful white light in the focal plane, and a beam of colored light seen by reflection from the haze or dust in the air, so that the general appearance shall be somewhat like a flame." In the head of the statue, over the forehead, is a coronet consisting of twenty-five windows. In front of each window Major Heap proposes to place two 100-candle power incandescent lamps, protected from the weather in glazed lanterns, the backs of which shall be reflectors.

At present the statue, owing to its dark color, is invisible at night, as the reflected light from the lamps in the salients of the fort is too feeble to be seen at any distance. To partially overcome this Major Heap proposes to place an arc light of 2,000-candle power under the balcony of the torch, with a reflector throwing the light directly on the head. This beam of light will be so powerful and will be so near the head that the latter will probably be visible to vessels passing close to the statue.—Harper's Weekly.

Islands Sold to a Syndicate.

The Isles of Shoals, eight miles off Portsmouth, N. H., have been sold to a Boston syndicate. The price, which is $550,000 for islands and the hotel buildings, has been guaranteed, and the transfer will be immediately made in order that contemplated improvements may be completed for next season's business. C. D. Wainwright, banker, of Boston, has managed the deal, which will result, as soon as necessary preliminaries are perfected, in the transfer of the entire interest of the Messrs. Leighton. The purchase takes in every one of this group of islands—viz., Appledore, Smuttys Nose, Cedar, Duck and Malaga within the Maine boundary, and Star, White, Londoner's and Seavey's in the New Hampshire division. The sale is without reservation.

One of the new features for both Appledore and Star islands is to be the introduction of electricity as a potent factor, and an electric railway is to encircle both isles. Appledore is 3 1/2 miles around, and the railway around this island will connect with one around both Star and Smuttys Nose, distance 3 1/2 miles, making the total distance seven miles. The motive power plant is to be on Appledore and through cables. By this plant both the isles are to be finely lighted.—Manchester (N. H.) Union.

A Story of Marie Jansen.

This is a story they tell of Marie Jansen: Marie is a nice, capable little body, and likes to do her own errands and execute her own commissions without asking any one to do them for her. One day she went into the nearest postal station and bought a stamp. Then she stepped aside to put it on her letter.

A gentleman stood near by watching her. Suddenly he saw a troubled look come into her eyes. She glanced up and down to see if any one was near. She hesitated, glanced again and her lips seemed to tremble.

"That girl is in distress," said the man to himself; "she has written a letter and does not know whether to send it or not. It may be a letter to a false lover, or perhaps a line breaking some poor fellow's heart. I wonder if a word of advice from me would help her. She looks as if she wanted to speak to me."

BABES AND CHILDREN.

All Parents Will Read This With the Greatest Interest.

Strong, vigorous and healthy children are what we all want, and how to keep our little ones in good health is the question of the greatest interest to us all. Children are peculiarly liable to nervous disorders; they become nervous, restless, fretful and irritable; their night's sleep is not calm and restful, but they toss restlessly from side to side, murmur or talk in their sleep, and wake tired and unrefreshed in the morning. They have an irregular appetite, grow thin and pale, look slight and puny, and their growth and development become stunted.

If your children are sick, give that greatest of all children's remedies, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. The Sun Cholera Mixture.

More than twenty years ago, when it was found that prevention of cholera was easier than cure, a prescription drawn up by eminent doctors was published in the New York Sun, and it took the name of The Sun cholera medicine.

Our contemporary never lent its name to a better article. We have seen it in constant use for nearly two score years and found it to be the best remedy for looseness of the bowels ever yet devised. No one who has this by him, and takes it in time will ever have the cholera. We commend it to all our friends. Even when no cholera is anticipated, it is an excellent remedy for ordinary summer complaints, colic, diarrhoea, etc.

Take equal parts of tincture of cayenne pepper, tincture of opium, tincture of rhubarb, essence of peppermint and spirits of camphor. Mix well. Use, fifteen to thirty drops in a little cold water, according to age and violence of symptoms, repeated every fifteen to twenty minutes until relief is obtained.—New York Journal of Commerce.

A New Discov.

Quebec (Canada) claims that one of the greatest discoveries of late years is that made by a chemist of that city. It is the longest known to the pyramid build of Egypt as hardened copper. The man prepared a piece of his hardened per one inch and three-quarters of an inch thick and had it tested at the government rifle ranges at Quebec. The first shot was fired from a distance forty yards, and the bullet shivered in thousand fragments. The leaden authority theories there expressed conviction that if on further trials in English dockyards the discoverer maintains the same superiority, most important results must follow and exist systems be completely revolutionized.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Looking for False Teeth.

Among the finest happenings at Old Orchard this summer has been the constant losses sets of false teeth by people in bath. The loss of a plate of false molars some one is an every day occurrence and at every low tide people may be seen walking slowly along the beach an poking the sand with canes in a generally vain search for the lost mastic.—Bangor Commercial.

The Boy led; the Dog Escaped.

A day or two ago a negro living near Haroldsburg, Ky., put poison in an egg and placed it where a dog might find it who was addicted to sucking eggs. The dog found it and brought it to the house, when the young son of the negro took it away from him, and supposing it was a good egg cooked and ate it. The little fellow died soon after.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Decoration.

I stood beside each mounded grave Where slept the bravest of the brave, And sought a spot where I could place My flowers above a hero's face.

Ward McAllister, writing of extravagance in the Four Hundred, says:

"The winter of 1891 was the most extravagant era in women's dress that we have ever known. The waste of money in tea gowns was unparalleled. Every fashionable woman must needs have three or four. Their cost would buy a modest farm. Their slippers have made the fortune, we know, of at least one shoemaker. The buckles to these slippers alone cost thirty dollars a pair. The invisible of a woman's toilet is the most costly extravagance. That article of ladies' dress which the Countess of Salisbury has rendered immortal is a special extravagance at the present time, costing, in many cases, $450. A lady's opera cloak now costs her from $300 to $500. The most expensive luxury is dogs; accomplished black poodles cost $500 each, a Japanese pug $300—a fashionable woman having two or three of these pets lying on satin cushions to match her robe.

"Every fashionable woman feels she must have a bonnet for each costume she wears; this necessitates eight for summer and four or five for winter. The jewelry given a bride, when the couple are to enjoy the income of a moderate fortune, would be as follows: Engagement ring, $3,000; her jewels, $30,000, not at all an overestimate; her lace veil, costing her parents $2,500; her bridal trousseau, $6,000 to $10,000, not at all an unusual price for a fashionable woman to pay. Is it not then surprising that marriages still continue to take place? I have only treated of people of moderate incomes and the waste they practice. To leave them and to consider the waste of money practiced by the multimillionaires would be an endless task."

A Machine for Sifting Ashes.

A machine has been invented which separates ashes from boiler fires into three portions. Unburned fuel, called breeze or clinders, which can be mixed with coal and burned over again, or for blacksmiths' fires, being the finest material procurable; fine dust, useful for builders in place of sand; clinkers, useful for roadmaking, paths, etc.

The machine consists of a tank or compartment kept full of water. The ashes or breeze to be cleaned rest on a grating, which is covered by a fine perforated copper plate. A free passage of water is allowed, and at the same time the breeze or fuel is prevented from falling.

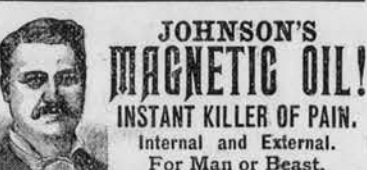

The separation is effected by an agitator worked by a crank shaft. At each downward plunge of the agitator the water is forced upward through the perforated copper bottom, causing the material to rise. The rubbish, owing to its greater specific gravity, is precipitated to the bottom on the return stroke; at the same time the breeze, or unburned fuel, being lighter, works to the surface. At each stroke of the crank a body of water and a quantity of clean breeze is carried to a plate, which is also perforated, so as to allow the water to fall into the machine and thence through a valve to be used over again, and the clean breeze is swept by a revolving brush over a ledge. The clinker accumulates on the perforated copper plate, and from time to time is allowed to escape by a valve in the body of the machine, whence it is raised by an elevator and discharged.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

FIFTY THOUSAND MEN.

New York's Much Advertised Columbus Parade Falls Off One-Half.

BUT THERE WERE PROBABLY ENOUGH ANYHOW.

Statue of Columbus Presented by Citizens of Italian Birth or Descent Is Unveiled.

MARCHED UP BROADWAY.

New York, Oct. 12.—Fully 50,000 men at 10 o'clock were either on the march or ready to join the parade which was led by General McMahon, preceded by a platoon of police and followed by fifty aides with gaudy sashes. It was after 11 o'clock when Vice-President Morton, Major-General Schofield and the members of the cabinet were escorted from the Fifth Avenue Hotel to the review stand by a squad of police. They were taken to the governor's box and after introductions were assigned to seats. Baron Fava, the Italian minister, occupied a position of honor beside Governor Flower and Vice-President Morton.

The police about the official stand were sorely pressed. Not the slightest attention was paid to the heavy wire cable stretched to guard the police line. The crowd surged over and under it and the long cordons of police had to drive the people back by sheer force. Finally the people overcame the police and bore slowly but surely down upon the stand.

Then patrol-wagons were summoned and drawn by powerful horses were driven down the line. Consternation ensued. Men yelled and women shrieked in terror for fear of being run down. Children were separated from their parents and women from their escorts. Gradually, however, the great mass surged slowly backward and a number of ring-leaders, who had been inciting the crowd to rush forward, were ordered to leave the ground.

While these scenes were taking place at Madison Square the great parade was coming up Broadway. As the various divisions passed the grand stand they saluted the distinguished occupants.

It is estimated that 50,000 men were in line today. It took fully six hours to pass a given point and the line was over fifteen miles long. After the military payment was over the crowds directed their steps to Central Park where the Columbus monument, presented by the Italian residents of New York, was unveiled.

At this juncture Mrs. Dall, the mother-in-law of Dunn, stepped in between them to save her daughter and received the load of buckshot in her face. The shot tore away both her eyes and one half her face. She is dying and citizens are pursuing the husband, who fled.

A great many homes have been swept out of existence. All able-bodied men in the country in the vicinity of Fosston are out today fighting fire. ORR GOT ON HIS EAR.

Country Judge Does Not Like Charge of Prejudice.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—An unpleasant scene was caused in Judge Orr's court today when the latest phase of the Garfield Park race track litigation came up. The city demanded a charge of venue on the ground that Judge Orr was prejudiced. The magistrate flushed angrily and denounced the statement as a falsehood, notwithstanding that it was made in an affidavit by Chief-of-Police McLaughrey. The judge had no option, however, but to grant the change. Judge Orr is not a member of the Chicago bench and has only been in the city a few days, having been brought here from one of the interior towns to aid the city judges in disposing of an accumulation of cases.

Secretary Bates Will Circulate Campaign Literature Just the Same.

DETROIT, Oct. 12.—Secretary Bates makes no attempt to deny the authorship of the circular sent to postmasters concerning which the civil service commission sent out a circular last night. "The distribution of some political literature will do no harm, if it is republican," he said, "and I know of no law which would prevent a postmaster from rendering a little service of this kind."

SHE IS SLOWLY DYING.

Mrs. Harrison's Malady Is Consumption and Will Result Fatally at Last.

PRESIDENT IS MUCH WORSE WITH ANXIETY.

Mrs. Harrison May Survive for a Year or She May Die Within a Week.

LADY OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Aside from the fact that Mrs. Harrison is a trifle weaker this evening there is no material change to note in her condition. As before stated in these dispatches Mrs. Harrison has been growing gradually weaker for several days past, owing to the progress of the disease (consumption) and her left lung is now involved. Of course in the progress of this disease the patient is better one day and worse the next. The condition of the patient fluctuates and this has been so in the case of Mrs. Harrison.

There has not been a moment of the last few days not filled with anxiety for the president and his family. So long as Mrs. Harrison can take nourishment her declining strength can be revived. From one hour to another there is practically little change manifested.

She is ever and always the same patient sufferer, trying so far as she can to brighten the sadness of the president and her children by appearing to feel better. Her cough has stopped since the weakness of the past two days has set in and she is still taking considerable nourishment. The steady though slight depletion of strength each day is now the most serious feature of the case and the one which excites the most concern.

President Harrison is looking carefully. He has grown so nervous owing to the terrible strain of the last few months that his family almost compel him to go out every day for a walk or a drive. His sad face betrays more than it is possible for his lips to utter. Yesterday afternoon he drove out to the Soldiers' Home and brought back his grandchildren, who were spending the day there. He was back again before 3:30.

At 9 o'clock tonight Dr. Gardner said that Mrs. Harrison had passed a quiet day and that there were no indications of new complications.

It is said that a dynamite cartridge had been exploded beneath the czar's train as it was passing Skiermevne and that five of the persons were killed. The story is absolutely untrue.

Prairie Fires Put Out.

HURON, S. D., Oct. 12.—Rain has been falling here since 9 o'clock this morning with no indications of a let-up. The prairie fires which have been raging in different parts of the Jim river valley since Sunday have been quenched by the rain.

Dromedary Live Preservers.

"I don't see how that humpbacked man can be so venturesome."

"But he isn't humpbacked at all. That's only one of these life preserver bathing suits. That part of the jersey under the arms and across the back can be inflated and acts as a drowning preventive."

And so it was, but the wearer seemed completely deformed, and it is not likely that that style of suit will ever become popular, since those who are good swimmers scorn such assistance, and those who are not don't go out far enough to feel the need of it. Still every once in a while one of these suits appears, and occasionally a young woman with a regular life preserver strapped over shoulders and under arms goes into the water. One such was seen recently, and as she did not go out above her knees in the surf the reason of its wearing was not very apparent. It made her look so conspicuous that in many ways it was a life preserver with a young woman instead of a young woman with a life preserver.—Cor. Philadelphia Press.

Slaughter of Small Bass.

Mr. W. L. Powell, treasurer of the Pennsylvania fish commission, sends an account of the depletion of Maiden creek by fishermen, who catch bushels of yearling black bass with small hooks. A veteran angler fished this stream recently with a fly rod, and in the course of a day took sixty bass ranging from 4 1/2 to 6 inches in length. All of them were lip hooked and were liberated alive. The creek was full of yearling bass during July, and newspaper accounts mentioned their capture by the bushel by means of hooks so small as to be readily swallowed by the fish. The absence of big bass even in moderate numbers is notorious, but in the light of this information it is readily explained.—Forest and Stream.

HENRY E. KLEIN,

Successor to KLEIN & ADLER.

A Pioneer on Sea Bathing.

As an old bathman—my father and brothers having kept the "New York Salt Water Floating Baths" at the Battery and at the foot of Desbrosses street for half a century, and being myself one of the first superintendents of the public baths of New York city—I cannot refrain from adding a few words of advice not only to surf bathers, but to all who bathe, either at the seashore, in the pond or even the bathtub, as there is danger in all to an inexperienced person.

In the first place, never bathe after a hearty meal; always before, and early in the morning or late in the evening if possible. Never go in the water while perspiring freely; cool off a little and be sure to wet the head first. Dive in head first if you know how and the place is suitable for so doing. If not, wet a towel and use that on the head, as it drives the blood down and not to the brain, and above all do not stay in the water over twenty minutes, and your bath will do you good and not weaken you, as it will if you stay in too long.

As you truly say, the good swimmer is apt to be reckless and careless, forgetting the treacherous "undertows," "sea passes" and the fatal cramps, but no man should go in bathing while in liquor. Every one ought to learn how to swim, for it is an accomplishment and very handy to have with you as you journey through life either by wind or by wave.—Cor. New York Herald.

Advantage of Living in a Desert.

A blessed country is the arid region. From nearly every portion of it where the land is irrigated come reports of fine crops of fruit and grain. In a few cases only are there reports of less than an average crop, and these tales are few and far between. In one portion of eastern Washington fears were felt for the wheat crop, but it was soon discovered that although the straw showed the effects of warm, dry weather, the heads were filled with plump berries and the crop was safe.

Cheering reports come from Arizona and New Mexico. The former territory comes to the front in great form as a fruit producer, and promises to rival California hereafter both as the earliest producer and in the quality of its products. Colorado grown berries of all kinds would seem to be without a peer in the world, yet eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana have produced similar fruit gigantic in size and luscious in flavor.—Arid Region.

The Glory of Nancy Hanks.

An evening contemporary finds "relief to the vulgarity of the announcement that Nancy Hanks has out trotted all the trotters of the land" in the fact that the mare "is owned now by a Boston man who is not responsible for her name." It is hard to see where "vulgarity" enters into the announcement of the great achievement of the mare. The original Nancy Hanks was a brave and good woman, and the mother of a president. Her memory is revived by the speed of a good and brave mare. A good woman is the noblest of all creatures, and next to her, in the estimation of thousands, is a good horse.

If the namesake of the western woman were condemned to the dreary circle of a brickyard or controlled in her motions by the bell of a horse car, then would there be the vulgarity that approaches ignominy, but to be thus honored in the history of trotting is a glory that is not enhanced even by Boston ownership.—Boston Journal.

REPORTORIAL PENALTINGS.

C. M. Gooling has moved to 519 Pine street. The last consignment of rails for the street railway has arrived.

See Neuberger's advertisement for bargains in clothing, shoes and gentlemen's furnishing goods. Prices talk.

Mrs. Eva L. Davis, who gives instruction in voice culture, harmony and piano practice, advertises to take a limited number of pupils at 426 Spruce street.

Presque Isle is drawing as well now as it did in mid-summer, hundreds going out these fine days to bask in the glories of autumn under the many-hued trees.

Rev. J. Frazer, who takes the pastorate of the First Methodist church, arrived in the city yesterday and was engaged in moving his household goods into the parsonage.

Mrs. Shea is putting up a neat dwelling on Champion street. Building work keeps on despite the approach of the "closed season," and it isn't confined to any one quarter of the city.

The members of lodge No. 101, F. & A. M., have organized their annual dancing club. A series of ten parties will be given during the winter, the first of which will soon take place.

Reed's Hotel-Sanatorium bus, which has been making regular trips between the business end of the city and the Sanatorium, has gone out of commission on that route until May next, when the institution will be re-opened to the public.

The drop curtain which was slightly damaged in the fire that occurred in the opera house early in July was repaired perfectly, and Manager Ross will have it in place in time for the next show.

Miss May Smith gave a masquerade party to a few of her friends last evening. Our information was received from Hamlet's ghost—who was, of course, sparing of information concerning such worldly matters. He, however, seemed in excellent spirits for so spiritual an individual and no doubt it was a spiritual affair.

At the Hotel-Sanatorium the work of improvement goes on, though the place has been closed to the public. The grounds are being graded under the supervision of Messrs. Palmer and Jacobs. Lawn tennis and croquet grounds are being prepared and the surroundings will be in lovely order when the institution opens in the spring.

Once again Washington street has a restaurant, thanks to the enterprise of Messrs. Wall & Schwartzberg, who have just started one in the basement of the Greenwald block. They set out a nice meal at any hour of the day or night and their charges are very reasonable. Drop in there when you are hungry and you will be sure to go again, for the service is excellent and their cook an artist in his line.

The gas company is laying an eight-inch main up Superior street from Lake to Front and a six-inch pipe up Front from Superior to Washington; also a five-inch pipe from Front up Superior about half the distance to Third, to connect with a main on that street. The company is making some valuable improvements about its works, latterly, and seems to be prospering despite the competition of the city's electric light.

Lawyer Todd has taken himself to Luce county where the democrats will try to elect him prosecuting attorney of that county, and is barking his shins following the trails of the lumber crews who infest that part of the peninsula in an eager search for voters who may be persuaded to support him. He is an energetic worker and if the candidate on the other side doesn't look after him sharply Mr. Todd may be elected.

Lobdell's 25-cent cream candies are said by judges of fine confections to lay over anything in their line yet put on sale in this market. Invest a quarter in a sample and get the opinion of your lady friends on the sweet things, and if the verdict isn't that the candies are "too awfully nice for anything" and that you are "just a darling" put the MINING JOURNAL'S pencilist down as no judge of cream candies or feminine humanity.

Edison's French Rival.

A young French chemist, M. Henri Courtonne, is credited with a new discovery. Sound being transmissible by telephone, M. Courtonne argued by a rigorous analogy that light might be transmitted too. As the telephone consists of a transmitter, a wire and a receiver, there was reason to believe that these three organs might be adapted for transmitting light vibrations, and for this purpose the transmitter and receiver should be prepared chemically for receiving and giving out light instead of sound vibrations. This was done by substituting sensitized photographic plates for the ordinary telephone plate.

One of the plates was placed in front of an aperture, through which an image was cast, and this image has been forwarded by wire and has been seen at the other end. The first apparatus was very imperfect, and M. Courtonne, having heard that Mr. Edison was on the track of a similar discovery, resolved to publish his experiments, a description of which he, however, sent in a sealed letter to the Academy in 1889. This letter is only to be opened at the sender's request. The consequences of the telephotography cannot be overestimated. Tomorrow you will see in Paris the image of a man smoking in St. Petersburg.—Paris Figaro.

He Condemned the Truck System.

Lord Wimmarleigh, whose death at a patriarchal age was announced recently, was but a name to the present generation. When he was sent to the house of lords he virtually retired from public life, and devoted himself almost entirely to the care of his large estates. Colonel Wilson-Patten, to call him by the name by which he was known in parliament for more than forty years, was an excellent type of Conservative. His first speech in the house of commons was a condemnation of the truck system, and he it was who first called attention to the hardships inflicted upon the working classes of Lancashire by the tax on printed cottons.

In the interests of manufacturing Lancashire, Colonel Wilson-Patten always took a serious interest, and such was his popularity among all classes that he held a seat for the county for forty-three years with only one contest. The bitter domestic sorrows which fell upon his later years—the death of both his sons and his only grandson—aroused deep sympathy even in those who knew him only by name and reputation.—St. James Budget.

Tattooed by Lightning.

Sunday I. Hough, a laborer at Castle Rock, was driving a pin in the ground with a hatchet when a bolt of lightning descended from a clear sky and struck him. The top was taken off his hat and consumed and the rim of the hat was split. His hair was singed all over his head, and upon the crown it is burned in precisely the shape of a tonsure, a spot about the size of a quarter being left wholly bare. A livid mark is left across his breast from shoulder to shoulder, and directly above his heart a hole was burned in his shirt. Around the body, below the waist, extends a belt of flesh about four inches wide, black and blue and dotted with numerous small holes. Down his back and legs are streaks, and the inside of his legs are burned. Hough remained unconscious till 10 o'clock, when he recovered his senses and is still alive.—Denver Cor. San Francisco Examiner.

Something New in the Snake Line.

A large snake of unknown species was killed by A. C. Reichelderfer, superintendent of the Lima Natural Gas company, on S.W. Doty's farm, in St. Mary's. Mr. Reichelderfer, in company with Mr. Spear, a prominent oil man, was walking over the farm when the reptile attacked him. It made several vicious attempts to bite him, but was unsuccessful, and after a few vain trials Mr. Reichelderfer finally procured a club and dispatched his snake. The monster measured six feet long and its back was covered with scales. Its skin is on exhibition in this city and has attracted great attention. Thus far no one has been able to name it.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Company Responsible.

In Michigan it is unlawful for railway companies to neglect to block the frogs on their roads, so that the feet of employees may not be caught therein. A switchman, while uncoupling cars, had his feet caught in an unblocked frog and was injured. He sued for damages, and proved that other frogs in the yard were unblocked and that the yardmaster had been notified of their condition. The court decided that it was no defense that the company had employed men to keep all frogs blocked, and that proper material had been furnished for that purpose, because the negligence of the employees was the negligence of the company.—New York Sun.

Electric Lights in St. Louis.

St. Louis will have over six miles of magnificently illuminated streets during the autumnal festivities. There will not be less than fifty arches, some of which are to be startling in their gorgeousness. There will be over 75,000 electric lamps and gas jets in each night's display. The electric light companies have not enough power to stand this strain in addition to the regular demands made on them, and are going to put in extra dynamos and engines for the occasion.—St. Louis Letter.

One of the strangest phenomena ever witnessed at sea was described a short time ago by Captain Thomson, of the Anchor line steamship Trinacria, that was in brief an earthquake shock at sea on July 25, followed by the appearance in the sky of a huge fiery serpent, which stretched from the zenith to the horizon.

Street car parties are the fashion at Burlington, Ia. The hostess hires a special car in which she and her guests make a tour of the line, and after the ride the party is served refreshments at the hostess' home.

Republican County Convention at Ishpeming Yesterday Did Good Work.

STRONG COUNTY TICKET PUT IN NOMINATION.

Sale of Desirable Building Lots by Cleveland Iron Company Announced—Hubbell Tonight.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

At 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the republican county convention was called to order by Mr. Gad Smith, chairman of the county committee. After reading the call for the convention Mr. Smith named Mr. A. E. Sterne, of Clarksburg, as the temporary chairman. Mr. Geo. P. Brown, of Marquette, was chosen temporary secretary, and on motion the chair appointed M. Hennessy, of Marquette; W. Fitch, of Champion; P. P. Mills, of Ishpeming; Ed. Maas, of Humboldt and J. O. St. Clair, of Republic, a committee on credentials.

A recess of ten minutes was taken to allow the committee to examine credentials and prepare a report. The committee reported the following delegates entitled to seats in the convention: Champion township—W. F. Pith, J. H. Williams, S. Kinsman. Chocoy township—Wm. B. Roberts. Ely township—A. E. Sterne. Forsyth township—J. T. Carmichael, proxy to C. G. Griffey. Humboldt township—E. A. Maas. Ishpeming township—E. A. Doty, J. F. Downing. Marquette township—A. Bertrand. Michigamme township—J. Jellison, G. A. Brown.

On motion, the chair appointed W. A. Jellison, of Marquette, J. Jones and N. Mortenson, of Ishpeming, a committee on permanent organization. A recess of ten minutes was taken to allow the committee to prepare a report. Its report recommended W. Fitch, of Champion, for permanent chairman and G. P. Brown, of Marquette, for secretary, which recommendation was concurred in by the convention.

It was then moved that the convention proceed to ballot for candidates for county offices, each delegate voting for himself. John Jones, of Ishpeming, and V. B. Cochran, of Marquette, were appointed tellers. The convention proceeded to take an informal ballot for a candidate for sheriff, which resulted as follows: John Glode, 17; J. Broad, 29; T. Paul, 4; Bennetts, 2; Matthews, 1; Adams, 1. Total vote cast, 54.

A second informal ballot was then taken with the following result: Broad, 34; Glode, 18; Paul, 3; Adams, 1. Total number of votes cast, 56. Mr. Broad having a clear majority of all the votes cast, the ballot was made formal and Mr. Broad was declared the nominee of the convention for the office of sheriff.

Nels Majhannu was then unanimously nominated for judge of probate. On motion, an informal ballot was taken for county clerk, which resulted as follows: Gad Smith, 43; William Verran, 7; Samuel Redfern, 3; blank, 1. The ballot was made formal and Mr. Smith was declared nominated.

Then an informal ballot was taken on candidates for county treasurer. It stood: J. Mitchell, 22; G. A. St. Clair, 14; Adam Kangas, 18; A. Bouslon, 2. A second informal ballot gave as a result: Mitchell, 26; St. Clair, 13; Kangas, 17. A formal ballot was then ordered, and it gave the victory to Mr. Mitchell, who received 35 votes out of 56 cast, Kangas dropping to 5 and St. Clair receiving 16.

An informal ballot for prosecuting attorney was next in order. It gave H. O. Young 35 votes, H. S. Hill 13 and Carey 4. It was made formal and Mr. Young was declared duly nominated.

J. E. Dalliba of Marquette and Frank M. Bell of Negaunee were nominated for circuit court commissioners. Geo. F. Cummings was made the candidate for county surveyor by acclamation, and L. P. Cray and Sam C. Rogers were put on for coroners in the same manner.

The convention then passed a vote of thanks to Landlord Outhwaite, of the Nelson house, for courtesies extended, and adjourned to make way for the assembly district conventions. These were duly called to order and did their work promptly by nominating Hon. George Wagner of Marquette for representative in the state legislature from the first district and Hon. John Jones of Ishpeming from the second.

Lots for Sale.

The Cleveland Iron Mining company announces in this morning's MINING JOURNAL the sale of building lots recently platted by that company between North Third and Oak streets, which will open at the company's office in this city on next Monday morning, the 17th inst., at 9 o'clock. These lots are well located and very desirable in every respect. They are but a few blocks from the center of the city, with sidewalks running to the borders of the tract, which lies in close proximity to the water works and sewers. The lots possess many advantages of great value to purchasers who desire building sites for homes. The adjoining property on the north side of Strawberry Hill as well as that embraced in the Excelsior addition, is considered among the most valuable in Ishpeming, and several of the finest residences in the city will be found there. Streets and alleys are laid out and the lots have all been cleared of stumps, stones, etc. Most of the lots are on high ground and will afford excellent building sites, and in addition to this the soil is well adapted to gardening. Many will undoubtedly take advantage of this sale to secure a site for a home. The terms are one-third down and balance in five years.

Died of Typhoid Fever.

John Demerse, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Demerse, died at the home of his parents in this city at 4 o'clock yesterday morning of typhoid fever, after an illness of three weeks. The deceased was 19 years of age and an exceedingly bright young man. For the past five and a half years he has been employed as clerk in the furniture store of R. Maxwell, and a more gentlemanly lad never stood behind a counter. He was highly esteemed by Mr. Maxwell and all his acquaintances. His loss will be a heart-rending blow to his parents, as he was one of the main supports of a large family of children.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's Catholic church under auspices of the L'Union Canadienne Franchise society, of which he was a member.

Rally Tonight.

Hon. Jay A. Hubbell, of Houghton, the robust upper peninsula statesman and stalwart republican, will address the voters of Ishpeming at the City Opera house tonight on the great issues of the campaign now in progress. Nothing more than the announcement will be needed to fill the opera house, for "Our Jay" has friends and admirers by the score in Ishpeming. Those who desire seats, or their choice of standing room, are advised to get to the hall early, for there is sure to be a rush to hear Mr. Hubbell.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Sheriff Scully and A. H. Holland of Marquette were among the numerous visitors in Ishpeming yesterday.

F. Jacob has made several changes in the interior of his barber shop which greatly improve its appearance.

Nels Majhannu is out again, having almost fully recovered from the severe injuries which he received at Trout Creek a couple of weeks ago.

Democratic caucuses will be held in the different wards tonight to select delegates to attend the city convention, which will be held at 8:30 at Braastad's club rooms.

The notorious Jimmie Driscoll, of Negaunee, spent Tuesday night in Ishpeming—not in the cooler, either, but roaming around the streets and alleys in search of a "roost," which he obtained at a late hour.

The base ball game for $100 played on Tuesday by the Setters and Regulars is liable to be followed by another game between the same clubs before many days for a larger "roll." At least that was the talk yesterday of some of the players.

Chas. Miller, the barber, has taken a chair in Joe Hooper's shop on East Pearl street. Joe is bound to employ every method to handle his trade with neatness and dispatch. By reference to another column the reader will observe that Mr. Hooper extends an invitation to his old friends to give him a call.

The funeral of the late William Heaton, who died Tuesday evening of typhoid fever, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Grace Episcopal church, under auspices of the Sons of St. George. Mr. Heaton was not a member of the Sons but the lodge members will turn out to his funeral as they have done in many similar cases of the death of a countryman.

HEATH IN OLD AGE.

Edward Collinson, Queens, N. Y., says: "I commenced using Brandreth's Pills over fifty-five years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistent use of Brandreth's Pills. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness, but four or five doses of Brandreth's Pills always cure me. Whenever my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disordered digestion or constiveness, a few doses of Brandreth's Pills restored their health at once."

MILES' NERVE AND LIVER PILLS.

An important discovery. They act on the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new principle. They speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles and constipation. Splendid for men, women and children. Smallest, mildest, surest. 30 doses for 25 cents. Samples free at F. H. Stafford & Son.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the grippe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted to diseases of the throat and lungs. Do not wait for the first symptoms of the disease, but get a bottle and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. All druggists sell the Balsam.

HEARD JAY A. HUBBELL.

Large and Appreciative Audience Listens to the ex-Congressman Talk Tariff.

HOW ABOUT THOSE NEW ELECTRIC LIGHTS?

They Have Not Yet Begun to Burn and Doubtless Will Not Until Next Year.

REPUBLICAN COMMON SENSE.

A large and attentive audience greeted Hon. Jay A. Hubbell of Houghton at the Casino last night. Mr. Hubbell devoted himself to the tariff as the leading issue of the campaign, as it in reality is, and passed other points over briefly. Mr. Hubbell's address differed from those of many campaign speakers in that he did not burden the memories of his hearers with columns of figures and ask them to cipher it out. Nor did he imitate the example of certain speakers by emitting a demagogical "calamity howl." He contented himself with calling the attention of his audience to well-known and undisputed facts as to the great difference in the condition of workingmen in this country and in other countries and then ably deduced from these facts the inevitable conclusion that the difference between the American protective and free trade systems of taxation produced this difference in the condition and prosperity of labor here and abroad. His address was a logical argument from premises which all could easily hold in mind and by clear statements he frequently showed without any formal argument whatever the absurdity of the democratic position and the disaster that would certainly result from the adoption of the free trade delusion now advocated by the democratic party.

A portion of his speech was devoted to the policy of Germany under the able guidance of Bismarck, who first brought about German unity and then turning to the United States for his model framed a protective system that had made the German empire a great manufacturing country and had raised the average wages in that country 33 percent in the last twenty years. He also spoke at length on the difference between the material prosperity and the chances for education and advancement of workingmen in this country and in foreign lands, illustrating his arguments by detailing facts of his own observation in countries across the water. The American workingman was today better fed, better clothed, better housed, his children better schooled and he could save more money than the workingman of any country under the sun. All this, said the speaker, he owed to the protective system devised by the republican party. For the sake of mere temporary cheapness the democratic party wanted to kill American industry and when our factories were closed and we all got to be farmers again we would be at the mercy of the foreign manufacturer and he could charge us what he pleased. The democratic party called itself the "Poor-man's party." It certainly was that for its policy would reduce to European poverty every American workingman.

Mr. Hubbell also devoted a small amount of attention to some of the alleged arguments which candidate Finn has been making and showed where that person's arithmetic was most woefully bad. Finn had cited from official reports the undoubtedly true statement that the average income of American workingmen is $800 per year and of English workmen $400 per year and then proceeded to emit a howl because the present average tariff on articles on which it is collected is 57 percent and that the proposed average tariff is protected only 25 percent. That is, according to Finn's revised arithmetic, $600 a year is but 25 percent better than $400 a year. Of course the American income is really 50 percent better than the English and the audience broke into a laugh at Finn's eccentric arithmetic before the speaker could finish stating the problem.

amount yearly if put in service, with no added expense in operating the plant, the objection to raising the dam as proposed on account of the cost does not seem to the MINING JOURNAL to be a tenable one. Besides, the people want the light and ought to have it. It is not the purpose of the MINING JOURNAL to criticize the board, its aim being merely to place the facts before the people. The council immediately after taking charge of the plant raised the price paid for street lamps by the city from $3.33 1/2 to $5 per month. This makes $100 a month that the city is now paying for the 60 street lamps in use above what it paid when the plant was in charge of the old board, or an increased cost to the city for street lighting of $1,200 per annum. There has been no improvement of the service to offset this; not a lamp has been changed or added on the streets just the same number of lamps burn all night, while the midnight circuit is shut off at 12 o'clock at night, as of yore. With the increased revenue obtained by taxing the people $1,200 a year more than they paid under the old regime for street lights it would seem that Mayor Adams and his associates ought to be able to put the plant in better condition than they found it. Why don't they do it? That's what the people want to know.

Weddings Yesterday.

Archie L. Rose and Miss Mary Sullivan were united in marriage yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at Bishop Vertin's residence, Father Langan pronouncing the church's blessing on their union. The bride was beautifully attired in a becoming bridal dress of cream crepe with duchesse veil. She was attended by her twin sisters, Hattie and Susie Sullivan, both attired in bewitching costumes of China silk with chef-fon trimmings. The groom was supported by Edward J. Mahan and William Charlesworth. After the nuptial ceremony came an elegant wedding breakfast and reception at the home of the bride's parents on High street. The happy pair were the recipients of many handsome and costly wedding gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Rose left on the evening train west for a wedding trip, during which they will visit St. Paul, Minneapolis, and other western cities. They will be absent about three weeks, and on their return will go to housekeeping at 117 North Third street.

At half-past ten yesterday morning Samuel Haydon and Miss Maggie Timmons spoke the vows that made them man and wife, the nuptial rite taking place at the bishop's residence. Bishop Vertin officiating. Eddie Timmons served as groomsmen and Miss Hannah Bennett as bridesmaid. An elaborate wedding breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's mother on Rock street after the ceremony to which a large company of relatives and intimate friends of the newly-wedded pair sat down. A dance at Lullier's hall last evening, given to the friends of the wedded pair by Mr. Haydon, pleasantly rounded out Mr. and Mrs. Haydon's first day of married life.

Tug-Owners Muled.

The inquiry into the failure of fishing tugs owned here to carry lights in accordance with the government regulation, growing out of the capsizing of a row-boat by one of them and the drowning of Geo. Cronmiller in consequence, has resulted in the suspension of the licenses of a couple of the tug masters, Edmond Allie, of the tug City of Marquette, and Jesse Goodwin, of the Ethel J., for 90 days by the local inspectors of hulls and boilers, Messrs. A. O. Kruger and C. M. Gooding, and the reference of their cases and that of John Parker of the Rose, to United States District Attorney Palmer for such further action as he may deem advisable. Parker's license had expired by limitation, so he could not be reached in the same manner as the other offenders, but he will be amenable to a fine just the same.

The fine is $200 apiece and if this is paid that will end the matter. The question of responsibility for Cronmiller's death was not gone into, although some of the evidence taken bore on that point.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and, all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
