"WELL-BRED" STATIONERY.

"The good breeding and good taste of a lady—much abused word—are subtly yet conspicuously shown in the stationery she uses."

It may seem strange to speak of stationery as "well-bred" but we take the liberty to employ the phrase as a compact one to designate the kind of writing materials used by well bred people in their correspondence.

We have just received a full line of Hard & Pike's correct styles in paper and envelopes. The prices vary but it is all "well-bred."

WORLD'S FAIR DEDICATED.

Columbus day was celebrated in every city, town, village and hamlet of the United States yesterday. Dispatches to the Associated Press describing the celebration in more than five-score principal cities of the country are omitted by the MINING JOURNAL this morning to make room for a fuller account of the dedicatory ceremonies at Chicago.

Over one hundred thousand people were present at the exercises in the great manufactures building on the World's Fair grounds—the largest structure ever erected by man and the largest assemblage ever gathered under one roof.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—In the presence of 100,000 people and amid the echoes of the largest chorus assembled in the history of modern times the World's Columbian Exposition was formally dedicated today by the dignitaries of the nation.

The event was one well designed to inspire the loyalty of the American heart. Marking, as it did, the first international fair to be participated in by every civilized nation on the globe the occasion was equally significant in being devoid of that pomp and pageantry which have characterized the world's fairs of monarchial Europe.

The inauguration ceremonies of today were a triumph to republican institutions—a triumph greater than all of the glories of war. To the parent republic of the western hemisphere had been reserved the distinction of so winning the good will and admiration of all the world that kings, emperors, czars, sultans, mikados, khans, have each extended the hand of international fellowship to the American people that crowned their benediction and approval the exposition to be held under the patronage of the Republic.

As the discovery of Columbus marks an epoch in the world's knowledge so the occasion of today marks an epoch in the world's civilization. It means that the petty jealousies of the past have been put away by the enlightened nations of the earth and relegated to the ages that have gone and upon a neutral ground nations, like men, can assemble in fraternal greeting and recognize that bond of common humanity that makes brothers of us all.

The fierce rivalry of arms has given place to the friendly competition of commerce. The selfish greed for power has given way for a thirst for enlightenment and a desire for national and intellectual development. The Old World is no longer impatient of the progress of the New. With bowed heads the diplomatic representatives of the crowned rulers of the Old World gave attentive audience to the ceremonies of today and voiced no dissent when the orators of the hour reviewed the glories of republican institutions and indicated that the greater progress lay in the government by the people and for the people.

But more eloquent than the silver-tongued orators of the day in attesting the grandeur of the Republic was the modest spectacle of the greatest international exposition of the age ushered into being not by the command of a crowned head or hereditary authority but by the acclaim of a hundred thousand freemen, each man the peer of his fellows and each a sovereign in the vested rights of the Republic.

The scene presented by the vast gathering in the great manufactures building was one never to be forgotten. In many respects it was without precedent. Everything was on the order of the superlative. The dedication hall, the manufactures and liberal arts building, is the largest structure ever erected by man and it has gathered the largest crowd ever assembled beneath a single roof. In the audience were probably more distinguished Americans than have ever been seen together on any common occasion in the history of the Republic—members of the cabinet, cabinet officers, governors of states, senators and congressmen, admirals and generals with all the regalia of command, princes of the church with their insignia of apostolic authority, scientists who are fast wresting from jealous nature the problems of the ages—all these gathered here today to do honor to the great silent student of 400 years ago who was the pioneer of it all, who led the van of human thought and manly daring and gave to the world a new continent and to posterity an imperishable reverence for the inspired seaman, Christopher Columbus.

This was the name that was in every lip, in every ode and song, that crowned every prayer, that found utterance in the opening prayer and was softly breathed in the closing benediction. All did him honor and time, that ripens and mellow the gratitude of nations, after 400 years gives supreme homage to his memory and name.

As seven Grecian cities claimed the birthplace of Homer centuries after he had beggared his bread through their streets and moldered unhonored into dust, so art and science and invention and religion all vied today in claiming Columbus as their own. The president of the exposition claimed him as the author of the national development of this age and hemisphere. The eloquent Depew characterized him as the pioneer of art, science, invention and higher civilization, who had sailed from a country where "force was the sole source and exercise of authority both by church and state." And the great Catholic Cardinal Gibbons, prince of the church and American citizen, almost in the same minute claimed him as a zealous representative of the church of Rome, an apostle who was inspired with the sublime ambition of carrying the light of the gospel to a people buried in the darkness of idolatry.

It remained for a woman to pronounce the only suspicion of disparagement of Columbus. In an address nearly twice as long as the average oration of the day Mrs. Palmer of the board of lady managers only mentioned the great navigator once and that was to declare, "The fact that the general government had just discovered woman" to be of more importance than Columbus' discovery of America. There was a slight ripple of surprise at this almost irrelevant statement but the audience good naturedly condoned the offense by the reflection that the declaration was probably due to the enthusiasm of a woman in being accorded a prominent part in the ceremonies of the day.

The addresses of Chauncey M. Depew and Henry Waterson were well received and accepted as highly appropriate to the occasion. The reception accorded the great Kentucky editor amounted almost to an ovation and it was evident there was an intense desire on the part of the Chicago portion of the audience to atone for that criticism which impelled Congressman Breckenridge to decline the honor of delivering the chief oration of the day. At 1:45 a vast cheer went up from the multitude as the vanguard of the distinguished officials and guests of the occasion appeared on the platform. Heading the column was Hon. Lambert of Chicago, ex-United States minister to Russia, who acted as the escort to the diplomatic corps. At his right and leaning lightly on his arm was Baron Fava, the distinguished diplomatic representative of Italy, the dean of the diplomatic corps of Washington and following by twos, attired in brilliant uniforms, came the remainder of the distinguished representatives of the Old World and the lands beyond the sea.

At this instant at a signal from the leader of the chorus 5,000 handkerchiefs were unfurled to the breeze at the extreme south end of the hall and waved in honor of the guests of the occasion. Instantly the vast audience took up the spirit of the occasion and 100,000 hands were extended to the sides and 100,000 handkerchiefs of varied colors welcomed the dignitaries of sister nations and repeated cheers shook the massive steel arches. The scene was an impressive one and as the enthusiasm deepened every heart was thrilled by the inspiration of the hour.

Majestically and with the stately tread of a military detachment the diplomatic corps marched to their seats in the front and at the right hand of the chairman. The members of the cabinet of President Harrison, conducted by Vice-President Morton, came next in line and another might cheer went up as they were escorted to the seats reserved for them. The justices of the supreme court of the United States came next and following the judiciary were the representatives of the church of Rome—Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland and the Papal envoy, Archbishop Satolli. The military commanders, federal and state, brought up the rear and another wave of enthusiasm swept over the multitude as Generals Schofield and Miles were recognized in the front row. Upon the stage of this vast building were now represented a larger number of generals and officers of the United States army than have ever assembled since the great review at Washington after the surrender and cessation of hostilities. The congress of the United States, as represented by the senators and members of the house of representatives, followed next. A minute later the governors of states, led by the best known of them all, William McKinley of Ohio, appeared in sight and the cheers which followed were the climax of the enthusiasm as each executive was recognized by his friends.

There was a pause of several minutes at the center of the stage as each detachment arrived but beyond this there was no confusion in seating the thousands that were to occupy platform and stage. It was after 2:30 o'clock when the last guest was seated on the stage and then the tattoo of a hundred drums at the south end of the building commanded sudden attention. The audience accepted this as the signal for silence and there was an instant hush in the hum of voices. Every eye turned to the south, 600 feet away, where the largest chorus of modern times was seated. A moment later and a signal from the leader ushered in the first exercise of the program—the "Columbian March"—composed by Prof. John K. Paine of Cambridge, in honor of the day and event.

Probably never before was the significance of the human voice so fully demonstrated. A chorus of 5,000 voices is a grand aggregate but in this vast building, over a quarter of a mile in length, those at the extreme north could scarcely have caught sufficient of the sound to distinguish the melody.

After prayer by Bishop Charles H. Fowler of California Mayor Hempstead Washburne delivered the address of welcome and tendered the freedom of the city to the assembled guests. Miss Sarah C. LeMoine then read the dedicatory ode, written by Miss Harriet Monroe of Chicago. Following came the presentation by the director of works of the master artists of the exposition and the award to them of special commemorative medals. Mrs. Potter Palmer then delivered her address, "Work of the Board of Lady Managers," President Higginbotham of the World's Columbian Exposition then tendered the buildings to President Palmer of the World's Columbian Commission, who in turn presented them to the president of the United States for dedication.

Vice-President Morton, on behalf of President Harrison, who is detained at Washington by the hopeless illness of his wife, then dedicated the buildings in a brief and appropriate address.

At the conclusion of the sentences of the vice-president's address and as he pronounced the dedicatory words the members of the foreign diplomatic corps arose simultaneously to their feet in graceful approval of the sentiment and the example so delicately set by the representatives of foreign nations was instantly followed by all the many thousands assembled beneath the vast roof. The "Hallelujah" chorus that followed added to the deep solemnity of the scene and the true gravity of the moment was ineffably impressed on every mind and when, at its conclusion, Henry Waterson advanced to deliver the formal dedicatory oration, the great editor received an ovation worthy to crown a life-time of glory.

A dead silence reigned over the acres of humanity as the orator of the day delivered his address:

THE DEDICATORY ORATION.

Among the wonders of creative and constructive genius in course of preparation for this Festival of the Nation whose formal and official inauguration has brought us together, will presently be witnessed upon the margin of the inter-oceanic which gives to this noble and beautiful city the character and rank of a maritime metropolis, a Spectatorium, wherein the Columbian epic will be told with realistic effects surpassing the most splendid and impressive achievements of the modern stage. No one who has had the good fortune to see the models of this extraordinary work of art, can have failed to be moved by the union, which it embodies, of the antique in history and the current in life and thought, as beginning with the world's mendicant fainting upon the hillside of Santa Rabinia, it traces the strange adventures of the Genoese seer from the royal camp of Santa Fe to the sunny coasts of the Isles of Inde; through the weary watches of the endless night, whose sentinel stars seemed to mock but not to guide; through the trackless and shoreless wastes of the mystic sea, spread day by day to bear upon every rise and fall of its heaving bosom, the death of a fair, fond hope, the birth of fantastic fears, the peerless and thrilling revelation and all that has followed to the very moment that beholds us here, citizens, freemen, equal shareholders in the miracle of American civilization and development. Is there one among us who does not thank his Maker that he has lived to join in this universal celebration, this jubilee of mankind!

We have in our own time seen the Republic survive an irrepressible conflict, sown in the blood and marrow of the social order. We have seen the Federal Union, not too strongly put together in the first place, come out of a great war of sections, stronger than when it went into it, its faith renewed, its credit rehabilitated, and its flag saluted with love homage by sixty millions of God-fearing men and women, thoroughly reconciled and homogeneous. We have seen the Federal constitution outlast the strain, not merely of a Reconstruction ordeal and a Presidential impeachment, but a disputed count of the Electoral vote, a Congressional dead-lock, an extra constitutional tribunal, yet standing firm against the assaults of its enemies, whilst yielding itself with admirable flexibility to the needs of the country and the time. And, finally, we saw the gigantic fabric of the Federal Government transferred from hands that had held it a quarter of a century to other hands, without a protest, although so close was the poll in the final count that a single blanket might have covered both contestants for the chief magistracy office. With such a record behind us, who shall be afraid of the future?

The young manhood of the country may take this lesson from those of us who lived through times that did, indeed, try men's souls—when pressed down from day to day by awful responsibilities and suspense, each night brought a terror with every thought of the morrow, and when, look where we would, there were light and hope nowhere—that God reigns and wills, and that this fair land, and has always been, in His own keeping.

The curse of slavery is gone. It was a joint heritage of woe to be wiped out and expiated in blood and flame. The mirage of the Confederacy has vanished. It was essentially bucolic, a vision of Arcadia, the dream of a most attractive economic fallacy. The Constitution is no longer a rope of sand. The exact relation of the States to the Federal Government left open to double construction by the authors of our organic being because they could not agree among themselves and the paramount object, has been clearly and definitely fixed by the three last amendments to the original chart, which constitute the real treaty of peace between the North and South and seal our bonds as a nation forever.

The republic represents at last the letter and the spirit of the sublime declaration. The fetters that bound her to the earth are burst asunder. The rags that degraded her beauty are cast aside. Like the enchanted princess in the legend, clad in spotless raiment, and wearing a crown of living light, she steps in the perfection of her maturity upon the scene of this, the latest and proudest of her victories, to bid a welcome to the world!

COLONEL HECKER is making a strong canvass in his district and is very likely to carry it against Chipman. He is very strong with the workingmen of the district, as he has been a large employer of labor and has always used his men with the utmost fairness and consideration. The republicans are hopeful of redeeming the district under his leadership and have an excellent prospect of doing it.

GENERAL SICKLES has been nominated for congress by the democrats of the Tenth district in the city of New York, and accepts the nomination "as the very best proof" he can give of his "loyalty to Grover Cleveland." The old humbug! He is loyal to General SICKLES, who brought back with him from the battle fields of the rebellion a robust appetite for office that the democrats have had to satisfy time and again to keep him in the ranks. His ridiculous pretense that he accepts a nomination the democrats have been driven into giving him to prove his loyalty to Cleveland will not deceive anybody. He sulked on Cleveland in order to bring the party to time and succeeded in getting what he wanted. SICKLES is and always was a windy old fraud.

THE Iron Port of Escanaba indulges in these comments on a couple of newspaper ventures that haven't panned out well in its last issue, and what it says is so much to the point as to merit being "passed around." The editor of the Calumet Conglomerate denies that he said his creditors might "go to h—l," but that is not the question. Has he paid his printers? Or did he put his property out of his hands so that he could avoid paying them? The public would pardon the alleged profanity; it will not condone the cheating of those who labored for him.

The Iron Mountain Tribune is said to be in a financial strait, and an effort has been made this week to help it through the campaign. We trust it may tide over its troubles.—Current. Well then we don't. The field is only large enough for one republican paper and the establishment of a second benefitted neither party, the city nor its proprietor, and the sooner it gives up the ghost the better. Every little coterie of soreheads, in every little town, wants its "organ" and some fool printer is always found to take its promises of support and supply the organ, run it awhile on tick, and get into "financial straits," too often dragging with it another. Let it die.

"PRACTICAL LABOR REFORM"

In the American Journal of Politics for October is printed an article by G. W. Weippiert suggesting a "practical labor reform" that every workingman—aye, and many a professional and business man—can read with profit if he but makes use of his suggestions that it contains which apply to his individual case. It is so sensible and true that the MINING JOURNAL takes pleasure in reproducing it.

What the American workingmen needs more than anything else is common-sense instruction in the art of saving. Professional agitators, chronic gamblers and thoughtless spendthrifts have but little influence over men of steady habits. Possession of real estate or ready money—no matter how small the amount may be—is the mainstay of conservatism, and as soon as a laboring man has accumulated his first hundred dollars, the agitator loses his grip on him and the true cause of labor has found another adherent. The man who is determined to lay by a certain per centage of his earnings can do so without denying himself any of the necessities of life. As his determination to save grows stronger, his liquor and tobacco bills grow smaller. Every married artisan, even though his income is but $15 a week, can, without sacrificing the comfort of his family, save $2.50 out of his weekly earnings. Two dollars and fifty cents a week invested in a legitimate building and loan association will entitle the investor to a principal of $2,000 at the expiration of a period ranging from eight to nine years. In other words, the systematic saving of about 16 per cent of his earnings enables the ordinary American laborer to own a cozy cottage in a few years.

Of course, a man determined to provide for his family by investing his surplus, cannot afford to participate in groundless strikes. His interests—being of a more substantial nature than those of agitators—demand close application to work, and he strives to make his trades union what it really should be—a purely benevolent organization, which protects its members from competition with incapable workmen, and stands by them in the hour of sickness and adversity, exercising its powers as arbiter of labor troubles only at critical times, when organized capital attempts to usurp unjust prerogatives by arbitrary and helioid methods. The conservative labor element owes its strength to the prudence of its members. It does not precipitate strikes, but submits its demands and grievances to arbitration. Backed by the capital honesty acquired by its members, it becomes a power in the business and social affairs of the country, beside which ephemeral labor organizations with anarchistic and socialist tendencies present a sorry sight.

The power of capital controlled by corporations is great, but the power of the capital invested by workmen in homes is infinitely greater. The former develops element over the resources of the country; the latter fortifies the social and moral institution of the land against the attacks of reckless adventures and foreign plotters. Economy, then, is the only safe road to wealth and genuine happiness, and the sooner this truth is realized by all American workmen the sooner will the war, which has for many years been waged between capital and labor, be brought to a satisfactory end. Judicious saving of surplus earnings, reasonable ideas concerning the proper mode of living, and temperance in appetite and language are the cardinal principles upon which labor's anti-poverty society must be founded.

"But," some will ask, "does capital owe anything to labor save the payment of a small weekly stipend, and do you expect wage-workers to be satisfied with whatever greedy employers may be willing to allow them?" By no means. Labor organizations composed of sober, industrious toilers, and directed by thoughtful men, will have public sympathy on their side whenever corporations or other "soulless" employers should attempt to enforce an unjust reduction of wages or objectionable regulations, and the public would see the laboring class protected in its rights. The time will soon arrive when capital, by the force of circumstances and by self-interest, will be compelled to share some of its profits with labor. Scores of profit-sharing plans and reward-of-merit schemes have, within the past two years, been given a trial by progressive employers, and from day to day new propositions calculated to unite capital and labor are advanced. But—and let all shiftless workmen note it—the beneficiaries of these systems are the sober, faithful employes, and those most injured by their adoption are the grumbling, improvident workers, who, in most instances, are discharged before these reciprocal reforms are inaugurated.

His Waterloo. "Well, since you ask me as a friend to tell you frankly what's on my mind, I may as well confess to you that I am in deep financial distress," said Johnson to an acquaintance the other evening. "I ain't in it; I'm completely knocked out, and I've got to make a change of some kind."

"Why, I'm surprised to hear this!" said the friend, "I thought you were prospering nicely when I met you last spring. How did your reverses come about?" "In this way: We moved into a new flat in May, and another family moved in just overhead. We were friendly for a time till they rented a secondhand piano. We thought we'd play even and so we rented one. They began giving their daughter lessons, and in order to even up the noise we followed suit. They bought their boys a cornet and a snare drum, and we got ours a trombone and a bass drum. Then they bought a horse fiddle, an accordion and a hurdy-gurdy, and that's the way it's been going ever since until I'm done up.

"I've got two wagon loads of noise making instruments at my house, but my neighbor goes right on buying everything new and noisy that he hears of, and to make matters worse he's got children enough to play all the instruments at one time. If I had the money I'drown that man out if I had to buy Gabriel's trumpet to do it with, but I'm at the end of my string and I confess that I've got to retreat. I'm awful sorry they ever rented that old piano."—Chicago Times.

Not Much of an Affair.

The tall Lord Stradbroke served under Wellington in Spain and afterward fought at Quatre Bras, but was somewhat disabled from being at Waterloo. He was, moreover, almost the only Tory landlord whose abilities I ever heard Charles Austin praise. When he was staying with my father the conversation turned on the extraordinary passage in which Victor Hugo attributes Napoleon's fall to the divine jealousy (il genit Dieu), and in which, so far as he assigns to human or rather to British agency, any share in the giant's overthrow, he would have us believe that the credit was due to the British army alone, and not to Napoleon's rival.

"I heard the duke say," remarked Lord Stradbroke, "that if he had had his old peninsular army at Waterloo it would have been an affair of four hours. These were his words." This is remarkable as being the utterance of one who was never given to boasting.—Fortnightly Review

How to Strengthen the Eyes.

A simple and excellent plan to preserve and strengthen the eyes is this: Every morning pour some cold water into your washing bowl; at the bottom of the bowl place a silver coin or some other bright object; then put your face into the water with the eyes open and fixed on the object at the bottom; move your head from side to side gently, and you will find that this morning bath will make your eyes brighter and stronger, and preserve them beyond the ordinary allotted time.—New York Telegram.

HEALTH IN OLD AGE.

Edward Collinson, Queens, N. Y., says: "For fifty-five years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistent use of Brandreth's Pills. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness, but four or five doses of Brandreth's Pills always cure me. Whenever my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disorders of digestion or constiveness, a few doses of Brandreth's Pills restored their health at once."

TOO MUCH OF A RISK.

It is not unusual for colds contracted in the fall to hang on all winter. In such cases catarrh or chronic bronchitis are almost sure to result. A fifty-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold. Can you afford to risk so much for so small an amount? This remedy is intended especially for bad colds and croup, and can always be depended upon. For sale by H. H. Stafford Son & Co. Druggists.

A CURE FOR CHOLERA.

There is no use of any suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know—W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This Remedy was used there with great success. For sale by H. H. Stafford Son & Co. Druggists.

MICHIGAMME MATTERS.

A republican rally was held at Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening which was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The speaker of the evening was Hon. Marcus Peterson and he made a splendid argument for the republican cause.

A democratic meeting was held at Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening. It was addressed by a Mr. Phillips of Chicago. It drew a good crowd, and the speaker obtained a liberal allowance of applause.

Mr. Doody, who had held down the operator's chair in the D. S. S. & A. box car depot the past six months, left this week for his home in lower Michigan.

One shipping at the Imperial mine ceased Thursday, the men having finished their contract of loading five thousand tons of ore from the stock pile.

Mrs. P. Dolf returned on Wednesday from her old home in Wisconsin where she went to attend the funeral of her sister.

Mr. Morris Lausin has resigned the position of clerk for M. Levin, which he has held for the past few months.

Our citizens observed Columbian day and most of the stores were closed during the day.

A SPRAY OF HONEYSUCKLE.

I broke, one day, a slender stem— Thick set with little golden horns— Half bud, half blossom, and a gem— Such as one finds in autumn morn. When all the grass with dew is strung. On every fairy bugle hung.

I dropped it, careless, in a place Where no light shone, and straight forgot Its delicate, dewy, flowery grace. Yet from the dark, neglected spot, Stoic, unresenting, through the gloom Sweet breaths that gladdened the whole room.

Whereat I thought, O heart of mine! A lesson for thee, plain to read: Thou needest not that light should shine, Or any man thy beauty heed; Enough—if haply this be so— That thou hast sweetness to bestow! —Mary Bradley in Harper's Bazar.

FOUR ECONOMY.

It is indeed a melancholy fact that many comparatively well to do American families fall into the habit of pinching the stomach in order that the back may riot in purple and fine linen. It was told recently of a family who lived in a brownstone front and made a great show that they invariably sat down to half rations at their meals. The family consisted of seven, while the butcher's and grocer's bills showed that comfortable provision was made for not more than four persons. The consequence? Why, that they were always quarreling and fighting of course, the result of flaccid nerves and impoverished blood.

The poor, ill paid slave who used to live with them and do the work of two slaves told this tale out of school after her happy emancipation. "Why, bless your heart, ma'am," she said to her new mistress, who was helping her to make the beds in the modest flat, "savin your prudence, they used to cut the bread that thin that you could see through it, and then count the slices. They'd lock up the loaf after, and ye'd git no more, even if you was starvin after a hard day's washin or housecleanin. An, wusser nor that," she continued indignantly, "they was that mane that they'd sneak the bit o' butter off o' the table and put on the molasses when they see me a-comin." Living on these lines, who among us could not afford to live in a brownstone mansion!—New York News.

Superstition of the Cuckoo.

In a celebrated French romance of the Thirteenth century, published by Meon, M. Renart and his wife hear the cuckoo's notes early in the morning as they lie awake, talking and planning what they will do and be in the future that lies before them. M. Renart thinks he would like to know how many years will be given him in which to enjoy life, so he implores the cuckoo to tell him. "Cuckoo, tell me truth, how many years have I to live? I wish very much to know, cuckoo." The cuckoo answered promptly thirteen times. Then M. Renart turns to his wife and embraces her. "Did you hear?" he asks. "Sir," said Mme. Renart, being a dutiful wife and very respectful to her lord and master, "Sir, I heard gladly, and demand, 'Sir, I heard gladly, and demand, 'I am quite rejoiced.'—All the Year Round.

THE GREATEST STRIKE.

Among the great strikes that of Dr. Miles in discovering New Heart Cure has proven itself to be one of the most important. The demand for it has become astonishing. Already the treatment of heart disease is being revolutionized, and many unexpected cures effected. It soon relieves short breath, fluttering, pains in the side, arm, shoulder, weak and hungry spells, oppression, swelling of ankles, smothering and heart dropsy. Dr. Miles' book on Heart and Nervous Diseases, free. The unequalled new heart cure is sold and guaranteed by H. H. Stafford, Son & Co., also his Restorative Nervine for headache, fits, sprees, hot flashes, nervous chills, opium habit, etc.

A REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE COUGH.

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the gripe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted to diseases of the throat and lungs. Do not wait for the first symptoms of the disease, but get a bottle and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the gripe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. All druggists sell the Balsam.

WENT OFF SUPERBLY. Negaunee's Observance of Columbus Day Proves the City's Patriotism. A Case of Brutal Indifference That is Exciting Much Comment in the City.

IT WAS A SUCCESS. The Columbus day celebration in Negaunee yesterday was a most complete and gratifying success in every particular. Every society in the city was out in full force with but two or three exceptions.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the exercises at the school building but the best of order prevailed throughout. The Knights of Pythias were especially noticeable by reason of their splendid uniform and their perfect drilling, a fine exhibition of which was given in front of the Breitung House.

Something which is very unfavorably commented upon is the fact that ever since the drowning of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Reiner Hoch 'not a word of sympathy or offer of assistance has been tendered the bereaved parents by the owners of the Pendill mine, upon whose property the accident occurred.

They Did Nobly. The Columbus day observance exercises at McDonald's opera house last evening by the pupils of St. Paul's Catholic church were very pleasing and successful. The number of tickets sold was very large and the hall was crowded to its utmost capacity.

Several Arguments to Prove That She Is Not, as She Feels, Insane. A lady who hastened to explain that she is "not a drinking woman," that she is "not addicted to the use of drugs," in short that she has no habits that would tend to impair the intellect, cites an experience that has caused her much disquietude.

There Is Certainly Danger Ahead For Us. We do Not Mean to Cause Alarm in This Community. But There is a Grave Matter Which Demands Attention.

It is a sad and alarming fact that the community in which our paper circulates is terribly afflicted at present with a most serious form of disease which fifty years ago was almost unknown.

Just why there should be such an enormous increase of nervous affections among our residents is difficult to understand, yet as all can see, such diseases are becoming fearfully common.

DEMOCRATS HOLD A POW-WOW.

Wound Up Columbus Day With a Political Meeting. That yesterday was Columbus Day did not deter the democrats of Marquette from getting in work for the party, and during the day the faithful were kept in mind of the fact that there was to be a meeting at Fraternity Hall in the evening...

President Moore officiated as master of ceremonies. Mr. Clay was suffering from hoarseness and to make the onerous task of defending the democratic platform and explaining the party's record lighter on that gentleman Mr. Peters was drafted into service for the opening speech...

Mr. Peters was an easy talker but it is some times rather difficult for his hearers to keep track of his argument. He seems to be unreasonably prejudiced against a man down in Ohio named McKinley, who has an offspring familiarly known as "Bill" who Mr. Peters seems to think has not been brought up in the way that he should go...

Then came "our own Tim." Mr. Nester launched into a characteristic arraignment of the republican party on its land grant policy, and dwelt at great length on what the democrats had done for the homesteaders of the upper peninsula. This is his favorite subject with Mr. Nester, and as he has heretofore said through the MINING JOURNAL all that he did in his speech it is not necessary to here re-enumerate the points of argument last night...

Disgrace to the State. It is a disgrace to the state of Michigan that sufficient accommodations are not provided for the unfortunate insane. In nearly every county jail there are insane patients confined who ought to be in an asylum but are there because there is no room in the state institutions. James Malone, a violent maniac, is now confined in the jail here. Yesterday while Supervisor F. W. Reed was inspecting the jail Malone became violent and made a rush at the visitors. His watch had not yet been taken from him and he swung it round by its chain and struck Sheriff Scully in the face, cutting the latter's lip against his teeth. The sheriff at once tackled the maniac and after a severe struggle succeeded in subduing him. In the struggle Malone fixed his teeth in Mr. Scully's right hand and nearly took a piece out of it, holding on to the flesh like a bulldog. It was with considerable difficulty that the maniac was finally subdued and put in a strait-jacket. Supervisor Reed was inspecting the jail as one of a committee of the county board appointed for that purpose and expressed himself as determined to urgently recommend an immediate appropriation to fit up better quarters and to procure additional appliances for the care of the insane of the jail, since it seems that violent cases must be kept there.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS.

The oldest inhabitant is ransacking his memory to recall a more delightful fall than we are having this year.

Thompson & Russell have inaugurated a three-days special sale system and are offering goods at remarkably low prices. See their announcement.

The ladies of the Benevolent society will be at the Washington street school between the hours of two and four this afternoon to receive clothing for the poor.

Rev. J. M. Waterman's subject tomorrow morning will be "Absentees Who Are Missed" and in the evening he will preach on "What Columbus Accomplished."

Mr. A. Y. Wilcox, the new general secretary, will lead the young men's meeting at the Young Men's Christian association chapel Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All men are earnestly requested to be present.

The street railway company's construction force will resume work today on the Front street section of its extension. The men were given a lay-off yesterday to do honor to the memory of Columbus and assist in celebrating the discovery of America.

On Wednesday next the Scandinavian voters of Marquette will be addressed in their own tongue by Mr. O. C. Peterson, of Des Moines, Iowa, who is said to be a pleasing and forcible speaker. The meeting will be held at the rink under the auspices of the Scandinavian Republican club.

A cobweb party given by Miss Ethel Lovejoy and Miss Hamill in honor of A. W. Lovoy last evening. The feature of the evening was a large cobweb stretched across the archway between the parlors, which each one present had to help untangle and when untangled each one found some trophy on the end of their string.

W. S. Lamb, representing E. H. Husher & Co., photographers, Detroit, is in the city taking photos of the principal buildings and prominent men of Marquette. He also took a few shots at Presque Isle, which place he thinks has no equal in beauty in Michigan, and few elsewhere. The pictures will form part of a collection to be exhibited in the Michigan building at the World's Fair.

Troops of school children carrying flags gave the streets a Fourth of July aspect yesterday. But the resounding cannon cracked and the incessant annoying noises, were wanting, much to everybody's satisfaction. The national holiday would be a much more popular one with all but the small boy if it were to be celebrated on the same plan as Columbus day was yesterday.

Owing to the work of repairing the sewer on Front street, the street cars are now compelled to stop in front of Fraternity block, greatly to the inconvenience of people who have become accustomed to catching them further down the street and riding to and from their homes at meal times. The obstruction will not last long, but while it lasts it serves to show what a necessity to the public the street railway is becoming.

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rutherford, whose home is on West Ridge street, gave that worthy couple a surprise party Thursday evening. All spent a very pleasant evening, and dancing was kept up until 3 o'clock in the morning. Though they were completely "surprised" by the invasion of their home, Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford rallied to the emergency, and did all in their power to entertain their visitors, and succeeded finely.

There was a pleasing absence of disorder on the streets yesterday, although the drinking places were kept open. If there was a man in the city under the influence of liquor he did not come under the notice of the MINING JOURNAL reporters. It was observed as a holiday and everybody was out, as the day was fine, but there seemed to be no disposition anywhere to indulge in drinking and the day passed off as quietly as though every saloon in town had been sealed up by the state law.

Sighs on Bridges. The front stoop offers facilities for courtship, and among the young people of Brooklyn the front stoop is a popular summer institution. The Brooklyn bridge is a bridge of sighs. It is the high bridges over the Central tracks in upper New York, however, that are most ardently worked for this purpose.

An evening stroll that takes the observer over one of these bridges will show dozens of couples leaning against the rails and apparently investigating the myriad tracks and colored signal lights and passing trains below. A manly arm will be withdrawn from a slender waist as you pass, to be stealthily slipped back again within the moment. The skirmish of hearts is going on there while you are asleep or at the theater. It is the engagement ground of the poor and lowly who live in tenements and have no front gate and no doorsteps. For them the bridge on these warm nights is a dish of ice cream with two spoons in it.—New York Herald.

All on Account of a Dog.

A devoted husband who was lately asked after the health of a dog by a friend who had presented it to his wife exclaimed: "De dog! De dog! You question me about dat dog! De dog is vell enoof! Mein wife, she vant to go to Saratoga, unt she take the dog mit her, unt ven she take him into de car de conductor he object! Unt vot my wife do? She ride in de baggage car all de way from New York to Saratoga mit dat dog! Unt ven ve go to de hotel de proprietaire he say, 'Ve take no dogs here! but he make me pay for my room vot is engaged! Unt ve go to some other hotel. De same voris, 'Ve take no dogs here!' Unt my wife, who like always de best, she go into a cheap boarding house and make herself so uncomfortable for dat dog! You tink somebody shoot him by mistake? I vill gif one hunter tollars to somebody if he shoot dat dog by mistake! Dat dog! You question me about dat dog!—New York Times.

Bells at the Exposition.

There will be a great gathering of the bells at the Columbian exposition. Among them will be the old slave bell that used to call the slaves of Fontainebleau to work in Louisiana, that cracked its sides for joy when it rang the emancipation peal, since which, owing to the fissure, it has never rung again.

The first bell ever rung in this country pealed from the first church built in this country, erected in 1494 by Columbus at Santo Domingo. It is now in the city of Washington.—Detroit Free Press.

The Swordfish.

The swordfish caught by the Maine fishing vessels are dressed at sea and packed in ice. The head is kept and sold for fifteen cents, and averages as much profit a pound as the edible part. The head yields oil which is largely used about machinery.—Bangor Commercial.

ALL OBSERVED THE DAY.

Ishpeming People Did Ample Honor to the Memory of Columbus Yesterday.

Case of Accidental Shooting—Maccas bees Will Enjoy Themselves. An Ishpeming Artist.

WAS SITABLY OBSERVED.

Columbus day was observed by almost every resident of Ishpeming and the city wore a holiday aspect yesterday. A more beautiful autumn day never shone upon the upper peninsula. Early in the morning troops of children could be seen making their way to the various schools, chattering excitedly and carrying flags, many of them also wearing the national colors. The mines were closed down and the men filled the streets during the entire day, this giving the city a lively appearance. Many of the business houses were decorated with flags and bunting, and the majority of them were closed during the day. The Nelson House was beautifully decorated, and every flag staff in the city bore the stars and stripes.

Shortly before 9 o'clock in the morning some 600 school children assembled at St. John's parochial school and marched in a body to St. John's Catholic church where a high mass was celebrated and an appropriate sermon was preached from the text, "Give Praise to God for the Excellent Land He Hath Given Thee," by Rev. Fr. Keul, pastor of the church. The church was handsomely decorated.

The entertainment given in the City Opera house by the children of the convent school in the afternoon attracted a large attendance and the different parts were well taken. The tableaux were especially fine, while Fr. Keul's address on "American Progress" was highly appreciated.

The entertainment at the High school in the afternoon was also well attended, and the program was admirably rendered. Remarks were made by Mayor Osborn, Mr. A. W. Myers and others, the speakers dwelling principally on the advancement of American schools and the progress made in various ways since the foundation of the republic.

About twenty-five members of the U. R. K. of P. lodge went to Negawnee at 9:45 and took part in the observance exercises there. They were accompanied by the City band. A number of Ishpeming people went to Negawnee to witness the parade, which, by the way, was a fine one.

The races in the afternoon at Union Park attracted a fair sized crowd, while the Temple of Honor entertainment in the evening at the City Opera house wound up the general observance of Columbus day in Ishpeming.

Accidentally Shot.

Yesterday afternoon a man named John Corbett accidentally shot himself through the heart while hunting in the vicinity of Deer Lake. Two young men who were fishing along the shore of the lake heard the report of a gun and went to where it came from out of curiosity. They found Corbett lying dead, shot through the heart, with his gun lying beside him. Nothing is known of the man in which the accident occurred. Corbett was 28 years of age, married, and leaves a wife and five children. He was at one time employed as an engineer at the Superior mine. He formerly resided at Republic, where he was engineer of the water works, and was also an amateur ball player of considerable skill and reputation. The body was brought to Ishpeming at half-past five last evening and a coroner's jury was empaneled to make legal investigation into the manner of his death. After viewing the body the jury adjourned to today, when evidence will be taken and a verdict rendered.

K. O. T. M. Will Be in It.

The preparations for the blow-out to be given by the Ishpeming K. O. T. M. lodge in this city on election day are being pushed by the committee in charge. The program consists of a parade by the lodge in the afternoon in which the Negawnee and Marquette bands will take part. The body of this city have been invited to participate. The last named lodge has accepted, but the others have not yet been heard from. An oyster supper will be given in the evening, after which an entertainment of vocal and instrumental music, recitations, etc., will be given, the whole to conclude with a dance. The Maccas (Star) band will furnish music during the day and will also assist in the entertainment.

The Races Yesterday.

In the races at Union Park yesterday Frazer's "Prince" took the purse in the contest between that stepper and Crowley's "Billy Roach." "Prince" took the first and second heats, "Billy Roach" the third, and "Prince" the fourth and race. Time, 2:33. The race between Stewart's broncho and Alfred Bunt mounted on a bicycle was won by the broncho, the horse coming in forty rods ahead of the wheelman. The distance covered was five miles and the time 19 minutes and 13 1/2 seconds.

An Able Artist.

In the Western Union telegraph office in this city can be seen an oil painting that is really fine, the work of Miss Lizzie O'Brien. The scene is taken near Lake Bancroft, showing the Barnum mine engine houses, No. 2 shaft house and trestle, the adjoining hills and part of the lake, in a summer view. The work is so cleverly executed that it gives every indication of having been drawn from a photograph. The young lady did the sketching from her home, which is near the lake. She has a number of other sketches all and crayon, that are equally as good as the one mentioned, and it is said that her collection is the finest to be found in Ishpeming. Her work possesses high artistic merit and shows rare skill in execution.

Died of Consumption.

Mrs. Julia M. Day, wife of Mr. T. M. Day, died at her home, 633 Pine street, at 9 o'clock Thursday evening, of consumption. Mrs. Day was taken down with pneumonia two years ago and since that time she has been a constant sufferer from the dread disease which caused her death. She was 55 years of age and was born in the state of Maine. A husband, two sons, aged 14 and 16 years, and a daughter aged 22 years survive her. In life Mrs. Day was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. The exact date of the funeral had not been decided at a late hour yesterday afternoon but it will likely be held tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted at the late residence by Rev. C. D. Jacobs, and the interment will take place in the Ishpeming cemetery.

Democratic Orators.

Apparently the democrats of Ishpeming intend keeping the "ball rolling" in the way of political speeches, for the next few days at least. Last night Hon. J. P. Irish of California spoke in Gylling's hall to a big crowd. Tonight Attorney-General Ellis is booked to address a meeting here and will hold down the platform in the same hall, Monday evening. Samuel D. Clay will speak here. If talk will do it the democrats ought to carry Ishpeming this year, but there is some thinking being done by the voters and talk doesn't count for much unless it is backed up by facts and sound argument. Ladies are specially invited to attend the meeting.

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Creator of the universe to remove from our midst our brother, Olof Engen, and
WHEREAS, It is our desire as a lodge to show the respect and esteem cherished for him, therefore be it
Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn the loss of our worthy brother.
Resolved, That in the death of our brother, Olof Engen, Ishpeming lodge No. 1, of S. H. and E. F. of A., has lost a most worthy brother, an active member of the community, an upright and good citizen, and his son a good father.
Resolved, That the charters and altars of the lodge be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days, that these resolutions be entered upon the record of the S. H. and E. F. of Ishpeming lodge No. 1, that a copy be sent to the DAILY MINING JOURNAL and Svenska Fria Pressen in Duluth, Minn., for publication.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. Ancient Milling.

For ages various cereals used in bread-making were ground with very uncouth contrivances hardly deserving the name of mill, as we understand it. They consisted of two portable circular stones, the upper being the smaller and turned upon the lower and concave one by means of an iron or wooden handle, the grain being placed between them. These stones were usually obtained from a quarry in the vicinity of Babylon, from which sufficient were taken to supply all the eastern countries.

The grinding was usually performed by two females, who sat opposite each other with the millstones placed between them, the upper stone being kept in motion by the hands of the operators. Very often this tedious work was assigned to prisoners, who considered it a most degrading task. This fact is recorded in Holy Writ, in which we are told that Samson "did grind in the prison house of the Philistines," and Jeremiah bewails the fact that the Babylonians "took our young men to grind."—Detroit Free Press.

A Hop Picker.

The record of the fertility of American ingenuity has been increased by the addition of the invention of a machine for picking hops. It is claimed this machine will do the work as clean and much more rapidly than it can be done by hand. The apparatus is mounted on a wooden frame, heavy enough to insure stability, and is about 7 feet long by 5 feet wide and 4 feet high.

The branches of the hop bine are fed into a receiver and are seized between two rollers and gradually pulled through. The hops fall into an inclined screen, and by their own weight fall into the box prepared to receive them. The leaves and bines fall on the same screen, and are carried back by the returning motion and thrown into a separate pile. It requires only one man to turn the wheel and another to feed bines into the rollers.—Boston Transcript.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying, and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

If you wish to secure a certain and speedy result, when using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, be careful in observing the rules of health, or the benefit may be retarded. A fair and persistent trial of this medicine never fails, when the derangements are followed.

The exercises of the day closed with a grand ball in the evening at the Italian hall.

CALEMET. The News recommends that the surplus of the Calumet & Hecla employees' aid fund be used for the purpose of erecting a public bath house. While a public bath house would undoubtedly be a benefit to the poor, the money of the aid fund should not be so diverted, as the surplus may be needed at any moment. A series of serious accidents or a prolonged epidemic of any disease among the adult employees would reduce it greatly or perhaps exhaust it. It is just the same as the surplus of any well regulated insurance company.

The registration board for Calumet township will be in session in the old postoffice building next Saturday, October 29, and on Saturday, November 5, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Dr. W. H. Hall will address the men's meeting next Sunday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock in the Calumet Odd Fellows' hall. All men are cordially invited to attend. The doctor will speak upon the practical subject, "Religion and business."

LAKE LINDEN. The following was the official program of Columbus day in this village: President of the day... A. H. McDougall. Orator of the day... Houghton Duncan. Grand Marshal... Henry Fisher. Aides... J. McKinnon, W. H. Mill, B. Beauchene, E. Cuddihy.

The grand procession formed at the school house at 10 a. m., in the following order: Lake Linden Band. Lake Linden Fire Department. German Aid Society. Order of Hermann Sons. French Canadian Band. St. John Baptist Society. St. Joseph's Society. Ancient Order of United Workmen. Sons of St. George. Knights of the Macabees. Ancient Order Hibernians.

After parading the principal streets the procession halted at the school grounds, where an oration was delivered by Mr. Houghton Duncan, at the conclusion of which the following program

"Boyhood of Columbus." "Music—"Columbus." "How Columbus Discovered America." "My Country." "Story of Columbus." "Music—"Coming Down the Ages." "Our National Banner." "The Meeting." "Ode for Columbus Day." "Music—"Cape Cod." "The First to Greet Columbus." "Boy's Declaration." "Music—"Before All Lands." "Ode for Independence." "Music—"Our Fair Land Forever." "Death of Columbus." "Centennial Hymn." "Music—"My Country 'tis of Thee." Benediction.

HANCOCK. Prof. A. E. Haynes will address the men's meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association tomorrow afternoon at 6 o'clock in Scott's block. Mrs. C. A. Wright will sing a solo.

Matter Out of Place. The fierce animosity some ardent housekeepers exhibit toward dust seems amusingly exaggerated to quieter souls. To the true dust later no family trouble or family joy is paramount. With her mouth she may mourn William's sorrow or exult over Edith's prosperity. Her eyes are roving. They spy the bit of fluff upon the carpet, and she checks her sobs to pick it up. The recital of Edith's happiness is interrupted while she walks across the floor to wipe off a table's edge or to lament the difficulty of keeping a room clean when the windows are so often open.

Births, deaths or marriages may come and go in her household. Not one of these disturbs her equanimity half so much as having her sweeping day postponed; they are all of less importance than the discovery that her dreaded enemy has gained a foothold in some unsuspected corner.

An enthusiast of this sort one evening, with a tragic air, requested her husband to accompany her to an upper chamber. The tired lawyer was impressed by her solemn manner, and heavily climbed the necessary stairs. The lady led him into a room and pointed sternly to a table.

"Look at that," she said indignantly. "Three times this week I have told Mary to dust it. I believe she neglects it purposely. I am completely disheartened."

The lawyer looked at the table and sighed. "My dear," he replied, "today I have had to deal with a murderer and two burglars. I have also examined two wife beaters and one child stealer, but anything like the moral depravity of Mary I confess I never saw before—never!"

And the lady triumphantly led the procession down stairs.—Harper's Bazar.

Jewish Fathers. I observe that American fathers, whether from the exactions of business or other reasons, do not ordinarily come to my office with their ailing children. The whole matter is often left in the hands of the wife or some relative. Germans are more apt to come than Americans, and Hebrews most of all; and indeed I cannot refrain from expressing my admiration of the domestic life of the better class of Jews in New York, which so far as I have observed it is in many respects more nearly what it should be than that of any class in our community.—Henry L. Taylor, M. D., in Popular Science Monthly.

"Slapping a King." Talleyrand one day, upon entering the private study where father and son were together, found the boy upon the father's knee, while Napoleon was gently slapping him.

"Do you know what I am doing?" asked Napoleon. "No, sire," said the diplomatist, who was far too wise to guess royal puzzles. "I am slapping a king!" was the answer. And this trifling and harmless pleasantry has been cited by a serious writer as a proof of Napoleon's "cruelty" to his child.—St. Nicholas.

A CHOLERA SCARE. A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera but a violent dysentery which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made." For sale by H. H. Stafford Son & Co. Druggists.

NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

Main office at 146 Washington St. (Mining Journal building) Marquette, Mich. Branch office at Saginaw Mich., and West Superior, Wis. The physician in charge of the office is a graduate of the Medical Department of Harvard University.

YOUNG MEN

Who may be suffering from the effect of youthful follies or indiscretions will do well to avail themselves of this chance.

DR. SPEER & CO.

Will guarantee a perfect cure in all cases of weakness or private disease of any kind or character they undertake or forfeit $250. They will therefore say to the unfortunate sufferers who may read this notice that you are treading on dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedies for your complaint. Then for the first time you will realize what negligence means. Our success in such cases can be best understood when we will positively declare that over 100,000 have been treated by us in different parts of the world. Call and get the benefit of our experience.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN,

There are many of the age of 30 to 50 who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting sensation and weakening the system in a manner which the patient cannot account for. On examination it will be found that the urine deposits aropy sediment and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color be of a thin or lilkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of weakness.

LADIES

Finding it not convenient to call at the office can be treated by mail by sending a full description of their case.

DR. SPEER & CO.

Will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the organs. Examination and advice free to all. Remember the place, 146 West Washington street, Marquette. P. S.—See our testimonials in the different papers from well-known people.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS. I, James Stewart, of Marquette, have been unable to work for some time on account of epilepsy, which caused mental depression and great weakness; in fact perfectly unfitted me for any business. I got no relief until I tried Dr. Speer & Co. After two months' treatment I am surprised at the result. I have had no fits since. I sleep well, and arise in the morning refreshed, instead of feeling more tired than when I went to bed. I cannot recommend Dr. Speer & Co. too highly for what they have done for me. LESSON IN PATRIOTISM.

French and Polish Citizens and School Children Give It to Marquette.

COLUMBIAN DAY NOT OBSERVED AS SHOULD HAVE BEEN.

French and Polish Societies. Composed of Citizens by Adoption. Set Native Americans an Example.

COLUMBIAN DAY CEREMONIES.

Columbian day was celebrated in a quiet way in Marquette. The parade under the auspices of the St. Jean Baptiste society was very pretty...

The parade moved promptly at 8:30 o'clock and passed over the route set forth in yesterday's issue of the MINING JOURNAL. Mr. J. B. Neault as grand marshal led the line and was followed by the Marquette City band playing patriotic airs...

The column reached the Casino promptly on time at 9:30 o'clock. The building was well filled with spectators and 300 children from the city schools made up the chorus, seated on the right of the speakers' stand...

Mr. Clark's address was frequently interrupted by applause and the hall rang with cheers as he concluded his oration. Then the chorus of children sang "Columbia, My Land," the song published especially for this occasion...

The orator that has preceded me has enlivened in better terms than I can frame of the great navigator, Christopher Columbus, the man whose name we celebrate this day universally over this broad land of ours...

It is my privilege to cherish with especial pride the fact that I represent before you that thoroughly patriotic, liberty loving and law abiding element which has always been content to perform the humble duties of citizenship...

The chorus then chanted "Hail Columbia" and Mayor Adams presented to the High school a handsome engraving of the Moro portrait of Columbus...

Headed by the band the three societies named above then proceeded to the church of St. Jean Baptiste where high mass was celebrated by Father Boissenault. The church was decorated with the national colors and was filled with worshippers...

A large and very appreciative audience gathered in the basement of the cathedral last night to listen to the Columbian concert given by local talent under the direction of Prof. J. N. Fohrman. The program was rendered as published with some minor changes...

lumbian concert given by local talent under the direction of Prof. J. N. Fohrman. The program was rendered as published with some minor changes. Every number elicited hearty applause and encores were several times insisted upon...

The program was published in full in Friday's MINING JOURNAL, hence to give the names of the performers would be superfluous now. Exercises appropriate to the day were held at all the city school buildings, except the High school, and the rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion...

The grocers of the city all closed their doors and a number of other business houses were shut. In other lines there was no general agreement and some kept open but they did little business for the people generally seemed to have agreed to take a holiday and the streets wore the aspect of Sunday all day...

Decorations were scattering and not very conspicuous. From the towers of St. Peter's cathedral floated long streamers of the American, Spanish and pontifical colors. One lawyer in the Nester block and a number of business houses festooned their fronts with the national colors and there were scattering decorations in the residence districts...

It is greatly to be regretted that the people generally did not sufficiently awake to the meaning of the day to turn out more largely in the parade but the line was a good-looking one anyway and those who did take part taught those who abstained a lesson in patriotic feeling that ought not to be forgotten.

A Beacon Light. Four hundred years have passed away since from a distant shore a hero battled with the spray. An ocean to explore. A mighty nation sprang from a bright beacon light. The glorious shouts of freedom rang to every race of men.

Columbus, name that e'er will last While seasons onward roll And ring, on every temple blast That sweeps from pole to pole: As a bright beacon light 'T will shine both bright and clear Initing all, by day and night. To ever persevere.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Is no argument why we shall sell goods cheap. We sell our goods cheap at all times.

We will mention just a few of our many good values, yet the fact is you must see them in order to fully appreciate the bargain of it.
