"WELL-BRED" STATIONERY.
"The good breeding and good taste of a lady—such abused word—are subtly yet conspicuously shown in the stationery she uses."
It may seem strange to speak of stationery as "well-bred" but we take the liberty to employ the phrase as a compact one to designate the kind of writing materials used by well bred people in their correspondence.
We have just received a full line of Hard & Pike's correct styles in paper and envelopes. The prices vary but it is all "well-bred."

MRS. HARRISON'S FUNERAL.

Will Be Buried at Indianapolis and Remains Leave for There Tomorrow.

SERVICES AT THE WHITE HOUSE WILL BE PRIVATE.

President Very Greatly Affected, but Evidently Strives to Bear His Grief With Christian Fortitude.

NATION SHARES HIS GRIEF.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—After the end had come this morning the president repaired to his own room adjoining that in which Mrs. Harrison died and lay upon his bed. He passed the early hours of the morning in strict seclusion and shortly after 7 o'clock, as is his custom, he arose and descended to the breakfast room where he joined the other members of the family at 8 o'clock. The meal was soon over, and the president and the family at once retired to the private parlor of the mansion.

Soon after breakfast the president was joined in his room by the Rev. Dr. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, who spent some time with him. Attorney-General Miller was early at the executive mansion and saw the president.

Secretary Tracy called a little later and also spent a few moments with the president. The secretary has never recovered from the affliction he suffered in the tragic death of his wife and he knew well the feelings of the grief-stricken man to whom he came to tender his condolence, as the president and Mrs. Harrison had done to him so tenderly and thoughtfully in his own great bereavement.

The president is bearing up remarkably well in his deep affliction. Traces of his great sorrow are plain and unmistakable but apparently he has nerved himself to face the affliction with fortitude. He and the other members of the family are bravely enduring the strain on them, and their grief, though painfully evident, is well controlled. Those who saw the president found his eyes red with weeping and his voice broken with emotion. But he constantly endeavored to repress its influence.

All the members of the cabinet who are in the city called early to tender their sympathies with the president and his afflicted family. It was the expressed wish of the president to the members of the cabinet who called this morning that the affairs of the government be proceeded with as usual and in deference to his request the heads of the several executive departments were at their desks during the greater part of the day and the departments remained open as usual.

Soon after 9 o'clock this morning Mrs. Harrison's remains were embalmed. They will probably lie in the room in which she died until the private services are held Thursday.

About 1 o'clock Mrs. Russell Harrison, Mrs. McKee and Mr. Halford visited the establishment of Undertaker Speare and selected a casket. The one finally decided upon is made of Spanish red cedar covered with fine black broadcloth. The casket has a copper metallic inner case, hermetically sealed and lined with cream tinted satin. The exterior of the casket has no ornamentation whatever except the oxidized brass handles which run its full length and a solid silver oxidized plate bearing this inscription: "Caroline Scott Harrison, Wife of Benjamin Harrison, Died, Oct. 22, 1892."

Messages of condolence were received today from all parts of the world. Queen Victoria, ex-Secretary Blaine, Cardinal Gibbons and many other notables sent messages to the president.

CLEVELAND SENDS CONDOLENCE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Mr. Cleveland sent the following despatch to President Harrison this morning: "To Benjamin Harrison, Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C.—I hasten to assure you of my sincere sympathy in the hour of your terrible bereavement. GROVER CLEVELAND."

SYMPATHIES OF THE WORLD.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Although the wife of the president is held, strictly speaking, to be merely a private individual the death of Mrs. Harrison will be made the subject of a good deal of the formal notice that ordinarily accompanies the death of a president. In all foreign countries where we have representatives the ministers of foreign affairs will at once call upon the heads of our legations and express their sovereign's sympathy. In this city the foreign ministers will call on the secretary of state and extend to him for transmission to the president messages conveying their own personal sympathy as well as that sent them by their home governments.

THE FUNERAL TRAIN.

It Will Leave Washington for Indianapolis Thursday Morning.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 25.—Arrangements for the special train which will bear Mrs. Harrison's remains from Washington to Indianapolis have been completed by Vice-President Frank Thompson, of the Pennsylvania railroad. Accommodations will be provided for the president with his family and a few personal friends including the vice-president, members of the cabinet and their families. At 11:30 A. M. Thursday the train will leave Washington, reaching Baltimore at 12:35 P. M.; Harrisburg 3:30; Altoona 7 o'clock; Pittsburgh about 10:30; Columbus 3:45 and Indianapolis at 9:30 Friday morning. The return will be made as soon as convenient after the funeral services on Friday evening and the mourners are expected to be in Washington again by 6:10 P. M. on Saturday. An engine, combination baggage and drawing room car, a dining car, three sleepers, the president's private car and an observation car containing the remains will comprise the train.

WILL ATTEND THE FUNERAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary Rask will reach here tonight and Secretary Elkins will also arrive in time for the funeral, so that all the members of the cabinet will be present at the ceremonies. They will act as honorary pall-bearers at the services in this city. Vice-President Morton, who telegraphed during the day asking the time when the funeral would take place, and Chief Justice Fuller also asked to serve as pall-bearers. The body-bearers will be employees of the White House. The pall-bearers who will officiate at Indianapolis have been selected.

All the members of the president's family with the exception of his three grandchildren will accompany the remains of Mrs. Harrison to Indianapolis. This, of course, includes Dr. Scott, the venerable father of the deceased. It was at first felt that his advanced age would prevent his making the trip but when the matter was broached to him he announced emphatically that he proposed to go and would not listen to a proposition to the contrary. Mr. R. J. McKee, the president's son-in-law, has cancelled an important business engagement in Boston tomorrow and will also accompany the president, as will also the members of the cabinet and probably the ladies and their families. It is also likely that Vice-President Morton and family, Chief Justice Fuller and a few others will be especially invited to accompany the party.

DR. THOMAS NAMED BISHOP.

Dr. Johnson of Detroit Declines to Accept This Diocese.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 25.—This is the eighteenth and last day's session of the General Episcopal convention. After the house of deputies had been called to order Rev. Randolph McKim, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Washington, offered a resolution of condolence with the president in his bereavement. The resolution was adopted by a standing vote. A message was received from the house of bishops providing for the establishment of a royalty on editions of the prayer book and hymnal published for societies. Another message from the house of bishops denounced the appointment of the bishops of Minnesota, Delaware and Nebraska on a joint commission to consider the question of royalty. The messages were laid aside. The subject of placing a royalty on the prayer book was again brought up. Dr. Nelson moved that the house decline to further discuss the subject with the house of bishops. This motion was laid upon the table by a close vote and President Dix appointed Rev. Dr. Brown of New York, Joseph Ryan of Virginia and J. A. King of Long Island as a committee of conference. The house held a short executive session to receive the report of the committee on the consecration of bishops, presented by Rev. Dr. Hoffman of New York. The committee ordered the ratification of the nomination of Rev. Dr. William Reed Thomas as bishop of Northern Michigan in place of Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Johnson of Detroit, who declined. The new bishop has been rector at Highland Falls, N. Y., since 1871.

STRIKING STAGE HANDS.

Suits for Damages and Injunction Against the Boycott Scheme.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 25.—Two suits of far-reaching importance were filed today by John H. Havlin, theatrical manager, and the Walnut Street Theatre company. They are each for $50,000 damages and for injunction. Both suits are against labor organizations and their officers and are based on the recent strike by the Stage Employees' union and supported by the Carpenters' union, the Amalgamated Council of Building Trades and the Central Labor council. The suits for damages allege that these organizations have interfered with the business of the theatres by threatening boycotts and otherwise and the prayer for injunction is based upon the allegation of the purpose to interfere by asking the public to withhold patronage from the theatres. Judge Butler, before whom the suits were brought, has issued temporary injunctions restraining all the defendants in the strictest manner possible from interfering in any way whatsoever with the management of the plaintiff's business. The judge stated from the bench that summary punishment would follow any violation of the order of the court in this respect.

BEAT THE REGULAR TROOPS.

Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa Militia Ahead in Rifle Practice.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—In the interstate rifle competition at Fort Sheridan today Illinois was first with 1,625 points, Wisconsin second with 1,570 and Iowa third with 1,570. The regular army team only made 1,554. In the shooting at known distances Sergeant Merwin of the Fifteenth Infantry, United States Army, won at 200 yards, Sergeant J. Scott, Sixth Ills. at 300 and Fisher of Iowa at 500. In the shooting at moving targets Fisher of Iowa won at 200 yards, the firing at other ranges not being completed.

STORM-VEKED ATLANTIC.

All Incoming Steamers Report a Great Gale Raging.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—There is a great gale raging on the Atlantic. All the steamers that arrived here today had hard work weathering it. The Guion line steamer Arizona from Liverpool experienced the gale for three days. The Nesbay from Antwerp, Dorian from Amsterdam and Saule from Bremen had a tough time in the storm.

POLYGAMY DECREASING.

Rather Encouraging Report on the Subject by Governor Thomas of Utah.

BETTER ELEMENT OF THE CHURCH OPPOSES IT.

Governor Thomas Seems to Doubt, However, if Time Has Come to Make Utah a State.

SEEMS RAPIDLY DYING OUT.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Arthur L. Thomas, governor of Utah, in his annual report to the secretary of the interior says polygamy in the territory is on the decline. He does not believe that any polygamous marriages have taken place during the year with the consent or permission of Mormon leaders and it is his conviction that there is a sincere intention on the part of Mormon people not to approve or sanction polygamous marriages in the future. He says it is to be regretted that the sincerity of a whole people seeking to accomplish a great reform should be placed under suspicion by the acts of a few but such is the case. It is sure to be some time and may be years before the practices of unlawful cohabitation will entirely cease.

With regard to the admission of Utah as a state, Governor Thomas says: "It is my opinion, having due consideration for the wishes and feelings of all, that between the two great elements of the population, Mormon and non-Mormon, of purpose does not exist which is so essential to the prosperity and happiness of the people under statehood, yet it would be an act unworthy the justice of a great government to turn a deaf ear to the appeal of the men who in Utah have always upheld its authority and obeyed its laws."

MUDDLE IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Her Carelessly Drawn Ballot Law Causes Much Confusion.

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 25.—The chances are that South Dakota will be unable to clear up the muddle about ballots printed according to the new law. Today the secretary of state accepted the resignation of Wood, one of the democratic nominees for congress. Half of the ballots were already printed and will now have to be reprinted. The law requires that the ballots shall be in the hands of the county auditors at least ten days before election. Even now the new ballot could be printed in that time but the prohibitions yesterday applied to the courts to compel the secretary of state to add their candidates to the official ballot. The case will be heard Thursday and if they win the names will have to be printed on the tickets. But it will be a physical impossibility to have the ballots printed in the time allowed by law.

Still another question has been raised in regard to the ballot law. The law says that the certificates of nomination of all state officers and of candidates of any division greater than a county shall be filled with the secretary of state and again it says that certificates for the nomination of joint members of either branch of the legislature shall be filed with the county auditors. Nominees for the legislature whose district comprised more than one county sent their certificate to the secretary of state and that official returned them with instructions to file with the county auditor. It is now claimed that the certificates should be filed with both county auditor and secretary of state and contests are now to be made in every case.

AMERIGO STILL ON TOP.

Attempt to Change "America" to "Columbia" Breaks Down.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—This country is not likely to be called "Columbia." A move in this direction was made in the meeting of the World's Fair national commission when Commissioner Thomas B. Bullene of Kansas City presented a resolution requesting congress to take the necessary steps to secure the change of name from "America" to "Columbia." The mover of the resolution made a clever speech in its support, deciding the claims of Vesputius to the credit of discovering the continent and demanding that Columbus receive the honor of giving his name to this country. Commissioner Cochrane of Texas made a strong though possibly somewhat spread-eagle speech against taking away the proud privilege of calling oneself an American citizen and without further debate the resolution was laid on the table.

TWO LIVES WERE LOST.

Baggage and News Agent Killed in a Railway Wreck.

PHILADELPHIA, Mo., Oct. 25.—The West-bound passenger train on the St. Louis & San Francisco road was wrecked a mile west of here at 3:45 this morning. The baggage car, smoker and two chair cars were turned over and Baggage man Al. Dickerson of Springfield and News Agent Floyd Harwood of Marshfield were killed. Fourteen passengers were more or less injured but none of them seriously. A broken rail is supposed to have been the cause of the accident. The wounded passengers were taken to Conway where those that required it received attention.

BOHEMIA IN NEW YORK.

WHERE ACTRESSES AND THEIR ADMIRERS MEET.

How a Portion of the Population of the Metropolis Turns Night Into Day—Soubrettes, Chorus Girls, Clubmen and Collegians Make Up the Parties.

At that hour when staid and solid Gothamites are either preparing to go to bed or are already fast asleep there begins to gather in two well known Broadway restaurants a bizarre company of men and women who make it a habit to be very wide awake at night.

They are Parisian in their Bohemian good fellowship, and they seem to possess marked interest for those who find pleasure in contemplating the various modes of existence that the lively metropolis presents to the philosophic observer.

The nocturnal bon vivants who make up the coterie are actors and actresses, men about town, clubmen, collegians and professional men, who have the faculty of never getting sleepy until the sun wakes up.

The restaurants have become noted resorts because of the presence of these Bohemian spirits. They are prosperous, and in the character and quality of their creature comforts rank in the first class.

Their prosperity has been attributed to fortunate location. They are situated half a mile apart on the west side of Broadway, amid the group of fashionable theaters and big hotels in the Tenderloin district.

Special accommodations are provided for the Bohemian set. They recall the "Cave of Harmony" that Thackeray tells about. In the restaurant at the southern end of the big Tenderloin parallelogram this Bohemian Cave of Harmony is located on the ground floor.

It is generally near midnight before the neighboring playhouses are shut up and the fun makers of the stage are free to enjoy themselves. Pretty actresses, neat in attire, light witted and fond of late hours and Bohemian associations saunter in in knots of two or three. Male escorts accompany them.

By 2 o'clock the coterie is at its liveliest. It is a striking picture of midnight conviviality. Soubrettes and chorus girls are the bright particular stars. The actors, dressed up like fashion plates, are a sort of background to the picture.

The clubmen and collegians and professional men are the moths enjoying the glitter. They are almost invariably young. Sometimes, however, a gay old fellow with gray hair and a jolly laugh gives the interesting spectacle of the fellow who is trying hard to be a boy and sit up with the other boys.

Whether the moths are young or old, however, they seem inspired with the same ardent ambition to gain the good graces of the theatrical people.

Each plunges into his pocket for money and tries to excel the others in spending it for the entertainment of the soubrettes and chorus girls, and incidentally keeping solid with the actors and managers.

They seem to imagine that this sort of thing will insure good seats at the theater whenever they want to go there, and that they won't have to pay for the seats at all. In most instances this is a very big mistake.

NOT WHAT IT USED TO BE.

The collegians are partial to the second-story bower at the upper end of Broadway. Yale, Harvard and Princeton boys go there whenever they come to town to have a good time.

The polished cherry tables are pushed together, and the soubrettes and chorus girls draw up their chairs with the men.

Sometimes as many as thirty gather in a single group. The collegians joke and tell college stories. The soubrettes and chorus girls take a hand in the story telling, at which some of them have a gift.

Very often the sun rises while the throng is still there.

It all looks feverish and unhealthy to the observer who has decided notions about the hurtfulness of late hours and late suppers, but there can be no doubt that the revelers enjoy it and don't bother their heads about any of Ben Franklin's judicious injunctions about going early to bed and getting up with the sun.

All this in marked contrast with the revelry that used to run fast and furious in the resorts that were numerous in the Tenderloin district a decade or so ago.

The pale faced opium eater and the painted women of the streets do not pass, as a rule, within the portals of these Bohemian caves. There is no boisterousness and no singing of songs. A stranger will find out in a twinkling that while all seems to look more or less jolly and free and easy, there is in reality a strict enforcement of order at all times.

Chill's Curious Currency.

The money of Chill at present is peculiar. It consists of small tags of pasteboard, on which a man writes the value for which he is willing to redeem it, putting his name on the back.

During the ten years ended with 1890 the country received more than 329,000 Italians. In the last year of the ten the Italians constituted almost one-eighth of the total immigration.

WILL WELCOME HIM HOME.

Negaunee Feels Proud of Citizen Heineman and Will Show It Today.

Wants to Be a Lawmaker From a "Haw-buck" District—The Kirkwood Block Almost Finished.

A NEGAUNEITE HONORED.

When H. H. Heineman will return to Negaunee on the 12:55 C. & N. W. train today he will be met by a number of his friends and the local lodge of the I. O. O. F. At the convention of the grand lodge of the state of Michigan, held at Detroit last week, he was elected to the highest position in that order in the state, that of grand master. Mr. Heineman is a well known and highly respected citizen of Negaunee, where he lived here for a great many years. It was predicted some time ago that this honor would fall to him. There were but two members of the Negaunee lodge of the I. O. O. F., Captain Rough and Alderman Jackson, present at the Detroit meeting when the election took place and they state that Mr. Heineman was accorded the office entirely without opposition.

Once Resided Here.

Arthur W. Johnson, the democratic nominee for state senator from the 12th district of this state, was for a short time a resident of Negaunee. Mr. Johnson, who was a classmate of Frank Bell of this place in the class of '91 in the state university, came to Negaunee something over a year ago and opened a law office in the building which stood on the site of the present Davis block. After a residence here of about six months, having met with little encouragement in his profession, he closed up his office and removed to his home at Oscoda, where he has since resided. Although not a brilliant success in the law business he made many friends in Negaunee during his short residence here, who will be glad to learn that he has been fortunate enough to secure the nomination.

It's All Right.

The finishing touches are being given to the new Kirkwood block on Iron street and it will be but a short time before the block will be ready for occupancy. Beyond the few small cracks visible in the brick work of the front wall there is not an unsound spot in the building. The prophets who were jubilant when the main brick arch had to be replaced with a stone one have lately become very silent and the people hear no more predictions of the early collapse of the Kirkwood building.

LOCAL LAONICUS.

Sheriff Snelly of Marquette was in the city yesterday afternoon.

John Glode of Republic was in the city for a short time yesterday.

P. B. Kirkwood has returned from a ten days' hunting expedition down the road.

J. V. Knapp, of the U. P. Brewing company, spent a few hours in Marquette yesterday.

T. C. Yates, cashier of the First National bank, has returned from Chicago, where he spent the past few days.

Rev. Strong, pastor of the Case street Methodist church, has returned from Republic, where he has been spending a week or so in the woods.

The Adelphe roller rink will soon be opened for skating during the winter months. The proprietor, Mr. Winter, will probably have personal charge of it this season and will make it an attractive resort for the young people.

The walls of the new Williams building on Iron street are going up rapidly and it will be but a very short time until the structure will be under roof. C. B. Driscoll, the contractor, is pushing the work with his customary energy.

The flags on both the engine houses of the city fire department were floated at half-mast yesterday morning as soon as the MINING JOURNAL gave the news of Mrs. Harrison's death. The flag on the high school building was also lowered.

James Colenso, a member of the rising generation who until a few months ago was a resident of Negaunee, is here on a visit to his parents. He is now connected with the Hurley News company at Hurley and has the appearance of being quite well to do.

The Sons of St. George hall on Iron street will soon be lighted with electricity. Gas has heretofore been used for illuminating purposes in the hall. Almost every building in the central portion of the city is now supplied with incandescent lamps and others are being wired for them. The city hall building will soon be wired for lights, which will make a decided improvement in the amount and quality of light there.

A large and powerful boiler was yesterday secured from the Buffalo mine through the courtesy of General Manager T. F. Cole, to assist in pumping out the Pendill shaft on Silver street. Mr. Cole was present in person and supervised the work, and the boiler was placed in position during the afternoon. The pumps are now supplied with steam from three boilers and are doing good work. The water has been lowered about sixty-five feet. Today makes the twelfth day since the drowning of little Charley Hoch in that shaft.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. A Door in an Old Church.

Now and then a small door may be seen high up in the piers that divide the nave from the chancel. This is the door that once gave access from the winding stair within the pier to the footway on the top of the screen with which most churches were once provided. When screens were found inconvenient and were removed, these doors were left. Ross church, Herefordshire, has a noticeable example; Hincley church, Leicestershire, has another.—Gentleman's Magazine.

STAYING THE HAND OF DEATH.

There is Said to Be a Certain and Rapid Means of Resuscitation.

Colonel Henry Elsdale, of the Royal engineers, claims to have discovered a certain and rapid means of resuscitating persons from the effects of suffocation. A sapper among the men under his command at Chatham was one day found enveloped in the folds of a half empty war balloon. The coal gas with which it had been inflated had suffocated him, and to all appearances he was a dead man. But efforts were made to restore him, though the pulseless heart and cadaverous face of the man gave no encouragement to persevere. In a moment of something like inspiration it occurred to Colonel Elsdale to send for some tubes of compressed oxygen, which had been prepared for the oxyhydrogen light.

This pure oxygen, at a very high pressure, was hurriedly conveyed into the mouth of the prostrate sapper by means of inserting the nozzle of the valve between his teeth, and the supply was "gently turned on" to the smallest extent. The effect was absolutely instantaneous. In an instant he opened his eyes and seized the nozzle between his teeth. In the sapper was not only thoroughly revived within a few minutes, but in half an hour walked away, quite well, to the barracks, and was suggested by his commanding officer.

Of course the objection will be raised that everybody has not tubes of pure oxygen at high pressure in readiness to apply to such cases. Happily oxygen in quantities as large as those administered is not needed, and it can be stored in small, strong bottles made of the finest steel, with a valve giving an absolute hermetic seal.

These vessels may be as small as a soda water bottle, and may be made part of the medical stock of every doctor. Oxygen at any degree of compression required can, in fact, now be obtained, and the whole apparatus for restoring vitality can be packed in a small box quite portable.

What possibilities may not such a discovery as that to which we have drawn attention involve! It is equally available, we are assured, for those persons who have been asphyxiated by choke damp in coal mines, or by ordinary coal gas. People apparently drowned, and those insensible from long exposure in the rigging of a ship, might also be saved from an untimely end by what Colonel Elsdale calls "a dose of oxygen."

It would probably be invaluable, too, in cases of suffocation from the fumes of charcoal, or in cases where chloroform had operated injuriously on a weak heart. Such a discovery should at once occupy the attention of the Royal College of Physicians, with a view of ascertaining whether Colonel Elsdale has overrated the beneficial effects to be anticipated from the administration of pure oxygen.—London Chronicle.

How It Feels to Have a Bug in One's Ear.

"A bug in his ear," is a figure very extensively used in common conversation. But, reader, did you ever have a bug in your ear in fact? If not, you have no idea how it feels. B. F. Tomlinson, who experienced the sensation, says he never suffered such torture in his life. The bug crawled into his ear while he was lying in bed asleep, between 11 and 12 o'clock one night. It was only a common candlebug or fly, but the degree of torture one of them can inflict while in the ear is beyond the scope of the imagination. Mr. Tomlinson said that when he awoke he dreamed that a railway train had jumped the track, struck him in the ear and was plowing its way through his head. The train kept going, but it seemed that it would never get through.

Occasionally it would stop and then start again with renewed force. Then again the train seemed to be at a standstill, but the wheels would be turning with lightning rapidity. The train would move off gradually with a grating noise, and would not stop till the whistle blew for the next station or it ran off the track or collided with another train, which frequently occurred. Mr. Tomlinson stood the torture till daylight, when he sent for a doctor, who succeeded in fishing out the bug, which in the meantime had died. Mr. Tomlinson said that if the bug had remained in his ear an hour longer he would have been a raving maniac.—Mexico (Mo.) Intelligence.

Strengthening Cast Iron.

Some of the most prominent iron foundries are introducing a new and simple practice in order to secure stronger castings, the method in question consisting in placing thin sheets of wrought iron in the center of the mold previous to the operation of casting. This method was first resorted to, it appears, in the casting of thin plates for the ovens of cooking stoves, it being found that a sheet of thin iron in the center of a quarter inch oven plate rendered it practically unbreakable by fire.

This result has led to the process being now applied to the casting of large iron pipes, a core of sheet iron imparting additional strength and lessening the liability to any fracture. As an evidence of the additional strength capable of being imparted by this means, it is stated that a plate of iron one-fourth of an inch thick, cast with a perforated sheet of 27-wire gauge wrought iron in the center, possessed six times the strength of a similar cast plate with no core. The quarter inch plate had the strength of a plate one inch thick.—New York Sun.

PARTED BY HIS VIOLIN.

A TRUE STORY OF YOUNG LOVE THAT DID NOT RUN SMOOTH.

Captain Button's Happy Marriage with the Belle of North Haven Many Years Ago—Why the Cozy Home Was Broken Up and the Husband Is a Wanderer.

No one would have suspected that Sofia was a shrew. She was of medium height, with bright brown eyes and a sweet face. These with a fine form and charming manner made her much sought after by the young men of North Haven. She chose to bestow her sweetest smiles on Julius Button, a whole souled, hardy young sailor, and all those who sought Sofia's hand felt a pang of envy when Julius led her to the altar.

The young couple settled down to the humdrum life of the small village in which both had been born and reared. For a time they were as happy as ever two young people who seemed made for each other could be.

Julius had accumulated a snug sum of money and was disposed to take life easily. The apple of his eye was his wife. Next in his affection was his violin, and with those two for company he was content to spend his evenings at home.

Although her husband played very well, Sofia cared nothing for music and detested a violin above all things. For a while she said nothing. Then she would leave Julius and his violin and would run over to one of the neighbor's to spend the evening. It dawned upon Julius that the strains he drew from his violin were not appreciated by his wife.

Then Sofia began to show that beneath a sweet exterior there lay smoldering a fiery temper that when once let loose was simply ungovernable, and violent outbursts on her part became more and more frequent.

Julius bore it all uncomplainingly, for he loved his wife dearly. His was a gentle nature that never held malice and he knew Sofia loved him, so he was patient. But all things must end some time, and his patience was no exception to the rule.

ANGER THAT CAUSED SORROW.

One afternoon Julius went home and picked up his violin. He had drawn the bow but a few times before Sofia exclaimed, "I wish you would stop that noise."

Julius paid no heed to the request which had been made in such a mandatorily tone. Sofia became angrier as her husband continued playing, and at last shouted, "Julius, I want you to stop that noise." But Julius only smiled and kept on playing. Sofia grew livid with rage, and seizing a pan of water threw it into Julius' face.

Then her husband put away his violin and left the house. In the evening he came back and began packing up his clothing. Sofia had recovered from her paroxysm of anger and was willing to be forgiven, but did not ask it. Her woman's curiosity could not be restrained, however, and she tremblingly asked what it all meant.

The only reply her husband vouchsafed was that he had shipped on a vessel bound for Virginia after a load of oysters. Days and weeks and months passed and the absent husband was not heard from and Sofia went to live with her husband's parents.

One day thirty-five years later the elder Button heard of the arrival in New York of the United States brig Bainbridge, Captain Julius Button. He said nothing of the great hope that had sprung up in his breast, but hastened to New York, only to find that the brig had sailed a few hours before. But his journey was not altogether fruitless, for he learned that the captain of the Bainbridge was his own son. It lifted a heavy load from the old man's heart, although he felt keenly his disappointment at not seeing his son, who had for many years been married as dead.

FORTY YEARS LATER.

Sadly the old man returned to his home in North Haven. From that time he became a close reader of the newspapers and at last, four years later, his vigilance was rewarded. He read: "The United States brig Bainbridge, Captain Button, is expected to arrive at the Brooklyn navy yard tomorrow." Once more the old man journeyed to the metropolis. He found the brig with difficulty and was ushered into the cabin to await the captain, who was on shore.

Captain Button looked curiously at the gray haired old man whom he had been told wished to see him, but did not recognize him. Nor did the father recognize his son. Slowly the old man told his errand.

"I am Captain Button, sir," responded the captain.

"Don't you know me, Julius? I am your father."

It was a very affecting meeting, and when it was brought to a close the father asked tremulously, "Julius, what shall I tell mother?"

Captain Button hesitated for a moment, then, without replying to the question, he asked, "Where is Sofia?"

"She still lives with us."

"Then you may tell mother that I may come to North Haven when I come back from my next voyage."

An hour later Button, Sr., was on his way home, and Button, Jr., was on a voyage to China. When he returned two years later he learned that his father and mother were dead. Sofia still occupies the old homestead, but Captain Button has never seen her since they parted.—New York Herald.

A Floral Curiosity.

We have just been shown a curious plant by Mrs. Judge Chesnut. It is called the "snake plant," and is an oddity. The stem of the plant is of succulent nature and resembles the body of a snake. It had a large Easter lily shaped flower of dark purple color, with a single purple stamen. Its odor was offensive. It is a curiosity in this town, no one having ever seen a flower like it. It was presented to Mrs. Chesnut by her sister of Frankfort, Ky.—Platte City (Mo.) Landmark.

MORE STRIKE OUTRAGES.

Many Non-Union Workmen Assaulted and Some Fatally Hurt at Homestead.

ALWAYS TWO OR MORE MEN AGAINST ONE.

Brutal and Cowardly Work of Strikers and Their Sympathizers Goes on Day After Day.

THEY ONLY WISH TO WORK. Homestead, Oct. 25.—Within the past two days several non-union men have been assaulted by strikers and severely injured.

A man named John Gilder who was with Mitchell at the time was also severely beaten but escaped with less dangerous injuries.

Later a piece of brick was thrown through the window of Deputy Sheriff Young's room on Third avenue, where he is lodging, but fortunately missed the intended victim.

A boarding house at the corner of Fourth avenue and McClure streets, where the colored non-unionists lodge, was also attacked and every window in the front of the house broken.

As Al Snyder while on his way to the mill along the McKeesport & Younglough tracks he was followed by a crowd of Homesteaders and beaten. He was knocked down several times and when he reached the mill was bleeding from a number of wounds.

Thomas Jamison, a worker in the mill, was chased along Eighth avenue by a striker named Flinn. The latter had a brick in his hand as he ran along the non-unionist.

A stranger from Bradock was set upon this evening at the corner of Fourth avenue and McClure street and severely beaten. The crowd thought he was a workman from the mill but he was not.

There were two movements today of non-union men into houses in the borough and in both cases there was some disorder. Several parties forced their way into the houses, cut up some clothing and smashed several trunks.

It is so apparent that there is a growing feeling of unrest that tonight the force of deputy sheriffs was changed as regards hours of duty. Instead of having twenty-five on the day time and six at night, twenty will patrol the town after 6 o'clock p. m.

M'CLOSKEY GOT HIS GUN. Cowardly Attack on Peaceable Workman Falls This Time.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25.—Another murderous assault made by strikers on non-union men employed at the Carnegie Lawrenceville mills is reported today. For the past two weeks hardly a day passed that one or more of the men at work in the Carnegie mills has not been attacked by strikers or their sympathizers.

IT IS LOST ANYHOW. Report That Homestead Strike Will Be Declared Off.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 25.—President Weibe and President-Elect Garland, of the Amalgamated association held a secret consultation with the advisory board officials and rumors are being circulated that the strike may be declared off. The non-union boarding house of Charles Kisher was stoned Sunday night and several windows broken.

HE HAD A WOODEN LEG. And Kicked Because Girls Would Not Dance With Him.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—James Carter was shot and instantly killed at a dance last night by James Finser. Carter had a wooden leg and when he asked a young woman to dance with him she declined. Carter declared that if she would not dance with him he should not dance with any other man present.

FINED FOR POOL SELLING. Telegraph Company Dodge Does Not Work in Missouri.

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—The court of appeals today affirmed the fine of $1,000 imposed by the court of criminal correction on J. H. Townsend, manager of the Mercantile Telegraph company, who was convicted of selling in Missouri pools on races in other states, an offense under a new law.

MODERN MILLING.

In Separating Different Grades of Flour Lies the Secret of the Industry.

Hardly any manufacture of a generation ago was so simple as flour milling. The miller dropped his wheat into a hopper; millstones beneath swiftly ground it into a product from which, there and then, flour was separated by bolting cloth.

Contrasted with this simple, direct way of making flour is the elaborate roller process, first brought to the point of practical success in Hungary. Imported thence it was developed and improved by American ingenuity in the great mills of Minnesota, and from that state has spread to every other in the Union.

What a miller's task is becomes plain when we closely examine a grain of wheat. The first thing to meet the eye is its branny envelope.

There are lullabies for babies and dances for young maidens, there are drinking songs for the wild oysters and love songs for them that love to tarry in the gloaming.

Gilmore's band was playing "Reminiscences of Mendelssohn," and a thousand heads were wagging an accompaniment.

Suddenly, by way of finale, the "Wedding March" struck up. The effect was electrical. All over the audience the wedded pairs looked at each other and smiled tenderly.

There was a couple, homely, raw, from the country evidently, who had just started out to guide the plow together.

And all through the audience I saw signs of the pictures called up by that fragrant and alluring bit of music. Old couples and young, rich and poor, those who live like cats and dogs together and those who have learned the pleasant alchemy of forbearance in wedded life, all were for the moment bewitched.

Ta, ta, tara-rara, tum tiddle de dum de dido. It fairly makes me reminisce myself, though they played Wagner at my blessed wedding.

Character in Eating. There are few things by which character is more unmistakably portrayed than by a man's choice of food and the manner in which he devours it.

Why He Paid Him Attention. "I was coming west over the Wabash the other day and had for fellow passengers a Missouri stock raiser, his wife and a Boston exquisite deeply enamored of his own shape."

How Carl Schurz Learned English. "When I first came to America I found that I knew as little practical English as the Yale or Harvard student who has read 'Faust' and 'Piccolomini' knows of German."

Pin Superstition. Superstition has special claims upon the pin; it should, we are told, "be lent, not given."

Not Playing. Mamma—I told you not to play on Sunday.

Little Boy—I haven't been playing! I was learning my Sunday school lesson.

"But you are all in a perspiration."

"I was turning handspindles between each verse so's to get it down into my head."

WILL VISIT ISHPEMING.

General Alger and Judge Van Zile to Address a Meeting in the Hematite City.

ISHPEMING'S CONTINGENT IN MARQUETTE RIFLES.

Gil Hodgkin's Elegant New Home. Going to Baraga Tonight—Prohibitions Announce a Meeting.

A GOOD PAIR.

H. O. Young, of the republican county committee, received information yesterday that General Alger and Judge P. T. Van Zile of Detroit are preparing for a visit to the upper peninsula in the near future. They are expected to come some time next week, although the exact date has not yet been determined. They will make several speeches in this district and will doubtless visit all the larger cities. The dates for this meeting have not yet been announced, but it is fully decided that they will speak in Ishpeming. This announcement will be a most welcome one to the people of Ishpeming, and the only drawback will be that the city has no public building of sufficient size to accommodate the audience which will gather to hear them. The announcement of the day on which they will speak at this place will be made later.

A Branch of the Rifles.

Ishpeming has a branch of the Marquette Rifles at present which, though small in numbers, has enough of enthusiasm for a much larger body. There is a movement on foot to largely increase its membership. The membership of the present branch will be reduced by one-fourth in a short time by the removal of Mr. Walter Stromvall to Chicago, and a numerical loss of one-fourth is too great to experience without an effort to secure recruits. There has also been some talk of organizing an independent company, but this has not met with much favor as it is not certain that such a company would be admitted to the state militia and the expenses necessary to equip it would be rather heavy. By organizing as a branch of the Marquette Rifles the expenses would be merely nominal, about $2 this year is informed. With a sufficient membership the Ishpeming contingent could have its own officers and hold regular drill meetings at home, and would only be required to join the full company at Marquette for inspection and similar purposes. A number of young men have expressed a desire to join the company and Ishpeming may soon have a larger representation in the state militia.

Another Handsome Residence.

Mr. Gil Hodgkins has completed his new residence at the corner of Oak and Ely streets and expects to move into it about the first week in November. The residence is one of the many erected recently in that portion of the town, and lends its share of beauty and harmony to that locality. The house is a ten-room structure and is conveniently arranged. The exterior is Queen Anne style, with colonial relief, combining these two rather differing features in a unique and handsome whole. The basement is arranged for storage rooms, coal bins, boiler rooms and laundry, and is a model of convenience. On the first floor is the reception hall, parlor, 14x13 feet, sitting room, 17x12, dining room, 15x12, and the kitchen, which is 15x12 feet, and is connected with suitable pantries. The main room of the second floor is a chamber 11x15 feet with an alcove bed room 8x10 feet. Besides this there are three other chambers on this floor. The second floor is fitted with a large bath room and the entire house is heated with steam. The lot which the building occupies formerly contained a small house which was moved away to give place to this more pretentious structure, and it is a great addition to the architectural beauty of Oak street.

At Baraga.

Mr. John W. Jochim is making a thorough canvass of the upper peninsula in the present campaign, and has visited almost every city and town in the district. Tonight he will be at Baraga in company with Marcus Peterson and George Royce of Marquette. The meeting will be the most interesting one, if the ability of the speakers is considered. Mr. Peterson has been in great demand since his joint debate with the democratic nominee for congress at Pickford some weeks ago, and the effective manner in which he managed that meeting is characteristic of his work. Mr. Royce is well known as a public speaker in former campaigns, and the attendance will be large if the reception given to Mr. Jochim at other places is anything to go by.

Causing Mr. Finn Anxiety.

There seems to be considerable anxiety on the part of the democratic nominee for congress to have his name replaced on the populist ticket of Houghton county. He was removed because the democrats of copperdium broke faith with the "party of the people." Hagen, who was to have been given a place on the democratic ticket, was thrust aside for Leo M. Geismar, and this caused the trouble. Mr. John Ryan was given Mr. Finn's place and he afterward withdrew in favor of Mr. Demell. Now Mr. Finn's friends are laboring for Mr. Geismar's withdrawal or removal. Messrs. Finn and Tim Nester "operated" unsuccessfully in this direction all of last week, and Mr. Nester went up this week to renew the struggle. The wires have been kept hot between Ishpeming and Detroit, the democratic state central committee being requested to use all possible influence to induce Geismar to step down and make room for Hagen. The aid of Mr. Ellis was also solicited and he modestly sent word to Mr. Campau that Geismar's removal would mean fifteen hundred more votes for Finn and the whole ticket. Altogether there is considerable trouble here over the so-called stubbornness of Geismar, who does not see fit to be made a political foot-ball of.

Flags At Half-mast.

Yesterday morning on the announcement of the death of Mrs. Harrison, the wife of President Harrison, several flags were placed at half-mast, a token of respect for the wife of the chief magistrate of the United States. Flags were so displayed on the city hall, public school building, and on the flag pole in front of the Nelson House. The sympathy of the entire community is expressed for the president and family over their great loss.

Prohibition Speech.

Hon. J. S. Hughes, of Englewood, Ill., will deliver an address in this city Thursday night, representing the claims and principles of the prohibition party. He will speak at the Temple of Honor hall, opposite the Division street school house, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public generally to come and hear him.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

E. G. Pike, of the telephone company, was in the city yesterday.

The members of the snow shoe club are shaking the moths out of their woollens.

Four lots were sold in the West Ishpeming sub-division yesterday. Real estate is booming.

Another large catch of salmon trout was made at the big pump at Lake Angeline yesterday.

The clerks' association will hold a meeting tonight at which a general attendance of members is desired.

Several new buildings are already under way in the Cleveland company's second addition to the city. Over sixty lots have been disposed of.

A large audience greeted Mr. O. C. Peterson at the opera house last night and listened to his address. Mr. Peterson is a forcible speaker and was received with great enthusiasm by his audience.

Work on the parsonage of St. Joseph's church is nearly completed, and painters are now putting on the finishing touches. Father Boissonneault expects to move into his new residence some time next week.

O. B. Robinson has purchased from Peter Johnson & Co. their wood yard on Third street near the railroad crossing. Mr. Robinson is preparing to furnish the best wood in desired lengths at the very lowest prices.

The sewer contractors are filling North Oak street. The contract provides that they must add three feet to the present surface, as the pipe is buried but a few inches from the top. This will prove beneficial to that thoroughfare.

In answer to many inquiries the MINING JOURNAL states that an entire new registration is not required for the coming election. The places of registration will be open as usual, but only the regular requirements as to registration are in force.

The funeral of Lawrence Butler will be held at 9 o'clock this morning with religious services at St. John's church. All the immediate relatives of the deceased are present except a sister, Mrs. Michael Kearney of Independence, Ia., who was unable to come.

The telephone company has set all the poles necessary for the new line to the Winthrop and will string the wires in a few days. The new line will be in operation by Saturday. The service will be the same as heretofore, the company formerly using wires that belonged to the Lake Superior.

The wonderful spectacular production Monte Cristo, will be presented at the opera house on the evening of November 3rd. The play is a dramatization of the greatest work of Alexander Dumas. Its presentation by the present company is highly spoken of, and it should receive a full house when it appears here next week.

Strent Commissioner Richards, under the instruction of the council, has been doing some valuable work on Third street, between High and Vine streets. Third street has been lowered about two and one-half feet and widened to the proper width. The work was delayed considerably by coming in contact with the water pipes in lowering the streets, but they have been now put to a proper depth and the work will be soon completed. Improvements have also been made in the condition of the thoroughfares leading into the city from adjoining neighborhoods.

Contagious Disease.

Individual resistance to contagion is none the less remarkable. A physician or nurse will be brought into the most intimate contact with a case of contagious disease without contracting it, while the same patient may communicate it to a person passing him in the street, in the early stages of his trouble, before it has developed sufficiently to cause any alarm. We have known of a most malignant attack of diphtheria communicated to a druggist by a person calling at the store before his disease had fully developed itself, and a lady suffering from the mumps succeeded in communicating them to a sympathizing neighbor who stopped for a moment at the door to inquire after her health, while other members of the family residing in the same house remained unaffected.—Popular Science News.

A One Sided Bargain.

The champion horse trade of the vicinity took place recently. A well known Lee jockey secured a showy colt, and hid himself to the Dale to see the boys. When he came back he was driving a fine black horse, leading a good bay, while there followed behind a pair of oxen, a cow, an old sow and eight pigs.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Beautiful Shell Money.

The most beautiful shell money in the world is made of the abalone of our western coasts. When polished the abalone shows lovely green, purple and iridescent colors, and the Indians from California to Alaska value it highly, as do the manufacturers of pearl buttons.—Philadelphia Press.

STATE'S NEXT GOVERNOR.

Hon. John T. Rich Talks Plain Common Sense on the Tariff.

MARQUETTE VOTERS CHEER HIM ENTHUSIASTICALLY.

Mr. Giddings Makes Very Fetching Speech and Rattles Michigan Democrats' Loud Pretenses of Reform.

HEARD RICH AND GIDDINGS.

Despite the inclement weather, with mud underfoot and lowering clouds sending down occasional splatters of rain overhead, the voters of Marquette turned out in goodly numbers last night to welcome Hon. John T. Rich and Hon. J. W. Giddings, republican candidates for governor and lieutenant-governor. The Casino was comfortably filled by an enthusiastic audience that applauded freely the many good points of both gentlemen's addresses. Mr. Rich makes no pretensions to oratory but talks in a plain, straight-forward and sincere manner that commands respect and attention. Mr. Giddings in his address found appropriate place for some passages of eloquence and of rhetorical beauty that elicited general admiration. Hon. C. R. Brown introduced the speakers and there were also upon the stage Captain Peter Pascoe, Messrs. H. O. Young and G. Smith and President Van Evert of the Marquette Republican club. The addresses of both speakers were freely punctuated with applause and both made a most favorable impression on the audience.

Mr. Rich began by illustrating in a variety of ways the benefits of the protective system. It might be said, however, that while the tariff protected the American market from foreign goods foreign labor could come in free, that foreign manufacturers could transfer their factories and operatives to this country. Mr. Rich described an interview he had a few months since with an English capitalist who was very bitter against the McKinley law and announced the intention of English manufacturers to transfer their mills to this country and so regain their lost trade. He was reminded that he must purchase American land, that his factories would be built of American materials, that they would be equipped with American machinery, that his men must eat and wear American food and textile products, that he must pay these men American wages and the men would be Americans as soon as they came here. The Englishman was then asked, supposing his factory all started and running, would he would vote for the repeal of the McKinley law? He was then asked if, when all this change was made, he would vote for free trade or protection and answered:

"Under the circumstances and conditions I would vote for the continuance in force of the McKinley bill or similar laws. To vote otherwise would be to vote against my own interests."

Mr. Rich next talked on wool and showed that the price of wool had gone down because wool was lower all over the world, not because of the tariff, which in fact maintained wool prices and made it to the advantage of Canadians to sell their wool on this side of the line and pay the tariff. He also showed how impossible it was for the American woolgrowers to compete, without protection, with the Australian sheep ranges where land for grazing in any quantity could be leased for two cents an acre.

The speaker then showed the unfairness of the "free raw materials" cry of the democrats, which would especially damage this region. Men in the so-called "unprotected industries" were interested in the tariff because with free trade the protected industries would be crippled and the men engaged in them forced into other occupations with a consequent lowering of wages all along the line.

The manner in which the Mills bill and the McKinley bill were prepared were contrasted. The first was cooked up in a star-chamber session of nine men. For the second the interests of all were consulted and the opinions of all invited. The McKinley bill was framed by the collective wisdom of the whole country and that was why it was such a success.

Mr. Rich also touched briefly on the currency question and illustrated forcibly the folly of wild-cat banking. He contrasted the financial policy of the democratic and republican parties. The first emptied the treasury; the second filled it. The first impaired the nation's credit; the second established it firmly.

In conclusion Mr. Rich called attention to the fact that Americans do not emigrate; that despite the shrieks of the calamity howlers men seemed to find this the best possible kind of a country to stay in. He concluded by a forcible statement of the individual responsibility of every citizen and appealed to his hearers to remember that responsibility on election day.

MR. GIDDINGS' ADDRESS.

Mr. Giddings opened his speech by a very beautiful passage describing the greatest incident of the battle of Gettysburg, Pickett's charge on Cemetery hill and continued:

"We are now fighting the Gettysburg of our national civil life. It remains for us to say whether we shall hold our splendid fortress on the hill of Protection or shall yield it to the horde of free trade pirates marching under the black flag of destruction to American industries" (enthusiastic cheers).

Some allusions to Mr. Rich's forcible defense of the protective policy were also loudly cheered and here occurred the series of interruptions by a drunken sot and Mr. Giddings' stinging rebuke, fully described in another place.

Mr. Giddings called attention to the remarkable record of the democratic party in its attitude toward the protective policy. Calhoun and nullification in 1832, Jeff Davis and secession in 1861 and Grover Cleveland and democracy in 1892 were all in the same line.

Mr. Giddings touched briefly on tin plate, which the democrats insisted we could not make and which we were making, on the foreign policy of President Harrison's administration, on the decrease in the national debt in the last four years and on reciprocity. He then turned to the record of the democratic candidates and contrasted Cleveland pleading before the young men of the state university at Ann Arbor for a noble manhood in politics and Cleveland kneeling before the Tammany tiger, the embodiment of all that is base and vile and corrupt and mean in American politics. He cited Stevenson's membership in the treasonable society of the Knights of the Golden Circle and in the convention which declared the war a failure.

Mr. Giddings then turned to state issues and exposed in a caustic manner the broken pledges of the democrats. They promised a short session of the legislature; they held the longest on record and an extra session that cost $16,000 more. They promised to reform the free pass abuse and refused even to consider a bill on the subject. They promised economy; they spent $198,000 more than the preceding legislature. They refused to make needed additions to the state institutions and today hapless maniacs were languishing in every county jail. They promised a reform of the tax law and they passed a mortgage tax act under which the borrower not only paid the interest but the tax, which deprived municipalities of their just revenues and which the democratic Auditor-General Stone justly characterized as "the most iniquitous measure of taxation ever passed."

The yielded to the peculiar persuasions of the Standard Oil company and degraded the test for illuminating oils with the result of dozens of lives lost and thousands of dollars' worth of property destroyed.

Dan Will Make the Run.

After much persuasion from his democratic friends, Dan Sullivan, one of the popular pair of gentlemen who recently re-opened the Hotel Marquette to the public, has consented to become a candidate for representative in the legislature on the democratic ticket in opposition to the republican nominee, Hon. George Wagner. Dan is a good fellow and the MINING JOURNAL has a soft place in its heart for him for that reason and the further one that he came to Marquette to enter its employ, and is sorry that he is running for office under auspices that render it impossible for this paper to support him. But it will be better for him in the long run to be defeated, as he has all he can do to look after the patrons of the Hotel Marquette. He is in a niche that he fits in to a nice one and Mr. Wagner has proved during two terms that he is the man for the place that he is again the candidate for, so the people will vote to keep Dan at home and send George to Lansing. Mr. Sullivan goes on the ticket to fill the vacancy caused by the declination of Mr. Green, who was nominated for representative by the district convention held in this city a week ago last Saturday.

Irish-American Ball.

The Irish-American club, a new organization of young men of Irish descent and American citizenship, makes its bow to the social world of Marquette at Armory Hall this evening, when it gives its first ball. A committee of the club consisting of James Cain, P. McManus, Timothy Foley, Martin Gannon and John Powers, assisted by the kindly volunteered skill of Nick Ritz, was engaged last night until a late hour in decorating the hall with American flags and Irish banners and succeeded in producing a very pretty effect. Hughes' orchestra will furnish the music, supper will be served at the Hotel Brunswick and an enjoyable time tonight is assured to all who attend.

Again Tonight.

There will be another republican meeting at the rink tonight, when Mr. O. C. Peterson, of Des Moines, Iowa, will address the Scandinavian voters of Marquette in their own tongue in support of the republican principles and policy. Mr. Peterson is a speaker of unusual fluency and power, and is having great meetings in all the leading cities and towns of the peninsula. The meeting will be under auspices of the Scandinavian Republican club of Marquette, and the members of that organization can be relied on to see that he will have a rink-full of hearers.

The Steam Laundry.

The steam laundry, as now conducted by Messrs. Miller & Herman, is a well managed establishment. It is supplied with all the latest machinery and is turning out none but the very best quality of work. The old machinery used by the previous owners has been discarded, and all the work handled undergoes careful supervision and is promptly delivered, and nothing is sent out that is not well laundered. The owners are doing their level best to build up a first-class steam laundry business in this city. They employ a large force for young concerns, and their enterprise is a benefit to Marquette. The prosperity of its small concerns makes a city prosperous. The MINING JOURNAL hopes to see our people give the steam laundry a fair chance. If you are not sending your work there do so and give the laundry a trial.

Got His Just Deserts.

There is an individual named O'Falvey in this town who claims to be a physician and who disgraces that profession and his own gray hairs by making of his decrepit old body a tank for all the whiskey he can buy or beg. Last night O'Falvey appeared at the republican rally, drunk as usual, and taking a seat in the front row began to interrupt Hon. J. W. Giddings in his speech. Mr. Giddings bore the annoyance for a few moments and then, turning and pointing directly at O'Falvey, exclaimed: "I am talking for thinking men—not for drunken men." The effect was electrical. The audience cheered with an angry energy that could not be mistaken and Officer Foubert collared O'Falvey and led him out amid continued ironical cheers. The MINING JOURNAL does not know what O'Falvey's politics are and does not care. This is not the first public meeting at which he has made a nuisance of himself and the scoring he got last night was well-deserved. If he again offends he should be arrested and given the full limit of the law. Confinement where he could not get liquor would be the best thing that could happen to him.

MARINE MATTERS.

PORT LIST.

Arrived—Pioneer, Continental and consort Holland. Cleared—Wawatam, Cleveland; Pioneer, Buffalo.

RAN THE ST. MARY'S RIVER AT NIGHT.

The steamer Continental with consort Holland reached this port, bound up, last night, with Capt. Charles Henslea in command. On the trip up she ran St. Mary's river at night with her consort, this being the first time that a propeller and consort made a night run of that tortuous passage. Captain Henslea reports that he made the run without difficulty and found the range lights all right and a great assistance—in fact the run could not have been made in safety but for them. Several vessels that had got through the canal ahead of him put in at Whitefish Point for shelter, but he pushed through and made Marquette without trouble. Captain Henslea feels quite proud of his achievement in having run the river at night with a consort, as well he may. Only one vessel has made the run at night, the Sam Mitchell, Captain Wilford in charge, and she had no consort to pull through. Captain Henslea has made a record that entitles him to a credit mark and the MINING JOURNAL hopes to see the feat accorded proper acknowledgement by the journals that pay special attention to marine matters.

ALFRED THURTELL,

Coles' New Block, Cor. Third and Bluff Sts. Marquette, Mich.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello, and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
