NO OFFICES FOR EDITORS.

President Cleveland Is Sensitive About Charges of Subsidizing the Press.

THIS RULE ALSO APPLIES TO POSTMASTERSHIPS.

Thinks That Office-Holding Editors Do the Party Much More Harm Than Good.

NO EDITORS NEED APPLY!

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Post says: "The assumption that editors are not generally to be recognized by the new administration is true. Mr. Cleveland believes that his predecessors suffered through the charge of having subsidized the press and he does not intend to run the same gauntlet. The decision is to be made particularly applicable to newspaper men who desire to be postmasters in their towns. Mr. Bissell has had the names of some country editors presented to him in connection with various postoffices but has uniformly declined to give them any encouragement. He lays down the principle that in small towns all the utterances of the newspaper over which the postmaster-editor presides will be regarded as the views of the administration while on the other hand all praise of Mr. Cleveland's acts will be discounted because it emanates from the recipient of official favor. Therefore Mr. Bissell does not propose to appoint any editors to postmaster-ships and the president will observe the same rule in disposing of the higher offices."

OLD OFFICE-HOLDERS BARRED.

The thunderbolt which burst over the heads of the patronage hunters when the president announced that old office-holders would be barred for re-appointment momentarily cleared the atmosphere, but only for a moment. It might be thought that this announcement would suspend applications while the old men were falling to the rear, but no sooner were the old applicants turned down than each applicant and representative reached into his inside pocket where he had a little list of names ready to spring upon the president.

THERE WILL BE EXCEPTIONS.

Congressman Springer of Illinois was one of the earliest callers yesterday and he went away with the knowledge that Mr. Cleveland intended to adhere to his rules about not appointing former officeholders to their old offices. As he himself jokingly expressed it: "My worst suspicions were confirmed." There is an understanding that Mr. Cleveland will make exceptions to this rule in certain cases, and one of these instances is said to concern the former administration of Mr. Cleveland who were removed by Mr. Harrison before the expiration of the term for which they were commissioned.

WILL SEE NO MORE APPLICANTS.

Secretary Carlisle has been so overrun with applicants for office that he has not been able to give much of his time and attention to the duties of his office and he has consequently decided not to be further interrupted in his work by securing a private room in the treasury department where he can work without being constantly interrupted. The desire of members of congress and applicants for office to see the papers on file for positions has retarded the work of the appointment division so much that Secretary Carlisle has issued an order on the subject as follows: 1. Papers of one candidate cannot be seen by another candidate. 2. Papers of any candidate can be seen by his endorser. The member of congress in whose district the office is located may see all the papers in the case. 4. Unfavorable papers are not to be shown to either candidate or his endorser but the member of congress of the district may see them.

THE HAWAIIAN TREATY.

In discussing the Hawaiian affair President Cleveland said he deprecated over-haste and would probably send a commission to Hawaii. If it was found that annexation was desired or desirable the treaty could be renewed. If other relations were preferable they would be recommended to congress. The question of appointing a non-partisan commission of three persons to visit Hawaii and report the sentiment of the people as regards annexation and as affecting the United States was fully discussed. It is said that the cabinet meeting yesterday. The commission is to have power to summon witnesses and institute a thorough investigation into the indebtedness of the kingdom, its laws and the habits of the people. The time necessary for this work will be two or three months.

HOLK SMITH A FAST WORKER.

Holk Smith has set a hot pace for his subordinates in the amount of hard work he does each day with comparative ease. He does not, however, reach his office a moment too early too suit the crowd of office-seekers, many of whom he finds when he arrives waiting around the doors of the department.

TO KEEP EFFICIENT EMPLOYEES.

Secretary Morton indicates his purpose of retaining the efficient employees of the department without regard to their politics. Several of the experienced employees of the department will shortly be notified that no change will

GORGE IN GRAND RIVER.

Great Fears of Serious Catastrophe From the Ice Gorges at Lyons.

LYONS.

RIVER CUTTING NEW CHANNELS OVER THE PRAIRIE.

Dam Taken Out at Flint by Breaking Log Boom—Port Deposit, Md. Under Water.

FLOODS IN LOWER MICHIGAN.

MICH., March 12.—The situation on the Grand river remains unchanged as to the threatened danger from the ice gorge above Lyons. The water here is only three inches higher than at dark last night. Nothing serious happened during the night. The ice gorge below Lyons has been broken up and is passing a short distance down stream, leaving a partially free channel for water and floating ice to pass off which, however, will soon fill again when up stream ice comes down. The water is cutting new channels across the prairies, in one place below half a mile from the old bed. Wheat fields are being washed away. Everywhere in the river can be seen floating household utensils and furniture.

The rain of last night turned into snow early this morning, passing entirely off at sunrise, thus averting for the time what otherwise must and may still be a terrible catastrophe.

DAM TAKEN OUT AT FLINT.

FLINT, Mich., March 12.—Shortly before the noon hour today the boom at the Smith Lumber company's mill here broke from the pressure of ice and two million feet of logs began to move down stream. A jam formed at Hamilton's dam, a short distance below the mills. The gorge was broken up with dynamite but formed again and carried the dam with it. The loss will exceed $10,000.

PORT DEPOSIT FLOODED.

People of That Town Spend a Very Damp Sunday.

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., March 12.—An ice gorge at Conowingo, a few miles above here, was holding in check a great volume of water. The breaking of this gorge was dreaded last night and hundreds of people thronged the banks of the river and watched for the coming torrents. At 2 o'clock this morning the gorge gave way and the flood let loose swept down. For a time the inhabitants did not know whether or not their town would be carried away and themselves drowned but when the waters had reached the height of eight feet in the streets and houses they ceased to rise. The stage for the day remained at the same height and outhouses not securely fastened have been swept off. The tracks of the Port Deposit & Columbia road are covered for miles and it will be several days before traffic can be resumed. No services were held in any of the churches today on account of the flood. The loss is so far estimated at $50,000.

CALIFORNIA SOLONS POUT.

Propose to Remove Capital Because of Newspaper Criticism.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 12.—The state legislature last evening passed through both houses a resolution to submit to the people a constitutional amendment removing the capital to San Jose, providing the latter city shall give to the state ten acres of land and a bonus of $1,000,000. The immediate animus of the resolutions was an article in a Sacramento evening paper headed "Thank God—The Legislature Will Soon Adjourn" and professing to rectify various misdeeds and mistakes of the legislature. The article was read in the senate and resolutions were passed promptly. Being transmitted to the assembly they first failed of the necessary two-thirds majority but a call of the house was ordered, the doors were closed and the sergeant-at-arms was dispatched to arrest absent members. A number were routed from bed, brought to the assembly chamber and the required vote was thus finally obtained.

NATURAL GAS EXPLOSION.

Nearly All the Windows Broken for Two Blocks.

PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Escaping natural gas in the conduits of the Central telephone company on Market street caused a terrific explosion about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Every pane of glass in nearly every building between First and Third avenues was broken but fortunately no one was injured. The concussion shook buildings for several blocks and freighted the occupants but beyond the breaking of the windows no damage was done. It had been a week day it is probable that there would have been many persons injured as the district is one of the busiest in the city.

KEEPS UP HER RECORD.

Mrs. Elsworth Miller Bears Her Third Set of Triplets.

COLD SPRINGS, N. Y., March 12.—The many admirers of Mrs. Elsworth Miller, who holds the world's record in the matter of multiple child bearing, will be gratified to learn that she has just presented her husband with triplets, two boys and a girl. This brings her record for triplets up to three sets and her total up to sixteen. She was married on October 10, 1883, nine years and five months ago, and is now thirty-one years old. She has seven living children, including the three whom she has just borne.

ALL THIS talk about an "ore trust" is merely newspaper talk. No such trust has been formed and none will be. An understanding among the mine owners not to produce so far beyond the needs of the market as to cause a disastrous slump in prices would be a good thing to have, but a "trust" that would undertake to establish prices is a manifest impossibility.

IT BEGINS to be evident that President Cleveland intends to give the country a "reform" administration with some kinds of reform in it that will be exceedingly distasteful to his own party. It is to be hoped, in the interest of a very large class of deserving Democrats, that he will not establish a rule that will bar men who voted the Democratic ticket straight in the late election from holding office under him.

GENERAL BRAGG and other brave soldiers should be exempted from any order that bars old officials from holding office under the new administration," says The Superior Daily Call. So far as General Bragg is concerned, there would appear to a "bar" to his getting anything under the new administration apart from the rule applying to men who formerly held office under Cleveland. Vilas and Mitchell in the senate from Wisconsin constitute a reasonably effective bar of that kind.

THERE are so many Michigan candidates for the position on the bench made vacant by Judge Jackson's elevation to a place on the supreme bench of the United States that there is some danger of all of them being disappointed. The place ought to go to Judge Morse if it comes to Michigan, and it does not look well for the other aspirants to jeopardize the chances of a man who made the sacrifice he did for his party last fall by entering the lists for the position as contestants against him.

PARTIES at Duluth who are interested in iron properties on the Mesaba range on whose ore output the state collects a royalty of thirty cents a ton, these being state school lands, are going to ask the legislature to pass a bill reducing the royalty to ten cents a ton on all ore mined on such lands that is smelted in the state. It is quite safe to say that the bill will not pass. The granger element in the Minnesota legislature is much more likely to tax the mines excessively than to consent to a reduction of the revenue which the state will derive from a not excessive royalty under the law as it stands.

THE bankers are coming to the assistance of the government by offering to exchange gold for treasury notes, and it is likely that the secretary of the treasury will thus be enabled to meet any demand for gold that may be made on him without resorting to an issue of bonds. The banks are showing themselves commendably patriotic by their action, though to hear what the Populists say of them they constitute a great menace to free institutions. But maybe the Populists are no better authority on the character of these institutions than on what is the proper financial policy for the government.

WE LEARN from The News-Record of Ironwood that excellent progress is being made in unwatering the Ashland mine, and that the management hopes to have the flooded workings free of water by April 1. Bailers at No. 5, 6, 7 and 8 shafts are hauling out water at a lively rate and the Cornish lift and steam pump in use are also doing good work. The ninth level is now free of water, and progress toward the tenth will be more rapid from now on as the workings are not so extensive. Another bailer will be running in a few days, and it is hoped to soon get the water down to the big pump on the tenth level.

WANTS NEW MEN.

It is authoritatively stated that President Cleveland has decided not to re-appoint to federal positions any of the men who held office under him during his former term; except, possibly, in a few instances. A Washington dispatch quotes him as having said to a congressman, who called on him to ascertain if it were true that he had determined on this policy: "It is perfectly correct; I am very much opposed to the re-appointment of ex-officials. I will say, however, that my determination on this point will not necessarily apply to certain gentlemen who are now applicants for positions which they have filled before with exceptional ability." The president further remarked that there "are few rules without exceptions," but what he stated leaves no doubt that his rule will be to select new men this time and not to consider applications for office from any of those who held places under him while he was serving his former term as chief executive.

The president's idea seems to be that the men who were honored under his former administration have had their share of recognition and ought to be willing to give others a chance to taste the sweets, as well as sample the disappointments, of office-holding.

In one respect, at least, the rule adopted, or said to be adopted, by the president will have a wholesome tendency. It will operate to prevent the organization of an office-holding class in the party and thereby keep it freer from rings and combines made up of professional place-hunters than it could well be kept under what has hitherto been the system in the distribution of federal positions.

It is also stated that the president will not favor the appointment of newspaper men to federal positions. This will be very disappointing news to several ink-slinging applicants in Michigan who have had their little lightning rods exposed ever since November last. THE MINING JOURNAL doubts the wisdom of such a rule for general enforcement, as it would bar out some very deserving applicants. It is not good policy to discriminate in this way against any class or profession, and we can see no reason for ruling out of the race for official honors a class that has done so much to earn recognition as the editors of party papers.

WHERE IS THE THREAT?

We find this in The State Republican of Lansing:

Some days ago THE MARQUETTE MINING JOURNAL rather impudently called upon The State Republican to declare itself upon the question of establishing a normal school and an insane asylum on the upper peninsula. THE MINING JOURNAL appears to have been not entirely satisfied with the tone of The Republican's reply, since it asserts that the Republican "attempts to be jocular on a serious subject," and accompanies its remark with a covert threat of danger to somebody or something.

The Republican does not regard the matter as dangerous or even specially serious. If the legislature is sufficiently impressed with the immediate necessity for such institutions in that part of the state they will undoubtedly be provided for; otherwise they will not be.

And right here we will mildly suggest to our friend, THE MINING JOURNAL, that it seems to have fallen into a habit of warning and indirectly threatening the Republicans of this part of the state in season and out of season. It is in bad taste, and getting to be somewhat monotonous from frequent repetitions. The Republicans of lower Michigan have a disposition to be more than fair with their northern brothers, but are liable to become restive and intractable under whip-and-spur methods.

Here is the paragraph that called out the ill-natured editorial in the Lansing paper from which the extract given above is taken:

The State Republican endeavors to be quite facetious in its reply to the query propounded by THE MINING JOURNAL as to how it stood on the proposition to have the legislature provide the people of this peninsula with an asylum for the insane and a normal school. The State Republican attempts to be jocular on a serious subject—a dangerous thing to undertake under any circumstances, but doubly so when the undertaker is better qualified for the business to which that term especially applies than for the difficult work of writing humorous articles for publication.

Now will The State Republican be good enough to point out the "covert threat" in THE MINING JOURNAL's comment on that sheet's very stupid and insolent reply to a plain and entirely proper question respectfully put to it?

Evidently the Lansing organ is not disposed to be either frank, or fair with THE MINING JOURNAL, in this matter, but it will not be allowed to evade the point by placing this paper in a false light.

THE MINING JOURNAL has told the lower peninsula leaders of the Republican party some plain truths at different times during the past couple of years relative to the sentiment of the voters of the party at this side of the straits, and has good reason to believe that what it has urged on their attention has not been without effect in securing for this peninsula better treatment politically than it had been formerly accorded.

But it is not in the habit of "threatening" the lower peninsula section of the party, nor are "warnings" needed after that served on the party in Michigan in the state election of 1890.

All that THE MINING JOURNAL now asks is that the upper peninsula shall be as fairly treated by the Republican majority in the legislature now in session at Lansing on its demand for the establishment up here of an insane asylum and a normal school as it was by the state convention of the Republican party in the nomination of candidates for state offices last year.

We would be pleased to have the Lansing paper throw whatever influence it possesses in favor of having these needed state institutions given us, but as we are not to have the valuable assistance of that lever of sentiment we shall have to try and get along without it.

By the way, doesn't the concluding paragraph of the extract given from the article in The State Republican contain something closely akin to a "covert threat"? It sounds as if meant that way.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED.

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

THE CHILDREN'S FRIEND. How Armand Berquin's Hours of Illness Were Soothed by His Adorers.

The story of the friendship between Armand Berquin and the children who lived near him in Paris is as charming as any of his own stories, which won for him the title "The Children's Friend."

Just then came the news of her sudden death, and her son, who was already out of health, was plunged into a state of melancholy and soon became seriously ill.

The children's friend began to recover, but he was still melancholy and nervous and wept. The doctor noticed that music and flowers had a calming effect upon him.

ADDED MURDER TO SUICIDE

QUINCY, Mass., March 12.—Unrequited love and jealousy were the causes of a murder and suicide at Quincy today, the principals in the shocking tragedy being Marie Victoria Le Fevre, a comely lass of 18 years, and Joseph Massey, aged about 30 years.

The girl, who is a devout church member, had been to mass and was returning home. Massey had been waiting and followed her. A score or more people returning from church were also behind her.

When the girl had reached a point opposite the entrance commonly known as "the stile," Massey was seen to step up near her and without any warning draw a revolver and fire three shots in rapid succession, which were followed by a heart rending scream from the girl.

The whole affair came so suddenly upon the eye witnesses that they were for a moment apparently paralyzed and paid no attention to Massey who did not stop to see the result but turned and walked leisurely away. Realizing finally what he had done the crowd "stop that man, he has shot a girl!"

Charity as a Cause of Poverty. The effect of indiscriminate charity in breeding poverty must also be taken into account. The lord mayor's fund of $350,000, which was flung out by a charitable impulse to the poor of east London a few winters ago, caused far more poverty than it cured.

Raphael's Madonnas. In his many Madonnas Raphael has depicted several types, some resembling those created by his master Perugino, others influenced by the models of the Tuscan school, and others again inspired by the surroundings of his glorious existence at Rome.

Such is the interest of the "Virgin with the Goldfinch," in the Tribune at Florence, one of the most exquisite of Raphael's Madonnas painted under Florentine influences. This Madonna is not a mother, but simply a happy and smiling virgin, the elder sister of the robust and joyous children who play around her knees.

Death From a Barber's Razor. The death of Mr. John Terry of Rector street from a malady brought on by a slight cut in the face which he got while being shaved ought to be an admonishment to barbers. The wound inflicted by the razor in the barber's hand was very slight, but it was the means of admitting into Mr. Terry's system some baneful substance, which may have been in the lather, or on brush, sponge or towel, or on the barber's hand.

Mr. Hayden Speaks of the L. S. & I. and Also of Mr. White in Washington.

NO BISHOP FOR NORTHERN MICHIGAN FOR TWO YEARS.

Steam Laundry Needs More Capital. The Cliff Dwellers' Annual Meeting. Warden Van Evera's Snap.

MARQUETTE MAN HONORED.

Mr. George W. Hayden, who returned from Washington Friday, spent the day in Marquette Saturday in conference with Chief Engineer Wenzell, of the new Lake Superior & Ishpeming railway, and Marquette landowners who have cause to be interested in the success of that undertaking. To a MINING JOURNAL reporter Mr. Hayden expressed his satisfaction at the progress thus far made and said that if the projectors of the new line were met in the proper spirit, as there now seems to be little doubt that they will be, it will be handling ore before the end of the coming season. There is not much to be said about it at present, however, but on the return of parties now absent from the city and on the completion of certain work now under way the new company will be prepared to talk business and that time will be about the first of the coming month.

Mr. Hayden expressed himself as greatly pleased with his Washington trip and spoke especially of his gratification as a citizen of the upper peninsula at the honor and attention shown Marquette's noted citizen, Hon. Peter White, while in Washington. There were just two men from Michigan who were thoroughly "in it" from start to finish and they were Don M. Dickinson and Peter White. Both had quarters at the Arlington en suite with those of the president-elect and Mr. White was one of the very few who spent the evening with Mr. Cleveland on his arrival in Washington, the evening preceding his nomination. Men were there from every nook and corner in Michigan and to use Mr. Hayden's expression, "it made their eyes stick out to see a citizen of the upper peninsula accorded such signal courtesy by the new president, his close friends and the members of the incoming cabinet."

There was naturally nothing too good for Dickinson and by the same token there was nothing too good for Mr. White, who has been honored with the strong personal friendship and admiration of President Cleveland, it being the common talk of the newspapers in Washington, and outside newspapers as well through their Washington representatives, that the man from Lake Superior's Queen City could have anything he wanted within reason from the new administration, his name being mentioned in connection with half a dozen different foreign ministries. "I noticed, however," said Mr. Hayden, "that in an interview with the Washington correspondent of The Free Press Mr. White declared that he was seeking no office for himself whatever and that apart from one or two local appointments he had no intention of using his influence for or against any one."

The story brought back by other upper peninsula visitors is exactly the same as that given by Mr. Hayden. Mr. White was not only shown every mark of honor and esteem by President Cleveland, Don M. Dickinson and the president's close friends but also had the honor of being one of the very few outside guests at the dinner given by Justice Brown of the supreme court in honor of the new associate justice, Judge Jackson and it is related that when the stories were put on tap the veteran raconteur of the M. S. S. C. was right in his element.

The honor shown him is reflected in turn upon the city of which he is so proud and upon the peninsula in which he has so long been easily the most prominent figure. Who knows but that one of these days he will be luring our angling president up this way for a whirl with the trout or for a crack at the deer, President Cleveland being noted as a devotee of both rod and gun.

No Bishop for Two Years.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin says: "Bishop Nicholson has returned from the special of meeting of the house of bishops, which was held in New York city last week. Forty-four of the seventy-six bishops of the Episcopal church were present. Rev. Dr. Thomas of New York declined election to the missionary bishopric of northern Michigan, and it was decided to defer all action in regard to that position until the next general convention, which will be held in Minneapolis in 1895." Dr. Thomas inspected this field last December. He is a brother-in-law of Curator Eldridge of the Layton Art Gallery, Milwaukee.

The house of bishops adopted a resolution asking the government not to adopt any measures calculated to bear specially hard on the Chinese. Another resolution was adopted re-affirming the principle that it was not proper for the government to bestow, nor for any religious body to accept, aid for any mission or school conducted by religious bodies.

Closes Down for the Present.

Saturday Mr. John Gould, proprietor of the Marquette Steam laundry, discovered that his boiler was giving out completely and at once decided to close the institution, at least for the present. The quarters now occupied by the laundry are in every way unsuitable and while Mr. Gould has been favored with a splendid patronage he feels that in justice to himself and his patrons he must stop operations, at least until he finds it possible to put in a new boiler and a little additional machinery besides securing entirely new quarters for the business.

In the present quarters it is often necessary to do half of the week's work over a second time before allowing it to go out, the cause being smoke and dust from the boiler room, which seems to blow through the entire house. Mr. Gould states that the business has been in every way satisfactory so far as patronage is concerned, the laundry really having more work than it could attend to, and he believes that it will prove one of the best paying ventures in the city if he can find someone to go in with him and supply the capital needed for the changes and improvements outlined above. It is to be hoped he will find the right party very soon for the closing down of the laundry will cause great inconvenience to many who have been its constant patrons and Mr. Gould has made such a success of it that he has shown himself the right man in the right place.

For the present the scouring and dyeing departments will be continued as before in order to take care of a large amount of work now on hand.

Cliff Dwellers' Annual.

The Cliff club, owning "Cliff Cottage" on Middle Island Point, had its annual meeting on Saturday evening and elected the following officers for the coming season: President, F. G. King; secretary, C. F. Rowe; treasurer, Dr. R. W. Boyer. It was decided at the meeting to enlarge the house this spring by the addition of another room and also to put siding on the entire structure. The house stands on the west side of the point, facing the bay back of Partridge Island, and is on a ledge of rock forty feet above the water, while immediately behind it the cliff rises abruptly to a height of about fifty feet. It is proposed this season to lease the club house occasionally to friends of the members at such times as the members themselves will not require it. The membership of the club, which was organized a year ago, is limited to ten.

A Soft Snap.

John E. Van Evera, the new warden of the Marquette prison, has about the softest snap THE MINING JOURNAL knows of just now. Having been refused possession of the prison by the retiring warden all the noted Marquette agriculturists has to do now is to sit around and reflect that the dollars are coming in just the same, the report in the lower peninsula papers that the state board of inspectors had voted to stop Mr. Malmberg's salary on the 8th inst., the day on which Mr. Van Evera's commission took effect and upon which he made his demand for possession of the office, having been found entirely correct. THE MINING JOURNAL congratulates Mr. Van Evera on having the softest snap—while it lasts—in Michigan and is also compelled to compliment him upon the fortitude and equanimity which he displays under the terrible burden now resting upon—the other fellow.

For the Duluth Division.

Mr. J. C. Hyde, who has been train master for the Duluth division of the South Shore road, with headquarters at Thomaston, has resigned to return to the east where he will engage in the street railway business at Buffalo. Mr. M. A. Murphy, second dispatcher in the office of Chief Dispatcher Boxer in this city, has been named as his successor and left yesterday to get acquainted with his new office. He will probably take charge of the division Wednesday, the 15th inst.

Mr. Murphy's departure makes Mr. Block second dispatcher and Mr. Johnston third while Mr. Kergan is promoted from the position of operator to that of fourth dispatcher. Mr. Dushane, the first dispatcher, is of course not affected by the change.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
