Horde of Hungry Democrats Continues to Surge Through the White House.

BUSINESS HUSTLERS WANTED FOR CONSULS.

Senate Caucus Gets the Committee Slate Fixed and It Will Probably Go Through Today.

PATRIOTS FOR REVENUE PLENTY

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Callers at the White House today were not as numerous as on previous days and those who came were given but brief audiences as it was necessary to cut short the reception on account of a session of the cabinet.

Representatives Kilgore and Bailey of Texas were among the early callers. They came to present the name of C. B. Stewart of Gainesville, Tex., for appointment as judge of the Muskogee (Indian Territory) court.

"Will you request a federal appointment," Mr. Kilgore was asked. "Not much," he replied, "I am coming back to Congress to raise Cain."

Representative Springer of Illinois presented the name of Edgar Morrison of Morrisonville, cousin to William R. Morrison, with an application for appointment as consul to Kanagawa, Japan. Mr. Springer jokingly asked the president to officially promulgate the rule debaring ex-officials from re-appointment. "Every one of them thinks that he is the exceptional case," said Mr. Springer, "and that the rule does not apply to him."

BLOUNT LOOKED FOR SOMETHING.

With Secretary Gresham came ex-Congressman Blount of Georgia, who was chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs in the last Congress. Mr. Blount was summoned to Washington by telegraph and arrived this morning. He was shown into the private secretary's room while Secretary Gresham joined his colleagues who were with the president. In a little while Mr. Blount was sent for and proceeded to the cabinet room, where he remained some time. It is said that he will be the head of a commission which is to be sent immediately to Hawaii and that his presence in Washington is for the purpose of receiving instructions. It is rumored that when Mr. Blount returns he will be designated to perform special duties under the direction of the secretary of state. His position will be a permanent one during this administration and he will hold much the same relation to the state department as General John W. Foster did during Secretary Blaine's incumbency.

A telegram has been received by Secretary Gresham signed by all the state officers of Indiana stating that the appointment of Hon. W. E. English to be minister to Sweden will give general satisfaction to the Democrats of Indiana.

OPENINGS FOR HUSTLERS.

President Cleveland Wants Some Good Drummers for Consuls.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Cleveland has decided upon a policy to be pursued in the appointment of consuls which is expected materially to expand the trade of the United States with foreign countries, especially with the South and Central American republics. His policy is to select men for appointment to consularships who have exceptional business qualifications and possess sufficient trade instinct to recognize an outlet for American merchandise and ability to aid in working up a market for the product of American factories and farms. The president said of course political reasons could not be entirely ignored in the selection of consuls but that particular stress would be laid upon the business abilities of the men whose names are presented to him. President Cleveland has indicated his determination of this policy to several congressmen lately and especially to one New York member whose constituents are interested in the increase of the volume of foreign trade. It is understood, therefore, that for the principal commercial ports and centers of trade the selection of consuls will be based largely upon their commercial fitness and "political reasons" will apply in other cases.

COMMITTEES ARE COMPLETED.

Senate Will Be Ready to Act on Nominations Today.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Democratic caucus finished its labors today so far as the re-organization of the committees of the senate is concerned. The session of the caucus was not so long as was anticipated despite the fact that there was some discussion on the subject of the reorganization of the elective offices of the senate. There was a prevailing sentiment in favor of a speedy reorganization of the clerical and the executive force and that sentiment took tangible shape immediately after the adjournment of the caucus when the caucus committee met in Mr. Ransom's room for the purpose of considering the subject. Up to this time the committee has been busily engaged with the revision of the committee lists that the other matter has been referred to only in an informal manner. This important branch of the work of the majority is now, however, well under way and it is probable that by this time next week, if not earlier, the elective officers of the senate will have been changed.

The committee has provided chairmanships for Senators Peffer and Kyle, the P-polit members, and has permitted Mr. Stewart to retain the chairmanship of the committee on mines and mining, which he held under the Republican organization. There was some debate over this action and some opposition but the influence of the committee prevailed and the silver senator from Nevada will not be disturbed. Either upon the standing or select committees places were found as chairmen for all the new Democratic senators. The Republicans are given eleven committees, just the number they gave the Democrats.

At the conclusion of the caucus Mr. Gorman sent a copy of the list to the Republican committee, which was in session in the room of the committee on appropriations. The Republican committee declines to give out anything tonight but will report to a Republican caucus tomorrow.

It is said that there has been quite a pressure brought to bear upon the Democratic caucus committee to remove Mr. Stewart from the Republican representation on the committee on appropriations and it is not unlikely that this will be done in view of the fact that he has been kept by the Democrats as chairman of the committee on mines and mining. The Northwestern senators are urging that that section of the country is entitled to representation upon the important committees and will insist that some one of their number be given the place. Mr. Davess' retirement from the senate leaves the minority representation as it would be under the re-organization but if Mr. Stewart is removed there will be a vacancy and it is this probable vacancy that the men from the Northwest are demanding shall be given to them.

The committee changes will probably receive the sanction of the senate tomorrow by resolution and the old chairmen will then give up the rooms they have occupied and the Democrats will be in possession. Nominations will then be received and promptly acted upon.

SCARCELY ONE ESCAPED

Nine Miners Killed Outright and Eight Fatally Burned.

MCALISTER, I. T., March 14.—Mine No. 1, owned by the Choctaw Coal company at Anderson, six miles east of here on the Choctaw Coal & Railway company's property, was the scene of an explosion this morning. Nine men were killed and several dangerously wounded. There were only eighteen men in the mine at the time of the explosion. Of these nine were killed outright and eight so badly burned that they will probably die. The dead who have been taken from the mine are: John E. Scanlon, W. E. Warren, Ernest Matthews, Warren Love, Jules Triolier. The other dead have not been identified.

LEGISLATURE'S SLOW DAY.

Both House and Senate Chiefly Occupied With Local Bills.

STATE HOUSE, LANSING, Mich., March 14.—[Special]—Very little of public interest was transacted in either house today. The senate passed house bill providing a noon recess in township elections. Mr. Clapp's bill providing for a system of leaves of absence from the Industrial Home for Girls and to provide for a penalty for persons aiding in the escape of the inmates of the institution was agreed to in committee of the whole. The house passed a bill dividing the township of Calumet into two voting precincts and a few bills of local importance. Both houses adjourned until 2 p. m. tomorrow.

WORKING FOR COMPROMISE.

Hopes for Settlement of the Ann Arbor Strike Today.

TOLEDO, March 14.—Affairs in the Ann Arbor strike remain practically unchanged though settlement does not seem far off. The strikers themselves and the officers of the Brotherhoods remain reticent on the subject. Railroad Commissioner Kirby and Manager Ashley of the Ann Arbor were in consultation all afternoon examining the list of grievances and demands presented by the men. Mr. Kirby says that a settlement will probably be reached in the morning and a compromise effected that will be at least partially satisfactory both to the company and to the strikers. Whether Messrs. Arthur and Sargent of the Brotherhoods will agree with Mr. Kirby that the terms of settlement are satisfactory remains to be seen.

IVES IS IN THE DEAL.

Ex-Napoleon of Finance Is Bobbing Up Once More.

DETROIT, March 14.—It is announced today that Henry S. Ives, "the young Napoleon of finance," is the principal backer of the new line which is to be built some time this year between Detroit and Toledo and which will be used as a feeder by the Pennsylvania and other roads not now having access to this city. Several other prominent eastern capitalists and a number in this city are also interested in the new road, which it is said will take considerable business from the Vanderbilt line.

BROWN'S ASSASSINS ARRESTED.

Foot-Pads Who Added Murder to Robbery Identified.

ST. LOUIS, March 14.—Henry Kaiser, Jacob Heinze and Charles McDonnell, who were arrested here last night as the foot-pads who assaulted and robbed Edwin E. Brown of Chicago about two weeks ago, from the effects of which assault Brown died, have been identified by two colored woman, Carrie Chapman and Betty Robinson, who witnessed the attack.

INSURANCE SWINDLER CAUGHT.

Thrun Tried Antique Game to Get Life Insurance.

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 14.—Thrun, the alleged life insurance swindler, is expected to arrive in this city tomorrow evening in charge of Sheriff Kraby. He was captured in New Orleans. Thrun's house was burned at Romeo, Wis., and a charred and disfigured body, supposed to be his, was found in the ruins. Detectives got track of the supposed dead man by means of letters addressed to his wife.

LOWER MICHIGAN FLOODS.

Much Damage by High Water All Along the Grand River Valley.

SEVERAL GRAND RAPIDS FACTORIES SHUT DOWN.

Dams Out and Many Houses Flooded at Kalamazoo—Vessels in Danger at Marine City.

ICE-COVERED WHEAT FIELDS.

DETROIT, March 14.—The high water in some of the rivers in Michigan has subsided while in others it is still doing considerable damage. At Grand Rapids the water is past the highest point in forty-two years and is still rapidly rising. One hundred houses on the west side are surrounded by water. Children go to school in boats and fifty families or more have been taken out on rafts and have suffered intensely from the cold storm that has been prevailing. Last night the city was in darkness because the electric light works were flooded.

The big Wallin leather works, the Voigt Milling company, the Stow & Davis Furniture company, the Priestly Wagon and Sleigh company, the Grand Rapids Cycle company, Hartman's foundry and several other concerns shut down today. Probably fifty concerns are now idle. Four inches more of water will stop the engines on the electric street railway's power house and the cars will have to stop running in consequence. Several bridges above and below Grand Rapids have been carried away. The Gunnesson Swamp district, where many workmen reside, is afloat and house owners are using boats in going back and forth. The Felt Boot works and Cord & Bradford's furniture factory are cut off from communication except by telephone and work is suspended.

Above Marine City the Belle river is rising rapidly and great damage is threatened. The river is five feet higher than usual and is blocked with heavy ice at the upper bridge and a half mile further up. There is a fleet of forty or more vessels in the river and all have taken precautions by putting out anchors and extra fastening to keep them from being carried downstream. If the gorge now formed above the upper iron bridge gives way it will sweep the river clear of craft, thereby causing an immense amount of damage.

Every factory in Midland is closed down. The city water works plant is flooded and cannot be operated. The body of Mrs. Sullivan, who was drowned Sunday, has not yet been found.

At Lowell a large number of stores and other business places are flooded, several mills have closed and many small buildings along the river have been carried away. Telephone communication between the two sides of town has been cut off. Fifteen families have been forced to abandon their homes. Flat river above the dam is full of ice and it is feared that when the gorge breaks loose the entire village will be flooded. The river in some places is two miles wide.

At Ionia, Mair, Portland and a number of other places on the Grand river no further damage is feared as the water has gone down considerably. Around Muir thousands of acres in the Grand river valley are still pined with jams of ice from one to six feet deep which will stay there until thawed out. This will delay putting spring crops too long for them to mature, thus making the incidental damage very high for the loss of one crop which cannot be put in, while the hundreds of acres of winter wheat will be practically ruined. In Ionia county the total loss to farmers and others is estimated at $80,000.

The Kalamazoo river has risen at Kalamazoo and all the streams running into it are higher than for many years. Railroad tracks in that town are inundated and more than one hundred dwellings are surrounded by water to such a depth to render it necessary to use boats in getting back and forth. Several factories have been compelled to shut down.

The Howlandburg dam on the Kalamazoo, which holds back Gull lake, has gone out and the Galesburg dam is in great danger. The dam at Howland went out yesterday and flooded a large area. The Otsego dam holds back a lake of 8,000 acres of water and may also be forced out. The water has been about stationary all day in Kalamazoo. No material damage to property had been reported nor have any lives been lost.

LIMA LAKE LEVEE IS BROKEN.

KEOKUK, Ia., March 14.—The pressure of rising water in the Mississippi river caused the levee which protects the Illinois bottoms in the Lima lake district, opposite Canton, Mo., to break last night and the lands are being overflowed. The break occurred near the flood gates where Lima lake drains into the river. The damage will be heavy. Men are at work trying to stop the break.

FRANK LAWLER, the Chicago ex-congressman, is a candidate for the post-office in that city. He is quite as reputable a candidate for that position as Carter Harrison for the municipal dignity to which he aspires. The Democratic party in Chicago must be fearfully and wonderfully made up, to produce such candidates for office as Lawler and Carter Harrison.

IT SEEMS that President Cleveland has not placed a ban on the newspaper men after all, and that deserving editors of Democratic organs are still eligible to appointive offices under him. This is as it should be. There are some very clever and deserving men engaged in conducting Democratic newspapers, and it would pain THE MINING JOURNAL excessively to see a rule adopted that would work these grievous injustices, in addition to affixing an unwarranted odium to a useful and honorable calling.

THE Wetmore-Merritt syndicate has paid $250,000 for a controlling interest in the Lake Superior mine, Mesaba range, securing 51 per cent. of the stock for that amount. This gives the syndicate control of the four centers of iron ore deposit on the Mesaba range, it is stated, and secures to the American Steel Barge company the bulk of the ore shipping business of that range, the syndicate named also having control of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road and being heavily interested in the Barge company.

THE MINING JOURNAL is pleased beyond measure to note that the questions considered by Mr. Birkinbine and Mr. Parker are beginning to occupy the attention of men conversant with the conditions now existing in the industries which they concern. Out of this discussion must come a better knowledge of the situation which must be met sooner or later by manufacturers of iron and steel who wish to be in a position to supply an already great, and steadily growing, market with every advantage for doing this successfully on their side, and when the best locations are found, as they will be eventually, this paper has every confidence that among them will be the one whose advantages for iron and steel making it has so long and persistently urged on the attention of persons engaged in this branch of manufacturing, our own Marquette.

THOSE blowing Ulster Orangemen who have been threatening armed rebellion to the authority of an Irish parliament in the event of home rule being accorded Ireland under Gladstone's bill will have to fight mostly with their fists if the contingency which they dread arises. Some time ago a firm in that province, acting for the central organization of the Orange faction, ordered 100,000 Martini rifles from English manufacturers of that weapon. The order was referred to the government, and the firm was instructed not to fill it, as no arms will be admitted to Ireland without permission from the Irish executive. If home rule prevails what is to prevent the Orangemen of Ulster from leaving Ireland and settling in some country where the hated domination of their own countrymen will not interfere with them? They might come to the United States, where they would soon be taught that the practice of disloyalty does not pay. It is a pity, indeed, that their desire to have Ireland forever held at the mercy of alien law-makers cannot be gratified.

LOCATIONS FOR IRON INDUSTRIES.

The current number of The Engineering Magazine contains a thoughtful article from the pen of Mr. John Birkinbine in which that gentleman discusses the question of locations for iron industries, bringing to bear on his treatment of the subject his intimate knowledge of the conditions essential to the success of iron and steel manufacturing enterprises and his familiarity with the districts where ores are found, as well as the markets where the products of the furnaces and mills must find consumption.

In the opening pages of his article Mr. Birkinbine touches lightly on the practice that has obtained in some parts of the country, of making the location of a blast furnace the starting point for a "boom" which has as its ulterior object the sale of real estate at a profitable advance by the originators of the scheme to hinge a big speculative venture on a small industrial enterprise. He neatly exposes the ridiculousness of the assumption on which "booms" of this nature rest by the observation that "if a blast furnace were necessarily the best starting point for an industrial town or city, the number of such settlements in the older iron-producing districts would be greater than they are; but any one conversant with the location of existing blast furnaces recognizes how many of these, although they have occupied the same location for many years, and may have been well managed and operated with skill, have gathered scarcely more than a hamlet about them." On the other hand, he points out that in a number of instances "towns and cities have developed from a single forge or blast furnace which was erected in such location as to have the advantage of good and cheap raw materials and ample market;" his deduction being the sound one that an iron industry should be located solely with a view to its success as a business undertaking and not at all as a peg upon which a big real estate speculation is to be hung.

Coming to the question of where industries of the character considered can be located with the best certainty of success in operation, Mr. Birkinbine considers the essential conditions to success—facilities for assembling crude materials cheaply and easy access to good markets—and finds that

If the abundance of satisfactory fuel obtained close to the plants were the chief necessity for economical operation of blast furnaces, and if this could not be offset by other advantages, there would be no excuse for the existence of the magnificent iron and steel industry centered at Chicago; for there the blast furnaces have no raw materials near at hand, except the limestone, and the per-diem rates of labor average higher than in some other sections of the country where pig-iron is made. On the other hand, if an abundant supply of iron ore offsets the advantage of near fuel and a good market, the enormous output of the blast furnaces in the vicinity of Pittsburgh would seem to be produced at a decided disadvantage, for with the exception of the local mill cinder and a partial dependence of some outlying furnaces upon local carbonates and brown hematites, all of the iron made in Pittsburgh and vicinity, in the Shenango valley of Pennsylvania, and the Mahoning valley of Ohio, as well as that produced about Wheeling, West Virginia, and Johnstown, Pennsylvania, is obtained by smelting iron ores brought from Lake Superior.

The surroundings which several decades ago made a location advantageous for the smelting of iron ores may have less weight in determining the erection of a blast furnace plant at the present time, several causes combining to affect the influences which certain conditions exert. Owing to the increased production of blast furnaces now constructed, due to the average size, the general use of richer ore mixtures, and the more intelligent management which is bestowed upon the operation of the existing plants, the number of blast furnaces in the United States, either active or likely to be in operation, has declined since 1881, when 717 were recorded. In 1890—the year of our greatest pig-iron output—but 562 furnaces were on the active list; of these but 311 were in operation at the close of 1890, being a smaller number than in any of the preceding twelve years, with but three exceptions (1883, 1884 and 1885), in each of which the pig-iron output was less than half of what it was in 1890. The production of pig-iron in the years 1891 and 1892 did not reach that of 1890, but owing to some new plants having been completed or blown in, the number of furnaces was slightly increased. The record shows that in 1890 there were 562 furnaces on the active list, with an output of 9,302,700 gross tons; in 1891 the furnaces numbered 559, and the output was 8,379,870 gross tons; and in 1892 564 furnaces were reported, all of which, however, were not in operation, the tonnage for the year being 9,137,000 gross tons.

Although Mr. Birkinbine does not in this article discuss the advantages of locations, such as Marquette, where the ore can be had at a minimum cost while the facilities for procuring fuel are exceptionally good considering the distance from the field of coal supply, and a constantly growing market is within easy reach, still what he sets forth bears on the question so thoroughly and ably treated by Mr. Richard A. Parker in the paper published in the last number of the Cleveland Iron Trade Review and reproduced in yesterday's number of THE MINING JOURNAL. For he uses the growth of iron and steel manufacturing at Chicago to enforce his point, that "if the abundance of satisfactory fuel" in close proximity to the plants were an essential to success in operation, there "would be no excuse for the existence" in Chicago of the magnificent iron and steel industry now centered there. The development of such an industry at a point remote from both the ore and fuel supply, and having but the advantage which its position as a distributing point gives it, is the strongest kind of argument in favor of locations like Marquette, where the ore can be obtained at a much less cost, the fuel at substantially the same cost, and from which a very large territory can be supplied at no greater expense for transportation of the finished product than the furnaces and mills at Chicago have to meet.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

QUITE A GHASTLY FIND, Negaunee Miners Discover Headless Body of a Man on Railway Track Near Blue Mine. PROBABLY RUN OVER AND KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Doing a Good Business--Brought Back a Parrot--Street Cars Given Another Layoff on Account of Snow.

FOUND DEAD ON THE TRACK. Yesterday morning when the men on the night shift at the Blue mine were returning home from work they discovered the body of a man lying on the track about seventy-five yards south of the mine.

The men who discovered the body immediately came to town and reported to Marshal Paul, who, together with Justice John Jones, selected a coroner's jury to enquire into the cause, consisting of the following persons: Christ Johnson, Ole Johnson, Joseph Quinn, Thos. Harris, Chas. Washnuth and A. Broad.

From present indications the jury will have a difficult task to ascertain the cause of Kongo's death. He was attired in miner's clothing and was apparently coming from or going to work. It is supposed that he was going to work, but up to a late hour yesterday afternoon neither his boarding boss nor anyone else who knew Kongo had shown up to give any definite information concerning him.

When the body was found it was lying there for several hours. Many conjectures as to the manner in which the unfortunate man met his death were heard on the street yesterday. Some of the Finlanders who pretended to know him said that he was insane and that he took his own life. Some thought he had been foully dealt with by someone as the railroad track is very seldom traversed by men going and coming from the mines, there being a shorter and more convenient route, while others thought he had been to town and got full, and on his way home lay down on the track to sleep and was decapitated by a passing train.

Having a Rush. Humphrey Luchas, the Silver street blacksmith and carriage builder, is having a rush of work at his shops. A number of new delivery wagons have recently been turned out that are a credit to the manufacturer.

Presented With a Parrot. Messrs. Chas. Sporley and P. B. Kirkwood got home Monday evening from their business trip to Ironwood. While in Ironwood Dave Foley, a former Negauneeite, presented Mr. Sporley with a parrot that speaks, laughs, sings and whistles.

Superintendent Pearce of the Negaunee & Ishpeming street railway tried with all his might to keep the line open Monday night and succeeded very well for a few hours, until the snow began to fill into the cuts from one to four feet deep.

Royalty and Swear Words. William the Conqueror did not introduce swearing into England, but he brought with him a very forcible oath. William was accustomed to swear "by the splendor of God," and on such occasions he combined with it the terrible aspect of the sun, which always took the place of swearing in the case of Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B.

To the Mining Journal:--In Monday's number of Sweeney's paper, that is, the little sheet that is half printed every evening at Marquette, on which a walking distillery of this city known as Sweeney is employed, appeared a half-column of abuse intended for me.

He is a handsome fellow, especially when the noon hour arrives and he is "jagged" up to the neck, as he generally is in that condition about every other day. In Sweeney's article referring to the bills which he claims the managers of the Adelphi rink wouldn't pay, he doesn't deny that he received a bill of $4.10 in full for $1, which he wanted to buy booze with.

LOCAL LACONICS Mrs. W. B. Trathen returned Monday evening from a two weeks visit to Iron Mountain. R. Barney, plumber, of Ishpeming, has a force at work doing the plumbing in Walter Sterling's new residence on Main street.

The Browne Theatre company left Negaunee on the early train, yesterday morning for Newberry, where it was billed for a performance last evening. Pedestrians on the streets of Negaunee were not numerous. Business was at a stand still during the day and evening.

An Actor Hermit. Love made a recluse of a man who is now three-quarters of a century old, and who has avoided his fellows for nearly thirty years. He calls himself John Smith, and his hermitage is in the mountains not far from Ewing, Mass.

It may be remarked that no one knows his real name. That of John Smith is an alias, and he frankly acknowledges that he has taken every precaution to conceal his identity. He visits his friends and relatives, but during his stay he is engaged, quarreled and separated. The lover's mind became unbalanced, and while yet in the prime of life he abandoned his profession and sought the seclusion of a hermitage which has now grown to be a habit with him.

In the winter the old man is a genuine hermit, so far as human beings are concerned, but in and around his cabin he has no less than a dozen cats, to say nothing of the wildcats that every little while are killed on the surrounding hills, and he is as proud of "Jim Fisk" and "Lady Ann" as ever a fond mother was of her firstborn twins.

No, I don't go hunting any more," said Peyton Brown to a party of traveling men who were talking sport at the LaCade. "I was over in Illinois some days ago and concluded to make a try for small game in the Okaw bottoms. I discovered a large flock of ducks leisurely swimming about in the bottom, and I was about to take a shot at them when a forty yards distant I turned loose both barrels, killed six and crippled five more. Only one of the lot got away. I nearly drowned myself bagging my game, came within an ace of getting bit by a water moccasin, and had to wade to the shore, and lost a hundred dollar gun in the treacherous morass.

William the Conqueror did not introduce swearing into England, but he brought with him a very forcible oath. William was accustomed to swear "by the splendor of God," and on such occasions he combined with it the terrible aspect of the sun, which always took the place of swearing in the case of Sir Joseph Porter, K. The Duluth, Mesaba & Northern has reached the place and building is going on at a lively rate. The townsite surrounded by one of the best groups of mines on the range, mines capable of producing anywhere from 1,000,000 to 2,500,000 tons of ore annually. The surrounding country is well timbered, pine predominating. A saw mill is now operating and a large one is about to be erected, the lakes affording excellent boating. KILLED THE WRONG MAN.

Richard Heath Arrested for the Murder of Louis McWhirter Last August.

CASE THAT CAUSES GREAT CALIFORNIA SENSATION

Believed That Heath Was Looking for Another Man as He and McWhirter Were Friends

FRESNO AND FRESNO STIRRED UP

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Richard Heath, son of the late General Heath of this city, was arrested late last night for the murder of Louis B. McWhirter in Fresno last August.

About 3 o'clock on the morning of August 29 last McWhirter was aroused by noises in the back yard. He went partially dressed and revolver in hand to investigate.

Heath had trouble previously with Joseph Baker, a newspaper man, and had threatened to kill him. It is believed he killed McWhirter in mistake for Baker.

The fact that Heath had been arrested here was not generally known until this morning as he was taken immediately over to Oakland and put on a train for Fresno, where he arrived last night.

WORKING DAY AND NIGHT

Director-General Davis Tells Exhibitors to Rush Things Along

CHICAGO, March 14.—The work of getting exhibits into the World's Fair buildings and setting the big show in shape for the opening May 1 is to be pushed from this time on as it has not been done before.

"I have arranged," said Director-General Davis today, "to have the exhibition buildings lighted at night by electricity. We will have continuous twenty-four hour days hereafter and the work of putting this show in order is to go on without interruption.

Cars are running here day and night. But I want them to come faster. They must be here on the grounds and ready to put into position. There are now only about forty-five days left before the opening. I intend to make every one of those days count for three.

When asked if everything would be in readiness by May 1 Mr. Davis said: "Over 100,000 packages have already been received here. Most of these are foreign but when the domestic displays begin to come they will come in a hurry.

WILL FIGHT BOTH OR EITHER

Corbett Willing to Fight Mitchell or Jackson or Both

GALESBURG, Ill., March 14.—Concerning Peter Jackson's proposition to fight him in case Mitchell fails to appear and the offer of the Buffalo Athletic club to have the fight there, Champion Corbett said tonight: "In reference to the Jackson business, at the same time that I arranged the match with Mitchell I offered to arrange a contest with Peter Jackson to take place seven months after the fight with Mitchell. I covered the $2,500 which accompanied his challenge in New York, thus binding myself to fight both Mitchell and Jackson within the next sixteen months, allowing Mr. Jackson the privilege of withdrawing his match with me in case of my defeat by Mitchell. These terms, which I believe to be as fair as any ever offered, did not suit Jackson and he withdrew his forfeit money and announced his retirement from the ring. Since Goddard's defeat, however, he comes forth with the ridiculous proposition that I guarantee him $5,000 training expenses in order that he may be in condition to take Mitchell's place next December in case Mitchell should flunk. I think that Mitchell proposes to fight. His money is up and if he fails to show that he means business I will certainly claim the forfeit.

"Now as for the proposition of the Buffalo club, I am perfectly willing to have my fight with Mitchell take place in Buffalo and suggest that the name of that club be added to the list mentioned in the articles of agreement." In closing Corbett said that he would train for the fight on the farm of W. J. Davis at Willowdale, not far from Chicago.

REPRIEVED JUST IN TIME.

Sheriff Johnson Had Just Taken Aim at Murderer Elias Loring's Heart

WHEN THE GOVERNOR'S MESSENGER GALLOPED UP

Condemned Man Makes His Own Way to the Scene of Execution Over Flooded Streams.

INDIAN TERRITORY JUSTICE

CADDO, I. T., March 14.—Elias Loring, the Indian murderer, was not shot Friday as reported. However, he had a hair's breadth escape. He, in company with Phillip Johnson, spent the greater part of the day in trying to reach the Pushmataha court ground. Boggy creek being very high and swift it could not be forded, so they had to go nearly forty miles out of the way to reach the place where he was sentenced to be executed by shooting. He hoped to get a new hearing but a few days before the day set for the execution Judge Everidge of the supreme court refused to grant it.

Loring had been very faithful and having given Sheriff Johnson no trouble was permitted to go where he desired. When they finally reached the court ground he was given a few minutes to converse with his two wives and kiss them and the children and bid them meet him in the "happy hunting grounds."

The sheriff told him his time was up and he must die. His wives again kissed him and told him to die bravely. His coffin was brought and placed by his side; then the preparation for execution began. He was stripped to his waist and given some pink ink to mark the spot over his heart. He then sat down on his coffin.

His friends came around and bade him goodbye. A bandage was put over his eyes and Sheriff Johnson stepped off fifteen steps and raised his Winchester, but before he had time to shoot he heard a whoop and looking around he saw a mounted courier coming at full speed.

It was J. D. McClure, Governor Jones' light horseman. He had a stay of execution issued by Governor Jones and ordering that Loring be tried again in the circuit court. When Loring was notified what had happened he smiled and said "chiekama," which means "good."

Judge A. B. Durant, who served for six years on the supreme bench, says there is no law on the statute book authorizing the governor to do as he did. It is believed that the court will re-sentence him and he will yet be shot.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE IT.

Paines Celery Compound head and Shoulders Above Competitors--Word From Mr. Wood.

Physicians prescribe it—Because it makes people well. No other remedy was ever so generally recommended by the medical profession. Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, who first prescribed it, was one of the most eminent of practitioners. The formula, which has been freely given to the medical profession, has been endorsed from the first; for Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine, a sarsaparilla, or an ordinary tonic, but it is the true remedy for diseases arising from the debility of the nervous system. It is a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. Says W. E. Anthony, M. D., of Providence: "I have used Paine's celery compound, and the patients expressed themselves as much pleased with the effect experienced from the use. As a tonic and restorative it seems to meet the indications in cases of debility, such as a rule, as are the sequel of the grip. I shall be pleased to recommend its use wherever it is indicated." E. H. Judkins, M. D., of Portland, Me., says: "Physicians do no praise patent or proprietary medicines or prescribe them to their patients. Honest practitioners, however, when proprietors furnish the formula of a medicine, must frankly test its merits, if it has any, and do not hesitate to express their opinion of it. This I have been doing in my practice with Paine's celery compound. Knowing of what it is composed and the high reputation of its discoverer, Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., of Dartmouth, I gave it a thorough trial and found it to meet every want of the malades for which it is recommended. "While burning the midnight oil" myself

I found it a very valuable systematic regulator, I might say renovator. To rheumatic patients it has proven of great service, and in the alarming growth of serious nervous affections in the Nineteenth century, I cannot but say when people have to keep doing, let them take so helpful and harmless a medicine as Paine's celery compound as it is of much benefit in this class of disorders. Says J. H. Lindsay, M. D., of Reed's Ferry, N. H.: "I have used Paine's celery compound with the most happy results. I can cheerfully recommend it in all chronic cases, such as rheumatism, nervous affections, etc., also in cases of debility from long continued fevers and general debility from whatever cause. I am daily prescribing the compound." From Louis Blundin, the well-known physician, whose home is in Hallowville, Penn., comes this testimonial: "It gives me great pleasure to say that my former expressed opinion of Paine's celery compound has not been altered by its continued use. Wherever my prognosis and diagnosis of a case indicates its use, I freely recommend and prescribe it with faith in its good results, and I am never deceived in them. I find it to be a grand remedy. I am much pleased with its tonic and nerve qualities. In my own case the cell tissues of the kidneys were rapidly breaking down and I was fast drifting into confirmed albuminuria, or Bright's disease, when Paine's celery compound at once arrested the decay and I find myself on the rapid road to permanent recovery." C. E. Cole, M. D., the medical director of the Prairie du Chien Medical Institute, says: "I have used considerable Paine's celery compound in my practice during the last four years and I consider it the best preparation of its kind on the market. I have used it with good results in the bilious disorders peculiar to this climate." And by the same mail comes a letter from Mr. Albert Wood of Haverhill, Mass., whose likeness appears above, in which he says: "I was troubled with the asthma for some five years and at times found it very difficult to breathe. I took Paine's celery compound, which has entirely cured me. After taking two bottles I derived great benefit. I am now nearly sixty-one years old but can walk as spry as a young man. I was also troubled about walking; my feet would burn very badly, but that feeling all left me after taking the compound. I am very smart today and my friends all speak of what a change there is in me. They ask me what I have been doing to look so well and I tell them that I took Paine's celery compound. I have recommended it to a number of my friends and they are using it." Dr. J. B. Jacobs of Burnham, Me., says that after suffering seven weeks with lambo he used two bottles of Paine's celery compound and was cured. "Paine's celery compound," he says, "is a very valuable compound to me and I use it in my practice." Washington correspondents have recently given Paine's celery compound a great deal of attention since the most wonderful cure effected in the case of General Hamilton. The medical journals of this country have given more space in the last few years to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well than to any other subject.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Is superior to all other preparations claiming to be blood-purifiers. First of all, because the principal ingredient used in it is the extract of genuine Honduras sarsaparilla root, the variety richest in medicinal properties. Also, because the low dock, being raised expressly for the Company, is always fresh and of the very best kind. With equal discrimination and care, each of the other ingredients are selected and compounded. It is because it is always the same in appearance, flavor, and effect, and, being highly concentrated, only small doses are needed. It is, therefore, the most economical blood-purifier in existence. It makes food nourishing, work pleasant, sleep refreshing, and life enjoyable. It searches out all impurities in the system and expels them harmlessly by the natural channels. AYER'S Sarsaparilla gives elasticity to the step, and imparts to the aged and infirm, renewed health, strength, and vitality.

IT WAS A RECORD BREAKER

Marquette's Electric Road Surprised Its Friends and Silenced the Last Croaker.

CARS COMPLETELY CONQUERED THE STORM YESTERDAY.

The Queen City Proud of Her Road and of Its Plucky and Enterprising Management.

CARS KEPT ON TIME

When the electric cars kept up their regular trips, and on time, too, during all the tremendous snowfall Monday afternoon and evening everybody thought that the road had done splendidly but when morning dawned with the wildest blizzard of the winter raging no one dreamed that it was other than an impossibility to run the cars. At a little after 8 o'clock, however, the entire line had been cleared and the cars had commenced their regular trips, most of the Third ward business men were able to ride down to their stores or offices as usual and when the road wound up the day without a mishap and with the cars making their trips on time right through the storm every citizen of Marquette took of his hat to the management of the Marquette City & Presque Isle electric railway.

The road certainly made more friends for itself yesterday than it could in a month of ordinary running. Everybody was praising it and everybody rode, the cars being well filled all day while at the dinner and supper hours there wasn't standing room left.

The day was the most trying that the road has ever known, but pluck and good management won against all the odds. The snow fall had been so heavy that there was an immense amount of material for the high wind to work upon and drifts formed with marvelous rapidity. Four horses kept the big plow going all day, while shovellers were kept busy on the curves and the heavy grade on Front street was swept frequently and was salted once or twice during the day. The most difficult piece of track to keep open was on Presque Isle avenue, the snow fence on Hewitt avenue protecting the worst place there.

The management of Marquette's electric road has demonstrated this season that it is entirely possible to operate an electric railway successfully right through a Lake Superior winter if the thing is attempted in the right way and after yesterday's severe test there is not a doubting Thomas left in the city. Memoranda has had the effrontery to invite Marquette to take pointers from the road down there, but THE MIXING JOURNAL can assure the saddest eaters that a company which can operate a road with a long 9 per cent. grade on it besides three other severe grades and a track exposed in many places to the full sweep of storm winds from the full width of Lake Superior in the manner in which the M. C. & P. I. company has operated its line this winter, the severest Marquette has known for over ten years, isn't looking for pointers from any source. And the best of it is that the road was conceived and built and is owned and operated by Marquette exclusively, from president to car cleaners. Even the South Shore road, with its magnificent snowfighting equipment, was pretty well laid out in yesterday's storm and no bigger feather could be placed in the M. C. & P. I. cap than is indicated in the statement that it pulled through a storm which laid out the D. S. S. & A.

Special Rates on the Roads.

The South Shore road announces a special rate of a fare and one third from stations on its line to Iron Mountain and return for the meeting of Lake Superior mining men called in that city for March 22, 23 and 24. The tickets will be sold March 21 and 22 and will be made good for return until March 25 inclusive, tickets being sold via the C. & N. W. R. Y. or the M. & N. R. Y.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS.

The Marquette club held a house reception last evening.

How does this strike you, with St. Patrick's Day still to come?

The Marquette City band will furnish music for skating at the casino this evening if the weather is fair.

Yesterday Sheriff Broad sent out his official notifications of the state election to be held on the first Monday in April.

The big crushers ordered from the Lake Shore Iron works by the Minnesota Iron company will be the largest pieces of work ever tarred out here it is thought. More are expected to follow.

The Agimos club will meet this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the residence of Miss Grace Palmer. All members expecting to be present are requested to notify Miss Palmer by 10:30 this morning.

Marquette would have suspended business yesterday if the street cars had stopped running. People took the cars when going only one or two blocks rather than force a passage on foot through the drifts.

There was a Baptist church social last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, corner of High and Ohio streets. It was a basket affair and a covered 'bus was sent around to pick up the ladies and their baskets.

The storm did not prevent a fair attendance at the meeting of Professor Hughes' dancing class last evening. The class will meet again on Friday evening, St. Patrick's Day, at Fraternity Hall with the usual bow following the instruction, the full orchestra furnishing the music.

Dick Mitchell, the popular foreman of the Lake Shore Iron works foundry, was caught just betwixt and between by this blizzard. He started on Monday to move from Park street, where he has lived for two years, up to the Pines house at the corner of Ridge and Fourth streets in order to be nearer his work. When he was about half moved the heavy downfall of snow put a stop to the work and now Dick is half in one house and half in the other. Asked yesterday where he was making his headquarters, he replied that the flour barrel and the stoves were still down at the old place and that he was sticking to them.

Attention is called to the special announcement of the Hotel Marquette which appears elsewhere in today's issue. Mr. Lewis is making a great success with the house, which has regained all of its old popularity under his management, and he is determined to keep the traveling public fully posted on the fact.

Impudence in Real Life.

Here is a story of impudence from real life. It was told by my late friend, the Rev. Greville Chester, who made a little novel out of it, but I do not think the book "ought on" or had any success. The thing happened almost exactly as follows: There was a lady living in the country; she was advanced in years, either unmarried or a widow; she was wealthy, and she lived alone.

One winter evening she heard the sound of carriage wheels on the gravel. The door was opened, and then followed the bumping of trunks in the hall. Then a lady's name was announced, and her visitor entered. She came in running, she came in holding out both her hands; she came in with a laugh of welcome and of joy. "You dearest Jenny," she cried, kissing her with brimming eyes. "It is 40 years since last we parted at dear old Miss —'s school. How are you? How are you? Oh, my dear, I am so glad to see you! And I've come to stay!"

She sat down, threw off her bonnet and began to rattle on about the school. When they separated for the night, the hostess reflected that she had not even asked her visitor's name and that she remembered nothing at all about her. In the morning she did ask her name, but yet she remembered nothing at all about her. That visitor came to stay. In fact, she never went away again. The two ladies lived together in the greatest amity till the end. And to the very end the hostess never knew who her friend was and could not associate her name or her face with her old school. —Walter Besant in London Queen.

AT BEDTIME I TAKE A PLEASANT NAP WITH LANE'S MEDICINE

THE NEXT MORNING I FEEL BRIGHT AND AM FULL OF MY COMPLEXION IS BETTER. My doctor says it acts gently on the stomach, breaks up biliousness, and is pleasant to take. It is made from herbs, and is prepared for use as easily as tea. It is called LANE'S MEDICINE

Old Time Methods of treating Colds and Coughs were based on the idea of suppression. We now know that "feeding a cold" is good doctrine. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil with hypophosphites, a rich fat-food, cures the most stubborn cough when ordinary medicines have failed. Pleasant to take; easy to digest.

WORST OF THE SEASON.

The Blizzard That Set in Monday the Most Severe That Has Visited Ishpeming This Winter.

REPAIR WORK PLANNED FOR THE CITY'S FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

Swedish Lutheran Mission Meetings Trouble Between Snow Plow and Freight Train.

WAS A HUMMER.

The blizzard that set in Monday afternoon and continued all that night and yesterday was well up to the standard of the season's worst storms. The snow fell thick and fast and the wind blew more fiercely than during any preceding storm of the winter.

Fire Alarm Improvements.

Among the improvements to the fire alarm system contemplated by the city is that of raising the wires three feet above all other wires in town.

The Gamewell Fire Alarm company of Chicago, which has the contract for repairing the system, will not be ready to begin the work for about ninety days.

The mission meetings of the Swedish Lutheran church on East Division street began last evening and will continue today and tomorrow.

The Mission Meetings.

The wreck occurred on the C. & N. W. road about noon yesterday at Harvey, a small station about sixteen miles south of Ishpeming.

RED JACKET.

The report yesterday morning that the locomotives Ope-hee and Tamarack had collided near the Hancock & Calumet depot proved to be true. The exaggerated rumors about the damage to the locomotives and the hair breadth escape of the engineers by jumping off while the trains were running were false. The only damage was the breaking of the lower portion of the snow plow on the locomotive Ope-hee and the slanting to one side of the forward trucks.

The collision was caused by the heavy blizzard. Engineer Jeffries was coming from the Kearsarge mine with some rock cars and Engineer Schenck was switching in the yard. The engineers had signalled each other and had reduced speed to 3 miles an hour but were so close to each other. When the engineers saw a collision could not be avoided each reversed his lever and stood at his post. Engineer Jeffries' locomotive was shoved off the track and stopped and the Ope-hee shot backwards at great speed as soon as the momentum was overcome. It took just forty-five minutes to replace the derailed engine on the track.

Stories of unexpected fortunes are as common as blackberries. Somebody is always making or finding or inheriting a heap of money which seems to himself almost to have come from the clouds. A workingman discovers a rich mine, as Mr. Graham did in South Australia; or a relative from whom nothing was expected suddenly heaps everything on the kinsman who bored him least, as occurred last year within our own knowledge in a southern country. Only last week a pauper in a poorhouse was declared heir to £300,000, a sum which he probably could not have put down accurately on a slate, but which had been earned in Australia by a relative who died intestate.—London Spectator.

She Could Not Appreciate It.

In the drawing room of one of California's bonanza men, now living in New York, there hangs a painting of a very common country scene—a girl feeding a flock of turkeys. The money king's daughter says that her father cares more for this picture than for any of the other furnishings of his palatial home and often stands before it for long moments at a time. His boyhood was spent in a tiny hamlet tucked away in the Catskills, and when the pretty girl says, pettishly, "I don't see what you find in that tea-chamber thing to admire," he sighs and answers, "No, for you never had such a home."—New York Times.

TOOK AN AXE TO CHARTER

New Charter as Submitted to Legislature Sadly Disfigured by Council Minority.

TREASURER MACHTS' ANNUAL REPORT GOOD READING.

Captured by the Lake Shore Iron Works. The Storm on the South Shore Road—Minor Notes.

LAST NIGHT'S COUNCIL MEETING.

The severe storm was responsible for a small attendance at the council meeting last evening and for the further fact that a minority of the council, taking advantage of the small attendance, was able to entirely demoralize the new charter as submitted to the legislature by the charter commission, backed by the wishes of a majority in the council, the leading men in the city and an undoubted majority of the citizens generally.

President Powell was in the chair and only nine other aldermen were present, leaving Aldermen Desjardins, Hennessey et al the opportunity to shape the action of the body. As a starter they stripped the mayor's office of all its prerogatives, leaving to the mayor simply the appointment of the marshal, all other offices being made elective.

Encouraged by this success the alderman from the Fifth then introduced the following bombastical resolution which was seconded by Alderman Hennessey:

Recognizing the well known fact that the result of our last municipal election clearly and unequivocally brought out the wish of the people in regard to board government as against the ruling of city affairs by the direct and responsible representatives of the people, the common council, therefore be it

Resolved, That, in deference to said wish, with profound respect for the popular will as expressed at the polls in April last, the common council of the city of Marquette do hereby respectfully request our representative in the state legislature to amend the "bill to amend the charter of the city of Marquette" by striking out all of Chapter X and all clauses or parts of clauses relating to that subject contained in said proposed amended charter—that the common council of this city may be permitted to exercise their rights as the responsible representatives of the popular will and take into their own hands the reins of the city government.

Resolved, That it is the sense of the common council of the city of Marquette that it is unjust to hold the responsible representatives of the people liable for the action of said council which they cannot control and that said control is lost and the rights of the boards are effaced by the creation of boards outside its membership.

Resolved, That this council is determined not to abdicate any of its prerogatives unless before the fully expressed wish of the people at large.

Alderman Gillett, of the present electric light commission of the council, spoke against the resolution. He stated that it had been the experience of the commission that the electric lighting plant needed more time and attention than members of the council with other affairs and with other regular committee work to attend to could give it and appealed to Alderman Johnson to corroborate him. In the face of the fact that the members of the present council commission are overwhelmingly in favor of a board Alderman Desjardins was seized with his usual flow of eloquence and held forth on the utility of boards and the sad effects which would follow the abrogation of any of the powers of the aldermen. Alderman McGregor made several frantic appeals for someone to tell him how to vote on the resolution—he understood it thoroughly but he didn't know which way to vote. Alderman Gravel advised him to hurry up and make up his mind and then the roll was called, the vote being as follows: Ayes—Agnew, Desjardins, Gravel, Hennessey, McGregor and Siegel. Nays—Gillett, Johnson, Powell and Young.

The action taken on the charter amendments represents neither the judgment of the present common council of Marquette, of the present electric light commission of the council, of the leading public men of the city nor of the public at large. It does represent the work of a minority transformed by the accident of a storm into a majority, the real sentiment of the council being expressed in the instrument already at Lansing. It is not probable that the action taken last night will have any effect upon the charter, however, as steps will be taken immediately to express the sentiments of the majority of the aldermen and of the public spirited men of the city to Representative Wagner in such a manner as will leave his duty clear in the premises.

The other business transacted was mainly of a routine character. Francis M. Moore, Samuel M. Billings and James Brahaney were appointed as the commission to take charge of the preliminaries for the coming election, a petition for the opening through of Altmont street to connect with Fisher street at Sixth was referred to the street committee and the city engineer was directed to prepare a profile for a sewer on Ohio street, from Third to Fourth street.

The street commissioner reported 195 street signs missing and the report was referred to the purchasing committee with power to act. It was also voted to have the city engineer in his discretion authorize certain changes in the grade of Crescent street, now in process of improvement, the cost of the change, to be charged to the general fund.

Alderman Hennessey introduced a resolution which was seconded by Aldermen Desjardins and adopted, calling upon the committee on rules and ordinances to report an ordinance assessing owners of poles, wires and other personal property upon the public streets, erected or being operated within the city limits by individuals or corporations. The resolution is rather vague in its terms and its object is not particularly clear.

The annual reports of City Recorder Meads, Treasurer Machts and the Board of Fire and Water Commissioners were referred to the finance committee which was directed to be ready to report upon them at the next meeting.

The report of City Treasurer August Machts will very close examination and is very gratifying in all its details. The total amount handled by the treasurer last year was $171,138.20 Of this the liquor licenses furnished $29,938.34, the delinquent tax list $4,029.57, special assessments $21,171.36, temporary loans $17,391, taxes of 1892, $77,459.87.

The disbursements were $152,381.44 leaving $18,756.76 on hand, the larger share of this amount being due to the several funds. The principal items of expenditure were as follows: General fund orders, $17,795.52; highway, $35,225.87; school, $32,703.82; water, $24,000; library, $4,773.19; temporary loans repaid, $20,991.

The ledger balances show $14,008.47 owing the city from Marquette county in the shape of back taxes and $11,993.73 from various special assessments, the great bulk of it for the improvements now under way. To offset this are the amounts due the general, school, water and library funds.

The showing leaves the city completely out of debt and as the license money for another year will soon come in it looks as if there would be easy sailing for some time to come.

Enormous Rock Crushers.

The big rock crusher built by the Lake Shore Iron works for the Minnesota Iron company has proven such a success that an order has been placed with the works for two more crushers of the same pattern but nearly twice as heavy. The one ordered for trial weighed thirty-five tons while the new ones will weigh sixty-five tons each and will have an opening 30 by 30 inches. In other words either of them will grind up within its enormous jaws a solid block of ore 2½ feet square. They will be the heaviest rock crushers ever built on Lake Superior and have probably never been exceeded in size in this country. The sides will weigh sixteen tons each, the jaw casting ten tons and the other pieces will be proportionately heavy. The crushers are to be ready for shipment within fifty days.

To handle the constantly increasing business of the foundry department of the works the second cupola is being fitted out and will be placed in commission in a few days. Ten tons have been melted every other day for the past three weeks in the cupola now in use.

The big hoisting plant building for one of the Negaunee mines is now being assembled and is one of the handsomest jobs ever turned out in Marquette, the big drum being an especially fine piece of work.

J. H. Jacobs' patent stone gang saw is being erected in the old shop building and will soon be running. It will be given a thorough and practical test before going up, the quarry and as many quarrymen are interested in the result several orders may follow immediately.

It Was a Howling Terror.

Yesterday's blizzard caused more trouble on the D., S. S. & A. than has been known before this winter, the trouble being confined, however, to the Mackinaw division where some logging trains got stalled early in the storm, resulting in the derailment of an engine and a complete blockade of the line. The express which left here at 11:30 Monday night with a double header, was caught by the blockade and the morning train got no further than Munising. All trains east of Marquette were finally cancelled for the day. At midnight last night the big rotary plow, which is the apple of General Manager Fitch's eye this winter, started down to clear the division, three engines pushing it and a crew of about fifty men manning the outfit, the biggest relief expedition which the road has known in many seasons. The rotary will clear the track and the men will shovel out the beleaguered trains so the blockade will not be of long duration.

The Theatre Royal Company.

The above company is the next attraction at the Marquette Opera House, the company opening a week's engagement on Monday evening next in the great sensational comedy, "The New World," by Wilson Reunie. The company consists well recommended by the press of the Wolverine state, this being its first visit to the upper peninsula and the repertoire being entirely new a good week's business can be predicted. The company on its opening night will give away a $50 watch to the holder of the lucky number. Prices: Gallery, fifteen cents; balcony, twenty-five cents; parquette, thirty-five cents; divans, fifty cents. Grand family matinee on Saturday.

A New Firm.

Mr. John Eckstedt, for two years connected with the gentlemen's furnishing store of Klein & Adler, later H. E. Adler, today takes possession of the Mogren store on Washington street and having purchased the stock from Mr. Johnson will conduct the business under the firm name of John Eckstedt & Co. The stock will be increased at once and will be kept right up to the times in every department. Mr. Eckstedt has a thorough acquaintance with the gentlemen's furnishing business and under his management THE MINING JOURNAL expects to see the store do a rattling business from the very start.

Injured at Commonwealth.

Mr. T. C. Anthony of Bluff street received a telegram yesterday informing him that his youngest son, Robert, about twenty-four years of age, had been severely injured in a mine accident at Commonwealth on the Menominee range and that he must come at once if he wanted to see him. The dispatch stated that the young man's leg and thigh had been crushed. Mr. Anthony left on the next train accompanied by his son Joseph. He is a brother of Mayor E. C. Anthony of Negaunee and a brother-in-law of E. T. Drew.

Reason for the Change.

THE MINING JOURNAL in its issue of February 17th gave its readers an abstract of the changes proposed in the city charter. Among others was the provision making the board of health to consist of the common council instead of a separate board as we now have in this city. A reference to the twenty-four new city charters in Michigan granted in 1887, 1889 and 1891 shows that in twenty-three of them the common council constitutes the board of health, and in one only is a separate board provided for.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
