One week To them she said that she had influence Roquefort Cheese, strength he owes his life. One week strength he owes his life. One week ago yesterday Albert Gedney and his son Robert, a young man, registered from Philadelphia. Thursday the elder Gedney went to Omaha on business, leaving his son in Chicago. Residing at the hotel is one George Doyle, a former Philadelphian who had known young Gedney in his youth. Naturally they were much together and yesterday Gedney, forgetting that the hotel was one of the vantage view points of the city Fancy Washington Navels; proposed that they go to the Masonic Temple to take a look out over the city. Finally they went to the roof of the lars from the pockets of her victims, she had nothing whatever to say in looking over the city when suddenly Gedney gave a strange laugh and grabbing Doyle by the hand he began pulling him across the small square and back again as if the cool breeze had exhilirated him to playfulness. Then he sanity in an asylum at home, his first impulse, as the sickening realization of the situation, came over him, was to call for help, but Gedney is larger and stronger than he and such a policy might have meant almost instant death. He tried to temporize and treat death. He tried to t the matter as a joke.

"Will you jump?" said Gedney and without waiting the reply he seized Doyle and began to drag him towards

"We find that George W. Haight came to his death at the Jackson state prison on the night of March 28 from the effect of a dose of prussic acid which was felonously, wilfully and maliciousy administered to him by R. Irving Latimer, a life convict then imprisoned in the said state prison; and we also find that there has been gross negligence in the prison management in allowing prisoners to have the liberty of the halls after locking hours and in allowing poisonous drugs to be taken into the prison and to go into the hands of known desperate convicts therein imprisoned. And we find by reason of such gross negligence on the part of G. Major Tabor, clerk of the state prison, the prussic acid so administered came into the hands of R. THE FLAG HE LOVED BEST. Some of the boys stole a march on Landlord Seass of the Breitung House Thursday night. During the day they procured about seven yards of red cambric, from which they made a large stocking and ornamented the top with white stripes. About midnight, when white stripes. About midnight, when Mr. Seass had retired, the stocking was hoisted to the top of his flag staff, where it flew to the breeze until next morning when a number of Mr. Seass' friends called to learn the meating of the strange ornament that occupied the strange ornament that occupied the strange ornament that occupied may be a strange ornament that occupied the strange ornament that occupied may be a strange ornament that occupied the strange ornament that occupied may be a strange ornament of the strange or such a prominent place on the building. Meanwhile it was whispered around town that Mr. Seass had deserted the "hoodoo" party and joined the "silk stockings" and that was the means he had taken to make the fact known. The joke worked well but the stocking was taken down early in the day.

Facts About the Papacy.

Leo is the 257th pope. Twenty-four of his predecessors were Johns, 16 were Greg-orys, 14 Clements, 14 Benedicts, 13 Innocents, 13 Leos, 9 Piuses, 9 Bonifaces, 8 Pauls, 8 Urbans, 8 Alexanders, 10 Stephens, 6 Adrians and 5 each named Sextus, Nicholas, Martin and Celestine. In the earliest days of the church the prelates raised to the pontificate retained their own names, but the custom of adopting the name of some predecessor has obtained for some centuries. Fifteen of the popes have been French-men, 13 have been Greeks, 8 have been Syrians, 6 have been Germans, 5 Spaniards, 2 came from Africa and 2 each from Savoy, England, Sweden, Dalmatia, Holland, Portugal and Crete. Since 1523 all the popes have been chosen from among the Italian cardinals.

ing. Beyond a certain extent this is an undeniable evil. In meeting it two methods have been used. One—the old method consists in discouraging such reading. There are still parts of our country under Puritan influence in which this is the only method conscientiously used. The result is a resorting to the street in the case of boys

The new method—which might also be called the positive—consists in putting into the hands of the young other reading than novels and exciting a lively interest in it. This requires an effort, but the end is well rand march.

VIRGINIA, MINN.

Is the most centrally situated town on the great Mesaba iron range. It has a great natural location, sloping gradually from the mines to the shore of two beautiful little lakes and surrounded by charming scenery. The Duluth, Mesaba & Northern has reached the place and building is going on at a lively rate. The townsite surrounded by one of the best groups of mines on the range, mines capable of producing anywhere from 1,000,000 to 2,500,000 tons of ore annually. The surrounding country is well timbered, pine predominating. A saw mill is now operating and a large one is about to be erected, the lakes affording excellent boomage. The village has a system of water works, a bank, feed stable, several stores, saloons, restaurants and hotels. A postoffice and newspaper is now established, the latter by Dr. Fred Barrett. Virginia is destined to have a population of at least 5,000 and people seeking new locations would do well to look it over. For further information write to

There seems to be no likelihood of any changes being made among the officials of the United States fish commission. The tenure of office in the past has been based upon good conduct. The first to hold the office was Professor Baird who died in 1887. During his incumbency no salary was attached to the position but afterwards such a provisposition but afterwards such a provision was made, and after a brief occupancy of the office by Professor Goode, Commissioner McDonald was appointed that commissioner by President Cleveland during his first term as the salaried commissioner. Gresham and Carlisle have been looking into the expenditures of the Bering sea commission an i it will not be surprising if the conclusion is reached that some of the allowances are extravagant and should be discont nued. These allowances were made by John W. Foster while he was secretary of state.

Two diplomatic appointments are expected to be made shortly. They are: Mr. Hanris Taylor of Mobile, Ala.. to he minister to Spain and Mr. John Van Alen of New York to be minister to Italy. In regard to Minister Eustis and the French mission it has been practically decided to re-nominate him to the senate as ambassador as a safer plan of action than for the president to assume the au-thority of designating him as such his confirmation as minister plenipotentiary, In order that Mr. Eustis may have the distinction of being the second ambassador appointed it is more than probable his new nomina-tion will be sent to the senate early next week probably Monday.

Hon. Samuel H. Barnes Sends Greeting .---The Battle Is Won.

Hon, Samuel H. Barnes of New Haven, Conn., has issued in that city the following open letter, which is given verbatim Mr. Barnes has been a prosperous businees man there for twenty years. He has held no more important office than council nan and alderman, but is one of the most influential men in the city. His greeting, published in Colonel Osborn's paper, The Register, is as follows : To Whom it may Concern, Greeting

NEW HANEN, Conn., March 3, 1893,

The battle is fought and the victory won. Praise God, from whom all blessings flow Paine's celery compound has done its work. Thanks to the good Lord who enabled man to make such a compound to cure such dreadful disease as eczema.

In the year 1863 I was taken with a breaking out on my breast of terrible itching, so much so that I could not sleep nights.

It went all over my body. I went to a doctor and he said I had eczema, and he gave me medicine, but it did not do me any good and there was no cure. Then, for many years, I traveled from one doctor to another.

For twenty-six years I tried homeopath and allopath, but I did not get much help. I lived on nothing but beefsteak and how water for six months at a time, but it did me no good. I have been up nights for an hour at a time itching terribly. Words cannot express the condition that I was in. I was so bad that at one time I had to sell out my business at a loss. But here I am now, after taking fourteen bottles of Paine's celery compound, with my skin as soft as a child's and as smooth any healthy man's can be. I am well; better than I have been for twenty-six years. I go to bed and sleep as good as a child, and have done the hardest kind of work this winter. My blood is hot, but there is no itch.

And now if there is any one who is afflicted with this disease, in the name of all that is good, try Paine's celery compound, and lo not stop until you are well, if it takes twenty bottles, for you can rest assured that it will do its work.

I would like to hear from those who are afflicted with a like disease SAMUEL H. BARNES.

RENOUNCEMENT

I must not think of thee, and tired, yet strong,
I shun the thought that lurks in all delight—
The thought of thee—and in the blue heaven's height,
And in the sweetest passage of a song.
Oh, just beyond the fairest thoughts that throng
This breast, the thought of thee waits, hidden, yet bright.

This breast, the thought of thee waits, hidden, yet bright,
But it must never, never come in sight.
I must stop short of thee the whole day long,
But when sleep comes to close each difficult

—Alice Meynell. Killing Deer With Napkins.

A lumberman was a neophyte, as it were, in the art of deer slaying, knowing which he armed himself with a Winchester rifle and took an armed Indian along for luck. The first day's bushwhacking beat up no deer, and our lumber hero with his faithful guide bivouncked beneath the silent stars. Early the next morning, upon opening his eyes, he beheld two deer standing on a knoll not far away gazing customs.

stars. Early the next morning, aport opening his yees, he beheld two deer standing on a knoll not far away gazing curiously upon the camp.

Snatching up his trusty repeating rifle and quivering with a suppressed case of malignant buck fever, he was about to open a fusilade upon the game when the haughty Indian struck up his firelock with:

"Um! Waugh! No shoot um! You no kill um! Me fetch um!"

Taking off a red napkin with which he was begirt this son of the forest began circling it about. The deer caught on. Their eyes followed the gyrations of the rag. They approached. They came nearer, still following the motions of the clout. As circled the rag, so circled their eyes, then their heads, then their bodies, till with one mighty sweep of the napkin these anone mighty sweep of the napkin these antiered kings of the forest turned a somer-sault and fell dead at the hunters' feet. Their necks were broken. They had been stalked. Our hero had saved his powder, his reputation and his meat.—Michigan

He Likes Whist.

Mr. Collis P. Huntington is a very domestic man and is extremely fond of a game of whist. Occasionally in his extreme good nature he will agree when in his down own office to write own of a letter for some news.

After dinner one evening last week he took himself to his study and started to write out a promised "interview" on a public question of considerable importance. He labored conscientiously for an hour and then stopped to read over what he had the work with the work w

Charging a 110-Ten Gun.

There are nine 110-ton guns in the British navy at the present time. The projectile fired from these guns when attacking ships or forts weighs exactly 1,800 pounds and leaves the muzzle with a velocity of 2,105 feet per second and has a destructive energy equal to 55,305 foot tons. When these monster engines of death are to be turned upon an army of men or a flotilla of ships, they are loaded with cylinders of steel, each of which is filled with 2,300 4-ounce bullets. The amount of powder used behind such projectiles is something enormous-960 pounds to each charge.—St. Louis Repub-lic.

Chinese landlords are reasonable in their charges, which to some degree offsets the unpleasantness of living in their inns.

CATARRH IN NEW ENGLAND

Our hero must be strong and brave, but he must also be magnanimous and unselfish, not counting the cost in his great desire to further his noble purpose.

Such men and women are always among us, but in the retirement of private life they are inevitably known but to a few. Those few, however, should esteem it their privilege and duty to honor such true heroism and to extend its influence. Especially should the young be taught to recognize and revere it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

They will therefore say to the unfortunate sufferers who may read this notice that you are treading on dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedies for your complaint. Then for the first time you will realize what negligence means. Our success in such cases can be best understood when we will positively declare that over 100,000 have been treated by us in different parts of the world. Call and get the benefit of our experience.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many of the age of 30 to 50 who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting sensation and weakening of the system in a manner which the patient cannot account for. On examination it will be found that the urine deposits a ropy sediment and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color be of a thin or milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of weakness. LADIES Finding it inconvenient to call at the office can be treated by mail by sending a full description of their case.

DR. SPEER & CO.

Will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases and a healthy restoration of the organs. Examination and advice free to all. Remember the place, 146 West Washington street, Marquette.

BOTH ARE GOOD MEN.

Yesterday Mr. Fred Braastad declined the nomination for mayor on the Citizens' ticket in favor of Mr. Alexander W. Myers, who has consented to accept the nomination and run for the office. the nomination and run for the office.

Resolutions of Respect.

Braastad prevented his accepting the nomination.

In a circular which Mr. Braastad had printed and circulated yesterday giving notice to the taxpayers of the change that had been made he expressed his thanks to his friends for the good will they had shown toward him and the confidence they had placed in him.

Mr. Myers is an old and honored citizen; public spirited; has the interests of the city at heart, and if elected would fill the office to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The Charter and the Pen.

Hon. John Jones, representative of the Second district of Marquette county in the legislature, returned home from Lansing yesterday morning and will re-

Lansing yesterday morning and will remain here until after election. Mayor Osborn notified the members of the council during the day that there would be a special meeting held in the evenments, etc. Mr. Jones responded to the work was highly appreciated.

Mr. Jones then produced a small box containing a number of red buttons, which he said were worn by a great many members of the house and senate and that he desired to present each member of the council with one. The member of the council with one. The box was passed around and within a few seconds the lapels of the coats of every member of the board contained one of these beautiful little ornaments. City Attorney H. O. Young was then called upon to address the council and responded briefly. In his remarks Mr. Young spoke very highly of the treatment he and Mr. Brastad had received from the hands of all the members of from the hands of all the members of the house and senate during their visit to Lansing in the interest of the passage of the Ishpeming charter amend-ment bill, and concluded by paying Mr. Jones a few well merited compliments for the able work he had done during

Mr. Jones then explained that the reason of the compromise regarding the acceptance of ten wards instead of twelve, as asked for in the original amendment. The vote of last fall at Ishpeming and Marquette was taken into account by the senate committee on the charter amendments and it was on this basis that the compromise was made and the matters pertaining to both charters were satisfactorily adhord the charter were satisfacto

LAKE LINDEN.

A very peenliar fire occurred at Pat Carberry's house Thurday morning. The MINING JOURNAL reporter visited the place a few minutes after the alarm was turned in. Pat Carberry was found at home. He said that between 9 and 10 cyclock the evening before when he at home. He said that between 9 and 10 o'clock the evening before, when he came back from church, he discovered the closet under the front stairs to be on fire. He extinguished the flames and cut a hole in the wall to see if there was any fire between the partitions but found none. He and his family then went to another part of the town and spent the night with a family named Smith. When he returned in the morning he discovered fire in the north bed-room in the rear of the house on the second floor. He went to the neighbors and gave the alarm and the flames, which were found to be confined to the bed and bedding, were soon extin-guished. A very strong wind was blow-ing at the time and as the large Salva-tion Army barracks is on the east only John D. Munroe returned from the a few feet away it was fortunate that the Carberry fire had not more headway when discovered.

A Racket at Baraga

James McMahon arrived in the city last evening with a tale of woe which would make a cigar store Indian blush. Mr. McMahon, who has been a resident of Baraga for eight years, was nominated for supervisor at a caucus held Tuesday evening, against Patrick Nester, the candidate nominated by the People's convention shortly before. The proceedings of the Independent The proceedings of the Independent Caucus were in the hands of the townstance of registration: places caucus were in the hands of the township clerk, a Nester man and clerk of the board of election commissioners, before 10:30 o'clock that night. It soon became known however that the Independent ticket would not be printed. The clerk was asked why and printed. The cierk was asked why ab-finally stated that the new prosecuting attorney, Eimer E. Halsey, had found the papers irregular. The Independ-ents laid their case before P. R. Mc-Kernan, for many years prosecuting atkernan, for many years prosecuting at-torney of the county, and Mr. McMahon states that he declared the proceedings entirely regular. Thereupon they de-manded the papers back from the clerk-but he finally stated that he couldn't give them back as Nester had them.

A copy signed by one of the justices of the peace was taken to the printers but the Independents were again headed off and as it was too late to secure a mandamus they are forced into
