SOME PROBLEMS FOR OLNEY.

Cranks Have Involved Congress in Violation of Contract With World's Fair.

Would Have to Give Up Some of Souvenir Coin Appropriation but That Amounts to Little

WHAT THESE QUESTIONS MEAN.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Secretary Carlisle has received from Edwin Walker, Esq., chairman of the committee on legislation of the World's Columbian exposition at Chicago, a letter raising certain questions in regard to the sundry civil act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, and approved March 3, 1893, in which is included the appropriation for the expenses of the World's Columbian exposition and has asked Attorney General Olney to construe the law as to the following points: First—After authorizing, by act approved August 5, 1892, the coinage of 5,000,000 pieces to be known as the Columbian half dollar and the delivery of the same to the World's Columbian exposition upon certain conditions named in the act, which have been in the main complied with to the satisfaction of the secretary of the treasury, who by reason of the observance of the conditions has delivered to the World's Columbian exposition 3,858,240 pieces of said amount, whether the act cited gave to congress the power to impose new conditions upon the World's Columbian exposition by prohibiting the delivery of the remaining coins to the World's Columbian exposition until the World's Columbian exposition furnish adequate security that it will return and repay the sum of $570,880, appropriated by the section of the act under consideration. Second—In the event that the World's Columbian exposition decide not to furnish security for the return and repayment of the $570,880 referred to, can the secretary of the treasury pay that $570,880, or any part thereof, for the purpose named? Third—If you are of the opinion that on the failure of the World's Columbian exposition to furnish adequate security for the return and payment of said $570,880, and that it is the duty of the secretary of the treasury to withhold payment of the whole of said appropriation, shall the secretary of the treasury also withhold the payment or delivery of the souvenir coins known as the Columbian half-dollar to the amount and value of $570,880: (a) If the World's Columbian exposition should furnish the security and receive the amount of the appropriation withheld by the secretary of the treasury by direction of the last act of congress could the World's Columbian exposition assume the payment of the entire cost of the bureau of awards and thereby relieve itself of the indemnity bonds which it is required to file? (b) If the World's Columbian exposition decline to file the security required by the act of congress which you are asked to construe can the secretary of the treasury pay the costs and expenses of the bureau of awards out of the appropriation reserved by the department under the last act of congress? DOCUMENTS FOR WORLD'S FAIR.

The committee on rules of the senate this morning decided to report favorably the resolution authorizing photographic copies to be made of the most important executive documents for exhibition at the World's Fair. These documents consist of the nominations of justices of the supreme court, leading members of the various cabinets, etc. One of the most interesting will be the copy of the original notes of the speech delivered by Jefferson when he was inducted into the office of president of the senate.

WEST IS REAPPOINTED
Former Governor of Utah Sent Back to That Place.
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate: Caleb W. West, Utah, to be governor of Utah; Dominick Murphy of Washington, D. C., to be first deputy commissioner of pensions; Ambrose W. Lyman of Montana to be collector of internal revenue for the district of Montana and Idaho.

The nomination of Caleb B. West of Utah to be governor of that territory is a case of recognition of an "ex" for Mr. West was the former governor of that territory under Mr. Cleveland. He made a good official and since his retirement from that office has spent the greater part of his time in Washington where he has been an ardent worker about congress seeking to have the bill passed admitting the territory to statehood. He has long been recognized as one of the leading Democrats of the territory.

Dominick I. Murphy, nominated to be first deputy commissioner of pensions, is a man not unknown about the pension office. He has virtually grown up in the atmosphere of the department, first entering the service as a messenger. He was promoted to be a clerk and finally to be chief clerk of the office. His elevation to the deputy commissioner is due to his own merit. Mr. Murphy is the brother of the official stenographer of the senate.

Ambrose W. Lyman, the new collector of internal revenue for the district of Montana, is well-known here as a former correspondent of the New York Sun. Mr. Lyman has wide acquaintance and high standing among public men and his appointment gives great satisfaction to his newspaper friends in Washington.

MAX JUDD IS ALL RIGHT.
The president has signed the commission of Mr. Max Judd of St. Louis as United States consul at Vienna. It is said at the state department that no communications, verbal or written, have been received by the secretary to indicate that the Austrian government has any objection to the new consul general. Mr. Judd will go to Vienna and enter on the discharge of his duties except in the unlooked-for refusal of the Austrian government to receive him.

The cabinet meeting today lasted nearly three hours. Most of the time was spent in a discussion of the forthcoming visit of the president and the members of the cabinet to New York to witness the naval review and to Chicago to open the World's Fair. It is understood that the details of the trips have been about arranged.

TREASURY IN BETTER SHAPE.
The treasury department is in an easier condition than it has been for several months past, due largely to the increased receipts from customs. With this condition the tightness in gold has somewhat disappeared and where no gold was received in payments of customs duties gold in considerable quantities is now paid. The net gold today in the treasury department is $6,292,012, and it is being received daily in exchange for small notes, for which the demand still is good.

There are no additional facts relating to the assault upon a United States consul in Peru, reported yesterday, in possession of the state department officials today. Efforts to locate the scene of the trouble have thus far been fruitless. Mr. Patenotre, the French minister to the United States, has received the credentials promoting him to the grade of ambassador and raising the location to the rank of an embassy. A copy of these credentials has been furnished to Secretary Gresham by Mr. Patenotre.

CONFIRMED BY THE SENATE.
The senate has confirmed the following nominations: James F. Meline of the District of Columbia, to be assistant treasurer of the United States; T. Stobo of South Carolina, to be second auditor of the treasury; James J. Willie of Florida, to be deputy fifth auditor of the treasury.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell today appointed 117 fourth class postmasters. Of this number eighty-three were to fill vacancies caused by resignations and deaths and thirty-four by removals. Of the postmasters removed twelve served for four years and over.

INDIANA'S BOSS DEMAGOGUE.
Voorhees Impudently Assumes That the Courts Oppress "Labor."
WASHINGTON, April 7.—In the senate today Mr. Voorhees introduced a resolution, referred to the inter-state commerce committee, reciting the decision of the Ohio strike cases and directing the committee to report which legislation is necessary to amend the inter-state commerce act so as to protect the rights of organized labor.

The resolution instructing the committee on commerce to visit the Pacific coast for the purpose of ascertaining the site for a deep water harbor (as between San Pedro and Santa Monica) was taken up and agreed to. Mr. Hoar resumed his speech in opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment for a popular election of senators. Mr. Hoar concluded his speech at 1:50 and the senate on motion of Mr. Sherman proceeded to executive business.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.
Funds Are Earnestly Needed to Save the Great Cause.
NEW YORK, April 7.—The following call has been issued by the executive officers of the National Federation of America: "The crisis in the home rule question now confronts us. Mr. Gladstone has faithfully redeemed his pledges. Shall we keep ours? Without the continuous attendance of the Irish members in the house of commons Mr. Gladstone cannot win. As members of parliament receive no salary the great majority of the Irish members are not in a financial condition to give this necessary attendance. We must meet this difficulty or the cause is lost. Through its magnificent meeting at the Academy of Music New York has already spoken. It now remains for you, friends of Ireland, to respond. To make this a success every city, town and hamlet should organize at once."

UNKNOWN MAN DROWNED.
Seen to Disappear Under the Ice by Helpless Spectators.
ST. IGNACE, Mich., April 7.—[Special]—An unknown man was seen to disappear beneath the ice and drown before the gaze of several people who were unable to render him any assistance. He was apparently coming from the direction of Mackinac Island directly across the channel made by the transfer boat, entirely ignorant of the dangerous condition of the ice. No surmise can be made as to his identity, as no one has been reported missing up to this hour. No attempt to recover the body was made as the strong under currents would carry it away before it would be possible to reach the spot.

CAPSIZE OFF RACINE.
Crew of Schooner Lumberman Rescued by Steamer Menominee.

MILWAUKEE, April 7.—The steamer Menominee of the Goodrich Transportation company arrived here tonight with the crew of the schooner Lumberman. The Lumberman capsized off Racine Point at 3 o'clock this afternoon. She was making her first trip of the season from Chicago to Kewaunee. Captain Vose and five seamen spent three hours in the rigging of the vessel, which was righted in 18 fathoms of water. When the vessel capsized the captain became entangled in the rigging and the sailors dived and rescued him.

PLAIN TALK TO TURKEY.

Ample Indemnity Must Be Paid for That Outrageous Riot at Marsovan.

IN WHICH A SEMINARY FOR GIRLS WAS BURNED.

Negligence or Malice of Local Officials Cannot Excuse the Sultan for Injuries to Americans.

FANATICS MUST BE RESTRAINED.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The United States has taken vigorous action in regard to the outrages on American citizens at Marsovan in the Turkish dominions and the violation of the mails of the United States legation. The facts of the case are as follows:

On the 10th of January last a number of seditious placards were distributed throughout the region of Marsovan and Caesarea, in the interior of Asia Minor. On account of the alleged seditious movements existing among the Americans the Turkish authorities ascribed the authorship of these placards to the students of Anatolia college, an American educational institution at Marsovan. On the night of the 2nd of February the girls' seminary of this institution was fired and burned to the ground. There was strong circumstantial evidence to show that this was done with the full knowledge if not by the direct act of the Turkish officials. Demands for redress made to the authorities were met by counter demands on their side that the alleged seditious movements of the American students should first be investigated and determined upon before any efforts were made to discover the perpetrators of the outrages.

Secretary Gresham has cabled to the minister at Constantinople a strong expression of the president's views on the outrage and demanding not only prompt reparation for the burned seminary but the punishment of all parties found guilty in the matter. Minister Thompson is instructed that no alleged prior acts of students are to affect the rights of this government in the premises. He is charged to give renewed attention to the matter and to dispatch a special messenger if necessary to Consul Jewett and see to the observance of the official correspondence. The minister is to act promptly and advise the department by cable. No effort is to be relaxed in securing the legal rights of our citizens in Turkey.

It is understood to be the policy of the United States to make the Marsovan incident a test case in our relations with Turkey. There are at present more than two hundred American citizens residing in the Turkish empire who have the management of property to the value of over $2,000,000. Further advice from Minister Thompson are looked for very shortly.

INDEMNITY FOR SEAL PIRATES.

England Seems to Be Very Charitable Toward Them.

OTTAWA, April 7.—It is understood that the government has received by cable from England the sum awarded by the imperial government to the British Columbia sealers for losses sustained by them in being excluded from Bering sea during the sealing season of 1891. The damages were assessed by Mr. Gladstone, the commissioner sent out by the British authorities, on the basis of the previous year's catch. The indemnity, amounting to about $100,000, will probably be distributed through the collector of customs at Victoria to those entitled to participate in it. Claims were sent in on behalf of the forty-one vessels.

NORMANDIE REFUSED AID

French Line Steamer Refused Help to the Crippled Hekla.

NEW YORK, April 7.—It was said today at the office of Funch, Edys & Co that the Hekla did not refuse assistance which was offered her by the Normandie, which spoke her on March 29. On the contrary the Hekla asked aid of the Normandie and was refused. The Hekla's request to the captain of the Normandie to be towed was declined, the agent declared.

BEHEADED WITH AN AXE.

Chippewa Indian Killed in a Quarrel With Lumbermen.

GRANTSBERG, Wis., April 7.—John Bigfoot, a Chippewa Indian well known in this vicinity, was beheaded Tuesday night while he and a number of his tribe were in the sugar bush at Sand Creek, Minn. Bigfoot quarrelled with two lumbermen and struck one of the men with an axe. The man seized the axe and literally severed the Indian's head from his body. The two men came here yesterday and then disappeared.

MARQUETTE, MICH., APRIL 8.

Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

The Republicans of the "Soop" got the mayor in the charter election of this week by a bare majority, but the Democrats took pretty much everything else in sight. A little missionary work seems to be much needed in the aspiring city at the foot of the lake.

AT LAST George L. Yaple has been elected to another office. He was chosen judge of the circuit composed of Branch and St. Joseph counties in the election of this week. The place is hardly the one that his greatest admirers would pick out for him, as it will not afford much scope for the display of his oratorical gifts, but it is better to be elected a circuit judge than to be unsuccessful in the endeavor to get into congress, so that have some reason to be content.

How true it is that "nothing succeeds like success." The papers that roasted Carter Harrison most unmercifully while he was before the people as a candidate for mayor are now tumbling over one another in their eagerness to assure him of their support in all that he may do to give the city a good administration. Not that they are wrong in doing this do we note the fact, for to continue their opposition after the voters have decided the election in Harrison's favor would be unwise and injurious to the interests of the city. But how they would have "rubbed it into him" if he had been defeated!

It is only a little over a month since the Democrats got into power in the nation, and yet they have already been called on to explain why it was that things went thus in the spring elections throughout the nation. The turn in favor of the Republicans shown by the result in these elections generally illustrates the independence that has grown up among the voters within the past few years and is a healthful and hopeful indication, though its tendency is to make the uncertainty of things political more tantalizing to those who follow politics as a business. The sovereign voter has slipped the party halter pretty extensively all over the country and when the party bosses attempt to slip it on again they find him skittish and difficult to approach.

A BANQUET to which many of the most notable men of Massachusetts sat down was given General P. A. Collins at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, Tuesday evening, as a testimonial of regard for him, by the friends with whom he has been associated in business and politics for so many years, and to whom he is soon to bid farewell, prior to embarking for London, England, to enter on his duties as American consul there. At the head of the table sat Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, and the other places were filled by the flower of Boston's brains and culture, together with many eminent citizens of Massachusetts from other parts of the Old Bay state. Speeches from Governor Russell, General Collins, Judge Lowell, Judge Corcoran, Mr. Thomas Babston and others followed the dinner, and the affair was in every detail brilliant and eloquent of the high regard in which General Collins is held by those who have had the best opportunity of becoming acquainted with the ability and worth of the man.

TRANSACTIONS IN ORE.

The Cleveland Iron Trade Review gives this report relative to the ore market in its issue of the 6th: Since the transactions in iron ore, noted in this column two weeks ago, and totaling some thing like half a million tons, there has been a lull. Furnacemen in the Pittsburgh district have been in Pittsburgh making a review as to the determination not to pay $4 for standard Bessemer ores, and the transactions already noted seem to have confirmed Cleveland ore firms in the stand for a $4 figure. In spite of reports to the contrary, it is denied that sales have been made on any lower basis than $4 for Gogebic Bessemer that brought $4.50 and $4.60 at the opening last year. Furnacemen who do not regard sales aggregating a little more than 3 per cent of the Lake Superior output as establishing an opening price, seem disposed to await the outcome of negotiations between the big Pittsburgh and Chicago steel companies and the ore men before entering the market. There is an intermittent sale of non-Bessemer ores from the docks at the prices that have prevailed through the winter, but it is evident that the stocks of these ores on the docks at the beginning of May will exceed those of May 1, '92. Added to the fact that 640,000 tons more of ore were on dock Dec. 1, 1892, than on Dec. 1, 1891, is the unusually large shipment made direct from vessels to furnaces, in the navigation season of '92. The innovation then introduced by the dock companies of rebating to the furnaces seven cents on every ton of ore that went from the vessel in cars, without going upon the dock, resulted in the forwarding of a larger amount of ore than usual direct to such furnaces as had facilities for stocking ore under cover and avoiding frozen piles. A move that will not be rebuffed by furnace firms in the Pittsburgh district and the valleys is the decision said to have been reached at a meeting of representatives of iron ore carrying roads at Pittsburgh last week, to advance rates on ore from the docks 10 per cent. The proviso is attached that all the lines handling ore

WHAT IT MEANS.

And Some Pretty Positive Evidence Too. The End Will Come Soon Unless Care Is Taken.

What One of Our Prominent Real Estate Dealers Has to Say.

"I tell you it is wearing." The speaker was a well known business man, and he referred to the rush, hustle and excitement of business as conducted at the present day. He is right. It is terribly wearing to brain and nerve, exhausting to the vitality and ruinous to health. But especially is it dangerous at this season of the year when the system is always more or less weakened and debilitated by the spring changes. It is a settled fact that everybody needs a spring medicine for his blood and nerves in order to keep in sound health, but such a remedy becomes an absolute necessity to the person who from overwork, strain upon mind and nerves, dissipation or other causes, has exhausted his nerve power, or run down his blood and disordered his stomach, liver or kidneys. Such a person must take the right medicine and take it now or fatal results may follow. The well known Charles H. Hodgdon, Esq., of 35 Dana street, Somerville, Mass., one of the largest real estate dealers and a man of great energy and ability, absolutely broke down in health under the strain of business. He says: "As a result to too close confinement to office work, business cares and anxieties, I broke down with nervous prostration. I began the use of Dr. Green's Nervura, blood and nerve remedy and I deem it my duty to the public to state the wonderful effects of this remedy in my case. "My improvement has been most gratifying and language cannot describe the change in my feelings and prospects. Where all was gloom and despondency, there is now light and hope. "I gained thirteen pounds and am still gaining. Not alone myself, but I know many others who can testify to the merits of this most excellent medicine." Mr. W. C. Miles, another prominent business man, living at 4 Manning street, Medford, Mass., states: "I was completely broken down in health and suffered from extreme exhaustion and could not rest day or night. I had to give up work. After consulting and treating with several eminent physicians with no benefit, I at last tried Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I am now well, have gained 25 lbs. in weight, and work every day. That trembling feeling and terrible throbbing and palpitation of the heart have left me. I could fill columns that would interest people afflicted as I was." If you wish to get well, don't fail to get Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy from your druggist. Price $1. It is purely vegetable and harmless and is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene of 35 W. Fourteenth street, New York, who can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Shot While Going For a Doctor.

It was in Pittsburg some seven years ago that my wife woke me up one night and said that our little boy was very sick and would I go for a doctor. I said of course I would, and slipping into my clothes I grabbed my hat and started out. When I reached the first corner I passed a stranger who was running the other way. I cut diagonally across the street and ran toward the center of town. Pretty soon I heard footsteps some distance back, and then several shots were fired. I felt as though some one had thrown a stone and struck me on the leg, but I couldn't run any more worth a cent. I stumbled down and then drawing myself up put my hand where I felt the pain and found that my leg was moist with blood. I easily realized that I was shot. The possessor of the revolver drew up before me panting for breath and exclaimed, "You will rob people, will you?" It was a policeman. I began to upbraid him most thoroughly. Explanations and exonerations did not help the matter any, and I was taken in a patrol to the station. I repeated my story and insisted that a doctor should be sent to my house. The desk sergeant finally did as I wished, and our family doctor called at the house, and later came with the station. It did not take me long to convince the station officers that I was not the party, and was set at liberty and removed to my home. When I was able to get around again, I sued the city for $5,000, and I got it.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Rude Business Women.

A man, complaining of the rudeness of a woman employed in one of the central telephone offices, brings out with fresh force the fact that silliness and impertinence of some women in business situations do not seem very troublesome and offensive to men. There are unmanly and cross men in such situations, too, but there is a certain quality about feminine impertinence that is sometimes encountered which is more galling and exasperating than that of a man. The fact, too, that it cannot be resisted in the same way as a man's would be makes it harder to put up with. The business woman is learning that at best she is considerably handicapped in the race with her commercial brother, and she is learning that in every way possible she needs to lighten this cloggy weight. Fortunately for the chances of her better nerved sisters in the struggle, the saucy business woman is the exception and not the rule.—Philadelphia Press.

On examination it will be found that the urine deposits aropy sediment and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color be of a thin or milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of weakness.

ITS LAST MEETING. Negaunee's Retiring Council Finishes Its Year's Work and Adjourns.

How the Sewer System is Disturbed. Back for a Visit - A Postponed Parade.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The last meeting of Negaunee's retiring council was held Thursday evening, with Mayor Anthony in the chair. Aldermen Matthews, May, Suess, Ramquist and Leaman were present and Aldermen Collins, Perry, O'Leary, Harris and Jackson were absent.

The minutes of the three previous meetings were read and approved. Alderman May moved that the rules governing the council be suspended. The motion was adopted.

On motion the chair appointed a committee consisting of Aldermen May, Matthews and Leaman to canvass the vote of the charter election. A recess of ten minutes was taken to allow the committee time to prepare its report.

The committee reported the successful candidates and recommended that the report be accepted. On motion the report was adopted and the different candidates were declared elected.

A petition signed by Louie Corbett and six others, asking that the water main be extended from Grand avenue to Vine street, a distance of 300 feet, was read and was, on motion, laid on the table.

A petition from Thomas Knuckey, whose property had been taxed $2 too much, asking a rebate of that amount, was read. The prayer of the petitioner was granted.

The reports of Justices Primeau, Jones and Verran and Marshal Paul were read and were referred to the committee on police and grievances.

The report of the night officers was presented and ordered placed on file. Bills from J. C. Dougherty and C. Johnson, in typhoid fever cases, were presented and were ordered filed with the county clerk.

Bills against the city were read and allowed. A bill from William Case, for attendance in a typhoid fever case, was presented, allowed and ordered paid.

City Attorney J. Q. Adams was instructed to go to Lansing, it necessary to assist in securing the passage of the Negaunee charter amendment bill when the same comes up for consideration.

The bonds for the city officers for the ensuing year were fixed as follows: Recorder, $1,000; treasurer, $75,000; marshal, $2,000; street and highway commissioner, $1,000; chief of fire department, $1,500; superintendent of water works, $1,000. The justices and constables will also furnish bonds.

Alderman Ramquist moved that constables be elected in each ward of the city hereafter instead of four constables for the entire city, and that a revision of the city charter be made embodying this provision. The motion found support and was adopted.

The council then adjourned.

Here on a Visit. Charles Lovelace, who for a number of years was a resident of Negaunee, was in town yesterday visiting Mayor Anthony, P. B. Kirkwood, Ira A. Clark, A. Sess and other old residents.

Mr. Lovelace is an expert furnace man and during his residence here had charge of different furnace properties in this section. He is now a resident of Deperre, Wis., where he has large farming interests. His Negaunee friends were more than pleased to see him.

A Little Late. Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin company did not arrive here yesterday from the copper country until 4:30 in the afternoon, in consequence of which the parade was not given until late in the day. The performance in the evening was well attended and was conceded to be the best presentation of "Uncle Tom" given in Negaunee in many years. The company will leave this morning for Marquette.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CARNER & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

ARGUMENTS OF LAWYERS.

American and English Counsel Still Disputing About That Supplementary Report.

ENGLAND TRYING TO INVERT POINTS AT ISSUE

Arbitration Court Has Adjourned Until Tuesday Next When It Will Hold a Secret Session.

BERING SEA CONTROVERSY.

PARIS, April 7.—Mr. James C. Carter, counsel of the United States, continued before the Bering sea court of arbitration today his reply to Sir Charles Russell's plea for the admission to evidence of the British supplementary report of the Bering sea commission.

The contention of the counsel for Great Britain, he said, has been that the question of right in the Bering sea must be settled before the matter of regulation. The contention of the United States from the beginning of the dispute, however, had concerned the regulation. The United States had held also that for the settlement of the property claim advanced by them evidence on seal life in Bering sea was necessary. Such evidence was contained in the original reports of the Bering sea commission and therefore these reports formed an indispensable part of the case and counter-case. As for the supplementary report, it had not appeared in the matter already referred to, and ought therefore to be excluded from the evidence.

Great Britain had claimed the power, under Article 7 of the treaty of arbitration, to include the supplementary report in the evidence. This article declared that if it be decided that the concurrence of Great Britain be necessary to establish regulation, the report of the joint commission shall then be laid before the tribunal with such other evidence as either government may submit.

This Great Britain had construed as a right to introduce evidence as to the regulations even after the case and counter-case had been closed. Article 9 further provided that the reports shall not be made public until after being submitted to the arbitrators or until it shall be seen that the contingency of their being used by the arbitrators cannot arise. It was thus made obvious that the question at issue was a crucial one for the arbitration. If the contention of Great Britain was sustained it must follow that the question of right must be decided first and the question of regulation, which the United States regarded as of prime importance, must be relegated to second place.

Mr. Carter then read at length from Sir Julian Pauncefote's correspondence in 1890 to prove that the question of regulation was then regarded as one of the first consideration.

Baron de Courcel asked whether or not Russia was a party to the negotiations at that time. Mr. Carter—I do not know, but I consider the point unimportant.

Sir Charles Russell—Communications with other powers were held in view I believe. It was intended at first to ask for their active participation in the convention.

Baron de Courcel—I ask because if Russia was communicated with much more weight would attach to the negotiations. Otherwise the draft of the agreement would be merely an informal document containing a private diplomatic conversation. My question may appear pedantic but diplomatic tradition leads me to attach importance to such matters. Communications with third powers add weight to such drafts.

Mr. Phelps—This may be an important question later on; meantime, it is of secondary importance.

Baron de Courcel—Lord Hannan (British arbitrator) directs my attention to a dispatch from Sir Julian Pauncefote in which he refers to communication with Russia.

Mr. Phelps—This is a matter of indifference.

Mr. Carter—The scheme was this: Experts were appointed to draw up regulations for the seal fisheries. If they failed to agree, then there was to be arbitration. No question of right or jurisdiction was raised.

In replying to Mr. Carter, Sir Charles Russell admitted that Sir Julian Pauncefote's dispatches as far as mentioned were confined to questions of regulation. This, he said, was due to the fact that the intention then was to consult Russia and other powers regarding the regulation of the seal fisheries. If the correspondence were further controlled, however, it would be found that separate negotiations had proceeded simultaneously on questions of right and measures for seizure.

Baron de Courcel asked Sir Charles Russell to produce proof of this statement and Sir Julian Pauncefote and Lord Salisbury in May, 1890, concerning rights and damages. Since then, he added, the question of regulation had disappeared as a separate subject of consideration and all questions had been handled together in the subsequent negotiations.

The court adjourned until Tuesday when it will hold a secret session. On Wednesday the proceedings will again be opened to the public.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Little Change in Iron but General Business Good. NEW YORK, April 7.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Copper was weaker at 11 1/2 cents for lake. Boston reports satisfactory trade. Money is easier but banks prefer to loan on call. At Pittsburgh iron is unchanged, coal improved and glass very prosperous. At Cleveland trade is better than a year ago, with rolled products in large demand but collections slow. Business is very active at Indianapolis and at Detroit is good. Money at Chicago is firm with large requirements and general trade satisfactory. Trade is improved at Milwaukee. At St. Paul a slight increase appears and at Omaha trade is good. Improvement is seen at St. Louis. At Kansas City trade and collections are good. At Louisville trade is fair but money close. At Nashville trade is quiet. The iron industry shows no change of consequence, consumption and supply appearing very closely balanced. Little is done in rails but the demand for bar iron is better and structural works are busy.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the past seven days number 223 as compared with totals of 194 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 208.

A Scene in a Maine Town.

One of Caribou's popular young business men was in Buckfield recently with his bride, and when about leaving town, just before the train started, the bride discovered that she had left one of her wraps behind. A messenger was dispatched in haste to bring the garment, and the conductor very kindly held the train. The messenger arrived, and the conductor, impatiently waiting for the couple to enter the car, saw them start on a mission among their many relatives, and then remarked that unless his train started at once he would be obliged to claim a kiss from the bride. The happy young married man heard the remark and hustled his bride on the car, while his relatives and many friends shook their handkerchiefs and hands as the door closed and the train pulled out from the station.—Aroostook (Me.) What Makes Beauty.

Beauty is a result of race, of circumstances, such as personal freedom and mode of life, and of continuous diet, not of intelligence, and still less of the acquisition of knowledge, which latter can only benefit the individual whose features are fixed past serious change before study is even begun.—Miffica.

KIT CARSON IN ITS PRIME.

It Had Seven Thousand Hustling Citizens Where Now but a Hundred Remains.

"In 1870 you might have traveled 1,000 miles and not have found as lively a town as Kit Carson, Colo.," said Station Agent Billy Danaway the other day as the Kansas Pacific train lingered before the station house at the now quiet little town on Big Sandy creek in eastern Colorado. "This was then the terminus of the Denver line of the Union Pacific, and you can just bet the camp was a hummer. There were over 7,000 people here, and a gayer crowd you never saw. The population was made up of railroad men, cowboys, mule skinner, gamblers and a preacher.

"The latter was sometimes lonely, but the 6,999 other people in camp were fairly sociable and managed to have a moderately good time, and everything ran wide open, and in the palmiest days of the camp there were 47 saloons, 7 dance halls, 3 theaters and all the other things necessary to the lubrication of existence in the gay and bounding west. For two years things were red hot, with fights, shooting matches and lynching bees nearly every night.

"Some of the old time engineers who were jerking steam over the line then say a regular daily news item in railway circles for awhile was to the effect that a man or two had been hung the night before on the bridge on the Sandy. The lynching of a man for murder was an unusual event, but dire vengeance was wreaked on the petty burglar, horse thief or other unprincipled offender who did not have the nerve to shoot, but sneaked around after dark to do his nefarious work. When dealing fair, the gamblers preserved peace and quietude in the game by wearing two 6-shooters silently swinging from their belts, and when in a game of 'stud' the pack was always secured from being blown away by one of these same free moral agents. Some stiff games were played in those days, and when a cowboy came in off the roundup, or when the freighters came in from a long trip off to Mexico and Arizona, or pay day on the line came along, money was stacked a foot high on the cloth.

"After the camp had been running in this way for two years the road was put on through to Denver, and the crowd followed. Where once you could see over 7,000 people there are now a hundred or so, and all that remains of the former glory of this namesake of old Kit Carson is the nameless barnyard you see up there on the hill, a lot of broken beer bottles and desolation."—Denver News.

A Disturber at a Rehearsal.

Julius Eichberg writes: "At the occasion of a musical festival in Dusseldorf I witnessed a scene that produced general and not unjustifiable excitement among those present. It was at the last rehearsal of Beethoven's ninth or choral symphony, and the great hall was filled with people from near and far anxious to hear the then but little known work. While the orchestra played the first movement we noticed a dark bearded, spectacled, middle-aged man in the audience, who had a score before him, and was gesticulating wildly, being evidently very much dissatisfied with the performance. Suddenly he arose, advanced toward the orchestra and began to shout: "This is all wrong. It was not thus that my immortal friend, Beethoven, wanted his masterpiece to be played. You ought to play it much slower, and in this way." He began to beat time vigorously to the astonished musicians, entirely ignoring Mendelssohn, who conducted the symphony. At this moment several people forcibly ejected the disturber from the hall. The man was the well known Professor Anton Schindler, Beethoven's constant friend during the last years of his life and the author of a "Biography of the Master."—Boston Journal.

Leopard Shooting.

Mr. Simson writes: "I consider that exposure to a leopard on foot, with due precaution and a proper weapon, is only a fair sporting risk, and accidents must happen occasionally." Mr. Simson is certainly entitled to speak. He shot many leopards on foot; he was twice badly wounded by a leopard, but on one of these occasions a third leopard unexpectedly attacked him from behind, when he had already killed two others in the same patch of grass jungle.

Mr. Simson mentions that an old French gentleman whom he knew used to go about hunting for leopards with a nondescript sort of dog, half pariah and half spaniel. "When the dog smelled a leopard, he would cock his ears and point out from a respectful distance where the leopard lay. The Frenchman kept on peeping and peering about, wholly regardless of anything the leopard might do in the way of attack, till he could sight the animal. He then killed him almost to a certainty with a single shot."—Chambers' Journal.

Amelle Rives' Newsboy.

"There is a young man in Mobile," said Colonel Robert McEachin of Winchester, Va., "who has cause to remember Amelle Rives twice a year. When the now distinguished lady was a little girl and lived in that city, she became fondly attached to a newsboy who cried out his papers every morning in the neighborhood in which she lived. She met him one day and a friendship sprang up between them that has lasted to the present time. After the boy's stock of papers were sold in the morning he would call for the pretty little blue eyed miss, and they would take long strolls down Froseute road, plucking the orange blossoms and the magnolia blooms. They soon got to be familiar figures on Government street, as they would walk along that busy thoroughfare with the young girl's head garlanded with wreaths of beautiful flowers and the little boy's arms filled with vines and evergreens. Then Miss Rives moved far away into Virginia, but she never forgot her newsboy friend, for it was her custom almost daily to write him. The boy met with a misfortune some years ago which crippled him for life. He is poor, but his purse is twice a year replenished by a postoffice order from Mrs. Chanler. One of these arrives in Mobile on his birthday, which is in June, and the other on Christmas day."-St. Louis Republic.

Crow Quills Make the Best Pens. A quill penmaker says that no pen will do as fine writing as the crow quill. It requires the assistance of a microscope to make a proper pen out of such a quill, but when made it is of wonderful delicacy. The microscopic writing told of in books of literary curiosities was all done with a crow quill. The steel pens of the present have very fine points, but somehow a finer point can be given to a quill than has ever been put on a steel pen, and for delicacy nothing can equal it.-New York Tribune.

DIED QUITE SUDDENLY.

An Old Resident of Ishpeming Pays the Debt of Nature.

Enjoyable W. C. T. U. Meeting—Miner Meets With a Mishap—Services at Calvary Church.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.

Yesterday morning at 6:05 o'clock Cornelius Connors, one of the oldest residents of Ishpeming, died suddenly of heart disease at his home on West Division street. Mr. Connors was around as usual Thursday and ate his supper with his family that evening and not until very short time before he died did he become ill, and before medical aid could be summoned he had breathed his last.

Mr. Connors was sixty-six years of age and had lived in Marquette county about thirty years, the greater part of which he resided at Ishpeming. He is survived by a wife and ten children, six daughters and four sons, all of whom are grown up, three of the daughters and one son being married.

Patrick Connors and Mrs. Green, son and daughter of the deceased, and residents of Colorado and Arizona, respectively, and will be unable to reach here in time to attend the funeral, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Religious services will be held at St. John's Catholic church, with a high mass Monday morning. Mrs. W. H. Kipp, also a daughter of the deceased, together with her husband, of Iron Mountain, will arrive here this evening.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The Woman's Christian Temperance union observed the anniversary of its organization by holding a parlor meeting at the residence of Mrs. C. R. Ely Thursday last. A large number of members as well as invited guests were present and a very enjoyable time was spent. After the exercises refreshments were served and an offering taken up for the Temperance Temple, amounting to $22.50. A part of this was collected in mite boxes.

At the previous regular meeting of the organization the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Bessie Phillips; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. J. Whitford; recording secretary, Mrs. Dora Paul; treasurer, Mrs. Lallested.

Fractured His Leg.

James Burns, a miner working at the Cliffs Shaft, fell from a ladder Thursday and fractured his leg. He was working on the ladder when he thought that some of the ground above him was going to drop and in his haste to escape being caught (as he feared he would be) he lost his hold and fell to the floor of the shaft, a distance of about ten feet. His leg struck a rock in such a way as to cause the fracture.

Sabbath Observance.

There will be a Sabbath observance meeting at the Calvary Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Several local pastors will be present and render assistance in the services. The subjects selected by the pastor are: "Why There Ought to Be a Sabbath," "The Laws of the Sabbath" and "The Relation of Temperance to the Sabbath." All will be made welcome.

Send in the Books.

The library committee of the common council held a meeting yesterday afternoon and audited the library bills. The librarian was authorized to call in all the books now out in order that a new catalogue may be printed. No more books will be issued from the library until all are in and the catalogue is completed.

LETTER FROM CYRUS W. FIELD, JR.

Several times this winter I have suffered from severe colds on my lungs. Each time I have applied Alcock's XXXX Plasters, and in every instance I have been quickly relieved by applying one across my chest and one on my back. My friends, through my advice, have tried the experiment and also found it most successful. I feel that I can recommend them most highly to any one who may see fit to try them.

 The incandescent electric lights were burning at 1 o'clock yesterday. The new armature arrived from Chicago by express Thursday evening. If the American Express company had brought it through without the delay which occurred at Champion it would have been at Lake Linden Thursday afternoon in time to have been put in place and running that evening. Manager Dee felt very much disappointed to think that the patrons of the Peninsula Electric Light company were forced to be without light another evening on account of the express company holding the armature for the night train.

THE STRONG BOX IS LOCKED.

The Controller Alone Has the Key and He is Non-Existent as Yet.

MANAGER ROSS BOOKS A SPLENDID THEATRICAL PRIZE.

Fourth Annual Ball of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen—Another Cold Wave Announced for Today.

MAYOR KAUFMAN SUMMONED.

The city of Marquette finds itself in a curious predicament just at present. When the city's amended charter was passed a couple of weeks ago it was given immediate effect by the legislature, consequently the city government is today based upon the new charter. A radical change, however, was provided for in the management of the city's financial affairs in the new charter by the creation of the office of controller (and by the way, what on earth induced the charter commission to saddle that spelling of the word "controller" upon us?). The new official combines the duties of assessor with those of auditor and general city accountant and the change is undoubtedly a wise one, but just now there is a sort of interregnum, the old order of things having passed away and the new order not having been instituted.

This accounts for the fact that the city finds itself unable today to pay out a single dollar for any purpose whatsoever, all orders having to be signed by the controller and that officer having no existence as yet. Under the circumstances, while no serious embarrassment is being caused in any quarter, so far as THE MIXING JOURNAL is aware, it is probable that Mayor Kaufman will be urged to hasten his return and to get the new city government organized as speedily as possible. He will leave Washington for Chicago today and as he will be informed on his arrival in the World's Fair city of the situation here he will undoubtedly make it a point to start for home early in the week, probably arriving here Tuesday. He will then naturally want a day or two to look the ground over, as all the city appointments rest in his hands, but there is every probability that the new council will be called together before the close of the week and that the wheels of the new administration will then be set in motion.

Coming into office backed by such a popular vote and under such peculiar circumstances, nominated without his own knowledge, run in spite of his first messages declining the nomination, and elected in his absence by such an overwhelming majority, the new mayor comes into office without having given a single pledge and, with hands entirely free, is in a position to shape his administration in every way as may to him seem best. He is equally fortunate in having in the newly elected council a body of men who believe fully in his ability, who have confidence that he will exert himself to the utmost for the general good of the city and who, because of their belief and confidence, will loyally back him up in all that he undertakes.

Under the circumstances there is everything to warrant the expectation and the confident prediction that his administration will be both harmonious and progressive and that at the end of the year Marquette will be in every way the better for it.

Captured a Corker.

For a week past Manager Ross has been after the famous success, M. B. Leavitt's spectacular pantomime burlesque, "Spider and Fly," and yesterday he landed his prize. This is one of the greatest spectacular companies on the road, over forty people appearing in the cast. It will play a two-night engagement in Marquette, the dates being Tuesday and Wednesday, May 2nd and 3rd. On the second night the South Shore will run an excursion train from Ishpeming and Negaunee to enable the people of those cities to see the greatest spectacular attraction which has ever visited the upper peninsula. Marquette people will be glad to learn that two of their prime favorites, the "Little Putnam twins," as they are still remembered here, Marcia and Libbie, appear in the cast as the Spider and the Fly. They captured all hearts when here during the long engagement of the Boston Opera company several years ago with another great local favorite, Amy Harvey. Both have well fulfilled the high promise they then gave and have attained great eminence as duettists and dancers while they are young ladies now and the passing years have only added to their beauty.

The following notice gives many of the strong points of the company which every Marquette theatre-goer of experience will recognize as one of the most famous of its kind in the United States:

The "Spider and Fly" contains many novelties and numerous clever artists, but there are three ladies in this organization whose talents and experience entitle them to more than a passing notice. They are Miss Hilda Thomas, the well-known character songstress whose rich contralto voice, original methods and pleasing style have placed her in the foremost ranks of the leading vocalists of the day. Miss Thomas is said to be the most extensively copied artiste on the American stage.

Jaguarina, the famous swordswoman of the "Spider and Fly" company, has met in combat on horseback Sergeant Owen Davis, champion United States army. Captain E. N. Jennings, U. S. 8th Royal Irish Hussars, Captain J. H. Marshall, (also ex-British officer) Baron Druvon Fieish, Lieutenant, Austrian Cavalry, and Captain Conrad Wiedmann. In assaults on foot: Charles Engelbrecht, ex-master at arms in the Danish service, Hugo de Lisle, a French expert, Xavier Orfolsky, Melville Gordon of England, and others. "Jaguarina" has met all the celebrated swordsmen of the world and demonstrated the fact that athletic training need not be incompatible with the greatest charms of ideal womanhood.

Louise Royce, late of the "Far and Far" company is a recent addition to the strong cast of the "Spider and Fly" company. Her first appearance on any stage was in light opera in San Francisco. Her success was so pronounced that she was advised to study abroad. After two years she returned to America. Her beautiful soprano voice soon attracted the notice of metropolitan managers. Numerous engagements were offered her, and she at once established herself a favorite in New York. Having many relatives and friends on the Pacific coast, and learning that Manager Leavitt's "Spider and Fly" production was booked in San Francisco and other coast points, she accepted his liberal offer to play the part of the queen, her statuesque figure fitting the part admirably. Others of prominence are Charles H. Kenny, the comedian of the company; the Putnam twins, Libbie and Marcia, duettists and dancers who play the parts of the "Spider and Fly"; Ross Newman, eccentric dancer from the Drury Lane Theater, London; Ravel and Maretas, pantomimists and grotesques; Edward Wero, comedian and vocalist; "Zarno," the original and only upside down juggler, a positive novelty and remarkable specialty; Elsa Saracco, danseuse, assisted by sixteen English dancers introducing the sensational Gavotte and Tarentella dances. One of the features of the production is the latest New York sensation, the "French Quadrille" by the Misses Rose Newman, Louise Rice, Cicella Wilson and Blanche Allen.

A Pronounced Success.

The fourth annual ball of L. L. Hood lodge, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, filled the Casino to overflowing last night and was a magnificent success in every particular. As at all the railroad balls the Casino had been elaborately decorated and headights and colored railroad lanterns faced one at every turn while on the walls were various tokens of welcome for the guests of the evening.

The attendance was unusually large; forty quadrille sets were formed at a time and even then the seats were by no means deserted while in the grand march, with ninety couples on the floor, it seemed as if there was not a vacant seat anywhere about the building. The grand march was led by Mr. John J. Meehan and Miss Emma Doetsch with Mr. Albert Harris and Miss Annie Shea opposite. The figures were intricate and the scene on the floor during the march was a remarkably pretty one.

The music was furnished by Hughes' full orchestra with Joe Mack as caller and the boys went wild over it. The orchestra occupied the musicians' gallery but as it was not large enough for them an extension had been built for Mr. Hancock and his drums and traps. The refreshments were served at the Hotel Marquette where Proprietor Lewis cared for the hungry dancers in admirable style. Taking it all together the party was one of the most enjoyable of the year as it certainly was the largest.

Holland's Chop House.

Appreciating the need of a first-class lunch room in the main business portion of the city Mr. A. H. Holland is now fitting up rooms in connection with his place at 125 Washington street for a chop house and will soon be ready to cater to the wants of the public in that line. The cooking will all be done upstairs so that the heat and smell will not reach the public portion of the establishment at all. In addition to the changes made necessary by the new departure he is making a number of improvements in the place. J. B. Moore, of Sinclair, Outerson & Co., is looking after the work.

Cold Wave Coming.

A telegram from Washington last evening ordered up the cold wave signal, the prediction being "twenty to thirty degrees colder by Saturday night."

One would naturally think by the large crowds attending the Casino Rink every night that there was a World's Fair exhibition being held there. The Winslow Comedy & Medicine Co. is certainly a World's Fair in itself, the company being one of the best on the road and the smile is enough to say that he is pleased with the crowds he is having nightly and will remain all next week. The admission charged is only 10 cents.

When presented in Paris it attracted the attention of thousands of visitors daily; it is the only thing of the kind on exhibition in America and is worth many times the price of admission. It must be seen to be realized and is always subject for thought for time to come. Don't mistake the date and place, Casino rink this evening; admission 10 cents.

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

WASHINGTON STREET.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
