ENGINEERS WIN A POINT.

Court Orders Receiver of Central Railroad of Georgia to Make Contracts.

BOYCOTT RULE OF THE BROTHER- HOOD ILLEGAL.

But the Men Entitled to Definite Acknowledgments for Service and Fair Notice of Their Discharge.

THE COURTS WILL DO EQUITY.

Macon, Ga., April 9.—The decision of Judge Speer, rendered yesterday in the case of the petition of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to require the receiver of the Central railroad of Georgia to enter into a contract with that organization for the service of its members on that road, is regarded by the Brotherhood as a signal victory for that organization. It has attracted much attention and discussion among members of the bar, by whom it is pronounced to be the most far-reaching, important and satisfactory declaration upon the relations of capital and labor yet rendered.

After announcing his decision that the receiver would be instructed to enter into the contract petitioned for by the engineers Judge Speer discussed at length the interesting questions involved. He said:

"It will not be wise for those engaged in the maintenance of public order to ignore the immensity of the changes in the relations of the employing and the employed classes occasioned by the phenomenal development of commerce and the prevalence of labor organizations. We are in this case directly concerned with a corporation and a labor organization and both engaged in railway transportation. In this department of industry it is reported by the interstate commerce commission that there is invested in the United States $9,829,475,015, or nearly eight times the entire national debt of the country. Last year the railroads transported 530,000,000 passengers, or more than eight times the entire population of the United States. The operatives employed by railroads number 784,000 and it is no trifling testimony to the faithfulness and efficiency of this mighty army of railroad employes that of the vast population transported under their care only 293, or less than one two-thousandth of one per cent, lost their lives.

"It is moreover true that no operatives of a railroad, more than the locomotive engineers, are charged with the preservation of life and property. When we are advised by the proof that thirty-two thousand of the locomotive engines of the United States, more than 50 per cent, belong to the Brotherhood it is hardly to believe that their membership lessens efficiency to employers or fidelity to their supreme duty to the public.

"But whether these facts and other facts equally well known and equally significant will justify governmental control of the essential to the uninterrupted transportation of the country, in which the public is so vitally concerned, it is clear that where the property of a railway or other corporation is being administered by a receiver under the superintending power of a court of equity it is competent for the court to adjust difficulties between the receiver and his employes, which, in the absence of such adjustment, would tend to injure the property and to defeat the purpose of the receivership. Indeed, the power of the court to direct a contract between its officers does not appear to be questioned.

"The most important difference between the parties is as to the effect upon the duty to the court and property of the rule of the Brotherhood which is understood by the court to be as follows:

"Twelfth—That hereafter when an issue has been sustained by the grand jury and carried into effect by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, it shall be recognized as a violation of the obligation if a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers who may be employed on a railroad in connection with, or adjacent to said road, continue to handle the property belonging to said railroad or system in any way that may benefit said company with which the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are at issue until the grievances or issues or differences of any nature or kind have been amicably settled.

"This rule is understood to have been adopted by the brotherhood in Denver three years ago. In his testimony Mr.
A. B. Youngson, the assistant chief engineer, frankly admitted that the effect of this rule, as applied to the proprieties in the hands of the receiver and the engineers in his employ, would be as follows:

"If, in the pursuance of the business of a common carrier, with which the receiver is charged, it should become necessary to convey over the lines of the Central railroad a car belonging to a railroad company on which there was a strike of the engineers, it would be the duty of the Brotherhood men in the employ of the receiver to refuse to haul the train containing such car, and if the officers of the road insisted that the car should proceed, loyalty to the Brotherhood required that the engineer should at once resign his station and abandon his duty. He might, he stated, if he thought proper, carry the train to the terminal point.

"Now there cannot be a doubt that the rule of the Brotherhood is in direct and positive violation of the laws of the land and no court, state or federal, could hesitate for a moment so to declare. It is plainly a rule or an agreement in the restraint of trade or commerce, as described in Sec. 1 of the act of July 2, 1890, known as the Sherman anti-trust law. A combination of persons without regard to their occupation which would have the effect to defeat the provisions of the interstate commerce prohibiting discriminations in the transportation of freight and passengers would be liable to the severe penalties of the statutes.

"Now it is true that in any conceivable strike upon the transportation lines of this country, whether main lines or branch roads, there would be interference with interstate or foreign commerce. It will be practically impossible, hereafter, for a body of men to combine to hinder and delay the work of transporting companies without becoming obnoxious to the provisions of these laws; and a combination, or agreement of railroad officials or other representatives of capital, with the same effect, will be equally under the ban of these penal statutes.

"Organized labor, when injustice has been done or threatened to its membership, will find its useful and valuable mission in presenting to the courts of the country a strong and resolute protest and a petition for redress against unlawful trusts and other combinations which would do unlawful wrong to it.
Its membership need not doubt that the counsel will be heard nor that speedy and exact justice will be administered wherever the courts have jurisdiction.

"It will follow, therefore, that in all such controversies it will be competent as we have done in this case, for the courts to reserve the present rights of the operatives, to spare them hardship and at the same time to spare the public the unmerited hardship it has suffered from such conflicts in the past."

DOCKERS ARE STILL RIOTOUS.

Gun-Boats Sent to Hull to Help Keep Order.

LONDON, April 9.—The steamships Montebello and Romeo put out from the Hull docks last night and anchored in the roads so as to be able to take aboard their crews at a safe distance from the rioters. Two companies of dragoons armed with lances formed on both sides of the crews about two hours later and escorted them to the tenders.
The police, who had been called out in full force, tried to keep the mob back but the strikers broke through the lines repeatedly and began stoning the soldiers and sailors. The police swung their clubs right and left, cracking heads and battering faces. When the rioters crowded up in front of the crews so as to stop their progress the dragoons beat them back with the butts of their lances.
Several policemen and dragoons were injured by stones thrown by the rioters and about a dozen strikers were carried from the scene of conflict by their comrades. At the docks the crews were placed on the tenders and proceeded to the Montebello and Romeo. Both steamships sailed this morning. A gun boat arrived today at Hull and anchored in the roads. Another is expected to arrive tonight or tomorrow. It is hoped that the presence of the gun boats will awe the strikers sufficiently to prevent further violence. At all events the marines will be able to reinforce the military already at Hull in case of emergency.

A large but orderly meeting of the strikers was held this afternoon. Ben Tillett and Joseph Havelock Wilson, two members of parliament for Mid-dorsetshire, made the principal addresses. Both exhorted the men to hold fast to their present position and Mr. Wilson proclaimed the intention to produce a general strike. The dockers at Grimsby, 15 miles southeast of Hull, resolved at a meeting this afternoon to handle no freight or mail until the men might go to Grimsby to be loaded.
The resolution was almost unopposed.

NINE MEN CRUSHED TO DEATH

Serious Accident on the New Chicago Drainage Channel.

JOLIET, Ill., April 9.—The first serious accident to occur on the drainage channel happened at Romeo, a village about ten miles north of this city.
About 5:45 last evening a heavy wind rose and was followed in about five minutes by a heavy fall of hail. This caused all the men to run to shelter.
The gang of men on one of the cantilevers ran into the engine house at one end of the huge engine. The lever was on the south end of the track and had been carelessly left unfastened. The wind struck the cantilever and started down the track toward the engine house, in which fourteen men were huddled, and the enormous machine weighing 280 tons fell directly on the engine house. As a result nine men were killed and six severely wounded.
The men were all Italians except the foreman, Samuel Korus, who lives in this city. The cantilever was 350 feet long and ninety feet in the air. The force of the fall damaged the machine itself so that it is a total loss.

HOME FOR FEEBLE-MINDED.

Little Doubt That the Legislature Will Establish One.

STATE HOUSE, LANSING, Mich., April 9.—[Special.]—There is no longer any doubt that Michigan will during the coming season erect a home for feeble-minded children. The Baum bill, making an appropriation of $50,000 for the purpose, passed the house by practically a unanimous vote and it will be given immediate effect. It will be passed by the senate.

The senate committee on labor interests has reported without recommendation a bill requiring that all prison-made goods be branded as such; providing for the collection and compilation of statistics of poverty; and requiring all persons employing women and girls in stores, etc., to provide seats for them when not actually engaged.

The house bill appropriating $2,000,000 a year for a state weather service was favorably reported in the senate. That body confirmed the appointment of John Northrup as New Lathrop as a member of the board of managers of the Soldiers Home, vice J. E. Graves, elected commandant.

STAR ENGAGEMENTS AT THE BAR.

CHICAGO, April 9.—A crowd of camel drivers from the mouth of the Nile who have been transplanted to Chicago for the World's Fair started out last night to see the sights of Chicago and by the time they had seen them their line of march was marked by a trail of deep and dark Egyptian red. The crowd of tourists was about forty strong and made as much sensation as a circus as they circulated among the saloons wearing their red fezzes and yellow ochre broad guage pantaloons.

The first point of interest to the Egyptians was a saloon. They were fascinated upon entrance, and paral-yzed when they departed. They went the length and breadth of the city's saloon belt and the nation that makes a higher red liquor mark than Egypt did today must work hard and long.

Only one of them, Ahmad Zaki, could talk English at all and by the time he had played several star engagements at the bar he could not talk at all and had not several of the fraternity who inhabit Clark street taken them in tow Egypt en masse might have gone to the police station.

As it was only one thing saved them and that was their habit of bowing down before every policeman they met and muttering something which none of the officers understood but which all them took to mean:

"Please permit us to live."
"Dey're way off, but its foine polly-ticks of a man wid a jag," said a big policeman at Clark and Madison streets as the men from the oldest nation on earth bent low before him.

Just then two firemen came along and down once more went the red-topped heads.

"Luk at the haythens—luk at them.
They thinks them's p'lacemen," said the officer in wrath.

"G'wan," he yelled as he smote a pair of Egyptian trousers squarely in the dome with his club.

And Egypt went marching and drinking along.

It was late in the evening before the proprietors of the Egyptian village corralled their wandering exhibits and dragged them back to Midway Plaisance.

CANNOT SERVE NEWSPAPERS.

Why Naval Officers Are Forbidden to Be Correspondents.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The paragraph in the naval regulations, recently issued, prohibiting naval officers acting as correspondents of newspapers is said to have had its origin in the late Chilean war. During that struggle, the story goes, two naval officers stationed at Valparaiso were in the pay of certain New York newspapers to which they wired frequent "inside" news in cipher of the movements of each of the forces engaged. It frequently happened that Balmaine on one side or the provisional government troops on the other were thus made aware of movements, wired back from New York from friends, that they could not otherwise have known, and the provisional government subsequently complained of this to our government and alleged that they had been seriously embarrassed thereby. Whereupon the United States expressed regret at what had passed and rendered a repetition of the complaint impossible by causing the insertion of the much talked-of paragraphs in the new regulations.

CRUISER DETROIT'S TRIALS.

They Will Begin at Newport Today, Weather Permitting.

NEWPORT, R. I., April 9.—Arrangements have been made for the cruiser Detroit to make the whole of her trials over the measured mile course tomorrow, weather permitting. The ship will leave either that evening or next morning for New London where a day or two will also be given to the builders to prepare for the four hours run test.
The naval trial board will remain here until Thursday afternoon and then go to New London prepared to go out on the trial on the first favorable day. The start will be made from New London rather than from this port, as the course has been laid out from the Bartlett's fleet light vessel, just off that port, to nine miles east of Stratford shoals, thirty-five miles and return to the start.
The coast survey steamers Bache and Blake have both been detailed to duty in connection with the trials to take tidal conditions in the sound and will therefore be anchored at either end of the course, taking observations every ten minutes. The former is now in the sound taking preparatory data.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Nicholas Steuer proach of the train. Meanwhile the northeastern train came thundering past around a curve and killed both of them. Steuer was a highly-respected

Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

ISHPEMING and Negaunee both have excellent mayors, but there is no jealousy of their good fortune in that respect at Marquette. And a good mayor is a mighty good thing to have, too, in a municipality that wants to have some style about itself and to be in the procession with the rest of 'em.

IT SEEMS to hurt our neighbor of the Ishpeeming Iron Ore to have the people of Marquette feel good over anything. Now, it is different with THE MINING JOURNAL, which is always pleased with the good luck that befalls the people of the cities up the road. The Ore should rid itself of its ugly feeling toward Marquette if it would be an altogether good and lovable paper.

"IT WAS the stay-at-homes who did it," is the Democratic explanation of the Republican victory in Michigan in last week's election. That was what the Democrats said when the state went Democratic in 1890, and, gracious, how the Democrats scoffed at them for saying it! The "stay-at-homes" might have made the Democratic disappointment even greater this spring if they had only come out and voted.

The appointment of Judge Lochren of Minneapolis as commissioner of pensions is meeting with universal approval. It denotes that President Cleveland is not actuated by any hostility to the old soldiers, though he undoubtedly favors a strict revision of the pension roll. The Minneapolis Tribune, Republican, says that Cleveland is "eight times as popular" there as he was before the appointment was made in consequence of having selected Judge Lochren for the position. They are very loyal to one another in Minneapolis.

IRONWOOD cast the largest vote of any city in the upper peninsula in the election this spring, but then they had a row on there that brought out every last vote, and are, besides, in training to vote on the question of changing the county seat some future day, when they get a chance. The vote on mayor in that city footed up 2,498, and was divided between three candidates, Wm. Treblecock being the winner by a plurality of 537 over Karste, who was a candidate for re-election, and a clear majority of 366. Bessemer shows up rather slim in comparison with her rival, the vote on mayor in that city aggregating but 671. Bessemer has five wards, while Ironwood has only eight, and on the vote cast in these cities respectively last Monday it would appear that the former town really has an advantage in representation on the county board that it is not justly entitled to. But the fight between Bessemer and Ironwood is none of our affair, and we refrain from further comment on their relative standing in population and importance.

"The decision of the United States circuit court at Toledo in the Ann Arbor strike is attracting considerable attention all over the country," remarks The Chicago Journal of Commerce, "but a careful examination of the ruling shows that a great deal that has been said and written derogatory to the decision has been the result of over-heated imaginations and is not sustained by the facts in the case. The right of the men to cease work, when they do so in good faith and at the conclusion of their run, is not infringed upon. The engineers who took that method of severing their connection with their employers are discharged from the charge of contempt. It is hoped that the demand of the men that the roads employing them shall not carry Ann Arbor freight will be abandoned. Labor organizations cannot afford to put themselves in antagonism to legal rights. The same ought to be true of corporations. The boycotted corporation in this case is a self-avowed violator of the very law whose protection it has invoked. The courts should take it in hand that both corporations and workmen must pay strict respect to the law."

A TAX-EATING printhop at Crystal Falls was paid $135 for furnishing 4,500 ballots for use in the election held in Iron county this spring. The bill was audited and allowed by the county board at a meeting held just before the election, else it would unquestionably be pruned down to about one-tenth of what it was allowed at, for the rotten board that permitted this piece of robbery of the taxpayers to be perpetrated was voted out of office and the reign of the villainous ring in Iron county which has hitherto had control in its affairs is at end. For years Iron county has been cursed by the rule of as greedy a combination of tax-eaters as could be found in New York city during the worst days of Tweedism, and the insatiable crew went for everything in sight, but the people have finally dislodged the gang. There is a cheering prospect for good government in that county now, and of slow starvation for the ring and the filthy, nameless sheet that has served it as an organ. It is well!

THIS IS RICHNESS! The agent of a mining company whose mines are at Ishpeeming enclosed the following dispatch with a courteous note to THE MINING JOURNAL Saturday, the dispatch having been sent to him from Lansing by H. O. Young:

Articles in THE MINING JOURNAL referring to pending legislation are premature. Do no good here. Are arousing opposition and may do hurt. Friends of some bills inimical to our interests aid us on other matters. Cannot articles be withheld for present?

Written, the articles alluded to were written at the request and in accordance with the suggestions of Representative Wagner, who was in Marquette Monday and left with the editor of this paper a bundle of bills hostile to the mining interests of this district which he avowed were liable to be affirmatively acted on by the legislature unless the interests menaced came to the assistance of the representatives and senators from this part of the state in what the latter were doing to defeat them.

He furthermore stated that Senator Pascoe had gone, or was going, to Milwaukee, to see the Schlesinger people with a view to bringing them to a sense of the necessity for doing something in support of the upper peninsula delegation in fighting these measures, and urged that THE MINING JOURNAL give its aid by arousing the mining companies from their apathy.

Mr. Wagner's request was complied with. And now comes Mr. H. O. Young with the dispatch printed above. Perhaps Mr. Young knows more about the situation at Lansing than Senator Pascoe and Representative Wagner. Assuming that he does, THE MINING JOURNAL very willingly drops the thankless task that Mr. Wagner opposed upon it, and leaves it to him and Mr. Young to settle the question at issue between them as they may.

A BRIGHTENING OUTLOOK. The American manufacturer has this review of the industrial situation, so far as it concerns iron and steel, in its issue of the 7th, and though it is not as satisfactory as it might be, still it shows that there are indications of improvement which will be gladly noted:

There is a clearly manifested indifference among buyers generally as to what buying or selling prices may be later in the season. Each day's and week's business has to take care of itself. While more business is now being done in iron and steel, the margins are no greater.

The ore interests have about settled upon rates, and negotiations for supplies are progressing favorably. In pig iron, this week's indications are that a good deal of charcoal will be contracted for, also certain grades of Bessemer and certain makes of Alabama iron. A number of large consumers, it is known, have submitted their views as to prices, and it is probable they will be accepted.

In steel billets the week has been more active as regards negotiations, and two or three large buyers have partially ordered supplies for the next three months. A more even demand may, therefore, be looked for.

For finished material, bar iron especially, an active demand has set in, and manufacturers at certain points have made contracts which extend far into June. Car builders have finally placed large orders at western points on quite favorable terms. An improving demand is reported for agricultural implement material, merchant steel, sheets and skelp.

The demand for light rails is felt at all points, and it is probable that the indications this demand will increase if the number of projected street railways is any guide.

Industrial activity does not seem to be unfavorably affected by the rather widespread financial stringency. These irregular stringencies come as though the people, or at least the banking interests, at times became suspicious as to the general solvency and took this method to ascertain if they were on safe ground. Confidence is being gradually restored. The banks are gaining funds. Failures continue at the average. The unfavorable effect produced by gold exports continues. Railroad earnings are climbing upwards, and the distribution of merchandise is even exceeding the figures of a year ago.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or a peep of air, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FRENCH COURTSHIP.

THE EYE OF THE VIGILANT CHAPERON WATCHES OVER IT.

The Life of the Schoolgirl in France is Very Uneventful—Her Demeanor in the Ballroom Differs Much From That of the American Maiden.

The average American regards the French idea of marriage with horror without exactly knowing why. A young girl is educated under the careful eye of her mother or governess, who accompanies her to all her classes, and considers it as only a matter of course to sit patiently with needle-work or book-keeping and to sing lessons. The girl is taught from her earliest childhood that it is the destiny of woman to become a wife and mother.

When she is about 18 years old, she makes her appearance in society. The walls of a French ballroom are always lined with chairs. The mother and the chaperon take their places side by side, and the two chairs are theirs for the evening. When a man requests a girl to dance, he writes his name on her card and does not appear again until the dance begins. Then he puts his "claque" (opera hat) on the girl's chair, with her fan, and with a bow to the mother takes her off. Sometimes during the whole dance not a word is exchanged between the two. Such a thing as "dividing" a waltz or sitting it "through" while the music plays is unheard of, though promenadeing is permissible. When the dance is finished the "Thank you, monsieur" and "Thank you, monsieur," the couple part.

To the American girl the idea of thanking a man for dancing with her is preposterous, but her French sister is more philosophical. "Why shouldn't I thank him?" she asks. "Has not the dance given me as much pleasure as it has given him? He has done me a compliment to be chosen from so many girls? Then why not be polite?"

After a season or two in society madame decides that it is time her daughter should be married. At present it is the fashion for wealthy people to spend the summer in their own cottages by the sea-side, and the young people meet and are allowed a certain degree of freedom, though always under the eye of a chaperon.

After the French girl is fairly well acquainted with her future fiancé, though this is not always the case, some relative of the young man is charged with the delicate commission of presenting his case to the mother of the young lady. The education, social position, disposition, health, wealth and prospects of each are discussed with the greatest frankness. Then, if the two are not already acquainted, the girl is taken to the theater and the mother and her in the box or the two are invited to dine at the house of a common friend. If either does not like the other, the matter is ended, for it is a very unusual thing for a parent to force a child into marriage. If, however, the liking is reciprocal, other meetings take place, the two are allowed a few moments of privacy, a walk in the garden or a conversation at one end of the room. If the result is satisfactory the marriage is decided on and takes place three months afterward. The question of "dot" (money) is a serious one.

It is absurd to say that French women are married only for their money. It is almost impossible for a man in ordinary circumstances to marry a poor girl. The education of the average man is far more complete in France than in America. Every family tries to send the boys to school until they are at least 15 years old. Then comes the military service, and a man begins his career when he is about 21. If his family are in moderate circumstances, it is probable that the son accepts a government position with a salary of $30 a month. At 30 years of age, if he is industrious, he may make $40 a month. How is it possible to support a family on so small a salary? The only solution is to marry a girl with about the same income. It is not necessary for her to have a large capital if she has any means of supporting herself. This also applies to cultivated people.

A marriage in France is not the easy thing it is in America. The consent of the parents of both parties must be furnished, or if that is not possible and they are of age, then the refusal must be obtained, together with their birth certificates and the marriage certificates of the parents. If the latter are dead, their death certificates must be procured before the bans are published. A religious marriage is not recognized by law, and it is usual for the civil marriage to take place at the mayor's office in the early morning and the religious marriage in the church at noon, though often the religious ceremony takes place.

In France a Catholic country the double marriage is customary. The groom wears a dress suit; the bride, a high neck, white gown. The bridesmaids and bridal party are all in high necked dresses, as it is considered the height of impropriety to enter a church décolleté. After the services, the part of which the bride and bridesmaids on chairs with their backs to the congregation, the bridesmaids take up a collection, passing purses made of the same material as their dresses. The proceeds are given to the poor.

The question is often asked, "Are French marriages usually happy?" As a rule they are more so than American marriages. The man is carefully selected by the bride's parents, who are better able to judge what will prove a suitable match than a girl of 20, who knows so little of the world and has seen so few men that she is commonly ready to love the chosen one. It is the fashion for French writers to deal with immorality of all sorts, and this gives foreigners a false idea of things. As a matter of fact, the standard of morality of the middle classes is quite as high in France as in America, while the so called upper circles are about the same in all countries.—Jennens Miller Illustrated.

Questions That Are Difficult.

Let any of us, the dullest or the most gifted, try to make up his mind, with the pistol or the pencil of the interviewer at his head, which is his favorite quality in woman; which is his favorite heroine in fiction; which is the public building he most admires, and he will soon see that it is ludicrously impossible to make, as Hamlet says, a wholesome answer to each such question without at least being accorded the privilege of writing an essay to explain himself.—Exchange.

A Treasured Piece of Linen.

In the Tyrol, when a young girl is about to be married, her mother brings her a handkerchief of newly spun linen called a tear handkerchief. This the bride uses to dry her eyes at the altar and when she leaves her home. Afterward the web is put away unwashed among her treasures. When she dies, it is taken out and laid over her face.—Chicago Times.

It's hard getting through with your washing and cleaning, if you don't use Pearlina. And you can't use it with great gain, upon anything that you want made clean. In washing clothes, perhaps you won't believe that Pearlina is harmless. It has been proved so to millions of women, over and over again, but perhaps you won't be convinced. Then use it for something that can't be hurt. Use it for washing dishes, for instance, and save work. When you come to know it better and let it wash the clothes, you'll find that it saves the wear and tear as well as the work.

Send it Back

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the name as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearlina is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, he honest—send it back.

A VERY STRANGE CASE. Body of a Man Found in the Snow Near Eagle Mills Saturday.

NEGAUNEE'S LIBRARY TO BE PROVIDED WITH NEW CATALOGUE. Fred Pleau in Court Again on a Serious Charge--Lucky Prospectors--Free Lecture Tonight.

A STARTLING DISCOVERY. Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock some boys living at Eagle Mills were rambling the woods about a mile northeast of the location when they saw a man's hand and foot protruding from a snow bank.

The man did not disturb the body then but went to the mill and gave the alarm, when several other men went with him to where the body lay. The body was clad only in a suit of underclothing. His outer clothing was by the side of the corpse.

Yesterday some of the men from the mill were in Negaunee and stated that they had noticed a small fire burning at or near the place where the body was found one very stormy night in January.

The discovery of the body created considerable excitement among the residents of Eagle Mills yesterday and many in Negaunee were considerably worked-up over it.

LATER--Marshal Paul identified the body as that of Sakris Pakka, a Finn-lander who worked at the Buffalo mine and boarded at the Queen location. He disappeared some six or seven weeks ago.

The body of Pakka was frozen and was not decomposed in the least. The jury empaneled yesterday by Justice Dunlap will meet at Eagle Mills today, when testimony in the case will be taken.

CHECKING THE CHOCTAWS.

Secretary Smith Asks for Troops to Settle the Famous Locke-Jones Feud.

LOOKER PARTY APPEARS TO BE IN THE RIGHT

Agent Bennett's Report on the Troubles—His Offers of Mediation Rejected by Jones Faction.

REPRESSING CIVIL STRIFE WASHINGTON, April 9.—Secretary Hoke Smith has received a detailed report from Agent Bennett on the present troubles between the factions of the Choctaw nation.

After repeated conferences and such investigation as he was able to make the agent says he is thoroughly convinced that the militia, acting under Governor Jones' orders, were the aggressors, and that the other party, commonly called the Locke party, the aggrieved.

The Locke party declared that they were peaceable, law-abiding Indians, charged with no offense, and that they were ready to surrender to any proper officer of their nation clothed with authority; that they had been unwillingly driven to band themselves together as a means of protection against murder by the militia, which, they declared, were led by their most bitter and deadly personal and political enemies; that the militia had murdered and attacked them and their wives and children in their homes, wrecked and ruined their property, attempted their lives, dragged their wives, mothers and children from their homes and otherwise grievously, and wantonly wronged them.

Agent Bennett afterwards talked with the captains of the militia, who questioned his authority to inquire into the disturbances. Governor Jones also questioned the agent's right to be present or inquire into the matter, which, he said, was an affair concerning the Choctaw people only and that the United States had no right to interfere. After an elaborate review of the whole situation Agent Bennett concludes that the calling of the militia by Governor Jones to arrest Willis Jones was unnecessary and unlawful, and that the conflict participated by them was the act of a drunken, irresponsible mob banded together as militia for the purpose of murdering men, women and children, thereby removing their political opponents and intimidating others in order to perpetuate the power of the parties at present in authority; that many of the aggressors were so intoxicated as to be unable to sit on their horses, that they shot promiscuously into public and private buildings, occupied in some cases by women and children; and that, in short, the acts of the militia were more like those of wild beasts than of human beings.

Agent Bennett also believes that the Choctaw government will never bring those would-be murderers to a trial, but will uphold them in their unlawful acts and that it would be assisting in a so-called judicial murder to permit the militia to make arrests in the Choctaw nation. In view of these facts he strongly urges that the nation be placed under martial law.

Secretary Smith, acting under the authority of the treaty of 1865, which provides that "the United States shall protect the Choctaws and Chickasaws from domestic strife," has requested the secretary of war to at once send a detachment of troops to the scene of the threatened trouble to maintain the peace and protect life and property.

SENATE READY TO ADJOURN. Appointive Senators Will Be Left on the Anxious Seat.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The senate has practically concluded its labors and is now waiting for an intimation from the president to bring the extraordinary session to a close. All idea of passing upon the questions involved in the appointment of the three senators from Montana, Wyoming and Washington has been abandoned and that matter will be left for consideration at the next session. The grounds for this course are that many senators are still undecided how to vote upon the propositions involved. Many others desire to address a full senate.

The final and conclusive reason is that there is not a voting quorum in the city at present. It is said that about Tuesday the senate will appoint a committee to wait upon the president and ask whether he has further business to lay before the body.

It is assumed by the senators generally that the only important matter that remains to be communicated is the nomination to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia, for unless this court is filed before the adjournment there is likely to be a deadlock in the District judicial business.

Although the impression prevails that nearly all the foreign missions have been filled the records disclose the fact that no nominations have yet been made to twenty of those important places. The list is: Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Brazil, Ecuador, Haiti, Hawaii, Italy, Russia, Corea, Liberia, Paraguay and Uruguay, Persia, Portugal, San Domingo, Siam, Sweden and Norway, Turkey, Venezuela.

Most important of these is, perhaps, Russia, and it is surmised in some quarters that the delay in making a change there arises from a desire to await the possible action of the Russian government raising the grade of its Washington legation to an embassy, which will admit of the nomination of another ambassador by the president in that case. But the majority of these cases there is no good reason why the places cannot be filled by appointment subject to confirmation when the senate meets again next session and therefore the impression prevails at the Capitol that the present session will adjourn some time this week.

OPENING THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Ceremonies Will Probably Be Held in the Open Air.

CHICAGO, April 9.—It has been all but officially determined that the opening ceremonies of the World's Fair shall be held outdoors in front of the Administration building. If this plan is finally adopted the speakers will stand along the east front of the Administration building and seats to the number of at least 1,500 will be provided. The distinguished guests will be members of congress, members of the cabinet, diplomatic corps, judges of the supreme court, governors of states, World's Fair directors, national commissioners, members of the board of lady managers, Chicago city council and the park commissioners of Chicago. There is a proposition before the ceremonies committee to invite prominent dignitaries, collegiate, social and official, and a meeting of the committee will be held tomorrow to consider a list which will be submitted.

HEARD 1,200 MILES AWAY

Listeners in Chicago Hear a Vocalist in Boston.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Listeners in the office of the American Telephone & Telegraph company in this city were this afternoon treated to an entertainment from Boston. Mrs. May Barker of England, in the mail office of the company at Boston sang and recited a number of selections, all of which were heard in the Chicago office, 1,200 miles distant, with perfect distinctness. Mrs. Barker gave first "The Knowing Bird," which was warmly applauded by her far-distant audience; her second number was the imitation of various birds and she closed with "The Birds Singing Lesson," in which every note came over the wire with as much clearness as though the singer was in an adjoining room.

CURRENT NEWS CONDENSED

The storm of Friday night did much damage in the southern part of this state and in western New York. Three children of Isaac F. Cressman were badly burned in a farm house fire, caused by lightning, near St. Johns. Vedder Hemstreet was killed by the collapse of his barn at Springville, N. Y. The bodies of George H. Talcott and his aged mother were found in the ruins of their home at Talcottville, N. Y. It is supposed the house was burned by lightning but some believe it was fired to conceal robbery and murder.

The $30,000 monument to the First Minnesota regiment on the field of Gettysburg will stand near the "Bloody Angle." The site was chosen Saturday by Judge Lochren, the new pension commissioner. It was this regiment which suffered such awful loss in the repulse of Pickett's charge and of which Judge Lochren went into the battle as first lieutenant and came out as ranking officer.

Some unknown miscreant tried to blow up the pickle factory of Lutz Bros. at Pittsburgh where over a hundred persons are employed. Some time Friday night some one entered the boiler room, shut the lower valve of the water glass and emptied the boiler. The engineer fortunately discovered its condition before an explosion occurred.

He further says that relatives of distinguished men are not preferred claimants on the people's money, and hints that James G. Blaine left an estate sufficient to support the whole family.

Secretary Carlisle Modifies the Regulations Under the Chinese Registration Act.

SAYS CHINAMEN NEED NOT BE PHOTOGRAPHED.

Six Companies Advise Chinese Not to Register Until Supreme Court Passes on the Law.

CRECIBLE WITNESS SUFFICIENT. SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Instructions which were received from Washington yesterday modifying the Chinese regulations by dispensing with photographs and requiring only one credible witness came as a surprise to the treasury officials here and all other persons who are directly interested in the Chinese registration act. Collector of Internal Revenue John C. Quinn in commenting on the modification of the regulations said:

"This new instruction is a great surprise to me because heretofore the government has required us to employ every precaution to prevent improper registrations. The very best safeguard against fraud in the future has been the photographs of the applicants. Without their use it will be a difficult matter to secure a complete identification. The importance of this identification will be felt later when certificates are transferred to Chinese who have been smuggled into this country. The change, however, will relieve us of considerable labor and we will be enabled to register about four times as many applicants in the same time that we now. Just what has caused the department to make these changes I do not know. Regulations for enforcing the law are issued by the secretary of the treasury and subject to change by him at any time. Just what effect this will have upon the Chinese I am not prepared to say. They have always objected to furnishing their photographs and many have given that as a reason for not registering. The Chinese are controlled by the six companies and until they consent the number of registered will be small. If they should decide to come in now we will do our best we can to register them, but it would be impossible to receive all before May 5."

George Gong Tong, secretary of the Six companies, when informed of the change made in the regulations declared it would not cause the Chinese to register. They would continue to oppose the law and only cease after a decision by the United States supreme court. King Ong Yang, vice consul, when informed of the news from Washington said: "The consul general and myself have not expressed any opinion or used our influence with our people for or against the Geary act. Many have asked us to advise them about registering but we have always told them to do as they please about it. This change in the regulations is unexpected news and we do not know what influence has brought it about. It will remove one of the objectionable features of the registration act and may cause a large number to apply for certificates of residence, but of this I am not certain."

Rhode Island's Funny Elections. PROVIDENCE, April 9.—A second attempt to elect members of the general assembly was made in Pawtucket, Cranston, East Providence and North Kingstown yesterday. The Pyramid Pile Cure

Is a new discovery for the prompt, permanent cure of Piles in every form. Every druggist has it.

The Wit of the "Baste."

An American landed from the steamer at Queenstown in company with an English politician belonging to the Conservative party.

As they drove up from the custom house the American commented on the sad faces of the people on the street, and dining greatly from Lever's typical jolly Irishman. "Yes," said the Englishman roughly, "Pat has lost all of his intelligence, if indeed he ever had any."

"Shure, sor," said the driver of the jaunting car quickly, "Kin I hev your car? Look at me mare, Maggie, here. Yisterday a jontleman, lean an long legged, ran out of the hotted."

"Bring up your car," says he. "I must reach the station in three minutes."

"But yer know who the lean man wuz? An not an inch wud she move. Whippin' an asses was alike to her. She stud like iron. He hed to run for it. None of Maggie's help did he get."

"Thin a luddy steps out swate an soft spoken. 'I must ketch the train in a few minutes,' says she. 'Kin I hev your car? The car is yours, mem,' says I, 'but Maggie's gone mad. Not a fut will she budge.'"

"Wid that all at once Maggie prances ready to start, moddin an smilin at us. I druv her like mad to the station, an while I wuz mitionin afterward to a frind her quon conduct says he:

"Do yer know who the lean man wuz?" "I do not," says I. "Twas Mr. Balfour himself," says he, "Maggie knowed him!"

"So, ye see, sor," continued the driver, with a knowing leer at the Englishman behind him, "the intelligence is gone out of Paddy. But the fabled El Dorado shrank from one impenetrable wilderness to another as explorers unlocked their secrets. The Amazons were at length found to be only the mistake committed by Orellana because the men of certain cities did not dress differently from the women, and the Omaguas became known as nothing more than a race of superior savages, the people of the Amazon slowly became disillusioned, but the spirit of indolence, the life of penury, couched in the luxury of gilded dreams, is still their birthright from the past. New forces are working aise. The poetry of each new El Dorado is dispelled as soon as found by the brazen jinnets of commerce, and the Amazons have found their El Dorado at last—not gold, not diamonds, not barbaric splendor, but that wonderful gum from their forests of rubber trees, whose uses in the art of civilization seem to have no end."

The center of the rubber producing area of the Amazon is the city of Manaus, 1,900 miles from the mouth of the river, with 28 feet of water at low tide, an important consideration in commerce. There are three lines of steamships to Manaus, one Brazilian line and two English lines, of the latter one being from New York and one from Liverpool. They all receive subsidies, and we have allowed them to obtain a carrying trade on a river that is increasing by leaps and bounds and allowing the trade to become firmly fixed in English shipping lines, whereas, by taking advantage of the mail subsidies—ourselves, we could not only obtain the carrying trade, but would also benefit the chances of American merchants and manufacturers in getting control of the commerce of the valley of the Amazon.

Efforts are being made to establish telegraph communication in Manaus with the outer world, and as soon as this is done it will become one of the greatest centers of trade. Those firms on the ground at the time will of course have the benefit. I tried to get Americans to establish a bank in Manaus several years ago, but no one would venture. England has since done so, and the enterprise has met with splendid success.

The rubber plant from which the Amazonian gum is obtained is not the variety used as an ornament in our homes and greenhouses. This is a plant from India from which rubber was first extracted. The South American plant, from which the rubber now in use is obtained, is one of the sponge family, or euphorbiaceae. The rubber exists in the sap of a plant as an emulsion, and many commonly known plants contain rubber which gains its strength and elasticity after exposure to the air or in burning. The common milkweed contains rubber, and the milky substance oozed when a lettuce stalk is cut is rubber. The uses of rubber are increasing enormously in manufactures, and people who are willing to wait for their money can reap immense harvests by planting rubber orchards now in South America. The plants take 12 years to mature, but after that no further planting is necessary, and the orchard yields steadily for from 60 to 75 years. Iquitos, capital of eastern Peru, is an important rubber center, and its exports amount to between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 a year.

The Amazon is considered by the bulk of our people as a dismal, interminable swamp, a vast miasmatic basin teeming with every species of obnoxious insects, with a box constrictor on every bush waiting to seize you in the forests, with an alligator alert to devour you on every sand bank, and a hideous vampire hovering over every sleeper in the night. And yet, after so many decades of assiduous explorations, scientists are in doubt about the vampire's existence. Adventures with reptiles are as exceptional there as in the United States, and alligators are as abundant and voracious in the lagoons of Florida as in Brazil. Neither have I found it a reeking, pestiferous morass. It is a valley full of charms and delights, which from 60 to 75 years old, to give an idea of the size of Peru, let me state that of the 4,000 miles of the Amazon's length 2,000 miles flow in Peru and 2,000 in Brazil. The Peruvians I have found amiable in character, and even in the wildernesses I never found it necessary to be armed against the Indians nor to have a guard at night, trusting to their courteous treatment, and in this not being disappointed."—Baltimore American.

THE GREAT AMAZON.

A VALLEY WHERE FORTUNES LIE IN THE SAP OF THE TREES.

A Country First Explored by the Spaniards Over Three Hundred Years Ago—It Is a Modern El Dorado, but Its Product Is Rubber, Not Gold.

The great Amazon was described with graphic words and with lantern pictures before the Public School Teachers' association by Mr. Courtenay de Kalb of New York at Harris' academy concert hall. Mr. de Kalb has made two voyages over the valley of the Amazon, penetrating its deepest wildernesses. He returned to this country from a voyage through Central America.

"In the beginning, from the very day in 1516," he said, "when Vincente Yanez Pinzon entered the Amazon, or Marañon, as it was known to him, a glamor of seductive romance began to gather about this river and its mighty forest covered valley. In 1549 Francisco de Orellana came across the Andes, deserted Pizarro on the Rio Napo and sailed down the Amazon to the sea, bringing wondrous tales of the land of cinnamon and gold and of kingdoms of warrior women. The fancies, fed by greed of riches, added tales of glittering treasures until in 1629 Padre Cristobal de Acuna, after his journey across the basin of the river, boldly affirmed that here was situated that famous El Dorado, which was the Holy Grail of sixteenth century seeking; that here abided the Amazons in the richest splendor the world had known."

"But the fabled El Dorado shrank from one impenetrable wilderness to another as explorers unlocked their secrets. The Amazons were at length found to be only the mistake committed by Orellana because the men of certain cities did not dress differently from the women, and the Omaguas became known as nothing more than a race of superior savages, the people of the Amazon slowly became disillusioned, but the spirit of indolence, the life of penury, couched in the luxury of gilded dreams, is still their birthright from the past. With the opera house full of people to see "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the Casino full of people listening to the Winslow Comedv company and the Salvation Army hall full of people taking in the services there would seem, especially as there were crowds still on the streets and in the stores, that the people of Marquette looked their homes and turned out en masse Saturday night.

The mail agents on the South Shore road call attention to the fact that mail for the west should not be dropped in the letter box at the depot later than 6 o'clock.

Many parties are in the habit of posting westbound letters in the box later than that hour and as a result the letters go east on the 11 p. m. train and then have to be sent back the next day.

MET THE EMERGENCY.

Ishpeming Sewer System Meets the Strain of the Spring Freshets.

Manager of "The Lobby" Has Vamoosed. "Mose" Toullof Seeks Rest—Church Officers Are Elected.

NO FLOODS THIS YEAR.

Yesterday's hot sun was the means of putting Ishpeming's sewerage system to a severe test. Surface water from all parts of the town made its way to the catch-basins, but the system took care of it all satisfactorily. As yet there has been no overflow at any point, and judging from present indications no trouble in that regard will be experienced, although it was thought by many that the freshets of this spring would tax the capacity of the sewer to the utmost.

About this time last year several of the streets of Ishpeming were passable only for boats and rafts. Several dwelling houses, barns, etc., were flooded and considerable damage was done to individual properties. It is gratifying to know that there will be no floods or washouts in the center of town this year. The sewer is of sufficient capacity to take care of the surface water, no matter how fast it may come. The tax-payers are now beginning to realize the real value of having a good drainage system.

Disappeared Suddenly.

On Thursday last the doors of McGuire Bros. "Lobby" were closed by Kuhlman, a Milwaukee liquor dealer who held a claim against the firm of Myers & McGuire. The trouble was speedily adjusted and business was resumed for the time being, but on Friday Reiner Hoch, who had guaranteed the rent of the building, jumped in and again closed the place. Four months rent was paid due and Mr. Hoch had to pay it. Subsequently J. H. McGuire, manager of the business, mysteriously disappeared and has not been seen or heard from since the night after Mr. Hoch came down on the place with gore in his eye.

Will Retire From Business.

After having been for many years engaged in the saloon business in Ishpeming, M. B. Loutloff has decided to retire from the trade on May 1st, and offers his stock and fixtures, etc., for sale or rent. Mr. Toullof's stand is one of the best in Ishpeming and the barroom is very attractively fitted up. "Mose" says he wants a rest, and the only way he can get it is to quit active business.

Annual Church Meeting.

The Grace Episcopal church society's annual meeting was held Friday evening last, when a vestry was elected as follows: Messrs. Wm. Sedgwick, W. H. Rood, A. W. Myers, E. C. Cooley, Wm. Daniels and Thomas Robinson. An adjournment was taken this evening when another meeting will be held at the residence of Wm. Sedgwick for the election of officers. The treasurer's report for the past year will be submitted and considered at this meeting.

A Boys' Brigade.

A boys' brigade was organized Friday evening at the Division street M. E. church. It consists entirely of members of that church. Fifteen boys put down their names as a starter and more have promised to join in a few days. John Quayle, who has had considerable experience in military work, has been engaged as drill master. Meetings will be held once a week until further notice.

New Yardmaster.

Thomas Smith of Muncie, Ind., will take charge of the Ishpeming yards on the South Shore road, beginning today. Martin Ryan, who has had charge of the Ishpeming and Negaunee yards ever since the resignation of C. E. Mason last fall, will take the Negaunee yards, after spending a two-weeks vacation at St. Paul, Duluth and Minneapolis.

Benefit Entertainment.

A number of Finnish ladies and gentlemen will present a five-act comedy drama at the City Opera House Thursday evening next, the proceeds of which will be given to the famine sufferers of Finland. After the drama a dance will be given. The price of tickets for the entertainment and dance will be fifty cents.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Katie Putnam tomorrow night at the City Opera House.

J. L. Bradford, of L. W. Atkins & Co., arrived home from a purchasing trip Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown are rejoicing over the birth of a son, born Saturday morning.

Quite a large crowd of Ishpeming people attended the opening of the Adelphi rink at Negaunee Saturday evening.

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin company at the City Opera House tonight. Street parade at noon. Don't miss it.

F. N. Nelson has resigned as agent for the Grand Union Tea company at Escanaba and has returned to Ishpeming.

Mrs. J. R. Downey of Detroit is visiting Miss Mary Kennedy of the Cleveland location, this city. She will remain a month.

P. H. Donohoe says that the "Salvador" beer takes the cake as a fine family beverage. Mr. Donohoe is agent for this beer.

There will be an adjourned regular meeting of Hose and Hook and Ladder companies No. 1 this evening. Members are requested to be present.

The Nelson House veranda has been illuminated every evening since Friday last with incandescent electric lights, which give it a very brilliant appearance.

Henry Lepleau, the Appleton cattle dealer, will be here tomorrow with a car-load of cows. He will make his headquarters at Nick Lossely's stables, as usual.

The funeral of the late Cornelius Connors was held yesterday afternoon. Religious services were held at St. John's Catholic church and the interment took place in the Ishpeming cemetery.

The barroom fixtures of Ed Maher were taken possession of Friday by M. Cossin, who held a mortgage on the same. Mr. Maher secured other fixtures and will continue to do business.

The Cahoon bankrupt stock of boots, shoes, rubber goods, etc., will be entirely closed out this month and in order to accomplish this the goods will be marked down another notch or two.

N. Lemay, the shoe dealer, has just received a consignment of ladies' shoes of the latest styles. Mr. Lemay carries quite a large and well assorted line of shoes, which he sells at reasonable prices.

Mr. Edward Newman and Miss Mary Liddicoat were married at the residence of the bride's brother, Richard Liddicoat, on Second street, last Thursday evening by Rev. Green of the Calvary Baptist church.

At the regular meeting of the Ishpeming club, held Friday evening last, the treasurer was instructed to send notices to the members announcing the annual meeting, which will be held during the first week in May.

The tickets to the ball to be given by the Uniform Rank of Sons of St. George next Friday evening will cost $1 per couple, supper included. The ball promises to be largely attended as the members have already disposed of quite a number of tickets.

C. W. Hunt & Co.'s representative of New York has been in Ishpeming the past few days arranging matters pertaining to the furnishing of the conveyors for the Cleveland-Cliffs company's rock crusher which will be put in place at the Cliff shaft, the coming summer. The crusher, which will be furnished by the Hodge Manufacturing company of Houghton, is expected here the latter part of this month.

Miss Putnam is the same sweet singer, divine danseuse and charming actress that she has been since she made her debut on the boards; the exception being an improvement, if such a thing were possible. No cultured theatre-goer can say that he or she has ever seen a more perfect blending of pathos and humor than that enacted by Miss Putnam. Laughing or crying, smiling or sighing, there is a world of study in her methods and one can readily attest that a play with Miss Putnam in the cast is veritably a practical sermon. She is surrounded by a good supporting company.—Louisville Commercial. At City Opera House tomorrow evening. Reserved seats at Tillson's.

This is the last month you will have an opportunity to buy shoes from the Cahoon bankrupt stock. Goods must all be closed out by May 1.

For fine sour mash whiskey go to P. H. DONAHOE'S liquor store, Division street. 4-10-93.

The Cahoon bankrupt stock of boots, shoes, rubber goods, etc., must be closed out this month. Come and carry away the goods at your own prices.

For fine family beer "Salvador" takes the cake. Try a case. P. H. DONAHOE, agent.

A NEW MAP OF MARQUETTE.

Messrs. Johnson and McCarthy Preparing the Largest and Finest One Ever Published.

MANAGER ROSS ENGAGES THE IDEALS FOR ANOTHER YEAR.

Bice & Sons Finish Sawing—The Election in Baraga—Coming Theatrical Attractions—Minor Notes.

A SPLENDID PIECE OF WORK.

E. C. Johnson and Shields McCarthy are now completing a work which will be greatly appreciated by everyone who is interested in Marquette realty. Early in the winter they commenced work upon a new and complete map of the city, the last having been published in 1876 by E. M. Spalding, then city engineer. Their first maps did not prove satisfactory as the work advanced and its scope grew upon them and it was not until January that they started the one which is now nearing completion and which will be beyond all doubt the largest, most complete and most accurate map of the city ever published.

The Spalding map does not show anything north of Hewitt avenue or west of the Washington street park, leaving out territory in which fully nineteen additions to the city have since been platted. The Johnson-McCarthy map will show everything from a point on the shore below the state prison around to the rocks west of Partridge Island, a stretch of six miles north and south while the brewery and adjacent property to the west will also be shown.

The map is on a scale of 400 feet to the inch and in size is about 6 feet 8 inches by 3 feet 3 inches. It shows the entire city by additions, the wards, lot and block numbers, names and correct width and outline of all streets, the street railway line, all cemetery and Presque Isle walks and drives, the location and shape of all important public buildings and manufacturing establishments. The correct outline of the water powers of Carp and Dead rivers, Island Beach addition, Middle Island point, and the beach back of Partridge Island which is soon to play an important part in Marquette's development. All of the additions will be distinguished by suitable coloring and the name of the owners of all acre property within the city limits will also be given.

City Engineer McIntosh has just completed a valuable sewer map for the city but as it does not cover anything north of Fair avenue it no wise enters into competition with the map which Messrs. Johnson and McCarthy are preparing and the city should assist them in every way possible in the work of bringing out the new map. Every description on it has been looked up in the records, all railroad tracks and docks are accurately drawn from the blue print prepared in the South Shore engineer's office for the purpose and the same care has been taken down to the smallest detail to secure perfect accuracy.

The work of lithographing such a large map will be very expensive and in order to have it brought out in the style in which it should be the publishers must secure a large list of subscribers for it. The common council, in view of the great benefit the new map will prove to the city, should certainly order a number for the use of city officials and it is to be hoped that the real estate men and business men of the city generally will come to the front with enough additional orders to reimburse the publishers for the large expense to which they will be put entirely apart from any consideration of the time and labor which they have put upon the map itself.

The map is practically completed with the exception of some of the lettering and when the finishing touches have been placed upon it THE MINING JOURNAL is of the opinion that it should be placed on exhibition in some suitable show window in order that the public may have an opportunity to judge of the admirable plan of the work and the skill and accuracy with which it has been carried out.

For Another Year.

The people of Marquette will be greatly pleased to learn that Manager Ross has engaged Hughes' Ideal orchestra to furnish music for another year as the regular opera house orchestra. He has also made arrangements to have seven pieces regularly this year instead of five as last and as this will permit Mr. Hughes to bring out practically the full strength of the orchestra the public will be given better music than ever before. Everyone is proud of Marquette's orchestra, which is admittedly the best in the upper peninsula of Michigan and with splendid music and first-class attractions such as those already announced Manager Ross will find his house, and himself, also, more popular than ever this season.

At Bice & Sons'

Bice & Sons have just finished cutting a million and a half feet of choice pine at the sawmill in connection with their factory and now have on hand a lot of first-class lumber for factory use. Their dry kiln is in operation night and day and a good deal of the upper grades of the lumber is already kiln dried. The firm also has a lot of good bill stuff on hand and has lately received a choice lot of hardwood flooring. The outlook for a busy season at the factory is good and the firm is reaching out for business all over the peninsula.

The Election in Baraga.

As considerable interest was aroused here over the election in Baraga because of the details given in THE MINING JOURNAL regarding the refusal of the election board there to print Mr. McMahon's name on the ticket as a candidate for supervisor against Pat Nester, the following from The L'Anse Sentinel is given without change:

The contest on township officers in Baraga township was distinguished by some peculiar features and it is claimed by many that the office of supervisor was captured by the regular nominee by methods not usually laid down in the books as fair play. Three of the members of the board of election commissioners were candidates for re-election on the nomination ticket and as such board refused to allow the position ticket to be printed upon the official ballots, claiming that the opposition caucus was illegal, this left but one ticket to be voted for. James McMahon, the opposition candidate for supervisor, had slips printed and determined to run anyway. He received the entire 32 votes at Newtonville precinct and was only 36 votes behind Nester in Baraga precinct after 120 tickets had been thrown out, most of which had McMahon slips on, on account of the voter failing to properly mark the ballot. On the official canvass of the three precincts Nester had about 70 majority, but it claimed that if the McMahon slips had all been counted he would have had a small majority. McMahon is preparing to contest the election in the courts.

The Modern Samson.

Louis Cyr, "the modern Samson," will appear in this city on Monday and Tuesday evenings, April 17 and 18, with his combination, the Cyr Bros.' Specialty company. Of the company the Bay City Times-Press of March 22nd said:

The Cyr Brothers Specialty company appeared at Washington avenue rink last night in one of their novel entertainments of strength tests. The seating capacity was overtaxed and many people were obliged to stand. The entertainment opened with a trapeze performance by John Siror, who did some difficult balancing feats with a chair. The Leroux brothers, slack wire performers, then appeared. They were followed by the Cyr brothers in their wonderful feats of strength. Louis Cyr broke one of his world records by putting up the 335-pound bar bell fourteen times while in a kneeling position. His previous highest record was made in England, when he put the weight up twelve times. Peter Cyr put up 195-pound dumbbell twice.

The closing act was where a horse was attached to each arm of the senior Cyr in a pulling contest. The company does everything it advertises. It will appear again tonight. From Bay City it goes to Saginaw, Standish, East Tawas, Au Sable, Alpena, Friday and Saturday evenings, Grayling, Cheboygan and the upper peninsula in the order named.

A Beautiful Window.

Gooding & Ormsbee's corner window attracts as much attention from the wearers of bifurcated garments in Marquette just now as any Easter millinery opening ever attracted from the fairer portion of the community. In that window the firm has ever $500 worth of neckwear on display, all of the very latest style in color, fabrics and make-up. The display is a beautiful one and reflects great credit upon the firm making it.

"HA!—HA!—HARVESTS!"

A great man once said in speaking of a remarkable fertile spot. "If you tinkle it with a hoe, it laughs with a harvest." This saying is indeed true of North Galveston, for the fruit growing lands of that region yield, in response to cultivation which is mere play compared with the arduous toil of farmers in northern climes, immense crops of pears, plums, figs, strawberries, etc., etc.

These "ripples of merriment" on the part of the rich soil are perennial crops—were never known to fail. The fortunate fruit growers laugh, too, at their good fortunes; manufacturers who are profiting by the splendid resources and shipping facilities, investors who see the dollars multiply and investors who have found health in this mild and equable climate join in the merry making; and it is withal a laughing, happy, prosperous community. If you are interested in North Galveston as an investment or a home, or both, apply for full particulars to M. E. Asire.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
