The cotton yarn, lace and woolen mills and factories in East Flanders are affected by the movement, a large number of the operatives in these industries having joined the strike. Some of the more enthusiastic and hot blooded strikers at Grammont assembled in the Cafe Hollandias at that place and held an important meeting at which flerce speeches were made by some of the leaders. The gendarmes statemated to break up the meeting but met with stout resistance. The fight was transferred to the street and though the gendarmes had the advantage of arms and discipline the strikers struggled desperately and were only dispersed after a long contest and after two of the gendarmes and a number of the rioters were seriously wounded. The dynamite explosion at Mons to day seems to have acted as an incentive of the strikers to commit further out rages. The strikers indulged in all manner of threats against the government and as the day wore on they became emboldened and determined to take possession. When the men attempted to march through the streets they were met by a strong detachment of the civic guard. No attention was paid to the order to disperse. Hooting and yelling they attempted to march and a charge en masse was made upon the man da charge en masse was made upon the guard. A desperate hand to hand conflict ensued. The main body of the strikers was broken up but groups of struggling men could be seen in the side streets leading from the main thoroughfare. The battle was long and bitterly contested but finally the guard was victorious. It is known that four of the miners were kelled. PITTSBURG, April 17 .- An explosion occurred at the Vesuvius iron works at Sharpsburg late Saturday night which wrecked the battery of boilers but rebeen found that the explosion was caused by a dynamite cartridge placed on a coal stack. It is believed that an attempt was made to blow up the mill. Since the failure of the late strike colored men have been superseding the whites and the feeling against the whites and the feeling against the negroes is very bitter. There are 150 men, mostly colored, working near the boilers and that some were not killed or injured is projected.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many of the age of 30 to 50 who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting sensation and weakening of the system in a manner which the patient cannot account for. On examination it will be found that the urine deposits a ropy sediment and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear or the color be of a thin or milkish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause which is the second stage of weakness.

Finding it inconvenient to call at the office can be treated by mail by sending a full description of their case.

THEY MAKE LIFE A BURDEN FOR THE STREET CAR MEN

edmen Will Dedicate Their Hall To-Night-Sold Out His Business. A Prompt Adjustment.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE. The conductors and motormen on the street railway have been annoyed considerably of late by the little children on High street, near Second street. In oming down the hill near that point it is impossible to run the car slowly on account of the heavy grade. Children are numerous in that neighborhood and nany of them are permitted to play in the streets from morning till night. They often stand on the side of the rack until a car gets within a few feet of them, when they will dart across in front of it. They do this to provoke the motormen. They have become so accustomed to the cars that they don't seem particular whether they get out of their way or not.

On Saturday one little fellow at empted to run across the track in front f the car when it was coming down the hill at a lively rate, and in order to avoid striking him the motorman was obliged to reverse the car. The result-ant strain on the circuit was so great their younger children and try and keep them off the car track, as they are otherwise very liable to meet with injury, particularly at the place above referred to.

Dedication Tonight

Gitche Gumme Tribe, Improved Order of Redmen, will dedicate the lodge's assembly hall in the Heineman block tonight. After the dedicatory exercises a magic and ventriloqual exhibition, which will last one hour, will be given, with a dance afterward. A supper will be served at midnight by the ladies of Pocahontas Degree. Professor Crim's orchestra will furnish music for the dance. Tickets, including entertain-ment, supper and dance, will be only fifty cents each. A general invitation is extended the public to be present.

Thos. Pearce Sells Out

Thos. Pearce, who has conducted a number of years yesterday sold out his entire stock, furniture, fixtures, etc., to & Read. Mr. Pearce's successors are both well known in Ishpeming and will control their share of the patronage.

The Claim Adjusted.

D. W. Kaufman, special agent of the Grand Rapids Fire Insurance company of Grand Rapids, Mich., was in town yesterday and paid the claim of Olav Neilson, whose house at North Ishpem-ing, which was destroyed by fire one night last week, was insured in the company named. The claim was paid without haggling by Mr. Kaufman.

Are Actresses Born or Schooled?

There are many examples of both and it is a question which will never probably be settled. Among the strik ing examples of the former are Jane Coombs and Mary Anderson. Both bepefore the footlight as stars. Both were crude in their early efforts but possessed that genius or magnetism which carries an audience with them and has enabled them to hold their positions in the very front rank of the artists of the world. Miss Coombs' success in London at the Haymarket theater was phenomenal, also at Wallack's theater, New York, and her recent tour through Australia added to her already great reputation. Among the striking examples of the latter are Clara Morris and Fanny Davenport, who have both reached the topmost round of the ladder.—Baltimore American. At the City Opera House Thursas stars. Lucian Rodd of Whitehall, N. That his Chicago on a business trip, to be absent head was so covered with sores that he was hardly able to comb or even brush his hair, so great was the pain it occasioned.

That he consulted the local physicians without successful result; that he took quantities of medicine with no benefit whatever; that physicians told him his disease was incurable and he had come to the same conclusion himself and had made up his mind to go to a hospital and await death.

That just about this time he learned about Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which he began to use. That this remedy entirely relieved and cured him, healed and dried up his sores, en-abled him to sleep soundly and comfortably, and restored him to his ordinary vigor and vitality, in short, made a sound and well man of him so that he was fully able to work at his occupation, and has done so since that time.

GROWING INSURANCE FIRM.

C. H. Call & Co. Secure the Equitaable and Move into Larger and More Convenient Offices.

WARDEN VAN EVERA'S NEW DEP UTY WILL REPORT TODAY.

Louis Cyr Simply Paralyzes Marquette People With Astonishment-Church Entertainment Wednesday.

A GREAT THREE-YEAR-OLD.

C. H. Call & Co. have moved their insurance office from their original quarters in the first floor of the Marquette county savings bank block to the fourth floor where they will occupy the entire front suite of rooms, five in number. The change is due to the fact that the firm has just taken the general agency for northern Michigan of The Equitable Life Assurance society of New York, which has unchallenged claim to the distinction of being the greatest life insurance company in the world.

Mr. Charles Kelsey has been the general agent of the Equitable in the upper peninsula for nearly five years and the change is brought about by an understanding between him and the insurance firm whose marvelous record since its organization three years ago has made it famous among insurance Mr. Kelsey retains his connection with the company, becoming superintendent of agencies for the new general agency.

The Equitable had Jan 1, 1893, assets of $153,060,052.01, undivided surplus of $31,189,815.49, income of $40,286,-237.49, disbursements of $24.161,947.34 and in 1892 wrote $200,490,316 of new assurance, making its outstanding assurance $850,962,245. It claims double the surplus of any other life insurance company, a larger income, larger num-ber and amount of policies in force and transacts a larger annual new business than any other life insurance company than any other life insurance company in the world.

C. H. Call & Co. threw up the general agency of the famous Mutual Life of New York in order to get this great company, believing it the only one for an agency transacting a business of the magnitude of theirs. They write life, accident, employer's liability, fire, marine, boiler and plate glass insurance ovar their desks and enjoys the distinction of transacting the largest marine business of any firm in this part of the country, all the ore forwarded by lake by a large number of the strongest mining corporations of the upper mining corporations of the upper peninsula being entered on their books. The firm is now composed of C. H. Call, N. M. Kaufman and D. W. Kauf-man, the latter being the active partner and having personal management of the firm's business the firm's business.

The new offices will be elegantly fitted up. One room will be occupied by George W. Rule, the chief clerk, another will be the reception room and clerk's and stenographer's office, a third Mr. Kaufman's office, the next Mr. Kelsey's office and the fifth a room for supplies. The new offices were occupied yesterday and all the furniture is not yet in place but the firm is hustling for

The Cyr Brothers.

The best satisfied crowd which ever poured out from the Casino was undoubtedly that which attended the performance of the Cyr Brothers' Specialty size but no man can make a dent in his flesh. He is literally a man of iron. Sixteen men stood upright on a heavy oak platform last night, all that could be crowded upon it, and he lifted the whole outfit. As taken on the stage their combined weight, figuring in the platform, was over 3,400 pounds; as taken by parties in front, the weight being called off, the aggregate was 3,296 pounds. The most astonishing feat performed by this modern Samson, however, was his contest with George Reed's heavy team of blacks. They appeared on the stage in their regular working harness, each with a whippletree, and each was hitched on to a padded ring which was placed around ded ring which was placed around one of the giant's arms above the elbow. He then folded his arms and the horses were started in opposite directions but failed to pull his arms apart. The horses laid right down to the work and tore the cleats from the floor but even when whipped to their utmost effort they were no match for the man and finally one horse fell on its knees, the other dragging horse and man about the stage without moving those massive arms. During the scene the wildest ex-citement prevailed and at its close the citement prevailed and at its close the spectators cheered the victor loudly. After the performance Mr. Cyr said that he had never been so greatly fooled by a team before in his life. They weighed 2,600 pounds but his anticipated picnic with them proved to be one of the toughest pulls he had ever known for each horse pulled for every ounce there was in him. It was a wonderful scene, far celipsing anything claimed of the giant in his advertising. The only criticism to be passed upon the company was called forth by the slack wire performer in his dressing act on the performer in his dressing act on the wire and the management promises to prevent its repetition as it was distasteful to the large number of ladies The same bill will be given

Bleak House.

Flashes of lightning, peals of thunder, and the sullen rainfall upon the roof of the opera house was a fit accompaniment of the grand play, founded upon the fiction of one of the masters—a fic-tion that is true to life. Its characters will never be forgotten, and there they were last night, real presence in flesh and blood—the quaint, the curious, the comic and tragic—all intermingled. The rain fell without ceasing on the tiles, but the miserable weather had not limited the andience nor did it limit the limited the audience nor did it limit the power of the players. Miss Jane Coombs in the dual role of Lady Dedlock and Hortense achieved the greatest triumph of her life. She was a living representation, and the auditor soon loses consciousness of the fact that he is witnessing a play, and feels that the living scenes are being enacted before his eyes. Tulkinghorn, Sweet Esther Summerson and Little Jo, who must "moye on" in every city from piller to post, until he can moye from pillar to post, until he can move no more! The characters Dickens portrayed, the people on the boards last night presented. Those who have not read Bleak House should do so at once. It is a work necessary to a complete education. It is fascinating from frontis-It is a work necessary to a complete education. It is fascinating from frontispiece to finish, and impresses itself beyond the reach of the chisel of effacing time. Krook, his rag and bottle den, the ghost's walk, the fight, the death, and the falling snow, the misery of after-life gazing back at the skeleton, the dignity, the grandeur, the squalor, and the burning years of youth flung back, with disgrace stalking and the commonplace mingled with the infinite. "Bleak House" has it all. It is a wonderful play, perfectly acted.—Cincinderful play, perfectly acted.—Cincin nati Commercial Gazette.

The New Deputy Warden.

Warden Van Evera of Marquette prison has received a telegram from Eugene D. Mosher, hall master at the Jackson prison, announcing that he accepts the position of deputy warden at the Marquette prison, tendered him by Warden Van Evera, and will arrive in Marquette today. Warden Van Evera selected Mr. Mosher as his deputy because he desired an experienced prison man in the position and after looking over the prisons of the state, found the man he wanted in the hallmaster at Jackson. The appointment monia. Mr. Dwight is well remembered in Marquette; he was for a time associated with Mr. A. H. Holland in the directory business here some years ago and later had a large art class. He was a talented artist and was a member of the noted Dwight family of New England. After leaving Marquette he was engaged in newspaper work in Sheboygan and Milwaukee and later made the trip around the horn on the whaleback Wetmore. He then held the position of sporting editor of The Seattle Telegraph for a time and finally returned to Superior, where he served in various positions on the local papers until his death.

short delay caused by other matters was accepted by Mr. Mosher as stated above.

Frank Murphy Tonight

The Milwaukee Sentinel of Sunday April 9, speaks of the company which appears at the Marquette Opera House formance of the Cyr Brothers' Specialty company last evening. There was an immense house and the general expression at the close was that at twice the price of admission the show would have been cheap.

All of the specialties were good but it is of the work of Peter and Louis Cyr that especial mention must be made. The former made a great showing for a middleweight, lifting with a harness 1,975 pounds living weight while he broke his record by lifting 559 pounds with one finger, his best previous record being 525 pounds.

But when it comes to Louis Cyr marvels begin. He weighs 318 pounds and arm, fore arm and leg are monstrous in size but no man can make a dent in his flesh. He is literally a man of iron. Sixteen was read a very little at the Marquette Opera House this evening as follows:
