VICTORY FOR PLAIN PEOPLE

Chief Justice Fuller Overrules Woods' Order Closing World's Fair to Tollers.

WORKINGMEN AND FAMILIES CAN SEE ITS WONDERS.

No Need for Court of Equity to Interfere as Remedies at Law Are Ample.

WORLD'S FAIR STAYS OPEN.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court, sitting in the United States court of appeals, rendered a decision in the World's Fair case yesterday which opens the fair on Sundays. The government made a motion to have the appeal dismissed on the ground that the court of appeals had no jurisdiction over a case in which the constitutionality of an act of congress had been disputed.

The decision handed down by Justice Fuller first holds that the court of appeals has jurisdiction. The second point decided was on the writ of injunction issued by the United States circuit court to restrain the opening of the fair on Sunday. The decision dissolves the writ of injunction. Justices Bunn and Allen, sitting with Chief Justice Fuller, concurred in the opinion.

The attempt on the part of the government to enforce Sunday closing followed at once the vote of the World's Fair directors on Tuesday, May 23, deciding for a seven-day fair. United States Attorney Mitchell was in Washington and conferred with Attorney General Olney. Returning, Mr. Mitchell filed a bill for injunction on May 28, the suit being entitled "The United States of America vs the World's Columbian Exposition, H. N. Higginbotham, D. H. Burnham, Edmund Rice, George R. Davis and Horace Tucker." This is the suit on which the appeal was taken. Without action the suit would stand until arguments could be heard. A decision in favor of the complainants was rendered by Judges Woods and Jenkins, sitting on the circuit bench, while Judge Grosscup dissented. Application for a supersedeas pending hearing on an appeal was made by the defendants, and Chief Justice Fuller granted the order staying the effect of the circuit court decision until an appeal could be heard. Last week Justice Fuller and Judges Bunn and Allen heard the appeal.

Every seat was taken fully an hour before the time announced for the court to decide the case, and standing room was soon exhausted. The crowd was so dense that not one of the feminine sightseers in the corridors succeeded in gaining entrance to the court room. Chief Justice Fuller in rendering the decision spoke as follows:

JUSTICE FULLER'S DECISION. Deeming it desirable that this matter should be disposed of at once, we shall announce the result at which we have arrived, postponing for want of time the full expression of our views, which will hereafter be given.

The appellants have submitted a motion to dismiss this appeal upon the grounds that the jurisdiction of the circuit court was in issue; that the case involved the construction or application of the constitution of the United States and that the constitutionality of a law of the United States was drawn in question therein; that therefore the appeal for a decree under Section 7 of the supreme court of the United States and not to this court, and hence this appeal, which is from an interlocutory order, cannot be maintained under Section 7 of the judiciary act of March 3, 1891.

We do not understand that the power of the circuit court to determine the case was denied, but that the appellants contend that the United States had not by their bill made a case properly cognizable in a court of equity. The objection was to the want of equity and not the want of power. The jurisdiction of the circuit court was therefore not in issue and within the intent or meaning of the act so far as the construction or application of the constitution of the United States and the constitutionality of the laws of the United States are concerned. We are of the opinion that the order we are called upon to review involved or drew in question neither one nor the other in the sense that the action of the circuit court was invoked.

The disposal of the proceedings or the disposition of the case, and the constitutionality of the laws of the United States are concerned. We are of the opinion that the order we are called upon to review involved or drew in question neither one nor the other in the sense that the action of the circuit court was invoked.

of the corporation and the extent of the obligations assumed, the right of all parties concerned, and the nature of these conditions and the conditions subsequent, we do not think this a proper case for the rule in question, nor can we concur in the proposition that the appropriation of the $2,500,000 amounted to a charitable trust upon certain conditions warranted.

NOT A CHARITABLE TRUST. The appropriation was made for the purpose of aiding in defraying the cost of the completion of the work and to be paid over on vouchers for labor done, material furnished and services performed in the prosecution of that work. It was an appropriation for the benefit of the local corporation to help it out of its financial difficulty and to enable it to complete its undertaking, and as such does not come under the accepted definition of a charitable gift for the benefit of an indefinite class of persons. So far as the purpose of the appropriation subsequently made is concerned—that purpose had to be accomplished before the money could be paid over.

The decision of the court might interpose to protect the United States in its possession but it is the local corporation that is in actual possession under the law of the state and of the ordinance of the South Park commissioners. The possession is recognized by the acts of congress as essential to the construction and administration of the exposition by the corporation. It is that construction the corporation has invested $16,000,000 under circumstances that preclude the view that the United States have exclusive administration and authority in the premises. It is perfectly clear that congress never intended that congress should become responsible for the construction of any of the buildings except its own or for the work provided for by the appropriation. However, it was intended that the exposition should receive the sanction of the government and in that sense, as remarked by Chief Justice Waite in the Philadelphia case, "the impression of a national and international character." Of course the government has a qualified possession, but we find nothing in this regard upon which to base an intervention of a court of equity on that ground.

HAS A REMEDY AT LAW. We cannot now discuss the various questions necessary to be considered but which will be treated of in the opinion to be filed. It is sufficient to say that we cannot except this case from the ordinary rule which requires the exercise of jurisdiction in chancery some injury to property, whether actual or prospective, some invasion of property or civil rights, some injury irreparable in its nature, and which cannot be redressed at law. This is not such a case and the result is we hereby refuse the order and the case is remanded for further proceedings not inconsistent with these conclusions.

Chief Justice Fuller's clear, positive voice was audible to the remotest hearer. It was with difficulty that cheers were suppressed in the court room as there were outbursts of exuberant satisfaction by many before they had gotten without the hearing of the court.

Judges Bunn and Allen gave vent to no utterances whatever, concurring in every point as spoken by the chief justice. The decision as given above is the complete text, shorthanded verbatim. The decision means to a certainty that the World's Fair will be kept open on Sunday and settles the case for all time, as an appeal would have to go to the supreme court of the United States which does not meet until October, when the fair will be ended.

THOUSANDS OF WORKERS.

Spent Pleasant and Profitable Afternoon at the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, June 18.—There was not a wild rush of people to the World's Fair this morning. The Sunday going crowd made no unusual haste. It took its usual Sunday nap and ate its usual Sunday breakfast. A considerable part of it went to church and the sun had begun to settle towards the west before the Sunday crowd began to pour in at the gates of the White City in Jackson Park.

In its make-up it differed little from the crowd of last Sunday and the Sunday before. There were thousands of workmen, some of them alone and many of them with their wives and families, including the babies and dinner baskets. They strolled about the grounds and through the buildings and took solid comfort in the wondrous sights.

ART GALLERIES WERE THROGGED.

If any man imagines that the wage-worker does not appreciate fine painting and works of art he should have seen the multitude of artisans that lingered in the halls of the Fine Arts building throughout the afternoon and far into the evening. When evening came thousands of families crowded the benches on Administration plaza and listened to the music of the bands in the pavilions and ate their lunches they had brought out from their homes. They enjoyed the music and when the closing hour came they went home appearing to have spent a profitable and happy day.

OLNEY IS VERY WEARY.

Cannot Close World's Fair but Will Hold Back Cash.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The opinion of the court of appeals in deciding that the World's Fair may be open on Sunday was received here by Associated Press bulletin early yesterday afternoon. Attorney General Olney said that his department had a clear record in the case and had exhausted every legal measure to enforce the mandate of congress. It was generally acknowledged that the act of congress in regard to opening the fair on Sunday was couched in language sufficiently dubious to make its intent doubtful and both those who favored opening and those who opposed it had plausible ground to stand upon.

END OF HIS HOPE REACHED.

It seemed to him that the end had now been reached, though he was not entirely sure, not having carefully examined the law, but that an appeal could be taken to the supreme court of the United States. This, however, would seem to be useless, as the court did not meet until October and before the case could be heard in that tribunal the fair would be closed. He could not see that any impediment could be thrown in the way of opening the fair on Sunday but as the matter was in the

HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS.

Mesaba Range Towns Swept by Forest Fires and People Without Food.

EVERY PROVISION STORE IN VIRGINIA BURNED.

Two Thousand People Reported Homeless at That Place—Duluth and Superior Sending Supplies.

FIRE SWEEPS MESABA RANGE. DULUTH, June 18.—The towns of Virginia and Mountain Iron on the Duluth, Mesaba & Northern road have been destroyed by forest fires which have been raging for a week. Mesaba and Duluth on the Duluth & Iron Range road were also visited by serious fires and Tower likewise had an experience with the flames.

There are 2,000 people homeless in Virginia and without food or shelter. Every provision depot and house and contents in the place was destroyed. The women and children were put into box cars but there was not an engine there to move them and they have nothing to eat. The situation at Mountain Iron is little better.

As soon as the news of these facts had reached Duluth arrangements were begun to send relief to the distressed people. President Greatings of the Duluth & Iron Range promptly placed a train at the disposal of parties who had already taken steps to obtain tents and provisions. President Alfred Merritt of the Mesaba road ordered the purchase of $1,000 worth of provisions which will be sent by the road to the people at the various towns that have suffered. Arrangements have also been made for the city to send food and several contracting firms contributed numerous tents.

IRON RIVER BADLY SCORCHED.

School, Two Churches and Ten Dwellings Are Burned.

IRON RIVER, Wis., June 18.—Fire today destroyed the high school, two churches and ten dwellings. The whole town had a narrow escape. Loss $20,000; partly insured. Forest fires are raging all over Bayfield county and thousands of feet of pine has been burned.

SEVERAL FIRMS BURNED OUT.

Recently Rebuilt Structure Is Again Destroyed by Fire.

CHICAGO, June 18.—A six-story building at Wabash avenue and Congress street was entirely destroyed by fire today. The structure was occupied by a number of firms whose combined losses aggregate $300,000. The heaviest losers are the O. W. Richardson company, carpets and curtains; the Ginn Publishing company; Vose Piano company and A. B. Chase & Co., piano manufacturers. Their combined losses are placed at about $200,000. R. S. Peale & Co., publishers, will lose $20,000. The building was valued $150,000 and was owned by John Quincy Adams of Wheaton, Ill. It was burned two years ago and had only been recently rebuilt. The flames were started by the crossing of electric light wires and spread with such rapidity through the building that the firemen were unable to check its progress. At one time several of the adjoining buildings, notably the store of Siegel, Cooper & Co., which covers half a block, were in danger but the fire department's desperate efforts managed to confine the flames.

SUNSTROKE AND GUNSHOT.

Curious Combination That Fatally Wounded Julius Cherrick.

MENOMINEE, Mich., June 18.—[Special.]—Julius Cherrick while out hunting near "Fiantown" today was accidentally shot through the head. Overcome by the heat he fell and the gun was discharged, blowing off the side of the head. Cherrick is still alive but cannot live long. He is nineteen years old and unmarried.

ALGER ON PENSIONS.

He Believes Present Administration Is Just and Fair.

NEW YORK, June 18.—"I should be glad to see a complete investigation of the pension office to determine what basis there is for the charges of mismanagement and the pensioning of those who are not entitled to receive pensions," General Russell A. Alger said to a reporter. "I do not believe it would be found that as many frauds exist as it has been charged in some quarters. There may be some cases where pensions are improperly granted but I believe there are no more than must necessarily be the case in a business of such large proportions. I have seen nothing that indicates a hostile feeling on the part of the administration toward the pensioners; and I am ready to give it credit for a purpose fairly and honestly to administer the pension laws as they exist."

HAVING A GOOD TIME.

Eulalia Leaves Her Title Behind for a Few Days.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The Infanta Eulalia enjoyed herself today in her own way. She attended mass at the cathedral as any ordinary citizen might and took a sail on the bay without the deafening roar of royal salutes from the men-of-war for she left her title behind and is only the duchess of Montpensier for the present.

LESSONS IN LOW LIFE.

THOUGHTS SUGGESTED BY AN HOUR SPENT IN THE OPEN AIR.

Nature's Wonderful Handiwork as Seen in the Lowliest of Her Creations—Nothing, however insignificant it may appear, exists without a purpose.

Who has not wondered at the beauty of a blue violet blossoming in all its perfection under a burdock leaf? Moralists have spoken of it as the symbol of modesty and of humility, but the real point is that here is perfection in low life.

I am deeply interested in high life—in that world that rings and soars; the clouds whose shadows sweep my earth couch; the stars that carry their light to the very lowest tangled skeins of eternity.

How is it possible for a complete muscular and nervous organism to be packed away into the size of half a pin's head? Yet this leaf is covered with a colony, not one of which is half the size of the other.

This certainly explains nothing, for it is quite as hard to understand how these minute specks used to think as to comprehend their thinking now. But they really are arguing a good deal still, as you will find out if you will be patient enough to watch them closely.

Now we find our own happiest relation to all things about us. I lay my head on a pillow of moss. Nothing could be softer.

WAS HIS END BY SUICIDE, ACCIDENT OR MURDER?

Retiring Superintendent of Calumet Schools Surprised by Teachers of His Staff—Miscellaneous Notes.

(All communications for copper country department should be addressed to A. F. Isler, Houghton)

When THE MINING JOURNAL reporter reached here to investigate the case of the dead man found near the Mineral Range track yesterday morning a very sad sight presented itself. On the west side of the track lay the body covered with some burlaps. On the stones at his side lay a wooden pipe and a five cent piece. A little to his left lay a broken bottle. Just across the track sat the little spring and his children. They had been there for more than two hours. Then the dead man's sister came. She was frantic with grief. She screamed and moaned piteously and called her brother by name.

The dead man's name was Henry Malson. He had been out of work since last winter. He lived on a "Tucumseh" location. When last seen alive he was in Peter Sauer's saloon at Red Jacket about 8:30 o'clock. When discovered yesterday morning his head and face were down in the water and his hands resting on a stone on each side of the little spring and his knees were resting on another stone. He was in the position that a person would be who was in the act of drinking out of a pool of water. There was a cut on his ear and one on his head. Justice Cruse arrived at 10:30 o'clock and impelled a jury, who viewed the body. The taking of testimony was postponed until this evening. Dr. Loughbow, who examined the body, said there was water enough in the dead man's lungs to cause death.

Friday evening Professor E. T. Curtis, late superintendent of the Calumet public schools, was requested by Rev. Mr. Wallace to go to the Congregational church at once to see about a church matter. Professor Curtis was at work packing up his household effects in view of his departure this week but quit work and accompanied the pastor to the church. On entering the church he found the parlors handsomely decorated with a profusion of flowers and plants and all the teachers of the public schools there to receive him and escort him to tables set with strawberries and ice cream and other delicacies. The surprise reached its climax after the good things were disposed of and the professor was led into another apartment by Principal Graham, who in behalf of the teachers of the public schools presented him with a set of the International Encyclopedia bound in full morocco. As soon as Professor Curtis recovered from the surprise they had sprung on him he responded, thanking them for the beautiful testimonial of their esteem. Professor Curtis presented a gift very highly and the friendly feelings that prompted his teachers to make the presentation is a satisfaction to him that will be remembered as long as life lasts.

Nearly every evening people come here from the surrounding towns expecting to take a train for eastern points. skilled men to execute its contracts and it would not pay fair prices for good work. The government, said Mr. Kane, while it posted itself as to the financial standing of a builder or contractor, cared to know nothing about his skill or ability.

So condemnatory of Contractor Dant's execution of the work beneath the theatre were the statements of some of the experts that the jurors made inquiries of the witnesses giving this testimony as to the state of Mr. Dant's mind.

During the morning session Juror Hanvey requested the coroner to communicate with Colonel Ainsworth, O. B. Brown, chief clerk of the building, Contractor Dant and D. Pullman, the contractor, to ascertain if they wished to make any statement to the jury.

BECKMAN'S PILLS for a bad Liver.

When a Rattlesnake Feels Surprised.

The pig trots the snake with disrespect, not to say insolence—nothing, ophidian or otherwise, can fascinate a pig. If your back garden is infested with rattlesnakes, you should keep pigs. The pig dances contemptuously on the rattlesnake and eats him with much relish, rattles and all. The last emotion of the rattlesnake is intense astonishment, and astonishment is natural in the circumstances. A respectable and experienced rattlesnake, many years established in business, has been accustomed to spread panic everywhere within ear and eye shot. Everything capable of motion has started off at the faintest rustle of his rattles, and his view of animal life from those expressionless eyes has invariably been a back view and a rapidly diminishing one.

After a lifelong experience of this sort, to be unceremoniously rushed upon by a common pig, to be treated as so much swill, to be jumped upon, to be flouted and smothered, and finally to be made a snack of—this causes a feeling of very natural and painful surprise in the rattlesnake. But a rattlesnake is only surprised in this way once, and he is said to improve the pork—Arthur Morrison in Strand Magazine.

An Ingenious Swindle.

A novel kind of swindle was practiced in a German town the other day. A man struggling under a heavy burden suddenly stumbled and crashed through a plate glass store window. The proprietor of the store demanded payment. The porter said he had no money. Passersby advised that he be searched. A thousand mark note was found on him, which he said, belonged to his employer. The storekeeper, however, deducted 100 marks for the loss of his window and handed 900 marks change to the porter, who went away swearing and protesting. A little later the storekeeper discovered the thousand mark note was spurious.—New York Sun.

WHAT SHALL WE DRINK?

When the rays of old Sol are boiling down at a ninety degree rate, the air like the breath of the furnace and everything hot, dry and dusty, the natural desire of the average human is to drink. But what to drink? There's the question. The serious effect of an over indulgence in ice water is well known. The thousand and one cheap gassy beverages are known to be more or less injurious to the health, while the mineral waters of known purity and healthfulness are a luxury beyond the reach of but few. What shall we drink?

A beverage to meet the requirements, must first of all be absolutely pure and non-alcoholic. It should possess a medicinal element to counteract the effects of the heat and keep the blood pure and the stomach healthy. In order to be palatable and refreshing, it should be sparkling and effervescent. Last but not least, it must be economical and within the reach of all. A fully reliable and pure beverage has been analyzed by the highest authorities and pronounced to them to be free from any deleterious substance and absolutely non-alcoholic, while all physicians acknowledge its health giving qualities. It has a delicious, appetizing flavor, is full of snap, sparkle and effervescence, and is without a peer as a refreshing beverage.

A package, costing 25 cents at a grocer's or druggist's will make five gallons of this temperance drink. Truly it answers the question, "What shall we drink?" There are many substitutes and imitations of Hires' Rootbeer offered for sale which should be carefully avoided.

FROM THE WORLD'S FAIR TO WASHINGTON AND THE EAST.

Do you contemplate going to the World's Fair or to Washington—every one does. But you will not get your journey with a visit to the fair. You will want to go back to the old home in New York, Ohio or Pennsylvania. You will want to see Washington, Baltimore and New York. That would make a splendid trip if taken over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Over no other railroad route in all the east, can there be found more delightful and varied scenery than over the famous B. & O. It is the only direct route from Chicago to Washington. Leaving Chicago on the finest and fastest trains in the world, vestibled from end to end, lighted by the famous Pintsch gas, protected by Pullman's anti-telescoping devices, and a perfect block system, you are rapidly whirled over a splendid road-bed and down through the grand old states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia, away up among the mountain fastness of the Alleghenies, past hundreds of historic battlefields and places of note. You cannot conceive of a grander trip on the American continent. If you contemplate visiting the old home in the east, you should not fail to travel by way of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. For information as to rates, time of travel, sleeping car accommodations, etc., apply to L. S. Allen, assistant general passenger agent, "Rookery," Chicago, Ill.

AN ISHPEMING FATALITY.

George Argall, a Lad of Thirteen, Drowned in the "Peat" Pond Saturday.

REUNION OF UPPER PENINSULA RED MEN THIS WEEK.

Something for the Game Warden to Look After—Our Next Postmaster. About the Firemen's Picnic.

BOY DROWNED.

Saturday morning between 11 and 12 o'clock George Argall, aged thirteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Argall of the Lake Angeline mine location, was drowned in the "Peat" pond, west of Section 16 mine. The boy was bathing in the pond along with his brother and other lads of about the same age. They were all standing on the bank of the pond when George remarked to his companions that he could swim to the opposite side and back again without stopping to rest, the distance both ways being about 800 feet. He started out and arrived at the opposite side all right but when about half way back he became exhausted and sank to the bottom. As soon as the brother of the boy observed that the lad was sinking he boarded a raft and tried to reach him in time to save him from drowning but failed in the attempt. The men working at the mine near by were notified and in a few minutes the body was taken from the water by one of them who dived to reach it and brought it to the surface. The unfortunate boy's funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Division street Methodist church.

Red Men's Reunion. The reunion of the Red Men of the upper peninsula, to be held in Ishpeming commencing today and lasting until Thursday, inclusive, promises to be an interesting and largely attended gathering of that order. The local tribe has completed arrangements for the reception of visiting delegates and tribes. The wigwam in the Heineman block has been very beautifully decorated for the occasion. On the walls are displayed a number of deer heads, ox horns, flags, bunting, Chinese lanterns, emblems of the order, etc., while several neat sets of ox horns have been decorated and substituted for the chandeliers. The exercises will open this evening with a meeting at the tribal wigwam for degree work. Some of the delegates arrived here yesterday and the remainder will come today.

Fishing With Dynamite. An Ishpeming gentleman who took a drive to the Ropes gold mine at an early hour yesterday morning ran across three men exploding dynamite and killing fish in the streams between the Deer Lake location and the gold mine. As soon as he heard the report he ran to the place, where he detected the three fellows gathering up the dead fish. On seeing him the men quickly dropped their fish and took to the woods. He did not know the men but he says they were foreigners. Reports of similar outrages are frequently heard here. Men were discovered exploding dynamite in the Escanaba river a few days ago. The game warden should look after these offenders, for they richly deserve punishment.

Well Satisfied. The appointment of Mr. Donald McVichie as postmaster at Ishpeming is generally approved by the citizens of this city. Mr. McVichie is an old and highly esteemed citizen, and has always been prominently connected with the Democratic party. He has the respect of both political parties and is a careful and successful business man. Under his management the business of the office will be well cared for.

The Ishpeming office is one of the best paying in this section. Mr. McVichie received the appointment entirely unsolicited, for which reason he is to be doubly congratulated on the recognition accorded him.

Meets Tomorrow Evening. The committee of the Ishpeming Fire department appointed to secure ladies to look after the refreshments at the firemen's picnic on the Fourth held a meeting Saturday evening, when the names of over 200 ladies were submitted. It was decided to send the ladies an invitation today to attend a meeting to be held tomorrow evening a half past eight o'clock at the department headquarters for the purpose of organization, appointing committees, and the management of details generally. The firemen desire that all the ladies receiving invitations, or others who feel inclined to assist in the work, attend the meeting tomorrow evening.

Closing Exercises. The scholastic year for St. John's parochial school will close with a grand entertainment in the convent hall on Thursday afternoon, commencing at 2:30. An elaborate program has been arranged by the sisters in charge of the school. The admission to the concert will be fifty cents and the proceeds will go to the sisters.

The children's day exercises at the Calvary Baptist church yesterday morning were conducted in a very pleasing manner, the singing of the children being especially good. Following the exercises Rev. Green, the pastor, delivered a very able and interesting sermon, his subject being "The Life of Samuel." The church was crowded during the services.

Mrs. F. P. Mills and J. M. Vickers tendered a reception to a number of their lady friends at the residence of Mrs. Mills Saturday from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. HOBBS AND HIS FLAG. AN EPISODE OF WAR DAYS IN THE HARBOR OF HONG-KONG.

An Impatient Yankee Skipper Who Had Confidence in His Ship and Who Dared the Alabama--Flying Two Flags in Neutral Waters--How the Escape Was Made.

"During the greater part of the war," said the retired skipper, "there were a large number of American clippers stabled in Hong-Kong harbor, having orders to remain there from their owners, who feared the Alabama. This arrangement did not at all please the captains and officers, as many of us were anxious to go home and ship in the navy, but orders were orders. We could not leave the ships, and the frequent visits of the Alabama herself to the harbor, forcing herself into our midst," as the saying goes, were very vivid reminders that neutral waters were a pretty good sort of an invention.

"Although we passed the long weeks and months as pleasantly as we could, with all kinds of arrangements for killing time, both on shipboard and on shore, there was of course a continual and concerted growl going up from our little band of Yankee skippers, and old Hobbs was the star growler of us all.

"Occasionally a ship would manage to clear by sailing under some foreign flag, but as it was a complicated process involving fathoms of red tape and very often fell through just when everything seemed favorable it was not resorted to very often. When it was tried, however, old Hobbs would go on his beam ends with wrath. He would fume and rant, casting aspersions on the patriotism of the owners, the agents, the officials, and even the Chinese crew. He was so intensely patriotic that to see a good Yankee craft sail under false colors would keep him boiling for a week.

"You can see what his feelings were when one day he was ordered to proceed to Sumatra under the British flag. He fumed, ranted and swore over again, with a few extra choice nautical anathemas thrown in for emphasis. This necessary operation over, he sent ashore to the native sailmaker's for a British flag--the smallest to be had. When it came aboard--it was about 2 by 4 feet in size--Hobbs looked at it askance and ordered it to be put out of sight until sailing day.

"Sailing day arrived, and the British flag was seen fluttering quietly from its proper place on the Humming Bird. It attracted mighty little attention, however, for the Alabama was entering the harbor. She floated slowly along and dropped anchor exceedingly close to the Humming Bird. About this time the harbor master was seen in his boat being rowed rapidly toward Hobbs' ship, and a huge bundle of bunting about the size of an old shellback's sea chest was rapidly hauled to the maintop of the Humming Bird.

"The harbor master pulled up alongside the Humming Bird and yelled for the captain. It could be seen that he was angry about something. Hobbs came to the rail in his pig hat and long tailed bottle green coat, the customary uniform of a skipper in those days, and asked the harbor master what he could do.

"I want you to take down that flag instantly, sir," said the harbor master. "Guess not," said Hobbs. "It's a disgrace, sir, and an insult to hoist such a flag as that!" "What's the matter with the flag?" said Hobbs, surprised.

"It's all wrong, sir; the proportions are all wrong. The field is too long for its width, and the rest of it is too wide for its length. The crosses are wrongly arranged, sir, and it is a vile caricature of an honored flag, sir! Remove it immediately!" "Guess not," said Hobbs again. "That flag was bought in a British port and made by a British subject. He was a Chinaman, but that is neither here nor there. I don't care if it is the flag of Patagonia, so long as it was sold to me for that of England. Good morning!"

"The harbor master had nothing to say to this and started back, but he had no sooner done so than the main halliards were pulled, the bundle at the peak broke out, and in a second the stars and stripes were waving before the astonished eyes of the harbor master, the Yankee skippers and Captain Semmes of the Alabama. Indeed, so large was Old Glory in this particular case that it almost brushed the Alabama's decks, the vessels being so near together. The huge flag had been presented to the ship at her launching and to the excited spectators on this occasion seemed larger than the ship herself.

"The harbor master put about, angrier than before, and demanded explanations. "What does that flag mean, sir?" said he.

"That's my home flag," said Hobbs; "the trademark of my owners. I do not know whether that red rag up there is humped and clocked or not, but you can't give me any points on the construction of that article up there with the stripes on it. I propose to fly that flag how I please, when I please and where I please, whether it be in Hong-Kong or in H---. For the second time, good morning!" and Hobbs went below.

DANGEROUS BUSH FIRES.

Raging All Day and All Night North and South of the City.

SCHEDULE ARRANGED FOR "CITY OF NEW BALTIMORE."

Necessity of Guarding Presque Isle. Ball at the Casino—Making Life a Burden—Other Notes.

FLAMES LEAPING FURIOUSLY.

The great heat and long dry spell are producing the usual result and serious forest fires are raging throughout the upper peninsula. Yesterday afternoon a bridge near Saxon on the Duluth division of the D. S. S. & A. was damaged by the flames to such an extent as to cause a blockade and it was also reported that a trestle near Even had been burned. A big crew was started west with the construction train late last night and the bridges will soon be in shape for use again.

Around Marquette the fires burned all day with unvented fury. There is a very large fire at work on the other side of the hills southwest from the prison while the North Marquette addition and the northern part of the Marquette County Agricultural society's land were a raging furnace last night, the gale from the south driving the flames through the dense mass of jack-pines toward the lake while near the street railway track the fire crept back persistently against the wind until at 10 o'clock it had crossed on to the Marquette Land company's property and at 11 seemed to be making very fair progress towards the fair ground fences.

Superintendent Retallic of the street railways was on duty all night with a force of men watching the fires, fearing that a change of wind might endanger some of the company's buildings but at the last reports no trouble had been experienced.

The flames were so fierce and the fire traveled so rapidly that during the afternoon and evening the blaze was watched from the city with a good deal of anxiety for it was realized that if the fire was driven back into the Long-year addition or into the woods north of the Palmer additions a general conflagration and very great loss would undoubtedly result but at 1 a. m. the only loss which had been sustained was the burning of a few piles of cordwood on the northeast corner of the Marquette Land company's property.

The danger was the more real because late in the evening it was found that the woods on both sides of the powder mill road near Fair avenue were on fire and from that location there is easy access to the Palmer addition for a forest fire, especially should the wind get into the north.

For the Shore Route.

The schedule arranged for the trips of the steamer City of New Baltimore, the pioneer vessel in the shore trade out of Marquette, provides that she shall leave Marquette every Monday morning at 7:30 for Harou Bay and all intermediate points, arriving at Marquette on her return Tuesday afternoon. Wednesdays at 1:45 p. m. (after the arrival of the up-the-road train) the Baltimore will leave for Grand Island, Munising and the Pictured Rocks, returning Thursday at 3 p. m. On days not named in the schedule the steamer will be open to special charter or will be engaged in the excursion business. On all trips special attention will be given to the accommodation of camping, hunting, fishing or exploring parties who will be landed or taken on board at any point they may desire on the route laid down for the steamer. This is a convenience long desired here and besides helping out sportsmen and assists the arrangement bids fair to bring in considerable business for Marquette merchants.

Guard Presque Isle.

The great heat has made the woods a regular tinder box and it is almost a miracle that, with crowds of people visiting Presque Isle, a blaze has not in some way been started there. The amount of inflammable material is so great that a carelessly dropped cigar or cigarette stub or a match thrown away by a smoker might easily start a fire which hundreds of men could not check. The fear is an ever present one to those interested in Marquette's grand natural park and THE MINING JOURNAL believes that Mayor Kaufman and Park Commissioner Smith would be fully warranted in putting on additional police to patrol the island until the great danger arising from the present dry spell is over. The old adage about an ounce of prevention and a pound of cure is especially true in this connection for hundreds of thousands of dollars and years of time could not restore to Presque Isle its present beauty and attractiveness if it were once swept by flames. It would also seem advisable to put up a large number of notices cautioning visitors to the part about fires.

At the Casino.

The Societe St. Jean Baptiste has decided upon a change in the place of holding the grand ball which it has announced for the eve of St. John's day, on Friday evening, June 23. Instead of being at the Armory, as first announced, the ball will take place at the Casino, Hughes' orchestra furnishing the music.

On Saturday the society will have a picnic at Meeske's garden, the parade starting from the society's hall on Front street at 9 a. m. The line of march will be across on Superior to Third street, south to Fisher, east to Front, north on Front to Washington and then west on Washington to the gardens.

Making Life a Burden.

From all sides comes a howl about mosquitoes, sand flies and other pests of the woods, the unanimous verdict being that they have not been so bad before in many years. The wet spring, followed by sudden and excessively warm weather, seems to be responsible for the overcrowded condition of the atmosphere which has driven scores of fishermen back to town since the season opened and which makes it very difficult for the cox to remain in the woods. The Dead River Mill company reports that it was almost impossible for either men or teams to work at its woods camps last week and even veteran cruisers are glad to stay in town just now. As the trouble came with a rush this year it is to be hoped that it will soon end.

A Grade Climber.

The Street Railway Review for June gives illustrations of Mr. Dexter A. Hazard's new patent to save power in climbing steep grades on street railways and ensure the safety of cars in descending, the device having been suggested by the heavy Front street grade in this city. The Review speaks of Mr. Hazard's device as follows, having elsewhere a description of another Marquette invention, the Genett air brake, in an article on the World's Fair exhibit of the Genett Air Brake company: An effective device for preventing the slipping of car wheels on steep grades has been invented by Dexter Hazard of Marquette, Mich. It consists simply of a row of teeth bolted to the outside of the rail, which teeth are made to mesh with teeth on the car wheel, as shown in the illustrations. The line is thus made into a rack road at necessary points, without being troubled with the rack and pinion feature at points where it is not wanted. In order to make the cog mesh at the point where the cog alongside of the rail begin, the plate carrying the cog on the wheel is allowed a little movement and the lost motion is taken up as soon as the wheels begin to slip on the grade. The invention was called out by the necessities of the road at Marquette.

IMITATORS AND IMPOSTORS.

The unequalled success of Alcock's Porous Plasters as an external remedy has induced unscrupulous parties to offer imitations, which the endeavor to sell on the reputation of Alcock's. It is an absurdity to speak of them in the same category as the genuine porous plaster. Their pretensions are unfounded, their vaunted merits unsupported by facts, their alleged superiority to or equality with Alcock's a false pretense.

The ablest medical practitioners and chemists and thousands of grateful patients unite in declaring Alcock's Porous Plasters the best external remedy ever produced. Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Alcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

GLEN ELLYN.

When Mr. Jacob Levine of Champion, was in Chicago recently buying goods he made it a point to visit Glen Elyn, the Chicago suburb in which he and so many other people have purchased lots, the property, and for the benefit of any who may contemplate investing there, he wishes to state through the columns of THE MINING JOURNAL that he found Glen Elyn to be all that it had been represented to him and more.

"Briefly sized up," said Mr. Levine, "Glen Elyn ranks among the very best residence suburbs of Chicago and certainly excels most of them. It has a population, I should judge, of 2,000 to 2,500 people composed almost wholly of people, who do business in the city. There are at present about thirty residences in course of construction—buildings that will cost from $3,000 to $10,000."

"One of the most noticeable advantages of Glen Elyn is its altitude. Coming out of Chicago you gradually rise to a height of 275 feet, and at the Chicago & North-western depot you can look down the grade for fully six miles. Glen Elyn proper slopes slightly toward the lake within its border and the lots Mr. Hastings is selling here are splendidly situated a few feet above the lake. They are as desirable as any in this beautiful suburb. At Wheaton, a suburb a mile and three quarters west of Glen Elyn, lots are selling for $800 to $1,000. It is probably further advanced than Glen Elyn, but the lots are not so good. Wheaton is considerably older than Glen Elyn, has a population of 7,000 or over, but I do not see how property there can ever attain the value that is possible at Glen Elyn, for the reason that Wheaton possesses none of the natural advantages of Glen Elyn. The latter's high altitude, forest trees, immense park, beautiful lake and celebrated mineral springs insure its rapid population and development by Chicago's richest people."

The suburban train service on both roads was excellent, the running time being from 35 to 40 minutes, and Mr. Levine closed the interview by saying he was glad that he bought when he did.

I fully endorse the above. J. LEVINE.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano.
