TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Average Daily Attendance at World's Fair Will Reach That Figure Soon.

CROWD IS GROWING RAPIDLY AND STEADILY.

Fourth of July Celebration Will Be Most Gorgeous Ever Known—Receiving the Caravels.

DAYS AT THE WHITE CITY. CHICAGO, June 23.—Just now the coming celebration of the Fourth of July is the all-absorbing topic of conversation in World's Fair circles. The exhibition officials have joined hands with the city fathers of Chicago and they propose to make it one of the events of the nineteenth century, an event that will be remembered for generations to come. Neither money, science nor skill will be spared and the World's Fair officers say they will be disappointed if the crowd falls below five hundred thousand. Excursions will be run from pretty nearly every city of any prominence in the country and these trains will collect thousands of people at the intermediate places. The display of fireworks and electricity will surpass anything ever before undertaken in this or any other country, at least the committee on ceremonies of the World's Fair and the city council committee say it will.

HUGE CROWD YESTERDAY.

The feature of the World's Fair today was the weather and the crowd. It was delightfully cool and bright and the visitors marched through the gates of the White City like an invading army. In through every gate they kept coming in solid columns till it almost seemed as if there must be an exodus from all over the country to Jackson Park. And as soon as the scores of thousands of visitors got inside the gates they began to invade the great white palaces and take in the endless number of interesting sights. The steady increase in the attendance of visitors at the fair is so rapid and marked that the bureau of admissions is confident the daily average will soon reach the 200,000 mark.

Governor McKinley, Mrs. McKinley and Major and Mrs. McKnight arrived at the fair this morning determined to put in a day among the beautiful buildings of the White City.

They came in a carriage, this favor having been granted Governor McKinley by the exhibition authorities as Mrs. McKinley is an invalid and not able to be wheeled about the exposition grounds in a chair in the hot sun. The party was driven to the Ohio building, where a short stop was made, after which the round of sight-seeing was commenced.

DEL. THOMAS WILL PREACH.

There is to be preaching in Festival Hall at the World's Fair at 3 p. m. Sunday by Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas of Chicago. As soon as it was definitely decided by the United States court of appeals that the exposition was to be open on Sundays President Higginbotham had a consultation with the council of administration as to what steps should be taken for holding World's Fair religious services on that day each week. It was decided to invite such ministers as had favored an open Sunday and President Higginbotham at once sent a formal request to Dr. Thomas of the People's church, asking him to preach the first sermon. The reply to the request came this afternoon and Dr. Thomas said that he would take great pleasure in accepting the invitation. An elaborate musical program will be arranged for the occasion and it is believed that every one of the 8,000 seats in Festival Hall will be occupied.

There is a model of H. M. S. Victoria, which sank in the Mediterranean today, in the Transportation building near the main entrance. It is the largest and finest model of any vessel at the fair. As soon as it became known about that the Victoria and her crew had gone to the bottom of the Mediterranean visitors flocked around by the thousands. The crowd finally became so great that it became necessary for the guards to clear the aisles. As soon as the loss of the Victoria was confirmed the admiral's flag and Union Jack on the model of the battleship were lowered to half mast. The model is twenty-three feet long and all of the guns and torpedoes are shown.

WELCOMING THE CARAVELS.

Preparations are being made for the reception of the caravel fleet, which is expected to arrive the last of next week. It is proposed to have the caravels met at Evanston or Waukegan by a fleet of vessels composed of the United States steamer Michigan, the coast survey steamer Blake, the revenue cutter Andrew Johnson, private yachts and as many excursion steamers as care to participate. Commander E. M. Berry of the Michigan will take charge of the fleet and assign the boats to their places. The Chicago Yacht club has been invited to participate and will appoint a committee to confer with Commander Berry as to details. It is probable that when the caravels reach Evanston and after the salute has been fired the tugs which have towed them from Quebec will be released and the Santa Maria will be taken in tow by the Michigan, the Pinta by the Blake and the Nina by the revenue cutter Andrew Johnson. The caravels will be entitled to a salute of nine guns in honor of Captain Conchas, their commander.

After the little fleet has anchored off the convent of La Rabida an aide of the director-general will visit them in his launch and escort Capt. Conchas and his officers to the Administration building where they will be received by the officers of the exposition and the address of welcome will be delivered by some speaker of prominence not yet selected. Ex-President Harrison was asked to deliver the address of welcome but he is compelled to decline owing to arrangements made to go to Cape May.

Senators Sherman, Gorman, Allison, Fry, ex-Speaker Reed and other congressmen who have taken an active interest in the construction of the caravels will be invited to be present as well as ex-Secretary Tracy of the navy, under whose direction the ships were built, and Secretary Herbert. After the address a luncheon will be tendered Captain Conchas in the chapel of the convent, where there will be a few invited guests including Governor Altgeld, Mayor Harrison, Chief Justice Fuller and other dignitaries.

WISCONSIN PEARLS ARRIVE.

This afternoon $150,000 worth of pearls were brought into the Wisconsin section of the Mines and Mining building. A private inspection was given and the public will all have a chance to see them in the morning. At night the pearls will be safely locked up in the huge vaults.

THE OFFICIAL INSPECTION OF THE MANUFACTURES AND LIBERAL ARTS BUILDING WILL OCCUR TOMORROW.

The opening of the Hayti pavilion will take place tomorrow afternoon. Ladies' parlors have been furnished in the terminal station, in the Casino and in the clock hat building. These are prepared for the comfort of lady visitors and lounges and easy chairs are provided for men.

THE TOTAL PAID ATTENDANCE YESTERDAY WAS 132,265.

The paid admissions today are estimated at from 140,000 to 150,000.

LASSOED THE MESSENGER.

Spear Let Stranger Into His Car With Disastrous Results.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 23.—When the Rock Island west-bound train, which left here at 7:45 last evening, reached Virginia, Neb., a man stepped up to the door of the express car and asked United States Express Messenger Spear if a man named Tompkins was in the car. Spear said he was not and the man asked to be allowed to step into the car and write a note to him and Spear consented. When the train began to move out Spear looked to see what had become of the stranger and looked into the muzzle of a revolver. Keeping the revolver leveled with one hand the stranger with the other threw a rope around Spear's neck and then bound him hand and foot. Searching the messenger he found the key to the small safe, which he opened and from which he secured $350. When the train slowed up at the Union Pacific crossing the robber made his escape. The robbery was not discovered until Beatrice was reached when Spear was found securely bound just as he had been left.

BY COACH TO CHICAGO.

Party to Drive 1,000 Miles With Twenty-Four Horses.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A tally-ho coach left this city yesterday for Chicago under peculiar circumstances. The matter at issue is a wager of $2,000. Horses are to be changed every twenty-five miles. Only twenty-four horses, that is six changes, are permitted. As the horses are taken out they will be shipped by train on to the sixth stopping place 150 miles ahead. The entire party pledges itself to reach Chicago by coach, accidents or no accidents. Therefore it is presumed by their numerous friends that if the coach should be smashed up they will have to carry the pieces on to Chicago. The present coaching party is said to be the first that will reach Chicago with only twenty-four horses to cover the 1,000 miles and this alone will break all records in relay work. From Elizabeth, N. J., last evening the party telegraphed "Just left here, good bye."

LIBRARIAN IS WANTED.

Politics Will Cut No Figure in This Appointment.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A librarian is wanted for the department of agriculture, salary $1,800. The civil service commissioners announce, in addition to the usual clerical examination, that applicants must be prepared for examination in German, French, Italian and Spanish, library economy, bibliography and the literature of agriculture.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 23.—The conductors and drivers of the Bridgeport Horse Railway company are on strike because the men were compelled to work from fifteen to sixteen hours a day. Their petition for shorter hours was given no attention. One hundred men are out and not a car is running.

WALKED OFF THE TRAIN.

Somnambulist Walks Out of a Pullman Car and is Killed.

DENVER, Col., June 23.—Milengo McLeod, a wealthy citizen of Stockton, Cal., on his way to the World's Fair, stepped from a Pullman car on a Rio Grande train while in motion sometime last night near Pueblo and was instantly killed. He is supposed to have been a sleep-walker.

FIVE HUNDRED DROWNED.

The Battleship Victoria Rammed by the Camperdown Off the Syrian Coast.

FILLS, CAPSIZES AND SINKS IN FIFTEEN MINUTES.

Only Eighty-Eight of Her Crew of Five Hundred Eighteen Escape—Admiral Tryon Lost.

WENT DOWN WITH HER CREW. LONDON, June 23.—A most terrible calamity has befallen the British battleship Victoria and hundreds of lives have been lost. The Victoria was run into off the port of Tripoli, Syria, by the British battleship Camperdown.

The Victoria had an enormous hole made in her side through which the water poured in torrents. The immense hull at once began to settle and before those on board could cast loose their small boats she went to the bottom, carrying down with her nearly all on board. Some of the crew managed to get out of the suction caused by the sinking vessel and were rescued. Among those lost is Vice Admiral Sir George Tryon.

The first reports stated that about two hundred men had been drowned but later dispatches show that the loss of life was far greater, not less than four hundred of the Victoria's crew having gone down with their ship.

Rear Admiral Albert H. Markham of the Trafalgar has telegraphed from Tripoli, Syria, under date of today as follows:

"I regret to report that while maneuvering off Tripoli this afternoon the Victoria and Camperdown collided. The Victoria sank in fifteen minutes in eighteen fathoms of water. She lies bottom uppermost. The Camperdown's ram struck the Victoria forward of the turret on the starboard side. Twenty-one officers were drowned. Four hundred and nine men were lost. The injury to the Camperdown has not yet been fully ascertained but it is serious and will necessitate her going into dock for repairs. I propose to send the survivors to Malta."

The crew of the Victoria comprised over 500 men. The list of officers drowned includes, besides Vice-Admiral Tryon, Chaplain Morris, Lieutenant Munro, Fleet Paymaster Richards, Fleet Engineer Foreman, Engineer Harding, Assistant Engineers Deandary, Hatherly and Searon; Gunner Howell, Boatswain Barnard, Carpenter Beall, Midshipmen Ingles, Grieve, Fawkes, Henry, Gambier and Scarlett, Cadet Stocks and Clerks Allen and Savage.

A change had been recently made in her command, Charles L. Otley having been detached and succeeded by Commander Felicombe, who was saved, as were also Captain Maurice A. Burke and fifteen other officers.

As soon as the officers of the Victoria saw that there was danger of their ship foundering orders were given to close the collision bulkheads to confine the water to the compartment into which the Camperdown had shoved her ram. The men tried to obey but the ship was making water too fast and while the men were still trying to shut the doors the vessel with her immense guns and heavy topmasts turned over and carried them down.

News of the calamity has caused the utmost excitement, not only among those who had friends on board the ill-fated ship but among all classes. The admiralty office at Whitehall is besieged by relatives and friends of the officers and men, by reporters seeking further details of the disaster and by throngs of people attracted by curiosity.

No information has been received at the admiralty since Rear Admiral Markham's first telegram, given above. All official telegrams in regard to the disaster a ship will be sent at once to the queen at Windsor Castle. As soon as her majesty received Rear Admiral Markham's despatch she gave orders for the postponement of a state ball that was to have taken place at Buckingham Palace tonight.

Mr. Gladstone was greatly shocked when he was informed of the sinking of the Victoria and the great loss of life. The prime minister informed the house of commons of the disaster and paid a most glowing tribute to the worth of Vice Admiral Tryon as one of the ablest and most esteemed officers in the service of her majesty. Mr. Gladstone said that there were 411 officers, seamen and boys and 107 marines on board the Victoria. Of this total of 518 souls 430 had been lost. He was sure that the deepest sympathy of the house would be felt for the brave men who had found graves in the service of their country and that it would be extended to their relatives and friends.

Lord George Hamilton, formerly first lord of the admiralty, endorsed everything that Mr. Gladstone had said and expressed the deepest regret for the calamity that had befallen the country in the loss of so many brave officers and men.

The Victoria was a twin-screw battleship of 10,470 tons and 14,000 horse power and mounted fifteen guns. The Camperdown is also a first class twin-screw battleship of 10,000 tons and 15,000 horse power and carried ten guns. Vice-Admiral Sir George Tryon was chief of the Mediterranean squadron. He was made vice-admiral Aug. 20, 1891.

The eastern Mediterranean has proved a most unfortunate cruising ground for the Victoria for it was in this region that she met with her serious accident in January, 1892. She then ran aground off the Greek coast and was only floated off after an immense amount of labor and expense. Hon. Maurice A. Burke, captain of the Victoria, was held responsible for this accident and was severely reprimanded by court martial.

LABOR'S CAUSE.

Men and Women Without a Vacation. Tired, Monotonous Expressions on Weary Faces.

What One of the Leaders in Boston Says.

J. G. Clinkard of Building Trades Council. Was Losing Sleep on Account of Nervous Strain.

Six o'clock—shops and offices pour out their crowds of workers. Who would imagine the buildings held so many!

When worry and anxiety are added to this excessive activity digestion becomes impaired, the sight of food distasteful, a wearied feeling creeps over the body, and the mind gets confused and dependent.

He served nearly two years as president of the Boston Central Labor Union when that body numbered in its affiliated bodies 30,000 to 35,000 organized wage workers.

Mr. Clinkard has travelled all over the New England States in years gone by, organizing unions of carpenters and has always been ready to visit meetings of workmen at night and address them on the labor question.

He is a fluent, easy and practical speaker, who always talks to the point. Recently the Building Trades Council gave their first annual ball in Music Hall at which were present Governor Russell, Mayor Matthews and other dignitaries.

His extra exertions to make this affair a success combined with the amount of energy put forth by him in his regular calling during the day brought him nearly to the verge of extreme nervous prostration.

His condition and its result can best be described in his own words in the following letter: BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL OF BOSTON AND VICINITY. Boston, April 15, 1893.

Dear Sirs:—On account of the extra work I was doing, working late nights, and losing sleep, the strain on my nerves became so great that I was suffering with nervous prostration to the extent that I was losing my memory and had a peculiar dizzy sensation in my head that at times took away my eyesight and numbed my sense of feeling so that I was unconscious of what was going on around me.

I became greatly alarmed, and on recommendation of my wife, who had learned of the peculiar virtue of Paine's celery compound, I began to take it. At first it seemed to do me more harm than good, but after the first dozen doses or so I began to feel better and the rheumatic pain in my right lung, which had also been troubling me, began to subside.

I can highly recommend Paine's celery compound, and for those who are suffering from overwork and nervousness nothing is better to restore them to their former strength and vigor.

Yours truly, JOS. G. CLINKARD. MESSRS. WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

P. S. As the above has been unsolicited you have my consent to make such use of the same as you see fit. J. G. C.

HOUGHTON.

The Armory Opera House was filled to its utmost capacity Thursday evening, every seat being taken and a large number standing, at the commencement exercises of the high school.

The stage was beautifully decorated, having for a background a wall of green "jenny wren" in the center in flowers. On one side of the stage was the class motto, "Like Columbus," while on the other side was a painting of the famous discoverer framed in flowers. Four young ladies distributed the programs which were very pretty in design and workmanship.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial Stringency Continues Unabated and Demand for Money Heavy.

NO IMPROVEMENT TO BE SEEN IN THE IRON TRADE

Wheat at the Lowest Prices Ever Known. Collections Slow and Business Generally Dull.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

NEW YORK, June 23.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of today says: The improvement expected from the issue of clearinghouse certificates, thus utilizing credits instead of cash in local dealings, has not yet been realized.

The volume of trade is considerably reduced by the monetary stringency. Clearings of banks outside of New York are declining in comparison with last year. In some departments orders for merchandise are deferred since there is no assurance of ability to carry the goods until they are sold while in other departments orders are not received because the future is distrusted.

The effect on the great business lines has been less than feared. It might have been feared as most of the works are employed on orders booked before the trouble began. But many are now reducing the number of hands and others must soon suspend operations unless the prospect becomes clearer.

In the iron business no improvement is perceived and pig is as low as ever. While finished products are still in fair demand prices are extremely low. It is thought the closing of works will reduce the output of pig considerably.

The wool industry is moving with greater caution than usual and mills are working mainly on past orders. Cotton goods are comparatively quiet. While shipments of boots and shoes on past orders far exceed last year's new orders are not encouraging.

Speculative markets have been much depressed by monetary stringency, wheat having sold for several days at the lowest price ever known here and at Chicago. Demand for money to carry on the movement of grain from the farms is large for the season. This by no means indicates exhaustion of stocks and the visible supply decreased so slowly that purchases are little encouraged. The new harvest has already begun and prospects are decidedly brightened by much needed rains in the northwest. During the week lower prices have increased the export demand though it is not large enough to make much improvement on the enormous stocks in sight.

Corn has been weak with more cheering crops prospects and hog products lower because of monetary stringency. Cotton sharply declined but partially recovered with stronger foreign advices. Accounts from other cities, nearly all show that the monetary pressure affects trade materially; that collections are unusually slow and banks extremely cautious in lending even where they are strongly fortified.

At Pittsburg the volume of business has somewhat decreased and the fact that two prominent iron concerns are involved is not encouraging. It is thought the mills in trouble may close, decreasing the output of pig. A strike regarding wages is thought more than probable. At Cleveland trade is fairly good but money is close. At Cincinnati the stringency makes collections close. At Detroit manufacturers are discharging some employees with the prospect that many must close if stringency continues. Rains have a good effect on the growing crops and at St. Paul and Minneapolis prospects are much brighter.

Chicago reports no distinct improvement in trade though July settlements will soon release large sums and an easier market is expected. Speculation is much curtailed and prices for wheat are the lowest ever known. Local securities have shrunk severely and provisions are lower. Clearings show a decrease of 30 per cent; real estate sales 30 and securities 40 compared with last year and receipts of nearly all products have decreased. Milwaukee reports money slightly easier. At Omaha trade is good and money plenty. St. Joseph reports slow collections and Kansas City fair trade and collections.

The state of foreign trade is not yet satisfactory for exports of products fall below last year's at New York in June thus far $3,900,000, or about 4 per cent., while imports are still somewhat larger than a year ago. Trading in stocks is much affected by monetary conditions and prices have been depressed an average of twenty-five cents per share with some selling by foreigners of securities recently purchased. There is hope that July disbursements, the issue of certificates and the grain shipments will bring better conditions.

Failures are still numerous and include some of importance. The failures for the week number 287 as compared with totals of 311 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the failures were 190.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 23.—The Tonawanda strike is over and the locked-out lumber shovers are to go to work next Monday. This morning at 9 o'clock the citizens' committee listened to a committee of union men and at 10 o'clock were received by the Lumbermen's association. A Curious Marriage Ceremony. Some interesting notes have been contributed to a north Boston newspaper by Mr. Creagh, the governor of British North Borneo, respecting a recent visit made by him to the island of Banguy. There he found a tribe of Dusuns differing widely in language, religion and customs from other tribes bearing that name. Marriages are performed in the forest, in the presence of two families. There is no public gathering or feast. The rite consists in transferring a drop of blood from a small incision made with a wooden knife in the calf of the man's leg to a similar cut in the woman's leg. After marriage the man takes the bride to her home, where he resides in future as a member of the family.

CONCORD, N. H., LAND AND Water Power Company.

Cumulative Dividends 7 PER CENT. PER ANNUM. CAPITAL ALL PAID IN. PRICE OF STOCK, $51 PER SHARE

The company's property consists of 70 acres of land and valuable water power on the Merrimack River, at Sewall's and Garretts (N. H.) Falls, and having, when fully developed, at Sewall's Falls, a head and fall of 22 feet and a reservoir extending upstream thirteen miles, giving, according to the report made by Hiram F. Mills, E. of Lawrence, Massachusetts, thirty-three hundred horse powers upon the main line of shafting in power house or mill during the driest week of the driest year. As the dry week occurs during the dull season of the year, there is enough water during all the year to enable the company to plan for the steady utilization of five thousand horse power.

A very valuable franchise has been granted to this company by the city of Concord, by which the company is permitted to erect poles and string wires through all the highways and streets in the city, to transmit electricity for any purpose. This corporation has a large business and an assured income. The city of Concord offers a fine opportunity for electrical business in lighting and power, but little of which has heretofore been attempted. Contracts have already been made by the Concord Land and Water Power company for the furnishing of a large number of incandescent lights for commercial purpose.

DR. SPEER & COMPANY MEDICAL SPECIALISTS IN NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS - - - THEY SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES.

A WEST DULUTH MAN CURED AFTER MANY YEARS.

For Three Years a Sufferer With Pains in Back, Mental Depression and General Weakness. Mr. Fred Biederman of West Duluth says: "For three years I suffered with pains in my back, mental depression and general weakness. I felt tired most of the time and had dizzy spells. I tried various remedies but failed to obtain any permanent relief. Finally, after reading different testimonials in the various papers, I concluded to consult Dr. Speer & Co. of West Duluth. He explained my difficulty at once and placed me under treatment. His remedies have had the desired effect. My disagreeable symptoms have rapidly disappeared and I am well pleased with the results. I should be pleased to give any further information to any one interested, and I can be found on First street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east, West Duluth."

DYSPEPSIA CURED

A Case of Long Standing Completely Cured in Six Weeks. Carl Schindler, of Ashland, Wis., says: "It is with pleasure that I add my testimonial to the many already in the possession of Dr. Speer & Co. For three years I was troubled with a very serious stomach and bowel difficulty. I had severe pains in my head, generally accompanied by nose bleed. It was almost impossible to find any solid food that I could eat and even liquids caused bloating and distress in the stomach. I had lost flesh and became weak and nervous. I consulted doctors and took patent medicines, none of which seemed to do me any good until at last I consented to consult Dr. Speer & Co. The result of their treatment is a surprise to me. In six weeks' time all my disagreeable symptoms disappeared and I consider myself sound and well. I feel very grateful for my recovery and would advise all sufferers to call on Dr. Speer & Co. for treatment."

SAVED THE ENGINEER.

The Case of Harry Miller, an Engineer of Duluth. Harry Miller, an engineer, stopping at the Norris House in Duluth, has been afflicted for four or five years with loss of self-confidence, with nervousness, sleeplessness, pains in the head and back, flabbiness of the muscles and cold clammy sweats, and was, at the time he began treatment with Dr. Speer, four months ago, a total wreck, both in his physical and nervous system. He is now wholly recovered, and stands ready to go before any justice of the peace and swear to the facts above set forth.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS.

All Pains and Nervous Troubles Have Vanished. Mr. James Peake of 120 Banks Avenue, West Superior, has been unable to work for four years on account of severe pains in the head, back and side, mental depression and great weakness. I used various patent medicines and consulted different doctors, but they all failed to give me any permanent relief. Having read Mr. Riley's testimonial in the various papers, I tried Dr. Speer & Co. After two weeks' treatment I was surprised at the result. All my pains and nervous troubles have vanished; I sleep well, have no bad taste in my mouth, and arise in the morning refreshed, instead of feeling more tired than when I used to bed. I cannot recommend Dr. Speer too highly for what he has done for me, and will be pleased to give any further information to any one calling upon me. JAMES PEAKE, 120 Banks Ave., W. Superior, Wis.

A THOROUGH CURE.

James Riley After a Short Treatment Feels Like a New Man. EDITOR DAILY CALL.—Some time ago I received a letter from my brother-in-law, Mr. Kennedy of Saginaw, Mich., stating that he saw by the Superior papers that Dr. Speer was in this city. Knowing that Dr. Speer had cured my brother about two years ago of rheumatism I called upon Dr. Speer. He, without asking a question, described in detail my condition, in fact better than I knew it myself. He located every pain and told me what to do in order to get well. Everything he has done has acted as he said it would. I have only been under treatment a few weeks and I feel like a new man today. The other doctors would not or could not do me any good, neither were they able to tell me what my trouble was. The pains, mental depression, weakness and pain in the back and bad taste in the mouth, with all the other symptoms, have vanished. I look upon Dr. Speer as a marvel in the treatment of diseases. Will be pleased to give any further information to anyone calling upon me. JAMES RILEY, At Merrill & Ring's saw mill, First Avenue, Third street south, West Duluth.

MR. MATT HOLZKNECHT.

Of South Superior, Glad to Verify His Statement Below—Read It. Mr. Matt Holzknecht, employed at the La Belle Wagon works in South Superior, says: "I have been troubled three years with stomach and liver difficulty. There was a great dizziness of the head, pain in the stomach and bowels, with loss of appetite. I could not sleep at night and arose more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. There was pain in the back, general weakness and great mental depression. I was very dependent over my failure to obtain relief, and was on the point of giving up my position when I read the testimonials of some persons who had been treated by Dr. Speer & Co. I called at their office in the New York block, corner Tower Avenue and Fourteenth street, and they located my difficulty at once. I have only been under their treatment a few weeks, but am surprised at the result. My disagreeable symptoms have disappeared. I eat and sleep good. The mental depression and nervousness has left me and I feel that I can not too highly recommend Dr. Speer & Co. for what they have done for me. I can be found at the St. Paul House at South Superior and will be glad to verify this statement to anyone interested."

A Houghton Lady.

For about 18 months I suffered from a stomach trouble, accompanied with neuralgia of the head, and I was so ill from these two troubles that I was unable to do any work and was more dead than alive. After trying doctors in different parts of the country I almost decided that there was no cure for me. Last December I began treatment with Dr. Speer & Co., and it is with great pleasure that I can safely say that what they have done for me can not be expressed in words, and now I am almost cured. I give this testimonial to show my gratitude, as I deem it proper that suffering humanity may know where to obtain relief. My husband also adds his name to this testimonial, and we will be pleased to answer any question regarding my treatment. Mrs. JOSEPH GREENLEAF, JOSEPH GREENLEAF, Houghton, Mich.

These are but a few of the many testimonials now on file in our office from well-known people, evidencing the wonderful skill of Dr. Speer & Co. Parties wishing to consult Dr. Speer & Co. will have railroad fare deducted from price of treatment.

Class of '93 Ushered Into the World Last Evening With Eighteen Members.

A GREAT CRUSH AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Flowers in Greater Profusion Than Was Ever Known Here Before-Recapitulation Follows the Exercises.

GOT THEIR SHEEPSKINS

The commencement exercises of the Marquette High school were held last evening at the Marquette Opera House, which was packed from pit to dome, the first rush filling the parquette and balcony until not even standing room was left, even ladies and children being obliged to seek seats in the gallery. When the doors of the opera house were opened there was a dense mass of people reaching from the doors clear down the stairs and across the sidewalk to the street line, while wagon loads of flowers were in waiting, no one event in Marquette before ever having brought out so many flowers.

The graduating class numbered eighteen, the largest ever graduated from the high school. They were: Amelia Elmira Freeman, Mary Holland Heffernan, Emily Josephine Johnson, Philip Buchanan Heffernan, Josie Perry Powell, John Nourse Kemp, Henrietta Gertrude Schwalm, Blanche Martha Young, Latin course. Marian Frazer, scientific course. Agnes Ann Ellison, Nellie Mae Freiburg, burg, Nellie Amelia French, Martin Joseph Flynn, Elsie Tamzine Gregory, Guy Henry Moore, Bessie Clara Richardson, Lavina Agatha Swift, William Napoleon Trudeau, English course.

The members of the class were all seated on the stage while back of them were the members of the school board, Superintendent Anna Chandler, Principal F. W. Eply and Misses Dawson and Filkins of the high school and City Attorney M. J. Sherwood, formerly principal of the high school.

After Professor George L. Johnson's brilliant piano solo Miss Marian Frazer stepped forward and read the first essay of the evening. Her voice was extremely good and her perfect enunciation added greatly to the effect of a very bright and interesting essay. She attacked vigorously the fallacy of "the good old times." The next essay, that of Miss Mary Heffernan, was one of the best written of the evening, as Miss Heffernan's diction is very pure and she has long enjoyed a reputation in her class as a good writer. Her subject was "The World's Dread Laugh" and was well handled.

The first oration of the evening was that of William N. Trudeau who came to the defense of the persecuted Jew, drawing strongly to enforce his plea from the history of modern times in Russia and other Jew-baiting countries.

Miss Agnes Ellison, the next essayist, had one of the prettiest essays of the evening. It was well worded and very pleasing in its illustrations and fancies. Among "Beacon Lights" she placed schools, the Chautauqua circle, the university extension movement and other aids which serve to swell the flame of the great torch of truth and knowledge.

Miss Freeman took as the subject of her essay, "Tele," the Greek word whose significance, "far," is so forcibly impressed upon the people of modern times when using the telegraph, telescope, telephone or the latest and most wonderful of space annihilators, the telautograph. The wonderful achievements of the age in overcoming distances which would have dismayed earlier generations was her theme and one which she made very interesting.

The vocal duet by Miss Davis and Mr. Jopling was a very beautiful thing and was warmly applauded. It was followed by Miss Josie Powell's essay, "My Kingdom For a Horse," which contained a good deal of fun and not a little satire. She demonstrated that all horses were not quadrupeds and her essay was very bright throughout.

"A Trade or a Profession" was the subject of Martin Joseph Flynn's oration and it proved one of the strongest and most earnest efforts of the evening, his fine voice and splendid inflections making his delivery sympathetic and pleasing. He argued strongly in favor of higher education.

Another essay pleasing in its fancy and pretty conceits was that of Miss Emily Johnson who, starting with "Mistress Mary, quite contrary" of Mother Goose fame, took up contrariness and demonstrated that it was far from being always the reverse of a virtue.

Miss Elsie Gregory in her essay, "Castles in Spain," besides picturing the pleasures and benefits of hope, illustrated the influences of early "castles" upon several children who grew to greatness and also described some national and race "castles in Spain."

The oration of Guy H. Moore was a straightforward exposition of socialism in its different forms, some harmless, others chaos-producing, and was closed with an argument for general education as America's safeguard against socialistic tendencies.

Miss Davis, the teacher of music in the city schools, gave a very fine rendering of Ardit's brilliant waltz song "Parla-Valse Chantee," as an introduction to the third section of the program and was very warmly applauded at its close.

Miss Nellie M. Freiburg in her essay upon "Garrets" opened with a picture of the abiding place of child-life joys and from the pleasing memory of early days passed to a notice of the important part garrets have played in the lives of men whom the world now acknowledges as great and whose memory all delight to honor. She was very happy in many of her similes and phrases.

Miss Lavina Swift's essay upon "The Despised Fruit," the apple and the part which it has played in history, was especially good. Besides being interesting and exceedingly well written the essay was well read.

Philip B. Heffernan selected as the subject of his oration the Chinese question and took strong ground against the exclusion act, treating the subject in a broad sense and bringing well into prominence the international features of the problem and their probable reflex action upon the United States.

"Knowledge" was the subject of Miss Nellie A. French's essay, which was one of the best of the evening in point of delivery. She showed the disadvantages as well as the advantages of "knowing one's self" and, though establishing the value of self-reliance and the courage of one's convictions, demonstrated that even in the case of many famous pioneers in discovery and knowledge it was perhaps just as well that they could not see themselves as others saw them.

John N. Kemp, in the last oration of the evening, answered a question effectively the question "What Has This Age Given to Civilization?", the theme being one full of interest in view of the great exhibit now assembled at Chicago to show the progress of the age.

In "Hybrias, The Cretan," by Elliot, Mr. Jopling gave a new solo splendidly adapted to his superb voice and was highly pleasing to the audience, opening the last division of the program. It was followed by one of the most interesting of all the essays, Miss Hattie Schwalm taking as her subject "Yggdrasil," the great ash tree which Norse mythology conceived as binding together earth, heaven and hell and which had a significant part to play in the great source. From this old-world myth she drew many interesting lessons, closing by making it a tree of nations in which the youngest and most western shoot, typical of America, has now become the branch which overshadows the mother tree. The subject was very ably handled.

Miss Bessie Richardson in her essay, "In Cap and Bells," gave emphasis to the old adage "Laugh and the world laughs with you" and in a very bright and attractive manner placed before her hearers the advantages of going through the world with a bright face and a disposition to look upon the bright and sunny side of things, deprecating the harsh and cold view taken of life by our Puritan ancestors.

The valedictory was delivered by Miss Blanche M. Young and was, what it is very difficult to make a valedictory, both interesting and witty. She successfully touched the points which are nominally in the honor as part and parcel of every commencement, farewell without treating any of them in stereotyped phrases and was applauded to the echo when she closed.

After a splendid quartette, Vogel's "Arion Waltz," sung by Misses Johnson and Meads and Messrs. Wilcox and W. A. Brown, Judge Stone, in a very able address, full of thoughtful utterance upon the American common school system and of earnest advice to the members of the class of '93 before him, presented each of the young ladies and gentlemen with the diploma with which the city of Marquette rewards those who finish the full course in its schools. The largest class in the history of the Marquette high school had been graduated, the four cute and pretty little flower girls who had borne upon the stage the most fragrant of cut flowers by the bushel as the exercises progressed, had ended their labors and it was time to ring down the curtain upon the farwell of the members of the class arose and sang their class song, composed by one of their own members, Miss Lavina A. Swift, and set to music by the able and thorough musician who played the accompaniment for its last evening, Miss Eva L. Davis, in charge of the music in the city schools.

The following are the words of the song:

Classmates, let's unite our voices
And our joyful tribute sing,
As we bid good-bye to school days
And the pleasures that they bring,
To the school where streams of knowledge
Flow on ever toward the sea,
Down which we have all been sailing,
And arrived at '93.

But our courses we must sever
All our pathways now divide,
Let us go where'er fate sends us
Taking knowledge for our guide.
Locked before us lies the future:
In our hands we hold the key
To unlock the gate of fortune,
For the class of '93.

Where'er on earth we wander,
Neath the bright or low'ring sky,
May our hearts be still united,
By old friendship's precious tie;
And in years that lie before us,
When upon life's stormy sea,
May the dearest friends e'er cherish'd
Be our friends of '93.

After the exercises a reception was tendered the members of the graduating class at the residence of one of the new alumnae, Miss Hattie Schwalm, on North Front street. This evening the class of '94 will give a reception to the graduating class at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Riedinger on East Ridge street.

Found a Box of Dynamite.

Thursday afternoon while a number of boys were playing on Lake street near I. E. Swift's warehouses they observed through a hole in the bridge covering the old sewer a box of giant powder. The boys notified the marshal and day officer of their find, and the dangerous explosive was at once removed by the officers. There was also a tin box of glycerine caps among the powder, there being thirteen sticks of the explosive in all. Not knowing to whom the stuff belonged the marshal had it safely stored in the Lake Superior Iron company's warehouse, where it will remain until the mine from which it was stolen claims it.

About two weeks ago it was reported by the miners that a quantity of dynamite had been stolen from the Barnum mine and it is likely that this is the same lot, as the mine is but a short distance from where the dynamite was found.

It is likely that the explosive was stolen by boys who wanted it for the Fourth of July, or it might have been carried off by the persons who have been using dynamite to kill fish in the streams about here.

Judging from the stories circulated on the streets Thursday evening regarding the finding of the dynamite, one would imagine that the general impression prevailed that the whole town had barely escaped being blown up. In the afternoon some boys found a stick and a half of the explosive already fused while playing ball in the alley in the rear of Old Hodgkins' barn. The finding of these two lots of the dangerous stuff in the city causes an uneasy feeling, and if the persons responsible for its presence where it is such a menace to the public safety are discovered they will be taught a lesson that will last them for some time.

The Red Men's Parade. The parade of the Red Men on Thursday was participated in by Seminole tribe of Negaunee, Gitche Gumme tribe of Ishpeming, and representatives from a number of the other tribes of the upper peninsula. The line of march was on Main street south to Division, east on Division to Second, north on Second to Cleveland avenue, east on Cleveland avenue to Third, north on Third to High, west on High to Main, south on Main to Ely, west on Ely to Pine, south on Pine to Euclid, west on Euclid to Lake, south on Lake to Canada, east on Canada to Main, south on Main to wigwam. The parade was led by the Star Cornet band. The marshal of the day was Thomas Pryor, assisted by Fred Rutherford and Hamilton Stewart.

After the parade addresses from Messrs. Schaffer, Trevisse, Rogers, Millman, Jenkin and Mildren were listened to, after which dinner was served by the members of Pochontas lodge.

In the report of the work of the great chief's council in Thursday's issue the names of some of the delegates present were omitted. The complete list is as follows: P. Knodel, of "Red Cloud" tribe of Detroit; Charles Stevenson and D. Case of Eaton Rapids; Alex Harper and Dan Sharpness, of "Owashtong" tribe, and Robert Whitney and F. C. Temple of "Kewakeewan" tribe of Grand Rapids; E. M. Millman of Rockford; R. E. Bracket of Lansing; A. L. Hitchman of Kalamazoo; A. W. Strohle of Dimondale; J. M. Herz of "Pontiac" tribe of Detroit; H. W. Horner of Rotterville; F. L. Adler of Jackson; Alex Millman and W. Oliver of Menominee; John Sincocks of Palmer; William Mildren and W. R. Rogers of Ironwood; John Jenkin of Calumet; John Richardson and C. Larson of Negaunee; P. J. Kneebone of Beacon; W. S. Pickett of Ewen; J. J. Voeller and William Keskeys of Ishpeming.

The next meeting of the great council of the United States will be held in Des Moines, Iowa, on the second Tuesday in September. William T. Cole of Ishpeming was elected grand representative to the next great council at the meeting held here Wednesday.

A Fine Entertainment.

Thursday afternoon the annual commencement exercises incident to the close of another scholastic year at the convent of the Infant Jesus were held in the entertainment hall of that institution. The lively and entertaining spirit so characteristic of the pupils of the school seemed to permeate every scholar to its fullness, and the remarkable excellent program rendered obtained and merited a more than usual share of interest and applause.

Compared with the entertainments of past years, Thursday's effort will be taken as a criterion to inform the public of the gratifying success that has attended the exertions of the sisters during the year that has just ended. The attendance at the concert during the past term was large, and one could not but notice the sincerity, the conscientious endeavor with which the children undertook to carry out a program which reflected on their own merit and tended in a degree to the future interests of their school.

Long before the appointed hour the entertainment hall was crowded to its utmost and the initial number of the program, an instrumental trio entitled "The Barber of Seville," was an entertaining opening to the excellent exercises.

The principal numbers on the program and those worthy of more than passing notice were the "Sonata," by the Misses Mary and Eliza Ames; the recitations of the Misses Nellie Donahue and Nellie McEnroe; the vocal duet by the Misses K. Reedy and E. Ames; Miss Nora Kennedy's instrumental solo and the chorus of "Merry Workers" by the boys. Space forbids a more detailed account, but 'tis sufficient to say that all acquitted themselves creditably and every individual character might be favorably mentioned. At the close of the program Rev. Fr. Keul delivered an excellent address on education, complimenting the children, and concluded by conferring the gold medal for music on Miss Nora Kennedy. After the address the grand finale was rendered and then the curtain was forever rung down on the scholastic year of '93. At intervals during the program Miss Sullivan rendered two vocal solos, both of which were well received by the audience.

Killed at Merritt.

A telegram was received here yesterday morning announcing that John Navins, son of Mrs. Margaret Navins of this city, was killed at Merritt, Minn., in a railroad accident while in the discharge of his duty as brakeman. The young man was eighteen years of age and was born and raised in Ishpeming. He left here last August for the Gogebic range, where he engaged as brakeman on one of the roads in that section. A few days ago he wrote a letter to his mother stating that he would be home to spend the Fourth. The remains will arrive here today accompanied by Patrick Fitzgerald, also an Ishpeming boy.

LAKE GIVES UP ITS DEAD.

The Body of Little Arthur Quiggin Found Floating in a Slip Yesterday.

STREET RAILWAY OFFICERS ARE ELECTED FOR ENSUING YEAR.

Societe St. Jean Baptiste Dance—The Lie Direct—Baseball Tomorrow. Other City News Notes.

THE MYSTERY IS SOLVED.

The lake gave up its dead yesterday and the fears that its cold waters had claimed another victim in Arthur, the bright and well-beloved son of Mr. and Quiggin, of Bluff street, were proven to have been only too true. As Frank Russell and one or two other boys were fishing from No. 4 ore pier near the bulkhead between the pier and the coal dock shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, they discovered the body of Marquette's brightest and most popular little newsboy floating upright in the water as if just come from under the dock.

The little fellow's hat had not even fallen off when he met his fate in the icy water of the slip nearly three weeks ago, which would indicate that he did not make a single struggle. He undoubtedly struck his head in some manner as he fell and was stunned so that he never made an outcry, boats having been at both docks the evening he disappeared and the place where he was found being very near the spot where he was last seen, so far as his father could ascertain on that first agonizing night.

All feel most deeply for Mr. and Mrs. Quiggin as the little fellow was such a sturdy, honest, handsome little chap, so quick and intelligent, that he had made a host of friends all over the city in his career as newsboy.

The body was removed to Hager's undertaking rooms where it was viewed by the coroner and prepared for burial. It was probably stirred up from the bottom by a tug in moving the burned tug Clara Belle over there yesterday.

A Pure Case of Lie.

The vessels, Castalia, Holland and Continental all left port yesterday it is true, but were behind time; were delayed and one left the harbor untripped with only a partial load.—Times, Friday.

The above is a lie. It is a wilful and malicious lie, told for the one object of getting the paper out of the hole into which Dizzy or his over-confiding satellite had plunged it. THE MINING JOURNAL thoroughly exploded THE TIMES' sensational article yesterday and by so doing gained the thanks of everyone connected with the ore business at this port and of business men as well. It reverts to the subject again simply to brand the above statement as it deserves to be branded. The Castalia, Continental and Holland left this port Wednesday evening, not Thursday, and not one of them was delayed by trimming or left without its full cargo or without being trimmed and THE MINING JOURNAL challenges any man to step into the ore shipping office of the D. S. S. & A. and affirm to the contrary without being convicted on the spot of wilful lying.

A Great Success.

It was fortunate for the committee in charge of the Societe St. Jean Baptiste dance last evening that it had decided upon the Casino for the affair as nearly two hundred couples were on the floor and in any other hall the result would have been a jam. The Marquette City band furnished splendid dance music and Joe Mack exercised his voice from the prompter's stand. The supper was served at the Hotel Brunswick and everyone praised it unstintedly. In other words it was "one of Dan Sullivan's spreads and there was nothing left to be desired." The party was a great success in every feature and did not break up until daylight this morning.

Base Ball Tomorrow.

The Rivals of Marquette and the Setters of Ishpeming will cross bats at the fair grounds tomorrow. The game promises to be a hotly contested one as the Rivals are the best amateur team in the city and the same can be said of the Setters as far as Ishpeming is concerned. The admission will be 15 cents, grand stands 10 and 5 cents, ladies free.

Street Railway Officers Elected.

The new board of directors of the Marquette City & Presque Isle Railway company met yesterday afternoon and elected officers for the ensuing year. Hon. P. O. Clark was re-elected president, C. H. Kelsey was elected vice-president and also re-elected secretary and James Connolly was re-elected treasurer.

REPORTORIAL PENCILINGS.

Captain and Mrs. Johnson of the Salvation Army will say farewell to their field of labor in this city Sunday evening at the barracks.

The young man of THE TIMES continues to bear with his elbows and his last state is worse than his first. Tom McPartland carefully explained to the verdant marine authority yesterday the difference between a steamer and a schooner and also the fact that his complaints were all against Flynn and that he had never included O'Meara in any way. The youngster promptly came out with the explanation that Mr. McPartland accused "Boss O'Meara of underhanded work" and "said that Flynn was a man thoroughly straight in all his dealings and that no charge could be made against his rates according to the bills." Get thee to a kindergarten.

L'Union St. Joseph goes to Republic to celebrate St. John's day today, while the Societe St. Jean Baptiste celebrates at home with a picnic at Meeske's gardens.
