MARQUETTE, MICH., JUNE 28.

Entered as mailmatter of the second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

THAT prominent Democratic statesman of the upper peninsula who stopped off at Marquette en route to Detroit one day last week has been seen at the state metropolis in all the glory of his best suit, and still the world wags on with its usual steady motion.

The Chicago Journal of Commerce make this cheerful prediction on the business outlook:

The old adage to the effect that it is darkest just before it is dawn, may not apply to financial conditions, but it looks as though we had just passed through the darkest part of the monetary stringency.

One of the penalties that a man must pay for bearing the palm of acknowledged superiority is the ceaseless attacks of the venomous little creatures who envy but are incapable of emulating him.

IT ISN'T Mesaba ore that has brought about the depression in the ore trade. That came as a result of causes entirely apart from the advent of the "cheap ores" of the new range on the market.

Soon after the vicious little dead-beat who is now raining a dirty rag at Ewen established himself and his odorous sheet in that afflicted town he sought an exchange with THE MINING JOURNAL.

There will be a wide diversity of opinion regarding the action of Governor Altgeld of Illinois in pardoning the three anarchists who were serving out sentences for complicity in the Haymarket massacre at Chicago under a conviction regularly obtained in the courts.

and which is clothed with powers fully as well defined as are those of the executive. Whether the pardon was wisely granted or not, the assumption upon which it was based was not wisely taken.

If the people would only get over the uneasy feeling that possesses them the banks would be able to get about their business in the ordinary way and it would not take long for the business situation to improve.

The fact should not be lost sight of that during May our exports were greater than in any other May for six years, last year alone being excepted.

It has become the pernicious fashion to berate the banking institutions of the country and to ascribe to them nearly all the ills the people are heir to in business enterprises.

A RARE PHOTOGRAPH

THE REPRODUCTION OF THE OLD DE WITT CLINTON DUE TO IT.

A Unique Bit of History Which Deals With the Old Anti-Masonry Feeling in New York State Over Sixty Years Ago.

"The New York Central Railroad company's reproduction of the first railroad train and locomotive ever run in New York state, a most interesting and valuable exhibit at the Chicago fair," said an old resident of Albany.

"It was years before the discovery and practical introduction of that crude predecessor of photography, the daguerrotype, when the pioneer railroad train in this state was run, and as the future importance to history of the appearance of that train never occurred to those interested in bringing it into existence."

"He had for some time made a good living by the exercise of his peculiar art, Thaddeus Stevens was at that time just beginning to make a reputation in politics and had seized upon the anti-Masonic idea for use in Pennsylvania, as it had been so successfully worked by Thurlow Weed and his lieutenants in New York state.

"He went to Albany early in August, 1831, and did a great deal more than get the portraits of Thurlow Weed. His wonderful work took the town by storm, and he was kept busy from morning until night cutting the silhouettes of people of all kinds, sexes and ages that flocked to his rooms.

"In that picture appear the likenesses of Thurlow Weed, ex-Governor Yates and other distinguished Albanians of that day, but neither Mr. Weed nor the ex-governor was on the train. Without a thought of the future of that picture as a valuable contribution to history, the artist cut those portraits merely as an exercise of his skill in depicting a subject from memory.

"Some 30 years after cutting that picture Brown became interested in the railroad business himself, having long ceased to exercise his artistic skill professionally, and one day, having almost forgotten the Albany picture, he read in a newspaper an account of a lithograph that had just been published from a photograph of the silhouette picture he had presented to the Connecticut Historical society.

"The date of the running of the train was given as some time in 1832, the name of the locomotive being the John Bull instead of the De Witt Clinton and the name of the engineer John Hampson instead of David Matthew.

A woman's mind is like the wind on a winter's night," repeats an old French saying, and a Basque adage runs, "South wind, woman's thoughts."

A COURT OF NATIONS.

HIGH COURT OF LAST RESORT TO DETERMINE DISPUTES. How International Differences Might Be Adjusted if the Rulers Did Not Prefer Grim and Destructive War to Peace, Arbitration in Big Affairs.

There is a great deal of carelessness in certain popular demands for referring questions between nations to arbitration. We all know what arbitration is in business. It is a very convenient way of adjusting certain questions which arise between two friends, each of whom wants to do what is right, but who take different points of view of the same subject.

But for practical purposes we do not compel every person who has a question arising with another person to create a court which is to try that question. If a policeman catches a pickpocket in the street, he does not appoint one person to try the pickpocket and ask the pickpocket to appoint another, while these two shall appoint a third.

This is a fair enough illustration of the necessity which now exists that the great nations of the world shall have a permanent tribunal, before which shall be brought the important questions which must arise in the affairs of nations with each other. It is to be a permanent tribunal. There is not to be one tribunal about seals and another tribunal about boundaries and another about extradition.

The greatest success was achieved when in 1793 13 different nations, here on the coast of the Atlantic, united together and established the supreme court of the United States. The thing has worked so perfectly and simply ever since that we have many readers to whom it has never occurred that there were might have been wars between Massachusetts and New York, or war between Missouri and Iowa, as bitter and severe as half the wars of the middle ages in Europe were.

The six great powers of the world are the powers who should agree on such a high court of judicature, to exist as a permanent tribunal. It would be easy to arrange some system by which its judges should be appointed. Perhaps a good system would be such as is indicated in the custom which has been spoken of above.

At first the court would meet simply for its own organization and to await the reference to it of questions arising between great nations. In this period of leisure these jurists might well be engaged in digesting the international law of the world as it exists now and publishing from time to time their digest. They might determine certain principles on which they would rely in the judgments which should eventually be brought before them.

In this period of leisure these jurists might well be engaged in digesting the international law of the world as it exists now and publishing from time to time their digest.

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best?

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best? Because it will outlast all other paints, give a handsome finish, better protection to the wood, and the first coat will be less. If Barytes and other adulterants of white lead are "just as good" as Strictly Pure White Lead, why are all the adulterated white leads always branded Pure, or "Strictly Pure White Lead?"

This Barytes is a heavy white powder (ground stone), having the appearance of white lead, worthless as a paint, costing only about a cent a pound, and is only used to cheapen the mixture. What shoddy is to cloth, Barytes is to paint. Be careful to use only old and standard brands of white lead.

Ishpeming Mines to Be Shut Down on July 1st Because of State of Ore Market.

NOT LESS THAN 800 MEN WILL BE THROWN OUT OF WORK.

Next Year's Corps of Public School Teachers—Society Officers Elected.

"Twas Whisky 'Did Him Up."

MINES TO CLOSE.

The mines of the Cleveland-Cliffs company that will be closed down on the first of July are the Cleveland Lake shaft, Cleveland Hematite, Cliff shafts, and the Foster, the latter situated at the Iron Cliffs location about four miles south-east of Ishpeming, where only a small force has been employed. The Salsbury mine, also owned by the Cleveland-Cliffs company, will be kept in operation for the present at least. By the suspension of these mines about 800 men will be thrown out of employment. The direct cause of the suspension is the condition of the ore market, the company being unable to dispose of its ore at a price leaving any profit. The company has between 500,000 and 600,000 tons of ore in stock here at present.

The teachers appointed to take positions in the Ishpeming public schools for the coming school year are as follows:

H. Moss; chairman of the stranger committee, R. Robinson; chairman of the social committee, Sarah Wright; chairman of the missionary committee, L. Girzi; chairman of the hotel committee, Horace W. Robinson.

Will Sober Up.

The man who was found lying near Lake street by some railroad employes Monday morning, and was supposed to have been assaulted by footpads, was run in that evening, and has since been suffering from a very severe attack of delirium tremens. Instead of being assaulted by footpads, as he tried to make people believe, he received his cuts and bruises by falling on the rails of the railway track and on the streets while trying to navigate with a heavy "jag" on. He has become so stupefied for want of food and through the excessive use of liquor that he hardly knows his own name. He was given a hearing yesterday before Judge Kennedy and was committed to the county jail for ten days to sober up.

Living Poems Better Than All the Ballads. Burlington Buildings a Model of Convenience.

There is not a village in the United States where the Wells & Richardson company is not known.

And the demand for their lactated food has been so widespread that it has led them to establish branches in foreign countries.

From their London branch lactated food is sent to all parts of the world, a large trade being done in southern Africa and in India.

From their central offices in Burlington, Vt., they send their pure food almost everywhere that the sun shines to gladden the hearts of those who are blessed with children.

It was Longfellow who said: "Ye are better than all the ballads That ever were sung or said, For ye are living poems, And all the rest are dead."

And a visit to the big establishment in Burlington where, as the hot weather approaches and infant troubles multiply, every effort is made to supply the increased demand for lactated food, gives one the impression that the employers and employees are in full sympathy with the parents who are their customers.

The working force of the company numbers 200 men and girls, saying nothing of nearly 100 others in outside employments whose services are constantly required.

It was no longer ago than 1885 that the company first became interested in the manufacture of sugar of milk, which is the basis of the infant's natural food.

The company shows its enterprise in locating its co-operating establishments for the making of this sugar in Illinois, where a sufficient supply of pure milk could best be had.

Preceding the year 1887 sugar of milk had been made exclusively in Europe, and although many attempts had been made in this country to manufacture it from the whey of our cheese factories, every attempt had met with disastrous failure.

Undeterred by other failures, however, it was determined, with the assistance of Professor Salbn of the University of Vermont, to enter upon the trial of a new process.

This proved very successful and for several years large quantities of this article have been manufactured.

Under the advice of some of the best medical authorities in the country the firm embarked in the manufacture of a food for infants and invalids of which this pure American milk sugar should be the basis; and again a professor in Vermont's famous university became interested, and has from first to last had direct supervision of the food.

This is called lactated food and has become invaluable for the nutrition of infants and invalids.

GREAT CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR CONVENTION AT MONTREAL.

A. M. Bigelow Buys the Vannier Interest in Vannier & Bigelow—Dance in the New Town Hall.

THE NEELON SAFE IN PORT.

John H. Gillett has made another brilliant stroke which cannot fail to add to his reputation as a skillful wrecking master for on Monday evening he laid the schooner G. M. Neelon of St. Catharines, Ont., alongside of the D., S. S. & A. coal dock after she had been on the rocks at the southeast end of Manitow Island seven months, and more than that, he brought her cargo of coal in with her.

The Neelon broke loose from her steamer, the Sir S. L. Tilley, in a heavy northwester last November while laden with anthracite coal from Rochester to Port Arthur. She found shelter under Manitow Island but on Nov. 12 the wind shifted and blew a gale from the southeast and she dragged on to the rocks. Her crew deserted her and there she lay until last week without even being stripped.

Mr. Gillett got track of the wreck a short time ago and purchased the schooner from her Canadian owners for $300. Then he turned around and bought the cargo of hard coal, about 560 tons, for $250 from the underwriters and when that was done he was ready for work.

On Sunday, June 18, his expedition, consisting of his tug, the C. L. Benham, the schooner Cris Grover in charge of Captain Daniels to be used as a lighter, a 14-inch centrifugal steam wrecking pump and several smaller pumps with John Helmer as chief pump engineer, and a submarine diver's outfit with Will Nelson as chief diver, slipped quietly out of port and was soon at work on the stranded schooner which still lay with her head to the southeast, being evidently on a ridge of rocks which passed diagonally under her hull. She lay on an even keel, however, and the big pump was soon on board and at work, pumping up the lumps of stove coal as if they had been particles of sand floating in the water.

About 200 tons of the cargo were raised by the pump and through the hatches and was loaded on to the Grover. The pump had also lowered the water greatly and when the schooner had been lightened the diver freed some of her top hamper she floated free and immediately began to straighten up. She was towed about six miles to a sheltered bay with a sand bottom. Here she was anchored in fourteen feet of water so that the diver could work under her and while the pump kept her free the work of patching up her bottom was continued and three canvas jackets were drawn under her, the damaged staysail, foresail and mizzen being used in the work while her brand new mainsail was saved.

Sunday a blow came in from the southeast and it was cut sticks or go on the beach again so the entire outfit was headed for Marquette. Most of her coal cargo was taken out yesterday, showing that her bottom was in very fair condition, the principal leaks being along the garboard strakes. The big pump keeps her reasonably free when run ten minutes out of the hour and Mr. Gillett thinks that when her cargo is all out a smaller pump which he has ready will keep her entirely free.

The Neelon is a very sound boat yet and promises to be a valuable piece of property for her new owner. She is canal size and is a square timber lugger having often loaded here; she carries about 23,000 bushels when in the wheat trade and between 500 and 600 tons of coal. Her coal cargo alone will handsomely repay Mr. Gillett for the work he has put on her while it is believed that moderate repairs will give him a schooner worth several thousand dollars, say from $12,000 to $15,000. To obtain an American register it is necessary to give a bond a rebuild to the amount of three times her purchase price, hence it will be a very easy matter to get an American register for the Neelon when she leaves the dry dock, as her purchase price is only $300.

When she is unloaded and thoroughly examined Mr. Gillett will probably lay her on the bottom near the Chris Grover's usual berth in the slip north of No. 4 ore dock until he makes arrangements to send her below for a rebuild.

The Y. P. S. C. E. Convention.
The closing address at the approaching convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, to be held at Montreal, July 5-9, will be delivered by Rev. Kerr B. Tupper, D. D., of Denver, Col., formerly pastor of the Baptist church here. His subject will be "The Christian Endeavor Society—a Typical Church Institution."

This is the twelfth gubernatorial convention of the society and its marvelous growth since its humble origin twelve years ago in a Maine parsonage has ranked its conventions among the yearly events of national importance to church societies and railroad managements, to thousands of delegates and to the lay public, which wonders and questions concerning the methods and reasons of these annual gatherings.

General interest was first excited last summer when 32,000 delegates of societies located in America, Europe, Asia and Africa, and an immense following of nonofficial visitors, flocked to New York. They packed the auditorium of Madison Square Garden—the largest audience hall on the continent—and overflowed in groups of a thousand and more into the neighboring churches. The last mass meetings were held simultaneously in Madison Square Garden, Carnegie Hall, the Metropolitan Opera House and eight churches. Hotel managers, boarding house keepers, and hospitable Christians were put to it to accommodate an influx of people which astonished even flexible New York although a canvass had been made for the entertainment of visitors. With this in mind the managers of the convention in Montreal are already making extensive preparations for the thousands of young men and women expected in July.

As the hotels can accommodate but a few of the delegates a personal house-to-house canvass of private houses is in progress. An authoritative statement gives the day rate in boarding houses and private families from seventy-five cents to $1.25 without meals, and from $1.50 to $2.50 with them. Railroad managers have made special rates from all points, the Central Traffic association granting a single fare for the round trip. The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk lines have concluded the same and have also arranged for special World's Fair excursions to immediately follow the convention. Thirty states have appointed their excursion managers who distribute upon application of the delegates, maps of Montreal with full information regarding customs, baggage, cab fares, headquarters, points of interest, routes and anything else which is of interest to the visitors.

A hospitable idea is that which provides for the reception of guests by a committee which will send scouts to meet each incoming train and boat 100 miles from Montreal and escort travelers to the city. The members of the committee will wear white yachting caps to distinguish them in the midst of big crowds.

Meetings will be held in Drill Hall, a fire-proof building, seating 9,000 people, and in an immense tent pitched across the street, seating 8,000. This does not provide for the overflow meetings; they will be held in various churches simultaneously with the regular program of the two main halls.

Over 10,000 delegates have planned to come—delegates who pay their own expenses and can expect no aid from the general convention, which is unique among conventions in that no names are officially handled. A delegate may accept aid only from his local society, voted him upon his election or subsequently.

Assumes Sole Control.
Mr. A. M. Bigelow has purchased the interest of the estate of Joseph A. Vannier in the firm of Vannier & Bigelow and yesterday assumed sole control of the business. Mr. Bigelow has been identified with the business for nine years and there is everything to indicate that in his hands it will continue to increase in volume and importance every year.

Mr. Bigelow intends to close out the stock of jewelry and sewing machines now carried in the store and with that purpose in view will at once begin a clearing sale, offering prices which cannot fail to attract customers immediately.

In the New Hall.
A dance will be given in Marquette township's new town hall on Friday evening, the invitations being already out. A bus will leave the corner of Washington and Third streets at 8 o'clock that evening to take out invited guests and another will leave at 9 o'clock. The committee in charge of the affair consists of Will Wolmer, Victor Cox, Dan McCombie, D. Trussell and Henry Boesler and they will spare no effort to make the party a complete success.

Will Summer Here.
Professor Franz A. Apel, director of the Detroit School of Music and one of the finest musicians in the west, will arrive in Marquette the latter part of this week with the intention of passing the summer here. Professor Apel will give a fine piano recital here immediately after his arrival and will also take a limited number of pupils for instruction on the piano and pipe organ and in harmony, counter point and musical composition.

The date and place of holding the recital will be announced later.

Goes With Philbin.
Mr. M. A. Murphy, assistant train dispatcher of the D., S. S. & A. with headquarters at Thomaston, has resigned and left Monday to accept a position with General Manager D. M. Philbin on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern as first trick dispatcher. Mr. J. H. Block, of the chief train dispatcher's office here, is temporarily filling the position at Thomaston while Frank Carrigan fills his place in the office here.

A Good Fellow Leaving Superior.
Sam J. Beahan, general agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic at this point, has tendered his resignation, to take effect at the end of the month. This action was taken by him on account of poor health. After spending a few days at his old home in Houghton Sam will go to Denver, where climate he hopes will relieve him of throat trouble. He has been in the employ of the South Shore during the six years that it has been known by that name. For three years previous he was in the employ of Manager Hinch, when the latter was connected with the Chicago & Northwestern. Mr. Beahan during his residence of four years in Superior has proved himself a good citizen, a man of most amiable qualities and an all-round hustler for business and his many friends will be sorry to learn that his poor health compels him to leave.—Superior Call.

Mr. Beahan has a host of friends here in Marquette, where he has from time to time served the D., S. S. & A. in responsible positions, and all will be sorry to hear that he has determined to leave the line and go to the far west, though wherever he may be their best wishes for his success will follow him.

SUMMER SCHOOL.
A. J. Richardson expects to start a summer school on or about July 20th. This is an excellent opportunity for those pupils who failed to pass the final examinations for higher grades. For further particulars inquire at residence on East Prospect street. 6-28-3d.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
