STILL GHOST-DANCING.

The six-dollar-a-week editor of the little local daily at Lansing is still ghost-dancing. The sheet is called "The State Republican" and it has falsely pretended for years to speak for the whole Republican party of Michigan and to be the "inspired" organ of the state administration. Its false pretensions were quietly laughed at and let pass until it began to believe its own lies. In reality this sheet is an annex of a job office which sometimes secures the state printing contract and generally executes that contract very badly.

When the upper peninsula insane asylum controversy arose and THE MINING JOURNAL exposed the incompetence or stupidity of the state board of charities and corrections in its choice of a site, this patent-bowelled Lansing organ of no one except its owner, this alleged newspaper with a perpetual lie on its face, at once took a magisterial tone and assumed to settle the question and to speak by authority from the powers that be. It falsely pretended to be personally inspired by Governor Rich and displayed its usual meddling insolence. It was requested by THE MINING JOURNAL to keep its nose out of a matter that in no way concerned it and its false pretensions were exposed. This deserved rebuke completely upset its inflated dignity. The swelling bubble of Lansing was pricked and it has been emitting great volumes of sewer gas and filth ever since. The journalistic nincompoop who fabricates its editorial utterances has naturally resented THE MINING JOURNAL's exposure of his insignificance and he has been performing a raging ghost-dance up and down its boiler-plate columns.

The position of THE MINING JOURNAL on the asylum question was promptly sustained by every respectable newspaper on this peninsula. The only exceptions were an interested sheet at Newberry and an editorial graduate from the bungstarter at Escanaba. To these there has lately been added a journalistic fossil at Calumet who is naturally so cranky that he cannot lie straight in his bed. The action of the board in locating the asylum at Newberry was denounced by every newspaper of decency and intelligence on this peninsula, not because THE MINING JOURNAL began the fight—that was merely accidental and resulting only from greater frequency of publication—but because the editors of these papers are men of sense and understanding, well-informed as to the facts in the case and well able to discern the probable interests that seem to have influenced the board in the selection of its outrageous and ridiculous site for the new asylum. The editors of this peninsula are able to do their own thinking, their columns not at the service of scheming politicians with an axe to grind at the public expense and their papers are not habitual suckers of public pap and private subsidy. Yet the sheet with which the people of Lansing are for their sins silted and which impudently usurps the name of the Republican party, in its issue of Tuesday insults the respectable journalists and Republican citizens of this peninsula in these terms:

More impudent than a house pig, this blatherskite has for some years actually succeeded, by browbeating of the weaker papers of the upper peninsula, in maintaining a position for his paper as an ostensible leader of sentiment among the Republicans of that region, although nine out of ten of them deny that it is so when personally taxed with it by lower peninsula people. They simply suffer it to go on because they haven't the snap to put an original, well-edited, well-supported, died-in-the-wool Republican paper in the field to wipe the muckwump sheet out. But they are coming to it. Sentiment is awakening.

If the six-dollar-a-week cesspool who pours his filth through the columns of the Lansing Sewer is anxious to tackle the job of running a daily paper at Marquette he is welcome. Barren rascals of his calibre may do in the lower peninsula but they do not last long up here. The field is open; let him come ahead with his "died-in-the-wool" (the spelling is verbatim from the job-office annex) Republican paper and wipe out THE MINING JOURNAL. Several persons whose chief ambition was to "kill THE MINING JOURNAL" rather than to win success by merit have tried the experiment. The editors of these ephemeral sheets have vanished, whether no one knows or cares, and their outfits have been sold by the sheriff. THE MINING JOURNAL has erected in its private graveyard neat but not gaudy tombstones to five daily papers whose editors were consumed with desire to "knock out THE MINING JOURNAL."

This paper is perfectly willing to add another to its choice collection of mortuary monuments. Meanwhile it will continue to be published, as for forty-seven years, at the same old stand and will endeavor now and hereafter, as in the past, to express its unbiased and truthful opinions and to uphold the best interests of the people of the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Party politics cut no figure in this

insane asylum matter and the Lansing Potrag knows it. The personal politics of the man who happens to be editor-in-chief of THE MINING JOURNAL also cut no figure, and the Lansing Liar knows it. The benevolent intention of the legislature was—primarily—to provide an asylum for the unfortunate insane of this peninsula, admitting—secondarily—such patients from the lower peninsula as could be conveniently accommodated, and the Lansing Windbag knows it. The upper peninsula may have only one-tenth of the state's population but it pays one-fifth of the state's taxes, not only supporting its own insane but also a good share of those from the lower peninsula, and the Lansing Ghost-Dancer knows it. The asylum was to be built to care for the insane at as low cost as possible, not to benefit lower peninsula merchants, and the Lansing Blackmailer knows it. The asylum was to be established as a work of charity and mercy, not to benefit a gang of political real estate sharks, and the Lansing Pap-Sucker also knows that. It must be assumed that the Lansing Job-Office Annex knows all these things but really it is doubtful if it knows anything save to swell itself with sewer gas like the frog in the fable and to plunder and blackmail all weak enough to believe its false pretenses of ability to lead the Republican party of Michigan and the state administration by the nose. It pretends to be in the confidence of Governor Rich and to know what are his sentiments concerning this asylum location. If the Lansing State Representative were really the personal organ of Governor Rich that gentleman might well pray most fervently to be delivered from his friends. But of course the Lansing Bull-Frog lies in this regard as in all others.

THE MINING JOURNAL thinks it has administered sufficient correction to the ghost-dancing ourang-outang who howls and barks and vents his filth in the Lansing State Public-Garbage-Can and here takes leave of it with an apology to its own readers for devoting so much space to so contemptible and malodorous a subject. Some tasks are unpleasant but necessary and this was one of them.

NOTHING IN IT.

Secretary Lovejoy of the Carnegie Steel company plumply denies that his company is in the gigantic trust told of in dispatches sent out from Chicago recently, which was alleged to have been organized for the purpose of controlling the steel rail, structural iron and steel armor trade of the United States, and which was to build vast works at Ashtabula and ultimately drive all concerns in these lines of the iron and steel industry out of the trade. According to the reports the Rockefellers, the Carnegie, Illinois, Lackawanna, Bethlehem and Maryland Steel companies and the Cambria Iron company were in the combine, these representing about 98 per cent. of the country's entire production of steel rails, structural iron and armor plate. Alluding to the account given of the projected combination and its aims, Mr. Lovejoy said concerning it:

It takes but a moment to point out some of the absurdities. During the past year the Carnegie Steel company has expended about one million, five hundred thousand dollars in improvements and additions to its Homestead works alone and of that amount of money only a very small portion, speaking comparatively, was expended in the armor plate department—that was for a new and larger press. The demands of the government on an average are for 300 tons of armor plate per month. The capacity of the Homestead works is about two thousand tons of all classes of work per day. Transformed into an armor plate mill exclusively the works could more than supply armor plate for the world.

The most ridiculous statement in all this Chicago story, however, is that to the effect that the Bessemer steel process has seen its best days, and is to be supplanted. Bessemer is yet to see its best days.

Another point this story seeks to make is that Mesaba iron range ore is to be used exclusively. Thus far only experiments have been made with the Mesaba ore, and it has been found that it does not possess sufficient properties to be worked by itself. Briefly stated, the Carnegie company is in no such combination as the Chicago story outlines and I do not think any of the other companies named are in any such deal; we would surely hear from it if they were. We are in no deal of any kind with the Rockefellers. As to the steel rail pool I must decline to say anything. Mr. Porter, recently of our company, has severed his connection with us absolutely.

Somehow the Rockefellers are made to figure latterly in a great variety of ambitious schemes that come to naught. But, like Newberry and the insane asylum, they are getting considerable free advertising out of it, even though nothing else comes of it all.

MR. JAMES RUSSELL, editor-in-chief of this paper, was called out of the city on business yesterday and will be absent some days. This announcement is of no public interest whatever but is made in order that certain backwoods journalistic black guards, especially the frantic gorilla of the Lansing Public-Liar, may understand that although Mr. Russell is editor of this paper he does not write everything that appears in its columns.

The Book of the Fair by Hubert Howe Bancroft promised much, and it is fully redeeming its promises. It is to be completed in twenty-five numbers of forty imperial pages each, paper, pictures and printing all of the very finest that can be made. It is the one thing that every one who visits the exposition wants to secure as a memento of his visit to the greatest industrial display the world has ever made, and as a full description of this display written for the benefit of those not able to attend.

ENTERED ON THE RECORD.

Memorial to Judge Williams Entered on Journal of Houghton Circuit Court.

JUDGE HAIRE APPOINTED TO THE VACANT BENCH.

Some Further Details Regarding Captain Rawley's Death—Thanksgiving in the Copper Country.

[All communications for copper country department intended for publication should be addressed to A. F. Isler, Houghton.]

HOUGHTON.

At the regular session of circuit court for the county of Houghton held Tuesday afternoon the following business was done and placed on the court journal:

In the matter of the death of William D. Williams, late judge of this circuit—On this day the death of Hon. William D. Williams, judge of this circuit, at his home in Marquette last night, was announced by the presiding judge, who thereupon appointed as a committee to draft a suitable memorial the following members of the bar present in court, viz: T. L. Chadbourne, T. R. Dunstan and A. R. Gray. The following minute was on the same day presented in open court thereafter by that committee and was ordered by the court, on motion of the committee, to be spread upon the journal and a copy thereof to be sent by the clerk of the court to the widow of the late Judge Williams. Whereupon, out of respect to the memory of the late judge, the court was ordered adjourned until the 10th day of January, A. D., 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m.

RESOLUTIONS.

During the session of the court, Hon. Norman W. Haire, circuit judge of this county, presiding in the place of the late Judge Williams, at his request, the bar of the county of Houghton have received with deep concern the intimation of the death of William D. Williams, for seventeen years the judge of this circuit; it is therefore

RESOLVED, That the presiding judge of this court be requested to spread upon the records of the court this memorial of the sad occasion:

Judge Williams began his labors upon the bench of this circuit in this county at the February term of the court, in the year 1876, beginning on Monday, the 14th day of that month. He was elected for three successive terms by the people and his functions would have ended on the last day of the current year had he not been so long. During this long period he always performed the duties of his office in person until disabled from so doing by incapacitating disease, by which he was stricken something more than two years ago. Since that time until his death last night he has been unable to preside in court. This is a long service in these days of short terms and the important duties of his office with his faithful, long and honest services, his commendable promptness and energy. To the performance of these high functions he brought a ripe experience gained at the bar, taking his judicial seat at an age while he was yet in the full and matured vigor of his powers. His public service is thus seen to have been long and thorough; that service his trust was made a charge with high and recognized honesty, learning, ability and zeal. The members of this bar are sincerely afflicted by his death and express the desire that in the memory of his faithful, long and honest services, his name be spread upon the records of this court, to be a permanent, though most inadequate memorial thereof, and that to his mourning family in their affliction there be conveyed the sentiments of this bar in the form of a copy hereof. To these survivors we respectfully offer our heartfelt sympathy.

The court thereupon adjourned until the 10th day of January, 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m.

NORMAN W. HAIRE, Circuit Judge.

Upon the announcement of the death of Judge Williams, County Clerk Shields, at the request of the members of the Houghton county bar, sent the following telegram to Governor Rich: "Judge Williams died last night. Please designate Judge Norman W. Haire as per letter forwarded." Tuesday afternoon Judge Haire received the following in answer to the above from Governor Rich: "Under the provisions of Sec. 7462, Howell's Statutes, you are hereby designated to hold terms of court in the Twelfth judicial circuit until Jan. 1, 1894, on account of a vacancy caused by the death of Judge William D. Williams."

Judge Norman W. Haire, Judge-Elect Jay A. Hubbell, Attorneys Thomas B. Dunstan, Thomas L. Chadbourne, Prosecuting Attorney Albert T. Street, Attorney Albert F. Gray, Court Reporter Silas W. Goodale and County Clerk Robert H. Shields, representing the court and bar of this county, went to Marquette Wednesday morning to attend the funeral of the late Judge William D. Williams. They returned yesterday noon.

The barge Shrigley, which had the misfortune to lose her captain by drowning in Lake Superior Tuesday afternoon, as already related in THE MINING JOURNAL, returned to this port Wednesday afternoon with colors at half mast. The story as told by the first mate and engineer, which was sworn to and sent to the owner of the boat, is that they had gone out about two miles, which took them about fifteen minutes from the time they left the canal. They found the lake very rough and thought it advisable to turn around and put back into the canal. While in the act of turning the boat round Captain Rawley was seen by those on deck to slip, lose his balance and fall overboard. Before any assistance could be rendered him he went down and never came up again. A careful search was made but nothing more was seen of the body and the mate took charge and ran back into the canal and notified the captain of the life saving station, who with his crew went out in their boat and made another careful search which also proved fruitless.

Captain Rawley leaves a wife and three children in Buffalo. At the time of the accident he had upon his person about $300. His family is well cared for, the captain leaving considerable property besides being one fourth owner of the barge. He was well known to mariners here and all speak well of him. The Shrigley was put into winter quarters at the Rolling Mill dock and the crew will be shipped home by rail.

Before leaving they intend making another attempt at finding the body of Captain Rawley by dragging around the spot where he was drowned. They intended doing this yesterday but on account of the stormy weather were unable to do so.

The pupils of the Houghton public schools held appropriate Thanksgiving exercises Wednesday. As previously announced in the school this was also the day appointed for the scholars to bring with them donations for the poor. Promptly at 1 o'clock each scholar could be seen carrying a large bundle or package and at the close of school it was found that there were orders for many barrels of flour, turkeys and other poultry by the wagon load as well as other good things to eat and plenty of good clothing to wear. The committee appointed to distribute the goods were soon at work with teams doing a general delivery business and before 2 o'clock all donations were delivered. Probably one of the most deserving to receive aid was a Norwegian family whose head was buried a few days ago and which was found by the scholars in their searches for the needy, to be in most destitute circumstances. The seventh grade, who were the projectors of the scheme, gave all their donations to this one family and they, as well as many others, were made happy. To the pupils and teachers of the schools much praise is due and there is no doubt that many of the poor and needy of this vicinity gave thanks to God and asked His blessing upon the cheerful young givers of the public schools of Houghton. The schools have closed until Monday next.

The entertainment to be given at Miller's Hall this evening under the auspices of the ladies of St. Ignace church promises to be a grand affair and well worth attending. As the morning passenger train was backing out of the yards Wednesday morning it ran into an open switch, throwing the trucks of the first class passenger coach off the rails. They were lucky enough to get the front trucks on again in a few minutes but it took an hour to replace the hind ones. The train pulled out seventy minutes late.

Louis Schmidt, who for a number of years has played first piccolo in the Houghton band, left Tuesday for Great Falls, Mont., where he has been given a good job and is also to play in a band. It will be remembered that Mr. Liebertrau left here some time ago for that place and through him Mr. Schmidt was sent for. The band loses one of its best players in Mr. Schmidt but hopes to soon be able to fill his place.

The early arrival of the evening train from the east has made a change that is very much appreciated by the people of this city at least. They now get their mail at 7:30 and ten minutes later the office is deserted.

Miss Allie McKernan went to L'Anse Wednesday noon to spend Thanksgiving with her parents.

The little tug Elva was raised Wednesday and run to winter quarters at Croze's dock.

Edward W. Hebard of Pequaming registered at the Douglass House Wednesday.

The ball given by Columbian lodge, Knights of Pythias, at the Armory Opera House Wednesday evening was a most pleasant affair and largely attended.

G. R. Watts, the piano and organ tuner, will be at Quirk's jewelry store, Houghton, for a few days only, and desires all wishing his services to call as early as possible.

HANCOCK.

Yesterday was a day of rest and thanksgiving in the twin cities. The business houses closed all day and as near as could be learned everybody ate, drank and was merry. Services were held in the churches and each house of worship was well filled. At the Congregational church there was a prayer service in the morning and a union song and prayer service in the evening led by Revs. G. A. Walker and E. W. Frazee. There were morning services at all the Catholic churches in both Hancock and Houghton, also at the Methodist churches in the twin cities at the Pewabic Methodist church, Trinity church, Houghton, also held a morning service. In the evening lovers of amusements could be seen wending their way to the Irish Relief club's reception at St. Patrick's Hall or to the concert and ball at Germania Hall given by the Lyra singing society.

Appropriate Thanksgiving exercises were held in all the rooms of the public schools Wednesday afternoon.

The dedication services of the new Pewabic Methodist church will be held from the 10th to the 17th of December inclusive. Rev. Dr. Berry, editor of The Epworth Herald of Chicago, will preach at the opening service. The presiding elder, Rev. J. E. Whalen, will be assisted in the dedication services by the following pastors: Revs. John Sweet, Calumet; F. O. Jones, L'Anse; C. C. Turner, Lake Linden; E. W. Frazee, Houghton; J. C. Townsend, Dillar Bay; C. N. Caspar, Atlantic Mine. On Dec. 16 the Epworth league of Houghton county will hold its annual convention at the church. Rev. Dr. Berry will also address this meeting. Special trains will be run on this occasion from Calumet and Lake Linden to accommodate those wishing to attend.

The stormy weather of Wednesday night and yesterday kept a large force of men busy shoveling snow to keep the railroads open. Locomotives with the snow plow were sent out early yesterday morning by Superintendent Shields who reports that they have already had trouble in keeping the roads open during the recent storms and heavy falls of snow. The woodsmen are also kicking, saying the fall is already so great that they are experiencing much trouble.

Miss Grace Cavan of Atlantic mine has started a dancing class and the first lesson will be given tomorrow afternoon in Germania Hall, this city. Thirty pupils have already joined and many more have signified their intention of joining. The music will be furnished by Miss Chadbourne.

The barge Rhodes passed up Wednesday evening on her way to Fort William. She got as far as the canal, where she had to lie all day yesterday on account of a high northwest wind, big snow storm and heavy sea in Lake Superior.

Solon W. B. Wright of Eagle River spent a couple of days in this city the fore part of the week, returning home for Thanksgiving.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will give tonight a social in the association rooms, to which all are invited. Refreshments will be served and a pleasant evening is assured.

The hotels in the twin cities all issued beautiful souvenir menu cards and served excellent Thanksgiving dinners yesterday.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Superior Savings bank for the election of directors, etc., will be held at the bank December 12.

D. Coughlin arrived home from Chicago yesterday.

LAKE LINDEN.

Captain Truman Moore of the propeller Robert Rhodes had trouble with three of his crew Monday. He was unloading some giant powder at Hancock and was anxious to finish the work and get away from the dock to go to Torch Lake to unload his cargo of coal at the Calumet & Hecla dock. It was dinner time and the men started for dinner. The captain ordered them to finish unloading as it would take only a half an hour longer and the crew could then eat while the steamer was under way. Michael Corbett, William Smith and Pat Kelly refused to go to work so the captain said they would either have to go to work or else take their settlement and go ashore. The men went ashore.

The trio then went up town and indulged in some tangle-foot whisky and then went to United States Commissioner Finn to have the captain compelled to take them back again but the commissioner could give them no satisfaction. They then tramped it to Lake Linden to hunt up the United States deputy marshal, to whom they told their story, which agreed with that told by the captain, that they refused to work the half hour and were given the choice to work or go ashore. The deputy marshal said he could not help their case but gave them a letter asking the captain to arrange to have the men taken out where they belong. The men soon came back, saying the captain had assaulted one of them and they were going to a justice of the peace to get out a warrant for him. The men claim they were no hired to handle freight, especially so dangerous a cargo as dynamite.

OPECHEE.

A grand ball will be given next Saturday evening at the Osceola carpenter shop under the auspices of the Osceola Cornet band. The proceeds will be devoted to charity.

 - Recitation, "Pyramus and Thisbe,".....Annie Grierson.
 - Music, "The Little Mountaineer,".....Vocal Class.

The Calumet Light Guard ball was a grand affair. The exhibition drill by the company before the dancing was much appreciated by those present. The Calumet soldier boys keep right to the front in military evolutions and sociability and their parties are always well attended.

The Congregational and Presbyterian churches joined the Methodists in a union Thanksgiving service at the Methodist church yesterday. Rev. William Wallace of the Congregational church preached the sermon. Thanksgiving services were also held in the Episcopal church and Rev. N. H. Marsin preached a fine sermon.

RED JACKET.

The funeral of Mrs. A. B. Holt, mother of Dr. W. E. Holt of this city, was held yesterday afternoon with services at the Calumet Methodist church. The remains were taken to Schoolcraft cemetery for burial. The dead came to the copper country only a few months ago to make her home with her son. She took ill soon after her arrival and died last Tuesday evening.

Ten barrels of flour was shipped Tuesday to the suffering at Ironwood by the blacksmiths of the Hecla branch of the Calumet & Hecla mine. Their promptness deserves praise.

John Caron and Miss Lamarche were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Vermar at St. Louis' church Tuesday morning.

By the arrival of the unexpected cargo of coal for Conductor Roehm the threatened coal famine is averted. Persons who failed to order early can do so now.

A Surgical Operation.

For the cure of Piles is always painful, often dangerous and useless, and invariably expensive; on the other hand there is a new, certain cure, perfectly painless, gives instant relief and permanent cure and costs but a trifle. Conspiracy Against the Government Discovered in Pernambuco and the Agitators Placed Under Arrest.

ANOTHER BATTLE RECORDED.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 30.—The insurgents in Rio Grande do Sul have been victorious in a battle with the government forces near Lago. General Isidor of the government forces was taken prisoner. Both sides suffered heavy losses. The report that Curitiba had been captured by the insurgents is denied. The government at Rio de Janeiro continues to cannonade the insurgent war ships. The transport Magreira has been set on fire by the explosion of a shell from the forts and the Aquidaban, the most powerful vessel of the insurgent fleet, has been seriously damaged.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The governor of Pernambuco cabled to Senor Guanabara, the delegate of the Brazilian government in this city, saying that on Wednesday morning a conspiracy, organized by ex-Deputy Jose Mariano, against the government was discovered and that all the conspirators were arrested. The governor added that a state of siege had been declared and that the federal and local forces had united in support of the government. The governor also said that the rebels in the province of Pernambuco were without arms and money and that business was proceeding as usual.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Brazilian minister in this city received a cable despatch from Rio de Janeiro today denying the reported defection of the state of Para, de lazing that the rebels only possess Desterro and asserting that they will soon be driven from that point.

Norton had been drinking heavily but Smith was sober. When the two met in the saloon Norton said to Smith: "I am going to shoot you," Smith retorted: "Oh, you have said that before. Shoot, if you want to." Norton then happened fired, the ball striking Smith in the head and killing him instantly. There was no quarrel of any kind between the two men. Norton was arrested and lodged in jail.

REFUSE A REDUCTION.

Many Pennsylvania Miners Thrown Out of Work.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 30.—The situation at the mines of the Pittsburg and Chicago Coal companies at Snowden and Gastonville on the Wheeling division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is critical and serious trouble is apprehended. At these mines 500 men who were employed are out. There are 1,500 more miners within the radius of a few miles who are also out on account of the refusal of the miners to accept a nineteen cent reduction in the mining of coal. The companies are determined to work the mines and have asked for an injunction restraining the miners from interfering with the operation of the mines.

Spanish General Recommends Work That Agitated the Moors.

MADRID, Nov. 30.—General Martinez Campos telegraphs from Melilla that his forces have begun the work of rebuilding Fort Guarrich, the construction of which led to the first attack of the Moors upon the Spanish troops. The general says that if the Moors attempt to interfere with the work he will attack them from the front and upon the left flank. Just previous to the time the dispatch was sent the Spanish commander had a talk with Pasha Bajaejarbi at Fort Comillas, who said that he would strike his head that the Moors would not attempt another attack. In a later dispatch General Campos says there is no sign of a movement on the part of the Moors. The work on Fort Guarrich progresses rapidly.

BEAST SENT TO JAIL.

Brutal Assailant of Mrs. Gibson of Republic Caught in Logging Camp.

WAS FORTUNATELY FOILED IN FOUL PURPOSE.

Next Offender of the Sort Will Get More Severe Punishment from Indignant Citizens.

ATTEMPTED BRUTAL CRIME.

REPUBLIC, Mich., Nov. 30.—[Special.]—Mrs. James G. Gibson was returning to her home about 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening, after spending the afternoon with her parents, Senator and Mrs. Pascoe. When within a half block of her own house she was overtaken by a burly lumberman, who at once seized and forced her down on the sidewalk and at the same time placed his hand tightly over her mouth. Her screams fortunately aroused some of the neighbors and as the ruffian saw a light flash in an adjacent window he made his escape, not any too soon to save himself a rough handling. In fact, lynching was strongly advocated. The scoundrel managed to secrete himself through the remainder of the night and started presumably for some of the lumber camps early Monday morning. He was hotly pursued by the infuriated husband, with Marshal McDonald and Henry Gamble, who succeeded in overtaking and capturing their man at Tom Gibson's camp, about twenty-eight miles south of here. He gave his name as William McInnis. He was tried before Justice E. S. Rowland on a charge of assault Wednesday afternoon, found guilty, sentenced to ninety days and now tarries in the county jail at Marquette.

Apart from the terrible shock to the nervous system Mrs. Gibson was fortunately unharmed, although there is no telling what the consequences might have been had the fiend not been frightened away in time. The case will be pretty certain to find a short shrift and a long rope from the people of Republic.

Firemen's Entertainment.

The firemen's entertainment held at their hall Thanksgiving evening, proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs that has taken place here for many years. As general entertainers, the firemen certainly have no peers. Senator Pascoe's address to the "boys" was very appropriate in the occasion and heard with close attention. Zeimar's orchestra added very materially to the enjoyment of the occasion while the vocal talent of the department acquitted themselves most admirably, and received deserved applause. The luncheon was all that could be desired and taking all in all, the fire department has the gratification of knowing that their efforts toward making the occasion a success were not in vain.

Other Republic Notes.

John C. Menheiot, old resident of this place and of Negaunee, who has been suffering for the past year from a tumor in the side, passed quietly in eternity Wednesday morning. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock under the direction of the St. George society, of which the deceased was a member.

And still Republic's population is gradually increasing. On the 18th inst. to Mr. and Mrs. Jelmur A. Kingstedt, a daughter. On the 16th inst. to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Johnson, a daughter. On the 14th inst. to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Peterson, a daughter. On the 25th inst. to Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kimmerly, a son. Next!

Dr. A. R. Lamb has just performed a successful operation upon John McIntyre, who met with a serious accident by being kicked in the left leg about eleven years ago which resulted in what is termed "death of the bone." The patient is now progressing nicely.

The mine officials have been quite busy the past few days allotting men to various bits of the opening and the mine today and the work prevalent among the miners now is: "Did you get a job?"

Oscar Hart, a former resident of this place, but now of Chicago, paid his numerous friends here a friendly call this week and was much pleased to note the marked improvement of affairs.

James Ward, aged seventy-eight years, died last Sunday of pneumonia. The remains were taken to Negaunee Tuesday for interment.

Forecast of the Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—9 p. m.—The weather bureau reports the following as its forecast for the next twenty-four hours. For upper Michigan: Fair, preceded by light local snows at lake stations, northwest winds and a cold wave.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Mr. W. M. Terry, who has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for the past twelve years, says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other cough medicine I have ever sold. There is good reason for this. No other will cure a cold so quick; no other is so certain a preventive and cure for croup; no other affords so much relief in cases of whooping cough. For sale by H. H. Stafford, Son & Co.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

—There is a man in Cincinnati employed by a minister to wander about the town and report to him queer incidents that he may find. These are then weaved into the preacher's sermon. He is able to speak of surprising phases of life, and his congregation wonder how he gets time to do so much.

—William McKenzie, of Farloch Mountain, N. B., is the oldest person in the Maritime province. He is now 108 years old, and was married and had children when the battle of Waterloo was fought. He is in good health, reads without the aid of glasses, and recently walked ten miles to attend a circus.

—A. J. Moxam, the millionaire who is reported as having contributed $25,000 to the fund of the English ground-reef taxation campaign, is a partner of Congressman Tom L. Johnson in works at Johnstown, Pa., where a son of Henry George is employed. Mr. Moxam and Mr. George are friends as well as fellow advocates of the single tax.

—The princess of Wales, the duchess of Edinburgh, the duchess of Cornwall, the Princess Christian, and the duchess of Fife were among the illustrious personages who acted as stall-keepers and sold cigarettes, sunshades, fruits, flowers, etc., at the recent fair held in London to raise $125,000 for building an appropriate habitation for the United Service institution.

—Rear Adm. Sir George Tryon, who went down with the Victoria, was a grandson of Col. William Tryon, who was governor of North Carolina in 1765. By his imperious and extortionate conduct he caused the revolt of the "Regulators" which he put down at the battle of Alamance, showing great cruelty to the prisoners. This was the first blood shed in the revolution. Soon afterward, in 1775, Col. Tryon was appointed governor of New York.—N. Y. Tribune.

—Baron Herman von Wrede, who for a couple of years has been night clerk at the Baldwin hotel in San Francisco, is about to return to Germany and resume his place in the army. Several years ago he married a Mrs. Beveridge, divorced wife of the son of Gov. Beveridge, of Illinois, and was in consequence dismissed from the army and disowned by his friends. Later his relatives relented, and have been at work for some years to have him restored, their efforts finally meeting with success.

—Occupants of a country house near Morristown, N. J., have discovered in the garret many interesting letters of the revolutionary period. Some of them were addressed to a young man in the West Indies. The writer begs the young man to send him some first-rate rum in order that he may have appropriate refreshment for Gen. Washington and other officers of the patriot army, his frequent visitors. He speaks with much enthusiasm of Washington. The letters describe a drive to New York, and among other things clear up a tragic mystery of that time.

—Old Bill Carpenter, of New Albany, Ind., has a unique way of celebrating the Fourth. Many years ago he became the possessor of a plaster of paris bust of the Father of his Country, and every year since the dawn of Independence day it has been his custom to mount the bust on a barrel under a cherry tree in his front yard. Having done this Mr. Carpenter cuts a few chips from the tree with a hatchet, unfurls the American flag, and thus does honor alike to Washington and to Parson Weems, who invented the pleasing little fable about George's inability to tell a lie.

A Hawaiian Legend.

There is a legend of the volcano of Kilauea, in the island of Hawaii, which recites that just before any misfortune to befall the people the goddess of fire, Pele, stands at the burning lake of lava and chants a weirdly monotonous song. Destruction by fire, death or pestilence always follows.

In every smokers mouth, Ben-Hur cigars. Ask for them.

Significance of Names of Nations.

The name Europe signifies "a country of white complexion," and arises from the fact that its inhabitants are of a lighter complexion than those of Asia or Africa. Asia signifies "between, or in the middle," the ancient geographers imagining that it lay between Europe and Africa. Africa signifies "the land of corn." It was celebrated for its abundance of corn and the Romans and other people used to import grain extensively from that continent.

Passed to the Tower of London.

A London paper says that probably very few persons know that the lord mayor is the only person—other than the queen and the constable—who knows the password to the tower of London. This password is sent by the Mansion house quarterly, signed by her majesty. It is a survival of an ancient custom.

GOOD IDEAS TRAVEL EAST.

A Common Trick that Tradesmen Have of Turning Them Into Money.

New ideas are difficult to sell, but very easy to give away; in fact a reporter of the Sun has discovered that if they are good ideas other folks adopt them without being asked, and in a very annoying way sometimes. For instance, the reporter had invented a scarf-pin and had his design executed by a manufacturing jeweler. The jeweler, when delivering the pin, remarked: "That is very pretty. It is a design that will probably sell well. We are thinking of making a few thousand for the trade"—thus destroying the chief value of the ornament.

Not long afterward this same person had the misfortune to break two washbowls in one week by bumping them against the end of the washstand in his summer home in the country. He decided that it would be cheaper and better to imitate the city than of using a fixed bowl with a plug in the bottom. In his mind he planned a mere frame of hard, polished wood, to be supported on plated metal brackets and to have a big bowl sunk in the shelf with a plug in the bowl and a stop jar underneath. When this idea was explained to a member of a wholesale firm in the plumbing trade he remarked: "I should not wonder if it would be a good thing to make a lot of those stands. People can't have running water in the country, but that is the very next thing to having it. I believe you have hit on a very salable thing." He seemed to pride himself on being a connoisseur of other folks' ideas, for he said that recently a man had come along with an order for a bathtub on wheels, but he did not think that would recommend itself to the trade or the public. This man had no bathroom in his country house, and could not spare a room to make one of. Therefore he hit on the plan of putting a bathtub on wheels, and moving it into the bedroom of whoever called for a bath. An ordinary iron porcelain-lined tub was what he wanted, fitted with wheels with rubber tires. By putting a hot and cold water faucet in every room and an open-mouthed waste-pipe in one of the bedrooms—all his bedrooms being on one floor—he expected to be as well off as if he had a bathroom.

When statues are made the custom is for the sculptor to reproduce his design in miniature in plaster of paris, and copies of this are given to favored friends. Always, in such cases, the recipients are informed that only a very limited number of these statuettes has been made, and that therein lies a great part of their value. The favor is then requested that if any one's statuettes breaks he will be very careful to intrust it to none but a highly reputable repairer, else the person to whom it is taken will copy it and sell it to be hawked about the streets. The moral of the situation is that since we can not afford to patent every clever thought and device we must deal only with those who will respect our helplessness.—N. Y. Sun.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim that I got some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell is partly restored, and it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh. Drs. E. E. Grimes, Reudrill, Perry Co., O.

His Wife Forgave Him

On the strength of information telephoned from the county jail in answer to a query Tuesday night THE MINING JOURNAL stated that Keopp who slugged his wife Tuesday, had been sentenced to thirty days in jail. This was afterward found incorrect. He was brought before Justice Cray Tuesday night but was not sober enough to receive a trial and so was placed back in jail until Wednesday morning. He was then brought before Justice Cray for examination. He pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and was fined. Then one of those not unusual but inexcusable things happened illustrating the power of woman's affection and loyalty. Notwithstanding the insult and abuse heaped upon her by her husband Mrs. Keopp paid his fine and forgave him on the spot for all he had done. It is hoped her charity may be without good effect on the husband who was cowardly enough to strike his wife.

Thanksgiving at St. Paul's.

Thanksgiving services were held yesterday morning at St. Paul's church, attended by a large number of people. Special music appropriate to the day had been prepared by Professor Johnson and the choir and was faultlessly rendered making the exercises very pleasing and impressive. The address of Archdeacon Williams was particularly interesting and full of a tenderness and sound judgment illustrating the power of woman's affection and loyalty. Notwithstanding the insult and abuse heaped upon her by her husband Mrs. Keopp paid his fine and forgave him on the spot for all he had done. It is hoped her charity may be without good effect on the husband who was cowardly enough to strike his wife.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Grant A. Lee of Ewen was down yesterday. Messrs. Barnell and Rose of the Mining school were in the city last night. W. G. Mather, president of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company, is in the city. Thomas Lark and wife of Duluth attended the Assembly dance last night. Mrs. F. Baker and family passed through the city yesterday to their home in Duluth. City Attorney Sherwood returned yesterday after a few days absence up the road on business. Professor Alcott and daughter of Ishpening attended the party in Prater's Hall last night. Dr. O. E. Youngquist and wife of Escanaba will be for a few days guests of his brother Dr. O. G. Youngquist. W. T. McMyler and wife passed through here yesterday en route to Iron Mountain. Mr. McMyler was at one time clerk of the Hotel Marquette. George B. Dawson, of the widely known milling firm of Dawson Bros., Pontiac, was here Wednesday in attendance at his brother, Dr. Dawson's, wedding. Editor Maft of the Colon, Mich. Express, accompanied by his wife, are guests of Trowbridge Johns. Mr. Maft went to one of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries of this city. Mrs. J. H. Dougherty and son, Chauncey, left last evening for West Superior, where they will visit relatives and from there go to Duluth where they will spend about two weeks.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Tomorrow the First and Fifth wards elect aldermen.

Mrs. Longyear will give a party to-night. Hughes' orchestra will play for the dancers.

Miss Elliot, living on Hewitt avenue, had the misfortune to fall on the ice Wednesday and break her ankle. Surgical aid was called and the broken bones set.

Mrs. A. H. Palmer held a reception at her home Wednesday which was attended by many friends. Each guest on leaving was presented with a handsome carnation.

All doubt as to whether LaLiberty was set free by the authorities or not disappeared yesterday when he was seen at church and on the streets. He came down with the prisoners.

The Salvation Army held a love feast and sociable for its members yesterday afternoon. It was purely a family affair and the comrades present ate, drank and were merry in their own way and were happy.

The first of the season's series of Assemblies was held last night in Fraternity Hall. There was a good attendance and a successful season is promised. Hughes furnished the music. The next dance will be given Christmas night.

The Casino rink was well patronized yesterday by those who aspire to graceful movements with wheels on their feet. In the afternoon and evening there was a good attendance at the Marquette City band filled the air with music while the skaters scooted.

The brute, William McMoris, who assaulted Mrs. Gibson at Republic Sunday evening last, was brought down here yesterday by Deputy Sheriff George McDonald and will spend ninety days in the county jail where it is hoped he may see himself as others see him and keep straight in future.

The Hotel Marquette and New Clifton spread themselves in most approved fashion on their Thanksgiving dinners yesterday. Not only were the menus excellent but a goodly number of citizens and the "strangers within our gates" discussed them with gusto and satisfaction.

There was a good old-fashioned, wholesome tea meeting in the Swedish Lutheran church last night. The church was crowded, tables were arranged in the front part of the room and from the kitchen in the rear hot coffee and tea were carried in abundance. It was simply a big, social, family party. As many could not be served last night it was decided to repeat the social tonight. Admission twenty-five cents.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor held another pleasant social in the basement of the Presbyterian church last night. It taxed the ingenuity of those managing the affair to satisfactorily dispose of the large number in attendance. But they managed some way as only women can. The chief feature was several interesting and clever charades. There were also some recitations and music and a generous supply of coffee and sandwiches. The Y. P. S. C. E. has put itself on record as a host with a more than ordinarily cordial hand clasp.

Mrs. George McKenzie Gibson died Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 29, at 1:55 o'clock at her home, 212 Division street. Deceased had been for two years afflicted with consumption and latterly had been a great sufferer. She leaves a husband and one boy, two years old. The funeral will take place from the house at 2 p. m. today, to Park cemetery. Rev. Dr. Bonar officiating. Mrs. Gibson was born in Scotland twenty-nine years ago. In 1889 she came to this country and Sept. 5 of that year married George Gibson. Their home has been blessed by Christiania trustees who alone brings comfort at this time to the bereaved husband.

CHEWING GUM.

Reasons for Not Forming a Habit for Which There is Little Excuse.

The origin of chewing gum may be traced indirectly back to the time when hunters in many sports in the amphitheaters kept their mouths from parching by chewing the leaves of plants which were capable of producing an increased flow of saliva; but the modern chewing-gum, with all its alleged benefits and various flavors, is strictly a product of the present aggressive age.

The medicinal value of chewing-gum of any kind may well be expected to be slight. Aside from its employment in some cases as a salivagogue, or saliva-producer, it is likely to become positively harmful if persistently used.

We may perhaps excuse its use by public speakers and by all whose throats are exposed to the irritation of constant use, as by means of it the throat may be kept moist and free from irritation; but even then it is doubtful whether methods would not prove quite as efficacious without being so harmful to the digestive system.

It is easy to explain why the digestive system is liable to suffer from the persistent use of chewing-gum.

One of the chief functions of the saliva is to stimulate by its presence in the stomach an increased flow of the gastric juices. But the constant flow of saliva induced by the increased chewing is generally thrown into an empty stomach. This explains the gnawing that persons unaccustomed to the use of gum experience after chewing it for a while. There is no food for the gastric juices to work upon and an artificial appetite is set up.

This fact might be turned to account in some cases of indigestion, if it were not for the supplementary fact that the saliva which comes from prolonged stimulation is always inferior in quality in direct proportion to its increased amount. And not only is this superficial saliva weakened in its power of stimulating the gastric juices, but another important function, that of changing starches to sugar, is correspondingly interfered with.

Then again, we must not forget the frothy condition of saliva produced by the chewing of gum, nor fail to appreciate the uncomfortable and even harmful results of forcing such quantities of air into the stomach.—Youth's Companion.

—Edward Picard, a celebrated Belgian advocate, announces publicly his intention, in conformity with his democratic views, to abandon luxury and live henceforth as simply as does Count Tolstoy. Brussels society has been stirred up by the announcement.

—An interesting fact in connection with the life of Maria Mitchell, of beloved memory, is that she was never able to overcome her fear and dread of lightning. The heavens were to her as an open book, yet this of their marvels was always awful and mysterious to her.

—Prof. David P. Todd, of Amherst college, has already begun making preparations for an expedition to Japan with other scientists in 1896 to view the total eclipse of the sun scheduled for August 9 of that year. The party will be a large one and the instruments numerous and of the most improved kinds.

—Mrs. Arthur Davis, of Washington, has received permission to take up the graduate course at the Johns Hopkins university with the view of taking the degree of Ph. D. She will be the second woman to enjoy this privilege, the doctor's degree having been conferred last June upon Miss Flora Bascom, the daughter of ex-President Bascom of the university of Wisconsin.

—The late Lucy Stone was the eighth of nine children, and the night before her birth her mother milked eight cows. When she learned the child's sex she said: "Oh, dear, I am sorry it's a girl—a woman's life is so hard!" Lucy, even when yet a child, became indignant at the injustice done to women by the world and resolved with infantile spirit to remedy the matter when she grew up.

—Prof. Koch, the Berlin bacteriologist, who recently secured a divorce from his wife and married an actress, has told his friends that if they want his society in future they must receive also his wife. Berlin has made no outspoken objection, but in the little Hartz mountain village of Clausthal, where Prof. Koch was born, the women have torn down the tablet which had for years marked his birthplace.

—Mr. H. H. Rogers has presented to the Millicent library, in Fairhaven, Mass., a collection of autograph letters written by seventeen of the presidents of the United States. They are all single-page documents, and are framed separately in oak, each with a steel-engraved portrait of the writer. Mr. Rogers promises to add autograph letters from all the presidents as fast as he can obtain good single-page specimens.

—An amusing story of Schumann is told by a veteran Vienna critic. The composer once accompanied his wife, who was even then a celebrated pianist, to the palace, when she went to play before the king of Holland, and was gratified by the monarch's compliments of her performance. The composer was somewhat surprised, however, when the king turned to him and courteously inquired: "Are you also musical?"

WINTHROP MINE RESUMES.

Men Conclude That Owners Are Doing All They Possibly Can.

FIREMEN'S CHARITY BALL A GRAND SUCCESS.

Hall Packed With Dancers and Sale of Tickets Much Larger Than the Crowd Showed.

SETTLED IN SHORT ORDER

The strike at the Winthrop mine was of short duration and the men will return to work this morning under the old agreement. The committee appointed by the men held a conference with Messrs. Braastad and Fairbairn Wednesday afternoon. They were advised that no change in the present agreement would be made and that the demand with reference to the guarantee of $1.50 per day on all contracts would not be conceded. The men were convinced that under the present condition of affairs Mr. Braastad was unable to do any better for them. He had kept the mine in operation with a view to assisting the men and convinced them that it was not through any desire of the company that the mine was being wrought under the present arrangements. After talking the matter over for a short time the members of the committee said they would advise the men to return to work.

A great many of the men were opposed to the strike, especially the married ones. Last month the average wages earned throughout the mine was $1.50 per day. Some earned as high as $2.50, while others of course went under $1.50.

When Mr. Braastad took control of the mine July 10 and started it in operation, after it had been closed during the company for an indefinite period, he agreed to give the men a cash payment in December. This, he says, he will do sometime during the month.

Had the men not decided to return to work the mine would remain idle all winter, which would mean great hardship to a number of families. About sixty men who reside in town, besides those living at the mine location, are employed at these workings.

A Grand Success.

The charity ball under the management of the Ishpeming fire department at A. O. U. W. Hall Wednesday evening was a great success in every way. Seventy-five firemen turned out in the parade at 8 o'clock and at 9:30 there were almost two hundred couples in the ball room. The crowd was so large before supper that it was almost impossible to move around. At 10 o'clock the spacious dining hall adjoining the assembly room was utilized for dancing. The grand march at 11 o'clock was led by John Jones, Jr., of this city and Miss Eva Elston of Escanaba, with about one hundred couples besides the music by the Ishpeming City orchestra was unusually fine; in fact, no better could be desired. This was the orchestra's first engagement and it played all new music.

The boys displayed unusually good taste in the decoration of the hall and it presented a very handsome appearance. At the head of the room on a draped shelf stood the department's prize trumpets and lantern which the hose team won at Hurley and Ironwood in '91 and '92. The lantern was lighted, this being the first time that it was used. At other parts of the room banners, Chinese parasols and other ornaments were neatly displayed, giving the interior a very pretty aspect.

About fifty couples partook of supper at the Urban House. Everything contained in the menu published in THE MINING JOURNAL of Wednesday was spread on the tables. The supper was gotten up in style and everybody was well pleased with it.

As the finance committee is not yet in receipt of all the money realized on the sale of tickets the exact proceeds of the ball are unknown. A special meeting of the department for the final arrangement of matters relative to the ball will be held tomorrow evening.

Will Resume Today

Operations at Section 16 mine of the Lake Superior Iron company will be resumed this morning. Captain Trebblecock has been busy during the past week selecting the men and assigning places. The exact number of men taken on is 172, 150 underground and twenty-two on surface, including the engine house hands.

Since the announcement that the mine was to resume operations Captain Trebblecock says he has had no less than one thousand applications for work. A great many of these came from outside. He says he never experienced anything like that in his life before, as securing them was no easy task to perform. All the men taken on are residents of Ishpeming, the majority of them having been formerly employed by the Lake Superior company.

Death of Mrs. Sellwood

Mrs. John Sellwood, who has been a sufferer from cancer for the past fifteen months, died at her home at 205 East Division street at 5:10 Wednesday morning. The dead was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Austin of the Cleveland mine location. She was thirty-seven years of age and had been married twenty years. A husband and seven children, the eldest a boy of nineteen, survive her. John Austin, brother of the dead, resides in Chicago and will be here to attend the funeral Sunday afternoon. Relatives from Duluth, members of Joseph Sellwood's family, are also expected. The funeral obsequies will leave the family home at 2 o'clock and religious services will be held at the Division Street Methodist church.

Not Yet Too Late.

Citizens whom the firemen did not call on in the interest of the charity ball are respectfully invited to send in their contributions in money, provisions, clothing or anything else they desire to donate to the cause to Chief Routhier or John S. Mennie, chairman of the finance committee, today or tomorrow.

morning. The firemen do not wish to overlook or slight anyone in the matter and desire that all should have an opportunity to help the cause along. They are positive that they missed calling on several who would have contributed had they been asked to do so. All contributions sent in today or tomorrow will be very thankfully received.

The Second Time.

A sneak thief entered the house of George Bargh at the Barnum mine location Sunday night and ransacked the house in search of money. As the old gentleman was robbed in a similar way of quite a few dollars a couple months ago he has not since kept any money in the house with the exception of a little change. The thief took what money was in the house—less than $5—and left the place without damaging property or even waking up Mr. Bargh. All the intruder wanted, evidently, was cash. He did not sit down and partake of a lunch as the other fellow did.

Using the Road.

Messrs. Donahoe and Schweitzer were in from their homestead north of Ishpeming Wednesday. They report that the bridge which they have been constructing on the new road leading to Ready Bros.' camps has been completed and the thoroughfare is now being used quite freely, the first team having passed over it last week. The bridge is substantially built and will be serviceable for many years. Clayton, the logging contractor, is toting over the road and finds it very convenient.

Unique High School Thanksgiving Exercises—Other Schools Enjoy Themselves.

THANKSGIVING DINNER COMPOSED OF BRAIN FOOD.

Forty-two Families Enjoy Good Meals as the Result of Public School Pupils' Liberality.

DISHES SPOKE RIGHT OUT.

Perhaps the proudest and most satisfied class in the city yesterday was the pupils of the public schools. At least, if they were not so they would quite readily have been pardoned for entertaining a sentiment of satisfaction in the face of what they have done to make Thanksgiving brighter for many indigent families in our city. In response to the request of their teachers, which also appeared in THE MINING JOURNAL, the scholars brought to their several class rooms, Tuesday, donations of almost everything that is good to eat and which "maketh glad the heart" and warmeth the body.

Twelve barrels of potatoes, all told, a dozen sacks of flour, a wagon load of bread, vegetables, meat, fowl, money, poured into the schools and at night were taken to the high school building for allotment. Here, from a list prepared by the Ladies Benevolent society, forty-two baskets were packed, each containing enough in quantity and variety for one good family dinner. These were sent out Wednesday morning and forty-two homes or about three hundred persons were made glad because of the liberality and goodness of heart of the school pupils.

Is it any wonder, therefore, that the Thanksgiving exercises in the different schools Wednesday afternoon should have been characterized by a heartiness actually contagious when they followed such good deeds? The services in general consisted of songs and recitations in keeping with the occasion. They were all excellent but the High school scholars had made elaborate preparations and presented an entertainment at once pleasing and unique.

The first part of the afternoon was taken up with a rendition of the following first-class program given with but one exception by the pupils: Song, "With Songs and Honors Sounding Loud," by the school, led by Miss Davis; recitation by Miss Lucile Wallace; vocal duet, "Greetings," Miss Ball and Mrs. Eldredge; twenty memory quotations from the school, all relating to Thanksgiving; reading, "A Thanksgiving," Peter Nelson; song, "Autumn's Here," school; reading, Cora Parker; twenty additional Thanksgiving quotations; recitation, "The Death Bridge of the Tay," Frank Sullivan; vocal solo, Miss Minnie Schwalm; recitation, "The First Thanksgiving," Miss May Smith; song, "Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers," school.

Following this came the Thanksgiving dinner. This was entirely original with the High school and was thoroughly enjoyable. The following good old style comestibles were represented by the pupils named, Charles McCarthy very ably acting as host and requesting the respective dishes to speak for themselves. This was the bill of fare:

- Turkey.....Ralph Palmer
- Cranberries.....Maud Grant
- Roast Pig.....Edward Watson
- Chicken pie.....Bessie Walker
- Potatoes.....George Getz
- Baked Beans.....Martha Clark
- Squash.....Kittie Handford
- Pickles.....Eugenie Fremeau
- Onions.....Alfred York
- Doughnuts.....Inez Mathews
- Cider.....Geo. Conklin
- Preserves.....Anna Hull
- Dried-apple sauce.....Albert Jacobs
- Brown Bread.....Margie Everett
- Pumpkin pie.....Claude Frazer
- Mince Pie.....Nellie Walker
- Pum Pudding.....Mabel Wilkinson
- Tarts.....Laura Malhot

Each one of the impersonated dishes spoke aptly—and many of them eloquently—in its own behalf to the entire amusement of the pupils and a goodly sprinkling of visitors. The entertainment throughout showed strongly the satisfactory effects of the rhetorical training through which all High school pupils have to pass now and also the result of careful rehearsing by the teachers.

The "literary dinner" closed by all rising and heartily singing "America."

Union Thanksgiving Service.

The First Baptist church was crowded to its fullest capacity yesterday for the union Thanksgiving service. It appeared as though every person was anxious to show thankfulness and had the church been larger the congregation would doubtless have filled it also. The service began by Rev. Ellis M. Jones of the Baptist church reading the governor's Thanksgiving proclamation. This was followed by prayer offered by Rev. Joseph Frazer of the Methodist church and the Thanksgiving address by Rev. Dr. Bonar of the First Presbyterian church. It is not going beyond the bounds of fact to say that Dr. Bonar's address was one of the most thoughtful and most appropriate Thanksgiving sermons ever preached from a Marquette pulpit. Persons in the audience who had attended such services for years were emphatic in pronouncing this the most delightful of all.

Dr. Bonar's remarks were a distinct departure from time honored rules for Thanksgiving sermons. It was practical, statistical and logical and would compel saint and sinner alike to express thankfulness that they lived in the United States of America in 1893. The geographical position of our country, its great extent, natural advantages, condition of its people and most favorable comparison with any other nation under the sun, were shown to be far in the van in a concise and irresistibly convincing manner. Some of the speaker's comparisons and statistics were a revelation to many of his hearers and set many a new train of thought in motion. Not a word was said about dull times and what we have not, but a catalogue of what we do possess was presented and everyone was convinced that all should be very thankful.

The music rendered by the choir was by no means a minor feature. Mrs. Brown presided at the organ in her customary finished manner and was ably seconded by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Patrick, soprano; Mrs. Palmer, alto; Mr. Westlake, tenor, and Mr. Burtis, bass.

Beard-Dawson.

Mrs. Bertha Adams Beard, only daughter of ex-Mayor Sidney Adams, and James Henry Dawson, M. D., were united in marriage Wednesday morning at the house of the bride's parents, corner Ridge and Blaker streets. The spacious parlor was handsomely decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and roses and about forty friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. The bride and groom entered the south parlor a few minutes after 11 o'clock, followed by the father and mother of the bride and the mother, brother and sister of the groom. Archdeacon Williams of the diocese of Northern Michigan had taken his station in the large bay-window of the south parlor, which was draped with sun-lark, ferns and yellow roses, and proceeded with the beautiful marriage service of the Episcopal church. The bride was dressed in a simple costume of white silk, a trained princess, trimmed with chiffon, carried a bouquet of yellow roses and wore no ornaments except a white pearly lace pin at the throat. There were no attendants, the ceremony being quite informal at the desire of all concerned.

At the conclusion of the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Dawson received the congratulations of the guests. The dining room doors were then thrown open and light refreshments were served, the guests being seated at small tables in the dining room, the south parlor and the large hall. At 2 o'clock Dr. and Mrs. Dawson left for the train, going to New York, Boston and other eastern cities by way of Detroit. The gifts were numerous and beautiful, consisting largely of silver and cut glass. The guests were largely from the families of old settlers of this city, of which the bride's father was a pioneer. Mrs. Charles Dawson, mother of the groom, and Mr. George Dawson, an elder brother, came up from Pontiac to attend the ceremony. The latter returned on the same train with the bride party but Mrs. Charles Dawson will remain here a few days visiting her daughter, Miss Ella Dawson.

The bride was born and reared in this city and has the best wishes of her large circle of friends and acquaintances. The groom is the youngest son of Charles Dawson, for many years president of the First National bank of Pontiac but lately retired from business. He was graduated from the University of Michigan in the class of 1885 and was five years assistant superintendent of the Northern Michigan asylum at Traverse City. He resigned that position in the spring of 1890 to enter general practice and removed to Marquette. His skill and energy soon won him a large practice and he ranks today as one of the leading physicians of the peninsula.

Dr. and Mrs. Dawson will return in about two weeks and will for the present reside with the bride's parents.

Judge Williams at Rest.

The funeral of the late Judge Williams took place Wednesday afternoon from his late home, East Arch street. Archdeacon Williams of St. Paul's church was the officiating clergyman. Shortly after 2 o'clock the cortege began moving toward Park cemetery, the casket being placed in the hearse by the following friends of the deceased: D. H. Ball, Josiah Reynolds, S. W. Goodale, J. W. Stone, C. H. Call, J. M. Wilkinson, Judge Jay A. Hubbard of Houghton and Judge Haire of Ironwood were in attendance and the bar of Houghton county was represented by T. B. Dunstan, J. C. Chadbourne, A. R. Gray and Robert H. Shields, Houghton; A. T. Streeter, Calumet. The local bar turned out in force and several attorneys from Ishpeming and Negaunee were noticed, among them George W. Hayden.

The Firemen's Ball.

Was the dance of the fire laddies a success Wednesday night? To those who were present or peeped in on the jolly crowd in Armory Hall, there can be but one answer to the question. It was a success in every sense of the word from the grand march to the last half-sleepy waltz near daybreak. Over 125 couples were present and nearly that number appeared in the grand march led by James Gray and Miss Hubbard, Timothy Maney and Miss Green.

Rovell's orchestra, augmented by Professor David, the new band master, furnished music of a very satisfactory character. Down in the parlors the women served a splendid luncheon to such as cared to leave dancing long enough to eat. The boys pronounce this the best attended and most successful firemen's dance ever held in this city.

They Skipped the Town.

The two women taken by the police from Koepf's house Tuesday and lodged in jail were arraigned before Justice Cray Wednesday morning. They were fined $10 or thirty days in jail each, and were ordered to leave town forthwith. They asked for a few hours to raise the money for their fine and the court granted them until 2 o'clock that afternoon. The court did not want to put the city and county to the expense of keeping the two women for a month and particularly wanted them to get away from the city as quickly as possible.

Not much surprise was expressed, therefore, when 2 o'clock arrived and the women could not be found. As they have not been seen since it is a fair presumption they have left us. The city will not go into mourning over the event, and the police will keep a peeled eye in case they should come back.

 There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
