TORREY BILL SLAUGHTERED.

House Suddenly Puts That Much Discussed Measure to a Violent Death.

ENACTING CLAUSE STRUCK OUT BY DECISIVE VOTE.

Democrats Wrangling Over Tariff Measure and No Agreement on Many Important Points in Sight.

BANKRUPTCY BILL IS KILLED.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Torrey bankruptcy bill was strangled unexpectedly by the house today just as its consideration under the five-minute rule was about to begin. Colonel Oates, the champion of the measure, had declined to permit the house to vote on Mr. Bailey's substitute providing simply for a voluntary system of bankruptcy, whereupon Mr. Bland (Mo.) precipitated the entire question by moving to strike out the enacting clause of the bill.

Vainly the advocates of the measure protested that it was unfair to reject the bill before the house had a chance to perfect it by a amendment. Their pleadings were unavailing. The vote was decisive. Mr. Bland's motion was carried by a majority of 142 to 111. Judge Torrey of St. Louis, the author of the measure, who has been here for ten years promoting the interests of the bill, sat disconsolately in the gallery.

The vote was not a strict party one. An analysis shows that 115 Democrats, 18 Republicans and 9 Populists voted to strike out the enacting clause and that 64 Republicans and 47 Democrats voted against it.

About one hundred members were present when the house met. Mr. Talbert (S. C. Pop.) asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of a resolution which after various wherewithals reciting the delay in matters congressional, instructed the ways and means committee to immediately bring in the tariff bill and the banking and currency committee to bring in some financial measure for the relief of the people to the end that the Democrats might more promptly redeem their pledges. Objection was made.

During the morning hour Mr. Kilgore (Tex.) from the committee on territories called up the bill for the admission of Utah on an equal footing with the original states. Mr. Dingley (Me.) inaugurated a filibuster. He made the point of no quorum on Mr. Kilgore's motion to go into the committee of the whole to consider the bill, which had resulted ayes, 63; nays, 3; and thereupon Mr. Kilgore demanded the ayes and nays and the roll was called. The Republicans refrained from voting in order to break a quorum.

Mr. Dingley explained that the course of the Republicans was due partly to opposition to the consideration of such an important bill during the morning hour and partly to opposition to the bill itself. The vote resulted 146 to 6 and Mr. Dingley again made the plea of no quorum and Mr. Kilgore moved for a call of the house. Mr. Dingley followed up the obstructive program. The morning hour in the meantime had expired.

Upon the announcement of the vote on the Torrey bankruptcy bill the house, at 3 o'clock, adjourned until Monday.

DEMOCRATS WRANGLING.

Cannot Agree on the Details of Their Tariff Bill.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—There have been many rumors about the Capitol today concerning the revised tariff which the majority members of the committee have about completed and which will soon be reprinted. There have been a number of changes, relating mainly to the wording of the bill, typographical errors and phraseology, but it is well known that other changes have been made. The tin plate tariff has been changed from 35 per cent. ad valorem to one and one-fifth cents per pound specific duty. The ad valorem rate was intended to make a duty of about one cent per pound.

Changes in rates have been made, how many or how great is hard to ascertain. There have been changes in pearl buttons, piano keys and silk thread. Just what these changes are is not known. A delegation of New Yorkers has asked that the time when the bill goes into effect be changed either to July 1, 1894, to Jan. 1, 1895.

Nothing is definitely known as to when the bill will come up in the house. Chairman Wilson hopes to report the bill within three days from the time it is presented and considered by the full committee next Monday. The ten days' time which the Republican members were to have in case the bill was reported during the recess will not be granted when the bill is reported during the session. Mr. Wilson says he hopes to secure consideration of the bill before the holiday recess.

It is generally understood that the internal revenue bill will be reported as a separate measure. There is still a disagreement over many features of this part of the revenue. The whisky tax has not yet been entirely settled but it is believed that the increases will be but slight if they are made.

The income tax is the great bone of contention over which members cannot agree. The tax on corporate incomes suggested in the president's message is far from satisfactory to all the members and especially to many who are not on the committee. They claim that a tax on corporate incomes would mean increase in rates of interest and higher rates by common carriers.

The effort to secure a change in the customs part of the bill in the sugar schedule has not been successful up to the present time. If this scheme fails, greater efforts than ever will be made to have a caucus on the bill before it is taken up in the house, in the attempt to have modifications made.

JUDGE WING'S RAW BREAK.

Coughlin's Lawyer Says Irish Are Unfit for Self-Government.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—At the opening of the Coughlin trial today Judge Wing began his address to the jury for the defense. In referring to the alleged ill-feeling between Cronin and Coughlin Judge Wing said that such quarrels among the Irish were frequent. "The Irish are unsuited for self government," he said, "because of their numerous feuds. No importance should attach to the fact that Dr. Cronin and the defendant were identified with opposing factions of an Irish society." This portion of the attorney's remarks caused a sensation in court and has elicited much criticism.

Regarding the testimony given by Milkman Mertes on the previous trial to show that Coughlin entered the Carlson cottage about 8 p. m. on the night of May 4, it is reported today that the defense in the present trial will endeavor to prove that the extent of Mertes' knowledge is that on some evening about that time he saw a man go into the cottage and that several witnesses will testify that Mertes told them he saw a man enter the cottage and "that the police told me all about the other things."

PRENDERGAST'S LITTLE GAME.

Protests He's Not Insane to Induce Contrary Belief.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Prendergast the assassin made a formal protest against the plea of insanity being introduced in his case today. When he was led into Judge Brentano's court room he handed his attorney, Mr. Essex, a letter in which he asked that the insanity plea be withdrawn, declaring that he believed people would get an idea that he did not kill Carter Harrison for the benefit of the people at large but rather for a personal or selfish motive. Attorney Essex declined to state whether he would give the letter any consideration.

The work of securing a jury is progressing much more rapidly than was anticipated. Four more jurors were secured today, making eight in all. It is now expected that the jury will be completed tomorrow and an adjournment taken to Monday when the taking of evidence will begin.

ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS FREED.

Principal in Life Insurance Swindle Cannot Be Punished.

WAUSAU, Wis., Dec. 8.—The jury in the Thrun case acquitted T. G. Hanson, G. I. Follett and N. L. Kandy of the charge of conspiring to defraud life insurance companies out of $59,000 on the life of Feri J. Thrun. Thrun's house was burned near Wausau several months ago and a skeleton which was found in the ruins was supposed to be the remains of Thrun. Subsequently Thrun was captured in New Orleans and brought back to Wisconsin. The peculiar thing about this is that though Thrun pleaded guilty last spring he cannot be sentenced as in the trial of the case it has been decided that no conspiracy existed.

BIG TANNERY BURNED.

Three Hundred Employees Will Not Resume Work Just Yet.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Dec. 8.—One of the most disastrous fires in several years occurred this evening in the big belting establishment and tannery of James Davis on East avenue. The concern when in full operation employs 300 hands. It has been shut down for some time and the owner had just arranged for starting. About twenty men were at work when the fire broke out. The flames spread so rapidly that the workmen were forced to make their escape by the windows. A general alarm called out the entire department but the flames spread with such rapidity that it was impossible to save the building. Loss, $125,000; fully insured.

MURDERER FROZEN OUT.

Cold and Hunger Forced Landers to Go to Jail.

TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 8.—Henry Clay Landers, who Dec. 1 murdered his fellow waiter David Howard in the Troop Hotel in this city as they were going in to supper, and who gave himself up to the authorities Dec. 5, died this morning in the county jail. His death is due to exposure during the four days after he stabbed his companion. He concealed himself in a haystack and went without food and froze his hands and feet. Unable to bear the pain and privation longer he begged a passing farmer to take him to prison. Had he survived amputation of both feet would have been necessary.

BAD COMPANY AND BOOKS.

Young Murderer Warns Against Them on the Scaffold.

DANVILLE, Ills., Dec. 8.—Harvey Pate and Frank Stires, aged twenty-one and twenty years, were hanged today for the murder of Henry Helmick, a wealthy farmer of Pilot township, on the night of August 25 last. On the scaffold Pate said he was sorry for the deed and he wanted to warn all boys against bad company and bad books.

THURSTON'S LITTLE PLAN.

Provisional Government Will Wait in the Hope of Being Kicked Out.

THAT HOPE WILL PROBABLY BE DISAPPOINTED.

Cabinet Members Do Not Care Whether Thurston Has Gone to Honolulu or to Hades.

WHO IS THIS THURSTON?

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Minister Thurston before leaving for Honolulu told some of the friends of the provisional government that a plan of action had been agreed upon by the government and would be carried out. The provisional government has 1,100 men under arms who are ready to respond at the signal of the bell. This force will not be permitted to fire on the United States marines if they are landed. Neither will the provisional government lay down its arms and leave the government building upon a request of Minister Willis, even after marines are landed. The provisional government will remain until its members are arrested and taken out. It will resist any interference by any other than the armed force of the United States. With its military force at command it will not allow the supporters of the queen to enter the palace or disturb the peace of Honolulu. That is the program as outlined by Minister Thurston to his friends before departing for Honolulu.

It is also positively asserted that Mr. Thurston is going to Honolulu, whatever may have been said regarding his visit to Chicago and San Francisco to look after Hawaiian affairs in those cities. The statement as to the plan of the provisional government is in line with the advice Minister Thurston sent to the provisional government, immediately after he had read Secretary Gresham's letter to the president, exhorting President Dole to stand firm and to yield to nothing but actual force. This proves to have been President Dole's attitude before he heard from Minister Thurston. Friends of the provisional government feel confident that he has been firmly entrenched in this determination by what he has heard from Minister Thurston and in view of the latest developments as to the administration's policy it seems altogether unlikely that the provisional government has been disturbed.

The cabinet meeting today lasted for two hours and Attorney General Olney and Secretary Morton remained long beyond that time with the president. The Hawaiian situation came in for a share of attention but owing to the meager news from the island the discussion was necessarily short of definite results. No exact time was fixed for sending to congress the correspondence and papers relating to Hawaii. The departure of Minister Thurston was not commented on at the cabinet meeting and the indifference felt as to the minister's movements was shown by the remark of a cabinet officer after the meeting that he had not even heard of Thurston's leaving Washington.

It can be stated explicitly that there was no understanding arrived at between Secretary Gresham and Minister Thurston before the latter's departure from Washington as to the course the United States would pursue in Hawaii.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Minister Thurston of Hawaii reached this city today and left tonight by the Northwestern road for San Francisco en route to Honolulu.

COMMODORE STANTON'S REPORT.

He Presents His Defense for Saluting Admiral Mello.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Commodore Stanton called at the navy department this morning and submitted to the secretary a written report of his salute to Admiral Mello in the harbor of Rio. Having completed this duty and being on waiting orders the commodore is at liberty to go where he pleases. He left this afternoon for his home in New London, simply leaving his address with the department. It is probable that Secretary Herbert will give out the report for publication at an early day, together with the conclusion reached.

SHERIFF IN A FIX.

Cannot Get Tax Money for Fear of Wrecking Bank.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 8.—Penumbra Kelly, sheriff of Multnomah county, George R. Markel, president of the Oregon National bank, and D. F. Sherman, cashier, were arrested today on an indictment charging them with larceny of public money. All were released on $20,000 bonds. The sum of money alleged to have been embezzled is $160,000. The sheriff as tax collector had money on deposit in the bank last July when it failed. The bank opened again for business in one month but the sheriff is unable to check against it any large amount for fear of closing the bank again.

MURDERER MEYER'S TRIAL.

Great Crowds to See Medical Assassin for Insurance.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The crowd in front of the court room in which Dr. Meyer is being tried was so large this morning that it required the efforts of all of the officers on duty to force a passageway for those having the right of admission. The first witness examined was Carl Muller, the alleged accomplice of Meyer. Muller told how Meyer proposed to get a corpse from the morgue and described how the prisoner sprinkled antimony on the food given to Brandt. He declared that he had seen him do this twenty times.

MARQUETTE, MICH., DECEMBER 9.

Entered as second class in the postoffice at Marquette, Mich.

AN UNPLEASANT SUBJECT.

Says the Grand Rapids Democrat:

The MARQUETTE MINING JOURNAL says that the idea of making a new state of the Lake Superior country is only an iridescent dream because "this peninsula is altogether too profitable a milch cow for our granger friends of lower Michigan to ever let it go." In view of the generous way in which the people of lower Michigan are hurrying food and clothing to the starving upper peninsula miners, this remark of THE MINING JOURNAL is bad policy, bad judgment and leaves a bad taste in the mouth.

Gratitude for benefits conferred may induce one to suppress facts but it does not alter them. The city of Grand Rapids did very promptly send up a carload of provisions to the Gogebic range and that kindness will be gratefully remembered. At Detroit some thousands of dollars have been raised for the relief of the same section and that also will be gratefully remembered. It is possible that some contributions have come forward from other lower peninsula points but THE MINING JOURNAL has yet to learn of any general movement in that way, despite Governor Rich's proclamation.

THE MINING JOURNAL'S sentence about this peninsula being too profitable a milch cow for the grangers of the lower peninsula ever to let it go is strictly true. This peninsula pays in state taxes nearly two dollars per capita to one dollar paid by the people of the lower peninsula. It is true that a very large proportion of the property which pays these taxes is owned by persons living outside this peninsula. For that condition neither the people living here nor the non-resident property owners are to blame, if there be any blame to any one. It is also true that one of the avowed reasons of the state board of charities and corrections for locating the upper peninsula insane asylum in the swamps of Newberry was the fear that if it was put farther west its supplies would be purchased in Chicago and Milwaukee instead of in Grand Rapids and Detroit. This was another case of looking out for the milk of the upper peninsula cow. Chicago and Milwaukee have done quite as much so far for the Gogebic range sufferers as the whole lower peninsula. The people of the upper peninsula have done quite as much so far for their suffering fellow-citizens as has the whole lower peninsula. We are not ungrateful, but facts are facts. This is a most unpleasant subject but THE Democrat forces us to take it up by its malicious distortion of a remark relating purely to political and business conditions into an evidence of ingratitude for assistance in time of need. Let those readers to whom this discussion is unpleasant remember that it was forced upon THE MINING JOURNAL by what must seem the wilful malice of THE Democrat.

ISHPEMING PROTESTS.

On the Ishpeming page of this morning's issue will be found an exposure of some of the frantic lies printed by Chicago and Detroit papers regarding the condition of the workingmen of that city. Things are bad enough with the miners of all the iron ranges, as we all know, but there is no use in lying about them and making them appear worse than they are. The people of Ishpeming, with such assistance as the county can give them, are making a most admirable and apparently successful effort to care for their needy. Neither Ishpeming, Negaunee nor Marquette nor any other locality in this county is soliciting any outside aid. All must spend more in charity this year than ever before but no one need go hungry anywhere in this county. Marquette county only regrets that her own needs must in a large measure prevent her people from responding with their usual liberality to the calls for aid from other communities less fortunately situated. It is a downright shame that newspaper correspondents living in the cities of this county should so misrepresent and malign their fellow-citizens as they have done. THE MINING JOURNAL has taken measures to acquaint the responsible editors of the leading Chicago, Detroit and Milwaukee papers with the actual condition of affairs in this county and to protest against the publication of any more rot sent in by these lying correspondents.

AS TO AN EXTRA SESSION.

THE MINING JOURNAL has every confidence in Governor Rich and hopes he will make a personal investigation of the condition of the people on the Gogebic and Menominee ranges. This paper hopes and believes, however, that when the governor makes such investigation he will find that a special session of the legislature is neither necessary nor desirable. Many people have grown of late years to rely altogether too much on governmental interference and it is a feeling which needs to be discouraged. It is not characteristic of the real American to call on the government to help him out when he gets into trouble. He calls on his friends and neighbors and gets an everlasting hustle on himself. THE MINING JOURNAL believes that voluntary effort will do all that is necessary. Governmental interference would but increase the weight of bad precedent in that direction. We are "governed too much" now and seem to be losing that sense of sturdy independence and of voluntary effort which characterized our forefathers. "God helps them that help themselves" was their motto and the general trend of events in this country of late years shows that we need to cultivate that spirit. Let us help ourselves and each other instead of imporing the state to help us.

The Times of El Paso (Tex.) is enjoying a very valuable advertisement at the expense of the Mex'can government. The Times has been publishing lots of news about the recent disturbances in Mexico and the government, not approving such publications, arrested the carriers when they crossed the Rio Grande bridge to Paso del Norte and ordered Mexican advertisers not to patronize that sheet. As a result the people of Paso del Norte and vicinity think THE Times is the only newspaper on earth. They flock across the river by hundreds every day to buy and read THE Times and that paper is working up such a circulation and such a reputation on the Mexican side that its advertising patronage in that quarter will be quadrupled when the present flurry is over. Thus is Providence ever on the side of the newspaper that prints the news.

THE MINING JOURNAL regrets that Mayor Kaufman's modesty prevented the publication first in these columns of his generous gift of a carload of flour to the suffering miners of the Gogebic range. This paper could enumerate other instances of that gentleman's generosity which have never been brought to public knowledge because of his repugnance to having his works of charity advertised. Mayor Kaufman is one of those men who Do good by stealth and blush to find it fame.

But he should remember that his city has a contingent interest in his good works and that his fellow-citizens have a certain right to share in the just renown which they should bring not only to himself but also to Marquette.

The papers that are reprinting the blasphemous prayer said to have been uttered at a Democratic convention in Colorado and generally credited to the Gunnison Tribune ought to be ashamed of themselves. It is an obscene and sacrilegious parody on a portion of the Episcopal liturgy with "Almighty Cleveland" substituted for "Almighty God." Even political rancor cannot excuse such indecency.

How it must rile the venerable Van Duzer of the Escanaba Iron Port to find the Lansing State Public-Garbage-Can crediting his recent utterances about the desirability of a separation of the two peninsulas of Michigan to the Escanaba Mirror. But that is only a sample of the Public-Garbage-Can's besotted ignorance of upper peninsula affairs.

The striking of the Calumet conglomerate at 3,250 feet below surface by the Red Jacket vertical shaft is a notable event in mining. But it attracts much less attention than it would have done had not the Tamarack company shown the way in the enterprise.

If the governor of Florida is really anxious to prevent Mitchell and Corbett from fighting in that state he should have a ring staked out and tell them to go ahead. He would have no more trouble with the wind-pumping pugilists and they would never fight in Florida.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

EXPERIENCE OF AN EX-CHAMPION.

Athletes and men who take ordinary out door exercise such as walking, running, bicycle riding, jumping, swimming, tennis, etc., are often the subjects of acute trouble. The experience of an ex-champion walker will be of interest to all who are afflicted. HARRY BROOKS writes:

"No 324 East 19th St., New York, April 2, 1886. Numerous statements relative to the merits of different plasters having been brought to my attention, I take this opportunity to state that I have used Alcock's Porous Plasters for over 20 years and prefer them to any other kind. I would furthermore state that I was very sick with catarrh of the kidneys, and attribute my recovery entirely to Alcock's Porous Plasters."

The Book of the Fair, which cost the Bancrofts company such a heavy outlay, is an assured success, subscriptions having already exceeded 100,000, and still keep coming in as fast as ever. What has given this work such great popularity has been not only the plan but the execution. Nothing could have better fitted popular requirements than a work which covered the whole ground, historical and descriptive, and executed in the highest style of art. We understand that there is an opportunity for a few more competent persons to canvass for the superb book and we know of no more praiseworthy or profitable occupation. Those interested can write to Bacon Bros. Pub. Co., No. 90 Griswold St., Detroit, Mich.

JOHNSTON'S SURE SHOT! OR GIANT FLY KILLER. IT WILL KILL.

And it came to pass that the people laid themselves down at night, after the usual fatigues of the day to get a sweet sleep and repose. They got it not. Why?

THE RED-BUG. And they arose and went to the pantry to get refreshments. But lo! What was there?

THE BLACK ANT. They then betook themselves to mine those of the restaurant, and there beheld the good things set before them liberally besprinkled with...

THE RED ANT. They cried out, "Give us water, ere we perish." They could not drink it. Why?

THE WATER BUG. They rushed to the wine cellar, but could not enter; the way was disputed by whom? Why, there in all its horrors,

THE COCKROACH. They looked about them for their robes and blankets to wrap themselves in, but despair did rest upon their brows. They were destroyed by what?

THE MOTIL. FOR SALE BY DRUGGISTS.

Then did they cry out in despair, "We have neither rest, food nor raiment." But hark! What sound is that? It is the glad tidings. Relief has come at last! What? And they answered and said—

JOHNSTON'S SURE SHOT IS DEATH TO ALL INSECTS. It kills: Bed-Bugs, Cockroaches, Flies, Potato Bugs, Mosquitoes, Ants, Carpet Beetles, Cabbage Worms, Sheep Flies, Crickets, Fleas on Dogs, and Lice on Horses and Cattle. House Flants, Fowl, Birds, etc., etc.

It can be used freely without danger being non-poisonous to persons and animals. It is clean, clear and easy to use, and a sure death to all insects. Special directions on each package. PRICE 25 CTS.

CALUMET IS COMING.

Men of the Great Copper Mines Raising Relief for the Gogebic Sufferers.

BIG MEETING AT RED JACKET OPERA HOUSE.

Territory Will Be Systematically Canvassed for Money, Food and Clothing—Ladies Will Assist.

[All communications for copper country department intended for publication should be addressed to A. F. Isler, Houghton]

RED JACKET. There were nearly three hundred persons present at the opera house Thursday evening in response to the call to relieve the suffering of the miners and others on the Gogebic range.

President Peter Ruppe called the meeting to order, Superintendent John Duncan was chosen chairman and Fred Mackenzie, secretary of the meeting. On motion the chair appointed a committee of nine, consisting of the following gentlemen: Messrs Parnall, Briggs, Kobihaas, Borgo, Childs, Watson, Sailer, Rev. Sweet and Robert Bennetts. The committee was made permanent to act on all matters pertaining to the relief work until another meeting could be held.

The committee recommended that the vicinity be divided into districts with a chief committeeman in each district who shall be authorized to appoint a sub-committee of five to assist him in thoroughly canvassing his district. The list of names are as follows: Tamarack, Captain T. M. Maslin; Tamarack Jr., Captain J. Cruise; North Tamarack, Superintendent Parnall; Kearsarge, Captain J. Hosking; Wolverine and Allouez, Superintendent Smith; Osceola, Captain Richard Edwards; Calumet, Captain Thomas Hootson, Jr.; Hecla, Captain Thomas A. Willis; Soudan, Captain William Stevens. The above will see all underground men for the surface there were appointed others as follows: Osceola, John Vivian; Tamarack, W. J. Light; Calumet & Hecla, Superintendent John Duncan; Red Jacket, P. Ruppe; Calumet Village, Mat. Sailer; Bollman's camp and all other outlying districts where no other hustler can be expected to reach, Mr. Ernest Bollman.

It was also recommended that all the general stores be made depots or rendezvous when people who wished to contribute any articles could leave them. The cashiers of the Merchants & Miners' Bank and the First National Bank were appointed a committee to receive any funds contributed and also to act in conjunction with the transportation committee, who are Superintendent John Duncan and Superintendent Will A. Childs.

The above report was unanimously adopted. During the interval that the committee was making out its report, a number of those present addressed the audience on the urgent needs of those in whose behalf the meeting was held. Among those who spoke were the Rev. Mr. Morris who made an eloquent appeal of about twenty minutes. Dr. E. H. Pomeroy made a few felicitous remarks and sat down amidst prolonged applause, J. D. Cuddihy, W. H. Hosking, J. H. Vivian, J. F. Reeder and P. Ruppe were also heard.

When Superintendent Will A. Childs gained the floor he objected to that part of the report wherein the committee recommended itself to be prolonged in office as that would not give others a chance to act who were anxious to do good work. He also divulged some of the committee secrets to the effect that the most strenuous advocate of woman's rights (Hogrel) was very anxious to get the committee extended, but at the suggestion of an outsider that a grand charity ball was mentioned and that the Army had been offered free and that the Fifth Regiment band offered their services free for the occasion, he thought the ladies could show their hands then. But another member objected to anything to do with a ball, which the other member had said was to give the ladies a chance to show their hands in the good work then, and sweetly added "their heels as well." As soon as Mr. Childs sat down Rev. Mr. Sweet took the floor and stated that he was the member who had objected to the ball under any conditions but that if the ladies saw fit to use it as a means to aid the suffering he cheerfully acquiesced in what they should do, but thought that if Jones and Brown were to dance with their wives only on that evening the ball would be over as early as 9 p. m.

The question was raised as to taking an immediate subscription at the meeting, but on account of the lateness of the hour the motion to adjourn prevailed and all went home feeling that the result would be a most satisfactory one for the people of the Gogebic range.

Charles Page of Everett, Wash., who has been here selling real estate, left yesterday for the Pacific coast. He was accompanied by Mr. Oates, who goes to investigate the property that is now being offered for sale here. Archie Mayotte of this place is now at Everett and the Rev. Mr. Savage, who is in that section of the country, has been requested to visit Everett and write of its value.

LAKE LINDEN. Henry Wieder, the harness maker, had two pair of snow shoes stolen from the front of his store Wednesday evening. He chained the two together with a bicycle lock and chain, but the thief was not particular and took the lot.

About thirty men about the coal docks who have been working on half time were discharged Thursday.

The Calumet & Hecla has discharged two teams and will hereafter do its wood hauling by contract.

HANCOCK. The insurance adjusters representing the different companies in which the firm of Silverman & Levy was insured have arrived and are busily at work looking over the ruins. The firm's stock inventoried just before the fire only $15,000 and with an insurance of only $15,000 it is easily seen that the firm are out nearly $14,000. As every thing was about a total loss the general opinion is that they should receive their insurance in full.

Mundloch & Yagle have just finished putting hot water heaters in James R. Dee's building, in which the telephone and telegraph offices are situated; L. Henns & Co.'s store, Houghton, and the St. Patrick's parsonage. They also have the contract for heating apparatus in the new convent and school. The latter will be connected with a four inch pipe from the furnace in St. Patrick's church.

The new ice rink will be open to the public for the first time this evening. The Houghton band will discourse sweet strains during the evening. The managers have offered the rink to the general relief committee, the proceeds to go to the Gogebic sufferers. The Houghton band will also give its services on this occasion.

The four months old son of James H. Milford of the Pewabic location was buried yesterday afternoon.

Professor J. F. Boyd of Dollar Bay will speak at the men's meeting at Y. M. C. A. chapel tomorrow afternoon and the male quartette will sing.

HOUGHTON. President R. M. Hoar has issued a call for a meeting of citizens of Houghton and vicinity for this evening in Miller's Hall at 7:45 sharp to take steps to help the sufferers of the Gogebic range. There should be a large attendance and immediate action should be taken. The ladies are most cordially invited to be present at this meeting and it is to be hoped that they will be there in large numbers.

The chicken pie social and concert at the Armory Opera House under the auspices of the ladies of Grace Methodist church Thursday evening was a grand success. The concert program was excellently rendered. The ladies cleared about $50.

At the regular meeting of Columbian lodge No. 124, Knights of Pythias, Thursday evening the following officers were elected: C. C. William F. Miller; V. C. Frank Mayworm; prelate, Albert Hadley; K. of R. and S. Will Mullen; M. of W. W. B. Hoar; M. of F. Thomas S. Dye; M. of E. John Spring; M. at A. Charles Hendrickson; monitor, John C. Pryor; P. C. W. Friday evening, Dec. 29, the Columbian Social club will give another of its dancing parties, which means another big time for the members of the club and their friends.

Christmas evening, Dec. 25, the Maenocher will give a social entertainment and as is customary will have a Christmas tree filled with many beautiful presents. Dancing will be in order after the distribution of presents.

John White, one of the oldest settlers of the Pewabic mine location, aged over eighty years, was found dead in his cabin yesterday morning. The cause of death was heart failure.

THE CALLA LILY EDIBLE.

It Tastes and Is to Be Cooked Like the Potato.

A new vegetable is about to be introduced to the people of the United States through the department of agriculture. It is the root of the calla lily, which resembles somewhat in appearance the Irish tuber, with the addition of a few whiskers that have nothing to do with the qualities of the article as an esculent, says the Philadelphia Times.

It is more elongated, and when cut the interior is a trifle more viscid. But a section of it is so potato-like you would not be likely to distinguish any difference. In cooking it first has to be boiled to destroy certain acid properties, after which it may be fried, roasted, baked or what not, according to taste.

Farmers in Florida have begun to raise these calla roots for market. The plants grow rapidly in the swamps, and so thickly that the yield of a single flooded acre is enormous. They reproduce themselves by the multiplication of their bulbs under ground, so that the grower has simply to dig up the offshoots and leave the parents to propagate anew.

For centuries the Egyptians have cultivated a similar crop during the season of the Nile overflow, and at the present time calla lily bulbs are a common vegetable in Japanese markets. So prolific and palatable are they that their propagation in many parts of the United States, where conditions are favorable, may reasonably be looked forward to as an agricultural industry of the future.

The Mentschikoffs.

The last representative of the famous Russian family of Mentschikoff died a short time ago in Baden Baden. The founder of the family was Prince Alexander Danilovitch Mentschikoff, who was the son of a stableman and the apprentice to a baker. The boy attracted the attention of Gen. Lefort, who introduced him to Peter the Great. Owing to his extraordinary cleverness he obtained great influence over the czar and soon advanced to the highest place in the empire. In time he became the most important and the most feared man in Russia. In 1727, however, he fell suddenly into disfavor and was banished to Siberia, his immense fortune being confiscated by the crown. He became insane there from brooding over his fall and losses, and died in 1730. His son was restored to favor, however, and the family quickly regained its prominence. The fortune of the last Mentschikoff, running into the millions, will go to a distant relative, Prince Sagarin.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIALISM.

A Peculiar and Prosperous Community of Iowa.

Although it was started as an Experiment, the Colony Has Grown and Flourished—A Remarkable People.

Most socialistic experiments in this country have fallen flat, but there are a few remarkable exceptions, says the St. Louis Republic. One of these is situated in Iowa county, Ia., and is called the Amama society, or Community of True Inspiration. This socialistic society has stood the test of time, for it is very nearly as old as the state of Iowa. Indeed, it traces its early beginning back to the German Pietists of the seventeenth century. But in this country and in Iowa it was incorporated in 1859.

This society is a shining example. It has succeeded. It numbers now about seventeen hundred souls and they are all healthy and happy and fast growing rich. They own some twenty-five thousand acres of land, all cultivated up to the highest notch and well supplied with live stock, and they have mills and manufactories of almost every description. They carry on these many enterprises with the energy and skill of a people who believe that all must work. Not even the old are exempt from the universal law. You may visit Amama society any day except Sunday and you will find everybody at work, one equal to the other, men and women, some in the fields or vineyards, some in the factories, and a large contingent, most of these women, as it happens, in the large co-operative kitchens, where the meals are served. They are "brothers" and "sisters" together, as they say. They all eat the same food, wear the same blue jeans or blue calico, live in houses equally free from paint, and when they die each one is given the same kind of a wooden slab to mark his resting place. A few do, indeed, possess their own families, but even this is discouraged, and a life of celibacy held up instead as the highest ideal.

They are a simple, plain folk, but they are always apparently contented and happy. A visitor will be surprised to find so large a proportion of old people among them, for very few die of youth or middle age, and few are ever sick. There are no cases of nervous prostration here, and insanity and suicide are unknown. Nor has any member of the community ever filled a felon's cell.

This appears like a beautiful illustration of the good things attendant upon socialism and M. Zola's panacea of "inevitable work," and it seems too bad for the sake of the theory that the Amamites do not base their success upon these principles. They claim, rather, that socialism and "inevitable work" are only the means by which they attain a higher good. This higher good is freedom in observing their own religion.

This religion of theirs, however, is so pure and beautiful that one readily sees it is a potent factor of their success. Like their lives, it is without embellishment or show. It teaches them to speak the truth, to do no murder, not even in war, to love one another, and to listen often for the "inner voice" of revelation. Thus they live, like the patriarchs of old, "a peculiar people," not for the sake of experiment, but because they desire so to do, and with all their peculiarity they find themselves happy and prosperous.

WALKING CLUBS FOR GIRLS.

Keeping Up in the Fall the Athletic Practices of Last Summer.

Walking clubs are the popular fad through September and October. One very exclusive club which was formed in St. Louis recently consists of eight members. Athletic girls they are who have been at the seashore and mountains all the summer. They were restless when they reached town for outdoor exercises, so the club was immediately started. It meets once a week on Friday afternoons. The plan is that each week a different walk shall be taken. In describing the walking costumes, the Post-Dispatch says they were very sensible gowns, indeed. One was a brown cheviot made with a full plain skirt, trimmed around the bottom with four rows of black and gilt braid. With this was worn a waistcoat of scarlet broadcloth, glistening gilt buttons, and over it a loose three-quarter length jacket. This was elaborately braided and made with revers and epaulettes over the shoulders. At dinner the coat was removed and a little Eton jacket of the cheviot, with scarlet sleeves, substituted. An extremely novel hopsacking gown was also present. It was black, the skirt trimmed with two rows of guipure insertion over a lining in the new blue shade. The baby waist tucked in beneath a belt. It was made with a deep yoke of the insertion, which showed very plainly its silk lining. A jaunty little cape in black, with wide guipure revers, completed the costume.

Martha Washington's Slippers.

A curious memento of Charles Thomson, the first secretary of the continental congress, has just turned up in Lower Merion township, in Montgomery county, where he passed his declining years. Catherine Scheetz, an old lady who lives in a little frame house on Mill creek, treasures, among many relics of the revolution, a lock of the distinguished statesman's hair. This came into her mother's possession soon after Thomson's death in 1824 and was handed down to Miss Scheetz as a precious heirloom. It has preserved its original color, a grizzled white, to a wonderful degree. Miss Scheetz also has a pair of white high-heeled slippers which were once Martha Washington's. The heels of these slippers would awe even the most experienced modern society belle, tapering off to about a half-inch square at the bottom in their height of three inches.

A Surgical Operation.

For the cure of Piles is always painful, often dangerous and useless, and invariably expensive; on the other hand there is a new, certain cure, perfectly painless, gives instant relief and permanent cure and costs but a trifle. It is the Pyramid Pile Cure. It is a more certain cure than a surgical operation, without any of an intense pain, expense and danger of an operation. Any druggist will get it for you.

WAITING ON CONGRESS.

Dun's Review Says Trade Halts for Action Upon the Tariff Question.

NO IMPROVEMENT YET IN THE IRON SITUATION.

Business Very Quiet and Hesitating. Failures Increase in Number But Decrease in Amount.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say tomorrow: Trade of all kinds is waiting. There is no visible improvement and on the whole the indications are a little less satisfactory than they were a week ago.

Wheat has risen a shade. The western receipts were only 3,557,801 bushels against 6,094,180 for the same week last year, while the exports from Atlantic ports were only 427,484 bushels against 1,821,400 for the same week last year.

The movement of cotton was not encouraging to holders and appearances indicated a larger supply on plantations than has been expected. The price declined an eighth, with strong evidence that the continuing heavy receipts are wearying the holders.

No quotable change is noted in prices but sales of wool for the week have been only 3,747,600 pounds, against 4,778,500 for the corresponding week last year. The demand for speculative purposes continues and a large portion of the sales are of such character.

In the iron and steel manufacture there are no symptoms of improvement. The eastern markets are waiting. There is a feeling that the new steel rail combine will result in a decided decrease in demand for rails and also for pig iron and at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh no improvement in prices is seen.

Copper is somewhat stronger with 10 1/2 cent bid and the evidences of a combination of producers accumulates.

The failures for the week number 386 in the United States against 271 for the corresponding week last year and 42 in Canada against 36 last year. For the previous week the number of failures was only 319.

A classified statement of liabilities of firms failing during the last two weeks of November shows a remarkable decrease in the aggregate, and also in the amount in each section of the country, the decrease being about a third in manufacturing concerns and about 40 per cent in liabilities of trading firms.

Manufacturing liabilities were $1,675,027 against $2,424,886 the previous week and trading liabilities $1,308,449 against $2,082,980.

THE AUTHOR OF "SPARTACUS."

Composed by Elijah Kellogg When a Student at Andover.

Talking with a correspondent of the Boston Herald Rev. Elijah Kellogg, of Harpswell, Me., thus described how he wrote that favorite declamation of school boys: "Spartacus to the Gladiators!" "It was while I was at Andover," said he, smiling as the remembrance of the event came back to him.

"So these speeches came to be looked upon with dread, and at last I made up my mind that I'd try to get something so different from anything we had had and so interesting that it would hold their attention too closely for them to think about points on which to criticize me, and so I would get off free.

"Well, I wrote 'Spartacus.' When I began it worked just as I had expected. They were so taken by surprise that they never thought of anything but the speech. You could have heard a pin drop at any time while I was speaking, and they did not recover until I had finished and had come down to ask for criticism.

"Then when Prof. Payne turned to the students and inquired: 'What criticism have you to offer, young gentlemen?' there wasn't one of them had a word to say, for they were all thinking of the piece and hadn't noticed anything else.

"Gentlemen," said the professor, 'we are not here for theological disquisitions nor for learned arguments, but these exercises are purely rhetorical, and gentlemen, that is rhetoric.' "Then, turning to me, he remarked: 'I could criticize you, Kellogg, but I don't know whether it would do you more good or harm, and so, on the whole, I think I will say nothing.' "So," added the old gentleman, with a chuckle, "I escaped criticism."

FLOWERS OF THE NIGHT.

Peculiarly Adapted to Attract Wives. As we all know, there are day-blooming and night-blooming flowers, says the Cornhill Magazine.

The former lay themselves out for the fertilizing visits of bees and butterflies; they are generally decked in red, blue, yellow or purple, and have often lines, spots or markings on their petals which point to the nectaries and so act as honey guides. The night-blooming flowers, on the other hand, lay themselves out for the visits of moths or other crepuscular insects, and therefore have recourse to something like the tactics of the fireflies and the glow-worms. They are usually pure white and the petals are often of such peculiar texture that they seem to glow with internal light in the dim shades of evening.

At times one might almost fancy they were stained by nature with some curious forerunner of luminous paint, so strongly do they reflect every visible ray of the faint twilight. They thus succeed in catching the eyes of moths, which, of course, are especially modified for receiving and perceiving the slender stimulus of dusk and the gloaming.

But the nocturnal flowers have no lines or spots, because these last could never be perceived in the gray gloom of evening. They make up for it, however, by being heavily scented; indeed, almost all the strong white flowers, like jessamine, tuberose, gardenia, stephanotis, cereus and syringa, which are such favorites with florists, belong to night-blooming plants, specially adapted to attract the eyes and noses of night-flying insects.

A BITTER WINTER.

All the Portents of Nature Indicate Prolonged Cold.

From the news columns of our rural contemporaries, says the New York Mail and Express, we have gathered certain signs and portents which presage the coming of a cruel and bitter winter. The homespun weather prophet, combing the hayseed from his beard and eyebrows, has examined the prognostications of Dame Nature, and, studying the hints of Mother Earth, has arrived at the conclusion that now is the time to lay in coal, for already the bushy whiskers of winter are heavily frosted and the breath of the north wind gives promise of weary months of chill and snow.

The animal kingdom is already arrayed against the coming cold. Throughout New England the squirrels have an unusually heavy cover of fur, and the coats of the cattle and horses are thick and rough. The sheep pelts are unusually fine and the milk and weasel have donned extra heavy winter ulsters. In the Adirondacks the deer have been forewarned and are unusually well wrapped up in the coverings which an all-wise Providence has provided.

Around the farm also signs are not wanting. The corn husks are much thicker than usual, and instead of being a light lemon hue are of a deep orange tint, a well-established sign of the approach of a cold winter. The goose bone tells the same story, for the spots are larger and whiter than usual, and the hog's "melt" runs jagged instead of smooth. Nor is this all. The partridge and woodcock are haunting the farms and the grain fields, and the wild ducks are flying in U-shaped instead of V-shaped flocks toward the south. The squirrels and chipmunks are unusually busy laying up extra supplies of winter fodder, and the ground hogs have almost disappeared. Already the green frogs are changing their skins and seeking the bottom of wells and springs for their winter quarters, and the snakes have sought their nests under the roots of the trees.

Of course many of these signs may be unreliable. Chipmunks are apt to be aggressively busy at this season, and frogs and snakes are not always to be depended on. But the goose drone can generally be accepted as a truthful index to the weather, and the hog's "melt" is looked upon in rural communities as not to be gainsaid. Our advice, then, is to get out your winter clothes and to fill the coal bins. Polish up the runners of the sleigh and heap up the woodpile. Fix the saw-buck and file the saw. See that the stove pipes are clear of soot. Then put your trust in Providence and your money in the savings bank, and prepare to enjoy the hundred and one delights of a stiff, cold winter.

She won her point.

Nearly half a century ago a maiden lady residing in Roxborough purchased an ax from George Davis, a hardware dealer in Manayunk. The ax was in constant service, and by its many trips to the grindstone was worn down until the steel blade was no longer of use. Recently the old lady carried the pole or head of the ax to Manayunk to have a new blade inserted. Meeting a friend, he advised her to go to Davis' store, now kept by two sons of the former proprietor, and get a new one in exchange, as the old one was warranted to last a life time. The two Davis brothers protested against exchanging, while the lady vehemently urged her rights. A large crowd soon congregated, everyone siding with the woman. She finally triumphed, and walked out of the store with a brand new article, waving it over her head as an emblem of her victory over the firm.

The Poojah Stone.

Trouble was recently threatened between the people of Orissa and the Indian government on account of the "Poojah stone," which had rested for ages over the main entrance to the temple of the Sun. It was carved with symbols of the sun and planet, and thirty years ago fell from its place in the temple to become at once a special object of worship. The governor of Bengal, being interested in it as an archeological treasure, had it removed to the Indian museum, and this raised such resentment among the natives that the stone has been restored to them and has been raised again to its original place in the temple.

ABOUT SALAMANDERS. Origin of the Belief That They Are at Home in Fire.

Some Funny Facts Concerning the Famous Creatures, by a Man Who Is Familiar with the Traits of Reptiles.

"Nobody knows how the superstition regarding the supposed fireproof quality of the salamander had its rise," said Dr. Snegger, the reptilian expert of the Smithsonian institution, to the Washington Evening Star recently.

"There are so many species of salamanders that a description of them all would fill a book. They are to be found all over the world, except in very cold regions. In a popular sense, the name 'salamander' is applied to all batrachians with tails.

"The biggest salamander in the world is found in Japan. It attains a length of two feet and is related to the 'hell-bender.' Most salamanders live on insects, but the very large kinds eat pretty nearly everything as a rule.

For instance, the Japanese species is omnivorous. So far as I am aware none of the salamanders is considered good to eat, by civilized men, at all events. Twenty years ago I obtained a specimen of the only known species of blind salamander. It came from a cave in Missouri. A so-called blind salamander exists in certain caves of Austria, but it is not a true salamander, though it would come under the popular definition, being a batrachian with a tail.

"One peculiar thing about salamanders is that they are not as large when full grown as when they are partly developed. That seems a funny paradox, does it not? You see, salamanders go through a metamorphosis during their lifetime, as frogs do, though the change is not so marked. They have a larval period, as the tadpole is the larva of the frog. On becoming adult they shrink up considerably. During the larval period they have gills like a fish, which usually become rudimentary. An odd exception to this rule is the 'axolotl' of Mexico, which does not undergo any such metamorphosis and never becomes adult in a scientific sense. In other words, it never reaches what is the final stage with other salamanders, but always remains a larva.

"Axolotls of different species are found in various parts of the United States, but they do undergo the change and become adult. However, if you keep one of them in water and prevent it from escaping it will remain a larva always and will undergo no metamorphosis. In order to change it has to get on dry land. Having become a land animal, its external gills disappear, being no longer required for breathing in water. The Mexican axolotl never goes on land--at any rate, not for a longer time than its gills will permit."

Among the curiosities of taste, the Parisian passion for self-exhibition at the morgue must hold a conspicuous place. The principal keeper at the morgue is said to have had many applications from persons eager to figure as corpses on the slabs of the dead-house. They were deterred by the official announcement that the temperature of the bodies was kept some degrees below zero. If this discomfort had been endured for twelve hours, and if the authorities could have been persuaded to lend themselves to such a fraud, what materials for a coup in journalism would have been afforded to some enterprising genius!

In the profound abysses of the sea are strange forms of life that never save when brought up by the trawl, see the upper light. The work carried on by the United States fish commission has established the fact that forms of sea life inhabiting the upper waters may descend to about twelve hundred feet from the surface, but below this, to a depth of three hundred or three hundred and sixty fathoms, a barren zone intervenes where marine life seems absent. But still deeper, strange to say, has been discovered an abundant and varied fauna, new to science, living under conditions of tremendous pressure and the paucity of the life-sustaining element of oxygen.

WORTHY OF THE QUEEN CITY

Mayor Kaufman's Generous Gift to the Suffering Gogebic Miners.

A CARLOAD OF FLOUR WILL FEED MANY MOUTHS.

Santa Claus Announces His Headquarters for the Coming Holidays. Courts Discourage Begging.

MAYOR'S ACT HONORS THE CITY.

The following paragraph appeared in Wednesday's Chicago Tribune among other matter relative to the measures on foot for the suffering miners of the Gogebic range:

Nate Kaufman, the mayor of Marquette, says there are some hungry people in that county but that they will never have a hungry minute this winter. He told Michigan's visiting relief committee that they would not only take care of their own poor but do much toward helping the more unfortunate in the upper peninsula. To give this statement a gold bullion value he ordered a carload of flour to the Gogebic miners at once and said more would be sent if it was necessary.

A MINING JOURNAL reporter found Mayor Kaufman out of the city yesterday and sought his father, Samuel Kaufman, as the one most likely to know about the son's generous gift. The elder Mr. Kaufman was at first reticent but when shown the Chicago Tribune's paragraph, said:

"As the facts have come out at the other end of the line I will say that the statement is true. My son does not believe in advertising his charities and earnestly requested myself and his brothers to say nothing whatever about it. He did, some days ago, send a carload of flour from the Valley mills here to the Gogebic range miners."

No one doubted that Mayor Kaufman would be found in the front rank in the work of charitable relief on the Gogebic range, but THE MINING JOURNAL is glad that his modesty in such matters has not, on this occasion at least, been able to prevent his receiving proper credit, despite his efforts to keep the facts from the general public.

Santa Claus' Headquarters.

"Where do you propose establishing your headquarters in Marquette this Christmas?" asked a MINING JOURNAL reporter yesterday of an old man with long white hair and beard and a fat jolly face whom he caught taking measurements of chimneys. "I think I shall tackle Bigelow's," answered Santa as he jotted down some figures and put away his rule. "Have you looked into Bigelow's yet? Well you ought to for to my mind he has one of the best assortments in this city. I want to put my office some place where I can quickly supply any of my goods that I may run short of and Bigelow's appears to fill the bill to perfection."

"Just look at his display of jewelry, silverware and handsome French china!" Here Santa Claus slid down from the top of the chimney, brushed the brick dust from his furs and towed the reporter around to Bigelow's place.

"There is what I call an assortment," he continued, "something for any taste and any purse. A present for the kid who possesses only a nickel as well as for the man with a bank account as long as your arm. Look at that cut glass; those dainty coffee cups and saucers; artistic pitchers and rare vases! All the newest patterns and from the best factories and potteries. Gaze on those lamps, see that beautiful assortment of solid silverware back in the cases. Catch on to that array of plush goods, case jammed full, no room for air even. Wait back here with me and look at dolls till your head swims. Did you ever see a better selection of dolls than that? All the way in price from five cents to $5. Real human hair, eyes that shut and bodies that squeak. Delish and wax kids that warm my soul!"

"What do you think of those toys up on the shelves. Big lot? Well I should say so. I'll pick a good many of those for Marquette youngsters, you bet your life! And I'll swipe one of those elegant sewing machines for some tired needlewoman and fill many a child's stocking with the best candy—"

"By the by, just step here and satisfy the cravings of your sweet tooth by sampling Bigelow's creams. Nothing finer made on earth. Fifty cents a pound or $3, just as you wish and all prices between those figures. I tell you if you want good Christmas candy, put up in style, that will cause your Mary Ann to fall on your neck and break every cigar in your watch pocket, you just mosey down to Bigelow's and get a supply quick for they are going like a Dakota cyclone."

"Yes, sir, I think I shall just camp here till this chimney climbing business is passed. I wish I had time to chat with you longer but I struck a chimney up in Ridge street that needs some special study, one of those with elbows and flues in and I must hump along. But if you want anything for Christmas take Old Santa's advice and go to Bigelow's," and the fat, jolly old man slipped out the back window and was off in a trice.

As the reporter left the store he noticed that Bigelow was also the leading newsman of Marquette and well supplied with the holiday numbers of leading periodicals.

In the Justice Courts.

Thursday afternoon, on a warrant issued by Justice Cray, Thomas Dushane, an old man of seventy-seven years, was arrested, tried as a vagrant and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Dushane has friends in the city but they are not able to provide for more than their own families, still the old man would persist in living upon them and as he required considerable attention the burden was not a light one.

On application to Captain Blanchard, some time ago, Dushane was placed in the county house. While this appeared to be the best place for the almost helpless old man, he did not take kindly to it and a few days ago left there saying he would beg his living. He seemed possessed of a fancy that some person at the county house was going to do him an injury and refused to stay longer.

Under these circumstances his friends saw no other course than to ask the courts to deal with him as an ordinary vagrant. Undoubtedly, under the circumstances, the county house is the old man's best home but he is growing childish and full of fancies and it is hard to convince him what is best.

Fred Johnston was also arrested yesterday for vagrancy and sentenced by Justice Meads to thirty days in the county jail.

An Educational Drama.

Steele Mackay's picturesque drama, "Paul Kauvar," will receive a presentation here next Wednesday night, Dec. 13, at the Marquette Opera House. The company playing this thrilling tale of the reign of terror is headed by H. Coulter Brinker, and is accounted excellent. The theme of the drama is one well chosen for the presentation of fine stage effects, and the interesting story told is cleverly colored with the awful agony of a time which witnessed the overthrow of a kingdom and presented a lurid panorama to the gaze of a startled universe. No attempt has been made at the introduction of historical personages, but the scenes and spirit of the French revolution are powerfully conveyed with an intensity which is truly thrilling.

Seeing this play will give a clearer idea of one of the most important events of modern history than weeks of reading of Carlisle, Burke or Hugo. It is an era crowded by France into a year and by the playwright into two hours.

Seats are now on sale at Bigelow's news depot. Fifty men are wanted on the stage door at 6:30 o'clock that evening.

Trainmen's Ball.

The fifth annual ball of L. L. Hood Lodge No. 10, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will take place Monday evening, Jan. 1—New Year's night—in the Casino rink. Supper will be served at the Hotel Marquette and Hughes' full orchestra will supply music.

Trainmen will run a special train January 1, from Ishpeming to Marquette and return, for their dance, as follows: Leave Ishpeming at 7:30 p. m. Leave Negaunee at 7:45 p. m. Arrive at Marquette 8:30 p. m. Leave Marquette at 3:00 a. m. Leave Negaunee at 3:50 a. m. Arrive at Ishpeming 4:00 a. m.

Parties holding ball tickets will be entitled to free transportation to and from Marquette, providing they attend dance. Tickets not good on regular trains.

At the Marquette Club.

At the Marquette club Monday night Archdeacon Williams will give an address on "The Citizen and His Duty to Party." This will be the postponed meeting which the club announced some weeks ago and which was set aside at that time through the illness of Archdeacon Williams.

The same preparations which the club announced before will hold good on this occasion and those invited are courteously requested to attend and make this commendable departure of the club a pronounced success. The speaker needs no introduction to a Marquette audience.

Only One Case.

Dundon of Ishpeming appeared for Mrs. Robbins and E. J. Mapes of this city for the defendants.

There is no one instrument, unless, indeed, it be a large pipe organ, capable of the variety of effects that are obtainable on the Aeolian. Unlike the pipe organ, however, the Aeolian is adapted to all classes of music; overtures and symphonies can be rendered on it with all the softness and delicacy of the flute and violin and cello and all the snap and brilliancy of the piano. See and hear them at Conklin's.
