WALKED OUT OF OGDEN.

Governor of Utah Sustained by Courts in Rejecting Coxe's Pilgrims.

CROWD ESCORTED TO THE LINE BY CAVALRY.

Court Says They Can Be Driven Out by Force if They Refuse to Go

GOVERNOR WEST TRIUMPHS

OGDEN, Utah, April 11.—The "Industrial Army" has gone. Judge Minor heard arguments on the question of granting a supplementary order directing the United States marshal to remove the invaders from the territory. The arguments consumed most of the afternoon. The final decision of the court was that the order be so modified as to authorize the territory officials to use force in putting the "army" out of the territory, provided it had not moved out by 10 o'clock tomorrow. The decision is a complete vindication of the position taken by the territorial officials and Marshal Brigham and his deputies are instructed to enforce the order of the court. The Southern Pacific officials now say they will bow to the decision of the court.

The "army" marched out at 4:30 p. m. guarded by an escort of cavalry. The pilgrims moved up town and halted in front of the court house, where Leader Kelly made a speech. Three cheers were given for Ogden and then the "army" marched east, still escorted by the Utah cavalry, which accompanies them to the Wyoming line. The "army" camped tonight at Untah, eight miles east of Ogden.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 11.—A special from Untah, Utah, to The Tribune says the "Industrial Army" will leave that place for the east at 12:30 tonight in twenty box cars on the Union Pacific road.

OAKLAND, Cal., April 11.—The female brigade of the "Industrial Army" is being organized here. Two hundred names are now on the list. Arrangements are being made for transportation east.

WADED THROUGH THE SNOW.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 11.—Coxey's army started on its trip over the mountains at noon. The inclement weather detained many from witnessing the departure.

CHALK HILL, Pa., April 11.—The march of the Commonwealth from Uniontown to this point was made in a driving snow storm with the ground covered with a foot of snow. The men were weary with the tramp and glad to rest here. Camp was pitched in the old stage house near here.

SCORE OF LIVES LOST.

Two Fatal Wrecks on the Treacherous Jersey Coast.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., April 11.—The life saving crew this morning reported a vessel ashore near the Squam station. Shortly afterwards another vessel was reported ashore off Highland Beach. The furious sea and blinding snow prevented any effective measures for rescue. The vessel wrecked off Squam was the Albert W. Smith, coal laden from Philadelphia to Providence. She was driven ashore before daylight, the storm obscuring the lights. Her crew of eight were all drowned and so far no bodies have washed ashore. The other vessel was the Kate Markee, a three masted schooner and her entire crew of twelve was also lost. Shortly after the second vessel struck her masts went by the board and several of her crew were washed away and drowned. Six sought refuge on the bowsprit but were washed off one by one. One made a gallant attempt to swim ashore and actually reached boating when the strong under tow swept him out to sea again. Another clung to the spar for a time but finally gave up and fell into the sea.

For twenty-four hours the most serious northeast gale in fourteen years has prevailed along the coast, causing much damage to bulkheads and shipping. At Morgan, along the line of the New York & Long Branch railroad, the tide today was higher than known in ten years. At Matawan and Keyport the tide swept several small vessels in upon the meadows. At Normandy-by-Sea the ocean and the Shrewsbury river joined forces over land. New Jersey Southern trains between Sea Bright and Highland Beach are all abandoned. The tracks are a total wreck and portions of the road have been washed out to sea. At Long Branch the tower of the Oceanic Fire company's house with its large bell fell crashing into the street. The bulkhead in front of the Madison flats was badly damaged and may go to sea. Along the Jersey Central railway to Tom's River the high tides have done enormous damage and the sea has formed little lakes for considerable distance inland. The beach far down the coast is strewn with wreckage and the wind has blown a gale all day.

WIRES WERE BADLY TANGLED.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Among the great sufferers by the terrific storm which held New York and almost the entire country east of the Alleghenies in its clutches for the past twenty-four hours were the telegraph companies. There was almost complete prostration of the telegraphic service. On routes that ordinarily contain fifty to one hundred wire possibly two or three were workable. Despite these tremendous odds the telegraph companies co-operated so effectively with the Associated Press that the public experienced no inconvenience.

Incoming steamers this afternoon report a tremendous gale blowing outside for the past twenty-four hours. The four story brick building in course of erection at Thirty-seventh street and Third avenue, Brooklyn, was blown down this afternoon but no one was hurt. The big ocean tug Underwriter sank today in the East river in attempting to make a landing but the crew escaped.

Green Point, L. I., reports great damage to shipping. The oyster schooner Nevada and the lumber sloop John Morgan were driven ashore and stove to pieces. Many vessels, large and small, are dragging their anchors and will be wrecked unless the storm abates soon. All bathing houses belonging to the Oceanic Hotel have been demolished.

HEAVY FALLS OF SNOW.

BUFFALO, April 11.—Snow has been falling for twenty-four hours, wet and heavy and ten inches deep. Communication by wire is very difficult. The storm seems general at this end of the state. Hundreds of men are at work clearing the streets and railroads.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—A snow and wind storm has been raging for twenty-four hours. Telephone and telegraph wires are useless. All the trains are much delayed. In the mountains the snow is eighteen inches deep.

CUT OFF FROM THE WORLD.

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 11.—Menominee has been without telegraphic communication with the outside world since Monday. The heavy wind and snow storm broke down the fire alarm, telephone, electric light and telegraph wires. The principal business streets were filled with broken poles and tangled wires. The damage to city and telephone and electric companies is estimated at $3,500 to $4,000.

ONLY ONE ESCAPED.

MILWAUKEE, April 11.—A yawl boat drifted ashore several miles north of this city being the unconscious form of Captain Wood, the only survivor of the schooner Island City. The other two men who comprised her crew are undoubtedly lost.

STAND BY PROTECTION.

Oregon Republicans Adhere to Party's Well-Considered Policy.

PORTLAND, April 11.—The Republican state convention met here today to nominate a full ticket to be voted for in June. The nomination for governor lies between C. F. Fulton of Astoria and N. P. Lord, chief justice of the supreme court. Congressman Ellis will be renominated. The platform reaffirms the policy of protection; condemns the Democratic tariff program and denounces the party for discriminating against producers and in favor of manufacturers; reaffirms the national platform of 1892 as to money and bimetalism; commends the proposition for an international monetary conference; favors the construction of the Nicaragua canal; demands rigid restriction of foreign immigration for protection labor against vicious and ignorant classes.

COKERS STILL RIOTING.

Bloody Battles Only Avoided by Workers Joining Strikers.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 11.—War has broken out again in the coke region and the situation is most critical. Rioting and raiding have been in progress since early morning and fierce battles have only been averted by concessions by the companies. It is reported that that at attempt was made at Youngstown to shut off the air, which would have suffocated workers.

GENERAL STRIKE ORDERED.

COLUMBUS, O., April 11.—The United Mine Workers' convention has ordered a general strike April 21.

ONE SENSIBLE IDEA.

Tennessee Populists Want Senators Elected by Direct Vote.

NASHVILLE, April 11.—The Populist state convention met here today and is likely to nominate Professor A. L. Nims of Davidson county for governor. The afternoon session was mainly devoted to speech-making. Ben Terrell of Texas being the most noted speaker. This evening the platform was adopted; it demands a national currency of full legal tender for public and private debts, issued direct to the people; free and unlimited silver coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1; a circulation of $50 per capita; a graduated income tax; the abolition of internal revenue and the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

BULLET PROOF COAT.

Its Inventor Poses Successfully as a Target and Is Unhurt.

BERLIN, April 11.—[Copyrighted.]—Military experts are extremely interested in experiments with the bullet proof coat invented by a tailor of Mannheim named Dowe. Enveloped in the garment the inventor allowed shots to be fired at him from one of the most effective military rifles and was uninjured. A blanket of similar material was placed on a horse and the animal was not even disturbed in feeding by the shots fired against it. The inventor claims that a warship covered with this material will resist the heaviest cannon. The coat weighs but six pounds. Its material and method of manufacture are secret.

FIFTY NATIVES SLAIN.

British Company's Forces Win a Battle in Uganda.

LONDON, April 11.—Advices from Uganda say the British East Africa company's forces engaged Kaborregas, the most powerful chief of the district, and defeated him. The fight lasted three hours, after which the enemy fled, leaving fifty dead upon the field.

SIGNED WITHOUT READING.

Mr. Jochim's Testimony as to His Manner of Conducting Official Business.

ALWAYS SIGNED PAPERS WITHOUT EXAMINATION.

Both Sides Have Presented All Their Evidence and Arguments Will Begin This Morning.

CARELESS BUT NOT CRIMINAL.

MASON, Mich., April 11.—In the trial of ex-Secretary of State Jochim for falsifying the salaries amendments returns testimony was offered tending to show that Jochim knew the canvass was false when he signed it. This proof was furnished by Edward K. Havens of the state land office, who swore that armed with a letter of introduction bearing Jochim's signature, he visited the counties of Oakland, Barry and Shiawassee about one month after election and examined the county clerk's records of the canvass of the vote on the salary amendment. It thus appears that Jochim at this time, which was two weeks before the canvass was signed by him, took a lively interest in the matter. Finally the prosecution rested its case, but the defense demanded that other witnesses be sworn, but the prosecution claimed that its case was sufficiently strong.

The theory of the defense is that the ex-secretary took no interest whatever in the canvass, and signed without question whatever his clerks presented to him for his signature. It alleges that Haven's trips were made at the instance of Marcus Peterson, formerly clerk of the board of auditors, of which Jochim was chairman, and the board allowed his bill for expenses. Three witnesses swore that Peterson kept tab on the amendment vote as received from the counties and knew from day to day just how the totals stood. He is under indictment for conspiracy in connection with the frauds.

A large number of witnesses testified to Mr. Jochim's good character. Mr. Jochim himself testified that he always signed documents in his department without examining them. Arguments will begin tomorrow.

MERE QUESTION OF LAW.

Jenkins Investigation Has Practically Accomplished Nothing.

MILWAUKEE, April 11.—The members of the Jenkins investigating committee left the city today. The stenographer has not yet written out the testimony but it will be forwarded to Chairman Boatner within two or three days and the committee will then review it and make up its report. From expressions of members of the committee it is not believed there will be two reports. Chairman Boatner said: "It has resolved itself into a mere question of law, which will be passed upon by a higher court in due time."

THE MEN WILL APPEAL.

MILWAUKEE, April 11.—The attorneys of the railway organizations have decided to appeal to the court of appeals from Judge Jenkins' ruling on the motion to modify his Northern Pacific strike order.

OMAHA, April 11.—The hearing of the petition of the American Railway union for an order restoring the salaries of its members on the Union Pacific road was concluded today in the United States district court before Judge Dundy, who took the case under advisement and announced that he would render his decision Friday.

LOOK-OUT BEGINS TODAY.

Contractors Say It Is Made to Force Arbitration.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Pursuant to the decision of the Central Building league and a majority of the builders of Chicago the lock-out of all employes engaged in the building trades begins tomorrow. No man affiliated with a trades union will be taken back to work until a general agreement is reached for arbitration of all differences. Representatives of both sides say a long fight is imminent while others declare that the lock-out will not last much longer than the present week.

ON GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

Ed Cash Hanged by Mob for Reasons Unknown.

GATESVILLE, Tex., April 11.—The people of this locality are terribly wrought up over the murder of Ed Cash by a mob Monday. Cruelty was added to the crime by the victim being dragged from home in the presence of his invalid wife and strung up to a tree but a few yards distant. Not satisfied with this the mob riddled the lifeless body with bullets while the wife prayed for the deliverance of her husband. The murders have not been captured. Mrs. Cash, who has been married but a year, is momentarily expected to die. What prompted the murder is unknown.

PLEASURES OF PARIS LIFE.

PARIS, April 11.—A bomb was exploded in front of the house of a justice of the peace who has been active in enforcing the laws against anarchists, considerably damaging the building. One man has been arrested.

IN A BAD WAY.

The most enthusiastic Democrat cannot deny that his party is in a bad way at this writing. It has control of the general government and both houses of congress; Democrats fill most of the federal offices and all the machinery of the government is in their hands; nevertheless there is no hopefulness in the party and the most sanguine of its individual members admit that it is doomed in advance to certain defeat in the coming elections, which will determine the political complexion of the representative branch of the next congress.

Only a little over a year ago that party assumed control of the government under the most encouraging auspices. In the elections preceding it had not only elected the president of its choice but had carried several states that had been previously Republican. It had elected an overwhelming majority of members of the house and had captured a sufficient number of state legislatures which were to elect United States senators to ensure a Democratic majority in the senate. The Republican party, on the other hand, was crushed and dazed by an unexpected and undeserved defeat of unexampled magnitude. As between the two great parties which have for so many years contended for supremacy in national affairs as well as in the states it seemed when Cleveland was installed for his second term that the one had entered on a long period of power while the other was so shattered and broken that it would be years before it could recover its discipline and courage sufficiently to enable it to make a good fight for its former position of proud ascendancy in national affairs.

Contrast the condition of the two parties today! The Democracy is divided into warring factions on the silver issue and the tariff issue, its spirit broken and its hope destroyed, while the Republican party is compact and harmonious, full of confidence in the future and brimming over with courage and audacity.

No slight cause has brought about such a marvelous change in the relative condition of the two great parties within so brief an interval. The change wrought during a single year has not come without good reason for it, and the intelligent observer has not to seek far for its explanation.

Since coming into power the Democrats have simply demonstrated their incapacity to govern the country on definite lines of policy. The majority in congress has been untrue to the avowed principles of the party, and the people have been taught by the vacillation of the Democratic leaders to doubt the correctness of the theories of finance and tariff taxation which the party was placed in power to put into effect.

President Cleveland was elected with a full knowledge on the part of the voters who supported him that he was opposed to depreciation or degradation of the currency in any form. And yet when he called congress together in an extraordinary session to repeal the mischievous silver purchase act Democratic senators fought repeal viciously for weeks and would have defeated it but for the votes in favor of repeal cast by a majority of the Republican senators.

There the Democratic fight against the president elected by the Democratic party started—or, rather, was first openly revealed.

Next came the regular session, when the recalcitrant Democrats in both houses of congress further disclosed their hostility to the president by joining with the Republicans to defeat his scheme for the settlement of the Hawaiian difficulty. Then came the tariff reduction measure to which the party was pledged by its platform declarations in the last election and the utterances of its press and speakers during the campaign. Here again it appeared that the party was disunited and full of divergent ideas as to what should be done. An influential wing was for modified protection, the majority in the house favored a compromise measure, and the result in that branch of congress was the Wilson bill, which was neither a protection nor free trade measure, and satisfied nobody.

Then followed the mutilation of that bill by the senate committee to which it was committed and the openly avowed hostility to it, in the form in which it was reported to the senate, of several Democratic senators. Meanwhile the Bland bill for coinage of the silver seigniorage had been passed by the Democratic majority in the house and senate and had encountered the presidential veto, this giving added depth and width to the yawning chasm that separates the president from the major part of his party's representatives in congress.

In vetoing that bill the president rendered the country a great, an inestimable service. But in passing it the Democrats in congress did all in their power to throw the business interests of the nation into a state of doubt and uncertainty that would have been ruinous at this juncture, and gave further proof of their unfitness to have in their hands the work of legislating for a great nation.

It is now evident that the tariff reduction promised the country by the Democrats will not be given the people by this congress. Nor do they longer desire it. They have been led to believe by the actions and utterances of the very men who declared that it is necessary, and would be effected if the Democratic party should be placed in power, that it is neither necessary nor desirable. They now believe, and with the best of reason, that they were humbugged by a campaign cry, and they are biding their time until the next election, when they will record a verdict of reprobation and disapproval of the party that beguiled them in the canvass of 1892 with false pretences and promises that it either did not intend to keep or is incapable of making good.

The Democratic majority in congress is now engaged in a contest with its own president. It has only been saved by its firmness and sound judgment from giving effect to a vicious attempt to debase the currency and dishonor the nation. It has no fixed policy on any of the great issues before the country today and seems incapable of getting together on any important question of national legislation. Is it any wonder that the people are disgusted with the party that it represents, that there is deep discontent in the ranks of its voters, that defeat stares it out of countenance, when reason has departed from its councils and instead of lofty statesmanship and sound patriotism in its leadership we find cheap bickering, the exploitation of petty personal differences and the confusion that these inevitably breed?

COPPER IN 1893.

The Boston Transcript gives this information relative to the price obtained for their product during the past year by the principal Lake Superior copper mines:

All the more important Lake Superior copper mining companies of Boston interest which issue annual reports for the calendar year have made public their exhibits of operations in 1893. The Calumet & Hecla is an exception, but it does not give particulars of price received or of expenses of product, while the Tamarack reports for the year ending June 30. It may be interesting to see at a glance the price received, cost and net profit per pound of the companies whose reports have been analyzed in The Transcript during March. We compile the figures for four years:

Company	RECEIVED PER POUND.
	1893.	1892.	1891.	1890.
Quincy	10.47	11.95	12.84	15.35
Oscuela	9.48	11.77	12.5	15.51
Atlantic	10.62	11.9	12.57	14.94
Franklin	10.00	11.78	12.612	14.757
Kearsarge	10.85	11.45	13.38	15.08
TOTAL EXPENSES PER POUND.
Quincy	7.067	8.747	6.146	8.2
Oscuela	9.48	11.22	10.11	11.24
Atlantic	9.55	10.85	12.55	13.18
Franklin	9.77	6.24	9.45	8.177
Kearsarge	11.13	12.22	11.32	10.68
PROFIT PER POUND.
Quincy	3.41	2.518	3.695	7.15
Oscuela	1.47	2.35	2.89	4.27
Atlantic	1.07	1.05	0.2	1.70
Franklin	0.23	2.54	3.162	6.62
Kearsarge	0.28	0.77	0.6	4.04

Loss per pound.
It will be seen that the companies received a materially lower price in 1892 than in 1891, but that as a rule they reduced expenses so as to make a good showing in the net profit, save the Franklin, which increased its expenses materially by reason of exploration, paying its dividends from surplus. The Quincy made a substantial gain in its net profit as compared with 1892 on a material reduction in average selling price of its copper. This summary may be made of the four dividend payers—Quincy, Oscuela, Atlantic and Franklin:

Company	Average price per pound received by 4 Lake Superior copper mining companies.
	1893.	1892.	1891.	1890.
Average price per pound	10.512	11.654	12.631	15.149
Average cost per pound	8.967	9.480	10.384	10.199
Average profit per pound	1.545	2.153	2.317	4.95

It will be seen that the four companies received an average of over one cent per pound less for their copper in 1893 than in 1892, two cents per pound less than in 1891, and 4 1/2 cents per pound less than in 1890. Their average received in 1893 was but about half a cent per pound more than average cost in 1890. It will be noticed that average cost was about half a cent greater in 1893 than in 1892. The Quincy and Atlantic made a marked saving in expense of production. Oscuela increased about a third of a cent for reasons above noted. The Quincy got nearly a cent per pound more profit in 1893 than in 1892, despite its lower average selling price; the Atlantic maintained its average, while Oscuela got more than a cent per pound less and Franklin half a cent less. The Kearsarge lost a quarter cent per pound against three-quarters in 1892 by reason of saving over a cent per pound in expenses. The difference between an average net profit of almost five cents per pound in 1890 (4.5 cents for the four companies) and a cent and one half in 1893 is sharp, and is a striking evidence of the effects of over-production, followed by general business depression. An unpleasant element in the situation at present is the fact that thus far in 1894 the price of lake copper has ruled a full cent per pound under the low average received by the companies in 1893. According to last year's figures the Quincy cannot be getting more than 3 1/2 cents profit on current sales, while Oscuela's last year's cost was just about the present market price, although there is no doubt that it is not costing the Oscuela anything like 9 1/2 cents to market a pound of copper now, and the same doubtless is true of the Atlantic and Franklin.

DO YOU OVERWORK?

Do You Get Exhausted and Irritable?

Such Conditions Mean Much More Than You Think.

How to Do the Most and Best Work Without Getting Tired.

People are ambitious, they want to better their condition and to have the good things of life. To do this they overwork and put too great a strain on their strength and nerves. In consequence, the nerves become weakened and the person soon loses the power to work as much as formerly.

When the nerves are weak the heart also becomes weakened. Severe heart disease is liable to follow if this condition is not checked. Weak heart causes poor circulation, indigestion and many other troubles. It is a dangerous condition to neglect. The following letter written by Mr. W. A. Phillips of Moretown, Vt., gives some interesting information:

"I have been troubled with heart disease and indigestion, not being able to do a full day's work for some time. I employed physicians and used many remedies, but was not benefited by them. I have seen Dr. Greene in the last few months when I would have given anything to be able to do a good day's work."

MR. W. A. PHILLIPS.

"I finally commenced using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and in a very short time derived more benefit from its use than any medicine I had ever taken. I think it the best medicine I have ever used. I highly recommend this remedy to all the sick and suffering."

If you are working harder than you ought and feel any of the symptoms coming on, or if you cannot work readily and easily, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and you will be cured. It will strengthen and build you up so that you can work as much as you ever could. Take it now, in the spring, for this is the best time to be cured. Everybody needs a spring medicine and this one is doing more good than any other known remedy.

It is purely vegetable and harmless. Dr. Greene, its discoverer, is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted at his office, 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city, free, personally or by letter.

Permanent Good
Long and Discouraging Illness With Symptoms of Consumption

All Medicines Fail Except Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen:—Ten years ago, my wife's health began to fail. I consulted a physician, and for one year she remained under his care and took all the medicine prescribed, but still grew worse. We then consulted other physicians, and she doctored off and on for four years without any improvement. As her mother died of consumption, and I expected my wife would go the same way. However, feeble as my wife was and though

Given Up as Incurable by the physician, I could not give up hope, and she still clung to life. Then we began to try different medicines. We found that of all the preparations taken, a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla had seemed to do her the most good, so she determined to take that medicine again. I bought six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and while taking this lot she seemed to get better. This was so encouraging, after so

Long and Discouraging Illness, that she continued with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Her health has improved and she has ceased to complain. She is still taking the medicine, and feels so much better and stronger that we believe her to be in perfect health. Altogether,

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures
we have spent $25 for Hood's, a very small amount compared to the big bills in those four years, and considering the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has done her permanent good." JOHN L. NICHOLS, No. 225 Springfield Ave., Canton, O.

What one Grocer says:

"I hire clerks who can sell the goods that I tell them to sell and of course I tell them to sell the goods on which I make the most money. If they can't do it, I won't have them. That's what I hire them for."

This is an actual fact related by a grocer to our salesman—and it's a common fact; we have it daily. So, you see, when they tell you that some worthless or dangerous washing-powder is "the same as" or "as good as" Pearlina, that's because it pays a larger profit. Too large, altogether, if clerks can be hired on purpose to make people take things they don't want and know nothing of, instead of a tried and proved article like Pearlina. If your grocer sends you what you do not order, be honest—send it back.

It Has Struck the Copper Country!

Just what the honest buyer knows will save him money has been adopted at

Vertin Brothers

Mammoth Store

RED JACKET, MICH.

HERE IS THE POINT. A NEW DEPARTURE. On the old plan the honest, prompt paying customer pays for the loss incurred by the dead beats. On a cash basis there are no dead beats. Today many persons pay high prices for an entire year for the sake of getting a ten or eleven per cent rebate at the close of the year. We give 20 to 40 per cent when goods are bought which knocks the wind out of waiting 12 long months. You want to know how we can do it. 1st—We have no high salaried bookkeeper; no manager to pay; goods sold at small profits turned over twelve times a year for cash only will make money for us. The mistake of the pass-books are avoided. Our sales people can sell three times as many goods as the credit dealing clerks. We invite your close inspection of our prices and methods to convince you of what we have said.

OUR NEW LINE OF Groceries and Provisions

To our large variety of Dry Goods and Clothing, etc., we have added a large department of Groceries and Provisions which we will sell at Steinmeyers & De Cremer's prices. On only a few very heavy, low priced goods will we make any freight charges, and in this case our car-load rates are very much lower than you could get freight for. So if you now send your money away for goods you will be the loser as we will sell the best goods at the same prices charged in the large cities you send to. We also save you lots of bother and expense, as well as the risk of losing your money. With us you see what you buy. Come in any time after Saturday, March 17, 1894, and we will save you from 20 to 40 per cent.

YOUNG ATHLETES DESERVE A CROWDED HOUSE.

Poundmaster's Work Made Vain by Fisher's Fears and Threats of Lawless Cow-Owners.

[All communications for copper country department intended for publication should be addressed to A. F. Isler, Houghton.]

HANCOCK. Through the courtesy of General Secretary Massman the writer witnessed the full dress rehearsal last evening of the gymnastic exhibition and concert to be given in St. Patrick's Hall tomorrow evening and can pronounce it fine in every respect. The Houghton Silver Cornet band was present and rendered selections for each number. The boys showed very careful training and all did nicely. The program opens with an overture by the band, followed by a male chorus of twenty-four voices. The grand tableau next shows the whole number of performers, thirty-five, and is neatly arranged and very pleasing to the eye. The dumb-bell drill by the junior classes will be sure to please as the work done by the little fellows shows excellent training and lots of hard work. The members of the senior class will do some very neat tricks on the horizontal bar and the wand drill by this class—something new—will be fine, the movements being very tasteful. The junior classes perform some good feats on the vaulting horse for boys so young and the class club swinging will be one of the best features of the entertainment. Dr. W. H. Dodge and Allen F. Rees' vocal duet will be much appreciated as will the senior class on the parallel bars. Without doubt one of the best numbers on the program is the club swinging by J. M. Wagner, as is also the pyramids by the senior classes. The program will end with another selection by the male chorus. Those who do not attend will miss one of the best entertainments ever given in this city. There are still a number of good seats which can be secured at the association building without extra charge.

The poundmaster began his duties Tuesday and succeeded in getting nine cows in the pound. There was a great deal of kicking by the owners but none of them got around to pay the fine so the cows remained locked up until after supper. Then Mr. Fisher, the owner of the barn where the cows were locked up, got scared by the numerous threats he heard and turned the cows loose, giving as his reason that he was afraid of his place being burned. There is now talk of building a pound, which will probably be done in the near future.

TALKED TO EMPTY SEATS.

"Senatorial Courtesy" Evidently Does Not Include Hearing Peffer's Speech.

House Gets Into Its Usual Childish Wrangle and So Wastes Still Another Day

OUR DO-NOTHING CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The senate after the transaction of some business of minor importance resumed the consideration of the tariff bill. Mr. Morgan referred to the manifesto of the Minnesota Democratic association, in which he and other Democratic senators are alleged to be in league with Hill, Gorham and Pugh in opposition to this bill. He characterized the manifesto as "The French method of trying a man in his absence and without serving notice on him."

Mr. Hale followed in opposition to the tariff bill. Mr. Peffer then began the second installment of his speech. At one time during his remarks there was only one Democrat, one Republican and one Populist visible on the floor.

Mr. Quay made the point of no quorum. Enough senators came in during roll call to make a quorum and Peffer resumed his speech. Debate on the tariff bill was suspended and at 5 o'clock Mr. Vilas was made chairman of the committee on postoffice and postroads. The senate then took up the urgent deficiency bill, which was discussed without action. Then the senate went into executive session, at the conclusion of which it adjourned.

He spoke most of the day and not having finished asked the court for an adjournment shortly before 4 o'clock, as he was greatly exhausted. Judge Bradley granted the request and remarking that he noticed a large crowd outside the door suggested that Breckinridge might go out before the spectators, which the defendant seemed glad to do. Miss Pollard was not in court.

Youthful Precocity.

Mr. Ruskin is an instance of precocity as remarkable as Thirlwall, though he did not begin to publish so early. He began to write "books" at six years of age. His first dated poem was written a month before he reached the age of seven. A poem he wrote when seven years old reminds Mr. Collingwood (see "Life," 1893, vol. I., page 36) of "Blake's best touches." His first appearance in print was in the Magazine of Agriculture in 1834, when he was fifteen. Macaulay, too, was an infant prodigy. He wrote a compendium of "Universal History" and three cantos of a poem in imitation of Scott when he was seven years old. Mrs. Browning (Elizabeth Barrett) read Homer in the original at ten years of age, and her poem, "The Battle of Marathon," was printed while she was still a child. It is said to have been written when she was eleven or twelve, a sufficiently early age at which to produce an epic in four books.—Notes and Queries.

Easy for Him.

Scribblers—Talk about literary work as drudgery! I don't find it so. My writing is done with perfect ease. I don't revise. I don't often read over what I've written.

She—Not read over?

Scribblers—No, madam.

She (convinced)—Then, indeed, your work must be easy for you.—Judge.

—Because dull, dusty shoes will absorb heat from the sun, earth and air, but shoes brightly polished throw off the heat of the sun by reflection.

—One of the latest fads for rich women is to have a cast made of the hand, the ear, the nose, or the foot, as the case may be of course each selecting the particular feature which will best repay immortalizing. The hand is the member which receives the most universal notice. A beautifully posed white plaster hand resting on a velvet drape has a place in more than one fashionable boudoir.

EXPERTS IN HANDWRITING.

Specialists Who Determine Authorship—Scientific and Skillful.

Regarding the methods made use of to determine authorship, specialists are naturally reticent. Some of them have admitted, however, the nature of the leading principles which guide them. The philosophy of the matter rests mainly on the fact that it is very rare for any two persons to write hands similar enough to deceive a careful observer, unless one is imitating the other. "Fists," like faces, have all some special idiosyncrasy, and the imitator has not merely to copy that of someone else, but to disguise his own.

By careful and frequent practice he may succeed well enough to deceive the ordinary man, but is rarely successful in baffling the expert. Even the most skillful culprit can not wholly hide his individuality, as he is sure to relapse into his ordinary method occasionally. Then, again, great care has to be used, and this can be detected by the traces of hesitancy, the substitution of curves for angles and vice versa, which come out very plainly when the writing is examined under the microscope, as it usually is by the expert.

A plan of detection which has been adopted with great success is to cut out each letter in a doubtful piece of writing, and paste all the A's, B's, etc., on separate sheets of paper. The process is also gone through with a genuine bit of calligraphy of the imitator or the imitated, as the case may be. Comparison almost invariably shows that the letters are less uniform if imitation has been attempted, the writer being occasionally betrayed into some approach to his ordinary calligraphy, or momentary forgetfulness of some special point in the handwriting he is simulating.

No point is too small to escape an expert's attention. The dotting of "i's," the crossing of "t's," the curls and flourishes, the intervals between the words, the thickness of the up-stroke and the thickness of the down-stroke, are all noted and carefully compared. Where only a signature has been forged, and that by means of tracings from the original, the resemblance is often so exact as to deceive even the supposed author, but in these cases the microscope is generally effective in determining not merely the forgery, but the method by which it was accomplished. It is some comfort to know that the cunning of the forger is overmatched by the scientific skill of the trained expert.—Chamber's Journal.

WOMEN CENTENARIANS.

Remarkable Cases of Longevity—Young at Eighty-Six.

It is an acknowledged fact that a great age is attained by women oftener than by men. One of the most famous female centenarians was the countess of Desmond, who lived to be one hundred and forty-five years old, and died in the reign of James I., from the effects of an accident. This wonderful woman found herself, at the age of one hundred, so lively and strong as to be able to take part in a dance; and when she was one hundred and forty she traveled all the way from Bristol to London—no trifling journey in those days—in order to attend personally to some business affairs.

Lady Desmond is, however, quite thrown into the shade by a French woman, Marie Prion, who died in St. Colombe in June, it is said, at the wonderful age of one hundred and fifty. Toward the end of her life she lived exclusively on goat's milk and cheese. Although her body was so shrunk that she weighed only forty-six pounds, she retained all her mental faculties to the last.

It is an extraordinary but incontestable fact that some women at the age when most people die undergo a sort of natural process of rejuvenation—hair and teeth grow again, the wrinkles disappear from the skin and sight and hearing reacquire their former sharpness.

A Marquise de Mirabeau is an example of this rare and remarkable phenomenon. She died at the age of eighty-six, but a few years before her death she became in appearance quite young again. The same change happened to a nun of the name of Marguerite Verdun, who at the age of sixty-two lost her wrinkles, regained her sight and grew several new teeth. When she died, ten years later, her appearance was almost that of a young girl.—N. Y. World.

THE GEM

Pile Treatment

A GUARANTEED CURE.

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES

IF YOU HAVE THE PILES, NO MATTER HOW BAD, IT WILL CURE YOU.

THE GEM PILE REMEDY is the discovery of a man who for many years had suffered with a most stubborn case of piles, and who had tried many remedies without avail. He brought about a permanent cure by the use of the Gem Treatment, and since curing himself, has cured every one who has come to him with this painful malady, for treatment. The Gem Treatment is entirely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It is not repulsive; neither does it interrupt any person in the pursuit of his employment. There are no restrictions as to diet or habits. A cure is guaranteed in every case, no matter how long the patient may have been a sufferer, nor how serious the malady is. If you are a sufferer from piles, try a box. Instructions for using in every box. PRICE, $1.00 PER BOX.

TESTIMONIALS!

The following are a few of the many testimonials received from those using the Gem Treatment. The testimonial was in almost every case a voluntary offering. Read them over and prove to yourself their bona fide character.

MARQUETTE, MICH., JAN. 29th, 1892.

To Whom it May Concern:

This is to certify that I have had the piles for the past twelve years, and have just used one-half bottle of Gem Pile Treatment. I can recommend it as a safe cure for itching, bleeding and protruding piles, as I am perfectly free from them now.

Gentlemen—You ask me what I think about the "Gem Pile Cure". I can recommend it as being the best remedy made. As I have said to you before, I had the piles for sixteen years. I tried different remedies and also different doctors, but without success. When I began taking the "Gem Pile Cure" I was worse than I ever have been. This was two years ago; I took the box I got from you and can say it cured me permanently.

Yours truly, CHAS. A. EGGERS, Bookbinder.

GEM TREATMENT CO.

Gentlemen—I have been troubled with hereditary Piles and have tried almost every known remedy without effecting a cure. I had almost decided my case incurable; but hearing of the Gem Treatment, I decided to give it a trial and am pleased to state that I am cured and can heartily recommend it to any one suffering with this dread disease. I offer this testimony feeling it my duty towards suffering humanity. I remain

Gentlemen—This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been troubled with piles for two or three years, and could not find anything that would entirely cure me until I tried the Gem Pile Treatment. After using two boxes I became entirely free from the trouble, and now am not bothered with it. I consider myself fully cured.

BAY CITY, MICH., OCT. 27, 1893.

GEM TREATMENT CO., Marquette.

Dear Sirs—I trust you will excuse my delay in acknowledging the receipt of the packages of "Gem Treatment for Piles", which you sent me.

They gave me almost immediate relief, and I take great pleasure in recommending them to my friends as far superior to any treatment I have ever used. The second package that you sent me, I divided among some of my friends, one gentleman and two ladies, "all stubborn cases" and in each case they claimed to have received immediate relief and no return of the trouble since using. They can not say too much in favor of the Gem Treatment.

Enclosed you will find a Chicago Dft. for one dollar and I would thank you to send me another package.

I shall hand your address to one of our leading druggists, and shall be pleased to do what I can to introduce the Gem Treatment in our city.

Yours respectfully, J. M. LEWIS, 1304 8th St.

John Gordon left for Nestoria yesterday. George McBernie is still at work hunting for Gordon's timber which broke boom some time ago and was carried out into the bay. Fifty pieces were recovered this week and it is not thought that much more of the scattered property remains to be found. The search has meant a great deal of work but the result is very satisfactory.

J. H. LaRoche places an attractive display advertisement in this issue which will undoubtedly prove interesting reading to the people of Marquette. Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week are announced as La Roche's millinery opening days and he invites every one interested in this line to call and inspect his large and varied stock of spring and summer goods.

H. C. Hamill's display of wall paper this year is up to the mark. It not only shows good taste but a thorough knowledge of the people's wants, good paper in artistic patterns at reasonable prices. His stock consists of the latest styles and designs and he carries a large assortment. Mr. Hamill employs none but competent paper hangers, and assures all who may favor him with their custom entire satisfaction. He suggests the advisability of inspecting his stock and learning his prices before beginning spring house cleaning and renovating.

W. D. Boggus, of Covington, Ga., wears a ring made from the bone of an Indian warrior whose remains were recently exhumed on Dog Branch, near Covington. There were a number of curiosities in the place where the body was found, such as beads, stone pipe, ax, flints, etc., and by these it was presumed to be the bones of "Big Dog," the Indian chief after which the branch took its peculiar name in the year 1798.

In 1713 an actress appeared on the stage of a Paris theater in the character of a rustic Greek maiden in the time of Pericles. She wore a panier five yards in circumference under a skirt of silver gauze, trimmed with puffs of gold and pink crape, and bouquets of natural roses here and there fastened to the material. The underskirt was of pink silk, and garlands of roses were fastened on it with sashes of silver cloth. Her train was six yards long.

The first railroad west of the Alleghenies was built from Lexington to Frankfort, Ky., in 1831. The road was laid out with as many curves as possible, the engineers declaring that this was an advantage. The cars were in two stories, the lower for women and children, the upper for men, four persons being seated in each compartment. The cars were at first drawn by mules, but after a time a locomotive was made by a Lexington mechanic. The tender was a big box for wood and a hoghead was provided for water, which was drawn in buckets from convenient wells. In place of a cowcatcher there were two poles in front fitted with hickory brooms for sweeping the track.

WORKING GIRLS IN DANGER.

Rush for Spring Goods Doubles the Strain on Tired Shop Girls-Vacations a Long Way Off-How Many Keep Well and Strong.

"Oh men with sisters dear, Oh men with mothers and wives, It's not the linen you're wearing out, But human creatures' lives."

If Thomas Hood could have looked into one of the big retail stores in any city with the endless streams of eager buyers and the pale-faced shop girls behind the counters, he would have included women as well as men in his appeal for more humanity.

In order that some may go finely clad and have leisure, the thousands of tired working girls must wear out health good looks and strength, by long, close hours in offices, behind monotonous store counters and in factories.

"Women," as Dr. Weir Mitchell says, "are by physiological nature more liable to be nervous and thin-blooded than are men." It is a sad drawback in the face of the duties of life that a very little emotional disturbance, anxiety or nervous strain suffices to overcome the woman as it does not the man, and that the same excesses which make him irritable make her nervous.

The greatest friend tired, feeble women have today is Paine's celery compound, the remarkable discovery of Professor Edward F. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., of Dartmouth college. This great nerve regulator and blood purifier yet known is the mainstay of a great proportion of the homes throughout the country where nervous weakness and feebleness have entered. Paine's celery compound begins at once to rebuild the shattered nerves and nerve centres all over the body. It is the one great spring medicine, because it quickly removes impurities from the blood; gives new life and vigor by filling every tiny ramifications of the blood vessels with rich, red blood capable of making healthy tissue.

"The difference between the knowledge of today," says a well-known scientist, "and that possessed before Dr. Phelps' studies of the nerves and their intimate connection with every process in the body, is enormous. Dyspepsia, for example, is now ranked as a nervous disease, and, as in the case of other nervous weakness, it is readily curable by attending closely to the nutrition of the nerve centres with Paine's celery compound. Diseases of the kidneys, heart and the liver are cured in the same radical way by providing abundant and appropriate nutrition for these parts."

"Not more food, but better" is the watchword of the best medical skill-better food for nerves and nerve centres. When the system is completely nourished and the craving of the nerves called neuralgia, rheumatism and heart trouble ceases.

"There is one remedy deserving the name of spring medicine-that is Paine's celery compound," said a very careful physician. "Sick headache, sleeplessness, mental depression and lack of energy are cured by Paine's celery compound. It makes people well."

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her household work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. As yet Mayor Johnston has not decided on a date for the meeting but says that it will be held within a very few days. He says that there are a few of the new aldermen who have not yet qualified. He is desirous of giving them time to get around before calling the meeting.

Not in the history of the city have so many applications for places on the police force been filed as this year. There are also quite a few applications in for some of the other places. Up to yesterday noon the city recorder had received between forty and fifty applications for the different jobs. It is presumed that at least as many more will be filed within the next two or three days.

The position most sought for is poundmaster. Many seem to think it a more desirable place than that of police officer. One of the aldermen-elect yesterday said that twelve or fifteen persons had asked him for his vote for the poundmastership.

Shovel Brigade Out.

The storm that prevailed Tuesday was the means of giving employment to a dozen men under the supervision of the street commissioner. The sidewalk plow was taken out and run over the principal walks of the city, after which the shovel brigade cleared the sidewalks. On Tuesday very little was accomplished as the storm raged all day and the snow would fill the walks within a few minutes after the plow had passed over them.

Yesterday every important crosswalk in the city was cleared and the snow was also removed from many of the sidewalks. The snow disappeared quite rapidly yesterday and indications point to a general break-up of sleighing again today.

The Small-Pox Patients.

Yesterday Health Officer Barnett informed THE MINING JOURNAL that Lucas and Beer, the two young men who were taken down with the small-pox a little over three weeks ago, are improving rapidly. Lucas is still confined to his room but Beer is permitted to come down stairs. Beer had the disease in a much milder form than Lucas, as he had been vaccinated a few days before he was prostrated.

The health officer feels quite confident that the disorder will not spread here. The patients and the other occupants of the house will not be permitted to leave the premises for at least ten days or two weeks yet. By that time the health officer thinks all danger will have passed.

The "Horses" Not in It.

The third of a series of indoor baseball games was played by members of the Ishpeming Snow Shoe club at the clubhouse Tuesday evening. In two games previously played the "Horses" were easy winners, but this time the "Ponies" did some lively playing and it is said, walked all over their staid opponents. They heavy boys now claim that they allowed the lightweights to win this game just to encourage them. Another game will be played next week when the liveliest contest of the season is anticipated. If the "Ponies" win the next game a saw-off game for the championship will be played.

Little Fishes.

Word has been received here from the Michigan Fish commission that 20,000 young brook trout will arrive in Ishpeming next Tuesday. Arrangements will be made by local parties to take the fish to the Escanaba river and its tributaries on their arrival here. The fish are expected to arrive on the Soo train reaching here at 3:15 in the afternoon.

Last year about this time a number of fish were also received and were successfully planted in the streams in this vicinity.

SUFFERERS FROM PILES AND RECTAL DISEASES.

Have Now a Simple but Effective Cure. Modern medical science and skill has at last succeeded in producing a remedy which effectually cures that common, but extremely annoying trouble, piles.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the remedy referred to and repeated and thorough trials of the remedy during the past three years have demonstrated that it is the long sought for remedy which can be depended upon as a genuine cure. There are many remedies which give relief, but such relief is only temporary and the trouble soon returns as bad or worse than ever. But the Pyramid Pile Cure stands practically alone as a lasting cure. It not only gives immediate relief but the relief is there to stay.

Mr. J. W. Rollins, a gentleman living at Sweet Springs, Mo., writes briefly and to the point regarding his experience with piles, he says: I consider the Pyramid Pile Cure without an equal. It cured me in less than thirty days. I waited fifteen days or more to be sure the remedy had fully cured me before writing you. I can now say I am cured and I shall recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure at every possible opportunity because it deserves it.

We quote from this gentleman's letter to show our readers how promptly the remedy acts and also that there is no return of the trouble.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is simple and harmless, containing purely vegetable ingredients and can be used in all cases with perfect safety and with the assurance that a cure will follow. Physicians prescribe it and use it in all cases of piles in preference to the danger and uncertainty of a surgical operation. It cures without pain or inconvenience of any kind.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Alhion, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at one dollar per package, making it the safest, surest, cheapest pile cure before the public and one you can try with almost certain success.

FAIRY AMPUTATION TALE.

Dame Rumor Cuts Off Little Girl's Arm on Account of Vaccination.

THOUGHTLESS GOSSIP DEVELOPS SENSELESS STORY.

Careful Investigation Fails to Discover the Filmiest Foundation for the Arabian Night's Fable.

FLAT FOOTED CONTRADICTION.

Two of the best defined provinces of the newspaper are to publish truth and expose falsehood. Under the latter head may safely be placed nine-tenths of ordinary rumors and one of them THE MINING JOURNAL had the pleasure yesterday of running to earth, pinning there and proving utterly without a particle of truth. Late Tuesday evening a reporter of THE MINING JOURNAL was told that a little daughter of Anton Manthei had her arm amputated that day at St. Mary's hospital on account of serious effects arising from vaccination. The story was told with all circumstance and detail and appeared on the surface as trustworthy a piece of news as any newspaper could wish to handle. As a physician's name was coupled with the rumor in a not very complimentary manner and publicity might have a serious influence in combatting the efforts of the health department in doing all in its power to protect citizens against small-pox, the reporter decided to go slow until he could obtain some verification of the alleged amputation. St. Mary's hospital was telephoned, but the sister at that late hour in charge knew nothing of an amputation of any kind during the day. A visit to Mr. Manthei's house found all in bed and the matter was allowed to rest until yesterday.

When seen by the reporter yesterday Mr. Manthei laughed heartily at what he was fortunate enough to dub a good joke. He said his family was in fair health and while each of the children had experienced a more or less severe time through vaccination they were all doing nicely at present. He said his little boy was having the hardest time as he was entertaining, in addition to his "vaccinate" several robust boils. This settled the truthfulness of the report and the news man next set about trying to find some reasonable foundation upon which it might have been based.

The health officer was seen and after listening to the reporter's story laughingly said: "I have been asked a dozen times about that amputated arm today and for the life of me cannot imagine how the senseless rumor gained currency. I know of no case of vaccination in the city which could possibly be twisted or magnified into anything serious enough to start such a foolish tale."

"Perhaps the fact that Mr. Manthei's little girl was attacked with scarlet fever two days after being vaccinated by the family physician, both troubles making her pretty sick, may have started gossip which by the isolation of quarantine has permitted to outlive the tale of the three black crows; on no other theory can I base the unusual rumor which has greeted me on all sides today. For the sake of the physician whose name has been by unthinking persons coupled unpleasantly with the chimerical amputation as well as to counteract any anti-vaccination ideas which the Arabian Night's tale may have given birth to, I think it would be wise to give it positive and wide-spread contradiction."

THE MINING JOURNAL with pleasure acts upon the health officer's hint and from its own investigations gives the baseless fabrication an unqualified denial first on Mr. Manthei's account, second on behalf of the health department and last, but not by any means least, in the interest of truthfulness and in opposition to silly gossip.

New Lumber Yards.

G. H. Fraser is moving his lumber yards from South Marquette and Washington street near his mills, to the Harlow property opposite the court house in Spring street. He is building a new, comfortable office which will be suitable for all seasons and roomy enough for the requirements of business.

The yard will be stocked with lumber, lath, shingles, brick and building materials in general. Wood will also be kept in good supply and ready for instant demand. Mr. Fraser will make these yards his headquarters for his different mills and other depots. He has not yet decided whether the mill out Washington street will be operated this season or not. The state of business will have to decide that although the prospects are the saws will be running before the end of the season.

The Cherry Creek mills are still running and will probably continue through the summer. They are making a specialty of cutting long timber, running in length from twelve to forty-six feet and for which there is quite a steady demand. Mr. Fraser is shipping quite a quantity of lumber materials to Ishpeming, the Soo and other outside points and while not making a fortune at present, is content considering the prevailing condition of trade. He considers the manufacturer or tradesman who holds his own now should consider himself fortunate.

Sprung Up Like Jonah's Gourd.

As an evidence of the way in which the hustling business men of Marquette really can hustle when they wish to accomplish a definite purpose the building of Louis Grabower's new branch store at Baraga may be cited. Less than thirty days ago Mr. Grabower, having secured a suitable lot, gave the contract for a two story frame store, complete, to be up and ready for occupancy at the end of one month. Ableson & Ducharme of this city had the matter in hand and at once got to work. They put as many men on the job as could comfortably work and yesterday, well within the limit of time, handed over the store complete even to the shelving, counters and all inside fittings.

Mr. Grabower expressed perfect satisfaction with the work and complimented Ableson & Ducharme not only on their speedy work but the first class finish of the main features and details. J. Wright, also of Marquette, had the contract for painting and glazing and will finish today, thus completing the store ready for the reception of goods. The store presents a thoroughly modern appearance and is a good specimen of first class workmanship even though its building was hurried with such lightning-like rapidity. The stock, new in every respect, will be opened and placed on the shelves and shelves today. Dry goods, carpets, boots, shoes, clothing, in short a representative general merchandise line will be offered to the good people of Baraga Saturday next under the management of Albert Grabower, who has been so long identified with his brother's business methods here as to well qualify him for conducting an equally successful and satisfactory business at the Baraga branch. Louis Grabower returned from Baraga yesterday and Albert will leave for his permanent residence there today.

Lamps on Wheels.

Superintendent Wilson of the city lighting plant and Electrician Wetmore of Wetmore & Co. have just finished and placed in the Peter White Public Library as neat a specimen of mechanical skill and neat wiring as the most carping critic could demand. It consists of five incandescent lights so arranged that they may be moved at will immediately behind the back of any book in the library and yet each lamp be entirely out of the way and not encumbered by yards of wire. To accomplish this a set of stout copper trolley wires was stretched between each set of book cases, up near the ceiling. On these were placed five little trolley cars made of brass wheels and fittings and from the center of which depended the wire to which was attached the lamps. The trolley car allowed of travel from end to end of the long rows of books, while an extension arrangement accommodated the slack wire, permitting the lamps to be raised and lowered at will. From the bare trolley wires the lamp got its current and the job was complete and successful.

The entire device is the neatest and handiest for the purpose the writer has ever seen. It adds wonderfully to the ease with which books may be found and avoids the burning of gas, which is not the best thing for book bindings. Every part of the clever arrangement was made by Messrs. Wetmore and Wilson, excepting the necessary brass castings, and the result is a practical compliment to the men's combined skill and Mr. Wetmore's careful wiring.

Tied William Up.

The Modern Woodmen, camp No. 991, last night confined their goat in a little log cabin and having thus removed the terror of the camp into safe quarters they threw open the doors of their lodge room and tendered a cordial and hospitable welcome to the general public of Marquette. The camp set a rapid pace for all lodges that in the future wish to trot in their class as entertainers. The guests were first regaled with a very pleasing program, consisting of music, recitations and addresses. The musical part was ably presented by Professor Sihler, the Misses Krieg and the Autoharp club. John Ralph, H. W. Zerbel and A. Mulhauser, by speech and select readings, explained the eccentricities of that mysterious quadruped, the lodge goat, and his special mission as an agent in the relief of mankind.

The women, as usual, were equal to the situation, and a situation such as presents itself wherever good appetites are assembled, demands victuals of a material, as well as intellectual, character. So the cap-sheaf of the program was fittingly adjusted in an adjoining room where tables were laden with edibles and drinkables, enough for all. Nobody was harmed, and everybody with a capacity for toothsome delicacies was made to feel at home. After this most of the staid and elderly heads of families retired to their homes and left the young folks to dance away the hours to music provided by Professor Sihler.

New Liquor Store.

About May 1 Dwyer Bros., the well known Front street jobbing and retail liquor dealers, will open another store in the Marquette Opera house block which will be in charge of James Dwyer. The first store east of the main entrance is being fitted up for the reception of an entirely new line of liquors, tobaccos, etc. It has been thoroughly cleaned and handsomely papered and when further embellished with new fittings will present one of the most attractive store interiors in the city. While the new store will be controlled by the same firm it will by no means be operated as a branch of the Front street store. The goods for the new stand have been ordered from below and are expected in time to have them placed and ready for customers by the end of this month. This will leave only one unoccupied store in the Opera House block and when Dwyer Bros.' attractive place is seen it will doubtless tempt some enterprising merchant to capture the only remaining one.

In addition to their great work entitled The Book of the Fair, the Bancroft company will soon publish the Resources and Development of Mexico, written by Hubert Howe Bancroft at the personal request of President Diaz, who issued a commission to gather fresh material from every quarter of the republic and aid Mr. Bancroft in every way in the prosecution of the work.
