TRAINS RUNNING AGAIN.

Many Great Northern Strikers in Trouble for Obstructing the Mails.

STRIKE ADVOCATE SLAIN BY COAL MINERS

They Preferred Working to Striking and in Resulting Wreckage Agitator O'Brien Was Stabbed.

STRIKE SEEMS ABOUT OVER.

ST. PAUL, April 22.—Locally there is little change in the Great Northern strike situation. United States Marshal Bede reached here today from Willmar, having got away from the mob there during the night, and will start out again tomorrow with an additional force of deputies. He says he will swear in between three and four hundred men if necessary to move the mail trains.

In the matter of the proposed conference with the strikers nothing has developed further than that the company will hear from its dissatisfied employes but only in person, the union leaders not being recognized until the employes designated them as their representatives.

ALL QUIET AT ST. CLOUD.

ST. CLOUD, April 22.—The train bearing the deputy marshals that left here at 8 o'clock for the west reached Fergus Falls at 1:30 last night and left at 6:30 for Barnesville, arriving there at 8 o'clock. The deputies met with no difficulties in getting out trains, though the strikers complained much. By clearing up business at Barnesville the marshals now have the line open from St. Paul to Neche, N. D. Twenty deputies remained there to guard the company's property. No arrests were made there up to 10 o'clock today. A big train from the west went through here at 4 and another at 6 o'clock.

Secretary Beahan of the local union and two of the strikers were taken down on the last train. Dispatcher Kittridge and Freight Agent Coswell were also taken as witnesses. Marshal Bordran took the two Olesons down late last night. President Froster received message from Hagan tonight to send down a committee of three tomorrow with instructions that there would be no concessions.

It is reported that the Hinkley and Osseo mixed trains carrying mails will be started out in the morning. All the ministers in the city addressed the railroad men and their families at the opera house tonight. Everything is quiet here.

WHAT ARE MAIL TRAINS?

ST. PAUL, April 22.—In the Great Northern strike one chief point of trouble has been over what constitutes a mail train. An Associated Press reporter tonight called on Superintendent Neilson of the mail service and found he had received an opinion from Attorney General Olney which says: "The statutes of the United States provide that every railroad carrying the mails shall carry on every train which may run over its route all mailable matter directed to be carried thereon with the persons in charge of the same. The statute also make it an offense for any person, knowingly and willfully, to obstruct or retard the passage of the mails. It has been decided by courts and is clearly the law that under these provisions it is an offense for any person, knowingly and willfully, to obstruct or retard the passage of a train carrying mails and it is no excuse that such person is willing that the mail car may be detached and run separately. He is bound to permit the mail to be carried in the usual and ordinary way, such as is contemplated by the act, of congress and as directed by the postmaster general. The penalties of the statute will be enforced for failing to obey the laws."

DEBS INSTRUCTS STRIKERS.

On receipt of this opinion Superintendent Neilson at once submitted a copy to President Debs of the American Railway union, who promptly acknowledged its receipt and stated he would immediately issue instructions to the men explaining matters and would make every effort to have the men pay due attention to the law.

The opinion of the attorney general has had a noticeable effect on the strike leaders in this city and along the line of the road, which effect is further apparent in the fact that the road is now clear from this city to Minot and trains on the Minnesota and Dakota divisions will be run as usual tomorrow.

It is believed the strike is practically over now, so far as the states of Minnesota and South Dakota are concerned, and the company can begin work on the states further west, taking them in order one at a time.

STRIKE AGITATOR SLAIN.

Flat Top Miners Want No Striking in Theirs.

BLUEFIELDS, W. Va., April 22.—Patrick O'Brien, who came here with other agitators from Ohio and Pennsylvania to try to induce the 25,000 miners of the Flat Top region to join the great coal miners' strike, was killed today at Turkey Ridge. O'Brien finished an address to the mine workers and then an Italian named Hanisoni addressed his countrymen.

"This man," he said, "would deprive your families of bread when there is nothing to be gained by striking."

O'Brien remonstrated with Hanisoni for opposing the strike and Hanisoni retorted: "You are here for the purpose of doing my people harm."

The lie was passed and Hanisoni, backed by an excited crowd, drew a knife and plunged it into O'Brien's body repeatedly, killing him instantly. The ## murderer escaped. The other strike agitators have disappeared.

MANY COAL MINERS OUT.

Reports at Mine Workers' Headquarters Say 125,000 Are Idle.

COLUMBUS, O., April 22.—President McBride of the United Mine Workers today submitted revised estimates of the big coal miners' strike. They show that more men struck in competitive districts and fewer in outlying districts than was anticipated but the total number of men out is 125,000. In Illinois, he states, there are 24,000 out of 35,000 miners idle. In Indiana, 6,000 out of about 8,000 and in West Virginia about 2,000 out of 9,000. Conventions will be held in Illinois and West Virginia Tuesday next when efforts will be made to bring all the men into line. There seems to be no doubt but that the suspension in Ohio and Western Pennsylvania is about complete. Organizers are most active in West Virginia and Illinois, Secretary McBride having gone to the latter state to address meetings. No reports received of disturbances.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 22.—Reports from the different districts are to the effect that the strike ordered by the National Mine Workers has gone into complete effect.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 22.—The miners of the Danville district decided at a mass meeting today to go out on a strike tomorrow. Two thousand men are affected.

MORE TROUBLE IS FEARED.

DETROIT, April 22.—On account of the attitude of many foreign laborers a renewal of hostilities tomorrow at Grosse Pointe is feared. An immense meeting of workmen was held in Arbeiter Hall this afternoon and was addressed by labor leaders in English, German and Polish. The speakers strongly urged the Poles and other laborers to stick to their position in demanding that city work be done by the day instead of by the piece, as proposed by the water commissioners. They also strenuously advised against any interference with those who may work or any disturbance of the peace.

The laborers were told that organization was the thing needed, but that under the circumstances their best course would be to remain away from the scene of last week's riot. The crowd far exceeded the capacity of the hall and an overflow meeting of the same character was held elsewhere.

Notwithstanding this advice, there will unquestionably be a great gathering at the scene tomorrow morning. Some of the more turbulent said today that they would as soon be shot as to starve and the situation will be strained at the start, to say the least.

Sixty deputies armed with Winchester rifles, besides several officers, will be on hand.

BAY CITY, Mich., April 22.—There are rumors that a general strike will be inaugurated among saw mill laborers tomorrow and that employes of all factories will be called out. The police force will be in readiness to promptly act in case of emergency.

The Longshoremen's union will tomorrow make formal objections to mill and vessel owners against the practice of permitting mill hands to load lumber.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Three thousand Italian street cleaners went out on strike at midnight. They demanded an increase of wages.

"IN DARKEST ALABAMA"

Three Negroes Hanged on Suspicion of Barn-Burning.

TUSCUMBA, Ala., April 22.—Tom Block, John Willis and Toney Johnson, all negroes, were lynched at midnight last night. About a month ago these three men were arrested for burning Claude King's barn. Late last night a masked mob of 200 men went to the jail and took the incendiaries out and led them to the Tennessee river bridge.

A rope was placed about each negro's neck and with the ends tied to the bridge timbers they were compelled to jump off. The fall broke their necks and the bodies after being filled with bullets, were left dangling. A number of barns were burned in Colborne county recently and the evidence pointed strongly to the three men who were hanged.

TOO DRUNK TO TALK.

Randy Churchill Makes Disgraceful Spectacle of Himself.

LONDON, April 22.—Lord Randolph Churchill, once the pet and rising hope of the Conservative party, whose speeches, even after he had wrecked his chances of highest political distinction, were always listened to with the deepest attention, was the principal in a sad spectacle in the house in the course of the debate on the dual annuity. He attempted to make a speech but was so intoxicated he could not follow his argument. The speech of Lord Randolph called forth a ranning fire of laughter from the Radical benches.

ONE SENSIBLE IDEA.

Put Men Who Will Not Work in the Chain Gang.

COLON, Cal., April 22.—At a citizens' mass meeting here resolutions were adopted asking Governor Markham, in view of the deplorable business depression and the destitution of an army of unemployed, threatening public and private property, to issue a proclamation requesting the boards of supervisors to provide public work for all able-bodied poor, houses for the ailing poor and chain gangs for those who will not work.

Was Weary of Life.

APPLETON, Wis., April 22.—Joseph Brettschneider, a well known and prosperous furniture dealer of this city, shot himself through the head while lying in bed. No cause is known for the deed.

ALL HELLAS IS SHAKEN.

Several Severe Earthquake Shocks Are Felt Throughout the Grecian Territory.

PROBABLY OVER TWO HUNDRED PERSONS KILLED.

Churches Collapse and Bury Their Congregations in Their Ruins—Immense Damage to Property.

"AND THE EARTH TREMBLED."

ATHENS, April 22.—Earthquake shocks that began Friday night continued with more or less frequency until noon today. All last night the oscillation of the earth was noticeable and people in this city were in a state of semi-panic.

In the three villages of Malaisia, Proskina and Marume, in the province of Locris, one hundred and twenty-nine persons were killed. A shock occurred at Proskina while services were being held in the church. The walls of the church fell, burying all the worshippers in the ruins. Thirty were taken out dead. At Malaisia sixty were killed. In some cases entire families were taken out of the ruins of their houses dead.

At Martine thirty-nine were killed. Here, as at Proskina, the church was the scene of the greatest number of fatalities. In the vicinity of Athens the fatalities are less numerous but the damage to property is immense. The government is giving all the aid possible.

In the districts affected the total number of deaths thus far reported is one hundred and sixty but there is scarcely any question that this number will be augmented when the more remote villages are heard from.

LONDON, April 22.—A despatch to the Times from Athens says that the earthquake destroyed eight villages in the district of Atalanti. In this district alone forty-eight persons were killed and several hundred injured. Monasteries of St. Martinos and Proskina were destroyed.

The pier at Pelli was rent asunder and sunk below the waters of the harbor. Large boulders were detached from the mountain of Braganza and some of them fell upon the shepherd's houses that were clustered at the foot of the mountains and all inmates of the huts were crushed to death.

Extremely violent shocks were felt throughout Bulgaria and the islands in the vicinity. The walls of a number of houses in Athens were cracked and partitions thrown down. Heavy pieces of furniture were thrown in some instances almost across the room, and pictures were ruined by being thrown from their hooks.

Another violent shock occurred at Chalois at noon today, causing an immense amount of damage.

THE LOS ANGELES WRECKED.

Four Lives Lost by Her Stranding off Point Sur.

MONTEREY, Cal., April 22.—The Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer Los Angeles, bound north, ran on the rocks at Point Sur lighthouse, thirty miles south of Monterey, last night. The steamer sank in a few minutes and the passengers and crew took to the boats. Three boatloads reached shore at Point Sur. Two other boatloads and a raft containing other passengers and members of the crew were picked up by the steamer Eureka this evening. Four dead bodies have been recovered and Captain Leland was reported in a critical condition. All the ladies and children were saved and brought here on the Eureka. The passengers and crew numbered over seventy. The names of the four dead have not been learned.

When the Los Angeles struck the passengers were nearly all in their berths. The first crash was followed by scenes of the wildest confusion. Frightened men and women and children swarmed the decks, nearly all in their night clothes. The vessel's stern was all under water and the water was rushing in forward. The vessel was fast upon the rocks and settled to farther into the sea.

MORE SMALL-POX CASES.

New Ones in Milwaukee—Two Chicago Schools Closed.

MILWAUKEE, April 22.—Joseph Bryan, suffering from the small-pox was last night removed from the marine hospital to the city isolation hospital by order of Health Commissioner Wingate. Bryan is a sailor who has been working at Manitowoc until recently. He came here last Wednesday and being taken ill applied for admission at the marine hospital on North Point. Dr. J. M. Allen attended him and yesterday became convinced that the man had small-pox.

John Lynch, who came here from Ashland, was removed to the isolation hospital tonight with a well-developed case of small-pox. He spent the day in a saloon with the striking longshoremen and many were exposed.

DULUTH, April 22.—R. L. Montgomery, who came to Duluth ten days ago from Chicago and who was ill all last week, was last night pronounced to have small-pox. He was removed to an improvised hospital and the board of health is arranging to build an emergency hospital. Montgomery has been four days in a local hospital and all the patients were today vaccinated.

CHICAGO, April 22.—It developed today that two of the public schools, the Froebel and the Pickard, have been closed for several days on account of small-pox.

ALL CHEERED FOR KELLY.

The Commonwealth Chief Received With Enthusiasm in Two Iowa Villages.

FARMERS TURN OUT TO GREET HIM AS HE PASSES

Boston's Socialist Howler Talks to Crowd on the Common but Stays at Home.

COXEY'S GLORY ECLIPSED.

NEOLA, Ia., April 22.—Kelly's army ended its first day's march from Council Bluffs here at 5 o'clock this afternoon and immediately went into camp in a grove just east of town. The entry into Neola was triumphant. Almost every man, woman and child of the 1,100 inhabitants went out to greet the 1,800 men. Stores and vacant buildings were thrown open and the weary men offered all available shelter.

The start from Camp Weston was made at 8 o'clock. Hundreds of people had gone out from Council Bluffs and Omaha to see the beginning of the long overland march and a dozen wagons heavily laden with provisions awaited the moving of the column. The day was perfect and rapid time was made. From every farmhouse flags were flying and at every cross road gaily decorated wagons and carriages awaited the coming army.

The little town of Underwood was reached about noon and a sumptuous repast had been prepared by the enthusiastic villagers. When the meal was over and the impromptu speeches done the march was resumed. On every hand the deepest sympathy for Kelly and his men was expressed and farmers and townsmen alike are eager to supply the wants of the Commonwealthers. Condemnation of the railroads in refusing transportation is as violent here as at Council Bluffs and Omaha. As an ironical expression of feeling regarding the calling out of the Iowa militia the citizens here formed a company of little boys and girls to greet the advent of the army. The badges and banners of the infantile brigade bore the inscription "Neola militia." Throughout the day there was no scene of disturbance or disorder and the plan of seizing a train has been abandoned.

Tomorrow the Commonwealthers move to Avoca, eighteen miles away, and if promises made today are fulfilled, 150 wagons will be provided for transportation. General Kelly said tonight that whether his men ride or walk they will steadily move forward for Des Moines. There the army expects to secure a train for Chicago.

SOCIALIST SWIFT'S HOWL.

BOSTON, April 22.—Seldom has Boston Common held such a vast gathering as the assembled there this afternoon to witness the departure of the Boston delegation of unemployed to Washington, where they hope to join Coxe's army and assist in the appeal to congress for "justice."

Morrison I. Swift, the leader of the movement, delivered a speech denouncing the wealthy monopolists and everybody that did not sympathize with the socialist platform. Swift also submitted a letter to be sent President Cleveland, which was adopted by a "yes" in this letter Swift says: "At first thought it may seem to the national authorities that the simplest way of dealing with those penniless unemployed persons who are pressing their way across the country to the capital would be to employ some form of strict and stern repression. This is the opinion of 'The Army and Navy Register,' which calls upon you to gather the regular army to protect yourself, congress and the national buildings. The custom is the old one of resorting to the liberal use of bullets to check the rising desire of starving persons for food and work."

"The truth is that before tranquility is restored there will have to be a readjustment of the conditions of wealth. You may not realize that the case is grave. When have American citizens acted in this manner before? Is there not wealth enough? Wealth must be better distributed. You can endeavor to have these people provided with proper food while in Washington. We who remain at home will await your action attentively."

At the conclusion of the meeting Fitzgerald, commanding forty-five men, started on the march to Washington.

COMMONWEALERS STRANDED. WILMINGTON, O., April 22.—Colonel Galvin with 200 Commonwealthers is stranded here, the railway company refusing to carry them further.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., April 22.—After a three days stop at this place Coxe's army is preparing to march on to Frederick and a start will be made at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

GROVER CONTRIBUTES.

He Also Praises Work of National Democratic Clubs.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—President Cleveland has forwarded the following letter to Chauncey F. Black, president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs:

WASHINGTON, April 21, 1894. To Hon. Chauncey F. Black: DEAR SIR—I have carefully read the communication you lately placed in my hands setting forth the future purposes and present needs of the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

The achievements of this organization should be familiar to all who are interested in the continuation of Democratic supremacy and should enlist the encouragement of those who appreciate the importance of any effective dissemination of political doctrine. Your association has done much by way of educating our people and in teaching the particular subjects which are recognized as belonging to the Democratic faith. But it seems to me its best service has been the enforcement and demonstration of the truth that our party is best organized and most powerful when it strives for principles instead of for spoils and that it quickly responds to the stimulus supplied by its enlistment in the people's cause.

This acknowledgement of the important services rendered to the advance of true

MORE DAYS OF TALKING.

Senate Will Continue Its Tiresome Expenditure of Idle Wind.

SENATORIAL GAS-BAGS ARE NOT EMPTY YET.

House Will Work on Appropriation Bills With Chance of Wrangles Over Coxe's Army.

THIS WEEK IN CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The prospect is that the tariff debate in the senate will continue this week much on the same lines as have been observed since the agreement for regular hours of debate was entered into. Notwithstanding the arrangement that the reading of the bill by paragraphs shall be begun Wednesday at 1 o'clock the Republicans are counting upon a continuance of this program for at least another week and expect to go on with speeches just as they have been doing for the past three weeks.

PROGRAM OF THE HOUSE.

Appropriation bills will continue to occupy the attention of the house during the coming week after tomorrow, which under the rules will be devoted to the consideration of business reported from the District of Columbia committee. The only possibility for varying the program is the precipitation of debate on some resolution in connection with the coming of Coxe's army. The Populists may spring some resolution bearing on the subject which would throw it open for discussion.

FATAL RACE WAR.

Three Men Are Dead and Thirteen Are in Jail. TALLULAH, La., April 22.—As the result of a race war which began on the Dancy place in Madison parish yesterday Charles J. McFarland, manager of the place, and one negro named Harris Williams are dead, one white man is badly wounded and thirteen negroes are locked up with prospects of more trouble before the end of the coming week.

QUICK TIME TO PRISON.

Train-Wrecker Syres Gets Two Years Behind the Bars. RICHLAND CENTER, Wis., April 22.—William Syres, who was arrested Thursday for attempted train wrecking, was sentenced by Judge Clementson in the circuit court yesterday to two years in the state prison. The prisoner pleaded guilty and begged the mercy of the court.

CRUSHED BY THE CARS.

Tom Harrigan Dies from Injuries Received at Pembine. IRON MOUNTAIN, April 22.—[Special].—A young man named Tom Harrigan was crushed between two cars on the Milwaukee & Northern, near Pembine, last night. He was brought to St. George's hospital in this city, where he died four hours later. He was from Clinton, Iowa.

A Story of Lucy Stone.

A characteristic story is told of Lucy Stone. At one of her early lectures, when she made a strong statement of the injustice some of our laws did to women, and an appeal to have them righted, a hiss, clear and strong, came out of the audience. The little creature stepped nearer to the front, quickly ran her eye over the audience, fastened her eyes upon one point and said: "Somebody hisses. I am glad of it. Hiss it again, my fat friend, for it is a shameful fact and deserves to be hissed!" The audience was overcome with laughter and appreciated her ready wit. The man felt as much like a goose as a man can feel. He got his head down before she had finished her sentence, but her finger still pointed at him. His head went lower and lower, and as soon as the audience turned from looking at him, he slipped out and was gone.

STARVED HIM OUT.

Colonna Trying to Adjust Things With His Wife. ST. LOUIS, April 22.—A dispatch to The Republic from its New York bureau says the Princess Evelyn Mackey Colonna, who fled to the United States with her three children last February after an unsuccessful effort to obtain a separation from her husband, is booked to sail for Europe in June. She has reached an amicable understanding with her husband and their domestic differences bid fair to be settled. The prince made first overtures for settlement.

MOVED IN THE ICE AGE.

Huge Boulders Carried All the Way from Canada to Kentucky.

Prof. A. R. Wallace states in the Fortnightly Review that an immense area of the northeastern states extending south to New York and then westward in an irregular line to Cincinnati and St. Louis is almost wholly covered with a deposit of drift material, in which rocks of various sizes are imbedded, while other rocks, often of enormous size, lie upon the surface. These blocks have been carefully studied by the American geologists, and they present us with some very interesting facts. Not only are the distances from which they have been transported very great, but in very many cases they are found at greater elevation than the place from which they must have come.

WONDROUS EXPERIMENTS.

The Serbian Electrician, Tesla, Able to Furnish Light Without Using Wires. It is not an extravagant statement to say that never before in the history of the world has there been a scientific discovery about which centered such magnificent dreams as are being built up on certain recently discovered electrical principles. Among these the foremost place, according to the Springfield Republican, must be given to the astounding discoveries of the young Serbian genius, Nikola Tesla, which are so novel and so extraordinary that the most imaginative of inventors are unable to foresee what form their development will take. Just as experiments were beginning to think that they knew all that could be learned about electricity, and that further improvement must be in the line of more perfect mechanical application, Mr. Tesla shows us the electric fluid under conditions in which it differs from ordinary electricity as much as light differs from heat. A current of two thousand volts will kill a man in the twinkling of an eye, but this modern wizard lets currents pour through his hands with a potential of two hundred thousand volts, vibrating a million times a second and showering from him in dazzling streams of light.

The wildest dream of the inventor could not have foreseen that while currents of low frequency are deadly, these are harmless. Mr. Tesla says that he will soon be able to wrap himself in a complete sheet of electric fire that will keep a man warm at the north pole without harming him. Neither Merlin nor Michael Scott nor any of the wizards of old ever worked a more potent miracle, even in fancy. The meaning of this is too far beyond us to be realized at present. We can no more grasp its significance than Franklin could discern the electric motor in his captured thunderbolt. Equally astounding and with more visible usefulness is Mr. Tesla's discovery that currents of such enormous potential and frequency can be transmitted without the use of wires. A room can be filled with electricity from copper plates in ceiling and floor, so that electric lamps will burn without any connecting wire as soon as they are brought in. In the same way intelligence and power may be transmitted without a circuit, doing away with the necessity for trolleys, storage batteries and subways. When it is considered that such startling changes as this are already theoretically possible, it will be seen that in the inventions upon which we so complacently congratulate ourselves we have only timidly paddled along the shore of the great sea yet to be explored.

PRETTY FACES BEHIND VEILS.

Moorish Women Sometimes Let Their Screens Fall. Writing about Moorish women, Richard Harding Davis says: "There is something continually interesting in the muffled figures of the women. They make you almost ashamed of the uncovered faces of the American women in the town, and, in the lack of any evidence to the contrary, you begin to believe every Moorish girl you meet is as beautiful as her eyes would make it appear that she is."

"Those of the girls whose faces I saw were distinctly handsome; they were the women Benjamin Constant paints in his pictures of Algiers, and about whom Pierre Loti goes into ecstasies in his book on Tangiers."

"The robe or cloak, or whatever the thing is they affect, covers the head like a hood, and with one hand they hold one of the folds in front of the face as high as their eyes. The only times I ever saw the faces of any of them were when I occasionally eluded Mohamed and ran off with a little guide called Isaac, the especial protector of two American women, who farmed him out to me when they preferred to stay in the hotel."

"He is a particularly beautiful youth, and I noticed that whenever he was with me the cloaks of the women had a fashion of coming undone, and they would lower them for an instant and look at Isaac, and then replace them severely upon the bridge of the nose. Then Isaac would turn toward me with a shy, conscious smile, and then blush violently. Isaac says the young men of Tangiers can tell whether or not a girl is pretty by looking at her feet. It is true that their feet are bare, but it struck me as a somewhat reckless test for selecting a bride."

THE QUEEN'S ANNUAL BATH.

Once a year the queen of Madagascar bathes in public in the presence of as many of her subjects as can crowd into the palace courtyard. In former years she was wont to descend the marble steps innocent of raiment, but since the advent of whites she wears a loose robe and disappears behind a screen. Here the ablutions are performed amid much splashing. The screen was introduced to satisfy the missionaries. When the queen emerges from behind the screen her complexion is at least three shades lighter than before. Then all the loyal subjects shout, and taking it for granted that the queen has bathed, they disperse to their homes and do likewise. After the annual bath they all feel uncomfortable, but a few days suffice to make them feel and look natural again, and all goes well.

THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE.

James Payn tells an amusing story concerning a well-known club in Pall Mall. A member lost his umbrella there and caused the following notice to be put up in the entrance hall: "The nobleman who took away an umbrella not his own on such a date is requested to return it." The house committee took umbrage at this statement and summoned the member who had composed it before them. "Why, sir," they said, "should you have supposed that a nobleman had taken your umbrella?" "Well," he replied, "the first article in the club rules says that 'This club is composed of noblemen and gentlemen,' and since the person who stole my umbrella could not have been a nobleman, he must have been a nobleman."

LASSIES GRABBED LADDIES.

The Curious Origin of Woman's Right to Propose in Leap Year.

Some one asked me the other day the origin of the privilege being accorded to women to propose during leap year, says a writer in an English paper. Not being an expert on the subject, I handed the question on to an energetic friend, who undertook to look the matter up and let me know the result. This is what she discovered:

It appears that in the year 1288 a statute was published by the Scotch parliament, ordaining that during the reign of "Her Most Blessed Majesty Margaret" every maiden and lady of high and low estate should have liberty to speak to the man she liked. If he refused to take her to be his wife she should have the privilege of fining him one hundred pounds, or less, according to his estate, unless he could make it appear that he was betrothed to another woman, in which case he would be free to refuse. After the death of Margaret the women of Scotland became clamorous for their privileges, and to appease them another act of parliament allowed them to propose every fourth year.

The reply to the query as to why the limit is now restricted to seven years comes not so trippingly to the tongue, but doubtless some other energetic soul can furnish the key to this little puzzle.

Millions of Brain Pictures.

It is computed by leading physiologists that since one-third of a second suffices to produce an impression on the brain, a man who has lived to be one hundred years old must have collected upon the folds of his brain matter at least 9,467,280,000 impressions. Or, again take off one-third for sleep, and we still find not less than 6,311,520,000 indentations—memory's finger-marks—on and in the brain. This would give 3,155,760,000 separate waking impressions to the man who lives to be but fifty years old.

John E. Burchard, deputy collector of customs at the Soo, was a Queen City visitor yesterday.

Mesdames D. Gleason and P. J. Bezeau returned Sunday after spending a week visiting friends in Duluth.
J. H. Gillett, the well-known local tug man, arrived home Sunday, after spending the winter in Chicago and Detroit.

There will be a special meeting of Mesnard Council, National Union, tonight, at which a full attendance is requested.
James Wright has returned from Baraga, where he finished his contract painting and decorating Grabow's new store.

Manager Charles Hanck of the Marquette Ideal orchestra will play with Clifford & Stecker's orchestra at Ishpeming tonight.
The Trammens will meet at their hall at 1 o'clock today to arrange for attending the late Robert Dory's funeral. Members of the other railway orders are requested to meet with them.

Mrs. Michael Atfield died Sunday morning at her home Spring street, aged seventy-five years, after a lingering illness. The funeral will take place Tuesday at 9 a. m. from St. Peter's Cathedral to the old Catholic cemetery.
A goodly number of the Sons of St. George assembled at their hall yesterday morning and marched to St. Paul's church to attend their annual church parade. Rev. Brown-Serman preached an appropriate sermon and special music was furnished by the choir.

Mrs. Anna A. Barrington, aged seventy years, died Saturday at 9 a. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. F. Beals. Deceased had been a resident of Marquette since 1868. The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of L. F. Beals.
Brother knights of both Presque Isle and Iron Cross lodges are requested to meet in Castle Hall, Fraternity block, at 1:30 o'clock p. m. today to form in marching order to attend the burial of the late Knight Robert Dory. Visiting knights will also be gladly welcomed.

Rev. Dr. Bonar occupied his pulpit in the Presbyterian church yesterday, preaching a very interesting sermon. He had not quite recovered from the fatigue of travel but hopes to preach at both services next Sunday. The Young People's society of Christian Endeavor conducted the evening service.

Died, of paralysis, at his home, 424 West Hampton street, Friday, at 10 o'clock a. m., John Lehigh. Mr. Lehigh was born Sept. 6, 1841, and came to Marquette three years ago. He had a paralytic stroke last July, one in August and a third Friday, which caused his death. He leaves a wife and ten children. The funeral will be held from the house today at 2 p. m. Services will be conducted at the Methodist church by the Salvation Army.
The woods out near Dead river mill, Presque Isle park and other suitable spots, actually swarmed with arbutus flowers Saturday and yesterday. A number of strangers visiting in the city, among them several drummers, took advantage of the day and the street cars yesterday and went in hunt of the fragrant blossoms. It will require a few more days of sunshine to bring the flowers out in satisfactory numbers.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by H. Stafford & Co.

Queer Clothes in Japan.
In an article in Harper's Weekly on Tokio, Japan, the writer has ever so many funny things to tell about the dressing of those natives who want to wear the dress of the Europeans and do not know how to manage it. Sometimes, he says, one sees a man in European boots, a Japanese robe, a loose overcoat, an English hat, and holding a paper umbrella over his head! But once upon a time, at a ball at Kioto, this is what happened: "A very noble seigneur appeared, according to etiquette, in a black dress coat, waistcoat and trousers, but he also wore socks without shoes, and a waistcoat, cut very low, left the hairy chest of the Daimio exposed to view. This great man knew nothing about shirts or patent-leather shoes, and thought he was in correct French get-up." I suppose we do things just as funny with our travels without knowing how to use them. Only, as we do not see ourselves as others see us, we never know how funny we are.

SOUTH SHORE WILL CHANGE TIME NEXT MONDAY.
The regular summer time table of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway will not go into effect until on or about May 15, but owing to the opening of the ore carrying trade, the company is forced to make certain slight changes in its winter schedule, which readers will find set forth in the time table given in the advertising columns and which are noted below.
The morning train, connecting daily with the Chicago trains at Republic and Negaunee, will arrive at 10:30 a. m. instead of 10:35, as at present. The local for Republic and intermediate stations will leave (daily except Sunday) at 12:01 p. m., instead of 11:55 a. m., and on Sundays this train will not leave until 6 p. m. The express from the copper country for Detroit and the east will arrive (daily) 1:30 p. m., instead of 1:35, and will leave at 1:50 instead of 1:55 as at present.
The west-bound express from lower Michigan to the copper country (daily) making connections at Negaunee and Champion with the Chicago trains, will arrive 2:45 p. m. instead of 2:35, and will leave at 3:05 instead of 2:40 p. m. The local express from Houghton (daily except Sunday) will arrive 6:05 p. m. instead of 6:15 as at present.
Passengers for Sault Ste. Marie leaving on the 1:50 p. m. train will arrive (daily except Sunday) at the Sault 7:48 p. m. instead of 8:35 p. m. as at present, while those coming west to connect at Soo Junction with the west-bound express which arrives at Marquette 2:45 p. m., will leave the Sault 6:15 a. m. instead of 7:45 except on Sundays, when train will leave 7:35 a. m.
The mixed train west from Nesteria (daily except Sunday) with which the 3:05 p. m. express out of Marquette connects, will run to Even only, instead of Thomas-ton as at present.

PROFESSOR HARDY CHOSEN.

The Ishpeming school board held a meeting Saturday afternoon to select a superintendent of schools to succeed Harlow Olcott, who will retire from educational work at the expiration of the present term. Professor O. R. Hardy of Escanaba was the unanimous choice of the board. Mr. Hardy was highly recommended by Escanaba people. He was superintendent of the schools in that city for two years prior to a year ago. He is a young man, about twenty-seven years of age, and has had experience as an educator, aside from his work in the Escanaba schools. Mr. Hardy is a graduate of the University of Michigan, from which institution he was graduated with the highest honors.

Before accepting Mr. Hardy's application two members of the school board went to Escanaba and learned from reliable sources there that he is in every way competent and deserving and that his record as superintendent of the Escanaba schools was eminently satisfactory.

Thirty-seven applications for the position were received. The majority of these were from superintendents, principals and graduates from various places in Michigan. The remainder were from persons in other states. Among them were many applications accompanied by recommendations of the most satisfactory kind.

The salary of Superintendent Hardy has been fixed at $1,000. This is $400 less than was paid Mr. Olcott. No general revision of teachers' salaries was made at the meeting Saturday, although it was decided to make slight reductions wherever possible. The board figures that the aggregate saving in salaries for the year, including the reduction in the superintendent's salary, will be about $1,000. The salary question will be finally disposed of at the regular meeting of the board tomorrow evening. Many of the old teachers will be retained next year. The applications for positions as teachers will also be considered tomorrow evening.

It Is Growing.

The business of the Ishpeming and Marquette steam laundries of Needham Bros. is steadily increasing despite the hard times. During the winter the usual large force was employed but since the opening of spring business has increased to such an extent that more hands have been taken on at both laundries. Needham Bros.' success is largely due to the quality of work they turn out. Another thing in their favor is that they do work on time and never disappoint their agents or patrons. They understand their business and please the people in every respect.

Aside from doing the greater part of the laundry work in the cities where they have laundries, they have agents at Ontonagon, Ewen, Trout Creek, Sidnaw, Calumet, Chassell, Baraga, L'Anse, Michigamme, Republic, Champion, Nestoria, Seney, Newberry and Negaunee, from whom they receive a large amount of work weekly. In the firm's advertisement, today the ladies are urged to do their laundry work at reasonable prices. They make a specialty of this work.

Death of Matthew Ryan.

Matthew Ryan, one of the oldest residents of Ishpeming, died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Michael Powers, 112 West Johnston street. Saturday night when the family retired Mr. Ryan was sitting at a table with his elbow on the table and his hand supporting his head. Yesterday morning when Mr. Powers got up he found him still in that position, stiff and cold in death.

Coroner Rogers empanelled a jury in the case, consisting of Messrs. James Ames, John T. Burke, J. C. Funston, H. Stewart, James Murphy and Patrick McEnroe. The jury viewed the remains and adjourned to meet this morning at Justice Funston's office, when testimony will be taken. Mr. Ryan was seventy-five years of age and is survived by several adult children, who reside in different parts of the country. Two daughters, Mrs. Powers and Mrs. William Hickey, live here, and a son, Edward Ryan, lives at Escanaba.

The Sons of St. George Celebration.

The celebration in honor of St. George by Sir Humphrey Darcy Lodge, Sons of St. George, Saturday afternoon and evening was a pleasant affair. The parade in the afternoon was participated in by about one hundred members of the order. The marching column was headed by the marshal, James Trebilcock, followed by the Young Lake Superior band. Then came the Uniform Rank and officers and members of the order. After parading the principal streets the members and their friends repaired to Andrews' Hall, where a "turn-over" supper was served by the ladies.

In the evening an entertainment was given at the City Opera house. The program consisted of an overture by the band; remarks by the chairman, Captain James Trebilcock; recitation by Mr. R. Trehear of Negaunee; character songs by Professor Buckwell of Negaunee; violin solo by Mr. Solomon; an address by Grand Lecturer George Tucker; vocal solo by Miss Jessie Broad; instrumental solo by Mr. McCune of Negaunee; a display drill by the Negaunee Comedy company; vocal solo by F. C. Bennett, and a closing selection by the band. The Negaunee quartette did not appear owing to the illness of one of its members. Yesterday morning at 10:30 the society attended services at the Division street Methodist church. A sermon appropriate to the event was preached by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Joslin.

Looked Like State Street.

On Saturday the Grand Union Tea company received its regular weekly consignment of goods, consisting of a carload, and as business was rushing inside the clerks were unable to put them in the warehouse, so the delivery man piled them in the street adjoining the sidewalk in front of the store. Photographer C. D. Cole came along and the scene reminded him so much of State street, Chicago, that he proposed taking a picture of it. This, of course, was agreeable to Mr. Barringer, the manager, so he gathered his men together and three new wagons that were received from below a few days ago were also brought out and were included in the picture.

For Jumping on Cars.

On complaint of the officials of the Chicago & Northwestern road Charles Reno was arrested Saturday afternoon by Officer Downing for jumping on moving cars. As this was not the first time the offender was arrested on a similar charge he was committed to thirty days in the county jail. Other boys will do well to keep off the cars as the officers of the company as well as the city authorities are bound to put a stop to this dangerous practice.

ISHPEMING IN BRIEF.

Mrs. H. Hosking of Swaney is visiting friends in the city. A son was born last week to Postmaster and Mrs. George Vary of the National.

The local camp of Modern Woodmen of America will initiate a number of new members tonight.

The cloak and cape sale at Sellwood & Co.'s dry goods store, which began Saturday, will be continued today and tomorrow.

A change of time went into effect on the South Shore road yesterday. Consult time table on another page for further particulars.

Julius Leonard, aged five months, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ekalama, died Saturday. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

The street car line between the Ishpeming hospital and Lake Angeline was cleaned Saturday and the cars will be running to the end of the road today.

Fred Hammer, an old resident of Ishpeming, who has been very ill at his home on Washburn street for some time past, was reported somewhat better yesterday.

The city fountain is being put in repair, some of the pipes leading to it having been burst by freezing during the winter. The water will be turned on today or tomorrow.

J. Meslin and wife have re-opened the Garfield House, corner of First and Pearl streets. The place has been renovated throughout and now presents a very neat appearance.

Professor Pattle of the University of Michigan, who is making a tour of the upper peninsula, together with Professor Leonard, examining the schools, spent Sunday in Ishpeming.

Napoleon L. May received his stock of groceries from below Saturday and will open his new store in the Truman block on Main street today. Charles Petrier, who has had many years' experience in the grocery business, has been engaged by Mr. Lemay.

"Our Boys" dancing club will give a hop at the Knights of Pythias Hall tonight. The Twin City orchestra will furnish the music and James A. Gaynor's familiar voice will be heard as prompter. Tickets are fifty cents per couple, this including refreshments, which will be served in the dining room adjoining the assembly hall.

Miss Bessie Arthur, aged twenty-two years, died Friday afternoon at her home in this city. She was a native of England and had resided in this country for a number of years. She has several brothers and sisters living here and also some relatives in the copper country. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the Salisbury Methodist church.

WAKING WHEN YOU LIKE.

Curious Power Many People Have, But as Yet Unexplained.

A discussion has been going on among the members of the English society for psychical research as to the existence and the nature of the power by which people manage to wake precisely at the hour at which they have resolved to wake themselves the previous night.

You may fix five minutes before the hour in a house in which no clock strikes the quarter, or even in a house where there is no striking clock within a couple of miles, and yet not one person only, but a great many—we might perhaps say the majority of persons past middle age—can wake themselves at the right hour if on the previous night they go to bed with the resolve to do so strong in their minds.

It is the power which belongs to all sorts of persons—not only persons who have been in the habit of getting up at given hours but to persons who have not.

Most nurses have it, most servants, most laborers, most professional men. Yet it is very difficult to account for this phenomenon, for when you wake you have no distinct, nor, indeed, indistinct, recognition of the time.

You only know what time you ought to have been awake, but you are not in the least conscious that this time has arrived, though when you look at your watch in a fright you find, as a matter of fact, that it has arrived, and only just arrived.

The curious thing is that, though you can arrest your own attention and wake at the required time, you never seem to have the least assurance that it is the right time without consulting your watch.

If you really do "dittine" time you have no power of recognizing that you have "divined" it. You feel as if you had merely guessed it, and very probably guessed wrong, until your watch confirms the guess.

Success speaks volumes. Geo. Moebis & Co.'s cigars are the best sellers. (5-23-1w)

BROKE UP THE MEETING.

Devout Wish for Strawberry Time Memorializes a Church Service.

The atmosphere of the vestry was characteristically frigid, and the few worshippers stopped around the stove as they came in. Among them, says the Hildeford Journal, was one man, now deceased, a well-known character in his day, who came from the north of Ireland and had a rich brogue and sonorous voice. He was very deaf, and when he spoke it was in a tone to correspond with his defective hearing. He sat face to the stove, and did not hear that the service had commenced, apparently meditating on the severity of the weather, while one of his brethren was offering prayer in a weak, piping voice. One other sat beside him at the stove, and to him he suddenly remarked with all the volume of his voice and his rich brogue: "I shall be glad when it comes time for strawberry festivals, shan't you?" His observation drowned the prayer and temporarily broke up the meeting, as the most devout worshiper could but laugh at the mistake, the relation of which comes so timely, this week of ungentle February, '94.

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING.

A special session of the city council will be held tomorrow evening. There was considerable business left unfinished at the last meeting, and it is intended to get all municipal positions filled so that all the city officials can take hold on the first of the coming month.

A few liquor bonds have been received by the city recorder. These will be considered at this meeting. The appointment of a supervisor in the Third ward to take the place of Joseph Quinn, who has removed from the city, will also be made.

Liquor dealers who intend getting their bonds before the council before the first of the month should hand them in prior to this meeting, as it is not likely that another session will be held this month.

Stop It, Boys!

The officials of the Chicago & Northwestern road have given the police officers of Negaunee notice to arrest and bring to trial any man or boy caught boarding trains at or between the Union and Chicago & Northwestern depot, or at any other place in the Negaunee yards.

Their First Chicks.

George and Will Haupt, who have an incubator at their farm in the eastern part of the city, witnessed the hatching out of their first lot of chicks yesterday. There were about one hundred and fifty chicks in the lot. They expect to add to their brood of "chicks" in a few days as their incubator is working very successfully.

They Will Fight.

Bills advertising a prize fight at Ewen next Saturday evening have been posted about town. The contestants are "Champ" Keioce of Calumet, who styles himself the champion lightweight pugilist of the northwest, and Ed Shepard, the champion lightweight of Michigan, who has defeated, so the bills say, nearly every light or middleweight pugilist in America.

Selling Their Potatoes.

Charles Taylor and Barney Goodman of Sands are now disposing of their last season's stock of potatoes. Last week they sold and shipped four carloads to Negaunee, Ewen and Iron Mountain parties. They still have a stock on hand and will fill some orders recently received this week.

Death of Mr. McClear.

A telegram was received here Friday evening from J. L. McClear announcing the death of Gregory, Livingston county, of his father, who has been ill the greater part of the winter.

Died at Palmer.

Mrs. John Keocla died at her home at the Palmer location Friday afternoon. She is survived by a husband and several children. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from the church, Rev. Tolonen of Ishpeming conducting the services.

LOCAL LAONICUS.

The Jewish Easter began Friday and will continue for eight days. A number of our young people will attend the hop to be given by "Our Boys" Dancing club at Ishpeming tonight.

The Street Cars began running to the Breitung House afternoon.

They have also begun running to Lake Angelina on the other end of the route. Officer Choquette has not yet taken possession of the marshal's residence in the city building, but will occupy it shortly after the first of next month.

Finch & Erickson expect to start their planing mill near the street, railway power house tomorrow.

Only a few men will be employed for the present. A business meeting of the Negaunee Dramatic club for the purpose of settling up accounts, etc., in connection with the recent entertainment, was held yesterday afternoon.

C. F. Moll, the druggist, has the sale of reserved seat tickets for Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin, which will be presented at McDonald's Opera house next Friday evening.

Tickets to all parts of the house will be sold at fifty cents each. Charles Chapman, Alfred Dyer and William Bath of this city presented the farce "Taming a Tiger" at the Sons of St. George entertainment in Ishpeming Saturday night. The male quartette from here did not attend.

GLADSTONE'S CAREER.

Over Sixty Years of Service in the British Parliament.

The Rt. Hon. William Ewart Gladstone, four times prime minister of Great Britain and Ireland, was born in Liverpool, December 29, 1809, being the fourth son of Sir John Gladstone, of Kincardineshire, Scotland. He was educated at Eton college and Christ Church, Oxford, was graduated, taking a double first class, in 1831. He entered the house of commons at the general election of 1832 as member for Newark.

Young Gladstone began political life as a Tory. He entered at Lincoln's Inn, but never practiced at the bar. He had been less than a year in the house of commons when Sir Robert Peel appointed him a junior lord of the treasury, and three months later he became under secretary for colonial affairs.

Meantime Mr. Gladstone had obtained cabinet office, his position being that of secretary of state for the colonies. In 1847 Oxford university elected him its representative and this position he retained for eighteen years. Mr. Gladstone broke away from the Tory party in 1851, the occasion being his conversion to the necessity of university reform and the removal of the political disabilities of Jews.

Mr. Gladstone became prime minister in December, 1868. The principal events of his administration were the passing of the Irish church disestablishment act, 1869; of the Irish land act, 1870; and of the elementary educational act, 1870; the abolition of purchase in the army by the exercise of the royal prerogative, in consequence of an adverse vote by the house of lords on the army regulation bill, 1871; the negotiation of the treaty of Washington respecting the Alabama claims, 1871; the passing of the ballot act, 1872; and the judgment act, 1873. In August, 1873, immediately after the close of the session, the cabinet was considerably re-modeled.

January 24, 1874, a fortnight before both houses were to have met, Mr. Gladstone took everybody by surprise by announcing the immediate dissolution of parliament, and issuing his address to his constituents at Greenwich, in which he promised to abolish the income tax. At the general election which ensued the votes were, for the first time, taken by secret ballot. The result proved most disastrous to the Liberal party, 351 conservatives being elected, and 302 liberals.

Mr. Gladstone at once resigned and Mr. Disraeli became prime minister. In 1875 Mr. Gladstone, then in his sixty-fifth year, announced his determination to retire from the leadership of the Liberal party on account of old age. But Mr. Gladstone, April 23, 1880, for the second time became premier. He acted for three years as chancellor of the exchequer also, but in 1883 turned the financial work over to Mr. Childers. The Irish, Egyptian and franchise questions filled the time of the ministry.

After long and stormy debates the Gladstone government was overthrown in June, 1885, on a budget vote and the Marquis of Salisbury took office. In November following a general election was held, and the Liberals found themselves with a voting force about equal to that of the Tories and the Parallels combined. The Salisbury ministry was turned out by a snap vote on an agrarian measure, and Mr. Gladstone again took office. This, his third premiership, is known as the "home rule" administration, for Mr. Gladstone announced that the time had come when justice should be done to Ireland. He appealed to the country and was beaten by a combination of Tories and renegade Liberals, the latter led by Chamberlain, Hartington and Sir Henry James. Mr. Gladstone resigned, and Lord Salisbury assumed office for the second time August 3, 1886. Since that date Mr. Gladstone was in opposition, until August 15, 1892, when, as a result of the Liberal victory in the general elections, he once more became premier minister.—Chicago Record.

LOST WARSHIPS. Disasters That Have Befallen Vessels of the United States Navy.

The loss of a single warship attracts more attention than the wrecking of a score of merchantmen. Warships seem to be part of the nation; they are public vessels in a double sense, and many of them by the exploits they have participated in have endeared their names to the people. When they are lost it is as if an eminent man had died. So great is the interest created by the loss of a warship that an erroneous impression is occasioned as to the comparative frequency of disasters in the navy and the merchant service. The proportion of warships lost in time of peace to the whole number in commission at any one time, take the world over, is very small. Years elapse without any disaster involving the loss of an American or British warship being reported, and these navies are always actively employed and are exposed to all the perils of the sea. Certain wrecks fix themselves forever in the public mind by force of peculiar circumstances attending them, and are long made the subject of speculation. To these tragedies of the sea the United States navy has contributed its share, but not more than its share.

The navy since the organization of the federal government has always had enough to do, in peace or war, and very often with not enough vessels to do it. In the older days, when ships depended entirely on sail power, they were exposed to perils against which steam now aids vessels, and total disappearances were correspondingly more common. One of the first vessels of the navy which went down with all on board was the frigate Insurgent, last heard from in July, 1800. The brig Pickering disappeared about the same time. Which perished first, and the manner of their fates, no man knows; they simply went down and left no sign. The famous sloop-of-war Wasp was last heard from in September, 1814. Her fate, too, is forever a mystery. As the United States was at war with England then, it is barely possible that the tradition that a British frigate had a night conflict with a smaller vessel, which, making her escape in the gloom, appeared to be swallowed up by the sea, had some foundation and referred to the trackless cruiser. The Eberwolf, bringing home the American Commodore Decatur had rescued from slavery in Tunis and Algiers, never reached port. Tradition says the ship struck on Nantucket shoals in the night and went to pieces, but no man knows. Fifteen years after the Wasp was given up as lost, her sister ship, the Hornet, disappeared. She is believed to have foundered in a sudden squall in the gulf of Mexico. These two ships, the Wasp and Hornet—

The two proud sisters of the sea. In glory and in doom— were long watched for and hoped for, but no tidings of the fate of either ever came to waiting ears. Old people still recall that in the days of their youth, when the sound of a salute was heard in a sea port, the question would be raised: "Is it the Hornet, come in at last?"

The list of vessels lost with all on board, "totally disappeared," also includes the Porpoise, last heard from in September, 1854, in the China seas; the sloop-of-war Albany, which sailed from Aspinwall for New York about the same time, never reaching home; and the Levant, which, seen some time in 1860 sailing into a fog bank in the Pacific, has never reappeared, though her name was kept on the navy list until 1862. The mist of death and silence was wrapped around her and never has been dissipated. It was on board the Levant that Dr. Hale made "The Man Without a Country" die, a clever way of adding more verisimilitude to that wonderful narrative, since there were people who immediately said there always was something odd about the movements of the Levant, and as no one survived the ship, the particularity of the story could not for a time be gaisnald. The fate of all of our naval vessels lost since the war is a matter of record. The sloop-of-war Sacramento was wrecked in the bay of Bengal soon after the close of the rebellion; no lives were lost. The storship Fredonia was east upon the Peruvian coast by a tidal wave in 1808 and many perished. The gunboat Suwanee was wrecked on an uncharted ledge off the coast of British Columbia, July 9, 1898. The sinking of the Onida, with many of her officers and crew, by the mail steamer Bombay, January 23, 1870, was a disaster and almost a crime, since the sinking ship was left to heave to by the vessel that had collided with her. In 1870 the Saginaw was lost on Ocean Island, in the Pacific. June 17, 1875, the Saranae was gored by a sunken rock in the north Pacific. November 24, 1877, the Huron was lost on the coast of North Carolina, ninety-eight officers and men perishing. The next notable disaster occurred at Samoa March 15, 1889, when the flagship Trenton and the corvette Vandalla were wrecked in a terrible hurricane, and forty-five officers and men lost their lives. Latest on the list comes the noble old Kearsarge, closing a chapter that includes most, if not all, the disasters that have befallen our warships that were noteworthy either by the fame of the vessels or the attendant circumstances.—Boston Transcript.

Then He Was Famous.

The influence of American travelers in Europe is well known to be considerable, but a correspondent of the Boston Transcript records an instance as to which there must have been some exaggeration. A crippled old woman whom I met in Leamington often amused me by her original speeches. One day I spoke of Shakespeare, and remarked that I wanted very much to visit Stratford-on-Avon. "Law!" said the old woman, in a scornful tone; "who was he? Only a plowboy, and he was never thought nothin' of till them Americans came over and took him up."

DEATH ENDED HIS SUFFERING

Conductor Robert Dory Succumbs to Injuries Received Friday at Nestoria.

WILL BE BURIED BY PYTHIANS AND TRAINMEN TODAY.

Biggest Timber Deal of the Season. Discard Mars the Harmony of an Orchestra.

CARS DRAPED IN MOURNING.

Robert Dory, the South Shore freight conductor injured at Nestoria Friday afternoon last, died at St. Mary's hospital here at 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Saturday morning his condition seemed hopeful but shortly after noon he began to fail rapidly. The chief cause of his death, aside from the distressing accident itself, seemed to be shock. He had kept up bravely from the time of the accident and tried to put a hopeful face on the matter but through it all there ran a vein of mistrust of his own powers of pulling through. His death was hardly unexpected by the physicians yet none the less sad when it actually came.

Deceased was about thirty-five years of age and leaves a wife and one child, a boy. He had thoughtfully prepared for such an emergency as occurred by insuring his life and this will provide his family with a supporting fund of several thousand dollars. He had been a prominent worker in the ranks of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, acting as secretary of the local lodge at the time of his death. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias.

At a meeting of Trainmen and Pythians Saturday night arrangements were made for the funeral, which will take place from the house at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Joseph Frazee will conduct religious services at the house and the Knights of Pythias their customary funeral ritual at the grave. The City band will head the cortege from the house to Park cemetery.

The Trainmen are requested to meet at their hall at 1 o'clock p. m. today to make preliminary arrangements. They will then march to Fraternity hall, where they will join the Knights of Pythias and proceed to the house. The Pythians are to meet in Castle hall at 1:30 p. m. today to complete their details. Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Order of Railway Conductors are particularly urged to join the Trainmen in attending the funeral and Presque Isle lodge, Knights of Pythias, gives the same invitation to the Knights of Iron Cross lodge.

Yesterday the cabooses on all the freight trains of the South Shore, were draped with crepe by the trainmen in mourning for their dead brother. The trainmen here spent a great portion of the day at this, which they considered a work of love, commemorating the name of one who had always been an honored member of their order, a good citizen and a trustworthy friend.

Deceased's mother, Mrs. Dory, arrived yesterday from Guelph, Ont., from which place she had been summoned at the time of her son's accident. On reaching the station and seeing the draped cars she exclaimed, "Surely Robert can't be dead!" a sad truth she all too soon realized. Three brothers are also here from Wisconsin.

Big Timber Deal.

The biggest transaction in timber of the season has just been made. It embraces 13,000,000 feet of logs at $11.50 a thousand and was made by J. T. Hurst of Wyandott and C. E. Eastman of Saginaw to F. C. Bradley of Bay City. The logs comprise a great portion of those cut by Redy Bros. on the Yellow Dog river during the past winter. Messrs. Hurst & Eastman receive the price mentioned for the logs delivered at the mouth of the Yellow Dog in booms ready for towing. Here their contract ceases and Benjamin Bontell, the Bay City tug man, will take hold and tow the entire lot to Bay City for $2 a thousand. The logs will be towed to the Soo, rafted down the rapids and towed from there to their destination. The speed made by the rafts during the journey will be about one mile an hour, so Mr. Bontell has a fairly good all summer's job on hand in this transaction alone.

It is the opinion of well-informed lumbermen that Hurst & Eastman got a good price for their logs. Last year the same timber sold for $10.50 a thousand and delivered inside the booms at the Burtis mill. Here an additional $2.50, or thereabouts, was added which, with insurance and other expenses ran the total up to several dollars more than the lumber brought when sold. As Mr. Bradley owns his own sawmill and evidently intends to stock up with this big purchase and await a future market, he is likely to have better luck than the buyers of last year's Yellow Dog output.

Inharmonious Musicians.

It does not of necessity follow that because a number of men band themselves together to produce music, at so much per produce, that they will also dwell in perpetual harmony. The organization so far known as Hughes' Ideal orchestra is now an apt illustration of the foregoing statement. The members have not been entirely satisfied with the management of the orchestra for some time and last week held a meeting and drew up a set of regulations that should in future govern all transactions and engagements of this musical body. Mr. Hughes was called in to the meeting and with other members signed the orchestra's magna charta. The chief change the new rules made was rechristening the orchestra as the "Marquette Ideal" and appointing Charles J. Hanck as business manager.

Two days thinking the matter over seemed to decide Mr. Hughes that he did not like the code of rules he had signed and he called a meeting of the orchestra during which he withdrew entirely as leader and first violinist. The orchestra accepted his resignation and Manager Hanck has taken immediate steps to secure a competent leader to replace Mr. Hughes. In the meantime Mr. Hanck will consider all requests for engagements and promises as good as made as heretofore. Inquiries regarding engagements may be made at the cigar manufactory of Hanck & Deckelmann, Superior street. Mr. Hughes also called on THE MINING JOURNAL and made his statement of the difficulty. His story did not vary much from the foregoing. He did not seem to look upon the defection as serious and said he would keep right on filling any engagements already made and booking as many more as might come along. He spoke of the pride he had taken in building up his "Ideal" orchestra and gave this as his chief reason for withdrawing from the new arrangement.

No matter whether the trouble between Leader Hughes without his orchestra and the orchestra without a leader is patched or not Marquette is likely to receive enough music of the proper sort to satisfy all demands. If Hanck can't supply it Hughes can and vice versa.

Dead River's Annual Rampage.

Citizens who noticed a certain amber tint in the city water Saturday and yesterday may have speculated on the cause yet not have solved the problem. Those, however, who visited the neighborhood of Dead river had no difficulty in following the outlines of a dark shadow on the lake which on examination proved to be the waters furnished by the regular spring freshet of this stream.

Last year the Dead river managed to wash away portions of the roadway to Presque Isle park, and do other damage, and to prevent a recurrence of the difficulty a bridge with gates was placed across the wash-out. Saturday these gates, those of the mill and raise and a sluice way opening into the marsh above the mill were all opened yet the water managed to rise almost to a level with the road and flood every foot of low lying ground in the vicinity.

The water fell a little toward Saturday night but rose again yesterday almost as high as before. It is thought the worst of the freshet is now over and no further menace to roads and bridges is anticipated. In the neighborhood of the mills yesterday the swollen stream presented more the appearance of a small lake than an unpretentious and usually well behaved river. The bridge across the river at Collinsville was in imminent danger Saturday and persons were permitted to cross it until yesterday when the prospects of its being swept away were much diminished.

Uncle Tom Is Coming.

Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company will appear in the Marquette Opera House next Saturday night. While it might be difficult to add anything to what has already been said regarding this old and popular play it is quite easy to enumerate Stetson's claims upon the theater going public.

This company is undoubtedly the largest and best Uncle Tom Company traveling, comprising thirty artists. So complete is the scenery that the piece could be put on in a barn with better scenic effects than is produced by many other companies. They have a grand double band of white and colored musicians, an orchestra of ten pieces, and one that is hard to beat. The African mandolin students with this company are the first and only colored people appearing in public and performing on the Spanish mandolin. The Lone Star Quartette is claimed to be without an equal, and the Toppies, they have something to be proud of, charm all. The Toppies are two young women one being the well known Miss Partington who has gained fame in this role. New Songs, new dances, new music, everything new is promised. The day of the performance there will be a big street parade headed by a handsomely uniformed band. In this will appear the big bloodhound Carlos, donkeys used in the play and the funny Marks who ride them. Stetson's is the best "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company on the road and aside from presenting this old time drama gives an excellent program of variety work.

Maccabee Celebration.

Delegates from the five bodies of Maccabees in this city met Saturday and agreed to mark June 11, the thirtieth anniversary of the foundation of the order, with a grand ball at Armory Hall. The five bodies are Superior, Pere Marquette and Queen City tents of Knights of the Maccabees, Superior hive of Ladies of the Maccabees and Mesnard division of the Uniform rank. The total membership, men and women, of these five bodies is nearly four hundred. In fact, taking all its branches together, the Maccabees probably have the largest membership of any secret and fraternal organization in Marquette.

It has been the custom of the order for some years to hold a celebration of some kind on or about June 11. There was a plan this year to hold a reunion of all the fifty-seven tents on this peninsula, probably in this city, but a majority of the tents did not favor the project for the reason that their funds had been so heavily drawn upon for charitable purposes.

The Maccabees are by far the largest beneficiary order in Michigan, the reports of March 31 showing a total membership of 53,419. The average age of the members is between thirty-one and thirty-two years. The order has in force beneficiary certificates aggregating over $75,000,000 and the average cost per $1,000 to members is less than $7.50 per year, including all local and general expenses.

The Maccabees hope for a large attendance at their ball. Every effort will be made to give all who attend a pleasant evening and the profits, if any, will go to swell the funds of the order for charitable purposes.

There will be a dance given at Maccabee Hall next Thursday evening, April 26, for the benefit of a member of the Maccabees who met with a painful accident some time ago. The Societe St. John Baptiste has given up its meeting on that night in order that the dance may be held. The purpose is a worthy one and those in charge hope that the attendance will be large. The tickets will be fifty cents and good music will be in attendance. (4-21-94)
