REGULARS ARE CALLED OUT.

President Cleveland Decides to Use Government Troops Against Coxeyite Train Stealers.

MONTANA MINERS FIGHT WITH DEPUTY MARSHALS.

The Progress of the Armies Viewed With Evident Concern by Federal Authorities at Washington.

THEY WILL SURELY STOP NOW.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The federal government has at last decided to take a hand in the chase after the Northern Pacific train, which was stolen at Butte City by Hogan's Coxeyites yesterday. The war department this morning telegraphed Colonel Swayne, in command of the Department of Dakota, with headquarters at St. Paul, in the absence of General Merritt, to use troops to intercept the mob and restore the property to the railroad. There is no legal difficulty in the way as the railroad is in the hands of a receiver, acting by the appointment of the United States court, and the president has the authority to take action at once on the representation of its necessity. The train will be stopped either at St. Paul or Bismarck, N. D. It can no longer be denied that the Coxeyite movement throughout the country has aroused the apprehensions of the national authorities and that it has been decided to take severe repressive measures against the various armies whenever they violate any of the United States laws.

REASON FOR THE ORDER.

As this has been an off day in congress and a disposition has been manifest to criticize the president's action in ordering the United States troops to stop Hogan's train, it may be proper to set forth the facts that influenced the executive branch of the government in the matter. First, it appears that Hogan's party, 500 strong, applied to the Northern Pacific railroad authorities for transportation free to Washington. This was refused them by the receivers. Then the men broke into a roundhouse, captured an engine and made up a train. The railroad authorities applied for and obtained from the federal court an injunction restraining them. The Hoganites disregarded the injunction and the court issued writs of arrest against them for contempt of court. When the United States marshals sought to serve the writs, with his deputies, were locked up by the Hoganites and the party ran away with the train. Finding themselves unable to carry out the lawful processes of the court the judge and the United States marshal telegraphed for aid to Attorney General Olney. The latter saw the president last night and General Schofield was called into the consultation. It was soon settled that there was not only warrant but necessity for executive action. The property seized was within federal control and the mob had resisted the mandates of a federal court. There was no recourse but to the president and no course open to him save to maintain the law and the usual civil process having failed through the marshal's inability to control the situation direct, United States troops were given orders to enforce the process. He issued orders to Colonel Swayne to intercept the law-breakers and arrest them and turn them over to the United States marshal for such action and punishment as the court may prescribe.

WILL GUARD THE WHITE HOUSE.

Although reports are current that the White House guards have been reinforced the president and Mrs. Cleveland were seen driving through the principal streets of the city in an open carriage with only a colored driver on the box. A local afternoon paper printed the story that a special guard was on duty each night outside the president's door but the report is not true. The White House grounds and house will be well guarded and a close watch will be kept for suspicious characters but President Cleveland is decidedly averse to being kept under guard and, moreover, ordinary arrangements for guarding the White House when crowds are here is considered sufficient.

The matter which has given the president the most concern was the permission given by a local real estate dealer to Coxey to camp in Woodley park which adjoins the president's country place. Senator Stewart said today there was no objection to the army's camping on his property in the northwestern suburbs of the city should they wish to. Arrangements have been made for doubling the mounted force which patrols the country from the city boundary to the district lines. Secret service officers are being called to Washington from other cities and a greater number of government detectives are in the city than has been here at one time for years.

FIGHT WITH MARSHALS.

Montana Coxeyites Fight for Captured Northern Pacific Train. BILLINGS, Mont., April 25.—At noon today five hundred members of Hogan's army on a stolen train arrived in this city and close at their heels was another train bearing seventy-five deputy United States marshals and a conflict between the deputies and the army was at once precipitated, which resulted in one man on each side being severely wounded. The Coxeyites spent the night at Columbus and the deputies overtook them at that point and demanded their surrender. General Hogan paid no attention to the command of the deputies and ordered his men to go ahead. The train came on slowly during the forenoon, the deputies following and watching for an opportunity to seize the Coxeyites. United States Marshal McDermost ordered the leaders of the army to surrender and on their refusal a few deputies without any orders fired upon the men in the cars. A few shots were exchanged before the marshal could regain control of his men and stop the firing. During the fight one deputy and at least one armyite were severely wounded.

There is a report that General Hogan himself was wounded three times but the fact that the train pulled out for the east makes it impossible to confirm the report. Marshal McDermost decided that his men were not equal to the work cut out for them and notified the authorities that his force was insufficient. The train bearing the army soon afterwards started for the east again and so far as heard here up to a late hour this afternoon is still continuing on its way towards Miles City, where it is expected national troops will be successful in stopping the train and regaining possession of the property and placing it in the hands of the courts.

ST. PAUL, April 25.—General Manager Kendrick of the Northern Pacific consulted Colonel Swayne, commanding this department of the United States army with the result that he sent orders to the troops at Fort Keogh, near Miles City, to seize the train on its arrival there. The only orders to the troops at Fort Keogh were nothing about firing on the runaways and it is not thought such action will be necessary. The train should reach Fort Keogh at 6 o'clock this morning. If the train goes whooping through there a special train is ready for the soldiers to follow and arrest the Hoganites at the first opportunity.

ST. PAUL, April 25.—Reports from the train stolen by Butte Coxeyites came in from various points today. Orders have been sent out to troops stationed near or on the line of the Northern Pacific road to be in readiness for moving orders at Fort Snelling, Fort Yeates and Fort Keogh. If by any possibility the train should be able to run past Keogh a double force of troops stationed there could be thrown in their way in a very few hours. Fort Keogh garrison is in readiness for the enemy, although it is now thought they will not reach there before morning.

ST. PAUL, April 25.—A telegram from Fort Keogh at 9:30 tonight states that the stolen train stopped at Forsythe, sixty-five miles west, with the engine out of water. It is not known whether they will stop at Forsythe for the night or start again.

IT IS REPORTED IN THIS CITY AT MIDNIGHT THAT COXEY'S ARMY FROM MONTANA ON A STOLEN TRAIN HAVE BEEN CAPTURED.

KELLY'S ARMY REUNITED.

Scrapping Colonels Bennet and Weed in Each Other's Arms.

ATLANTIC, Ia., April 25.—Comparative peace reigns in Kelly's camp tonight. Colonel Baker and Colonel Speed wept together and have sworn eternal allegiance to the industrial banner and the army, with the exception of one company, are again a unit. After the reconciliation the officers went to the opera house where each made an address and before a large audience of towns people declared their friendship for each other. The camp was next visited where the men greeted the announcement of the burial of the hatchet with a frantic war of approval. Company C this afternoon nearly precipitated a riot by charging the San Francisco crowd that jeered Speed. Cool headed men separated the combatants but a wordy war waged all evening.

NORTHWESTERN ARMY STARTS.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 25.—The Northwestern industrial army one thousand strong, mostly railroad laborers, started for Washington this evening on foot. They will be joined at Payallup by 500 men from Tacoma. It is their evident intention to board the first coast-bound train.

Judge Hanford of the United States court issued an order directing the United States marshal to swear in a sufficient force of deputies to guard all trains on the Northern Pacific from seizure by the Commonwealers. The action was taken on receiving the report of a concerted movement to seize trains at Spokane, Seattle and Tacoma.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 25.—General Louis C. Frye's 300 Commonwealers took forcible possession of an east-bound Vandalia freight train here this afternoon. Officers of the army claim to have paid the railroad company for transportation to Brazil, twenty miles east, and after loading their horses, wagons, cooking utensils and blankets the train was gotten under way leaving them standing in the yards.

BRAZIL, Ind., April 25.—General Frye and his Commonwealer army reached this city this afternoon. Speaking of the Coxeyites seizing a Northern Pacific train Frye said he approved of the action taken by the government.

IS SHE RED HEADED.

CHICAGO, April 25.—General Randall of Chicago's Industrial army announced today that his daughter, Mrs. Smith, would march at the head of his men attired in white on a white horse. There is now about eight hundred and fifty men enrolled in the army and it is believed a start will be made within a week.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Representative Pence (Col.) today received a dispatch from Jeff Smith, known throughout the west as "Soapy" Smith, saying he would start for Washington at the head of 1,000 Denver men.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 25.—A contingent of the Industrial army 500 strong, started for Washington on foot along the line of the Union Pacific. It is supposed they intend to capture a train.

SPECIAL RATES NOT GRANTED.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Trunkline association, this afternoon decided not to give special transportation rates to Coxey's army which was applied for by General J. D. Coxey last Saturday.

RALLY OF REPUBLICANS.

Indiana Republicans Gather in Force at the State Convention Held at Indianapolis.

CONVENTION ADDRESSED BY EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON.

The Platform as Adopted Stands Firmly for Protection and Denounces Cleveland's Hawaiian Policy.

ARE LOOKING FOR VICTORY.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 25.—The Republican state convention with over seven hundred delegates met at 10 o'clock this morning. The galleries were packed with spectators. An immense portrait of General Harrison, flanked by portraits of other Republican leaders, hung on the walls. State Chairman Gowdy called the convention to order. The matter of credentials was attended to and the committee on permanent organizations presented the name of the venerable ex-secretary of the navy, Richard W. Tompson, for permanent chairman and the report was adopted. Thompson's appearance was greeted with vociferous applause.

The appearance of ex-President Harrison on the platform was the signal for a whirlwind of applause. General Harrison then came forward and made a short speech.

The platform was then presented and adopted. It reaffirms its allegiance to the party, endorses the Harrison administration, condemns the course of the Democratic party since it came into power for the abrogation of reciprocity and undertaking to reverse the policy of a protective tariff, denounces Cleveland for endeavoring to "restore the Hawaiian queen to her throne, demands the enforcement of immigration laws and the enactment of more stringent ones and favors increased tariff duties on imports from all countries which oppose the coinage of silver upon the basis to be determined by an international congress for such purposes.

Harrison in an address, after paying a high tribute to Chairman Tompson, dwelt at length on the depressed condition of the country, attributing it solely to the attempt of the Democratic party to return to a revenue tariff. He declared that he believed the wild unrest now manifest in the country should be regarded as the voice of omnipotence. The workmen of the country should be assured that there would be no attempt to strike down protection in American legislation. "He then took up the silver question declaring the Republican party friendly to the resumption of silver to a place of honor among the money metals of the world.

He believed in the free use of silver under an international agreement. The indications are that there is an increase of sentiment in England favoring an international agreement with Germany following in her lead and they, if the proper influence were brought to bear from the United States would influence others, so that, by the necessities of the situation, an international agreement would be reached. The rest of his speech was devoted to state issues. The speech was punctuated by frequent bursts of vigorous applause.

F. J. Scholz of Evansville was re-nominated for treasurer; W. P. Owen of Logansport was nominated for secretary of state and A. C. Bailey of Lebanon for auditor. A bitter fight was waged for the office of general but the nomination was captured by W. A. Ketchum of this city.

POPULISTS FAVOR COXEY.

Congressmen of That Party Discuss the Present Situation.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Populist senators and representatives in congress in caucus tonight at the Populist national headquarters reached an understanding as to the Populist attitude towards the coming of Coxey's army. There was present Senator Stewart (Nev.) and Allen (Neb.) and Representatives Pence and Gill (Col.) Baker and Harris (Kan.), Bowen (Minn.), Kem and McKelgan (Neb.). Chairman Trumbull of the national committee was also there.

While there was no endorsement of the movement, the speakers urged that it was legitimate and a natural outcome of the present legislation. The main discussion was as to steps to be taken to avert a conflict and bloodshed which might ensue if the police or militia took any radical step. Grave fears were expressed as to the outcome of the next few days. Allen and Bowen spoke of the resolution now pending before congress and received general approval as voicing the attitude of the Populists towards the movement. No formal resolutions were adopted yet a pretty full understanding was reached as to the situation.

COXEY IS UNCONCERNED.

FREDERICK, Md., April 25.—There was a lively time in the camp of the Commonwealers tonight. Two telegrams were received by Browne reciting the trouble of the Commonwealers in the west and he read them to the men. The army was thrown into a state of wild excitement. Neither Browne nor Coxey seemed much surprised at the news and neither expressed himself at all troubled over the moral effect the affair would have on the industrial movement.

SERIOUS LOSS IN BUSINESS.

Hard Times Causes Loss in Traffic on Union Pacific.

BOSTON, April 25.—The annual meeting of the Union Pacific road was held today. The annual report shows a deficit on the whole system of $2,595,841 against a surplus of the previous year of $3,067,757. This decrease was contributed to by all subsidiary lines and was caused by financial depression.

A JUDICIAL TYRANT

JUDGE SCOTT of Omaha evidently has a swelled head. He sent Editor Rosewater and also a reporter of the Omaha Bee to jail for contempt the other day because an article in that paper called attention to the fact that in the case of two men caught robbing a railway station the poor man was sentenced to prison while the scape-grace son of wealthy and influential parents was let go without even the inconvenience of standing trial.

The speech of Senator McMillan on the 21st inst. in opposition to the Wilson bill is an able presentation of the probable effects of that measure upon the great industries of Michigan. It is of interest to note that Senator McMillan believes that the iron mines of Lake Superior will in time follow the copper mines and outgrow the necessity of protection.

A large crowd of Baraga folks will attend "The Private Secretary" at L'Anse Saturday night.

The "Phunn Klub" will give a necktie and apron social at the Granville rink Wednesday evening.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

A Case of Piles of Eighteen Years' Standing. Cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

There are plenty of pile cures which give relief and sometimes cure a mild case of piles, but there is only one which can be depended upon with certainty to cure obstinate long standing cases, and that is the Pyramid Pile Cure.

Endorsements and testimonials are received daily from men and women whose integrity and reliability are above question and in this connection a letter received from the Rev. Jas. H. Westbrook of Brown, Mich., may be of interest to pile sufferers who have sought in vain for a cure. He says:

I have used the Pyramid Pile Cure and I know that it is all that is claimed for it. I had been troubled with piles more or less for about eighteen years and I had tried other remedies, but the piles grew worse until about ten months ago I used the Pyramid Pile Cure. It gave almost instant relief and I have been free from piles ever since. Rev. J. H. Westbrook.

The remedy seems to act equally well in every form of piles, blind, bleeding, protruding or itching. It stops all pain almost immediately, allays irritation and removes constipation, and anyone who has suffered the annoyance and pain of a rectal trouble will appreciate the excellent results which invariably follow the first application of the Pyramid.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is prepared by the Pyramid Drug company of Albion, Mich., and for sale by druggists everywhere at $1 per package.

JAPANESE PROVERBS.

Sayings of Five Centuries Ago Which Are Like Modern Ones.

The opening of Japan to the western nations was the means of making the world acquainted with its literature, which includes a large number of very interesting books, some of which have been translated recently by travelers and oriental scholars.

Among the favorite Japanese novelists who flourished about five hundred years ago was Bakin. From one of his books, entitled "Kumono Tayema Ama Yo No Tsuki" (meaning "the moon shining through a cloud drift on a rainy night"), the following quaint aphorisms are selected to show the philosophic spirit that prevailed in the Land of the Rising Sun a hundred years before this continent was discovered.

The late Mr. Edward Greer, of New York, made the translation of Bakin's romance as well as of other Japanese books, and it is from his version the selections are made.

"Everything grows fat in the shadow of the temple." This is a sly allusion to the wealth of the Buddhist priests, who while ostensibly mendicants were in reality often quite wealthy.

"He who has neither intelligence nor moral principles has the soul of an ox in a human body." Believing in the doctrine of the transmigration of souls the devout Buddhist claims to observe characteristics of the lower animals in living persons, though one is at a loss to know why the ox, a very patient and good-natured beast, should be supposed to lack morality.

"As long as a priest has the face of a saint his body may be as bloated as a toad's."

"The hunter who shoots at a flock of geese seldom brings down a single bird, while he who only aims at one generally secures it." This is the same as "having too many irons in the fire."

"When you come across a good tub of sake do not drink it like water." Sake, or saké, is the national stimulant distilled from rice. The proverb is the same as there can be too much of a good thing.

"Do not hurry to rise early, as sleep confers many benefits." The Japanese sage did not hold to the "early to bed and early to rise" theory of the old English proverb.

"The mountain robber always ends his life where he has earned his living." A modern application may be "the ruling passion strong in death."

"Try a person seven times before you suspect him." A warning against rash judgment.

"The mountain stream makes a great noise amid the shallow rocks, but glides without sound over the deep holes," an equivalent of "still waters run deep."

DISCUSSED ONE PARAGRAPH.

The Senate Commences Work on the Wilson Tariff Bill by Separate Paragraphs.

THEY FAIL TO COME TO A VOTE ON THE FIRST AMENDMENT.

At That Rate of Progress They May With Hard Work Pass the Bill by Next Autumn.

MAKING VERY SLOW PROGRESS.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—In the senate Allen (Neb.) offered a long preamble and resolution setting forth that threats had been made to arrest Coxeyites on their arrival in the District of Columbia and declaring it to be their constitutional right to assemble and petition peacefully and to come into the District and to the capital for that purpose and declaring that as long as they did not cause a breach of the peace, obstruct streets or interfere with the transaction of public business any attempt to arrest them or prevent them from carrying out their purpose would be in contravention to their constitutional rights. An objection to the present consideration of the resolution was made and it went over.

A long argument followed Harris' request for unanimous consent to consider the tariff bill from 1 o'clock to 6 o'clock p. m. each day this week. Harris, being refused unanimous consent, put the matter in the form of a motion and said it could go over until tomorrow. The tariff bill was then taken up to be read by paragraphs first. The formal reading of the bill was dispensed with. Aldrich spoke against the bill when the first amendment was reached fixing the date when it should go into effect. Platt followed him on the same line of argument.

Palmer spoke next in favor of the bill. He went into a discussion of the beneficial effects on the agricultural products of the country which he predicted would follow the passage of the tariff bill and in reply to a question from Aldrich explained that this would be brought about in one or two ways, because there would be an increased number of consumers for our products and also because there would be an exchange of our products for those of foreign countries brought about by free trade. He argued that McKinley made it necessary for American workmen to pay more for what they used than they would under the proposed law. In answer to the charge that he was a free trader Palmer defined his position thus "I am a free trader in this, that if we don't want revenue I would not levy a tax for the mere purpose of protection. I would not impose a duty unless the revenue was needed for the wants of the country."

Allison offered an amendment striking out the date at which the bill should take effect and leave the date blank. Allison asserted that the debate today showed that if it required the entire day to discuss an amendment in the first paragraph without arriving at any conclusion it would probably require two days to consider a second, and when it came to wool and iron and sugar it would probably require the entire summer. Aldrich suggested an amendment that the bill should go into effect five months after its passage to which Vest emphatically objected. Dolph began reading from a speech of Sam Johnson in the house on the tariff when he was called to order. The latter part of the day was occupied with good natured bantering and by a silver speech by Stewart and at 6 o'clock the senate adjourned.

HOUSE WAS VERY QUIET. WASHINGTON, April 25.—Hepburn after the reading of the journal in the house today, introduced an objection to its approval and forced the yeas and nays. He adhered to the determination to allow absolutely no business to be transacted by unanimous consent until terms are made for the consideration Friday of the pension bills. The journal was approved by a vote of 243 to 0. The house went into a committee of the whole on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. The debate was confined almost entirely to the question of fees and salaries at various consulates and without any action of importance the committee rose and the house adjourned.

The house coinage committee by an overwhelming vote decided to side-track the Meyer silver seigniorage bill and consider the Bland free silver bill instead.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Senator Brice is authority for the statement that a compromise on the tariff bill which is reasonably certain of adoption has been agreed on by the senate committee to the present bill. He will only say it aims to secure a reduction of 30 per cent. from the McKinley law.

Senator Jones of the finance committee says no compromise has yet been reached but he hopes it will be soon.

CHIEF RAMSAY ON TRIAL.

Charged With Interfering With the Business of the Road.

CEBAR RAPIDS, Ia., April 25.—The trial of Grand Chief Ramsay of the Order of Telegraphers for interfering with the telegraph service of the Burlington road was commenced this morning. The counsel for the defense said it would prove that the prosecution was a conspiracy by the railroads to break up labor organizations.

SENTENCE WAS LIGHTENED.

Commander and Lieutenant of Kearns Before Secretary Herbert.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Secretary Herbert today disposed of the cases of Commander Heyerman and Lieutenant Lyman, who were found guilty by court martial of causing the wreck of the Kearns on Ronceador reef. The court sentenced Commander Heyerman to two years' suspension from duty on waiting orders' pay and to remain stationary in his grade. Secretary Herbert reduced the sentence to one year. Lieutenant Lyman was sentenced to one year's suspension under similar conditions and to be publicly reprimanded. Secretary Herbert allows the suspension to stand but sets aside the sentence so far as it involves a reprimand.

MINED BUT LITTLE ORE.

Iron Ore Production Last Year the Smallest in Many Years.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Reports received at the geological survey from twenty-three states and two territories give a total production of 11,597,607 long tons of iron ore in 1893. This amount is smaller than is recorded for any year since 1887, and a decrease of almost 29 per cent over 1892. No increase is evident in any states producing over 100,000 tons of iron ore except in Minnesota, where, owing to the development of the Mesabi range and the completion of transportation facilities, the output increased about 250,000 tons. The proportionate decline in iron ore production during the year was the greatest in Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and New York.

CAME TO NO UNDERSTANDING.

Northern Pacific Officials and Men Held Another Meeting.

ST. PAUL, April 25.—The committee from the American Railroad union that is trying to arrange a wage schedule on the Great Northern spent all day with President Hill trying to convince him that they are regularly accredited representatives of his employees and the day ended without their object having been attained. The company, however, agreed to hear any one class of their employees either personally or through representatives. Hill wanted the men to go back to work pending a settlement of differences. This suggestion was promptly negated by President Debs of the union. When they finally adjourned tonight it was decided to resume the discussion in the morning.

PROSPERITY FROM WINDMILLS.

Western Farmers Utilizing the Prairie Breezes for Irrigation.

It is a little odd that the very element which has been the chief enemy of the western farmer should be harnessed into increasing his property, but such is the newest phase of prairie agriculture. Since the settler's wagons first crossed the plains the never-resting winds have been the bane of crop growing. Their ceaseless drain on the supply of moisture in the new lands has left the grain without nutriment and shortened the crop year after year until many a settler grew discouraged and journeyed "back east to the wife's folks." But necessity has developed a remedy. Surveyors have found that the water supply of western Kansas and Nebraska has its source in the rainfall and is collected in basins formed by impervious strata, generally at elevations far above that of the river bottoms. To raise this to the surface windmills are being adopted and hundreds of them are waving their long fans in the prairie claims, lifting the water to the fields and gardens of the farms.

The cost of mill and pump is less than one dollar per acre for a claim. It has been shown by practical experiments that a mill will easily irrigate from one to three acres of ground and by conducting the water to reservoirs, so that the pumping can go on in wet as well as dry weather, five or six acres are easily kept moist. A half dozen windmills are being put on some farms and mean abundant moisture for twenty-five to thirty-five acres of fertile soil and the raising of the farm's value from $15 to $20 an acre. On the thirty acres can be produced with good water supply as much vegetables, grain or hay as on a half section of unirrigated land.

Hundreds of skilled farmers have tried in vain to make agriculture a success on the upland prairies. Occasionally comes a year when everything flourishes—then follows others when, as was the case in certain sections of western Kansas last season, wheat sown in October lies in the ground the following May dry enough to serve as a grist at the mill. With an inexhaustible water supply beneath the surface this might not be so and the windmill method of lifting the hidden rivers to the thirsty fields promises to work a startling revolution.—Chicago Herald.

A GREAT MISTAKE.

Herbert Spencer's Disregard for the Laws of Health.

Herbert Spencer is a great philosopher, a laborious student and a writer of many books; but with all his mental activity, he has not permitted his body to indulge itself in the activity by which its organs and structure might have been kept in a healthy condition. The philosopher has "all knowledge," except that "health is the vital principle of bliss and exercise of health." A traveler recently told a friend of the Outlook an anecdote of Mr. Spencer, which exhibits him as paying the inevitable penalty of neglecting the laws of physical health: It seems he is a special friend of Grant Allen, to whose home he recently went as a guest, but, being in fragile health, Mr. Spencer said that he could not endure the noise of many persons talking together; so he begged to have his meals in the room adjoining the dining-room. Yet his social instinct prompted him to ask that the door between the two rooms be left open. It should be said that Mr. Spencer has invented a pair of iron clappers which he shuts over his ears when the sounds of life become too oppressive for endurance.

As the family were talking and laughing in the dining-room, Mr. Spencer could not endure the strain, and called out to them they were "too hilarious." The next day they subdued their voices to the lowest pitch, and he complained that they were "not company enough." They then went out to drive, and the talk became so lively that, with a snap, he drew his iron ear-caps to their places and sank back well-nigh exhausted.

ARRESTED FOR CONSPIRACY.

Juror Taken From the Jury Box While the Court Was in Session.

CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTING TO CORRUPT THE JURY.

The Trial of Three Bank Wreckers Was Brought to an Abrupt Termination at Indianapolis.

PROMISED TO HANG THE JURY.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 25.—The trial of Frank and Percival Coffin and S. Reed of the Indianapolis Cabinet company for aiding T. P. Houghay, president of the Indianapolis National bank, in wrecking the institution was resumed this afternoon.

Judge Baker announced that there is in his possession evidence that Juror Alvin Armstrong is guilty of conspiracy and corruption against the state by attempting to enter into a compact with the defendants to hang the jury for a consideration of $5,000. The juror was arrested as he sat in the jury box and the jury discharged and court adjourned until next Thursday, when a new jury will be selected.

The crime of Juror Armstrong involved Frank O. Stannard, who was arrested as he sat as a delegate in the Republican state convention.

At 2 o'clock Armstrong and Stannard were brought before the judge and placed under $15,000 bonds to appear before him next Monday for trial and sentence.

LADY BAKER.

Her Peculiar and Rather Romantic Marriage to the African Explorer.

In all the obituary notices that have appeared of the African explorer and traveler, Sir Samuel Baker, there is not one of them, says the New York Recorder, that draws attention to the very peculiar, and to a certain extent romantic circumstances of his second marriage, certain matters in connection with which earned for him the ill will and disfavor of his sovereign. At the time when Sir Samuel started out on his eventful journey up the River Nile which was to win for him both his fame and his title he had no idea that his undertaking would turn out so great a success, and, being unwilling to restrict himself to the society of the dusky beauties of the Sudan, he persuaded one of the German girls who formed the band of musicians that performed nightly in an Esbekiah cafe chantant at Cairo to accompany him on his trip. The girl happened, unlike the majority of her companions, to be a woman of singularly strong character, and played a notable and prominent part in the expedition and in the exploration, contributing greatly to the success thereof.

On Baker's return northwest the fame of his doings and those of his fair companion preceded him, and when he reached Cairo he found that all England was ringing with the splendid conduct of the lady, whom the newspapers and the public designated as his wife. It was too late for Baker to explain that the lady was not entitled to bear his name, so he made the best of the matter and at the same time paid his deep debt of gratitude toward her by marrying her very quietly at Cairo. A reference to the records there will show that the wedding took place not before his departure for the Sudan, but on his return.

On reaching England he was immediately summoned to Windsor castle, with his wife, and after he had related to her majesty some of the principal events of his journey she commanded him to kneel, and, tapping him on the shoulder with a sword, exclaimed: "Arise, Sir Samuel!" The queen was also very gracious to his wife, who had now become Lady Baker, and it was only several months later that she discovered the true facts of the case. From that time forth Sir Samuel was not honored with any more invitations to Windsor, and Lady Baker was not only never permitted to appear at court, but was even subjected to a mild kind of ostracism by society. This she scarcely deserved, for since her marriage she proved herself to be a most estimable and honorable woman, in my opinion, as in that of many others, infinitely superior in every way to her garrulous and somewhat mendacious husband.

NOT AS GOOD AS HER MA.

The Opinion of an Austrian Princess on a Circus Rider's Feat.

Nearly everybody knows that the eccentric empress of Austria carries her fondness for hunting to such a pitch that up to recent years she used to brave the terrible fits of mal de mer that are caused by the Irish channel for the sake of enjoying the superb hunting that can still be found in the Emerald Isle—one free joy not yet hunted out of it by the ubiquitous and iniquitous Sassenach. But it is not generally known, says the New York Journal, that the first lady of the land in Austria is also a fancy rider, used to have a private arena, and when in playful mood would give exhibitions of startling equestrian skill to a select circle of more or less discreet friends. One day when her little daughter Stephanie was on a visit at the home of a noble in another part of the empire it occurred to her hosts that perhaps a circus that was performing in the neighborhood would afford the infant princess a novel delight. They took the child, and were astonished at the profound gravity with which her little eyes watched the performers leaping through hoops of colored paper, turning somersaults or riding two horses at once.

"Well," said one at last, "what does our little princess think of it?" "Not much," replied the child, shaking her head sagely. "My ma can do those things a heap better." Then, with an air of profound conviction: "My ma's a born circus rider."

Imagine, if you can, Austria's etiquette, and then imagine the thrill of amazement and horror which the child's remark produced.

MAGNIFICENT CONTEMPT.

A Little Story Which Shows How Decent Appearances Are.

A good story showing how appearances are sometimes deceitful comes from Russia. At a certain famous restaurant in St. Petersburg six somewhat dandy officers of the Imperial Horse Guards sat drinking champagne. Not far from them sat an insignificant little man with a shabby and unkempt beard, and a glass of liquor in front of him.

It was not long before he became aware that he was being ridiculed by the officers. By and by, as they became more and more offensive in their remarks on his personal appearance, etc., he called for the waiter and said: "Bring six bottles of your best champagne!"

The waiter hesitated. "Did you hear what I said?" asked the little man. The waiter brought the wine and six glasses.

"Take these glasses away and fetch a basin—one as large as you can find," said the man. The waiter again hesitated, but obeyed instantly at the peremptory repetition of the order. "A piece of soap" was the next order. It was brought. "A towel!" The waiter handed him one. "Now open the bottles!" The waiter did so.

The little man now filled the basin with the contents of the six bottles, rolled up his sleeves, washed himself in the costly fluid, wiped his hands, laid a one hundred rouble note on the table and, casting a look of withering contempt on the officers, strutted out of the room.

Why Was It

that Ayer's Sarsaparilla, out of the great number of similar preparations manufactured throughout the world, was the only medicine of the kind admitted at the World's Fair, Chicago? And why was it that, in spite of the united efforts of the manufacturers of other preparations, the decision of the World's Fair Directors was not reversed?

BECAUSE

According to RULE 15—"Articles that are in any way dangerous or offensive, also patent medicines, nostrums, and empirical preparations, whose ingredients are concealed, will not be admitted to the Exposition," and, therefore—

Because Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine, not a nostrum, and not a secret preparation.

Because its proprietors had nothing to conceal when questioned as to the formula from which it is compounded.

Because it is all that it is claimed to be—a Compound Concentrated Extract of Sarsaparilla, and in every sense, worthy the endorsement of this most important committee, called together for passing upon the manufactured products of the entire world.

On or about May 1 the two fixed red electric lights marking the range for entering the head of the St. Clair river exhibited from the structures erected on the west bank of the river, near the Grand Trunk railway freight house and dock, Fort Gratiot, Mich., will be discontinued, and a fixed white light substituted.

The schooner Benson, Captain Gauthier, cleared yesterday for Pine River and Eagle Harbor with a cargo of furniture and flour. The flour will be put off at Pine River and the rest of the load carried to Eagle Harbor. The Benson has had a general overhauling and made a very brave appearance as she stood well out into the lake with every yard of canvas set.

The tug Maytham, Captain John Devaney, hailing from Houghton, entered the harbor yesterday at noon. She is to be a settled feature of our harbor this season and will do a general towing and carrying business. She holds a passenger license and may be chartered for short lake excursions, picnics, etc. The Maytham is a trim, staunch appearing craft and should make a strong pull.

Queer Things in a Well. While workmen were once engaged in sinking a well on the farm of David Dunning, in Washington township, Ringgold county, Ia., they had some queer experiences. At a depth of fourteen feet they found between a peck and a half-bushel of white walnuts or "butternuts," and at a depth of twenty-six feet a fine pair of deer's horns and a large log of wood. The horns were very soft when first taken out, but soon hardened on exposure to the air. The peculiar part of the whole affair is the fact that there is not a single butternut tree known to be growing in that portion of the state.-St. Louis Republic.

VERY COSTLY CHESSMEN.

Paul Morphy's Famous Prize Set Which Cost Twenty-five Hundred Dollars.

A set of chessmen is usually an inexpensive thing, but it may cost as much as a grand piano. Of course, you can get a small set of ordinary boxwood chessmen for a few dollars, a finer set of boxwood and ebony for twelve or fifteen dollars, and a set of "Stanton" chessmen, of the best African ivory, large size, for seventy-five dollars. And these are all plain sets. If you indulge in fancy carving, and have your set made to order from a special design and finely mounted, it may cost anywhere from one hundred and sixty to three hundred dollars. For a really expensive set, however, you will probably choose the precious metals, and there is absolutely no limit to the cost.

Probably one of the finest sets ever made was the set presented to Paul Morphy in 1859 by friends in this city and Brooklyn, which is now owned by a New York merchant. The pieces are of solid gold and silver, carved and chased in exquisite designs. They are mounted on bases of red cornelian, the gold pieces representing civilization, the silver ones barbarism. The gold king is a statuette four inches high, weighing three ounces. He is in royal robes, bears an imperial globe upon his head, a sword and shield in his hand, while a crown and scepter lie at his feet.

The bishops are in full panoply, while the knights are represented as prancing horses, with eyes of rubies. The castle follows the Chinese design, being an elephant bearing a howdah, on which is perched an eagle with outspread wings. Both elephant and bird have eyes of brilliant rubies. The piece weighs five ounces, or as much as eighty gold dollars. The pawns are statuettes two and one-half inches high, representing Roman soldiery.

The silver pieces are equally ornate in design. The king is represented as a leader like Alaric wearing a bull's hide and winged helmet, while his shield bears the inscription, "Liberty." The other pieces are similar in design to the gold, except that the pawns are rude warriors armed with clubs.

The board has a body of rosewood, inlaid with silver; the squares are of mother-of-pearl and ebony. In each corner is a laurel wreath of gold encircling the letters P. M. An inscription on one side reads as follows:

TO PAUL MORPHY.
A Recognition of His Genius and a Testimony of Regard,
From His Friends and Admirers in New York and Brooklyn,
New York, 1859.

On the other side of the board is a list of the fourteen champions, all from the different countries, whom Morphy had defeated. In every detail the set is finished as finely as possible, the figures being chased under a microscope. It was made by a New York firm of silversmiths and cost two thousand five hundred dollars. It was presented to Morphy, fresh from his European triumphs, in the chapel of the university of the City of New York. John Van Buren, son of the president, making the presentation speech. After Morphy's death it was sold with his effects in New Orleans, and so came back to this city.-N. Y. Mail and Express.

Idolatrous Arizonians. There is a small tribe of Indians in southern Arizona who are idolaters. They are in reality sun worshippers, but make small images out of clay with faces supposed to represent the sun, although bearing little if any resemblance to it. They do not associate with other tribes, and are very rarely seen by white men. The idols have large round bodies and heads, with eyes and mouth and ears, beams radiating from the eyes over the face. The Indians have these in their rude houses or wigwams, and at certain seasons they hold a sun dance, which is with them a religious ceremony. They have no other form of worship, although a few of them were at one time induced to abandon their idols by the works of the Jesuits.

Charles J. Byrns of Ishpeming was in town yesterday and secured the names of about twenty good citizens who agreed to become members of the Modern Woodmen of America.

"UNDER-COVER" LETTERS. These Documents Don't Work as Their Writers Think They Do. Many awkward explanations would be saved, many a young man wouldn't make a ninny of himself while flattering himself that he is a hero in the eyes of some fair damsel.

Mr. A., who lives in Albany, does not care to go to Troy, as he promised Mr. B. or Miss C. that he would. He is in a predicament, and thinks himself happily out of it if he can make his employer or friend believe that he has been unexpectedly called out of town in a hurry.

The liquor bonds of those engaging in the saloon business next year were fixed at $3,000, the same as last year. The report of Health Officer J. H. Hudson with reference to vaccination was referred to the proper committee.

Another post office official said: "If we could read the 'under-cover' letters which pass through our hands and trace them up we would be able to fill the newspapers with sensations. Most of the 'under-cover' letters received are addressed to ladies in male handwriting and there is no doubt that deceit is intended."

Ladies receive the most protection from this law and it causes most annoyance to men. The divorce law is killing society. No woman with a husband worth keeping can now endure the idea of letting another person of her sex who is at all attractive speak to him.

THE OLDEST DOCTOR IN EUROPE. Though a Centenarian He is Still Engaged in Practice.

Dr. Borsy, of Havre, who celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of his birth a few days ago, is said to be the oldest practicing physician in Europe. To a correspondent of the Paris Temps who asked him on his birthday regarding the secret of his long, healthful life, he said: "I am opposed to all regular rules of life—at least I do not follow them. My motto is: 'Of everything something; of nothing too much.'"

"Do you drink coffee?" asked the correspondent. "That drink is my favorite," was his answer. "When I was in the colonies I drank often as many as forty cups a day. You see from this that coffee is not poisonous, as many physicians declare. I have always had an excellent appetite and have not lost a single tooth."

"Did you ever have a genuine sickness in your life?" "I never was sick," came the reply. "I do not know what rheumatism, and hardly what pain is, unless I have it to cure among my patients. Four years ago I lost an eye. It was taken from me by one of my colleagues. Against my advice he placed a leech upon it to cure a slight affection. Eight days later I was a one-eyed man."

France's Tobacco Consumption. Nearly 36,000 tons of tobacco are annually consumed in France, according to recent statistics. Of this some 29,000 tons are used for smoking, 1,250 for chewing and the remainder for snuff. This is an increase of 7,000 tons over the consumption of twenty years ago, but there has been little change in the last ten years, except that the quantity of snuff used is gradually diminishing.

A Sign of Spring. A correspondent of an exchange was walking beside a railway track with a man who was very hard of hearing. A train was approaching, and as it rounded a curve, the whistle gave one of those ear-destroying shrieks which seems to pierce the very heavens. A smile broke over the deaf man's face. "Hark!" he said. "There's the first robin I have heard this spring!"

DIVORCE PARTIES. Remarkable Social Departure in the French Capital. The Deplorable State to Which French Society Has Been Reduced by the Divorce Laws—Rich Husbands Netted and Released at Will.

Divorce dinner parties have been frequent this season. The cards of invitation mention that they (the persons to whom they are addressed) are asked to celebrate the happy liberation of the person sending them from an unsuitable marriage. A regular formula has sprung up which may be safely adopted. It is not thought good taste, says a Paris letter in London Truth, for a man who has come out of the divorce court with the honors of war to call his friends of both sexes to rejoice with him on the event.

This only means that she does not object, for respectability's sake, to pay sixty thousand francs to the congregation of rites. The court of Rome allows thirteen pleas for divorce. The most usual one now for women of rank and fortune to plead is not having really consented to be married in the church. Lady Mary Hamilton urged this plea when she wanted to get rid of the prince of Monaco and marry Count Fiestes.

The divorce law is killing society. No woman with a husband worth keeping can now endure the idea of letting another person of her sex who is at all attractive speak to him. Entertaining and dowryless girls marry anyone at all who can introduce them to rich men from among whom they can, after skillful management and intrigue, secure husbands.

SOAP, SOUP AND SCRIPTURE

Staff Captain Blanche Cox Talks on Salvation Army Work.

LABORS IN INDIA AND LONDON'S DARKEST SLUMS

Making Poles Shoulder Too Much. Cauffman, the Au Train Shooter, Caught and in Jail.

FEED AND CLEAN THEM FIRST.

A tall, thin, slender, nervous young woman stood before a large-sized audience in the Salvation Army barracks last night and held the attention of all during a talk of more than an hour's duration. She was Staff Captain Blanche Cox of the chief army corps of England and her address concerned her work in India, Switzerland and the slums of great London.

Miss Cox appears to be a remarkable young woman. For years she has entirely devoted herself to Salvation Army work, has studied its effects in all their varying phases and is well prepared to speak of what the Salvationists have and are doing throughout the world. Her language is well chosen and her delivery forceful and very entertaining. Her description of the Indian work was full of interest. She spoke of the natives as very teachable and that they readily took hold of the simple truths presented, and appeared to feel a deeper interest in the story of the redemption than any other people the speaker had seen. There was still, Miss Cox said, immense room for good work there and the local corps was urged to try and send a missionary to that far off field; at least to help prepare one.

But by far the most entertaining part of the talk was a description of the big sleeping and eating houses which the Salvation Army maintains in London for the poorest of the poor, the humblest tramps and outcasts. "While I am speaking," she said, "5,000 tramps are eating in our relief halls in London. But before eating they had a bath and tonight they will have a good warm, clean place to sleep. That is what we believe in, practical religion. The Salvation Army has three basic points, soap, soup and Scripture. We first wash the bodies of the outcasts, then feed them and then preach simple gospel to them. You can't expect much success from preaching to a hungry, dirty audience. So we give the tramps soap, then soup and finally offer them means to attain Salvation."

The speaker concluded with a graphic and humorous recital of the conversion of "Old Telegraph" a noted London female wanderer, who after much persuasion and feeding was coaxed to take the first bath in twenty years. "Yes," exclaimed Miss Cox, "we washed the stains of twenty years off her poor old body and now the Savior is washing the sins of seventy years from her soul." A liberal collection was taken to apply on Army mission work.

Off On Nationalities.

In an account of Monday morning's attack on William O'Meara, appearing in the Detroit Evening News of that day, from its Marquette correspondent, is the following decidedly unfair paragraph:

An altercation arose between Boss McPartland and the trimmers. McPartland's associate (Mr. O'Meara) interfered and was immediately pounced upon by one of the strikers. Others joined in the attack. O'Meara was forced to the ground and the Poles ground the heels of their heavy boots into his face until the victim was almost unconscious. Cooler headed trimmers succeeded in pulling the assailants away and O'Meara was carried off bleeding profusely.

How is that for an account of the trouble supposed to have been sent by an eye witness? The Poles may have caused considerable trouble in labor matters in this country but it does not of necessity follow they should have to bear the blame for the wrong doings of all other nationalities. The majority of the ore trimmers here are Irish, Mr. O'Meara's assailants were Irish and three of those arrested for the assault were James Murphy, Andy McGann and Patrick Joyce—not very strikingly characteristic Polish names. The fourth man arrested was Joseph VanRemoortel, a Belgian. Then again, the correspondent says, "Cooler headed trimmers succeeded in pulling the assailants away." The Mining Journal has made diligent search and failed to find one union trimmer who will admit he tried to keep O'Meara from getting hurt. O'Meara walked, he was not "carried" away.

It is unfair to the Polish citizens of Marquette that they should be blamed for an Irish fight, just as it would be unfair to saddle a Polish scrap on the shoulders of Emerald Islanders. The Mining Journal is greatly mistaken if a love of fair play would not cause those who assaulted Mr. O'Meara to be the first, to denounce the News unjust account of the fracas.

Yesterday a Sabbath stillness pervaded the streets, so far as the trimmers were concerned. There were no ore boats in and consequently no trimming to do. The men congregated most of the day near the approaches to No. 1 dock, with picks and shovels ready. About two p. m. the crowd was largest and the trimmers went through a sort of impromptu drill and stacked their tools near the flagman's house. Then they split up into groups and spent the remainder of the day swapping stories, tobacco and jack knives. There is a well defined general opinion that the union trimmers will trim the next ore boat that loads.

Au Train Shooter Jailed.

William Cauffman, who shot Joseph Richards at Au Train Monday afternoon, was arrested Tuesday morning by the officers who had surrounded his shanty all the previous night. He did not offer the slightest resistance and was at once placed in jail. When interviewed in his cell he said he knew nothing of the shooting at all. He claimed he could not recall anything about the matter, not even taking down his rifle and going up the lake, and during the conversation would break out into exclamations of deepest grief and regret ending with: "I pray God that I may be helped out of this trouble." The old man seems completely broken down over the affair and while his case is exciting a great deal of sympathy the general opinion is that he is safer placed where he cannot get liquor.

It is now learned that the first account of the shooting was not entirely correct. The story came from Cauffman's wife and she asserted her husband had pointed his gun at her, threatening to shoot, but reliable informants say the woman was so drunk at the time she did not know what occurred. When Cauffman staggered from the shanty with his wife, and carrying his rifle, he saw Joseph and Eustache Richards and Eugene Carp standing in the road. Without the slightest warning he began blazing away at the trio, two of the bullets hitting the old man, Joseph Richards. There was nothing done to occasion the firing and Cauffman himself disclaims all knowledge of it.

Cauffman was brought before a justice yesterday afternoon. He waived examination and was held for trial to the circuit court. Richards' assailant is about sixty-four years of age and, like the wounded man, was one of the pioneers of the Lake Superior district. For over forty years he has been known as a familiar figure around Au Train and Marquette, having quite a number of acquaintances in this city. He has usually borne a good reputation except when he tampers with alcohol. Then he becomes dangerous and ugly and it is the prevailing opinion that after shooting his first wife dead in 1884 and almost killing a man Monday, while under the influence of whisky, that it is high time the state took good care of him the remainder of his life. He has demonstrated he will not let liquor alone and it is well known that under its influence he is more dangerous than a wild beast.

Delf Succeeds Toombs.
General Manager Fitch of the South Shore road announces the appointment of A. E. Delf to succeed Robert Toombs as auditor, to take effect May 1. Mr. Delf spent most of his leisure time yesterday receiving the congratulations of his friends on his promotion. He has spent all his life railroading and wins his new position through sheer hard work and ability.

Mr. Delf got his first taste of railroading with the old Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon road at Negaunee. He was for a time station agent at Newberry for the Detroit, Mackinac and Marquette railway before its purchase by the South Shore company. After the building of the Marquette & Western road, he was station agent at Negaunee until its consolidation with the Marquette, Houghton & Ontonagon, when, there being no need of two agents, Mr. Delf entered the general freight office of the South Shore under A. S. Parks. He was shortly transferred to the accounting department, where he has since remained, holding under Mr. Toombs the position of chief clerk. The appointment is considered a happy one, not only for Mr. Delf but the company.

Big Show at Cheap Prices.
Monday next the Rice, Walford & Sheridan company begins an engagement at the opera house, presenting three great scenic melo-dramas at popular prices, fifteen, twenty-five and thirty-five cents. "The Smugglers," "Underground" and "The Train Wreckers" will be produced in the order named. This company carries twenty-two sets of elegant special scenery and the manner in which its plays are presented would do credit to much higher priced and more pretentious organizations. Although the prices are way down an exceedingly clever performance is guaranteed.

There will be a dance given at Maccabee Hall next Thursday evening, April 26, for the benefit of a member of the Maccabees who met with a painful accident some time ago. The Societe St. John Baptiste has given up its meeting on that night in order that the dance may be held. The purpose is a worthy one and those in charge hope that the attendance will be large. The tickets will be fifty cents and good music will be in attendance. (4-21-64)

THOUSANDS OF TROUT.

Sixty Thousand Young Brook Trout Planted in Our Streams Yesterday.

MAINTAIN REPUTATION OF SUPERIOR FISHING GROUNDS.

First Big Freight Load by Lake Arrives—Moran Loaded to Gunwale—G. A. R. Kicks.

WILL MAKE SPORT LATER.

The car sent out by the Michigan Fish commission, bearing 60,000 young brook trout for planting in the streams in this vicinity, reached the city at 2:45 p. m. yesterday. It was met by about ten persons ready with teams to hurry the fish cans to the proper streams and dump their contents where they might have a chance to grow and some day make sport for the angler and a tid bit for the epicure. The consignment was made up of 40,000 ordinary brook trout and 20,000 brown trout, a new species for upper peninsula waters. They are said to attain good proportions and make excellent eating.

The cans were hastily transferred to the waiting wagons and started for their destinations. By nightfall they were all planted in different tributaries of the Chocoy, Carp and Dead rivers. It is hoped by sportsmen that those placing the young trout made an effort to get as far from the main streams as possible. It is absolutely necessary this precaution should be taken to insure them attaining a growth where they may take care of themselves. The fry are scarcely an inch in length and only a few weeks old. When placed in even the smallest streams they at first float like dust on the surface carried at the will of the current. If the point of planting in the tributary is not far enough from the main stream to allow the young fish to become strong enough to stem the slightest current, they drift into the larger stream and most probably furnish a dainty luncheon for the larger fish living there.

It is not an easy matter to plant fry far up the streams of this part of the upper peninsula on account of their practical inaccessibility. It would be necessary to carry the cans on one's back through miles of trackless forest and as they weigh in the neighborhood of one hundred pounds each the task would be a difficult one.

The planting of yesterday was the largest ever done here in one season. If the fry have been well placed and nothing out of the ordinary prevents them leaving until fall they will then be large enough to keep out of the way of the large fish's jaws and shift for themselves. To keep up the reputation of the Lake Superior fishing grounds it is necessary to see not only that generous numbers of young trout are properly planted but that they are not ruthlessly destroyed when they attain a useful growth. The greatest enemy of the brook trout is the pond net and a close watch should be kept on these unscrupulous contrivances to see that in the item of meshes they strictly conform to the provisions of the state game laws. It is not an unusual thing for fishers with hook and line to catch trout which show by a white line about the body just back of the gills that they have been in the meshes of a pond net, and their size would indicate the net was not meshed according to law. Game wardens and their deputies should keep a strict lookout to see that pond net fishermen keep the proper size holes between the strings of their nets and also that too many brook trout do not appear for sale in stores and markets.

The Moran's Big Load.

The John V. Moran, of the Crescent line reached here yesterday afternoon and delivered about one hundred tons of miscellaneous freight at Spear's dock. When the Moran reached the Soo she was carrying a cargo of nearly 1,400 tons with which she barely slid through. After passing the canal she unloaded 300 tons of government material and appeared to feel much better. She carried during the trip all that could be piled in her hold and on her decks, leaving hundreds of tons of freight at Detroit and Cleveland.

In conversation with THE MINING JOURNAL Captain Ryines spoke of the trip as a very pleasant and successful one and that he made summer time. He expected to encounter ice but did not see a sign of it all the way up. He may get a glimpse of it at the Portage but it will not likely trouble him as the passage is said to be clear. When the Moran passed Lake George the Ketchum was still hard aground. She was riding light and the water falling. Captain Mack was waiting at the Soo for more tug assistance to help pull his boat off.

Why Not Be a Carrier?

There will soon be a civil service examination in the federal building for which blanks may be had from the secretary, Miss Billings, in the postoffice. This will be for candidates for the position of carrier only and there should be a large class. The examination for carrier is by no means an difficult as is ordinarily supposed. Any person possessing a fair English education and of course, being personally qualified, should experience no difficulty in successfully answering all the tests put by the commission. Particulars and blanks for the examination may be obtained on application.

Was Not a Grand Army Man.

Several members of the local post of the G. A. R. tackled THE MINING JOURNAL yesterday demanding on what authority it stated "Bill Plug" or Kaufman, who shot Richards at Au Train, was a member of the army and had secured pardon for his former shooting offence through G. A. R. influence. The news came from "Plug's" own stamping ground and was, of course, supposed to be correct, but on questioning leading G. A. R. members it seems that although Kaufman fought in the war of the rebellion he is not a member of the Grand Army organization. It also develops that his pardon was secured through the personal influence of comrades in arms but that the army or any of its posts took no action in the matter. This announcement may please those who objected to having "Bill Plug" as Kaufman is familiarly nick named, classed with them in the G. A. R. Kaufman's trial will come off May 8 at Au Train before the same judge who in 1884 sent him up for twelve years for shooting his wife dead.

Improvements at Light House.

They have not been idle of late out at Light House point. Ever since the snow fairly cleared from the rocks and beach the keepers and life saving crew have busied themselves fixing old walks and steps where they needed it and building new in many places. It will soon be possible to walk almost from the water works pumping station to the fog signal houses on brand new, solid wooden walks. Everything is being spruced up and repaired and the Point will soon look as neat as a new pin. The spot is a romantic one and should be made the very most of as it is one of the most desirable places to visit within easy walk of the city. No more delightful stroll may be taken of a warm, calm summer's evening than out to Light House Point and along the beach beyond.

Help the Boys!

All those who sympathize with the efforts of our two juvenile baseball teams to keep the national game alive in this city, and who wish to see the boys sprinting around the diamond this season in new uniforms, will attend the Rivals-Union Stars ball tonight in Armory hall. The boys have worked hard to make this, their first social attempt, a success and they anticipate a liberal patronage. Music will be by the Marquette Ideal orchestra. Tickets for the ball and supper will be served in the Armory dining rooms for fifty cents a couple.

Died in the East.

Word reached the city yesterday of the death of Mrs. R. D. Kyle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene La Rochelle. Death occurred in St. Joseph's Hospital, Philadelphia, as the result of a surgical operation performed Monday last. Deceased was about twenty-five years of age, was born in Marquette and well known here. She was married last August to R. D. Kyle. The remains will be brought here for burial and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.
